Lyman Teacher

The case of a Lyman High School English teacher, who went to U.S. District Court at Orlando to fight being transferred to Crooms High School for the 1970-71 school year, has been scheduled for hearing before the Seminole County School Board.

A tentative Sept. 22 date has been set by the board to hear neglect of AROUND duty charges brought by School Supt. John Angel against Katherine B. Pipkins, of Maitland, after the teacher failed to report for work at Crooms High, a just-desegregated minth grade only school. Mrs. Pipkins was suspended by Augel without pay since she failed to report for work at Crooms. The teacher is losing $33 a day for every day she stayed away from Crooms, according to information from the school. The board can discharge her after the hearing, which must be held according to state law. Yesterday at Orlando's federal court, Judge George C. Young ruled against the woman's complaint filed by Royce Pipkins, her attorney-husband, alleging his wife was being deprived of the right to make a

Mrs. Pipkins had requested the court to enjoin the School Board from violating her civil rights in that she was not allowed to work at Lyman High School, where she said she was assured by Carlton to know why "if he wanted to Henley, principal, that she would not be transferred. Mathews' poor showing surprised everybody and, by the same token, Askew's moving into a runoff with Earl Faircloth also surprised everybody. Askew has a millstone around his neck-Tom Adams.

It is wondered how Sen. Bill Gunter feels about Askew's showing, since Bill refused Askew's offer to be his running mate before Askew approached Adams to run for lieutenant

An "if" or two-Had Gunter accepted and the Askew-Gunter ticket wins in November, Gunter would automatically have been in line as the strong man in the next gubernatorial

"When received my ap pointment," said Sid, "I was SID VIHLEN told only that I should represent all the people and that I should be a good Republican. I am not obligated to anyone."

The Seminole County Republican executive committee very likely will have a new chairman come January. Unless his anticipated political maneuvering, for which he is growing famous. Such as challenging the election of some party committeemen and committeewomen lest Tuesday. Voters are "strange critters."

The Republicans elected Salfi as state committeeman from Seminole County, over Charles Lansing, but trounced him in his quest for precinct 9 county committeeman. Robert and Joan Martin each tallied six votes more to be elected precinct 9 committeeman and committeewoman over Salfi and his wife,

This was the election that killed Saifi. The law says that only a committee member can serve as chairman. Salfi will bow out as precinct 9 committeeman at the end of December. The anti-Salfi forces are jubilant over this precinct election, having put up a number of candidates against Salfi people for committee posts.
