ARMED INTERVENTION URGED BY AMERICAN CAPTIVE OF CHINESE BANDITS

WOULD PUT BANDITRY DOWN IN CHINA AND MAKE COUNTRY SAFE EXPRESSES OPINION

To Associated Press and Says Whole Thing is One Big Mess

(By The Associated Press) TIENTSIN, May 30.—Armed intervention by foreign powers to put down banditry in China is favored by Major Roland Pinger, United States army, one of the fourteen foreigners held by the outlaws on Paotzuku mountain. He expressed the opinion in a letter to the Associated Press received today. "We captives," wrote Major Pinger, "have learned the personality of the bandits by now, so we no longer dream about terrors of first and second nights. I am wondering what preparations are being made in the Philippines and Hawaii in event military force ultimately is applied. How about public opinion in America and what is the Japanese attitude. The whole affair is a beautiful mess in which we little he-goats with whiskers and all are most comfortable considering circumstances. Looking at things impersonally I favor armed intervention."

Chinese Bandits Hurl Prisoners From the Cliff

BUT NONE OF THEM WERE OF THE FOREIGN DELEGATION.

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, May 30.—Shortage of food in the bandit stronghold at Paotzuku before the kidnapping of a number of foreigners from the Shanghai express, May 6, caused the brigands to throw eight Chinese prisoners to death from one of the mountain cliffs, according to information received here today from Father Wm. Lenfers, German priest, who has made several trips to the outlaw headquarters.

The information from Father Lenfers, which came in a letter from the prelate at Lincheng, declared that the prisoners' feet were bound and each was labelled with his name and identification before being hurled to death. One of the prisoners, a woman, was thrown over with her child in her arms. Later the bandits notified the families of the massacred captives and relatives were permitted to remove the bodies, identification being facilitated by the tags. "One Christian Chinese, who already had paid $1,800 for the release of his son, today took delivery of the corpse," Father Lenfers wrote, adding:

"Many pall bearers still are climbing the mountain. "The only way to maintain peace here is to enlist the bandits and keep them in this territory for years as a police force, since they alone are familiar with the inaccessible mountain fastnesses and trails. If they are withdrawn less bandits will band together and cause a similar situation in the future."

Father Lenfers denies that troops were in league with the outlaws. He declares the soldiers have been besieging the brigands for months near Paotzuku, resulting in an acute shortage of water and food at Paotzuku. The raid on the train at Suchow, the priest says, was in the nature of a diversion to force the troops to withdraw from Paotzuku.

Metal Workers Strike at Essen Is Ended Today

MEN RESUME WORK AND ARE GRANTED FIFTY PER CENT INCREASE.

(By The Associated Press) ESSEN, May 30.—The strike of metal workers throughout Ruhr which involved over five hundred thousand men ended today, the men resuming work. They were granted a fifty per cent increase in wages for which they went on strike, but were refused additional demand of bonus of one hundred and fifty thousand marks each.

PREMIER'S POLICY IS BACKED UP BY THE CHAMBER

APPROPRIATE SUFFICIENT SUM TO FIGHT BANDITS OF THE RUHR

PARIS, May 30.—Any doubts of the solidarity of Premier Poincare's position were set at rest yesterday when the chamber of deputies, by a majority of 438, expressed confidence in him and his government and voted him the money needed to carry out his policy in the Ruhr.

Only the extreme left voted against the premier. His other critics did not even resort to the common practice of abstaining, but added their vote to the premier's triumph.

The chamber's vote on the appropriation of 35,000,000 francs for the expenses of the Ruhr occupation for the month of June, was 505 to 67. The debate took on the appearance of an assault on the Poincare cabinet. M. Tardieu severely criticized the government's methods and demanded of M. Poincare whether he would change them, at the same time declaring to the chamber he would vote for the appropriations.

The premier showed plainly he interpreted this method of debate as an attempt to shake the cabinet without immediately overthrowing it. He called on M. Tardieu and his friends to vote as they talked, and said he would not admit that orators could shake the confidence of the country in the cabinet.

This summons to the opposition to come out into the open, put the chamber into a dilemma; many of the deputies showed by their applause they approved of M. Tardieu's words, yet were not ready to attempt the overthrow of the Poincare ministry.

The premier declared flatly he would change nothing in the methods decided upon in common with the allies, that he would not call out another soldier to reinforce the occupying troops, as demanded by M. Tardieu, asserting that any increase there would add to the expense without adding to the efficiency. He challenged the chamber to decide between the government and the government's critics.

CLARA PHILLIPS NOT INFORMED OF COURT ORDER

THAT SHE BE CONFINED IN SAN QUENTIN PRISON AT ONCE

(By The Associated Press) NEW ORLEANS, May 30.—Clara Phillips started on last lap of her journey from Honduras to California at noon from here bound for San Quentin penitentiary, to serve a sentence of ten years to life, for the murder at Los Angeles last year of Mrs. Alberta Meadows. During last hour it was believed in some quarters the girl might launch a fight against extradition, when told her appeal for a new trial had been denied late yesterday but she was unperturbed. She said it made little difference for she would have the case taken to the supreme court.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 30.—Clara Phillips will not be informed she must go directly to San Quentin penitentiary to begin a sentence for murder it was announced by officials here who said that should she learn of action of California court yesterday in denying her appeal they would probably have trouble with her on the western journey. All newspapers which carried dispatches referring to the court action were withheld from her with the hopes abandoned officers fear the woman who was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows with a hammer may make an attempt to escape before reaching California.

MEMORY DAY

Memorial Day it all comes back— It all comes back as through a haze: Those lilac-scented yesterdays, The comrades marching down the street And keeping step with children's feet, Those aging boys of sixty-one. We'd sit down in the courthouse square And hear their tales, and even dare To wish a war would come along When we were tall and brave and strong. And then some grizzled man would say: "Don't wish that, son; war ain't the way

By Charles Nicholls Webb

You think it is—hmn, no, sirree! And all would nod so seriously.

War came along and verified What they had said—more boys had died, And some who'd sat and heard tales told, More understanding than of old, Listened again, without remark, Till shadows filled the courthouse park, All thinking hard. That's why I say I'd rather call it Memory Day.

PRESIDENT HARDING SPEAKER AT ARLINGTON CEMETERY TODAY IN MEMORIAL AT CAPITAL

Paid Tribute to Soldiers of All Wars in Which America Participated

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 30.—As the principal speaker at the Memorial Day exercises in Arlington National Cemetery President Harding led the nation today in paying tribute to the dead heroes of its wars. Ceremonies in Arlington Amphitheatre with national officers of the Grand Army of the Republic and the American Legion participating, other patriotic organizations represented formed principal feature of capital's observance of the day. A parade of members of several organizations was reviewed by the president from the White House precede the Amphitheatre exercises.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—The supreme sacrifice paid by the soldier dead should be commemorated by the living, Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, said in an appeal issued today to the people in this country to observe Memorial Day today.

"The world is racked with strife and toil but those who gave their lives that others might live should not be forgotten. Their all was given in defense of humanity. They fought to the end to maintain the cause of right. In the words of one soldier who wrote to his mother on the eve of battle: 'For myself I would have you believe that whatever end I meet, I meet it with an even mind, constant in the conclusion that I would rather have gone out to this war and not come back than not to have gone at all.'"

"My chief regret, if I may not live to see the end is that I may not witness the triumph of right over wrong in this, the most terrible eruption of the forces of reaction in the history of man. That these forces can triumph is unthinkable, if they are to win, I would rather die than witness the victory."

"It was in such spirit that the men of this great nation died. It was unalterable pride in the defense of humanity's right that led them to give their all. Theirs was the realization for the spirit of America. Our sacred privilege is to enshrine them in the heart of America and the world. The hallowed tombs of our dead lie in the poppy covered fields of Flanders and the homeland. We, their comrades of America, must not forget their deeds."

"On Memorial Day in reverence we turn to commemorate the resting places of these, our hero dead. We must bow to the splendor of the sacrifice, the heroism of their lives, the glory of their belief in America and our institutions."

"As national commander of the American Legion, I implore every man, woman and child of our

ALUMNI BANQUET AT PARISH HOUSE WAS FINE AFFAIR

BANQUET, TOASTS AND DANCING GREATLY ENJOYED

One of the most enjoyable events of the High School commencement week is the Alumni banquet that takes place each year just after the commencement in order that the Seniors graduating can become members of the association that keeps alive the traditions and history of old Sanford High.

The banquet was held this year at the Parish House where the ladies of the Westminister Club of the Presbyterian church had charge of the refreshments. The Parish House never looked any better than last night and never housed a merrier party.

The long tables were arranged in horseshoe style giving all the opportunity of facing each other and allowing the waiters to come in from the kitchen and serving without any trouble. On the tables were the Alumni colors of black and gold and this color scheme was carried out in all the arrangements. Baskets of golden cosmos and marigold on the tables and golden shaded lights vied with the decorations of green vines and ferns and made an ensemble of Florida green-wood that was pleasing to the eye.

Miniature baskets of gold and black crepe paper tied with gold tulle held almonds at each plate and the programs were in golden covers and black and tied with black ribbon. All the arrangements were under the management of Miss Fern Ward as chairman and her able assistants, Misses Pattye Lyle, Edna Chittenden and Ruth Gillon. The following menu was served in fine style:

- Fruit Cocktail
- Pickles
- Iced Celery
- Creamed Chicken in Patties
- Creamed Potatoes
- Green Beans
- Pickled Beets
- Hot Rolls
- Tomato Salad
- Orange Ice
- Chocolate Cake
- Demi Tasse

After the menu came the best part of the evening, the program of music and dances and toasts. Miss Gladys Murrill acted as toastmistress in her usual vivacious manner and put over the following program that was greatly enjoyed:

- Invocation.....Mr. Tenny Dean
- President's Address.....Mr. B. F. Whitner, Jr.
- Song and Dance.....Eva Grace Wagner
- Accompanist, Mrs. Wagner
- Toast to Class of '33.....Roby Laing
- Response.....Miss Gayle Marshall
- Prophecies.....Mrs. Maxwell
- Duet.....Miss Fannie Reba Munson, Miss Fern Ward.
- Song—Black and Gold.....Assembly
- Accompanist, Miss Fern Ward

After the festivities at the Parish House the members adjourned to the Country Club where they danced until a late hour bade them to end what was voted one of the best meetings of the Alumni Association in many years, if not the best in the history of the organization.

CHILD WELFARE RETURNS IN FLORIDA LEGISLATURE WILL NOW BECOME LAW

IMPRESSIONS OF FLORIDA LEGISLATURE

GEORGE DECOTTES TELLS OF THE GOOD—AND BAD—THINGS ACCOMPLISHED

Today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club was called to order by the president, Judge J. G. Sharon, and, in the absence of Rev. Brownlee, the divine blessing was invoked by Kiwanian T. L. Dumas. Beau Baumel led the singing and D. McCaslin presided at the piano.

This was the first meeting of the club, within the memory of the writer, that there were no guests present, but the members occupied every seat at the nicely decorated tables.

A telegram signed by Lane and Rossiter stating that the Sanford delegation had arrived safely and that there was an attendance of 6,000 Kiwanians present at the International meeting now being held in Atlanta. A motion prevailed that the petite secretary, Judge Schelle Malmes, who is acting during the absence of Secretary Lloyd, be instructed to send a telegram of congratulations and best wishes to the Sanford delegates for transmission to the meeting.

Three new members were balloted on—Dr. W. D. Gardner, W. H. Tunnicliff and C. W. Stokes and they were unanimously elected as members of the bunch who "Build."

But the real entertainment of the luncheon came when President Sharon introduced George DeCottes as the speaker of the day and George began to tell of his impressions of the present session of the legislature of Florida, which he stated was really better than a vaudeville entertainment. George wields a nimble vocabulary and he convulsed his hearers with his limitations of some of the law makers at the state capital.

There was but little business transacted, but the meeting was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the order.

TICK MEASURE IS ON THE FENCE AT TALLAHASSEE

VICTORY OR DEFEAT MAY BE WRITTEN IN HISTORY

TALLAHASSEE, May 30.—The fate of the keratidation which in the senate today with lines so closely drawn that misstep in parliamentary procedure would mean either victory or defeat for measure. In the morning's voting it seemed friends of the bill as passed by the house were in the majority of possibly two. Amendment by Calkins to place Nassau county in another zone was defeated and amendments of Igou to postpone consideration until three minutes before adjournment Friday and others that would have allocated workings of the bill by Senator Epperson were defeated in succession.

To Improve Present System Counting Ballots

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 30.—The first step toward improving the present system of counting first and second choice votes was taken by passage by the house of a bill providing that state canvassing board may order reopened any ballot box where there appears to be discrepancy. The measure provides also election officials shall be called together before each election and given instructions in counting first and second choice votes.

Go out on the firing line and blaze away at something. The best marksmen had to waste some powder in practice.

SENATE BRINGS BILL BACK AND WILL ACCEPT SHEPPARD-TOWER CHILD WELFARE ACT

Women's Clubs of the State Made a Brave Fight for Bill Which Will Now Be Law

TALLAHASSEE, May 30.—The senate about faced yesterday, and passed a measure already passed in the house to accept the provisions of the Sheppard-Tower Child Welfare act. Several days ago, it voted down a similar measure. The change of attitude on the part of the upper body makes it possible for the state Board of Health to continue the work it started several months ago, as the measure now goes to the Governor.

Following the action several days ago, in killing a bill to accept the federal government's assistance the members were flooded with appeals for a reconsideration of their action by the various women's clubs of the state.

If the attitude of the senate changed, however, Senator Stokes did not. He attacked acceptance of the Federal aid, as another wedge of the national government into the affairs of the state. In 1861-65, our forefathers fought for state rights, he declared, and he could not understand why senators who had within the last few days voted pensions to those men who shed their blood for state sovereignty now open the doors to the Federal government. Senator Butler, who didn't know much about the bill the other day, he said, at the time, got some information for was yesterday. He had as much "Southern" blood as anybody, he declared, and he could not understand why Senator Stokes had voted to accept federal aid for road building, for education and the like, should object to dropping it in the welfare of children. He gave Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Kansas, and Rhode Island as the only states that had not accepted the aid of the congressional act. Certainly these states were not models for southern states to follow, he declared. Daniel Webster in the senate was one of the strongest enemies of state's rights, he asserted and in the reconstruction days, Thad Stephens, and Robert Sumner, were the south's greatest enemies. They were all sons of Massachusetts, he declared.

Senator MacWilliams, supporting the measure, said it was not a matter of sectionalism. The several states were inter-dependent in health, and education, he said. The vote was 17 to 12.

SANFORD BOY MAKING GOOD.

The following note from the Georgia School of Technology, will be interesting to Sanford readers:

I. H. Kanner, son of Chas. Kanner, of Sanford, has just returned to the Georgia Tech, where he is a senior, after having spent three days inspecting the new developments of the Georgia Railway and Power Company at Tallahassee Falls and Tugalo. The inspection was directed by professors in electrical and mechanical engineering at Tech, for the purpose of acquainting the seniors with the latest developments in water power equipment.

The heads of departments at Georgia Tech are emphasizing more strongly than ever the need of giving practical experience to undergraduates. "The engineering college must keep strictly abreast of every modern development of the profession, to completely fit its graduates for the great responsibility which will fall upon them," declares President Brittain of Georgia Tech. "The experience which these seniors have gained on the trip will be of lasting value to them, regardless of the line of work they expect to follow."

Kanner completes his four-year course in Civil Engineering at Tech this week. Practically every member of his class has accepted one of the positions which awaited their consideration. He is a graduate of Sanford High School, Sanford, Fla.

Knowledge is in every country the surest basis of public happiness.

The time has come when some plans should be put forward by the local financiers whereby the home-builders of Sanford can get money to build this summer.

that is not confined to the state.

The Herald congratulates the pupils and the faculty and the school board and our excellent county superintendent for the manner in which they have all contributed to the success of the schools in the year of 1922 and '23. It has been a most successful year in our schools and marks another milestone in our progress and prosperity.

The year just passed has been a good one in every way. The big classes that have graduated from the various schools demonstrate that in every department the schools have been doing a great work.

TOO MANY LAWS.

One of the strangest political tendencies of our time is the suddenly increased faith of legislators in the power of laws to enforce themselves once they are reduced to writing.

A multitude of evils attend the naive faith of legislators in the auto-enforcement capacity of law as represented by words on a piece of paper. One is an inevitable weakening of respect for a government born of a disregard for its more outlandish aspects.

The time may come when a candidate pledging himself to nothing but the repeal of two laws for every one created will be generally supported.

SANFORD NEEDS A CURB MARKET.

Sanford needs a curb market. Sanford needed one many years ago and the Herald finally had one here but certain interests killed it and now they are being killed probably on account of their uncompromising attitude toward anything good for the public welfare.

Response to the requests for support of the curb market are very gratifying. Home Demonstration Agent Florence Sipprell reported today she expects that the Lemon street side of the court house will be crowded with trucks next Saturday morning.

Miss Sipprell related that the complaints of last year because of inadequate supplies would be offset this year due to the more general interest manifested by the growers.

Last year curb market proved highly attractive to its many patrons. It was a local merchant as a rule, who was glad to be relieved of carrying the perishable line.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE TRUCKING GAME IN FLORIDA

GEORGE HARP IN THE WAUCHULLA ADVOCATE

Our vegetable season is about over and the time to take stock of our experiences has come. If our farmers and truck dealers who keep records will look over their old books they will find this one fact standing out prominently: That cucumbers and peppers as a whole have been losers for the past three seasons.

This, also, will be found: That strawberries, beans, cabbage, potatoes and tomatoes have been winners. True cabbage last season was a loser, but in general cabbage will pay a fair return for the expenditure. It seems that our growers cannot put cucumbers and peppers on the winning side as they used to be.

Our growers have co-operated more extensively this season than ever before. This fact has had much to do with the better prices received, of the short crop help, too; but co-operation showed its value to the growers more pointedly this year, because the growers co-operated better.

The growers and dealers have followed the policy of f. o. b. sales and this helped in prices, since it gave the city buyer better control of his market, and this control enabled him to pay more and hold up his market. Had the growers and dealers consigned any considerable part of this year's crop to the city buyer would have lost control of prices in his market, because of the consigned goods and would have been forced to lower the price here, or, perhaps, quit buying altogether.

In the beginning of the spring movement of potatoes, the growers and dealers quickly came to co-operate, and potatoes advanced fifty cents per bushel. But they failed to do this in beans and the market dropped 75 cents per hamper in one day.

The small grower caused this loss by not having some marketing agency to look out for his interest when the local buyers had been supplied for the day. The small growers, not having any arrangement made to act when this condition arose, was forced to sell at any price so he could get out and get home.

It might be said that this is the growers' problem, and he will have to work it out for himself. If it is looked into as it is, it will be seen that it is not so much of a growers' problem, as first appears.

has been done us. And will not let us treat with the railroads ourselves nor allow the railroads to grant us concessions. This is the crowd we are up against and we should let them know that something had to be done or they would have a long vacation in which the joys, happiness and luxury of farming would be open to them.

No one can blame the railroads for taking all they can get. This is a matter of business. We are to blame for submitting to it and like slaves if we continue to submit, we are only receiving our deserts.

This rate, service and privilege question is one in which the Board of Trade might interest itself and, thus, be materially benefited.

The Board of Trade has not been supported as well as, perhaps, it deserved. Why it has not, has no doubt many explanations. The one that seems most apparent, is that the efforts of the Board has been in a line that whatever success attended, benefited mainly the real estate men, merchant and professional men by bringing in more settlers.

The foregoing facts lead to the following conclusion:

- First: That our losses would be materially lessened by cutting down the acreage of cucumbers and peppers.
Second: That strawberries, beans, cabbage, potatoes and tomatoes are our best and safest money crop.
Third: That co-operation on the part of the growers tend to give them better prices for their crops.
Fourth: That poor railroad service, lack of privileges, high railroad and express rates are hindering our progress and are unfair and unjust.
Fifth: That the Board of Trade may help itself and the community by extending its efforts in the line of obtaining better railroad service, more privileges and lower freight and express rates.

FROM SOUTH TO NORTH A BAD TRIP FOR THE NEGRO.

Just as negro labor was judged unprofitable to the North under conditions prior to the civil war, so now it is proving unprofitable in the long run to all concerned to attempt to work the negro in the cold climates of the northern states.

There may be individual instances where negroes have done well at the North in every respect. There may be many instances where he gets more actual cash for his labor up North than he can get down South, but can he secure to himself more benefits with what he secures?

The increased demand for labor and perhaps other causes are turning the eyes of many Southern negroes to the North. In view of the greatly decreased birth rate among their people at the North and the greatly increased death rate among the negroes at the North it will be well for the negro to look well "before he leaps" in connection with offers made for his labor in the North.

Weak-Legged Fowls Need Not Be Killed

Salts, Fresh Air, Room, Vegetables,
Put Them "On Their Feet"

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER, Director
The School of Agriculture,
International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

No matter from what cause, if poultry of any kind are unable to stand on their feet the ailment is called leg weakness. This leg weakness is not rheumatism, although it may be a sign of rheumatism. It is not paralysis, although it may be a symptom of paralysis. Neither is it intestinal disease nor due to egg trouble, although it may be a manifestation of either of these disturbances.

If the fowls are valuable, do not be in a hurry to kill them if they seem to be suffering from leg weakness. They will often recover if properly treated. This trouble is probably more frequently noticed in the heavier breeds than in the lighter ones, but is by no means confined to any one breed. Therefore it is not advisable to discard the breed you may handle on the assumption that you can secure another breed that will not be similarly affected.

Brooder Conditions

If young chicks are affected with leg weakness, brooder conditions are probably at fault. There may be too high temperature, or not enough moisture, or a combination of both, making a hot, dry atmosphere. A frequent cause during the brooder
stage is too long a stay on board floors. Among half-grown chicks, long-legged cockerels are more liable to be affected than the shorter legged fowls. Here the trouble is largely nutritional. On account of the rapid growth of the fowl it is unable to appropriate sufficient bone-making material from its food. Sometimes the food is deficient. It may contain too much fat-forming food and not enough bone-making materials.

Leg weakness is rare in full-grown fowls. Occasionally, however, specimens of the heavier breeds may become so heavy, through forced feeding, that their legs will not support their bodies.

When a chick or a fowl without any evidence of injury or disease of the legs manifests unsteadiness or lameness in walking, staggers on attempting to rise, or is unable to rise to its feet and rests with its breast
on the ground, it is customary to say that the fowl has leg weakness.

Remove the Cause

To treat leg weakness properly, the cause should first be removed. The "climate" of the brooder should be changed, and it has been suggested where the heat has been too dry, and particularly if the fault has been bottom heat, that the chicks be permitted to scratch a little in slightly moist green grass or litter. A little Epsom salts in the drinking water will prove beneficial.

Growing chicks suffering from leg
weakness should be given Epsom salts, room to run, plenty of fresh air, vegetables, and green food, lean meat, bone meal, and green cut bone.
Mashes, especially wet mashes, fat
meats, and condiments or stimulants of any kind should be avoided. Bi-carbonate of soda, phosphate of lime, and such salts have been recommended, but in most cases it will be found that dietetic and hygienic treatment will prove sufficient.

The farmers of the Clewiston section have shipped enough enough beans, peas and tomatoes since the first of the year to supply a mess of green vegetables to approximately ten million persons. Two hundred thousand crates have been shipped over the Moore Haven and Clewiston railroad in that period. Each crate contains sufficient vegetables for one meal for ten families.

Tick Eradication Measure Passes the House; Vote 42-35

Revised Bill Will Work Slowly But
Is a Big Step in Right Direction.

TALLAHASSEE, May 30.—Tick eradicationists won their fight in the house, when by a vote of 42 to 35, they passed a revised measure, which admittedly will go at the work slowly, but, according to its supporters, is a big step in the right direction. The measure went over to the senate,
where comparatively early consideration is assured but its fate is not certain. Under a rule adopted several days ago that body is now working under the roll call system without referring house bills to a committee and as soon as Senator Wicker's turn comes on the roll call, he plans to call up the eradication measure. This is likely to be sometime today.

The lines were tightly drawn in the house, and there was no mincing
of the victory of the bill's supporters. As passed it would establish a livestock sanitary board of several practical livestock men to serve without pay. The state would be divided into 10 zones and it would be discretionary with the sanitary board to adopt either pasture rotation or cattle dipping in any zone, as a means of killing the ticks. The measure provides for a half mill levy.
The expense of rounding up range cattle and herding them to the dipping vats will be borne equally by the state and the cattle owners.
Zones, two, comprising St. Lucie, Okaloosa, part of Uclik and Brevard counties, and zone 13 made up of part of Franklin, Calhoun, Jackson, part of Holmes, Washington, Bay, and part of Walton, would be the starting points for the eradication. The idea would be for the eradication to start from each end and work toward each other.

Also, at the outset, it would be started in Gadsden, and Duval, where eradication already is being carried on.

The concession from the bill that met with such opposition week before last was in the item of expense. The original bill itself styled as compromise of all parties concerned, even including the representative here-of the "small cattlemen" provided that the state bear the entire expense.
This representative opposed the bill
as passed today.

Everything had been ironed out, so to speak, before the measure went before the house but there was no surrendering on the part of the opponents. Representative Bishop tried to attach a referendum clause, but it was finally voted down 45 to 30. Representative Mayo did succeed in getting his amendment providing that the sanitary board should forward a copy of all cattle dipped to the tax assessors in order that all cattle would be taxed.

Lowering of the millage from one to one-half mill was made after the bill came before the house, Representative Parrish arguing, and other members of the livestock committee agreeing with him that the state had found that this levy would bring in sufficient money to carry out the operations of the bill the first year.
It would bring a return of approximately $210,000 it was estimated.
Representative MacKenzie's opposition to the bill came in for an attack
by Representative Weeks.

LIQUOR PIRATES KILLED CAPTAIN OF BOOZE SHIP

PIRACY ON HIGH SEAS IS NOTH-ING IN THEIR YOUNG
LIVES

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 30.—Investigation into the mysterious sinking of the rum lugger, John Dwight, off Vineyard Haven, Mass., with a loss of nine lives early in April, has revealed that James A. Craven, of Lyndhurst, N. J., one of the victims, had $100,000 in his possession, when the ship sank, federal authorities said last night. The money was missing when Craven's mutilated body was washed up on the beach.

Craven was said by federal authorities to have been implicated in a $1-000,000 liquor plot with his brother, Thomas A. Craven, who was indicted yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. He was in charge of the rum lugger, it was said, which was carrying a cargo of Canadian ale.

The money, federal officers said,
was carried by Craven in a leather bag he was known to have had in his possession when the vessel sailed from Newport April 4. The funds, it was asserted, were to be used for the purchase of additional liquor, which it was alleged, was to have been smuggled into the country.

Several days after the John Dwight sailed from Newport, the vessel was reported to have capsized, due to her heavy cargo, and the bodies of the members of the crew were washed ashore. The leather bag in which the funds were kept, also was found on the beach near Craven's body, it was said, but was empty.

Captain Malcolm J. Carmichael of Jersey City, who commanded the lug-ger, was reported to have been seen in Havana, Cuba, ten days after the ship sank, although at the time it was believed all hands had perished. One or two others of the crew also were reported to have been seen in Cuba.

(By The Associated Press) BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 30.—Southern golfing eyes are turned toward the Roebuck Country Club where the amateur championship of the South will be decided next month, between June 19 and 23. One of the largest fields in the history of the 22 year old classic is expected to take part in the play over the rolling 5,200 yard course just east of Birmingham. The Southern championship was held at Roebuck in 1918 and since that time a number of changes have been made in the course. One is a re-measuring whereby the par was reduced from 73 to 70 without cutting the actual distance any. A few new traps, the elimination of one or two bumpers and the thorough sanding of all traps have helped to make the reaching of par which no amateur has ever done as more difficult feat than that before. The amateur record in 73 held by J. D. Kirkpatrick, jr., of Birmingham, and this same figure stands as the best Vardon and Ray could do on their exhibition tour, a few years ago. Charlie Hall, the long hitting pro, of Birmingham, has a 68 to his credit.

Golfing talent is expected to be well represented in the big field. Geo. Rotan, of Texas, will be missed, but it is hoped that Bobby Jones, who was compelled to give up the British trip on account of his studies at Harvard, will be on hand. Frank Godcaux, of New Orleans; Reuben Bush of the same place; Pollock Boyd, of Chattanooga, and one time intercollegiate champion; Mike Thomas, of Nashville; Cary Adair, of Atlanta, and other prominent figures in the Southern golfing world, are counted on to display some brilliant golf in the next five days of play.

The Roebuck club is bending every energy to have the course in perfect shape by June 19 when the qualifying round begins. Special workmen are busy looking after turf in the fairways and bringing the greens to perfect condition. Traps are being worked to their highest point of de-watering efficiency and the rough tended like a child.

North St. Louis drainage district now totals 4,616,432 cubic yards, out of a total for the entire project of around 6,100,000 cubic yards. Excavation during the month of April totaled 13,432 cubic yards, according to the monthly operations report just issued. All the dry-land dredges have completed their part of the work and the remainder will be done by two big floating dredges. It is expected that the entire job will be completed in less than a year longer, and thus thousands of fertile acres opened up for development.

One of the big grove deals of the season is the sale of the old Jones grove on the hill north of Lake Wales, to Albert E. Smith of Milwaukee and St. Petersburg, formerly internal revenue collector at the former city. The grove is a 10-acre and is nine years old, having been planted by R. N. Jones when the latter first came to Lake Wales from Illinois. It is one of the oldest groves in the immediate section and is a fine one. Mr. Smith is understood to have paid $75,000 for it.

EDITOR SMART SET ON KLAN.

(The following remarks by George Jean Nations, editor of Smart Set, and the world's greatest critic, is from the K. K. K. number of "Black Mask," a monthly magazine):

Not a single solitary sound reason has yet been advanced for putting the Ku Klux Klan out of business. If the Klan is against the Catholics, so are the Masons. If the Klan is against the Jews, so are half of the good hotels of the republic and three-quarters of the good clubs. If the Klan is against the foreign-born or hyphenated citizen, so is the National Institute of Arts and Letters. If the Klan is against the negro, so are all of the states south of the Mason-Dixon line. If the Klan is bent upon political control, so are the American Legion and Tammany Hall. If the Klan wears grotesque uniforms, so do the Knights of Pythias and the Mystic Shriners. If the Klan holds its meeting in the dead of night, so do the Elks. If the Klan conducts its business in secret, so do all of the college Greek letter fraternities and the Department of State. If the Klan holds idiotic parades in the public street, so do the police, the letter carriers and the firemen. If the Klan officers bear ridiculous names, so do the officers of the Lamb's Club. If the Klan uses the mails for shaking down suckers, so does the Red Cross. If the Klan constitutes itself a censor of private morals, so does the Congress of the United States. If the Klan lynches a Moor for raping some one's daughter, so would you or I.

BILL WOULD KILL FLORIDA LOAN SHARKS CUTS INTEREST RATE

TALLAHASSEE, May 29.—The death knell of the "loan shark" in Florida is sounded in a bill which will come up for consideration in the senate probably, and which limits the rate of interest upon loans of less than $300 to 10 per cent per year, or a maximum of three and one-half per cent per month, under some conditions.

In relation to the month to months loans of less than $300, the lender is authorized to collect three and a half per cent per month, but, the bill provides, "interest shall not be payable in advance, or compounded, and shall be computed on unpaid balances. In addition to the interest herein provided for, no further or other charge or amount whatsoever for any examination, service, brokerage, commission or other thing, or otherwise, shall be directly or indirectly charged, contracted for, or received, except the lawful fees, if any, actually and necessarily paid out by the licensee to any public officer, for filing or recording in any public office, any instrument securing the loan, which fees may be collected when the loan is made, or at any time thereafter."

The measure also provides that "if interest or charges in excess of those permitted by this act shall be charged, contracted for or received, the contract of loan shall be void and the licensee shall have no right to collect, or receive any principal, interest or charges whatsoever."

It is also stipulated that persons licensed under the act shall deliver to the borrower at the time a loan is made a statement in the English language showing in clear and distinct terms the amount and date of the loan and of its maturity, the nature of the security and the rate of interest charged. Upon such statement shall be printed a copy of the section of the act relating to the limitation of interest charges.

Penalty for violation of the act is a fine of $500 or six months in jail or both.

The act does not apply to licensed pawn brokers, nor to banks, trust companies and building and loan associations.

The pending bill is modeled along lines of measure that have been urged by the Russell Sage Foundation in its campaigns against the operations of loan sharks, according to Van C. Swearingen, who is here to push passage of the measure by the legislature.

One of the first things that a man has to learn in business is how little he can do by himself. When he finds out he begins to look around for people who can do what he can't.—Henry Ford.

A survey of the crew which runs through the north central part of Fort Pierce, with a view to determining the cost of its improvement and beautification, has been authorized by the city commission and the drainage board of the North St. Lucie river drainage district, jointly.

Establishment of a bank at Sebastian, in the northern part of St. Lucie county, is now definitely assured, the entire capital stock of $25,000 having been subscribed. A charter is to be sought at once, and the new institution will open for business soon after it is granted.
