$50 Million Park Seen By Ringling

ORLANDO (AP) — Walt Disney World turned Central Florida flatlands into a booming tourist Mecca, and now another group is transforming farmlands to fantasia in hopes of diverting the flow of pleasure's pilgrims. Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus has purchased a 600-acre site in northeast Polk County and plans to construct a $50 million, year-round amusement complex, reliable sources revealed.

Formal announcement of the development was to be announced jointly this afternoon by Gov. Reubin Askew and Ringling president Irving Feld at a press conference at Orlando's Citrus Club.

The Ringling center, sources confirmed, is located near the intersection of Interstate 4 and U.S. 27, some 18 miles from the Disney amusement center in neighboring Orange County.

"This will be a tremendous complex," the source said, with "preliminary plans calling for expenditure of $50 million."

He said the land was purchased from First Continental Development Corporation, a New York based firm.

The Miami Herald reported the Ringling complex adjoins an 800-acre hotel, motel and restaurant development called Summit Point, already announced by First Continental.

Ringling Bros., which celebrated its 100th anniversary two years ago, was acquired recently by Mattel Toy Co. Inc., of Hawthorne, Calif.

Of course I'm prejudiced—but in this case, it's for your rights as well as mine.

Speaking of getting the truth from the government ... and the only one way I'm sure of that happening, is through a free and vigilant press.

That's why these comments of Lloyd Shearer's should be repeated: "When a government consistently conceals its true motives from the people, it risks their mounting skepticism. It is regrettable but true that neither the Johnson Administration nor the Nixon Administration has inspired the American public with trust and faith in their government."

"After eight years of mounting doubt there is great danger that the people's confidence in their government's credibility will eventually vanish.

"Surely, in the past eight years the public has been more generously informed by its press than by its government."

Chairman of the Board of Glen W. Turner Enterprises, is scheduled to be a featured speaker at the Seminole Zoological Society's Fund Raising Campaign Kickoff at Sanford Airport, Sunday, Feb. 20. The events of the afternoon, commencing at 1 p.m., include a Kiddie Carnival, free refreshments, performances by the Sanford Band, Fire Academy Band, Fire Academy, and a sky diving event.

The 36-year-old Turner, born to an impoverished family of South Carolina, by his own astute business policies turned a $5,000 loan into a $200,000,000 enterprise.

Two 2-year-old boys and a 4-year-old girl were wounded.

President Nixon Is In The Air En Route To Communist China

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, his wife and a handful of top aides left today on a "Journey for Peace" to Communist China, saying he hopes it will reduce the possibility of future war.

The presidential jet, the "Spirit of '76," took off from Andrews Air Force Base on the first long leg of the trip at 10:30 a.m.

Before leaving the White House by helicopter for Andrews, Nixon briefed 19 Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress. Then he delivered brief remarks to a crowd including about 1,000 school children on the South Lawn.

Standing coatless in damp, 35-degree weather, he repeated a prediction he first made last July 15 when he stunned the world with his announcement that he would become the first American president ever to visit China. The China trip, he said, "would be a journey for peace."

He said again that he does not expect the trip to erase all difficulties between Washington and Peking, but hopes it will help to avoid any possible future war.

"We of course have no illusions that 20 years of hostility between the United States and China are going to be swept away by one week of talks," he said.

"As we look to the future we must realize that the government of the People's Republic of China and government of the United States have had great differences," he said. "They will continue to have differences. But what we must do is to find a way to see that we can have differences without being enemies in war."

Some 1,000 area school children were prepared by their teachers to show up for the first step in the first Journey by any American president to China.

Some teachers confused the occasion with the traditional White House welcome for visiting heads of state and instructed students to place their hands over their hearts during playing of the Star Spangled Banner and the Chinese anthem.

'Divorce Seminole From Orange' — C of C

By BILL SCOTT

Opposition to Seminole County remaining in the same legislative district with Orange County was expressed this morning at a meeting of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce legislative and national affairs committee.

The committee, chaired by Robert Daehn, voted to send a letter to all members of the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation, indicating the feelings of the committee.

The group stressed that Seminole County would prefer individual representation in the Legislature but, in the event the county must be aligned with another county, the committee voted to advise the legislators of a preference to be united with one of three adjoining counties, Brevard, Volusia or Lake.

Daehn and George Crossley, vice chairman, were appointed to compose the letter indicating the committee's wishes.

In another action, the committee indicated the legislators would be asked to give their individual preferences concerning congressional redistricting.

A five-man committee was named to consider the districting of the City of Sanford. Walter Gistow was selected to chair the group, composed of Dr. Charles Starke, Robert Morris, Daehn and Crossley, who will study the requirement of having candidates for the Commission live in one of four geographical districts to be designated within Sanford. The office of mayor will be a city-wide elective post with no district requirement.

Committee also voted to continue its support for a charter revision study of Seminole County looking toward possibility of county consolidation and additional prizes.

In another action, the committee indicated the legislators would be asked to give their individual preferences concerning congressional redistricting.

AN INTERRUPTION IN 'MOCK TRIAL'

By Bailiff Frank Luecker at Crooms High School in Sanford this morning to Judge Dominick Salfi as he is told that Salfi's "Death For Pushers" bill passed a Senate Committee by a vote of 13-4. It is the intention of the Circuit Court to present these mock trials to many Seminole County schools in order that the students may observe the judicial system in operation, first hand.

News Ban Asked For Gattis Trial

By MARION BETHEA

Multitudinous motions have been entered by defense attorney Thom Rumberger in the case of Louis Smith Gattis III, who is charged with first degree murder in the death of Karl Fulmer, 18-year-old Walt Disney World employee.

Gattis pleaded innocent at his arraignment on Feb. 4 before Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi.

In the motions, the court is requested to control discussions between court officials and state's officers as well as defense and law enforcement personnel and the news media.

The court granted an oral motion in this matter.

A subsequent motion asks that the court quash the grand jury indictment alleging that the grand jury heard hearsay evidence although an informant was available for direct testimony.

The motion asks that the minutes of the grand jury be inspected and/or dismissed.

An application also is made for admittance to bail and for production of statements and confessions of grand jury testimony.

There is also a motion to compel the disclosure of all evidence favorable to the defendant and a motion to control prejudicial publicity.

Rumberger claims in the motions that due to widespread publicity in the case Gattis will be denied the right to a fair trial, and requests the court to bar reporters from Gattis' April 24 trial.

The motion also requests that the news media be refrained from photographing Gattis from within the courthouse and jail.

Gattis was arrested on Jan. 23 in Inverness while law enforcement officers were recovering parts of Fulmer's body from the site of the Little Wekiva River. A jawbone found at the river bottom was identified by dental records as that of Fulmer.

Fulmer, of Groose Point, Mich., moved to the area last October, after which he rented a room at a Winter Park address from Gattis. Fulmer was allegedly killed after he accidentally learned of a teenage girl they ring operated by Gattis and threatened to disclose the matter to authorities.

Killer Stabs 3 To Death

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — A tall young man with dark hair, a foreign accent and a knife ran amok in the children's ward of a Blackpool hospital early today and escaped after stabbing three sleeping children to death.

The killer also wounded two nurses badly and gave another child minor wounds.

More than 200 police with tracheal dogs searched the grounds of Victoria Hospital and a nearby park. Detectives combed the hospital, and roadblocks were set up on every highway leading out of the holiday resort on the northwest coast of England.

Police said the man walked into the second floor ward at 1 a.m., said he was a member of the staff and asked for sleeping tablets. Then suddenly he pulled his knife and stabbed the two duty nurses in the chest.

A chorus of terrified screams echoed through the ward as the killer raced from cot to cot, wielding his knife. Despite her wound, one of the nurses raised the alarm. Orderlies rushed in, but the intruder had gone.

Two 2-year-old boys and a 4-year-old girl were wounded.

Bike Safety Rodeo Opens Monday

By GARY TAYLOR

Over 3,000 elementary school students in Seminole County are expected to compete in this year's fifth annual county-wide bicycle safety rodeo, sponsored by the sheriff's department and the various police departments around the county.

Preliminary competition will be held at each of the 21 schools with the three top scorers at each school receiving a certificate and an invitation to compete in the county finals.

The competition on the school level will begin Monday and continue for two weeks until each school has been visited. Lt. Fred Kelley, of the sheriff's department, along with deputies who volunteer their off time and members of the police departments will stage the rodeo.

All bicycles entered will be inspected but even those that do not pass the inspection will be allowed to compete. Everyone entering the rodeo will get a bike safety coloring book, a membership card to the Bicycle Safety Club and a Florida Highway Patrol bicycle rules and regulations pamphlet.

The entrants will be scored in the figure 8, circle and stop sign. They can receive a maximum of 10 points in each event or 30 for the entire competition.

In the county finals, the boys and girls will be competing for first, second and third place trophies in the separate boys' and girls' categories of competition. In addition to the trophies, several merchants are providing prizes such as watches and radios. Other merchants are offering cash donations that is used to purchase the trophies.

The dates and times of the rodeos will be announced at each school as the rodeo schedule is established.

Radloff - County Agreement Nullified Altamonte Springs Council Overrides Its Own Member

By DONNA ESTES
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS —
Proposed agreement between the City and the county to halt development of at least one apartment complex scheduled for construction near SR 436 and 14 was flatly turned down by the City Council to the consternation of Councilman T. A. Radloff.

Radloff reported to the board the County Commission in work session agreed to refuse approval of a sewer package plant for the apartment complex to be located behind Spring Lake Hills if the city, in return, would deny water and sewer service to the site.

Plans are to build 340 apartment units on the tract. The Council instead of approving the agreement voted three-to-one to annex the property. Radloff, visibly perturbed by the Council's refusal to approve the plan he had worked out with the county, insisted the city should approve service to only 51 units in the present phase of its sewer system and not serve the remainder of units until later stages of the system construction.

The city several years ago signed contract to give the entire Spring Lake Hills area sewer service in return for donation of easements for main sewer lines to the sewer plant site.

Also included in the arrangement was a clause in which the city was to receive no individual connection fees for the sewer service. A lump sum of $10,000 was paid to the city by the developer.

Alfred Tracy and Charles Dooley. Since that time a portion of the land at the southern edge of the property was rezoned by the county for apartment development. The city for several weeks has been negotiating with attorneys for the owner over whether the waiver of additional connection charges included the apartment development. The city, although single family home service was not specified in the contract has taken the position it would serve only 51 units, the number which would have been served under single family development, and would insist on connection fees for the remainder of the development.

The city's position calls for payment by the developer of an additional $40,000 plus in connection fees. The developer has agreed to pay these sums.

Radloff maintained the development should be stopped via family development, and would insist on connection fees for the remainder of the development.

land in the first place and has pledged to permit 400 more apartment units between this tract and Spanish Trace. Radloff said the city has the responsibility to control the population growth and Swafford countered that the city wants orderly development and to control this development as much as possible.

The councilman asked the other members of the board why he was authorized to discuss the agreement with the county if it did not intend to approve it.

Councilman Keith Nixon said it was merely a courtesy extended to him by the board.

Sunday Liquor Sales Okayed At Altamonte

By DONNA ESTES
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS —
Liquor can be served on Sundays with meals in restaurants able to cater to 200 or more patrons after next Tuesday when enabling ordinance is expected to be adopted on second reading.

Council last night on a three-to-one vote approved the ordinance on first reading to permit the sales with meals from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Sundays.

Councilman Keith Nixon, who had previously voted against the measure, switched to support when agreement was reached to set the closing hour of the establishments at 11 p.m. rather than 2 a.m.

The ordinance patterned after state law concerning special restaurant liquor licenses requires that 60 per cent of the gross income of the restaurant places must be gained from sale of food.

At this time, no restaurant in the city can comply with the ordinance. The ordinance will benefit, however, the new O'Leary's Restaurant expected to open on SR 436 in the next few months and both Holiday and Ramada Inns planned for construction.

Councilman Helen Keyser continued her objection to Sunday sales and voted against the measure.

In other business, Council extended the privilege of serving beer and wine with meals on Sundays to small restaurants.

Authorized City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. to prepare a resolution for adoption next week directed to the Legislature in support of legislation to require counties to return all road and bridge taxes levied within cities back to the counties.

Mayor Lawrence Swafford reported that since 1969 city residents have paid more than $200,000 in county road and bridge taxes and received only half the funds back.

Billionaire Recluse Returns In Secrecy

By KENNETH GEPFERT
Associated Press Writer
NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) —
Billionaire recluse Howard Hughes has returned in secrecy to the United States after nearly 15 months in seclusion in the Bahamas, a government official indicated today.

The report could not immediately be confirmed, but it came from a ranking official in the Bahamian government who declined to be identified.

Hughes' whereabouts were unknown.

Meanwhile, an official of Paradise Island Limited said Hughes may have left the island as early as last weekend with a few members of his staff.

Paradise Island Limited owns and operates the Britannia Beach Hotel, where the 66-year-old industrialist has been reported living since leaving Las Vegas, Nev., on Thanksgiving Eve in 1970.

In Los Angeles, Richard Hannah, publicity chief of Hughes Tool Co., said he inferred from his sources that Hughes left the Britannia Beach Hotel Tuesday.

Hannah said he did not know where Hughes went.

The U.S. Customs Bureau in Washington declined comment on whether Hughes had been processed through customs in his reported return to the United States.

Hughes has not been seen publicly since 1953.

A C-47 cargo plane left Nassau this morning loaded with furniture and other items removed from Hughes' ninth-floor suite of the Britannia Beach Hotel on Wednesday.

Among the items were a hospital bed, blood plasma stand,

Now Is A Good Time To Consider The SMA

In the long history of man's search for God, there are times and seasons when the role of organized religion has earned and received the spotlight of intense public attention.

This period of Lent, with the somberness of Good Friday leading to the brightness of Easter morn, is such a time. It is also a calendar coincidence with the 72 challenges which confront every community.

There is no doubt but that in such areas as Sanford-Seminole, wrestling with a burst of population, industrial and business growth, that there is more than a tendency, there is a temptation to overlook or underestimate the true strength which is given by such organizations as the Sanford Ministerial Association.

For here is an association with 42 active members, providing a working relationship for all faiths and, in essence, mustering the great strength of such religious groups to do good works, and provide the intangible muscle which works for the good of all.

In Sanford-Seminole there are an abundance of other citizen groups who are identified with the cultural — the Seminole Mutual Concert Association; the business — the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, as examples, as well as the women's clubs, garden clubs and civic clubs.

These are, of course, needed and are well publicized. At this time, however, we would take advantage of the religious season and urge everyone to not only think about the SMA but understand what they have done and are doing.

The association has youth programs that need funding. It has been an active supporter of such community drives as that for the Good Samaritan Home and the Little Red Schoolhouse.

The special services which are conducted under the SMA auspices at Thanksgiving, Good Friday and Easter are also times when special collections for the support of the association's good works are made.

Only last week the original American version of the famous Oberammergau Passion Play was presented at the Civic Center in Sanford. A combination of unusually bad rainy weather and the six-performance program resulted in less than normal patronage by the public and a consequent loss of revenue.

Thus while the net return in hard cash may have been a disappointment that deprived the ones who would have benefited if the public response and the surrounding circumstances had been favorable, those who did attend and saw the truly professional manner in which this sad story was depicted are the beneficiaries today of the SMA's boldness in sponsoring the play.

The Rev. William Norris, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, is president of the association for '72. This office is rotated yearly and brings the strength of a wide variety of religious faiths and personal talents into play.

If the vision which the SMA displayed in bringing the Passion Play to Sanford is any indication of the future, then the public needs to get behind, support and encourage these ministers.

Thus, in another area of human activity, the newness of approach by every resident of every faith in this nature-blessed region.

Spear-headed by the SMA, men, women and children of goodwill can convert this challenge into an opportunity in which the basic force of religious belief or faith can be harnessed for the overall betterment of all.

Armadillos Move

Scientists who keep tabs on the climate have observed a sign which may indicate the next ice age is on the way. The sign is the movement of the humble armadillo, himself a survivor of several previous ice ages.

Armadillos, we're told, are fond of warm latitudes. Before 1914, the animals ventured no further north than northern Mexico and southern Texas. After that, however, they migrated north and by 1949 made their homes in Oklahoma and Arkansas. By the 1950s they had reached Nebraska, where Dr. Charles E. Schultz of that state's university, reports the populace was quite unprepared for them. "It scared people to death to go out in their backyards and see one," Dr. Schultz observed.

Recently armadillos started migrating southward, possibly forestalling an incipient ice age. Indeed, the armadillo has vanished from the midwestern plains. If the evidence is supported, there seems little to worry about for now. Some estimates are that it would take at least 4,000 years for a new ice age to become full-fledged. That old cold will do for another winter. — Charlotte (N.C.) News

Real Disquieting

While you're wrestling with your federal income tax, it won't make you feel any better to realize that 17 cents out of every income tax dollar goes toward payment of interest on the national debt. Interest on the debt now amounts to $21 billion per year. — Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

McGovern's Defense Budget

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA)—It is an article of faith among this country's ardent liberals that our defense budget can and should be subjected to massive cuts, amounting to at least a third. It is not at all easy, however, to show how this can be done.

The only serious, mandated try has been made this winter by Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota. Aided by 29 or 30 people he declines to name, he has put together a 46-page "alternative" defense budget which would set annual military spending at $35 billion—just about 20 per cent below present levels.

I submitted McGovern's budget to experts outside the government. They pronounce his undertaking professional in tone, conception and execution. It represents prodigious effort befitting an earnest candidate for the presidency.

Furthermore, McGovern properly argues that candidates' promises of new spending priorities aimed at domestic problems are "empty talk" unless reinforced by some plan to dredge up the enormous funds needed. He has attempted to face up to that hard necessity.

Yet, with all of that said, the judgment has to be that his proposals are neither as bold nor as realistic as they seem. The document suggests some glaring incompetence—over the long run—among the senator's advisors.

Global View:

Hanoi's "Wait And See" Strategy

By RAY CHROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA)—For the past year, the government of North Vietnam has been attempting to hold secret talks with Hanoi.

Thus far, the attempts have been in vain. Hanoi has not refused to talk secretly, but has not accepted either. Sometimes the outlook has seemed favorable, but there is no visible prospect that anything will come of the Saigon approaches in the immediate future.

This has not been for want of trying or for lack of contacts. Time and again, Saigon's men have approached intimate sources in North Vietnam. These preliminary channels have been difficult to arrange, for large numbers of high South Vietnamese officials have close relatives and boyhood friends in the regions controlled by Hanoi and among some of the important officials in the north.

The information here outlined comes from Saigon sources on intimate terms with President Thieu. These men themselves have excellent contacts in North Vietnam.

These sources believe Hanoi will still at least until President Nixon's trip to Peking and to Moscow have been completed and the results evaluated.

The same men believe this Hanoi decision to "wait and see" was responsible for the Le Duc Tho "sickness" which North Vietnam said made it impossible for Tho to meet with Henry Kissinger on Nov. 20 of last year, thus stalling the U.S.-North Vietnam secret talks.

A few days after Hanoi had notified Washington on Nov. 17 that Tho was so sick he could not meet with Kissinger, he was seen, healthy and in good spirits, at an airport welcoming a French delegation to Hanoi.

Expansion Of City Hall Considered By Longwood

By DONNA ESTES
LONGWOOD — Expansion of City Hall to give additional space for a water clerk's office and for the mayor and Council is being considered by the City Council.

The board in special session instructed Mayor Kenneth Brown to obtain preliminary drawings and estimates of cost to extend the building some 70 feet east to the police station. The expansion is to be 30 feet wide.

Councilman E. E. Williamson questioned whether the city could afford costs of the expansion, but Council Chairman Eugene Jacques insisted the question of costs can be debated when plans are drawn. Williamson voted against the authorization.

On other business, Council approved putting out for bids the paving of the section of Grant Street from the end of the present paving to the cemetery. The costs are to be paid through a property assessment program on the basis of one-third to each abutting property and one third by the city.

Approved request for bids on a new backhoe for the water and maintenance departments. Councilman William Klesky said some $7,000 of the cost set aside for state retirement which employees turned down.

Agreed to place 12 street lights around the city cemetery to stop vandalism. It was reported that at least one tombstone has been stolen from the cemetery.

Listened to a report from planner, Richard Wetherill on a comprehensive report which his company could do for the city. Costs of the work would be $15,000 to $18,000 annually, Wetherill said.

Adopted on two consecutive readings an emergency ordinance rezoning the tract of land adjacent to the old post office building to permit construction of a warehouse.

People who are different from each other than processed pieces of cheese individually wrapped in identical pieces of colorless plastic. The high cost of low living. Hockey fans. If they are more interested in bloodshed than sport, why don't they enlist and go to a war? ### Merrily-Go-Round

By MARILYN GORDON
Slappy sweet 50th birthday to Cathleen Garrett of Summer-set. Hope she has many more. The big deal about this birthday is that it puts her in the driver's seat.

The Casseberry Women's Club had a pot luck dinner. These women can outdo any group of eaters.

Stacy, my oldest daughter was host to two girls here for a "Brotherhood Convention." Our guests were Ruth Lazarich of Jacksonville and Sarah Derrick of Daytona Beach.

The girls were lovely and it was a pleasure to have them. While here they attended study groups, meetings and parties. Now I know what it would be like to live in a dormitory.

This was my week to serve jury duty in Sanford. I was thrilled and made all kinds of plans regarding missed school (which waits for no one) and missed laundry (which waits for me).

Monday morning found me on the parking lot behind the courthouse and my umbrella in the other car and the rain falling in buckets. I was sure that if you were late you would be thrown into a dumpster and never heard from again so I ran all the way.

I was so wet that the dye came off my good shoes and my feet matched my shoes. (How is that for a coincidence?)

Get well quick to two of my favorite people, Judy Morris and Cassieberry that has nasty flu bug. Judy just cannot afford to get sick because the many people have to do without her. In addition to her family of course, her special education class at Sanford's Southside School will miss their favorite teacher.

Liz Mathieu has adjourned to Seminole Memorial Hospital. Liz assured I have cast a spell for your good health. It is not easy to find two frogs, three spiders, four leaf clovers and five bachelors but nothing was too much trouble for your good health. My clock is set for midnight and by the light of the full moon I shall bury the connection under my orange tree.

Mrs. Albert Rolf gave the devotional program "Be still and know that I am God."

It was voted to give two social studies books to the Southside School Library.

Horticulture report was given by Mrs. Wallis, who spoke on palms. Among the varieties she mentioned were Sable, Date, Cabbage, Needle and Scrub.

A cupes plant was brought to show the members then given to the president, Mrs. Churpening, for her to plant.

A delicious salad and Russian tea were served by Mrs. Moe and Mrs. W. E. Williams, co-hostess.

The club presented a program with a display of artificial flowers or arrangements made by members of the club.

Minutes of the January meeting were read and approved. Committee reports were called for and given.

Guest for the evening was Mrs. Agnes Rode, of Lansing, Mich., who has been guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ward for several days.

Double Ring Rites Unite Couple Miss Norma McKelvey Bride Of Mr. Edwards

Miss Norma Jean McKelvey became the bride of Malcolm Richard Wallace Edwards, Feb. 15 at 2 p. m. at Pinecrest Baptist Church, Sanford. Rev. Julian L. Stenstrom officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Valerie Gramkow was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman McKelvey 112 East Jinking Circle and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Edwards, 427 11th Ave., Palmetto.

The couple exchanged vows before a large white arch decorated with fern and interspersed with white pom-poms. Flanking the arch were basket arrangements of white mixed flowers and two peonies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white crepe fashioned with empire waist, lace bodice and long full sleeves.

Her train length veil of silk illusion was trimmed with lace matching the bodice and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and lace with white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. William R. Tyre, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal length gown of red luxury satin, trimmed with white lace and featuring an empire waist and long sleeves with six buttons at the cuffs.

Mrs. Teri Minutella was maid of honor and Miss Susan Baker was bridesmaid. Their gowns, hats and flowers were identical to those of the bride.

Valentine Charity Ball Reservations Limited

(Editor's Note: Reservations for Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Charity Ball are almost sold out. Those planning to attend should phone 322-1888, 322-6272 or 322-6447 TODAY.)
By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
Beauty, fashion, fun and frolic for the benefit of Seminole County Association for Retarded Children with special attention to the Little Red School House, is the order of the day, Feb. 26, from 9 to 11 p. m. at Sanford Civic Center.

City Council of Beta Sigma Phi is sponsoring their annual Valentine Ball for the benefit of Retarded Children. This is a formal affair and all of the principles are planning fashionable costumes to really dazzle the onlooker.

Mrs. Charles (Deenie) Bartlett, chairman of the Ball this year, will be wearing a full length black bonded crepe with long sleeves. The neck and cuffs will sparkle with beaded silver.

Mrs. Don (Jan) Cahill, co-chairman, is also wearing black—exquisite black lace over beige silk—long sleeves and a full length accordion pleated skirt.

Martha Lyles that lovely charmer who is the retiring Valentine Queen, will wear a black knit Maxi, fastened with a scooped neckline, short sleeves, with a white silk brocaded knit skirt slit up the front, when she places the crown on her successor.

A KING WILL REIGN
The kind contest candidates are enthusiastically and wholeheartedly supporting the event. There are 15 king candidates this year. Since the winner of this contest will be the gentleman who raises the most money, between now and Feb. 26, the date of the ball, it seems fairly well assured that the designated charity will benefit handsomely from this year's festivities.

"It doesn't matter who is for those kids," remarked Chuck Best, candidate representing the Sanford Plaza Merchant's Association.

To fortify his own campaign Chuck will present two organ concerts at Jim Spencer's Restaurant on Sunday night from 6 to 8 p. m. and again on Monday night, from 8 to 10 p. m. All proceeds will be given over to the benefit fund.

Also, Melodee Skating Rink is sponsoring two adult skating parties on Thursday, Feb. 17 and Feb. 24 with proceeds to go to Chuck's candidacy and to the fund.

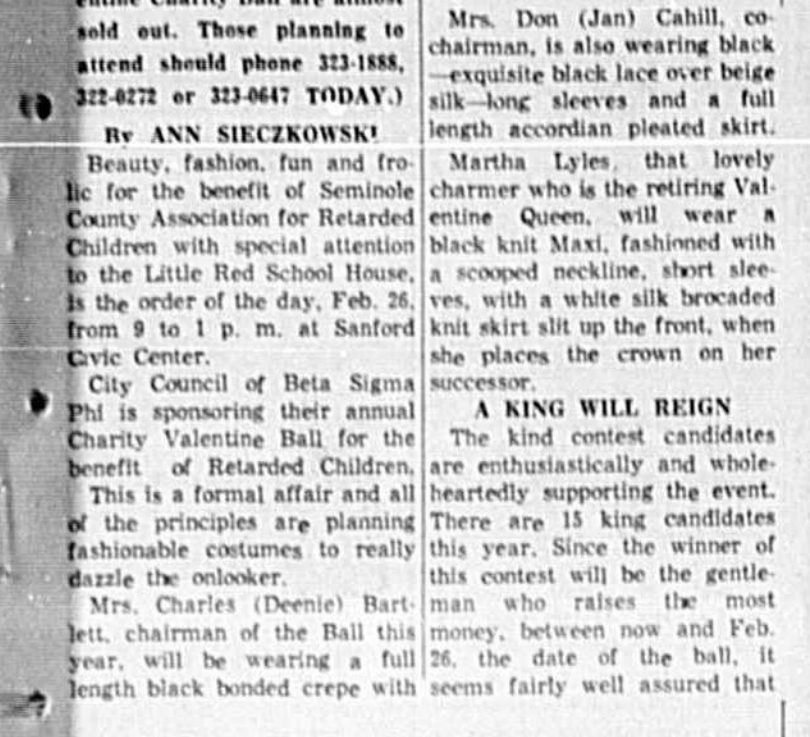

Other candidates who are planning but have not announced as yet their campaign strategy for winning this contest are: Jerry Ferrel, representing the Father Richard Lyons Council, K. of C.; Tom Lyons, Sanford Atlantic Bank, and Ron Leach, First Federal Savings and Loan.

Also Ron Behney, Florida State Bank; Wayne Albert, U.S. Bank; Don Silver, Moose Lodge; Jim Jarrett, Optometrist Club; Dr. George (Bill) Edwards, Sanford Bath and Tennis Club; Bill Foster, Sanford Police Department and Duane Harrell, Seminole Sheriff's Department.

Three other organizations have promised but have not named their candidates as yet.

All of these candidates and Beta Sigma Phi members urge everyone who sees of these committees who are placed around the county to vote for the candidate of your choice while knowing that each penny you cast is a symbol of help for retarded children.

DR. LUIS PEREZ and his wife, Dr. Maria Perez (both medical doctors with vivacious Maria preferring her MRS Degree) have been avid supporters of Beta Sigma Phi and mental health for years. This year they will serve as official hosts to the cocktail party preceding the ball Feb. 26, at which time judges will evaluate the queen candidates. Maria will wear a floor-length sleeveless black silk tulle gown fashioned with an A-line skirt and gold and silver metallic bodice. Luis will wear a conventional tuxedo.

Pat Mann Chosen Queen At Gala Ball

By ANN RILEY
Mrs. Pat Mann was crowned Queen at the second annual Sweetheart Ball held Saturday evening at the Moose Lodge in Sanford. Florence Shirley Williams was chosen as runner-up.

Pat was attired in a long sleeve pink satin princess style formal, trimmed down the front with 43 tiny covered buttons. The dress was accented with a long jeweled lace coat lined with pink satin. Her accessories were pink and crystal.

Florence was wearing a formal gown of white crepe with a lace bodice scalloped just above the waist. The gown had a high neck line and long sleeves which are accented with tiny white bows at wrists. Her accessories were silver shoes and jewelry.

Other women of the Moose competing in the contest were: Donna Gair, whose gown was a fashioned sheath of white satin with a pink lace overlay—featuring a sabbina neckline and cap sleeves. Her outfit was complimented by silver shoes and gloves.

Mary Clinton whose gown had a black bonded jersey top, flowered tie silk skirt, accented by a rhinestone bracelet and earrings, along with silver shoes.

Vadie Nelson who wore a gown of blue and silver brocade featuring a fitted princess line sleeveless with a jewel neck line. White gloves, rhinestone fit.

Faye Silver, was attired in a tangerine crepe gown featuring a jewel necklace and peek-a-boo skirt. She was also wearing rhinestone jewelry, white gloves and silver slippers.

Joyce Dorton, whose gown was fashioned in pink bonded lace—featuring a scoop neckline, puffed sleeves, with an empire waist. Gloves and slippers were white.

Judges for this lovely affair were Sheriff and Mrs. John Polk, Police Chief and Mrs. Ben Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Volentine.

On judging the contestants, Sheriff Polk remarked, "Ben Butler and I would have found it easier to solve a murder than to pick a queen, as all the ladies look so beautiful and all are so gracious."

A romantic setting was created for the evening with the use of lots of red hearts and cupid on throughout the hall. Centered on the hearts were photos of sweethearts (husbands and wives) of the Moose. A huge heart-shaped frame, fashioned of pink net rested on a red velvet platform. It graced the front center of the ballroom and from this the queen was crowned.

It was a most enjoyable evening for all for a good cause as all proceeds from the event went to Moosehall.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

BEAR ABBY: I am married to a psychiatrist who is a wonderful husband and father. We have two preschool children.

I suppose I shouldn't have any problems, but I find that I become very anxious and jealous when I hear of his women patients who are attractive, talented, and lead such glamorous lives. I do a little volunteer work but really enjoy being a housewife and mother.

How do I keep from feeling insecure and jealous, Abby? Should I seek the counsel of my husband's doctor? I should I confess my feelings straight to my husband who seems to help everyone else?

NEEDS ADVICE

DEAR NEEDS: You say, "I suppose I shouldn't have any problems." EVERYBODY has problems. And that includes psychiatrists and their wives. Why should you be immune to what's going on in the world? It may create the appearance of impropriety where none exists, which would be embarrassing to your husband. Instead, tell your husband exactly how you feel, and if he loves you (and I think he does), he will give you the assurance you need.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this guy for over a year and we have become

The letter was then signed by a man who listed himself as an instructor in the English department at Bowling Green State University, in Ohio.

This young instructor merits a double compliment, however, for he had a laudable masculine

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, FEB. 18, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: What appears to be unnecessary delays, you are now able to put in motion new plans and arrangements that are important to your career. Any delay that takes place is an opportunity to perfect vital ideas you want to express.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You can carry through now with a new plan you have in mind, even if key persons are difficult to reach. Handle a transportation matter more easily than you expect.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Try to understand better the financial requirement of any promises you have made. Follow the ideas of one with greater experience than yourself in this matter.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You are able today to do all those things that improve relationships with good friends. Study well any social affairs that are fascinating to you. Show that you are capable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): You think you are doing well where your vocation is concerned, but in reality you are doing better than most. Forget your fears and delve into intricate matters.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Your ideas are excellent but forget old methods that could keep you from succeeding with them. A new ally has a fine idea that you should listen to most carefully. Express confidence.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You have an opportunity to discharge responsibilities with precision, so get an early start. A former associate who now opposes you can be handled calmly and wisely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Making the right contacts and clarifying present projects can make the future much brighter for you. Open a new wedge with the public so that there is greater acceptance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You have good ideas that can be put to work effectively, so go ahead with them instead of being discouraged. First find out what you are doing better than most. Then you will face agonizing decisions of ruling against a gangster and thereby ruining his own work.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY: I want to tell Trudy who has trouble with fertility that when most fruits and vegetables are to be put in plastic bags they should first be wrapped in paper toweling to absorb any excess moisture. I do not cut celery except just out of the extra length and any brown spots.

DEAR POLLY: Trudy should buy one of those marvelous new plastic containers. They are the best ever for keeping celery crisp and fresh. I bought mine at the five-and-ten. After buying celery I immediately cut off the bottom ends so each stalk will be loose, trim the tops and store in this container which is filled 3/4 full of water. Celery is ALWAYS crisp and ready to use on a moment's notice.—MRS. J.M.K.

DEAR POLLY: Trudy wrote that she cleans her celery with a vegetable brush before storing it so perhaps she is brushing the celery and bruised vegetable matter. She might also try getting a new vegetable brush and sterilize it every so often as there may be decay-causing bacteria on her old brush. The old one, in fact, ends suggests to me that the vegetable keeper might also need sterilizing or the temperature is too high or even both.—HELEN

Raiders Thump Rollins JV '5' in Tuneup, 112-91

Hampered by injuries to players, Seminole Junior College coach Joe Sterling called upon a couple members of the Rollins JV, 112-91 at the Seminole High court last night.

While the performance of Robbie Clifton and Joe Carter, came through with flying colors, Clifton added 24 points and Carter added 22 to the Raiders' score.

ACTION promises to be just as tight in the scramble for the Orange Belt Conference Tournament trophy which is slated to begin tonight in New Smyrna Beach. Oviedo's Doug Allen had a scramble for the ball against two Apopka players, but the scramble for the Lions will not begin until Friday night. Oviedo and Ocoee, the top two teams in the conference standings, drew a bye for the first night of play. No matter what the outcome is in the tourney, the Lions with a 9-1 conference mark have the ORC title. (Larry Neely Photo)

Roger Taylor Out Of World Tourney

TORONTO (AP) — Unseeded Roger Taylor of Great Britain capped a day of upsets in a $50,000 World Championship tennis tournament, Wednesday, by eliminating Wimbledon king John Newcombe of Australia 7, 5, 4, 6, 4.

The eighth-seeded Newcombe was fighting a hot-and-cold campaign and an inconsistent serve throughout the match.

Fifth-seeded Bob Lutz of Thurston, Calif., ran into what he termed bad line calls and a steady service game as he was defeated 6-2, 6-4 by 19th-seeded Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

Unseeded Fred Stolle, who eliminated fourth-seeded Cliff Drysdale earlier, put together a strong volleying game to outlast 11th-seeded John Alexander 4, 6, 6, 4 in a battle of Australians.

Rick Barry Scores 50 But Loses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — New York's Rick Barry was unstoppable Wednesday night, so the Utah Stars found another way to beat the Nets.

"While Barry was putting on a one-man show, the Stars, leaders in the American Basketball Association's West Division, concentrated on keeping the rest of the Nets under control."

Other outstanding performers for the Hounds have been 100-pounder Bruce Hill who has won eight of ten matches; Clifford Hayes who has seven wins in eight tries; Gary Kitchen with seven wins in nine matches; Ray Banwell with a 7-3 mark; Mike White at 6-1 and John Zino at 7-3.

While their work may not be described as "outstanding" in the effort of Alpha Franklin at 124 points and Jim Brinker at 121 points, he also contributed to the Hounds.

Franklin has improved a great deal in recent weeks and has a 3-1 record in his last five matches. He has an overall record of 4-1. Brinker has a 6-3 mark on the year and has won four of his last five.

The overall performance of the Hound team is attributed to the work of head coach Bill Scott and his assistant, Ron McLaughlin.

Suit Invald Says Barry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Basketball star Rick Barry is back in the courts — this time in a $1.1 million suit he filed in U.S. District Court against the National Basketball Association team formerly known as the San Francisco Warriors.

Barry, now 27 and a forward with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association, claims a 1969 contract he signed with the Warriors is invalid.

The suit, filed Wednesday, is actually a counter-claim to one filed in November by attorney for Warrior owner Frank Meull seeking to make Barry live up to the three-year contract.

Barry, in his action, alleges that the NBA and the Warriors pooled resources in obtaining his services, thereby violating federal anti-trust regulations.

The complaint claims the contract is invalid because it is "an unreasonable restraint of trade violation of sections one and two of the antitrust law."

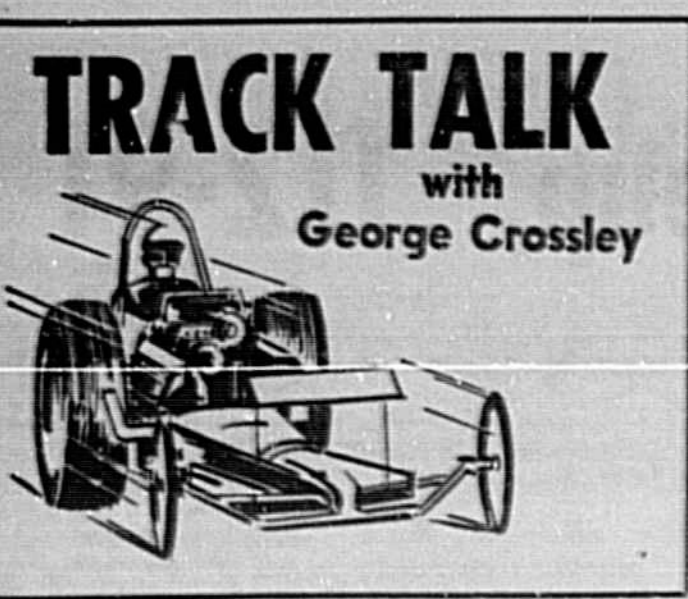

"Part of the suit is similar to the Curt Flood baseball case," said Barry's attorney, Frederick Furr. "We are arguing that NBA reserve clause is illegal."

The ABA has a one-year option but no reserve clause.

TRACK TALK

with George Crossley

I know a lot of you drag racing fans are already aware of the big news from the Winter Nationals (NHRA) which took place at Pomona, California in early February. For those of you who didn't get the word the winner of the pro-stock class at Pomona was "The Grump." That's Bill Jenkins for those of you who aren't aware. Bill accomplished this feat in an almost entirely untested Chevy Vega with a small block engine. Bill used to dominate pro-stock competition and he seems to be just the man to knock the likes of Ronnie Sox and Don Nicholson off the top of the class and make that position exclusively his. Watch out for Grumpy. By the way, Bill's best time in competition was 6.32 through the quarter. Now you know he's ready.

Rumor has it that Road Atlanta in Georgia has a good chance of getting sanction for a Formula 1 race under International sanction in the near future. We will be awaiting further developments on this interesting news.

Pontiac is coming out with their version of the Chevy Vega in 1973.

ABC TV will be broadcasting a number of races this year including three NASCAR Races to get the season rolling, the 500 from Ontario, California on March 1, the March 25 Rockingham, N. C. event and the famous Atlanta 500 March 26 as well as one USAC race, the Trenton 200.

"I'll never retire until I win No. 4," promises A. J. Foyt, the only active driver to win three times at Indianapolis. He shares the three-win record with Lou Meyer, Wilber Shaw, and Mauri Rose.

In addition to his three Indy wins, Foyt also has captured five national championships on the Championship Trial organized by the United States Auto Club. He is the only man to win five USAC titles.

The winner at Indy is in a good position to win a national title, since a 500-mile race means more points than shorter events on the Championship Trial. Interestingly, Foyt's first national title came in 1950, when he fell out of the 500 with a broken clutch. He won four of the last six championship races on the schedule that year to gain the title. Subsequent titles came in 1961, 1963, 1964 and 1967. His Indy wins were in 1961, 1964 and 1967.

While he is known primarily for his USAC championship racing, A. J. is taking advantage of the early race dates on the USACAR Grand National schedule to get in some stock car racing before Indianapolis and other USAC events.

He already has competed at Riverside, and he will follow with entries at Daytona, Ontario and Atlanta. He will drive the Purdette Mercury prepared by the Wood Brothers.

Foyt is no stranger to the tender-toe and bumper-to-bumper style of stock car racing. In the USAC stock car division, he won the championship in 1958 and was runner up the following year. He won five USAC stock car races in 1970 to finish third in the standings.

A. J. tried his hand at NASCAR stock car racing on the road course at Riverside in 1963 and came in second. The next year, he won the 400 at Daytona. He finished his first cracker 400 win in 1965. He also took over Marvin Panch's leading car at Atlanta and drove it home to victory.

That Atlanta ride came a great three months after Foyt had crashed badly at Riverside when his car lost its brakes as he approached a turn. He was still limping that race day after a lengthy stay in the hospital while back and leg injuries mended.

Foyt's appearance in the Atlanta race (he started in his own car, but crashed into the wall when his throttle stuck) was just another indication of his determination to race and win.

Another example involves Riverside in 1970. He was running a car that didn't appear to have a chance to win, but he drove hard anyway, and perseverance was rewarded with victory.

For his NASCAR participation in 1971, A. J. teamed with the Wood Brothers of Stuart, Va., and they came away with victories in the Ontario 500 and the Atlanta 500.

Foyt is acknowledged to be one of the most versatile drivers in competitive today. He is the only driver to win both the Indy 500 and the 24 Hours of Le Mans. He teamed with Dan Gurney in a Ford Mark IV to become the only Americans in an American car to win the grueling road race in 1967.

A. J. also has proven his ability in sprint and midget racing under USAC auspices, having won more than 20 races in each of those divisions. He is the only man to have won 20 or more events in the four USAC divisions: championship, stock, sprint and midget.

He even likes to run sprint races on dirt tracks, and as a result, he has won the Hoosier 100 a record six times, the most recent in 1969.

Foyt's most recent midget win was in the Houston Astroline in 1970 in a 100-lap race.

Anthony Joseph Foyt, Jr. was born January 16, 1935 in Houston, Texas. He took an early interest in cars and spent his spare time working in his father's garage. This early interest in mechanics has made him one of the most knowledgeable drivers.

In 1966, Foyt talked A. J. Sr. into closing the family garage in Houston and converting it into a racing shop. Since then they have been crew chief for his son's Indy efforts. They began building their own Indy cars called Coyotes.

The Foyts will be teaming again for 1972. They are building a new Coyote for Indy. As in the past, it will be powered by a Ford racing engine, but the Foyt crew have done considerable development work to boost the horsepower.

And as in the past, A. J. Sr. will be deeply involved in engineering and preparing the car with A. J. Sr.

Wilt Hits 30,000 Point NBA Milestone

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain has 30,000 career points but says his first point scored in the National Basketball Association was more memorable than his 30,000th. Chamberlain scored the milestone point in a postgame call Wednesday night during the third period of the Los Angeles Lakers-Phoenix Suns contest. Suns center Neal Walk was called for knocking Cham-

SWBA Handicap Tourney Gets Underway Saturday

3 Enter Guilty Pleas To Variety Of Charges

By MARION BETHRA

Of the eight trials which were docketed before Circuit Judge Charles Holley, three have been received from three of the defendants, and continue sessions granted in three others.

Joseph Kenneth Dean, charged with the rape of a 12-year-old Longwood girl in 1970, and who was convicted two weeks ago in Sanford of the rape of a 19-year-old Orlando housewife, entered a plea of guilty. The plea was given in chambers, with the defendant being present with his attorney, James Rusk, and the state being represented by Abbott Herring.

Dean pleaded guilty to the seven including offense of assault with intent to commit rape. Judge Holley found that the plea was free and voluntary within the law and adjudicated the defendant guilty of the offense. However, the court suspended sentencing indefinitely and ordered the defendant to custody for treatment as a mentally disordered offender at the Florida Research and Treatment Center or such other institution as is available for rehabilitation. Dean is presently serving a life sentence in another rape conviction in Orange County.

Diggings Uncover Early Life

By C. G. MCDANIEL
 CHICAGO (AP) — Excavations near a small Illinois town may show that the largest concentrations of prehistoric people in North America lived in the Middle West, an archeologist says.

Although more evidence of habitations exist in the Pacific Northwest and the Southwest because of differences in building materials and climate, Dr. Stuart Struver said Tuesday University heads a group of scientists and students who have been digging the past two summers near Kankakee, a town near the confluence of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers.

Struver said diggings down to 34 feet found ruins of 14 prehistoric Indian villages. They are stacked layer-cake fashion and each is separated by a layer of soil.

Institution Market Is Neutralized

By JOHN CUNIFF
 AP Business Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP) — One of the highlights of a recent seminar on investment performance at the University of Pennsylvania was a report stating that the record of institutional investors was no better than the market as a whole.

Institutions are the trusts, pension and mutual funds, the insurers, the foundations. They are professionals, and they take big salaries to prove their status.

Often they have superior research facilities. They have contacts. They have quick access to information that may have major impact on particular stocks or on the market as a whole.

Clearly they have sold their case to the public. More than $50 billion, for example, is invested through mutual funds. And yet, on average, they do no better than the market as a whole.

The report cited was given at the Rodney L. White Center for Financial Research at the Wharton School, where some of the best-known studies of markets have been conducted.

If the pros aren't able to "beat" the market, then what is the criterion on which they should be judged? Their convenience? Ability to spread the risk for many investors? Ability to diversify? To relieve investors of responsibility?

Most investors through institutions are aware of such considerations, but in the last analysis they are likely to reduce everything to just one consideration: Do they make more money for me than I might make on my own?

Why don't the institutions do better? One explanation lies in the makeup of the market, and it becomes very small investor to understand it. On some days, 70 per cent of all trading on the New York Stock Exchange is by institutions.

This means that when one institution makes a gain it often is at the expense of another. On such days, they are "the market as a whole." And since they are the market they cannot beat the market.

In other words, so institutionalized is the market that the great advantages enjoyed by institutions have been neutralized.

The lesson for the small investor is to be more alert and inquisitive about the manager of his pension or mutual fund portfolio. Some managers appear to outperform the market consistently; others have records so dismal that one wonders how they persist.

In the average, however, the extremely good and the terribly poor records protecting the inept den, thus protecting the inept manager and depriving the small investors who make up the fund from "buying rewards that could be theirs."

War Of Tapes Escalation Is Beginning

By JOHN CUNIFF
 AP Business Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP) — A significant escalation of the war of the tapes begins this week, a battle that involves on one side the music industry and on the other the illegal duplicators of music and the retailers who sell their product.

The legal music industry is now armed with copyright protection that gives them considerably more power to prevent duplication of their music. A practice that some industry officials say siphons off as much as $200 million a year.

Until now, duplication of music mechanically reproduced escaped coverage of the federal copyright laws. And few states had laws that permitted the legal owners of music to take quick and effective action.

One important effect of the new law on the public in general is that a 120-day hiatus in the production of new music will be in all probability end.

It took four months for the effective. During that time many artists reportedly withheld their new offerings so as to be better protected when the law became effective Feb. 15.

Copyright owners of music now can obtain injunctions to halt infringement, can recover damages and can have impounded all infringing copies. Moreover, the illegal duplicator faces fines and imprisonment.

Illegal duplication became a big industry although made up mainly of small operators. It was an easy business in which to be successful. You merely duplicated tapes of a legitimate producer then arranged for a retailer to sell them.

Sometimes the duplicator protected himself from suits by sending royalty payments to the artist. Sometimes he didn't even bother. But whether or not he did so, the legitimate tape manufacturer was hurt.

One manufacturer, Ampex, which produces tapes of more than 100 record companies, claims that illegal duplication is the major reason why legitimate sales reached only $500 million last year, instead of the $600 million that had been forecast.

Meatloaf Is Tasty 4 Different Ways

How much do you know about meatloaf? Do you have just one recipe? Or can you make meatloaf talk Italian, Danish, or one of the Swiss languages?

Our basic meatloaf recipe not only makes a marvelous example of the art "a" it can be varied with just a few touches to make a pizza-topped meatloaf, a Swiss cheese-crowned version, and a more delicately flavored meatloaf that has Dan-ish styling with dill and mushroom.

Meatloaf is such a traditional family dish that it's fun for the cook to make it in different fashions. In these days of high meat prices, meatloaf can be depended upon to keep the budget within bounds whenever it is served. Make the most of the meat you buy. Use Ac'cent to bring out the hearty beef flavor and to make the dish a harmony of many seasonings. That is the great gift of Ac'cent, to blend all the ingredients into a delicious unity.

With your basic meatloaf, you can vary the loaf not only in seasonings and in topping but in shape. Bake it in a loaf pan for the traditional meatloaf. Shape meatloaf in a ring mold to turn out and center with a cooked vegetable, a pleasant surprise. Individual meatloaves intrigue children, are handy for families who can't all eat at the same time, and they are easy to make either in tiny loaves or in custary cups or a muffin pan.

There is often a difference in meatloaf depending upon the container in which it is baked. Meatloaves baked in a loaf pan are softer in texture and shaped and baked on a flat pan is crisper and browner and slightly less juicy. It all depends upon personal preference. The flavor with this basic mixture and variations is unfailingly good.

With this recipe, your budget and your family can both smile, for the result is truly delicious.

BASIC MEATLOAF AND VARIATIONS

1 egg
 2 1/2 cup milk
 2 cups soft bread cubes

 1/4 cup chopped parsley
 2 pounds ground beef chuck
 Best egg in mixing bowl; add milk and bread cubes and let stand until bread absorbs milk. Mash and stir mixture until spread in a very small portion.

INDIVIDUAL LOAVES
 Shape meatloaf mixture into eight small oval loaves. Place in shallow baking pan and bake in 400 degree oven 40 minutes.

CUPS
 Lightly pack meatloaf mixture in eight 6-ounce custary cups or muffin pan. Bake in 400 degree oven 40 minutes.

By SUSAN DELIGHT
 Copying News Service

A weekend brunch is a delightfully informal way to entertain. It is easy on the host or hostess for guests usually serve themselves at such a social event.

The brunch menu lends lots of leeway, for food can be taken from meal plans of two meals — breakfast or lunch.

One menu features saucy sandwiches, made with chicken spread and asparagus on toast with a sour cream-dill topping, and muffin toppers, a tasty combination of corned beef spread, omelet and tomato slices stacked on an English muffin. Both dishes can be prepared in advance and kept at serving temperature in the oven or on a warming tray.

The other menu includes sausage, citrus kabobs, stuffed tomatoes, a fruit bowl that can be a first course or dessert with a sour cream sauce and a very punperical sandwiches.

Health Care Measure Wins Nod

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Senate Committee adopted Tuesday a bill authorizing establishment of health care by contract organizations in Florida.

The Senate Health, Welfare and Institutions Committee adopted the vote after agreeing to place regulation of the organizations under the Department of Insurance.

However, health officials would be able to veto the application on any new health maintenance organization if they did not feel its services were medically accepted.

MIAMI — Plotting against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is going underground in Miami, the Cuban exile capital which has been a caldron of revolutionary intrigue.

The U.S. government is cracking down. The State Department's Cuban affairs office in Miami warned anti-Castro militants that positions might be prosecuted for conspiracy to violate the U.S. neutrality act.

The worldwide network of espionage and subversion set up by the Red Chinese requires financing. For it is readily admitted that when it comes to wealth, Russia is richer than the Chinese.

What's Wrong With Boys, Dolls?

By CHRISTOPHER BRAKE

LOS ANGELES — Remember your teacher's warm, friendly greetings? "Good morning, boys and girls," she'd chime at the beginning of each school day.

Well, that greeting is not so warm anymore. And, if women's Libbers have their way, it won't be familiar either, as long with plenty of other "sex discriminators" they say teach unwittingly and damagingly perpetuate in the classroom each day.

Yes, the women's movement has struck the schools, the "place where all sexual inequality originates."

In Los Angeles city schools it came in the form of Mrs. Elizabeth Burr, an attractive, eloquent defender of women's rights, and a member of the "Westside Women's Committee" of West Los Angeles.

Is A New Law The Answer?

By TOM ALEXANDED

Copley News Service

VIENTIANE, Laos — The Laotian government is taking its first concrete steps against the heroin and opium trade here which informed sources say is playing an increasingly significant role in world drug traffic since Turkey opened up.

Laos, in the closing weeks of last year, activated a comprehensive eight-article law against trading in, manufacture of and transport of opium and its derivatives, including heroin. The law was enacted after a great deal of pressure here from U.S. Ambassador G. McMurtrie Godley.

Godley was able to bring pressure to bear because the United States entirely supports the Laos economy and military in the country's fight against North Vietnam invaders.

Taking cognizance of Laos' large tribal population (51 percent of a total of 2.3 million people) which grows opium deep in the mountains and jungles beyond any effective government control, the law provides for permits to grow and smoke opium to be issued to tribes on a temporary basis in areas where opium has been grown for generations.

But the law provides penalties for infringement of permit regulations which might be aimed at the tribesmen's opium reaching other areas of Laos and, more particularly, the outside world.

American officials express satisfaction with the new law, particularly the parts of it which cover the transport of opium and its derivatives. U.S. officials are unsure whether heroin is manufactured on a large scale in Laos or whether the morphine base is sent from here to Thailand for processing to heroin.

Lotteries Gain Favor For State's Revenue

(Editor's Note: The increasing problem of financing education and other governmental functions is causing the states to seek alternative sources of revenue, including legalized lotteries.)

By PAUL CORCORAN
Copley News Service

As long as people are going to gamble, it would be realistic to make it legal so that the public can benefit in some way. At least that is the growing sentiment in many statehouses, where elected leaders are trying to find some way to finance education and other necessary governmental services short of going bankrupt or taxing property owners out of their homes.

Several states already have waded into the lottery business, or at least intend to do so. Others are considering the move, as well as the possibility of legalizing off-track betting. The latter now is legal only in Nevada, where wagers of all kinds is possible. The odds always are with the house, as they are with the state in a lottery.

New Hampshire was the first state to run a lottery, and a rocky beginning dissuaded a number of other states from embarking on such a course. New York was next, starting in 1967 with a lottery that provided $305 million in revenue in 1970. New Jersey began its lottery in December, 1970. The Massachusetts Legislature approved a constitutional amendment in 1971 to establish a legalized lottery.

Also in 1971, Pennsylvania adopted a lottery, expected to realize $60 million per year, to provide tax relief for the aged. California and Illinois, despite consideration of legalized lotteries, do not appear likely to take the plunge in the immediate future. Banking as they do among the four most populous states what they do, and don't do, is significant.

Among other states giving serious consideration to starting lotteries are Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Delaware and Virginia.

The decision of Massachusetts to conduct a lottery has a good deal of historical background.

The state first had a legal lottery in 1777, authorized for the purpose of financing an expedition in the French and Indian Wars. John Hancock started another one in 1781 to raise $1,200 — no small sum in those days — to repair Faneuil Hall.

Then in 1793, Harvard conducted a lottery to raise money for education, which should have a familiar ring to it.

However, in 1883, Massachusetts found it could survive without the curse of gambling, in a time when honest self-dependence was of the utmost importance.

One factor that caused Gov. Francis Sargent to veto the bill was concern that the lottery could be the subject of "political patronage." As noted, this has not been turned out to be the case in other states experimenting with the lottery.

Despite many misgivings, the experience of other states with lottery programs has not been as difficult as had been

Scenic Wonder: No. Wales Beauty Often Overlooked

By DON WEIS
Copley News Service

LANDUDNO, North Wales — The Wales Tourist Board has badly handled the job of telling the outside world of the benefits of a visit to the land of the Druids.

Many Americans have not even heard of this land, that was never conquered. The Romans tried and left their imprints on the land.

The English kings were unable to subdue these hardy people, but their mark, too, can be seen.

The beauty of the Welsh hills perhaps is not exceeded in any land on earth. The warmth of the people is almost beyond belief.

The sense of history at times is awesome.

What has the Wales Tourist Board failed to tell you? How about Harlech Castle? You may know of it from movies which often feature Welsh miners walking home from a day in the pits singing, in unbelievable Welsh style, "Men of Harlech."

Here, Welsh architect Clough Williams Ellis had constructed a castle at which Prince Iago was thwarted by a defending force of 37 men who held it in 1524. It was built in about 1283 and much of it is as it was then. The view, of more than 50 miles, from its parapets is breathtaking. A Tourist Board booklet, "North Wales," fails to mention Harlech Castle.

The Tourist Board also forgot to tell you about Portmerion Village in Merionethshire. Here, Welsh architect Clough Williams Ellis had constructed an Italian village so realistic that the television audiences watching a series filmed there did not know until years afterward that it was made in Wales, not Italy.

The village is complete with villas, statuary, balconies and seaside beaches.

Ever heard of Cowes? Well, this north Wales City has a mighty castle including no less than 12 turrets within its walls. Within the castle, built by Edward I, his queen tended the first sweet pea grown in Britain. The one-half mile circuit of the city walls has 21 towers.

What do you know about Ruthin Castle?

Maybe by now you can see the weaknesses of the Wales Tourist Board. It never has told you that at its center is a cluster of ancient buildings spanning many centuries. At Exmew Hall, built in 1500, is a block of limestone where King Arthur is said to have had his rival in love, Huail, beheaded.

In Elizabethan times, the last Jesuit priest was hanged on a gallows, the beam of which still stands.

At Ruthin Castle an authentic Elizabethan banquet is served each night.

Did the Wales Tourist Board ever tell you about the city of Wrexham? This city lies a half-hour from Chester, England. It is one with which the Americans can readily associate. In St. Giles' churchyard lie the remains of Elihu Yale, virtual founder of Yale University. His grave is in the shadow of the tower built in the 13th Century, during the reign of Henry VII. The tower is one of the "Seven Wonders of Wales."

At Langolien, in the shadows of the ruins of an 8th Century castle, each year is held one of the outstanding music events in the world. The International Musical Eisteddfod. Singers and dancers in their national dress compete on a stage beneath a huge marquee which seems to fill the valley.

North Wales also has a village with the longest name in the world.

REAL CHARMERS — Three girls in traditional Welsh garb pose before Caernarvon Castle in North Wales. The castle, site of the investiture of Charles as prince of Wales in 1969, is probably the best-known tourist spot in Wales.

It's Better To Look Before Buying

By GREG CONNOLLY

OTTAWA — Canadians who have been victimized through the purchase of swamp land in Florida are learning with interest that some Americans have become the possessors of moose pastures in northern Canadian areas.

For decades past, Canadians contemplating retirement in Florida have been buyers of lots, some good, some bad. It is a new story that U. S. citizens have been taken for a ride in some areas of Canada. Thousands of brochures have been mailed into the United States extolling the merits of the unspoiled wilderness in Canada where property may be picked up for a song. Land is being offered for as little as $20 an acre in northern Ontario.

However, this highly touted increase in some instances is inaccessible and swamp. Local residents describe the land as suitable only for moose.

Certainly American purchasers of lots in some of these remote areas are due for a shock if they get a firsthand view of their acquisitions.

More recently there has been a hue and cry that Americans who were "buying up" Prince Edward Island.

In any event, with their long cold winters, the Canadian thinking about land investment has been oriented toward Florida and the Caribbean, even if some people get real estate developments in these warmer climates.

37th Bach Festival Slated March 2-3

WINTER PARK — Official program for the 37th annual Bach Festival of Winter Park was announced by Dr. Ward Woodbury, music director-conductor of the world-renowned event slated for March 2-3 in Knowles Memorial Chapel, Rollins College.

The 72 Bach commemoration will be initiated with a recital Thursday afternoon, March 2, that includes Partita for Harpsichord in B Minor, several Geminello Lieder for Tenor and Harpsichord, Sonata for D for Cello and Harpsichord, and Cantata No. 56 for Bass.

At 8 p.m., March 2, those holding cards of admission will be treated to an all-Vivaldi program. Selections chosen are Concerto in D Minor for String Orchestra, Winter from the Four Seasons, Concerto in D Minor for Cello and String Orchestra, plus the violinist-composer's Gloria.

Only morning activity scheduled is a lecture at 10:30 a.m., March 3, by the musicologist, Dr. Paul Henry Lang.

That afternoon, Bach buffs will be reading notes on the Brandenburg Concerto No. 2, Cantata No. 106, and first scenes of the St. John Passion.

Final portion of the "St. John" will be offered that evening, March 3.

A unique adjunct to this Winter Park musical fete is the students' excerpt concert at 11 a.m., March 4 when teen-agers from all the far reaches of Florida flock to Knowles Chapel to hear music written 200-250 years ago.

Both former and new subscribers are asked to contact the Bach Festival Society headquarters now to reserve cards of admission as a sell-out is expected. Mailing address is P.O. Box 169 at Rollins College, Winter Park, and telephone number 466-2233.

ANOTHER SENSE — Visitors to a "Perception" exhibit in Sacramento, Calif., were asked to have their eyes covered and feel the art works instead of looking.

On The Way Out? New Study Probes Car's Future

By CIMA STAR
Copley News Service

NEW YORK — When Henry Ford put the first Model T on the road, Americans everywhere saw this shining new vehicle as a giant step into a new kind of world. It was. But at that time, probably no one realized the extent to which the automobile would affect society throughout the world.

In recent years, the automobile has been blamed for much of the crowding and pollution of our cities, for our increasingly sexually permissive society, for the breakdown of strong family ties. And more changes are yet to come.

According to Prof. Frank P. Grad, director, Legislative Drafting Research Fund, Columbia University, existing legislation to reduce air pollution from autos may result in modifications in the internal combustion engine, improvements in fuels and constraints on urban uses of automobiles.

In addition, he believes that the new climate of opinion exemplified by the legislation may well lead to development of alternatives to the internal combustion technology and to major shifts in patterns of transportation to and from large cities.

"The social and economic dislocations and adjustments that may be caused by these shifts will have to be dealt with," he says.

Prof. Grad heads a recently commissioned study of the automobile and its impact on the environment. The study will focus on the auto's effect, and relationship to, urban problems, as well as the economic, engineering and legal aspects of automobile air pollution, solid waste disposal, noise pollution, transportation alternatives and highway programs.

LISTENING to the story of Helen Keller on tapes at Forest City Elementary School are Joel Hankins, Michael Ethier and Belinda Berkley, in the fourth level.

Wear Hand Lotion While You Work

By BEIL MOHR
Copley News Service

The housecleaning time that hours have on your hands can become their best beauty treatment.

Most women have fallen into the good habit of applying hand lotion after work is done, especially if they have had their hands in water. A still better habit is to wear lotion while you work — under gloves.

The heat from your hands inside gloves will help the skin absorb the cream, says beauty authority Max Factor, who includes a moisturizing hand lotion in his cosmetics collection (Swedish Formula Hand Cream).

He doesn't refer only to plastic gloves worn for washing dishes or scrubbing workwear. Thin cotton gloves also can be worn while you vacuum and dust.

Women who find gloves clumsy for work might find the time it takes to get used to the feeling worth the effort. Signs of age can begin on the hands and when they are chapped, red and irritated, they not only are uncomfortable, but can look older than they are.

School Bells May Ring 12 Months Of The Year

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — School bells might be ringing 12 months of the year instead of the traditional nine if a movement to establish year-round schools finds support.

School districts in at least 25 states and a number of state legislatures are considering a variety of plans that would keep school doors open from January to December.

None requires students to attend class 12 months but several extend the school year longer than the usual 180 days and provide shorter but more frequent vacations. Teachers also have several options.

The usual reason to consider a 12-month plan is economic: fuller utilization of facilities and savings on debt service, fuel, light, power and maintenance.

But economics are not the only reason. Some advocates maintain 12-month plans could result in quicker pupil movement through school and enable educators to improve the education of all children.

A 12-month plan is not a new idea. Before 1860, city schools were conducted nearly year around. Rural schools had shorter sessions to permit pupils to help with the farming.

Later, cities shortened the school year, rural schools lengthened theirs and by 1915 most of the nation's schools were operating nine months with a three-month summer vacation.

The current resurgence of support for 12-month schools stems from economics and the feeling of many administrators that something must be done to restore public confidence in the public school system.

Public support, in terms of the success of school bond issues in the first six months of 1971, was not encouraging. The National Education Association said that 277 bond elections were successful but that 314 failed. More teamwork for school officials was the fact that $1.302 billion was turned down and only $605 million approved.

Glen Robinson, NEA director of research, noted in an interview that many schools remain locked during the summer, students face three months without much to do and teachers must find summer jobs.

"Many observers view this situation as a great waste, a waste of costly facilities and equipment, a waste of valuable professional skills and a waste of precious learning time," he said.

In a recent survey, the National School Public Relations Association said about 25 school districts are either operating full year-round schools or pilot programs.

The programs vary in structure and objectives but in each case are generally well received by parents, teachers and students. Most are voluntary.

Schools' Growth Told For 5 Years

By BILL SCOTT

Walter Teague, School Board assistant superintendent for finance, today issued his annual pupil enrollment growth prediction, which over the years has proved amazingly accurate. Teague projected the present 24,672 pupil population at the county's 30 schools would jump to 26,856 by the opening of the 1972-73 school term.

The forecaster based his figures on the obvious growth factor of more people moving into the county and noted the growth again will be noted in South Seminole County more so than Sanford.

But, Teague said, the Sanford population growth, caused by new housing developments, will begin to be felt in the schools here by the latter part of 1972.

This year's school population increased by 467 to 24,672 after starting four months ago at 24,205 students. Teague projected yearly increases over the next five years show the 1972-73 term at 26,856; for 1973-74 the number moved to 28,724; by the 1974-75 term the population is expected to grow to 30,833; in the 1975-76 year, growth is expected to climb to 32,352; and to 33,124 by the beginning of the 1976-77 school year.

School Board is now studying ways to solve the booming student increase by a year-round school system or asking the residents for a tax millage election or school bond program.

From the Mailbag: "Please... 'Around The Clock' add a paragraph about boys killing squirrels and birds.

"We buy food for both—only to have them killed by boys with Christmas guns.

"Isn't it against the law to do this within city limits?"

You bet it is... and if you see any kids in the act, don't hesitate to call the police.

Some More... "Thought you might like the enclosed for The Clock. Please don't my name, also. I didn't write this, (tho I would be proud if I had).

CAN YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

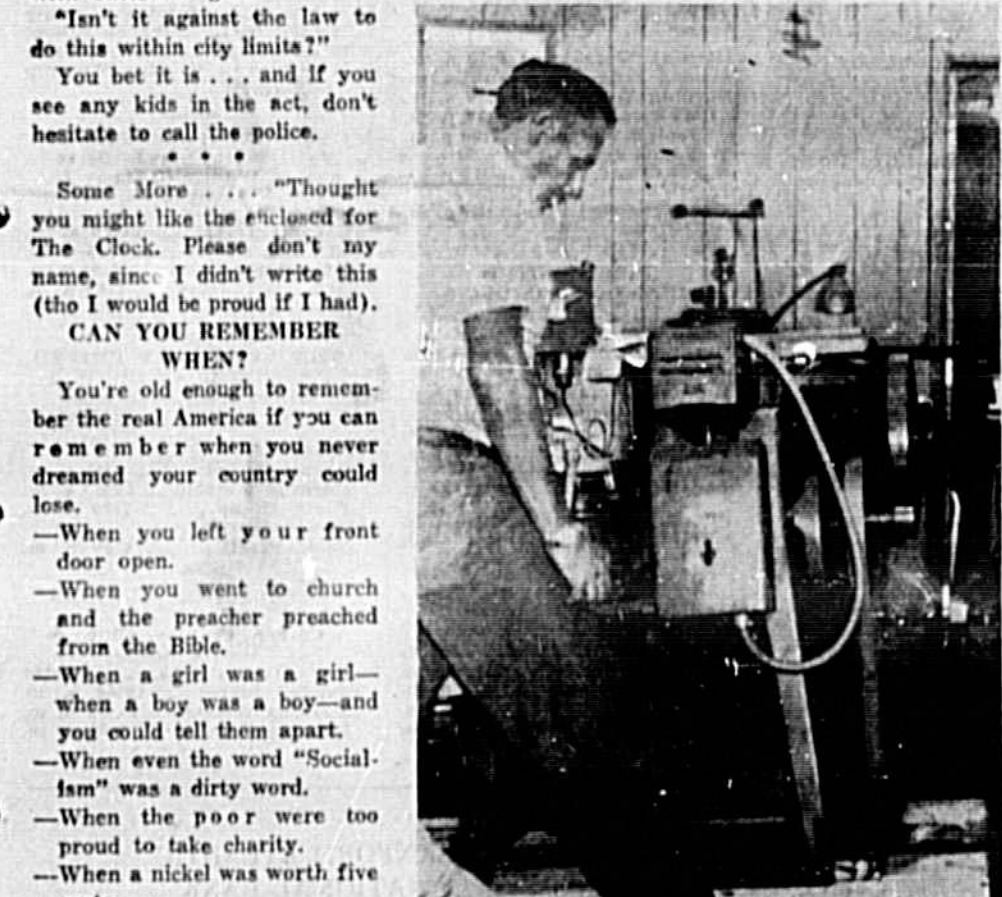

You're old enough to remember the real America if you can remember when you never dreamed your country could lose.

- When you left your front door open.
- When you went to church and the preacher preached from the Bible.
- When a girl was a girl—and you could tell them apart.
- When even the word "socialism" was a dirty word.
- When the poor were too proud to take charity.
- When a nickel was worth five cents.
- When you bragged about your hometown—your state—and your nation.
- When the flag was a sacred symbol.
- When this Government stood up for America.
- When a man who went wrong was blamed—not his mother's nursing habits or his father's income.
- When everyone knew right from wrong.
- When things were not perfect and you didn't expect them to be.
- When people still had the capacity for indignation.
- When sick meant that you were not feeling well.
- When people expected less and valued what they had more.
- When everyone was not entitled to an annual wage whether he worked or not.
- When a man's word was his bond.
- When America was the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Sorry to report that on this subject, Bill McLaughlin reported the following incident: He was driving on French Avenue, near Fifth, headed toward First, doing about 40, was passed by a state trooper, doing about 50. Because it was drizzling, Bill had his lights on and wipers operating.

The trooper didn't. (Ah, what the heck's the sense in worrying... nuttin' gonna turn out right anyhow!)

Askew Supports Zoo Fund Drive

Kickoff of the fund raising campaign to establish a new zoological and botanical garden in Seminole County will be a "kiddies' carnival" Sunday afternoon, starting at 1 p.m., at Sanford Airport. The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees will stage the event, with the co-operation of the Seminole Zoological Society.

Supporting the fund drive is Gov. Reubin Askew, as evident in this letter from him addressed to Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore:

"It has been brought to my attention that efforts are underway to provide Zoological and Botanical Gardens in your beautiful area. Such a project, I believe, would be a tremendous asset to Central Florida.

"With this administration's interest in preserving and developing Florida's natural resources, and my personal feelings for the Sanford area, I am particularly pleased to hear of these efforts and I want to wish all of those involved the best of success with the project."

Meeting Of Nixon, Hanoi Aide In Commie China Is Speculated

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — President Nixon, carrying here en route to his China summit talks, is likely to meet Chairman Mao Tse-tung in the picture-resort city of Hangchow, American sources said today. The President and Mrs. Nixon, who arrived Thursday afternoon following a 19-hour non-stop flight from Washington, will remain in Hawaii until Saturday afternoon. Then they will fly to Guam for an overnight stay before proceeding to Shanghai and Peking.

A Hangchow meeting would further underscore the apparent political eclipse of Mao inasmuch as Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai are expected to dispose of serious negotiations in Peking before the American visitor sees Hangchow.

The President and Mrs. Nixon, who arrived Thursday afternoon following a 19-hour non-stop flight from Washington, will remain in Hawaii until Saturday afternoon. Then they will fly to Guam for an overnight stay before proceeding to Shanghai and Peking.

A major reason for the Hawaii stopover was to allow the Nixons to adjust gradually to the physical and psychological effects of traveling at jet speed through time zones.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who was with them aboard the presidential plane, said in response to newsmen's questions that the U.S. government has no confirmation of a report that Le Duc Tho, the Hanoi official who conducted secret negotiations with presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, would arrive in Peking a day before Nixon.

Rogers offered no support for speculation that the North Vietnamese, official will be meeting with Nixon or other Americans in Peking.

Several thousand persons, some waving "Aloha" banners, greeted the President and Mrs. Nixon at Kaneohe Marine Air Station.

The Nixons borrowed the 17-room home of Brig. Gen. Victor Armstrong, a brigade commander. The spacious frame dwelling on the Kaneohe base sits on a hilltop and commands a spectacular view of the Pacific and nearby natural stone attractions such as Pyramid Rock and Chinaman's Hat.

Billboards' Removal Agreed By Senators

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Senate today ratified 36-0 a federal state agreement requiring removal of thousands of billboards along interstate and other federally funded highways in Florida.

The proposal, signed earlier this year by Gov. Reubin Askew, would bring Florida into compliance with the 1965 Lady Bird Johnson Highway Beautification Act. It must also be ratified by the House.

Meanwhile, Sen. Gerald Lewis, D-Miami, introduced a series of bills to crack down on activities by the Public Service Commission—including its practice of writing off charitable contributions as a business expense in rate-making formulas.

The agreement calls for the removal of all billboards within 500 feet of any federally financed highway, except in commercial areas.

The suit charges reckless indifference.

Count two of the suit charges Carter further alleges that he was cut and bruised as a result of the collision with the Western Union Telegraph Company in Sanford that the application to discontinue its Class I teleprinter-operated office, we have examined and considered all the facts and protests filed with the application and that the request is granted."

Frank Palik, Chief, Domestic Services and Facilities Division of the FCC responded to an inquiry of John Mercer, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce relative to the disposition of this application.

Nawti Nicki On 'Stage'

"Nawti Nicki," whose performances at the Devil's Inn bistro, in Longwood, were termed too naughty by county officials, faces trial next Friday in County Court.

The go-go stripper, in reality Wilma McKinley Drennon, 30, Gall Street, Apopka, is charged with performing and participating in an obscene performance when she was apprehended on Nov. 16. Mrs. Drennon is at liberty under $1,000 bond and is being represented by Ford Duane.

Eight state and county beverage agents, led by Sheriff John Polk, converged on the night club before the first performance of the stripper.

Also facing trial on the same day is Neil Macdonald, owner of Devil's Inn, who is charged with promoting and conducting an obscene show. Macdonald also posted $1,000 bond, and is also represented by Duane.

Damages Asked In Shootout

By MARION BETHEA

The drug shoot-out in November of last year at the K-Mart shopping center has resulted in a $30,000 civil suit against Sheriff John Polk, with William Carter as plaintiff.

Carter alleges in the complaint that there was an intentional infliction of severe emotional distress on Dec. 4, 1971, when he was employed as a wholesale paper distributor by the Sentinel-Star Company.

Carter alleges that at 3:30 a.m. on the above date he was driving his truck through the shopping center and noticed that Polk and others were standing at the parking lot around several vehicles and were carrying weapons. None of the individuals, Carter alleges, were in uniform, including Polk. Carter said that they did not appear to be police officers, several individuals having long hair and beards, shabbily dressed.

After Carter drove his vehicle past the above individuals, they shouted to stop. However, the plaintiff did not stop and the complaint alleges that Polk and the other individuals began to shoot. Carter alleges that his vehicle was struck several times by bullets as he attempted to flee down U. S. 17-92. Carter said he was attempting to go to the Matland Police Station for help.

Carter further alleges he was followed by a yellow sports car driven by one of the individuals with Polk, who shot at him several times. Polk also followed the plaintiff, the suit charges, and when the plaintiff saw the blue lights flashing on the defendant's vehicle, he pulled over to the side of the road.

Polk, it is charged, drove his vehicle into the plaintiff's car and the plaintiff was violently pulled out of his vehicle by the person driving the yellow sports car, who had a gun pointed at Carter.

The plaintiff alleges that he was cut and bruised as a result of the collision with the Western Union Telegraph Company in Sanford that the application to discontinue its Class I teleprinter-operated office, we have examined and considered all the facts and protests filed with the application and that the request is granted."

assault and battery against compensatory and punitive damages.

Count three alleges false arrest and count four asks $500 damages for vehicle damage to the plaintiff's truck.

The plaintiff demands a jury trial and is being represented by Dale Anstine, Orlando. Polk is being represented by Charles Talbot, of the Orlando law firm of Gurney, Gurney and Handley.

In his answer to the suit, Polk denies each allegation of the complaint and further that he had reasonable grounds to believe that a crime was being committed or had been committed by the plaintiff.

Polk states that the acts alleged were performed to effect an arrest and that the force used was to effect arrest and was reasonable.

Polk alleges that his conduct was reasonable under the circumstances and that he acted in error believing that a crime was being perpetrated.

A motion to strike two paragraphs of the complaint was filed yesterday by Polk's attorney and deal with the charges of the yellow sports car. The motion alleges that there is no connection or relationship shown between Polk and the acts alleged.

Telegraph Request Approved

The Federal Communications Commission offered a statement relative to the Western Union Telegraph Company in Sanford that the application to discontinue its Class I teleprinter-operated office, we have examined and considered all the facts and protests filed with the application and that the request is granted."
