

New Column To Feature 'Lighter' Side Of News

A new and refreshingly different daily column that reports the lighter side of life in the nation's capital becomes a regular feature in the Sanford Herald on Wednesday, Feb. 18, when "Assignment: Washington," by noted newspaperman Ed Koterba, starts making his five-times-a-week appearance in these pages.

It's an out-of-the-ordinary kind of column. One day it may give Koterba's first-hand report of the same Congressional fracas that is blazoned in the front-page headlines, and the next day it may describe a seemingly trivial but thought-provoking conversation with worried cab-driver. Big news or little events, important personalities or ordinary people — as long as they're interesting, they're all grist to the Koterba mill in "Assignment: Washington."

Koterba, a former award-winning reporter on the Washington Post and Times Herald, has been covering the Washington scene for more than eight years. As his new readers will soon discover, he really knows his way about in the complicated maze of political, governmental, diplomatic, bureaucratic, military and just plain civilian circles that constitute the busy beehive city on the banks of the Potomac.

And because he combines a keen eye for the underlying human qualities in events and people with a quiet, unobtrusive humor in his writing, his columns are informative, entertaining, often amusing and always enjoyable reading.

Born in Omaha, Neb., in May, 1919, Ed (he was christened Edward Victor) Koterba got his first whiff of printers' ink as a copy boy on the Omaha World-Herald at the age of 17. He interrupted his newspaper career to attend the University of Omaha for two years, and served in the Army, where he advanced from private to first lieutenant in military intelligence, from 1942 to 1945. Returning to civilian life, he became a reporter and columnist and, later, editor of the Waynesboro (Pa.) Record-Herald.

Moving to Washington, D. C., early in 1951, he joined the staff of the Washington Times Herald as a general assignment reporter, continuing in that position when the paper merged with the Washington Post. In 1952, as a "sideline," he started writing a Washington column for his former paper, the Waynesboro Record-Herald, and in 1953, when it was appearing in more than a score of other papers throughout the country, he resigned from the Washington Post and Times Herald to devote his full time to the column.

Koterba recently was employed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc., to replace the late Frederick C. Othman.

Until his death, Othman's column, "Fred Othman Says," was

Boy Shot, Killed For Stealing Gas

TAMPA (UPI)—A 16-year-old boy was shot and killed Sunday when an angry car owner caught him siphoning gas from his vehicle.

Russell E. Harris died in a local hospital here several hours later.

Robert L. Perry told police he had been troubled recently by persons stealing gas from his nursery truck. He said he opened fire on the youth with a .22 caliber rifle early Sunday morning when he saw Harris siphoning gas from his car.

No charges were filed pending investigation.

appearing in The Herald. In the interim between Othman's death and the employment of Koterba, The Herald has used columns by Inez Robb and William S. White.

"Assignment: Washington" by Koterba now gives The Herald two of the top columns in the nation. The other, "Washington Calling" by Marquis Childs, appears three times weekly.

Coffee Break Seen As Habit-Forming

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (UPI)—The "coffee break" not only has become generally accepted in U. S. business operations, according to a recent survey, but more often than not there's more than one a day.

The National Office Management Association surveyed nearly 2,000 firms in the U. S. and Canada, it reports, and found that most businesses now permit two, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, normally of 15 minutes each.

Western America is more generous with coffee breaks than the East, the survey showed. In the West, 93 per cent of businesses checked allow two breaks; the Canadian average was 80 per cent.

For all firms checked in Canada and this country, the average was 81 per cent with regularly scheduled breaks. Fourteen per cent of the employers said they allowed workers to have coffee or other refreshment on a non-scheduled basis.

Major benefit reported: the breaks served as morale boosters. Major complaint: Workers did not get back to work promptly after wards.

Thanks Extended By DAR Chapter

Thanks were extended in Sanford merchants who contributed to Founder's Day markers by the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the D. A. R. in a business meeting Friday.

Special mention was made of Stone Machine Shop, Miracle Concrete Co., William E. Kader, Jewelers, and James L. Dunn, superintendent of parks. A magnolia tree will be planted at the General Sanford Library honoring Mrs. H. J. Lehman for her loyalty and devotion to the Chapter. Letters of thanks were read from the Kate Duncan Smith and Tamassese Schools for $10 sent to each school. Mrs. C. R. Dawson reported that two books had been given to the D. A. R. library from the Chapter.

RAVENNA, Ohio (UPI)—Traveling salesman James N. Zeh is one of the most popular callers at police stations in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. He's also the most camera shy.

Zeh sells pistols, riot guns, tear gas, leg irons, blackjacks, handcuffs and similar hardware to policemen in the three-state area. When he hits the road in his station wagon he's a rolling arsenal. "I've got about 30 revolvers in my car," Zeh said. "All I need is to have some tag my photograph so he could hijack me. He'd have the arsenal, complete with bullets."

Brandt Got Ticker Tape, But Mikoyan Had None

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

The man-of-the-week: West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. The place: Washington and New York.

The quote: "I know now that our American friends are strongly behind us. You can rely on us just as we know we can put our trust in you." This is an age of official travel. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles can crawl the phrase, "Dulles was here," in more places even than the much-travelled and legendary Kilroy of World War II fame.

Two official visitors to the U. S. in the last few weeks have represented widely-separated ideological beliefs. The first was Anastas Mikoyan, deputy premier of Soviet Russia. Mikoyan smilingly said Soviet Russia and the U. S. had two alternatives: Friendship or war.

He also repeated the communist demand that the Western powers get out of Berlin. When he got home to Moscow, Mikoyan said the people of the U. S. wanted an end to the cold war, and reported he saw a chance for a thaw. Ticker tape parades are a traditional part of New York City's welcome to a visiting foreign dignitary or a national hero. There was no ticker tape parade for Mikoyan.

But he should have seen the one for Willy Brandt. It was a cold, rainy, miserable day in New York. But the crowdst urged out anyway. And as West Berlin's mayor rode up Broadway, they cheered him. "Good luck, Willy," they yelled, or "Good boy, Willy."

York again, this time for a mammoth reception in his honor.

"The President gave me firm assurance that the United States will defend the people of West Berlin against any threat to their freedom," he said. And he bated and continues to fight Communism.

In Berlin last month, he told the city parliament: "Free Berlin belongs to the free world."

reception for Willy Brandt.

But sympathies aside, there are two characteristics of the 44-year-old West Berlin mayor about which there is no doubt. He hated and fought Adolf Hitler's Nazism.

It's one and a half miles between the Capitol and the White House in Washington.

Notorious Badman Placed On List Of '10 Most Wanted'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Thomas Freeman, a knife-wielding fugitive, whose partner in crime was found brutally crushed, shot and his throat slit, was placed today on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals. Technically, the 40-year-old criminal is being sought on federal auto theft and robbery charges. In the FBI files, he is known as a vicious lawbreaker who has pistol-whipped women, stabbed men, kept a bawdy house and considers himself "too smart to work."

Freeman, a native of Oklahoma, is believed to be armed and the FBI considers him "extremely dangerous." He is described as "a fast-moving, far-ranging felon who apparently considers a gun part of being well-dressed." He has a fondness for Mexican food. The federal warrants against him charges that Freeman and Glen Hoy Maynard, an ex-convict from Colorado, burglarized a drug store at Lebo, Kan., and stole a red sports car at Wichita Falls, Tex., last September. A few days after the Lebo robbery, Maynard's body was found in a wooded area near Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He had been strangled, shot through the head and his throat slashed. His entire midsection had been crushed, apparently by someone jumping on his abdomen and chest.

Following is a thumbnail description of Freeman: Age 40; height, 5'10" to 5'11"; weight, 160 to 170 pounds, slender build, black hair, gray eyes, ruddy complexion. Two scars on left side of mouth, operation scar on right hip, cut scars on left hip and left big toe; tattoos "N.E.F." and "Leah" on outer left forearm; "MB" and "10" on right forearm; "HUP" on left knee.

Error Corrected On Story Of Jury

In yesterday's issue of The Herald, members of a coroner's jury were identified incorrectly as members of a "Negro jury."

The jury was called to investigate the fatal stabbing of Itz Goulsby, 43-year-old Sanford Negro. The erroneous statement said a Negro jury was empaneled for a coroner's inquest.

The story should have said a jury to investigate the Negro's death was empaneled. Members of the jury were T. V. Brown, R. I. Goodspeed, W. E. Elterbe, Bobby Jones, L. M. Phillips and O. C. Rowland.

The Herald regrets the error and hereby offers its sincere apology for the mistake. The error was unintentional and The Herald is happy to set the record straight.

New Car To Sport Unusual 'Gadget,' All But Forgotten

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Look," said the man, and he opened the luggage compartment of the stylish little green-bodied automobile and pointed to a gadget of the open road that most Americans forgot about during the 1930's. Indeed, most young drivers never heard of it.

There it was, standard equipment in an automobile so new that it won't be on sale nationally in America for another month or so. It was a crank-long, metallic, mounted on books and ready for use in case of conking out of the starter.

"The Japanese," said the demonstrator, "think of everything. There's many a time since the crank vanished from the auto scene that I've wished I had one, plus an engine I could hook it to."

Any Life On Mars? Science Thinks So

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Many scientists now believe that the first space traveler to reach Mars will find some form of life there.

Such a possibility long has been a subject of scientific speculation. Interest has intensified in proportion to man's strides toward eventual interplanetary travel. If life does exist on the earth's nearest planetary neighbor, it very likely is a primitive form such as bacteria and fungi. But Mars could have developed some animal life adapted to its rapid temperature changes and almost oxygenless atmosphere.

County Assessment Ahead Of Schedule

Property evaluation in Seminole County is ahead of schedule, according to R. L. Dowling, president of the Dowling Appraisal Co. He appeared before County Commissioners this morning to give a progress report.

Dowling told the Board that the mapping of the population is 75 per cent completed and that 80 per cent of the buildings have been appraised.

Sanford, Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Oviedo have been finished, although values have not been set on any buildings. When asked why he had not submitted any cards to Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, he said that he could furnish her with values, but did not want them produced until the entire appraisal had been completed.

Dowling compared the value of a house to the car market, describing the depreciation in a year of wear. In explaining how his employees reached their conclusions about a building, he said "After you look at hundreds of houses, you can tell what kind of floors they have and whether the walls are plastered."

He added: "But the people want to know what their taxes will be, and I can't tell them that. It is customary to make an appraisal knowing what the assessor is going to do."

When reminded of the state law requiring 100 per cent assessment, Dowling said, "It doesn't matter what the law says. There isn't any county in Florida with 100 per cent assessment, and I've never worked on one before."

'Outer Space' Interests Seminole High Students

Students in science classes at Seminole High School, at the 9th and 10th grade level, show a keen interest in the wonders of outer space.

Such things as the invention of the electric light and Pascal's Law of Pressure have to take a back seat to Dr. Von Braun's experiments of space conquest.

In a world of moon shots and rocket mastery, the children of today are confronted from every communicable source as to the importance of world dominance through space travel. It is the talk of everyone, everywhere and local students are no exception.

From 100 students semester projects, approximately 85 per cent selected a topic, of their own choice, relating to rockets, missiles, projects at Cape Canaveral or similar areas directly aligned to outer space. This tends to show just where their main interest of science lies.

This again can be validated by the profound class discussions encountered whenever the subject "Practically every student can add something he or she has read or seen to make the discussion worthwhile to all. The same is not true, however, when Archimedes' principle or Hall's process is the topic of debate.

There are the few who discuss everything, as is expected, but when they are talking about the "space age."

Teachers feel that this is good, as long as students do not forget the basic principles of science responsible for advancements made toward the goal of solving the mysteries of space; and that such men as Edison, Pascal, Archimedes and Hall were instrumental in developing these principles.

Negoes To 'Mix' All Alone, Maybe

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (UPI)—Warren County abolishes racial segregation in its only high school Wednesday but most of the white students and the Negro children will be seated a half mile apart.

It would come as no surprise to this old Shenandoah Valley town if only a handful of white students elect to join 22 Negroes for the reopening of the school which was built to accommodate 1,000.

Warren County, the first predominantly rural area in Virginia to comply with court-ordered integration, will, in effect, surrender the big school sitting on a hill top to the Negroes.

The county's white students, about 800, will remain in the makeshift private classes they have attended since last Sept. 12 when the high school was closed under Virginia's now-repealed "massive resistance" laws.

The private classes, set up in churches, a union hall and a confederate museum on an emergency basis last fall will continue for at least the remainder of the current school term.

Two Cars Collide; Occupants Unhurt

Satellite Is Copy Of Medicine Ball

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The satellite hurtled into the sky today by the Navy's Vanguard is a tiny weather bureau, the size and shape of a medicine ball.

The sphere has two small windows on opposite sides from which instruments scan the clouds, sea and earth below. It represents the first step toward obtaining continuous mapping of the earth's weather.

The weather station has a life expectancy of about two weeks. The tiny station operates by sending back to earth information representing measurement of the reflection from objects over which it passes. Photoelectric cells translate this reflection—which varies in intensity for clouds, land and water—into electric impulses.

The impulses are stored in a tape recorder within the satellite for transmissions to the earth on signal from land-based tracking stations.

One transmission will be sent on the satellite's orbit. The information on the tape then would erase on another signal from a mini-track station, clearing it for storage or subsequent messages.

The satellite contains a second transmitter to send back to earth tracking information, temperature within the payload and other information. That transmitter has a life expectancy of four weeks.

Woman Strangles Her Mother, 85

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—"What you did to my baby I do to you," an Estonian immigrant told her 85-year-old mother.

Then the daughter, Mrs. Lydia Tarasidis, 54, strangled her mother or with two head scarves.

Police found Mrs. Julie Saar, 85, lying dead on the floor of a rear bedroom while Mrs. Tarasidis sat quietly by.

Relatives said the killing Monday night climaxed a 35-year feud between mother and daughter.

In broken English, Mrs. Tarasidis told how she gave birth to an illegitimate child 35 years ago. Her mother took the baby and "cut off its head," she told police.

A nephew, George Saar, 26, said Mrs. Tarasidis also blamed her mother for the death of her husband last June of an ailment of a kidney disease.

After police headquarters, Mrs. Tarasidis calmly told officers how she went to her mother's bedroom "to talk to her for the last time."

"If she did not listen, then I do it to her... and I do it. I did and I want for punishment."

Satellite To Snoop On Sun, Rain, Sea

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States placed the first weather satellite in orbit today.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—A Navy Vanguard satellite hurtled into the skies today bearing a 20-inch satellite on a historic new study of the atmospheric conditions that cause the earth's turbulent weather.

Immediate mission of the new earth moon was to measure cloud cover surrounding the earth, but one of the ultimate targets of such miniature weather stations in space would be to spot Atlantic hurricanes and Pacific typhoons.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that all three stages of the bullet-shaped missile had fired successfully.

The NASA said the Vanguard satellite was set to place the satellite in an orbit with a minimum altitude of 300 to 300 miles and a maximum altitude of 1,600 miles.

The only previous Vanguard to achieve an orbit was a 3½-pound test sphere fired last March 17 and now in an orbit that may last as long as 2,000 years.

Today's firing was an important new scientific effort to find out what gives us the kind of weather we have on earth. Crammed into the 20-inch, 2½-pound sphere were instruments to scan the clouds, sea and earth. The intricate package represented the first step toward obtaining continuous mapping of the earth's weather system.

This particular space weather station was designed to send back data for about two weeks.

At 10:34 a.m. flames mushroomed from the base of the gaunt, cartridge-shaped rocket and it rose gradually from the launching site.

Picking up speed, it forged into a heavy overcast about 47 seconds after blast-off and only its low rumble could be heard after that. The Navy said that only three more Vanguard launchings are scheduled in the series.

Thurmond Charges Cooperation Lack

Dr. John Thurmond asked the Board of County Commissioners to clarify his position in the county health department this morning.

Dr. Thurmond charged that due to the failure of two health officials to comply with his requests, two patients had suffered.

The medical director said that he had asked hospital admission for an expectant mother, whose baby otherwise was to small to live. "In my opinion."

Thurmond said the request was never made by the Health Department official; the baby was born at home with the services of a midwife; despite the provision of an incubator, the baby died. It weighed only 3½ pounds at birth.

In another example, Dr. Thurmond told the Board, he had asked confirmation for heart surgery on an indigent patient. The hospital called to ask where the patient was; the letter had never been written.

Dr. Thurmond was asked to return this afternoon with the two Health Department officials. The Board was to examine the charges.

Caldwell Should Take Campaign Elsewhere

Ex-Gov. Millard F. Caldwell had a great deal to say about the attitude of the average man toward his government in a speech to the annual dinner meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The former Florida governor and U. S. Congressman made several good points about the relationship which should exist between the businessman and the officials who run his affairs. But, he neglected to mention several facts which are material to the campaign he now is waging.

Everyone admits that the average man and woman takes far too little interest in elections, and the administrations of public officials after they go into office. Too, everyone should be aware that freedoms not exercised soon are lost.

We agree that people should not be content to sit back and criticize. We agree that people should take their officials to task when they are not conducting themselves as they should; that voters should support their public officials when they are doing a good job.

But, it would appear that Caldwell started his crusade somewhat late. According to information about his life, he was a member of Congress at the time "the course of history was being changed" by enactment of the "socialistic measures" he criticized. He also sat in the governor's chair, a position he denies that he is seeking again.

As a Congressman and Governor of Florida, Caldwell held positions which would have allowed him to wage a much stronger, and much more effective, campaign than he can wage as an attorney and citizen.

He was a private citizen at the time the Supreme Court issued its integration ruling, but all of the shortcomings in government did not occur overnight.

If Caldwell does plan to seek the governorship again, his speech could be viewed in an entirely different light. If, as he says, he does not plan to run, it makes an analysis of his speeches more difficult.

Why stump the state? Why not take the crusade into the home states of Hubert Humphrey, G. Mennen Williams and Paul Douglas if he is attempting to make this a national issue.

At latest count, Florida's delegation in Washington is doing okay. It's all of those "other fellows" who are giving us the trouble. We don't need enlightenment. They do.

Speedway Christened

The new Daytona International Speedway was "christened" last week.

Marshall Teague, nationally-famous stock car race driver, was killed when his car flipped. Teague set a record of 171 miles per hour, fastest ever attained by a car on a closed American track, in tests Monday.

Teague was attempting to break his two-day-old record. Teague's record probably will be broken; the speedway probably will be "christened" again and again.

To each his own, such is life, etc. We only hope that the drivers are bachelors, with no living relatives.

SEVEN LEAGUE BOOTS

Inez Robb Says

BY INEZ ROBB
These are days of sartorial triumph for the Head of Clan Robb. By revising the derby hat, fashion has once again caught up with him — and don't think he isn't looking as snug as a bug in a rug.
Man and boy, the master of the mane has been a hard hat man for my certain knowledge for almost 30 years. So I have been amazed by recent headlines in a dozen publications, all proclaiming "Derby Hat Is Back." Such is the addiction that I didn't even know that it had been away!
I have been faithful in my fashion to the derby," he said when I asked him how come he had clung to it in the years of its decline. "It looks good with dark street clothes for occasions that just miss being formal and, besides," said my Scotchman, "a derby never wears out. Or, hardly ever. I've been getting my money's worth out of my investment."
"Well, I am impressed," I said. "Right here in the paper it says, 'Most often the derby can be glimpsed around the most elegant midtown regions of Fifth, Madison and Park Avenues. A man has to be well dressed to look good in a derby.'"
"Naturally," agreed my husband, as the canary feathers began to sprout around his mouth. "This article also says that while the black derby is the biggest seller today, there are navy blue, brown, taupe, gray and salt-and-pepper derbies." I went on: "Would you wear—"
"Only over my dead body!" he snorted. "The brown derby should be preserved as a memorial to Alfred Emanuel Smith, and all others, save black, restricted by law to the chorus line. Only Milton Berle would be caught alive in a salt-and-pepper derby."
"Do you favor the tightly rolled umbrella and guardman's moustache as proper accompaniment for the derby?" I asked my Beau Brummell.
"Only in England," he replied, and added, "don't get funny with me and my derby."
But I guess it's hard for women to take men's hats seriously. They all look alike, no matter what kind or type. The boys can't even tell 'em apart themselves. Only last week, at a small dinner party, an early departing guest wore home my husband's dark blue homburg. It took us hours for the two to discover the inadvertent swap. Imagine that happening to two women!

Sanford Is Gay On Valentine Day

The romantic season of hearts and cupid set the pace for many parties over the Valentine 14th weekend.

One of the largest Valentine Day gatherings was Saturday evening at the Naval Air Station BOQ when the Officer's Wives' Club successfully stage a cocktail-buffet for around 175 members and guests.

The party served as a "Welcome Aboard" for members of VAH-1, recently arrived from Jacksonville, and this greeting was used in the form of a huge red heart, with white lettering, at the entrance door. Also at the entrance was a white painted tree branch that cleverly held red heart Valentines with the name of new members on each card.

Adding to party atmosphere were red and white gladioli, a profusion of bright red hearts, cunning little cherub cut-outs and the use of red and white in crepe paper decorations. Credit for this artistic work goes to Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Charles Hobbs and Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson.

The buffet contained an elaborate array of tasty oriental morsels that intrigued the appetite. Japanese habochi pots were conversation pieces and the guests used these charcoal braziers to cook marinated pieces of steak on skewers. The piece de resistance was fried Wantoy skins, an oriental delicacy stuffed with pork, shrimp and fresh ground ginger as some of its ingredients.

Mrs. James Ramage, whose Hawaiian living has helped to make her a connoisseur of oriental foods, was in charge of the menu. She was assisted by Mrs. Lewis Tamny, Mrs. Harold Lane, Mrs. Sam Day and Mrs. E. J. Mills.

Acting as hostesses during the evening were five Navy wives who wore costumes of red net short skirts over black tights and red heart-shaped head bands.

They were Mrs. D. T. Conner, Mrs. D. P. Cunningham, Mrs. J. W. Hill, Mrs. G. S. Blake and Mrs. Mills.

Civilian guests seen among the party goers were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Higginbotham, Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Caraway, Mr. and Mrs. Brailor-Wham and Mr. and Mrs. Wally Phillips.

Dance Given At Masfair Inn

The spacious ballroom of the Masfair Inn Hotel was the scene of a gay Valentine party Saturday when around two hundred and fifty guests of the Hotel were entertained.

Party decorations were in red and white and each lady was presented with a red carnation corsage. Everyone was given a number on a red heart and this later was used to match dancing partners which provided the opportunity for guests to get acquainted.

During the evening Frank McMane gave a magnificence of champagne to the winning dance team. Cocktails At The Liptons Another lovely party was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. Lipton on Meltonville Avenue.

Scout Awards Given At Oviedo Meet

Court of Honor was the highlight for the February PTA meeting. Cub Scouts were color bearers and led in the salute to the flag.

Following the formalities of calling the meeting to order by Mrs. John Lundy, president, John Evans, Cub Master and Explorer Scout leader, introduced Ed Andrews, Scout Executive of the St. Johns River District, who showed some very interesting pictures pertaining to Scouting.

Ralph Neely, Boy Scout leader, awarded second class badges to Bruce Packard, Seth Rook and Arthur Evans.

James Pearson and Mr. An-draws then presented Merit Badges to Walter Teague Jr., Albert Myers, Roy Wainwright, Johnny Courter, Joe Malcolm and Gary Sakolity.

Dr. Edward W. Stoner, well known Oviedo physician, presented the main awards of the evening—the Eagle Scout awards. Before a large group of members and visitors, Mrs. Donn Vitrey and Mrs. John Evans pinned the Eagle badges on their sons after Dr. Stoner made the presentation.

Mrs. Lundy presided over the business session, which was short. The sixth grade won the room count—for attendance.

All gathered in the school lunch room to partake of delicious punch, cakes and punch, served by Mrs. Leon Olliff, Mrs. C. E. Minter and Mrs. C. E. Voigt, mothers representing the third, fourth and fifth grades. Mrs. Merrill Staley, a teacher and a mother of one of the three grades, lent a helping hand to the trio. All refreshments carried out the valentine motif.

Lane Seeks Lumpe Or Carey

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Frank Lane, never one to keep a secret, candidly revealed today he's angling for either Andy Carey or Jerry Lumpe of the Yankees.

The energetic Cleveland general manager said he plans to talk trade with Yankee officials in Florida next week, but added the chances of a deal were dim because the world champions always give him short shrift.

"I know they'd like to get back Woody Held and I'm willing to give him up," Lane said. "Along with Held, I'll also offer them a good pitcher, but I know I won't get anywhere."

"Why? Because the Yankees don't have too much use for me, that's why."

"They think I pop off too much. They simply have no sense of humor. I can't think of anything more healthy than that feud I had with Casey Stengel for three years. Why every time our teams got together, the people would pack the ball parks.

"But the Yankees can't see past their noses. I'd like to make a deal with them—I've been trying for a year—but George Weiss is too tough. And that goes for Casey, too."

Will Try Again
Nevertheless, the undaunted

Lane will try again. He leaves Cleveland for Daytona Beach, Fla., today and expects to talk with Yankee officials either next Tuesday or Wednesday at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Lane is the only general manager in the American League who has signed all his players already. The Yankees, on the other hand, have come to terms with only 23 players among the 41 on their roster.

"I think Casey pulled a rock when he criticized his men not so long ago," said the forthright Tatted G. M. "Those are the fellows he has to work with, you know."

"I gave 25 of the players on our club raises," he said. "The majority of them weren't big boosts, but at least the players on our ball club know the Cleveland management appreciates their efforts."

The Yankees are managing to corral most of their second-line players although they haven't reported any progress with such unsigned standbys as Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford, Gil McDougald and Don Larsen.

Lumpe, the fellow Lane would like to have in a Cleveland uniform, and rookie pitcher Marv Freeman signed with the Bronx Bombers Monday. Lumpe batted .251 in 81 games last season, demonstrating he was equally at home at shortstop, third base or second base. Freeman compiled a 17-10 record with Denver of the American Association.

Outfielder Roger Maris, who had balked at terms earlier, signed his contract with the Kansas City Athletics.

By way of anti-climax, Florida beat Mississippi 102-97 in overtime to dump the Rebels into last place in the Southeastern Conference, and Alabama managed an 89-84 decision over Louisiana State.

Auburn, playing on its home court, hit nine straight shots from the floor in the first 10 minutes against Tulane and the Greenies never got within eight points of the lead. Jimmy Fibbe was the hottest Plainman with 20 points, followed by Henry Hart and Rex

Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels beaten only by Michigan State in 17 starts, moved up from second. Kansas State (19-1) advanced from third to second.

The 23 leading coaches who rate the nation's major colleges for UPI also made several other changes in the top 10. The coaches considered games played through Saturday night in their latest ballots.

Gators Top Rebels In Overtime Play

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The Florida Gators edged Mississippi 102-97 in overtime Monday night in a game billed as the battle for last place in the Southeastern Conference.

The last dropped Mississippi into the SEC cellar, one game behind the Gators.

Florida, trailing by four points with two minutes left in the regular game, rallied to deadlock the score 81-81 by the closing buzzer.

The Gators didn't waste any time piling up an advantage in the overtime. They built a 112-91 points before the Rebels could score and went on to outshoot Mississippi, 31-8.

The Rebels' Ivan Richman took scoring honors for the night with 20 points. Florida's Dick Hoban got 27.

Florida now has a 2-7 mark in conference play to Mississippi's 9-1 record.

The Rikidag, Sweden's parliament, has 382 members, 231 in the lower and 151 in the upper house.

Early Odds Favor Happy Joe Lucky

Happy Joe Lucky will bring smiles to many Sanfordites to night if he lives up to his five-to-two top rating in the Grade A ninth race feature at Sanford-Ozlando Kennel Club.

Happy Joe is favored to repeat the first position. His recent 31-21-second clocking tops the time field in the eighth-greshund encounter. In his last race the 69-pound dark brindle dog was nosed out by the fast Simla. Only one-tenth of a second separated the pair of speedsters.

Another talented 69-pound gent, White Haired Boy, this white and black stepper, has galloped into the cash trio in 10 of his 15 season starts. Early odds give him a four-to-one chance. Both of the big dogs seek their third triumph.

Another highly-touted hound in the feature tonight is Tamar, in the ninth and 11½ Prunella, Princess Grace, or Dinky Dusk, Mixed Grains and Real Master.

Tonight's swift action begins at 8:10 at the club, located south of Sanford just west of Hwy. 17-92.

Oviedo Lions Top Mt. Dora Cagers

Oviedo's Jimmy Brookshire led his team with 28 points to a victory over Mount Dora, 92-65, Friday, at Oviedo.

Oviedo shot to the lead at the end of the first quarter, 24-7, and Mount Dora just couldn't catch the hard-hitting Lions through the rest of the game.

By the end of the second quarter the score was 47-18, and the third quarter, 67-33.

The Oviedo squad also went for a victory in Friday's tilt, with a final score of 69-52.

Crane Again Hits Jackpot With Egg

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Crip and Josephine, key figures in the whooping crane's fight against extinction, have done it again. Officials at Audubon Park Zoo reported Monday that Josephine has laid another egg, which Crip is tending carefully, and that she is expected to produce another today. The two whoopers already have reared five offspring during their stay in the zoo. And since only about 30 of the big birds are known to remain in existence, naturalists are rooting for them to come through again.

Overdue Bills End Long Separation

MIAMI (UPI)—Charles Colvin, 36, started out to collect an overdue bill Monday and found his 31-year-old brother who was separated from him at birth. "We are going to find out everything we may have in common and we will just start having some fun together," the delighted Colvin said. The brother, Walter L. Widger, 31, was just as excited, even though he had thought some one was playing a practical joke at first. Colvin, whose natural name was Widger, said his mother died in Syracuse, N. Y., a few days after Walter was born. He said his father "went to pieces." Colvin said he was placed in an orphan home and later adopted by a family in Syracuse named Colvin. Walter was "given by my father to a lady who wanted a tiny baby very much."

April Draft Call Lowest Since '57

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army has issued a call for 7,000 draftees in April, the lowest number since late 1957. The new call was 1,000 men below the March figure and 2,000 below January and February totals. The last time as few as 7,000 men were drafted was in the October-December period of 1957. The reduced April call results in part from manpower slashes imposed on the Army. It is cutting from its Dec. 31, 1958, strength of 890,769 men to 870,000 by next June 30.

George C. Marshall Near Death

Soldier-Statesman Has Severe Stroke In Hospital Today

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (UPI)—Gen. George C. Marshall, the military genius who fashioned the European recovery plan during the statesman years of his career, has suffered a second "more severe stroke" and is regarded in "serious condition."

The Army issued a medical bulletin this morning stating that the 78-year-old retired soldier-statesman experienced the latest stroke Tuesday afternoon. An announcement Tuesday had said that Marshall had become "moderately weaker" in his fight for recovery from a "mild" stroke suffered Jan. 15.

Doctors at Womack General Hospital said the latest stroke was "more severe than the previous one he suffered a month ago."

"His condition is serious and prognosis depends on future developments," said Col. George M. Powell, chief of medicine at the hospital.

"He is conscious and his blood pressure and pulse are stable," said Powell. "At present he shows no evidence of paralysis of his extremities." He had some difficulty in swallowing and seeing.

Marshall was the first man to rise to chief of staff of the Army without graduating from West Point. He directed the Army to victory during World War II and won the Nobel Prize for peace in 1953.

As secretary of state from 1947-50, Marshall developed the Marshall plan which made his name a synonym for American aid to stricken nations.

He retired in 1950, but President Truman recalled him in 1950 as secretary of defense, where he had a hand in getting the country's armed forces into shape at the start of the Korean War.

Causeway 'Dream,' But Request Sent

County Commissioners dismissed as a "dream" the possibility of a causeway across Lake Jessup yesterday, but said they would include the request in suggested projects to the State Road Department.

The causeway would connect Ovidio and Chuluota with South Sanford Ave.

In a discussion of primary road projects for the State Road Department district meeting March 12, Commissioners placed priority on the Oaten Bridge; widening of Geneva Ave. from Mellonville to French Ave.; four-laning State Road 454 from 152 to State Road 428. The Board will request the resurfacing of State Road 436 from Altaville Springs to Highway 1792.

Three crew members of the stevedore crew were injured when the blimp fell into a remote swamp near here early Tuesday. Rescuers who pushed their way through the mud and thick undergrowth found the injured survivors near the wreckage.

Searchers found the charred bodies of the others Tuesday afternoon in the center of the twisted wreckage. Beaufort County Coroner Bernard Paul said the bodies were burned beyond recognition.

The survivors, all described as "pretty badly burned," were reported in critical condition at the hospital in nearby Washington, N. C.

Khrushchev Says Blockade Runners To Face Red Army

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today warned that any Western attempt to use force to break through to Berlin by land, sea or air would be met with force.

He said in a speech that Soviet troops were not stationed in East Germany just to play games. The Western powers, in notes delivered Monday, rejected Soviet proposals to end the occupation of Berlin. The U. S., Britain and France also reiterated their determination to "uphold by all appropriate means" their rights of access to West Berlin.

The Soviet government has not yet replied to the Big Three Western notes which suggested a Big Four foreign ministers conference to discuss the problem of Germany.

Khrushchev's speech was reported by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

Khrushchev warned that if anyone opened fire over Berlin: "This will mean the beginning of war."

He called for agreement on a peace treaty with Germany and again reiterated that all nations were open to "great destruction" from modern weapons.

"We understand this well and therefore we say: Let us sign a peace treaty," Khrushchev said.

Levees Give Way, River Routs 600; Farmland Covered

RUSSELLVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—The Russellville Wabash River cracked through levees in Indiana and Illinois, routing about 600 persons and washing out about 35 square miles of rich valley farmland.

Floodwise residents of farms and small communities in the path of the cascading water fled quickly and safely to higher ground.

The Wabash, on its worst rampage in nearly half a century, tore through weakened levees Tuesday at Oakland, Ind., and two miles south of Russellville. The break on the Illinois side was the most severe.

A 200-foot hole torn in the levee near Russellville sent tons of water surging over a quarter of a mile of countryside within a 10-minute period. Thousands of acres of winter wheat were destroyed in fields under as much as three feet of water.

Farmers along the fringes of the flood worked through the night by the light of car headlights emptying silos of grain and moving to higher ground.

Others caught by the first rush of the floodwaters fled by row boat, logging skidder equipment and possessions they could hold.

The flooding came unexpectedly as the river had begun receding and levees were expected to hold.

Old Folks Hospital Bill Pushed; Tax Hike Looms

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House liberals today kicked off a drive to pass a controversial labor-back ed bill that would expand social security benefits to include medical care for old folk.

The legislation would in effect provide the elder with paid up hospital and surgical insurance for life.

Bitterly opposed by the American Medical Assn. as a step toward socialized medicine, the measure

Contract Awarded For New Type Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Maritime Administration has announced award of a $248,528 contract for the design of a radically new type ship that will literally skim over the waves at 75 knots—three times the speed of ocean liners.

The contract, awarded Tuesday to Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. of Bethpage, N. Y., calls for the completion of blueprints for a hydrofoil ship within nine months.

Hydrofoils resemble airplane wings, but are smaller and work on the same principle. They are attached by struts to the hull of a ship, extending downward. As the ship's propeller thrusts it forward the hydrofoils lift it.

Health Dept. Told To End Squabbling

"We're all servants of the people of Seminole County and, as such, we should cooperate with each other."

These were the words of County Commissioner Lawrence Swafford yesterday when a dispute between county health department officials was settled amicably at the Board meeting.

The argument arose when Dr. Jack Thurmond, county health officer, told Commissioners that two Health and Welfare Department employees had not complied with two of his requests.

One, reported yesterday in The Herald, involved an undersized baby which died shortly after birth. The employee had not asked hospital admission for the mother due to "past policies," where obstetric cases were not handled, Dr. Thurmond said.

He told Commissioners that he had asked that the expectant mother, whose husband makes only $26 weekly, be admitted for delivery. The Board agreed that he had the authority to admit any patient considered indigent and in need of hospitalization.

"Any time it is a case of life or death, the patient should be sent to the hospital; the matter of payment can be decided later," Chairman John Krider said.

In the second case, Dr. Thurmond charged a Welfare employee with refusing to write a letter for him, requesting information from another hospital. The employee said that Dr. Thurmond had two secretaries and she did not feel she should assist in another department. She showed the Board copies of records kept in the Health and Welfare Department that had been done voluntarily, and had been praised highly by state officials.

Commissioners advised their county personnel to settle their own differences and told Dr. Thurmond that, since his was a separate department, to confine his requests to his own office.

The county health officer said the health unit was handling 25 per cent more cases than in the previous year.

Government Asks Court To Settle Air Rights Case

Sanford property owners who think their land is worth more than the government does, are fighting a lawsuit in Orlando today.

The suit was brought by the government for air rights surrounding the Sanford Naval Air Station.

The land involves approximately 143 acres in the Palm Terrace Addition and the B. B. Russell subdivision. Property owners are asking "just compensation" for the air rights, which were seized by the government in a Declaration of Taking, Oct. 29, 1953.

The easement gives aircraft the right of way for free and unobstructed passage over the lands. Many property owners accepted the original government settlement.

The case is being heard in the Federal District Court Robert F. Nines III, assistant U. S. district attorney, is representing the government.

Among the defendants are the Atlantic Coastline Railroad, Florida State Bank, the City of Sanford, Seminole County, and the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Ike Lauds Dulles, Is Firm On Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today he wants cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles to stay on as secretary of state as long as he feels like staying on, because he feels like equal in the world in wisdom and knowledge of foreign affairs.

The President said doctors have assured him that the secretary's heart and mind are not affected by his disease.

He said he has not discussed specifically with anyone the possibility of a successor for the ailing secretary.

Eisenhower said he and Dulles agreed during a talk at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center Tuesday that the U. S. and its allies should go right ahead in their preparations for high level negotiations with Russia on the Berlin crisis and German problems.

On the Berlin crisis itself, the President said that if there is any shooting on this issue it will be the Russians who start it.

He said the Allies are firmly determined to carry out their responsibilities under 1948 agreements for the independence and welfare of the people of West Berlin.

He made it clear that the Allies intend to continue to supply Communist-encircled West Berlin even if the Russians go through with their threat to turn over to the East Germans by May 27 control of East Berlin and the access route to West Berlin.

Negroes Integrate, But Find Themselves Alone

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (UPI)—Twenty-two Negroes walked into a million-dollar high school boycotted by its white students today.

None of the more than 800 white students of Warren County High showed up for the first day of classes at the school since it was closed last Sept. 12.

Last fall 24 Negroes applied for enrollment at Warren County High but only 22 appeared today. School officials said there is now nothing to prevent registration of 91 other Negro students who have been attending boarding schools.

The Negroes left the school in a group at 10:30 a. m. after completing registration. They were picked up by their parents in private cars and driven away, refusing to answer any questions from reporters.

Police Lt. Dennis Thompson ordered the crowd of about 50 white spectators who had gathered to watch the Negroes enter the school to disperse about 9:30 a. m. He permitted only the reporters to stay in the street in front of the school.

About a dozen white students from the private schools mingled in the crowd. One of them, Bill Gibbs, 16, said he was "surprised that so many Negroes showed up." He added he believed a few white students would register at the high school later today or Thursday.

Down town, a half mile away, classes were under way for the county's white students in makeshift schools in which their parents chose to leave them in preference to the public school on a racially mixed basis.

$40,000 Is Found For Health Unit

O. P. Herndon, clerk of the county Commission, found $40,000 for the county health unit building yesterday.

Quoting a statute that allows the county to cooperate with the federal government, Herndon presented a revised budget to provide making funds for the unit.

A new fund has been established, separate from the routine budget, with a transfer of monies from general operating expenses and $16,000 from the sale of property. Herndon produced the revenue needed so that the plans can proceed.

Foresight prompted the clerk to check with the state comptroller and auditor on the unusual change of budget plans. Their approval of the plan, "unusual, but for a meritorious purpose" removed the last obstacle.

"From this year forward," Herndon told the Board, "the fund will be available for capital improvement and the completion of the unit."

Funds from the sale of Elks' food will be used for the club's charity and youth activities.

Thousands Attend Fair Opening Here

Thousands came to the American Legion Fair last night in the biggest turnout in history.

Fair officials, headed by President Lynn Lyons, are jubilant over the success of "kid's day."

An estimated 10,000 persons attended, 6,000 of them county children and pre-schoolers.

All Seminole County school children were admitted free yesterday. Rides on the midway were reduced to 9c. Although the difference in the regular price had to be absorbed by the American Legion, fair officials said "it was well worth it."

Tonight will be Ladies Night. All women will enter the grounds without paying to see the county exhibits and displays in the commercial and American Legion buildings.

Gates will open at 4:30 p. m. daily. On Saturday festivities are slated to begin at noon. Tomorrow

Vanguard 'Crude,' Will Bear Fruit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Scientists fondly described the world's first weather satellite today as "crude and primitive" but bearing the seeds of revolution.

Vanguard II, launched Tuesday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., will do today's forecasts no good. But its descendants, weather experts predicted, will.

Spot the lurch, track, and report the intensity of hurricanes, and possibly tornadoes.

For the first time observe and report global weather on a global basis.

Make possible accurate language forecasts and, perhaps, predictions of climate changes centuries in advance.

Give man the fuller understanding of weather he must have before he can hope to control it.

Vanguard II, a 20-inch sphere weighing 21½ pounds, is circling the globe every 126 minutes in an orbit which will keep it aloft for the making.
