NEW LAND MOVEMENT ON FOR EX-SERVICE MEN WILL COME TO SOUTH

Member Nat'l Committee Greatly Surprised In Values

BILL WILL BE PASSED

GRANTING MEN FOUR OPTIONS AND THEY WILL SETTLE ON LANDS IN SOUTH.

New Orleans, La., April 8.—"I do not believe the average person has any idea of the real meaning of the new movement for land settlement that has been started in the South through the leadership of the American Legion and others interested in the development of this country," said Kenneth A. McRae, of Omaha, Neb., member of the national legislature committee of the American Legion, who is in New Orleans on a brief vacation trip through the South after his strenuous activities in Washington in behalf of relief legislation for ex-service men.

Mr. McRae expressed confidence that Congress soon will enact the Fordney-Smoot bill which embodies recommendations of the American Legion for assisting ex-service men in obtaining homes. This measure, he explained, will give the ex-soldier or sailor four options:

"Under the land settlement plan, Option No. 1, for instance a former soldier, who has seen one year, or 365 days of active service, will be entitled to a credit of $1.50 per day or $547.50. To this he may add as five year working capital $1,200.00 borrowed from the government for stocking his farm with animals, and $1,500 for improvements, a total working capital of $3,247.50, of which he must pay five per cent in cash for the land and the remainder in forty years.

"Should he elect to accept Option No. 2, for the purchase of a home or small tract near the city he will receive a credit of $2.00 per day or a total of $730 only, whereas, if he wants what is erroneously thought to be the popular demand, or a cash bonus under Option No. 4, he would receive $1.50 per day or a total of only $547.50.

"Thirdly, vocational training will be offered to all men who prefer it and a credit of $1.50 per day for every day served will be allowed for expenses during the period of training, the remainder will be paid in cash.

"In other words the government under the American Legion bonus bill offers the greatest inducements to the constructive phases of the returned soldier problem, that is farming. When the advantages are thoroughly understood by the boys they undoubtedly will grasp the farm opportunity offered in Option No. 1, in great numbers. As a matter of fact, more than 250,000 returned soldiers already have advised the U. S. Interior Department that they desire to secure farms with federal assistance.

"With such assistance from the government, after this act becomes a law the remarkable opportunities and advantages of the South as an agricultural section, undoubtedly will appeal with striking force to these new farmers and many of them should turn their eyes to this section or their future homes."

"This land," said Mr. McRae, "will be valued before purchase by the governor of the state in which the land is, an appraiser from the federal land bank, and a member of the board for administering land and homes, in order to insure that the land is worth the price asked for it.

"No imitations, except that appraisal, is placed on the ex-service man purchasing land. He may settle anywhere in the state he likes.

"There will be a board comprising five members, three ex-service men, the secretary of the interior, and a citizen, which will administer all land and home compensations.

Mr. McRae pointed out that in the Middle West land values had become so high that the people were going to seek other fields. It has been found by purchases of land at $500 an acre Iowa, for example, according to Mr. Mellad, that it was impossible to make the land produce interest on the investment. This situation he said, made the time ripe for the South to advertise itself.

"When the people up there find out that you have good land down here, as good as anywhere else in the country, and there is very little in the myth of fever swamps and malaria and yellow fever, they are going to flock to the South."

"When the bill becomes a law, and no opposition has developed thus far," said Mr. McRae, "I believe it will be one of the greatest boosts the agricultural South has ever had. You are too modest in this country."

Debate On Peace Treaty

WILL TAKE SEVERAL DAYS TO REACH FINAL VOTE.

Washington, April 7.—Final determination was reached today by Republican leaders in the house to bring to a vote in that body late Friday the resolution to declare the state of war with Germany at an end. A special rule reported today by the rules committee provides for six hour debate on Thursday and five hours on Friday, after which opponents of the resolution may offer only a motion to recommit.

Completion today of the minority report, presenting views of Democratic members on the resolution, cleared the way for the long debate. Representative Flood of Virginia, ranking Democratic member of the committee, presenting the power of congress to bring the war legally to an end, and characterized section five of the resolution as an attempt to preserve something out of the wreck of American rights which have been so outrageously surrendered in former sections of the resolution.

"From whatever angle this resolution is viewed," he continued, "it presents itself as a proposition not only ineffective in achieving its proclaimed purpose, but as a sure method of confusing our foreign relations, injecting new and complicated questions into an already difficult situation and involving a surrender of American rights and an impairment of American prestige and honor."

Winter Park Passes Teacher Pay Tax

Winter Park, Fla., April 6.—The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held on Monday night and in many respects was of unusual importance. Among some of the most important actions were the adding of one mill to the taxes to provide a fund for the increase of the salaries of the teachers of the public school, the purchase of the three lots south of the town hall which are now being used as a play ground, and the appropriation of one thousand dollars from the general fund for improving the waterways of the town. This last act will mean much for the canals are becoming filled with sand and hyacinths are beginning to reappear in several of the lakes. Now is a good time to check this menace for when once the hyacinths get a firm hold they are a terrible nuisance. The little money spent now will save a great deal later on.

RODMAN DEFENDS OUR NAVY

CENSURES SIMS FOR BEING INDISCREET IN CRITICISMS.

Washington, April 7.—Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, told the senate investigating committee today that Rear Admiral Sims' letter to Secretary Daniels criticizing the navy's part in the war was very indiscreet. "Admiral Sims' indiscretions," he said, "lay particularly in his breach of confidence in making public an intimate and confidential conversation which should have been held secret."

The witness referred to Sims' testimony that Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations told him prior to his departure not to let the "British pull the wool over your eyes; we would as soon fight the British."

"Had Admiral Sims' letter been less indiscreet," Admiral Rodman said, "had he omitted references to conversations, which, as I have said, he should have held secret and confidential; had the statements been couched in polite and moderate terms such as are usual in such messages; had it been less antagonistic, it would no doubt, have followed the usual course of such communications, received due consideration by the proper authorities and doubtless some good would have come of it. His mention and the subsequent publication of a certain admonition he says he received prior to his departure for London, no doubt has had its effect upon the cordial relations which heretofore existed between us and one of our closest si-lies. In every expression of opinion which I have heard concerning it, both in and out of the navy, it has received the deepest censure."

Declaring that he appeared entirely at his own request to "defend the good name of the navy," Admiral Rodman, who commanded the American battleship squadron, told the committee that the American navy did its full share most gallantly and effectively in fighting the Huns to a spectacular and victorious conclusion.

Admiral Sims' status abroad was largely one of liaison officer, the witness said.

Pensacola Airmen Make Balloon Flight Record

Wilmington, N. C. April 7.—After setting what is believed to be a world's record by flying 900 miles in fourteen hours, a naval balloon attached to the training station at Pensacola, Florida, made a forced landing in a field near Kerr, thirty miles from Wilmington, today.

The occupants of the balloon, Lieutenants Kenny, U. S. N., commanding and Lieutenant Kelly and Keyo, of the marine corps, and Gunner Bundy, U. S. N., student at the Pensacola station, were badly shaken up. They were brought to Wilmington early in the afternoon two of them in need of medical attention.

The men left Pensacola at 6:35 Tuesday afternoon on an endurance flight and landed at Kerr at 9:30 this morning. The balloon used was of the old observation type.

The airmen will return to Pensacola by train tomorrow.

Says He Repudiated Wilson and Is No Real Candidate

HITS REPUBLICANS

SAYS HOUSE MEMBERS FOR TWELVE MONTHS HAVE INVESTIGATED OUR VICTORY.

Gainesville, Ga., April 8.—Opening his campaign for the democratic nomination in Georgia for president Attorney General Palmer addressed a large audience here Tuesday. At the outset Mr. Palmer said he had entered the Georgia primaries because certain enemies of the administration was attempting to secure a delegation from Georgia to the San Francisco convention that might be controlled by the critics of the administration.

"This has resulted in the entering of the name of a distinguished citizen of Georgia as a candidate. That does not materially alter the situation nor change my duty with respect to it.

"As I read the announcement of Sen. Smith, he is not a real candidate for president. His candidacy is intended only to embarrass the president and the party which he leads. If this were not true I should have hesitated to oppose him here for under other circumstances he would have had a large claim to the sympathy and support of his own state. If in making his announcement he declared himself to be in sympathy with the course of the party under the brilliant leadership of Woodrow Wilson and thus brought himself in line with what will be the undoubted declarations of the San Francisco convention, I should have gladly conceded his right to preferential votes of his own state. But I have too much confidence in the loyalty of the Georgia democrats to the great principles for which our party stands and which have been written indelibly upon the political history of our time to be deterred by the prospects of a contest even with an distinguished son of Georgia as your rector senator, from giving your people an opportunity to show that loyalty in terms that would be understood throughout the country. I follow the leadership of Woodrow Wilson; Sen. Smith has repudiated it.

"The republican house of representatives for 12 months has contented itself with investigating our victory in the war," Mr. Palmer said. "The republican senate for 12 months has fought to deprive us of the fruits of our victory."

Asserting that he stood on a common ground with President Wilson as regards the treaty the attorney general said he was one of those who would have the treaty ratified with out destructive reservations.

SETTLEMENT LABOR UNREST PROBLEMATICAL

SECRETARY OF LABOR BOARD GIVES REASONS FOR ASSERTION.

Washington April 8 (By Associated Press) The flat rejection of the plan of the Second Industrial Conference settling the labor unrest urged before the senate labor committee today by W. Jett Lauck, secretary of the old labor board. He said the labor demand for a greater share in the control of industry was causing unrest.

HISTORY OF THE GREAT SANFORD SECTION

INTERESTING, ENTERTAINING AND HISTORICAL FACTS CONCERNING THE GREAT VEGETABLE GARDEN

RUBE ALLYN, in the Florida Grower

A week spent with the vegetable growers of the Sanford district, enjoying their unbounded hospitality sharing with them the hopes and fears that assail all growers as they work out the problems involved in the highly technical and intricate occupation in the maturing, shipping and final disposition of their crops, and learning first-hand the history and development of this truly wonderful district, known throughout the country as one of the great celery districts of the nation, and probably the most interesting in the nation, is an experience one could easily translate into an epic which the reader, not aware of the local coloring, would regard as fiction. However, as the Grower desires to convey to its readers, information that may be of easily understandable value, I will endeavor to sketch a picture of this district with the idea of not allowing enthusiasm to overbalance practical facts.

It will aid us to understand present achievements with better appreciation to dwell briefly on the history of the trucking industry from its inception here, and some mention of characters whose names invariably are associated with any discussion of the subject. Joe Cameron's name is, therefore, most frequently associated with any references that may be made to land values here. He was a North Carolinian who, viewing the line stretch of level land bordering the St. Johns river and Lake Monroe rich and succulent grasses and an artesian flow of water in abundance by puncturing the soil to a depth of 135 to 150 feet, saw a great possibility in the cattle industry and purchased for one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre the land now selling readily for one thousand dollars and more.

This was after the catastrophe of '95 known as "The Big Freeze." One of the extensive orange growers who stared destitution in the face at that time was J. N. Whitner, and he viewed his desolated groves, and with that indomitable spirit American pioneers have ever evinced, concluded that in the growing of winter vegetables for the northern market lay the future possibilities of this soil. He was the pioneer planter, and his name is revered by those who have followed in his footsteps and are today among the most favored of Florida's population occupied in a native industry.

The beautiful city of Sanford, with its wide, brick-paved streets, its modern homes, its restful parks, its marble bank buildings, its daily newspaper, its great fields of growing crops, its brick-paved highways from which floats the constant hum of the automobiles as town and country merge, and its thousands of happy people, from field hand to bank president, all are a living part of the vision that took possession of J. N. Whitner away back yonder as he stood beneath the dead limbs of his orange trees.

Truck farming progressed with the usual vicissitudes of small farmers a prey to the disadvantages of improper irrigation, drainage and no marketing facilities save those provided by the roaming bands of commission men from northern cities who regarded the Florida farmer as legitimate prey, until one day another man of destiny waded through the deep sand of the village street, observed with sympathy the distress of the toiling mule as he dragged his load of truck through the sand, and with a big brain, prompted by a loving heart, dreamed of a plan to lift a part of the burden from this faithful beast whose drooping ears and brayless throat advertised his breaking heart. This man was no farmer, and the future of the trucking industry in this district was not, as far as he knew a mission of his. He was a Methodist preacher, and it is safe to assume that his thoughts were more concerned with the spiritual welfare of the community. No doubt he reflected that by removing the cause, an immense amount of profanity could be sidetracked, observing no doubt, that the song of the darkey and the upstanding, alert position of a mule's ears were inseparable harmonies, just in the ratio that a lop-eared, worn-out mule and profanity were allied. So he remembered how as the tide-water rose on the ocean beach and receded the wet sand was a splendid hard path for man or beast, and forthwith evolved the idea of keeping the sand wet on the streets of Sanford by turning the water from the flowing well at Park avenue and First streets onto the sand, and thus have nature pave the streets.

To accomplish this he had a ditch dug down the center of the street and placed in it a wooden trough made by nailing a four and six inch board together and inverting the trough in the ditch, turned in the water. To his great joy and that of the community, it worked, and soon the song of the mule was mingled with that of the red bird down, and "Alabama Bound" swelled into a song of triumph as the loped boys proudly guided the mule with upstanding ears waving a rhythmic understanding of the blessing that had come to them from the man of God whose kindly deed was to transform the waste places into an earthly Paradise. This good man was Dr. T. W. Moore, and his memory is enshrined in the hearts of the people of Sanford and its environs.

The farmers were not slow in evolving the idea that this would be a good plan to adopt for irrigation purposes, and very soon after many farmers had installed this crude form of irrigation with such beneficial results, that out of it grew the finest system of sub-irrigation in the world, which combines with its drainage and maintenance of the water table at any level desirable. From that time on celery growing became the great industry of this district as it enabled a man to tell almost to a day when he set out his plants, when he would be in the market with his produce. This system consists of terra cotta or cement sewer pipes, 12 by 30, placed twenty to twenty-four feet apart upright, the bottom ends being plugged with cement. These are known as the supply pockets. They are connected by four-inch terra cotta water pipes cemented tight at all joints, constituting the water main. From each supply pocket is laid at right angles to the water main a lateral line of tile. These lines are made of ordinary three-inch tiles, placed end to end and not cemented. Each joint is covered with a handful of sawdust or palmetto fibre to prevent sand passing through the joints and clogging the tile. At the end of each lateral, opposite the main, a stop pocket is placed. The tile is connected with it in the same manner as to supply the pocket. Another hole is cut directly opposite in the stop pocket and three tiles are laid to connect it with an opening drainage ditch. A three-inch iron nipple, six inches long, is used to connect the outlet tiles with the stop pockets. The stop pockets provide a means for holding the water in the tiles when it is necessary. For two and a half acres is required twenty eight pieces of 12x30, 158 pieces 4x24, 4,260 pieces of 3x12 drainage tile, thirty wooden plugs and nine sacks of cement. By adding the cost of labor to that of the above material the cost of installing this system may be obtained. To give satisfaction the land should be level, have a sub-soil or floor of clay, marl or hard pan at a depth of from three to five feet below the surface, and an outlet for drainage.

Among the great advantages are immunity from damage by excessive rainfall, permitting heavy machinery on the land after a big rainfall. The maintenance of the water table which permits keeping water just the right distance below the roots for capillary attraction to bring it in proper proportion to plants, and at the same time permit of cultivation of top soil so as to provide aeration and discourage weeds.

This system is the basis of the great wealth of the Sanford vegetable area, combined with a soil of great natural richness. The artesian flow is one of the great mysteries for some future genius to unravel. A flow of water can only be obtained for a short distance from the St. Johns river and Lake Monroe, and sometimes a comparatively small distance from a well with abundance of water a flow cannot be reached at all, and yet as the level of the water in the lake and river is below the land, the source must be from some other place, and this causes endless speculation of its relation to the bodies of water on the banks of which alone it exists, and which the law of gravitation denies its possible relation. But it is there, and as a consequence a busy population of industrious people are on the highway of health, wealth, and happiness.

While Sanford is justly famed for

of the nation, and would not be fair estimate of the average earning capacity of Sanford land, but it has left the people in a position to improve and develop with the assurance of immunity from failure in the years to come, and the outlook this year is very rosy indeed. A new factor has entered into the favorable outlook for the Sanford farmer, and that is cooperative selling, and this will undoubtedly be a great utility in the future as it is at present in stabilizing the truck growing business and keeping it where it belongs up toward the head of the procession of Florida enterprise. There are two cooperative societies here, The Sanford Farmers Exchange, a branch of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and the Sanford Truck Growers, Incorporated. These societies marketed one-half the total crop last year, I am informed, and the results justify the assertion, without going into the merits of the various plans of marketing, that cooperative selling will always in the future be a big factor in the achievements of vegetable growers of this section and the entire state of Florida.

Rex Packard is president of the Sanford Truck Growers, Inc.; J. C. Chamberlain, vice-president, and D. C. Marlowe secretary and treasurer. Of these, Mr. Marlowe was interviewed. He is most enthusiastic and confident of the service of his association, and is a gentleman it is always a pleasure to meet. He is an old newspaper man who has never lost interest in the newspaper fraternity, and as a commercial secretary and all-round promoter of the welfare of Sanford, he has been a valuable asset to the community.

The Sanford Farmers Exchange has for its president L. A. Brunley, one of the most progressive farmers of this section; C. Boyce Bell its vice-president; Ben Fish is secretary and John T. Wade, manager. I had the pleasure of spending a delightful afternoon on the farm of Mr. Bell, and he is certainly a gentleman one would feel repaid for going a long way to meet. He looks like a poet or a philosopher, and no doubt has the qualifications of both. His home is cozily situated in the center of his perfectly managed farm, and from his windows can be viewed celery in every stage of cultivation, from the plants newly set out to that approaching marketable stage. He is a native of North Carolina and still retains and operates his cotton plantation in that state, which he personally directs in the summer time until the cotton is laid by, when he returns to Florida where he is a big factor in not only the maturity of his own crop, but a determined officer in the army battling for a square deal for the grower in getting an adequate return for his produce in the scientific advancement of the business; in good roads movement and other interests that have a bearing on the public welfare. His home life is ideal, and he impresses one as a contented repossessed gentleman, the acquaintanceship of whom is a thing to be most highly prized.

Ben Fish, on the other hand while a near neighbor and co-worker with Mr. Bell, both in the Farmers Exchange and in all the things that tend toward advancement differs to the extent that he is remarkable for his vibrant activity, and gets through a remarkable routine of effort, hitting her on high every step. He is cultivating forty acres of celery this season enough to keep two good men busy, and a more thoroughly cultivated piece of ground or finer looking crops it would be impossible to find. He is an enthusiast in choice breeds of chickens, Holstein cattle and all the essentials of rural life, and his successes and the joy he takes in it all is all the proof one needs that no farmer on earth can compare with the Florida farmer in computing the answer to the old query, "How can I get the most out of life?"

John E. Wade, manager of the Sanford Farmers Exchange, tore himself away from the exciting and complicated business of getting hundreds of carloads of this valuable produce onto the market where the most people are hungry for it, which means the exercise of second sight, clairvoyance, telepathy and spiritualism, for all I know, as well as keen selling and business ability, and showed me the high lights, the low lights and the reflected lights of this domain I have been trying to describe. But first he fed me. After giving me a very keen scrutiny he concluded the best service he could do for the Grower was to fill me up on the kind of cats a Floridian should have to be at his best. He has been a very busy man and has not had time to get married—yet—so he took me to the home of his brother, Madison Wade, a few miles out on Madison avenue, who has not been so busy as John, and found time to pick out not only a charming and accomplished wife, but a woman who has solved all the mysteries of cooking, and believe me, I know what I am talking about. On the way out John, who does not seem to evince any romance in his business activities, told me this romantic story: "I landed in Sanford from Tennessee, where I bumped the rocks of adversity so good and hard that about all I had left when I got here was a good robust whistle. I took a walk out this very Celery avenue to exercise my whistle which I used as a courage accelerator, and although many automobiles passed me they seemed to be entirely too preoccupied to pick up a strange man on hoof. A lady driving a horse was more thoughtful, however, and invited me to ride, and finding I had no destination in particular, invited me to come to her home and meet her husband, who was from Indiana, and lonesome for the society of his kind. Arriving there I found a magnificent home with every modern appointment, surrounded with great high cabbage palmetto trees, a grand display of flowers, and in the rear fine outbuildings. I thought I had never seen a more desirable place and it seemed to me the possession of such a home was all that mortal man should desire. The interior appointments were elegant, and her husband, I found a most companionable and charming gentleman. I was hungry and the invitation to dine was welcomed; when bedtime came they put me to repose on a bed elegant and downy as one customarily associated with European nobility. Was ever a man hungry, broke and discouraged more fortunate, I thought and in my dreams I thought it was all mine, and in the morning awoke with the ambitions and feeling of a blooming highbrow millionaire. I am going to show you that home," he said, and stopped at the gate of the place true to the picture. On the veranda before we entered, he finished quietly. "It is now mine, and my brother and his family are sharing it and the farm interests with me."

This transformation in his fortunes has taken place in the past three or four years, and is one of the best stories I have heard, illustrating the possibilities in Florida. Of course Mr. Wade brought with him exceptional business training and experience his Tennessee misfortunes being due to litigation entirely outside his business, which was most successful but it shows what determination and a proper incentive will accomplish in this state where opportunity beckons on all sides. Seminole county is particularly fortunate in County Agent C. M. Berry, who somehow finds time to cultivate twenty acres of land, and spend a great part of his time looking after the farmers of the county. (Continued on page 3) and observing the results they are attaining while dispensing invaluable advice and counsel. Agents of the government are conducting two hundred experiments on his farm at this time, and he is interested in every one of them. ONE OF SANFORD CELERY FIELDS READY TO CUT chase of supplies, and has been behind for years and great credit is due him for the loyalty he evinces and stimulates in this direction. His kindly sympathetic nature has won him a secure place in the affection of the people of this section and the state. But then, how could he be otherwise when you learn that his wife is the famed Mrs. Riley Fletcher Berry, whose literary career and affiliations are of national repute. She had the great good fortune of enjoying the friendship of that enteric of Indiana writers of whom General Lew Wallace and James Whitcomb Riley were the most conspicuous, and has a collection of letters from writers of fame, the world over of inestimable value. One from Queen Camilla Sylvia among the number. Of late years she has devoted her versatile genius of studying the various household uses of the Florida fruits and vegetables, and it by their patronage and support, they are the kind of folks who will attain results. Bob has a heart as big as all outdoors, and the columns of his paper reflect his sterling qualities. Walter Haynes is the bustling business manager of the Herald and he sheds trouble like a duck sheds water, and they are great pair to draw to. Sanford has drawn a prize in them.

Sanford has more winter visitors than the present hotel accommodations will take care of, but a magnificent tourist hotel is just completed and open for business. It is named the Valdez, and will fill a long felt want, for Sanford, being the head of navigation of the St. Johns river, with navigable water to the ocean, has the distinction of being the only great fresh water port of the interior of the state, and as such will undoubtedly develop into a favored place for yachtsmen who will desire to keep their boats away from the porroding insects that inhabit the salt water. Already one of the hopeful visions freely predicted is a boulevard around Lake Monroe, an exclusive club for tired millionaires, and while their yachts ride immune from contamination in the great fresh water basin of the lake and the owners with their ladies fair will have superb golf grounds and other accessories enjoyable in the winter as home folks find it all the year around.

Perhaps the reader may wonder as I did, how the yachts are going to get from the river into the lake and out again. I hated to display my ignorance so I drove around and examined it from all available sides. I had the lake pointed out to me and saw the river from different angles, but couldn't get the connection, and finally gave up and exposed myself to ridicule by asking "The answer is easy—when you know it."

The river runs through the lake. Can you beat it?

The people of Florida especially those who value their votes, have learned a lot in the past few years, among other things that politicians who promise everything and everybody before election rarely do any thing for anybody, except themselves after election. This is something to bear in mind this year.—Time-Union.

THE BONUS QUESTION EXPLAINED

DR. FORSTER EXPLAINS JUST WHAT IS BEING DONE FOR EX-SERVICE MEN.

The boys who served Uncle Sam in every branch of the service during the world war are entitled to all that is coming to them and the editor of the Herald will be one among many of the friends of the boys who will assist them to get it. Seeing Dr. David Forster of Hawks Park here yesterday he was interviewed on the subject of the bonus for the boys as he just returned from Washington and is National Compteeen for the state of Florida of the American Legion.

Dr. Forster gave the salient points of the three propositions as they are now before Congress:

1. Reclamation of land up to a sum of $4000 with improvements to $1200 the ex-service man making the application for this feature to receive $1.50 per day for each day of his service the same to apply on his loan. He has 35 years in which to pay for his farm.

2. Where an ex-service man wished to buy a home he will receive $2 per day for service to same to apply on the home.

3. Vocational Training to all ex-service men regardless of whether they were wounded or not. They will receive $1.50 per day and will be placed in a government school or some state university.

A cash adjusted compensation of $1.50 a day for the time he was in the service between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1919.

These are the four forms of bonuses that are being talked about now for the ex-service men and all of them are excellent and none of them are extravagant and the men who went to war whether they went across or stayed in this country are entitled to these emoluments and there is but little doubt that they will put in force and redound to the credit of the government that grants them and to the everlasting benefit of the boys who gave their all that America might assist in the great work of making the world safe.

JAMES HIGGINS BADLY INJURED

Stepped Between Two Sections of Freight Train and Is Crushed by Cars

James Higgins was badly injured Saturday afternoon at Rand's Siding when he stepped between two sections of a freight that was being shifted in the yards. James was taking the numbers of the cars as he is an employee of the A. C. L. Ry., in the yard work and as he was in a hurry to get numbers he thought to save time by stepping between the cars in order to get across the track and not wait for the train to move out and in some manner he did not see the other end of the train being about to come together and he was caught between two cars and had several of his ribs broken, one arm bruised and the other arm badly crushed. He was rushed to Dr. Tolar's office the railway physician but being busy with an operation at the time he was taken to Dr. Langley's office where Drs. Langley and Marshall attended him and he was taken to the Fernald-Laughton Hospital where all the physicians of the city are treating him in order to save his arm if possible.

Jimmie Higgins is a lovable boy and one of the most popular boys in the city and this accident is deplored by railroad officials and fellow employees and his many friends and they are hoping and praying that he will recover and will still have his arms saved to him. It was an unavoidable accident and no one is to blame for it but it has cast a deep sorrow on family and friends. James is the son of the late James C. Higgins for many years the superintendent of the A. C. L. Ry., of this city.

TAXES IN COUNTY ARE BEING PAID

MORE TAXES PAID IN MARCH OF THIS YEAR THAN EVER BEFORE IN HISTORY.

A visit to the Tax Collector's office shows Collector Jinkins and his assistant Sanford Doudney busy as bees getting the taxes in that are due and that had to be paid by the first of April in order that they shall not be delinquent.

Mr. Jinkins gave us the pleasing information that never before in the history of Seminole County have the people paid their taxes so promptly as this year and during the month of March over $93,000 was paid into the coffers of the Tax Collector.

This shows that the county is prosperous to a remarkable degree and people are paying their taxes more promptly as the result. It also shows that much property is changing hands in Sanford and in the county of Seminole and when property is moving swiftly people always pay taxes more promptly as a clear title can only be given after the taxes on the property is cleared up.

FINE APOPKA GROVE BRINGS $150,000

Beacham Realty Company Sell Their Former Grove To A. S. Drawdy, Well Known Stockman.

This week has seen the sale of one of the best orange groves in this, the banner fruit-producing belt of this State. The Beacham Realty Company have sold what was once their former grove on Lake Apopka, to Mr. A. S. Drawdy, a well-known stockman in the Kissimmee section, for a consideration of approximately $150,000.

This grove, which consists of 155 acres, was owned by Mr. Charles K. Smith of Worcester, Mass., and is one of the most valuable groves in this section of the country. The purchaser is a Floridian and has resided in Orlando, consequently one of the best things to be said in connection with the transaction was that the purchaser knew exactly what he was buying.—Reporter Star.

Body of Detroit Girl Found Tied to Piling of Dock at Daytona.

Daytona, April 5.—A fisherman today discovered the body of Miss Miram Jones, twenty-five, of Detroit lashed to the piling under a dock here. The police after a investigation came to the conclusion that the young woman, who had been an inmate of a sanitarium here while being treated for melancholia had crept under the dock at low tide and fastened herself to the piling. At high tide the water submerged her and caused death. Her garters had been used to tie her neck to the post. At the sanitarium it was said Miss Jones had disappeared last night.

Woman Patron Whips Teacher

St. Petersburg, Fla. April 6.—A warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Speese a winter visitor from Philadelphia, was issued today, by Magistrate A. K. Cook, on complaint of Miss Ethel Bachman, a teacher in the Glenoak school, who charges that she was assaulted by Mrs. Speese on Central avenue yesterday afternoon. The case will be tried Monday afternoon. A son of Mrs. Speese attends the Glenoak school and was whipped by Miss Bachman. The mother repented this and claimed that the child was battered. Mrs. Speese attacked Mrs. Bachman yesterday afternoon at Fifth street and Central avenue, pulled down her hair, tore off her waist and struck her on the head and face. She also abused the school teacher, while belaboring her, it is charged. The excited woman was pulled off Miss Bachman and the latter given attention and taken to her home. The school authorities are taking a hand in the case and will prosecute vigorously.

Cheer up. A smile is no more expensive than a frown.

Yes, this is a good town. But do you ever tell others so?

This year every citizen should vote—vote right—but not often.

To escape from the piker class, votes should advance in price also.

When you get hold of a good thing William, hang onto both ends. The middle sometimes gives way.

Some people, we suspect, are keen on discovering the faults of others in order to cover up their own.

And still, we are firmly convinced that the dawn of universal peace is still in the realm of the dawns.

Prohibition, we are assured, is creating a void in the jails of the country—ditto the stomachs of its citizens.

We're just pining to scratch off an editorial on the low cost of something. But we can't find the something.

Some good men and true become so thoroughly wrapped up in the work of selecting good men for public office that they even forget to vote.

Food is going up. Clothing is going up, smokes are going up, everything is away up, and if something don't come down soon we'll all blow up.

In a communication to the Herald City Manager Abbott outlines the intent of the injunction recently placed upon the Southern Utilities Co., by the City Commissioners and states that the injunction holds good only in regard to the electric current. Since many of the consumers were under the impression that the injunction covered the water and gas also this communication should straighten out the matter to their satisfaction.

Those nice showers are very welcome and mean a lot to the grower of vegetables and the grower of grass and flowers. They mean a lot to the cattle man who is wanting fresh green grass for the cattle and they mean much to every living thing. Artificial irrigation is all right for a time but when it really becomes dry weather there is nothing like these gentle rains from heaven that carry everything needed in plant life.

Joe Earman says in his Palm Beach Post that the grafters, gamblers and "stick up" men must go from Palm Beach and West Palm Beach and that the officers and the city commissioners will see to it. The city employed private detectives to get the evidence and Joe says if he was to publish what he knows there could be an awful upheaval in many circles. Well, most every newspaper in the state could say the same thing. If we really published what we know there would be a great exodus from the state.

WE NEVER CAN TELL
These days the country is indulging in the pleasing pastime of turning out another grip of public officials, from president down to the most humble of them all. Today we see great virtues in this man, and that one, and the other, and we expect great things from them. But we never can tell. Sometimes they measure up to expectations, and then again they do not measure at all. But making them is great sport, even though at times they bite the hand that made them.

"PUBLIC OPINION BE DAMNED"

You, reader, have probably heard some fellow blow up and exclaim "Public opinion be damned—I don't care a rap for it." But he does—we all do. It is human nature for us to want our neighbors to think well of us. Even if it is not especially so as a matter of personal pride, it is so as one of good judgement and sound business policy.

The man who is well thought of has many friends, and these friends are a valuable asset to him in business—they bring him trade and increase his financial revenues.

There are many things a man may do that would lower him in the estimation of the public, yet would not bring him into conflict with the law. And have you noticed that men invariably conceal these little acts as much as possible? And why? Because they do not wish to incur the displeasure of their fellow men—and women.

Were it not for the moral effect of public opinion this world would soon become a maelstrom of iniquity and debauchery. It would be impossible as a place of residence for respectable men and women and to bring children into existence under such conditions would be a crime against humanity.

Public opinion makes or unmakes us, as we court its verdict. We value it, and we cherish its good reports.

For when all other courts fail, public opinion becomes the court of last resort.

FLORIDA AGAIN EXEMPT

With blizzards, storms, torrential rains, and strikes of labor making the rest of the country unpleasant, dangerous to live in, and difficult to make a living in, it becomes a pleasure once more to refer to our own state of Florida, which is exempt from all these, and is overflowing with all that goes to make for pleasantness and prosperity.

In Kansas railroads and highways are blocked by deep snow drifts and livestock is suffering in a blizzard which has five states in its merciless grasp. Northern Illinois, with parts of Indiana and Michigan, are in the grip of a blizzard accompanied by heavy gales and blinding snow storms. In Nebraska the snow drifts are six feet high, and train service is demoralized.

The Associated Press tells us that Toledo is like a deserted village with its streets and the surrounding country swept by "blinding snow and storms raging all day."

Parkersburg, W. Va. and Marietta O., are swept by gales which unroofed houses, blew down telegraph telephone, light and trolley poles. Georgia is deluged by a rainstorm; the heaviest in years, bringing great agricultural damage to farmers. The Tennessee river has passed the 43.5-foot stage and is causing dwellers in its lowlands to flee to the hills.

The Mississippi river along its lower course is rapidly approaching the danger, having passed the forty five-foot mark, and with water enough above to bring it to the fifty-one-foot mark. Lavee guards and workmen are at work.

In Florida all is well. The farmers are at work preparing for the early spring harvest of crops, the business men get their freight unhindered by snow or strike, the city folk go about their business with comfort and ease. Spring in Florida is unaccompanied with storm and disaster, for Florida is the home of Spring, its birthplace, as it were.—Tampa Tribune.

SPLENDID ARTICLE ON SANFORD

The Florida Grower, one of the best magazines in the south, and one that publishes the truth about Florida has a two page article about Sanford in this week's issue and it is one of the best pieces of advertising that the Sanford section has ever had. The article was written by Rube Allyn who is a Florida newspaper man and with whom the Sanford people are familiar and Rube has confined himself strictly to the truth and while he has not burdened the readers with miles of statistics he writes the story about Sanford in his inimitable style that is entertaining and instructive.

The Florida Grower writes up the different sections of Florida in each issue and like every other publication of this nature spent money on the compilation of the article and setting it up and publishing it and the Herald often wonders if the general public ever realizes just what these articles cost that the Florida magazines and newspapers are actually giving away each year in publishing such articles about Florida.

The Sanford Board of Trade, every real estate man and every business man should take a bunch of copies of the Grower of April 3, and send them out at various times to people who would like to learn more about Sanford.

We thank the Florida Grower for this splendid write up. We know what it is worth and we are indebted to Edgar Wright and the Grower and Rube Allyn for life.

CONGRESSIONAL POLITICS

Further than occasional outbursts from the Sanford Herald, infrequency due to an uncertain electric service, there has been little stir in the Fourth congressional district and few people know that Forest Lake, of Sanford, has announced his candidacy to succeed Joe Sears in congress.

But Joe Earman has fired a broadside for the affable Seminole county banker and avows his intention of supporting him. This means much in at least one county of the district Palm Beach, for Joe Earman is a power with his Palm Beach Post Joe says Forest has been crossing palms with a few of the qualified electors of his county and swapping talk with the boys in the suburban districts.

Joe Sears is still in Washington, but unless Joe gets a few pointers from Park on that car to the ground stuff he had better come on down and repair a few panels of the fence Forest Lake and Joe Earman are tearing down.

If he doesn't hurry with these repairs we may be able to drive our dark horse through.—Palatka News

Never mind the dark horse, Goode, get on the and wagon and boost a real progressive business man, town builder and legislator into office, our Forest Lake and your Forest Lake.

SOME SECTION

Sanford celery shippers received $210,000 for the 240 cars shipped out of that section last week.—Tampa Tribune.

It makes us feel good to note that other papers from time to time comment on the wonderful crops of the Sanford section. These crops and the big prices have become such an old story that they hardly cause a ripple in the regular life of this section and we have ceased counting up what the growers are making or have made but only note the car movements. But should some of our willom friends like the Country Gentlemen get an eyeful or an earful of this great winter vegetable growing section they would drop dead and cease to talk about tourists and sand dunes and poor soil and fertilizers. This Sanford section is some section and every part of Florida has a great story to tell about fruits and vegetables and climate unsurpassed in the world.

Why worry about what some of the northern magazines or papers think about Florida. We have the goods and if our less fortunate neighbors do not choose to try out their hand in the growing of winter vegetables we should worry. Our own people are making money and the facts and figures are there to prove it.

$210,000 in one week from Celery in the Sanford section the Tribune says and it was not an especially good week either. Will the Country Gentlemen please copy.

Ill Health Often Due to Neglect of Kidneys and Liver
Many organs take part in assimilation of food, and a number are active in eliminating those portions of the food which are not taken into blood for the upbuilding of the body. Of the eliminative organ, the liver and the kidneys are of major importance, and are most likely to be overworked and become diseased. When such is the case, various troubles of a digestive and eliminative character occur, and such troubles are so frequent and so common that it is absolutely necessary to find some relief. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy was compounded over 40 years ago to help equalize the work of both kidneys and liver. How successful it has been is evidenced by its wide-spread sale and its value is attested by an immense number of appreciative users who through these many years have put it to the severest tests with the most satisfactory results. The experience of multitudes is sometimes worth more than the wisdom even of the brightest physicians. Hence, if you have liver or kidney troubles, you cannot do better than call upon your druggist for Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. 100 PER CENT AMERICANS

American Legion Asks Members To Register and Stand Fast.
The following from the Jacksonville Times Union will prove interesting to American Legion members of this county:

The local post American Legion will hold its regular monthly meeting in the chamber of commerce auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, when the carnival committee will make a report giving the amount of money secured for the Edward C. DeSaussure post.

"Don't forget the next meeting of the post, and don't forget to register and pay your poll tax," was the closing remark of the announcement of the meeting sent out by Post Adjutant Smith, Americanism of the 100 per cent variety, such as the American Legion stands for, it is pointed out, demands that every eligible voter shall exercise his rights at the next election. The post went on record at its last meeting to the effect that to be a full fledged member of the post each must register and pay his poll tax. A committee was appointed by Post Commander Covington to check the roster of members to see that this was done. A card asking the questions. Have you registered? Have you paid your poll tax? is included in the announcement to each member, and will be checked up to see that the members of the local post do live up to their obligations as citizens and Legionnaires.

A call has been issued to all members of the post who have not paid their dues to come to this meeting and pay up to Post Finance Officer Edward Goodman to mail their check to him in care of the Central Life Insurance Co., Graham building, or call upon him at that place and leave their dues. This is necessary the announcement states or the names of such unpaid members must be dropped within thirty days.

Tomorrow, Tuesday night, 8 p. m. is the time for the meeting.

Catts Elected Wilson

Brooksville, April 6.—Sen. D. U. Fletcher, candidate for re-election, spoke to a large crowd here Wednesday night.

After Sen. Fletcher was introduced by Col. G. C. Martin he was greeted with loud applause, and during his speech he was often interrupted by applause, especially when he paid his respects to Mr. Catts.

He briefly reviewed his accomplishments during the 12 years of service told of his committee assignments during the democratic administration of congress and at present, and discussed at some length the farm loan act and the past and probable future accomplishments of the merchant marine. The senator has probably been more instrumental in obtaining legislation affecting these two branches of government service than any other member of congress.

He read an extract of a letter from Mr. Catts, written in 1917 in which Mr. Catts informed the senator that he (Catts) had been responsible for the election of Woodrow Wilson in 1916, in that he (Catts) had refused an offer of $50,000 to go over to the Hughes faction with his constituency. This piece of intelligence brought down the house. In fitting ways the senator discussed issues found in the Catts campaign literature. Approval of his hearers was registered by the applause that greeted him.

COMMISSIONERS HOLDING MEET HAVE VISITORS Road to Bridge End Discussion This Morning COMMITTEE PRESENT

(From Tuesday's Daily Herald)

FROM SANFORD BOARD OF TRADE TO TAKE UP THIS BRIDGE END ROAD QUESTION.

The county commissioners are holding their regular meeting today at the court house with all members present. Among the matters coming before them this morning was the road from Geneva to Bridge End or Osceola as the new town of the Osceola Cypress Co., is named. A special committee from the Sanford Board of Trade consisting of A. P. Connelly, G. F. Smith, J. G. Hall, B. F. Whitner, F. W. Mahoney and R. J. Holly appeared before the commissioners relative to this road and A. P. Connelly the chairman asked the board just what was being done on the road that is one of the most important links in the road system of the county. Chairman Brunley of the board called on E. H. Kilbee the commissioner of that district to state what was being done on the road and Mr. Kilbee assured the committee that he was working on the road now and doing all he could with his force of men being split trying to take care of all the important work in his district. It was finally decided that the work would be finished before the rainy season and that the road would be sufficiently improved to give the people of Bridge End a passable road for the time being. There are some thousand people there at present with the population increasing and the present condition of the road precluded their coming to Sanford and the Board of Trade and the business men of this city were willing to take measure to put the road in shape and assist the county commissioners in every way in order that this road could be put in shape.

The county commissioners are being called upon for much road building at present and being short of funds are trying to make haste slowly in these matters but show a disposition to be fair in giving the people of all parts of the county as good a road as they can with the amount of money which they have at their disposal.

SAVE MONEY ON MEATS CAMPAIGN

USING CHEAPER CUTS WILL NOT RAISE PRICE ON THIS KIND OF MEAT.

Washington, April 6.—In response to inquiries as to whether the campaign to "Save Money on Meat" by utilization of the less costly cuts, especially those from the fore-quarter will have a tendency to raise prices of all of such cuts, the Department of Justice today issued the following statement: "The effect on retail prices to the consumers of the campaign to "Save Money on Meat" by utilization of the less costly cuts is indicated clearly in a conclusion reached by Bureau of Markets, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture with its unequalled knowledge of marketing problems, that is people would use more of the less costly portions their doing so would reduce prices of living and 'prices of meat as a whole would be greatly reduced and would be more stable.' "The facts, with reference to the effect of the campaign on prices are as follows: "At the present time, neglect of the less costly cuts of meat, especially those from the fore-quarter, has retarded the sale and distribution of these cuts; has thus caused proportionately greater shrinkage and diminished volume; has caused some meat literally to be wasted; has caused numerous retailers to chop and sell to hotels and others, meat cuts which could be used by the consumer to better advantage in its unchopped form; and has increased the retailer's overhead. "Every particle of loss, shrinkage and wastage has been borne by the consumer in the price of all the meat which he does buy."

TWO "WINGS" IN GEORGIA

National Convention Must Decide Claims of Two G. O. P. Conventions.

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—The republican state convention here today was expected to develop a number of contests, including those for delegates at large to the republican national convention, for election of a state committee, a state chairman and national committeeman from Georgia. The conventions was not expected to get down to business until late in the day.

The "regular" republican organization, which was the one called to meet yesterday, has two wings, one led by Roscoe Pickett, which supports Maj. Gen. Wood for the presidential nomination and the other by Henry Lincoln Johnson, negro, who worked for an uninstructed delegation from Georgia. Wood delegates have been elected in all 12 congressional districts, but in many of them uninstructed delegates also were elected. Action of the national convention will be necessary to decide the conflicting claims.

A strictly white delegation, selected by former progressives, has been at work in Georgia also, led by Harry Stillwell Edwards, of Macon.

A wedding ring was found in the stomach of a cod caught on the Grand banks. The ring belonged to Mrs. Pauline Burnham, an English woman, who had lost it when the steamship Anglo-Saxon went down in 1861. CHANDLER SIX

The Most Closely Priced Fine Car

We Let You Know What The Chandler Price Is

THE Chandler Motor Car Company, ever since the first Chandler Car was built seven years ago, has, in every advertisement issued to newspapers and magazines and all other forms of publications, stated the list price of the Chandler Car.

It states it now and will continue to do so. There is good reason for this and many thousands of motor car owners know it. This is the reason—The Chandler Six is the most closely priced fine car in the whole medium priced field.

Look through the pages of this paper or a magazine that may be lying on your table. There are probably from ten to twenty automobile advertisements. How many name the price of the car?

True, the cost of automobile production has increased in the past year, and it is still increasing. But the Chandler Company, throughout 1919, with all its production greatly oversold, held to its price.

The Chandler Six of today is a highly perfected development of the Chandler Six seven years ago, which started the trend toward light-weight sixes. All the engineering skill and production efficiency at the command of the Chandler Company has been devoted to this one chassis and that fact is one of the reasons for the Chandler's leadership in its field today.

All Chandler bodies are mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis. Simple, sturdy and dependable throughout, its features embrace, as for years past, the really marvelous Chandler Motor, solid cast aluminum motor base, annular ball bearings, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, and Bosch magneto ignition.

ILLEGAL STRIKE TIES UP BIG STOCK YARDS CHICAGO IS HARD HIT

Union Railroad Men Employed to break Strike

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

MEN BACK OF NEW ORGANIZATION ARE INVESTIGATORS OF TROUBLE.

Chicago, April 5.—Fifty thousand stock yard employes will be thrown out of work tonight as a result of the strike of switchmen in the Chicago railroad yards, the packers announced this morning. Five thousand were laid off when they reported for work today and the others will follow when receipts of cattle on hand are taken care of. Only 5,000 cattle, 3,500 hogs and 500 sheep reached the stockyards today as compared with receipts of 40,000 hogs alone a year ago. An embargo on all express companies was placed this morning by the American Railway Express Co. Officials said the billiard yesterday in connection with the switchmen's strike made it impossible to move cars in the local yards.

A. F. Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, which has branded the strike as "illegal" and in violation of the men's agreement with the roads, has taken personal charge of efforts to break the walkout. Brotherhood men from other cities began arriving this morning in response to Whitney's appeal for union "strike breakers" and union officials hope to have enough men at work by night to keep essential business moving.

One hundred city policemen remained on duty in the railway yards this morning, while all patrolmen in the city were held in reserve. There has been no trouble so far. In event of serious rioting, Chief of Police Garrity said, there are not enough policemen available to maintain order, and it may be necessary to call on state troops to guard the railroad yards.

Approximately 2,000 switchmen were out at midnight, according to strike leaders, and the General Managers' association, representing the railroads. The strikers said 9,000 men would be affected today and predicted a complete tieup of freight traffic and serious impairment of interurban service.

After a long conference with representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen with which the switchmen are affiliated, and the Switchmen's Union of North America, the General Managers' association issued a declaration that there would be "no compromise" with the strikers.

"Sixty per cent. of the switch engines in Chicago are out of service," said the manager's statement. "This has been caused by an outlay organization which has presented demands for rates of pay that already had been presented to the railroad organization by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

"These matters are being handled by the wage committee at Washington and must, under the transportation act, be concluded before the labor board yet to be named by the president."

The trouble broke out five years ago, the switchmen in the Chicago district yards of the C. M. & St. P. going on strike. The Illinois Central and the Northwestern next were affected the strike spreading to other railroads yesterday and last night.

The Chicago shopping district covers a radius of 30 miles and in it 25,000 cars are handled daily. The yardmen make up and "break" all trains in that area, also "spotting" cars at loading and unloading platforms.

The demand of the "outlaw" organization, the recently formed Chicago Yardsmen association are:

"Foremen of all yard and transfer engines, $1 per hour; yard helpers, 95 cents an hour; switch tenders, $5 a day for attending not more than three switches; helpers rate of pay to apply at 95c and hour; time and half for overtime, Sundays and all legal holidays and where they are required work more than eight hours on Sundays or legal holidays double time for all time exceeding eight hours.

Just an idea.
Little Wilbur, age three and one-half years, was watching his grandmother while she was scolding fish and, after the operation said: "Do their backs itch, 'cause you scratch 'em, granny?"

England's Ancient Inns.
What is the oldest English inn? The Crown of Chiddingfold, for sale, dates from the fourteenth century, but The Fighting Cocks at St. Albans, claiming to date from 703, is the oldest inhabited house in England. At the Angel at Blyth, Nottingham, Richard, bishop of Durham, stayed in 1274, and his bill is still preserved.

THE INNER TUBE is the pneumatic of your tire—for the only practical way of making a tire pneumatic is to equip it with an inner tube. The tube is there to hold the air—it serves no other purpose.

Goodrich Red Inner Tubes hold the air because they are scientifically constructed. They fit the tires. Try one on your car!

The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Strange as well as the oysters was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd. The roast celebrated the "coming out" of little Miss Dorothy Mae Strange, it being her first appearance in Oviedo society and she proved to be the sleeping beauty of the crowd, showing neither the popping of the oysters or the merry voices of the guests to arouse her from her slumber. Little Miss Dorothy Mae was the recipient of much attention although sleep and only two months old.

F. M. Story of Chuluota, Deaf

F. M. Story, aged 65 years, one of the most popular citizens of Chuluota died at the hospital at Orlando, Thursday morning after a lingering illness of diabetes and other complications.

Mr. Story was a Floridian by birth and had spent the most of his life at Chuluota. He was a deacon in the Baptist church and a faithful member, also a good neighbor and one of the best citizens in his community.

About forty years ago, Mr. Story was united in marriage to Miss Olive Jacobs who still survives him. Seven children were born of this union, all of whom are living. They are the following: Mesdames A. D. Wells and J. M. Osteen Orlando; Mrs. David Hart, Conway; Mrs. Walter Boregarde, Bithlo; Mrs. J. Lee, Green Cove Springs; Mrs. Richard Mitchell, Oviedo; and J. F. Story Chuluota. The deceased is also survived by two half brothers, J. F. and Henry Harrell, Chuluota.

The funeral was conducted at the Baptist church at Chuluota Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Thompson pastor, officiating. The body was laid to rest in the cemetery at the same place.

Death of the Brownlee Baby

The city was cast in mourning on Saturday afternoon when it was learned that the little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brownlee was very low and not expected to live but a few hours and the many friends of the family prayed that its life would be spared the fond parents but medical skill was of no avail against the dread destroyer and the little soul fled from the body about five o'clock.

Little Francis May was on this earth but thirteen months and it seemed was sent here to assuage the grief caused by the death of their little son about three years ago which was an awful blow to parents and friends. The little daughter was just at the age when the childish voice and the many little baby ways entwine themselves around the heart strings of the parents and all those who know and recognize the sweet spirit of babyhood but it seemed that Francis May was needed in the gardens of paradise and she was taken hence almost on the wings of Easter morning when she would have been among the Easter flowers of the Brownlee home and the church of which he is pastor. The little daughter was a general favorite with all who knew her, showing early signs of a sweet and friendly disposition that endeared her to everyone and her passing into the realms above leaves an aching void in the hearts of family and friends that will be hard to fill in the years to come.

The funeral services occurred from the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Clarence Ferran pastor of the Presbyterian church of DeLand officiating. The pall bearers were W. M. McKinney, Henry McLaulin, H. C. Dulbes and J. C. Hutchinson. Interment was made in Lakewood where the beautiful floral offerings were banked around the grave of the sweet little child and were wet by the tears softly falling from heaven.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing parents and the family and friends.

Kiddies Have Easter Egg Hunt

The greatest joys of childhood days are embodied in "parties," and of these is any kind of a party that affords more real fun for the kiddies than an Easter egg hunt, our life's experience fails to disclose it. The tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. McCuller, L. P. Jr., was the enthusiastic and delighted little host at an egg hunt at the home of his parents, Saturday afternoon, entertaining about twenty five other happy eager little folks as vivacious and energetic as himself. Quantities of vari-colored eggs were hidden about the grounds surrounding the home and the children were given cunning little baskets with the order to "seek and find" and they did, filling the baskets and then some more.

Kindergarten games were enjoyed on the lawn and in the house, where cake and lemonade were served. The tiny guests were two and three years old with L. P. Jr. and little Miss Hill the youngest of them all.

Mrs. McCuller was assisted by Miss Emma Lee Owens, Mrs. R. M. Grovenstein, Mrs. Key and Mrs. Tomkins.

Sanford High School Victors

In the first game of the season the Sanford High School team just did win over the New Smyrna team by the score of 11 to 9.

The playing on both sides was of the poorest kind, and the pitchers were wilder than usual, especially Lingle, the star pitcher of the High team, who usually pitches a good game of ball. He was somewhat wild yesterday and his hit batsmen and bases on balls were the beginning of five of the runs made by New Smyrna. The New Smyrna pitcher Silsby, was too wild and kept throwing the ball away, and his wildness coupled with Sanford's hits in the pinches, put the game on ice in the 4th inning. Childress, who replaced Silsby in the box after the fatal 4th, pitched a good game, striking out the first five men up and keeping up his good work for innings.

New Smyrna drew first blood in the first inning, when with two out a base on balls, scratch hit and an error by Mason, right fielder, allowed one run. Sanford, however, came back in their half of the first, when Stuffey Stewart McLucas was passed, stole and and 3rd and came home on a foul out. The next two men up struck out, ending the first inning.

Neither team scored in the 2nd inning Lingle striking out three in a row, while Sanford went out in 1-2-3 order.

In the third, with two out and two New Smyrna men on bases, Smythe center fielder, saved a run by making a good catch of a high fly, making the third out. Sanford scored one run in third on an error by the short stop and a wild pitch.

In the fourth, after Lingle had seemingly lost control, hitting the first two men up, Childress, 2nd base for New Smyrna drove a single to left field scoring two men. Two high flies ended New Smyrna's half of the inning.

Sanford was now up and the fatal fourth began. Three errors several wild pitches and Ed. Henderson's smashing double to deep center put the game on ice for Sanford team. Six runs being scored in this inning.

The fifth was 1-2-3 for New Smyrna and also for Sanford, Childress who replaced Silsby, striking out the first three men up.

In the 6th errors by the Left fielder, Wm. Moye and the second baseman, Ed. Moye, combined with Webaters smashing hit to left field, gave the New Smyrna men 3 runs. Childress kept the Sanford team down in their half of the 6th by striking out the first two up and retiring the other man on 3rd.

The 7th inning gave New Smyrna one run and Sanford none, Childress striking out two more men, bringing his total to 7 men struck out of nine men up.

In the 8th, New Smyrna went down in one two three order, and two good hits coupled with an error gave Sanford three more runs.

New Smyrna really threatened to tie the score in the ninth when with two out and one man on, Childress drove a single to left, scoring McAuley, Childress going to 2nd on the throw home and scoring on Swopes hit to left, Swope to second on the throw home.

Lingle then hit Webster and passed Silsby, making the bases full and two out. Lingle however, tightened up, and struck out the visitors captain, Shoesmith, ending the game.

As stated above, the only feature of the game was the pitching of Childress and the all round playing of McLucas, called the "Stuffy Stewart" of the High School team. He is some fast kid.

Capt. Lingle and Manager Moy hope to have the players in better condition for the next game to be held the week of April 24th and expect more fans than there were at the last game.

FLORIDA VEGETABLES

Dania Cabbage Movement Lighter—Celery Prices Advancing

Jacksonville, Fla. Apr. 2.—On the East Coast cabbage movement is somewhat lighter at Dania but will continue heavy for some weeks at Homestead and Florida City. From Delray south possibly 400 cars still remain, mostly Wakefield, but with a considerable percentage of flat cabbage at Homestead and Florida City. Prices during first half of week were around $3.75 at $4 crates. At Plant City and vicinity movement varies 3 at $5 cars daily, with prices $4 at 4.15 crate. In the Fort Myers district only about fourcars left to be shipped. In the Miami district supply is light, quality fair, demand active. Number one stock $6 at 7 crate. Weather warmer and seasonable.

Notwithstanding the heavy haulings which continued throughout the week at Sanford, celery prices continued upward in response to the consistently good demand, closing $3.50 at 3.75 for 10-inch crates of 4-6 dozen bunches. This range shows a gain of 50c and is $1 higher than two weeks ago. Consuming markets were slightly higher at $4 at 4.75. Shipments of Florida celery totaled 302 cars for last week compared with 256 for the previous week. At Sanford celery is estimated to be at least 60 per cent moved. Quality varies in the golden celery some fields showing considerable blight.

A few packages of early cucumber have been moved from Center Hill, Webster and Wauchula. In the Winter Garden Section there are close to 600 cars of cucumbers. Trough cucumbers will be moving in about a week. Open ground cucumbers are growing well and show a good stand, but are later than usual. Movement will begin about May 1 but will be heavier after the 10th. The area planted to cucumbers this season in Florida is estimated to be 5,040 acres as compared with 4,571 for last season. ELDER SPRINGS WATER
THOMAS D. BAKER, Ph. D.
Analytical and Consulting Chemist - Professional of Natural Science
Emeritus, Rollins College, Florida
Private Laboratory of Rollins College
Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 5th, 1919
Dear Sir:
I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water that you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:
Color Clear Chlorine 1.75 parts per million
Reaction Neutral Total solids 8.00 parts per million
Free Ammonia 00 parts per million Hardness 23.03 parts per million
Albuminoid Ammonia Trace Nitrate Trace
The absence practically of free and albuminoid ammonia in this water and the very small amount of chlorine indicates its excellent quality for household purposes. In addition to the good quality characteristics of superior household water, it possesses special features of much value, especially those of excellent natural aeration and LOW degree of hardness.
The bacteriological analysis, resulting in an average total count, in four samples of the water, of 3 bacteria per cent., and in finding no colon, or other harmful bacteria, fully confirm the good quality indicated by the CHEMICAL analysis.
Of the many waters of this and other regions that I have analyzed, I have found none superior in all good qualities to that of the "Elder Water."
Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) THOMAS D. BAKER
