NORMAL TRADE CONDITIONS WILL SOON PREVAIL IN AMERICA SAY OFFICIALS

EVERY BIT OF EVIDENCE
GATHERED CON-
FIRMS IT.

READJUSTMENTS

END.

The following dispatch from Washington to the Jacksonville Metropolitan written by David Laurence, is most important:

The worst is over. A turn for the better in the business situation of the country has come. Government officials generally are glad to be able to send a New Year message to the American people that all danger of a collapse in the credit situation has passed and that from now on a steady return to normal conditions may be expected.

Every bit of evidence gathered here confirms the view of officials that with the exception of individual cases where bad management or imprudent financing has caused some concerns to hang by an eyelash the entire business outlook is favorable.

The process of readjustment is not over. Perhaps some of the most painful changes will come when the price of labor is gradually brought down, but in the business world itself the bottom has been reached and the future is by no means as dark as it was a month ago. Letters received from bank officials in various parts of the country indicate that the turn came in the last six or seven days and that the improvement is substantial and sound.

The reports received on Christmas buying indicate that the strike which the consumer started several weeks ago against the purchase of anything except absolute necessities was broken by the Christmas spirit and that most retailers will have cleared their shelves pretty well by the end of this year.

Of course the danger in reducing the cost of labor is always the prospect of a strike. But in many cases the employers would welcome the chance to be rid of an overhead cost on labor altogether for a few weeks, so the wise laboring man consulting with the housewife and noticing a decline in the prices of food and clothing will, it is believed here, be ready to accept a lower weekly wage rather than insist on a higher one and run the risk of not getting anything at all during the winter months. But an abrupt change in labor prices is not expected. Certain classes of labor which have been paid at war prices will have to come down. All this may be stubbornly fought by the labor organizations, but the alternative may be no work at all.

Already requests to accept a cut has worked out successfully in several lines of business, and while everybody wants the other fellow to come down and nobody wants to bear the brunt of the reduction himself or herself, some reduction in labor costs is inevitable. The business man who wisely made his prices on a basis of the average cost for a period of normal years, is the lucky individual nowadays. Yet few of them were able to do so unless they sacrificed profits altogether during war years, and the number who did that is very small.

Perhaps the most optimistic in Washington are those who see in the falling prices of building materials the answer to the labor question. High rent, it has been contended, has been the back-bone of every demand for increases in wages. The shortage in houses has been nation-wide. Some building materials are back to pre-war prices but building on a general scale will not be resumed until labor comes down, too, for anyone wanting to build a house and sell it several years hence for at somewhat near the original cost, will not build at war prices of labor. If the purchasing power of the dollar should gradually increase, the average workman will not be justified in asking for the retention of high wages, but the trouble will be to make the average man accept that line of the reasoning until the dollar actually does buy as much as it used to.

The trouble about the readjustment of economic conditions is that things

COTTON BROKER OF ATLANTA KILLS HIMSELF

ROBERT W. MADDOX, PRES.
GEORGIA DIVISION RESPOND-
ENT OVER REVERSES

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Dec. 28.—Robert W. Maddox, president Georgia division American Cotton Association, shot self last night at Newnan, Ga. Suicide believed due to despondency over wife's death and worry over business conditions.

With the present high price of eggs, the hen that is not laying at least one a day should be ashamed to take the farmer's corn.

do not move uniformly, and naturally reductions in labor cost will be resisted. In the sense that a fall in labor prices is yet to come, the painfulness of the economic situation is not over, but with unemployment so extensive the resumption of large business operations after the first of the year will tend toward the relief of those who are getting no wages at all and who believe in the practical psychology that some kind of a job is better than none.

The big fact is that the financial world—which makes possible the continuance of manufacturing operations—has passed through its crisis and that while buying will be conservative, the return to normal has at last begun on a basis that has removed the wrinkles of anxiety on the faces of government officials and made them feel that the nation has successfully weathered the storm.

AFGHANISTAN ONCE MORE FEARS BEAR'S PAW

The collapse of czarism in Russia was hailed with acclaim in Afghanistan as freeing her from an influence that often has been embarrassing. But the menace of the bear's paw is renewed with the threatened incursions of the Bolsheviks.

To the stranger the Afghan displays a sort of specious and deceptive oriental courtesy. In fact, a national proverb is that "The man who shuts his door to a stranger is no Afghan." But the stranger also would do well to know a saying current among the Hindoos: "God shield you from vengeance of the elephant, the cobra and the Afghan." For many strangers have found that, upon provocation, to which the Afghan is extremely sensitive, his disposition is vengeful, cruel and crafty. His desire for pillage, theft and deception also is apt to get the best of him.

Your Afghan is a swarthy, swaggering, proud, but withal prepossessing sort of man, every inch the warrior while he keeps his turban on, but giving a faint suggestion of a bewigged jurist of old English days when he removes it to disclose a head shaven from forehead to crown, with curly ringlets falling about his shoulders from the unshaven portions.

Occasionally the men are fair, as are most of the women, whose hair in two plaits with colored tassels at the end, conceals, in night, all to mind an American musical comedy chorus prepared to sing "School Days," were it not for their flowing oriental robes. Afghan women, like Turkish women, are secluded, but they are considerably more adventurous than their Turkish sisters, hence scandal is not infrequent even in a land where a man may have as many wives as he can support.

By Habibullah's father, Abdur Rahman, also were enacted measures of national defense singularly in keeping with occidental schemes for conscription. He made the boast that he could throw a hundred thousand men into action in a week to defend one of his provinces, and said his entire domain could raise a million fighting men to defend her soil. Nor did he stop at the prediction. He worked out a system by which each man in every eight would alternate in taking military instruction. One had to be very young, or very decrepit, to escape the army's draft, for the service ages were from sixteen to seventy.

So far as barring private munition makers is concerned, Abdur Rahman, long before his death in 1901, might have subscribed to the principle, discussed during the peace conference at Paris, for he had his own factories at his capital, Kabul. There are said to have been produced a dozen or more rifles and thousands of cartridges a day, and several guns a week.

ONCE EXILED FAMILY OF BRAZIL NOW HONORED

The visit of Secretary of State Coby to Rio de Janeiro, and recent press dispatches stating that President Pessoa of Brazil has signed a decree revoking the edict which banished former Emperor Dom Pedro II and all his relatives, arouse interest in the history of these "United States of South America."

Harriet Chalmers Adams, writing to the National Geographic Society, says: "There is a movement under way to build a national pantheon in Rio de Janeiro and bring to it, at the time of the 1922 centenary, the remains of Brazil's historical personages, including Joao VI, Pedro I, Pedro II and his consort. To this the Portuguese government will probably consent, and it is to be hoped that Princess Isabel, too, will agree. Dom Pedro II should return with honor to the land of his birth. The difficulty hitherto lay in the fact that neither the princess nor her sons were permitted to enter the Republic of Brazil and could no longer visit the family tomb.

"Dom Pedro II died in Paris in 1891. Princess Isabel, who married the French Comte d'Eu, still lives in France. In 1906 her elder son renounced his claim to the throne of Brazil in favor of his brother Dom Luis, whose little son, born in 1900, is Pedro III.

"When in Lisbon I visited the Pantheon, where the rulers of Portugal lie. Exiled from his country, Dom Pedro II also found a resting place in the land of his forefathers. I was most unfavorably impressed with this Pantheon. It altogether lacks the beauty and dignity of the royal mausoleum of the Escorial in Spain. For the payment of a small fee, the custodian permits you to climb a ladder and gaze at the embalmed body of the last emperor of Brazil. This seems most unfitting.

"Dom Pedro II is Brazil's biggest name. He it was who led his country into the brotherhood of great nations. With him wisdom and kindness were pre-eminent. Every such an emperor, he yet was accessible to the humblest of his subjects.

"There is much in the city where he lived for so many years still closely associated with his rule, which ended only the other day, as we count history—1889. In the coat-of-arms of the house of Braganza, still to be seen on many of the buildings; in such street names as Marques de Sao Vicente, Barao de Petropolis, Visconde de Maranguape, and in the titled Brazilians one still meets in the country, we realize that not many years ago Rio de Janeiro was the abode of royalty.

"Closely associated with imperial rule in its decline was the emperor's daughter, Dona Isabel. While princess regent, during one of her father's visits to Europe in search of health, she signed the most vital decree ever issued in the country. I saw the original document in the Hall of Archives, and the pen, set with diamonds and emeralds, with which the princess signed it, the decree of May 13, 1888, which liberated 1,500,000 slaves.

"The decree of 1888, which freed all slaves, was immensely unpopular with many of the country's leading men, who claimed the princess regent had been unduly influenced by her clerical advisers. This was one of the reasons for the fall of the empire, although that event may be largely attributed to discontent all over the country, owing to the centralization of power in the capital."

DO FISHES TALK?

Do fishes talk? Recent speculation about a monkey language gives rise to this even more startling theory, hinted at by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, in a communication to the National Geographic Society.

"Talk," of course, is used in the sense of communication: a meaning which is not extreme since we daily speak of "talking" over the telephone, the instrument of Doctor Bell's invention, though the "voice" that is heard is not that of the speaker, but a mechanical reproduction of his utterance.

"Did you ever put your head under water and chuck two stones together to see what the sound is like?" Doctor Bell writes. "If you have never done that, try it, and you'll get a new sensation. I did it once, and it sounded as if a man were hammering for all he was worth at my very ear.

"I then took two tiny little pebbles and tapped them together quite lightly under water, and it sounded like a man knocking at the door. It was rather startling to hear such a loud noise from such a slight cause.

"Reflecting upon various experiments, the thought occurred to me: If two little stones tapped together can be heard under water, why, every tiny lobster that snaps his claws must make an audible click. I wonder if there are creatures in the water that signal to one another by sound.

"Well, I had occasion to try it once. Bathing in the Grand river in Ontario a great many years ago, I put my head very gently under water and listened, and, sure enough, 'tick, tick,' came a sound like a grasshopper's chirrup, and a little while after that a chirrup on the other side. There were creatures under the water that were calling to one another.

"I don't know whether all fish make sounds or not, but there are some fish that certainly do. The drumfish on our coast drums away in the water so loudly that you can hear him while you are walking on the shore.

"It is also a significant fact that all fish have ears. Why should they have ears if there is nothing for them to hear?

"Of this we may be certain—that there is a whole world of sound beneath the waves waiting to be explored. "Three-quarters of the earth's surface is under water and has not yet been explored, at least to any great degree."

RATS: A COSTLY PEST

As carriers of the dread bubonic plague rats are a menace, but that is only one form of their costly and dangerous depredations.

"Rats are practically omnivorous, and their depredations cover a wide range," writes Edward W. Nelson in a communication to the National Geographic Society.

"They dig up newly planted grain, destroy it while growing, and also when in the shock, stack, crib, granary, mill, elevator, warehouse, wharf, and ship's hold, as well as in the bin and feed trough. They eat fruits, vegetables and meats in the market, destroying at the same time by pollution far more than is consumed.

"They destroy enormous numbers of eggs and poultry, as well as the eggs and young of song and game birds. In addition, they invade store and warehouses and destroy groceries of every description, as well as furs, laces, silks, carpets and leather goods.

"They cause many disastrous fires by gnawing matches, by gnawing through lead pipe near gas meters, or by cutting the insulation from electric wires in order to secure material for nests and by gathering oil-soaked rags and other inflammable material in their nests; flood houses by gnawing through lead water pipes; ruin artificial ponds and embankments by burrowing, and damage foundations, floors, doors and furnishings of dwellings.

"As disease carriers they also cause enormous commercial losses, especially through the introduction of bubonic plague and the resulting suspension of commerce. With the introduction of plague they become directly responsible for business disaster as well as for an appalling mortality.

"Much of the greater part of losses from these pests is in foodstuffs, which, as already indicated, are destroyed at every stage from the time the seed is planted until they are ready for human consumption.

"Investigation some years ago indicated that the direct annual losses sustained in the United States were about $200,000,000, with a great additional sum in indirect losses, including the effect on the public health and commerce from the diseases carried by rats, and the necessary expenditures in combating them. Assuming, roughly speaking, that as estimated the rat population in the United States is 50,000,000 for the cities and 150,000,000 for the rural districts, it will require the destruction of property by each rat of only a little more than one-fourth of a cent a day to make the aggregate sum estimated as destroyed by these pests yearly in this country."

CRIMEA: THE RIVIERA OF RUSSIA

A proposal that Great Britain and the United States shall co-operate in caring for the Russian refugees from the Crimea again directs world sympathy to a land which has already known suffering.

Hanging down into the Black sea like a butcher's cleaver, with its beak pointed east and the near corner of the blade joined to the mainland of Russia, the Crimea, where it was first planned to exile the abdicating czar, is about as near to being an island as a peninsula well can be, even though a very narrow strait is the only water that lies between it and a second connection with the mainland. On the one side, to the west, lies the Perekop Gulf, and to the east, shut out from the Black sea by the handle of the cleaver, is the Sea of Azov.

With an area reaching that of New Hampshire, a population equal to that of New Hampshire and Vermont together, and a climate that borrows good features from Florida and southern California, and bad ones from many places, the Crimea is one of the most fascinating bits of territory between Portugal and Cochin China. Its population is a congress of races. Its industries range from the growing of subtropical fruits and the housing of Russia's elite as they flee from the cold, to the herding of sheep and the growing of grains. It is a place of many-sided activities.

As the men of wealth of America have their winter homes in Florida and those of western Europe have theirs along the Riviera, the people of Russia have their country seats in the Crimea. And beautiful places they are, for in Russia the rich are very rich. The height of the social season is from the middle of August to the first of November.

The peninsula is occupied by 855,000 people, according to the last census, mostly Turkish-speaking Tartars, with a scattering of Russians, Greeks, Germans and Jews. Cleanliness and morality are said to be proverbial traits of the Crimean Tartars, who have been undergoing the influence of Russification for several generations. They have taken up vine culture, fruit growing, and kindred occupations with a zeal seldom equaled east of the Aegean.

The novels of Tolstoy give a graphic picture of the Crimean war from the Russian viewpoint—depicting the miseries of the march, the anguish of the life in the casemates, and the nerve-destroying ordeal of manning the lines under shellfire, there to await the night attack that might or might not come. It was in this war that Florence Nightingale rendered service as a nurse that made her name a synonym of ministering angel on the world's battlefields. Then men knew nothing of the cause of cholera and such diseases, and the soldiers died like flies.

It is estimated that 50,000 British soldiers lie buried in the cemetery outside of Sebastopol. Before the present war this vast city of the dead was watched over by a German who could speak no English, but who was proud of his privilege of guarding the ashes of those who fell at Balaklava and Inkerman.

When Stephen Graham visited the cemetery the old keeper told him they had 35 varieties of oleander in the cemetery.

Manuscripts Strangely Recovered.

Some valuable manuscripts went down in a torpedoed ship during the war. How they were recovered has been told by the Rev. J. Alston at St. Matthew's church on behalf of the British and Foreign Bible society, he said the late Archdeacon Dennis, a missionary in South Nigeria, spent several years in compiling a dictionary and grammar of the Ibo language, comprising six distinct dialects, to enable the Bible to be printed and circulated among the native tribes. When on his way to England his vessel was torpedoed, and he lost his life. Some months later his manuscripts were found in a crevice of the rocks on the Welsh coast, where they had been washed up by the sea. They are now awaiting publication.

Hurray for Cow.

Father had returned from a political convention and presented each of his three youngsters with a badge bearing a likeness of a candidate and his name. The two older children were able to read, so ran out of the house cheering for the man whose name appeared on their badge. Maurice was too young to read, but seeing the seal of Indiana on his badge (which is a buffalo bounding over the plain) he shouted, "Hurray for this darn cow!"

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heeran, Mr. and Mrs. David Caldwell formed a merry party to Daytona on Christmas. After a dip in the ocean they were well braced for a good turkey dinner at Cutaneo's.

Citrus fruits in car load lots are moving north this week from Stuart, brought in from the various farms near the city. The shipments have been made by the purchasers and the crops moving come from the Palm City Farms, the Tropical Fruit Farms and the St. Lucie Inlet farms. The prices paid for the fruit, while not what the growers had hoped for, are on an average of the prices paid during last season.

Would Mr. Harding consider Tennessee and Oklahoma "Southern" states in his quest of a cabinet holder from the South?

ODD FELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS

SANFORD LODGE HAD A FINE MEETING LAST NIGHT AND ELECTED NEW HEADS

Sanford Lodge of Odd Fellows has the reputation of being one of the most progressive lodges in the state and the members attribute their success to the officers who are seeking the various chairs because they feel it an honor to serve their lodge and they fill these positions in order to serve to the best of their ability. The Sanford lodge has made wonderful progress in the past few years and now has more members than the usual roster of fraternal organizations in cities many times larger than Sanford. The members attend the meetings regularly and once each month they pull off a big feed and other stunts that make the Sanford lodge one that is eagerly sought by the Tyros who want to join a good fraternal organization and it is this fine feeling of good fellowship and fraternity and the new ideas of the officials that are bringing in so many new members.

Last night there was a large attendance at the meeting it being the annual election of officers and the following men elected for the ensuing year:

George Huff, N. G.; Lewis Ward, V. G.; A. J. Lossing, Secretary; J. D. Dossey, treasurer; W. W. Van Ness, trustee. Representatives to Grand Lodge: A. J. Lossing, J. J. Bolly, J. D. Dossey. Alternates: J. E. Baker, J. H. Ferguson, I. E. Estridge.

Lake Worth is a growing town and is about as close on the south as West Palm Beach is on the north of the eastern end of the proposed cross-state road, and it is proposed to conduct the town of Lake Worth to the new road by a first class hard surfaced connection, and in this way make Lake Worth profit as much by a new road as the county seat does.

INVOKED NAME OF HARVARD

How Indignant Boston Woman Was Pacified by Assertion Which Sounded Overstepped Truth.

The burying ground on the Boston common has what is probably the most unusual stone in the city. It was set up "in memory of Mrs. Sally Morse (wife of Samuel Morse), who died July 25, 1799, of the cramp in her stomach, after about one hour's illness, aged twenty-six years and two months."

One day, relates the Detroit News, the door of the cemetery office in the city hall was flung open and a pompous matron entered and requested that the stone on the common be destroyed, because of the indelicate and unladylike inscription. The visitor waxed more insistent as the secretary pleaded a lack of authority to destroy anything. Finally the caller took a dramatic stand and demanded that some action be taken while she waited. The secretary happened to be a great admirer of George Washington, but he had work to do, and he saw one way out.

"Madam," he whispered impressively, "that stone is of great value. Harvard university has just been making an investigation and has pronounced that stone important evidence of the first authentic case of appendicitis. Madam," he continued, "that stone cannot be destroyed."

At the magic name of Harvard the visitor retreated, vanquished, and went forth to tell her friends of the "appendicitis stone," as it came to be called.

For foreign languages, especially equipped with from one to five dead keys—does not interfere with standard keyboard.

MOLLE

WHERE PRICE AND QUALITY MEET

And that must determine your choice of a typewriter. You have no place for the cheaply constructed machine nor will economy permit the outlay of an extravagant sum. Good business sense finds the solution in the MOLLE. The MOLLE incorporates every essential feature you find in any machine at any price. Yet it is unusually simple, both in construction and operation. Built in three units—base, carriage and action—many extra parts are eliminated. This means a saving in repairs and a bigger saving by keeping it on the job. The MOLLE lightest of touch, speediest of action, will do anything that a writing machine is called upon to do with the least amount of noise and effort.

It's an Uphill Pull for Polish Boys

Bare feet and tattered clothes, little to eat and less to wear, such is the fate of thousands of children in central and eastern Europe. These boys in Poland are only a sample of the 3,600,000 destitute youngsters that the European Relief Council plans to help through the cold days of the coming winter. To that end eight great organizations in America have merged to form the Council, the chairman of which is Herbert Hoover. Under his leadership the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. have decided to co-operate jointly to raise $35,000,000 to help the European children over the hill.

"The drive against alleged wood profiteers in St. Petersburg is being carried along vigorously and in the past two days a marked result has been shown," Dr. W. E. A. Wyman, City Pure Food Inspector, said last Thursday.

An inspection of every wood yard in the city has been made, and in some instances wagons leaving those places have been under inspection, with the result that they were forced to change the measure of their load, Wyman said.

Wood sales in St. Petersburg have reached as high as $6.50 to $8 for a strand, which, according to Wyman is an exceptionally high price. The matter has been taken up with the Attorney General, who has been asked to pass an opinion as to what legally constitutes a strand, and a reasonable price, Wyman said.—St. Petersburg Times.

FREIGHT RATES ARE TOO HIGH

Hundreds of cars of Florida oranges have sold in the North during the last few weeks at prices which left little or nothing for the growers, and in many cases the fruit did not realize enough to pay cost of picking, hauling, packing and freight.

While shipments of Florida oranges were heavy, supplies of competitive citrus fruit were comparatively light, and under normal conditions the markets would have absorbed the Florida oranges at reasonable prices.

General conditions throughout the country, however, have not been good. The South did not take its usual proportion of the shipments on account of the purchasing power of the consumer being below normal as a result of low prices on cotton. This forced a larger percentage than usual of the shipments into the Middle Western and Eastern markets. The sentiment in this territory was also very bearish on account of general business conditions. As a result, low prices ruled.

The important point is that while the average price delivered in the markets during December will not net the growers cost of production, the same average price a few years ago gave the growers about enough to cover cost of production.

Florida orange growers are now paying freight rates which are about 66 2-3 per cent higher than the rates paid in 1917.

The railroad officials argue that the increased freight rates come out of the consumer. This, however, is not true in connection with perishables. Selling prices of perishables are governed by the law of supply and demand. It is impossible to name and maintain a selling price on fruits and vegetables based on cost; consequently the increases in freight rates are paid by the producer, and the Florida orange grower has suffered on account of the exorbitant and unreasonable freight rates in effect.

The railroads argue that the increases in freight charges are so small as compared to the prices paid by the consumer, that they do not make any difference one way or the other. This is fallacy, however, as market conditions on oranges during December have proven that the producer suffers on account of the higher freight rates. The amount of the additional freight charges paid to the railroads on Florida oranges shipped during the last ten days of November and first fifteen days of December is greater than the amount of money received by the growers for the fruit. This certainly proves that the increased rates amount to something and come out of the pockets of the growers.

Florida has a large crop of good oranges this season. There is also a large crop of good oranges on the trees in California. Better market conditions are hoped for during January, February and March, but prospects are not favorable for profitable prices, in view of the present high freight rates.

It is hoped the railroads will realize that the increased rates are not justified on Florida oranges, and also vegetables, that they will sell the advisability of fostering industries which provide them with vast and profitable tonnage and put freight rates back to the proper basis.

A little rain today.
 Just to remind us that Florida weather changes.

But the sun will be shining tomorrow and the rain is needed.

And cold weather follows the rain and it is cold weather that makes the fruit and vegetables better.

Orlando is building another $100,000 apartment house. They believe in building them often down there.

We haven't read the record yet but suppose old "home brew" made several home runs on Christmas Day.

What a great difference it makes when the band plays where you can hear it while you are working. Music is one of the greatest inspirations in the world.

A. W. O. L. has another meaning now. It is the American Women's Overseas League and like the name the history of the women is just as picturesque and interesting.

We would remind the Rod and Gun Club that they should be up and doing if they intend to get that yacht club house started and the boat basin and all of the various and sundry things that they will have to do in making Sanford a real tourist's headquarters.

Note in yesterday's dispatches said the railroads would not raise the rates any more as they were doing quite well. It is certainly kind of them to refrain from raising the rates just when the farmers intend to ask for a lower rate so the world can live.

New Year's Day Saturday and Johnny Jones shows all next week ought to keep things lively around the first of the year. Next week is the time to bring the people to town and the merchants should make big preparations to entertain them with special sales and many bargains and get the visitors in the habit of coming here to trade. We have the stores and we have the goods and we have the prices and when they are brought here by any special attraction is the time to show them our wares. The shows are the only fair and big time we will have this year in January and this should bring the crowds from every city and hamlet within one hundred miles of Sanford.

Every tendency at this time seems to point to a turning of the tide in the affairs of men and that in a few weeks there will be a decided change for more stability all along the line. Right now the celery growers should get together on some good plan of marketing their crop and the safest way is to make the price reasonable and sell it here. The destiny of the present crop lies in the hands of the growers themselves as nothing can be done on freight rates and other changes in time for this year's crop. Business generally will assume a better aspect after the first of the year although business in this city has been very good and there is no complaint from anyone. What all of the business men everywhere want at present is some assurance that the bottom will not fall out all at once. Prices, says the Tampa Tribune, went

HOW TO BE HATED

Old Ed Howe, the Kansas wise man, used to tell the readers of his paper, the Atchison Globe, that the meanest man in Atchison always made his family wait until the January sales to buy their Christmas presents.

A man in Indiana, it is said, used to refuse to let his wife pick the apples for her own use. "John," she would remonstrate, "there aren't any of the half-rotten ones left."

"Then wait until some rot," this mean old fellow would snap back at her. "We're too poor to eat the good ones."

How everybody does despise a mean old cuss like these fellow Women will send flowers to the jail to bedeck the cell of a murderer, a thief may be given another chance, but when a person is just ornery and mean, there's not much sympathy for him anywhere.

What's the reason?

Why, it is that we are all idealists. The rapacious old humbugs of the old days who acquired a million or so by more or less shady methods, found that after all the best use to which they could put their money was the service of mankind. We can forgive almost anything in our fellow creatures but smallness of soul.

Every man and woman who really wants the good opinion of the neighbors, hasn't such a hard chore to perform after all. No one needs to possess the entire calendar of virtues. Just generosity, that's all. Just a little human kindness in one's make-up will make other folk overlook the faults.—Tampa Tribune.

FARM PRODUCE PRICES

The United States department of agriculture has revised its crop figures for the year and finds that it must cut down those it published—a total was given as $14,037,608,000. There has been a great reduction in the estimated value of our principal crops as compared with 1919, when maximum farm returns were reached and the cropped area was large, for the farmers were urged to raise bumper crops—the world was hungry and would need what they produced. The yields bountiful in nearly all lines and the farmers were able to command excellent prices. In the last few weeks, however, because of some depression, a drop came in values and the Federal department has been compelled to reduce its figures of total agricultural production to $9,148,519,000, or nearly $5,000,000,000 below 1919.

This shrinkage is due altogether to the decline in value, for the farmers planted as many acres as last year, have worked as hard and have raised as much—and indeed more—than in previous years. It is well, however, to remember that there have been changes in values in nearly all articles and that the farmers will have to pay less for nearly all they buy. Much of the change is due to the decrease in the purchasing value of the dollar, and the European farmers have suffered in other directions also through the exchange value of their currency.

There is, of course, much to make the farmers complain of the situation and demand special measures of relief. They were encouraged by the whole country to increase their acreage and to raise the largest crops. The crops were larger, the acreage greater and the land was more carefully cultivated, yet they get nearly $5,000,000,000 less for all their work.

It is natural that the farmers should demand some relief from the treasury, from congress and the people that will enable them to meet their losses and the conditions that have arisen. But the relief differs in nearly every section and in nearly every agricultural community. Corn is perhaps the worst sufferer, for although the crop raised this year is the largest ever grown, it brings in less to the farmer by the great sum of $1,600,000,000. The cane crop is also a sufferer, having lost both in the yield and in the value of the sugar produced.

The country realizes the misfortunes of the farmers and is disposed to grant them all the relief it can, financially and legislative. The farmer has been among the first to suffer from drop in prices. Other declines will come and come soon—and other values will be reduced in like proportions and equalized as to all goods. So that the farmers probably will not be compelled to bear an undue proportion of the shrinkage in values. It will have to be apportioned equitably. But the work of relief and adjustment can begin well with agriculture.—Tampa Tribune.

RAISE MORE FLOWERS IN FLORIDA.

Florida has been extensively advertised as the land of sunshine and flowers, therefore we should exert ourselves to make good on the flower part of it, leaving the sunshine to the Creator, who has always smiled upon our state with generous favor.

The flower parade in Miami last week gave our visitors some idea of the gorgeous blooms that are prolifically produced here, but there was a noticeable absence of roses, which have always been a feature in California and in the flower parades of the Pacific Coast.

Roses can be raised in Florida, but they are not the easiest flowers to raise and our people seem to have been too busy to take the trouble to grow them profusely. Many beautiful roses are grown in certain localities of the state and those who have carefully studied the requirements of these beautiful flowers contend that they can raise them with very little additional effort over that given to other flowers.

There are many other lovely flowers that can be grown prolifically in Florida. Among these are the gorgeous chrysanthemums, the dainty carnations and scores of old-fashioned flowers that would decorate the gardens and enliven the landscape at different seasons, as flowers will grow and bloom every month of the year in Florida.

Easter lilies are easily grown in Florida and there is no more beautiful flower than the stately lily in all its purity. The gorgeous hibiscus, the lovely oleanders, the magnificent royal poincianas, the regal poinsettias, the artistic bouganvillea, the flaming bigonio and many other flowering trees, plants and vines grow naturally and easily in Florida, with the usual care and attention.

Few people in the world have the opportunity of living in such beautiful surroundings and pleasing environment as the people of Florida and this should encourage us to go the limit on the expansion of the beautiful. The people of other sections work hard and expend large sums in order to have even mediocre flower gardens for a few months in the year, so we should show our appreciation of the favorable conditions that enable us to enjoy lovely surroundings continuously, by spreading flowers broadcast and devoting as much time as possible to their care and cultivation.—Times-Union.

FLORIDA PEPPER FORTUNES.

Fifteen carloads of green peppers picked and shipped from three acres of the Iona-Fort Myers trucking section, brought the growers $3,500, a little less than $1,200 per acre. And the picking and shipping from those three acres is not yet completed.

And, as the county agricultural agent of Lee county, Mr. H. E. Stevens, writes, "That profit of a thousand dollars an acre, and even more, can be made on an acre of red pepper, tomatoes, eggplant, watermelons, strawberries and such other common garden truck," is almost beyond the belief of our Northern friends." The Tribune recalls that two years ago the late Hunter Bryant of the Fort Myers section, tax assessor of Lee county, cleared $40,000 from thirty acres of peppers." And what is being done in the Fort

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida—Fair and much cooler tonight. Cold wave and freezing temperature, extreme northern portion. Frost probably heavy in northern and central portion. Wednesday fair and colder, extreme south portion.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keelor, who have been the guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Keelor, here for a few days, have gone down the East Coast to see Florida.

Miss Mildred Holly left today for Orlando where she will be the house guest of Miss Lydia Yowell for several days and attend the dance that is to be given by the younger society at Orlando.

Mrs. P. T. Wakefield of the Wakefield Preserving Co., of Geneva, was among the visitors to the city today. Mrs. Wakefield reports a fine business in her line.

The "13" Club will have a dance at the Hotel Valdez Friday night to which the public is cordially invited. If you have not purchased your tickets for this dance you can get them at Bower & Roumillat's drug store.

The Million Dollar Band was rained out at the afternoon and evening concert yesterday but will play today if the rain holds off long enough for them to do so. The Million Dollar Orchestra will furnish the music for the Woman's Club dance tonight.

The Johnny Jones big shows will be here next week on the lake front and being the biggest aggregation of the kind in the world it will be a gala week for Sanford and the surrounding country. The Jones shows are coming here under the auspices of the "13" Club.

Chas. D. Brumley, of Chuluota, was in the city today on business and brought over several winter visitors with him. Mr. and Mrs. Brumley have charge of the Chuluota Inn at Chuluota, one of Florida's fine small hotels situated in the hills of Seminole county and where the fishing and hunting is great.

R. H. Dawson, of Afton, Oklahoma, is in the city with the view of locating here if he can find something to do. He has been connected with the banking business and is also familiar with several other lines of business and if any of the business firms here want a good, live young man to work for them, Mr. Dawson will fill the bill.

Messrs. J. G. Dull, John Melsch, A. P. Connelly, J. H. Hutchinson, R. R. Deas, D. C. Marlowe and several other transportation men of the Chamber of Commerce are in Orlando today attending the meeting of the Citrus growers of the state with the view of taking definite action on the present high freight rates that are throttling the fruit and vegetable business of Florida.

The many Sanford friends of Dr. Keelor are glad to have him here for the holidays. Dr. Keelor is a very busy man in New York City and while he loves Sanford cannot be prevailed upon to cast his lot with us at this time. He hopes in a few years to be able to retire from active service and come here to make his future home and he is the kind of a man that Sanford needs as citizens.

Phil Moore arrived in the city today for a short stay from his home in South Carolina. Mr. Moore lived in Sanford for several years being the foreman of the Herald office and has many friends here who are giving him the glad hand. He has been located at Manning, South Carolina, for some time but expects to spend the winter at West Palm Beach as South Carolina is rather dull in the business lines just now.

Among other holiday visitors to Sanford may be numbered Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hill and Miss Ruth E. Smith, who motored up from Orlando Christmas morning to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bassett.

BAPTIST TEMPLE DEDICATED WITH FINE PROGRAM

NEW EDIFICE HAS BEEN FINISHED AND IS COMPLETE IN EVERY DETAIL

The opening of the beautiful Baptist Temple in this city last Sunday was one of the greatest events in church history and had it not been so well covered in advance by the excellent four-page supplement to the Daily and Weekly Herald last Friday would have received the elaborate writeup that it so richly deserves. However, Dr. Hyman, the pastor, in writing it up so well in advance could not have foreseen that such a large crowd would be present, he could not have foreseen the great interest that every church-goer and non-church-goer in the city had in his great undertaking and could not, did not and never will know of the many expressions of surprise and praise that he and his church received last Sunday at the opening.

Also neither the pastor or the congregation looked for 750 people to attend the opening exercise nor could they look into the future and foresee that the church would be so richly endowed in the sum of $63,000.

All of this and more could be written about the Baptist Temple and the wonderful success that the opening achieved but the greatest achievement was the interest that is taken in the new church by others than members and the good wishes and prayers for success that are given to this church all the time. We repeat the description of the new church that was recently given in the Herald because it covers all the points in regard to the arrangements:

"The building is unique. The best points in the Third Baptist Church of St. Louis, the Sanford High School and the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Atlanta are combined in this structure. It meets the requirements of the Super-standard Sunday School and has an auditorium that will seat 808 persons. There are no connecting or rolling doors.

"The Sunday School part is three stories with an arrangement for roof garden. On the first floor is found the church office, the toilets, the lobby or parlor, the cradle roll department, and the beginners' department. On the second floor is the Sunday School auditorium where juniors also meet. On the third floor is the kitchen, and banquet room, the primary department, the intermediate department and the library and reading room.

"The basement of the main auditorium is used as a club room for the Boy and Girl Scouts. This is equipped with dressing rooms and lockers. The pastor's study is to the right of the choir loft and pulpit platform. Just to the rear of the baptistry there are well arranged dressing rooms. The choir loft will seat 30 singers. The main floor will seat 563 and the gallery 216.

"The building is 117 feet long by 55 wide and three stories high. Mr. S. O. Shinholser of Sanford and Mr. Elton Moughton of Ocala drew the plans."

Some twenty-five new members of the church were baptized at the evening service and rounded out the dedication day exercises in a most fitting manner.

HAVE DONE WELL WITH PEPPERS FROM FT. MYERS

The Fort Myers Truckers' Association packing house is working a full crew this week and packing a number of cars of peppers. D. Swint, one of the well known truckers, shipped out a full carload from his place at Iona on Wednesday. It is quite likely that the shipments this week from the local packing house will amount to seven full carloads of peppers. Manager A. V. Hancock says the peppers this season are the best yet in quality and yielding heavy as well. The Swint shipment consists of practically all extra quality. The fact is that the Fort Myers Truckers' Association affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange, has made a reputation already this season on grade and pack, and the markets are calling strong for the Seven Star brand.—Florida Grower.

STATE TEACHERS WILL GATHER AT TALLAHASSEE

TALLAHASSEE WILL BE SCENE OF BIG MEETING TOMORROW

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 28.—Tallahassee looks forward on Wednesday to the largest gathering of teachers that has appeared at the opening session of the Florida Educational Association and is prepared to entertain all who come, even if the figure reaches that set as the hoped-for number, one thousand, of the forty-six hundred white teachers of the state.

The newspapers of Florida realize that the people should give more attention than they have in the past to the needs of their schools, and leading dailies, notable the Florida Times-Union and The Tampa Tribune have carried editorials urging the teachers to attend because they must be the leaders in any movement to arouse the state in the needs of the situation.

The key note of the meeting will be sounded on the opening night by State Superintendent William N. Sheats and President Benjamin B. Lane in their respective addresses and whatever modification may be made therein by later discussion, it is certain that the whole association is going to keep in mind two central points, a supply of teachers for all the children and, more efficient service to every child.

Dr. J. L. McBride of the National Bureau of Education, brings to the conference the great need of the rural child and with burning insistence drives home the fact that today is the time to meet that need.

Dr. Harry Clark, president of the University of Tennessee, comes to charm again the personality, sunshine and inspiration the whole teaching force of the state, Dr. Clark is an orator that every Florida teacher should hear; his voice lingers in memory like a song.

Dr. Layton B. Evans, superintendent of the Augusta, Ga., schools and a national figure, comes to inspire the association with that too little realized truth, that the spirit and philosophy of Froebel underlying all high quality teaching and all real success in education, from the university down to the kindergarten, the institution, usually association, with Froebel's name. His address is distinctly worth while.

Senator Park Trammell, genial and eloquent, is well known to all Floridians. He brings some promise that the national government will help Florida if the legislature will itself do something to provide more money for the schools.

Hon. J. W. Wright of the Federal bureau of vocational education, and Miss Sarah W. Partridge, state home demonstration agent, bring with new meaning the message that education must prepare for the physical and life-support and substance side of daily life, while Dr. Ralph N. Green, state health officer for Florida, stresses especially the need for health education.

Dr. Mary Green, lately from New York City, holds up to the women of the present the lamp that "our pioneer mothers" lighted in the early days. State Attorney George W. Schofield of the fifth judicial circuit, is a fascinating and eloquent speaker who will tell the teachers to get politicians interested in the schools. And Prof. W. A. Little, whom so many Florida teachers know and love, will be here to give his hearers inspiration toward a higher standard of living and service.

Altogether the program is one of the best that has ever been prepared and Tallahassee urges all the teachers of Florida to come to her open doors and her open hearts, spend here two very pleasant days and help President Lane and his associates make the meeting a great one in every sense.

"13" CLUB DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

MILLION DOLLAR BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT THEATRE

As we go to press we learn that the Million Dollar Band will give a concert in the Princess Theatre for the "13" Club and at the request of many of the citizens who would rather sit down in a comfortable building and listen to a good concert and are willing to pay a dollar for the privilege. This concert is put on by the "13" Club in order to help pay the expenses of the band while here and as there are many who have not contributed but would like to do so this gives them the opportunity. Tickets will be on sale at the banks and drug stores in the city and there will be no reserved seats so get your tickets and go to the concert early and get a good seat. There will be special numbers at this concert that cannot be given at the open air concerts and it will be one of the best ever given in this city.

The New Smyrna-Cornado Board of Trade, which is about the liveliest civic organization on the East Coast of Florida this winter, pulled off a novel stunt here recently when invitations were sent broadcast to everyman, woman and child in the city and community to gather at the public school building for a "Jamboree."

A little rain today.

Just to remind us that Florida weather changes.

But the sun will be shining tomorrow and the rain is needed.

And cold weather follows the rain and it is cold weather that makes the fruit and vegetables better.

Orlando is building another $100,000 apartment house. They believe in building them often down there.

We haven't read the record yet but suppose old "home brew" made several home runs on Christmas Day.

What a great difference it makes when the band plays where you can hear it while you are working. Music is one of the greatest inspirations in the world.

We would remind the Rod and Gun Club that they should be up and doing if they intend to get that yacht club house started and the boat basin and all of the various and sundry things that they will have to do in making Sanford a real tourist's headquarters.

Note in yesterday's dispatches said the railroads would not raise the rates any more as they were doing quite well. It is certainly kind of them to refrain from raising the rates just when the farmers intend to ask for a lower rate so the world can live.

New Year's Day Saturday and Johnny Jones shows all next week ought to keep things lively around the first of the year. Next week is the time to bring the people to town and the merchants should make big preparations to entertain them with special sales and many bargains and get the visitors in the habit of coming here to trade. We have the stores and we have the goods and we have the prices and when they are brought here by any special attraction is the time to show them our wares. The shows are the only fair and big time we will have this year in January and this should bring the crowds from every city and hamlet within one hundred miles of Sanford.

Every tendency at this time seems to point to a turning of the tide in the affairs of men and that in a few weeks there will be a decided change for more stability all along the line. Right now the celery growers should get together on some good plan of marketing their crop and the safest way is to make the price reasonable and sell it here. The destiny of the present crop lies in the hands of the growers themselves as nothing can be done on freight rates and other changes in time for this year's crop. FARM PRODUCE PRICES

The United States department of agriculture has revised its crop figures for the year and finds that it must cut down those it published—a total was given as $14,087,608,000. There has been a great reduction in the estimated value of our principal crops as compared with 1919, when maximum farm returns were reached and the planted area was large, for the farmers were urged to raise bumper crops—the world was hungry and would need all they produced. The yield was bountiful in nearly all lines and the farmers were able to command excellent prices. In the last few weeks, however, because of some depression, a drop came in values and the Federal department has been compelled to reduce its figures of total agricultural production to $9,148,519,000, or nearly $5,000,000,000 below 1919.

This shrinkage is due altogether to the decline in value, for the farmers planted as many acres as last year, have worked as hard and have raised as much—and indeed more—than in previous years. It is well, however, to remember that there have been changes in values in nearly all articles and that the farmers will have to pay less for nearly all they buy. Much of the change is due to the decrease in the purchasing value of the dollar, and the European farmers have suffered in other directions also through the exchange value of their currency.

There is, of course, much to make the farmers complain of the situation and demand special measures of relief. They were encouraged by the whole country to increase their acreage and to raise the largest crops. The crops were larger, the acreage greater and the land was more carefully cultivated, yet they get nearly $5,000,000,000 less for all their work.

It is natural that the farmers should demand some relief from the treasury, from congress and the people that will enable them to meet their losses and the conditions that have arisen. But the relief differs in nearly every section and in nearly every agricultural community. Corn is perhaps the worst sufferer, for although the crop raised this year is the largest ever grown, it brings in less to the farmer by the great sum of $1,600,000,000. The cane crop is also a sufferer, having lost both in the yield and in the value of the sugar produced.

The country realizes the misfortunes of the farmers and is disposed to grant them all the relief it can, financially and legislative. The farmer has been among the first to suffer from drop in prices. Other declines will come and come soon—and other values will be reduced in like proportions and equalized as to all goods. So that the farmers probably will not be compelled to bear an undue proportion of the shrinkage in values. It will have to be apportioned equitably. But the work of relief and adjustment can begin well with agriculture.—Tampa Tribune.

RAISE MORE FLOWERS IN FLORIDA.

Florida has been extensively advertised as the land of sunshine and flowers, therefore we should exert ourselves to make good on the flower part of it, leaving the sunshine to the Creator, who has always smiled upon our state with generous favor.

The flower parade in Miami last week gave our visitors some idea of the gorgeous blooms that are prolifically produced here, but there was a noticeable absence of roses, which have always been a feature in California and in the flower parades of the Pacific Coast.

Roses can be raised in Florida, but they are not the easiest flowers to raise and our people seem to have been too busy to take the trouble to grow them profusely. Many beautiful roses are grown in certain localities of the state and those who have carefully studied the requirements of these beautiful flowers contend that they can raise them with very little additional effort over that given to other flowers.

There are many other lovely flowers that can be grown prolifically in Florida. Among these are the gorgeous chrysanthemums, the dainty carnations and scores of old-fashioned flowers that would decorate the gardens and enliven the landscape at different seasons, as flowers will grow and bloom every month of the year in Florida.

Easter lilies are easily grown in Florida and there is no more beautiful flower than the stately lily in all its purity. The gorgeous hibiscus, the lovely oleanders, the magnificent royal poincianas, the regal poinsettias, the artistic bouganvillas, the flaming bigonia and many other flowering trees, plants and vines grow naturally and easily in Florida, with the usual care and attention.

Few people in the world have the opportunity of living in such beautiful surroundings and pleasing environment as the people of Florida and this should encourage us to go the limit on the expansion of the beautiful. The people of other sections work hard and expend large sums in order to have even mediocre flower gardens for a few months in the year, so we should show our appreciation of the favorable conditions that enable us to enjoy lovely surroundings continuously, by spreading flowers broadcast and devoting as much time as possible to their care and cultivation.—Times-Union.

FLORIDA PEPPER FORTUNES.

Fiftene carloads of green peppers picked and shipped from three acres of the Iona-Fort Myers trucking section, brought the growers $3,500, a little less than $1,200 per acre. And the picking and shipping from those three acres is not yet completed.

And, as the county agricultural agent of Lee county, Mr. H. E. Stevens, writes, "That profit of a thousand dollars an acre, and even more, can be made on an acre of red pepper, tomatoes, eggplant, watermelons, strawberries and such other 'common garden truck,' is almost beyond the belief of our Northern friends."

The Tribune recalls that two years ago the late Hunter Bryant of the Fort Myers section, tax assessor of Lee county, cleared $40,000 from thirty acres of peppers.

And what is being done in the Fort

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida—Fair and much cooler tonight. Cold wave and freezing temperature extreme northern portion. Probably heavy in northern and central portion. Wednesday fair and much warmer extreme south portion.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keelor, who have been the guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Keelor, here for a few days, have gone down the East Coast to see Florida.

Miss Mildred Holly left today for Orlando where she will be the house guest of Miss Lydia Yowell for several days and attend the dance that is to be given by the younger society set of Orlando.

Mrs. P. T. Wakefield of the Wakefield Preserving Co., of Geneva, was among the visitors to the city today. Mrs. Wakefield reports a fine business in her line.

The "13" Club will have a dance at the Hotel Valdez Friday night to which the public is cordially invited. If you have not purchased your tickets for this dance you can get them at Bower & Roumillat's drug store.

The Million Dollar Band was rained out at the afternoon and evening concerts yesterday but will play today if the rain holds off long enough for them to do so. The Million Dollar Orchestra will furnish the music for the Woman's Club dance tonight.

The Johnny Jones big shows will be here next week on the lake front and being the biggest aggregation of the kind in the world it will be a gala week for Sanford and the surrounding country. The Jones shows are coming here under the auspices of the "13" Club.

Chas. D. Brumley, of Chuluota, was in the city today on business and brought over several winter visitors with him. Mr. and Mrs. Brumley have charge of the Chuluota Inn at Chuluota, one of Florida's fine small hotels situated in the hills of Seminole county and where the fishing and hunting is great.

R. H. Dawson, of Afton, Oklahoma, is in the city with the view of locating here if he can find something to do. He has been connected with the banking business and is also familiar with several other lines of business and if any of the business firms here want a good, live young man to work for them, Mr. Dawson will fill the bill.

Messrs. J. G. Ball, John Meisch, A. P. Connelly, J. H. Hutchinson, R. R. Deas, D. C. Marlowe and several other transportation men of the Chamber of Commerce are in Orlando today attending the meeting of the Citrus growers of the state with the view of taking definite action on the present high freight rates that are throttling the fruit and vegetable business of Florida.

The many Sanford friends of Dr. Keelor are glad to have him here for the holidays. Dr. Keelor is a very busy man in New York City and while he loves Sanford cannot be prevailed upon to cast his lot with us at this time. He hopes in a few years to be able to retire from active service and come here to make his future home and he is the kind of a man that Sanford needs as citizens.

Phil Moore arrived in the city today for a short stay from his home in South Carolina. Mr. Moore lived in Sanford for several years being the foreman of the Herald office and has many friends here who are giving him the glad hand. He has been located at Manning, South Carolina, for some time but expects to spend the winter at West Palm Beach as South Carolina is rather dull in the business lines just now.

Among other holiday visitors to Sanford may be numbered Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hill and Miss Ruth E. Smith, who motored up from Orlando Christmas morning to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bassett

BAPTIST TEMPLE DEDICATED WITH FINE PROGRAM

NEW EDIFICE HAS BEEN FINISHED AND IS COMPLETE IN EVERY DETAIL

The opening of the beautiful Baptist Temple in this city last Sunday, was one of the greatest events in church history and had it not been so well covered in advance by the excellent four-page supplement to the Daily and Weekly Herald last Friday would have received the elaborate writeup that it so richly deserves. However, Dr. Hyman, the pastor, in writing it up so well in advance could not have foreseen that such a large crowd would be present, he could not have foreseen the great interest that every church-goer and non-church-goer in the city had in his great undertaking and could not, did not and never will know of the many expressions of surprise and praise that he and his church received last Sunday at the opening.

Also neither the pastor or the congregation looked for 750 people to attend the opening exercise nor could they look into the future and foresee that the church would be so richly endowed in the sum of $63,000.

All of this and more could be written about the Baptist Temple and the wonderful success that the opening achieved but the greatest achievement was the interest that is taken in the new church by others than members and the good wishes and prayers for success that are given to this church all the time. We repeat the description of the new church that was recently given in the Herald because it covers all the points in regard to the arrangements:

"The building is unique. The best points in the Third Baptist Church of St. Louis, the Sanford High School and the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Atlanta are combined in this structure. It meets the requirements of the Super-standard Sunday School and has an auditorium that will seat 808 persons. There are no connecting or rolling doors.

"The Sunday School part is three stories with an arrangement for roof garden. On the first floor is found the church office, the toilets, the lobby or parlor, the cradle roll department, and the beginners' department. On the second floor is the Sunday School auditorium where juniors also meet. On the third floor is the kitchen, and banquet room, the primary department, the intermediate department and the library and reading room.

"The basement of the main auditorium is used as a club room for the Boy and Girl Scouts. This is equipped with dressing rooms and lockers. The pastor's study is to the right of the choir loft and pulpit platform. Just to the rear of the baptistry there are well arranged dressing rooms. The choir loft will seat 30 singers. The main floor will seat 563 and the gallery 216.

"The building is 117 feet long by 55 wide and three stories high. Mr. S. O. Shinholser of Sanford and Mr. Elton Moughton of Ocala drew the plans."

Some twenty-five new members of the church were baptized at the evening service and rounded out the dedication day exercises in a most fitting manner.

HAVE DONE WELL WITH PEPPERS FROM FT. MYERS

The Fort Myers Trucker's Association packing house is working a full crew this week and packing a number of cars of peppers. D. Swint, one of the well known truckers, shipped out a full carload from his place at Iona on Wednesday. It is quite likely that the shipments this week from the local packing house will amount to seven full carloads of peppers. Manager A. V. Hancock says the peppers this season are the best yet in quality and yielding heavy as well. The Swint shipment consists of practically all extra quality. The fact is that the Fort Myers Trucker's Association affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange, has made a reputation already this season on grade and pack, and the markets are calling strong for the Seven Star brand.—Florida Grower.

STATE TEACHERS WILL GATHER AT TALLAHASSEE

TALLAHASSEE WILL BE SCENE OF BIG MEETING TOMORROW

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 28.—Tallahassee looks forward on Wednesday to the largest gathering of teachers that has appeared at the opening session of the Florida Educational Association and is prepared to entertain all who come, even if the figure reaches that set as the hoped-for number, one thousand, of the forty-six hundred white teachers of the state. The newspapers of Florida realize that the people should give more attention than they have in the past to the needs of their schools, and leading dailies, notable the Florida Times-Union and The Tampa Tribune have carried editorials urging the teachers to attend because they must be the leaders in any movement to arouse the state in the needs of the situation.

The key note of the meeting will be sounded on the opening night by State Superintendent William N. Sheats and President Benjamin B. Lane in their respective addresses and whatever modification may be made therein by later discussion, it is certain that the whole association is going to keep in mind two central points, a supply of teachers for all the children and, more efficient service to every child.

Dr. J. I. McBride of the National Bureau of Education, brings to the conference the great need of the rural child and with burning insistence drives home the fact that today is the time to meet that need.

Dr. Harry Clark, president of the University of Tennessee, comes to charm again the personality, sunshine and inspiration the whole teaching force of the state. Dr. Clark is an orator that every Florida teacher should hear; his voice lingers in memory like a song.

Dr. Lawton B. Evans, superintendent of the Augusta, Ga., schools and a national figure, comes to inspire the association with that too little realized truth, that the spirit and philosophy of Froebel underlying all high quality teaching and all real success in education, from the university down to the kindergarten, the institution, usually association, with Froebel's name. His address is distinctly worth while.

Senator Park Trammell, genial and eloquent, is well known to all Floridians. He brings some promise that the national government will help Florida if the legislature will itself do something to provide more money for the schools.

Hon. J. W. Wright of the Federal bureau of vocational education, and Miss Sarah W. Partridge, state home demonstration agent, bring with new meaning the message that education must prepare for the physical and life-support and substance; side of daily life, while Dr. Ralph N. Green, state health officer for Florida, stresses especially the need for health education.

Dr. Mary Green, lately from New York City, holds up to the women of the present the lamp that "our pioneer mothers" lighted in the early days. State Attorney George W. Schofield of the fifth judicial circuit, is a fascinating and eloquent speaker who will tell the teachers to get politicians interested in the schools. And Prof. W. A. Little, whom so many Florida teachers know and love, will be here to give his hearers inspiration toward a higher standard of living and service.

Altogether the program is one of the best that has ever been prepared and Tallahassee urges all the teachers of Florida to come to her open doors and her open hearts, spend here two very pleasant days and help President Lane and his associates make the meeting a great one in every sense.

Tickets will be on sale at the banks and drug stores in the city and there will be no reserved seats so get your tickets and go to the concert early and get a good seat. There will be special numbers at this concert that cannot be given at the open air concerts and it will be one of the best ever given in this city.

J. P. SAYS: Francisco Nitti, the "Strong Man of Italy" early in life read and adopted the Axiom "Know Thyself" and profited by it. He knew himself, trusted himself and being true to himself realized that he could not be untrue to his fellowmen. From obscurity, Nitti became Premier of Italy. To know oneself, to be true to oneself and others are among the essentials in a successful career. A man who squanders himself and sacrifices his friends will always move on the ragged edge of life. Among the first steps of faith in oneself is thrift and an investment that will accumulate. THE SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY'S 8 PER CENT PRIOR PREFERRED STOCK is a good investment for thrifty persons, and can be procured in cash or installments. There is none better.

up a step at a time and they should not come down by way of the banisters, which is very very true.

HOW TO BE HATED

Old Ed Howe, the Kansas wise man, used to tell the readers of his paper, the Atchison Globe, that the meanest man in Atchison always made his family wait until the January sales to buy their Christmas presents.

A man in Indiana, it is said, used to refuse to let his wife pick the apples for her own use. "John," she would remonstrate, "there aren't any of the half-rotten ones left."

"Then wait until some rot," this mean old fellow would snap back at her. "We're too poor to eat the good ones."

How everybody does despise a mean old cuss like those fellows! Women will send flowers to the jail to bedeck the cell of a murderer, a thief may be given another chance, but when a person is just ornery and mean, there's not much sympathy for him anywhere.

What's the reason? Why, it is that we are all idealists. The rapacious old humbugs of the old days who acquired a million or so by more or less shady methods, found that after all the best use to which they could put their money was the service of mankind. We can forgive almost anything in our fellow creatures but smallness of soul.

Every man and woman who really wants the good opinion of the neighbors, hasn't such a hard chore to perform after all. No one needs to possess the entire calendar of virtues. Just generosity, that's all. Just a little human kindness in one's makeup will make other folk overlook the faults.—Tampa Tribune.

FARM PRODUCE PRICES

The United States department of agriculture has revised its crop figures for the year and finds that it must cut down those it published—a total was given as $14,087,608,000. There has been a great reduction in the estimated value of our principal crops as compared with 1919, when maximum farm returns were reached and the planted area was large, for the farmers were urged to raise bumper crops—the world was hungry and would need all they produced. The yield was bountiful in nearly all lines and the farmers were able to command excellent prices. In the last few weeks, however, because of some depression, a drop came in values and the Federal department has been compelled to reduce its figures of total agricultural production to $9,148,519,000, or nearly $5,000,000,000 below 1919.

This shrinkage is due altogether to the decline in value, for the farmers planted as many acres as last year, have worked as hard and have raised as much—and indeed more—than in previous years. It is well, however, to remember that there have been changes in values in nearly all articles and that the farmers will have to pay less for nearly all they buy. Much of the change is due to the decrease in the purchasing value of the dollar, and the European farmers have suffered in other directions also through the exchange value of their currency.

There is, of course, much to make the farmers complain of the situation and demand special measures of relief. They were encouraged by the whole country to increase their acreage and to raise the largest crops. The crops were larger, the acreage greater and the land was more carefully cultivated, yet they get nearly $5,000,000,000 less for all their work. It is natural that the farmers should demand some relief from the treasury, from congress and the people that will enable them to meet their losses and the conditions that have arisen. But the relief differs in nearly every section and in nearly every agricultural community. Corn is perhaps the worst sufferer, for although the crop raised this year is the largest ever grown, it brings in less to the farmer by the great sum of $1,600,000,000. The cane crop is also a sufferer, having lost both in the yield and in the value of the sugar produced.

The country realizes the misfortunes of the farmers and is disposed to grant them all the relief it can, financially and legislative. The farmer has been among the first to suffer from drop in prices. Other declines will come and come soon—and other values will be reduced in like proportions and equalized as to all goods. So that the farmers probably will not be compelled to bear an undue proportion of the shrinkage in values. It will have to be apportioned equitably. But the work of relief and adjustment can begin well with agriculture.—Tampa Tribune.

RAISE MORE FLOWERS IN FLORIDA.

Florida has been extensively advertised as the land of sunshine and flowers, therefore we should exert ourselves to make good on the flower part of it, leaving the sunshine to the Creator, who has always smiled upon our state with generous favor.

The flower parade in Miami last week gave our visitors some idea of the gorgeous blooms that are prolifically produced here, but there was a noticeable absence of roses, which have always been a feature in California and in the flower parades of the Pacific Coast.

Roses can be raised in Florida, but they are not the easiest flowers to raise and our people seem to have been too busy to take the trouble to grow them profusely. Many beautiful roses are grown in certain localities of the state and those who have carefully studied the requirements of these beautiful flowers contend that they can raise them with very little additional effort over that given to other flowers.

There are many other lovely flowers that can be grown prolifically in Florida. Among these are the gorgeous chrysanthemums, the dainty carnations and scores of old-fashioned flowers that would decorate the gardens and enliven the landscape at different seasons, as flowers will grow and bloom every month of the year in Florida.

Easter lilies are easily grown in Florida and there is no more beautiful flower than the stately lily in all its purity. The gorgeous hibiscus, the lovely oleanders, the magnificent royal poincianas, the regal poinsettias, the artistic bouganvillea, the flaming bigonia and many other flowering trees, plants and vines grow naturally and easily in Florida, with the usual care and attention.

Few people in the world have the opportunity of living in such beautiful surroundings and pleasing environment as the people of Florida and this should encourage us to go the limit on the expansion of the beautiful. The people of other sections work hard and expend large sums in order to have even mediocre flower gardens for a few months in the year, so we should show our appreciation of the favorable conditions that enable us to enjoy lovely surroundings continuously, by spreading flowers broadcast and devoting as much time as possible to their care and cultivation.—Times-Union.

FLORIDA PEPPER FORTUNES.

Fifteen carloads of green peppers picked and shipped from three acres of the Iona-Fort Myers trucking section, brought the growers $3,500, a little less than $1,200 per acre. And the picking and shipping from those three acres is not yet completed.

And, as the county agricultural agent of Lee county, Mr. H. E. Stevens, writes, "That profit of a thousand dollars an acre, and even more, can be made on an acre of red pepper, tomatoes, eggplant, watermelons, strawberries and such other 'common garden truck,' is almost beyond the belief of our Northern friends." The Tribune recalls that two years ago the late Hunter Bryant of the Fort Myers section, tax assessor of Lee county, cleared $10,000 from thirty acres of peppers.

Summary of the Meeting Small Talks Succinctly Arranged for Herald Readers

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida—Fair and much cooler tonight. Cold wave and freezing temperature extreme northern portion.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keelor, who have been the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keelor, here for a few days, have gone down the East Coast to see Florida.

Miss Mildred Holly left today for Orlando where she will be the house guest of Miss Lydia Yowell for several days and attend the dance that is to be given by the younger society at Orlando.

Mrs. P. T. Wakefield of the Wakefield Preserving Co., of Geneva, was among the visitors to the city today. Mrs. Wakefield reports a fine business in her line.

The "13" Club will have a dance at the Hotel Valdez Friday night to which the public is cordially invited. If you have not purchased your tickets for this dance you can get them at Bower & Rounillat's drug store.

The Million Dollar Band was rained out at the afternoon and evening concerts yesterday but will play today if the rain holds off long enough for them to do so. The Million Dollar Orchestra will furnish the music for the Woman's Club dance tonight.

The Johnny Jones big shows will be here next week on the lake front and being the biggest aggregation of the kind in the world it will be a gala week for Sanford and the surrounding country. The Jones shows are coming here under the auspices of the "13" Club.

Chas. D. Brumley, of Chuluota, was in the city today on business and brought over several winter visitors with him. Mr. and Mrs. Brumley have charge of the Chuluota Inn at Chuluota, one of Florida's fine small hotels situated in the hills of Seminole county and where the fishing and hunting is great.

R. H. Dawson, of Afton, Oklahoma, is in the city with the view of locating here if he can find something to do. He has been connected with the banking business and is so familiar with several other lines of business and many of the business firms here that he is a good, live young man to work for them. Mr. Dawson will fill the job.

Mrs. J. G. Ball, John Meisch, A. P. Ceenley, J. H. Hutchinson, R. R. Des, D. C. Marlowe and several other transportation men of the Chamber of Commerce are in Orlando today attending the meeting of the Citrus growers of the state with the view of taking definite action on the present high freight rates that are throttling the fruit and vegetable business of Florida.

The many Sanford friends of Dr. Keelor are glad to have him here for the holidays. Dr. Keelor is a very busy man in New York City and while he loves Sanford cannot be prevailed upon to cast his lot with us at this time. He hopes in a few years to be able to retire from active service and come here to make his future home and he is the kind of a man that Sanford needs as citizens.

Phil Moore arrived in the city today for a short stay from his home in South Carolina. Mr. Moore lived in Sanford for several years being the foreman of the Herald office and has many friends here who are giving him the glad hand. He has been located at Manning, South Carolina, for some time but expects to spend the winter at West Palm Beach as South Carolina is rather dull in the business lines just now.

Among other holiday visitors to Sanford may be numbered Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hill and Miss Ruth E. Smith, who motored up from Orlando Christmas morning to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bazett.

BAPTIST TEMPLE DEDICATED WITH FINE PROGRAM

NEW EDIFICE HAS BEEN FINISHED AND IS COMPLETE IN EVERY DETAIL

The opening of the beautiful Baptist Temple in this city last Sunday was one of the greatest events in church history and had it not been so well covered in advance by the excellent four-page supplement to the Daily and Weekly Herald last Friday would have received the elaborate writup that it so richly deserves. However, Dr. Hyman, the pastor, in writing it up so well in advance could not have foreseen that such a large crowd would be present, he could not have foreseen the great interest that every church-goer and non-church-goer in the city had in his great undertaking and could not, did not and never will know of the many expressions of surprise and praise that he and his church received last Sunday at the opening.

Also neither the pastor or the congregation looked for 750 people to attend the opening exercise nor could they look into the future and foresee that the church would be so richly endowed in the sum of $63,000. All of this and more could be written about the Baptist Temple and the wonderful success that the opening achieved but the greatest achievement was the interest that is taken in the new church by others than members and the good wishes and prayers for success that are given to this church all the time. We repeat the description of the new church that was recently given in the Herald because it covers all the points in regard to the arrangements:

"The building is unique. The best points in the Third Baptist Church of St. Louis, the Sanford High School and the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Atlanta are combined in this structure. It meets the requirements of the Super-standard Sunday School and has an auditorium that will seat 808 persons. There are no connecting or rolling doors.

"The Sunday School part is three stories with an arrangement for roof garden. On the first floor is found the church office, the toilets, the lobby or parlor, the cradle roll department, and the beginners' department. On the second floor is the Sunday School auditorium where juniors also meet. On the third floor is the kitchen, and banquet room, the primary department, the intermediate department and the library and reading room.

"The basement of the main auditorium is used as a club room for the Boy and Girl Scouts. This is equipped with dressing rooms and lockers. The pastor's study is to the right of the choir loft and pulpit platform. Just to the rear of the baptistry there are well arranged dressing rooms. The choir loft will seat 30 singers. The main floor will seat 503 and the gallery 216.

"The building is 117 feet long by 55 wide and three stories high. Mr. S. O. Shinholser of Sanford and Mr. Elton Moughton of Ocala drew the plans."

Some twenty-five new members of the church were baptized at the evening service and rounded out the dedication day exercises in a most fitting manner.

HAVE DONE WELL WITH PEPPERS FROM FT. MYERS

The Fort Myers Trucker's Association packing house is working a full crew this week and packing a number of cars of peppers. D. Swint, one of the well known truckers, shipped out a full carload from his place at Iona on Wednesday. It is quite likely that the shipments this week from the local packing house will amount to seven full carloads of peppers. Manager A. V. Hancock says the peppers this season are the best yet in quality and yielding heavy as well. The Swint shipment consists of practically all extra quality. The fact is that the Fort Myers Trucker's Association affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange, has made a reputation already this season on grade and pack, and the markets are calling strong for the Seven Star brand.—Florida Grower.

STATE TEACHERS WILL GATHER AT TALLAHASSEE

TALLAHASSEE WILL BE SCENE OF BIG MEETING TOMORROW

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 28.—Tallahassee looks forward on Wednesday to the largest gathering of teachers that has appeared at the opening session of the Florida Educational Association and is prepared to entertain all who come, even if the figure reaches that set as the hoped-for number, one thousand, of the forty-six hundred white teachers of the state.

The newspapers of Florida realize that the people should give more attention than they have in the past to the needs of their schools, and leading dailies, notable the Florida Times-Union and The Tampa Tribune have carried editorials urging the teachers to attend because they must be the leaders in any movement to arouse the state in the needs of the situation.

The key note of the meeting will be sounded on the opening night by State Superintendent William N. Sheats and President Benjamin B. Lane in their respective addresses and whatever modification may be made therein by later discussion, it is certain that the whole association is going to keep in mind two central points, a supply of teachers for all the children and, more efficient service to every child.

Dr. J. L. McBride of the National Bureau of Education, brings to the conference the great need of the rural child and with burning insistence drives home the fact that today is the time to meet that need.

Dr. Harry Clark, president of the University of Tennessee, comes to charm again the personality, sunshining and inspiration the whole teaching force of the state. Dr. Clark is an orator that every Florida teacher should hear; his voice lingers in memory like a song.

Dr. Lawton B. Evans, superintendent of the Augusta, Ga., schools and a national figure, comes to inspire the association with that too little realized truth, that the spirit and philosophy of Froebel underlying all high quality teaching and all real success in education, from the university down to the kindergarten, the institution, usually association, with Froebel's name. His address is distinctly worth while.

Senator Park Trammell, genial and eloquent, is well known to all Floridians. He brings some promise that the national government will help Florida if the legislature will itself do something to provide more money for the schools.

Hon. J. W. Wright of the Federal bureau of vocational education, and Miss Sarah W. Partridge, state home demonstration agent, bring with new meaning the message that education must prepare for the physical and life-support and substance; side of daily life, while Dr. Ralph N. Green, state health officer for Florida, stresses especially the need for health education.

Dr. Mary Green, lately from New York City, holds up to the women of the present the lamp that "our pioneer mothers" lighted in the early days. State Attorney George W. Schofield of the fifth judicial circuit, is a fascinating and eloquent speaker who will tell the teachers to get politicians interested in the schools. And Prof. W. A. Little, whom so many Florida teachers know and love, will be here to give his hearers inspiration toward a higher standard of living and service.

Altogether the program is one of the best that has ever been prepared and Tallahassee urges all the teachers of Florida to come to her open doors and her open hearts, spend here two very pleasant days and help President Lane and his associates make the meeting a great one in every sense.

MILLION DOLLAR BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT THEATRE

As we go to press we learn that the Million Dollar Band will give a concert in the Princess Theatre for the "13" Club and at the request of many of the citizens who would rather sit down in a comfortable building and listen to a good concert and are willing to pay a dollar for the privilege. This concert is put on by the "13" Club in order to help pay the expenses of the band while here and as there are many who have not contributed but would like to do so this gives them the opportunity. Tickets will be on sale at the banks and drug stores in the city and there will be no reserved seats so get your tickets and go to the concert early and get a good seat. There will be special numbers at this concert that cannot be given at the open air concerts and it will be one of the best ever given in this city.

The New Smyrna-Cornado Board of Trade, which is about the liveliest civic organization on the East Coast of Florida this winter, pulled off a novel stunt here recently when invitations were sent broadcast to every man, woman and child in the city and community to gather at the public school building for a "jamboree."

CARDINAL GIBBONS IS IMPROVING

(By The Associated Press) BALTIMORE, M. D., Dec. 28.—Continued improvement of Cardinal Gibbons' condition is reported today. There may be plenty of moonshine and "red likker" in Sanford but it was not in evidence on Christmas day. The city was remarkably quiet in this respect for which all of us are truly thankful.
