George Harriett, Retired Fire Chief, Dead At 68

George M. Harriett Sr.

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer
Funeral services for former Sanford Fire Chief George Manning Harriett Sr., who died Saturday of a heart attack, were held today at the Sanford Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. Forty Sanford firefighters served as active and honorary pallbearers and a city fire truck led the funeral procession to the Evergreen Cemetery. Fire departments from around Seminole County also paid tribute to the former chief. He was pronounced dead at Central Florida Regional Hospital after suffering a heart attack at his home at 1315 Douglas Ave., Sanford. He was 68 years old. Born in Hampton, S.C., May 17, 1918, he moved to Sanford in 1927. The father of Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett, he retired in 1981 after 38 years with the Sanford Fire Department, including 15 years as chief. He joined the department in 1942 as a firefighter. There were only seven firefighters at the time and one ladder truck and when he retired there were 13 vehicles and 40 firefighters.

-Warren Knowles
Former City Manager

After taking time out to serve two years in the U.S. Navy during World War II, Chief Harriett returned to his job at the fire department. He was promoted to lieutenant in 1951 and was named chief in 1966. Retired Sanford City Manager Warren "Pete" Knowles said, "I recommended him for fire chief because he was head and shoulders above any other in-service official.

"He was completely loyal. He lived for the city. He was a very Christian individual — no swearing or anything like that. He was highly motivated to look after his personnel."

"He was with the city fire department when I came to the city in 1953," Knowles added. "I knew him as a member of the department, then the assistant chief retired and George became assistant chief under Chief Cleveland. His entire life was in the fire department. He was probably one of the finest gentlemen I've ever known. It was his instinct to serve."

Sanford Fire Chief Tom Hickson said Harriett was fire chief when he came to work for the department in 1973. "He was a friend and a mentor," Hickson said. "He was a down

Art, Television Lose Pioneers

Warhol, Susskind Die

NEW YORK (UPI) — The deaths Sunday of Andy Warhol, 59 and David Susskind, 66, have brought an end to trail-blazing careers in art and television.

Warhol, the artist-celebrity whose pop art images of soup cans and superstars made him famous, died of a heart attack in New York City.

Susskind, an award-winning producer and television talk show pioneer, who grabbed the nation's attention with a heated interview of Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev, died of apparently natural causes.

Susskind was found dead by a maid about 1:30 p.m. Sunday in his suite at the Hotel Wyndham in Manhattan where he lived.

Warhol was pronounced dead at 6:31 a.m. Sunday at New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, one day after undergoing gall bladder surgery. He had been in stable condition following the routine operation, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Warhol, a pale, slight man who wore a white wig, black clothes and glasses, was an award-winning commercial illustrator before becoming a founder of "pop art" in the early 1960's with his portraits of Campbell Soup cans.

In works that questioned what makes something art, he depicted everyday objects including Brillo boxes and Coke bottles and such human cultural icons as Marilyn Monroe and Elvis Presley.

Later, he expanded beyond silk-screen prints and paintings, making films, producing a rock group, writing books, publishing interview magazine, hosting a cable TV show and taking photographs.

Susskind had been under medical care for a heart ailment and was to enter Lenox Hill Hospital for tests today, his sister, Dorothy Barron, said.

Man Run-Over As Friends Escape Brawl

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man was run over by a car driven by friends who were escaping a gang attack in front of a Sanford bar early Sunday morning, police said.

James Schmitz, 29, of 2653 Elm Ave. was found by police lying in the road in front of The Talk of the Town bar, 718 E. 7th Street, bleeding severely about the head, a police report said.

Schmitz was listed in satisfactory condition today at Central Florida Regional Hospital with a broken jaw, a broken nose and broken ribs. It was unknown early today which injuries were attributable to the fight and which to the car mishap. Speaking from his hospital bed this morning, Schmitz said he didn't remember anything about how he was injured, but said he has tire marks on his chest.

Joe Newton Jarell Jr. and Ernest C. Waymire told police they arrived at the bar by car with Schmitz at approximately 1:30 a.m. and went inside to buy cigarettes while Schmitz waited outside.

Jarell told police that when he went back outside a man approached him and offered to sell him some crack or some other type drug. Jarell told police he said "no thanks, I don't want no trouble" and then the fight started "for no reason."

Jarell told police that he and Waymire were unaware of what was going on except that they were "getting the heck beat out of them" by a group of about 10 men. Jarell said that he and Waymire made a break for the car to get away and during the confusion, they lost track of Schmitz, but drove to the Sanford Police Department to report the incident.

The police report said it appeared in the confusion of fleeing, Waymire and Jarell hit Schmitz with Waymire's car.

Jarell received a possible broken nose and Waymire received a swollen lip in the fracas. Occupants of the bar told police they heard noise outside but did not see the fight.

Pump To Be Homeowners' Responsibility

Future Lake Mary homeowners in the subdivision of Lake Mary Woods, Phase II are going to be required to join a homeowner's association that will be responsible for maintaining the development's storm water drainage pump. Lake Mary Commissioners approved the subdivision with the pump stipulation 3-2, with commissioners Ken King and Paul Tremel voting no.

Commissioner Ken King said that if the commission, or any commission, approves something like this project, they assume a certain amount of responsibility, "and that's why I'm against it; I'm not sure it will work."

The subdivision's mechanical storm water drainage pump system had come under scrutiny last month by Lake Mary's Planning and Zoning Board. Board members and residents near the subdivision said they were concerned about the durability and maintenance of the pump system.

The pumping system will be used to relieve the storm water retention area in Lake Mary Woods II and will put filtered water into Lake Bingham because during the last few years it has experienced a very low water elevation.

Randi Fitzgerald of Maguire, Voorhis and Wells, P.A. and the attorney representing Lake Mary Woods II developer Terry Hagen, told city commissioners before their vote Thursday that Hagen had agreed on record, and pending the commission's approval, to provide a mandatory homeowner's association with duty by contract to assign maintenance for the pump system to the homeowners in addition to providing an extended warranty on the pump system for 10 years and a 10-year maintenance agreement.

She said Hagen would also provide the city with an easement for the purpose of easy access to the pump for inspection purposes and to be certain the pump is being maintained properly.

Don McIntosh, owner of McIntosh & Associates, the engineer and surveyor representing the project told the commission that if Lake Bingham reaches flood level, "the big 100-year event," there is a mechanism in the pump system, a valve, that can be turned to shift the flow of water westward which is the natural flow direction.

Commissioner Paul Tremel expressed concern for not only the

In Iran-Contra Affair

Document Shredding Testimony Sparks New Cover-Up Questions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. Col. Oliver North maintains he sees no need to lie in the Iran-Contra affair and is "very pleased" his former secretary is helping investigators — even though her testimony that he shredded documents raises new questions about possible cover-up attempts.

Sources confirmed a report Sunday that Fawn Hall, North's secretary when he was with the National Security Council staff, told investigators she helped him destroy documents in his White House basement office just hours before the first search of his files Nov. 21 for evidence in the Iran-Contra scandal.

Hall's disclosure, with concurrent reports of White House aides devising a bogus "chronology" of the Iran arms operation designed to protect President Reagan, has spurred independent prosecutor Lawrence Walsh to consider seeking obstruction of justice charges against some administration officials, sources familiar with the inquiry said.

Shredding of documents by North was reported as far back as Nov. 27, but White House chief of staff Donald Regan subsequently said copies of all national security documents were held in a "central file."

Lake Mary 7-Eleven May Open, Sans Sign

This 7-Eleven sign will come down as a condition for store's certificate of occupancy.

The 7-Eleven store at Lake Mary Boulevard and Rinehart Road will be allowed to open, but one of the store's signs must be removed.

Lake Mary's city commission granted approval for a certificate of occupancy for the store to the Southland Corporation of Orlando with the sign stipulation.

Rich Hall, construction coordinator for the Southland Corporation, agreed to remove the 7-Eleven's 50-square-foot ground sign at the corner of Sun Drive and Rinehart Road and replace it with a 29-square-foot sign that would be mounted between the canopy columns at the store's gasoline island. The sign at the Sun Drive corner was brought to the attention of commissioners by residents of the Feather Edge town-home development which is located directly across from the 7-Eleven on the Sun Drive side.

C.B. Hathaway, a resident of Feather Edge, told the commission Thursday the Sun Drive sign had not "added to the general appearance of the area" and that he would be happy to see it removed. He also mentioned that it had been his understanding more trees would have been left standing in that area. "What was to be a minor entrance is now a major entrance and there doesn't seem to be any aesthetic value there on that corner," he said.

When asked about the meeting to comment on the 7-Eleven site, Hall said, "Frankly, I think the site there is very pleasant looking, and I think we've done a good job in blending in and coming up with a sign that is not offensive." He said his corporation had been working on the project for about two years and has been

Parents File Multiple Suits In Bottle Rocket Burning

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

The parents of a 4-year-old girl who was injured when a burning bottle rocket landed in her lap at a Fourth of July fireworks display have filed suit against the promoters of the event, the owner of the rocket, the person he was with, the store complex where it happened and the city in which it occurred.

200,000 people who watched the celebration at the Altamonte Mall. An illegal rocket, not part of the show, landed in her lap and exploded as she sat on her grandfather's car. She received second and third degree burns on her legs, according to her mother.

Adams, of 2617 Eastbrook Blvd., south Seminole County, was arrested in connection with the case and pleaded no contest to a charge of culpable negligence, that is, firing off the bottle rocket. On March 7, 1985, he was ordered to pay $900 in restitution, serve 50 hours of community service by raising money for the Shriners, who operate burn treatment centers for children, and serve a weekend in jail.

Road To Holiday Harmony Is Paved With Paper Plates

DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh when I read the letter from "Dishpan Hands in Mass.," who cooked a holiday dinner for 16, then had to clean up alone after the whole lot of them. (She hinted for help, but nobody volunteered.)

Last Christmas was my turn to have the family dinner for between 35 and 40. Everybody brought something, but I made the turkey. Guess what? I started a new tradition. I bought heavy-duty plates, paper cups and plastic "silverware." I set my table with colorful holiday paper tablecloths and napkins. After the meal, I just grabbed all four corners of each cloth and stuffed everything into a large plastic trash can. No dishpan hands for me!

MARY ANN IN LANCASTER, KY.

DEAR MARY ANN: Welcome to the club. According to my mail, a surprising number of people have taken to entertaining the easy way at holiday time. They save their energy by using disposable items whenever possible, and save the "fine china" for smaller parties.

Dear Abby

P.S. Paper and plastic will never replace Wedgwood and Waterford, but holiday parties that include all the kids are more fun when there's less formality and possibility of breakage. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: You advised "Dishpan Hands," the hostess who was stuck with dishes for 16 after the Christmas family dinner: "If nobody volunteers to help clean up — draft 'em!"

Good advice, but as I see it, that hostess has another problem. She's one of those crazy clean, compulsive types who are unable to relax until the dishes are done, every pot and pan is put away, and the kitchen is spic and span. So while everybody else is in the living room socializing, she's alone in the kitchen, missing all the fun.

Next time, advise all hostesses to clear the table, put all the edibles in the fridge, stop worrying about the gravy hardening on the plates (let 'em soak!) and join the party.

RELAXED HOSTESS

DEAR RELAXED: I wish it were that easy. Psychiatrists' couches are wet with the sweat of obsessive-compulsive types trying to free themselves from all kinds of compulsive behavior in order to live more relaxed lives.

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman who belongs to our club who brags constantly about her children. Now she's bragging to everyone that her son (he just turned 17) tells her and his father everything, including the fact that he is having sex with his girlfriend, who is his age. The problem is that everybody in this small town knows who his girlfriend is. Shouldn't somebody tell this woman to keep her big mouth shut?

SMALL TOWN, TEXAS

DEAR SMALL TOWN: Yes. Why don't you?

CFRH Offers Programs For Diabetics And Families

"Help Today. Hope for Tomorrow," a slogan of the American Diabetes Association, is the basis of "Diabetes Series: Update" two programs being offered by Central Florida Regional Hospital starting Feb. 25 and 26 for diabetics and their families. Free, each program consists of six sessions with each having the same topics. For the convenience of those attending, one program is scheduled for 7 to 8:30 p.m. beginning Feb. 25 while the other is set for 2:30 to 4 p.m. starting Feb. 26. Topics to be explored are: "What is your blood sugar?"; "What is diabetes?"; "Food Exchanges"; "Menu Planning"; "Medication"; and "Diabetic Lifestyle." Betsy Fitts, CFRH instructor, says that the meetings are informal and questions are welcomed. She points out that the symptoms of diabetes are: increased thirst, excessive urination, increased appetite, weight loss, easy tiring, slow healing of cuts, itching of skin, pain or cramps, drowsiness and change in vision. However, she emphasizes that the absence of symptoms does not eliminate the possibility of diabetes. Generally, one is more prone to develop diabetes if you are over 40, overweight, or have diabetes in your family. A blood test is the only way to be sure. Pre-register by calling Central Florida Regional Hospital at 321-4500 or 668-4441, extension 607.

Be Very Cautious About Medication

DEAR DR. GOTT — Are over-the-counter medications for asthma harmful in any way?

DEAR READER — Any medicine can be harmful if it is taken in excessive amounts or used by a person who is allergic to it.

Over-the-counter asthma medicine comes in two forms: pills and spray.

The pills contain low doses of bronchial-relaxing drugs, such as ephedrine and theophylline. Some have small amounts of phenobarbital, which can be habit-forming.

The spray contain epinephrine (adrenalin). This compound can cause irritability, nervousness and a rise in blood pressure.

Therefore, the answer to your question is "yes" — these medications can be harmful in some cases. However, there is little chance of trouble if the patient reads the manufacturer's recommendations and warnings and uses the medicine only as directed by the manufacturer.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'll be 91 soon and am so tired all the time. Is this from poor circulation?

DEAR READER — Some fatigue among the elderly is due simply to old age. However, older people do tend to develop a variety of ailments and diseases. You should see a doctor for a full checkup. You might have anemia, diabetes, high blood pressure, thyroid deficiency or heart disease — all common causes of fatigue in patients over 80. If there is no physical cause for your tiredness, the doctor may be able to suggest activities or special physical exercises to help perk you up.

Most people over age 60 have some degree of poor circulation. However, this by itself is unlikely to cause your loss of energy.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Six years ago I had cancer of the prostate and my testicles were removed. I've been taking diethylstilbestrol (2 milligrams) daily since then. My doctor is very evasive when I question him about possible harmful side effects. Do I have anything to worry about?

DEAR READER — Diethylstilbestrol (DES) is a synthetic female hormone that is often given to men with prostatic cancer to retard growth of the tumor or prevent recurrences. It is an effective medicine, but it does have side effects. These include breast swelling, nausea, vomiting, fluid retention and ankle swelling, an increased tendency to develop blood clots in veins, diabetes, skin rashes, depression, impotence and loss of sexual desire.

Although this list of side effects seems to indicate that DES is dangerous, the hazards of not taking it may outweigh this danger. If you have been taking DES for six years, you are obviously tolerating the medicine and should have no particular problems with it.

Ask your doctor why he is so evasive. That's surprising. I would have thought he'd be eager to give you a rundown.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

When you have nothing but winners outside of the trump suit, you will probably feel an inexorable urge to draw trumps immediately. That is a good plan as far as it goes. But if you first ask yourself what the defenders are trying to do, you may be able to block their strategy.

When today's deal was played at a recent tournament, those declarers who won the opening diamond lead and immediately played trumps met an early demise. East won the spade ace and returned a diamond. When West got on lead with his spade king, he led a heart to his partner's ace and got a diamond ruff to set the contract.

One declarer played a heart right away, but East won, returned a diamond and played a third diamond for the ruff after winning the spade ace. At another table declarer tried to avoid the third-round diamond ruff by taking a club finesse. That resulted in down two.

The obvious play seemed to strike everyone's blind spot. Of course it was right to lead a heart at the second trick. After East led the second diamond, all that was required was for declarer to win that diamond in his hand and play the K-J of hearts, discarding both diamonds from dummy. Now declarer can lead the jack of spades from his hand with impunity. The third diamond cannot be ruffed by West, since it will be overruffed by the dummy's queen of trumps.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY FEBRUARY 24, 1987

Several restrictive conditions that previously impeded your progress will be alleviated in the year ahead. Goals that were denied you will be achieved.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Vigorously forge ahead today on a new project about which you are enthusiastic. Your interest is keyed to a high level and you'll get off to a good start. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll thrive on challenges today, especially if you are going after something where the stakes are significant.

Overcoming adversity enhances your self-worth.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Hang onto your hopes today, because your faith can move mountains. Regardless of what occurs, see everything working out for your ultimate good.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An enterprising friend may present you with a profitable proposal today. It's worth your while to investigate it in depth.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you have to make an important decision today regarding a loved one, let your heart rule your head, even if you're encouraged to do otherwise.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Larger rewards than usual are in the offing today if you treat all of your tasks, even those you consider boring, as labors of love.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone you met recently to whom you are attracted feels the same way about you. Don't waste time waiting for him or her to make the first move.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Something you thought wasn't going to work out will turn out advantageously today. There is a lesson in this: Don't worry about things which may never happen.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This could be the day that you'll receive good news for which you've been hoping. The message may be brief, but its ramifications will be large.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your chances for personal accumulation continue to look good again today. Greater yields can be gleaned from situations which are presently productive.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In competitive involvements today, it's your competitors who should be apprehensive. Don't view yourself as the underdog.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Kind deeds you do for others today will serve as seeds for a later harvest. Strive to help those who need your aid, even though they may not ask for it.
