

Geneva Gems

By Mrs. Joe E. Mathieux
The Geneva Historical and Genealogical Society recently held an executive meeting at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Whiting in Geneva for the purpose of naming committees to organize summer projects. Attending were Mrs. Whiting, president; Elizabeth Davis Oldham, vice president; Rhodia Culpepper Ward, president-elect; Lee Combs, secretary, and Sue Harrison Torres, treasurer.

Miss Loretta Lee Gallin was honored recently at a lingerie shower held at the home of Mrs. Billy Gracey in Sanford.

Summer finds many of our Geneva neighbors going in a number of directions to pursue further educations, vocations, etc. — a very lucky man indeed is Mickey Whiting, son of Mrs. Lorraine Whiting who flew by jet to New York City to visit his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kraftson. Mrs. Kraftson is the former Ginny Yarrow. While there Mickey will visit the World's Fair. Hey, fun, Mickey, we'll see you in the fall.

While Mickey is busy "funning in New York," Mom (Lorraine) is in Tallahassee for summer classes.

Want to hear something fabulous? — Mrs. Minnie Stone went to the beach with son, J. D., daughters, Pat and Lillian and grandchildren, Timmy and Tammy Kennard. Modern medicine is surely wonderful, praise be!

Speaking of praise be — let's not forget to give thanks humbly for these blessed rains. We are sometimes prone to take such blessings for granted.

Good news and a pleasant addition to our community. Pat Stone Vinson will make her home in Geneva with her mother and dad while Bill is overseas for the next year. Welcome home, Pat.

Young Miss Sandy Ford is visiting here from St. Petersburg with her dad and family for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kretzer and granddaughter, Cindy Harrison, are visiting in Deatur, Ill., for several weeks.

Ed Putnam, in Geneva to get his automobile, will return to Fort Wayne, Ind., until the fall. Making the trip home with him was his grandson.

Mrs. Ina Bell's daughter, Annette, and family are visiting here from Alabama for a while.

Mrs. Ethel Thomas is home from the hospital and her sister, Mrs. Lula Moran, of Jacksonville, is here to look after her while she is recuperating.

I hear that Mrs. Bertha Lindsey is convalescing at DeBary Manor and is progressing beautifully.

Geneva surely has her share of teachers, retired and active. Some are away at summer school and some are like my teacher (my Joe), cleaning yards!

Want a chuckle? The other morning Mrs. Kitty Wells Allen went out to get the paper and some Joker had moved the "for sale" sign from Bill's house to her front yard. She took it good naturedly and all enjoyed a good laugh.

This must be "Be Good to Mathieux Week." Oliver and little Liz sent us a meas of fresh fish and brother-in-law, Orle, gave us some sea bass then gave us 25 pounds of new potatoes and vine ripened tomatoes. All were delicious.

Mrs. Jack Brown and daughter, Betty Ann, of Richmond, Va., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kettering, Mrs. Brown's parents. Their visit was saddened, somewhat, because Aunt Nellie (Mrs. Jackson) is confined to Seminole Memorial Hospital with a kidney ailment.

Sunday we went to the beach and I must say, I'm glad Joe can't see so well any more. These new bathing suits, WOW!

I always did believe that some day Geneva would blossom forth and today she is beginning to bud. We now have a fire department made up of volunteer workers. Meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday at the Geneva Grocery. We also are getting a fresh water system for the Lake Harney area.

Let us pause for a moment and extend sincere sympathy to the family of W. M. Holloway and W. B. Clancy in their recent bereavements. Also to Mrs. Calvin Oldham in the loss of her brother, John Davis.

Oops, is my face red. I almost forgot one of the nicest things in the "be good to Mathieux week." Pearl and Lester Harper gave us two big jugs of orange blossom honey. Lester certainly is busy making a new driveway and working on general repairs around the place.

In closing, let me quote these words from the scrapbook of my late dear friend, Mrs. Gertrude Hoeschner: "The art of being happy lies in the enjoyment of little things."

A P.S. to ask all the Geneva folks to offer extra prayers for Mrs. McGill who is still seriously ill at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Auto Scratched By Fire Truck

An automobile was scratched slightly Thursday night when a fire department aerial truck was returning to the station following its response to a false alarm at Southwest Road and 15th Street.

A police accident report shows the truck, driven by Ernest B. Wright, was turning right on W. 15th Street when a culvert gave way and the right front of the truck went down.

Wright attempted to back the vehicle out of the trap and the ladder on the truck scraped a car operated by Lonzo Lee Blake of the Sanford Naval Air Station. Damage was estimated at only $20, police reported.

A crumpled, yellowed copy of the February 26, 1917 Florida Metropolis, a Jacksonville newspaper (courtesy of F. D. Scott) provides many interesting news items.

A banner front page headline announced President Woodrow Wilson's decision on "armed neutrality," his plans to provide American merchant ships with guns and says that the U. S. "desires peace, but there is something greater than peace and that is protection of our sovereign rights."

German subs were sinking Dutch and English ships and detaining American ships in foreign ports. Large cities in the U. S. were plagued with food shortages and prices were sky-rocketing.

"The Bad Boy," "The Telephone Belle" and "The Scarlet Letter" were playing at downtown Jacksonville theaters and the Vaudeville Theatre on Bay St. advertised admission prices at five cents.

The Chuluota Company of Seminole County had an ad in the Jacksonville paper extolling "winter home locations in rolling pine woods country, also good land suitable for farming, stock, trucking and citrus."

In an editorial the New York City Board of Health blamed the housewife for the high prices of food, saying she failed to "practice economy" and urging "judicious buying." "Buy rice, instead of potatoes," the board advised housewives.

You could purchase a round trip ticket to Washington, D. C. on the Atlantic Coastline for $25 or a steamship ticket on the Clyde Line to New York from Jacksonville, first class for $24.90. You could go from Sanford (the southern terminus) to Jacksonville on the Clyde line for $4.65.

Madras shirts for men were advertised at Levy's for $1.50 and a new six room frame house on an acre of land for $1,000.

Someone posted a reward for the return of a lost corral and land was selling at $6 an acre. Around Palm Beach prices were beginning to rise to as much as $10 an acre.

One of the most startling news items in the 1917 newspaper was from the poll-blotter, which showed that 16 persons had been arrested in 1916 for "speeding in autos," and 1,204 person for "careless and reckless driving."

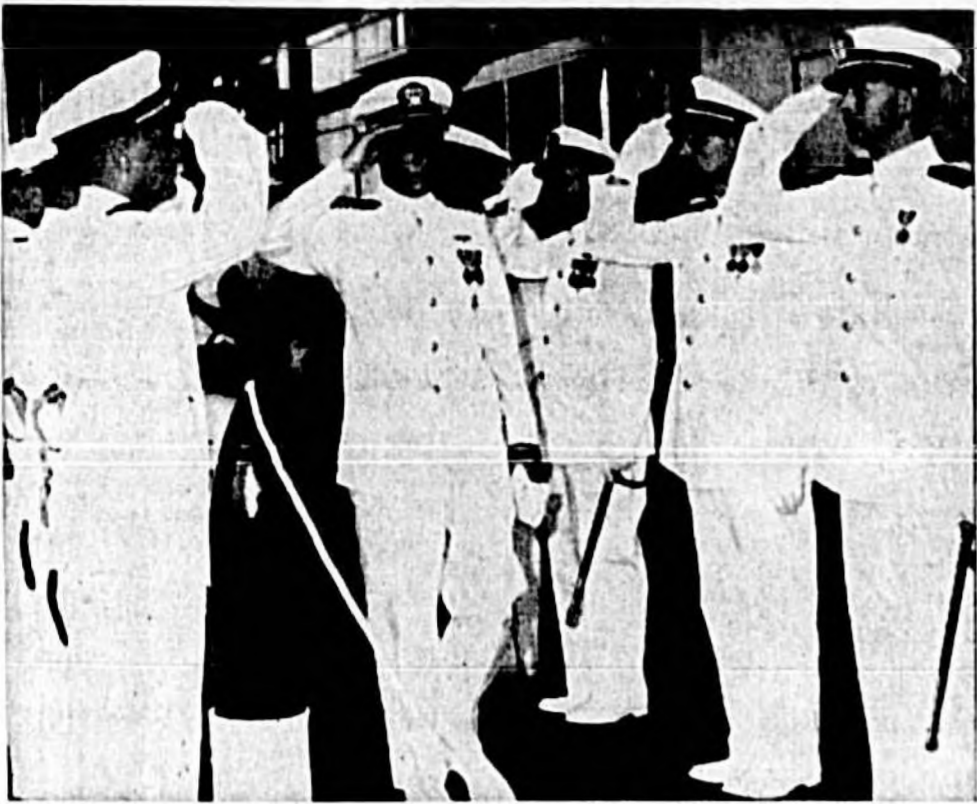

A car wash to benefit the Marching Seminoles, the 81HS Band, will be held Wednesday at Dekle's Gulf Service on South French Avenue and Thompson's Phillip's 66 Service on Celery Avenue. Tickets are on sale at Wieboldt's Camera Shop or from any band member. The wash begins at 9 a.m. and will continue until approximately 10 p.m.

It's business as usual at the County Engineer's office today despite the fact that the department's chief, Bill Bush, is in New York State for a two-week vacation. One of the items on Bush's agenda, naturally, is to take in the World's Fair.

The bathtub was invented in 1850 and the telephone in 1875. Had you been living in 1850 you could have sat in the bathtub for 25 years without the phone ringing once.

CAPT. ROBERT M. WARE LEAVES STATION ... piped over side' in retirement ceremony

REAR ADMIRAL GOLDTHWAITE GIVES CERTIFICATE ... commendation offered SNAS commanding officer

CAPT. AND MRS. WARE ... open Navy League gift

Ware Honored By Officials At Luncheon

Sanford and Seminole County officials paid glowing tribute to Capt. and Mrs. Robert M. Ware Monday at a Capri Restaurant luncheon prior to his retirement from the Navy. A barrage of gifts were heaped on the popular former commanding officer of Sanford Naval Air Station and his wife and official resolutions were read from city and county governing agencies.

Resolutions were also read from the Seminole Chamber of Commerce's Armed Forces Committee and the Central Florida Council of the Navy League. Participating were Karlyle Housholder, Seminole Chamber president; James P. Avery Jr., County Commission chairman; Mayor A. L. Wilson of Sanford, Sen. Mark N. Cleveland Jr., Dr. Vincent Holbert, Armed Forces Committee member, and Andrew Carraway of the Navy League.

An estimated 75 persons took part in the tribute to the retiring captain and his wife. Also greeted was Ware's successor, Capt. Chandler W. Swanson. Ware recalled the pleasant memories he has had while in charge of the local base and cited the friendliness of the community — one which he said he at first thought a "gimmick" but soon learned the attitude was "a genuine, unique one."

Avery Assails Road Budget

Disappointment in Seminole County's share of the 1964-65 state Road Department budget was registered today by James P. Avery, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. Seminole County's share of the $491 million budget is $1.4 million.

"I am disappointed that the State Road Department does not recognize the facts as they exist," Avery said. He said that for the past several years Seminole County has received from $1.1 to $1.4 million of primary and secondary funds.

"But these amounts," he added, "have been based on facts and figures as they existed when we had a population of 24,000. Today we have a population estimated at 72,000."

He declared, "We in Seminole have had a tremendous population explosion which has made a huge impact on our highway and road system." He also pointed to industrial developments plus the location of the East Central Florida University on the county's southern boundary. "In view of these developments which have added much to the growth of Seminole County," Avery said, "I believe they justify an increase in road department funds."

Retiring Head Of Rotary Club Is Honored

A resolution of appreciation was presented to Bill Hemphill, retiring president of Rotary Club, Monday by his fellow club members, commending him for his real and progressive leadership during his tenure of office. "He more than any other member has been the exemplification of the Rotary idea," the resolution stated. Hemphill was especially commended for the community service program which was carried out this year in furnishing the pediatrics wing of the hospital.

Presentation and reading of the resolution was made by former president Ben Wiggins. Richard Deas was installed as new president by former Lt. Gov. Kenneth Wacker of Winter Park, a former Sanfordite. Other officers include M. L. "Sonny" Raborn as vice president, Walter Haynes as treasurer; Dr. R. W. Huprecht as secretary with Ron Dycus as assistant secretary. Members of the board of directors are Robert Crumley, Charles Robinson and Ben Howland.

Speaker Ken Wacker challenged Rotarians to strengthen their Rotary ideals, for "not one of us measures up to our full potential." Wacker urged Rotarians to root out "senility, sluggishness and laziness — take the Rotary ideal of service above self into the market place and make it work." "A constructive effort, a good idea is never really lost," he told them.

Gulf Oil Rig Blast Kills 4; 13 Missing

MORGAN CITY, La. (UPI)—A twin-hull oil exploration vessel with at least 43 men aboard drilled into an offshore natural gas pocket in the Gulf of Mexico today and exploded. The Coast Guard said there were 29 survivors and four known dead. The Coast Guard said at least 13 men were still missing. The vessel, the C. T. Baker, exploded in flames about 3 a.m. while drilling for oil in 186 feet of water 78 miles west of Morgan City, La. Wind blew the flames away from one corner of the platform, however, allowing the survivors to jump before the rig sank. Early reports said many of the survivors were badly burned, either from the fire on the rig or the boiling flaming oil on the surface of the water. The owners of the vessel, Reading and Butte of Tulsa, Okla., said its fuel tanks could carry up to 15,000 gallons of diesel oil for the drill engines. It was not known how much was in the tanks when the vessel exploded. The injured were picked up by vessels at the scene and transferred to two Coast Guard and three oil company helicopters and flown to Lakewood Hospital in Morgan City.

Two Coast Guard cutters, including the Point Young out of Grand Isle, La., and a Navy vessel, the Yukon, were at the scene.

Engines Fail; Upper Stage Loses Speed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—America's Atlas-Centaur moon rocket, plagued by troubles for more than three years, failed a critical test today for its role next year as a trillblazer for manned moon landings.

The high energy Centaur upper stage, scheduled to soar into a high orbit to prove its ability in moon missions, plunged instead to a fiery death over the south Atlantic off the coast of Africa.

Scientists said the two hydrogen fueled engines on the experimental rocket shut down two minutes early and the upper stage, which carried no payload, failed to reach the speed needed to send it whirling about the globe.

It was the second failure in three attempts for the Atlas-Centaur, a silver white rocket that thundered aloft almost flawlessly and flew a perfect course for eight minutes.

The failure was a blow to the nation's plans to use the Atlas-Centaur combination to send a project surveyor lunar lander to the moon next year to look for later manned landings.

The 112-foot rocket blasted toward space at 9:04 a. m. EST, and optimistic scientists said all looked good for the first eight minutes.

The mood of the rocket center quickly changed to gloom when loudspeakers announced that the Centaur stage's two hydrogen-fueled engines had quit two minutes early.

Grocer Robbed In Forest City
 The manager of the U-Tote-Em store in Forest City was robbed of an undisclosed sum of money shortly after 10 p. m. Monday by four Negroes, one of whom brandished a blue, long-barreled revolver.

The bandit wore a pillow case with eye and mouth slits while his accomplices wore handkerchiefs over their faces, the store manager, Philip G. Hendricks, told sheriff's deputies. Police said Hendricks was locked in the store by the robbers.

Hundreds Pay Tribute To Retiring Captain

It's Mister Robert M. Ware as of today. The Navy captain, commanding officer of Sanford Naval Air Station, retired Monday afternoon in colorful, impressive ceremonies at the Sanford Navy base.

He is succeeded by Capt. Chandler W. Swanson who arrived at the base several days ago and read his orders to report at the local station during Monday's ceremony. Swanson comes here from previous duties on the staff of the Naval War College, Newport, R. I.

Hundreds of Navy officers and men, plus many city and county officials were on hand for the program which saw Capt. Ware retire after more than 27 years of duty.

He and Mrs. Ware plan to make their home in the Pensacola area. He has held the local post for about two and a half years.

Rear Admiral Robert Goldthwaite, commander, Naval Air Bases, Sixth Naval District, and guest speaker, praised Capt. Ware highly as he related some of the highlights of his career. He concluded the speech-making by expressing a fond farewell to Capt. Ware and welcoming Capt. Swanson.

The officers and men of the station then paraded by the reviewing stand as many Sanford and Seminole County officials and businessmen, guests of the base, looked on. A reception followed the event.

From many aspects the careers of Capt. Ware and Capt. Swanson have been very similar. They were graduated from the Naval Academy only a year apart. Both received their wings at Pensacola and served aboard the USS Lexington.

During World War II they flew in the Pacific Area, participating in the first carrier strikes on Japan and the sinking of the Japanese battleship Yamato. Both served on carriers sunk by the Japanese during the war.

Both attended the Naval War College and served a tour in the office of the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington, D. C. Each also holds the Navy Cross, Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal.

Capt. Swanson is married to the former Miss Ruth Fowler Sargeant. Both are from Montclair, N. J. They have three daughters, Elizabeth, Pamela and Marilyn.

Banker Found Stabbed To Death At Home

MIAMI (UPI)—Financier Jacques Mosler was found stabbed to death in his island luxury apartment on Key Biscayne today and sheriff's officers began an intensive investigation to find his killer.

The 60-year-old banker with extensive financial interests in Miami, Houston, Chicago and South Bend, Ind., lay dead from one stab wound on the left side of his chest. No murder weapon was found immediately.

Mosler's adopted daughter, Rita Johnson, 20, found the body when she returned to the apartment about 4:45 a.m. EST, investigators said. The only sign of disorder in the plush, cooperative apartment in the newly-built governor's lodge, was a torn window drape near where the body lay in the living room.

Five Men At SNAS Retire

Retirement ceremonies were held today at the Sanford Naval Air Station for five men who have a total of 135 years of naval service.

They are Capt. Robert M. Ware, retiring commanding officer, 27 years; Lt. Cdr. Clark H. Crain, 21 years; Charles S. Kener, chief aviation structural mechanic, 34 years; Bramlett A. Madden, chief aviation structural mechanic, 30 years; and James L. Davis, chief aviation mechanic's mate, 23 years.

Pilotless Plane Kills Two Sleeping Children

HAVERHILL, Mass. (UPI)—A pilotless F86 jet fighter plane crashed today into three homes and a dozen parked cars on a congested residential street, killing two children as they slept.

The pilot parachuted to safety minutes before the crash, landed in the swift flowing Merimack River and in nearby Groveland and was hauled to safety by a helicopter. He was alone in the single-engine craft.

The dead were identified as Pamela Gifford, 11, and her brother Todd, 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gifford. The near-hysterical parents were treated at the hospital.

The pilot, Capt. DuBert F. Sullivan of Boston's Back Bay section, married and the father of five, was not injured seriously. He was flown to Hanscom Air Force Base in Bedford for questioning.

The children "never had a chance," police said. The plane ricocheted off one house, zigzagged down the street bouncing off parked cars.

and plunged head-on into the bedroom where the children were sound asleep. Highly explosive jet fuel splashed throughout the wooden home and it became a mass of flames in seconds. The parents ran to safety before a wall of fire. The plane first hit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ayanian. Both of them were lucky to be alive.

The 64-year-old husband was asleep in the bedroom seconds before the crash. But he woke up with "an awful thirst" and went to the kitchen for a drink of water.

It was then the plane's wing tore through their living and bedrooms. The metal sliced their bed in half and shattered the headboard.

"I just reached the faucet when there was a blast and a lot of smoke. I was thrown to the floor," Ayanian said. Meanwhile, his 50-year-old wife Helen was still asleep in "our summer home" a tiny cottage next to the main house. For some unexplained reason she decided late Monday night to sleep in the other house.

Capt. Ware Ends Outstanding Career At Sanford Navy Base

Having outstanding Naval personnel to serve as commanding officers of the Sanford Naval Air Station has almost become a tradition at the local base.

The latest in a line of top-notch Naval officers to serve SNAS in this capacity is Capt. Robert M. Ware who retired during appropriate ceremonies Monday afternoon. He retired not only as base commander but also from the Navy itself.

The likeable and capable officer called a halt to a Navy career of 27 years. The 1937 graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis was honored Monday noon when the business, civic and fraternal leaders of Sanford poured out their appreciation to a man who has not only served his country well but who also brought to Sanford a sense of devotion to duty which he carried out on an extremely high level marked with distinction and dignity.

Undoubtedly volumes could be written about Captain Ware and his career. However, since November of 1961 residents of Sanford and Seminole County have known him as the commanding officer of SNAS and they know, from personal observation as well as from those who served under his command, of the unparalleled accomplishments in the continued development of the Station.

Probably Captain Ware will be remembered by most of this area's citizens as the man who labored diligently toward the successful continuance of the local base as an operating facility of the U.S. Navy.

As stated in a joint resolution adopted by the City Commission of Sanford and the Seminole County Board of Commissioners, which best expresses the sentiments of the citizens, "Sanford and Seminole County are deeply indebted (to Captain Ware) who has worked diligently and unceasingly to develop the finest military relationship that has heretofore existed between the people of the City of Sanford, Seminole County and the Naval Air Station . . ."

Local governing bodies, civic organizations, groups who sponsor and carry out worthwhile civic projects, have often expressed their deep appreciation to Captain Ware for his participation in their particular efforts.

Captain Ware probably was more closely associated with the Armed Forces Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. That group, in a resolution, cited Captain Ware for his untiring efforts in maintaining the local base as a permanent station and his close cooperation with the committee.

But perhaps the finest tribute paid to Captain Ware is the fact that among all in Sanford and Seminole County he won the admiration and respect of the citizens. His contributions to the life of this area will long be remembered by those who even remotely knew him as well as by those among which he was closely associated.

The Herald joins all of Seminole County's thousands upon thousands of citizens in a hearty "Well done!" As he and his lovely wife go to Pensacola to make their home, the best wishes of Sanford and Seminole County go with them.

But perhaps the finest tribute paid to Captain Ware is the fact that among all in Sanford and Seminole County he won the admiration and respect of the citizens. His contributions to the life of this area will long be remembered by those who even remotely knew him as well as by those among which he was closely associated.

False Economy Can Hurt

For unknown centuries, four colossal statues of Pharaoh Ramesses II, cut from the living rock above the Nile River, gazed serenely across the desert at Abu Simbel near the Egyptian-Sudan border.

Shifting sands buried them and their interior temples for other centuries, until they were rediscovered by a Swiss traveler in 1812.

In a few years, with the completion of the Aswan High Dam, the land will no longer be arid waste. So paradoxically, 3,200 years after they were built, the continued existence of the temples of Abu Simbel is a matter of urgency.

They may be buried again, this time not by sand but the waters of the vast lake—four times larger than Hoover Dam's Lake Mead—which will be created by the dam 200 miles away.

In 1959, the United Arab Republic and the Sudan appealed to UNESCO for help in saving the monuments. Several plans were considered, but it was finally decided to cut them into huge 20 and 30-ton blocks, hoist them to the top of the cliff and reassemble them. Cost of the project was placed at $38 million.

UNESCO launched an international fund drive, which netted $29.4 million in pledges from nearly 80 nations. This included $11.6 million from the U.A.R. and a pledge by President Kennedy of $12 million from the United States, subject to congressional approval.

The U.S. share was to come from some $54 million in so-called counterpart funds—Egyptian money accrued by the U.S. from food sales to the U.A.R. and which can only be spent in Egypt.

The House Appropriations Committee refused to endorse the pledge. Now, in the Senate, there is talk of postponing the matter until next year.

Work has begun on a coffer dam which will hold back the water, already lapping at the feet of the colossal, while the dismantling takes place. The save-the-monuments project is now endangered, not only by delay but by the possibility that other nations may withdraw their pledges should the U.S. renege.

Why save Abu Simbel? John A. Wilson, director of the University of Chicago's Oriental Institute, spoke for more than archeologists when he said:

"Like the pyramids and the sphinx, the temples of Abu Simbel were built for eternity. They have survived conquerors and revolutions—and still have their triumphant message that man goes on . . ."

"We Americans in our consciousness of the future should also be very conscious that the past has spoken about a long and enduring future and has successfully concentrated this message in the temples of Abu Simbel."

It would be most unfortunate if the U.S. Congress, which has often spent money as if there were no tomorrow, deprived future generations of these great relics of an ancient civilization through a fit of meaningless economy.

CASE T-408: Alex Z., aged 45, was a salesman riding in an airport limousine with me recently.

He was talking to another salesman when I boarded the limousine.

"Recently I had a couple of clients visiting me in New York," Alex began.

"So I took them to the Stork Club, figuring they'd be interested in such a publicized spot."

"As I laid a $20 bill on the bar to pay for our drinks, the bartender rang up the amount."

"Then he paused a second and asked me if I wanted to pay for the ash tray my pal had (Nehed from the bar or should I bill it to him.)"

"Well, I hadn't even seen my friend steal the ash tray as souvenir, but the bartender apparently had eyes in the back of his head."

"Then the bartender said he had nice new ash trays, neatly wrapped in individual boxes, which he'd given my client for $3, but he'd prefer to have that used ash tray returned to the bar."

"When we were out on the street, this client who had tried to fish the ash tray said: 'Well, that teaches me a lesson.'"

"I supposed he was just trying to take a souvenir home to his wife, and I imagine a lot of others get caught the same way, else why would the bartender have those new ash trays, already boxed for sale?"

A friend of mine once brought home a baby rattlesnake, much to his wife's shock and horror.

"But it can't hurt," he argued, "for it is just a baby."

But that baby rattlesnake soon grew into a bigger snake

Bruce Bissat -- Ray Cromley Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When the 1964 civil rights bill becomes law, it will be important to watch the effect of its equal employment opportunity provisions on the building trades field.

If there is to be any new "white backlash" in reaction to this legislation, it may show up in northern cities among the more highly skilled craft union workers, particularly the electricians, the plumbers, and perhaps the bricklayers.

It was in these trades that opponents of the civil rights bill found the most vigorous favorable response when they charged that the measure would undermine many specific labor rights now assured by law — including seniority and bargaining privileges.

The AFL-CIO is, of course, totally committed to the equal employment opportunity section. It notes, too, that 111 of its 130 affiliated international unions have no segregated locals of any sort. In the remaining 19 internationals, the federation says only 172 locals practice segregation.

As explained by union spokesmen, the problem of desegregation on jobs bears peculiarly on some of the long established craft unions.

The key point, in the craft workers' view, is that the construction field does not offer the continuity of employment which the average factory worker enjoys. New men — Negroes, Puerto Ricans or whatever — flooding into the building trades job market are thus seen as a far greater threat than in the industrial field.

Except in a relatively few cases where preferential hiring of veteran craftsmen is arranged, no job seniority exists. Hence, if a particular list of job seekers is suddenly swollen by 25 additional men and totals 75 instead of 50, the veteran electrician or plumber sees his work opportunities markedly diluted.

It is this fluidity in the job outlook which evidently most alarms some craft union workers.

There is another, perhaps touchier, aspect: Craft unions have a unity unknown to the big industrial unions.

The craft union is in many ways the center of its members' lives. They are dependent on it for whatever continuity of employment they can manage. They feel a special identity with it.

This produces strong personal associations in many instances. These are reinforced by the fact that much of the highly skilled craft work in construction is performed by small teams working closely together under subcontractors.

This circumstance, say union spokesmen, contributes significantly to the resistance such workers exhibit toward a broad invasion of Negroes or other craft "outsiders."

This resistance is felt, of course, all the way down to union apprentice training programs. Craft union officials insist they do not act from segregationist motives. But segregation seems to be the net effect of their efforts to keep building trades jobs "within the existing family" in the quiet literal sense.

NEGRO LEADERS IN NEW YORK, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago and other large centers find these barriers infuriating. In Philadelphia, for instance, they complain that trade unions are the only real foot-draggers in an otherwise admirable co-operative city effort at massive job retraining.

Soon these problems will be set against a brand new civil rights framework. The troubled craft unions may prove a critical pressure point as the new rules begin to get their test.

When the shoe fits why do so many women take it off and pick a smaller size?

Hard knocks are good for you, says a college professor. Not if it's a bill collector at the door.

Who remembers when a wife had to hide in a bathroom so she could take a few puffs on a cigarette?

In some cases a blank mind and a desk big enough to hold both feet make a big boss.

From what we read, some of the reform schools ought to be reformed.

Maybe parents do have to wait quite a while for youngsters to get dressed for Sunday school, but it's worth it.

Feathers grow only in certain areas of a bird's body. Each kind of bird has its own in which its feathers grow. Only birds and penguins have feathers evenly spread out over all parts of the body.

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Not long ago I saw an advertisement for a new publication titled "A Living Legacy: How to Make a Tape Recording of Your Life Story." Naturally I sent for a copy.

The author and publisher, Lester C. Worden, promised "a kind of immortality" for as little as $33, which is the best offer I've had in months.

It is not, alas, the kind of immortality I would have chosen if I had had a choice. I would have preferred having my statue erected in front of Woody's Cafe in Merkel, Tex., my old home town.

But time is moving on and thus far the folks back home have shown very little inclination to pedestalize my likeness. As things now stand, I will have to settle for any kind of immortality I can get.

Worden's brand calls for a minimum outlay of $30 for a tape recorder and $3 for his book, which was written in the form of a script.

Merely by turning on the machine, picking up the microphone and following the script, people can "tell their story in a form which can be preserved indefinitely and passed on from one generation to another."

According to Worden, those who have tried it "agree that it gives them a sense of fulfillment they never before experienced."

I can hardly wait to get started. I have already acquired a review copy of the book and the only thing presently standing between me and immortality is the price of the tape recorder.

While waiting for $30 to turn up, I have been trying to visualize how my descendants will use the tape.

The scene comes in like this: "Well, I hadn't even seen my friend steal the ash tray as souvenir, but the bartender apparently had eyes in the back of his head."

"Then the bartender said he had nice new ash trays, neatly wrapped in individual boxes, which he'd given my client for $3, but he'd prefer to have that used ash tray returned to the bar."

"When we were out on the street, this client who had tried to fish the ash tray said: 'Well, that teaches me a lesson.'"

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

Received a nice telephone call Monday from Mrs. Harold Kryder who resides on Lake Drive down Caselberry way. Mrs. Kryder wanted to know if more than one entry could be submitted in the University of Florida's Homecoming Skislan Contest.

Cosch John Grijjan of the Orlando Broncos announced that he has decided to get an earlybird start on conditioning players for the '64 season. In fact, the Broncos started Monday. The Broncos have 27 players who weigh more than 200 pounds or better and 18 of them tip the scales at 220 or more. Heaviest man on the squad is tackle Roosevelt Brown. At six-foot-six he weighs in at 280.

Gulfstream Park contributed a seasonal record of 4.8 million plus to the State of Florida from its 1964 racing meeting of 41 days. The previous record, set in 1954, was bettered by more than $150,000.

Seminole High's Booster Club President Ray Harris has announced that a meeting of last year's board of directors and this year's new board will be held at 7:30, Friday night, at the Seminole School Board office on Commercial Avenue. All old and new members of the board are urgently requested to be present.

Floyd Patterson, former heavyweight champion, says he's gunning for another shot at the title next Sunday when he meets ranking contender Eddie Machon in Stockholm. "I consider Machon the chief obstacle in my drive for the title," says Floyd, who also admits the bout is for prestige rather than money because, as he puts it, "I'm a fairly wealthy man."

Floyd also says, "If I can whip Eddie I'm pretty confident I can take the title from Cassius Clay because of my speed and style."

Take it from us, there are boxing fans here and the world over who'd like to see a man of Patterson's calibre back on the heavyweight throne. Seems 999 people out of a thousand heard enough of Cassius within 24 hours after his fluke win over Liston to last a lifetime.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolaki
Why of course it was just yesterday when I said that in four more weeks it'd be time for the 3rd Annual Fire Cracker Special Tournament. Really, wasn't it just yesterday?

My how the time goes by! The above pertains to our column of four weeks ago when we first started talking of this tournament and wouldn't you know it but that time is already upon us.

The qualifying started last Monday and indications are that we're going to have quite a few bowlers in this tournament, sponsored by Bob's Restaurant and Truck Stop and Harold's Spar Service Stations.

Remember, the top 16 qualifiers start the doubles elimination Friday at 9 p.m. Have you rolled your three game qualifying series, yet? In the event we haven't mentioned it before, the public is invited all three days of the eliminations. These dates and times are as follows: Rounds one and two, Friday at 9 p.m.; rounds three and four, Saturday at 7 p.m.; and rounds five through eight Sunday at 2 p.m.

Come on out and cheer for your favorite! Now let's take a quick look at league happenings. In the Friday night Mr. and Mrs. League, Helen Altman was high for the Mrs. with a 183/483 set and newcomer Bob Retalle's 210/587 was good 'nuff to lead the girls. Bob tosses a mighty fine strike ball, I'll tell you. Pat Willis joined the elite group of kegler-sties who've now bowled a 200-plus game in league play. Pat just made it with an even 800 while toiling in the Friday A.M. Navy Wives League. Also just making it into that "charmed circle" was Vern

Sponsors Named For Bowling Tourney

President Phil Roche of the Sanford Men's Bowling Association announced today that two sponsors have been established for the forthcoming special — The Third Annual Firecracker Tournament.

Bob's Restaurant and Truck Stop and Harold's Spar Service Station have been identified as co-sponsors for the double eliminations singles scratch tournament.

There are two divisions with duplicate prizes being awarded in each division. The "A" group will feature bowlers with averages of 170 and over while the "B" Division will cater to those with averages of 160 and under.

The qualifying matches will continue thru July 2 with squads each evening at 7 and 9 P.M. The top 16 qualifiers in each division will begin eliminations Friday and continue through Sunday.

First place will be worth $50 and a trophy to each of the division winners.

'The Monster' Strikes Again As Boston Wins

United Press International There's no relief in sight for the rest of the American League from the "monster" that stalks the Boston bullpen.

The sight of tireless huge Dick Radatz walking to the mound has become as familiar to Bostonians as Fenway Park itself—only much more assuring.

Radatz appeared for the third time in two days Monday night and with the usual results, another Red Sox victory. The huge righthander mowed down the Kansas City Athletics for 2 1/2 innings to preserve a 4-3 decision and collect his 13th save of the year.

The "monster," who worked scoreless relief stints in both ends of Sunday's doubleheader sweep by the Red Sox, now has appeared in five of the last six Boston games and 40 games this season. At this pace, Radatz a 245-pounder is a cinch to shatter the major league record for appearance in one season of 75 by William White of Cincinnati back in 1879.

Baltimore ran its win streak to seven and increased its league lead to 4 1/2 games over the idle Yankees by whipping the Twins 6-3; the White Sox whipped the Indians 5-1 with a 10th inning surge and the Senators stopped the Tigers 5-3 in the only other games.

Rains Wash Out LL and Junior Loop Playoffs

Winners of the opening contests in the Little League city series between the Comets of Hunt Lincoln-Mercury and the Navy and the Junior Boys League playoff between the Shrine and the Elks were rain and wet grounds.

Monday afternoon's gully-washer sent both affairs under the drain.

Weather permitting, the Little League series will get underway tonight at Fort Mellon Park with Hunt meeting the Navy, and the Junior League playoff will start its opening game between the Elks and the Shrine at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

Both tilts are scheduled for 7:30.

Aspromonte Hits Grand Slammer To Nip Phils

By Joe Gergen
UPI Sports Writer

It's a sad day for Bob Aspromonte and the reason is timely.

Today is the last day of June, a month in which the Houston third baseman has enjoyed the biggest boom of his major league career.

Aspromonte put the finishing touches on the month Monday night when he unloaded a grand slam home run in the first inning and helped the Colts rout the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1.

It was Aspromonte's second grand slammer and seventh homer of the month, which may not appear too startling until you realize that Slat, as he is frequently called, never has hit more than 11 home runs in any season.

Philadelphia lost no ground to league-leading San Francisco, however, as the Giants were beaten 4-3 by the Mets on Jesse Gonder's ninth-inning homer. The Dodgers outscored the Pirates 7-4, the Braves battered the Cardinals 7-4 and the Reds clubbed the Cubs 6-1 in other National League games.

Warning Given On Limited Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House Republican task force has raised warning signals about the limited nuclear test ban treaty and its effect on U. S. military superiority over the Russians.

The group in a report Monday attacking the administration's foreign and military policies, said:

"The United States must sustain a full and continuous underground testing program, maintaining on a standby basis a 'readiness to test' program in the three forbidden environments of land, sea and space.

"If we do not, we weaken our chances of maintaining whatever fading nuclear advantage we might now have."

The Republican "task force" on U. S. strategy and strength noted with considerable concern the reliance which the administration is placing on missiles for defense in case of nuclear attack. It commented:

"Significantly, the missile systems to which the administration would trust the entire strategic deterrent were all developed under the Eisenhower administration, without new strategic missile system being added or improved under the current administration, yet it is known that only manned bombers presently have the capability of delivering thermonuclear bomb loads of from 20 to 50 megatons.

"It is doubtful that the United States could refine yield-weight ratios in large thermonuclear weapons to the point where they could be reliably delivered by new manned or unmanned systems under the terms of the limited nuclear test ban treaty."

The GOP legislators said "this becomes a particularly vital matter in view of the known 'hardening' of Soviet strategic strike systems.

"Should the Soviet Union achieve a substantial margin of invulnerability with respect to these systems as a result of a 'nuclear freeze,' the effect would be one of destabilization," they said.

Archeology Pierces Scripture Secrets

NEW YORK (UPI)—Archeology is unlocking some of the most intriguing mysteries of the Scriptures, according to a California professor of religion.

Dr. Jack Finegan, of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, has taken to the air Sundays on NBC-TV's "Frontiers of Faith" program to demonstrate his theory, showing excavation scenes, artifacts and maps illustrating the work of scientists who have thrown new light on obscure passages of the Bible.

"Archeology," says Dr. Finegan, "is like a huge jigsaw puzzle, with a piece of a wall, a fragment of stone, a piece of pottery and an inscription. Put them together and they tell an exact story."

"The Gospel, according to Luke, tells of Jesus' birth and how he grew up. But Joseph, the early historian, Justin Martyr, the Christian philosopher, St. Origen, the Alexandrian scholar, give varying accounts. Some say Jesus was born in a stable; some say in a cave. The job of archeology is to search Biblical accounts, try to find sources of information, explore and excavate."

Free World consumption of nickel in 1963 reached a high of $25 million pounds.

4 Florida Boys Win Medals

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Four brothers whose chance discovery of dynamite averted a railroad catastrophe in Florida were honored today by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

They were among 25 heroes cited by the commission which was established in 1904 by Andrew Carnegie, Pittsburgh steel magnate. Four of the awards were posthumous. A bronze medal went to each of the Hopkins Brothers of Titusville. They are Roger, 18; Ander, 14; Delma, 12, and William, 9.

The boys were walking along a railroad track at Mims, at dusk last Feb. 12 when Ander's foot snagged on a wire. He pulled at the wire and found a dry cell battery. Roger jerked the wires from the battery and he and his brother began searching the area between the tracks. Shouting to the other brothers to help because they knew a train was due in a few minutes, the boys removed 43 sticks of dynamite, each 18 inches long.

A train approached at 60 miles an hour but the boys were unable to flag it down. The boys then told their father of the dynamite and he notified authorities who found and removed one broken and one whole stick of dynamite. There was no damage to the train.

THE SPOTLIGHT will be on "John," nice little barbecuing-sized porker, in the greased pig contest to be held Saturday at the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department's Fourth of July Fiesta. In the photo, Theresa Estes looks on laughingly as Fireman John O'Barr holds the "star attraction" for the snapshot to be made. (Herald Photo)

Miss Faye Karnes attended her sister as maid of honor, and she was attired in a blue jersey sheath featuring blue embroidery and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Carl Major served his son as best man.

The bride's mother was stunning in a burgundy velvet sheath with matching accessories and the groom's mother chose a smart beige linen ensemble with matching accessories.

Following the garden wedding, a reception was held inside with the reception rooms decorated in greenery and silver candelabra adorned with fern and ivy.

Watrous of Dayton, Ohio, were united in holy matrimony on June 19 at the Church of the Nazarene, Sanford, with the Rev. W. A. Soward performing the impressive candlelight and double ring ceremony.

The vows were exchanged under the archway where two candelabra stood with baskets of white glads and palms on either side. Each window contained candles embedded in fern.

Mrs. Joe Morgan, organist, furnished the traditional nuptial music, with Rev. Leslie Holcombe, soloist, singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "That Day of Golden Promise."
