Apartment Set Afire

Woman, 67, Raped And Stabbed

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A 67-year-old South Seminole County woman was stabbed and raped early this morning by an intruder who set her apartment afire before fleeing in satisfactory condition in the Winter Park hospital.

The woman reported that she was awakened by the man at 4:30 a.m. The suspect, who is short, slim, white and had a mustache and a small beard, was standing over the woman with a knife in one hand and a towel in the other.

He ordered her to "Be quiet, or I'll kill you," but the woman began to fight, according to Seminole County sheriff's investigators.

The woman, who was asleep in her Sorrento Apartments home when the assault occurred, in the right breast and as they struggled they fell to the floor between the bed and a window. The fight continued until the man tied the woman's hands with a rope and covered her face with a pillow and blanket, sheriff's investigators said.

The assailant raped the woman, according to authorities. She remained on the floor as the man set furniture afire in the apartment. The man then began to rifle through drawers and the closet, but the woman said she doesn't know if anything was taken.

The intruder ran from the apartment and the woman fled to the nearby apartment of a 57-year-old neighbor woman.

Seminole County fire department personnel arrived on the scene at 5:57 a.m. and a fireman reported to sheriff's investigator Richard Kay, who was next to arrive, that the assailant apparently entered the woman's apartment through a kitchen window, which had been removed and was on the ground.

Two units from the fire department brought the fire under control and the woman was transported to Winter Park Hospital by Herndon Ambulance.

Investigators still gathering evidence at the apartment this morning had not determined the extent of the fire damage.

The victim's neighbor who called authorities to report the assault and the fire said she had heard nothing unusual until the victim showed up at her door asking for help. Investigators discovered that the front window of the second woman's apartment had also been removed and was on the ground, the report said.

Andropov Buried; Bush To Confer With Chernenko

By John Iams

MOSCOW (UPI) — With a final kiss from his widow and a eulogy from the new Soviet leader calling him a "glorious son of the Communist Party," President Yuri Andropov was buried today in Red Square.

The whole nation came to a halt for five minutes of silence as Andropov, the leader of the Soviet Union for just 15 months, was laid to rest in a tiny cemetery reserved for the most revered Soviet heroes.

Andropov, who died Thursday of kidney failure at the age of 69, was buried following a pageantry-filled state and military funeral service led by Konstantin Chernenko, his former rival and successor as Soviet Communist Party leader.

Hundreds of world leaders, including representatives of three royal families, two guerrilla groups, the Vatican and leaders from the East and West.

Chairman Yasser Arafat of the Palestine Liberation Organization returned to Moscow for the Andropov funeral and British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher made her first trip to the Soviet Union for the solemn occasion.

It was Vice President George Bush's second trip to Moscow to deliver a funeral wreath from the United States to a deceased Soviet president. He also attended Leonid Brezhnev's funeral.

Bush Monday bowed his head at the coffin of Soviet President Yuri Andropov and said he hoped "the desire for peace and good relations" would bring the American and Soviet people together.

Bush, head of the U.S. delegation to Andropov's funeral, said he came to Moscow "to symbolize my nation's regard for the people of the Soviet Union and to signify the desire of the United States to continue to work for positive relations between our two countries." The huge floral wreath he brought bore the inscription "from the people of the United States" in Russian. It was carried into the hall by a Soviet honor guard.

Chernenko was scheduled to meet with Bush after the funeral. It will be the highest official contact with a Soviet leader since the vice president met Andropov after the funeral of Brezhnev in November 1982.

Tens of thousands of mourners, some of them weeping, packed Red Square to pay their final respects to Andropov as his coffin was removed from the House of Unions where it had been lying in state for four days. It was placed atop a gun carriage drawn by an armored personnel carrier for the journey to the red marble and granite tomb of Lenin.

Funeral music, including Chopin's "Death March" and Tchaikovsky's "Fifth Symphony," was piped through loudspeakers. A huge portrait of Andropov and huge flower wreaths sent from around the world were carried in the procession.

Across the nation, five minutes of silence were observed by people from all walks of life. In the capital, people on the sidewalks stood motionless while cars, taxis and buses pulled to the side of the road.

"A glorious son of the Communist Party, an outstanding political figure, a person of great soul and kind heart has departed from life," Chernenko said in his eulogy.

"The death of Yuri Andropov has brought deep grief to the hearts of the Soviet people. He devoted all his strength to the cause of the party and the people.

"... Farewell dear friend and comrade, your radiant image will always be with us," said Chernenko, wearing a dark overcoat against the cold and flanked by Defense Minister Dmitri Ustinov and Premier Nikolai Tikhonov.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko also delivered a eulogy, calling Andropov a man of "boundless dedication to the great cause of communism" and a man who "devoted everything he has to serving the people."

Chernenko, speaking in a faltering voice and stumbling over some words, used the occasion to touch on foreign policy and Soviet relations with the United States.

"Yuri Andropov did a good deal to consolidate the international positions of our country, to increase the defense capability and combat might of the country," Chernenko said.

"He did this in the cause of peace. The Soviet Union will continue its policy of peace, a lasting and just peace for all nations, big and small."

In a hint that the Soviets might be prepared to resume nuclear arms talks with the United States, Chernenko said, "We are also reiterating our readiness for talks, but for honest talks on the basis of equality and equal security."

Chernenko and the 11 other members of the ruling Politburo carried the open casket the final steps from its bier in front of Lenin's Tomb to the cemetery between the mausoleum and the Kremlin wall.

Andropov's daughter, Irina, and son, Igor, walked with the casket but Mrs. Andropov nearly collapsed while viewing the body for a final time before the cortege left the House of Unions.

When the procession reached the graveside, Tatiana Andropov, sobbing uncontrollably, was assisted to the casket, leaned forward and kissed her husband on the forehead. Chernenko, 72, who was named Monday to succeed Andropov as Communist Party chief, observed a moment of silence near the casket and then embraced Mrs. Andropov. Sobbing, she stood up and walked toward the casket but almost fell. Two relatives offered support.

The lid was placed on the red and black crepe-draped coffin and it was lowered into the grave as cannons boomed and sirens and whistles blared for three minutes throughout the country.

Andropov was buried in a cemetery with other Soviet luminaries such as Josef Stalin, Brezhnev and Felix Derzhinaky, the first chief of the KGB spy agency.

He was interred about 100 yards away from the only American ever buried inside the Kremlin Wall, journalist John Reed, who covered the 1917 Russian Revolution.

Voting Rights Plaintiffs Want Plurality System

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The voting rights lawsuit brought against the city of Sanford by five black city residents, believed on the verge of settlement with the naming of four polling places by city commissioners for future city elections, seems to be at an impasse again.

Alfred DeLattibeaudiere, one of the plaintiffs in the suit, told the commission Monday night that unless they agree to plurality rather than majority elections, he will instruct the plaintiff's lawyer in the case, David Lipman, to refuse settlement. Lipman could not be reached for comment at his Miami law office today.

"We will not settle for less than plurality elections," DeLattibeaudiere told the commissioners. "It's time for a change."

After the meeting DeLattibeaudiere said he understands the city commission has bowed to the wishes of the plaintiffs for four commissioners to be elected by voters within districts — two this year and two others in 1986 — while the mayor will run at large.

"But I want the one who gets the highest vote to be elected without any runoff," he said.

"If there are three men running for mayor, I want the one who gets the most votes to be elected," DeLattibeaudiere said.

Under the majority system currently used and favored by the commissioners, a candidate could get the highest number of votes yet not be elected if he does not get 50 percent plus one vote of the total number of votes cast.

"We followed your rules and now we want ours," DeLattibeaudiere said.

"What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Despite DeLattibeaudiere's remarks, four city commissioners — David Farr, Eddie Keith, Milton Smith and Ned Yancey — voted unanimously Monday night to stand with its position that candidates for four city commission seats and the mayor's office be elected by majority vote as called for in the city charter with runoff elections if necessary to name the victors. Mayor Lee P. Moore was absent from the meeting.

"Tell the judge we prefer majority," Farr told Colbert after the vote.

The Sanford Commission had already agreed to settle the major issue in the case of creating four districts from which candidates would be elected to the city commission.

Negotiations between City Attorney Bill Colbert and the plaintiffs' attorney, Robert Lipman, over plurality versus majority have been at impasse for weeks. Both attorneys agreed to let U.S. Federal District Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich decide the majority versus plurality issue as well as the amount of attorney fees the city will have to pay Lipman at an April 13 hearing in Tampa.

And city commissioners were told by Colbert that the only issue they had left to decide was the location of the four polling places, one in each of the four districts, for future elections. With at large elections in the past, the city had only one polling place — the civic center.

Lipman suggested two of the polling places — the civic center and Crooms High School. While the city commissioners agreed with the civic center, they preferred the W-siside Recreation Center for the second.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said it is difficult to have a polling place at a school because classes must go on whether an election is being held or not.

For the remaining two districts, the commission selected the city fire station on U.S. Highway 17-92 near Lake Mary Boulevard and a church at 24th Street and Park Avenue.

Billion-Dollar Heathrow Nears Final Approval

Tying up some "loose ends" is all that remains before final approval is given to the $1 billion Heathrow development, one of the most ambitious residential communities in Seminole County history.

Following a county commission workshop session Monday afternoon, Heathrow officials will make a few minor adjustments in their master plan, resubmit it to (county) staff within probably a week, and then it will go before the commission for a public hearing and possibly final OK on Feb. 28, according to County Administrator T. Duncan Rose.

The dual focus of Monday's meeting was transportation and the number of housing units planned for the 1,200-acre development near Lake Mary.

Commissioners generally agreed with a proposal to reduce the number of homes from the originally planned 4,325 to 4,080, Rose said. The reduction would be offset by more commercialization, increasing the number of acres devoted to businesses from 19 to 79, he said.

"That commercial development would include such things as offices, restaurants, boutiques and a grocery store."

Also coming out of the meeting was a commission consensus that a sidewalk should be built on the north side of Lake Mary Boulevard in front of the development to handle pedestrian and bicycle traffic.

While no cost estimate has been prepared, Rose said no county funds would be used. "The Heathrow people would have to foot the bill."

They have already volunteered $10,000 for an area-wide traffic impact study to determine what effect Heathrow will have on traffic flow in the area surrounding the development.

"That kind of study will let the county know if and when we'll need such things as more turn lanes and passing lanes" to handle increasing congestion, Rose said.

To help alleviate anticipated traffic problems, Heathrow officials have agreed to four-lane Lake Mary Boulevard east of the development entrance to Interstate 4 when demand dictates the need for widening, he said.

"We're also looking at a second road study" dealing with the possibility of putting an interchange at I-4 and State Road 46-A, Rose said.

"We're looking at the big picture here, not just the impact of Heathrow. That whole area may be built up and if we can convince the feds that the interchange is needed, they would pay for it," he said.

Rose said he had no idea how much the project would cost, adding that it would probably be 10 years at least before the work is done.

Also to be included in the Heathrow master plan is an agreement to give the county a parcel of land on the corner of Lake Mary Boulevard and Markham Woods Road for a new fire station, and dedication of 45 acres next to the development to be used as the sites for a new middle and elementary school.

Also Monday the county pledged "to make a good faith effort" to place underground all utility lines (electricity, telephone, sewer, cable TV) running in front of the development.

Heathrow officials agreed to meet with residents living near Banana Lake and discuss what changes will be made to the lake during the course of construction. —Britt Smith

NATION IN BRIEF

Woman Who Claimed To Be Anastasia Is Dead

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Anna Anderson, who claimed to be the young daughter of slain Russian Czar Nicholas II, died without the $5 million dowry she tried a lifetime to claim as "Anastasia," the youngest daughter of slain Russian Czar Nicholas II.

Services for Mrs. Manahan, who died Sunday at the age of 82, were scheduled today at the University of Virginia Chapel. Her remains are to be cremated.

Mrs. Manahan's story began July 16, 1918, when the royal family was executed by Bolsheviks during the Russian Revolution. She claimed she escaped the massacre by hiding behind her sister.

Later, she maintained the entire family had escaped and "a double" had fallen in place of the Czar. But she did not reveal how the family escaped.

Her legal attempts to be recognized as Anastasia, the rightful heir to an $85 million dowry she said was in the Bank of England, ended in 1970.

A German court could not rule either way and the case was closed. The bank has never confirmed a dowry was on deposit.

Grooms Should Take Test

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Bridegrooms should shed "traditional macho" concepts by submitting to a sperm-count test, a procedure that could avoid needless contraceptive use by women or surgical sterilizations, a doctor says.

"Some men are sterile yet their wives have been on the birth control pill for nine years because the man was never tested," Dr. Cappy Rothman said Monday at the annual California Medical Association meeting.

In another case cited by Rothman, a woman underwent a sterilization operation, not knowing her husband could never father a child.

"It is time to get away from the traditional macho concept that virility and fertility are one and the same — an idea that convinced the male-dominated society and medical profession to put the entire blame for childless couples on the woman," said Rothman, a specialist on the American Board of Urology.

Rothman suggested a sperm count be required during a premarital medical examination to prevent "such needless tragedies and avoid needless use of sometimes harmful contraceptives."

Venus Volcano Recorded

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — Data from the Pioneer space probe shows the planet Venus had a volcanic eruption in 1978 more powerful than the 1883 Krakatoa explosion in Indonesia that killed more than 36,000 people.

Scientists working at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Ames Laboratory said Monday the eruption on Venus shot sulfur 40 miles high through the planet's dense atmosphere, 100 times thicker than Earth's.

Dr. Larry Esposito of the University of Colorado calculated that the eruption must have had "at least 10 times more energy than any volcanoes on Earth in the last 100 years — much larger in magnitude than even such explosions as the famous 1883 eruption of Krakatoa on Indonesia."

The NASA Pioneer Venus probe also revealed that the surface of the planet was pock-marked by scores of erupting volcanoes.

Port Of Sanford To Negotiate Lease With Marina

A 25-year lease arrangement for an $850,000 combination marina and boat sales and maintenance complex at the Port of Sanford is scheduled for review at Wednesday's Port board of directors meeting.

"We have a few minor changes to make in the lease, but they should be no problem," Port Administrator Dennis Dolgner said.

Construction on Hidden Harbor Marina is expected to begin within the next three months with completion scheduled for spring or early summer, Dolgner said.

Dolgner said the Port will receive a minimum of $15,000 in revenue from the proposed marina complex during the first year.

Planned for Hidden Harbor is 196 boat slips, dry storage accommodations for more than 300 boats, a full ship's store, a maintenance yard and a retail sales area.

Developer Bill McVay, who formerly operated Strictly Sail, a retail sailboat business at the Monroe Harbor Marina, said he plans to relocate that business, which he now operates out of his home, to the new complex.

McVay said Hidden Harbor will attract recreational boaters from the Seminole and Orlando areas who have had to store their vessels in their yards because of a lack of local dock space.

McVay has said he hopes to add a yacht club/recreation and fitness facility at the marina, an addition which would increase the total value of the complex to $1.4 million.

McVay said if the facility is added, it should be completed by mid-1985.

Also Wednesday, Dolgner is expected to report that Moulding Technology, now located at the I-4 Industrial Park west of Sanford, is set to move into the new $200,000 mini-mall building at the Port later this week.

The firm would occupy half of the 16,000-square-foot building under a one-year lease at $2,000 a month. Dolgner said. He added that "prospects are good for tenants for the other half of the building."

The mini-mall became the center of controversy last year when the Port and Lake Monroe Utilities became embroiled in a battle over the placement of water meters at the mini-mall building.

Construction was held up for months until the dispute was resolved. Utility General Manager James L. Hickman argued the meters should be in the right-of-way by the road in front of the Port to ensure easy access. Dolgner claimed that was unnecessary, adding that it would cost the Port about $6,000 to relocate existing meters from their locations adjacent to buildings in the complex.

Port board members are also scheduled Wednesday to hear a report on the latest legal efforts to obtain materials and equipment from the Richwood Manufacturing Co. which failed late last year.

Dolgner said the firm went "back to work" about $10,000 in back rent.

"We want to get what we can and sell it in order to recoup some of our losses," he said.

Richwood had been at the Port about a year before going bankrupt, Dolgner said.

Woman Charged After Parking Lot Fracas

An Altamonte Springs woman who allegedly fought and cursed a Seminole County sheriff's deputy after the officer arrested the woman's boyfriend, who was allegedly assaulting the woman when the deputy spotted the pair in the parking lot of Seminole Plaza, is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The woman was charged with battery on a deputy and resisting arrest with violence at 1:40 a.m. Tuesday. The deputy reported that the woman became violent as her boyfriend was being driven by another deputy from the shopping center at State Road 436 and U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry.

Deputy Martin Linnekoegle said he approached the pair after he saw the man drag the screaming woman across the parking lot, throw her on the hood of a car and attempt to rip her blouse off, a sheriff's report said.

The officer, who was in plain clothes and an unmarked car identified himself as a lawman and charged Philippe Robert Watrin, 25, of 2120 Maitland Circle, Winter Park, with disorderly conduct at 1:10 a.m. Tuesday.

As a back-up deputy was attempting to transport the man to jail the woman allegedly attempted to free him from the patrol car.

Linnekoegle remained at the shopping center with the woman when the man was on his way to jail and she allegedly threw clothes at the officer and punched him in the mouth with her flat and ran across the parking lot screaming obscenities.

A Casselberry policeman helped the deputy capture and subdue the woman, who continued to kick and scream as she was transported to jail, the report said.

Carolyn Ann Stohler, 23, of 769 Wymore Road #2, Altamonte Springs, is scheduled to appear in court at 1:30 p.m. today.

Watrin posted a $100 bond and was released from the Seminole County jail.

CHILD ASSAULT

An Orlando man who turned himself in to the Seminole County sheriff's department to face a charge of lewd and lascivious assault on a minor is being held in the Seminole County Jail in lieu of $8,000 bond.

The suspect surrendered after he learned that a witness had filed a complaint with the sheriff's department saying that he had fondled and had sex with a 6-year-old girl on Feb. 5.

No details of the incident were given in the sheriff's report on the man's arrest and the child was identified only by age.

Norris DeLand Cothron, 47, was arrested at 10:45 a.m. Saturday.

SHOT SELF

Charlie T. Sanders, 67, of 109 Mercury St., Altamonte Springs, reported that he accidentally shot himself in the back of his left leg when he knocked a .22-caliber revolver from the seat of his bus and the gun discharged.

The accident occurred at 9:37 a.m. Saturday, and Sanders, a fruit picker, said he had just carried the gun from his home and placed it on the seat of the bus when he turned with a cup of coffee in his hand and accidentally knocked the gun to the floor.

Sanders' wound was treated at Florida Hospital/Altamonte, a sheriff's report said.

The pair was arrested by a Sanford police officer after they continued to threaten and scuffle with each other when the officer tried to break up the fight at the man's house at about 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

The man and woman allegedly kicked the officer when she tried to break up the fight. The suspects were subdue and handcuffed and before the man was taken to jail he was treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital for a knife cut, allegedly inflicted by the woman suspect.

MILK THEIF

A man who ran from the Winn Dixie on First Street, Sanford, after allegedly drinking a carton of milk he didn't pay for ran into more trouble when he was tackled by a Sanford police officer on Third Street at Sanford Avenue.

A Maryland man reported that two Yamaha motorcycles with a combined value of $4,200 were stolen from the driveway of a friend at 1340 Delaney St., Longwood.

Jim H. Getson, 19, reported that his motorcycles, which were 1982 and '83 models, disappeared sometime Saturday or Sunday, a sheriff's report said.

Druze Claim Plane Downed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A U.S. destroyer and two Lebanese warjets fired on Moslem rebels today as the militiamen launched a major mountain offensive to improve supply routes into Beirut, military officials said.

The USS Claude V. Ricketts, a guided-missile destroyer stationed off the Lebanese coast, opened rounds from its 5-inch guns at Druze rebel positions in mountains east of the capital at the "request of the Lebanese forces," a U.S. Marine spokesman said. Two U.S. F-14 jets also flew over the area, he said.

The Marine peace-keeping base at Beirut International Airport later came under mortar fire and the Marines fired back with 38 rounds of 81mm mortar fire to silence the "hostile position," the Marine spokesman said.

The Druze who are fighting the Christian-dominated government of President Amin Gemayel, claimed they captured a mountain village from the Lebanese army and shot down one Hawker Hunter warplane, trying to prevent their advance.

Teacher Assaulted, Robbed By Students

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI) — A 17-year-old student has been charged with assaulting a McArthur High School teacher with a pair of bolt cutters and then robbing her as she sat alone in her classroom, police said today.

Josephine Powell, 52, of Fort Lauderdale was treated at a Fort Lauderdale hospital and released with 15 stitches after she was struck in the back of the head Monday.

Police said she was robbed of four gold chains and charms.

An unidentified 17-year-old senior at the school was arrested late Monday and charged with armed robbery and burglary, officers said. He was held today at the Broward County Juvenile Detention Center in Fort Lauderdale.

"I was hurt that someone would do this to me because I would not do it to them," said Ms. Powell, who has taught at McArthur for 20 years. "I am also shocked. Everybody is shocked. This just doesn't happen at our school."

Police said Ms. Powell did not know her attackers, who left the bleeding teacher sitting at her desk pleading for help.

The robbery occurred as Ms. Powell, who teaches health and paramedical sciences, sat working in a portable classroom, police said.

The two suspects entered the classroom and one of the youths started asking Ms. Powell questions. Police said the second teen walked behind the teacher and struck her in the back of the head with a pair of bolt cutters.

Britons Rejoice Over Royal Pregnancy

LONDON (UPI) — Britons rejoiced today over news that Princess Diana and Prince Charles are expecting a second baby and London-bear-makers said the new addition to the royal family would probably be a girl.

"I think it's absolutely marvelous," a guard at Buckingham Palace said of the news that Princess Diana, 22, is expecting her second child in late September.

"It's lovely, just lovely. She's lovely," one Englishwoman said.

"I think it's smashing," said another. "She ought to have six or eight. They can afford it."

Champagne corks popped in pubs all around London as Britons celebrated what one woman said was "finally a bit of good news."

The announcement Monday by Buckingham Palace ended months of speculation over when the princess would get pregnant again.

Saudis Issue Warning

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Warning there is "despair of a solution" to the clashes wracking Beirut, Saudi Arabia said Monday Lebanon was "not for President Gemayel alone" and urged the warring factions to end the crisis.

The Saudi warning, broadcast by official Saudi radio, followed a report that its mediator Rafik Hariri returned empty handed from a weekend of talks with faction leaders.

Syrian Defense Minister Mustapha Tlas, in an interview published in Austria, said Damascus would agree to U.N. peace-keeping forces replacing the multinational force in Beirut if Lebanon abrogates its May 17 accord with Israel and all Israeli troops withdraw.

In Washington, where President Reagan met with Jordan's King Hussein, White House spokesman Larry Speakes indicated the United States would not object if Gemayel chooses to abrogate the treaty — which calls for withdrawal of Israeli troops in exchange for normalizing relations.

Israel has warned it would disregard Lebanese sovereignty and act unilaterally to protect its northern border if the accord is abrogated.

Rebels Down Helicopter

By United Press International

U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels shot down a Soviet-made helicopter in a surprise attack in southeastern Nicaragua that killed 10 men aboard the aircraft and 27 Nicaraguan soldiers on the ground, the guerrillas said Monday.

In El Salvador, the administrative council of the University of El Salvador, which has been closed down since 1980, charged upcoming presidential balloting would only serve to continue a "long chain of unpopular governments."

The Nicaraguan defense minister said his country would pursue peace negotiations with neighbors and the United States, but was preparing to defend itself at the same time against a possible U.S. invasion.

Challenger Worked On; Air Force Scrubs Mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI) — Technicians at the Kennedy Space Center will have to replace about 50 heat-shielding tiles to get shuttle Challenger shipshape for its return to orbit in April.

Along with the tiles, two cockpit windshields and a set of brakes will have to be replaced, NASA officials said Monday. The brakes were destroyed during Challenger's landing Saturday at the ocean-side spaceport.

Meanwhile, the Air Force has canceled a space shuttle mission for the second time because of problems with a satellite rocket that failed last April.

The Air Force cancellation leaves a four-man NASA shuttle crew without a mission for the second time.

Thomas Mattingly, Loren Shriver, Ellison Onizuka and James Buchli originally were to have flown the Air Force mission last fall before it was canceled because of the rocket troubles. It was rescheduled for July, and Mattingly's crew again was assigned to it.

Gun Had Hair Trigger Pull

MIAMI (UPI) — A firearms designer and expert says the trigger mechanism of a revolver policeman Luis Alvarez used to kill a black man in a ghetto video game room was modified to make it much easier to fire and increase its "deadliness."

But Harry H. Seifried II of Madison, Conn., who undergoes cross-examination today, said the trigger pull of Alvarez' .38 caliber police special was still within the factory's minimum specifications.

The Cuban-born Alvarez, 24, is on trial for manslaughter in the killing of Nevell Johnson Jr., 20, on Dec. 28, 1982. The shooting triggered three days of racial rioting that left another man dead and 28 injured.

Ford Makes Comeback

By Micheline Maynard
UPI Auto Writer

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. achieved the best one-year improvement in U.S. corporate history when it followed a $658 million loss in 1982 with a record $1.87 billion profit in 1983 — a $2.5 billion turnaround.

The 1983 results reported Monday were higher than analysts had expected. The results mean a $69 million profit sharing payout for 158,000 American workers, both hourly and salaried, who each will receive $440. Another $83 million was paid into the executive bonus fund.

Union leaders hailed the performance, but noted the workers' checks will be far less than million-dollar bonuses top executives may receive.

"These and other matters will certainly be subjects of bargaining when we enter negotiations with Ford this summer," said UAW Vice President Stephen Yokich.

Ford's profit follows by one week General Motors Corp.'s announcement of a record $3.7 billion profit for 1983. Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. report earnings next week.

The $1.87 billion profit for Ford translates to $10.29 a share, compared with a loss of $658 million or $3.64 a share in 1982. The profit surpasses the old annual profit mark of $1.67 billion, set in 1977. Ford lost $1 billion in 1981 and $1.5 billion in 1980.

"This achievement was made possible by a combination of higher industry sales, a strong reception of our new cars and trucks, and the cumulative effect of several years of productivity improvements and restructuring actions," Ford Chairman Philip Caldwell said.

Ford set a quarterly profit record in the fourth quarter on earnings of $781 million or $4.28 a share, up $1 billion from a loss of $236 million or $1.30 a share in 1982. The old record was $594.8 million, set in the first quarter of 1979.

Worldwide dollar sales of Ford products totaled $44.5 billion in 1983, up 20 percent from 1982.

Caldwell said, Ford reported a profit of $351 million on international operations, down $109 million from 1982.

The reduction in this traditionally strong area for Ford was due to foreign exchange rates, the cost of introducing the new Sierra model in Europe and Ford's plant closing costs.

Ford said its share of the U.S. car market was 17.2 percent, up 0.3 percent from a year ago. Net income in the U.S. was $1.5 billion in 1983, compared to a loss of $1.1 billion a year ago.

Payments from Ford's profit sharing plan will be made in March. GM's profit had triggered a $322 million payout to its 531,000 U.S. employees, who will get around $640 each.

About 6,200 executives will share the $83 million bonus fund, the first payments in three years. Caldwell would not speculate on his bonus, but observers predicted it will be close to the $1 million GM Chairman Roger Smith is likely to get.

Competition For Health Students

The regional competition of the Health Occupation Students of America (HOSA) will be held for high school student members of 11 Central Florida counties at the Seminole Community College Wednesday.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. at SCC's Fine Arts Auditorium.

Counties represented by high school students will be Seminole, Orange, Flagler, Volusia, Lake, Brevard, Osceola, Madison, Sumter, Hernando and Citrus.

Clubs from three Seminole high schools — Lake Brantley, Lake Mary and Lyman — will participate.

Both individual and team activities are scheduled. Individual events include dental and medical spelling, dental and medical terminology, health displays, medical laboratory assistant, nursing assistant, practical nursing, speaking and job seeking skills. Team events consist of a community awareness project on a health related issue, basic first aid, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, parliamentary procedure and brain bowl.

The first, second and third place winners of the individual events and the first place team of team events will advance to state competition to be held in Miami on March 25-28. Winners of the state contest will advance to the national competition in Orlando in June.

Last year there were eight Seminole County students who competed at the state level and a Lake Brantley student won first place at the national competition in job-seeking skills.

Several Defendants Have Their Charges Dropped

The following people have had cases against them in circuit court dropped for various reasons:

—Alvin Johnson, 28, of Orlando, arrested Sept. 21 by the Altamonte Springs police, had charges of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon and possession of a controlled substance dismissed because of insufficient evidence. The arresting officer could not be located, according to the state attorney. A charge of failing to produce a driver license was dismissed and a charge of running a red light transferred to traffic court.

—Roy Barrett, 44, of 2360 Dollar Way, Sanford, had a charge of aggravated battery dropped because of insufficient evidence. He was arrested Nov.

24 by a deputy sheriff after allegedly engaging in a butcher knife fight with a neighbor. During the struggle, Barrett stabbed himself in the chest and was transported to the Central Florida Regional Hospital. He was later taken to the Seminole County jail.

—Gary Steven Moore, 32, of Orlando, charged with possession of a stolen motor vehicle and possession of stolen checks. He was arrested Dec. 10 by the Casselberry police. The state attorney filed a notice of no information and said the office was not going to prosecute.

—Dennis Michael Hennessey, 20, of 51 E. 1st St., Chuluota, had a charge of dealing in stolen firearms dismissed. He was arrested Jan. 4 by a sheriff's deputy. The state attorney filed a notice of no information and said the office was not going to prosecute.

—Horace Cain Jr., 28, of 901 W. 13th St., Sanford, had charges of carrying a concealed firearm and possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana dropped because of an insufficient amount of admissible evidence. Other charges stemming from his Jan. 20 arrest — sale or delivery of a controlled substance, possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana, and a second count of carrying a concealed firearm — were continued to a March 2 arraignment date.

—Randy William Lemus, 19, of 1430 Sundance, Casselberry, arrested Sept. 18 by the Altamonte Springs police for aggravated battery, will not be prosecuted. The state attorney said the office was not going to file the case.

—Betty Shirley Miller, 46, of 426 Oak St., Osteen, arrested Dec. 9 by a sheriff's deputy for aggravated assault with a pool cue. The state attorney said the case will not be prosecuted because the victim wants the case dropped.

Weapons Taken In House Break-In

A Sanford man told police someone broke into his home taking several items including five guns.

Charles Gustin, 35, of 2809 S. French Ave., told police that sometime between 2 p.m. Saturday and 11:15 a.m. Sunday, someone entered his home by prying a jalouse window and stole $1,360 worth of property.

According to the police report, the weapons missing were a .357-caliber 6-inch Magnum handgun valued at $250; a made-in-Brazil snub-nose .38-caliber revolver valued at $150; a .22-caliber nine-shot clip handgun priced at $150; a Marlin .22-caliber bolt-action rifle with seven-shot clip worth $100; and a Marlin 12-gauge automatic shotgun appraised at $150. Also taken was a $400 outboard motor and a $160 leather jacket.

He received a $1,000 fine, permanent suspension of his driver's license, 10 days in the county jail to be served on weekends, and be required to go to three Alcoholics Anonymous meetings. A Chance For Salvador

The Kissinger Commission made no more telling point about U.S. options in Central America than its summary of the choices Washington faces in El Salvador.

Said the commission's report: "There might be an argument for doing nothing to help the government of El Salvador. There might be an argument for doing a great deal more. There is, however, no logical argument for giving some aid but not enough. The worst possible thing for El Salvador would be to provide just enough aid to keep the war going, but too little to wage it successfully."

That last sentence, of course, describes precisely what the United States is now doing, thanks largely to congressional cuts in the Reagan administration's military aid requests for the Salvadorans.

Tiny El Salvador's armed forces lack the size, training and equipment needed to defeat a communist insurgency being backed by Soviet allies, Cuba and Nicaragua. Yet, the level of U.S. military aid to El Salvador, has never been adequate to make up these crippling deficiencies. Worse, military aid levels are actually declining (from $82 million in 1982 to $64.8 million this year).

The bipartisan Kissinger Commission did not recommend a specific amount of U.S. military aid for El Salvador, but it did urge "significantly increased levels of military aid as quickly as possible." President Reagan has translated this into a request for $179 million more this year (via a supplementary appropriation) and $133 million for the 1985 fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1.

This relative pittance — the administration's proposed budget for fiscal 1985 is $925 billion — could nonetheless make a vast difference in El Salvador.

It could, for example, double the number of El Salvador's helicopters (currently 19, of which only about half are operational on any given day). It could finance the long overdue expansion of the 24,000-man army by 50 percent or more. It could improve medical services enough to give Salvadoran soldiers something less than a one-in-three chance of dying if they are wounded in battle. And it could buy enough ammunition to permit government troops to wage a more aggressive fight without worrying about whether munition stocks are sufficient for an emergency.

In other words, it could give El Salvador's democratically elected government a fighting chance to win its war against the totalitarian left. The Kissinger Commission succinctly identified the two alternatives to this policy of victory. The first would abandon El Salvador altogether as a hopeless cause. The second would continue to provide inadequate levels of aid.

Abandoning the Salvadorans would only guarantee a guerrilla victory followed by imposition of a Cuban-style dictatorship in El Salvador. Few in Congress would vote for that. But many are voting for inadequate aid: a sterile policy of half measures that can end only in defeat.

Some liberals in Congress imagine that they are promoting a "political solution" and thus voting for peace by keeping Salvadoran forces on a short aid string. In fact, they are prolonging the bloodshed and effectively pushing the Salvadoran government toward an eventual and fatal accommodation with a communist guerrilla movement.

The Kissinger Commission's report would have offered clearer guidance on El Salvador had it called explicitly for a policy of victory over the guerrillas. Unless the guerrillas are defeated and the war ended, there can be little hope for reform and democracy in El Salvador. Similarly, the commission muted its message by disagreeing over whether and how American aid should be tied to further political reforms in El Salvador and to government suppression of rightist death squads.

But on one vital point, the commission said what needed to be said. Half measures in El Salvador are self-defeating. If Washington is going to send aid, let that aid be sufficient to get the job done, and not simply prolong the agony.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Pop, what's your secret for living through so many interminable election campaigns?"

By Jane Casselberry

If you think romance is dead, obviously you haven't tried to brave the crush around the card counters lately to choose a Valentine for your sweetheart, spouse (or assorted relatives or friends.)

Valentines range from the reproductions of the old-fashioned hearts, flowers and lace variety to the contemporary sexy ones. For your "punny" valentine, there are the ones like the one with a drawing of long-legged bird standing on the back of a sheep with the message inside: "I'm stork on ewe."

This is also a busy time for florists, because most men still regard the traditional flowers as a romantic way to please their lady fair.

Commercialized like everything else, how did this holiday for lovers get its start?

The story of Valentine's Day begins in the third century with an oppressive Roman emperor and a humble Christian martyr. Back then when sports fans turned out for Super Bowl I, the score was Lions 20, Christians 0. The emperor was Claudius II and the Christian was Valentinus.

Claudius had ordered all Romans to worship 12 gods, and he made it a crime punishable by death to associate with Christians. But Valentinus was dedicated to the ideals of Christ and not even the threat of death could keep him from practicing his beliefs. He was arrested and imprisoned.

As the story goes, a remarkable thing happened during the last weeks of Valentinus' life. Seeing that he was a man of learning, the jailer asked whether his daughter, Julia, might be brought to Valentinus for lessons. She had been blind since birth, Julia was a pretty young girl with a quick mind. Valentinus read stories of Rome's history to her. He described the world of nature to her. He taught her arithmetic and told her about God. She saw the world through his eyes, trusted in his wisdom, and found comfort in his quiet strength.

"Valentinus, does God really hear our prayers?" Julia said one day.

"Yes, my child. He hears each one," he replied.

"Do you know what I pray for every morning and every night?" she asked. "I pray that I might see. I want so much to see everything you have told me about."

"God knows what is best for us if we will only believe in Him," Valentinus said.

"Oh, Valentinus, I do believe," Julia said, as she knelt and grasped his hand. As they sat quietly praying, the legend says there was a brilliant light in the prison cell. Radiant, Julia screamed, "Valentinus, I can see! I can see!"

"Praise be to God," Valentinus exclaimed, and he knelt in prayer.

On the eve of his death, Valentinus wrote a last note to Julia, urging her to stay close to God, and he signed it, "From your Valentine." His sentence was carried out the next day, Feb. 14, 270 AD, near a gate that was later named Porta Valentinus in his memory. He was buried at what is now the Church of Praxedes in Rome. It is said Julia herself planted a pink-blossomed almond tree near his grave.

Today the almond tree remains a symbol of ~~adoration~~ love and friendship. On each Feb. 14, St. Valentine's Day, messages of affection, love and devotion are exchanged around the world.

Glenn's Burn Out ...

Suddenly a political opportunity is opening to the second tier of Democratic candidates as a consequence of the collapse of the Glenn campaign. This is how Glenn crashed.

As a national hero, Glenn began his quest for the presidency with tremendous name recognition. He would position himself slightly to the right of Walter Mondale and offer the Democrats an "electable," "mainstream" candidate against Reagan.

In the initial punching and counterpunching, Glenn depicted Mondale as a spender and as weak on national defense. Mondale called Glenn a closet Republican who had voted for tax cuts and nerve gas.

Glenn's argument that he, not Mondale, is electable collapsed before polls showing him trailing Mondale by 30 points, and both of them behind Reagan by 10 or more.

Glenn's organization, and that is hardly the right word, is not of national caliber. NASA organized his space flight, but he organized his presidential campaign, and it is crashing in flames somewhere between Iowa and New Hampshire.

In Democratic primaries, the "issue oriented" activists have disproportionate weight, and are to the left of the party as a whole. Glenn is fuzzy on the issues and does not provide ideological titillation, which is why many of these activists are in politics in the first place.

A hero candidate like Eisenhower could campaign on a "trust me" basis, but Glenn is not a hero of that magnitude, and whereas Eisenhower was charismatic, Glenn tends to be boring.

He has probably been hurt by the movie The Right Stuff, which pushed his astronaut phase into the foreground. He had to counteract that image by taking thoughtful stands on the issues and convincing the voters that he is a statesman and not a capsule jockey. He didn't.

In the New Hampshire primary, Glenn is now being challenged for second place by none other than the Rev. Jesse Jackson, both polling at around 18 percent. That's 30 points behind Mondale.

But the crash of the Glenn candidacy will open up new opportunities for others, if they can seize them.

Aware of the burn-out, Glenn's staff has been preparing some tough attacks on Mondale for TV, and testing them on small "focus groups" of voters. They're not working. Glenn is supposed to be a nice guy, not a street fighter.

But, with Glenn's imminent exit, what next?

El Salvador Chief Has Secret Account

WASHINGTON — The provisional president of El Salvador, Alvaro Magana, has control of a special bank account that dispenses millions of dollars a year without proper audit. I've seen canceled checks from the account, which sources say is used as a slush fund to reward Magana's political cronies.

There's a good possibility that the money in the secret Salvadoran treasury account comes originally from U.S. aid to El Salvador. U.S. officials have complained that the auditing system set up to keep track of aid funds ranges from negligible to poor.

The Salvadoran sources who smuggled the documents concerning the president's secret bank account to my associate Dale Van Atta risked their lives to do so. The documents included copies of actual vouchers and checks — totaling more than $1 million — paid out of the account, which is known simply as "198."

The 58-year-old Magana is an astute political operator and a respected economist educated at the University of Chicago. For 17 years before he was named president in April 1982, Magana headed Banco Hipotecario, El Salvador's

WILLIAM RUSHER

And Divided We Fall

NEW YORK (NEA) — The transfer of our Marines in Beirut to offshore troop transports will go far toward defusing their presence in Lebanon as a political issue. But the way in which congressional Democrats have played with this whole subject raises anew how long the American people can afford to go on electing Republican presidents and then giving the Democrats control of one or both Houses of Congress.

It probably strikes many voters as amusing, or even shrewd, to distribute the Constitution's already carefully balanced powers to diametrically opposed political parties. ("They can't do us as much harm if they're paralyzing each other, right?")

But this primitive analysis overlooks some important facts. A president, after all, is elected to lead this country for four years. In order to do that effectively, he must surely be allowed, at least within reason, to lay down the policies he wants to pursue, designate the administrators who are to carry them out, and obtain from Congress the necessary appropriations. The party "out of power" is entitled, and indeed expected, to oppose his policies, look critically on his appointments and resist appropriations aimed at effectuating his programs — again, within reason. In parliamentary democracies such as Britain, where control of the executive branch depends squarely on possession of a majority in the legislature, this state of affairs is automatic.

But consider what has happened recently in the United States. Of the 19 Congresses elected since the end of World War II, 10 have been controlled in whole or in part by a political party hostile to the incumbent president. This is obviously highly inconvenient for the president (though he is likely to minimize the problem as long as possible). But it is almost equally, albeit less obviously, inconvenient for the other party. It cannot abandon its basic constitutional role as the vigilant opposition, yet the voters have given it the power to insist on actual participation in the formulation of policies.

The result, as one might expect, has been near-paralysis on any issue big enough and controversial enough to require a united effort by both the president and the Congress. The classic example is Social Security: a "killer issue" for any politician careless enough to let himself get depicted as hostile to the elderly, yet festooned with promises no future administration could possibly keep. When President Reagan dared to propose a minor reform, Tip O'Neill and his Democrats swiftly made political hay at his expense. Mr. Reagan finally resolved Social Security's basic problem (temporarily) by the strictly extra-constitutional technique of appointing a bipartisan commission to hammer out a set of recommendations. It took a similar commission to save the MX missile. These were acts of high statesmanship — but also declarations of pro tanto bankruptcy, so far as concerns America's orthodox but divided (and therefore paralyzed) political processes.

The situation is even worse in the field of foreign policy. It used to be taken for granted in this country that "politics stops at the water's edge" — meaning, in practice, that Congress (and even, for many purposes, the courts) left foreign policy strictly to the White House and the State Department. All that came to an end in the final stages of the Vietnam War. A Democratic Congress pulled the plug on further aid to South Vietnam despite the appeals of a Republican president — and down the drain went South Vietnam, along with the old theory that politics stops at the water's edge.

Since then, and especially when Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties, Congress has deemed its duty to jerk the president around on matters of foreign policy. Any commitment of U.S. troops abroad must now end within 90 days unless Congress approves a longer stay.

ROBERT WALTERS

It's A Well Oiled Machine

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (NEA) — With primary elections soon to be held throughout the country, the eight contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination increasingly are becoming the focus of public attention.

But a ninth major candidate also is seeking the presidency — and his powerful political organization has fashioned a campaign operation which already is a model of planning and execution.

His name is Ronald Wilson Reagan. Although he enjoys a wide range of benefits which accrue only to incumbent presidents, his 1984 re-election campaign is awesome even when measured against traditional White House standards.

Everything is elaborately orchestrated and occurs precisely on schedule. There are no surprises because nothing is left to chance. The entire environment in which the president operates is thoroughly controlled by his staff.

The White House provided a preview of Reagan's re-election campaign when the president recently visited this city to address a Nevada Republican fundraising luncheon which attracted more than 550 guests at $500 apiece.

The state and local GOP organizations, which shared the gross proceeds of more than $250,000, provided seemingly unlimited amounts of wine to their guests. Otherwise they kept expenses to a minimum by dispensing to each guest a lunch of five asparagus spears, two cherry tomatoes and two pieces of cold roast beef.

"There can be no pictures taken when the president is speaking or eating," the crowd was admonished before Reagan arrived. Entertainer Wayne Newton, a Las Vegas fixture, was recruited to lead the audience in a day-late rendition of "Happy Birthday."

A choir was on hand to sing all three verses of the national anthem (two of which are very seldom heard) and a band offered the audience its version of everything from the fight song of the University of Nevada at Las Vegas to "Happy Days are Here Again."

The event was held in an airplane hangar in a remote corner of McCarran International Airport here. The dreary building was freshly painted for the occasion and festooned with hundreds of yards of red, white and blue bunting.

Reagan arrived on time, paid homage to the state and local Republican leaders present and then launched into a campaign speech which has been so carefully distilled that its single-spaced typewritten text almost exactly filled two sides of a single sheet of legal-size paper.

largest mortgage bank.

In fact, it was his longtime practice of giving interest-free loans to Salvadoran military officers that won him the army's support for the presidency. During the heat of the debate two years ago, political enemies on the far right denounced Magana as "the biggest thief in El Salvador."

The interest-free loans to selected officers — some of whom were not expected to repay even the principal — have been defended by Salvadorans as a shrewd political move. The financial favors supposedly enabled the officers to resist bribes and payoffs that would have put them under the thumb of the Salvadoran oligarchy.

Perhaps Magana's pay-outs from the secret slush fund can be explained with the same benign justification. But attempts to reach the Salvadoran president through the embassy in Washington and a high official in San Salvador were unsuccessful.

The vouchers are irritatingly vague in their description of the purpose for the disbursement: "Una comision de orden politica, autorizada por el señor Presidente de la Republica" — that is, a commission of a political nature authorized by the president.

An embassy spokesman acknowledged that the account number on the checks Magana signed — 150-52-101-11-101-001-198 — was a Salvadoran treasury account number. He suggested that it was being used for a multi-party commission set up in August 1982. But at least $720,000 had been paid out of the account before then.

I don't have copies of all the checks drawn on the "198" account. But the first check, for roughly $240,000, was dated May 26, 1982, only a month after Magana became president. Sources say that at least one check per month in the same amount was issued throughout 1982 and 1983, which would bring the total for that one vague purpose to nearly $5 million. And these were not the only checks drawn on the mysterious account.

My sources claim Magana acknowledged to a confidant that he was part of the venerable Salvadoran tradition of pervasive corruption. He assured his friend that his own money was safely salted away in England.

A few million bucks here and there might not seem like much to Americans contemplating a federal budget approaching $1 trillion. But El Salvador is a poor country, with an annual budget of less than $1 billion.

FEUD OF THE WEEK: The Department of Energy and the Federal Emergency Management Administration have squared off in a classic bureaucratic struggle spelled m-o-n-e-y.

The fight involves FEMA's attempts to expand its paper empire in the disaster planning area by taking over the evaluation of security and emergency-response plans at DOE nuclear weapons plants. DOE considers this an unwarranted power grab by a bunch of unqualified buttlinicks.

"We do not feel that they (FEMA) have the resources or needs to evaluate our facilities' operational and/or response plans," sniffs an internal memo to Washington from DOE's top-secret weapons factory at Oak Ridge, Tenn. The memo then adds disdainfully that FEMA's ability "to evaluate and coordinate all federal agencies in all types of emergencies is questionable."

The memo finally gets to the heart of the matter: If FEMA is allowed to poke its nose into DOE facilities, "sufficient funds will need to be designated...."

In And Around Longwood

Chamber Of Commerce Moving To New Office

Effective March 1, the Longwood/Winter Springs Chamber of Commerce will have a new home base for conducting business.

Chamber president David Chacey has announced that the chamber will be moving to quarters in a brand new office building on County Road 427, just north of State Road 434. At the present the chamber is housed in the Longwood Village Inn.

Upon learning that the chamber had to vacate, Dick Tickal, president of Florida Homecrafters, offered to donate space in his new building. The office will give the chamber 800 sq. feet in which to conduct business.

Monthly general meetings of the chamber will continue to be held at the Quality Inn North, Interstate 4 and State Road 434, the fourth Monday of each month for lunch at noon.

The South Seminole Garden Club will meet on Monday, Feb. 20, 1:00 p.m., at the Longwood Woman's Club clubhouse, 150 West Church St.

Bob Hicks of Contemporary Gardens, Fern Park, will speak on "Flowering Plants — New Varieties for Florida." In light of the recent cold snap, many plants will need to be replaced, so the club has invited any area resident who would like to see some new species of plants.

Hostesses for this month's meeting will be Florence Hannah, chairman, Jayne Attali and Gloria Jones.

Today, Valentine's Day, members of the South Seminole Garden Club visited the Longwood Health Care Center to celebrate the day and also supply birthday cake to any resident of the center who has a birthday this month.

Each month the club members go to the center and bring a little cheer to the residents. Celebrations usually include birthday cake, punch, love and sing-a-longs.

The Sabal Point Woman's Club will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 21, at the Sabal Point Elementary School.

According to Michele Mohn, club members have planned a "White-Elephant Social." Each member will bring along a "white elephant" bric-a-brac to be used as the prizes in a swap-game. Fun and good times are promised. Refreshments will be served.

On Feb. 10, the Longwood Elementary School hosted its first Science Festival. Blue ribbons were awarded to the winners of each grade level. The event was open to the public.

February is also Dental Health Month at the school and Mrs. Arcy, clinic aide, has co-ordinated some special activities for the students including a visit to the third graders by local dentist Dr. Spencer.

More school news: the following students have won second place in their grade level competitions against students from other schools at a recent County Math Festival, held at Lake Mary Elementary School.

Second grade winner was Linthone Phongsangvane, third grade winner was Mike Akerson, and fourth grade winner was Doan Vang.

Sixty-five of the school's other students earned participation certificates during the festival. Three third graders won ribbons in the Martin Luther King poster contest sponsored by the University of Central Florida. Shanzee Lee won a first place ribbon plus a free meal at the House of Beef. Donald Poelking and Kelly Jonda both took second place ribbons.

Spaghetti Dinner

Delores Lash, from left, Emy Bill, Pat Foster and Ann Brisson set the pace for the fourth annual spaghetti dinner sponsored by the Woman's Club of Sanford to be held Friday, Feb. 24, from 5 to 8 p.m., at the clubhouse, 305 S. Oak Ave. For information, call Vivian Buck, chairman. Carry-out service is available.

Clubwomen Reflect: 'Let Me Call You Sweetheart'

The theme of the February luncheon meeting of the Woman's Club of Sanford might well have been, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Cupids and hearts decorated the clubhouse to remind members it was time to think about valentines for loved ones.

Mary Louise Tillis enlightened members on the origin of Valentine's Day. Tina Joseph led the singing of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Following the business meeting, conducted by president Pat Foster, and the catered luncheon, Betty Jack introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Dee Harvey, assistant principal at Lake Mary High School.

Mrs. Harvey's topic was, "What's Right with Education." She firmly believes that much is right in today's educational system.

According to Mrs. Harvey, students are being taught a great variety of the skills necessary to live successfully in today's world. Among these skills are: basic academic skills, an appreciation of cultural heritages, cooperation with others and an appreciation of freedom and its responsibilities.

She believes students are acquiring a strong set of values, and suggested that perhaps the most valuable thing provided by schools is intellectual stimulation.

Children, she noted, are being prepared for the changes coming in the future. Mrs. Harvey concluded by quoting Emerson who said, "The future belongs to those who prepare for it." In her opinion, today's students are being prepared.

Show Some Form Of Love On St. Valentine's Day

DEAR READERS: Can you believe it's St. Valentine's Day again? Well, it is, so here's my updated annual message:

Be a sweetheart, call someone who's lonely and say, "I'm thinking of you." Or better yet, say, "I'm coming over to take you to lunch ... or to run some errands ... or to give you a ride." Visit someone in a nursing home or a prison. Say a prayer. Donate some blood. Adopt a pet. Will your eyes, your kidneys and all your usable organs to someone who can use them after you're gone. Quit smoking. Listen to your teenager. Write a fan letter. Tell your parents you think they're great. Pay your doctor. Spay your dog. Neuter your cat. Forgive an enemy. Register to vote. Hug a child. Listen to a bore. Send a donation to the Salvation Army. Care or to the charity of your choice.

If you love someone, tell him or her now; don't wait until next Valentine's Day to be a sweetheart again.

Dear Abby

Abby, this woman my dad is marrying has been married before (she's a widow) and is not in need of any more jewelry. Is Dad wrong? Or are we? Whose ring is it?

MAD AT DAD

DEAR MAD: You say that your mother promised the ring to your sister unless your dad needed to sell it for financial reasons, so since your dad did not sell it, the ring "belongs" to your sister, which is what I would tell your dad were he to ask me.

However, he didn't ask me; you did. So my advice to you is to forget it unless you want to take your father to court for breaking a verbal contract, which I think is unthinkable.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 29-year-old married woman (no children) and do not have a job outside my home. My husband and I are very happy with our lives and we have an excellent relationship.

When I meet people for the first time, they usually ask, "And what do you do?"

I don't want to say, "I'm just a housewife." And I don't want to say, "I don't do anything," because actually I do a lot of cooking, cleaning, shopping, laundry and entertaining. I make a nice comfortable home for my husband and myself.

Abby, do you know of some witty comeback?

AT A LOSS FOR WORDS

DEAR AT: Don't say, "I'm just a housewife." Say proudly, "I hate to brag, but I'm a housewife."

Richard Hollands' love affair with cars dates back to his childhood days hanging around his mechanic father's garage in Corning, N.Y. He and his brother, Frank, first learned to work on cars as young boys caring for the kidsize model made for them by their dad, Lloyd.

That tender loving care still shows as they repair and restore vehicles brought into Richard's own TLC Custom Body Shop and Garage in Sanford. Richard has worked for 19 years in painting, body work and mechanical repairs and he's not afraid to take on tough jobs. He works on both foreign and domestic cars, both newer and older models.

If you have an older car that you think is too bad to fix, come see Richard. The shop is located at 3416 1/2 S. Orlando Ave., (behind Strip-Ease), where you'll see several cars progressing at the same time.

Vintage Mustangs, GTOs, VW bugs, and vans—to name a few—some towed in as empty hulks, but when they leave they roll out as beautifully restored cars.

"We specialize in rust work and fabricating our own parts," Richard said. When he replaces rusty metal, he doesn't just fill in holes, he replaces it with metal.

Richard says one feature he offers is a two-step painting process that is actually a five-year no-wax finish. "You can't get this on a new car," he said "you have to repaint it." He said the paint will resist bugs, tar, chipping and solvents.

Richard also has a unique call back system. He wants customers to bring their vehicles in every six months for a check-up. If problems arise or materials don't hold up as they should, he'll make things right.

That's all a part of the high quality service TLC delivers. No job is too big or too small for the staff there. He works together with insurance companies and customers to save them money wherever possible.

TLC is also equipped to handle mechanical repairs as well.

Richard would be glad to discuss any automobile problems you may have by appointment only. Just call him at 321-0149. Free written estimates are made on all work to be performed at TLC.

So come in and see what TLC can do for you car.

Phyllis Ruby, proprietress, sits in Willow Wood living room

It's All In The 'Family' At Willow Wood Center

Senior citizens in the Sanford area, who value their independence, but for various reasons are no longer able to live alone and are not ready for a nursing home, now have a pleasant alternative in the Willow Wood Adult Center.

Located at 2430 Willow Ave., Sanford, Willow Wood is licensed by the state as an adult congregate living facility. Dwayne and Phyllis Ruby opened the center three months ago after completely remodeling and expanding the house to make room for 10 retired adults.

The Rubys, who came to the Orlando area four years ago from Iowa, decided to open Willow Wood, as a "good thing to do for their own retirement years, to help others."

Willow Wood is an independent group of senior citizens living and sharing a household together in a relaxed home-like atmosphere, free of institutional restraints. A live-in staff, along with other help, keeps house, prepares meals, and necessary transportation such as trips to the doctor, bank, shopping, church, and beauty parlor.

Three well balanced and nutritional meals are served each day. Personal wash, including linens and towels (which are furnished) is done for residents.

Rooms are cleaned and maintained. Medication is supervised, as per doctors orders if they, their families, or physician so desire.

Transportation is furnished for local doctor visits within five miles without charge. Other transportation is furnished for a nominal fee, upon staff availability.

There are no requirements other than that the resident must be ambulatory and able to care for their own person, have a doctor of their choice, and a person with power of attorney or someone on their checking account. Everyone is free to come and go as they please. There are no fees, front money or binding contracts.

The first month's contribution is due the day of entry and each month thereafter on that date. This nominal contribution covers all costs with the exception of personal and medical expenses.

If you or a family member would like to become a part of this group of independent, self-respecting, non-related individuals, living as a family, and would like to learn more about Willow Wood feel free to call 323-5138 or stop in for a personal visit. You are welcome at any time.

Lyman's Alyson Barnes, right, and Lake Brantley's Pam Anderson keep their concentration on the ball during the District 3 championship game Saturday. Lyman, 19-0, won and will play in the Region 2 title game today at 4 p.m.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

7 p.m. Spruce Creek (7) at Lake Howell (1)
7 p.m. Seminole (8) at Lyman (4)
7 p.m. Mainland (6) at Lake Brantley (2)
7 p.m. DeLand (5) at Lake Mary (3)

MONDAY'S RESULTS

Seminole 1, Apopka 0

Matt Hibbard scored the game's lone goal on an assist from Matt Albert and Tim Dycus made the defensive play of the game in the waning moments of play as Seminole claimed a 1-0 victory over Apopka's Blue Darters Monday night in the opening round of the District 4A-9 soccer tournament at Seminole High.

Seminole now advances to tonight's first round match at 7 against Lyman's fourth-seeded Greyhounds at Lyman High. In other first round games tonight, top-seeded Lake Howell hosts Spruce Creek, third-seeded Lake Mary hosts DeLand and second-seeded Lake Brantley entertains Mainland.

On Thursday, the Seminole-Lyman winner takes on the Lake Howell-Spruce Creek winner and the Lake Mary-DeLand survivor takes on the winner of the Mainland-Lake Brantley match. The surviving, highest-seeded team always has the home-field advantage. The finals will be Saturday at 7 p.m.

Hibbard broke the scoreless tie with eight minutes remaining in the first half as he received a cross from Albert and slipped the ball in past the Apopka goal keeper.

Neither team seriously threatened to score again until Apopka made a last-ditch effort to tie the match in the final minute of play. Todd Brinker broke into the open with 40 seconds left and Seminole goal keeper Rob Cohen came out to try and stop him.

Brinker's shot skidded underneath Cohen and started to roll toward the open goal. That's when Dycus stepped in. The senior defender got to the ball just in time to make the game-winning save for the Seminoles.

"It was a very well played game," Seminole coach Howard Hawkins said. "We finally showed some bench strength. Some of our reserves came off the bench and did an excellent job tonight."

Seminole had to go to its bench Monday night after losing two starters, defender Mark Disque who was out due to an injury and forward Robert Dufoury who was out due to the flu.

The Tribe's defense came up with a tremendous effort Monday led by Dycus, Scott Taylor, Stan Bacon and John Frederick. Cohen had another good match as he came up with 17 saves.

Although Seminole came away with a victory Monday, only its second of the season, the Tribe would have to win three straight games over highly favored foes to win the district crown. Seminole must first upset Lyman, which upended the Tribe, 2-0, the last time the two teams met.

Lake Mary, meanwhile, takes on one of the hottest team in the area in DeLand. Despite a 4-1 victory over the Bulldogs earlier this year, Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle is wary. "DeLand is playing better than anybody in the conference right now," he said. "They have a very strong defensive team and are very physical. We'll have to be on our game to beat them."

The Rams, though, have been on their game as they posted their second upset of powerhouse Seabreeze last week. "DeLand and us are two of the hottest teams around," said McCorkle. "It should be a great game."

Lyman Girls Seek Region Title Against St. Edwards

While the boys' soccer teams battle on the home front, Lyman's powerful Lady Greyhounds take their 19-0 record to Vero Beach where they will battle Vero Beach St. Edwards for the Region 2 championship at 4 p.m.

Coach Cathie Well's girls captured the District 3 crown Saturday when they blanked Lake Brantley, 6-0, as keeper Lisa Chapman and defender Berniethy turned in excellent defensive efforts.

In just the program's second season, Lyman has put together a solid defensive team and an explosive offensive machine headed by Sheila Mandy, Alyson Barnes, Dawn Boyesen and Berniethy.

Lyman, which has already beaten St. Edwards earlier this year, will host the Section 1 tournament if it conquers the Vero Beach school again. A victory would set up the section battle Friday between the Lady Greyhounds and the winner of the Section 1 Orange Park-Gainesville Buchholz winner.

Lyman athletic director Ed Buckner said the game would be played at Lyman at 7 or 8 p.m. Another victory Friday would push the Lady Greyhounds into the state tournament. The site would be determined by Florida High School Activities Association executive director Fred Rozelle.

Lyman may have a chance to host that tournament, too, because of its proximity. — Chris Flister

Glass Towers Topple Lake Brantley, 86-56

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary's senior twin towers, Laura and Peggy Glass, playing in their last regular season home game, combined for 45 points Monday night to lift the Lady Rams to a 86-56 rout of Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots in Five Star Conference basketball action on "Parents Night" at Lake Mary High.

Peggy (number 23) poured in a game-high 23 points while Laura (number 22) added 22 points and a game-high 10 rebounds. Courtney Hall tossed in 13 points and added nine rebounds for Lake Mary which ended the regular season with an eight-game winning streak, a 19-7 record overall and 12-0 in the conference.

Michelle Brown led Lake Brantley with 22 points, including 12 of 17 from the free throw line and Linda Nunez added 13.

The Lady Rams will be the fourth seed in Thursday's first round of the District 4A-9 Tournament. Lake Mary will host Lyman Thursday night at 7. Lake Brantley, 7-16 overall and 4-14 in the conference, travels to DeLand Thursday to take on the third-seeded Lady Bulldogs.

"It's a nice way to end the regular season," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said of the Lady Rams victory. "I think we have as good a shot as anybody in the districts if we can get past the first round. I hope our experience will pay off."

The "Glass Towers" dominated the inside from the outset Monday night. They combined for 13 of Lake Mary's 15 first-quarter points as the Rams built a 15-5 lead. Lake Brantley's only hope of staying close was its outside shooting. However, the Lady Patriots hit just 2 of 14 shots from the floor in the first quarter.

The Lady Patriots started to battle back in the second quarter as Angie May hit one of two free throws to cut Lake Mary's lead to eight, 18-10. Nunez then came up with a steal and dropped in a layup to bring Brantley within six, 18-12, but the Glass twins continued to dominate and the Lady Rams outscored Lake Brantley, 19-7, the remainder of the second quarter to take a 18-point lead, 37-19, at halftime. Both Laura and Peggy Glass had 15 points in the first half.

In other Five Star Conference action Monday, Seminole coach Ron Merthle gave Dieidre Hillery, Mona Benton and Maxine Campbell the night off but the Lady Seminoles still lit up the scoreboard in a 77-27 rout of Apopka at Seminole High.

Eighth-ranked Seminole, the Five Star conference champions, ended the regular season with a 23-4 overall record and 17-1 in the conference. Seminole, the top seed in the district tourney will host either Apopka or Spruce Creek in Thursday's first round game at 7 p.m.

Andell Smith led three Lady Seminoles in double figures with a career-high 26 points. The junior guard also handed out eight assists and came up with 10 steals. Sharon Jenkins added a career-high 18 points and Catherine Anderson tossed in 17 points and pulled down 15 rebounds.

In Five Star Conference action at Daytona Beach, Tammy Johnson pumped in 23 points and Christy Scott added a season-high 22 points and a game-high 16 rebounds as Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks upended Mainland's Lady Bucks, 79-69.

Scott's 16 rebounds puts the Lake Howell senior over the 1,000 rebound mark for her career. She now has 1,011 rebounds in her career which ranks among the best all-time board totals in the nation.

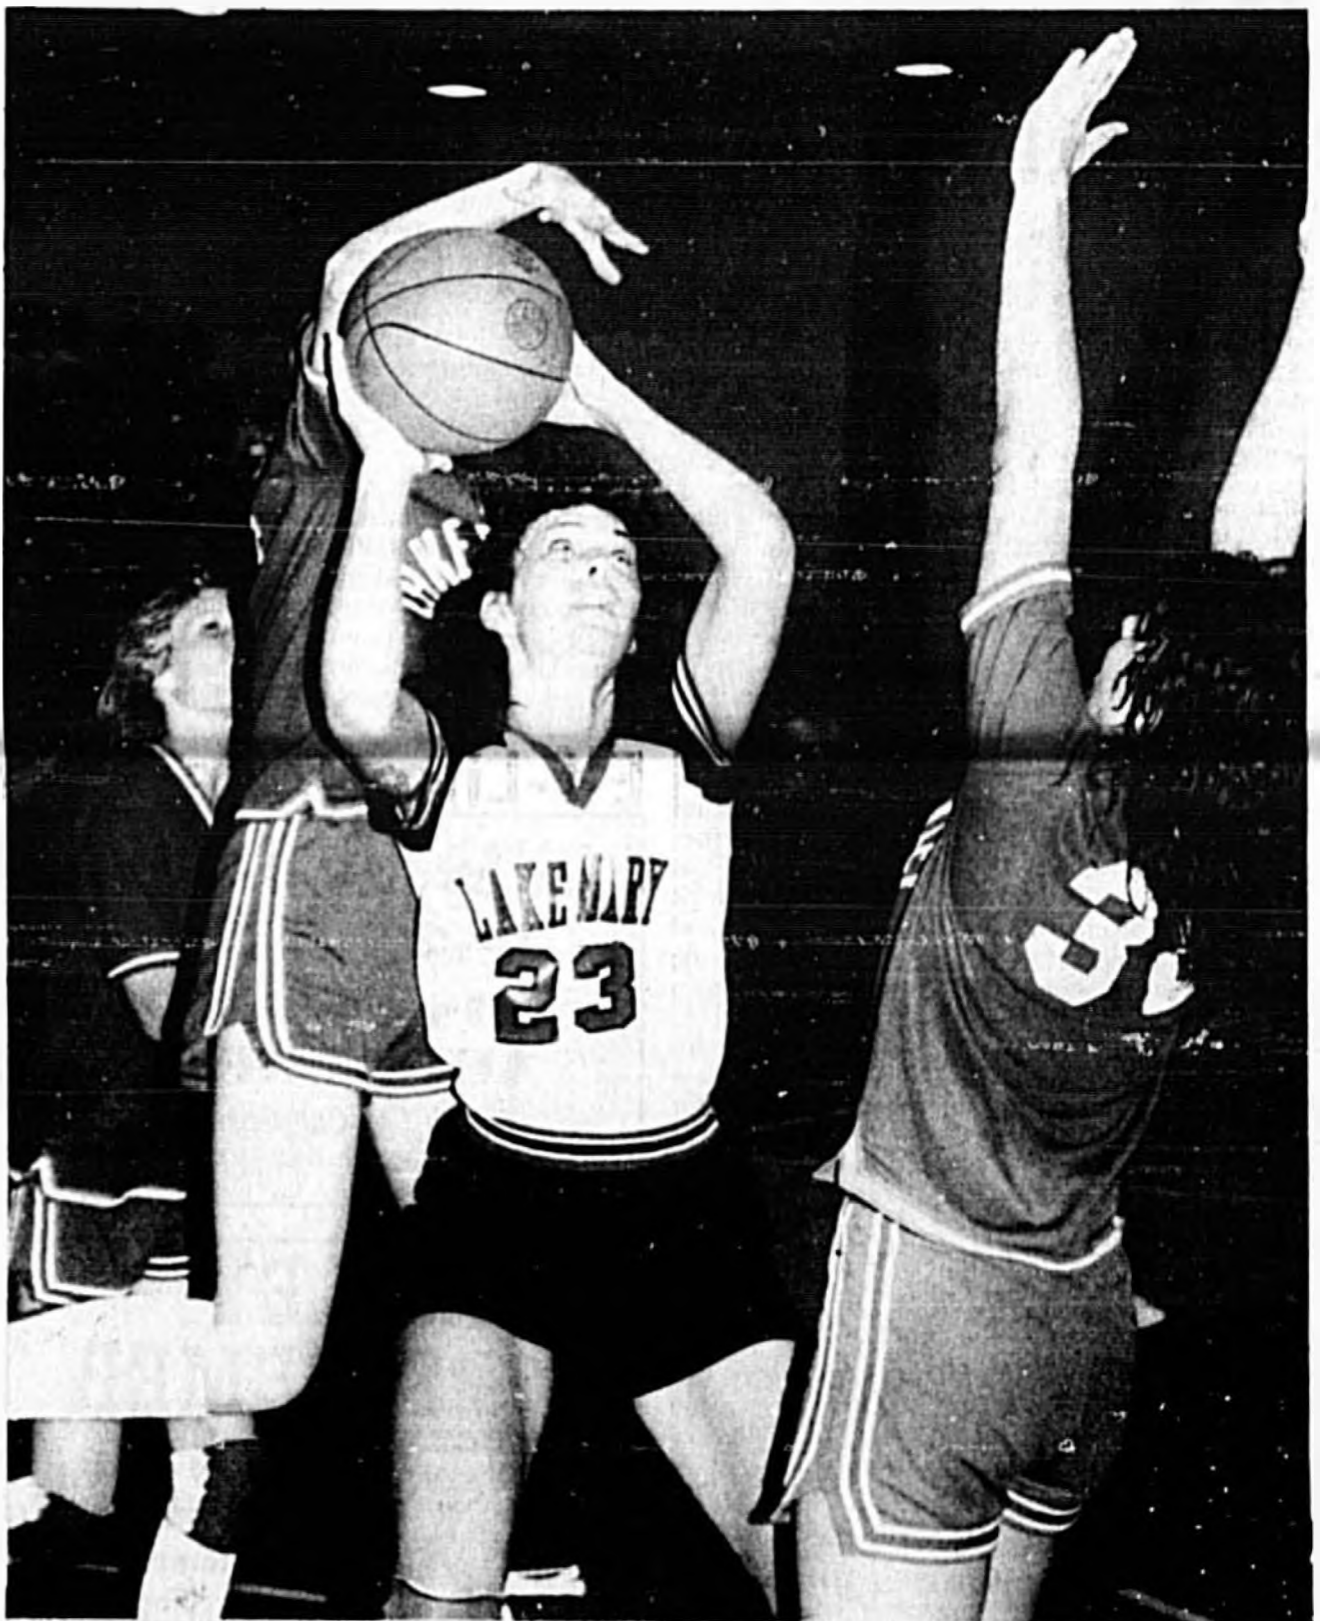

Scott needs 12 more rebounds to surpass Clifton, Arizona's Toni Navarrete for ninth place on the all-time list. She has a good chance of doing it Thursday and an excellent chance of doing it if the Lady Hawks make it past the first round of the district tourney.

Lake Howell ended the regular season with a 19-8 record overall and 13-5 in the conference. The Lady Hawks will host Mainland on Thursday in the first round of the district tourney.

The Lady Hawks built a 12-point lead, 42-30, at halftime and Mainland could only come as close as seven points in the second half.

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — In the lone boys' cage game Monday night, Lake Mary's Rams dropped their 11th game in 23 starts when they lost a tight 73-70 setback to the New Smyrna Beach Barracudas.

Despite four players in double figures, Lake Mary lost for the second time to New Smyrna Beach. The Barracudas also upended Lake Mary in the season opener.

Donald Grayson continued to have a hot hand for the Rams as he poured in 18 points. Billy Dunn (17), Darryl Merthle (16) and Fred Miller (11) joined Grayson in double figures.

The game was originally scheduled for this Thursday at Lake Mary, but had to be changed because the Lady Rams won a host position in the District 4A-9 basketball tournament.

SCC Cagers Are A Fine Sedative

Every year about this time I write a column imploring people to come to Seminole Community College basketball games. I cite the good record, the excitement, the court-side antics of coach Bill Payne and other various reasons one should attend.

This year, I'm going to try something different. As most of you know, basketball is a pretty dull sport. There are all those boring last-second shots and sleep-inducing slam dunks.

Take SCC for example. If the Raiders were any good, would they average 100 fans per outing? Of course not. Anyone knows that when a team has a 20-9 record and is fighting for first place in its conference, tickets are as scarce as Cabbage Patch dolls.

I can see you already. If for some strange reason you were wandering aimlessly Wednesday and looked upon the SCC Health Center as any port in the storm, this is what you might see.

There you are with a 10th row seat, muscling the guy next to you out of the way and spilling popcorn all over the nice blonde in front of you.

But we're not here for romance are we? We're here to get some sleep. Take a couple hits of Delvin Everett and you'll be dreaming in no time. Everett, SCC's springy forward, has been known to sail up by the rafters on occasion, majestically descend and slam one through the twine. You start to yawn immediately.

Next comes Luis Phelps. He's a real rim buster. He's about 6-6 and pretty strong. Last year, he would always try to pull down the rim and backboard a la Darryl Dawkins on his dunks.

The referees, however, didn't see the humor in it and would slap a technical on him. After "Big Lu" made the all-state team, though, the refs stopped messing with him. Now, he can tear down anything he wants. I can already see a guy sleeping behind the scorer's table.

If you're still awake, then guard Jimmy Payton will have you yawning in no time. He's an all-starter this year and probably the most valuable Raider. Payton's big problem is that he hardly ever misses. When he shoots, you don't have to look, just rest your head a couple seconds, it will go in. Payton also abuses his body, too. He draws two or three charging fouls a game. Of course, this could be sleep-inducing, too. The sight of anybody lying down causes heavy lids.

No doubt about it, you would have to be crazy to go to the SCC-Florida Junior College basketball game Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. So what if it's for first place? Who cares? Certainly no one past the players and the 100 or so diehards.

Take my advice, if you're having trouble sleeping at night, SCC basketball is for you.

Lyman Rebuilds Around Livernois

Derek Livernois fires one of his high hard fastballs. The Lyman junior throws close to 90 miles per hour.

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Regardless of the level — professional, college or high school — pitching is the name of the game in baseball. With that being the case, Lyman High baseball coach Bob McCullough has to be pretty confident whenever he hands the ball to Derek Livernois.

Livernois has a smashing success in his first varsity season. He won five of seven decisions. He struck out 93 batters in 61 2/3 innings and he had a county-leading earned run average of 0.75. That zero-point-75 was in less than one run per seven innings. His fastball has been clocked in the high 80s.

That's a nice start. But the wealth of talent that surrounded Livernois is pretty much gone. Catcher Mike Sawyer and pitcher Jeff Barefoot are playing at Seminole Community College. Outfielder Tom Perkins is at Valencia Community College. Todd Marriott went to VCC, but quit. All-Conference second baseman Tom Gibbons tried out at the University of Central Florida and was cut. Outfielder Mike Stewart went off to Yale to play football. First baseman Steve Lorenz hung up his spikes.

Prep Baseball Preview

That's seven starters departed. Fortunately for McCullough, coach Ron Baker's senior varsity was one of the Greyhounds' best. Couple returns, should make the Greyhounds a contender in the Five Star Conference race.

McCullough will get his first look at his 'Hounds tonight at 7 when they take on Edgewater at the Lyman field. Livernois, of course, will pitch the season opener.

McCullough feels he has some young talent to back him up. "We should be strong up the middle," he said. "Our pitching should be fair behind Derek, but our weakness might be hitting."

Junior Mike Henley assume the "tools of ignorance." The solid, 6-0, 175-pounder is making the move from the outfield last year, but catching should be no problem. He was a catcher on the JVs two years ago.

First base will be manned by junior Clint Baker. He is a left-handed hitter and has a good glove around the bag. Second base is occupied by Robby Robinson while senior Greg Lorenz, a third baseman last year, moves to shortstop. Senior Steve Hutsell will handle third base. The outfield has an excellent hitter, junior Paul Alegre, in right. The powerful lefty was over .300 most of last year before falling off. Senior John Drinkwater is in center while Kentucky transfer Tim Volt takes care of left.

When Livernois isn't hurling, he will play third base. When Alegre isn't playing right field, he will pitch. Sophomore Byron Overstreet is the third starter and Hutsell in the fourth man in the pen. Baker will also throw when he recovers from a sore arm.

The dual use of players is a departure from the usual "McCullough Logic." "Well, we've had more depth in past years," said the veteran skipper. "But Derek and Paul will have to prove they can do both or pitching will come first."

Infield depth comes from junior first baseman John Elwood, junior second sacker Tony Dellamotta, junior shortstop Rodney Frye, junior leftfielder Chris [name] and senior center fielder Jody Foster. Jim Odom, a junior outfielder, will serve as the designated hitter. Craig Meyer, a junior, will back up Henley behind the

Murphy's 21 Points Trip FSU; 'Cats Nip Gators

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Freshman Ronnie Murphy scored 21 points Monday night to lift Jacksonville to a 56-47 upset of Florida State.

Murphy, major college basketball's second leading freshman scorer, pumped in 15 points in the second half as Jacksonville raised its record to 11-12.

Florida State, 13-7, led 27-21 at the half and was in command at the start of the second half. The Seminoles, who last week upset Louisville, received 10 points in six minutes from center Alton Lee Gipson, who finished with 21.

Jacksonville trailed 39-29 with 12:52 remaining before Murphy keyed an 11-1 burst over a five-minute span to put the Dolphins on top 42-40. The Dolphins relied on free throws down the stretch as the Seminoles tried to regain control.

The Dolphins' Ken Nadaskay added 11 points.

Kentucky.....67
Florida.....65

Kentucky began the game against Florida Monday night looking for revenge and ended the contest fighting for survival.

The Wildcats needed a layup by James Blackmon and a free throw by Dicky Beal within the final two minutes to eke out a 67-65 victory over the Gators at Lexington, Ky.

The victory avenged an earlier loss to the Gators in Gainesville, Fla., and moved Kentucky to 19-3 overall and 10-3 in the Southeastern Conference standings. Florida fell to 12-9 and 7-5.

The win kept the Wildcats one and one-half games ahead of runnerup Auburn in the SEC race and two games in front of third-place Louisiana State.

Auburn beat Vanderbilt 73-67 in other SEC action Monday night while Alabama beat Tennessee 72-66 and Georgia trounced Mississippi State 69-45. No games are scheduled for tonight.

Florida made it a battle all the way in Rupp Arena, jumping to a 10-4 lead and holding on for a 34-32 halftime advantage.

The Gators held consistent 4-point leads in the second half before Kentucky rallied down the stretch to win.

Melvin Turpin led the Wildcats with 15 points while Ronnie Williams was high man for the Gators with 22 points.

Charles Barkley led Auburn to its victory over the Commodores, scoring 22 points, half of them in the last nine minutes. He also had three assists, one blocked shot, one steal and was the game's leading rebounder with nine.

Phil Cox led all scorers with 24 points for Vanderbilt, which fell to 11-11 overall and 6-7 in the SEC.

Virginia Tech.....76
Louisville.....74

These Cardinals are some strange birds. They are clearly one of the country's most gifted teams — with muscle underneath, thoroughbreds in the backcourt and three Final Four appearances in the last four years.

But Louisville has this problem of late. It can't win.

The latest setback came Monday night in Blacksburg, Va., where Virginia Tech sent the flight of the Cardinals further off course with a 76-74 Metro Conference victory.

Louisville has lost three of its last four with its record at 16-8. The Cardinals entered the game ranked 15th in the nation but have since tumbled from the Top 20.

Perry Young hit for 24 points and Dell Curry 23 to carry Virginia Tech. The Hokies, 17-7, also good work from Bobby Beecher with 16 points and 4 steals and steady work on the boards by Keith Colbert.

"It got really nerve-racking near the end," said Virginia Tech coach Charles Molr. "And for a while it looked like our last game at Louisville (Tech lost 83-79 in overtime). This time, however, we managed to make five clutch free throws near the end."

Louisville rallied to tie it 72-72 with 1:01 left on Manuel Forrest's 3-point play. But Charles Jones committed two fouls and Perry Young and Curry converted at the line to make it 76-72. Milt Wagner's layup with 21 seconds to go pulled the Cardinals to 76-74, but Louisville came no closer.

Lancaster Gordon had 25 points for the Cardinals. Wagner added 15 and Jones pulled down 14 rebounds.

"I thought we played great just because we came back from 13," said Louisville coach Denny Crum. "We just did not do the things we needed to do near the end. Blacksburg is a tough place to play but it's never easy to beat Tech."

American Men Can't Follow Female Lead

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (UPI) — The American men's Alpine ski team once again failed to follow the example of its female counterpart, finishing well off the gold medal pace of Switzerland's Max Julen in the giant slalom today at the Winter Olympics.

On a Valentine's Day after Debbie Armstrong and Christin Cooper became America's instant sweethearts with a gold and silver in the women's giant slalom, Phil Mahre, the World Cup champion, finished eighth and twin brother Steve was 17th.

Jurij Franko earned host country Yugoslavia's first Winter Olympic medal ever with a silver and Andreas Wenzel of Liechtenstein took the bronze.

The British duo of Jayne Torvill and Christopher Dean were expected to provide one of the high points of the Winter Games later in the day with their incomparable world championship ice dancing presentation.

Torvill and Dean are virtually certain to take the gold, leaving Americans Judy Blumberg and Michael Seibert with a shot at the bronze.

Nick Thometz of Minnetonka, Minn., who finished fifth in the men's 500 meters speedskating, narrowly missed a medal in the 1,000 meters, winding up fourth behind Gaetan Boucher of Canada, who won the gold. Sergei Khlebnikov of the Soviet Union won the silver and Kai Arne Engelstad of Norway won the bronze.

Eirik Kvallous of Norway won the gold in the 10-kilometer biathlon. Peter Angerer of West Germany won the silver and Matthias Jacob of East Germany won the bronze. Bill Carow of Rutland, Vt. finished 20th.

Armstrong's victory Monday was only the fifth alpine gold medal and the first in 12 years for the United States in Olympic history, and all have gone to women. Of the total 16 medals taken by Americans in alpine events, only three belong to the men.

Elf-Like Skier Armstrong Fulfills Ultimate Dream

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Only minutes before, elf-like 20-year-old Debbie Armstrong had conquered mighty Jahorina, one of the steepest, most beautiful mountains in all of Yugoslavia.

Completely surrounded six deep and hopelessly encircled the way Custer must have been, the curly blonde, blue-eyed Seattle skier was on top of the world now, yet she couldn't move an inch.

If she did, she risked being crushed by the surging mass of humanity around her. She was struggling to keep from slipping on the uneven, icy snow beneath her, yet she still answered all the questions fired at her by the media. She wasn't going to miss so much as a second of all this because it assuredly had to be one of the fulfilling moments of her young life.

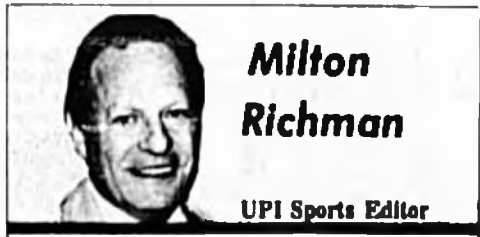

As a class B member or second-stringer on the United States Ski Team, and the "baby" of the group in terms of seniority, she had made her very first major victory one that she and many others would always remember and talk about by not only winning the women's giant slalom but the first gold medal for the United States in these Olympic Games as well.

Armstrong took a lot of the heat off America's male Olympians, who haven't done a whole lot more here than go shopping and take pictures. Until Debbie came through, the only medal the United States had to show was a silver one in the pairs figure skating won by Kitty and Peter Carruthers.

What made Armstrong's victory all the sweeter was that her 24-year-old teammate, Christin Cooper of Sun Valley, Idaho, picked up the silver medal for second place in the giant slalom, and Tamara McKinney of Squaw Valley, Calif., barely missed making it an entirely unexpected 1-2-3 sweep for the Americans by finishing fourth, only four-tenths of a second behind the third place finisher, France's Perrine Pelen.

Armstrong's combined time for her two runs was 2:20.98; Cooper's 2:21.38, and McKinney's 2:21.83. The fourth U.S. girl in the race, Cindy Nelson of Reno, Nev., wound up way back in 18th place with her 2:24.88 clocking, but she might've made the biggest and most important contribution of all. She's Armstrong's roommate in the Olympic Village and she never let up on her before the competition.

"Cindy Nelson has been absolutely great," were virtually the first words out of Armstrong's mouth after she realized she had won the race. "She kept giving me a kick in the pants. She kept pounding it into me that I was better than I thought. Everytime I turned around, she'd say, 'You can do it, Armstrong. You know it, and I know it.'"

Milton Richman
UPI Sports Editor

She never let me forget I had the ability to win. She was my personal confidence builder."

When Nelson came over to congratulate Armstrong after finishing her own final run, the two girls embraced each other with that special kind of warmth and affection that only comes from putting in long, back-breaking hours of hard work together.

"Can you imagine?" Armstrong bubbled. "Me, winning?"

"Well, kid, you sure picked the right time and the right place to do it," assured the 28-year-old Nelson, a 14-year veteran of the team the rest of the members call "Granny" and the European press call "Die Alte Amerikanerin."

Armstrong's teammates call her "Hamstring" for no other real reason than it sounds something like her surname. All of them took to her immediately because of her good nature and sheer naturalness when she first joined the team 2 1/2 years ago and they all felt for her when she broke her leg in Schladming, Austria, in 1982 after having been named to the World Championship team. Everybody likes Debbie, and that's fair enough because Debbie likes everybody, also.

"You should've heard her in the starting chute before we started today," Cooper related. "She was babbling away. 'let's have fun, let's have fun.'"

"That's right," confirmed Armstrong, who had been pegged more as a downhill specialist and had to almost beg to take part in the giant slalom. "Sure, it was hard work, but it was also a lot of fun. It was a gas. I hope this doesn't sound wrong, but I was kind of expecting to win the way I had been skiing."

Armstrong's 20-year-old brother, Olin, confirmed that.

"She said she knew she could do it before the race," he revealed. "She's very good at shooting baskets, you know, and that's what she was doing in the Village all this week. She was making all the baskets, not missing a shot, and she told me she was going to do the same thing in the race."

You could tell how the rest of her team feels about Armstrong by the way all of them hugged her and talked about her after her victory.

"She's a real likeable person," volunteered teammate Holly Flanders of Deerfield, N.H. "She cares for people and never tries to hurt them."

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY FEBRUARY 15, 1984
 One of your greatest assets is your ability to make friends with persons from all walks of life. This coming year you will use this quality to your advantage.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Relationships could prove delicate today. Play them down the middle. If you're too demanding or too condescending, associations may chill. Find out where your luck lies in 1984 by sending for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead. Mail $1 and your zodiac sign to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Major problems will be handled with relative ease today, but insignificant infractions might cause you to overreact. Keep things in perspective.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Although you'll be in a gregarious mood today, persons with too much small talk will quickly bore you. Seek out companions who have something to say.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In business matters today, try not to tip your hand prematurely. If you do, it might sour something good that you already have going.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Important decisions must not be predicated upon wishful thinking today. Take time to weigh all your alternatives, then make your move.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Doing business with strangers could be a trifle risky today, so have them put their promises in writing. Back off if they fail to comply.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In negotiating agreements today, don't accept the initial terms if they are not to your liking. Continue to bargain until you are pleased.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You might find yourself frustrated over the senseless way coworkers perform today. Patience and understanding will get them back on track.

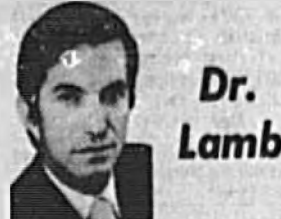

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You could become involved in a conversation today with friends who may say unkind things about a pal who isn't present. Don't be a contributor.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's likely you'll achieve your ambitious objectives today. However, the way you conduct yourself might arouse objections in others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's imperative to be extra-attentive today to important information. If your mind wanders, you'll get only a partial gist of what is said.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In joint ventures today, be sure the one with whom you're involved shares equally in all the risks and expenses. Don't go into an unevenly weighted deal.

Sex After Prostate Surgery Is Possible

DEAR DR. LAMB — Four years ago I had a prostate gland operation. After surgery, sex was possible but the climax was disappointing. Now at 72, I'm in good health, sex has improved and my prostate has not enlarged. My erections also have improved. The one remaining problem, however, is the orgasm. I have them, but I don't always recognize them as such, except for the release of tensions and the need to urinate afterward.

My wife is three years younger and satisfied with our sex life.

you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

I'm glad you have had a strong recovery and hope you continue to be in good health, and enjoy your sex life.

Evidently each man reacts differently after prostate surgery. I'm very interested in the reactions of other men who have had this operation. Men my age don't seem to talk much about their sex lives, but sex has always been important to me.

DEAR READER — I included your letter in this column to encourage and reassure other men who have prostate surgery that in time, after the more common operation (transurethral resection), normal sexual activity can be resumed.

There is a change in the way ejaculation occurs. The sphincter at the outlet of the bladder, attached to the prostate gland, often is damaged. There is no way the center of the prostate gland can be reamed out without damaging this area. As a result, during an orgasm the ejaculate moves back into the bladder because the sphincter is open. The medical term for this is retrograde ejaculation. It occurs in almost all men who have had a prostate gland operation.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband often has nightmares and kicks me on my shins and tailbone. I have arthritis, so it really hurts when this happens. Is he really asleep? If so, is there a cure?

DEAR READER — Undoubtedly he is asleep. Many people make violent movements during the night. Even in a light sleep they are unable to control their actions.

Such movements during sleep are not indicative of a medical problem. There is no disease to be cured or specific habit changes that would help. He might respond to an anti-cholinergic, which might produce more tranquil sleep, but I don't like to see people take medicine for sleep when there's no real medical problem.

A more practical solution would be twin beds. I usually don't recommend these for happily married couples, but there are some situations where they improve the marriage; avoiding being kicked in the shins is one of those situations. You wouldn't have that nagging question in your mind as to whether he really was asleep.

Dummy's ace of diamonds took the first trick. Edgar cashed my ace of clubs, ruffed a club, cashed his ace of hearts and led a heart to the king. If both opponents followed, he would ruff a club, come to dummy to draw the last trump and claim. But East showed out.

Edgar had to lead a heart to his jack. He cashed his king of diamonds and chucked one of my clubs. Back to dummy with the ace of spades to pull West's last trump.

If East had been dealt four clubs and four spades, he would have been squeezed at this point. East wasn't squeezed, but Edgar was a winner if either black suit broke. He cashed my ace of clubs. The queen dropped, and the slam was home.

Nothing exciting, but at the other table Dick Pavlicek opened a club against that same grand slam, and declarer worked on spades instead of clubs. He was down one since Dick trumped the second spade.
