ORLANDO, Fla (AP) - Residents began picking through the rubble of a two-block area today after a tornado struck Sunday injuring at least 14 persons, forcing up to 300 from their homes and causing extensive property damage.

The Orlando Fire Department listed 204 residences, 29 businesses, four tractor trailer trucks, a Greyhound-style bus and 23 cars as heavily damaged.

Authorities said it was a "miracle" no one was killed as the twister danced over a half-mile square area of homes and apartments about a mile southwest of downtown Orlando. Police Sunday ordered the area evacuated streets to guard against looting.

Another twister touched down about 20 miles south of Orlando about the same time at noon and traveled from the rural community of Campbell about 10 miles to the outskirts of Kissimmee. Four more persons were injured and property damage was reported.

"We were very fortunate there were no deaths," said Dr. Charles Hall, head of the Orange County Emergency Medical Services Council. He said 14 persons were hospitalized but none of the injuries appeared serious. A number of others were treated for cuts and bruiTemperary shelter for the homeless was set up in churches and schools. The twister hit shortly after noon, ripped up telephone poles, felled trees and littered the streets with debris. A number of hot power lines lay across streets.

Residents of the area known as Washington Shores said the twister struck without warning. "All of a sudden the lights blinked off," said Mrs. Doris Hill, a second-floor resident of a twostory apartment complex that was extensively

"Then the top came off. It threw me from the kitchen to the bathroom. I put my hands over my head and vaited there until it was over Everything sas gone, even my car." Mrs. Hill said one of her children was buried under a pile of rubble but was unharmed. A spokesman for the Osceola County sheriff's office said the twister that first touched down at Campbell demolished several houses, house trailers and automobiles Two people in one house and two others in a trailer were injured, but were listed in good condition, the spokesman said. The National Weather Service said the tornadoes were spawned by a strong arctic cold front moving through the state.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The credit-card-size piece of paper that raised armies and led hundreds to flee their homes to avoid its reach has been retired. But the draft system which monthly sent "Greeting" to thousands of young men is still intact and as alive as it was during the peak of the Vietnam war. Only

Eighteen-year-old men will still have to register for the draft-and receive a draft card-and standby lotteries will be held annually. The power to induct can be reinstated-through an act of Congress-and probably would be in a national emergency. But now, for the first time since 1948, men aged 18 through 35 will not face induction. The farewell to the draft was spoken by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird who told newsmen

> "With the signing of the peace agreement in Paris today, and after receiving a report from the secretary of the Army that he foresees no need for further inductions, I wish to inform you that the armed forces henceforth will depend exclusively on volunteer soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines." The action puts the nation's military on an allvolunteer basis five months ahead of President

The decision also canceled induction orders for 5,000 men who were to be drafted before June 30, when legal authority to induct young men into the armed forces expires.

During the Vietnam war, the peak in inductions came in 1966 when 383,626 men were drafted. By last year, the number of inductions was down to 48,000. Nobody was drafted after early December. With the end of the fighting comes a question whose answer was delayed pending peace in Vietnam: What about the draft resisters who fled the country to avoid induction? Nixon promised he would not consider amnesty while the war contin-

Many of the nations of Latin America appear to have gained a lot of satisfaction at the recent decision of the United Nations Security Council to hold a meeting in Panama beginning on

With Aquilino Boyd of Panama presiding over the session and an agenda loaded with subjects of colonialism, sovereignty and hemispheric politics, there will be ample opportunity for those obsessed with the size and strength of the United States of America to condemn and harass us. Panama in particular will use the meeting as a lever to try to dislodge the United States from control of the Panama Canal. The affair will have a sharp focus throughout the world because it will be only the third time since its existence that the United Nations Security Council has met outside of New

Like Panama, Peru is bearding the United States, with little apparent fear of reprisal. She has herded another of a long procession of U.S. tunaboat fleets into the port of Talara where they will be held until we pay what has come to be a customary ransom.

Unfortunately, these are not isolated examples of the attitude of many Latin American nations toward their northern neighbor. From Chile to Mexico the harassment of the United States and the tests of our patience. benevolence and charity appear to be in-

Double Feature

Latest gimmick aimed at getting the public back into the movie-going habit is the movie projected on two screens simultaneously.

The first such feature-length film, suitably double-named "Wicked, Wicked," is scheduled for release this spring, the conception of producer Richard Bare

Because an audience cannot absorb events and dialogue on both screens at once, at most times there is an "active" side, where important things are happening, and a "passive" side. where action and dialogue are limited.

For instance, a lady is shown in dire distress on one screen while her would-be rescuer is rushing to her aid on the other screen. The technique is also effective in showing "lies versus truth," as when a character recounts a story on one screen and the other shows what "Sure, it's a stunt," says Bare, "but you need stunts to get people out of the house and away from the blockbuster films and movies of the week they can see on TV.

more requests for belp than it can handle," said Dr. Irving M. Bush, chief of urology at Cook County

One of the worst manifestations of the whole affair is that it provides basis for convictions of the so-called Third World nations that the United States is, by choice, a helpless giant, and that the other cheek always will be turned The United States, for example, has been making concessions to Panama almost since the day that we acquired control of the canal in 1903. We shrugged - and yielded - even when four U.S. soldiers were killed in the 1964 canal zone rioting. By the same token, we have endured in pained patience the South American extortions from U.S tuna fishermen for many years, kept a low profile in Chile and meekly accepted considerable unwarranted criticism as well as diplomatic bad manners when President Echeverria of Mexico read off the U. S Congress and U. S people during his recent visit to this nation. Indeed, we still are furnishing the gunboats that will harass future tuna fishermen and are assisting every nation in the hemisphere, including Chile, through aid or trade.

Our patience is warranted to a degree. considering our size, strength and leadership role. We do not want to be the neighborhood bully. We could very well be, because the United States is by no means helpless or without economic, political and social power in any nation in Latin America

The determination that we now have to make as a nation is at just what point we must stop proving to ourselves that we are not a bully. and start behaving with resoluteness

It would be our feeling that the day has already arrived

TOKYO - Major Japanese trading houses have started a rush for importation of liquefied natural gas (LNG) as a step to cope with the worsening environmental pollution. Most active in pushing plans for developing natural gas resources abroad for consumption in Japan are C. Itoh & Co.

with main offices in Osaka; Mitsubishi Corp. and Mitsui & Co., both of Tokyo; Marubeni Corp. and Sumitomo Shoji Kaisha, LTD., of Osaka C. Itoh & Co. is going all out in its attempt to exploit Iranian natural gas. Its negotiations with the state-operated gas corporation of Iran, which it had conducted together with ERAP, a state-run French oil company, had not borne fruit because ERAP decided to withdraw from the talks. C. Itoh & Co. subsequently succeeded in having Esso Research Engineering replace the French oil firm in the Iranian natural gas deal C. Itoh & Co. plans to import four million tons of Iranian liquefied natural gas annually from 1977. But it is having a tough time raising the necessary money for investment estimated to come to $1 billion in total. It also is yet to reach an agreement with the consumers on the domestic price of liquefied natural gas from Iran.

Mitsubishi Corp. has tied up with Royal Dutch Shell

Group with a view to importing six million tons of LNG annually from Sarawak in Borneo beginning around 1977. Mitsui & Co. likewise had joined hands with British Petroleum and Cie Française des Petroles (CFP) and plans to import two million tons of LNG a year from Abu Dhabi

In all these plans the trading houses are to act only as an intermediary and expenses required for development of natural gas are to be shouldered by the petroleum capital. Mitsubishi, Mitsui, Marubeni and Sumitomo initially approached the Soviet Union separately on the development of natural gas in Yakutsk but later they agreed to let the Japan-Soviet Economic Committee handle the matter because the Japanese financial circles believed it would be better to have the state take charge of the deal in view of its They also were afraid that Japanese commercial firms vying with each other would allow the Russians to hike up the Demand for LNG in this country, which was only 1.3 billion cubic meters in fiscal 1970, is expected to reach 7.2 billion in fiscal 1975 and further to 30 billion by fiscal 1985, accounting for more than half of the demand for gas in holding recent press conferences which just have to be challenged. One is that it's not a good idea to see the press while "delicate" negotiations over ending a war in this case the Vietnam conflict, are in progress. The other is that such a press conference held under these circumstances is more perilous than it would have been in earlier years because these conferences today

Political Notebook Press Conference Not Like Old Days

some things about President Nixon's reasons for not are "large and formalized" events. Klein is trying to say that makes them tougher than they used to be. Though you can have a lot of fun documenting all the occasions, and there are many, when Presidents Roose velt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and even Johnson met the press while "delicate" talks were going on or about to happen. I'll leave that one to others. What interests me is this notion that the smaller conferences of Roosevelt's time, and probably Truman's first years were easier for a president to get through than today's I happen to have attended a few of Franklin D. Roosevelt's press conferences in World War II. It wasn't like that at all. Most of the time when he was in town, no matter what was going on or coming up, he met the press twice a week-one day in the morning and one As I recall it, somewhere around 60 to 75 newsmen crowded into the oval office right around the President's desk. (Johnson and Mr. Nixon have done that sort of an impromptu, unscheduled basis. The times I went, in 1942 and 1943, we were in the thick of it in the Pacific and, as a prelude to Europe, in North Africa, I remember a particularly interesting sequence. In 1943, Roosevelt delivered his State of the Union message on Jan. 7, met the press openly the next day and on Jan. 9, on a background basis, patiently sat with newsmen for two solid hours and gave his own major thing a few times for a limited number of reporters, on .

The time was "delicate" enough. That night the Presi dent left unannounced from a secret railroad siding on a long train-plane journey that took him to Africa and his first meeting ever (at Casablanca) with Winston Churchill. It was only the second flight of his life. He was the first president to fly, the first to leave this country in wartime, the first since Lincoln to visit an active war

From that parley, of course, issued the famous allied call upon the axis enemies for "unconditional surrender. I attended the long budget session the day he left Though attendance was a bit larger than at a regular press conference, it was otherwise typical. Roosevell was bombarded with hard questions, with good follow-up. from men within finger-shaking distance. He had to defend a "total war" budget asking for outlay of $100 billion. an unheard-of-sum in those days.

There was no tougher interrogator than the late William H. Lawrence, then of the New York Times. He al ways stood up close, and he never let up. Other reporters didn't break in when he was in hot pursuit. And he had some counterparts, too, like Raymond Brandt of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Questioning was pointed and per-

That was the pattern then. Today's "large and formal zed" sessions are, by contrast, usually exercises in press futility. You're lucky if back-to-back questions deal with

Threat to Press Freedom Is Real

Journalists are fond of trotting out Thomas Jefferson's "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to Being human, they tend to ignore something else "The man who never looks into a newspaper better informed than he who reads them, masmuch as he who knows nothing is nearer the truth than he whose mind is filled with falsehoods and errors." These thoughts are as relevant today as when they were first expressed. They reflect the ambivalent, lovehate attitude the public has, and always has had, It may be significant, though, that the first statement was made before the formation of the Union and the adoption of the Bill of Rights, and before Jefferson as third president became a target of the sometimes scurrilors editorial criticism of his time Journalism has matured greatly since Jefferson's day as has America itself. Nevertheless, the question of freedom of the press is a more burning one than at almost any other time in the nation's history Perhaps the most extreme rhetorical attack on the press to date is that of the president of the Fraternal Order of Police in Cleveland, who advocates government licensing of newspapers as a means of "guaranteeing The strangest official view of the role of the press in a free society has to be that of Clay Whitehead,

How Can Kids, Cats

Use Same Sandbox?

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY-I live on a farm with three preschool children, a sandbox and five cats. Unfortunately the cats are "using" the sandbox so I am afraid to let the kids play in it for fear of worms.

Please, someone tell me what I can do about this problem. The kids love the sand and we want to

DEAR POLLY-Regarding Ruby's letter concerning locked churches-I agree this is a deplorable situation that they have to be kept locked. I am a church secretary and also am interested in visiting different churches and cathedrals. In past years our church was always open during the daytime, but because of vandalism, petty stealing and just plain mischief causing extensive damage, we have been forced to lock our doors. Our church is kept open during the morning hours when the custodians are there but otherwise we are forced to lock the doors. Most of the trouble is caused by teen-agers and even younger boys. Until this type of thing stops I can see no other answer to the problem. It would, indeed, be a wonderful thing to be known as a nation of churches so we should all try to help with our influence on our own

No hand holding until a doctor's at hand

By Abigail Van Buren E 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. How; Synt., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have never seen a problem like mine in your column. I am a 15-year-old girl and I never let a boy hold my hand because I have ugly warts on my fingers and I am so ashamed of them. My family can't afford to send me to a doctor to have them removed and I have tried every kind of compound and even rubbing potato on them, but they don't go away. Please help me. LOVE FROM FT. GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are eager to get your life on a more solid and secure basis and it's all right to plan it thusly so long as you do not approach others to go along with your conclusions, as arguments and varied points of view could quickly follow. Use

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Taking any risks where your reputation is concerned is not wise now, for others could be very critical, and pose big problems for you. Quickly get the credit matter taken care of. Avoid further expense

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have fine ideas that you want to put in operation too quickly, so take it easy and plan them better for good results. Those ideas which an overly glamorous individual has are not for you. Social fun in p.m. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You think you can run away from some promise, be it of a personal or business nature, but you would do better to keep it now, scrupulously. Then you make big headway. Avoid the social or recreational tonight. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Although you want to make a change where some associate is concerned, you are required to change your methods instead. Steer clear of the public and handle those personal matters wisely, too. Your attitude has not been right. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get busy at that work you have to do although you would rather make radical changes that could be very bad for you. Take the time to improve your health through exercise. Do this intelligently. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You want to have fun and relieve worry you now feel, but make sure you stick to the tried and true, otherwise you compound your worries. Get creative plans worked out better. Take the bugs out of them. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't go off half-cocked and get into trouble in the outside world because conditions at home do not suit you. Calm down and right them carefully, SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Much care should be exercised in motion, otherwise thoughtlessness on your part or that of others could result in big trouble. Shop wisely and don't buy anything you are not sure of. Show that you have good common sense.

wisely Then you can make big headway in business.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't think you can buy your way into what more ethical means could get you easily and properly. Learn to be more thrifty, wise. Get busy and improve surroundings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are all fired up to achieve some personal aim that is absolutely no good for you, so forget it and start something worthwhile. Improve your appearance. Show you are loyal to mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't feel sorry for yourself because you have work to do - get it done and then you have time for pleasure you want, also. Use good judgment and forget that intuitive idea that is incorrect. Make this a constructive, happy day, p.m. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't foist your worries upon others now since they have enough of their own. Get busy solving own problems objectively. Avoid group meetings that could lead to arguments. Fine evening for reading, writing. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY .... he or she will be one of those practical and businesslike young people who will also be most alert to whatever is of the New Age. So send to the right schools that will help to retain the best of the past, while teaching the best of the present and future, then there can be a most successful life here. Inventiveness is also a good part of the chart. Banking, property management, sound producing, are particularly fine. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of

Oviedo Disciplined

Discipline is the mark of any successful group - be it an army, institution or a basketball team. And the latter is the reference we have in mind after watching the Oviedo Lions destroy Lyman Friday night at the Oviedo gym.

Dave Miller, coach of the Lions, has his crew as well disciplined as any basketball team could possibly be. It shows it during the terms' defensive play as well as their Miller has the Lions playing a 1-3-1 zone which slides side to side as well as a tightly knit man for man defense. This defense is also the key to the Oviedo offense for off of it the Lions can and do fast break with maximum efficiency.

And speaking of the Lions' fast break it has to rank as one of the best organized as we've seen in a long time. The Lions hit the middle man with the ball all the time or the man with the ball moves to the middle. This is not most of the time, or nearly all of the time, but ALL the time. And as most basketball buffs know the secret to a successful fast break is splitting the defenders and this is best accomplished by having the ball in the middle.

No Selfishness

Being a well disciplined team the Lions are not selfish when it comes to who gets the shots or who scores. They do have a leading scorer, Leon Cobb, a 6-1 sophomore, but Cobb does a lot of it on his own, gathering in missed shots and sending them back into the hoop.

Cobb is one of the big reasons for the success of the Lions since many of last year's Orange Belt Conference championship team was lost via graduation. Another sophomore, Clennie Patterson also starts for Miller's crew. Patterson is a 6-2 leaper who teams with Cobb to give the Lions a strong one-two scoring and rebounding punch. It's been a knockout punch in 12 of the first 13 games Oviedo played this season. This is not to say the Lions are a two man team. Nothing

Hara Bomb Charge Dropped By Judge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Federal charges of planting a bomb at Walt Disney World and attempted extortion have been dropped against Robert Hara, 23, the son of the president of Tupper-Ware Co.

Briggs said he acted at the request of the Justice Department in Washington

Attorneys had indicated earlier that the identification of Hara was made by comparing his voice with that of a telephone caller who told a Disney World

Hara's attorney, James Russ of Orlando, moved from supression of voice recordings, and his motion was pending at the time the case was dismissed.

Disney records show Hara was employed there from December, 1971, through March, 1972. He was accused of telephoning Disney World Feb. 3, 1972, with a threat that a bomb in a utility shed would blow up if he wasn't paid $90,000. Officers said they found a bomb set to detonate at midnight in a shed in Frontierland. It was found two

Victim's Condition

A 75-year-old Midway man injured Monday when his frame home was destroyed by fire was listed in "fairly good" condition today at Seminole Memorial Hospital. His invalid wife was listed in "good" condition.

Norman Haddock, 75, received second degree burns on both hands and about his face when he tried to light a flooded oil heater about 5 p.m. Monday at his Center Street home. His wife Lucille, 48, incapacitated with a broken hip from an earlier accident, told Sheriff's Deputy Fred Johnson she tossed her husband a blanket when the heater burst into flames in his face. She said Haddock fought the spreading flames and then ran from the house for help. Mrs. Haddock managed to crawl to a rear door where Ward Steward of Midway found her and
