

Message From FBI

In its day-to-day operations, law enforcement deals primarily with one of the most elemental concepts of mankind—the difference between right and wrong.

Over the years the citizens of this country, through their representatives in Congress and State legislatures, have written our Nation's concept of this difference into our laws and statutes.

Unfortunately, the concept of right over wrong is not as clear and strong in the hearts and minds of present-day Americans as it was in the hearts and minds of our forefathers.

All citizens must earnestly recalculate their thoughts and actions to the principles on the Stone Tablets.

Every person, young and old, in his personal, business, and social life, proudly states he believes to be morally right, law-abiding, and honorable.

We live in a republic famed for its freedoms, including the freedom of religion. Yet it comes to choosing between right and wrong, let us be certain we perpetuate this freedom by making the right choice.

Our birthright of freedom and liberty would not have been gained had the men of Valley Forge and Bunker Hill let their convictions lie listless in the bottom of their hearts.

These precious rights be preserved unless we do more to uphold Lincoln's strong belief that "right makes might."

Our birthright of freedom and liberty would not have been gained had the men of Valley Forge and Bunker Hill let their convictions lie listless in the bottom of their hearts.

We The Women:

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: During the school year I make the family's bed, including our 16-year-old girls. This summer she has time to make it but I still have to do it or go home with a bed, begged and begged her to take this responsibility as I have twice the housework now that all three of our children are in and out of the house all day. But she will not do it. How do you get obedience from a self-willed child?

Highlights

Judy is trapped in the blaze and when Paul and Jack finally rescue her, Paul follows the other animals to safety, they find the hunters are now hunting them. (Good suspense and excellent fire scenes. Part 1 of two parts).

During the week, Price, predicted by Kildare, Webb is a momentary hero for destroying a German installation and capturing a German spy. Only Kildare knows that in fact he is a coward, and one of the soldiers died as a result of his fight. Well played and well likable.

And in a situation like this we're just not entitled to claim the superiority of command - certainly not if we hate bed-making as much as the child does. It's our willingness to confess that our feeling is as she does about it. Don't run off with the notion that I'm afraid to command obedience from children. I'm not. I just prefer cooperative action that is offered to me to the kind that has to be wrestled from them. In your case, military commanders have to go about commanding action from lesser mortals. But you and your daughter are not military officers by the Viet Cong, are you? Her obedience isn't a possible matter of her life or death under a military officer. There's plenty of time to reach for the better kind of obedience - shared action which results from shared feeling.'
