

Gasoline Prices Rising In Area And Nationwide

By JEAN PATESON
Herald Staff Writer

Gasoline prices are going up across the nation and President Nixon's energy advisor predicts they will continue to rise.

Many gas stations took advantage of relaxed economic controls to raise prices over the weekend by as much as two and a half cents a gallon.

Most service station managers in the Sanford area replied, "Why certainly!" when asked whether they had increased their prices over the weekend.

Many added, however, that increasing their prices hadn't put them ahead yet. The manager of Howard's Mobil Service Station on Orlando Drive explained, "The company raised the price one cent, and I had to drop my price one cent during the freeze, by raising my price two cents Saturday I'm just breaking even."

Manager of Rudy's Standard in Sanford also raised his price two cents a gallon. "Now it's just like back on May 15," he said.

Lake Monroe Shell is up two cents a gallon, and H.B. Owens Gulf Service Station in Sanford has raised the price 1.6 cents a gallon — "That's the same as the increase on the tank wagon price," explained the manager.

Other service stations in the area are up two and a half cents.

Manager of the Deltona Standard Service Station said, "Why sure I've raised my price — as much as we're allowed to — two and a half cents a gallon." Fred's Gulf Service Station in DeBary reported the same increase.

Of all the service stations contacted in the Sanford area only Sanford Sunoco on SR 46 at I-4 said they had not raised their prices yet.

In Houston, Tex., dealers announced a three-day shutdown beginning today in protest.

Shevin Unveils New Rules On Unfair Trade Practices

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin today unveiled a series of new rules to crack down on deceptive and unfair trade practices in businesses ranging from auto repairs to mobile home sales.

"We've been given the job of making Florida's commercial climate as inviting as our atmospheric climate," Shevin told a news conference. "We think these rules and regulations will have that effect...The effect of making Florida a haven for a healthy free enterprise system."

State Atty. Abbott Herring said today his office will support the new consumer protection law passed by the State, but does not anticipate much impact in the form of complaints to the State Attorney's office.

"We don't intend becoming another Better Businessman's Bureau. We don't intend dealing with isolated complaints from consumers," he said.

"In my interpretation we should be concerned with deception and chronic unfair practices," said Herring. "I see it as something quasi-criminal."

He said the Atty. General will be drawing up guidelines regarding investigating complaints, but said he could not set up a special consumer complaints unit until he has funding from the state.

"I have tried to get funding in the past, with no success," said Herring. "Right now I have neither the money nor the manpower to spare from the regular work of the State Attorney's office."

Shevin released 13 chapters of proposed rules on the day Florida's so-called "Little FTC Act" went into effect. The law enacted by the 1973 legislature is patterned after the Federal Trade Commission Act. The rules will be presented to the Cabinet Tuesday. Shevin said he hoped they could go into effect by late November or early December following legal notice and public hearings. The rules would: —Require written estimates by auto repair shops.

—Outlaw misleading advertising practices.

—Prohibit "closed" mobile home parks where would-be residents are required to buy their trailers from a specified company.

—Require disclosure of warranties and guarantees by mobile home dealers and manufacturers and prohibit retaliatory evictions against individuals by mobile home parks.

—Require contractors to write into home construction and improvement contracts the completion date and methods of construction.

—Require closing costs be disclosed before contracts for sale of real property are signed.

—Guarantee buyers of services from health spas, dancing and vocational schools the right to cancel a contract without unreasonable penalty.

Other rules would regulate so-called pyramid sales schemes, auto renting and leasing and air conditioning efficiency.

Shevin said the law gives his critics and local state attorneys the power to issue cease-and-desist orders against businesses ignoring the rules.

Missing Body Found Of Disney Hostess

KISSIMMEE, Fla. (AP) — The body of Deborah McCartney, tied hand and foot and still clothed in her Disney World hostess uniform of an orange skirt and white blouse, has been found in an isolated Osceola County creek.

Miss McCartney, 20, of St. Cloud near Kissimmee, had been missing since she left her Disney World office last Thursday for a brief errand in a company car.

The car was found abandoned, its front seat bloody and Miss McCartney's shoes and panties inside, later that day.

During the intensive search for the girl, Osceola County Sheriff Kayo Murphy was told by a farmer of a strange set of car tracks near a creek on his farm.

Murphy said that he and several deputies, part of a team using horses, jeeps and helicopters to look for Miss McCartney, checked the creek area Friday but found nothing.

Sunday, Murphy said, he rechecked the creek to see if anything had surfaced and found the body.

He said the body apparently had been in the creek for several days and said an autopsy would be performed in an attempt to determine cause of death.

Concert Bid Considered By Council

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELBERRY—The request for permission for a country and western music concert at Seminole Downs will be given a sharp eye by the city council in workshop after the 7 p.m. regular session today to make sure the planned event bears no relationship to a rock festival.

The city nearly four years ago after the Bithlo rock festival gained headlines across the nation adopted a strict anti-rock ordinance.

Shortly thereafter a request for use of the horse track for a festival was turned down by the board.

City officials today insisted the L and S Productions Concert although it is geared toward young people does not appear to be directed toward problems with law and order which characterized the Bithlo event.

The proposed animal control ordinance which stiffens local law requirements and provides for cats to be licensed and have rabies shots tops the workshop agenda.

Animal Control Officer Vickie Shook recommended the provision on felines explaining since cats run at large they have as much chance of exposure to rabies as dogs.

The proposed law also permits pet owners to personally give their animals rabies shots.

Scheduling at the regular session is a public hearing on SMD partnership's request for approval of planned construction in a residential zone of a pro-shop, maintenance shop for golf carts and parking at the corner of Overbrook and Triplett Drive.

In the work session council will consider a request from an attorney representing a property owner near Lake and Seminola Boulevard that reconsideration be given to permitting construction of a grocery store.

Supreme Court May Rule On Preliminary Hearing

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

The State Supreme Court may rule today on whether 14-year-old Samuel Geter is entitled to a preliminary hearing prior to his Oct. 8 first degree murder trial in the death of William Oglesby, a Sanford Middle School student.

The court was scheduled to hear arguments for a preliminary hearing this morning from Geter's attorney, T. David Burns of Bartow. The court's ruling—if any is made—will not be announced until late this afternoon.

Burns flew to Tallahassee last week to seek the supreme court ruling on the preliminary hearing after failing in attempts before Seminole Circuit Judge Richard Muldrew, during Geter's arraignment, and before U. S. District Judge John A. Reed Jr. in Orlando.

Burns argued at the Sept. 24 arraignment in Sanford that a grand jury indictment was not sufficient to prove that a crime had been committed, and demanded a preliminary hearing on evidence in the Sept.

5 death of Oglesby, allegedly following a robbery attempt and fight with Geter.

The attorney's arguments challenging the medical evidence in the case have led to a contempt hearing being set against him for 1:20 p.m. Wednesday before Seminole Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson Jr.

Burns will be required to "show cause" why his statements that Oglesby could not have died from the fight, and others on the evidence, should not be found in contempt of court, according to Assistant State Atty. Newman Brock.

The subject of the heated "lawyers battle" is the impact of a Sept. 7 medical examiner's report on Oglesby stating that the "youth died of acute pulmonary edema—heart failure—and a Sept. 26 statement by Dr. G. V. Garay that the death "could have been caused by a blow to the upper abdomen."

Garay's preliminary autopsy was described to the public as finding Oglesby died from shock due to a blow to the left kidney.

SHADES OF DANIEL BOONE

HIT of the Volusia County Sportsmen's Show held recently at the Volusia County Fairgrounds, DeLand, were the muzzle loading Central Florida Long Riflers. The club has 50 members and practices at the Lewis Range west of Sanford. Aiming their handcrafted weapons are Dick Barnes, president, (left); John Heddy, ranger officer; and kneeling, Harry Baldwin, secretary.

Sewer Solution Sought

CASSELBERRY — Consulting Engineer B. C. Conklin will recommend emergency action to the city council at its meeting tonight to solve the continual breakdowns at the Triplett Drive sewer lift station, Utility Director John Lane said today.

Last week, the circuit court issued a temporary restraining order against the city forbidding the city from allowing the lift station to become inoperative and from allowing raw sewage to overflow onto Lake Triplett Drive, into Lake Triplett or into private homes.

Joining in the suit filed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodruff (Woodruff is a former Casselberry council chairman) were the Division of Health of the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services and the Florida Department of Pollution Control.

Attorney General Robert Shevin's office asked to intervene in the suit last Thursday.

Lane said today he and Conklin met all morning to consider possible courses to be taken.

"During regular two hours checks at the station, we found the other motor had blown a seal causing the pump to lose its prime. Today we bought a brand new rotating assembly in which the seal is housed and are in the process of installing it now," Lane said.

A permanent modern lift station has been estimated to cost $175,000. Lane said the Sunday breakdown was found in time to stop any sewage backup into homes.

B. C. CONKLIN
...Will recommend.

Question...which of this area's fire chiefs rides around wearing a burgundy jacket and white trousers as his "visible" means of identification?

Question Number 2...before responding to an alarm, does he have to take time out to change into his fighting gear?

Just in case you missed it...the Lakeland Ledger reported that our Representative William Chappell supported an application for a federally-backed housing project and a Chappell-owned company received a $100,000 contract for electrical work on the project.

Federal Housing Administration records in Jacksonville show that Chappell's firm, J & J Electric, Inc., won the contract for work on Ocala's low income Parkside Gardens Apartments.

LISTEN...if that 'handicapped' group approaches you on buying some light bulbs, and should you refuse to make purchase of same and they treat you as they did some others in this area...just call the cops!

These "birds" try to gain your support by capitalizing on their infirmities and then if you should have the audacity of not responding, they may make "threats"...

Like I said, if it happens, just report 'em to the local law enforcement officials.

FROM THE MAILBAG:

"Demand is made for $2-1/2 Billion in reparations for North Vietnam. We don't have it, and if we give it we will have to borrow the funds and pay 5-1/2 per cent interest. This will cost you and me $143,750,000 per year in increased taxes. What in the heck is going on? Did we win a peace or buy a peace?"

"In any event, let's not borrow this money and increase our taxes."

This letter was written by a C.C. Moseley, president of the Grand Central Industrial Centre of Glendale, Calif., one of this country's most prolific writers of letters-to-the-editor.

From the mailbag: "Thought for Today — The things we know for sure, which just aren't so, get us into trouble!"

Dear Abby

Doctor's wife's misery has lots of company

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1973 by Chicago Tribune. N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A doctor's wife said: "The shoemaker's kids always go barefoot." I know what she means. All my friends envy me because my husband is a hairdresser. They don't know that he hasn't touched my hair in years. I have to shampoo and set it myself. He promised to give me a cut and perm last year. I even went to his shop for it, but something went wrong with a color job he had done on one of his prized customers, and he never got to me! I finally got so disgusted I went to the neighborhood shop and paid somebody else to do it.

People are always telling me how nice my hair looks. And then they add, "But why shouldn't I have you married to a hairdresser?" Ha, ha, and ha! ROLLS MY OWN

DEAR ABBY: When the doctor's wife complained to her husband about not feeling well, he told her to take two aspirin and go to bed!

Are you ready for this? My husband is an electrician and I have a toaster that's in pieces. He took it apart two months ago, but he hasn't had time to put it together yet. Last Christmas he promised to fix my hair dryer, but he hasn't gotten around to it yet. And I've been trying to get him to put some flood-lights around our house for two years, and all he's done so far is get the lights, but they're still in their original boxes.

I give up! ELECTRICIAN'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I'm a plumber's wife. Without delving into the details, I found myself desperately in need of a plumber! I phoned my husband at his shop, and he said he was tied up all day, one of his men was out sick, and the other was on vacation.

Know what I did? I called another plumber. And in case you don't know it, a plumber gets paid more for a housecall than a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: "The shoemaker's children always go barefoot." I agree, too. Only my husband is a grocer. I had to plead for groceries, which we, at the owners of the store, may take home at wholesale prices. But believe it or not, our cupboards were usually bare.

My own children didn't see much of their father because he was always too busy at the store to give them much time.

It took a complete nervous breakdown for me to get the time and attention from my husband I needed for so many years. MOTHER HUBBARD

WORRY CLINIC

Read Judge Givan's fascinating account of the accidental origin of Coca-Cola. Note the many modern drugs which we physicians got from laymen in past centuries. Even smallpox vaccination resulted from Dr. Jenner's alertness to the immunity of milkmaids.

CASE Y-531: Judge Richard Givan is one of the talented who has served the Indiana State Supreme Court.

We were dining together at the annual Indiana Society Banquet when our conversation veered around to accidental discoveries.

"Dr. Crane," Judge Givan began, "Coca Cola probably never would have been discovered except for the inadvertent mixture of a patent medicine cough remedy with some fizzy water."

"My great grandfather came up to Indiana from Georgia," "And he grew so enthusiastic about the fertile soil in the Hoosier State that he wrote to his brother back in Georgia, urging him to migrate northward, too."

"That man was the founder of the Coca Cola industry, for he got the idea of putting a patent medicine into a soft drink," "Then he squirted some carbonated water into the same glass and took a hearty drink."

"He was startled by the unique flavor and took a second big swallow."

"Then he turned around and found that he had mistakenly used the cough syrup instead of sarsaparilla."

"His new drink was so delightful that he told my great grandfather's brother the cough remedy was better as a soft drink than anything he had ever tasted."

"So it moved off the shelves of drug stores as a cough remedy and is now famous worldwide as an American beverage."

ON LOCATION—Joel Grey talks with daughter Jenny, 13, on a movie location in Connecticut.

Actor Appreciates Support Of Youth

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Wire-features Writer

NEW CANAAN, Conn. (AP) — Young people may have found a movie hero in actor Joel Grey. Or so it has seemed on a movie set in nearby Norwalk where he has been co-starring with Cliff Robertson in the suspense thriller, "The Man on the Swing."

Grey and his family are living in a rented house here eight minutes from the main movie set in an armory.

In addition to sending fan letters, young people have been ogling the sets in various areas of Connecticut.

"In the last six months — I've been getting letter after letter from young people — mostly from girls, 12 to 20. It has surprised me. Something about the movie touched young people. They know how old I am (40), how much I weigh (110 pounds) and that I am married. They also gotten letters from older women. One named her baby after me, and I suddenly realized a lot of people probably get their names that way, and it is, perhaps, how I got my own name — Joel MacRae was popular about the time I was born."

"Each person who has written feels he had a hand in winning the Academy award for me," he continued, "because apparently they all stayed home to root for me and all the while I thought it might go to Al Pacino for 'The Godfather.'"

The idea of the home rooters cheering him on to the Oscar is in line with his interest in Extra Sensory Perception which began a few years ago, he remarked. He says there is a lot in thought transference.

"I think I must always have had a tendency to spiritual things that have been closed off until recently. For example even my attitude toward games has changed. I used to be a tennis teacher who felt into that sort of thing (ESP) and she has taught me to hit a tennis ball making a connection rather than a hitting. It is a less hostile way. I am with the ball rather than against it."

Grey says he is only now "loosening up in a number of ways" and new doors are opening with his "new vibrations of change," he observed.

"I just recently asked myself 'what the hell have I been afraid of all these years. I am happier now than I have been in all my life on all levels. It is new growth. As a small child I didn't know how to enjoy life. We all imagine it is just there to enjoy if you want. But the

Vice President Believes His Career Destroyed

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has said privately that he believes his political career has been destroyed. But he has come out swinging publicly at his accusers, determined to prove his innocence.

Agnew said he would not resign if indicted, that he was being framed by persons in Maryland because he would not stop investigations against them, and that someone high in the Justice Department was out to get him to make up for bungling the Watergate investigation.

Afterward, Agnew is said to have told the California party leaders there would remain "lingering doubts" in the minds of many people even if his name is cleared. He said that he does expect to be cleared of allegations of wrongdoing.

Agnew's pessimism was not shared by the convention delegates, and it was said that the California GOP leaders also believe his future is not ruined.

It remained to be seen whether Agnew's view of the future would be changed by the tumultuous outpouring of support he received after Saturday's address, in which he again declared his innocence.

A federal grand jury in Baltimore is looking into alleged kickbacks to politicians by contractors in Maryland, where Agnew was formerly a county executive and governor.

In another development, Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel announced today the creation of an 11-member task force to study the state's long-standing practice of awarding engineering and architectural consultants' contracts without competitive bidding.

AIRBORNE SCIENCE CENTER, an instrumented NASA plane, is the U.S. contribution to a joint European study of the North Sea. Conducted by the West German Hydrographic Institute, Hamburg, the study focuses on the relationship between surface waves and prevailing wind conditions in the relatively shallow and often stormy waters between Great Britain and northern Europe.

National News Briefs

Watergate Hearing Cancelled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hearing session scheduled Tuesday by the Senate Watergate committee has been cancelled because two witnesses reportedly have refused to testify. Former White House appointments secretary Dwight L. Chapin and Florida Young Republican leader Robert M. Benz were to have been grilled about campaign "dirty tricks." Donald H. Segretti, an admitted political saboteur, is to appear before the panel Wednesday.

Public Political $ Support Grows

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The latest Gallup Poll indicates a growing majority of Americans think government funds should replace private contributions in financing presidential and congressional election campaigns. The poll taken Sept. 7-10 shows 65 per cent of those surveyed favor the government's appropriating a fixed amount for the campaigns. In a similar poll in early June, 58 per cent responded that way.

Gasoline Price Hike Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline prices will continue to rise, perhaps as much as 15 per cent over the next six months, presidential energy adviser John Love said. He also predicted increased demand for fuel but no boost in supplies for the next three to five years.

Nixon Could Face Impeachment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon conceivably could face impeachment proceedings in both the Watergate case and the investigation of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, said the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said any such proceedings would await a final determination of both matters in the courts.

Quotas Cause Rift In Selection Rules

GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP) — The committee drafting delegate selection rules for the 1976 Democratic convention has divided sharply over how to resolve the controversial 1972 quotas.

It was unable to resolve the issue at the final session of a three-day meeting here Sunday and said it would try again next weekend when it hopes to complete its work.

The panel voted tentatively 8 to 5 to remove the special consideration for women, minorities and young people as an encouragement to representative convention delegates. However, the absence of those members made it uncertain whether that vote would stand next week.

And, whatever the drafting committee decides, the quotas seemed certain to be fought over when the new rules are considered Oct. 27 by the full 73-member commission and early next year by the Democratic National Committee.

Maryland Appoints State Task Group

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Maryland's governor today named a task force to study the awarding of some state contracts without competitive bidding—the practice which is at the root of the investigation of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

A statement from Gov. Marvin Mandel's office said the task force would review Maryland's long-standing method of awarding engineering and architectural consultant contracts.

The 11-member panel is to propose legislation to correct any abuses by Dec. 1.

The action comes during a widening federal probe of allegations that kickbacks and bribes influenced the distribution of state and local government contracts.

A federal grand jury in Baltimore now is hearing evidence about Agnew's alleged relations with architects and engineers when he was county executive in Baltimore and governor of Maryland.

In its first action, the grand jury indicted Dale Anderson, the current Baltimore County executive, on 39 counts of extortion and bribery. The charges involve eight consulting firms which have done business with the county.

Practices for awarding non-competitive contracts vary among state agencies and local governments. Many agencies use eligibility lists of contractors. Officials say the consultants on the lists are picked for their competence.

Both Democratic and Republican candidates on the state and local levels have received campaign contributions from contractors.

Mandel, a Democrat, raised more than $300,000 from a recent dinner fund-raiser. He has promised to return $40,000, the amount estimated to have come from consultants doing business with the state.

The governor named Dr. Abel Wolman, professor emeritus of sanitary engineering from Johns Hopkins University, to head the task force.

In a letter to Wolman, Mandel said he hoped the task force would devise "a model system that is beyond reproach, not only for its equity in the method of awarding contracts, but also for its intrinsic protections against possible abuses."

Veto In Prospect

Spending Bill Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee takes up the biggest domestic spending bill today with an eventful veto by President Nixon in prospect.

The bill provides funds for the Health, Education and Welfare and Labor departments.

Nixon and Congress have staged a running battle over such legislation since he took office. Nixon has vetoed the bills five times and only been overridden once.

This year the President recommended $31.6 billion for the departments, but the House voted $32.8 billion.

The Senate committee, which is expected to act on the bill in a couple of sessions, will increase the figure if past experience is any guide.

Many Democratic senators have said that Nixon's budget included inadequate funds for the health, education and anti-poverty programs.

Attention will be centered on committee actions in Congress this week.

Originally, the legislators hoped the 1973 session would end this month but now the leaders expect it to run well into November.

In floor action, the Senate floor a sweeping foreign trade bill. Despite a plea from President Nixon, the panel is not expected to reverse its decision to include a provision denying trade concessions to Russia unless it eases its restrictive emigration policies.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., calls his Government Operations Committee into session today to begin writing a bill designed to give Congress greater control over the budget.

This had wide support early in the session but has become bogged down in controversy.

Grand Jury Probing Electric Board

The Seminole County Grand Jury began its probe into the electrical board of examiners this morning. The Herald has learned that a key in the investigation will be "interpretive" regulations issued by the board in possible conflict with national electrical codes.

Since a Sept. 4 directive from the county building department was issued, the department has approved 28 building permits for construction valued at $5 million — primarily for single family and condominium dwellings.

According to sources familiar with the investigation, underway since Sept. 10, the Sept 4 directive conflicts with the national code in at least four instances by recommending "substandard" installation practices.

Witnesses, reportedly numbering as many as 20, will detail cases of faulty and substandard wiring, permits being issued after construction was well underway, and in some instances, nearing completion.

About Drainage Problems

The Seminole County Commission this morning instructed Chairman Sidney Vihler to contact the city of Longwood to determine its official position on correcting Winser Manor drainage problems and alerted Assistant County Atty. Howard Marace to prepare for legal action against the city if necessary.

County Engineer Bill Bush told the board that the Winser Manor subdivision is blocking the natural flow of drainage waters from South Island Lake. He added the subdivision is also causing water to up stream properties.

He suggested again, as he had in work sessions last week with city consulting engineer Bill Palm, that Longwood investigate an alternative drainage route with ultimate outfall in Fairy Lake.

Country, Western In; Rock Is Out

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELBERRY—Country and western, pop and jazz stars including Loggins and Messina, Liza Minnelli, Roy Clark and Merrill Haggard and The Boys will be coming to the city in a series of shows spanning the next eight months and with approval of the city council.

Hard rock will be excluded from the series to begin with an appearance Oct. 27 of Loggins and Messina, a country and western light rock duo, at Semholde Downs, Joseph concert under the terms of an ordinance and waiving the ban on young people under 18.

An average of two concerts monthly will be held with tentative show times of 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. to comply with the stiff city ordinance banning outdoor performances after 11 p.m., he said.

The city council has veto power over each concert under the terms of an ordinance adopted after the Bithlo rock festival three years ago.

A resolution will be adopted today night setting a permit fee of $500 per concert and waiving the ban on young people under 18 attending the show. The resolution will also waive requirements that a doctor, nurse and bed be provided for each 1,000 in attendance.

Lambusta said that in addition to his plans to exclude hard rock or weekend rock festivals, he made the exclusion a condition for leasing the horsepark property.

He said plans are to use the 7,000 capacity grandstand and a stage will be built on the track in front of the tote board. He said the Loggins and Messina concert is firm and negotiations are underway for the other entertainers.

In other business, the council reviewed the site plan for Jeweler Builders Inc. Sagittarius apartment complex to be constructed on the property north of SR 436 at the Orange County line.

Dick Pugh, representing the company, which is a subsidiary of Inland Steel Urban Development, said plans are to build 856 rental apartment in two phases on the 53 acre parcel for a density of 16.1 units per acre.

He said 42 percent of the land will be kept in open space with 30 per cent in parks.

The council will take formal action on the request at Monday night's meeting.

County Asking Longwood

About Drainage Problems

The route Bush suggested would take the waters through ditches in the Longwood Industrial Park running parallel to SR 436 under SR 427 and east to Fairy Lake.

Commissioner Greg Drummond said the only information on an official city position has been gleaned from newspaper accounts of last week's city council meeting.

At last Thursday night's meeting, Palm told the Longwood City Council that Winser Manor should be eligible for providing drainage for the south highway area. He said he agreed at the work session with county state officials that Longwood assist the county in solving its problems, but that the city should not pay any money in the assistance.

Supreme Court Continues

Hearing Geter Arguments

The State Supreme Court was still weighing arguments for a preliminary hearing in the Samuel Geter first degree murder case this morning, according to the clerk of the court in Tallahassee.

Geter's attorney, T. David Burns of Bartow, Monday asked the court to order a preliminary hearing for Geter. The 14-year-old Sanford youth facing an Oct. 8 trial in the death of William Olesby, a Sanford Middle School student.

The court was asked to order a preliminary hearing to determine if medical evidence in the case was sufficient to indicate probable cause a crime was committed.

Geter was indicted by the Seminole Grand Jury in the Sept. 5 death of Olesby, 12, after an alleged fight and robbery.
