

4 New Wells To Be City's Hedge Against Drought

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

To make sure Sanford won't run out of water four more wells will be drilled at the city's Oregon Avenue well field.

The Sanford City Commission voted Monday to pay for the wells with money from impact fees. They will cost between $47,000 and $50,000 each. The commission also approved spending $5,573 to finish work on the existing well at the well field.

Workers today were laying pipes that will connect the well to the city's water plant. That well, along with the four new ones, will bring the number of wells at the field to five.

City Manager Warren E. "Pete" Knowles said he anticipates each new well will produce about a million gallons a day. That would boost the city's water capacity to about 12.5 million gallons per day.

Knowles said it is difficult to determine when the new wells will be operational. Bids have to be taken and contracts awarded before construction begins.

Because of recent low rainfall levels, water demand has been running at about 7 million gallons a day, putting a strain on existing supplies.

Knowles said lack of rain can boost water consumption about 20 percent. When it rains, nature takes care of watering lawns.

The situation is not critical but Knowles has ordered the water pressure to be slowly lowered until the area gets more rainfall.

The city did get some breathing room last week when the area received about 4 inches of rain.

"The rains this week helped tremendously," Knowles said.

In addition to providing water for Sanford, the city serves Lake Mary, the Midway-Canaan area and the Indian Mound Water Association near the eastern edge of Lake Monroe.

Lake Mary is building its own $1.4 million water plant with its first phase expected to be in operation in December.

The 23-acre Oregon Ave well field was acquired last year in the midst of the EDI water contamination crises.

Tuskawilla Projects Vetoed

Homeowners Score Against Developers

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

It was a victory for residents of the Tuskawilla-Red Bug Lake roads area when, after three hours of public hearings, the Seminole County Commission turned down three proposed developments near their homes.

The residents presented the same arguments they gave the county's planning and zoning commission last week — Red Bug Lake Road and Tuskawilla Road are now impossibly jammed with traffic, schools are already overcrowded, the area doesn't need any more commercial development, development is impacting water and sewer service. The planning and zoning commission earlier voted to recommend two of the three projects.

But Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff made the most convincing arguments against the plans. With Public Works Director Larry Sellers and County Planning Director Woody Price in the audience, Kirchhoff asked a series of questions.

He asked Sellers about the Red Bug Lake Road-Tuskawilla Road intersection and how it is classed.

Sellers said it is classed "E,"

'He (Kirchhoff) is one brave soul.'

meaning more vehicles go through the intersection of the two two-lane roads than it was designed to accommodate and drivers have to sit through two or three changes of lights at the traffic signal during peak traffic hours.

He said an "E" intersection is one in which drivers feel trapped and frustrated by the inability to move. Of Red Bug Lake Road, Sellers said it is carrying more vehicles than it was designed to carry now without considering any further development.

Kirchhoff questioned Price about how much commercial zoning the comprehensive land use plan envisioned for the area. Price said 25-to-30 acres is recommended in the plan and "well in excess of 100 acres" already has been rezoned for commercial development in the area.

Kirchhoff said he had listened to the homeowners at the hearing. He asked when was the last time impact fees to developers had been changed in the area and was told impact fees were set eight years ago and haven't been changed since.

Impact fees are the fees developers are asked to voluntarily commit to pay for the impact their development will have on roads, schools, fire service and sheriff's department service.

To the complaints from the residents that so much commercial development is being built that doesn't appear to be economically feasible and is making their area unattractive, Kirchhoff said that often projects are not going to be economically feasible, but are built as tax shelters.

He also said that the residents have put the commissioners in the position of defending developers and that it is going to be more and more difficult for them to continue doing this.

"I hope they are going to start listening," Kirchhoff said of his colleagues. "I like to see good, orderly development. Sometimes if we say something is premature, the developers will come back with a better development plan. I hope the commissioners will look carefully at this and not grant the request."

Kirchhoff's remarks were met with a burst of applause from the audience of about 25 Tuskawilla-Red Bug Lake resi-

112-Count Indictment Says GE Bilked U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A federal grand jury has charged that General Electric Co. cheated the government out of more than $800,000 on a $47 million defense contract by altering employee time cards without the employees' knowledge.

The nation's fourth-largest defense contractor, a current GE employee and a former one were accused in the 112-count indictment. If convicted, the company could face up to $1 million in fines.

After the indictments were announced Tuesday, GE released a statement saying, "There was no criminal wrongdoing on the part of GE or its employees."

The company said it was confident it could work out all the issues arising from the case and said it was willing to reimburse the government for any improper charges that might have been made.

The indictment charged GE's Re-Entry Systems Division, located in Philadelphia and King of Prussia, had a series of contracts with the Air Force to replace existing re-entry vehicles on Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles with a new, updated vehicle.

The project, known as the MK-12 A program, included contracts for test equipment and related computer software programs needed to insure that the missile and its new components would function properly if actually launched.

One of the MK-12 A contracts for test equipment was a fixed price incentive contract, which meant that all costs over an agreed-upon ceiling could not be paid by the Air Force but had to be absorbed by the company. This agreement was known as the "second buy contract."

The indictment charged that between Jan. 1, 1980 and April 1983, GE defrauded the government by claiming more than $800,000 in non-reimbursable overrun labor costs on the "second buy contract" by charging the costs to other government contracts.

The indictment charged that time cards of re-entry division employees were altered without their knowledge.

Mother, Kidnapped Son Reunited After 10 Years

HOUSTON (UPI) — A babysitter watching television recognized the baby picture of a youngster missing for more than 10 years, leading to a tearful reunion with the mother the boy thought was dead.

Adam Michael Hicks was 17 months old when his father, Michael Hicks, abducted him on Oct. 9, 1974. For years Maria Jo Smith, with the help of police and private investigators, searched for her son.

The 12-year-old boy was reunited with his mother Tuesday in Houston, three months after contacting Child Keyppers, a Lake Worth, Fla., firm that searches for missing children.

Elizabeth Smith, an attorney for Smith, said a hearing was scheduled today in San Antonio to determine if Adam can return to Colorado with his mother.

Jo Ann Currier, president of Child Keyppers, said Adam's parents were divorced in Denver when he was a baby. His mother was awarded custody, with his father receiving visitation rights.

Michael Hicks took his son one weekend and never returned. Denver police looked for Adam for three years before giving up the search.

But in January, Smith saw an advertisement for a missing child on a Denver television station. She called the toll-free number, explaining she too had a missing child. Could they help her?

They said chances were very slim of finding a child missing more than four years, but put her in touch with Currier.

With only a photograph of Adam at age 18 months to go on, Currier printed posters with his picture and biographical history on them.

She also filmed a television segment that showed Adam's baby picture.

A day later, Currier got a phone call from a woman in San Antonio, who said she was Adam's babysitter for two years. She said the same picture that appeared on TV hung in the family's living room and the child's name was Adam Hicks.

But, she added, she had not seen the child for more than two years.

Adam was later located in Houston. "The school counselor at our request brought Adam from the classroom," Currier said. "They talked about his mother. He said he would like to meet her sometime. The counselor asked, 'Would you like to meet her now,' and he said, 'yes.'"

Elizabeth Smith said the youngster "was quite pleased to meet his mother, talk with her and leave with her."

Currier said Adam's father had told the boy his mother was dead. A Denver police spokesman said charges could be brought in Colorado against the father.

3 Down, 1 More To Go For MX

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's pressure has driven home three congressional victories on the MX missile but opponents believe they have one chance left to run down the controversial program.

Last week, Reagan went to Capitol Hill and successfully lobbied senators to vote twice for the MX. This week, the administration had buses bring 100 House members to the White House for more persuasion.

The arm-twisting worked as Reagan won a narrow House victory Tuesday in a 219-213 vote authorizing $1.5 billion for 21 of the 10-warhead weapons in fiscal year 1985.

The House's decision brings this year's fight to a final ballot in that chamber, expected Thursday. If the MX wins, production continues. If it loses, the missile would be dead for this year.

The House Tuesday bought the argument of Reagan and others, among them chief U.S. arms negotiator Max Kampelman — brought back from Geneva, Switzerland, for last-minute lobbying — that the negotiators need the MX to help win Soviet concessions.

But House Speaker Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., a leading missile opponent, saw the vote differently.

"Today we approved the concept. Tomorrow we look at the price tag," he said, referring to arguments that the ultimate price tag on the missile, taking in silo hardening, will exceed $40 billion.

"There really is a tremendous chance to turn this around in the next couple days," said opponent Ed Markey, D-Mass.

At the White House, Reagan called the vote "an important and unmistakable signal of American unity and resolve" to the world.

"America has sent a message, loud and clear, that we back our negotiators and we will continue to do so," he said. "Today's vote was a vote for peace."

The MX will stay on the congressional agenda. Reagan has requested $4 billion for 48 missiles in fiscal 1986, a figure many members said was sure to be trimmed as a condition of support in the latest round of voting.

As he did last year, Reagan got much help in saving the MX from Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., the chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

Road Issue Stalls WOFL Plan To Relocate In Lake Mary

By Roger Simmons
Herald Staff Writer

Plans by Orlando television station WOFL, Channel 35, to build a new broadcasting facility in Lake Mary were delayed Tuesday night when the city's planning and zoning board tabled the station's preliminary proposals until its April 23 meeting.

The motion to delay action on the station's request came after it was learned the Lake Mary City Commission did not take action on a road that would provide access to the land WOFL has in mind for the station.

Lake Mary City Manager Kathy Rice said the proposal to build Skyline Drive was tabled by city commissioners Thursday because they did not receive all the information needed for the project. She said city engineers did not have an opportunity to obtain all the data needed before the meeting. The commission decided to delay voting on the project until its April 4 meeting.

William Taylor, a consultant for WOFL, told the planning and zoning board that if the construction of Skyline Drive is not approved the station might change its plans to move to Lake Mary.

"The station has in their contract that the roadway must be under construction before they purchase the property," Taylor said.

Planning and zoning board member Buzz Petros said since the city commission has yet to discuss the construction of Skyline Drive, Channel 35's proposals should be tabled until they do. The board voted unanimously to delay decisions on the station's requests until the April meeting.

WOFL came before the planning and zoning board with two proposals.

First, the station wanted approval for a 3 section division of a 20-acre parcel of land along Interstate 4 near Lake Emma Road. The land is owned by Triangle Park Trust and WOFL has an option to buy a five-acre tract on which it hopes to build the station's new headquarters.

Second, the station wanted approval of a preliminary site plan that outlines the placement of the station's proposed $4-million, 2-story building on the five-acre parcel. Besides a 34,000-square-foot building, the site would also house a 200-foot broadcasting tower and two satellite dishes.

Jim Doyas, chief engineer for WOFL, said he was disappointed with the board's decision. But Doyas agreed with the planning and zoning board that the city commission's decision on whether to approve Skyline Drive is critical. He said Channel 35 would not build in Lake Mary "if we can't get to the site."

Doyas also said that board's decision to delay the project might force the station to obtain an extension on its option to buy the five-acre plot. "But it's been extended several times and could be extended again," he said.

Judging By Its Cover...

WARWICK, R.I. (UPI) — School officials have banned a booklet on the metric system because the cover shows a buxom bikini-clad woman and lists her measurements in millimeters.

George McLaughlin, director of secondary education for the Warwick school system, said the 11-year-old booklet was deemed "offensive and discriminatory" after an angry parent complained.

"We came to the conclusion that by today's standards it is at the very least offensive," McLaughlin said. "There are many other things that can be used in the teaching of metrics."

Seminole PTA President Receives Jefferson Award

Jeanne Morris, president of the Seminole County Parents and Teachers Association, was one of five people who received recognition for public service with a Jefferson Award.

The awards, presented by the American Institute for Public Service, are a way of recognizing people "who daily give of themselves to help others and surely deserve to be thanked for that commitment," said Nicki Sarnier, Community Affairs Director for WCPX-TV, channel 6, the local sponsor of the Jefferson Awards program.

Ms. Sarnier said that Mrs. Morris and four others, none of those from Seminole County, were selected from approximately 300 nominees the station received.

Mrs. Morris said that she first found out that she would be nominated for the award about two months ago. While at a meeting of the PTA, Seminole County Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes told the council that he was nominating Mrs. Morris.

An inch-thick packet of letters praising Mrs. Morris was presented to the Jefferson Awards selection committee. One of the letters, written by Hughes, said,

"Her countless and significant contributions to education in Seminole County have been instrumental in improvements in curriculum, citizen involvement, facilities, instructional materials and many other areas," he said.

"Named after the one who gave so much to make life more meaningful and more beautiful for all of us, the Jefferson Award would be a meaningful way to recognize the efforts of Jeanne Morris."

True to form, Mrs. Morris said she was in Tallahassee working on an education committee when she found out she was a winner. "I was really excited," she said.

Besides serving as president of the 10,000-member Seminole County PTA for the past two years, Mrs. Morris is also a Girl Scout unit coordinator serving Lake Orienta Elementary School and a member of the Lyman High School Local School Advisory Committee. She has done volunteer service for Hospice, the Legal Aid Office and formed a committee to explore adding a more extensive art program at Lake Orienta.

Sanctuary Movement Members' Concern May Get Them Jailed

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (UPI) — Fifty congressmen have asked a federal judge for leniency in sentencing the first two Sanctuary Movement workers for transporting Salvadoran aliens in defiance of immigration laws.

Jack Elder, 41, director of a Roman Catholic-sponsored refugee shelter in San Benito, Texas, and layworker Stacey Lynn Merkt were to appear before U.S. District Judge Filemon Vela for sentencing today.

Elder could be sent to prison for up to 30 years and fined $28,000 on a six-count conviction for conspiracy and landing and transporting three Salvadorans last November.

Merkt, convicted twice in the past year, could receive up to five years imprisonment and be fined $10,000 on her conviction for conspiring with Elder to transport the Salvadorans, plus another 90 days in jail because Vela revoked her probation Tuesday.

The Sanctuary Movement is a loose network of 180 churches that have declared themselves religious sanctuaries for Central American refugees.

Courts have ruled that the United States has an "overriding interest" in controlling its borders that outweighs Sanctuary Movement members' claims that immigration laws violate their freedom of religion to grant sanctuary to the downtrodden and persecuted from Central America.

Congressional Report Blasts NRC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is plagued with management problems that have led to a decade of regulatory failure, says a congressional report in a scathing assessment of the agency.

The 10-month study by the House Appropriations Committee staff criticized several aspects of operations at the NRC, which is responsible for the licensing and regulation of nuclear power plants.

The report issued a three-pronged attack of the NRC's five-member commission charging it is hamstrung by distrust, the near-equal authority of any commissioner to contest any NRC action and a misunderstanding of roles, responsibilities and authority.

The report also criticized the NRC for: — "A costly lack of discipline" in often needlessly requiring a nuclear plant licensee or applicant to do additional analysis or plant structural changes.

— Regulatory ambiguity and excesses. — Not using "whatever accomplishments" have been made in its research program to produce changes in regulatory requirements.

IN BRIEF

Lewis: Teeth Needed In Anti-Fraud Laws

TAMPA (UPI) — State Comptroller Gerald Lewis says his department faces two major problems in the fight against fraudulent investment schemes and the Legislature will be asked to correct them.

Lewis told a news conference Tuesday his department is hampered by lack of adequate legal authority to require subpoenaed company records be provided promptly enough for inspection, and lack of resources to effectively monitor company operations.

He said the Legislature will be asked to pass a bill which would expedite receipt of such records by giving the court the power to order a company to stop business unless the records are provided immediately, or as a last resort, jail company officials.

He said under existing law, the state can subpoena records but companies can delay the process for months through court challenges, while continuing to do business.

Lewis said the Legislature will be asked to fund six more positions within the Division of Securities, three of them financial examiner-analysts, one a fiscal assistant and two clerical.

Sales Tax May Attract Navy

PENSACOLA (UPI) — In the latest fusillade in the ongoing battle to attract a Navy battleship group, a northwest Florida county commission voted to ask the Legislature for a 1 cent sales tax to pay for dredging Pensacola Bay.

The Escambia County Commission Tuesday voted 3-2 to seek legislative approval for the sales tax that would generate an estimated $12 million to $16 million during the year it would be in force. That money, plus promised funds from the state, would pay for the $36 million dredging job.

The tax, however, is contingent upon the Navy choosing Pensacola from among the six Gulf Coast ports vying for the group that will include the USS Wisconsin, a World War II-era vessel the Navy wants to reactivate.

Poll Results Not Even Close

Water Customers Back Fluoridation

A poll of Seminole County water customers on whether fluoride should be injected into their water supply is in and those who responded voted more than 3-1 for fluoridation.

Roseann Hunter of the county's environmental services department said Tuesday that 2,229 of the county's 8,000-9,000 water system customers filled out the ballot printed on their February water bills. Of those responding, 1,716 voted for fluoridation while 513 voted against.

Ms. Hunter said the results of the poll will be formally reported to the county's utility steering committee at a 10:30 a.m. meeting April 12.

Members of the committee include Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, chairman, and Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Bob Sturm, County Administrator Ken Hooper, County Attorney Nikki Clayton, Deputy County Administrator for development and Planning Director Woody Price and Acting Environmental Services Director Cindy Wright.

The committee authorized the poll last November. At that time, county Health and Human Services Director Dr. Jorge Deju said he was "about 95 percent in favor of fluoridation." The county's health department currently provides fluoride treatment for 5,000-6,000 elementary school children on a regular basis upon request.

Deju said the state will provide funds for the equipment to inject fluoride into the water supply and will pay all operating costs for the project during the first two years.

After that the county utility system would have to pick up the tab for fluoridation. There are no estimates available on those costs.

The county provides water for unincorporated areas of Seminole County plus some sections of Casselberry and Lake Mary.

Commissioner Barbara Christensen has said before the county begins any fluoridation program, if it ultimately does, a public hearing on the matter will be held first. — Donna Estes

Leaning On Mexico

Mexican authorities, recovering it seems from a series of false starts, at last closed in on those who kidnapped and murdered U.S. drug enforcement agent Enrique Camarena Salazar last month. The apparent progress in the case and the fact that some of the chief suspects are themselves Mexican police officers underscore two important realities affecting future U.S.-Mexican relations.

First, the now-aggressive efforts by Mexican authorities to resolve the Camarena case demonstrate that the government of Mexican President Miguel de la Madrid is, in fact, sensitive to diplomatic and economic pressure from Washington. So sensitive, in fact, that Mexico officials are willing to endure the scandal of having to arrest and charge some of their own police for the murder of a U.S. government employee.

What is more, President de la Madrid is tacitly acknowledging the extent of drug-related corruption within the Federal Judicial Police and the Federal Security Police especially. That helps explain the growing role of the Mexican army in trying to disrupt the rampant drug trafficking in several Mexican states.

Which brings us to the second reality so starkly illuminated by the tragic Camarena case. Officials of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency had it right months ago when they warned that police corruption in Mexico was destroying any hope of curtailing the flow of drugs coming north across the border. The DEA could not have been surprised that six of those charged in the Camarena case in recent days were Mexican police and that a seventh was a former policeman.

It is this evidence of widespread corruption in the middle-echelons of Mexican police agencies that should be particularly worrisome to the administrations of Presidents Reagan and de la Madrid. It means that Mr. de la Madrid, who has won fair to good marks for attacking corruption, cannot end the collaboration between drug traffickers and police in Mexico simply by replacing a few top officials.

But the deeper the corruption bought and sustained with drug money, the more reason Washington has for keeping the pressure on Mexico City to do something effective about it. Bringing Mr. Camarena's kidnappers and murderers to justice would be only the first step. Any effective counterattack against the drug traffickers and their police accomplices will require sustained pressure from Washington.

Choosing the right sorts of pressure and applying them in just the right amounts will call for very careful judgments, to be sure. Stemming the tide of cocaine, heroin and marijuana flowing into the United States from Mexico is an obvious American interest. It is not, however, the only or even the most important American interest in Mexico these days. The health of Mexico's economy, the stability of its political system and Mexico's role in Central America each transcend the drug problem.

More immediately, the Reagan administration must take care lest its prodding on drug matters be seen as a form of political interference just as seven of Mexico's largest states prepare for gubernatorial elections. That could backfire to damage a conservative opposition building at local and state levels against Mexico's ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party.

So, U.S. pressure on Mexico for progress in the drug wars must be both deft and discreet. But unless it is also firm and sustained, the sorts of criminals who murdered Enrique Camarena will be breathing easier soon enough.

Hazard Lurks In Innocent-Looking Egg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I am grateful to the Agriculture Department and the magazine Dynamic Years for pointing out some of the safety hazards associated with Easter, which is coming up a week from Sunday, or April 7, to be precise.

Anyone who has been injured by an Easter egg may not need to be reminded of the safety rules, but the rest of us tend to take Easter more or less for granted.

We may ignore the perils that possibly are lurking in hard-boiled colored eggs, or overlook the fact that underdone Easter hams may be teeming with trichina parasites.

"Trichinosis results from eating pork that contains trichina parasites and has not been fully cooked," the department advises.

So be certain not to eat any raw ham this Easter.

An Agriculture press release explodes a number of well-entrenched myths, such as the notion that dyes used to color eggs may be unsafe.

I take this to mean it's the shell that causes indigestion, not the dye. Eat fewer egg shells this Easter and you should have no need for Alka-Seltzer.

The department also notes that bacteria can multiply dramatically if eggs are left at room temperature for long periods.

Dynamic Years agrees that eggs not refrigerated after they have been hard-boiled "can become a source of staphylococcal food poisoning."

In other words, don't hide Easter eggs in out-of-the-way places where they likely won't be found until the next day. Or the next week. Or the next Easter.

You surely don't want any dramatically multiplying bacteria around your abode, do you? My advice to anyone planning an Easter Egg Hunt is to make certain all are found in a reasonable length of time. The eggs, that is.

If a few hunters are lost for several days, well that certainly beats trichinosis.

But what, you may well ask, about eggs that have "a greenish coating on the yolk?"

Not to worry. The department assures us that "harmless green discoloration is a natural chemical reaction between sulfur in the egg white and the iron in the yolk."

If, on the other hand, the ham sandwiches you might find in the refrigerator after Easter have a greenish coating reminiscent of that seen on General Grant's statue, better look for another kind of leftover.

Neither the magazine nor the government, alas, deal with the types of accidents that are likely to occur at public Easter Egg rolls of the sort held on the White House lawn.

Be warned, however, that hard-boiled eggs rolling down grassy knolls at high rates of speed can cause nasty bruises and contusions. Direct hits may even cause sprained ankles.

And errant children rolling down grassy knolls at high rates of speed are even more of a menace.

Fortunately, President and Mrs. Reagan will be spending the holiday at their California ranch, so they will be well out of the line of fire, so to speak. However, any pedestrians who visit the Executive Mansion on Easter Monday should be aware they will be sightseeing at their own risk.

Listen To The Producers

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — I visited Yale University this week to debate trade issues with Dr. James Tobin, the Nobel Prize winning economist who served on the Council of Economic Advisers in the Kennedy administration. Like most economists, liberal or conservative, Dr. Tobin is a strict free-trader. He isn't bothered by the flood of foreign goods. I took the position in debate at the Yale Political Union that current U.S. trade policies are having a devastating effect on American industry.

The debate took place only days after President Reagan announced that the U.S. would lift restrictions on Japanese automobile imports. The day after the debate, the Chrysler Corp. announced that it would not expand auto production in the USA and would start buying more automobiles from Japan for sale here.

Ironically, on the trade issue the President is heeding the theorists instead of the people who are responsible for creating jobs and profits. Only days before Mr. Reagan announced what Sen. John Danforth (R-MO) has described as a "unilateral concession to Japan," Robert A. Stranahan, Jr., Chairman of the Champton Spark Plyg Co., pleaded with the President not to lift the quotas. He charged that Japan "has successfully destroyed much of our industrial base by outright sabotage with their government subsidizing many products." He asked Mr. Reagan: "Why not listen to the producers in this country who are responsible for creating jobs and opportunities instead of the academic community which hasn't the slightest idea what has made this country operate successfully?"

The economists for investment houses are getting the picture even if the White House is not. The chief economist for E.F. Hutton predicts that the imports surge will cause economic stagnation in the United States in the second half of the year. Is anyone in the president's office listening to E.F. Hutton?

Allen Sinal, economist at Shearson Lehman Brothers reports that production is moving out of the country. Unquestionably, without a change in trade policy, American manufacturers will be forced to relocate plants to Mexico, the Far East and elsewhere.

All this seems to disturb the academic free trade purists not at all. Perhaps they are too isolated and insulated from reality. The reality amounts to factories shut down and working people on welfare.

Agencies Battle Over Disposal Rights

WASHINGTON — Poisonous chemical wastes are piling up by the ton every day in the United States, and burning the toxic stuff at sea in giant incinerator ships is thought by many experts to be the best solution to the growing problem.

But officials of the Maritime Administration complain that the Environmental Protection Agency has deliberately discouraged competition in the potentially lucrative incineration industry by favoring one company over all others.

Maritime's immediate concern is a $55 million loan guarantee it gave to a rival firm, which will need EPA approval to operate its ships — and to repay the loan.

In its zeal to protect the interests of its anointed company — and others that might want to enter the field — Maritime has wrapped itself

JEFFREY HART

3 Propositions

A few years ago I appeared regularly on a CBS show called Spectrum, matched with a liberal, the wit and columnist Murray Kempton. For these weekly bouts the rule was that we would alternate in suggesting topics of interest to disagree on. One week, I suggested racial busing for school integration, in defense of which Murray did his best. After the show, he turned to me and said, okay, next week you defend germ warfare.

That, in fact, did not come to pass — but I recall it because of the extraordinary rhetorical situations today's liberals have been reduced to. On three of the most prominent issues currently under debate, the left is defending three propositions, which I myself certainly would not want to be forced to defend in public debate, viz:

1. That Mutual Assured Destruction is preferable to Reagan's Star Wars missile-defense proposal.

2. That the fetus, in fact, does not scream.

3. That a communist regime in Nicaragua is acceptable.

In the abstract, every weapon that man has ever devised has been countered by another weapon... technology moves on, and it is inevitable that a system neutralizing the ICBM will at some point be feasible. My own information is that there have been startling technological breakthroughs within the past few years that bring that point much closer. It is with the prospect in mind that the defense may be overtaking the offense where missiles are concerned that President Reagan gave the go ahead on Star Wars.

2. That Silent Screams movie is causing all sorts of trouble. Using special electronic techniques, it shows fairly clear images of a fetus being aborted. The fetus does look like a small human being. It seems to try to evade the suction tube. It appears to open its mouth at the last moment. Abortion proponents are saying a) that since it does not have air in its lungs it cannot really scream, and b) that its neurological system has not developed to the point where it can feel pain. Well, I don't know about these fine points, but no one can watch the movie without understanding that something very serious is going on there. Under some circumstances, in my opinion, abortion may be the least of several evils, but we should know what we are doing in a clear-eyed way.

3. Is a communist regime really acceptable in Nicaragua? The majority of the Democratic Party are advocating policies that lead to just such a conclusion. My information is that the Reagan administration has informed the Soviet Union that any advanced military aircraft introduced into Nicaragua will be blown up. So far, Moscow has taken this threat seriously. But the administration is also pursuing a policy of military and diplomatic pressure that has a good chance of altering the nature of the Managua regime.

If I were a liberal, I certainly would not want to be placed in the position of defending Central American communism. I could do a better job of defending germ warfare, or even busing.

Export Controls Feud

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Recently, the news has been full of reports that critical U.S. military hardware and technology is being diverted to countries that are forbidden to have it. This allegedly is occurring because U.S. agencies are lax in enforcing laws that prevent such illegal transfers.

One story stated that 87 Hughes helicopters were illegally shipped to North Korea and that Customs Service officials did nothing to prevent this — although they were aware of it for more than 18 months. In another story, a high government official charged that the Soviets have been given technological secrets due to lax security in numerous government departments, including Defense and Energy and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

These revelations are shocking — yet the reason these stories are appearing is a story in itself, and it involves one of the most bitter power battles in recent memory.

The accusations are linked by a common factor — the Commerce Department:

— It was Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige who claimed that the Soviets had benefited from lax security.

— It was Commerce's Inspector general whose report, leaked to the Washington Post, accused Customs of failing to stop helicopters from going to North Korea.

— Finally, for the last three years, Commerce has waged a near-war for greater authority over administering export controls and investigating violations.

Under the Export Administration Act, Commerce can grant some, but not all, export licenses. The Defense Department controls export licenses for weapons; Treasury grants financial licenses, and its Customs Service is in charge of policing and investigating violations. Commerce, however, wants to centralize and run the entire operation.

The power dispute has become extremely bitter.

A Treasury official gazed out of his window at the Commerce Department building across Pennsylvania Avenue, saying, "I guess it's a good thing that Commerce does not have enforcement types authorized to carry weapons — otherwise, there might be a gun battle in the middle of Pennsylvania Avenue."

Disputes like this are often settled in the Oval Office — but for now, the White House is steering clear and leaving the decision up to Congress.

County Not Sure It Wants Out Of Garbage Business

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Despite proposals from private enterprise to take over the county's refuse disposal operation, the Seminole County Commission isn't so sure it wants to go out of the business.

Nor are commissioners ready to make one of the decisions — mandatory garbage pickup — which their staff says is necessary for the operation to pay for itself. Under mandatory pickup, all residents in the unincorporated areas would be required to subscribe to a refuse service to have their garbage and trash picked up. This would assure the county of a continuous flow of garbage at its facilities.

At a workshop session Monday, commissioners instructed a special committee to study ways of updating and modifying the operation to promote efficiency and cut costs.

The committee, headed by Public Works Director Larry Sellers, was told to have its report back to the commission within a month.

Meanwhile, Sellers told commissioners that the county's refuse business has declined 40 percent in the past three months since fees for dumping garbage were increased at the transfer stations near Sanford and Altamonte Springs and at the county landfill near Oviedo.

County Administrator Ken Hooper said when fees were raised some commercial haulers began using the Orange County landfills where the cost was less. Hooper predicted that will change as soon as Orange County raises its rates within the next few weeks.

A proponent of mandatory pickup, Hooper said there's an "awful increase in the litter being thrown along the roadways. People are dumping wherever they want to."

Sellers said the committee had "mixed emotions" about whether to recommend the county stay in the business or turn it over to private enterprise.

"There doesn't appear to be a clear need to divest ourselves of the operation now," he said.

adding that even if the county turns over the business it will still need to monitor the operation and determine the seriousness of the problem of methane gas at the landfill. (The gas is created by rotting garbage). In addition, the county will have to bear the costs of closing the landfill, which is estimated at $500,000, to contain in what has been described as a "giant baggie" the garbage and trash already buried there, according to orders from the state Department of Environmental Regulation.

"None of the three companies that submitted proposals said they would be happy to assume liabilities" for the landfill, Sellers said.

One, Robert Gardner, from his seat in the audience, said, "He (Kirchhoff) is one brave soul."

The commissioners asked staff to review impact fees with an eye toward revising those fees upwards to meet today's costs and to have the revisions back to the board as soon as possible.

On the issue of changing the county's land use plan, the county commissioners on a 2-2 tie vote failed to approve a change that would have allowed a shopping center to be built on Tuskawilla Road.

The vote was Commission Chairman Bob Sturm and Commissioner Barbara Christensen for the proposal while Commissioners Bill Kirchhoff and Fred Streetman opposed. Commissioner Sandra Glenn, in Europe on vacation, was not present to break the tie.

The change in zoning requested by Frank Tepper, trustee, on behalf of Malcolm Clayton, Charles Clayton and Edward Fielding as members of a trust from agriculture to retail commercial was rejected on a 4-0 vote without prejudice, which means the applicant can bring back to the commission the same zoning request in less than a year. A flat denial prohibits an owner from requesting the same zoning again within a year.

Hugh Harling, a representative of Tepper, said the plan was to build a shopping center on 7.16 acres on the west side of Tuskawilla Road, south of the Willa Springs Shopping Center.

A second request from the same parties for a change in the land use plan from low density residential-preservation to high density residential and for re-zoning from agriculture to multi-family dwelling district for a 7.36 acre parcel on the northwest corner of Tuskawilla Road and Howell Creek was also rejected on a 4-0 vote without prejudice. Plans were to build 90 apartments on the property.

A third request for a change in the county plan from low density residential to medium density residential and rezoning from agriculture to residential professional for a dentist office on .89 acre near the northeast corner of Tuskawilla and Dike roads was denied on the same 4-0 vote.

Pins Will Continue As Peters Inherits Rams' Mat Program

Doug Peters, who has bided his time as an assistant wrestling coach the past six years, will be the new head coach at Lake Mary High School, according to Principal Don Reynolds. This news, of course, is not unexpected.

When Frank Schwartz, who with Peters' help pushed Lake Mary to the top program in Central Florida, made his intentions known earlier this year that it would be his last as head coach, there was just one likely replacement — Peters.

Schwartz, 37, and Peters go back a long way. When Peters was a freshman wrestler at Lyman High, Schwartz was his first coach. Schwartz was in a good position to watch Peters develop as a wrestler and a coach.

And he did develop. The 26-year-old Peters posted an outstanding 130-4 record as a prep wrestler. He was a state place winner in 1975 and 1976 for the Greyhounds. He was selected as the 1976 Orlando Amateur Athlete of the Year.

After his fine prep career, which also included participation in football, cross country and track, Peters went on to the University of Central Florida. For the Knights, he was a three-time state champion, three-time southern regional champion and a 1980 NCAA college All-American. Again in 1980, he was chosen Orlando Amateur Athlete of the Year. Peters finished his collegiate career with a 95-6 record.

It was during the latter stages of his college career that Peters joined forces with Schwartz — first at Lake Howell and later for the Rams — to form one of the finest combinations in the state.

During Peters' two years at Lake Howell, the Silver Hawks were 29-1. During his two-year hitch at Lake Mary, the Rams were 40-4. Overall, there were three conference, three regional and three district titles. Also on three occasions, those teams finished in the state's top 10.

Schwartz said the decision to step down was made much easier by the presence of Peters. "Doug has worked hard over the past four years and he deserves a lot of credit for our success," said Schwartz. "We've had a lot of success at Lake Mary already but I think the best years are yet to come. We have a tremendous freshman class. I think a state championship is in Lake Mary's future."

Although Schwartz is stepping down from the top spot, don't expect him to fade away. "I'll be around," he said. "If Doug needs any help, he won't be afraid to ask. I'll still encourage every kid I can to wrestle."

Schwartz, though, said he wouldn't be too close. "It's Doug's show. He'll run the program the way he wants," said Schwartz. "There won't be any interference from me."

Peters said he is looking forward to the challenge. "One of the things that was especially important for us was our off-season program," he said. "We're getting that going right now. The USA wrestling club is having matches every Saturday. That's where a lot of interest is created."

Schwartz and Peters both feel that the foundation for the Lake Mary mat success was the numbers. "I just walk down the halls and ask kids if they want to wrestle," said Schwartz. "Our ability to get kids out has been the key to the program. We'll give anybody and everybody a chance to wrestle. We don't cut kids."

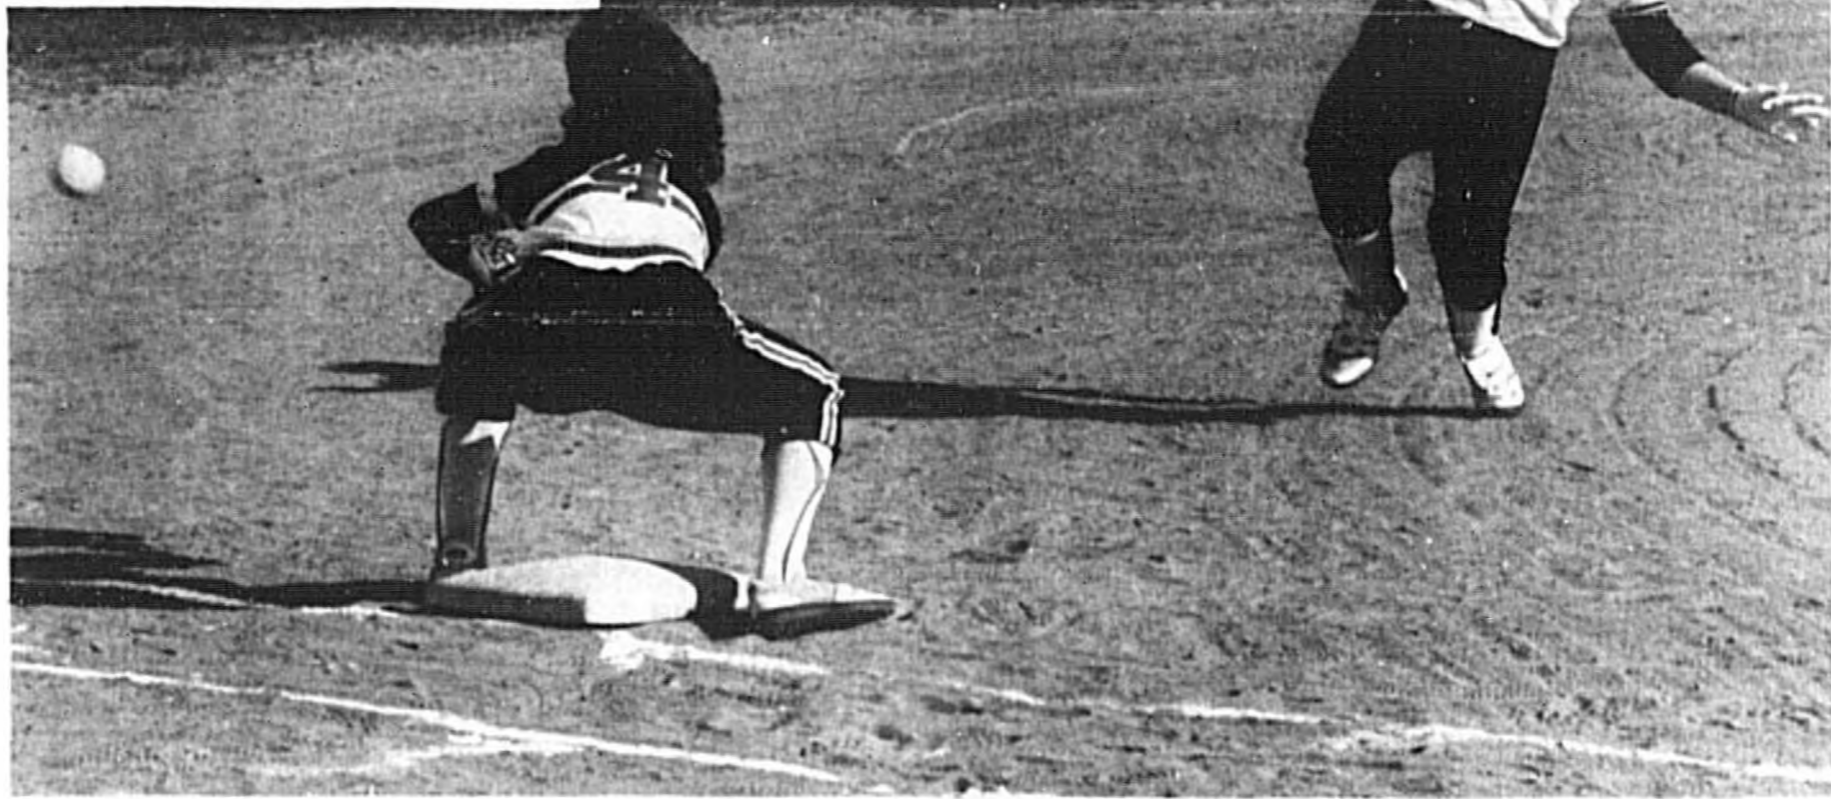

This excess of numbers was further emphasized during the regular season. Whereas some schools were continually depleted by forfeits, the Rams never lost a match by not having a wrestler whether it was junior varsity or varsity.

Lady Seminoles Upset Mary

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Softball

Usually, when a team makes more errors than it gets hits, it's going to lose. Sanford's Lady Seminoles know that better than any team.

The Lady Tribe still struggled in the field Monday, but used its bats to overcome 10 errors en route to a 9-6 victory over county rival Lake Mary in Five Star Conference softball action at Sanford's Fort Mellon Field.

The loss dropped the Lady Rams to 3-3 in the conference and 10-6 overall while Seminole improved to 2-2 in the Five Star and 4-7 overall. Seminole has two more tough conference games this week as it hosts Apopka today at 4:15 and Laek Branley Thursday also at 4:15. Lake Mary hosts Lake Howell today in a non-conference game then tangles with Apopka Thursday at Apopka.

"I hope this game turns our season around," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "We have two important games left this week and we can put ourselves in a good position if we win them."

In the early going Monday, it was the same old story for Seminole as Lake Mary took advantage of two errors to take a 1-0 lead in the top of the first. Liz Stone reached on an error to lead off. Karen DeShetler singled to left center and, with two outs, Stone scored when Lisa Simkins reached on an error.

Seminole came back with four runs on three hits in the bottom of the second with the big hits coming from freshmen Lisa Hartman and Laura Burke.

Barbara "Taco" Silva reached on an error to lead off and Shelly Sanders followed with a single to center. With one out, Silva was forced at third on Showanda Walker's grounder. Hartman then stepped up and unloaded a triple over the left fielder's head to drive in Sanders and Walker for a 2-1 lead. Burke, the tenth hitter in the order, scorched a single up the middle and, when the ball took a bad hop, it bounced by the outfielders and all the way to the fence for a two-run homer and a 4-1 Seminole lead.

"Burke is just up from the junior varsity and is doing a good job,"

Corso said. "We have a lot of young people who are playing well."

Four Seminole errors enabled Lake Mary to regain the lead in the top of the third. Beth Watkins walked to lead off, Kim Averill singled to right and Simkins singled to right to load the bases. Watkins was forced at home on Lisa Santulli's error for the first out and Reedy Metz popped to third for the second.

Valerie Smith then reached on an error, scoring Averill and run scored when Laurie Leiffer reached on an error. Amy Adams then stroked a single to left to score Santulli and Smith scored when the ball got through the outfield and Lake Mary took a 5-4 lead.

"We sputtered on defense in the beginning," Corso said. "But we came back and pulled together. But we can't continue to play a good inning and then a rotten one next."

Seminole pounded out five hits in the bottom of the fourth and came away with three runs and an 7-5 lead. Jackie Suggs and Walker led off with consecutive singles and, with two outs, Alycia "Fal" Dixon singled up the middle to load the bases. Sheri Peterson followed with a single to center to drive in Suggs and Walker for a 6-5 lead. Jackie Farr followed with a single up the middle to drive in Dixon.

The Lady Rams pulled within 7-6 in the top of the sixth when Averill singled and went all the way to third on an error on the play. Averill scored on Simkins' grounder.

But Seminole added a pair of insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth. Hartman, Burke and Dixon hit consecutive singles to load the bases and Peterson's single drove in Hartman. After Burke was forced at the plate, Janet Hauck singled to center to score Dixon for a 9-6 lead.

Lake Mary got its first two hitters on in the top of the seventh, but three straight fly outs ended the game.

"The kids played with no intensity today," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "It was like an opposite from the tournament (Lady Hawk) Saturday. We could have hit the ball on the ground more and made Seminole make the plays but we didn't. I'm hoping now that we can get a decent seed for districts."

Seminole had 14 hits and 10 errors for the game while Lake Mary had 10 hits, all singles, and made three errors.

Oviedo's 1-2 Decks Osceola

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

KISSIMEEE — Oviedo's potent 1-2 punch of senior Eric Shogren and sophomore Mark Merchant has knocked out a lot of good statistics this year but personal stats haven't made winners out of the Lions.

Until Tuesday, Shogren rapped four hits and Merchant drilled three as the Lions knocked Osceola Kissimmee from the Orange Belt Conference unbeaten ranks by a 6-2 count at Osceola High School.

Oviedo, which nipped Father Lopez Saturday with a seventh-inning comeback, travels to Orlando today for a game with Evans. "That's two wins in a row, our longest winning streak of the year," laughed Howard Mable.

Except, he wasn't joking. The victory was Oviedo's sixth in 19 games. The Lions are just 2-5 in the conference. Hampered by a lack of solid pitching and some defensive shortcomings, Oviedo has yet to hit its stride this year.

The Lions committed three errors but none was damaging. Shogren, who ripped three singles and a double, also stole two bases and drove in three runs. But it was a defensive play in the fifth by the flasher center fielder which had Mable excited.

The Lions had built a 5-1 lead and Junior Craig Duncan had checked the Osceola bats until a pair of singles put runners at first and second. Steve Krapo followed with a base hit up the middle. Shogren charged the ball, fielded it cleanly and gunned a perfect one-hop peg to catcher Mark Hofmann, who scooped it and nabbed fleet-footed Ruben Aviles at the plate, cutting short the outburst.

Merchant, meanwhile, was just a hit behind. The slash-hitting soph roped two singles and a double, stole two bases to run his county-leading total to 20 and scored two runs.

Duncan, who improved his ledger to 3-4 did his job on the hill. The curveballing right-hander scattered eight hits, struck out four and walked two. He strikeout total increased to 51, third in the county.

Eric Shogren, left, and Mark Merchant combined for seven hits to lead Oviedo past Osceola Tuesday.

Lady Hawks Keep Hold On Top Spot

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH — Even an extra five feet on the base paths couldn't save Seabreeze's Lady Sand Crabs Monday. Sunnyland Field's bases are 65 feet apart instead of the regulation 60 feet and, although it may have bothered Lake Howell's Lady Hawks in the beginning, it didn't stop them as they hung an 8-3 defeat on the Sand Crabs.

Lake Howell maintained its lead in the Five Star Conference with the win. The Lady Hawks are 5-0 in the conference and 11-4 overall. Lake Howell returns to conference action Thursday at Spruce Creek. The Lady Hawks have a non-conference game against Lake Mary today at Lake Mary.

Seabreeze took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first but a four-run second inning paved the way for the Lady Hawks. Jaudon "Pee Wee" Jonas led off the frame with a single and Beth Saunders and Alicia Dinkelacker both walked to load the bases. With one out, Jennifer Wallace reached on an error, scoring Jonas. Erin Hankins drew another free pass to force in Saunders with the second run. Christy Tibbitts had the big hit of the inning when she singled to drive in Dinkelacker and Wallace for a 4-1 Lake Howell lead.

Seabreeze pulled within 4-3 after three frames but the Lady Hawks added two runs in the fifth for a 6-3 cushion. Sandy Gillies reached on a fielder's choice and Eileen Thiebauth, the Burger King Player of the Week this past week, crunched a shot over the left fielder's head for an RBI triple. Thiebauth then scored when Ava Gardner reached on an error.

Seabreeze put together a threat in the bottom of the fifth but Gillies, playing shortstop, extinguished the flame by turning a double play. With runners on first and second and one out, Sue Burgess blooped a shot over Gillies' head but the senior fielding whiz made a lunging grab and fired to second for the inning-ending DP.

The Sand Crabs threatened again in the sixth when they loaded the bases with no outs with their best two hitters, Michelle Efferson and Jennifer Toliver, coming to the plate. Efferson hit

Baseball

The Lions picked up a little bit in four of the seven frames. Merchant opened the first with a double to right center. Shogren singled to left to score Merchant for a 1-0 lead.

In the third, Merchant singled to left center and Shogren singled past third. Bellflower dropped a nice drag bunt down third to score Merchant. "We didn't squeeze," said Mable. "We just went on the throw. With Merchant's wheels you have to make two bang bang plays to get him."

In the fourth, Jimmy Barrett walked and when losing pitch "Tubby" Donahue threw the ball down the right field line on a pickoff attempt, Barrett raced to third. Hofmann then lifted a short fly to left on which the left fielder and shortstop collided with the left fielder dropping the ball to score Barrett. Bill McCurdy then sacrificed Hofmann to second and Merchant's infield single moved him to third. Shogren singled sharply past shortstop to drive in Hofmann for a 4-1 lead.

In the sixth, Hofmann singled and McCurdy sacrificed. Merchant whiffed but Shogren doubled over left fielder's head to bring in Hofmann for the fifth run.

In the seventh, Watson fanned but Bradley walked and John Kewley pinch ran. Kewley, though, was thrown out at second trying to steal. On the next pitch, Lowrie crushed a homer over the 350-foot sign in left center field.

Horseshoes, Hand Grenades...And Tennis

It has been said that close only counts, in horseshoes and hand grenades, but recently I have come to believe that close also must count in tennis.

I overheard one of my students talking to another member of the class about a match that they had just finished in the class tournament. One of the players was probably the best player in class and the other somewhere near the middle.

Anyway, the weaker player was very elated and excited about the match and the way he had played, even though the score was 6-0, 6-4. His only comment was, "Hey, I almost took a set."

It did not matter to him or even come to his mind that the better player might have let up a bit, or the fact that a 6-0, 6-4 score is totally decisive. The only thing he knew was that — he almost took a set.

Close but no cigar. Tennis is a bottom line game, you play two out of three sets and the person that wins two of the sets wins the match. Simple, right.

Wrong — tennis players are very funny about their games and their matches. I guess the fact that it is an individual sport has something to do with it. We not only often claim moral victories in our own minds for a close match or set with better players but we even go farther than that.

We claim small victories on games, or even individual points. We often say after missing a put-away shot — "I had

Larry Castle
Herald Tennis
Writer

ya" or "you could have never gotten that one, if I had made it."

A player might be losing 6-0, 4-0 but each individual point, each rally is its own little contest within the big contest and we still feel elated when we win the point, we claim another little victory. It doesn't matter that we are losing very badly, we still try for each individual point.

One player recently came off the court to report the score of his match. I asked him how he did and he said, "I ached him three times in the first set and four times in the second set, and I hit two great topspin lobs..."

Yes, but how did the match turn out?

"Oh, I lost 6-0, 6-1."
"We all know the feeling don't we? It's the nature of the game and I guess the nature of competitive people. We often don't worry about the final outcome as much as we worry about each individual point or shot."

Without a doubt, one of the best matches that this writer has ever played was against a junior vet player named Ed Fitzhugh. Fitzhugh was ranked No. 1 in the state at the time and he beat me soundly, something like 6-0, 6-2.

All I could think of though was how well I had played and some of the points I had won and how close I had come to winning some games. It didn't matter that the guy had thoroughly destroyed me, I had won some small victories and I almost took several games.

It's nice and it's a credit to the game of tennis that even though we may never win a match, we can have the satisfaction of the near misses that would have been great shots, the long, long rallies that we can sometimes win or that rare ace that makes us feel like Connors.

It's nice to say and to even believe that, I almost took a set.

Clutch Hitting, Gloves Insure Forest City Wins

Combining fine hitting in the clutch with strong defense, Forest City 1 George Frey Insurance rolled to a pair of victories in Seminole Softball Club Eagles Division action.

In a 7-2 victory over Casselberry Rotary Club, Marnie Frey ripped a three-run triple to run her RBI total to 12 for five games and Aretha Riggins drove in a pair of runs. Meanwhile, left fielder Erin Higgins made the defensive play of the game by throwing out a runner at the plate.

Kathy Davis added a pair of singles for George Frey Insurance while Jill Knutson had two base hits for Rotary. Tamara Lewis was the defensive stand-out for Casselberry with four putouts and one assist on a throw to the plate.

George Frey Insurance came back to play errorless ball for six innings en route to a 9-1 victory over the Forest City Angels.

Jennifer Hartman led the offense with a single, double and one RBI while Melinda "Fat Back" Jackson and Tami Northam had two singles each. Tracy Gondrow and Renee Mathieu came off the bench to add two RBIs apiece for George Frey Insurance. Letticia Strickland had a pair of hits for the Angels.

Defensively, Jackson, the pitcher, led the way with four assists and two putouts on line drives. Forest City 1 also turned a double play with second baseman Frey relaying to shortstop Niki Burke who fired to

Softball

Laurie Rivers at first for the DP.

In other action, the Angels held off a late rally to claim a 9-8 victory over Goodings. Lisa Silverstein led the Angels with a triple and single. Sherry McDonald, Tonya Colvin and Strickland roped doubles in a five-run first inning. Colvin was also the winning pitcher.

Stephanie Woodard brought Goodings back in the game with one swing of the bat as she clouted a grand slam homer in the fifth inning to pull Goodings within 7-6.

Amy Adams, Marcie Dalziel and Kristen Conway had two hits each as Longwood J&V Enterprises outslugged Fern Park Commonwealth Insurance, 12-6. Sherri Shotts and Sabrina Jarrett added doubles for J&V and Laurie Leifer was the defensive standout.

Stormi Littrell pitched a four-hitter and helped her own cause with three hits as Commonwealth Insurance opened Fern Park 2, 8-4. Littrell struck out two and walked two and also added three singles to the 13-hit attack.

Forest City 2 picked up a pair of victories in the Eagles Division, 6-5 over Oviedo and 15-1 over Fern Park 2.

Against Oviedo, Heather Meyer led the way with a pair of singles and Dawn Gebhart turned in a strong pitching performance with two strike outs and no walks. Against Fern Park, Cindy Lupinski had a single, double and homer to lead the way. Valerie Smith cracked a triple and homer, Meyer added a single a triple while Gebhart and Michelle Karr each ripped doubles.

Marnie Frey, above, continued her lusty hitting with a three-run triple. Stormi Littrell, below, hurled a four-hitter and rapped three hits.

comes with the move-ins each year. If a new resident brings with him wrestling sons, he moves into the Lake Mary district. Sarasota's Scott Ross is one example and Schwartz said there is another family coming from New Jersey, which is supposed to be loaded.

Peters, who turned down a chance to be head coach at Lyman, said he feels Lake Mary has the best program around and he plans to keep it that way. "We've got some great young kids coming up," he said. "We plan to keep winning and hopefully get that state championship some year."

Peters reminds area wrestlers that the 4th Annual Lake Mary Wrestling Club will run through May 15. It is open to boys 12 through 18.

Saturday was quite a day for softball at Red Bug Lake Park. Lake Howell held its 3rd Annual Lady Hawk Softball Tournament, which drew 10 teams from Central Florida. The Five Star, Metro and Orange Belt conferences were represented.

In all, 18 games were played. West Orange took top honors with a 4-0 record. The Lady Warriors beat a gritty Lake Mary team in the final. Lake Mary, which won five straight inbetween losses to West Orange, finished second while Lake Brantley was third.

Defensively, the county's girls are second to none. Lake Mary shortstop Kim Averill and her counterpart, Grace Ley of Lake Howell, both roam the field with snap-dragon gloves. It seemed like Averill was coming up with one good play after another. In the outfield, Karen DeShetter, a Lake Mary junior, Mikki Eby, an Oviedo sophomore, and Eileen Thiebaut, a Lake Howell senior, can all go and get them and are very adept at diving catches.

Offensively, though, something is missing. Very few county girls (Lyman's Denise Stevens excluded) flash any power. West Orange had several girls that jacked the ball over the outfielders' head, whereas most of the county girls are singles hitters.

Hitting a softball is one of the hardest things in sports to teach. Every year baseball players switch over to softball and have trouble mastering the art. It seemed that the county girls' biggest problem is bat speed. Most of them don't swing hard and they try to place it somewhere. This works until the other team starts moving up the outfield. Then, most don't have the power to take it deep.

Defensively, the girls are in a class by themselves. When the offense catches up, look for a county team to challenge for the state title.

The Lady Hawk was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Casselberry and the Rotarians did a fine job of running the tournament. Longwood's Roger Richardson, who along with Mike Averill got a lot of these girls started playing softball at Five Points, was tournament director and he kept things rolling.

The event was well attended and with action going on two fields most of the time, there was always something to see. Richardson even got some manual labor from Don Jonas and "Faultless Frank" Tibbitts.

Jonas, the only successful football coach UCF has ever had, joined Tibbitts after each game to recondition the infield. Nice job with the rakes, fellas. Jo Luciano, Lake Howell's softball coach, had the proceedings well organized as usual.

With the Lady Hawk Invitational in basketball and the Lady Hawk Softball Tournament, the Lake Howell people put on two fine tournaments.

Lake Mary golf coach Bill Eissele reminds all golfers that the County Championships will be held Friday at the Casselberry Country Club. Golfers will tee off between 10 a.m. and noon.

All the county schools will be competing. Burger King will sponsor the 18-hole championship.

a line shot down the third base line but Hankins made a nice stab of it for the first out and Lake Howell pitcher Tibbitts induced Wesley to ground back to the mound for the force at home and the second out. Tibbitts got the next hitter to ground into a force play for the third out.

"Sandy (Gillies) saved us in the fifth with a nice double play," Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said. "And Christy (Tibbitts) did a fantastic job on their two best hitters (Elferson and Tolver). We backed up almost to the fence for Tolver but Christy got her to hit a dribbler back to the mound."

The Lady Hawks added a pair of insurance runs in the top of the seventh. Hankins singled to lead off and Gillies followed with a triple down the left field line to score Hankins. Gardner followed with a single to chase home Gillies for an 8-3 lead.

MAINLAND BINKS LAKE BRANTLEY
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Mainland's Lady Bucs rallied for five runs in the second inning Monday en route to a 6-1 victory over Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots in Five Star action at Lake Brantley High.

The Lady Bucs, 4-2 in the conference and 6-4 overall, broke a scoreless tie with five runs in the second. Brenda Robertson walked to lead off. Terri Hand reached on an error and Michelle Mikel walked to load the bases. Joanne Carbonell hit a grounder to Michelle Brown at short, but the catcher dropped the throw home to allow the first run to score. Susan Desmore then smacked a line drive past third and the outfielder couldn't cut it off as it went for a grand slam homer and a 5-0 Mainland lead.

Brantley, which fell to 2-4 in the conference and 5-8 overall, scored its lone run in the bottom of the fourth. Mandy Mathieson got on on a fielder's choice and went to third on a Mainland error. Mathieson scored when Denise Burke reached on another error.

After the fourth, Brantley only got one runner as far as second the rest of the way. The Lady Patriots outhit the Bucs, 8-4, but couldn't string the hits together.

Brown led the way with two hits, including a double, while Laura Davis, Heather Meyer, Wendy Jeffers and Burke had one hit each.

Lake Brantley has a non-conference game today at Lyman and returns to conference play Thursday at Seminole.

LADY GREYHOUNDS FALL TO DELAND
DELAND — DeLand's Lady Bulldogs stayed one-half game behind Five Star Conference leader Lake Howell as they used eight Lyman errors to drop the Lady Greyhounds, 9-2, in softball at DeLand's Airport Field.

DeLand improved to 12-1 overall and 5-1 in the conference. Lyman, which travels to Mainland for a 4:15 p.m. Thursday, slumped to 3-7 and 2-4.

"We hit lonely hits," said Lyman assistant Jerrt Kelly. "We had eight hits but didn't get them at the right time."

DeLand broke loose against loser Lori Helms for four runs in the third inning. Lyman came back with a solo run in the fourth when junior Denise Stevens clouted her fourth homer of the year to deep center field.

DeLand picked up three more in the fifth and two more in the sixth for winning hurler Kathy Corr. The Lady Greyhounds scored their last tally in the second when reliever Pam Underwood walked Mary Ryan, Dawn Boyesen and Riane Richardson to load the bases. DeLand then reinserted starter Corr who gave up an RBI-fielder's choice to Diana Boyesen.

Diana Boyesen, playing her first game for Lyman, stroked a pair of singles as did sister Dawn. Stevens had a single and a homer. Wendy Vickery, Kristie Kaiser and Helms each had a base hit.

COLE'S TRIPLE LIFTS LADY LIONS

ORLANDO — Debbie Cole has just 2 hits in 17 at bats (this season, but one of those was a big one. Cole unloaded a triple to break an 8-8 tie Monday and Oviedo went on to claim a 16-10 victory over Jones' Lady Tigers in Orange Belt conference action.

The Lady Lions improved to 8-7 overall and 5-1 in the OBC with the win. Oviedo travels to St. Cloud today for another conference matchup.

Oviedo scored nine runs in the last two innings to sew up the win and overshadow a 15-error performance.

"We had more errors in one game than all of our games together," Oviedo coach Jackie Miller said. "It's a good thing we were hitting."

After falling behind, 6-0, Jones rallied to take an 8-7 lead going into the sixth inning. The Lions then exploded for five runs for a 12-7 lead and added four more in the seventh.

In the top of the sixth, Fran Foster, Caroline Chavis and Mikki Eby hit consecutive singles to load the bases and Dee Dee Beasley followed with a sacrifice fly. Cole, who was 1 for 14 going into the game, the ripped her clutch triple to drive in two runs for a 10-8 Oviedo lead. "She hasn't been hitting the ball well lately, but I was pleased she got that triple when it was important," Miller said of Cole.

RBI singles by Kelly Davidson and Darla Hall pushed the Lady Lions' lead to 12-8.

Foster led the 17-hit offensive explosion for the Lions with three hits while Jodi Switzer, also the winning pitcher, was 2 for 3 with four runs batted in. Cole added three RBIs while Beasley and Davidson had two each. Jessica Bradley, Chavis and Eby added two hits each.

Bartels Whiffs 10 In Win

Jaimie Linn, Jennifer Forston and Stacey Burger drove in two runs each and Barbara Bartels struck out 10 hitters as Winter Springs Mary Salvagio's Girls totaled Casselberry Trivision Chevron, 22-2, in Starling Division play in the Seminole Softball Club.

Linn smacked a homer and a single while Burger rapped two doubles and Barbara Bartels, Susan Willis, Mindy Kraeth and Forston each had a double.

In another Starling Division game, Julie Helmers led the way with her pitching and hitting as Rinker Construction demolished Atlantic Bank, 24-9.

Gators Pull Out 2 More

The Forest City 2 Gators had a couple of close calls, but managed to pull out a pair of victories en route to the first round title in Hawks Division playoff action Sunday at the Seminole Softball Club complex.

In the first game, Casselberry Pools By Max took the Gators into extra innings but a seven-run eighth carried the Gators to a 15-8 win. In the second game, the Gators broke a 2-2 tie with a run in the top of the seventh and held on for a 3-2 win over Forest City 1 Burger King and the first round championship.

In the first win, Michelle Davis, Missi Stone and Danielle Kittinger all came through with clutch triples for the Gators. Chrissy Mathieu rapped out three singles. Stacie Thomas stroked three singles and Missi Martinez had two to lead Casselberry.

In the second win, Christa Schroeffel kept the Gators out of trouble by making a number of key defensive plays. Courtney Finley had two hits to lead the offensive attack and Kim Rogers ripped a double. Sherry Adams and Kelly Hartman had two hits each for Forest City 1.

In a game before the playoff, the Gators rolled to a 18-6 victory over Altamonte Springs. Davis had four singles to lead the 20-hit attack while Schroeffel and Kittinger had three each and Mandy Peniterra and Jennifer Kruger added two.

Casselberry Pools By Max took a 7-1 decision over the Gators in an earlier matchup. Martinez had three singles to lead the offensive output while Tanya Higgins unloaded an RBI triple. Davis had a pair of doubles for the Gators.

Forest City 1 Burger King pounded out 17 hits en route to a 20-3 thumping of Longwood Denny Salvagio's Girls. Adams had an impressive game at the plate for Burger King with two singles, a home run, three RBIs and five runs scored. Nicole DeLuca added a single, double, triple and four RBIs. Hartman drove in two runs with a single and double and Tania Diaz stroked three singles. Christine Rusec was the winning pitcher, allowing just three hits, striking out three.

IN BRIEF

Kessinger, Thayer Get Rips; St. John's Wins, SCC Loses

A couple of ex-Oviedo baseball players had a pretty good day Tuesday. Chris Kessinger and Brett Thayer — teammates for the Lions' Orange Belt Conference championship team two years ago — each rapped a pair of hits and drove in two runs for their junior college teams Tuesday.

Kessinger, a sophomore at St. John's River, singled home the decisive runs in the 11th inning as St. John's nipped Valencia, 6-5, at Orlando. Kessinger, who attended SCC last year, led the county in runs batted in two years ago.

St. John's improved to 14-15 overall and 5-2 in the Mid-Florida Conference. Valencia, which hosts SCC Thursday at 3 p.m., fell to 21-12 and 2-6. The Matadors pummeled the Raiders, 17-4, in the last meeting.

Thayer, meanwhile, provided a pair of singles and two RBI but the SCC Raiders dropped an 8-4 decision to Florida Junior at home. Thayer, who led the county in batting average two years ago, had a two-run single in a four-run eighth inning but the Raiders couldn't come back.

Mike Walker lasted into the fifth and toss the loss. SCC fell to 17-13-1 and 3-5.

Mattingly Shines For DiMaggio

United Press International

With Joe DiMaggio looking on, the man who may become the next Yankee legend turned in a performance of epic proportion Tuesday night.

Don Mattingly, appearing for the first time since knee surgery a month ago, slammed a home run in his first at-bat of the Grapefruit League season, then doubled in his next trip to the plate to lead the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Mattingly ripped the second pitch he saw from Montreal right-hander Fred Breining over the right-field fence in the first inning. Before Mattingly's homer, Breining had struck out the first two batters.

In his second at-bat, also against Breining, Mattingly lined a double to right in the third. After that, Yankee manager Yogi Berra removed the defending American League batting champion from the game.

In other exhibition games, the Chicago White Sox beat Detroit 8-3, the New York Mets defeated Boston 1-0, Houston edged Cincinnati 6-5, Atlanta downed Baltimore 6-2, Los Angeles thumped Toronto 11-5, St. Louis crunched Philadelphia 10-5, Pittsburgh nipped Minnesota 4-3, Kansas City topped Texas 7-5, Oakland clobbered San Diego 12-8, Milwaukee eclipsed the Chicago Cubs 8-7 and Seattle blanked California 4-0.

Nuggets Bank On Home Court

United Press International

The Denver Nuggets believe they can win the Midwest Division from the comfort of their home.

"We're going to have to win a lot of games to earn this division title. I don't think we can afford to lose any games at home," Denver coach Doug Moe said Tuesday night after Lafayette Lever scored 8 points to key a decisive 17-2 surge opening the third quarter, lifting the Nuggets to a 104-89 victory over the Utah Jazz for their 18th consecutive home victory.

The victory kept the Nuggets four games ahead of second-place Houston in the Midwest Division.

Alex English scored 25 points and Calvin Natt 21 as the Nuggets improved to 46-26. Lever added 14 points.

Elsewhere, Dallas slammed Golden State 134-107, Cleveland downed the New York Knicks 112-98, Milwaukee defeated Washington 107-96, Houston beat Kansas City 115-93, Chicago topped Indiana 120-119, Detroit whipped Phoenix 119-93, New Jersey shaded Atlanta 109-108 in overtime and Portland outlasted the Los Angeles Lakers 116-113 in overtime.

Rams Sign Canadian Star Brock

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams have signed quarterback Dieter Brock, a two-time Most Valuable Player in the Canadian Football League, and projected him to be the starter next season.

Tuesday's signing will likely mean the trade of Vince Ferragamo, who led the team to the 1980 Super Bowl, but has been inconsistent and plagued with injuries since.

"How this move turns out, nobody knows," Rams coach John Robinson said, "but we're excited about this because we think Dieter can provide a missing ingredient."

Brock, 34, and agent Gil Scott of Toronto, began negotiations with the Rams last week and had their first face-to-face meeting Monday. Earlier in the day, Brock was brought to the Rams' training camp and threw to receivers under the watchful eye of Robinson.

Both sides apparently agreed to the pact late Monday. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed, but it is believed Brock will earn $2.1 million over the next four years.

Goulet Cracks 50-Goal Mark

United Press International

Michel Goulet's play is one of the supreme pleasures the NHL has to offer.

The Quebec Nordique forward's acclaimed offensive prowess took center stage Tuesday night when Goulet cracked the 50-goal mark for the third straight year.

"Obviously, 50 goals is a magic number," said Goulet.

But the real magic of the particular goal — and of the player whose offense obscures his blatantly underrated defensive contributions — is it also won the game, 4-3, over Adams Division rival Buffalo.

Goulet's game-winner came on a low slapshot at 4:39 of the third period.

"I'm happy with this third season of 50 goals and it's something I'd like to see continue in the future," he said.

"If I don't get (an NHL left wing season-record) 60 this year, then maybe I'll get it next year. My main goal is to help the team as much as possible."

Elsewhere, Edmonton edged the New York Islanders 7-5, Montreal beat Boston 5-3, Detroit dumped Minnesota 5-1 and the New York Rangers nipped Pittsburgh 5-4.

Kelger, Livernois Boost Broncos

Jeff Livernois fired a two-hitter and Jimmy "Hammer" Kelger squeezed in two runs to lead Longwood 2 to a 3-0 blanking of Longwood 1 in Seminole Pony Baseball Bronco Division action at the Five Points complex.

The only two hits Livernois gave up were singles to John Elam. Livernois struck out 14 and walked just two. Jason Goodpaater pitched well in a losing effort as he gave up just four hits, struck out six and walked five.

In other action Seminole Pony action, Joe Taylor drove in two runs and was the winning pitcher as Longwood upended Casselberry, 8-3.

Taylor gave up seven hits, struck out six and walked only one. He also drove in a pair of runs with two singles. Defensively, Lance Reyes led the way for Longwood as he handled five chances without an error.

Final Four Condo, Ducats Go For $2,900

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — If you don't yet have a room to go with your ticket to the NCAA's Final Four and live further than a day's drive from Lexington, you might want to consider framing your ducats and watching the games on TV.

Otherwise, you just might have to choose between spending the night in a sleeping bag on a University of Kentucky gym floor, sitting up in an all-night diner or driving 70 or 75 miles to find the nearest clean and empty bed.

Of course, if you've got money to burn, there is another option: For $1,400 and change you can rent a one-bedroom "luxury condo," just 10 minutes from Rupp Arena, for the weekend. The owner, who placed a discreet ad in the local newspaper, says he'll throw in a couple of Final Four tickets for a flat $1,500.

You get the picture? Although, there is a wave of room-seekers who do not get the picture and have been flooding the Greater Lexington Convention and Visitor's Bureau with phone calls the last few days.

"They have no concept that (the hotel and motel rooms) are all gone and have been gone for months," bureau worker Carolyn True said.

Despite the addition of a 350-room hotel downtown a year ago, Lexington and the surrounding area of Fayette County had only 5,000 hotel rooms to offer the 22,000 people who have tickets to watch defending champion

Basketball

Georgetown, St. John's, Villanova and Memphis State battle the national basketball crown this weekend.

That fact has prompted a few callers to ask the convention bureau why the NCAA gave the Final Four to such a small city. (Lexington, with a population of 250,000, is the smallest city to ever host the event.)

But the fact of the matter, according to the NCAA Host Committee, is the NCAA's only requirement, with regard to overnight accommodations, is that 700 hotel rooms be located within one block of the playing site.

Lexington met that requirement

when the Radisson Hotel opened its doors across the street from Rupp Arena and the adjoining Hyatt Regency last year.

But the citizens of Bluegrass Country still are doing their best to be gracious overnight hosts.

When the last of the Lexington hotel rooms were reserved for this weekend three months ago, the convention bureau started looking for other digs to recommend.

As a result, said True, motels as far away as Richmond and Frankfort, both 30 miles from Lexington, are booked solid. Now the convention center is advising people to look for rooms in Louisville, 75 miles to the west; Cincinnati, 75 miles to the north; and to London and Corbin, about 70 or 80 miles south in rural Appalachia.

The University of Kentucky has agreed to house about 550 students from St. John's and Georgetown universities in residence halls and Alumni Gym. The city also has made its own gymnasium floor available to students and their sleeping bags.

The convention bureau also has the numbers of two private companies who are arranging rentals of private homes, apartments and condominiums. Most of those have long been booked, Truer said, but some still are available.

"They'll take anything," Fair said. "Price doesn't seem to be a problem with them."

UPI Selects Mullin As Best 'Gym Rat'

Basketball

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chris Mullin, the Brooklyn gym rat who made St. John's one of the class acts this season, is United Press International's college basketball Player of the Year.

Behind Mullin's elegant shot and shrewd floor game, St. John's soared to No. 1 for five weeks before qualifying for its first Final Four in 33 seasons. The Redmen met Georgetown Saturday in Lexington, Ky., in the semifinals of the NCAA Tournament.

In balloting by 148 sports writers and broadcasters, Mullin was more than a 2-to-1 winner Tuesday over Patrick Ewing of Georgetown. Mullin received 85 votes, Ewing 39 and Wayman Tisdale of Oklahoma 8.

The vote was conducted over a two-week period beginning in mid-February.

Mullin grew up playing basketball in the schoolyard and gyms of Brooklyn. At St. John's, he literally held the keys to the school gym, using the facility as he saw fit, regardless of the hour.

This year, the 6-foot-6 senior swingman became the career leading scorer at St. John's and again made New York one of college basketball's capital cities.

St. John's won the regular-season title in the Big East Conference and powered through the West Regional with victories over Southern, Arkansas, Kentucky and North Carolina State. The Redmen have a 31-3 record.

Mullin averaged more than 20 points a game this season, hitting 52 percent from the floor and 82 percent from the free-throw line. It was all the more impressive, coming against double coverage and bounding box-and-one defenses.

Alford, Blab Key Indiana Against Vols

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's been no coincidence that Indiana's late-season rise has paralleled the rise in Steve Alford's shooting percentage.

Alford, the slick-shooting perimeter player the Hoosiers depend on to deflect inside pressure from center Uwe Blab, has hit 62 percent of his post-season shots in guiding Indiana into the Final Four of the National Invitation Tournament.

The Hoosiers, looking like the favorite to win the 48th edition of the nation's oldest college basketball tournament, take on Tennessee tonight (7 p.m. EST) in a semifinal game at Madison Square Garden. UCLA plays Louisville in the other contest, with the survivors meeting for the NIT championship Friday night at 9 p.m.

When Alford's shooting touch disappeared in mid-season, Indiana lost touch with the rest of the Big Ten.

The 6-foot-2 sophomore, a member of the gold-medal winning U.S. Olympic team, was the leading scorer in eight of Indiana's first 11 games as the Hoosiers got off to a 9-2 start. But Alford managed more than 20 points only once in a 13-game mid-season span that had Indiana lose eight conference contests.

Alford has righted himself in the NIT. He's scored 26, 14 and 29 points in victories over Butler, Richmond and Marquette, respectively, to advance the Hoosiers to New York.

UCLA, making its first appearance in the NIT after 23 seasons among the NCAA elite, is hoping for a repeat of its February 24 game with the Cardinals.

Reggie Miller, the brother of Southern California's Olympic basketball star Cheryl Miller, clicked on 12-of-16 shots in that 75-65 triumph at Pauley Pavilion, and Nigel Miguel, a 6-8 guard, added 15 points and 8 rebounds as the Bruins played their best game by reaching season-lows in turnovers (7) and fouls (14).

UCLA, 19-12, has won six straight games and 10 of its last 11 — its only loss in four overtimes to USC.

The Bruins will have to contain Billy Thompson, the Cardinals' leading scorer, rebounder and playmaker. The 6-7 junior forward, an All-Metro Conference selection, averages 14.7 points and 8.5 rebounds per game.

Although Louisville, 19-16, has been hurt by injuries all season, Thompson may have been indirectly helped by them. He has played some guard this year and that has improved his ball-handling and passing skills.

Cook Of The Week

If She Knows You're Coming, She's Apt To Bake A Cake

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

If you can catch up with her, this native Sanford girl will tell you all about her mother's "gumbo" and what it was like growing up on Lake Monroe with her three sisters.

Shirley Lazar, our Cook of the Week, says her mom "was the best cook, and I still think she's the best cook. She cooked Southern style and liked to cook grits, fish and hush puppies. She always made a dish for us, we called it gumbo, but it wasn't like anybody else's. It was made with okra and tomatoes and seasoned with bacon. I keep asking her to make it, but she doesn't even remember how she made it anymore!"

Looking back, Shirley remembers nice things about growing up with her sisters in Sanford. "We lived in the country and we'd go out and find some tall weeds and bend them and break them to build a playhouse. Daddy raised chickens and sometimes we'd find an empty chicken coop and play house in there. We just had a good time," says Shirley, "and we had a good childhood."

A busy wife and mother, Shirley has been married to Richard Lazar for 17 happy years, and they have one daughter, Tina. Richard, who is an 11-year veteran of the Sanford Fire Department, also served a 4-year tour of duty with the U.S. Navy.

When he's not fighting fires, he likes to relax and talk to people all over the world on his ham radio. Tina's pride is her special collection of unicorns. She has scores of these unusual animals in all sizes and forms on display in her room and is always searching for more to add to the collection.

"I had never been out of the State of Florida until I got married," says Shirley. "Then we lived in several places while my husband was in the Navy. He was stationed in Sanford, but was transferred so many times, you name it and we've been there. He's from South Carolina but he loved Florida so much, we settled here in Sanford."

A recent visit to a girlfriend in Michigan gave Shirley her first taste of snow. "I had never seen snow in my life," says Shirley, "and I had a blast! I loved it, and I hated to leave. I wanted to bring the snow home with me, it was beautiful."

When she's not "running around here, there and everywhere," Shirley devotes much of her spare time to her needlework and her favorite hobby of all, cake decorating. From the simplest birthday cake to the most elegant wedding cake, Shirley has a professional touch when it comes to this specialty. A scrapbook of snapshots showing her beautifully decorated cakes for just about any occasion bears witness to that fact.

About seven or eight years ago, Shirley took an 8-week course in cake decorating and really Shirley Lazar has a well-stocked pantry including cake pans of various shapes and sizes to accommodate just about any kind of cake. When friends and family want a cake for a special occasion, Shirley can always come up with a winner.

enjoys creating some of the most beautiful and intricately designed cakes. "It's something I always wanted to do and finally made up my mind to do it. Seminole Community College had discontinued their classes, and two ladies who had taken the course started a class of their own. So I went and learned how to make the flowers, borders and so on," says Shirley. Her pantry is well stocked with baking pans of various shapes and sizes to accommodate just about any order. When friends and family ask Shirley to bake a cake for a special occasion, she can always come up with a winner.

Another talent Shirley displays is her hand quilting and craft work. "I love to do crafts," she says. "like pillows, quilts, Christmas ornaments, and needlepoint." Quilted Cathedral window design pillows and several lovely hand sewn quilts, add a honey touch to the Lazar household. And when Christmastime comes, the entire tree is decorated with Shirley's beautiful little handmade angels and snowflakes.

Cooking comes easy to Shirley and she credits this to her mother's influence. Every so often the family will gather for a seafood dinner and that's a treat everyone enjoys. Shirley says that being born and raised in Florida has made her very critical of fresh seafood and it's got to be made right. "We'll have shrimp, oysters, scallops, fish, conch chowder, you name it, we have it all," says Shirley. "Mom's in Tampa right now, and I wish she'd hurry up home so we can have a good seafood dinner again. We love conch chowder and Mom has duplicated the recipe of a famous seafood restaurant and it's simply delicious. I would love to be the 'Mystery Diner' and visit all the different restaurants and taste the foods," Shirley laughs. Being born and raised in Florida, I know what 'fresh' seafood is."

Outdoor cooking is an all-year-round affair at the Lazar's. "We barbecue and grill all the time, summer and winter," says Shirley. "I do most of it, except for the smoker. We have a smoker and my husband does that. We smoke ribs, pork chops, roasts, chicken, just about anything. He loves to do that, and he's a pretty good cook, too."

Most of the following recipes are Richard's favorites, but Shirley managed to sneak in one of her own, the Chop Suey!

EGGPLANT CREOLE

1 medium eggplant, cut in 1/2" cubes
1/2 lb fresh mushrooms, cleaned and sliced
1 medium onion, sliced thin
1 green pepper, cut fine
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. sugar
1 1/2 cups fresh or canned tomatoes
3 tablespoons oil
Saute onions in oil. Add mushrooms, then green peppers and seasonings and cook about five minutes. Add tomatoes and eggplant, stirring well. Cover and cook about 20 minutes. Serves 4-6.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

1 lb. Colby cheese, grated
1 lb. box elbow macaroni
1-1 1/2 cans evaporated milk
6 eggs
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook and drain macaroni. Mix together the macaroni, cheese, eggs, salt and pepper, and 1/2 of the milk. Add enough extra milk to cover macaroni well. Dot with 1/2 stick of butter and bake in a 350° oven 30-50 minutes or until golden brown, using a 9x13" baking dish. Serves 6-8.

CHOP SUEY

1 lb. pork, cut into bite size pieces
1 lb. beef, cut into bite size pieces
1 cup celery, sliced
1 cup onions, sliced
2 cans bean sprouts
1 can water chestnuts, sliced
1 can bamboo shoots
4 tablespoons soy sauce
Flour the meat and brown in enough grease to make a brown gravy when ready. While browning meat well, saute onions and celery until clear. Add 3-6 tablespoons flour to meat drippings along with some water to make gravy. Add remaining ingredients and cook for about 30 minutes. Serve over rice or Chow Mein noodles. Serves 6-8.

Reader Refers To Bible For Last Word On Ribs

DEAR ABBY: "Al C. in Newberg, Ore." wrote: "My wife and I have a disagreement we think you can settle. Do women have one more rib than men?" Your answer was: "Dear Al Men and women have the same number of ribs. (Who is ribbing whom?)"

Dear Abby

Abby, you quote Scripture from time to time, so I would have thought that you would remember Genesis 2:21-22: "And the Lord caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept; and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead there of. And the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, he made a woman, and brought her unto the man."

Women have one more rib than men.

FUNDAMENTALIST

DEAR FUNDAMENTALIST: With all due respect to the Old Testament, he who seeks the knowledge of the number of ribs hath man and woman had best look upon the X-rays of both. Then let him go forth and compare.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S.G.J., TRENTON, N.J.: The Trenton Times is no more immune to typographical errors than any other newspaper, but sometimes it's wise to leave bad enough alone.

I submit an amusing exchange that appeared in this space five years ago to illustrate that point.

DEAR ABBY: My mother recently passed away after a brief illness. In the obituary published in our local newspaper, her age was given as 89.

Abby, my mother was only 80, so it was apparently a typographical error.

Now this may not seem very important to some people, but Mother was a very vain and prideful woman who would never tell her age.

Because of this typographical error in her obituary, everyone will think she was nine years older than she actually was.

Should we ask the newspaper editor to publish a correction? I say we should. The rest of the family says to skip it.

OUTVOTED IN OHIO

DEAR OUTVOTED: Sometimes it's better to leave bad enough alone. In support of my advice, I offer the following from the California Newspaper Publishers Association. It is an example of a typographical error in the classified section of a small-town newspaper, and the subsequent disastrous attempts to correct it:

(Monday) "FOR SALE — R.D. Jones has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 948-0707 after 7 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him cheap."

(Tuesday) "NOTICE — We regret having erred in R.D. Jones' ad yesterday. It should have read: One sewing machine for sale. Cheap Phone 948-0707 and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him after 7 p.m."

(Wednesday) "NOTICE — R.D. Jones has informed us that he has received several annoying telephone calls because of the error we made in his classified ad yesterday. His ad stands correct as follows: FOR SALE — R.D. Jones has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap Phone 948-0707 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him."

(Thursday) "NOTICE — I, R.D. Jones, have no sewing machine for sale. I smashed it. Don't call 948-0707, as the telephone has been out. I have not been carrying on with Mrs. Kelly. Until yesterday she was my housekeeper, but she quit."

DEAR ABBY: I need advice fast. My mother, who just turned 65, had an operation two months ago for cancer of the lung. One-third of her lung was removed and she's been on oxygen ever since. Her doctor says she's been doing fairly well. Now my problem: I have caught my mother smoking several times. Her doctor told her not to smoke, but she smokes anyway.

My father has a heart condition and if he found out, it would tear him apart. And if her doctor knew this, I don't know what he'd do.

I love my mother and don't want her to turn against me, but I know that not saying anything to my father and the doctor isn't right. How should I handle this situation?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: I'm sure you are aware that smoking around oxygen can be disastrous, so for that reason alone you must tell the doctor that your mother is sneaking smokes.

Although the cancerous portion of your mother's lung was removed, her craving for tobacco was not, so she also needs to be treated for nicotine addiction. Tell your mother's doctor at once. It could save her life.

DEAR ABBY: My 20-year-old daughter is a lesbian, and I am having a tough time dealing with this. I have no one to talk to about this as she asked me not to tell her father.

I love my daughter and want her to be happy, but I worry about her future.

Also, is it possible to have two homosexuals in one family? I'm beginning to wonder about my 15-year-old son, too.

WORRIED MOM

DEAR MOM: You sound like a very loving and understanding mother. Your daughter is lucky to have a mother like you. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Parents Flag, P.O. Box 24565, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024. They will provide you with literature that will better equip you to handle this problem.

Yes, it's possible to have two homosexuals in the family.

(Problems? What's bugging you? Upload on Abby, P.O. Box 39923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

POTATO ROLLS

1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup soft shortening
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup unseasoned hot mashed potatoes
1 cup cold water
1/2 tsp. salt
6-6 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Dissolve yeast in 1/2 cup warm water and set aside. Mix rest of ingredients together, then add yeast stirring well. Pinch off enough dough to make a dozen rolls. Place in baking pan and bake at 350° degrees for 25-30 minutes. Leftover dough may be covered and stored in refrigerator for several days until needed. Remove from refrigerator, let rise, and bake as directed above.

CHEWY CAKE

3 eggs
2 cups brown sugar
1 stick butter
2 cups pecans
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups flour

Blend all ingredients together. Batter will be very stiff. Spread onto cookie sheet and bake at 400° for 20 minutes, no longer.

Cut into squares.

LEMON PIE

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup cornstarch
1/4 tsp. salt
2 1/2 cups warm water
Grated rind of 2 lemons
1/2 cup lemon juice
6 egg yolks, beaten (reserve whites)
2 tablespoons butter
2 shallow or 1 deep dish pie crust, unbaked

Put pie shells in oven to brown about 30 minutes at 350-400°. Set aside. In a large saucepan, mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. Slowly stir in water, then lemon juice, egg yolks and butter. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is smooth and thick enough to mound when dropped from spoon. Remove from heat and cool 5 minutes. Spoon into pie shells. Top with meringue and return to oven for a few minutes until meringue is golden brown.

MERINGUE FOR PIES

3 egg whites
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 cup sugar

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add remaining ingredients, beating until stiff mounds form.

Correction

Pumpkin Mallow Pie, a light and luscious make-ahead frozen dessert submitted by Helen Julian of Brooklyn, N.Y., won the $5,000 Grand Prize, in Kraft's Easy Secret Ingredient Recipe Contest.

Some of the preparation instructions were inadvertently omitted in the recipe appearing in The Evening Herald March 20. The Herald regrets the omission.

The corrected recipe is as follows:

PUMPKIN MALLOW PIE

2 cups gingersnap cookie crumbs
1/2 cup margarine, melted
1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin pie mix
1 7-oz. jar marshmallow creme

1 teaspoon rum flavoring (optional)
2 8-oz. containers (3 cups each) whipped topping with real cream, thawed
Pecan halves

Combine crumbs and margarine. Reserve 1/4 cup crumb mixture; press remaining mixture onto bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Chill.

Combine pie mix, marshmallow creme and flavoring, mixing with electric mixer or wire whisk until well blended. Fold in one 8-oz. container whipped topping; pour over crust. Sprinkle with reserved crumbs. Cover; freeze. Remove from freezer; top with remaining whipped topping and pecans. Refrigerate 1/2 hour before serving.

High, Light, Airy Chocolate Fantasies Melt In Your Mouth

It's springtime and cakes as light as a feather — especially in America's favorite flavor, chocolate — are definitely in season.

These particular cakes are especially high and light because they're made with fine-textured cake flour instead of all-purpose flour.

RASPBERRY-CHOCOLATE CHIFFON CAKE

- Raspberry Sauce (below)
- 1/2 cup cocoa
- 1/4 cup boiling water
- 1 3/4 cups cake flour
- 1 3/4 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 7 egg yolks
- 1 cup egg whites (7 to 8)
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 4 cups frozen (thawed) whipped topping

Prepare Raspberry Sauce; refrigerate at least 1 hour. Mix cocoa and water, cool.

Heat oven to 325°. Mix flour, sugar, baking soda and salt. Beat in oil, vanilla, yolks and cocoa mixture until smooth. Beat whites and cream of tartar in large bowl until very stiff peaks form; gradually pour yolk mixture over whites, folding just until blended. Pour into ungreased tube pan, 10 x 4 inches. Bake on lowest oven rack until top springs back when touched, 65 to 70 minutes. Invert on heatproof funnel, let hang until cake is cold. Cut cake horizontally into 3 layers. Spread 1 1/2 cups whipped topping and scant 1/2 cup Raspberry Sauce between each layer over top of cake. Refrigerate any remaining cake.

Raspberry Sauce: Drain 1 package (10 ounces) frozen raspberries, thawed, reserving liquid. If necessary, add water to liquid to measure 1/2 cup. Mix 1/4 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons cornstarch in saucepan; stir in raspberry liquid. Heat over medium-low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils. Boil and stir 1 minute. Stir in 2 tablespoons orange-flavored liqueur or orange juice, if desired, and raspberries.

CHOCOLATE-ALMOND ICE-CREAM ROLL

- 1 cup cake flour
- 1/4 cup cocoa
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup finely chopped unblanched almonds
- 2 tablespoons amaretto or 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, if desired
- 3 cups vanilla ice cream, softened

Cocoa Glaze (follows)
Heat oven to 375°. Line jelly roll pan, 15-1/2 x 10-1/2 x 1 inch, with aluminum foil; grease. Mix flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt; reserve. Beat eggs in small bowl on high speed until very thick and lemon colored. Pour into large bowl; gradually beat in sugar. Beat in water and vanilla on low speed. Beat in flour mixture just until smooth. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 12 to 15 minutes.

Loosen cake from edges; invert on towel sprinkled with powdered sugar. Remove foil. Trim off stiff edges. While hot, roll cake and towel from narrow end; cool completely on wire rack. Stir almonds and amaretto into ice cream. Unroll cake; remove towel. Spread with ice cream. Roll up; wrap in plastic wrap. Freeze at least 6 hours; spread top with Cocoa Glaze. 10 servings.

Cocoa Glaze: Mix 1 cup powdered sugar, 3 tablespoons Hershey's cocoa and 2 tablespoons amaretto or milk until smooth. Stir in about 1 tablespoon milk, 1 teaspoon at a time, until of desired consistency.

CREAMY CHOCOLATE TORTE

- 2 eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 3/4 cups cake flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup cocoa
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

3 tablespoons cocoa
Heat oven to 350°. Generously grease and flour 3 round pans, 9 or 8 x 1 1/4 inches. Beat egg whites on high speed until foamy. Beat in 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue beating until stiff and glossy. Beat flour, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup cocoa, 1/2 cup of the buttermilk, oil, baking soda and salt on medium speed 1 minute. Beat in remaining buttermilk and yolks 1 minute. Fold in egg whites. Bake until top springs back when touched, 20 to 25 minutes. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans. Cool completely.

Prepare Cream Filling. Stir 3 tablespoons cocoa into 1 1/2 cups of the filling. Split each layer horizontally into 2 layers. Fill layers and frost top with plain filling, using scant 1/2 cup for each. Frost side with chocolate filling. Garnish with chopped pecans. Refrigerate at least 4 hours. 12 to 14 servings.

*If necessary, 2 pans can be used. Fill each with 1/2 of the batter. Refrigerate remaining batter while first 2 layers bake, then bake third layer.

Cream Filling: Beat 2 cups chilled whipping cream in chilled large bowl until stiff. Mix 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened, 1/2 cup packed brown sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla; fold into whipped cream.

Trio of delicate chocolate cakes sure to steal the dessert scene.

Skillet Dinner Busy Cook's Best Friend

America offers a great abundance and variety of foods. But Americans have unique time priorities and tend to want the best quality meals in the least amount of time. Enter the skillet dinner. With a well-stocked pantry and a bit of imagination, satisfying dinners that are wonderfully tasty can be put together quickly.

The trick is to take advantage of the versatility of your pantry put-togethers. Using canned Cheddar flavor cheese dips as a cooking ingredient helps ease the pressure of not having enough time. This creative idea was introduced by Frito-Law, makers of high quality dips available in four robust flavors. Unopened, they don't need refrigeration and will keep fresh at room temperature up to nine months. They're delicious served as is, but the savvy cook will find they're indispensable in preparing simple skillet meals.

Try Cheesy Ham and Skillet Dinner, a delicious, quick-to-fix meal that's a friend to the budget and the busy cook short on time. Ham and cabbage, perked with caraway seeds take on a new dimension when combined with a can of dip.

Coney Island Skillet Dinner will make little kids giggle with glee, but don't be surprised when the college crowd asks for more. Wagon wheel pasta and slices of frankfurters are bound together with the buttery smoothness of cheese dip spiked with Worcestershire sauce and mustard.

CHEESY HAM SKILLET DINNER

- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 12 cups shredded green cabbage
- 2 cups cooked, cubed ham (12 ounces)
- 1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
- 1 can (9 or 10 ounces) mild cheddar and herb flavor cheese dip
- Apple slices (optional)

In a large skillet melt butter over medium heat, add cabbage, ham and caraway. Cook, stirring occasionally, until cabbage is crisp-tender. Stir in cheese dip, heat 1 to 2 minutes longer. Garnish with apple slices, if desired.

YIELD: 4 servings.

CONEY ISLAND SKILLET DINNER

- 8 ounces wagon wheel pasta, elbow macaroni or other pasta
- 1 can (9 or 10 ounces) mild cheddar flavor cheese dip
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard

Soft Punch Zaps Thirst

Springtime holds the promise of warmer, less violent weather for most regions of the country. Certainly, this winter Mother Nature was at her huffiest.

As the sun reappears, demand grows for new thirst-quenchers. Those with lower-calorie drinks in mind will enjoy a punch of apple juice or cider mixed with tea and orange and lemon juices. Ice cream parlor fans will take to ice cream sodas made with apple juice, cranberry juice, soda and whipped cream all poured over ice cream.

SPRINGTIME PUNCH

- 3 quarts chilled apple juice or cider
- 2 quarts strong tea, chilled
- 3 cans (6 ounces each) frozen orange juice concentrate, undiluted
- 1/2 cup lemon juice

Combine all ingredients with ice in punch bowl. This kitchen-tested recipe makes approximately 5 1/2 quarts.

APPLE BLOSSOM ICE CREAM SODAS

- 1 cup chilled apple juice or cider
 - 1/2 cup chilled cranberry juice cocktail
 - 6 tablespoons whipping cream
 - Chilled club soda
 - 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- Combine apple juice, cranberry juice cocktail and cream. Pour equal amount into 6 tall glasses. Fill glasses to halfway with club soda. Stir to mix. Add 2 scoops ice cream to each glass. Fill glasses with club soda. Stir gently. Serve with straws and long spoon. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

6 frankfurters, cut into 1/2-inch slices

1 large, ripe tomato, chopped

Cook pasta according to package directions; drain. In a large skillet combine cheese dip, milk, Worcestershire and dry mustard, stir until combined. Stir in cooked pasta, frankfurters and tomato. Cook 3 to 5 minutes until heated through.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Ham and cabbage perked with caraway seeds take on a new dimension when teamed with a can of dip in this Cheesy Ham Skillet Dinner

Spring Dinner

Dine In Splendor, Country Inn Style

Chef Bruce Harms prepares Easter dinner.

For gracious, comfortable dining, there's nothing like an old country inn. Americans love the ambience created by old stone fireplaces, antiques and polished woods. Even the foods served have a special charm.

The Beckman Arms in Rhinebeck, N.Y., is the epitome of a fine country inn. The Executive Chef, Bruce Harms, takes American classics such as roasted lamb, rice and cranberries and makes subtle changes that insure the food is in step with the culinary times.

Roast the leg of lamb before roasting for easier slicing. Chef Harms suggests. Never overcook lamb, he adds. Cook to an internal temperature of 140° rare and 150 to 155° for medium. Baste it with a cranberry-orange glaze while cooking for a moist succulent and unique flavor.

Rice also takes on a different taste when it is cooked in a flavored liquid such as chicken broth or orange juice. For this menu, orange flavoring is added to complement the lamb basting sauce and add a festive light coloring to the rice dish.

For the perfect finishing touch, cranberries, a native American fruit, are combined with a nouvelle favorite, white chocolate mousse. The tangy and tart cranberry sauce is an excellent contrast to the sweetness of the mousse.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE GLAZED LEG OF LAMB

1 boned, rolled and tied leg of lamb (5 pounds)

- 1/2 teaspoon marjoram leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon rosemary leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon sage leaves
- 1 clove garlic, slivered

- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 stalk celery, chopped
- 1 medium carrot, chopped

Before roasting, rub lamb with marjoram, rosemary, thyme, and sage, cut 1/4 inch deep slits in leg. Insert garlic slivers, roll and tie. Place chopped onions, celery, and carrots in bottom of roasting pan, place lamb on top. Cook 1 1/2 hours at 350° or until meat thermometer registers 140° for rare (150 to 155° for medium). Brush with Cranberry-Orange Glaze last half hour. Serve lamb with remaining glaze. Serve with Orange Rice, makes 10 to 12 servings.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE GLAZE:

- 2 jars (14 ounces each) cranberry-orange sauce
- 2 cups orange juice
- 4 ounces (1/2 cup) Grand Marnier

In large saucepan combine ingredients, heat, stirring, to melt.

ORANGE RICE:

- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups boiling chicken broth
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- Grated peel of 1 orange
- Juice of 1 orange
- Salt and ground white pepper

Combine rice, butter, and salt in baking dish. Stir in chicken broth and wine. Cover and bake at 350° for 25 minutes (35 minutes for parboiled rice), or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Stir orange peel and juice. Return to oven for 10 minutes. Season to taste. Fluff with a fork and sprinkle with parsley or slivered almonds, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

HEARTLAND LAMB STEW IN RICE RING

- 3 pounds lamb shoulder, bone in, cut into 1 1/2 inch pieces
- 1 1/2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
- 2 medium onions, quartered
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 3 whole cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon dried rosemary
- 1 small bay leaf, crushed
- 1 cup water
- 3 carrots, cut in thick slices
- 6 medium turnips, quartered
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green beans
- 6 cups hot cooked rice
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper

In oven-proof Dutch oven, brown lamb in oil. Pour off drippings. In small bowl or cup, mix together flour, sugar, salt, and black pepper. Sprinkle over lamb, stir well. Add tomatoes, onions, garlic, cloves, rosemary, bay leaf, and water. Cover, bake at 350° for 40 minutes. Add carrots and turnips. Bake, covered, another 10 minutes. Correct seasonings, if necessary. Add beans, cover, and bake 10 minutes longer, or until meat and vegetables are tender. Combine rice, cheese, and white pepper. Pack firmly into well-buttered 6-cup ring mold. Unmold onto serving plate. Fill center with lamb stew. Makes 6 servings.

WHITE CHOCOLATE MOUSSE

- 12 ounces white chocolate
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons amaretto
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 3 egg yolks, beaten
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 5 egg whites

Break chocolate into pieces. Place in top of double boiler; add butter. Cook over hot water until chocolate melts. Remove from heat. Stir in amaretto and vanilla. Cool. Stir in egg yolks. Fold chocolate mixture into whipped cream. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold carefully but thoroughly into chocolate mixture. Turn into a glass dessert bowl or individual sherbet dishes. Let stand in refrigerator at least 12 hours. Serve with Brandied Cranberry Sauce. Mousse and sauce can be layered. Note: If white chocolate cannot be found in your supermarket, look for it in a candy store, makes 12 to 16 servings.

BRANDIED CRANBERRY SAUCE:

- 1 can (16 ounces) whole berry cranberry sauce
 - 2 tablespoons amaretto
- In a saucepan, melt whole berry cranberry sauce over low heat. Break up with wooden spoon, stirring well. Remove from heat. Stir in amaretto. Put mixture through food processor.

Sorry, Diet Won't Help Emphysema, Black Lung

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR LAMB — My husband has emphysema and black lung. Some days he has trouble getting his breath. He thinks that if he goes to Arizona, his condition might improve. I think this would be money wasted. Is there a diet he can follow that helps this disease?

DEAR READER — I wish there were a diet that would help. The best one can hope for is to eliminate obesity, if any is present, and to follow a good balanced diet. Unfortunately, you are describing some rather permanent changes in the lungs. The most important thing is to avoid exposure to any pollutants or irritants. Tobacco smoke is the No. 1 pollutant that most people with emphysema have to contend with. I do hope your husband does not smoke. If he does, he simply must stop. No one living with him should smoke, either.

Before considering a move to another area, check the pollution and air quality information for that area. Many of those "clean" areas have become contaminated by such things as the copper industry. You also need to know the altitude, since individuals with chronic lung disease do better at sea level.

Another important aspect of managing such problems is to avoid respiratory infections. This often involves staying away from public gatherings and avoiding children. Such infections are contagious diseases. What may be a simple cold for a child may be a serious complication in a person with chronic obstructive lung disease.

Some patients find breathing exercises helpful. Improving the level of physical fitness, when that is possible, usually makes the patient feel better.

DEAR DR LAMB — I am concerned about the health needs of my 6- and 7-year-old grandsons. To save money, their parents are buying skim milk for them, and they eat peanut butter, but do not use butter or margarine. I am worried that their need for dairy products may not be met.

DEAR READER — Don't worry another minute. Most skim milk that is commercially marketed has 2 percent non-fat solids added. This means that it contains more calcium and complete protein than ordinary milk. Even without the added non-fat solids, skim milk provides just as much calcium and protein as regular milk. Eliminating the fat is not harmful as long as the children are getting enough total calories from all food sources. Nutritionally, neither butter nor margarine is necessary unless you need to consume more calories. Half of the fat in butter is saturated fat, and it contains cholesterol. Peanut butter is not optimal or needed, either. Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

The late Cornelius Slavenburg of the Netherlands was the winner of the World Pair Championship in Amsterdam in 1986. Bob Slavenburg, a gregarious and charming person, particularly enjoyed a dramatic win achieved through artifice. This deal certainly qualifies.

Slavenburg, sitting South, made a two-heart overcall. When his partner raised, there was no question that he would bid five hearts rather than allow vulnerable opponents to play four spades. The dummy was a disappointment.

Still, declarer played dummy's spade king on the opening lead of the spade ace and got the hoped-for spade continuation after East's ace had won. He ruffed and led a diamond. West rose with the ace and continued spades. Slavenburg ruffed and began to play his trumps. In fact, he played all his trumps without even cashing any of his good diamond tricks in dummy. Madness, you say.

But place yourself in the position of either West or East. Surely declarer had a little diamond left. Therefore West felt it was absolutely necessary for him to keep the jack and two small diamonds. And East felt the same imperative existed for him — namely, to keep all his diamonds.

Alas, both hapless defenders came down to singleton club honors, and the last four tricks were taken by declarer's suddenly solid club king.

Yes, someone should have known, but the deal's history.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MARCH 28, 1985

An interesting friendship will develop in the year ahead with someone you will meet through unusual circumstances. This person will come from a different country and culture.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Guard against tendencies today toward being envious of another. If you had access to all the facts, you wouldn't trade places. Looking for romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set can help you in your search. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Seek verification of any supposedly confidential information passed on to you today. Your source may blend facts and fiction.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be extra careful in your commercial dealings today, especially if you are using an intermediary. Stay on top of everything.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your indecisiveness regarding your own plans could spill over and negatively affect the arrangements of your companions who expect to share certain activities with you.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22) A friend who confided in you is going to be chagrined when she learns you've revealed something told in confidence to a third party.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22) If you let down on your self-discipline today chances are you will have to let out your waistline. Moderation is a must, so don't overindulge.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23) To gain attention or admiration from others today, you may embellish one of your recent accomplishments a bit more than you should.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov. 22)

Normally you're a perceptive person but today you could read more into things than others said or intended. Don't be unreasonably sensitive.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In a joint venture today, be sure the one you're involved with is not looking to you and your resources to sponsor the enterprise single-handedly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Unless you take a firm position today, a more dominating personality you'll be associating with will call the shots and make the decisions for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb. 19) Your drive and persistence might not be up to par today and you may pack it in when you run into obstacles you could normally handle in stride.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Take with a grain of salt today promises offered to you by an acquaintance with whom you'll rub shoulders at an informal gathering.

Division Of Inspection Proposed For Longwood

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Creation of a Division of Inspection in Longwood has been recommended by the city's acting city administrator, Greg Manning.

The division would include the building inspector, fire inspector, and a full-time code enforcement officer, Manning said.

At present the code enforcement officer is a part-time policeman and Manning said, "It requires a lot of time to get everything done the city wants to get done. We haven't been able to enforce the sign ordinance, because he hasn't had time."

Manning, the city's police chief who has been filling in as administrator for two months, suggested at Monday night's commission meeting that the building inspector could be trained so that he could also function as a fire inspector.

But building official Bud Bryant does not see how the building department inspector can be included in one division with fire and code enforcement inspections because his department is a separate entity supported by user fees. He said the user fees paid by builders are only to pay for inspections and related costs of processing building applications and permits.

"If you bring in all these other things, you would lose control of and would be putting money into other places," Bryant explained. "At the end of the year if there is too much surplus, we have to reevaluate to see if the fees should be reduced. Other areas of the city are paid for by tax money."

Longwood Fire Chief Charles Chapman said Tuesday he agrees the commission should consider creating a division of inspection. He said his one-man fire inspection division is understaffed for the task of inspecting all new construction to make sure it conforms with the fire safety regulations. In addition the inspector must review all plans submitted for approval and has more than 1,000 businesses to inspect each year when occupational licenses are renewed.

The county provides an investigator for fires.

"As fast as we're growing, just keeping up with new construction is a full-time job," Chapman said. "The city needs to take a look at alternative ways of getting it done to avoid duplication of effort. Cross training of inspectors may avoid duplication and yield a more efficient use of staff."

Chapman said it would be easier to train a building inspector with a background in construction to do fire inspection than the other way round.

Another recommendation by Manning that a director of public safety be named to oversee the police and fire departments will be considered at the next commission meeting. Chapman declined to comment on the suggestion.

Manning, who was named police chief in 1977, said the police chief before him was appointed director of public safety, but there has not been one since. Chapman became fire chief after the city eliminated the public safety director.

It was pointed out that a new charter was passed after that and did not call for the public safety department. City Attorney Gerald Korman will research the matter.

The attorney has also been asked to research the legality of giving ham radio operators permission to install an antenna on top of the city water tower. Manning said he was in favor of it.

City Commissioner June Lormann had two questions: "Will it interfere with cable and TV reception and do we have the right to let them put it on city property?"

Manning said the radio operators would install and maintain it at their own expense as well as assume the liability.

"When you start putting private property on public property, you start running into difficulty," Korman said.
