Fisher whom he married in New York City in 1914, came to Florida in 1920 where he managed theatres in Jacksonville, becoming District Manager for Publix Theatres Inc., in 1929. In that year he was also president of the Jacksonville "Stars" Baseball Club in the Southeastern League with a Sanford pitcher, Ben Cantwell, and a Tampa catcher, Al Lopez, as his stellar battery.

Morrison was the recipient of a "goodbye and good luck, Charlie" party in the business office of the Herald yesterday afternoon which was featured by a mammoth cake suitably inscribed and the presentation of a substantial gift certificate.

Local Christian Church Schedules Visitation Week

Visitation week at the First Christian Church has been set for next week, and Palm Sunday, Apr. 14, has been designated Decision Day. Pastor Perry L. Stone announced today.

Organized evangelistic calling is planned for Tuesday and Thursday nights. It will also be done on Friday if necessary to visit all cultivated prospects on the church's responsibility list. The nights of calling will begin with a supper at the church promptly at 6:30. Women's circles will serve the meals. Assignments are to be made and the callers leave the church at 7:15 in teams of two. The persons who commit themselves to become Christians are to make a public confession of their faith at morning worship on Decision Day, and those who decide to transfer their membership will receive the right hand of fellowship at that time. A baptismal service is contemplated Easter Sunday, 7:30 p. m.

Budget-Cutters Approach Billion Dollar Mark In Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—House budget-cutters closed today by approaching the billion dollar mark in their drive to cut President Eisenhower's $7,500,000,000 budget. They hope to boost the saving eventually to two or three times that much.

Passage Thursday night of a lightly-paired money bill for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments brought total claimed reductions so far to $821,400,000.

The Appropriations Committee met today behind closed doors to run the claimed savings higher possibly to near the one billion dollar level. The committee was considering the President's request for $871,500,000 million to run the Commerce Department

Oviedo Methodist Church Will Be Dedicated Sunday

By Marian Jones
OVIEDO—Remember what a good time we had the first Sunday in November at the Homecoming of the Oviedo Methodist Church? Well, get yourselves all prepared. Another is in store for you.

That time we have long looked forward to is here—the dedication of the new Methodist Church.

Those good people are planning as large an event as that held in November for the Homecoming—If not larger.

Invitations are in the hands of all former Oviedians that were members of the Church. Members of the other churches here are planning on affiliating with them for this memorable occasion.

Sunday School will be held at the Baptist Church, but the church services have been called off in order to attend the ones at the Methodist Church.

That well-known Reverend John Swanson will preside at the dedication service, assisted by Reverend George Carlton and Dr. Jesse Waller.

Following the services dinner will be on church grounds. We have been trying all week to get our good friend, Lee Gray, to say he will have us a good cake up there. He has promised to meet us and greet us again—on condition we attend the services as well as the dinner.

In spite of a busy week-end ahead for us in other ways, too, we plan on wedding in time to cook some goodies and bring on hand for the special occasion. Pack your baskets and meet us there—time—Sunday, Apr. 7 Sunday School time 9:45 a. m.—worship hour: 11 a. m. Counting on you.

months operation with a 12 month payroll in Sanford.

"I am suggesting this to the Department of Agriculture and I am hopeful this weekend to meet with market authorities in the thought that we can develop some type of a plan to present to the Department of Agriculture.

Yesterday, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners met in emergency session to quell wild rumors circulating about the market and the disastrous fire only a few hours before.

Meeting shortly after noon the Board of Sanford City Commissioners unanimously adopted a resolution "representing the Commissioner of Agriculture to take immediate steps to put the Sanford State Farmers' Market in operation."

The resolution will point up the economic importance of the market to both the City of Sanford and to Seminole County.

I have never seen such harmony as that which was displayed during the tragic fire, one commissioner said at yesterday's meeting. As a result, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners agreed to thank everyone publicly who helped in any way to fight the fire.

Particular attention was focused on the operation of the new pumps for the Sanford Fire Department. The pumps sprayed 3,500 gallons of water a minute over the fire where old equipment was capable of only 700 gallons a minute.

Details of the fire and its beginning began to seep into The Sanford Herald's newsroom.

The first person to call in an alarm for the fire was a young man in charge of a filling station directly across from the market area. Bob Ricketts, a 17-year-old Seminole High School senior who works at night and goes to school during the day, said that he made the call and immediately went to the area to begin moving trucks away from the platform.

He was assisted he said by Cecil Taylor who is employed by an adjoining oil company.

"I saw the small blaze at first in the corner of the building and immediately ran inside to call the fire department. I asked the telephone operator for help in getting the fire department," said Ricketts.

"When I came back out it looked like someone took a torch and lit the building," he said.

Ricketts explained that he moved some of the trucks and then went back to the station to close it up and then return to the scene of the fire to help. "It was right after I got back that the wind got to rolling the blaze of the fire out of the roof and onto the adjacent building," he said.

The four boys, Mike Tammy, Bradley Schirard, Bob Ricketts and Cecil Taylor were receiving the praise of all officials connected with the Sanford State Farmers Market, insurance companies, and the city government, for their untiring efforts to save property regardless of their own safety.

Today, most of the dealers, brokers and packers who were located at the Sanford State Farmers Market are back in business either from their homes or in temporary locations until the market can be rebuilt. It is business as usual with the men who move fresh produce into the western and northern markets from Central Florida.

Many Representatives To Speak For Canal

Hearing April 10 At Mayfair

It was 50 years ago that the first move was made to extend the St. Johns River to Titusville for an inland waterway to take care of thousands of pleasure boats taking their leisurely trip along the scenic St. Johns.

At one time, the St. Johns River was the only access to Central Florida for winter visitors.

And now it is estimated, at latest count, that more than 22,500 boats would take advantage of the new scenic route through a part of Florida unknown to hundreds of thousands.

A hearing has been scheduled by the Army Corps of Engineers on the feasibility of the Sanford-Titusville Canal. Local, county, state, and surrounding area representatives will have their say before the engineers on the part they believe most important for the new waterway to play in the economy of the Central Florida section.

Conservation has become an important topic in the move to secure the Sanford-Titusville Canal. With both flood and drought conditions felt in Central Florida, the canal will serve as a vital controlling measure in storing water for use during droughts and for releasing water during times of flood conditions.

At Sanford, a new boat basin is being completed to allow stopovers here as new and more numerous visitors plan to take the inland route along the beautiful river to view the rolling hills and the lush Florida tropical splendor.

People, seeing these views for the first time, are attracted to the area for winter homes.

The Sanford Docks and Terminals project will become doubly secure with the new route to Titusville and the Atlantic Ocean and with another connection with the proposed cross state canal to the

Evaluation Of Federally Owned Lands Proposed

VAH-7 Has 'Hottest 'Bombing Crew In NAF'

Three men who have been flying together only a month emerged as the "Hottest Bombing Crew in the Navy Air Force" in a recent operation conducted by Heavy Attack Wing One, United States Atlantic Fleet Air Force. The trio took individual honors in a week-long competition against the top crews from five squadrons. Heavy Attack Squadron Five won the squadron competition.

LTjgR. Richard W. Mann, pilot; Joseph Valinski, AL1, bombardier; and Bobby Sandefur, third crewman make up the crew, which represented Heavy Attack Squadron Seven based at Sanford. On four successive days they flew missions on 16 targets with spectacular results. Their scores would have been envied even for a veteran crew, but only one of the three men (Mr. Mann) had ever flown such a mission before.

The crew reached its peak on the third day, when it set a record for accuracy on four successive missions. Although the scores are classified, their results might be compared to a modern William Tell who could throw a stone in to a funnel of a target light from across the Brooklyn bridge four times without a miss.

A native of Dickinson, N. D., Mann joined the Navy in 1942 as an Aviation Cadet. During World War II, he served in the Pacific and won the Silver Star for a distinguished performance.

WASHINGTON — Congressman

Syd Herlong today introduced in the House of Representatives a bill aimed at returning to local and state tax rolls Federal property which is not now being used.

Under the legislation, a special committee of nine House members would conduct an investigation of real property owned by the United States, and determine its need.

Later, the committee would make recommendations for disposal of that found to be surplus.

Herlong said he proposed this evaluation of Federally owned lands because much has been said in recent years about the government's vast holdings and the great need to get some of this property back into private ownership and on the tax rolls.

CofC Directors To Discuss Canal At Tuesday's Meet

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow night, at 8 p.m. in the Commissioners Room of the City Hall.

The St. Johns - Indian River Canal will be up for discussion due to the fact that the hearing, called by the Army Corps of Engineers, will be held in Sanford at the Mayfair Inn on Wednesday, April 10.

John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, is issuing the notice of the meeting, urged all directors to make every effort to attend the session.

Savage Sons Win Bombing Derby

Sanford's Savage Sons of Heavy Attack Squadron Five have won the first quarterly Heavy Attack Wing One Bombing Derby. The victory followed an intensive month of concentrated practice bombing missions and ground training culminated by the week-long race for the coveted crown.

Originally established in December, the Derby was created in order to stimulate morale and improve bombing proficiency throughout Heavy Attack Wing squadrons.

The exercise was begun Monday with Sanford's four Heavy Attack Squadrons: Five, Seven, Nine and Eleven and VAH-3 based at Jacksonville participating VAH-5, 7 and 11 flew the propeller driven, North American built AJ SAVAGE, while VAH-3 and 9 vied for honors in the twin jet Douglas A3D Skywarrior.

Jacksonville was chosen as the "bombing range" for the exercise with certain bridges and buildings designated as targets. All bombing was accomplished by a radar bomb plotting unit at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station which tracked the aircraft as they streaked towards their targets.

The accuracy of this method of scoring has been developed to so fine a degree that the expense of dropping actual bombs is never incurred nor were any dropped during the operation.

Three outstanding crews were chosen to represent each squadron in the Derby and as the citizens of Jacksonville worked, played and kept the heavy bombers were the vapor trails many thousands of feet overhead.

Each day the tournament saw the process of elimination take its toll as one squadron after another bowed from the race until the final day when Heavy Attack Squadrons Nine and Five remained for the showdown with VAH-5 emerging.

1st St. Whiteway Put In Yesterday; Walk Lights In Use

The steel standards for Sanford's First Street Whiteway were put in and erected yesterday morning by city crews.

Moving of the heavy standards got underway Sunday morning about 7 a.m. when loading began in the French Ave. trailer park area where they were stored.

Work on First St. got underway about 8 o'clock to avoid the heavy weekend traffic and the blocking of the business area when hoists lifted the tall poles into place and set them on concrete forms built especially for them.

Work also got underway in the synchronization of the walk lights at First St. and Park Ave. with the traffic lights at the same intersection.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles left yesterday for Delray Beach where he will attend a four-day City Managers Short Course.

The 11th annual short course got underway yesterday at 2 o'clock.

Knowles said he will return to Sanford Wednesday night. The short course is conducted by the General Extension Division of Florida in cooperation with the Florida City Managers Association, the Public Administration Clearing Service of the University. (Continued on Page 10)

Truck Tears Bridge Housing; May Be Closed Two Days

The Lake Monroe Bridge, on State Road 15-606, will be closed possibly two days, according to the Seminole County Sheriff's office after investigating a crash of a truck loaded with heavy equipment when it tore the bridge housing and two of the main steel cross beams.

The truck, a Ford V-8 semi trailer, with two pieces of heavy equipment, smashed into the top housing of the bridge shortly before 11:30 this morning.

Deputy Sheriff H. S. Smart, investigating the accident, said that the Bridge Tender, K. W. Fight, had stated that the bridge would be closed to both highway and river traffic because of the damage.

Estimate of the damage was put at approximately $25,000, said the Deputy Sheriff.

Driver of the heavy truck was Charlie Johnson, Negro truck driver of Bunnell. C. B. King, sawmill owner of Bunnell, owns the truck.

The truck, it was said, had a vertical clearance of 18 feet. However, the bridge, according to signs, has a vertical clearance of only 14 feet.

A huge steel boom protruding from one of the pieces of heavy equipment carried on the semi trailer first crashed into and bent one of the steel cross beams at the entrance to the bridge. It then tore into the housing above the center of the bridge and tore steel beams and housing from place.

The frame housing, at noon today, was hanging in place supported only by the boom from the truck and from the two steel

Two resolutions will come before the board for adoption. One opposing the bill whereby municipalities would not be able to control the sale of liquor on Sundays and the other is on the Navy Appreciation Day commendations.

Also coming before the Board of Commissioners is the awarding of the bid for a street sweeper. Awarding of the bid has been held up until tests and investigations were made.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLY ROOS

CHAPTAIN KNEW what had happened to Anita Farrell. She had said good-by to Steve after his dance lesson, closed the door behind him. She had turned and seen the cut-out on the floor. Curious, as intrigued as I had been, she had picked it up and, instantly, realized that the needle in it wasn't poisoned. There was nothing lethal about it. Anita had been shot to death. There was the silhouette.

I knew what I had said the answer all along. The grill work in the ceiling was the answer after all. The killer had dropped the silhouette through the grill. Nothing could be less characteristic of an artist than a black cut-out, nothing less traceable to the person who had made it. It hadn't mattered which side it lighted on. The needle in it would hit enough to make a fall straight down and land beneath the grill. Anita had been shot from up there, shot in the back as she stooped to pick it up. That made the angle by which the bullet entered her body the way the killer wanted it . . . on a line parallel to the floor. That made it seem that the murderer was someone who had stood in the room with her, her last pupil, the Waiter.

The killer was above me now, waiting for me to bend over the silhouette, to move into the position he wanted. I forced my eyes to look into that black checked square of the ceiling.

I could see nothing behind it but darkness. And yet the killer was up there watching me, waiting for me to touch the tap he had set, waiting to shoot.

But I wouldn't touch it. By now, I suddenly realized, he must know that I had stumbled on the truth, that now I wouldn't touch it. And I understood why he hadn't already sent a bullet crashing down.

He was waiting for me to move, to step out from the wall. Flashed against it as I was, I was out of his range. The size of the grill kept me out of his line of fire. He could probably see no more of me than my feet.

I looked toward the door. To reach it, I would have to pass too close to the grill. I would make myself an easy target for him. My eyes circled the room, the shining, mirrored walls, the panel with the black knobs that was the music regulator, the telephone.

The phone was only a few feet from me. I started inching toward it, my back glued to the wall, my eyes fastened on the black hole above. My hand touched the phone's smooth coolness and I raised it to my lips.

Resources Study Group Recommends Florida Agency

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — Sponsors of a proposed water resources law have clarified its provisions to assure farmers and cattlemen it will not entangle them in new "red tape."

The Florida Resources Study Commission, set up by the 1935 Legislature to study Florida's complex water problem, recommended that a state agency be formed. The commission suggested it be known as the Water Resources Commission or, the Legislature could create a Water Resources Department in the State Board of Conservation.

The commission pointed out that the proposed law would not affect a homeowner who wants to drill a well for domestic purposes or anyone using water for "ordinary livestock consumption."

Other exemptions would include rivers or streams which are boundaries of the state and prevent control of water-borne wastes from municipalities and industries.

New Taxation Would Hit Many Items

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Gov. LeRoy Collins' recommendation for new taxes would hit just about everything except food, medicine and services.

The people who would be most affected by the governor's tax recommendations would be those who buy automobiles, whiskey and beer. Probably the only item the governor mentioned which would affect everyone was a 3 per cent rate on clothing.

Collins urged the sale tax on clothing be extended to include items selling for under $10 which are now exempt.

In addition to the new taxation setup, the governor called for creation of a state-local board to force county assessors to equitize and raise present taxes on property to "provide more revenue for the counties."

"I am convinced," Collins said, "that the basic local tax structure must continue to be the property tax and that we will never arrive at a proper and sound solution of our financial problems, state or local, until we deal squarely with this problem."

Collins said the proposed board would see to it that "assessments would be fairly related to value of the property as required by law."

Earnest Effort By All Needed To Get Sanford-Titusville Canal

For the past fifty years efforts have been made to extend the St. Johns River on to the waters of the Atlantic at Titusville. Some of the greatest men in America have envisioned the brilliant future of Central Florida along a new inland waterway to be known as the Sanford-Titusville Canal. But adversity met those who saw the challenge of what was to come and until now the project was left undone.

Now, there are others over a wide area interested in seeing the project accomplished. Port Canaveral would benefit—so would Sanford-Titusville-Cocoa-Palaska—the whole length and breadth of the new St. Johns River.

Water conservation is necessary—huge reservoirs and basins must hold the water back for drought. And at the same time there must be locks to control and prevent flooding.

The Sanford-Titusville Canal, the subject of a hearing called by the Army Corps of Engineers for April 10 at the Mayfair Inn, would provide all that farmers, cattlemen, sportsmen and fishermen have been looking for.

And it is predicted that hundreds will be in Sanford on that particular day to speak up for the project that has been needed these many years. The spokesmen from many organizations and sections will bring with them the supporting data for their arguments.

Fishing camp operators will benefit from the more than 28,500 pleasure boats that will ply the St. Johns through the inland waterway when it is made a reality—and the figure is only a minimum one based on the number of boats in past years that would use the new route.

Many of the boating enthusiasts, seeing Central Florida for the first time as they navigate one of the most beautiful areas of the state, will no doubt choose home sites and settle here.

Industrialists making the inland trip by way of the Sanford-Titusville Canal will see the vast potentials of the area only to come back with bigger and better plans for the expansion of their own business ventures.

The possibilities are too far beyond vision to put into words—so vast are the possibilities that the influx of boats, people, and industry to Central Florida would more than pay for the canal in time to come.

The Sanford-Titusville Canal is not only a measure for greater expansion, for conservation of water and wildlife, but it would also become a potential military safety channel for the transportation of essential materials into Central Florida from vital ports.

Shipbuilders of Jacksonville have seen the necessity and the importance of the Sanford-Titusville Canal—sportsmen of Jacksonville, realistically looking at the conservation of water and wildlife, are wholeheartedly supporting the project—the Canaveral Port cognizant of the value of the Sanford-Titusville Canal to their project are earnestly looking forward to the project's completion. It is important to Sanford and Seminole County to see that the Sanford-Titusville Canal is approved. To this end, those who favor the project would like to see as many representative citizens appear at the hearings.

The Sanford Docks and Terminals would become just twice as important with the Sanford-Titusville Canal in operation. No doubt these would be twice the tonnage come into the Sanford port from Central Florida industry and business.

As a connecting link to the Cross State Canal, the Sanford-Titusville Canal would join the east and west coasts for the exchange of water freight—oil and fuel coming to the Sanford facility from Texas and the Gulf—heavy raw material going to the west from the eastern markets.

The economic value of the proposed canal cannot be estimated in mere dollars. There is the conservation value that is worth multi-millions to the sportsmen of Central Florida and the visitors who come to see us. The pleasure boat industry would bring added thousands of people to our part of the country leaving behind them hundreds of thousands of dollars as they stop to enjoy the "best part" of Florida. The shipping industry could not be estimated unless the figures run into the thousands above the six figure mark.

There's too much at stake for a mere lukewarm interest.

An earnest effort must be extended to secure the Sanford-Titusville Canal for the benefit of those who would like to come to Central Florida.

Juvenile Delinquency

Many people, when considering juvenile delinquency, think in terms of one cause or emphasis. Poverty, or a bad home, or some other factor is singled out as the cause and, more important, the source of blame. Frequently, it seems more important to blame than to understand. Thus, it is often said that "the parents are to blame."

However, we do not really begin to think fully until we shed ourselves of the need to blame someone, to excuse, to use our minds as instruments of rationalization. In approaching the grave problems of juvenile delinquency, we should recognize that these occur in the framework of society. The causes are social, economic, personal, and psychological.

We are dealing with a condition of youth in a changing and dangerous period. In order to lessen the incidence of delinquency we must mobilize social resources and energies. If we do not, and if juvenile delinquency continues to increase, then we can even be nurturing the barbarians within our own gates who will tear down much of what we—and our forebears—have created. This is a problem which does not call for anger. At the same time, sentimentality in approaching it is as dangerous as anger. It cannot be left alone to the law. An all-sided approach is required.

One of the big tasks facing us is to concern ourselves with boys and girls of five, six and seven. In other words, as we try to meet the problem, we should give much thought and effort to preventative measures, if many boys and girls of five to seven can now be set on a road of constructive living, we will have less delinquency in ten years. We have here a long-term problem, one of the major ones facing us in a changing society.

Too Late To Classify

Annual reports of most corporations are usually pretty dull reading for anyone not directly identified with the company as an official, employee or stockholder.

Comprised for the most part of pages of statistics, packed with in a sombre, dignified, sometimes austere way, they remind me of such unpleasant things as bank balances, income tax collectors or auditors' reports.

It was refreshing last week to receive an annual report so different that it caused me to sit up and take notice. Although my waste basket is always within arms reach, I didn't consign this booklet to it. Something about it prevented my normal reaction.

Its gay and colorful cover picturing Florida as a three-legged stool supported by agriculture, industry and tourism seemed to say, "Wait a minute, Buster, look inside." I did and found it contained a fascinating story of growth, development and progress, impressive and informative, and in no way dull.

The statistics were there, of course, but they were presented with clever illustrations that told the story in such an interesting manner you would hardly connect it with the annual report of a big corporation.

The running story it told of Florida's amazing development was exceptionally well written and might well have graced the pages of Time, Newsweek or Nation's Business. It told of the activities of such concerns as General Electric Co.; Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co.; Hamilton-Standard, Division of United Aircraft Corp.; Air Associates, Inc.; General Nuclear Engineering Corporation and other great organizations that are spending millions of dollars on new plants in this state that will eventually give employment to many thousands and add tremendously to Florida's industrial progress.

While modestly pointing out the important part that power plays in such development, the report indicated the effort Florida Corporation is making to keep abreast of these new demands through the construction of new and better plants, extension of lines, and in many other ways.

Full credit is given to Governor Collins and the Florida Development Commission for the achievement of interesting national industrial leaders in this state and encouraging them to come here.

It told of the coming of natural gas to the area and explained how this would provide a more economic operation from the standpoint of fuel costs in the production of power.

It visualized the coming of atomic energy and told how the Tampa Electric Company, Florida Power & Light Company and Florida Power Corporation compose a Florida Nuclear Power Group. They have retained a nationally

Last week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet: The Suez Canal situation took a new turn for the worse last week.

The United States tried vainly to get President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt to soften his stand, which is that Egypt must exert complete control of canal traffic.

It was reported that France and Australia might take the issue to the United Nations Security Council.

In London, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan presented to the House of Commons a drastic new defense program aimed at slashing Britain's armaments costs.

Abolition of Draft

The plan calls for the abolition of the draft, the scrapping of all battleships, the reduction of British North Atlantic Treaty troops in Germany and cutting down British garrisons all over the world.

While Britain was cutting down its armaments program, West Germany included the first 9,733 draft troops for its new army.

In another development which reflected the contrast between the British and German situations, Gen. Hans Speidel of West Germany assumed the command of NATO ground forces in central Europe. In his new post, Speidel will command United States, British and French as well as German troops.

Laszlo Hurgarlan Premier of the State Department in an unusually bitter statement said that the government of puppet Premier Janos Kadar of Communist Hungary had reverted to a regime of "Stalinist terror" to keep its people in subjection.

Premier Hussein Ali of Iran resigned as the result of the murder of three Americans, including a woman, by Iranian bandits. Hanooucheh Eshbar was named to succeed Ali. Both men are produced in Florida's progress."

Easter Seals Took Her Out Of A Wheel Chair

By NORMAN K. HUNTERMAN, D.D.

I WOULD like to tell you the story of little Clara Jo. Paralyzed from the waist down by a congenital spinal defect, the child faced a lifetime of helplessness in a wheel chair.

Within three months after Clara Jo's daily program was established at the center, she walked. Then, day by day, exercises were begun to build her shoulder muscles and to strengthen her trunk, arm and hand muscles.

Daily Routine

Pneum-ups, the elephant walk, the wheelbarrow walk, stretching, walking, roll-overs and parallel bars became part of her daily routine both at home and at the center. There was occupational therapy, too.

So, Clara Jo wants to thank all of you for making this possible. Clara Jo was the 1954 Easter Seal Girl, emissary of the nation's crippled children.

The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults is asking again for your support to help them to help other children just as they—and you—helped Clara Jo. How about it?

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. H. M. I have a blood clot on my leg which formed following an ulcer. How can it be dissolved?

ANSWER: The blood clot which could draw included a great variety of equipment such as absorb parallel bars, heat may be of some help.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE REAL NAMES of some very famous authors may surprise you. Recognize Timothy Sparks Cecily Isabel Fairfield Andrews? That formidable mouthful, my friends, was the real name of Charles Dickens!

Josef Teodor Konrad Korzeniowski was not a Notre Dame fullback, but the Joseph Conrad who gave us "Lord Jim" and "Victory."

Edward Everett Tanner attempted to break into the light fiction best-seller lists with a novel called "House Party," submitted under the pseudonym of Virginia Romans. He did much better the second time out, when he used the name of Patrick Dennis for "Auntie Mama."

"Yes, sir," boomed the father of the town's richest—and ugliest—girl, "the man who marries my daughter will certainly get a prize." Cautious Bachelor Brinkley asked politely, "May I see it?"

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

A busy girl on Thursday morning was Lee Conring, as she dashed from the coffee at Dornell Kilcline's to the one at B.O.Q. for the Station Wives. Arlene Baker and Gerry Hauerperger were the hostesses. These clever girls had arranged a beautiful Easter table with two of the Hallmark's burlesque of cardboard holding spring meetings, and surrounding this, colored eggs on grass. An Easter basket filled with little gifts attached to pastel ribbons was another attraction. Kitchen gifts were inside the pretty packages, as each girl opened the one she had pulled. Coffee and rolls were served. Attending were Katie Jackson, Joy Webber, Peggy Tugwell, Jane Hamrick, Bru Northridge, and Lee Conring.

Friday night at the B.O.Q. Station officers and their wives met for cocktails from 6 to 8. Dave and Lee Conring, and Joe and Doc Leary were the hosts and hostesses for this occasion.

The turnout was large, with an estimated crowd of eighty.

The Mayfair Inn was the spot picked for the April V.A.H.S. luncheon, by hostesses Marcia Cousins and Mary Carman. First we gathered in the Bamboo room for a chat before sitting down to the delicious luncheon of lobster thermidor. The table was gay with red hibiscus and green leaves. Two new girls were introduced — Terry Durand, who has one child, a six year old girl, and Shirley Stevens, a bride of two weeks. Marcia Cousins was prevailed upon to be the new treasurer, as Millie Thomas is leaving the end of this month. Present were Lois Grundy, Millie Thomas, Terry Durand, Ruth Chaffee, Jean Fowler, and her guest, Lolly Roth, Betty Hazlett, Julie Anderson, Shirley Ross, Shirley Stevens, Betty McBratnie, Skip Horrell, Betty Hillner, Muriel Gidewell, Dornell Kilcline, Nita White, Flora Wigton, Toni Waters, Margaret Fennell, Fran Murray, Leta Peterson, Lola Nabal and Virginia Conn.

Threefold was the purpose in a party here Friday night—a "coming-out" party for Jane Miller who has been away, a send-off for Crela Higginbotham and Louise Parker as they left Saturday for the state tournament at Naples, and a welcome back to Jean and Leo Compo of Pensacola. The golfers were all in training, so it was an early evening. Attending were Louise and Jim Parker, Louise's parents, Jean and Leo Compo, Jean and John Doolley, Penny and Tommy Peterson, Earl and Crela Higginbotham, Jack and Judy Smith and Cy and Jean Fitton.

V.A.H.S. gals had a BRING YOUR OWN STEAK luncheon at Jane Dady's home on Thursdays. Berna Conn was co-hostess, and they served tossed salad, french bread, and date bread with cream cheese. This last for dessert. The crowd was big enough for three tables of bridge and about six who didn't play, so it sounds as if they all made it. Of course we all know by now that V.A.H.S. won the bombing derby. They couldn't do without another "First". But there is no blowing my horn about Five, since there are plenty of others to do it, and besides we are in V.A.H.9 now, and bitter. The whole idea of the derby was excellent for morale though. Competition always pulls a team closer, and in a squadron there is nothing better for morale

It was only three and one-half months ago that Vallinski completed his training as a bombardier, although he has been in the Navy for 18 years. Born in Simpson, Penn., he is married, has one boy, Eddie, and resides at 120 Laurel Drive, Sanford.
The third crewman, Sandefur, is also a novice, having finished his training only two months ago. He hails from San Angelo, Texas, is married and has two children and also resides in Sanford.
CDR. L. B. Libbey, Commanding Officer of VAH-7, congratulated his winning crew at morning quarters. He was especially proud of Vallinski, who had served as third crewman for the previous skipper, CDR T. T. Guilroy, and himself. Of the crew he had this to say: "The difficult we do immediately, but the impossible took four days in this case."

Car Crashes Into ACL Train; Three Escape Injury

A 1956 Chrysler coupe was "completely demolished" said Florida Highway Patrol Trooper T. Mark Mack, when it crashed into an Atlantic Coastline Train Saturday morning shortly before noon at the Forest City Crossing near the Vogate Packing House.
The three occupants, Albert Sidney Kerter, 21, of Route 2, Maitland, the driver; Nelladane O'Brien, 1320 Clay St., Orlando; and Larry Fisher, 24, West Parr, Orlando; miraculously escaped without injury, said Trooper Mack.
The automobile was traveling north and the train west "when the car smashed into the train practically nose to nose" said the Trooper.
The train crew consisted of F. L. Dampier, J. M. Williams, J. R. Adams, W. F. McTeer, and Shade Randolph.
Keller was trying the car out figuring that he would trade for it, according to the FHP Trooper. It skidded 27 yards, hit the train, then bounced back 24 yards off the west side of the highway, according to the officer's report. The train was moving at a speed of 19 to 15 miles per hour.
Trooper Mack said that Keller is charged with "excessive speed." Another accident, said Trooper Mack, occurred Friday night at approximately 9 p.m. when Carl Williams, of Sanford, accompanied by Mrs. Williams and two guests, attempted to turn into the driveway of Lake Catherine Court at the Dog Track Road when a 1956 Plymouth sedan, driven by Clyde LeRoy Green, 22, of Titusville, smashed into the rear of Williams' 1954 Lincoln sedan.
Damage of $75 was estimated to the Lincoln and $425 to the Chevrolet. Green was charged with Reckless Driving, said Trooper Mack.

Dog Poisoning Reported In Area

A widespread poisoning of dogs has apparently cropped up in a west Third St. section, according to one of the residents who reported the incident.
Mrs. W. H. Kramer, of 1810 West Third St. said Saturday that she had found her dog apparently poisoned with what she termed "strychnine" at about 6:30 a.m. Friday morning.
About 90 minutes later, a dog belonging to William LePrie, was found in the same area poisoned and again at 11 a.m. Friday night another dog belonging to Billy Frank was found. Mrs. Kramer reported that the Frank's dog had been poisoned with "strychnine."
Mrs. Frank said that on Saturday morning about 11 a.m. another dog was found poisoned.
She said "this is the third time my dog has been poisoned since last November."
"The dogs that are being poisoned," she said, "are not vicious and neither do they run too far."
"We are becoming frightened now because the dogs are getting the poison from either meat or candy and if it is the latter children may get hold of it," Mrs. Kramer reported to The Sanford Herald.
"Children might pick up the poisoned candy, if that is the way they're poisoning the dogs and they'll be terribly sick," she said.
"All of the dogs are pets and none of them are known to bark excessively," Mrs. Kramer said.

Earl Brown will represent the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association. Brown, president of the group, has spent much time in the interests of the Sanford-Titusville Canal.
A. W. Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Waterways Committee will attend the hearing to be held at the Mayfair Inn. Lee has made the canal his topmost project for a number of years and has been one of its most enthusiastic supporters.
The St. Johns River, according to boating enthusiasts from many parts of the county, is considered one of the finest cruises in America. However, it is seldom visited because of the dead-end at Sanford.

value individuals. Much of this land, he said, is land held by the government in the first instance and has continued in the ownership of the government because no one else wants it.
On the other hand, Herling said, there has been land acquisition by almost every department or agency of the government. Although many of the tracts are small in size, he said, they dot the entire country and its insular possessions. In many instances, Herling continued, this land is located in cities where land values are high, and it is kept off the local and state tax rolls. Presently, he said much of it is in excess of the needs of the government for the particular use to which it is being put.
Herling said it would be far better if most of this land was turned back into private ownership where it could be utilized in building the community and pay its fair share of the taxes. The same is true, he said, of much rural land purchased by the Federal government in the last 30 years.
The Florida congressman said he appreciated the need for government ownership of certain parcels of land, but when this acreage is not properly utilized or serving an effective purpose, it is unfair for the taxpayers in a town or community to carry the added burden that would be borne by these Federal holdings.
In some instances, Herling said, requests are made of the Federal government to make grants to the cities or communities in lieu of the taxes which would be paid if

Monroe Bridge Is Reopened; $25,000 Damage Estimated

The Lake Monroe bridge on State Road 15-600 has been reopened to vehicle traffic following the crash yesterday, shortly before noon, of an 18-foot boom which tore into the midsection of the span.

Estimates yesterday placed the damage at near $25,000 when two steel girders were torn completely out of the bridge structure and another was badly damaged.

The boom, four feet above the 14-foot clearance, also tore out the housing in the top section of the bridge. The frame housing fell completely away from the girders which held it in place and all damaged electrical equipment used in opening the bridge for marine traffic.

Rerouting of traffic through Osceola and Enterprise for north-south travel was discontinued late yesterday afternoon when debris was cleared from the bridge.

T. Mark Mack, Florida Highway Patrol Trooper, investigating the accident, placed charges of reckless driving willful and wanton and overweight load against Charlie Johnson, Negro truck driver of Bunnell.

The Ford V-8 semi truck and trailer were loaded with heavy equipment and was traveling south at the time of the accident. They were owned by C. B. King, sawmill operator.

No Action Is Taken On Proposed Tax Hike

TALLAHASSEE — Three hours of arguing Monday night produced no action on a proposal to hike the tax on oranges two cents per box in order to gain more funds for advertising Florida citrus products.

A joint meeting of the House and Senate citrus committees was told by a spokesman for the Florida Citrus Assn. that the state should improve the quality of its citrus before spending more money to advertise it.

"We have this year grown the poorest crop of packing oranges ever grown in Florida," said Robert Wooten of Tampa, general manager of Pasco Packing Co. and spokesman for the growers group, which is opposing the tax increase.

Representatives of the Citrus Commission and Florida Citrus Mutual, which endorsed the increase, did not defend the quality but argued that additional advertising funds are necessary to move next year's citrus crop.

Fifteen other industry measures came up during the hearing, but none was acted on. House Committee Chairman Dick Williams, Hardee County, said his group planned to vote on the measures Thursday and Senate Chairman Douglas Stenstrom, Sanford, hoped to have a vote on the bills "sometime this week."

The tax bill would also have to be passed by the House.

Water Pump Found With Stolen Goods

Sheriff Luther Hobby is holding a Fairbanks-Morse centrifugal type water pump which was recovered by a sheriff's deputy while searching for other stolen property.

The pump has not been identified but is believed to have been stolen within the past few weeks and abandoned in a weed field near Altamonte Springs.

The equipment is described as being a five inch industrial unit bearing serial 5658666, model 5532 and is estimated to be valued at $750.

Deputy Sheriff H. S. Smart discovered the unit while searching the area for other stolen merchandise.

A suspect has been placed under a $1,000 bond pending other investigation. In the meantime, Sheriff J. Luther Hobby has requested that if anyone has information concerning the equipment being held at the county jail for identification, to get in touch with the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

Willson Remains At Post

Don Willson, Mayor of Casselberry, was asked to resign from his position as executive head of the community's government at a heated meeting held last night attended by a huge crowd of Casselberry citizens.

Mrs. Eileen Rogers of Casselberry read a list of complaints as her attorney, Bob Bishop, sat nearby with his legal books and data at hand.

Mrs. Rogers cited in her four item complaint, a special meeting held by the Mayor, a Utility Tax measure, the absconding of city records, and the disobeying of an ordinance of the city.

She said "He is guilty of misconduct in office and should either resign or be removed from office."

Mayor Willson immediately replied "I was elected for a year's term and I intend to serve it." Willson also explained his actions cited in the item of the complaint by Mrs. Rogers and supported each of his actions.

However, the City's attorney, Allen Grant of Orlando, when he heard Mayor Willson explain that he acted on the advice of the attorney said "If I so advised you Mayor, I did so in error."

Grant explained to the Town Council that action against the Mayor could come only from the Board of Aldermen and would have to be supported by a four-fifths vote of the board.

"Specific charges must be made by the council," said Grant, "in writing."

"The motion," said the town's attorney, "must come from the Council and not from the floor."

Scattered jeers came from the audience at the Mayor but for most part he was applauded for his stand and the action he had taken.

City Fathers Take First Step Towards Vehicle Usage Tax

First steps were taken last night at the Board of Sanford City Commissioners meeting to require a vehicle usage tax for automobiles and trucks owned within the city limits of Sanford.

Proposed by Commissioner Merle Warner, the Board of Commissioners authorized the advertising of a proposed local bill and take necessary steps for the Seminole County delegation at the 1957 session of the State Legislature to pass permissive legislation making the tags $4 for cars and trucks.

Warner stated that the funds derived from the vehicle usage permits would be earmarked for city street maintenance and construction.

The original proposal was made as a previous meeting by John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Krider, at the earlier meeting outlined the dire need for funds to construct new streets in several sections of Sanford, to replace streets that are now worn out, and to keep the streets of Sanford maintained in a manner that they would be useable.

The proposed bill met with the unanimous approval of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Warner also stated at last night's meeting that this bill would open the way "to financing the docks and terminals project."

At the present time, funds in maintenance of the docks are appropriated from the Utility Tax and are inadequate to meet the needs of the city.
