First Sergeants To Be More Considerate

JACKSONVILLE, May 31.—(Special)—First sergeants are reported to be rough and tough, and apparently a few of the 31st (Dixie) Division "top-kecks" have tried to live up to the reputation. A recent order, issued over the name of Maj. Gen. John C. Franks, division commander, is any indication.

The order, short and to the point, reads: "It has been brought to the attention of this headquarters that certain rights of enlisted men have been violated by first sergeants of some units. When approached by enlisted men with pressing problems, and reports are made for leaves or furloughs, they are brushed aside without consideration of their problems. This situation will be remedied at once and such reports are to be investigated by company or battery commander, and if the rights of the enlisted man have been violated, the non-commissioned officer offending should be disciplined."

Last Survivors Of Crete Escape Under Hail Of Nazi Bombs

15,000 Men Are Removed From Island, British Announce; Iraq Signs Peace

Manchester Gets Heavy Air Raid

Germany's Luftwaffe, in a 15-day battle of Crete, turned its fury today on the last British and Greek survivors attempting to escape in fishing boats to North Africa; while on the western front other Nazi warplanes violently assaulted the big English city of Manchester.

London asserted 15,000 troops had been removed from Crete and had arrived in Egypt, ready for action in developing battle for the Suez Canal. About an equal number of Allied troops were killed, wounded, or taken prisoner.

While the British found some comfort in victory in the month-old battles with Iraq's regime of Rashid Ali Al Gailani, whose flight from the rich "Garden of Eden" oil kingdom brought a week-end truce.

Thousands of British and Imperial soldiers and their Greek allies, worn by the strain of 13 days of fighting, were awaiting the most furious attack yet launched by the Nazi air might, in Egypt last night.

Crete is lost, but the British in spite of a specific campaign by the Germans to prevent debarcation, got away from the beleaguered island in large numbers.

By Saturday night, 10,000 troops, mostly British, Australian and New Zealanders, had reached Egypt safely, bringing with them a number of fresh and Crete natives and a number of civilians, including some women who preferred this perilous sea voyage to living in a Nazi-occupied country.

Other, bombed through their entire trip from Crete to Africa, have arrived since then.

The decision to abandon the fight for Crete, which the British had felt confident of holding was made last Thursday afternoon as it became apparent that the Germans, all supposing there would enable them to land as many troops as they desired and at the same time, bar the British from landing needed reinforcements.

Some of the captured forces, worn by endless hours under fire of British air strength, but the military morale, generally, remained high.

All agreed that it was bombs and machine-gun fire by planes that passed over them almost continuously that spelled defeat for the British and victory for the forces of Hitler.

Hitler, Duce Discuss U.S. Role In War

Axis Chieftains Hold Unexpected Meeting To Exchange Views On Conflict

ROME, June 2.—(AP)—Informed Fascists said today that plans for meeting any move by the United States, presumably formed at least part of the conversation between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini at Brenner Pass today.

Observers said the Axis leaders probably were concerned with the prospect for further action by the United States in line with President Roosevelt's program to defend the Western Hemisphere with the Navy, involving French West Africa, the Azores and other Atlantic islands.

In Berlin the unreported meeting between Hitler and Mussolini at Brenner Pass was disclosed and it was officially announced that the Axis leaders parted in perfect accord on "the political situation."

The first guess of most observers was that Hitler and Mussolini exchanged views on the next step in the Mediterranean region following the successful conclusion of the Balkan, Greek and Crete campaigns.

Experience has shown that there periodic meetings between Hitler and Mussolini invariably are portentous, but only subsequent developments divulge what may have brought them together.

Their meeting today was the sixth in 21 months of war. Each has signalled the beginning or the end of a major phase of the conflict.

55,000 Men Prepare For Army Maneuvers

WITH THE ARMY IN TENNESSEE, June 2.—(AP)—An estimated 55,000 men and 12,000 vehicles—hid themselves from "enemy" eyes in the hilly woodlands of central Tennessee last night, ready for a month-long series of maneuvers.

The decision applied specifically to the 354,000-ton Denton beam across the Red River in Texas and Oklahoma.

Construction of the dam was challenged by Governor LeFlore C. Phillips of Oklahoma, who said that is violated state rights.

END OF THE NAZI BATTLESHIP BISMARCK

Released by the British Admiralty, this photo shows the German battleship Bismarck going to the bottom of the Atlantic in a great cloud of smoke after the British cruiser Doughty had administered the coup de grace with the torpedo tubes shown in foreground. The Doughty picked up survivors of the German warship which had a complement of 2,400 officers and men, 300 of whom revealed that the Bismarck was headed to Britain.

ROAD TO SUCCESS FOR TODAY

Commit your way into the Lord's hands. He will lead you. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him.—Psalm 121.

THE AIR-RAID WARDEN

(From The London Times)
In the dark hours before the winter dawn
He left his home still sleeping
With blinds drawn
And as, once more,
Healing out quietly, he closed the door
Quietly and, turning aside
Down the unlighted road Toward the wardens' post to take his place
Among his comrades, though he felt the yaw
Bite of the wind, still in his mind he saw
His wife and children lying in their beds
Wrapt yet in slumber with dark ruffled heads
At peace in the forgetfulness of dream,
For a brief while unconscious of the threat
And menace that beset
Each waking moment of a world
at war.
The alarm sounded; and a searchlight beam he shall bring it to light
Heed out a raider. . . .
The gun began
And bombs screamed, hurtling toward the post he ran With beating heart. . . . Yet still with his mind
He saw those innocent faces calm and kind.
Wilfrid Gibson.

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE

Somewhere in France there lie
the memory of Lafayette.
Somewhere the shade of Marshal
Foch
Waits maledictions on the Boche,
Somewhere the Tiger Clemens,
Unsleeping, stalks his savage foe.
Somewhere French valor shall not fade;
But not in Vichy, I'm afraid.

A Boon To Aviation

Although all our aviation efforts, ingenuity, and brains are being concentrated on building high-speed bombers and fighting planes, it is interesting to note that a new type of small plane that practically flies itself is being placed on the market.

It may seem like a waste of time, skill and materials to construct planes which have no immediate military value, but the development of a type that anyone can fly with an hour or so of instruction will inevitably have an important bearing on our source of supply of future military pilots.

The new plane called the "Skyfarer" has incorporated all the safety features which have been adopted in various other kinds of planes, and, with its tricycle landing gear, its wing flaps, its simplified steering apparatus, and its incapacity to go into a spin, is about as fool proof as any aircraft can be.

One may obtain some idea of its simplified operation from the fact that a reporter who had never flown a plane before, took the craft off the ground on his first trip, piloted it across Long Island, and might easily have landed it if thickening weather and gathering darkness had not descended.

In describing his experience the reporter said the craft could take off and land in a cross wind and handled well on the ground because of its tricycle landing gear which is turned by the same controls that operate the ailerons while in flight.

The Skyfarer is a high-wing monoplane for better flap action, seats two in side by side arrangement and has suitable fittings and baggage space. In comparison to the performance of automobiles, it will give more than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, 500 miles to the quart of oil, has a range of 350 miles and a cruising speed of 95 miles an hour. On a production basis and in normal times the plane would sell for about $1,000.

One can envisage that with all the great development of airfields and airports throughout the country, there is a great future for a plane like the Skyfarer. As a reservoir for military flying material, the widespread use of these tiny planes would be of inestimable value to the country.

Eagle Into Ostrich

Of Mr. Lindbergh's right to criticize a Presidential address there can be no question. As for the issues of taste which arise from the manner of his utterance, they are his own problem and responsibility. But his arguments are very much the public's concern. And it seems to us worth pointing out that defeat has not improved his logic. The immaturity of his mind and background, his inability to look outside the narrow channel of his limited facts and fixed prejudices were never so clearly exhibited as in his latest speech.

What the President said was that "control or occupation by Nazi forces of any of the islands of the Atlantic would jeopardize the immediate safety of portions of North and South America and of the island possessions of the United States and, therefore, of the ultimate safety of the continental United States itself." We know of no reputable student of warfare and strategy who would question the accuracy of the President's statement. Such difference of opinion as exists is about the precise steps to be taken to prevent German occupation—and on this point Mr. Roosevelt made no specific commitment. Nor did he even make a threat. What he made plain, however, was that the defense of America makes it mandatory that these jumping-off places do not fall into German hands. Nothing was said—note this well—about the United States having to seize and hold these islands so long as they remain under their present sovereignty and are not in danger of falling under German dominion.

Yet what does Mr. Lindbergh say? "Our own President says that the safety of America lies in controlling the Cape Verde Islands, off the coast of Africa. Even Hitler never made a statement like that." Mr. Lindbergh said in Philadelphia on Thursday, "If we take the attitude that we must control the islands of the Eastern Hemisphere, Europe has just as much reason to demand control of the islands of the Western Hemisphere." And again, "It is Mr. Roosevelt who advocated world domination when he says that . . . we in America must dominate islands lying off the African coast."

The proposition is elemental: the United States does not covet the islands in question. It does not wish to occupy them as steps in a scheme of world domination. Germany, in contrast, must have these islands if she is to dominate the Atlantic. They are vital to Germany in the event of German expansion into the New World. Control of the islands would be for the United States a purely defensive measure. Control by Germany would be an essential part of any aggressive transoceanic campaign.

Mr. Lindbergh's inability to perceive this fundamental distinction is a tragic illustration of his mental limitations. No wonder he is still able to reach the absurd conclusion that if the United States will simply sit tight and do nothing it will have nothing to fear and can escape war! Is it surprising that the same German spokesman who denounced Mr. Roosevelt for his speech on Tuesday evening praised Mr. Lindbergh's "reply"? The Germans, at least, have no illusions as to which interpretation of the problem of the Atlantic islands correctly places the real interests of America first. Whatever animal best symbolizes the Nazis, it is not the ostrich.—New York Herald Tribune.

Civilian Defense Plans Described At Rotary Lunch

explained, but added that he did not think it would be assumed on many occasions. Concerning it with the National Guard, Mr. Harper said this unit was called only three times in 21 years.

Mr. Shaver, who is secretary of the Berkeley County Defense Council, explained that defense services had been divided into two phases: military or active, and civilian or passive.

Civilian services will include the protection of civilians, sheltering of civilians, and the evacuation of civilians.

The Berkeley County Defense Council, which has 1,000 members, is the only organization of its kind in the county.

It is claimed the cooperative fire in New City was in no way restricted or restricted in the Jersey City fire.

SANFORD FORUM

Mr. Rolland L. Dean, Editor, Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.
Dear Sir:
It has been demonstrated in various parts of our country that communities can render valuable assistance to National Defense by surrendering aluminum articles for manufacture into planes and parts.
If given the opportunity, it is my belief that the people of Sanford would cooperate in this worthwhile project and thereby evidence their unity and loyalty to our government in this small, though tangible, manner. According to reports the shortage of aluminum, though not immediate, will in time become acute.
I suggest that, under the sponsorship of some civic organization, a campaign be conducted, a square yard, off in Lakeview Park, and every household and Berkeley County citizen compare to pile it high in the interest of National Defense and aid in Britain.

READY FOR THE DEFENSE OF FLORIDA AND THE NATION

The Dependable Interconnected Power System of Junshine

Our country needs planes, ships, guns, to protect itself in a warring world. To America's defense production is electric power. . . . and TODAY the United States has the greatest electric facilities in the world. Power plants and lines interconnected into unified systems, open from coast to coast. Private utility companies built this interconnected chain of power since the World War, by pooling their resources of money and men under common ownership. It is one of America's greatest defense weapons. Abundance of electric power, ready NOW, relieves our government of spending millions of defense tax dollars to duplicate these facilities. This money can be used directly in the production of necessities so urgently needed for our country's preparedness.

Jersey City Fire Costs 25 Million

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 2.—Fire Chief Frank Ertle estimated Sunday that damage from the fire which swept eight blocks of the Jersey City waterfront Saturday night and still burns Sunday had caused damage in excess of $25,000,000, much of it to defense stores.

FBI agents, who automatically investigate fires involving national defense, were looking into all phases of the blaze, but Ertle told newspapermen: "The cause is unknown, but get sabotage out of your mind. It could have been caused by a discarded cigaret," he said.

The fire started in a cattle pen built on a pier at the foot of Sixth street, at about 6 o'clock Saturday. A strong southeast wind spread it over a six-block area within an hour. Its destructive progress was aided by half dozen fuel explosions in a eight-story grain elevator, where more than 1,000,000 bushels of grain had been stored.

Rights Of Individuals Defended By Pope

The pontiff, speaking in Italian over the Vatican radio, upheld man's right to freedom in his "physical, spiritual, religious and moral movements."

Fire Losses For 4 Months Of 1941 Are $113,373,000

NEW YORK, June 2.—(Special)—Estimated fire losses of $29,280,000 during April in the United States brought the total for the first four months of the year to approximately $113,373,000, it was announced yesterday by W. E. Mallalieu, director of the 75th anniversary activities of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Losses in April were approximately 10 percent more than in the same month last year. The rise is undoubtedly due in part to the speed-up of industry and to higher values associated with defense production and in part to property values destroyed in the forest fires which raged in a number of states during April.

MEN WANTED

There's more than one way that advertising brings men to work. The most important way is when advertising is used to increase sales. Instead of "men wanted," it says, "customers wanted." Intelligent Soldiers Needed, Doctor Says

CHICAGO, June 2.—(AP)—Soldiers must be highly intelligent and co-operative to meet the requirements of modern warfare, Dr. Elliot C. Cutler, of Boston, reported yesterday in War Medicine, publication of the American Medical Association and the national research council.

"It is no longer a combat of power only, but a combat in which brains may turn the tide to victory," he declared in a symposium on the psychiatric aspects of selective service. Participants in the symposium agreed that careful observation of selectees by examining physicians of local selective service boards and adequate personal histories of all selectees were necessary if the army expects to keep out persons lacking the proper mental makeup.

British Liner Docks; Just Missed Bismarck

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—The 26,944-ton Cunard-White Star liner Britannia slipped into port Sunday and some among the ship's 208 passengers said she narrowly missed meeting the German battleship Bismarck during the crossing.

Most of the passengers were understood to be British government workers rendering aid to the fighting forces of British bursars in the United States. Dispatches from Ottawa Friday said that a large liner loaded with hundreds of British military personnel bound for Canada and the United States narrowly escaped the Bismarck's guns.

Sanford Bows To Islanders In Two Games 13-0, 7-2

Girk Runs Gauntlet Of Pitcher Staff And Ends With Self Hurling Contest

Islanders to Come Here This Evening

New Players Getting Trial With Shifting Infield Posts

Sanford went down 13-0 and 7-2 to Daytona yesterday as Ray Ashton started each tilt and was credited with each loss. Almost every man on the Seminoles team took into the game as each of the mound staff was given the nod during the twin bill.

Tonight Leesburg journeyers here attempt to revenge a double header defeat suffered last week-end. Bill Daugherty will probably get the pitching assignment.

In the games yesterday a new infielder, Russ Walburg, played the shortstop position and was credited with seven putouts and two assists during the two contests, including two double plays.

Two more players are trying out for a position on the team with "Wild Bill" Colome, left handed pitcher from Ft. Lauderdale and Payne, a Longwood boy who has been playing for Stetson.

No Sanford player got more than one hit during the games but Alford Delfino, new third sacker, got out of his slump to hit a double in the opener and a single in the second game.

Water Sprayed Over Los Angeles Docks

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 2.—(AP)—Water from hoses of fire ships sprayed dock areas of Los Angeles harbor today to keep the water clear of oil slicks.

Pitcher Ashton Lacked Time to Show His Wares

DURHAM, N. C., June 2.—(Special)—Pitcher Ray Ashton, who joined Sanford the middle of last August did not have much opportunity to show his wares although he was credited with one victory and was undefeated during his brief whirl.

At the time of joining the Seminoles last year, a 28-year-old, the best Semi-pro hurler in Florida, and his recent two-hit victory over Ocala is a sample of what he can do with reasonable support.

Starting out last Summer in semi-pro ball, Ashton pitched for his home town club of New Smyrna in the semi-pro Central East Coast loop. Later in the year, he joined hands with the Cocoa club, semi-pro champs of Florida, and he hurled the only game Cocoa won from the Seminoles, semipro kings of Georgia. He also took part in the interstate series with Rome, Ga. and after Cocoa had lost the first two games, he pitched the club to a 3-4 decision in the final contest.

Ashton was a star of the New Smyrna high team for three years. During that period the team won 54 games while losing only six. Ray was returned winner in every game he pitched, and played in the outfield when he was not due for slab duty.

He had one no-hit game in his collection of wins, two one-hit-ers and a half dozen or more low score victories.

For the New Smyrna semi-pros, the Seminoles youngster tried his hand at every position except catch, due to injuries of other players. He was forced to pinch in the outfield for Sanford in several games last Summer and compiled a .375 average in 24 times at bat.

The No. 1 ranking player on his high school tennis team, he once won the city court championship of New Smyrna.

A six-footer, Ashton weighs only 148 pounds, but give him backing and he'll usually show the sort of pitching required to turn in winners. He was 20 years old last St. Valentine's Day.

Population density in the delta of the Nile River is 1,500 persons to the square mile.

Tax Pass Clears Past Hurdle

Administration Leaders Defeat Move To Delay Action Until Next Day

Caustic Remarks Pop In Debate

Charges Of Railroad-Bad Motives Heard In Dispute

TALLAHASSEE, June 3.—(AP)—Governor Holland's revised tax assessment program, including the full cash valuation of property, cleared the first major hurdle in the House today as administration leaders finally whipped a minority that sought to delay action until tomorrow.

As a result, the bill, under a speaker of rules, will be read the second time this afternoon, and the third time if leaders can shove it along, and then the House will vote on final passage.

The minority, showing a maximum of 39 votes, stalled the bill for two hours and predicted the 1941 session's biggest display of caustic debate and parliamentary maneuvering. The House has 88 members.

Times the minority defeated motions to waive rules, which required a two-thirds vote, but on the third attempt the majority mustered 63 votes to the majority.

Rep. J. M. G. Jones, of Collier, who first voted with the majority, changed over.

The bill, which had been passed by the Senate, had been amended by the House to provide for a cash valuation of property, and to provide for a cash valuation of property, and to provide for a cash valuation of property.

60 Men Signed In County Home Defense Force

Mustering Of Company Expected To Be Held On Monday

Approximately 60 men have signed for membership in the Seminole County Home Defense Force and the unit is expected to be ready to be mustered in at the meeting next Monday night, Captain E. C. Harper said this morning.

Adj. General Virvan Collins is to be notified of the number of men signed for the unit and the date of the mustering depends on the time Mr. Collins is ready to sign the unit's certificate of organization.

Though 60 men have signed, there is still a possibility of signing up more men. It is the hope of all the men have not taken their physical examination.

Capt. Harper said he wished to make clear that the men must sign the enlistment records and take their physical examinations before they are made a member of the unit. Several men have signed applications for membership but have not returned to the meetings to sign the enlistment records or be assigned a physical examination. If these men do not comply with the regulations before the time for mustering in the unit they will not become members but will be put on the waiting list.

As soon as the unit has been completed and all men mustered into the force the state headquarters will issue equipment. A total of 62 men may be signed for the force as regular members though officers may be signed for the waiting list to replace any members dropped from the roll.

Brady, Leonard Introduce Local Bills In House

County Would Be Allowed To Utilize Premium On Roads

Three bills pertaining to Seminole County have been introduced into the House by Representatives John C. Leonard and E. Brady, the Associated Press informed The Sanford Herald yesterday.

Meanwhile the Senate passed House Bill 1496, to cancel taxes on property owned by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Representatives Brady and Leonard jointly introduced House Bill 1810 to authorize the Seminole County Board of Commissioners to transfer $21,233.80 from its premium account to the general fund and bridge fund, and to expend the sum even though it had not heretofore been budgeted.

Following the refunding of its bonds in December, the County received about $60,000 above the value of the bonds. After the cost of the refunding and sale were deducted from the premium, $21,233.80 remained. The County bill would allow the County to take this sum and use it for whatever road building it wished.

Mr. Brady introduced House Bill 1810 to regulate small business in counties with a population between 22,230 to 22,240.

Mr. Leonard and Mr. Brady jointly introduced House Bill 1811 confirming the issuance of the refunding bonds by Seminole County dated Jan. 1, 1941, and including payment of the fiscal agent fee to Leedy-Wheeler, Company and Clyde C. Pierce, Inc. It is a customary for the Legislature to confirm the issuance of such county bonds, it was explained.

Registration Expected To Reach 15,000

One Place Will Stay Open During This Week To Receive Rest Of Blanks

Registration for civilian defense in Seminole County will probably hit the 15,000 mark—well above previous expectations—Edward J. Nelson, Jr., and J. N. Gillon, co-chairmen, reported today as the two-day period for filling the questionnaires drew to a close.

The two men who shouldered the big job of directing the mass registration appeared well pleased with the results.

Said Mr. Nelson: "The people of Seminole County are to be commended for their voluntary reaction to the call for civilian defense workers. The turnout has been fine." Mr. Gillon commented that the response of negroes also has been good.

Yesterday throughout the county, as adults and young people from the age of 18 up streamed to registration places to fill the blanks, calls kept coming in to the co-chairmen to supply more questionnaires.

"We're running out of forms," came word from the Chamber of Commerce, Chase and Company, Crook's Academy, the Farmers Market and other points. Three times Mr. Gillon carried more blanks to Crook's Academy and to the State Market. A volunteer worker from Oviedo came in to get 400 more.

In Sanford, the Meriwether store and the Woodruff Building were the places of heaviest registration, officials said. About 1500 blanks were signed at these two places yesterday.

During the remainder of the week the office in the Woodruff Building at First Street will remain open to receive the questionnaires of those who took them elsewhere to sign, Mr. Nelson explained. Those who did not register yesterday or today are asked to come to this office and fill the blanks during the rest of the week.

At the request of the registrants, Mr. Nelson probably not available until the end of the week, Mr. Nelson indicated. All the questionnaires must first be turned in to the county office in Monticello Springs, negroes will not register until Wednesday and Thursday, and some delay is expected in getting blanks from the county.

When the questionnaires have been returned to the co-chairmen, the next big task will be classifying the registrants according to the capacities which they listed, and determining their usefulness to the Seminole County defense Council in time of emergency. This will begin as soon as certification for NYA labor can be received from the government.

Ship Building Miracle Asked By Frank Knox

Industry Must Help England And U. S. Gain Sea Control, Navy Official Says

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Defense spending jumped to a new post-war high of $27,000,000 a day last week and to $236,656,762 for May. The Treasury said today that for the last 11 months, defense costs averaged $3,266,450,322, nearly half the total federal costs of $11,250,333,041.

Next year the Budget Bureau has estimated defense costs will total $18,500,000,000. The deficit in the last 11 months was $1,494,065,673 compared with $3,433,682,543 a year ago.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Secretary Frank Knox demanded today a production "miracle" of the nation's shipbuilding industry in order to assure the United States and Britain command of the seas.

"There can no longer be any doubt," Knox said, "that this war will be determined by two things—a third—a successful combination of sea and air power."

Addressing a conference of shipbuilders Knox told them it was up to them to see that America and Britain were equipped with the warship half of the combination necessary for victory.

The United States, appalled by the Black-Sea flood sea battle that brought the European war to the new world's front door, yesterday speeded plans for the protection of Greenland.

While all activity concerning defenses of the huge ice-capped island were cloaked in military secrecy, it was understood that steps to bolster the island's defenses were hastened by last week's extension of British-German warfare to the Danish Straits.

The United States reportedly started sending troops to Greenland shortly after it took over the responsibility of defending the island—Apr. 10. The protective agreement with the Danish minister established the country the right to establish air bases and other naval and military facilities on the island.

Nazis Assert World Won't Guess Long As To Next Move

ANKARA, Turkey, June 3.—(A. P.)—A dozen freighters flying swastika flags have been assigned to carry German troops and heavy military equipment from Rumanian ports to French Syria. It was reported here today, following the landing of 500 men at Latakia Thursday.

Strong Nazi air forces based at Rhodes and Aleppo would undertake to protect the vessels from a British attack.

The German strategy was said to be to establish a solid grip on Northern Syria so the army and air force could strike out in any of three directions—at Iraq, Palestine, or the British islands of Cyprus.

Opportunity Still Awaits Today's Graduates, Sackett Tells Class

Awards Presented To Students At Commencement

Awards to students of Seminole High School who excelled in various activities during the school year just ended were presented last night at the commencement exercises at the high school auditorium.

Vernon Altman, a senior, was given the most valuable football player. Edward Marshall, junior, won the Colonial Daughters of America medal for a patriotic essay. Miss Olive Chapman, a senior, won two medals, the Bauch and Lomb award for the highest grade in sciences, and the Dr. F. D. Mobley scholarship medal. All these awards were presented by T. W. Lawton, superintendent of schools in Seminole County.

Edward Marshall also won the Daughters of the American Revolution history award, presented by Mrs. W. L. Henley. Miss Chapman and Edwin Branan won the American Legion citizenship award, by Joel Fields and E. C. Smith.

Three students, Miss Natalie Trus and Miss Grace Sebree, and Miss Miriam Speil, a junior, were given the Elk patriotic essay contest award by Father J. J. Kellaghan.

The commencement program opened with the procession, the march from "Aida," by Verdi, played by the high school orchestra. The Rev. W. P. Buhman gave the invocation, and the senior sang the "Cherubim Song" by Bortolinsky. Next came awarding of honors, and the presentation of diplomas by G. E. McKay, principal.

The senior class sang a "Farewell Song," which was followed by a benediction by Father J. J. Kellaghan. The high school orchestra closed the exercises with the "War March," by Mendelssohn.

Two of the 98 graduates came from Camp Blending to receive their diplomas. They were John J. David and Amor E. Jones. Members of the National Guards when it was called into service the two boys were in the first semester of their senior year. Under a special ruling of the State Department of Public Instruction, they received their diplomas last night on the basis of their first semester's work.

Another graduating senior, William W. Kirtley, is in the Navy, and was awarded his diploma in absentia.

Those who received their diplomas last night were:

Ruth Anderson, Mildred A. Smith, Martha Bertelson, Margaret Bolly, Julia Mae Bond, Janet Boyd, Edith Briggs, Frances Bryant, Olive Chasney, Angustina Cline, Jane Cochran, Betty

Opportunity and the ability to seize opportunity were described as the ingredients in the formula of success last night by the Rev. Milton B. Sackett, retired Episcopal minister, delivering the address at the graduation exercises at Seminole High School.

Rev. Sackett sounded an encouraging note in his talk, telling the 97 boys and girls graduates that despite the troubled world into which they are being catapulted, they still have "free and equal opportunity" to achieve success.

He added this word of caution: "Idleness is the forerunner of death. You cannot continue to be an idle passive musician unless you play your instrument every day. You cannot win golf tournaments unless you practice constantly not only to improve your game, but to hold on to the coordination of mind, eye and muscle that drives the ball where you want it to go. You cannot be an even possible doctor unless you practice your profession and keep in touch with the new developments that are constantly appearing in medical knowledge. You cannot be a success in anything unless you work at it intelligently and vigorously."

Discussing the question of "what is success," Rev. Sackett declared, "I believe that we are agreed that the amount of wealth we accumulate, or the position of power that we attain to are not the true measures of success."

"The definition that I would like to leave with you is this: A successful man is one who has done his best, and who has used to the uttermost his strength of body, mind and spirit in the performance of his task."
