30-Day Hurricane Forecast Sees 2 Storms For State

MIAMI — The weather bureau's first of its new 30-day hurricane season forecasts, indicates today that conditions are ripe for one or two tropical storms between now and July 15.

The "probability" report, the first of its kind ever issued, was based on past records and current conditions in the hurricane spawning areas.

But the weather bureau warned that the report was merely a "long range prediction" and cannot enable it to pinpoint when and where disturbances will develop. The reports in the future will be made on the first and 15th of each month during the hurricane season.

Today's report said: "Records for the past 75 years show that on the average a tropical cyclone may be expected to develop during the period from mid-June to mid-July about once every three years. A full hurricane is likely only once in five (Continued on page 2)

Funeral Services Conducted Sunday For John E. Baker

John E. Baker, 63, died at the local hospital at 6:40 p.m. Friday, June 14, 1957. Mr. Baker was associated with Mahoney Walker Company of Sanford for 24 years and the City plumbing for 15 years. For the past several years he owned his own plumbing business here.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. John Baker, Sanford; one son Ernest Baker, DeLand; one grandson John Charles Baker, DeLand; two cousins, the Rev. John L. Miller, Hypoluxo; and Mrs. John Lee, Orlando.

Funeral services were held yesterday at 4 p.m. at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. A. G. McInnis officiating. Burial was in Lake View Cemetery. The Sanford Masons conducted services at the graveside.

Pallbearers were the following 100F members: J. T. Hardy, I. V. Williams, D. C. Howard, Ralph Spotts, Victor M. Greene and C. J. Wilkinson.

It was Captain Bob's night! Everybody admitted it. Captain Robert W. Jackson, Commanding Officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station made his last public appearance in Sanford when representatives of local civic organizations wished him bon voyage as he leaves on his new assignment.

With Captain Jackson was his wife Katie, smiling and listening to the words of praise from practically every phase of civic and government organizations of the area. At times there seemed probable that a tear or two might slip into the program, but speakers, aware of the situation, were able to weave humor into their presentations, thus preventing the occasion turning into a solemn one.

There were resolutions — one from the City of Sanford, one from the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, and one from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. County Commission Chairman Fred Dyson presented the formal resolution from Seminole County wishing Captain Jackson well as he leaves from Seminole County wishing for a new assignment; Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Past President George Touhy presented the resolution from the countywide organization. Then Mayor David Gatchel read the resolution from the City of Sanford.

Byrd Promises Study Of U.S. Dollar Decline

Senate To Probe Reason

WASHINGTON — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., promises a sweeping Senate investigation into why the purchasing power of the dollar has declined to 49.8 cents compared with its 1949 value.

His promise came as U.S. Chamber of Commerce officials made a prediction which, if borne out, could lead to an even further shrinkage of dollar's buying power.

Six Chamber officials and the organization's chief economist, appraising the economic outlook at a news conference Sunday, predicted that prices will continue to climb for the remainder of this year, although perhaps at a slower rate.

Byrd is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which will make a comprehensive checkup on the state of the nation's economic health at hearings beginning Tuesday. Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey will be the first witness.

It will be the first investigation of its type since the Aldrich investigation of 1908 which laid the groundwork for numerous financial reforms.

Byrd said the new investigation will cover "just about everything in the way of monetary questions, both private and public."

But he said it will concentrate first on "the inflation thift has occurred since 1949." Inflation, he said, has led to a 49.8-cent dollar compared with the 1949 dollar.

Furthermore, he said, there has been "a loss of two cents in the purchasing power of the dollar in the past year, or 4 per cent of its 60-cent value."

The inquiry also will concentrate on current high interest rates, Byrd said in a television interview.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told newsmen the administration's hard money policy—a policy of forcing interest rates up as an anti-inflationary move—has imposed an increasing hardship on businessmen, farmers and all taxpayers. He said Congress will "have to devote considerable attention" to the problem.

Johnson said high interest "lowers the value of the dollar for those who spend and raises the value of the dollar for those who lend on a large scale, and it hits the taxpayer with a heavy penalty."

Dr. Rutland Takes Over Methodist Pastorate Here

A Methodist pastor, in the ministry over 42 years, delivered his first sermon in Sanford yesterday after coming here to take over the pastorate of the First Methodist Church replacing Rev. Milton H. Wyatt.

Dr. R. E. Rutland came to Sanford from Gainesville where he was District Superintendent prior to the conference held recently.

Dr. Rutland is a graduate of the Candler School of Theology at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. He had previously attended Auburn University.

He has served in Florida churches since 1915 and all of his assignments have been in the south. In Florida he has served the Seminole Heights Methodist Church, Tampa; First Methodist Church of Lakeland and the First Methodist Church of Winter Haven.

Dr. Rutland and his wife Leila have two sons, both of them in the ministry. One son is serving at the Tampa Heights Methodist Church, the other at the Pasadena Church, St. Petersburg.

"A Strong Faith" was the subject of Dr. Rutland's first sermon at the First Methodist Church. His evening sermon topic was "Disciples are Christians."

Scientist Picks Death Over Committee Probe

PACIFIC GROVE, Calif. — William K. Sherwood, a cancer research scientist, killed himself early Sunday rather than appear before a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

A committee spokesman said he may have taken with him in death information "that would have been significant to the security of this country." He said Sherwood's testimony had been considered so "very valuable" that the committee planned to offer him immunity in prosecution in return for it.

Scientific colleagues of Sherwood, 41, said he was a "brilliant" scientist. On Friday he completed a paper describing work through which he believed he may have established a link between cancer, schizophrenia and some kinds of heart disease.

Sherwood was found dying at the Hopkins Marine Laboratory by his wife, Barbara. He had taken poison. He had left a letter saying:

"My life and my livelihood are now threatened by the House committee.

"I will be in two days assassinated by publicity. . . I would love to spend the next few years in laboratories, and I would hate to spend them in jail."

A friend made public a statement which he said Sherwood had intended to read to the committee.

"The committee's trail is strewn with blasted lives and the wreckage of youthful careers," the statement said. It said he resented "the intrusion of the House committee because it causes me to lose precious time from work which is of importance to humanity."

Sherwood had been doing research under a grant from the American Cancer Society. He was studying for a doctorate of philosophy at Stanford University. Professors said he had passed his written doctoral examination with the highest rating in the group.

Seventy-five students from 15 states have been accepted for admission into the first year class of Emory University's School of Dentistry, according to the school's dean, Dr. John E. Buhler.

Harold D. Jordan of Oviedo has been notified of his acceptance for admission.

Other items on the agenda include a request by Sam Williams for a beer and wine license at 305 Sanford Ave. This request was tabled from the last meeting on the report from Police Chief Roy Williams that "the man could not be found."

Also a request by the Sanford Boat and Ski Club to lease their Yacht Club when the Sanford Civic Center is built.

A discussion of the proposed lease agreement with the National Exhibition Company has been set, an item continued from the previous meeting of the board of commissioners.

The pay scale for city employees has been set for discussion at tonight's meeting.

Adventist 9-Day Camp Meet Closes

FOREST CITY — The little community of Forest City probably won't be the same for another year.

For nine days its population of a few hundred, at most, has mushroomed to some 7,000—Seventh-day Adventists attending the church's annual state-wide camp meeting on the campus of Forest Lake Academy.

Beside the school, the community has one medium-size store, a service station, a garage, two restaurants and the Fosgale Citrus Cooperative—hardly enough businesses to provide services for 7,000 visitors.

But the Adventists conference set up temporary cafeterias, a book store, a grocery store, a medical tent staffed by doctors and nurses, hundreds of dwelling tents, exhibit tents and other facilities. Though not the comforts of home in most cases, they sufficed nevertheless.

Chairman of the convention was Pastor Harold H. Schmidt, of Orlando, president of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. This was his first experience as such, for he was elected to the (Continued on page 2)

Importance Of Atomic Age Brought Out In Commencement Address

The importance of the Atomic Age was brought out recently in the Commencement address delivered at the 40th Commencement of the University of Tampa by David Branari Steinman. He titled his address "Moral Armor for the Atomic Age."

So important were his remarks that the editorial columns of this paper will carry the entire address, the first section of it today:

On August 6, 1945, when the report of an atomic blast over Hiroshima was flashed around the globe, civilization was shaken to its utmost foundations. Individual reactions varied from "I am scared to death," to "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." On the whole, the impact was sobering. Men realized that, in one brief moment, the history of the world had been changed. For better or for worse, the story of mankind had entered a new and fateful chapter.

Mortal man stands frightened among the appalling forces he has summoned from the unknown. The dust stirred up by the atomic blast gets into his eyes and obscures his vision; and, in the blinding flash of the explosion, the inner light that should guide him is momentarily obscured. Beholding the nuclear conflagration, man feels himself a child playing with matches—and he grows afraid.

We are living on the edge of an abyss. Any rash act can precipitate our own destruction. Fear of such a calamity underlies all our acts and thoughts today.

In the present world crisis, we can at least strive to avoid mad actions and pray to be delivered from blind accidents. Through enlightened public opinion we can prevent those who govern us from lapsing into carelessness. We can see to it that firebrands do not come into power. We need alert yet sober leaders who can and will think their way through the problems that confront us, real statesmen who can judge wisely and act decisively. We can have such leaders if we refuse to settle for less.

Civilized man is feeling the strain. There is a wary feeling of having almost reached the ultimate in the Faustian bargain of man's mystery over nature; and having glimpsed into atomic power more of mastery—and of death—than man is ready to face.

Perhaps the fear and the soul-searching it induces are hopeful signs. Many more people now sense the need of divine guidance, of a moral compass to steer by, if only because they realize that a single blundering act may prove fatal to our civilization, if not to the continuance of the race of man. The realization grows upon us that the spiritual ideal has ceased to be a luxury and has become an absolute necessity. Today, in a literal sense never before so apparent, the moral law has become the law of survival.

To us, human life is sacred and inviolable. To the Communists, the individual is a cipher, to be exterminated at the will of a cold-blooded autocrat; people are so much brick and mortar for the construction of a soulless Utopia. They demolish a human community with as little feeling as if it were an anthill.

In our struggle for the heart of man, we must renew the faith; gain again the flaming emotion of Pitt and Cromwell, of Washington, Lincoln, and the great founders of the Republic; of St. Paul and all the great Christian martyrs who died for their religious beliefs. We must fire political doctrine and spiritual ideals with ardent belief, with the magic of passion, for our own sake and the decency of mankind.

Daily we pray, "Thy Kingdom come." Without a belief in the ultimate good, all we have held sacred becomes meaningless. Without this ringing faith we are lost.

There is no old world to go back to; a new one must be made, and there are tigers in the way. We must breed and nurture a robust vigor to resist the vicious assertion that a state is an autocratic entity with supreme rights; that it need have no morals or obligations, and that its members are creatures to do its soulless bidding regardless of their own instincts of human dignity and of kindness.

We must cling to honor, to moral courage, to humanitarian ideals—to all the sanctities of life—and defend them, for these are the things our Godless adversary would destroy.

There is a tendency to think of all these things in far too small units of time. Many are in panic because we have not solved the problems of the Atomic Age in the brief span of ten years. A lifetime is only a second of eternity. All historic time is only a moment in the eternal plan. Mankind is barely emerging from the nursery. He stands bright-eyed with new knowledge of his past and, for the first time, with the power and will to mold his own future. We must educate our youth so that they will be strong to resist evil and to fight for the things that endure. With resolute faith and courage, guided by their power for reason, their power of spiritual truth, they will make a braver new world.

St. Thomas Aquinas once said that there are only three really important endeavors in life: To have faith in the right things, to hope for the right things, to love the right things in life.

Our faith, hope, and love for the good, the truth, and the beautiful find their expression in Science, Religion, and Art. These are the three main pillars of civilization. For man's highest fulfillment, he must reverse all three.

Religion, Art, and Science, representing the everlasting search for the good, the true, the beautiful, constitute a trinity of human aspiration. All three are but different aspects of the same reality, of the same feeling for the sublime, rooted in the supreme mystery of being.

It has been pointed out that there is a common and unifying element—what we identify instinctively as the divine spark—in a Raphael Madonna, a Beethoven symphony, a discovery by Copernicus, Newton, or Einstein. In each instance, inspiration was drawn from some common reservoir of spiritual vitality. In each there were moments of flashing intuition that call to mind the Burning Bush that spoke unto Moses. The experience of sudden inner illumination beyond mere intelligence, the inner light known to mystics, martyrs, and poets, is not unknown to creative scientists and inventors.

Art and Religion are related. They flow from the same fount of inspiration in the human soul. We need only to think of the Psalms and the Prophets, or supreme examples of religious music and painting, to see their intimate relationship. And foremost thinkers among scientists and theologians are coming to recognize that Science and Religion also are closely related. As the horizons of Science advance, many of its great leaders become more humble, not less; more reverent, not less.

The more deeply we delve into the hearts of Nature, the more awestruck we stand in the face of ineluctable mysteries. As the frontiers of Science advance, the scientist, the poet, and the religious man meet on common ground—the common ground of the ultimate, the infinite, the eternal.

Got a quick look at our new captain at Friday's presentation ceremonies of the "Bombing Derby" trophies. Both Capt. Arthur and Capt. Jackson had to be on hand to greet Admiral Cornwall when he arrived aboard last Friday, so they just got there for the last part of the show! Which, added up, gave us a most distinguished audience!

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN

The week-end gaiety started off with the V.A.H.'s All-Hands party at Sandaloo Springs. It was with a real feeling of gull that we packed up our five children and took advantage of the V.A.H.'s hospitality. The clear cold waters of the Springs were properly appreciated by over four hundred in the party. A delicious taco salad, beans and rolls were served during the afternoon.

Participating in a violent game of ball in the water were Cy Fitton, Betty McCracken, John Hook, Larry Fitton, Marge Hill, and Polly Brubaker. In order to qualify for the team, one had to do a backflip off the board and slide down the slide on his back. Seen about the green lawns with their various offspring were many Fivers and After-Fivers. Bob Jackson appeared with his relief, Captain Lionel Arthur, and Mrs. Arthur. I understand the Arthurs are enthusiastic golfers also.

Marching on chickens and chasing kids were Spook Hook, Ruth and Joe Tully, Hazel and Mike Rowell, Marge and Bill Hill, Evie and Bob Williams, Mike and Bob Stone, Cherry Ryman, Barbie and Gordy Jacobson, Tom Blackburn and Helen and Harry Griffin. There was such a tremendous crowd that it was impossible to see exactly who was there. We finally had to tear ourselves away to go to Anita and Bob Hadden's Horrible party, which of course turned out to be very nice. I'm so glad I did not wear the horrible costume I had planned to, as everyone else looked so lovely. It was plain to see that they had had much experience with horrible parties. The house looked charming. On the porch were four small tables set for dinner in flickering candlelight, and naturally the menu was exotic. That is the last time I will ever believe Anita Hadden. If I ever have a Horrible party, you may rest assured that there will be wet laundry strung through out the house, the children will be racing around and the food will be swill.

Actually, the party was a farewell for not only Cliff and Rosemary Duncan, but also Betty and Monty Mountcastle, Helen and Harry Griffin, and Joe and Betty McLane. Others attending were Treta and Mike Michel, and Virginia and Jim Shaffer. Packets come to the Duncans and Mountcastles Monday, although Betty Mountcastle is deserting ship and flying north tomorrow with Dick, the baby, thereby avoiding the anxiety and strain of having locusts in the guise of moving men descending on the house.

Last weekend Hazel and Mike Rowell had as their houseguests Jack and Clarice Clark, and their children Jeff and Annie. The Clarks are moving to Jacksonville from Norfolk. They kept the children for several days, until the Clarks could get settled. Saturday night the Rowells invited Katie Cummins, Ruth and Joe Tully and John and Spook Hook in for a grand reunion. The Clarks had been stationed

Camping Season Here

By GAY FAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time of the year the children head for the hills and the weepy parents for the handkerchiefs.

The end of school signals the beginning of the camping season, and by the July Fourth holiday, stars from 6 to 16 will be overrunning an estimated 5 million youngling 14,000 camps of all sizes and descriptions, both private and public.

It will take 250,000 staff personnel to direct all this youthful energy into the proper channels. This statistical look at the camping picture comes from Maxwell Alexander, a practicing attorney, former camp owner, and executive director of the Association of Private Camps, Inc.

Few Tears Natural Alexander, who has been in camp work for 3 years, said it is only natural for a parent to shed a few tears when sending heads for camp. "But sometimes," he added, "you'd think it was a permanent parting."

Alexander believes the camping benefits parents almost as much as the children. It gives each a vacation from the other, he said. The parents have a chance to "re-evaluate," the child a chance to "develop security, to quit treating the parent as a crutch."

Overns were followed by a buffet dinner. Dave Tammy presented Bob Jackson with a silver cigarette box engraved with Lake Golden sentiments. After a farewell speech, Bob cut the tremendous cake baked in his honor. Dancing was enjoyed under the sky following the dinner.

Jean and John Dooley entertained about thirty guests for cocktails and dinner Friday night in honor of Judy and Jack Smith, who are leaving for Chicago next week.

MRS. RICHARD GINRICH

Genny Sarver, Richard Ginrich Mary In Candlelight Ceremony

By HELEN SNOODGRASS
her attire.

Genny Sarver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Sarver of Enterprise, and Richard Ginrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ginrich of Deland were married in an impressive candlelight, double ring ceremony.

The Rev. Arch McNair, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony at 4 p. m. June 15. The church was beautifully decorated in pink and white flowers, greenery and burning tapers in branched candelabras. Selections for the occasion were played by Mrs. Frank Tubbs on the Organ.

The bride, who was given away by her father, chose for her wedding a formal, long-sleeved gown of princess lines, white slipper train with a white sash. Her train was fitted, hooped and long tapering sleeves ending in calla petals at the wrist. The full skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, rhinestones and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. A single strand of pearls completed

What is the outlook for Florida's growing cattle industry? What is the situation regarding control of Bang's disease? What is the Livestock Sanitary Board doing about the cattle tick? How is the Florida Beef Council coming along with its "Eat More Beef" campaign? These and many more questions of vital interest to Florida cattlemen will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Florida Cattlemen's Association scheduled for Clewiston, June 18-20.

Convention chairman Sidney L. Crochet and his able committee have arranged one of the most comprehensive programs in the organization's history and a record smashing attendance is anticipated.

Headquarters will be the beautiful Clewiston Inn and sessions will be held at Sugarland Park auditorium. The Florida Livestock Board will hold a pre-convention session at the Clewiston Inn at 9:30 and the board of directors of the FCA will meet at 3 P. M. Tuesday, June 18.

A Dutch dinner that evening will be staged at the inn which will feature a thick slab of rib roast with all the trimmings. During the dinner guests will be entertained by the district champion FFA string band.

The convention will get into full swing Wednesday morning at 9:30 when general sessions start at Sugarland auditorium with outstanding state and national authorities discussing the tick eradication, Bang's and beef promotion programs.

That afternoon the program includes a series of tours to local ranches and other attractions in the area while ladies will be entertained with a boat ride. That evening a "Glades barbecue supper" featuring local grown vegetables will be held at the FFA club followed by the Cattlemen's ball at Sugarland auditorium.

Visiting cattlemen will visit famed Sugarland Ranch operated by the United States Sugar Co.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Florida Power Clubhouse in Enterprise, for the couples family and friends. The brides table was overlaid with a white cloth centered with an arrangement of pink and white bridal flowers and greenery. A three tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom centered the table.

Attending with the reception was Mrs. James Hanna Jr., Orlando; Mrs. David Mahone and Miss Barbara Hyatt of Orange City, Miss Norma Evans and Miss Helen Snodgrass of Enterprise. The brides book was kept by Mrs. Harold Stultz of Enterprise.

After a short trip to the Florida Keys the couple will reside at 845 W. Wisconsin Ave. in Deland.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Annes Brooks and Jimmy Ryan of Orlando and David Webb of Pensacola.

WHY GERMS LOVE PEOPLE

By Evangelist Cemer, Health Specialist

Most people do not begin to live of being sick until they approach forty years of age. Until then it is taken for granted that the ordinary run of illness just come along, and we each get our share. In early childhood there are mumps and measles, later, burns, falls, and broken bones. During adolescence there may have been some vague bone and joint pains (which may have meant rheumatic fever). From twenty to thirty we have constitutional like iron. We could eat anything—and dig, and get away with it—we thought. We stayed up until any hour, followed an irregular haphazard health program—and nothing seemed to affect us.

Nature, given a chance, will make valiant attempts to compensate for the abuse she sustains, but violations of the laws of health prepare the tissues for disease. That's why germs like people, in fact, some people are so solicitous of germs in the way they live that germs just love them.

HOW TO DRIVE GERMS AWAY

1. One of the most vital elements in keeping healthy is oxygen. It costs nothing in cash. Sometimes I wish it did. If it cost five dollars a gallon, then people would really want it. It would be in demand. As it is, the cost is some effort on our part, and to some people that is too high. We don't want to make the effort to get oxygen. How do we get it? The way to get oxygen is to BREATHE DEEPLY.
2. Be careful what you eat and drink. Eat an abundance of alkaline foods. It is a known fact that disease does not flourish in an alkaline blood stream. Drink more water and less commercial drinks.
3. Good elimination will surely be discouragement to germs. Let some exercise every day. (Outdoors if possible).
4. Friend, it is nice to be loved, but not by germs. They cause disease and death.
5. To better prepare you to have a happier and longer life, come to

House Passes 4-Point Civil Rights Bill

Defeats Southern Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today finally passed the administration's four-point civil rights bill after defeating a last gasp southern move to tack on the disputed jury trial amendment.

The bill went immediately to the Senate, where backers were maneuvering to speed action on it by passing the Senate Judiciary Committee.

House passage was an anti-climax to the long and futile southern fight for an amendment guaranteeing a jury trial in civil rights contempt cases that might arise under the new legislation. Southerners based their main fight against the bill on the jury trial issue.

Passage came after the House rejected on a roll call vote of 251 to 158 a final southern attempt to add the jury trial amendment.

The House previously had rejected four different versions of the jury trial amendment on non-record votes.

Minor Complaints Requests Heard Today By Board

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners waded through two hours of discussing this morning with minor complaints and requests presented by individuals during the first part of the session.

Zimmerman, in his objection, stated "I don't believe the people of Lake Mary would appreciate donating property to the street and then turn around and close the street because of selfish interests."

Attorney George A. Speer Jr. represented two property owners who had requested that the street be closed.

The objection that convinced the county commissioners that the street should not be closed was the drainage pipe for an area surrounding the street running through the right-of-way.

Spears complained to the Board of Commissioners that county equipment was taking sand and soil from his property on Chapman Rd. He requested concrete monuments at corners to prevent the taking of additional dirt. The request was approved.

Mrs. George Swann, wife of the owner of Swann's Tourist Court on 17-82 four miles south of Sanford asked the Board of Commissioners to intervene in the request for the right-of-way.

All that was necessary after the vote was for the clerk to sign the bill. An assistant clerk was ready to carry it across the Capitol to the Senate.

The roll call vote which southerners demanded on the jury amendment was forced on a motion by Rep. Richard H. Poff (R-Va.). He moved to send the bill back to the House Judiciary Committee with instructions to attach the disputed amendment.

Wants Senate Action
Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he is ready to make a "prolonged fight, if necessary" to give the Senate a chance to express its civil rights.

Knowland said the Senate should stay in session "as long as necessary" this summer so it can at least debate the measure.

Knowland said he sees no chance for Senate discussion of civil rights except by parliamentary steps to get the House bill on the Senate calendar.

INSTALLATION OF NEW OFFICERS was held last night at the Campbell-Lossing Post 52, American Legion. New officers are (front row) W. C. Hiers, first vice commander; Lynn Lyon, Commander; and Jesse C. ### Girl Staters Urged To Participate In Government

Nancy Richards and Shirley Morgan, two young ladies from Sanford, heard Gov. LeRoy Collins yesterday as he urged 262 "Girl Staters" to take an active part in government, which he called the "only organization in which all the people can work together to advance their welfare."

Miss Richards and Miss Morgan are representing Sanford at Girls State, currently being held in Tallahassee at Florida State University.

Collins and other Cabinet officials addressed the high school girls from throughout Florida, in Tallahassee for week-long instruction in all phases of government. The girls will elect officials of their make-believe state of Seminole Tuesday and hold mock legislative sessions Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"You must be as interested in making government clean, decent and honorable as in making your own lives clean, decent and honest," Collins said.

He urged them not to be afraid to take a position different from the masses. "There are always others waiting and hoping you will exercise the sound decision and they are waiting to follow you," he said. "You and others like you are the force and strength of our state."

Commission Discusses Disposal Of Yacht Club

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners at a special session last night called by Mayor David Gaihel handled a number of minor matters, changed the pay scale of heavy equipment operators, and discussed the disposition of the present Yacht Club building when the Sanford Civic Center is completed.

Commissioner Merle Warner stated "I was thinking that that eyesore would be torn down." However, Commissioner F. D. Scott came back with "Why tear it down—sell it."

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham contended that the building would "tear to pieces" before anyone could get it down.

Joe Nicholas and D. H. MacGill, members and officers of the Sanford Boat and Ski Club admitted that they had "estimated on the operation of the building" and stated that "we can take care of it unless some major item is involved."

Mayor David Gaihel maintained "I want to see that building gone just as soon as the new building is unlocked."

The request was tabled and became a part of the city's records pending an investigation by the Board of City Employees.

Adventists Oppose Florida Blue Laws

FOREST CITY — The Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists strongly objected to Florida's Blue Laws "because they provide for civic enforcement on religious grounds of an otherwise acceptable principle."

In a resolution approved unanimously at a meeting of Adventist clergy in connection with the church's annual camp meeting held here, the Conference officials voted "that the Seventh-day Adventist church endeavor to educate and inform the public that its members:

"Wholeheartedly support any proper measure that safeguards the principle of at least one day in seven free from work."

"Oppose the principle that civic government through its police power should enforce the demands of conscience."

"Would welcome the abolition of all Blue Laws, whether state, county, or municipal, and suggest that adequate legislation assuring one day in seven free from work should be substituted, and thus eliminate the objectionable feature of naming a specific day— which would be objectionable on principle of conscience to some regardless of the day named."

McKnight and D. E. Coleman. The records were reorganized and a Scouting Program was presented to the boys. Within two short months the Garden Club Hut was too small to accommodate the boys who began showing interest.

Seminole County's legislative delegation shared honors yesterday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club with the four captains of the teams in the Rotary League and with a Navy officer who acted as umpire in every game. Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Representative Mack Cleveland Jr. and Representative Gordon Frederick, in the ten minutes allotted each speaker, covered as many highlights of the recent session as was possible.

Ben Wiggins, chairman of the youth activities committee of the club, introduced Mike Davis of the Pirates; Terry Christiansen of the Cubs; Jimmy Gracey of the Giants and Earl Summerhall of the Tigers. Young Gracey told the Rotarians of the benefits the nearly 80 boys derived from the baseball program and expressed the hope that the club would carry on the project for many years to come.

Lt. Bob Metzger who served as umpire throughout the entire season, was presented with a wallet by Wiggins. Metzger complimented the club on its program and remarked that in all his experience with boys, he had found the local aggregation "tops" in every way.

In their talks about the recently concluded legislative session, Stenstrom mentioned the educational, taxation and citrus bills and stated "in my opinion, the State will feel, for many years the benefits to be derived from the passage of the bills on these three items."

Stenstrom, in a recent front-page editorial in the St. Petersburg TIMES, was complimented as being third in a press poll from all parts of the State. The editorial stated:—"Douglas Stenstrom, 35, serving his second session for Brevard and Seminole Counties, was regarded for his quiet ability among the outstanding freshmen senators in 1955 and in a similar unspectacular way earned the third highest number of nominating votes as most valuable this session. Both times he has generally consistent support to the administration programs and has usually stuck with the nucleus of minority senators who are left alone when things get somewhat too progressive on such basic questions as reapportionment and constitution revision."

Cleveland, serving as speaker-protem during the past session, noted that "the growth of our state made necessary the increase in finances to cope with the problems incident to such growth."

He stated "I personally resent the statements of our Comptroller Ray Green that we will be $40 million short in anticipated revenue to take care of the measures we have passed."

Frederick, serving his first term as a legislator, was complimented by his colleagues for his keen conception of the state's problems and his willingness to co-operate along constructive lines. He was in accord with Stenstrom and Cleveland in anticipating a special session sometime between September and December 1.

Charles Morrison served as program chairman for the day and introduced the speakers, each of whom received much applause, according to Dr. Charles L. Persons, who presided.
