"This Is My Affair" To Play At Ritz Sunday And Monday

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, teamed together in the picture "This Is My Affair," which plays Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theater.

The story of a supremely courageous and daring, endangering the nation's highest places and gambling life itself for a greater stake, "This Is My Affair" provides both Taylor and Miss Stanwyck with the most important story either of these great stars has ever had, and affords Victor McLaglen, who heads the strong supporting cast, the finest opportunity he has had since his powerful characterization in "The Informer."

"This Is My Affair" would be a triumph for either of the stars, for it places Robert Taylor in a picture which captures the mood of great romance and the urge of mighty drama, while Barbara Stanwyck matches his greatness with a fire and power given full scope for the first time.

Setting its scene at the turn of the century, "This Is My Affair" shows the nation's stability threatened by a series of sensational bank robberies in the Middle West. Lieutenant William McKinley turns in desperation to a young lieutenant, Robert Taylor, whose record under Admiral Dewey speaks for itself. The young officer, sworn to secrecy, is instructed to disguise himself in the Navy, to be discharged, and eventually locate the bank-robbing gang and their government informant.

In a midwestern criminal hang-out, Taylor makes the acquaintance of a safe-owner, Victor McLaglen, his right-hand

SLEUTHS!

Lucien Littlefield and Edward Everett Horton succeed in solving a kidnapping where the state police, a host of skilled newspapermen and the National Guard fall in "Wild Money," the new comedy by Paul Gallico playing Tuesday at the Ritz Theater. Lynne Gverman, Louise Campbell, Porter Hall and Wealey Harry are also in the big comedy cast.

"Wild Money" To Play At Ritz On Tuesday Night

Edward Horton Stars In Picture Based On Novel In Magazine

High humor, a fast moving story and a splendid cast of players combine to make "Wild Money," the film which shows at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday, one of the breeziest and most delightful comedies seen on the screen this season.

Based on the Saturday Evening Post story "Tightwad," by Paul Gallico, the comedy often reaches hilarious heights as it unfolds the history of a would-be newspaper reporter who goes berserk when he is given unlimited funds with which to scoop a story.

Edward Everett Horton is the reporter and he is assisted in his antics by sleepy voiced Lynne Gverman, Louise Campbell, a New York since beauty who makes her film debut in this picture, Porter Hall, Lucien Littlefield, Benny Baker, Ruth Coleman and many others.

In love with Miss Campbell, a co-sister on "The Blade," Horton is heartbroken when she refuses to accompany him on his vacation to a lake resort. Things begin to perk up, however, when a wealthy summer boarder is kidnapped at the lake. Being the only person on the spot, Horton saves the situation mainly by shikking, flinging of boats, tying up the telephone service and in other ways throwing around money which is not his. He gets the girl, however, and he gets the girl, which is more important to him, leaving Gverman, also in love with Miss Campbell, in the cold.

Horton, of course, is excellent. But to single him out for special honors would be rank injustice to the other players, all of whom turn in a first class comedy job. Credit is also due to Louis King for the fine job of directing he did.

IN THEIR GREATEST ROLES!

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, appear with Victor McLaglen in "This Is My Affair," the Twentieth Century-Fox production which gives these three great stars the finest opportunity they have ever had.

Star Uses Cornmeal

For a quick dry shampoo, Vera Ann Borg, charming red-headed player who stars in "Kid Galahad" at the Ritz Theater, Wednesday and Thursday, recommends cornmeal.

Miss Borg achieves a clean and glossy coiffure by this simple method. She shakes a generous handful of cornmeal into her hair, then brushes it out with quick strong strokes. The whole shampoo takes less than fifteen minutes, and doesn't interfere with the wave.

Duo Writes 3 Songs

Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, ace songwriting team at Twentieth Century-Fox, contributed three songs to "This Is My Affair."

Theater, Sunday and Monday with Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck and Victor McLaglen in the leading roles. The melodies are "Hum a Waltz," "P.H.U.D." and "Put Down Your Glass 'Til You + Girl and House."

"Talent Scout" Coming To Ritz On Double Bill

Film Of Movies Will Be On Screen Here For Friday Showing

If you're at all interested in the machinations of movie-making, "Talent Scout," a First National picture coming to the Ritz Theater today will give you more than a share of the inside information.

Done in an airy manner, the comedy, starring Donald Woods, and veterans of last year's Gold Digger's Air, Tour—Jeanne Madden, Fred Lawrence, and Rosalind Marquis, is the story of a young singer who makes good in Hollywood through the shrewd efforts of a fast-talking and faster thinking talent scout.

Woods plays the part of the scout who takes a group of chorus girls across the country in a bus, an idea originating from the airplane trip made by the "Gold Diggers of 1937." Woods is fired by his boss on account of his extravagance. Soon afterward he discovers Jeanne Madden singing in a small town amateur night contest.

He takes her to Hollywood, falls at first to put her over, but by a clever ruse, he has the president of the company from which he was fired, begging for her. It's a fantastic salary. Thereafter she rockets to success with singer Fred Lawrence whom she eventually marries after Woods plays the martyr by concealing his own love.

A smart and light script written by George Blison and William Jacobs, and directed by William Clements, the picture is especially interesting because of the manner in which it gives us the lowdown on Hollywood's inner workings.

Miss Madden, who is being considered by the Metropolitan Opera and Chico, two lovers who lift your heart to the stars.

As the little street wail, Diane Simone Simon surpasses all hopes.

Great Cast Appear In Film Coming To Ritz Wednesday

Bette Davis, Eddie Robinson And Humphrey Bogart Star In 'Kid Galahad,' Drama Of The Boxing Ring Based On Novel

Rosalind Marquis

With three famous stars heading its cast—Bette Davis, Edward G. Robinson and Humphrey Bogart—a drama of the prize-ring called "Kid Galahad" will show at the Ritz Theater Wednesday and Thursday.

Made from the best selling novel by Francis Wallace, ace sports fictionist, this Warner Bros. thriller deals not only with those elements of the boxing ring with which everyone is familiar, but with the behind-scenes maneuvering of fighters and managers.

Eddie Robinson (staunchly backed by his girl friend, "Fluff" played by Miss Davis) has one contender for the championship. Bogart has another. There's an 11-round fight for the championship (said to be the most fiery thrown upon the screen), a duel to the death between the two men after the fight, some vast scenes of Madison Square Garden—and yet, what a tender romance between Eddie's fighter and Eddie's sister.

Besides the three well-established stars, previously mentioned, comes a new star, revealed in the person of Wayne Morris, a 23-year old newcomer who plays "Kid Galahad"—big handsome blond boy who gets the name because he has reverent ideas about womanhood. And a new young leading lady in the person of Jane Bryan, with whom he falls in love.

Michael Curtiz, the director who made "The Charge of the Light Brigade," "Captain Blood" and other fast-moving photoplays, guided the making of this, from a screen play by Reton J. Miller, adapted from the Wallace novel. "Kid Galahad" has had splendid view notices.

expressed for this sensational French screen find, touching the deepest places of your heart and emerging gloriously as the screen's newest and greatest star.

'Seventh Heaven' Will Play Return Showing

The tenderest romance of our time lives again on the screen when "Seventh Heaven," the Twentieth Century-Fox production of Austin Strong's immortal love story, returns to the Ritz Theater Friday with Simone Simon and James Stewart in the starring roles on a double feature program with "Talent Scout."

Adapted from the stage play produced and directed by John Golden, "Seventh Heaven" recreates for screen audiences that star-crossed pair of Monmartre, Diane and Chico, two lovers who lift your heart to the stars.

As the little street wail, Diane Simone Simon surpasses all hopes.

Heaviest Battle Of Spain's War Raging In Madrid Section

Rebel Forces Launch Fierce Attacks To Hurl Government Soldiers Backward

Planes, Artillery Shower Opposition

Dueling Between Big Guns Echoes During Day In Capital City

MADRID, July 19.—(AP)—The heaviest battle of the Spanish civil war thus far raged west of here as insurgents launched a fierce drive to hurl government troops back to the capital.

Insurgent and government planes and artillery crashed bombs and shells into opposing lines near Brunete, the newly won government position 12 miles west of here.

In the air, an estimated 100 planes fought for supremacy with government forces gradually gaining a slight advantage.

Insurgent air forces renewed their smashing bombardment of government front lines and communication routes.

A duel between big guns, ranging in size from three to 10 inches, echoed all day in the capital.

LONDON, July 19.—Capture of another British merchant ship by the Spanish Nationalists and reports of widespread smuggling of war materials into Spain last night spurred efforts to find a solution for the shattered non-intervention project.

The Admiralty announced that insurgent warships, seized the inside territorial waters, and merchant steamer Candeston Castle, of the Spanish Biscay coast, were understood to be taking her to the rebel port of El Ferrol.

Altho it was the second capture of a British ship by the insurgents within five days, it was indicated that the Government would make no protest to the Nationalists, inasmuch as British ships have been warned that they enter Spanish waters at their own risk.

At Madrid between 5,000 and 7,000 Nationalists and Loyalists were believed to have been killed or wounded yesterday in the largest battle of the year-old Spanish Civil War on the central front for possession of Brunete, strategic town about 14 miles west of Madrid.

A spokesman of the Loyalist Government said the battle was the most deadly and most costly of the war.

Employees Urged To Register For Security Number

J. L. Hurt Points Out Advantages Which Accrue Under Act

Deputy Collector J. L. Hurt of the Bureau of Internal Revenue urged all employees who are not in sympathy with the Social Security Act, are misinformed, or do not understand the advantages which may be obtained from it, to register its provisions and to apply for registration numbers immediately.

Mr. Hurt stated that whether a worker is registered for benefits or not, 1 percent is deducted from his regular wages regardless. The deducted amount is matched with an equal sum by the employer who then presents his returns to the collector.

It is an employee's advantage to register under the new plan in order that his old age account may be increasing while he is earning taxable wages. The United States Government guarantees that 3-1/2 percent of every dollar earned since Jan. 1, 1937 will be paid back in the form of a pension after he has reached the age of 65, or in the event of death before that age, a lump sum, made from the amounts deducted from his wages will be paid to a beneficiary.

Three requirements which must have been met before payment of the pension is made are: the worker must have earned taxable wages for at least five days, each of which is in a different year, must have earned a total of $2,000 in taxable wages, and must have reached after reaching the age of 65.

If it is impossible for the employee to fulfill all three of the requirements, he is paid 3-1/2 percent of his total wages earned since the act was put into effect. Other private retirement plans may cost the beneficiary from 2-1/2 to 3 percent of his wages.

Tax returns are required from all who employ one or more persons whether for a day week, month, or year, or if his monthly wage total amounts to more than fifty cents.

Mr. Hurt warned that if any employers have not filed application for an identification number, or are delinquent in making their tax returns, they are taking chances that may cause embarrassment. Worker's applications definitely state the names of their employer, and if deductions are not made, the latter is responsible for the payment of both taxes and the monthly returns.

Mr. Hurt is in the Post Office every Wednesday to receive tax returns and give authorized information about the Federal tax or the filing of the returns. He stated that the above provisions of the new act are covered by law and that the same penalties for income tax may be evoked for Social Security.

Threat Issued By Japs Which Presages War

Vital Ultimatum Issued Threatening Independent Action Unless Firing Stops

Threat Follows Fighting Renewal

Conflict Renewed After Report Sunday Of Unofficial Truce

TOKYO, July 19.—(AP)—Domei (Japanese) News Agency dispatch from Tientsin tonight said the Japanese army command there had served a virtual ultimatum on the Chinese military, declaring it would "take independent action" unless all Chinese firing against the Japanese ceased immediately.

The threat followed a renewal of fighting in the zone west of Peiping where Japanese and Chinese troops have been in intermittent conflict since July 7.

Japanese reports said the fighting started again today after unconfirmed reports of an unofficial truce yesterday.

Foreign observers had expressed the opinion Chinese resistance to Japanese demands in the North China trouble was broken after learning from Tientsin that Japanese officials and General Sung Chek-Yuan, chairman of the Hloeh-Chuan political council and commander of the 29th army had reached an agreement.

The Chinese general was reported to have agreed to withdraw Chinese troops in the area west of Peiping, apologize for the Wanninghsien incident of July 7 in which troops of the 29th army clashed with Japanese, punishment of those responsible for the incident and suppression of anti-Japanese movements and communications.

Only a few reconnaissance officers, not from the 29th or central government armies, were found in Changhsien and there was no indication that new central government troops would arrive.

Chinese reports said three troop trains in Honan and Hopei Provinces were attacked by Japanese planes, machine gunners killing two Chinese and wounding 20 others.

DO IT TODAY

If you have a task that ought to be done today, don't see the way, get on with the work, don't grumble or shirk, do it today.

The word of good cheer, optimistic and clear, you think you would say, give a greeting worth while, a hand-shake and smile, do it today!

It is the lower order boys on playing slot machines that are the trouble, not the slot machines themselves.

Dressing For Health

The public health service in Washington is advising that men discard heavy and ties during the hot summer months and thereby help reduce the possibilities of heat prostration and materially increase their comfort. It has been pointed out that women have adopted summer clothes that are both cool to look at and cool to wear and as a result the oppressive temperatures do not hang down so heavily on the fairer sex.

A medical director of a life insurance company has warned against tight-fitting garments. He says: "If you are going on a vacation or staying at home through the hot months, you should not wear clothes that fit snugly around the waist or neck, especially when exercising. Loose-fitting clothing, that permits complete freedom of circulation, is by far the best, as well as being much more comfortable."

Other suggestions are made by the medical director in regard to one's movements as they relate to health. A sweater for use after vigorous exercise is urged for those going away on vacations and it is suggested that comfortable shoes and hose are extremely important. The continuous wearing of sneakers is advised against because the arches get little support and the whole foot has a tendency to spread. Sweaters are said to have two bathing suits in order to avoid having to wear a cold, clammy suit with the resultant possibilities of becoming chilled.

Thus it may be seen that the clothes a person wears has a great deal to do not only with his health but his happiness. It would be a source of great comfort if men's styles should include the elimination of collars and ties for hot weather, but men are not as style-conscious as women and it is doubtful that any such fad will become very popular.

Other Towns Seek Trailer Camps

Sanford is not the only town in Florida that is casting covetous eyes on the throngs of winter visitors who will be coming south in trailers and who will leave plenty of good money in the cities which have enough foresight and civic spirit to build suitable places for these trailers to park.

The Pensacola Journal points out that "thousands of next winter's visitors to Florida are going to come in trailers and cities which set up trailer camps with electric light and water connections and other conveniences are going to be favored spots both coming and going.

The city that puts up the best trailer camps to accommodate travelers going down the state is going to get the most advertising in South Florida trailer camps and, consequently, the most patronage from other trailerites on the return trip.

The trailer, while still in its infancy, is becoming more popular with travelers every day. All humans have a little gypsy in them and the trailer is the ideal answer to their impulse to migrate. It is going to be a great factor in the development of cities and towns in Florida.

The trailer is being considered as a problem in some towns. In others it is being made an asset. Some towns are providing for them and allowing their merchants to reap the harvest of added sales of groceries and supplies. Other towns are forcing the trailers outside the city limits where they build up other non-municipal-tax-paying communities.

If Pensacola is trailer-wise, the city will make some provision for accommodating them where they will help to pay governmental expense either through direct payment for city services or through indirect payment through expenditures with merchants. There are plenty of spots inside the city limits which are ideal for municipal trailer camps. Stringing in water and power lines would cost little. Construction of comfort stations would not be expensive. It would be a good investment.

"The time is growing short until these nomads will again be turning southward. Whatever plans are going to be made to handle them should be started at once."

Cone Raps 'Bossy' Government Ways In Making Grants

TALLAHASSEE, July 19.—(AP)—Governor Cone told the cabinet yesterday he wished the federal government would stop "giving us grants of money with strings attached."

"They've got their foot on our neck right now," he told the board, which was considering appointment of an architect to draft plans for the Spanish American war memorial on Davis Island at Tampa.

"If they do that building with WPA labor we'll get about $300,000 worth of building for $300,000."

The state is required to submit plans for the work and pay the architect's expense. At Governor Cone's suggestion the cabinet delayed action on the request of George B. Howell, Tampa, that the expense be authorized.

"I've got you with the government with your hand on the tiller and they don't know it," he said.

Pole Party Is Glad To See Winter Come

SOVIET NORTH POLE CAMP. (By Wireless to Moscow), July 19.—(AP)—The first signs of arctic winter showed the Soviet North Pole expedition yesterday, easing the fear that the ice upon which it was camped would break. Temperature dropped below freezing, 20 degrees Fahrenheit, and snow fell.

The four men in the camp had been anxiously busy moving supplies of food and fuel to stronger portions of the ice.

The camp had drifted about 120 miles since the North Pole party was first sighted on July 17, and the men were glad to see the

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN
By GEORGE TUCKER

ABOARD THE AMERICAN MERCURY, July 19.—You write this at dusk about 12,000 feet high on a giant sky-scraper somewhere between New York and Texas. . . . There are two doctors aboard. . . . also a naval officer and his wife. . . . A hospital agent, a famous sound technician, a lady who lives in Dallas, and a columnist.

Dr. Williams of New York and Dr. Fishwick of Nashville have persuaded the stewardess to give them a fly swatter and they are indulging in a little sweepstakes of their own. . . . It works like this. . . . in a given number of attempts, the one killing the largest number of flies gets to share in the other's fried chicken at dinner.

"Say, Doc," says Dr. Williams, "I ought to have a handicap. You're a health commissioner and have a professional interest in killing flies."

The film technician is Douglas Shearer, brother of Norma Shearer, and as this is being written he is shaving himself with an electric razor which Miss Kramer, the hostess, has thoughtfully provided. . . . There is something uneasy in the way this slim, pretty girl anticipates your wants. . . . For instance, she saw Shearer pass a reflective hand over his chin, and she got up and presented him with the razor. . . . Incidentally Mr. Shearer doesn't wear a belt or suspenders. . . . I don't know what holds his pants up.

Lieutenant Core, of the navy, is enroute to San Diego, and this is his wife's first flight. . . . She is radiant as a bride, and maybe she is a bride. . . . she was wearing orchids when she came aboard ship, but Miss Kramer is keeping them for her now in the locker. . . . A funny moody "Me, we've been married two years. . . . This is what the lieutenant says. . . . "But I feel like a bride," admits Mrs. Core, shyly. "I'm what you call a navy widow. . . . A navy wife is always a widow, just as is a newspaperman's wife. I see my husband less than two months in the year."

Mr. Paul Small, whose name is something of a misnomer, is greatly scoring in the space where berth No. 5 will presently be. . . . Mr. Small guesses a neat 150 pounds, and he practically lives on planes and trains. . . . He represents the William Morris agency and his business is appraising theatrical acts which his firm places in theaters and fairs throughout the world.

As for Miss Kramer, I would write something nice about her but she is standing at my elbow and I am afraid she would peep over my shoulder. . . . Halcyon in her hand is a large tray of richly brown fried chicken. . . . She says: "How can I serve you with that typewriter taking all the room?"

"Didn't I tell you she had a genius for anticipating people's wants?"

The hat-checking business continues to be one of Manhattan's mainstays. . . . I know three places on Broadway where a pudgy, oily little man pays $1,000 a month for the concession.

Many Prisoners Are Freed Under 'Gain Time Law'

TALLAHASSEE, July 19.—(AP)—The "gain time" law enacted by the 1937 legislature already has resulted in release of 376 convicts from the state prison and the state road department camps.

The law was made applicable to all persons in the prison system, and as a result 376 were released in groups as rapidly as records could be checked.

Now the state prison bureau is up with its work, and in the future there will be releases nearly every day as some prisoner completes his sentence. Records are checked a month ahead at all times, so that nobody is overlooked.

Gain time is awarded to all convicts who have good prison records. The law clips two months off a sentence of one year, and the scale then graduates up to 8 years and 320 days for a man sentenced to 20 years, making the net time in such a sentence 11 years, one month and 15 days.

Convicts who attempt escapes or otherwise break prison rules lose their gain time.

The law provides that gain-time may be applied in instances of life sentences if the state pardon board commutes the life sentence to a fixed term of years after the prisoner has served 10 years. Prison officials said the average time served on a life term in Florida is seven years because of pardons or paroles granted by the state pardon board. The gain time law does NOT take away any of the pardon board's powers.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, July 19.—In the wild fastnesses of the Senate Indian affairs committee room, the battle of Palm Springs is being fought. Palm Springs is a swank movie star party, 150 million inland from Los Angeles.

All the awash, however, is on one side of the street. Across the street are the humble huts of Mission Indians who once roamed through all of the nearby territory. They thought they owned it. That was just a silly Indian idea, of course, which early settlers soon quashed.

Through it all, however, the Indians managed to keep possession of the Palm Springs area, whose principal asset was the hot water spring and the adjacent, vibrant canyon. But it was a grand place for a resort. A few years ago, certain white men took over part of the good land.

Whether this change of control came about with strict justice to the Indians is in dispute. It happened something like this:

Twenty years ago the Indian bureau decided to break up the reservation among the Indians. A few of the several score Indians in the band chose their land. Almost at once they surrendered control of it to the whites who built the resort town. The property at present is estimated to be worth a million and a half.

Now the majority of the Indians, who made no selection, were considered and that revenue from the land used by the resort should go to the band, or division equally among the members. One estimate was that this would give each Indian about $100 a month.

An attorney for certain of the Indians who did make land selections, says that they made

Fine Hereford Bulls Brought To Florida To Head Beef Herds

GAINESVILLE, Fla., July 19.—Some excellent Polled Hereford bulls have been brought to Alachua and Levy counties recently for breeding to better heifers and cows in a beef cattle improvement program which is under way in these counties, says W. J. Shady, livestock specialist with the State Agricultural Extension Service.

V. E. Whitehurst of Williston recently purchased a two-year-old bull out of the Clemson College herd, and A. L. Jackson of Gainesville obtained a one-year-old bull from a herd in Aiken, South Carolina. Mr. Shady says these are two of the best beef bulls ever to come to Florida. The Jackson bull is a double descendant of old Bonnie J., one-time international grand champion.

Negotiations for the purchase of the Whitehurst bull were begun at the Florida Fat Stock Show and Sale in Jacksonville last March, where the cattle were judged by Prof. L. V. Starkey of Clemson College. Both Whitehurst and Jackson exhibited at the show. Tom Matthews and Jesse Shaw of Alachua have recently brought in some good polled Herefords from Texas. Mr. Shady says these bulls came from the best herds of Polled Herefords in the country.

The Service that adds Comfort to Your Home

Doing these hot summer days, the last you need with a telephone to add is getting rid of your problems by the difference between a day that wastes your money into a fiasco, and a day that includes the time you need for relaxation.

There are no petty details in running a household. An even list of items from the grocery is a pile of clutter that is an eyesore in your home—and so on. And with a telephone to run your errands, many problems of the day are easily solved.

Of course, most errands are handled with the help of delivery services. But if you are trying to get along without a telephone you may be surprised, and pleased, to learn how little it costs to have a telephone in your home.

All you need is a few dollars to get a telephone, or you can lease with the telephone company. Call your telephone company, and add comfort and convenience to your home.

"Wild Money" Is Wild Comedy Here Tuesday

A racy comedy about a man who wanted to be a reporter and who spent oodles of other people's money to realize his ambition brings Edward Everett Horton and a fine list of comedians to the Hix Theatre Tuesday in the uproarious "Wild Money."

Based on the Saturday Evening Post story "Tightwad" by Paul Gallico, "Wild Money" includes Lynne Overman, Lucien Littlefield, Benny Baker and Purfer Hall among its list of funmakers while feminine pulchritude and romance is supplied by Louise Campbell, a newcomer from the New York stage, and lovey, Ruth Coleman.

The story is concerned mainly with the fortunes of Horton, "bull dog of the treasury" for a newspaper, who is in love with Miss Campbell. It is Overman, the paper's star reporter, Miss Campbell is inclined to favor Overman, and Horton takes a broken heart away with him on a vacation to a lake resort.

Then there's a kidnapping at the resort and Horton finds himself in command of the situation as far as the newspapers are concerned. The way in which he "sees up" his "scoop," finds the kidnapped man and wins Miss Campbell, all in one fell swoop, makes of "Wild Money" one of the funniest pictures to reach the screen this season. It is a thoroughly enjoyable picture in every way and well worth anybody's money to see.

Ruth Steinmeyer Is Married To Tampa

Of interest to a number of friends in this city is the account of the marriage of Miss Ruth Steinmeyer, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Steinmeyer of Madison, to Charles J. Chason of Tampa. Miss Steinmeyer is the sister of Mrs. F. E. Adams of this city and the Rev. Steinmeyer was a former pastor of the First Methodist Church here. The following account was taken from the Florida Times Union:

Miss Ruth Steinmeyer, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Steinmeyer of Madison, became the bride of Charles J. Chason of Tampa in one of the season's loveliest weddings which was solemnized at 8:00 o'clock Saturday evening, July 18, in the First Methodist Church of Madison.

The bride's father, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Decorations in the church were confined to the chancel and were very attractive. A background of ferns and bushes and graceful hostess ferns emphasized the beauty of tall baskets of colorful summer dahlia. Maiden hair ferns outlined the chancel rail and pews for the families were marked with bows of white tulle.

Professor Walter Whitlock, choir director, played a program of organ music as the guests were assembling, and used the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as the processional march. Mrs. R. C. Horne sang "O Promise Me" (DeKoven) and "Because" (d'Harcourt), prior to the entrance of the bride party. Mr. Whitlock played "Lohengrin" (Liszt) during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. H. G. Clayton of Tampa, who acted as mistress of honors. She was becomingly gowned in a model of navy chiffon with black accessories and she wore a corsage of pink and white rose buds.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, the Rev. Mr. Steinmeyer and was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, F. E. Steinmeyer, Jr., brother of the bride, who entered from the vestry.

She was handsomely attired in a tuxedo model of navy sheer, with navy accessories. A corsage of Tallman rosebuds and lilies of the valley completed her becoming costume.

Mrs. F. E. Steinmeyer, mother of the bride, wore a gown of peach linen lace and corsage of Adeline rosebuds.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Chason left on a tour of South Florida, and will be at home at 1709 Jeton Avenue, Tampa.

Mrs. Chason was graduated with a degree from Florida Southern College, later studying at the Curry School of Expression, Boston, Mass., being graduated from there also. For the past four years she has been teaching dramatic arts at Winter Haven.

Mr. Chason is connected with the United States Government with headquarters in Tampa.

One of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson and family of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Steinmeyer, Jr., and son of Tallahassee, Mrs. H. G. Clayton and daughter, Miss Clayton and Mrs. Robinson of Tampa and Miss Lillian Albritton of Jacksonville.

National Park Visitors May Enjoy Trailers Under Rental Plan

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., July 19.—Visitors to national parks will be able to make a trailer trip through the parks this summer. Under a new rental plan, trailers will be available at Yellowstone, Grand Tetons and Glacier National Parks.

Tourists will be able to drive in their own cars to the parks, stop at terminals, have trailer couplings installed on their cars and rent trailers to live in while following park trails, according to Dudley Hayden, of Western Trailways Service, organized to handle the trailer rental plan. All that will be necessary for them to do will be to buy groceries. Trailers will be equipped with linen, towels, bedding, dishes, table silver and utensils, Hayden said.

Terminals of the company are located at or near the entrances to the national parks at Billings, Mont.; Cody, Wyo.; Jackson Hole, Wyo.; West Yellowstone, Mont.; St. Mary's, Mont.; and Belton, Mont. The terminals will serve not only as service points, for rental trailers, but will also be equipped as trailer parks for tourists traveling in their own trailers. Independent power plants for electric lighting and fans have been installed in the trailers and radiators are available, if desired. On completion of trailer will be unhooked at any terminal and left there.

Western Trailways Service has ordered 50 Covered Wagon trailers for the national parks, of which the first 20 units have been delivered.

U. S. Will Sell Gold To Brazil Under Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—The United States and Brazil reached an agreement yesterday involving the sale of gold to the South American republic up to a total of $50,000,000.

The agreement was announced in a joint statement issued by Secretary Morgenthau and Arthur de Souza Costa, Brazilian minister of finance.

The announced terms:

1.—The United States undertakes to sell gold to Brazil at such times and in such amounts as the Brazilian government may request, up to a total of $50,000,000.

2.—The United States will make dollar exchange available to the government of Brazil or its fiscal agent, under conditions which safeguard the interests of both countries, for the purpose of promoting exchange equilibrium.

The statement said the agreement is designed to promote conditions favorable to the maintenance of monetary equilibrium between the two countries and to facilitate the establishment of a central bank as a part of the program of the Brazilian government for improving the financial structure of the nation to meet the needs of its expanding economy.

The gold will come from the United States hoard which now amounts to $12,414,554,000, some of which is buried at Fort Knox, Ky.

Another arrangement by which China is to effect will exchange silver for American gold was negotiated recently between Secretary Morgenthau and the Chinese finance minister.

Cosmic Rays Are Studied On Top Snowy Mountain

By ROBERT GEIGER
AP Feature Service Writer

MOUNT EVANS, Colo., July 19.—In the highest little red school house in the world, a land of scientists is studying the mysterious cosmic ray and its effect on life.

They have to be mountain climbers to get there for it is set on Colorado's highest peaks. It is 14,250 feet high. Snow blacks the road except for two or three months in summer to the top, which is 50 miles west of Denver.

The high altitude is one reason the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Denver University established the laboratory. They want to discover how altitude affects cosmic rays.

"Little is known about the rays yet, although experiments they have produced with 'Black Magic' is turning from white to pink the eyes of a fruit fly, changing the shape and size of the fly's wings and cutting its lifetime 70 percent."

Dr. Joyce C. Stearns, Denver university physicist and most ardent of the cosmic ray "detectives," "we have found no energy value in the cosmic ray after diligent study."

"But the experiments indicate that biologically its rays is about 10,000 times as powerful as the X-ray."

"Whether it can be used beneficially remains to be seen. Nor can we say whether it is harmful to humans although we have found no evidence that it is."

The studies have been confined to fruit flies, which propagate rapidly, and rats which produce only three generations in a summer.

No permanent change has been produced yet in the rats but they are more difficult to work with because of their lower birth rate.

Although cosmic rays are more numerous in the stratosphere than at high altitudes, and more numerous at high altitudes than at sea level, scientists only guess at their source.

That secret along with the direction and velocity of the rays is being sought in the mountain top laboratory.

Complicated machinery counts the frequency of the rays, pictures them as they strike photographic plates and determines the angle at which they strike.

"I've got one," said Sergeant Tucker handing him a key. "Try this."

Linden tried it and it worked.

"Say, that's swell," he said admiringly. "Where'd you get the key?"

Marconi Dies Suddenly At Home In Rome

Inventor Of Wireless Telegraphy When 21 Is Victim Of Death From Heart Disease

Dies On Birthday Of His Daughter

Pope Sends Blessings And Mussolini Goes To Wizard's Home

ROME, July 20.—(AP)—Marquis Guglielmo Marconi, who invented wireless telegraphy when he was only 21 years old, died today in his ancient palace in downtown Rome where he lived and worked.

The 63-year-old conqueror of ether died quietly of heart paralysis. His widow and daughter survive him. Today was his daughter's eighth birthday.

Both Pope Pius and Premier Mussolini, close friends of inventor, were notified of his death immediately. The Pope sent a special blessing and Mussolini went to his home and kissed the dead Marconi.

The inventor had not been feeling well but had continued work on television and radio developments on which he had been engaged for some time. Death was unexpected. A state funeral will be held.

Marconi was only 21 when in the spring of 1895 he first tapped out the letter "S" in Morse Code on a wireless transmitter in the laboratory, in his father's barn.

Italy was skeptical of the invention and paid Marconi little attention. His Irish born mother told him to "forget where he obtained a patent on his invention."

Honors were heaped on the inventor in later years, especially after Mussolini came into power in Italy.

Rebels, Loyalists Japanese Armies Fighting In Death Struggle In Spain Deadline Passes

Outcome Of Battle Is Believed Turning Point Of Civil War

By The Associated Press
An estimated 200,000 men, about equally divided between insurgent and government armies, were locked in the sixth day of battle for Madrid.

Government planes dumped heavy cargoes of explosives on Navagamella to shatter the lines of supply for thousands of men, reinforcements called to the front by insurgent General Franco.

Both sides fought furiously, both believing the outcome of the battle may be the outcome of the civil war. Repeated air battles are said to rival those of World War days.

General Franco hurled his greatest strength against the salient in the government lines at Brunate, 12 miles west of the capital. The insurgent drive evidently was designed to wipe out the government's recent gains, which, in two weeks' offensive, had been driven far enough to constitute a grave peril to the insurgent forces besieging Madrid.

The battle raged over a 30-mile front. Hundreds of airplanes were aloft. The roar of artillery, hundreds of guns of from three to 10 inches could be heard plainly in Madrid.

Over the 100-square-mile Brunate salient captured by the government 10 days ago hung a heavy curtain of smoke broken by flashes of cannon and bursting air bombs.

Already the conflict was called "the battle for Madrid." Realizing the great danger to their Madrid front unless the government's wedge is wiped out, the insurgents had drawn men from their Bay of Biscay front as far away as Coruna in the northwest.

Government officers estimated the insurgents had not less than 150,000 men concentrated in the Madrid-Sierra front. They said at least 42,000 men had been sent to Sevilla La Nueva, Corbeon, Navagamella and Boadilla del Monte, towns behind the insurgent lines facing Madrid.

Lynching Occurs Early In Morning

Jailer Is Forced To Release Prisoners Others Are Warned

TALLAHASSEE, July 20.—(AP)—Two young negroes accused of stabbing a Tallahassee policeman Sunday, were taken from the county jail here early this morning and riddled with shots by a small band of masked men.

Persons living near the scene of the lynching, about three miles from the state capital and within sight of the heavily traveled Tallahassee to Jacksonville highway, said shots were fired about four o'clock this morning.

Police said masked men entered the headquarters and freed Officer Harry Fairbanks to accompany them to the county jail and deliver the prisoners to them.

Police said Fairbanks then was bound and left in jail where he remained until morning.

Authorities yesterday formally charged the two negroes, listed as Richard Gaskins and Ernest Fender, with stabbing Officer V. F. Kelly of Tallahassee Sunday when he attempted to arrest them on suspicion of entering a restaurant to rob it.

Kelly is in a serious condition in a hospital here, police said the negroes confessed they stabbed Kelly but each accused the other of the actual stabbing.

Fellow officers quoted Fairbanks as saying the men in the band wore masks and he did not recognize any of them. Five placards of warning were found with the bodies. The placards read "his last crime." "This is your warning." "Negroes remember you may be next." "Warning this is what will happen to all negroes that harm white people."
