Humane Society ground breaking

SANFORD — Ground breaking and a ribbon cutting ceremony for the new Seminole County Humane Society facility will be held this afternoon from 1 until 3 p.m. at the Humane Society facility, at the corner of U.S. Highway 17-92 and County Home Road.

Clowns, refreshments, pet supplies, gift certificates to area restaurants, and a raffle for Orlando Magic tickets will be among the features.

The public is cordially invited to attend this function, which is the result of an extensive fund raising drive underway since the disastrous fire which destroyed much of the building in April of 1993. At that time, over 100 dogs and cats perished.

For additional information, phone the Humane Society at 323-86985.

Back in jail

Tiffany Sanzo, 18, on probation for the murder of her father, is back in jail, police officials said.

Sanzo, her boyfriend, and two other friends were sentenced for the 1991 shooting death of Wayne Sanzo, then national president of the Warlocks Motorcycle Club.

Orange County deputies arrested Sanzo early Thursday morning on a violation of probation warrant issued in Seminole County.

Sanzo was back before Judge Alan Dickey in September, when authorities claim she violated her probation for appearing with her mother on a national television talk show. Sanzo at her sentencing was forbidden by the judge to have contact with her mother.

Juvenile justice council meets

SANFORD — There will be a meeting of the Seminole County Juvenile Justice Council Nov. 18 at 8:30 a.m. in the large conference room at Reflections Center, 532 W. Lake Mary Boulevard, Sanford. The 1995 needs assessment for the children of Seminole County will be discussed.

PolitiBits

Sanford City Commission candidate Kerry D. Lyons received the endorsement of the Sanford Fraternal Order of Police at the monthly meeting this past week.

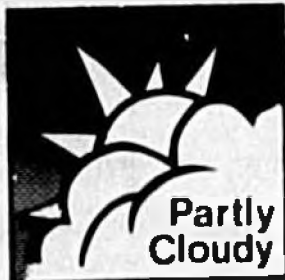

"This endorsement is a clear message that the Sanford police officers are ready for a new direction in aiding their commitment to keeping the citizens of Sanford safe," Lyons said. "I worked hard for this endorsement and it is an honor, the issue of helping our officers battle crime should not be taken lightly."

Disease breakthrough?

Test may be early cue to Alzheimer's sufferers

By SANDRA ELLIOTT
Herald Staff Writer

Chemical drops that dilate the pupils in routine eye exams may be used in the future to diagnose Alzheimer's disease, a lethal disorder that destroys the mind but is difficult to identify in a living patient. However, more years of research are necessary to see if the test can show who will develop the disease.

In a study published Friday in the journal

"Science," researchers at Brigham and Women's Hospital and the Harvard Medical School in Boston report that an eye drop drug called tropicamide causes the pupils in the eyes of Alzheimer's disease patients to dilate about four times more readily than in the eyes of people without the brain disease.

Huntington Potter of Harvard said Alzheimer's patients are so sensitive to tropicamide that their pupils will change by about 23.4 percent, while patients without the disease show only a 5 percent change.

Although medical science now has little to offer Alzheimer's patients, Potter said eventually there will be drugs to stop the progression of the disease and an early diagnosis will be critically important.

He said an early diagnosis also enables patients to plan, while they are still able, for the inevitable loss of mental ability.

Jailed vocal critic has a colorful past

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — The arrest of Grant McEwan Thursday night on federal charges represents the latest appearance of one of Seminole County's most vocal critics.

McEwan, of Heathrow, is being held in the Seminole County jail on federal charges. McEwan's arrest followed his filing of a $1.1 million lien against the Internal Revenue Service, seeking compensation for book-keeping services and a collection fee for withholding federal taxes from his employees' wages.

McEwan said he would seize the contents of the IRS office in Longwood if they didn't pay up. McEwan said he hadn't paid taxes in nearly a decade and does not recognize the authority of the IRS to collect money from citizens.

Following a visit to the Sanford Herald Tuesday, McEwan commented "I'd rather be in jail and be free than walk free and be a prisoner." Two days later, he was arrested on the streets of Winter Park on federal charges.

The arrest came as no surprise to county government watchers, familiar with McEwan's confrontational approach. Some suggest he's dangerous.

McEwan, 57, first emerged on the Seminole County scene in 1985. It was then that he teamed up with fellow critic Art Davis in an effort to expose wrongdoings in the county's 1985 after-midnight purchase of the Yankee Lake property.

Davis was the only citizen in the audience on that Nov. 5 morning when commissioners voted 4-1 in purchase of the land from frozen food king Jeno Paulucci for a sewage treatment facility. The

No more condos for historic home buffs

By SHARI BRODIE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — After 12 years in their home on the corner of Ninth Street and Palmetto Avenue, John and Juanny Mercer thought they would try condo living. They spent six months in their Sanford condo in Sanora and six months in their condo in Highlands, N.C. But, according to Juanny, Mercer can't stand cold weather, so he started to "whittle" down the amount of time he would spend out of the state.

"He got it down to two months," said Juanny, "so with that I said if you're going to do that, then I want a house. So, I got in the car the very next morning after we had this conversation, and I drove down to my old neighborhood," but there wasn't anything available. She eventually ended up on Oak Avenue, where the house at 708 had just gone on the market.

"I love old houses, I love the Historic District, I wouldn't live anywhere else if I could help it, because I'm just happy down here," Juanny said. The Mercers had always been interested in the house so, in December of 1993 they bought it and moved in.

With the holidays, family and vacation, extensive work on the house did not begin until the new year.

Since they built their first home, in Bartow, in 1949, the Mercers have remodeled or renovated 10 homes together, including their home at 708 Oak Ave. Although he does not know much about the history of the home, Mercer does know it was built in the 1920s. The style of the two-story home with a glassed-in sun porch reflects the Greek revival era of the late 1800s.

Jailed teen's suicide watch lifted

By SHARI BRODIE
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — A suicide watch has been lifted from a Lake Mary man jailed on charges he abused his girlfriend's son, who later died, the suspect's father said Saturday.

Kirby Swinehart visited his son at the Volusia County jail Saturday. He said that, although still in semi-isolation, away from the general population of the jail, Jamie Swinehart had been taken off of the suicide watch he had been under since being booked into the jail a week ago.

While Swinehart can now have visitors and make telephone calls, his father said, "He still feels like he wants to die. He keeps saying, 'Dad, I didn't do nothing.'"

Swinehart, 18, is being held on a half million dollar bond on one count of felony child abuse after the 7-month-old son of his girlfriend died

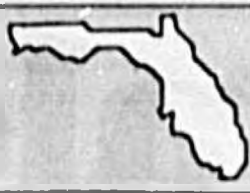

Monday at Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children and Women.

The infant, Jose Anthony Trinidad, was not responsive and had bruises on his face and head at 4:30 a.m. last Sunday morning when deputies found him on the kitchen floor of Jamie Swinehart's sister's house on Azaela Drive in DeBary where the three were house-sitting.

EVAC personnel took Trinidad to Volusia

Tropical storm to dump rains on Cuba

MIAMI — Tropical storm Gordon drenched Jamaica but lost steam in the Caribbean Saturday as officials at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay prepared camps holding thousands of Haitian and Cuban refugees.

A tropical storm warning was issued by the Jamaican and Cuban governments early in the day but the storm's winds dropped to 40 mph Saturday afternoon and it was weakened by upper-level winds.

The slow moving storm is a "rainmaker" that could dump 5 to 10 inches on the Caribbean Islands, said Lixion Avila, a hurricane specialist at the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables.

"The weather is already affecting eastern Cuba, and they'll get a lot of rain and showers, but remember that it's a tropical storm, not a hurricane," Avila said. "Guantanamo is already getting the first showers and the weather will deteriorate throughout the day."

The storm's center was passing Saturday between the Cayman Islands and Jamaica.

IN BRIEF

SHDWA poinsettias

SANFORD — The Sanford Historic Downtown Waterfront Association (SHDWA) will be ordering poinsettias for the holiday season. The cost to merchants $4.20, which includes $1 which will be donated to the SHDWA July 4th fireworks drive for 1995.

Merchants are asked to order their poinsettias by no later than November 21.

Poster contest

SANFORD — Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger and State Attorney Norm Wolfinger have joined together to sponsor the Seminole County Drug-Free Poster Contest. The contest is open to all fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade students in the county.

Students are invited to design posters illustrating the dangers of drug abuse and the benefits of living a drug-free life. Winning posters will be used in a 1995 drug-free calendar. All students in grades fifth through eighth will receive one of the calendars. Winners will also receive U.S. Savings Bonds.

Judging will be done on November 21 at the State Attorney's office, with awards to be presented on Jan. 7.

Human Rights people wanted

SANFORD — The Human Rights Advocacy Committee (HRAC), for HRS District 7, (Seminole, Orange, Osceola and Brevard Counties) has issued a call for seven new members.

This 15-member board of community volunteers, who serve four-year terms, is appointed by the Governor. Its goal is to represent and protect the interests of local citizens served by HRS.

The current HRAC membership need is for residents particularly of Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties. There is a special need for medical and legal experts, particularly doctors and lawyers. The committee meets once each month.

For additional information on membership requirements, committee responsibilities and the appointment process, phone Ann Wilson, Client Relations Coordinator, HRS Dist. 7, at (407) 423-6217.

Mayor's Souper Supper

Buy a $5 ticket to the Mayor's Souper Supper, bring a friend, and enjoy a hearty bowl of soup, fresh baked bread, fruit and a soft drink.

Children under 12 admitted free. Souper Supper proceeds are divided equally between the Sanford Christian Sharing Center, Inc., and Rescue Outreach Mission. Both organizations feed hundreds of less fortunate people during the holidays.

Mark your calendar for Wednesday, Nov. 23, at the Sanford Civic Center from 5 to 7 p.m. Tickets available at the door.

At 7:30 p.m., plan to attend the community Thanksgiving service in the main auditorium of the civic center.

Winners invited

Lake Mary winners in the Golden Age Games are invited to display their trophies and ribbons and small award-winning articles at Lake Mary City Hall. Items should be brought to the Historical Library, Frank Evans Center, 158 N. Country Club Road, or to City Hall, 100 N. Country Club Road.

Displays will be placed in a locked glass cabinet in the foyer of City Hall until the holidays.

Somber gathering honors veterans

By NICK PFEIPAUP
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — At the 11th hour of the 11th day in the 11th veterans from the Sanford area paused to remember.

Sanford observed Veterans Day, 1994 this past Friday morning.

With only a few exceptions however, the veterans and their spouses were almost the only persons who paused to remember the service men and women who served their nation.

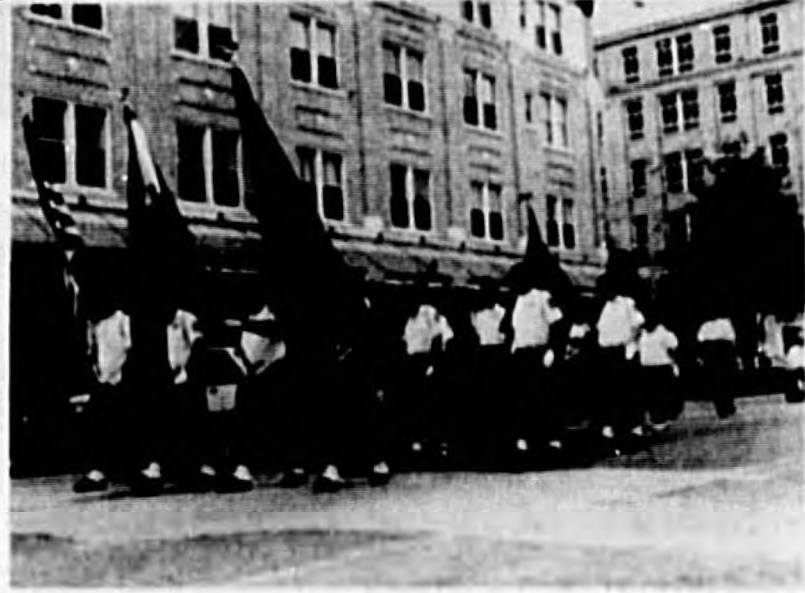

The observance began with a parade that began at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Building, wound its way west on First Street, then north on Park Avenue to Memorial Park at the Lake Monroe lakefront.

Only a small number of people were along First Street to watch the veterans pass. Even the number of participants was slightly lower than last year, although every one of the local veterans organizations were well represented.

Just as the parade approached the lakefront, a light rain began to trickle from the skies over Sanford. A.A. McClanahan, a retired Lt. Cmdr. of the U.S. Navy, who served as emcee for the event, started the ceremonies a few minutes earlier than scheduled in the hope of avoiding any problems should the rain increase.

Guest speaker for the program was Charles Templin, CDR, (Ret.) U.S. Navy, who called on those present, as well as millions of others, to continue remembering all who served their country, on land, at sea, in the Many area veterans' organizations were represented in the parade through downtown Sanford Friday.

The Way We Were: Downtown people

By GRACE M. STINECIPHER
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Today I'm going to reminisce about some of the people mentioned in the previous four articles about the downtown buildings.

Among the first second floor tenants of the Brumley-Pullston building was Dr. J.H. McCaslin. I remember him as my first dentist in the early 1940's, though he then had his office in the Masonic Building. On July 23, 1943, Dr. J.A. Smith opened his office in the Brumley-Pullston Building. He became our family doctor soon afterwards as I remember my first visit to him when I was in the second grade. My mother told me that we were taking my grandmother to the doctor, but surprise! When we arrived, I found that I was the patient to receive a small pox vaccination. Dr. Smith was the typical old-fashioned doctor who made house calls. He climbed to the second floor in our home on Park Avenue with his large black bag many a time to treat my family usually me. I was plagued with bronchial problems and asthma in my early years. When he retired in the mid 1950's, I went to Dr. Wade Garner and Dr. Charles Park for a few years, both family friends and other great old fashioned family doctors.

I remember Dr. A.W. Epps, Sr. who had his office in the First National Bank Building (now First Union Bank) and Mr. Jim Ingley, president of the Sanford Atlantic Bank.

Dr. Epps was my dentist for many years until his retirement. His office was on the sixth floor facing First Street. His assistant was Nell Touchton, wife of Orville Touchton. Waiting in his office was made tolerable by reading some of the many SHS Salmagundis he had in his waiting room.

Jim and Agnes Ingley were close friends of my parents and I was flower girl in their daughter, Marguerite's, wedding to William Zachary Jr., October 22.

Readers speak: On the election

By SUSAN WENNER
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — On the subject of politics, everyone has an opinion. Whether they were Republican or Democrat, citizens came together Nov. 8 to cast their ballots.

The governors races was close. Republicans won in various House and Senate seats, local races held a lot of public interest.

Are you pleased with the election results? Local residents were asked their opinion.

Maxine Marsh said, "I'm glad the casino (proposition) failed and the nets banned. In everything there has to be some winners and some losers. In my voting, I also had some winners and some losers. I had more winners than losers."

"I only have one comment," Joe Fagan said. "I'm glad Oliver North got beat (in Virginia). I didn't vote so I don't have an opinion about the rest."

Porter Messerschmidt said, "There was too darn many things to vote on. I was pleased with the way the election went. I guess."

"I was pleased with the results," Emma Johnson said. "I think everyone was happy and things will turn out okay."

Harvey Butler had a strong opinion. "I think for the last four years we've had a bunch of junk in Tallahassee. Now we're in for four more years of that."

"It's got to be alright," Jean Williamson said. "That's the way it's going to be."

Sam King said, "I'm very

POLICE BRIEFS

Phone man threatened

Sheriff's deputies arrested Nadine Rose Huggins, 45, of 112 Sweetwater Blvd., Longwood, at her residence Thursday. Deputies said Huggins reportedly accosted a telephone repair man who was working in a back yard adjacent to her home. The arrest report said she told the man not to come into her yard, and reportedly wouldn't let him move from the area. She reportedly had a neighbor phone 9-1-1. When deputies arrived they said they found two guns in the woman's home. One was described as a loaded shotgun, and the other, reportedly was what deputies said was a high powered pump air rifle. Huggins was charged with aggravated assault.

Triple arrest

Three men were arrested by Sanford police Thursday on drug related charges. Police were called to the 1300 block of Santa Barbara Avenue in regard to suspicious persons. When they arrived they said they saw three men standing in a parking area, and investigated. As the result of the investigation, Scott Patrick Mann, 18, of Jacksonville, Jason Allen Biggers, 17, of 2770 Ridgewood Avenue, Sanford, and Timothy Oneal, 22, 1311 Santa Barbara Ave., were each arrested on charges of possession of crack cocaine with intent to distribute.

Prostitution sting

Members of the City/County Investigative Bureau, (CCIB) conducted an undercover prostitution sting early Friday at the corner of Eighth Street and Sanford Avenue in Sanford. Angela Marie Little, 28, of 1819 Summerlin Avenue was arrested on charges of assignment to commit prostitution and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Disturbance at school

Sheriff's deputies were called to Lake Howell High School in Winter Springs Friday morning. Deputies said Michael Wayne Horton, 29, of 113 Cobblestone Way, Sanford, had gone to the school to meet with his wife, in regard to family problems. The arrest report indicated that when school officials noted what they considered an excessive noise coming from the meeting between the two, deputies were called. Horton was arrested on a charge of disturbing a school function.

Intoxication arrests

Robert Lee Tincher, 34, 5382 Orange Blvd., Sanford, was arrested by deputies at his residence early Friday. He was charged with disorderly intoxication.

James Mark Boney, 24, 129A Springwood Circle, Longwood, was arrested by deputies at his residence Thursday. He was charged with disorderly intoxication and resisting without violence.

Warrants

James Dellafield, 22, 41 Lake Monroe Terrace, was located in the lobby of the John E. Polk Correctional Facility Thursday. He was wanted for violation of probation on a conviction of sale of a controlled substance.

Kelvin Edward Jones, 19, 50 Lake Monroe Terrace, was located by deputies in the 1000 block of French Avenue Thursday. He was wanted for violation of probation on a conviction of aggravated assault.

Gary Simmons, 45, 500 W. Airport Blvd., was served a warrant at the jail Thursday. He was wanted for obtaining property with a worthless check.

Walter Lee Brunka, Jr., 34, 1016 Pine Avenue, Sanford, was served a warrant at the jail Thursday. He was wanted for violation of probation on a conviction of aggravated battery.

Teens face restitution hearings in trashing

By SANDRA ELLIOTT
Herald Staff Writer

Incident were all Lake Mary High School students.

SANFORD — Three youths placed on probation for their part in the trashing of a Lake Mary home earlier this year will have restitution hearings this week.

Three teens were charged as adults in the case while four other teens were charged as juveniles.

Erin Olsen and Samuel Medina were 17 at the time of the incident but were charged as adults along with 18-year old Christopher James White. The three pleaded no contest in their cases and received two years probation. The charges ranged from burglary to a dwelling and theft to trespass and criminal mischief.

The seven teens were charged with causing about $37,000 damage to the Lake Mary home of Bishop Ronald Yager's home at 631 Brookfield Loop April 5. Yager was the Florida Bishop for the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints. The Yager family now lives in Missouri.

The teens charged in the

A woman's place is at the billiards table

By SUSAN WENNER
Herald Correspondent
SANFORD — Another sunny day with pleasant Florida temperatures dawned Thursday, when Golden Agers rallied for the game of women's billiards. Although weather wasn't a factor for these indoor games, the Sanford Civic Center bustled with activity as several spectators came to cheer on their favorite competitors.
After a walk down a long hall, the pool room already had participants practicing for their turn for the gold. Humper stickers on windows saying "We're not senior citizens, we're recycled teenagers" adorned the foyer. Smiling faces beamed as the games began.
Billiards have been a part of the Golden Age Games for at least five years according to other participants. The game has been more popular with the women in recent years.
Only five ladies participated in the billiard competition. They ranged in age from 55 to 77. Vivian Moore, Kate Deangelis, Bernice Kleinschmidt, Laurel Fadke and June Strine.
The tournament began at 1 p.m. sharp. Forty-eight participants sat at small card tables with two to four players. Tables were located throughout the main floor. Refreshments of punch, fruit and nuts gave an inviting break from the intensity of the game.
Shirley Mills, chairman of the bridge competition, said, "We play both contract and duplicate. It's different ways of playing bridge. We will play according to American Contract Bridge Rules and International Bridge Laws for Club Bridge. For example, a hand is one deal."

Craig Hanson, employee of the Sanford Senior Center, presided over the event. He reviewed various rules from the bright yellow official rule book. Calling of a pocket was one rule mentioned in the book because it was to be omitted.
Kate Deangelis has now participated for four years. She said, "The reason I decided on rotation billiards is because I enjoy this. Only men used to play rotation."
Bernice Kleinschmidt has enjoyed the games for 12 years. "This is our 12th year coming to the olympics. This is only my third year in the billiards. We made so many friends here, we enjoy coming back each year. I am also entered in eight ball, horse shoes, archery, discs, shotgun and javelin."
June Strine played like an old pro. She should because she said, "I've gotten the gold for the last five years in a row. This is my fifth year. I do a lot of other events too."

Shwarz has knitting contest stitched up

By NICK PFEIPAUF
Herald Staff Writer
SANFORD — Lilly Schwarz, 80, of Orange City, won the Golden Age Games knitting contest Thursday afternoon at Sanford City Hall. (She kept everyone in stitches.)
The competition was actually based on the number of stitches flying during the entire event. She didn't beat her competition however, she didn't have to. Even though there appeared to be enough interest in continuing the contest, she was the only participant.
Lilly Schwarz however, has won a gold medal in the Sanford games and while she didn't have to out-knit anyone, game officials say she performed well, and is a fully deserving of the award.
There is no word on whether the competition will be carried on into the 1995 Golden Age Games in Sanford. It was the only event with only one entry this year.

Bridge players' skills earn precious medals

By SUSAN WENNER
Herald Correspondent
SANFORD — As rain threatened and then delivered Friday, bridge players at the Golden Age Games took no thought of the weather. The bridge competition at the Women's Club of Sanford building was dry, comfortable, and fortunately, indoors.
The tournament began at 1 p.m. sharp. Forty-eight participants sat at small card tables with two to four players. Tables were located throughout the main floor. Refreshments of punch, fruit and nuts gave an inviting break from the intensity of the game.
Shirley Mills, chairman of the bridge competition, said, "We play both contract and duplicate. It's different ways of playing bridge. We will play according to American Contract Bridge Rules and International Bridge Laws for Club Bridge. For example, a hand is one deal."

Golden Age Games: What it's all about

The 20th Annual Golden Age Games in Sanford ended yesterday with track and field events at Seminole High School. It's now all over until next November.

Perhaps the real benefit received by participants this year, as in the past, was summed up during an event Wednesday at Lake Carolla. As 101 year old Peggy Richards paddled her way around the canoe sprint competition, the city's recreation supervisor said, "This is what these games are about, giving people an opportunity to become involved in activities."

Once again the games have proven, as they have for the 20th consecutive year, that there are people over the age of 55, even beyond the century mark, who still have the spirit of competition. They refuse to sit on their rocking chairs doing little more than watching time pass.

Regardless of the age, from the small fry to the seniors, people want to compete. The seniors who participated in these games want to prove that because they are in their 60s, 70s and 80s, they are still capable of being a staunch competitor in sporting events. They proved it beyond a doubt.

Even those who may have some physical problems still want to compete. They play checkers, chess, cribbage, pinocle, or bridge. They sit, but they compete just as in any active sport.

The good points about the Sanford games are that they last for an entire week, they have not only strenuous sports but fun activities as well, and the way they are conducted almost assures participants of having a great time no matter whether they win medals or not.

The bad point is based on the distance people travel to participate. We are always glad to have them in Sanford, but it proves that their home towns do little to help the seniors in this way. Too many cities have a tendency to forget those of a more advanced age. That speaks poorly about them.

Sanford however, has a 20 year history of presenting these games and giving people a week of fun, exercise, sports competition, and most of all, an opportunity to be with true friends.

Congratulations to everyone who played a part in the 20th Annual Golden Age Games in Sanford, including the city, the staff, volunteer workers, and most of all, the participants. You are all winners.

Golden Rule

You do not have to pay for what you don't get: be it commercial products or services.

We live in the county and we have our own septic tank and not sewer service from the city or county, so we have nothing to do with sewer and waste management.

My wife says we have to pay this, or they will take our house. If this is true, people don't care about people.

If church-going and other people really knew what the Golden Rule meant and adhered to it, we wouldn't have so many problems.

Rep. Marvin Couch talks politics

Rep. Marvin Couch concurred with the expressions of many citizens concerning the just concluded elections. Unfortunately, the campaigns conducted by many candidates focused upon anything but issues. He advised that the campaigns were the worst he had ever witnessed locally, state-wide and nationally.

Couch was re-elected to represent District 33 of the State House of Representatives. Couch was the victim of a series of six very negative ads disseminated by his opponent. It is sufficient to say that the citizens that he represents were not impressed with the mud slinging, but rather were impressed with his performance during his first term.

Anyone who is a small business person knows the trauma of cash flow with its peaks and valleys. Couch advised that he did have some problems, but always satisfied his obligations to the Internal Revenue Service. One of the liens that was placed was done in error. It involved a business in which he had been part owner. The levy was placed upon the business two years after he moved here from Colorado, when he was no longer associated with the business.

Couch appreciates the opportunity the citizens of Seminole County have given him to serve them again. He plans to serve with the same vigor and vitality that he displayed during his first term.

SEMINOLE OPINION

LURLINE SWEETING

Couch will be returning to Tallahassee November 21, 1994. Republicans and Democrats will be gathering to determine the legislative leaders for the next session. The Democrats and Republicans will meet in their respective caucus on the 21st. Then the organizational meeting involving both parties will be held November 22, 1994.

The composition of the newly elected state legislature is: 11 the Senate 21 Republicans and 19 Democrats instead of last terms 20-20 split. Consequently the Republicans will control the Senate. Democrats will control the State House of Representatives. The House will have 63 Democrats and 57 Republicans.

Couch was quite pleased with his role in Juvenile Justice Legislation at the last session. Relative to the Legislative agenda for the next session, Couch believes that welfare reform will be an important challenge. The welfare program has to be thoroughly analyzed and made more humane. Welfare should not be an end in itself, but a means of helping individuals to help themselves. Workfare and Learnfare should be an integral part of welfare. Workfare might mean revisiting the incentives for working. Learnfare might make available resources of the state community college system in the acquisition of work skills. Workfare and Learnfare will provide hope for individuals receiving welfare and result in limiting the time that welfare is received.

When questioned about his interpretation of the results of the 1994 election, Couch acknowledged that it was a Republican upsurge at every level of government. The Republicans did not lose a single legislative seat. Instead they increased their number by one in the Senate and eight in the state House of Representatives. He feels that the voters were apparently frustrated. Voter dissatisfaction with government resulted in the Republican victories. He believes that government needs to redefine its role in the lives of people. Evidently, the citizens desire to limit government intrusion in their lives.

Couch anticipates a most productive legislative session next year and welcomes citizen input. You may reach him by calling (407) 365-7089 or writing him at P.O. Box 2027, Oviedo, FL 32765.

Making holidays fair for all

Well, Halloween is over. Thanksgiving and Christmas are yet to come, and once again, 'tis the season for those arguments again. They run something like this: If just one person is offended, uncomfortable, or culturally unprepared for any celebratory public display concerning the three holidays in question, then for their benefit and to be culturally sensitive, no one should be allowed to celebrate those holidays if any public facilities or funds are employed to engage in said celebration. Bah humbug!

Now my regular readers have hopefully come to know me as a person who in general is intolerant of anything that might hint at discrimination or fairness to my fellow man. But every once in a while, I think that the line has just gone a bit too far. Sometimes, there comes a point when the attempt to prevent discrimination results in an even more abusive and often absurd backlash of reverse discrimination, and to me, the banning of some holidays from the semi-official sanctions of our society falls into that category.

Before my last foray into this wonderful state, I was living in Syracuse, New York. In our children's school district, there were people of many diverse ethnic, social and religious diversifications, each with their own beliefs and value systems. Well Halloween was about to occur, and there was this one family that believed any display of sympathy or homage to the dark ones on Oct. 31 was going to be permanently detrimental to the welfare of their children. They took this belief to court, with the result being that all planned activities within the public school system to provide a bit of fun for the children was to be banned forever. The results were somewhat predictable: A lot of parents and kids got upset, about half of the teachers in our children's school suddenly had costumed "Harvest" celebrations (coincidentally on Oct. 31st), and another understudied precedent was set. Personally I was waiting for the five or six local Devil Worshipers to counter-sue, on the basis of anti-discriminatory bias against their beliefs and values.

Now, with the exception of those five or six suffering outcasts, I do not believe there were very many citizens of Syracuse, or for that matter of any city or town across the land, who actually had planned to bow down in homage on bended knee to the lord of the netherworld that Oct. 31. Most of them just wanted the excuse to walk around in costumes and have the right to make fools of themselves while having a good time, period. No higher meaning than that, just mindless fun; but for the sake of those two children whose parents probably injured more by their lawsuit, an issue was raised, and made a law in perpetuity.

Syracustans had settled the Christmas pageant issue years before; a menora always stood downtown by the Christmas tree, and the pageant was now called the "holiday pageant" instead of retaining its former Christian affiliation. And further, in that particular university town, every other week or so, it seemed that the city made an attempt to celebrate events or promote the cultural interests of one nationality or religious group or another. All of that made for an interesting time to be had, and very little of it was ever protested on the basis of cultural or religious disharmony.

I suppose it all gets down to a matter of extremes; you can't fix everything, because if you do, there might not be anything left. If we as a nation were to truly set about correcting the unfairness of our holiday structure, just imagine what that would be like.

We wouldn't all be sitting down to turkey and pumpkin pie this Thanksgiving, because we would be at work. There couldn't be a holiday, because the upshot of the celebration was that it is representational of a temporary truce in the Europeans' rape and conquest of the North American continent and the wholly unprepared Indian residents from whom we were to eventually steal it all. (One of course also has to keep in mind that there is no such thing as "Indians," as it was a name mistakenly given to the local inhabitants in 1492 by a certain Mr. Columbus.)

Valentine's Day would be gone, because it's either a) a celebration associated with a certain Catholic missionary, or b) a celebration of bacchanal pagan beliefs from a now defunct belief system. President's Day, well, they both were involved in blood wars, and Washington was after all a slave owner... Martin Luther King Day? Well, what about all the other freedom fighters who didn't get their own holidays to boast about, Easter is obvious, Memorial Day and the Fourth of July enshrine "our" war dead's defeat of "theirs." Labor Day, the oppression by the working masses of those unfortunate enough to have made it, Columbus Day we already discussed, and so on, and so on, and so forth.

Tolerance is a hard thing for most people to learn. You either get more of it as you grow older, or less, and in many parts of this great land, there are always going to be contests going to see just who can show they're more tolerant than their counterparts somewhere else. For me, this year represents the first one in the last 10 or so when I actually will have a day off, and get paid for it. So I suppose my position of the whole matter boils down to this: Either federally guarantee that each and every minority celebration or culturally significant day in the life of our minority population gets recognition (and a paid day off), or give everyone, oh say, 15 days a year to celebrate whatever or whomsoever they may personally choose. It would play havoc with employer's work schedules, but then again, it would be fair.

P.S. Did you folks know they have a holiday up in Canada to honor supermarket employees? It's called Boxer Day, and it ...

Highs and lows of Election '94

The elections are over, Republicans reign supreme and already I'm feeling nostalgic. No more braggadocio, no more gasbags making empty promises, no more slanderous commercials for a couple of years. What shall a political junkie do?

On second thought, there's probably nothing to worry about, what with boasts, gas and slander being the natural products of political discourse. Still, I will miss the intensity of it all and feel a need to record some highlights, lowlights and magic moments, lest I forget.

Most outrageous accusation: While camping in Georgia a few days before the election, Republican and Speaker-to-be Newt Gingrich blamed the Democrats for the murder of the two boys who were drowned by their mother in South Carolina. "I think the mother killing her two children in South Carolina vividly reminds every American how sick the society is getting and how much we have to change," Newt said. "I think people want to change and the only way you get change is to vote Republican."

Nutty Newt also declared that Clinton Democrats are "the enemy of normal Americans." He also allowed that Bill Clinton had been a member of the "dirty, nasty, abusive, vindictive" counterculture that was depicted in the movie "Forrest Gump."

One of these days, Newt is going to pull up like a toadfish and explode. I hope I'm there to witness it.

Second most outrageous accusation: Dan Quayle, appearing at a fund-raiser in Ohio for Republican senatorial candidate Mike DeWine, implied that Bill Clinton was responsible for the suicides of three U.S. soldiers in Haiti. They were dependent, he said, because military "readiness and capability are not there" and the troops had to dash from Somalia to Haiti without much of a breather. Asked if he had really meant to say what he had suggested, he said, "I'm just pointing out the facts."

Most devilish display of pandering: The Republican Party's "Contract With America," what else? Every item in it was test-marketed for voter appeal, and it was offered up in the full knowledge that the figures didn't add up and millions of dollars in deficits would be racked up if it were ever adopted.

Most devilish exaggeration: The Democratic Party's depiction of what the Republican "contract" would do to America, what else? At first, the Democrats calculated it would create $120 billion in new debt. A few weeks later, it was up to $700 billion. By the end of the campaign, Clinton was fulminating about the contract's trillion-dollar shortfall.

Most tasteless prank: During a Halloween skit at a GOP gathering near Nashville, the partygoers erupted in laughter as a woman playing the role of the late presidential aide Vincent Foster pulled out a toy gun and pretended to shoot herself.

Second most devilish display of pandering: In Virginia, Republican senatorial candidate Oliver North allowed that the Confederate flag was "part of the great heritage" of the state and he saw no harm in flying it.

Most stupid suggestion: North's proposal that participation in the Social Security system be voluntary.

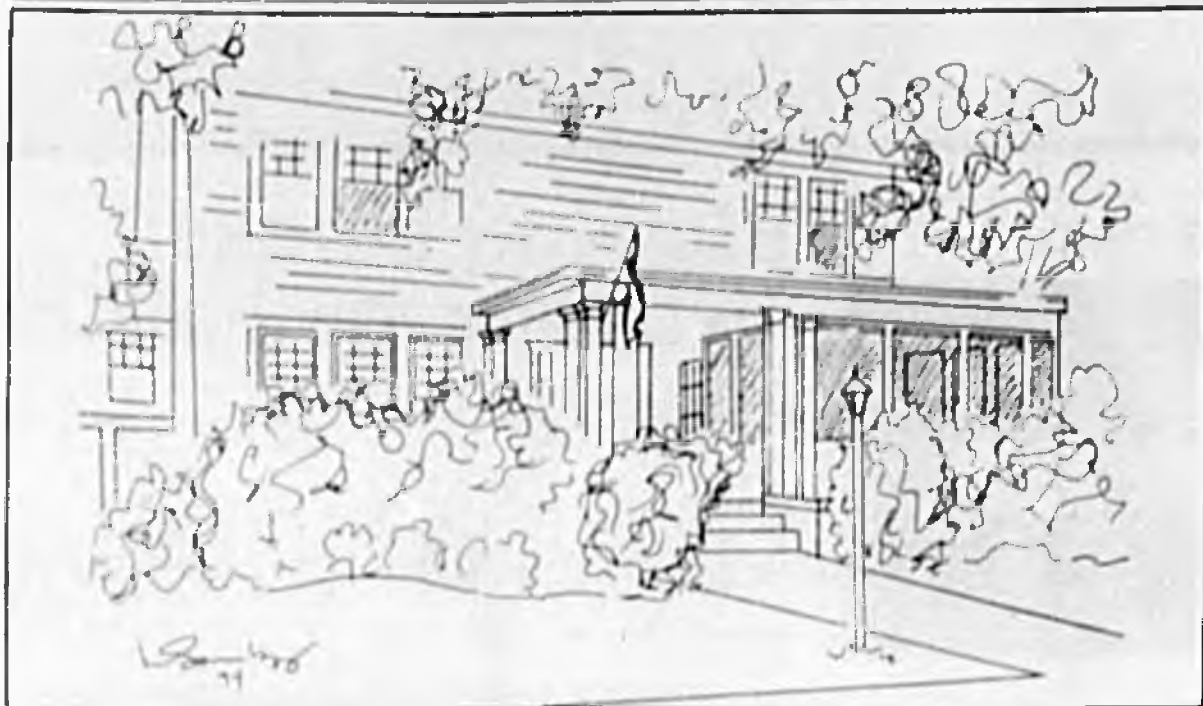

Worst lie: North told a high-school audience that he "didn't lie to Congress" during his Iran-contra testimony.

Sweetest moment: North lost.
Worst nightmare: A Quayle-Gingrich ticket in 1996.

No more braggadocio, no more gasbags making empty promises, no more slanderous commercials for a couple of years.

Mercers

The exterior's wood siding is freshly painted tan with dark green trim. Mercer pointed out the unique construction of the cypress clapboard, with no corner molding. All of the corners are mitered to meet at perfect 90 degree angles. Mercer said little work was needed on the exterior.

The Mercers contracted most of the interior work to be done. The kitchen was totally remodeled with wood cabinets painted white, brass hardware and fixtures on the extra deep sink. The downstairs bathroom was enlarged, gaining a full shower, thanks to a rearrangement of the space that used to be the back porch, the laundry room and the housing for the water heater. Although the house has two floors, storage space is at a minimum, so much attention was paid to making the most of every inch.

One bonus space, Juanny's "favorite room," is the butler's pantry. Mercer explained that the brass chandelier, original to the house, was as brown as the wood on the side table, also in the pantry, before he had it refinished. Now the golden glow of the restored fixture fills the pantry, which is a unique addition to a house of that period.

The Mercers saved as much of the hardware, such as switch plates, as possible. Throughout, the theme is brass. Mercer said one project he did take on was the refinishing of the doors, 24 in all, down to the bare wood. Another centerpiece of the downstairs space is the set of full French sliding pocket doors that separate the dining room from the foyer.

Upstairs is Mercer's "pride and joy," the bathroom, which, again, was rearranged to make the most of space available. Also on the upper floor are two bedrooms, a master suite and an office. In one of the bedrooms is the bed Mercer slept in as a child. There is also a dresser bought for $5 at Gaynelle's antique store, not more than a couple of blocks from the house. He explained, while much of it was original, a lot of wood work went into restoring the dresser. Because Mercer enjoys woodworking, and has quite a wood shop set up in the garage behind the house, he said it still would have been a bargain at twice the price.

Mercer tells of the many surprises that were found after the linoleum and carpeting were removed from the hardwood floors throughout the house. He said the refinishing of the floors included the use of oven cleaner sprayed on some of the more stubborn stains and left overnight.

The home does include a garage apartment, complete with kitchen and bath, above the detached garage. The Mercers also put a lot of work into the apartment, recycling many of the kitchen appliances and fixtures from the main house.

When they want to relax, they escape to the glassed-in sunroom, which overlooks the street, but still has a cozy feel. Windows are another distinctive feature of the home; they are many, 36 in all, and large, letting lots of light into the home.

The Mercer home will be open for the Sanford Historic Trust's Holiday Tour of Homes, which will be held Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4, from noon until 5 p.m. Tickets are available through any trust member, at the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, the Welcome Center or the Main Street office, or by calling Mary Larsen at 321-0144. Advance tickets are two for $15, day of tour tickets are $10 each.

air, and at the various military support facilities as well.

One spectator, who would not identify himself, commented that the speaker was "preaching to the choir." "The only people he is telling to keep remembering," the man said, "are those who are already doing just that. What we need to do is instill in our younger people the honor and loyalty shown by our men and women of the military, who gave them the many freedoms which they seem to take for granted."

Although not wearing any identification showing he was a veteran or a member of any local veterans' organization, the man issued a snappy salute as the flag passed him.

The greatest majority of people attending the ceremonies at the lakefront, who were not actually involved in the parade, were silver haired. Most were clearly in their 80s and 70s, and exemplified the heads up, shoulders-back demeanor of former military personnel.

The program contained many traditional events associated with Veterans Day, including salutes, the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, and the firing of rifles in the military salute.

The light rain never reduced the seriousness of the event. Everyone who gathered beneath the huge flag at Sanford's Memorial Park did indeed take time to reflect on those who served in the military forces; those who returned to civilian life, as well as those who gave their all.

Veteran's Day 1994 is over. But the memory of the veterans won't soon be forgotten.

Disease

Alzheimer's Association Chapter of Greater Orlando cautions the study reflects preliminary research and must be replicated in larger numbers before being used as a diagnostic tool.

"We haven't had any personal inquiries from caregivers or patients or physicians," Kelly said

Friday, after the study was reported. "We do know the research is very preliminary and that the research has only studied a small group of people. More research will have to be done to confirm these findings."

The test research involved 58 elderly patients. Using the eye drop test, researchers were able to identify 18 or 19 probable Alzheimer's sufferers.

Potter said Alzheimer's now is correctly diagnosed with only 60 to 75 percent accuracy. The diagnosis can be confirmed with absolute certainty only by an autopsy.

Alzheimer's disease progressively destroys the brain, wiping out memory, thought and the control of bodily functions. The disease strikes about 10 percent of the population over the age of 65 and currently affects about 20 million people worldwide. An estimated four million Americans suffer from Alzheimer's disease and 250,000 new cases are diagnosed every year. Just last week, former President Ronald Reagan announced he has the disease.

It is estimated there are 25,000 persons with the disease in the tri-county area of Orange, Osceola and Seminole counties according to the Alzheimer's Association of Greater Orlando. Early diagnosis would enable people to organize their lives before the onset of the more debilitating aspects of the disease.

"It can really allow you to pull the positive out of the situation and work with that," Kelly said. "My own belief is that while the long range reality of the diagnosis of probable Alzheimer's disease is frightening and overwhelming, the reality on the near-hand is you can maximize so much of what is there for you. I'm thinking of how families can be taught to deal with the patient that maximize their abilities rather than showcasing their disabilities."

She noted as research continues on diagnosis techniques, such as the one announced Friday, it also continues in all the other areas where advancement is hoped for, such as medications to treat the disease, care options and support systems to assist families and patients.

Tropicamide is used by ophthalmologists to dilate pupils during eye exams. Its effects are brief. When used for the Alzheimer's test, the drug is diluted to about 1 percent of the concentration used in eye tests.

Potter originated the idea of using tropicamide to test for Alzheimer's after noting that patients with Down syndrome were highly sensitive to the drug.

Down syndrome is an inherited disorder that causes mental retardation. In middle age, Down patients often develop the same brain lesions and dementia symptoms that are characteristic of Alzheimer's disease. Potter reasoned that if Down patients were hypersensitive to tropicamide, then Alzheimer's patients may be also.

Leonard Scinto at Brigham and Women's Hospital directed research that found Potter's theory was correct.

McEwan

$7.5 million purchase quashed Sanford's efforts to purchase 400-acre land for the same purpose.

Davis said McEwan joined his effort and the pair alleged the unpublished deal violated the state Sunshine Law.

Spurred by the pair's allegations, the Federal Bureau of Investigation made inquiries into the deal, but pursued no charges. Former Gov. Bob Graham appointed State Attorney Robert Eagan of Orange and Osceola Counties to investigate the matter.

A grand jury called Eagan's investigation a "whitewash" and called for a new investigation, then Gov. Bob Martinez appointed State Attorney Ed Austin of Jacksonville and a team of investigators to reopen the investigation.

The second grand jury concluded in early 1988 that while the deal gave the appearance of wrongdoing, no laws were broken.

After the state's investigation was concluded, McEwan told the Sanford Herald: "You're always disappointed when justice isn't served, no matter which side you're on."

In December 1986, McEwan alleged 71-year-old Harry Hagle, a member of the county Planning and Zoning Commission, threatened him in a telephone call. The two were conducting the campaigns of opposing county commission candidates, the sitting Bob Sturm and challenger Bob Desmond. Hagle later admitted to saying McEwan "could get hurt," but said he meant only politically, not physically.

Another politician has expressed concern about McEwan. Jim Stelling, state representative to the Seminole County Republican Executive Committee, faced a challenge from McEwan for his post in 1988. In researching his opponent's background, Stelling uncovered McEwan's 1974 Hillsborough County criminal record on a charge of buying, receiving or aiding in the concealment of stolen property.

Court documents obtained by Stelling show McEwan pleaded guilty in the case of paintings stolen from the apartment of a Fort Lauderdale woman. The woman was murdered when she discovered the burglars. Paid informants stated McEwan drove the burglars to the woman's apartment, but did not enter.

Adjudication was withheld and McEwan was sentenced to seven years probation with full rights, including voting privileges. The probation was lifted just four years later.

McEwan said in 1988 the criminal charge was retribution for his efforts to expose criminal action of former state Insurance Commissioner Thomas D. O'Malley. McEwan said he was a bail bondsman at the time and was only trying to collect a fee from the two men and had no knowledge of their crimes.

McEwan said he is innocent of the charge and pleaded guilty to avoid a long and costly court battle.

Stelling said the case made him nervous about his dealings with McEwan.

"I think it showed his behavior is irrational," said Stelling. "He was irrational then and he is now. This guy, he's a piece of work."

Earlier in 1988, McEwan again joined Davis to file a complaint against three county political leaders for making contributions to other campaigns using money contributed to them. County elections supervisor Sandra Gourd concluded no wrongdoing occurred.

Davis says McEwan and he parted ways after the 1988 elections and have spoken little since. Davis disputes fears about McEwan's dangerousness, but admits the activist is philosophically aggressive.

"He's only got his opinion and no one else knows what they're saying," Davis says. "He throws a helluva bluff and that's about it."

Stinecpher

1940. My dad, Martin Stinecpher, was soloist. My mother kept the hat I wore in the wedding for a long time and it may still be in my possession.

The wedding was at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with Rev. Martin Bram officiating. The reception was at the Mayfair Hotel, but I doubt that I went; I was barely four years old. I do remember what a long ceremony in unfamiliar surroundings it was for this little girl and I started crying. The next thing I remember is sitting on a step outside a door near the altar with my mother comforting me.

Even though I probably ruined her wedding, I received a note from Marguerite saying how proud she and Jimmy were of me and what a sweet girl I was! But no one else ever asked me to be their flower girl!

Jim Ingley's last day as president of the Sanford Atlantic Bank was August 11, 1952; he had been appointed vice-president of the same bank at Jacksonville. I have a newspaper picture of Rotarians Jack Rattigan and Bob Harris bidding him farewell and honoring him with a plaque in recognition of his 18 years of club membership.

IN BRIEF

Family reading

To encourage families to read together, Goldsboro Elementary School on 20th Street in Sanford, will sponsor a "Reading is a Family Affair" on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The function has been planned cooperatively by the School Advisory Committee, the PTA and the staff of Goldsboro, along with Dr. Rita Buchoff of the University of Central Florida in Orlando.

Parents and students are invited to participate in the various activities to promote reading.

Students in the area of Children's Literature will present stories throughout the evening. Storyteller Valada Flewellyn will entertain. The Chapter 1 Lab will be open for all to experience.

Door prizes, gifts and refreshments have been donated by many local merchants.

For more information, call the school at 322-7933.

TIP program seeks talent

Duke University's TIP (Talent Identification Program)'s 15th annual talent search is underway.

The search is intended for bright students who want to learn more about their abilities and about programs and services available to students like themselves.

Interested students must apply to the program and take either the SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test) or the ACT (American College Assessment) test.

Students must be in the seventh grade and must score in the top three percent on one of the two nationally normed tests.

The application deadline is Nov. 19.

Beepers are a necessity

Special to the Herald

LONGWOOD — Beep! Beep! Beep!

No, it's not the sound of the Road Runner any more. This is the sound has been taken over by beepers.

Beepers and pagers are just another form of communication. Teenagers as well as adults now carry them.

These toys have gone from business deals to a fashion statement.

Everyone has been having mixed feelings about them from the school system to the parents.

Mrs. Marie Matos likes the fact that her daughter carries one.

"I like it because I can contact her any time and anywhere," she said.

Jeffrey Eckerdt likes his beeper because his family and friends can contact him at any time.

Mr. Jose Mederos, a teacher at Lyman High School, thinks they're a nice thing to have, but they shouldn't be allowed in school. He said too many people started using them for the wrong reasons in school and ruined it for the rest of us.

The school district has a policy that bans the use of beepers by students on school grounds.

A common misunderstanding of some people is that all beeper and pager owners are drug dealers.

Well, they're wrong. Business men and women use them. Doctors use them.

Lyndsey Allison Holliday

Some jobs even require them.

Kids have them and most reasons aren't drug-related.

Katie Blanton likes beepers. She thinks they're nice to have, but that people shouldn't have them just to show off or to be "cool."

Ms. Pamela Brand, an athletic trainer here at Lyman thinks that beepers are a convenient for all people especially busy people.

She thinks they're nice to have so you can be contacted at any time.

Some people say answering machines do the same thing. Not really!

When you're out with a beeper you can be contacted right then and call them back, but when you're out without a beeper and you let your answering machine take your messages, you have to wait until you're at home to get your messages.

There are many reasons for many people, all of which seem to have a positive statement to them.

Lyndsey is a sophomore at Lyman High School.

Blowing smoke: Is smoking cool anymore?

By VICKI DeBORMIER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — A majority of students polled recently think that students (and adults) who smoke are "definitely not cool."

In direct contrast to the image of even half a decade ago, cigarettes are not a sign of sophistication and maturity.

"I think anyone who smokes is pretty stupid," said Haylor Kennedy, 16. "You're basically killing yourself if you do that."

Jon Dennis, 17, agrees.

"Not only is it just so gross, it's suicidal," he said.

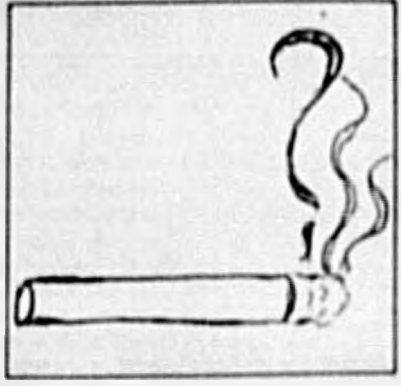

Quindisha Michaels, 17, knows she's in the minority, but she thinks smoking is "just fine."

Puffing unashamedly on a Marlboro, she shows off a newly learned skill she can blow smoke rings.

"My mom and my grandmother taught me how to do that," she said. "We all smoke in my family. Grandmom bought me my first cigarettes when I was 14."

Another young lady who smoked openly at the shopping center where she and her friends were spending time after school, but she didn't want her name in the paper for fear her parents would find out she was a smoker.

"Smoking's cool, but my dad and mom don't see it that way," she said. "They don't understand. All my friends smoke."

but my parents don't understand."

Jayne Butterfield, 13, said she "doesn't even like to be around smokers."

She noted, "They smell dirty all the time. I don't like that."

Laura Kane, 15, agreed.

"It's like my mom says, 'kissing a smoker is like licking a dirty ashtray. It's just a disgusting habit,'" she said.

Still Jake Land, 15, thinks a cigarette adds a certain air of sophistication to a young man who wants to "impress the ladies" with his style.

"It makes you look older and stylish to have a cigarette in your hand," he said. "Heck, half the time I just hold the thing and look cool."

He says girls his age and a older are impressed by a "man who looks and acts older."

IN BRIEF

Drop-off site for food drive

Florida Hospital Central Care Urgent Care Centers will offer a drop-off site for the Second Harvest Food Bank Canned Food Drive, until Friday, Dec. 2, at their Sanford location, 3505 S. Orlando Dr. and Longwood location, 855 Highway 17-92.

The public can drop off canned foods, dried goods or any other non-perishable food items between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. All food donations will go to the food bank, a non-profit organization dedicated to feeding the hungry.

For more information, call Lila Colon at Florida Hospital Patients Business at 895-7657.

5K run/walk in Oviedo

The American Heart Association will sponsor the second annual 5K run/walk in Oviedo on Saturday, Nov. 19 at Riverside Park. Money raised from the event will be used to "run over" heart disease and stroke in the community.

The $12 entry fee ($15 on the day of the event) entitles each participant to a run/walk T-shirt.

For more information contact Lena Berch at 366-0989 or Brigitte DeBouis at 843-1330.

Cancer information, education

Central Florida Regional Hospital and the American Cancer Society are presenting "I Can Cope", a free five-week educational program designed to help cancer patients and their families deal with disease. The course will be offered beginning Nov. 16 and continuing on Nov. 22, 30, Dec. 7 and 13 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the hospital's boardroom.

Each program will focus on a different aspect of coping with cancer.

The course is free and open to the public. For more information and to register for the course, call CFRH Social Service Department at 321-4500, ext. 5760.

Support group formed

The South Seminole Support Group has been organized by the Central Branch of the Arthritis Foundation, at South Seminole Community Hospital, room 103.

Anyone interested in attending can come and hear Dr. Caryn Hasselbring, a local rheumatologist, give an overview of arthritis.

The group will meet Tuesday, Nov. 15 from 11 a.m. to noon. For more information on the support group, or directions, contact Rhonda Jackson-Moseley at 647-0045.

Air care patients reunite

Lake Mary policeman recalls his flight of fate

By RENEE KEITH
Herald Correspondent

ORLANDO — Since the Air Care Team (ACT) at Orlando Regional Medical Center (ORMC) first took flight in October of 1984, more than 8000 patients have been transported by the hospital's air ambulance helicopter. In recognition of ten years of service, ORMC hosted a 10th Anniversary Reunion to salute those individuals whose lives were touched as a result of rescue efforts by the Air Care Team and emergency services personnel.

The event was held Nov. 5, on the ORMC campus. At the reunion, former flight patients and their families were given the opportunity to meet and thank those individuals who-by accident-became a part of their lives.

"We are proud of the commitment ORMC has made to providing this valuable service to the community," said Dottie Tanner, Air Care Team's Chief Flight Nurse. "Air ambulance programs play an extremely important role in providing access to medical care and services otherwise not available to people in rural areas."

When life-threatening emergencies strike, citizens in a 25 county area of the state count on the Air Care Team to spring into action. Air Care Team is Florida's only nationally-accredited, hospital-based air ambulance service in Central Florida licensed to transport patients from other hospitals and directly from the accident site-saving precious minutes. The prestigious national accreditation was earned through the Independent Commission on the Accreditation of Air Medical Services, making Air Care Team the first air ambulance in Florida to meet the Commission's rigorous standards.

ORMC operates one of the only four level Trauma Centers in the state and is part of Orlando Regional Healthcare System, one of Florida's most comprehensive voluntary not-for-profit healthcare systems.

One of the fortunate 8000 patients to benefit from the Air Care Team is Lake Mary police officer Tim Ryan. Ryan was a featured speaker at the reunion.

On Jan. 9, 1992, Officer Ryan was on duty for the Lake Mary Police Department when his motorcycle collided with a car. The sudden impact dislodged his helmet and sent Ryan reeling through the air, after which he landed, head first, onto the unforgiving asphalt.

The last Ryan remembers is talking to another officer on his radio a moment before the accident occurred. Ironically, this person was also first on the scene. "He took one look at me and called the Air Care Team," says Ryan.

His skull fractured, a subdural hematoma (blood clot) forming deep in his brain. Tim remembers no more.

But the Air Care Team does. In addition to the head injury, Ryan had fractured several ribs

Special to the Herald

So you think personalized fitness training is just for the rich and famous? Not so.

Fitness training is for all ages regardless of your current level of fitness. Do you need motivation, encouragement, professional guidance or trained nutritional counseling? One-on-one fitness training offers all these benefits plus more.

Here's a testimonial, from my mom, Mary Arena. At the age of 70, she is more fit than most 25 year olds. Mary has been doing one-on-one training for six years, with stunning results. Mary's got great blood pressure, cholesterol of 130 and lost approximately 50 pounds and four dress sizes. My mom's one of many success stories that come as a result of professional personalized training.

Not only does fitness training improve physical health, but emotional and mental well being abound. Some other benefits of personalized training include:

- Toning and shaping
- Weight loss/weight gain
- Rehabilitation/prevention of injuries
- Health improvements
- Increased self-esteem

As one of my clients says, she stays committed because the trainers are committed to their clients' success' and good health. Remember that even if you've never exercised, it's not too late. Fitness is forever.

Fishing for ideas? This one's for you

By MARK BARFIELD
Herald SHIP Patrolman

We'll resume our survey of thinking programs this week with a look at IdeaFisher, a product from IdeaFisher Systems Inc. which prompts your thought by giving you ideas. Lots of 'em. IdeaFisher was created by Marsh Fisher, co-founder of Century 21 International, the real estate giant. After selling the business and retiring to Hawaii, Fisher began to explore a hobby: what triggers thought. Twelve years and $4 million later, the first IdeaFisher was released. There are now versions for MS-DOS, Windows and Macintosh.

IdeaFisher works on the principle that ideas are prompted by association. By looking at ideas which are related to the topic, a new thought or association is born. To add that end, the latest version now contains 61,000 words arranged into 28 major categories and 387 topics. All this would normally fill up about 25 Mb of disk space, but IdeaFisher is actually crunched down to less than 5 Mb! All of these words and categories and topics are cross-linked like crazy to create a seemingly limitless number of associations.

Mindworks...

Let's see how this works. The simplest and quickest way to develop an idea with IdeaFisher is to start with the alphabetical index. With a mouse click on the light bulb button, a box popped up, prompting me to type in an idea word or phrase. To keep things benign, I typed in "flowers." Next, an "Alphabetical Index" popped up with a section of IdeaFisher's idea listing starting with "flowers," followed by "flowers by wire," "flower seller," "flower shop" and so on. To be different, and to belie my age, I double-clicked on "flower child." Next popped up a listing of 14 concepts IdeaFisher designers felt were related to sixteen hippies, including "adolescence/ stereotypes of teenagers," "age/young/old," "peace/harmony/relaxation/contentment" and even "substance abuse/illegal drugs/alcohol abuse." A double-click on the "peace/harmony..." option brought me to a selection of seven "active titles," including "People/Animals," "Things/Places" and "Verbs." I highlighted "Verbs," clicked the OK button and zip! I was presented with a list of 87 ideas. Among them were "agree," "bask in the sun," "loosen your collar" and "make beautiful music together." With a double-click on the RIGHT mouse button, "loosen your collar" was added to my "Idea Notepad," which appeared as a separate box on the screen. My notepad had a copy of each of my selections, from "flower child" to "loosen..." This where IdeaFisher leaves off and your brain is supposed to kick in. Looking over your idea outline, you're encouraged to think, or should I say "free associate," about the words and ideas. In my example, I could use the ideas to say, create a television advertisement for a flower shop featuring an aging "baby-boomer" coming home, kissing his (or her) collar, smelling a bouquet of flowers and being mentally transported to grower times.

That's how IdeaFisher helps you think and create.

Another, more involved tool, allows you to "Compare Topical Categories" by following a similar process as I described above, but starting with two words instead of one. In this example, I first clicked my way through "flower" and "restaurant." After clicking OK, I was presented with a list of ideas grouped under separate headings. For example, under "People/Animals" was "family" and "tourist." Under "Abstractions/Intangibles" was "camaraderie," "evening" and "friendship." I could think about any of those ideas or double-click on one and start the whole association process over again until something inside my brain clicks.

Questions, questions...

Another, more detailed, feature of IdeaFisher is its "QBank" option. A click on the QBank button or drop-down listing offers six options. Most of these are business-related to aid in market or advertisement development, but included are more general problem-solving options. Clicking on "Problem Solving" produces a horizontally split screen with four question categories on the top and an "Answer Notepad" on the bottom. Each category includes dozens of questions designed to help you explore about every aspect of the subject. For example, the problem solving questions were grouped into "Framing the Problem," "Fact Finding," "Strategies for Solutions" and "Evaluating Your Solution."

Another, more oblique QBank is titled "Modify Questions." Although I thought this might be some kind of question editor, I found 23 categories under such topics as "Action-Motion," "Substitute/Replace" and "Force-Power." Each of these topics brings dozens of questions designed to solve problems or brain-storm grouped into those themes.

If the topics included with IdeaFisher don't meet your needs, you can buy modules which bring even more questions. There are add-ons for speech writing, consultants and preparing business and grant proposals. Each of those modules brings new sets of questions designed to develop projects.

You should prepare to spend several hours working with the QBank. There are up to 133 questions in each of the four topics in the "Problem Solving" section. You may find you'll want to spread this task over several days, so you can store your sessions and resume where you left off. But once you're done, you'll have an incredibly detailed overview of your task. You can store your responses for future review and print them out for study.

In short, the IdeaFisher QBank bring a host of consultants to your computer. They are not intuitive, that is, they don't modify themselves according to your responses. No idea-creation software I know of is. But the QBanks are both complete and general enough to allow you to respond to the questions according to your own interpretation.

If you're stuck for an idea, IdeaFisher may help you get one. At a list price of $199, I wouldn't recommend it for helping your children write their term papers. But

IdeaFisher offers a lot to the creative individual looking for a kick-start and the small business owner looking for an advertising angle or a new spin on a product.

IN BRIEF

LOCALLY

FSU outlasts Notre Dame

ORLANDO — Warrick Dunn's 5-yard touchdown run with 2:53 left lifted eighth-ranked Florida State to a 23-16 victory Saturday over Notre Dame.

buoyed by a brilliant defense, FSU (8-1) kept alive its slim hopes of repeating as national champions while Notre Dame (5-4) might have seen its hopes for a major bowl slip away.

Dunn and Rock Preston combined to run for 328 of Florida State's 517 yards while the defense shut down the Irish with just 211 yards, only 73 passing.

Dunn's scoring run was set up by a 49-yard pass play from Danny Kanell to Kez McCorvey before a Citrus Bowl record 72,868 fans.

AROUND THE STATE

Florida rips South Carolina

GAINESVILLE — Danny Wuerffel threw for 357 yards and four touchdowns Saturday as fourth-ranked Florida clinched its third straight berth in the Southeastern Conference championship game with a 48-17 victory over South Carolina.

The Gators (8-1, 6-1 SEC) started slowly but pulled away in the second quarter when Wuerffel threw two scoring passes to Jack Jackson, who became the school's career TD reception leader with 26.

South Carolina (5-5, 4-4) led 10-7 before unraveling. Florida scored 31 consecutive points before the Gamecocks answered with Steve Taneyhill's 12-yard TD pass to Boomer Foster in the fourth quarter.

Wuerffel was 20-of-32 and threw for more than 300 yards for the fourth time in his career. The victory gave Florida the SEC Eastern Division title for the third straight year and sends the Gators to Atlanta for the conference championship game on Dec. 3.

Miami holds off Pittsburgh

MIAMI — Pittsburgh did everything but beat the heavily favored Miami Hurricanes.

Pitt scored the first touchdown against Miami's defense in 18 quarters, shut out Miami in the second half and nearly pulled the game out in the final minute Saturday before the fifth-ranked Hurricanes escaped 17-12.

The Panthers took over at their 20 with 7:43 left and drove in a downpour to the Miami 30, where John Ryan's fourth-down pass fell incomplete with 59 seconds left.

Miami (8-1, 5-0 Big East Conference) overcame four turnovers in rainy weather but may drop in the rankings as a result of a lackluster showing against a 33-point underdog. A slip in the polls could cost the Hurricanes a berth in the Orange Bowl against top-ranked Nebraska.

AROUND THE NATION

UCF falls to East Carolina

GREENVILLE, N.C. — Freshman walk-on Tabari Wallace intercepted a Darin Hinshaw pass with less than a minute remaining to kill a late rally by Central Florida and preserve East Carolina's 23-20 victory Saturday.

Trailing 23-9, the Golden Knights (6-4), rallied late. Charlie Pierce kicked his fourth field goal, a 36-yarder to cut the lead to 23-12 with 10:36 remaining in the fourth quarter.

After a Matt Levine punt gave Central Florida the ball at its own 20, the Golden Knights marched 80 yards on 12 plays to pull within 23-20. Hinshaw hit David Rhodes on a 26-yard pass on fourth and 10 to set up a 1-yard scoring toss to Mark Whittemore with 2:27 remaining.

Central Florida then executed a perfect on-side kick, with Rhodes grabbing the high bounce at the Central Florida 47. Hinshaw had a second and 19 at the East Carolina 47 when his pass floated into the hands of Wallace to end the threat.

Cancer claims Rudolph

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Wilma Rudolph, the inspirational sprinter whose swift legs conquered polio and carried her to three gold medals at the 1960 Olympic Games, died Saturday of brain cancer. She was 54.

Rudolph, shackled with leg braces as a child that kept her from walking until age 9, became an international heroine by becoming the first American woman to win three gold medals in track and field at one Olympics.

First, she won the 100-meter gold medal in a wind-aided 11.0 seconds, after having tied the world record of 11.3 in the semifinals. Then, she won the 200 meters in 24.0, after having set an Olympic record of 23.2 in her opening heat.

Finally, she combined with Tennessee State teammates Martha Hudson, Lucinda Williams and Barbara Jones to win the 400-meter relay in 44.5, after having set a world record of 44.4 in the semifinals.

'King' leads the way

Ruffin's late touchdowns lift Tribe

By BILL KERNS
 Herald Correspondent

Seminole High School homecoming king Robert Ruffin (No. 1) scored touchdowns on a 4-yard run and a 99-yard interception return Friday night.

SANFORD — Homecoming king Robert Ruffin rushed for 136 yards and a clutch fourth quarter touchdown, then iced the game with a 99-yard fourth quarter interception return as Seminole blanked arch-rival Lake Mary 16-0 Friday night in the final regular season game for both teams.

"I figured it was going to be a hard game," said Ruffin. "And, I knew I needed to be a leader on the field. I told Coach to keep giving me the ball, because I wanted to take charge."

It was a satisfying way for the Tribe (6-4) to end a season littered with mistakes and bad breaks.

"I've never been associated with a team that has as much heart as this one," said head coach Ernie McPherson. "I'm very happy we went out a winner. Ruffin is one of the best in the state, and our defense kept making big stops all year."

Lake Mary (4-6) ended the year with a hard hitting defensive battle that saw Seminole enter the fourth quarter with just a 3-0 lead. Seminole allowed Lake Mary only six first downs, but kept the game close with four turnovers.

The Rams' best scoring chance came after recovering a fumble 25 yards shy of the end zone early in the fourth quarter. But the Tribe defense stopped the Rams on three plays and David Henkel's 40-yard field goal attempt was wide.

"We just can't fail to take advantage of those opportunities," said Lake Mary head coach Doug Peters. "I have to hand it to their defense. They've been tough all year, and they were tough tonight. Our offense was shut down."

Ruffin ran for 77 yards on Seminole's next possession, scoring from four yards out. Two minutes later, he stopped a Lake Mary drive with an interception at the 1-yard line and sprinted the length of the field to bury the Rams.

Quarterback Clifton Branch also had an outstanding game for Seminole, running for 126 yards, Charlie Farmer (two interceptions) and Quentin Hunt led the Tribe defense.

Recolon Jumps had 85 yards rushing for Lake Mary, but he was a marked man. He needed 118 yards to reach 1,000 for the season, and Seminole wasn't about to let that happen.

"No running back has rushed for 100 yards on us all year," said McPherson. "Our goal was to not let Jumps get to 1,000."

'D' sparks Lion romp

OVIEDO — Keyed by an outstanding first-half defensive effort, the Oviedo Lions led 23-0 at halftime and sailed to a 29-7 homecoming win over the Lake Howell Silver Hawks Friday at John Courier Field.

"Coach (Greg) Register (defensive coordinator) called an excellent game," said Oviedo head coach Jack Blanton. "Our defense gave us some good opportunities."

Oviedo (6-4) will play Pottsville (Penn.) in the Rotary Bowl on Nov. 23 at Lyman High School.

Two short Lake Howell punts set up Oviedo's first two scores, a 1-yard run by Brion King and Kellan Eslich's 30-yard field goal.

Spencer Munns' fumble recovery led to Mike Giummo's 6-yard scoring run while Zach Daugherty's interception set up William Jennings' 1-yard touchdown dive.

Giummo also scored on a 15-yard run in the third quarter.

Brad Butterfield threw a 19-yard pass to Ellis DeJesus for Lake Howell's score.

Having netted just two yards on his first five carries Friday night, Lake Brantley tailback Dell McGee finally broke loose in the fourth quarter for a 28-yard touchdown run. McGee's score was one of three Patriot touchdowns in the fourth quarter that turned a 14-12 nail-biter into a 34-12 rout of the Lyman Greyhounds.

Patriots grind out homecoming win

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Trapped by the demands of next week's playoff game, the emotions of homecoming, and an uncooperative Lyman Greyhound team, the Lake Brantley Patriots scrapped cleverness for simplicity and ground out a 34-12 win Friday night at Tom Storey Field.

"We tried to get cute in the first half and it didn't work," said Lake Brantley coach Fred Almon. "Then we tried to do some things in the third quarter and they didn't work. Finally, we just went to our basic offense in the fourth quarter."

That meant hammering fullback Heath Ritnour inside, tailback Dell McGee going outside, and quarterback Dee Brown running the option. Each had a touchdown in the final period.

With their homecoming out of the way, the Patriots (9-1) can now concentrate on next week's playoff game at Jacksonville-Sandalwood.

"We tried to keep the kids from looking ahead, but it's tough," admitted Almon.

The Greyhounds were in no mood to play sacrificial lambs for the Patriots. After Brown scored on a 13-yard run in the first quarter, Tommy Dixon tossed a 14-yard scoring pass to Toby Morris in the second quarter.

In the third quarter, Brown rushed four yards for a touchdown. Dixon matched that with a 1-yard touchdown dive five seconds into the final period. The only difference at that point was John Berardi's extra-point kicks.

"We didn't want to go out with a loss," said Lyman coach Larry Baker. "We had our chances, but we didn't take advantage of them."

Bateman, Frey both sprint to pair of state swim titles

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO — Lake Brantley's Melissa Bateman and Lyman's Joel Frey each won two state titles at the Class 6A state championship meet Friday.

Bateman won the 50 (23.90 seconds) and 100 freestyles (51.71) as well as swam the lead for the Patriots' state champion 200 (1:37.91) and 400 (3:35.18) freestyle relays as Lake Brantley took second behind Dr. Phillips (2:11-199).

Ek duplicated Bateman's efforts, winning the 50 (21.25) and 100 (46.66) freestyles for the Greyhounds, who tied for sixth (136).

Also scoring for the Patriot girls were Jenny DeLoach (second, 50 free, 24.24, and third, 100 free, 52.94), Brandy Oglesby (fifth, diving, 426.55), Kristi Duncan (13th, 200 free, 1:59.67), and the 200 medley relay (fifth, 1:55.54).

Also swimming on the relays were DeLoach,

Beth Sprinkle, Duncan, and Kristen Satterthwait. For the 10th place Lake Mary girls (81), Jennifer Alger was fourth in the 200 individual medley (2:10.86); Megan Paget-Wilkes placed seventh in the 200 freestyle (1:56.88); Becca Simmons took 12th in diving (355.60); and the 400 freestyle relay was fifth 400 free (3:44.00). Jennifer Malecki came in sixth in diving (4:20.20) while Jessica Cross was 11th in the 500 freestyle (5:20.60) and 15th in the 200 freestyle (2:00.41) for the Lake Howell girls (30th, 21).

Scoring for Oviedo (34th, 15) was Vicki Barnes (fifth in the 100 backstroke, 1:00.31, and 16th in the 200 individual medley, 2:17.75)

The Lyman boys also received contributions from Brad Geary (fourth in the 50 free, 21.59, and 13th in the 100 breaststroke, 1:02.72); Brian Katauskas (eighth in the 100 free, 49.21); the state-champion 200 freestyle relay (1:27.04); and the sixth-place 400 freestyle relay (3:16.34).

Joe Capelli was fifth in the 50 free (21.80) and eighth in the 100 butterfly (52.65) for the Lake Brantley boys (12th, 76). Also scoring were Brian Tomlinson (11th, 500 free, 4:54.23); Greg Seyler (12th, 100 breaststroke, 1:02.28); the 200 medley relay (sixth, 1:40.78); and the 400 freest relay (10th, 3:20.49).

For Oviedo (19th, 36), Gabe Lindsey was sixth in both the 200 IM (1:58.75) and 500 free (4:43.97); Mike Burton finished 10th in the 500 free (4:49.74); RJ Szele placed 14th in the 500 free (5:01.37); and Jim Bandazewski came in 14th in the 100 breaststroke (1:02.99).

Doing the scoring for Lake Howell (tied for 37th, 6) was Matt Horner (13th, 100 backstroke, 57.27, and 15th, 200 IM, 1:04.67).

FWF founded to aid FGFWFC

Florida's wildlife has a new ally. The Florida Wildlife Foundation was created recently to assist in, and enhance, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (FGFWFC) in stewardship of Florida's fish and wildlife.

The Legislature authorized the commission to establish nonprofit citizen support organizations to provide assistance, funding, and promotional support for commission programs.

The foundation filed articles of incorporation and bylaws with the Florida Department of State Oct. 12 to begin filling that role.

President of the new foundation is William G. Bostick Jr. of Auburndale, vice president is Kate Ireland of Tallahassee, and secretary/treasurer is GFC executive director Dr. Allan L. Egbert, also of Tallahassee.

Other board of directors members are William N. Blake of Lutz, Col. Robert M. Bremer of Tallahassee, Linda M. Bremer of Jacksonville, George G. Matthews of West Palm Beach, Dr. C. Tom Rainey of Miami, and the organization's registered agent, L. Ross Morrell of Tallahassee.

or money orders to Florida Wildlife Foundation, 620 South Meridian St., Tallahassee, FL 32399-1600.

FISHING FORECAST

Heavy fishing in the river is almost impossible due to record high water. Fish local lakes, where the bass have clearly defined boundaries for the best action.

Snook action at Sebastian Inlet will continue to be good until the first strong cold snap. Flounder, redfish, bluefish, jack crevalle, and ladyfish will be mixed in for good measure. Top baits are finger mullet and large live shrimp. One-ounce jigs continue to be the best artificial.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral has little to report in the way of offshore action due to high ground seas. The ocean is dirty, and fishing will be tough and go for several months.

Inside the Port, snook, flounder, and sheepshead are biting regularly. Snook are hitting at night around the jetties. Trout and flatfish are rated as good on the flats of the Banana and Indian rivers.

Bergman tosses a triple double

Special to the Herald

SANFORD — To say that Marvin Bergman was on target for M.T. Muggs in his Playtime Darts League match last week would be something of an understatement.

Bergman filled the Black Hole with three double bulls, earning honors as the week's top Hot Shot.

The other five men on the Hot Shot list each had five wins. They were Vance Makrana of Quivers (three bulls, a 5-mark, two 6-marks, and a low ton), Bamboo Cafe's Scott Geesaman (two bulls, six 5-marks, two 6-marks, two low tons), Richard Redmond from Nice & Easy (two bulls, a 5-mark, one low ton), the Touchdown Pub's Danny Demorse is a 5-mark, a 6-mark, one low ton, and a white horse), and David Walls from the Touchdown Pub (four low tons).

Women earning Hot Shot laurels last week were Donna Walls of the Touchdown Pub (five wins, a bull, a 6-mark), Nice & Easy's Kelli Clemente and Karen Chaniet from Uncle Nick's (two each had five wins, a 5-mark, a 6-mark, and two low tons), and Nice & Easy's Penny Pavelchak (4 1/2 wins, one bull, a 5-mark, three 6-marks).

Nice & Easy's Dad Attitudes (112 wins) has wrapped up the regular season championship and will go into the playoffs as the No. 1 seed.

Also in the playoffs are Team No. 2 (103) from Nice & Easy, Bamboo Cafe's Bamboo Baboons (94), and Team No. 3 out of Quivers (91).

Uncle Nick's Playtime Pounders (87) were a close fifth.

Father & Sons out of the Bamboo Cafe finished the season with 133 victories, 14 more than any team in any of the five divisions. Nice & Easy's Silver Bullets (117) were a distant second.

Holding the Nos. 3 and 4 seeds in the playoffs are the Touchdown Pub's T.D. Cannibals (111) and the Bombers from the Bamboo Cafe (108).

Completing the loop are Whiskey River's Lost

Vikings (105), Team No. 9 from Quivers (97); M.T. Muggs' Muggs Miffits (91); the Young Guns out of the Touchdown Pub (89); Whiskey River's Bootleggers (83); the Bad Boys from the Touchdown Pub (76); Quivers Team No. 13 (74); Tallights from Quivers (71); and the Touchdown Pub's Twenty Eight (60).

MIXED A LEAGUE
Bamboo Cafe entries Team No. 3 (118 wins) and Team No. 4 (106) claimed first and second place in the final regular season standings and will host their first round playoff matches.

Making the playoffs as the third and fourth seeds are Ron's Kids from Uncle Nick's (97) and the Touchdown Pub's Team No. 2 (94).

Rounding out the standings are Nice & Easy squads Team No. 1 (71) and Bill's Babes (59).

MIXED B LEAGUE
Two Bamboo Cafe teams — You Never Know (119 wins) and Team No. 4 (110) — also earned the top two positions in this 10-team circuit and will host the first round of the playoffs.

Completing the playoff brackets are M.T. Pockets from M.T. Muggs (109) and Nice & Easy's 4 Easy Pieces (103).

Trailing the leaders are M.T. Muggs' Mugg Shots (101); Madhatters II from Q-Biz (92); Quivers B & B (83); Team No. 10 out of the Touchdown Pub (77); Nice & Easy's Kickers (74); and 4 Me from Quivers (59).

LADIES' B LEAGUE
With one week left in the regular season, M.T. Minds out of M.T. Muggs (111 wins) has a fairly strong hold on first place.

But behind them, Bamboo's Bedacious Babes from the Bamboo Cafe are tied for second at 103 wins with Uncle Nick's Amazing Chicka. Tied for fourth (and the final playoff berth) with 95 wins each are Whiskey River's Kountry Kickers and the Hilton Hoos from Nice & Easy.

Rounding out the standings are Nice & Easy's NBC (74); One Hole Away from the Touchdown Lounge (68); and the Touchdown Pub-based Team No. 3 (63).

IN BRIEF

Sears honors Longwood firm

LONGWOOD — Sears has recognized Spray-Tech, Inc., of Longwood, as one of ten authorized contractors across the nation that has provided superior customer satisfaction on installed home improvements during the second quarter of 1994.

Spray-Tech, Inc., provides siding, exterior coating and replacement windows under the Sears name.

Spray Tech was honored during an awards dinner at Sears headquarters in Hoffman Estates, Ill., and awarded a gold medal for its performance.

According to Denise Woods, manager of licensee relations and quality for Sears Home Improvements Products and Services, the awards recognize the contribution that authorized contractors make toward the Sears goal of "total customer satisfaction."

Only one other company in the entire state of Florida, a West Palm Beach manufacturer of alarm systems, was cited during the awards presentation. It also received the Gold medal award as did Spray-Tech.

Three companies received silver medals and four were given bronze medals.

According to Charles Beck, Sears divisional vice president for home improvement products, "The kind of contractors we want to partner with are those driven by customers' needs, those that try to delight customers and prevent problems before they occur. Spray-Tech, Inc. exemplifies these values."

Credit professionals to meet

WINTER PARK — The regular monthly dinner meeting of Credit Professionals of Orlando will be Thursday, Nov. 17, at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park. Cost for the event, beginning at 6:30 p.m. is $15. All persons working in credit and/or collections are welcome.

Meanwhile, Seminole County resident Thelma Curd, vice president, Dealer Financial Services of Barnett Bank, has been named Credit Professional of the Year for the Orlando Chapter of the Credit Professionals International. The announcement was made during the state conference recently in Ocala.

For information on the organization, phone Lynda Drayer, at 658-3492.

Tires ain't pretty, Sobik's is.

WINTER PARK — SHK Franchise Systems, the exclusive franchise corporation for Sobik's restaurants, has announced the corporation plans to grow from its current 44 independently-owned restaurants, to nearly 250 units in the next 24 to 36 months.

The expansion plans were announced during a press conference Wednesday in Winter Park. At the same time, it was also announced that Sobik's has hired Sam Behr to its advertising team. Behr is best known for his 17-year long association with Allied Tires, as the "Tires Ain't Pretty" TV spokesman.

Behr commented, "I am excited about working with the folks at Sobik's and can't wait to tell the people about Sobik's Subs."

Included in the over 200 new Sobik's restaurants are 40 new establishments in the five-county Central Florida area.

Seminole chamber

CASSELBERRY — The Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly membership luncheon this coming Friday, Nov. 18, from 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Alaqu Country Club.

Guest speaker will be Chris Qualmann, chairman of the Florida Entertainment Commission, who will speak on the current state of the Florida entertainment industry.

Cost for the luncheon is $15 for members, $20 for guests. The event is sponsored by Barnett Bank.

For additional information, phone the chamber office at 834-4404.

Sanford chamber

SANFORD — Tom Olsen, Attorney at Law, heard each Sunday on WDBO radio, will be the special guest speaker Tuesday, Nov. 15 at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce building, during a special workshop on estate preservation.

For information or registration, phone 1-800-881-0336 or 875-0887.

New business

SANFORD — Pro Model Engineering, Inc., has purchased Lot 6 of the Midway Commerce Park, located in Sanford, for $69,500. Jim Duke of Duke Properties negotiated the transaction on behalf of the owner, Midway Commerce Park, a Florida General Partnership.

Duke Properties is located at 2400 Maitland Center Parkway, Maitland.

LAKE MARY — Joy's Dart Shop, 3575 W. Lake Mary Blvd., held a grand re-opening yesterday. It is owned by Joy and Ray Bush.

Although the business has been in operation since November of 1992, it is now in a new location. Joy commented, "Last Thanksgiving, we moved across the driveway, to a much needed larger suite."

She explained, "Many people think a dart is a dart, but the dart that may work the best for you may or may not work the best for me."

She said she and her husband love darts and the people who play darts. "Even after we close our business for the day," she said, "we go out to shoot darts about five nights a week. We are now in the process of starting a Saturday morning dart league at Cheers Restaurant. It will be for youngsters ages 10 to 18."

In addition to helping his wife with the dart shop, Ray also has a separate business. "All Seasons Lawn Service." "When he gets done each day," Joy said, "he comes into the store to help me so I can get other things done. It's not easy to get everything accomplished when you are open seven days a week from 10 a.m. until 5:30 p.m."

Erie Francisco works in the store occasionally, and also gives dart lessons.

Joy says darts is popular because it is probably the least expensive sport both to start and maintain. She says it's not only a fun competition, but a way to meet people.

She adds that many people are having dart boards in their own homes these days. "It's getting people off the couch and away from the TV," she said. "Husbands can compete against wives. The kids can play against their parents instead of everyone just heading for separate rooms in the home to watch TV."

She also suggests darts is an ideal way to bring neighborhoods together with competition easy to set up among families or individuals, and relatively inexpensive equipment needed.

Start-up sets are priced as low as $10, with complete sets for home use at $25 and up.

Hallmark Builders wins top award

Diamond Builder Award presented to Longwood firm

By NICK PFEIPAUF
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — 2110 Home Buyers Warranty (HBW), headquartered in Pompano Beach, has announced that Hallmark Builders of Longwood, has been given the prestigious Diamond Builder Award. Ben Harwell, HBW's vice president of New Home Marketing presented the award recently at Hallmark's main offices in Longwood.

Harwell said the award is bestowed only on builders who have a proven reputation for superior construction quality and outstanding customer service. The award is HBW's highest recognition. Of the 10,000 builders enrolled in the program, only 36 have been named Diamond Builders to date.

"Hallmark Builders is well deserving of this award," said Harwell. "Their knowledgeable staff is geared toward excellence and customer satisfaction."

Harwell added that Hallmark, "successfully responds to buyer demands while maintaining construction integrity."

Hallmark Builders was founded in 1975 by Ronald D. Nutt, who still privately owns the company. He recently became Chief Executive Officer, and promoted John R. Conner to the post of President.

as one of the best years for the company. Hallmark closed on 380 homes at year end, and boasted a sales volume of $35,134,000. The firm is ranked as the 11th largest builder in Central Florida.

Hallmark is currently constructing homes in 14 Central Florida locations and eight East Coast areas, including Parral Oaks in Sanford.

No question about it, Central Florida is growing

By NICK PFEIPAUF
Herald Staff Writer

How fast is the Central Florida population growing? A look at some recently released statistics say we could be increasing in numbers by seven and a half people per hour, 24-hours per day.

If the influx of new businesses, starts of homes in residential communities and continuing area development is any indication, recent statistics compiled by Fishkind & Associates, and released by the Florida Retail Federation (FRF), proves the growth beyond question.

According to new figures, in the past decade, (1983-1993), the six county area of Seminole, Orange, Volusia, Lake, Osceola and Brevard Counties, (District 6) has grown by 637,000 new residents, a 44 percent increase, bringing the population to approximately 2.2 million by 1993.

If the growth figures are not startling enough by themselves, consider simple division which shows the five county area is growing at an average of 180 persons per day. Dividing even more, it amounts to 7.5 per hour.

Now the growth in this area becomes more apparent. Then, add the consideration of where these people are living. The homebuilders of this five county area in Central Florida have constructed enough facilities to handle this 180 new people per day.

The FRF figures show other points which may tend to be surprising. In the past 10 years, with this influx of new people, retail stores in the five county area have increased by 45 percent reaching 11,180 in the region.

At the same time, retail employment expanded 55 percent to 186,049, and retail wages paid in the region now exceed $2.4 billion annually, an increase of 104 percent from 1983.

Of the six counties, Orange is the center of tourist related activity, and as a result, accounts for almost half of the new retail activity, and helps boost the area above most other districts in population and retail business growth.

Chorus rates 13th in world Fashion show coming, brides in limelight

The Sound of Sunshine Chorus of Sweet Adelines, 111 strong, ventured to Reno to sing in the 49th Annual Sweet Adeline International Competition of quartets and choruses from seven countries. The sensational singers came in 13th in the world — quite an incredible accomplishment for the talented Floridians.

According to Florence Korgan, the chorus soared into Reno on a wing and a prayer. Florence said the highest winds in 50 years played havoc with their plane as the pilot was instructed to keep circling due to a small plane accident on the ground which created an emergency situation.

Finally, Florence said, "The plane landed safely after dodging mountains with wings dipping." She added, that in grateful appreciation, the women sang "Amazing Grace" in four-part harmony and applauded the pilot.

On with the show! The chorus rehearsed the competition package, under the direction of Nancy Lewis, many times during the week and enjoyed a pep rally and a brunch.

For their knockout number, each chorister was brilliantly costumed in a teal satin, cocktail-length dress accented with a black fringe overlay showered with iridescents, black stockings and matching black satin slippers.

As the snazzy songbirds saashayed on stage, the audience of 10,000 applauded vigorously and Florence said their inner voices seemed to say, "You ain't heard nothing yet!"

Florence concluded, "The chorus left Reno on Sunday and headed home to beautiful sunny Florida and that great 80-degree temperature — to never complain about the Florida humidity since Reno was extremely dry."

The Sound of Sunshine Chorus will soon begin rehearsing for the upcoming shows at Disney World the first two weekends in December. They will perform three shows per night on Dec. 2, 3, 11, 12 and a finale performance on Dec. 15.

Crooms alumni take dream trip; Glitzy Gala elegant benefit

Extraordinary. That describes the four day weekend planned by Sherilyn Jackson Brinson, coordinator, and Thomas Wilson III, host of the grand weekend held in Phoenix. The Crooms High School Class of 1963/Crooms Academy Alumni departed Friday, Oct. 28 via America West Airline non-stop jet to be the guest of former Sanfordite Thomas (Tommy) Wilson, III.

The Extraordinary weekend of fun, sightseeing, shopping, and renewing old friendships, and attending the 10th Annual Surf and Turf Picnic, sponsored by Dynamic Program Planning, Inc., Mr. Wilson, executive director. The flight departed Orlando International with the most efficient Aviation Technician Investigator, former Crooms graduate Jessie Barrington, Jr. joining the pilots in the cockpit to assure a safe arrival in Phoenix. The flight arrived on time and host Wilson met the fun-filled excited guests at the airport; he greeted everyone with a big hug, and then the surprise of the trip was when he greeted the last guest, and yes it was his Aunt Eunice I. Wilson, who had off to be the surprise of this extraordinary weekend. What an emotional moment was shared by all.

After gathering our luggage, we were shuttled by the most pleasant, tour-guide and chauffeur four Virgle Turman, our no-one man of the weekend. We checked in at the hotel and prepared to invade the nearest shopping mall.

Friday evening began our weekend of entertainment. We were honored at a Welcome Reception given at the William H. Patterson Elks Lodge-Phoenix. The Extraordinary Crooms High School Alumni, dressed in African attire, accented the evening, especially planned by host, Tom, for the guests. The evening of fun, food, and the latest dances lasted into the morning hours.

Saturday, Oct. 29, the shuttle arrived at 11 A.M. to take the Extraordinary Weekenders to the 10th Annual Surf and Turf Picnic. The group, attired in bright orange and maroon Crooms Academy Crooms High School tee-shirts descended in full force upon the Esteban Park. Yes, those bright colors were seen all over the park throughout the afternoon set. The excitement progressed during the day as other guests from around the United States gathered. There were former Crooms graduates who live in Arizona, California, New York, and the State of Washington.

Guests dined on the famous ribs, chicken, fish, salad and baked beans prepared by Dr. Thomas Wilson, III, Ph.D., Bar-B-Queologist. Music lovers enjoyed the music of the great D.J. Calvin with the latest sounds, local hits, jazz and music of choice. After a brief refresher and relaxation period, the Saturday Phase Two got on the way at the Elks Club and later moved to the Sportsman's Social Club. Down home music was featured and fun continued.

Sunday, Oct. 30, the morning saw the eager Sanfordites gather for breakfast and some special prayer moments and give thanks for our many blessings, before we returned to our suites to get dressed for the worship service of the morning, held with the Greater Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church, where our host, an ardent member.

The spirit of worship and thankfulness was shown on the faces and expressed in the words of praise, song and prayers. Mr. Wilson introduced each guest by name, and the Crooms' alumni ascended the choir stand to render the old-spiritual, "The way we used to have church in my home town". This selection was under the musical direction of Sherilyn J. Brinson, and led by Evangelist Mary Stringer Harkness. The spirit was indeed still in the house of worship, as See Hawkins, 6B

ENGAGEMENT

Oglesby-Welborn

SANFORD — Mr. and Mrs. Delmuse R. Oglesby, 401 1/2 Holly Ave., Sanford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Angela Faye, to William Layton Welborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Welborn, 1814 S. Mellonville Ave., Sanford.

Born in Sanford, the bride-elect is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. Martha C. Euga, DeBary, and the paternal granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Oglesby, 908 Maple Ave., Sanford.

She is a 1993 graduate of Seminole High School and is employed as a teacher at The Kid's Corner in Sanford.

Her fiancé, born in Lake Wales, is the maternal grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Edwards, Lake Wales, and the paternal grandson of Mrs. Elizabeth P. Welborn, Lake Wales.

Welborn is a 1992 graduate of Seminole High School where he was on the football

Evangelist Harkness led the congregation in the altar call. The spirit-filled worshippers were led to the throne of grace as Evangelist Harkness petitioned the father for his children.

There was a dry eye, after the prayer and song "Sweet Sweet Spirit" was sung by soloist Sheralyn Jackson Brinson. The Lord was indeed in this house.

The message of the morning was delivered by Pastor Arnold C. Gulley theme "One Power-Power through Jesus Christ". Let us remember through Christ there is real power; we can demand justice if we live right; if we do his will. His love is our gift.

We must walk right together and God's power keeps us on the right path. A worship service to be remembered which can be stored in our hearts and minds.

The afternoon was spent sightseeing in Phoenix and other famous sights and the University of Arizona, and, yes, shopping again. After the dinner meal we returned to the hotel for some much needed R and R Rest and Relaxation. As you know, the state is a two hour time different from Florida.

Monday, Oct. 31, breakfast, fellowship and thanks for a well-planned, joyful memory-filled extraordinary weekend, never to be forgotten. Crooms' classmates of 1963 and other years said their good-byes. New friends talked of the lasting friendships made and of the best weekend planned by the Coordinator, Sheralyn, Tom, and the staff and friends that he has in this great city of Phoenix. Our finance director, Freddie Harrington, cleared all financial debts and declared that we were prepared to return to Florida after a very extraordinary weekend.

The former Sanfordites living in the Arizona and California area and attending the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson and children, Anglie and Juan, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pringle, Jr., Lillie Pearl DeBose, Janie Redden, Doris Paige, Katrinka Jackson, Rachael Mack, California residents were Gladys Wright Ford, Ora Mae Butler, Patricia Graham, Fannie Jackson Brooks, Seattle, Washington; Harriett Walden, Rochester, New York; Anna D. Harold Robinson, Sanfordites attending were Ora Harrison Alexander, Levarne Manley Black, Pamela Walker Byrd, Janice McGriff Braker, Dorothy Taylor Bradley and daughter, Dorenga Webster, Loretha Benjamin Carpenter, Lorena Polk, Mary Stringer Harkness, Freddie Harrington, Jessie Barrington, Eunice I. Wilson, and Sheralyn Jackson Brinson. Special kudos go to Tom, James Hubbie, Virgil Turman, D.J. Music Man, the Elks, Sportsman Club and to the many friends we met while in Phoenix.

Gala benefits leadership team

Glitzy Gala was an elegant affair held on Saturday evening, Nov. 5, at the Lake Forest Clubhouse, hosted by the Educators, Eugene and Sandra Petty. This gala event was a benefit given on behalf of the United Negro College Fund Leadership Team. Guests began arriving at 8 p.m. dressed in their cocktail and evening attire.

The guests were entertained by the Young Performers of Tajiri Arts, Sheena Britton, Terrance Fisher, Samuel Lewis, YaRhonda Long, Terry McKinney, Toya McKinney, Monica Thomas and Mary Owens. Music was by Cynthia Wilson-Felder's "New Songs of Zion" CD. The group featured excerpts from Langston Hughes "Freedom Plow" and "America Listen" written by local poet, Valada Flewellyn, featuring Kim Hudson, a Seminole High Senior. Patricia M. Whatley is Director of the Tajiri Arts Performers. The guests for the evening were further entertained by Gospel Acts Ronald and Ingrid who graced the guests with many spiritual selections; the Nathans were featured Saxophone and Keyboard artist.

The evening of special artists continued with soloist and renowned artist, Cynthia Cassanova Brown, accompanied by E. Dale Stafford on the keyboard as the melodious voice of Ms. Brown filled the room as she gave renditions well loved by the listening guests. The evening of very talented artists was come to a close after the readings of the local new poet "Lightfoote". We will be hearing more of this new artist who is becoming a great writer, poet.

The chairwoman, Kitty J. Ellison, 1994-95 United Negro College Fund, made an appeal to the guests who gave sizeable donations and pledges for the 1994-95 Campaign. She introduced the Leadership Team, and reminded us that the local goal of the UNCF Telethon Campaign is one hundred thousand dollars. A contribution or pledge of a minimum of twenty-five dollars would symbolize your commitment to the nation attention on education, especially focus on the needs of minority and disadvantaged students who wish to attend college.

For 50 years UNCF has helped educate young people who might not otherwise receive an education. With your contributions generated by the telethon and other special efforts, such as the Glitzy Gala hosted by the Petty's help to generate the finances to help assist college students. The colleges who benefit from the fund in Florida are Bethune Cookman College, Daytona Beach, Edward Waters College, Jacksonville, and Florida Memorial College, Miami. Be a donor by helping our colleges pass on to generations of students, the tools to build a better future. ### Reading together

To encourage families to read together, Goldsboro Elementary is holding a "Reading is A Family Affair" evening on Tuesday, Nov. 15, 6:30-8:30 p.m. This function is being planned cooperatively by the School Advisory Committee, PTA, and staff of Goldsboro, along with Dr. Rita Buchoff, University of Central Florida. Parents and students are invited to participate in various activities to promote reading.

Students from Dr. Buchoff's Children's Literature courses will present stories throughout the evening. Ms. Ualada Flewellyn, popular local storyteller, will entertain. Goldsboro's Chapter Reading Lab will be open for all to experience. Door prizes, gifts, and refreshments have been donated by many local merchants.

Luncheon, gadgets honor Nancy

Bridal parties are going strong for Nancy Terwilliger, Dec. 3 bride-elect of Noy Rivers.

One of the early events was a luncheon and gadget shower given by Dottie Bolton, Sylvia Caraway and Sheralynn Powell, daughters of Mrs. Robert (Dottie) Williams. Site of the lovely event was Sylvia's newly redecorated home in Altamonte Springs. Sylvia and her husband, John, lived for awhile in Egypt and have a room in their home decorated with unique Egyptian artifacts.

For the occasion, Nancy wore a two-piece azure blue beaded dress enhanced with a corsage of white roses, a gift from the hostesses.

Lunch was served on tables covered with fine linens, china, crystal and silver. Each table was delightfully different. The head table was centered with an arrangement of purple iris, golden roses, and winter white baby's breath in keeping with the bride's colors of purple, gold and winter white.

Guests were served an appetizing luncheon of party chicken, strawberry-banana mold, garden vegetables and miniature crescent rolls.

After lunch, the bride-elect opened her manu useful gadget gifts. The hostesses presented her with an electric can opener.

After the gift opening, the guests returned to their tables where they were served tempting dessert goodies, made by Audrey Williams, sister-in-law of the hostesses and wife of their brother, Dr. Bob Williams of Sanford.

A Victorian tea honors Ashley

Ashley Schanel has been in the limelight lately as pretty pre-nuptial parties have been given in her honor. On Oct. 29, Ashley was the guest of honor at a Victorian Tea Luncheon at the Rose Cottage Tea Room in Sanford where a mother daughter motif was carried out.

Luncheon hostesses were Kristi Meriwether, maid of honor, and lifelong "best friend" of the honor guest since preschool, and her mother, Vicki Meriwether.

Guests were served a variety of dainty Victorian fare including assorted finger sandwiches, scones with Devonshire cream and strawberry preserves, confectioneries and raspberry royal tea.

After lunch, Ashley opened her gifts while Kristi registered them in the bride's album. Cindi Meriwether made a paper plate bow arrangement for use at the wedding rehearsal.

Others attending were: Myra Schanel, the bride's mother; Maryed Meeks, the bride's maternal grandmother; Jenni Meriwether, Rose and Elizabeth Long, Joan and Maureen Quinn, Helen Meriwether, and Judy and Melinda Wimbish, all of Sanford.

Also Judy Grimshaw, mother of the bridegroom, and Ann Donovan, bridesmaid, Palm Harbor; Samantha Parker, bridesmaid, Orlando; Mandy and Molly Meeks, St. Augustine; Tina Bojanowski, Lake Mary; and Valerie and Leslie Davis, Geneva.

She has 'wedding magic'

Pat Montes of Always a bridesmaid will be demonstrating her bridesmaid dresses at a bridal seminar today, from 2 to 5 p.m., at the Hyatt Orlando. She joins 11 other local experts in presenting "Wedding Magic."

Pat has operated her business from her Sanford home for about two years. She started the business when her four daughters became bridesmaids. The basic dresses are designed with pieces that can be removed for later wear.

Rowell addresses Rotary

The Sanford Rotary Club was privileged to hear Dr. Patricia Powell speak at the Nov. 7 meeting. Well-known in the Sanford community, Patricia talked about the leadership program sponsored by Seminole Community College where she is director of Professional and Economic Development.

The speaker told the Rotarians that the one-year course teaches leaders about various problems and the potential of Seminole County.

Home from Carolina

Kay Bartholomew and Lourine Messenger have returned from North Carolina where they observed Mother Nature hard at work artistically changing the colors of the autumn leaves.

While in Carolina the duo visited and spent the night with Bonnie Schumacher who is in the restaurant business at Cashiers. They had a good time, report Bonnie is doing fine and the food at the restaurant is "very good," according to Kay.

ESO meets Wednesday

The November meeting of Epsilon Sigma Omicron, a reading society of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at 10 a.m.

Richard Gardner, manager of the of the Sanford Branch of the Seminole County public Library, will speak on library services. For information, call Kathy Krasnoff, 321-5526.
