By HILL ROSS (For Hal Boyle)

A U. S. AIR BASE, Korea (TP)— Let the wounded tell you about the fighting in Korea.

You are on the steel-matted runway of this new airstrip, standing under the wings of a twin-engine C-47 transport plane.

Five other C-47s are on the field and over there is a four-engine C-54 with a familiar name on its nose.

Wounded are under the wings of all these evacuation ships, waiting for their stretchers to be lifted aboard for flights to Japan, less than an hour away.

Senate Fights Over Changes In Commie Bill

Concentration Camp Amendment Voted Down By 37 To 35; Lucas Plan Blocked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Senate today refused, 37 to 35, to tack a "concentration camp" amendment on the McCarran anti-Communist bill.

Earlier the Senate had voted down, 45 to 29, a move to substitute a provision to intern Communists in time of war for a Communist registration section of the McCarran bill.

Both moves were made by Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois.

Lucas told the Senate that if it wanted a "real security" bill it should take the amendments.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) shouted that the concentration camp idea was "unconstitutional, un-American and the first blueprint for dictatorship."

The amendment would have given the Attorney General power to put into concentration camps persons who were Communists on Jan. 1, 1949, or thereafter, but only under specific conditions.

Mr. Truman has announced he will veto the bill, sponsored by Senator McCarran (D-New), if it reaches the White House in its present form.

The Senate also added to the McCarran bill a provision banning the picketing of federal courts.

The bill itself will be voted on later in the day with both passage and a presidential veto regarded as certain.

Meanwhile the Senate Appropriations Committee approved a $27,212,000 fund to build up a "defense of America" counter-attack against Russia's Communist propaganda.

The amount voted by the committee is $27,212,000.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Stephen Early resigned today as Deputy Secretary of Defense.

President Truman accepted the resignation effective Sept. 30, saying he did not believe that the White House said Early had been trying to quit since he completed the one year of duty he agreed to serve when he accepted the appointment May, 1949. He is to return to his post as a vice president of Pullman, Inc.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, who announced Early's action, declined again to comment on a report by a highly placed presidential adviser that Secretary of Defense Johnson is on his way out of the cabinet.

Asked whether Johnson is planning to resign, Ross said that he was "not a mind reader." Pressed further, Ross said "I have no information to give you on that point."

Johnson has been under fire in Congress and elsewhere in connection with the Korean war situation. His critics have contended he did not have the defense establishment in proper shape. President Truman has stood by the Secretary consistently, however.

Early was called back into government service last year to serve in the second ranking defense post in connection with the appointment of Johnson as Secretary of Defense.

Early is now 51 years old, for 13 years was the White House press secretary and a close adviser to the late President Roosevelt.

Although criticism against Johnson had mounted during recent months, none of it seemed to have been directed at Early. Those close to him found he took pains to remain out of the controversies involving Johnson as much as possible. For that reason, they said they saw no connection between Early's resignation and the persistent reports that Johnson was on the way out. They asserted that Early's reasons for resignation were entirely personal.

A native of Crozet, Va., Early is a grandson of the famous Confederate general, Jubal Early.

Shenker Indicates He Will Turn Down Democratic Party Position

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Morris A. Shenker, of St. Louis turned down today an opportunity to serve on the Democratic National Finance Committee. Shenker has appeared as a lawyer for his clients before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. He said he was refusing to accept the position because of any activities which may interfere with his duty to his client.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Morris A. Shenker, St. Louis attorney for persons involved in a Senate gambling investigation, indicated today he may take a senator's suggestion to stay clear of a Democratic committee post to avoid embarrassing the party.

The invitation to Shenker to resign as a member of the Democratic National Finance Committee (headed by Chairman Kefauver) came from the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

"How can I resign from something I never accepted?" Shenker replied from Jefferson City, Mo. He declined further comment but said he would have a statement later. There were indications he would turn down the position, to which he was named last Friday by Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr.

Denying any connection with gamblers, Shenker said he never associated political activities with the practice of law and "never solicited or accepted a political contribution from any of my clients."

Kefauver said in a statement last night "it will not set well with the public and certainly may be embarrassing to the Democratic Party for the attorney for principals whom the Senate Investigative Crime Committee is investigating in St. Louis to be represented by an official of the finance committee of the party."

At the same time, Kefauver said he sees no need to follow the suggestion of Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), a committee member, for an investigation of Shenker's appointment as a member of the Democratic fund-raising committee.

The blast was heard 10 miles away and shattered windows of houses within a two-mile radius of the plant.

Warren requested the five present members of the board, a former member, the superintendent and the former superintendent to attend the hearing.

He also asked several Cabinet members and other state and county officials to be present.

Contract Is Let For Construction Of City Stadium

$107,900 Bid Of Orlando Firm Okeyed; Finances Undecided

The contract for the construction of a municipal stadium on Mellowville Avenue north of the present ball park was awarded last night by the City Commission to the Jacco Corporation, general contractor of Orlando.

A bid of $107,900 for the construction of the steel, cantilever type grandstand was offered by the company. The bid for erection of portable bleachers was $5,100, said City Manager Clifford McKibbin this morning.

Commissioner W. H. Stempel opposed the project and suggested reconstruction of the present wooden stands.

Signing of contracts for the construction is awaiting the working out of financial details with banks. The Commission, said McKibbin, has not yet decided what to pledge toward the financing, for which the City will loan the money.

The contract for the furnishing of flood lighting material was awarded to the Graybar Electric Supply Co. of Orlando who had a bid of $17,229. The Ernest Waters Construction Co. of Daytona Beach received the contract to install all the lighting at a cost of $5,750. Completion of the stadium is within eight months after signing of contracts.

Reds Want To Tie Up UN Forces In Korea

BAITIMORE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Russia wants to tie up as much of the United Nations fighting strength in Korea as possible, so that the Soviets "would be free to commence the conquest of Europe," Senator Tydings (D-Md.) declared last night.

Therefore, "it is plain that the Russians have been urging Red China to join with the North Koreans in attacking the troops of the United States and other United Nations forces resisting aggression," he added in a campaign speech.

Tydings is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He said that if Communist China remains neutral "we shall have time to raise more men and more forces, whose existence will act as a deterrent upon Russia in any plans she may have to start another world conflagration."

SPANISH GENERAL HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Allied officials disclosed today that four high-ranking Spanish army officers had joined Atlantic Pact observers at troop maneuvers now going on here. ## Bevin Differs With U.S. On Foreign Policy

British Oppose Acheson's Plan For Rearming Germany; Support China Reds

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Big Three Western foreign ministers began a series of major strategy talks here today beamed at reinforcing the defenses of Western Europe against Russia and ironing out critically important problems of Germany's future.

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, arriving for critical western diplomatic talks, said today that Germany "must be brought back as a great nation." But he said the arming of German military units is not the way to accomplish that.

Bevin strongly indicated that he is presently opposed to Secretary of State Acheson's idea of forming German units as part of a Western European defense force. One of Bevin's top advisers, talking in greater detail, added that Britain does favor organization of a strong central West German police force to deal with Communist uprisings.

But this official, Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, Britain's high commissioner in Germany, said that the German people have a "passionate desire" to rearm. While he would not answer the question directly, he made clear that Britain has no strong wish to rearm them.

Kirkpatrick and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had proposed an increase in West Germany's police power of 20,000 to 25,000 men at present and an eventual increase by a total of 60,000. Kirkpatrick said he thought Adenauer's figures were "unreasonable."

Bevin, at an informal news conference on the lines Queen Mary, which docked this morning, said that "the defense of Europe (Continued on Page Two)

3 Separate Probes Are Started Into Train Disaster

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Three separate agencies launched investigations today into a tragic troop train wreck that claimed the lives of 33 persons, most believed to be soldiers.

And, less than 24 hours after the crash in a United States River near West Lafayette, the Ohio military district, and the National Guard.

The investigators want to know why the streamliner passed flares and crashed into the stalled troop train.

Two National Guard officers from the entire life of C. F. Sawyer and Lt. Col. R. J. Heasler arrived last night to conduct the Guard's investigation. The dead soldiers were Guardsmen.

The counter intelligence division of the Ohio military district began its investigation earlier, as did the railroad.

As the investigations proceed, the Army still was struggling to (Continued on Page Five)

Britain Pledges More Troops To Defend Germany

Attlee Outlines Step-up In Defense Work; New Austerity Laws

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee announced today Britain will send more troops to Germany as part of a vast defense buildup against Red aggression.

Opening an emergency session of Parliament, the Labor government leader also declared:

"250,000 workers will be channelled into arms production as part of a $10,000,000,000 defense program during the next three years."

New austerity measures—lower radios, cars and other luxuries—will be necessary because of the drain on Britain's economy.

The government is reviewing its controls over export of goods of potential war value to Russia and her satellites.

If necessary to keep the arms program going at top speed, the government will take over the production of scarce raw materials.

"We shall have rather more than three fully trained divisions in Germany," the Prime Minister said (Continued on Page Five)

Security Council Approves Report Despite Russia

Malik Insists U. S. Intervened In Korea Before UN Acted

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council approved its annual report to the General Assembly today. A threatened Soviet veto failed to materialize.

Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik had vigorously opposed any reference to the Korean conflict in the report and had argued it was unjust to the veto, but when the ballot came he withdrew. The vote was 10 to 0.

The action was taken at a closed-door meeting of the council, the 500th since the United Nations body first met in London in January, 1946.

Malik made only two protests. He said the report contained a "distorted" version of the report but did not say how that President Truman had ordered intervention in the Korean conflict three hours before the United Nations council meeting. He argued that the "U. S. action" of the Korean conflict also can be traced to the roughly 100 pages in the report, while opposing forces failed only five.

United States, U. S. representatives said his count showed 15 points in U. S. favor, representing more than twice as many as those which opposed it.

He also pointed out that the report said Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was included in the report, covering the subject of the supposed three-hour long lag in council action of the Truman ordered troops to Korea.

Informants said Malik told the other council members just before the meeting closed that he still considered all decisions of the council illegal between Jan. 13, when he began his boycott, and (Continued on Page Five)

Allied Planes Blast Fleeing Reds While Drive On Angang Is Renewed By U. S.

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—American First Cavalrymen stormed up hill through a swarming day-long barrage of Red Korean gunfire and it took won a peak commanding a main northern approach to Taegu.

The troops in battalion strength 1,000 won Hill 114 eight miles north of Taegu, at heavy cost.

They knew their job was to block what was officially called "the main thrust" to Taegu, north-west within of the Aped line.

The hill had been held by an outpost of some 40,000 Red Koreans, massed for a fresh assault upon the South Korean provision of a capital. Another outpost remained in a nearby peak.

Allied big guns and planes hurled a curtain of steel at the Reds before the assault.

Then the troops hit the slopes. They fought two-thirds of the distance in five bitter hours.

But the Reds, showing a barrage of artillery, mortar and machinegun fire from the two peaks, stalled the drive at that point throughout most of Tuesday afternoon.

They shells set fire to part of Chulok town, five miles north of Taegu.

The troops finally stormed the summit at nightfall and took it.

AP correspondent Jack McBeth, who was pinned behind a brick wall by Red gunfire for more than one hour, said capture of Hill 114 gave the Allies a strong right anchor commanding the Taegu-Taegu road.

General Walton H. Walker, speaking of the warfront generally, said Tuesday night "the contest is over."

The commander of Allied ground forces and the U.S. Eighth Army in Korea, said, however, in a brief statement that the enemy still held the initiative and was "capable of hitting us anywhere on our 125-mile perimeter." He concluded:

"I am now sure we can stop him."

The Reds were strong along a corridor between high peaks. The (Continued on Page Five)

State To Restore Welfare Benefits To Top Amounts

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Cabinet today released $150,000 to restore welfare benefits payments to their maximum amounts effective Oct. 1.

The additional release, which will give the Welfare Board 32.11 percent of its full 1950-51 appropriation, will not be actually needed until March, 1951.

However, the board said it will enable the agency to restore cuts made in old age and aid to filled payments in July. It will not repay amounts withheld from checks since then.

Four members a majority of the Cabinet also were expected to announce release of an additional $2,274,300 by Jan. 1 to place the public schools on a 100 percent release basis for the current fiscal year.

No final action was taken, however, because of the absence of Governor Warren, Attorney General Richard E. Vin and Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo.

School Supt. Thomas Bailey said "It's going to be desperate" if the funds are not made available by Jan. 1.

The $2,274,300 was advanced to the schools last year but was deducted from their first quarter release this year. The advance was made to permit counties to pay their outstanding debts.

Bailey said if the extra funds were released, it would not cover the schools more than 50 percent (Continued on Page Five)

Big Three

It is vital to the peace of the world and added that what was all the fuss going to say about matters such as to organize western defense forces, whether to arm Germany and the like.

At the end of the conference, however, a reporter told him there was talk in Washington that the only practical way to arm Germany is to integrate German military units into a unified military organization under the North Atlantic Treaty.

"I don't quite take that view," Bevin said. He declared that Germany must be brought back "into the family of nations" that the most to be sought is a great nation—but that the method of integrating German military forces into those of Western Europe is not the way to do it.

The restoration of Germany by the occupation powers has been going on for some time, Bevin said, and will require much more time.

Bevin also made clear he would not spell out British differences with United States policy over critical Far Eastern questions.

On Formosa, he said there are differences of opinion regarding its strategic importance, and that anyway he does not think it wise to try to decide matters entirely on the basis of strategy.

Diplomatic officials predicted, as the Big Three foreign policy chiefs gathered for their meeting, that differences of opinion over the issue of German armament would be largely ironed out.

Bevin arrived aboard the Canard liner Queen Mary and talked to reporters in the garden lounge of the vessel.

On the related question of China policy, Bevin was asked whether he believes Communist China can be brought to the side of the West in the conflict with the Soviet Union. He replied, "I can't believe China is completely gone," explaining that he thought the handling of relations with China was of vital importance to possible future influences on China's course.

Bevin said that in relation to Asian problems taken together he believed that "great caution and great wisdom are needed on the part of the West." He cited Britain's handling of India as an evidence of what can be accomplished by recognizing that the nations of Asia are emerging from a long colonial past.

At the outset of his conference, Bevin said that the greatest danger today is simultaneous Red uprisings in the Far East and in Europe at the same time. But he suggested that the vigorous Western reaction in Korea and the strengthening of Western Europe probably would discourage the Communist "fruits starting new troubles. At least," he said, the Reds must now determine whether the coronation is worth the price.

Bevin's principle, Bevin said, is to "do what we can do" in the to develop not just the power of Europe, but the power of all the Atlantic Pact countries and beyond that the unity and strength of the nations of the world which support the U.N. and oppose Russia's efforts to make it ineffective.

The world today is not in a more acute situation than when he was here a year ago, Bevin said. He added that he does not think that war is any more imminent now than it was then.

While the first formal session of the Big Three foreign ministers was set for 2 P.M., today, an American informant disclosed that discussions actually began when U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on French Foreign Minister Schuman at 11 A. M., and then went around to Bevin's headquarters at noon.

All three men and their principal advisers are in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

One top level authority, fully informed on Acheson's plans and ideas, as well as on preliminary negotiations which have taken place with the other countries, said that whatever subject may get initial attention the plan for organizing Europe's defenses under the North Atlantic Treaty undoubtedly will have top priority.

The American informant mentioned several other specific matters sure to come up for discussion in the three days of Big Three talks. They are:

1. Turkey's interest in gaining membership in the North Atlantic Treaty.

2. Revision of the German occupation statute with a view to ending the present state of war between the Western powers and the West German Republic.

3. United Nations problems coming up in the General Assembly meeting next week. The main issue here is how to strengthen the United Nations assembly so that it can deal quickly with any new Korea-type crisis if the Russians paralyze the Security Council with their veto.

4. Anything else the Big Three themselves want to talk about which will undoubtedly include reviews of Far Eastern issues, notably Communist China and Formosa.

ROD HITS CEREAL ROOTS
DAVIN, Calif. (AP)—Rodents that attack cereal plants are spreading in California, reports Dr. J. W. Oswald of the College of Agriculture here.

In this state seven different fungi have been found causing the disease, which is most damaging to wheat and barley. Rotating these crops with oats may help, he suggests, as oats are tolerant to the rot and it seems to effect other cereals most where they are planted continuously.

Shenker Indicated

(Continued From Page One) for some of the largest gambling interests in America, Wiley said in a statement that his presence on the finance group might make some law enforcement officials loath to prosecute his clients.

Shenker replied in a telegram to Wiley that the Senator's statement was "An insult to every law enforcement official in the United States." He accused Wiley of violating legal ethics in an attempt to gain "political advantage."

"It is a matter of public knowledge that I do not now and never have represented gambling interests," Shenker said. "I am not now and never have been on a retainer of any persons, group or association engaged in unlawful activities."

Kefauver said there was no question about Shenker's right to represent whom he chose. He described Shenker as a capable lawyer and said the St. Louis man's "wiles" are not in question.

Kefauver said his committee is trying to ferret out any ties between racketeers and politicians.

"There is no evidence that Mr. Shenker will seek an improper contribution," he continued.

"However, in view of the fact that the committee will make further inquiry of many of his clients, I hope the appointment will be reconsidered and further, that in view of the possible embarrassment to the Democratic Party, Mr. Shenker will not accept the assignment."

Kefauver tried to absolve Boyle of any blame that might accrue to the appointment. There was no comment from Boyle.

The Tennessee Senator said he is "certain" that Boyle "either did not know Mr. Shenker's name was on the list or did not appreciate the significance of the appointment."

The National Committee's Sept. 8 announcement described Shenker as a prominent St. Louis attorney who was a former member of the Missouri State Democratic Committee and a delegate to the party's 1948 National Convention.

The Kefauver committee previously had received testimony from Democratic State Chairman John H. Hendren that Shenker introduced him to William Molasky, St. Louis race news operator. Hendren said Molasky contributed $2,000 to Governor Fur-

Stadium Contract

Plans for the project were prepared by E. J. Moughton. The main stand will have a cantilever-type roof which eliminates posts in front of spectators. It will seat 1,295 white and 250 Negro patrons.

The bleachers, which will be portable for use in viewing both baseball and football games, will seat 750 white and 250 Negro fans.

Ralph Cowan suggested in behalf of the Sanford Housing Authority that the City hold a public hearing to determine whether or not to rezone for Negro residential purposes land north of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, west of Pecan Avenue and south of Fourth Street.

This is made necessary he said, by the fact that more than 25 homes must be moved to make way for the new housing project. The Commission decided to refer the matter to the City Zoning Board for review and recommendations, said Mrs. McKibbin.

After the board makes its report, a date could be set by the City for a public hearing on the project, he added.

The terminal project was discussed and City Attorney Edwin Shindler reported that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has forwarded a letter containing 30 suggested revisions of the second draft of the agreement.

Most of these are of a minor nature, he said.

In view of rising building costs, Mr. McKibbin was directed to check with the engineering firm of Smith and Gillespie, Jacksonville, to determine if the original cost estimate of $350,000 would cover present costs of construction of the terminal.

Mr. McKibbin reported that it is not expected that the growing use of citrus frozen concentrates would affect the shipment by water of canned citrus from Sanford from the new terminal.

The Florida Citrus Commission reports that frozen concentrates represented 16 percent of the citrus pack of last season in the state, he said.

The receipt of funds from the State cigarette tax made it mandatory for the City to reduce tax rates, City Clerk H. N. Sayer pointed out today. Accordingly, the Commission lopped a half mill off of the former 9 1/2 mill debt service rate, and reduced the operating rate from 1 1/2 to 8 1/4 mills.

Wallorn Phillips, who is erecting 26 houses in the Orange Avenue area south of Twenty-fifth Street, asked if raised, instead of standard, curbing could be allowed and if the width of the paving could be 18 feet instead of 24 feet. The Commission decided on the 24 foot width and standard curbing.

Due to City holdings at the Municipal Airport, the City decided to sign the current petition toward establishment of fire control in Seminole County, said Mr. McKibbin.

Military Funeral For General Smuts Planned In Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa, Sept. 12 (AP)—South Africa today planned a military funeral for her greatest soldier and one of the democratic world's foremost elder statesmen—Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts.

The spade-headed Smuts, a leader in three wars and two world peace movements, died last night in his 81st year. He had been ill since a back ailment forced him to bed May 23, four days after his 80th birthday.

Funeral services will be held Friday in Pretoria's leading Dutch Reformed Church, the "Groot Kerk." Burial probably will be at Smuts' farm, "Downwood," where he died. It is 10 miles from Pretoria.

A military funeral was being arranged at the request of Smuts' family.

The Field Marshal's physician said death resulted from a heart collapse following a cerebral embolism, or settlement of a blood clot in the brain. Pneumonia, influenza and heart strain had complicated the old fighter's condition.

From around the world, expressions of sympathy poured in to the family of the Field Marshal, twice prime minister of the Union

State Patrol Head Defends Burks At Employment Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 12 (AP)—Employment of C. W. (Buck) Burks as an investigator for the Florida Highway Patrol was defended by the patrol director yesterday.

H. N. Kirkman told a Cabinet committee probing Burks' employment there was "nothing mysterious or unusual" about it and that Burks had done a "very good job."

Yesterday's hearing apparently ended the inquiry by Secretary of State R. A. Gray and Treasurer Ed Larson who were requested to make their investigation by Governor Warren.

Kirkman told newsmen Burks investigated activities of Patrolmen. On three or four occasions, Kirkman said, he was told by Burks that he was "doing a little work for the chief."

He said he later learned Governor Warren has assigned Burks to coordinate arrangements for handling traffic at University of South Africa, statesman, philosopher, counselor of kings, and an organizer of both the League of Nations and the United Nations.

The messages reflected the ironic contrast in Smuts' varied career, which started with his leading commando raids against the British in the Boer War and ended with his being a bulwark of the British commonwealth of nations. It was Smuts, who in 1917 first suggested a British Commonwealth as apart from the empire.

This, and British honors, helped earn him the resentment of some of his embittered, die-hard Communist opponents. The City defects in the past two years left their physical mark on "the best" as Smuts once was known at home.

From Balmoral, Scotland, King George VI sent condolences to Mrs. Smuts, and there were messages from British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Winston Churchill, Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, and British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks in Washington.

U. S. Secretary-General Trevor L. Lie and other leaders at Lake Success paid tribute to Smuts as one of the founders of the world peace organization.

PLANS NEWSPRINT PLANT PENANG

Penang, Sept. 12 (AP)—Malaya newsprint, when the experimental wood pulping plant—as an extension to timber research laboratory—under the six-year development plan for the country gets under full swing.

Malaya at present imports all her newsprint supply and other types of paper, and there is a world shortage of newsprint.

Inquiry into Burks' employment after newspapers published conflicting statements from him and highway patrol officials as to who put him on the payroll and who was giving him orders.

of Florida football games. Kirkman said Burks applied for employment with the patrol in October, 1948, but was told there was no vacancy. He added that "through a chain of circumstances" a vacancy occurred and Burks was placed on the payroll the day after Warren was inaugurated as governor.

Burks told reporters last Friday he was acquainted with Jake Laney and Sam Bratt, indicted Leonard county gambling house operators, and had visited them during his employment with the patrol. However, Burks had nothing to do with his official duties.

Governor Warren asked

A 'Quiet' Day Can Seem Pleasant In Korea, But GI's Sweat It Out

By BILL ROSS
(For Hal Boyle)

KYONGJU FRONT, Korea—(AP)—A signpost points the way to the front. It says "Danger forward." A large arrow shows the direction. So you head down the road for another look-see at the war. You drive down the same incredibly rough roads and are enthralled with the beauty of the same rugged countryside. Only today it is somewhat a tiny bit more pleasant. It is more pleasant because early morning headquarters reports tell you the fronts are comparatively quiet that heavy fighting has simmered down for the moment. The choking dust that usually churns in clouds along the road has vanished temporarily, thanks to overnight rain.

But you keep passing convoys of troops going up into the hilly lines where men are fighting and some are getting hurt and killed, even on a "quiet" day. You keep passing those signs which say "Danger forward."

The signs have a double meaning. "Danger forward" is the Army code for a certain fighting unit of Americans, and the arrows mark the route to their present position. The other meaning is a literal one in any war.

Heavy clouds shield the mid-morning sun which, even in September, still is blistering. Never before has the verdant countryside with its fairytale thatched-roofed buildings looked so out of place in a war.

Before long the skies are spilling rain, but you are not as uncomfortable as you would be driving in the usually heavy dust. Soon, however, the rough stony road becomes a rough muddy one, and then you realize again that war and mud seem always to go together.

You pass the burned-out hulk of an American supply truck. There are several more, and a mangled American tank. You do not know what happened to them, but you have an idea.

The toothed ridges that line the road—which maps describe completely falsely as a "two-lane paved highway"—take on a forbidding and frightening look as you grasp again the fact that you are now in countryside where guerrillas and infiltrators regularly

FACTORY SMOKING URGED
MANCHESTER, England—(AP)—British manufacturers of cotton yarn are being urged to follow an American example and do away with "no smoking" rules in their factories. An eight-member productivity team from the British cotton yard doubling industry made the recommendation in a report on a recent tour of mills in the United States.

The members said they saw mills equipped with glassed-in cubicles where three workers at a time could go for a smoke.

PUT PUTS FOR A PUT OUT
ALTON, Ill.—(AP)—Elmer Chamberlain, a commercial fisherman, has worked out his own pay-as-you-go plan. Each time he uses the outboard motor on his boat, he puts aside a quarter toward a new motor. His put-put system, so far, has paid for five new motors.

CROCODILE LOVER REPORTED
KHARTOUM—(AP)—The Anglo-Egyptian Sudan is a land of strange tales. One weird report comes from Blue Nile Province. A crocodile in 1935 seized a woman from Afodi Village, in the Fud District. Five villagers swore they saw the beast make off with the girl.

Recently, the same woman reappeared at a village near Aba Island, on the White Nile, several hundred miles away. Official investigation indicated there was little doubt as to her identity. Under questioning she remembered details of her life and family in Afodi. She refused to explain her presence on the White Nile. Local opinion on the case: the man who loved in 1935 and had been refused her hand was a wizard. By means of a root he turned himself into a crocodile and made off with her.

TELLS OF MEXICAN CORN
DES MOINES, Iowa—(AP)—Milton Chadima has been telling his farmer neighbors west of Swisher about some corn he saw six feet tall and with ears ready to pick. But it wasn't anywhere near Swisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Chadima went on a 5,382-mile automobile excursion into southern Mexico. Chadima said he found Mexican agriculture at least as primitive as that of the Swisher locality when pioneer settlers came here 100 years ago.

WANT BARGAIN FUNERALS
L'HBROCK, Texas—(AP)—Most people are indifferent to the business of dying and would prefer a low-cost funeral.

A survey made by W. J. Neal, student at the Texas Technological College, indicates that 67 per cent of all persons interviewed were either against elaborate funerals, or didn't care one way or the other. Only 33 per cent said they thought they deserved an expensive burial rite.

Divorcees and single men were the most indifferent—75 per cent of the divorcees preferring inexpensive funerals, including wooden caskets, and 91 per cent of the single men said they'd like to be buried in an old suit.

Rural Common Sense by SPUDS JOHNSON

GOOD EDUCATION NOW MORE IMPORTANT FOR FARM BOYS AND GIRLS

The fall school season, when farm boys and girls take up their books again, is a good time for rural parents and pupils to consider the importance of a good education. It isn't that they have not recognized the importance of education, but perhaps some of them could give more consideration to the matter for the good and future of the youths, the community, and the nation.

With the great advances in science during the past few years, life is more complex, in many ways, than ever before. And to succeed in the world of tomorrow, one will have to be informed on the changes that have taken place and be prepared to make adaptations in the future. Science has made it possible for farmers to produce more, to husband their natural resources better, to produce better crops, and to cope more successfully with many problems than could farmers of not so many years ago.

Today, the successful farmer must know his soil and how to manage it for maximum production; how to operate tractors and other mechanized equipment, what crops are best, what fertilizers, insecticides, and fungicides are most efficient, and, also, he must know how to produce high quality crops in a way that will enable him to compete successfully in the markets.

But knowing about farming isn't all. He must know how to

SHIP ENGINES GIVE LIGHT

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The power plants of 180 Navy fighting ships are now providing light in areas from Anchorage, Alaska, to Saudi Arabia. Gents, not sentiment, inspired the National Metals and Steel Corp., to tear the mighty engines out of the battle-scarred but obsolete warships.

And good is arising out of the destruction. A destroyer escort's diesel engines soon go into emergency service into the police ward of a Long Beach veteran's hospital.

SUICIDE MINARET CLOSED

NEW DELHI, India—(AP)—Police have sealed the world's tallest minaret to prevent suicides. In recent years, too many despairing lovers, students who have failed in examinations, unhappy wives and ruined businessmen have been ending it all by jumping from the top of the 234-foot Qutb Minar, a tower 11 miles south of Delhi built in 1199 by Qutb-Ud-Din, first Muslim conqueror of the city.

Among the first of the suicides several years ago, and apparently one which inspired a series of later death plunges, was the European wife of the Maharaja of Kapurthala.

MINER FINDS FOSSIL

TRONA, Calif.—(AP)—Fossil remains of what may be a prehistoric flying fish or lizard were dug out of a tunnel at nearby Salt Wells Canyon by Zist Rizzi, a miner.

The skeleton has the wings and bones of a bat and the claws of a rat. Imprints in the stone indicate it had a scaly, fishlike skin. The fossil was sent to the University of Southern California for study.

Test plots of safflower have yielded up to 3,600 pounds of seed per acre.

In Favor Of Statehood

In the light of evident absence of Senate intent to take up the statehood bills for Alaska and Hawaii, it is interesting to note that a poll of individual senators shows only a handful admittedly opposed to the bills. Sixty senators were questioned by the Amvets organization in August; of these thirty-four said they favored immediate statehood for the two territories, twenty others said they were sympathetic, only six said they opposed.

It may be wondered whether the knowledge that Amvets favors statehood had any bearing on the answers given by the senators. It also may be wondered exactly what is meant by "sympathetic." Probably the senators who used the term meant that they would not openly oppose the bills, but neither would they lift a finger to bring them to the floor for action. Apparently there are not many, among those who say they favor the statehood proposals, who are ready to translate their favor into activity. Most of them have been as quiet as little mice while the bills were routed to the discard pile.

The fate of the statehood bills—outwardly favored, quietly pigeonholed—lends emphasis to a well known truth about congressmen and senators. If you want to know what their policies and beliefs are, don't listen to their speeches or read their election platforms; instead examine their voting records.

Novel Come True

Novelists, like poets and other users of their imagination, often see further than the prosaic chroniclers of current happenings. The late George Orwell's story, "Nineteen Eighty-Four," was a hair-raising account of life in a future totalitarian state. One of its fundamental principles was that the rulers were always right. If their predictions misfired they made mistakes, the state historian was supposed to rewrite history so as to make the past agree with the present, and to erase the errors of the men at the top.

This seems fantastic, but like many other details in the volume it is no more so than many features of life as it actually is today under Communism. Chairman Jacob Malik, the Russian who was August chairman of the United Nations Security Council, has just been making Orwell's description come true. He actually demanded that the Council, in reporting its year's work to the General Assembly, omit any reference to actions taken during Malik's walkout from January 13 to August. This includes its condemnation of the Reds in Korea. Malik would like to have the record show that nothing which the Russians disapproved took place. This is just another proof that Communism and falsehood are inseparable.

Welcome For Teachers

The first day of school may be even more of an ordeal for a beginning teacher than for the student who is getting his initiation into school life. Young and unsure, some starting teachers fail to adjust themselves to school or to community and cut short their careers to take up other, less demanding work.

Teachers College of Columbia University, in a recently released booklet, outlines orientation procedures for community aid to these beginners. Social events taking in faculty and parents and counseling by older teachers are mentioned as ways of helping the situation.

More important than either of these is the attitude of the community as a whole toward the men and women to whom their children are entrusted for so large a part of their period of growth and learning. A friendly, unpretentious attitude, proper respect, and an open-minded tolerance are important in helping the new teacher to put a proper value on her position and her services. Her professional and social success are based on self-respect and a realization of the importance of her position, and on the community's recognition of it.

1,627 Polio Cases Listed Last Week By Health Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—There were 1,627 new cases of acute poliomyelitis last week, the Public Health Service said today. This was an increase of six-tenths of one per cent over the preceding week, and the fifteenth consecutive week of an increase.

"However, it is the lowest percentage increase over the preceding week during this period," the service said in its weekly summary.

For the corresponding week a year ago, 2,193 new cases were reported. At that time, however, the disease had been on the decline for three weeks.

The cumulative total since the disease began increasing this year is 12,356 cases, compared with 32,809 for the corresponding period a year ago.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is making an emergency appeal to its Chapters in all parts of the country, to pledge their uncommitted funds to polio epidemic relief by Nov. 1, when national March of Dimes funds for this purpose will be exhausted, Basil O'Connor, president, revealed today.

"To meet an 'undeniably grave' financial situation caused by mounting polio incidence adding to the staggering load of last year's patients who still require care," the National Foundation president has asked the cooperation of all Chapters instead of making another public appeal this year, Mr. O'Connor said.

In a letter to all Chapter Chairmen, Mr. O'Connor said: "Financially, our situation is like this. There is, roughly, $2-100,000 available for epidemic aid at National Headquarters, and we now are advancing more than $1-000,000 a month to Chapters whose treasuries have been exhausted by the heavy case loads they are carrying. Although we can't know to the exact dollar what our 1950 patient care bill will be, careful analysis indicates that our epidemic funds will be exhausted within the first ten days of November.

Blast Kills

(Continued From Page Three) upon hearing the blast at 8:50 A. M. Eastern Standard Time. The mix house where ingredients of high explosives are put together was in ruins. Company Secretary T. T. Cook reported several nearby buildings were damaged.

"We have no idea what caused the explosion," stated Cook. "We're still not sure just who was killed. The injured men are not hurt badly. They were treated at the plant for surface cuts by our plant doctor.

"We're on guard against explosions like this and we have given every possible aid to the injured."

"We called extra doctors in right away. Workers unaffected by the explosion were cleared from the plant grounds."

"It didn't hurt our eyes," she said, "but it broke windows next door."

"I was alone at the time but I knew right away what it was."

"The first thing anybody in this town thinks of is the powder plant when they hear an explosion."

Hugh Frye, operator of El Fred's only funeral home, drove out in the plant in an ambulance after the blast. Three hours later he still had not returned with any of the bodies.

Talking Chimp Says 'Mama', 'Papa', Gives Spectators 'Bronx Cheer'

By FRANK CAREY

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 12.—(AP)—The scientific world heard today of "Viki"—a chimpanzee who can speak.

She can give whispered version of "Mama," "Papa," and "Cup"—and can exchange a "Bronx cheer" with you.

So says Dr. Keith J. Hayes of the Yerkes Laboratories of Primate Biology, Orange Park, Florida.

The 3-year-old chimp "has been raised as a child in our home," Hayes told the American Psychological Association's closing day meeting at the Pennsylvania State College.

But he said the significance of his experiment lies not in Viki's learning to say a few words, but rather in the great difficulty with which she learned them, and in the particular nature of this difficulty.

He says she's been trained to address a male and female researcher as "Mama" or "Papa" if she wants something.

And she says "cup" when she wants a drink.

About Viki's "Bronx cheer" Hayes says that chimps are old hands at making such sounds, apparently for their own amusement.

But, whereas with your run-of-the-mill chimp the cheer is just a solo job, with Viki it's a two-way deal.

You give her a cheer and she'll come right back at you.

CHINESE REDS TAME LAKE
SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—The Chinese Communists say they have tamed Yuyang lake which flooded about 2,500,000 acres of farming land last year and contributed to China's current famine.

The lake, fed by the turbulent Yangtze, is located between Hankow and Nanking in east central China.

A Communist broadcast said more than 120,000 peasant repaired and strengthened 1,600 miles of dikes around the lake.

Reids predicted this would prevent a recurrence of the floods even though flood conditions along the Yangtze are as bad as last year.

Last year's floods were the worst since 1931.

"We expect Viki to learn several more whispered words without much trouble; voiced words will probably be much more difficult."

Will Viki become a regular chatterbox—the word king of the apes?

Most unlikely, indicates her trainer.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

With much of Asia revolting against "Western imperialism" it's interesting to see both the Netherlands and the new Republic of Indonesia vying for the privilege of colonizing Dutch New Guinea, whose possession now is in dispute between them.

In fairness one hastens to add that Dutch New Guinea presents a unique situation. It is called the last stand of Stone Age man because it is inhabited by primitive head-hunters and cannibals. It will require generations to educate these wild folk to the point where they can establish civilized communities. Meantime, of course, some outside guidance and protection will be imperative.

Thus the question of "imperialism" in the general accepted sense doesn't arise in this case. Still, that term of opprobrium is bound to come up sooner or later, and so must be taken into account by any power which undertakes colonization.

If you will glance at your maps you will see that New Guinea—according to the latest cartographic studies—occupies the equator just north of Australia. The western part is Dutch and the eastern is Australian. It is hot and humid, insect infested and fever ridden. And there are the Stone Age savages.

However, on the other side of the picture the island is noted for its variety of trees, rare orchids and curious animals. More to the point, from the view of colonization, it has rich gold, coal, copper and silver deposits. It has all the facilities and timber lands, rubber and coffee are among its products.

Those would seem to be reasons enough why both Holland and Indonesia are anxious to develop Dutch New Guinea. Of course the Dutch already are in possession but Indonesia has demanded that it be transferred to the Republic.

A joint Dutch-Indonesian commission is now engaged in trying to settle this issue, and a decision has been called for before January, 1951. Thus far no agreement is in sight and it looks as though the argument might wind up in the United Nations.

The Indonesians already have tossed the charge of "imperialism" into the Dutch camp. The Dutch reply is that this does not fit Indonesia, since the Papuans are a distant race which has no relation to the Indonesian people. Therefore, it is argued, Indonesia would be as much a colonial and "imperialist" power as would the Netherlands.

The dispute has become so bitter that fighting language has been used. Indonesia declares that grave situations will arise if Dutch New Guinea isn't turned over by the end of this year. The Republic will fight if necessary.

To this Dutch Governor Van Wierzbicki of New Guinea replies that the armed forces of the island will "fight any attempt at invasion."

While this argument is going on, Dutch business people who pulled up stakes in Indonesia when sovereignty was handed over to the Republic, are moving into New Guinea and are going ahead with plans for developing the country. Governor Van Wierzbicki has just announced a huge development plan to open up the wealth of that rich territory.

Australia naturally is vitally interested and has been in close consultation with the Dutch. There even has been some suggestion of joint Australian-Netherlands rule of New Guinea. All the more reason, one would think, why the problem should wind up in the United Nations.

Meanwhile in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., stunned residents of the Wyoming Valley prepared today to receive the bodies of 33 soldier relatives who were killed.

In a region where death sometimes is as close as the nearest hard coal mine, no underground disaster—no, not even any of the major battles of World War two—cast a shadow over so many homes as yesterday's crash of a troop-laden train and a Pennsylvania Railroad express.

Besides those killed, 50 or more were injured—all but a few from the Wilkes-Barre area.

Governor James H. Duff ordered flags flown at half mast over state buildings.

The wreck victim the governor said, "died in the line of duty." "Their sacrifice," he said, "is the same in every way as though they had taken some of their fall-out comrades in the far off mountains and the paddies of Korea."

At Camp Aftersbury, Ind., the Guardsmen who escaped injury were greeted as heroes when they arrived by train.

Major General Daniel Strickler, commanding general of the Keystone Division, flew back from the wreckage where 23 men in a troop train died in order to greet the survivors personally at their training camp.

"I would be willing to take this outfit into combat right now," General Strickler told the weary troops, "on the basis of the way it reacted to emergency at Cashion."

CHENYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Four cars of the Union Pacific's Pony Express train were derailed in a collision with a switch engine on the yards at Green River, Wyo., shortly before midnight last night.

The superintendent's office at Chenyenne and engineer Ed Hoffeld and fireman W. Stone of the switch engine were hospitalized. The extent of their injuries was not learned.

Many passengers were shaken up but railroad officials said only the engineers were in the hospital.

Miss Profitt To Wed Douglas Garner

Plans for the wedding of Miss Harlene Profitt, daughter of H. W. Profitt of North Carolina, and Douglas Garner, son of Mrs. Elvira Garner and the late N. H. Garner of Sanford were announced today.

The wedding will take place at the First Presbyterian Church on Sept. 14 at 5:30 P. M.

No formal invitations are being issued but all friends of the couple and the family are cordially invited to attend.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Americans have the wrong idea about French girls, thinks Leslie Caron, latest gift of the Republic of France to Hollywood.

Miss Caron, imported to dance with Gene Kelly in "American in Paris," said she should not judge her countrywomen by the pictures we see of them in French bathing suits and low-cut gowns. Actually, she declared, French girls are not as uninhibited as it might seem.

"French girls have much less liberty than American girls," said the 18-year-old ballet beauty. "The French mothers keep a close eye on their daughters. The girls are not allowed to wear lipstick until they are 17 or 18 and then very little. They cannot have dates until they are 18 and then they are chaperoned."

"But in America I see little girls only so high wearing lipstick. And lots of them start going out on dates before they are 14."

"The young French girl cannot dress as—can I say it?—sexy as the American. The French girl usually has straight hair until she has grown up and the American starts curling her hair when she is very young. The French girl wears very plain clothes, and the American has a variety of good-looking dresses."

What about the French bathing suit?

"The suit, it is nothing. When we see it on the beaches, we think nothing of it, because we are used to it. It is just as though someone from France would come to your beach; he would think it was shocking to see legs exposed."

"As a matter of fact, the brief suit is going out of style in France. It was popular for three years after the war. Now the girls are wearing the one-piece suit. Of course, it is cut a little higher on the side of the leg."

Miss Caron, I might add, is herself a good advertisement for her countrywomen. She has a trim dancer's figure and a face that is best described as piquant. She is quiet and soft-spoken, but has definite ideas.

She was discovered by Gene Kelly in Paris, which is her home town. Kelly saw her in a ballet a couple of years ago. When he returned this year to find a leading lady, he remembered her.

It turned out that Leslie's mother had been an American dancer who had appeared in George Gershwin shows and had known the composer. She retired and married Leslie's father, a French chemical manufacturer.

Leslie would like to commute between films and Parisian ballet. "I love it here," she remarked. "The ice cream and cake is wonderful."

President Truman today gave Democratic leaders his clearance for Congress to quit as soon as it has completed action on emergency matters now pending.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas announced after a White House conference that Mr. Truman said that he has "nothing further in mind to submit Congress at this time."

Rayburn and the Senate Democratic leader, Lucas of Illinois, agreed that Mr. Truman left the decision up to Congress on whether to adjourn, recess or take a holiday under some other legislative agreement.

Britain Prepares

the opening meeting of an emergency session of Parliament. The head of Britain's Labor government told the House, Britain must rearm quickly against a Soviet threat to bring on a third world war, and he asked immediate approval of longer draft service and higher pay for the British armed forces.

He announced Britain will build her army up from the present six and a half regular divisions to 10 regular divisions and 12 reserve divisions of territorials. A British division is 15,000 to 18,000 men. The territorials are the British equivalent of the U. S. National Guard.

The steps we are asking the House to endorse are taken solely with the intention of preventing another war and resisting in its early stages the onward march of aggression," Attlee said. "Sacrifices in the future, but sacrifices there must be."

"The continual obstruction by Russia now can prevent greater sacrifices of the United Nations. All over the world the allies are supporting the Communists have worked ceaselessly to foment trouble and disorder. A x x We must face the fact that what happened in Korea may in one form or another be repeated elsewhere."

Attlee said the aggression of North Korea was a direct challenge to the United Nations, but he had "every confidence that aggression will be halted and a salutary lesson given to would-be aggressors."

Turning to the controversial question of rearming Germany, the Prime Minister said the eventual participation of Germany in the defense of Europe "can only be considered within the framework of the common defense of the West."

He said, however, that the West German government request for a federal police force to guard against Communist-inspired disorders would be a "Gendarmerie, a mobile guard under proper control—not an embryo army."

The leader of the Conservative opposition, wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, suggested to Attlee it would be wise for him to accept the idea of an army "with a strong German quota."

"We have to form, as fast as possible, a European army of at least 50 to 70 divisions to make some sort of front in Europe and to close what I have called the hideous gap in the protection of Western Europe from the Russian Communist on rush to the sea," Churchill said.

The opposition leader said Britain's contribution apparently would be the three divisions in Germany plus one in the United Kingdom.

"I don't think that should be accepted as a full and complete contribution on our part," Churchill said.

Attlee had said the British would have "rather more than three fully trained divisions" in Germany.

INCREASES OIL PRODUCTION TOKYO—(AP)—Japan is expected to produce at least 2,000,000 barrels of crude oil in the 12-month fiscal period ending next March 31. This compares with 1,550,000 barrels last year.

Production officials said: "Increases in production come from new wells brought in near Yabuse, on Japan's west coast."

Yanks Cling To Top Hoping To Hold, As Tribe Series Opens

CLEVELAND, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The New York Yankees, bent on protecting their half-game American League lead, tonight open a two-game series with the Cleveland Indians who they started on the route to collapse.

The Yanks swept the four games in the last series between the clubs two weeks ago. That knocked the Indians out of a tie with Boston for third place, two games behind New York and Detroit.

Since then the New Yorkers have continued at a hot pace and yesterday they moved ahead of idle Detroit by sweeping a doubleheader at Washington. The Indians have meanwhile faded and are now in fourth spot, seven and a half games back. Tribal bias blames the losses at New York for the flop.

New York has won 13 of the 20 Indian-Yankee games this year, the best record the Yanks have posted against Cleveland since before the war.

All the leaders may be in some danger in the two games this time. Lou Doudreau, Cleveland manager, thinks his club is "due to unload" some hits.

Doudreau plans to use Early Wynn on the mound tonight against New York's Allie Reynolds. Wynn, who has a 16-7 record, has a split for the six games he has worked against New York. Reynolds who has won 13 and lost 11, has beaten Cleveland once and led to the Tribe three other times.

Only Female Ump Isn't Bothered By Male Colleagues

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK — Being the only female umpire in an organization, which boasts nearly 5,000 male arbiters, doesn't bother 25-year-old Madeline Patricia Lorton of the Bronx.

Miss Lorton, a five-foot, three-inch, 150-pound Irish girl, recently was named an umpire by the Amateur Softball Association, the only woman ever so designated. She can't understand all the excitement her appointment has provoked.

"There's no reason why a woman can't call them just as good, if not better, than men," she says. "Any one who says ladies can't be good umpires is talking pure humbug."

"I know the rule book and how to call the plays. I don't expect any trouble. Before every game I ask both managers to keep their players on their toes. They have every right to protest if they feel a decision has been unfair. If they can prove it by the rule book, I'll reverse the call. I haven't had to reverse a decision yet and don't expect I'll have to. I can quote the book to anyone who wants me to."

Miss Lorton says she takes the usual amount of ribbing from the stands, but doesn't mind it a bit. She is not bothered.

"As long as they're having fun and don't try to get fresh, and says, 'it's OK with me. I haven't got one fan heckle me yet over the quality of my work. That's most important to me.'"

Madeline started playing softball with the Bronx Sparks when she was 12, stayed on it as a second baseman until her senior year when she managed the Bronx Alpines. She did a good job, too. The Alpines won the metropolitan New York championship but were beaten in the regionals by a Syracuse team.

Girls Are Adept
Madeline says girls play softball just as well as men, except they don't have the same power at the plate.

When she's not engaged in softball activities, Madeline is a dictaphone operator. Her dad was one of the "best Gaelic soccer football players ever produced in Ireland."

Miss Lorton believes her entrance into Amateur Softball Association ranks as an umpire will encourage other members of her sex to follow.

"That's kind of take the spotlight off me," she says. "Right now being a woman umpire among 5,000 male umpires is kind of awkward, isn't it?"

Miss Lorton is a member of the New York and New Jersey Softball Association. She will be at the 10th place at 314, Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 15-16.

Nicolis Fans 15 As DeLand Takes Two In League Finals

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Lefty Pete Nicolis struck out 15 Gainesville G-Men, here last night as he pitched the DeLand Red Hats to an 8-0 victory in the second game of the final Florida State League Shaugnessy playoff victory for the Hats who eliminated Daytona Beach in four straight games and now hold a 2-0 margin over the G-Men.

DeLand jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the second inning to give Nicolis plenty of working room. The Hats collected seven hits, including a single and a double by Al Pirtle during the uprising.

The eighth DeLand run scored in the seventh on a walk to Herb McLeod and singles by Pirtle and Ray Dunne.

Rolando Viadero went all the way for the G-Men.

Amateur Golf To Pit Riley Against Wall

ATLANTA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The first round of the Women's National Amateur Golf Tournament was a shakedown cruise in which no great favorites were shaken out but today's lineup looks like trouble for some of the best.

Polly Riley's job today was to whip Mary Agnes Wall, rough work for any golfer in any tournament. Miss Riley, of Fort Worth, Texas, is southern and western champion. Her Menominee, Mich. opponent is a veteran of the women's circuit.

Polly, who came to Crackerland's famed East Lake course leading her first amateur title, had an easy first round victory over Alice Chatham of Greenwood, Miss., 8-7.

Mary Agnes defeated Atlanta's Anne Twilley, 8-6. After shooting the best golf of the first round and leading all of her good work to

Tiger Batters Are Crowding Goodman For Batting Crown

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Two Detroit Tigers are chasing pacesetter Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox in the American League batting race.

Goodman's mark through Sunday's games was 36.1. First's 18 points ahead of runner-up George Kell of Detroit, who had 34.5.

But the man Goodman well might fear is Kell's Tiger teammate, Hoot Evers, who zoomed an amazing 22 points last week, from 31.8 to a third-spot 24.0.

Evers slammed 20 hits in 29 batters, a pace that obviously would sweep Evers to the batting championship if he could continue it to the finish line.

While Evers was skyrocketing, Goodman was slipping seven points from his previous week's 36.8; Kell dropped two points from 34.7; and last week's No. 3 man, Cleveland's Larry Doby fell seven points to a fifth-place 32.4.

New York's Hank Bauer kept fourth place with an unchanged 33.6. Other leaders included Don DiMaggio, Boston .333; Walt Dropo and Al Zarilla, both Boston 33.1 each; Phil Rizzuto, New York 34.7; and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia 31.9.

Robinson Bout Asked To Set Title Clear

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The middleweight middle may be cleared today at the National Boxing Association convention if Champion Jake LaMotta and Laurent Dauthuille each post $10,000 to guarantee he will fight Ray Robinson in six months.

Dauthuille, an 8 to 5 underdog in tomorrow night's title bout at Detroit's Olympia, will put up the cash through Max Waxman in case he wins the promises to give Sugar Ray, the welter champ, a title shot before Mar. 13. But he will ask to be allowed to go through with a return bout with LaMotta before he meets Robinson.

LaMotta already has signed a contract to fight Robinson at Chicago Stadium in the second week of February if he successfully defends his crown.

There were few surprises in the quarterly NBA ratings, announced yesterday. In the middle weight class, Robinson was listed as the only logical contender. Dauthuille topped the list of outstanding boxers. Robinson had no logical contender in his own division, the welterweight.

Joe Louis was ranked lowest contender to champion Ezzard Charles among the heavyweights. And Willie Pep was the only top contender to new featherweight king Sandy Saddler.

LaMotta-Dauthuille Train For Title Row

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—(AP)—With the Tigers home, there isn't much talk about tomorrow night's title fight between Middleweight champ Jake LaMotta and Laurent Dauthuille of France.

Despite the presence of the National Boxing Association convention and the championship scrap, street talk is all about "how did the Yanks do?" or "how about Boston?"

Even LaMotta, sweating through his final workout at Sportman's Gym yesterday, kept stealing peeks at the big baseball scoreboard in the balcony. He seemed to like what he saw with the Yanks from his native Bronx winning two games.

But this promises to be a real fight. Dauthuille, a confident young Frenchman with a stiff right hand wallop, seems to have the style to bother the swarming LaMotta.

ONE-THIRD OF YOUR TOWN'S INCOME

.....May Be Going To Other Towns!

That is the alarming situation in many small cities of this country, a recent business survey shows.

WHO GETS THIS MONEY?

Large city stores that have no interest whatever in this town of yours.

So Pitifully Few

A word to the wise, they say, is sufficient. The trouble is that so few of us are wise; that so few of us comprehend a simple problem.

A wise citizen quickly sees how gravely his town is hurt by having a third of its income spent in other places.

But so few of us are wise . . . so pitifully few of us.

—As One Man Sees It—

They do not pay salaries to this town's people.

They do not come here to spend any of their money.

They pay no taxes, nor license fees to support your local municipal government.

Senate Group Approves Bill For Marshall

Legislation Needed To Enable Army Man To Serve As Secretary Of Defense

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to make an exception and let General George C. Marshall serve as Secretary of Defense even though he is a military man. The Senate Armed Services Committee immediately approved the necessary legislation.

The vote was 10 to 2. Congress has to act because the law says nobody who has been on active duty as an officer of the armed forces within the past ten years can be Secretary of Defense.

The Senate group acted even before a bill was introduced formally. The House Armed Services Committee postponed action until Friday.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House group said the matter is so important "that I want a full committee present if possible."

The bill may be called up in the Senate tomorrow or Friday, in a quick follow-up of the Senate committee action.

"I don't look for any difficulty," Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) told reporters. Tydings said it was clear Mr. Truman wanted the exception to apply to no other person than Marshall, in no other circumstance and to no other time in the future.

Mr. Truman wrote Tydings and Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the corresponding House committee, asking for the necessary legislation.

Three Out Of Ten Children Need Eye Help In Schools

Need of visual aid for three out of every ten children beginning school was stressed in a talk to Lions yesterday by Dr. Ralph Meade, Orlando optometrist. He was introduced by John Kader, Dr. Meade, speaking under the sponsorship of the Central Florida Optometric Society, pointed out that by the time pupils reach junior high school, about half of them require visual aid.

Pupils whose eyes do not move smoothly across the page, and who do not know how to read properly are, however, expected to learn their work, he said. Some catch words and syllables backward, he stated and their comprehension is very poor.

One of the modern instruments used by optometrists to induce better reading habits is the flash-lamp, which flashes digits at a high rate of speed on a screen. College students who on first taking the test were unable to read three or four digits flashed on the screen at 125 of a second, were later able to read 19 digits at 1/60 of a second exposure after practice, he declared.

Children, whose eyes are uncorrected after years of education, too late to fully correct the defect.

Johnston Advocates Get Tough With Reds

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.), who says he's tired of "striped pants and cocktail diplomacy" advocates getting tough with Russia, even using the atom bomb.

He told the convention of the National Federation of Federal Employees.

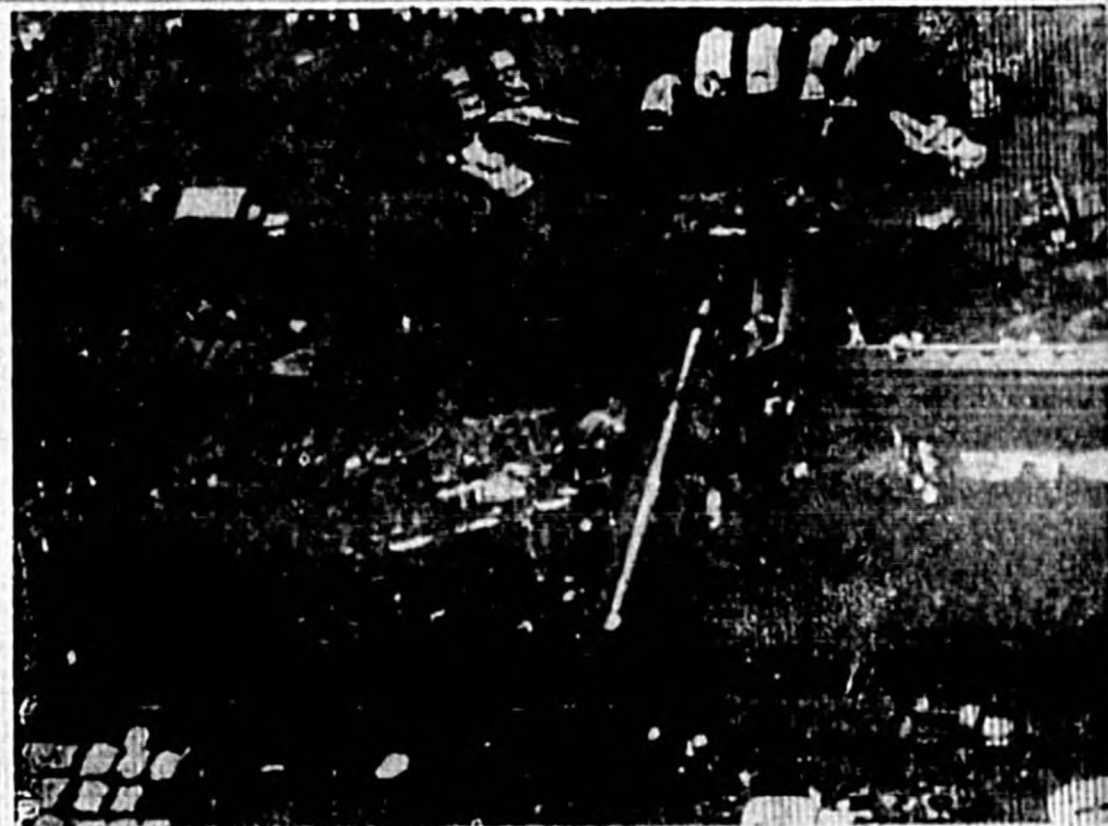

"We should serve notice on Russia without delay that the next act of aggression will mean that the United States will no longer fight in the remote corners of the world but will carry the fight to the very heart of Communist aggression, Russia itself."

"Russia has not progressed so far with the atom bomb as has the United States and I for one would not hesitate to use the atom bomb. The time has come to let Russia know that she can not go on forcing Communism on the rest of the world."

Pepper To Ireland So Probe Is Postponed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A Senate investigation of wire-tapping in the nation's capital was put in moth balls today with little prospect of a resumption until after the November election.

Senator Neely (D-W.Va.), acting chairman of the District of Columbia subcommittee making the inquiry, ordered a recess when another senator to make a quorum failed to show up.

He said Chairman Pepper (D-Fla.) is in Ireland, attending the interparliamentary union meeting, and that Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) had been called away by the critical illness of his father. The only other member of the District of Columbia committee present was Senator Darby (R-Kan.).

Record Citrus Crop Is Seen By Growers

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 13.—(AP)—A record 1950 citrus crop was predicted by Florida growers at the eighth annual convention of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association, Texas and California growers reported their states were making strong comebacks from last year's bad freeze.

Speakers yesterday gave these 1950 crop estimates: Florida—105,000,000 boxes, including 65,000,000 grapefruit and 40,000,000 oranges; 35,000,000 tangerines. Such a crop would send the state over the 100,000,000 the first time in history.

California—47,000,000 boxes, 70 percent of normal, including 13,000,000 oranges and 4,000,000 grapefruit.

Texas—15,500,000 boxes, 55 percent of normal. The new estimate includes 11,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and 4,500,000 oranges. Last year's crop was only 6,300,000 boxes.

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 13.—(AP)—High praise from high official quarters spurred American troops today as they passed the "cease" in the mock defense of Western Germany and began groupings to shift over from "retreat" to "attack."

PALESTINE DEBATE

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 13.—(AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said today that his country had taken control of disputed territory along the Jordan River at the northern boundary between the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan and what was formerly Palestine. He said Jews already had begun to pick up the land in the area a week ago.

This confirmed at least partially earlier reports from neighboring Arab countries that Israel had "reconquered" the land. But the army spokesman said the territory in question had been granted to Israel under terms of the Arab-Jewish armistice.

Liberal Candidate Tobey Wins In New Hampshire Voting

DETROIT, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Michigan Republicans jumped back today their wartime leader, former Governor Harro E. Tobey, to do battle with Democratic Governor G. Mennen Williams in the November general election.

Unofficial returns from Tobey's primary election showed Kells, a World War I hero, leading Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., 167,919 to 126,261.

Senator Charles W. Tobey, 65, styled liberal fighting one of the toughest battles of his political career, was nominated in a third term in New Hampshire's rough and tumble Republican primary Tuesday.

The 70-year-old lawmaker squeezed by with a 1,127 vote margin over 34-year-old Wesley Powell, World War II veteran and former Secretary to Senator Hiram Bridges (R-N.H.).

Free Beer To Stay As Frontline GI's Will Get Can A Day

TOKYO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Front line troops in Korea who like beer will continue to get it for free. This is on the word of a high Army official who declined use of his name lest he get all framed in controversy.

An Army order removing the one-can-a-day ration in Korea raised a howl of protest heard as far as Washington.

The source said today this has resulted in a compromise. Combat troops had been getting a small can of beer as a free ration. Some of the boys who don't like beer wrote home about it. There were protests. Beer was stricken from the ration.

"What was not made clear back home was that the beer was in addition to normal rations and did not take the place of other items," said the source.

Bottles of soft drinks also have been given to frontline men and many chose coke over beer. And there was always water, coffee and cocoa.

Under the new arrangements, no more beer will be furnished troops from appropriated funds—taxpayers' money allocated by Congress. But the Army has non-appropriated funds. This is revenue from small charges for various items in post exchanges and theater admissions.

The source said beer will not be free to rear echelon soldiers. They can buy it in rear areas. But the men at the front, where it's 24 hour duty and no time for shopping, will get a can almost every day, if they want it.

Soft drinks will continue to be available. "We have no intention of cir (Continued on Page Two)

Big Allied Offensive Soon In Korea Looms

Former West Point Football Hero Leads Task Force Trapping Reds

TOKYO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Swift-striking "Task Force Davidson" rammled shut a trap today on 3,000 Red Koreans on the northeast coast.

The secret sweep by a composite force of Americans and South Koreans was led by Brig. General Gar Davidson, former West Point football hero and head coach.

Davidson's speedy and run across what he called "billygoat" terrain or worse-sealed the southern gate of a mountain corridor northwest of Kyongju. It lifted a major Communist threat to important Pohang airfield on the Korean east coast.

It was the highlight of the day's action on the whole 125-mile warfront, which was whipped by the forces of a typhoon.

In the northeast sector, the Red thrust last weekend threatened Pohang directly. The Communists drove a wedge five miles deep and three miles wide into the Allied line between Pohang and Angang, nine miles southwest.

"We watched the penetration

Engineer Takes Stand At Probe Of Train Wreck

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A spare, staying Pennsylvania Railroad engineer testified today he was trying to make up time when his crack passenger train rammled the rear of a troop train, killing 33 National Guardsmen.

William Eller, 65-year-old engineer of the Pennsylvania's "Spirit of St. Louis," testified in near whispers at opening of an investigation into the fatal Ohio crash by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the railroad, the Ohio Public Utility Commission and the Army.

Eller testified he was 29 minutes late leaving Pittsburgh and had lost another minute enroute. He said visibility at the time of the wreck in the pre-dawn hours Monday was restricted because of fog. The crash occurred near Columbus, Ohio.

Smathers Declares Congress Ought To Remain In Session

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Rep. Smathers (D-Fla.) said today Congress should remain in session "until our boys come home from Korea."

He told a reporter he "states" any adjournment "and if it is adjourned, we can take these tax increases as we have done in the past."

Smathers, Democratic negotiator for the Senate from Florida, said he believes the House Foreign Affairs and Ways and Means committees should stay in operation. He said both are "totally important at this time." The Ways and Means Committee writes tax legislation.

Smathers has a number of speeches scheduled in Florida in the coming weeks but said he might have to cancel many of them because of the press of business here.

"There is no sacrifice too big while American boys are losing their lives in Korea," he said (Continued on Page Six)

General Walker Announces Plans As Americans Flatten Northwestern Bulge

By LIEF ERICKSON
TOKYO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Allied troops got word today that they will kick off on the offensive soon against the big Red Korean war machine they have battled to a standstill for a month.

General Walton H. Walker, Allied ground commander in Korea, said in a fighting talk to his frontline troops.

"Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defense vs. a as soon as we start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fold."

"We can feel a weakening of the enemy now in some positions they actually are pulling out."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander described the long weeks of delaying action as necessary "agonizing and suffering."

Only through such an ordeal, he said, could the Allies build up power for an offensive.

Walker's fighting talk came as Allied troops flattened the Red Korean bulge on the northeast front in a triple-thrust power drive.

The United Nations guns in a three-day offensive were the greatest in nearly a month. They sealed much of the gap torn last week by Communists in their massive breakthrough south from Kyongju near the east coast.

Resurgent South Korean troops, driving east from Yongchon and northwest from Kyongju, rolled back the Communists.

Big guns of the U. S. 25th Division repulsed two efforts by the Korean Reds to storm dominating heights south of the Nam and Nakdong Rivers.

A small portion of the money now being spent for defense could be enlisted to change and intelligently direct the thinking of the nation, Mrs. Ironside said. Realizing that past efforts in promoting understanding through education have been sketchy and sometimes ineffectual, she said she saw no reason why this deplorable condition should continue. "Our national defense is one thing," she said, "but we are to let our intellectual and spiritual defense (stumble). No, we cannot, for the continuing of the minds of the (Continued on Page Two)

August Crops Gain In Spite Of Little Rainfall In State

ORLANDO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—August crops in Florida made good progress even though rainfall was low normal in most areas.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, making the report as of Sept. 1, said today yields were beginning to show dry effects but have averaged any serious conditions.

The Aug. 30 report of stems brought some crop damage to the northwest during harvest. Following this, the Gulf depression which entered the central part of the state did some citrus damage but not very much to report, said, however, complete damage would not be very much. The report said, however, Florida's corn crop got under way during August and farmers had made considerable progress before damaging weather set in.

In the northwest, cotton picking continued with well over half a crop gained before the stems hit out of the Gulf over the Panama City area.

Peanut harvesting increased but stalks in the field were damaged considerably.
