GIANT FLOATING LANE CARRIER COMPLETED

S. Saratoga, First Of Lightest Airship Homes, Makes to Water At Camden; Have Speed of 33 Knots

Large Boat To House
Seventy-Two Planes

Finishing Marks Tremendous Stride Forward In Art Of Naval Building In America

CAMDEN, N. J., Apr. 7.—Built within the mightiest propelling power that ever went into a ship, the U. S. S. Saratoga takes to the water here today as the first of the new class of fast, hard-motored airplane carriers. The launch marks a tremendous stride forward in the art of naval construction, although the responsibility of Saratoga as a naval time-burner and landing field for airplanes still to be proven.

The huge, over-looking craft will carry 180,000 horsepower to drive her 33 to 34 knot speed needs. Her dynamo would power all the electricity needed for a city of nearly 1,000,000 population for light, heat, cooking, recreation and nearly every other need her mighty steam turbine engines, from the control room to the very bow of the ship, are her very life.

And yet the ship is just a monster experiment with the "newest" type of auxiliary power, her future is written in indication points, so far as naval experts at home or abroad are concerned; it depends upon actual experience with the machine in action, and upon the landing of the 72 airplanes that make up her real offensive armament.

The ship herself is just as fast, ably cramped but almost underestimated to get her ready load of bombs on enemy battle fleets in batteries.

The original plans for the Saratoga would have set her in a water of six of the biggest, fastest and most heavily armed battle cruisers ever designed. She would be loaded every inch a fighting ship, the whole 885 feet of her length.

Redesigned as an aircraft transporter, however, the Saratoga is one of the strangest in appearance that has ever gone to the sea.

All the top-hammer has gone to the bow to leave only the vast main deck, rapping her whole length and spreading amidships to an extreme breadth of 105 feet, crowded over to one side of that deck will be the reduced compass of her masts, a cramped navigating bridge, and a stumpy mast to carry her wireless aerials aloft. She will look, when completed, like a scouring barge with a splashed deck and all the plumbeity and beauty of line that could have marked as a cruiser in her lack.

But in the 32 heavy bombers and 10 combat and other types of aircraft designed to clear the air from the bow to the stern, the Saratoga will carry a potential destructive force far greater than could have been the power of her guns. She will have enough explosives in reserve to re-equip the airships after they have done their work, and she will carry machine shops and expert mechanics by the score to keep her air brood in fighting trim. She will carry enough gasoline to keep all the motor cars of a big town in operation for a week, and she will have every appliance that naval ingenuity has yet devised to assist the planes when they get out on their grim missions of destruction.

The speed of the ship is being striven against. She will be able to dash through any but the heaviest sea at a rate almost equivalent to a surface speed of 40 knots an hour. Given that speed and the engine power and fuel capacity to maintain it, the Saratoga's carrier could range far ahead of the battle fleet and then bring her air flotilla together 200 or more miles farther to strike the first blow at an approaching enemy. She will be from seven to ten knots faster than the fastest battleship, and only the most modern carriers or destroyers could keep pace with her.

Georgia Man Acquires Bee Hive Department Store In This City

Purchase of the Bee Hive Department Store at Sanford Avenue and Fourth Street by Dave Bonis-ke of Cordele, Ga., and plans for its enlargement were announced today by the new owner and Henry Daniel, who for the past three years has operated the establishment.

M. Brendel is going out of the clothing business altogether. His plans for the future were not announced. Mr. Boniske, who has been in business in Cordele for the past 15 years, plans to remove his stock of goods at that place to Sanford and to add it to the local store. This move, he stated, will give him one of the largest and most completed stocks in Sanford.

Everything in the way of clothing for men, women and children will be carried by Mr. Boniske, who further plans alterations in the store to take care of the increased stock. Later in the spring Mr.
Boniske plans to move his family here to make their future home.

COOLIDGE SEES
CONTINUANCE
U. S. WELFARE

Over own industry in this regard are more liberal than ours. We have established here the principle of absolute free trade throughout a great continental area of forty-eight states besides other possessions. It is the most widely extended application of that policy that will be found anywhere.
Within this domain we have an extent and variety of natural resources far beyond those of any other country. Not from our national beginnings we have sought to advantage by reason of the richness in natural resources. Wisdom wanted them was free to come here and buy raw materials at exactly the same prices as our own people. Such staples as cotton, cotton and petroleum might have been made the basis on which to build great national monopolies.
Yet they have been as freely available to the industries of other nations as our own export trade is free of duty.

HEAD SQUEEZERS WILL BE SUBJECT OF INVESTIGATION

Noted English Scientist Out to Solve Mysteries of Tribe In South America Who Reduce Head By Squeezing

LONDON, Apr. 7.—Efforts to solve the mystery of the "human head squeezers" a tribe of which almost nothing is known and which lives in the wilds of the mountains between the main Amazon basin and the northern Andes, is to be one of the aims of an exploring expedition to South America to be made next summer by Dr. William M. McGovern, one of England's most daring anthropologists. Dr. McGovern, who was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., visited Lhasa, the forbidden city of Tibet, disguised as a Buddhist monk, last year, and has headed numerous other expeditions in various parts of the world in the interest of anthropological research work.

The "human head squeezers" who have a way of reducing the heads of their victims to the size of a newborn child, according to Dr.
McGovern, also are supposed to be the possessors of gold and diamond mines in their native haunts near the north of the Amazon jungle. The Londoner plans to spend seven to 10 months in their midst, studying their habits and customs. No white man has ever reached the province of how heads are reduced in size without so much as disfiguring any of the victims' features and in the interest of science Dr. McGovern hopes to be able to overcome this riddle in the course of his expedition of this tribe and its haunts.

Dr. McGovern plans to leave London early in May and in the trip across the Andes will cover the parts of Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru where no white man, so far as known, has ever before set foot.

Dr. McGovern will carry a wireless receiving set, cameras and other apparatus necessary for expeditions of this kind. He proposes to make observations and drawings which will be of future use to scientists throughout the world.

"I shall be particularly interested in the Amazon basin where interesting remains, such as great rock temples, of prehistoric tribes, are supposed to exist but to this day have never been seen by the white man," said the explorer. "Diamond and gold nuggets have been brought from some of these tribes on the edges of the unexplored country, and there is a belief that the natives have discovered mines within their native haunts from which they extract the precious stones and metal now and then.
These natives of the interior have not been seen by white men, so far as I know, and have been carrying on their far generations with all persons, white or black, who have attempted to invade their territory."

The expedition will terminate at Lima, Peru, perhaps early next year, from which place Dr. McGovern will go to the United States before returning to London.

Offices Of House Members May Cost Nation $3,000,000.00

WASHINGTON, Apr. 7.—Congress has left up to David Lynn, architect of the capitol, the problem of a survey for a new building to house the offices of representatives. It has given him $2, 500 for the job and expects him to report by the opening of the forty-ninth congress next fall.

Senators already have two, three or four office rooms apiece, but not one member has but one each, in which to receive visitors, hold conferences, and house three or four clerks. To give each representative two rooms is the object of the survey which Mr. Lynn is called upon to make.

Two definite proposals have advanced. One is to build within the walls of the capitol a new storage building at an estimated cost of $2,000,000, to provide 375 rooms.
The plan also contemplates raising the present building one story.
The other proposal would be to construct a new building nearby.

In the 31 days only chairman of committees held offices provided for them at the capitol. Other members had their offices scattered all over the city, in their hotels, and in downtown business buildings.

WELSH GIRLS DATE COLLEGE

uating at college after leaving

Can Talk Again

Charles L. Flagstad of Superior, Wis., is able to speak again after being deprived of that faculty for three years. In 1921 his larynx was removed when cancer had set in. A short time ago Flagstad used an automatic larynx, a new invention, and has so mastered the use of it that he can carry on an audible conversation.

London Syndicate Seeking Treasure Sunken 100 Years

LONDON, Apr. 6.—Searching for treasure in Navarino Bay, in the Greek coast, where a fleet of Turco-Egyptian and Tunisian vessels went down nearly a hundred years ago, was begun recently by a London syndicate of insurance brokers. Specially designed salvage ships were sent to the scene with the hope of being able to carry out their purpose. Members of the expedition have come to London for additional supplies and diving apparatus and, according to their reports, 43 ships were lost on which there were gold, precious stones and statuary which the Turks had removed from Greek towns.

The treasure had been taken on board the fleet for transport to Turkey when Admiral Codrington in 1827 engaged the vessels in battle and sunk most of them. The bay where the work has been started is about four miles square, with a rocky bottom and a maximum depth of water of approximately 180 feet. It has been estimated, however, by divers, that the sunken ships have been covered with several feet of mud washed down with the waters from nearby mountains. A concession for carrying on the salvage operations was granted by the Greek government, which it to get from 15 to 20 per cent of the proceeds of the expedition.

examined by visitors to Rome, thanks to the opening of the public several days ago of the Mus-

Swedish Marksmen Partial to U. S. Rifles

STOCKHOLM, Apr. 6.—Swedish marksmen, profiting by their observation of American methods in the 1921 Olympic Games, and by their knowledge of American rifles, which they tried out on several occasions, have decided to import a number of American sporting weapons and a quantity of American powder. While a high standard of excellence has been obtained in Sweden through the use of the Swedish army rifle, a G. Mannet, they are convinced that the weapons used by the United States settle better results.

MY MESSAGE TO YOU

Whatever your doubts, and whatever your fears, There's a place in the world for you. Despite all your worries, despite all your cares, There's a place in the world for you. You may have had troubles; you may have had pain; But haven't you battled them through? And can't you for pity sake do it again? There's a place in the world for you. Keep still, when you feel that the stream's running out, There's a place in the world for you. Remember your birthright, and stifle your doubt, There's a place in the world for you. You may have been waiting, it may have been long, But others have waited—too! So get ready your smiles and practice your song, There's a place in the world for you. You have studied the law of Omnipotent things? There's a place in the world for you. You know what the dawn is, the brightest it brings? There's a place in the world for you. You know that Success all the sweeter will seem If you've fought—and stuck to it too, So please to remember, it's not all a dream, There's a place in the world for you. And when from the highway of life you look back, From the place in the world for you, You will laugh when you see the old stones on the track, That made the road harder to view; You will call to your fellows—who struggle and fight, You may say "Come along, I've been thru." You will give them your message, because you were right, There's a place in the world for you. —O'Bryne Hoare.

Wonder how many people in Miami carry tornado insurance? It is better to have a quiet enemy than a noisy friend. Our office boy says the modern flapper is usually painted worse than she really is. Everybody enjoyed the chautauqua and will be glad to see it back in Sanford next winter. Don't be afraid to blow your own horn. It might prevent an accident. Hitch your wagon to a star said the millionaire's son as he waited near in the stage entrance in his Rolls Royce. According to the books written by the baby experts it is hard work for an infant to cry. Then why in the world don't some of them rest up? The celery city sage says there are some squawks who will kick about the needless extravagance of paving the streets of Heaven with golden bricks. If your stomach rumbles like a big load of oranges crossing any of the A. C. L. tracks in Clermont, it is probably the truck you ate last night for supper.—Clermont Press. What we should like to bet on, is that the pious party who would abolish the little word "damn" is suffering a week's growth of whiskers yanked off his countenance in one yank.—Macon Telegraph. The little word "damn" wouldn't help us much in a case like that.

The Barnum Code

It is nothing to be told how to make a success of yourself. Every man you meet on the street, no matter how big a failure he himself may be, can tell you exactly how to find the road to wealth and happiness. He knows because he missed it and if he had his life to live over he would know exactly where to find the right road.

But somehow most of us rather hesitate to take too much stock in what these men who have mused up their own lives, tell us about how to live ours. Somehow we rather prefer to listen to the words of wisdom falling from the lips of someone who won't have to live his life over in order to be a success. We can't help but believe that the chances of living this life over, at least on top of our so much beloved terra firma, are relatively small.

On the whole however, we believe most young men are tremendously interested in what John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie, Calvin Coolidge, Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin, or Henry Ford may have to say regarding the secret of success. They had their fling at the business, religious, or political world; they took some long shots, perhaps, and they won. So what they may have to say, might be of help to us in making some decision for ourselves.

Now there was a certain Mr. P. T. Barnum, who attained the acme of success in the circus profession. Perhaps you do not want to be a circus man. Certainly we don't. But in all probability the principles on which he governed his business career, should be quite as applicable to other professions as well.

An article in Editor and Publisher prints the "Barnum Code" selected from "Business Rules for Young Men", which was written by Mr. Barnum in 1852. The "Barnum Code" is as follows:

- 1.—Select the kind of business that suits your natural inclinations and temperament. 2.—Let your pledged word ever be sacred. 3.—Whatever you do, do with all your might. 4.—Sobriety: Use no description of intoxicating liquors. 5.—Let hope predominate, but be not too visionary. 6.—Do not scatter your powers. 7.—Engage proper employes. 8.—Advertise your business. Do not hide your light under a bushel. 9.—Avoid extravagance, and always live considerably within your income, if you can do so without absolute starvation. 10.—Do not depend upon others.

"A Friend Tester"

In one of the April magazines sent out by a banking institution for the encouragement of thrift, and growing bank accounts, there is a pretty story about a young couple trying to start housekeeping, with only the meagre salary of the young man to pay the bills.

The bride finds apartment rents very high but gets hold of pleasantly arranged rooms in a shabby old house, fixes it up in marvelous fashion from her "thrift account", and shows how they can put half the family's salary into another thrift account to buy a real home some day. It's a nice story, and it winds up with the theme we use for the captain of this editorial.

The man highly pleased with the comfort of the place, and mighty proud of the little wife said something about the neighborhood not being the sort she was accustomed to. "It's all right, of course," he said, "but maybe our friends..."

"Don't you think," she answered, "living here will be a kind of friend tester, Real friends would like us all the better, and the others—we don't care about the others, do we?"

If young married people, if all people in fact, had that sort of attitude toward the opinions of their friends and pseudo-friends many a marital ship would ride the waves of the pleasanter seas, and reach a safer harbor.

If young people have the stamina to live within these means, to live the lives that insure the truer happiness, they can provide "friend testers" that will soon eliminate the undesirable from their lists of acquaintances. And by the same system they can build a circle of protection against most of the troubles of life, that circle of the friends who ring true, come what may.

THANK YOU WINTER PARK HERALD

We are indeed glad that the Sanford Chamber of Commerce has realized the great importance of the city of Winter Park. While we have been aware of the fact, this for many years, still it is very gratifying to have this acknowledgment come from one of our neighboring cities. Why should we not crow from the housetops? Our friends in Sanford may rest assured that we are indeed appreciative of this consideration on their part. In the March 20 issue of the Florida Sun appears a page advertisement of Sanford, the "City Substantial." Contained in the ad is a map of the state of Florida, on which Winter Park is marked in type five times as large as the word "Sanford." Such a fraternal spirit should not go unrewarded. Again we thank you, "City Substantial."

WHERE ARE THE HOMELESS EDITORS? LEESBURG COMMERCIAL

If there were homeless editors in Florida today the situation would be tragic. But as there is none as far as we know, there is an element of comedy in the present status of the nebulous "national home" presumably established and endowed by Hon. Charles D. Haines and his good lady. Much of the time of the meeting of the Florida Press Association at Gainesville last week was taken up with discussion of this situation to the exclusion of much that would have been fresher news and much better grist for the editorial mills. The only new thing that was told us was the condition of the groves on the property donated by Mr. Haines. About $2,000 of the original $10,000 in cash has been used caring for the property which produced $501 in revenue during the year. Mr. Haines has never completed his gift by placing the $10,000 worth of property in the hands of the corporation organized to handle the foundation, so it was necessary to use the cash fund which was intended as an expense money with which to develop the foundation and ring in further endowments. Between Mr. Haines' vision of an immense home growing out of the comparatively modest endowment promised by himself, and the careful sitting of the directors on the portion of the setting of eggs Mr. Haines did put into the basket, there is a vast "no man's land." George Hooper, president of the board, asked the press of Florida to start the ball rolling by putting up a $10,000 building but the segments of plans projected by the various members of the board were so nebulous that no one was able to even get the drift of them, if there was any definite drift. John C. Lochner, the treasurer, suggested that the editors show up for a few days, each with a saw, hammer and hatchet, and knock together a building to start the ball rolling. We are afraid that if it were done this way, if nothing more definite is offered, we see nothing but chaos ahead and would suggest that the portion of a gift be returned to Mr. Haines and let him start over.

A powerful church. Steiner and Levy? Settle. John D.'s Grandson. Thank the Lord for Borah. By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

BEWARE HOW you get in a fight with the ancient and powerful Roman Catholic Church. For details ask Monsieur Herriot, Socialist Prime Minister of France. As a little anti-religious "gesture" he abolished the French Embassy at the Vatican, refusing to recognize the Pope's influence and position in the world's diplomacy.

IN EVERY corner of France the battle began, in workshops, in universities, in peasant villages. Then came financial trouble, and the French Cabinet, with Herriot at the top began tottering.

Today's news tells of the re-establishment of the French Embassy at the Vatican. The church that has stood for 18 centuries will stand a while longer.

MR. DUELL, who will know better next time, sued Lillian Gish. He lost his suit, and when it was ever found himself under bonds to answer a charge of perjury. He says, "I am the world's worst witness."

That isn't the WORST of his troubles. He had the world's worst luck in the lawyers against him. They included Messrs. Max Steiner and Louis Levy.

If you ever go into court and find Steiner and Levy hanging on either side of your opponent, SETTLE.

That's the best legal advice you ever got for nothing.

FOWLER M'CORMICK, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, and heir to a great Harvester Trust fortune, is working as a day laborer in a harvester plant sorting out heavy metal castings.

"There's a hero for you," says public opinion, pointing at the young man. And "There's a wise father for you," pointing at the young man's father.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER himself, praising the young gentleman, telling him he will be a great man some day. All papers print the letter—BUT Fathers who think their sons may be worth while should do a little thinking for themselves.

Bear in mind that your son has only ONE MAINSPRING and be careful how you risk breaking it, by the wrong kind of discipline.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER admires his grandson. But Mr. Rockefeller probably didn't get into the oil business by digging oil wells, or prospecting through dreary years, or peddling oil out of a wagon. He went into oil through the TOP.

THIS WRITER knew a young man whose father owned a big publishing business in New York. The young man, a fine specimen, was put to work in the pressrooms in a red flannel shirt and everybody said "FINE."

When he got out of the pressroom that young man never went near the publishing house again. He had had enough of it. The publishing business went to pieces, he drifted into a big banker's office, and that was that.

MEN SUCCEEDED and rule other men by the use of the mental MAINSPRING. The three greatest rulers of men in history are Alexander, Caesar and Napoleon. None of them started in as a simple soldier in the ranks. Alexander began as a mere boy, with armies under him, and at thirty was ruler of the world. Caesar started in Roman politics, became a soldier, went to Gaul and grew powerful enough to frighten the Senate, and he ruled the world, including Rome.

NAPOLEON WENT to a military academy, studied and read books, used his brain, and HE ruled the world. To have a son worth while, give him the best chance you can. First, good health, then education, then a good start.

Arrange, if you can, to have your son's pleasures depend on what he actually EARNs. Try to make it worth while for him to work hard, offering the best reward you can.

CAESAR WOULDN'T have crossed the Rubicon for a dollar a day, or to get a nice letter from Grandpa.

Alexander wouldn't have swum the river or led his Macedonians through the line of Persian elephants if he hadn't known that he was making himself ruler of Asia and the world. Napoleon wouldn't have fought and won as he did in Italy had he not known, what he told his soldiers, that the world was before him and them—especially HIM.

SORTING IRON castings in a foundry might be the right work for a young man destined later to manage a gigantic business spread all over the world and deal with the selling of products. But it probably ISN'T the right business.

THANK THE good Lord for Senator Borah, and twice thanks that Borah is Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Through Senator Borah this country has been saved from the hands of those who would lead the United States as rapidly as possible. Senator Borah kicks the trap to pieces. Even the newspapers that favor the World Court foolishness must print what Borah says.

THE BODYGUARD

IS HE GUILTY OR NOT? MACON TELEGRAPH

The dismissal of the indictments against Albert B. Fall, E. L. Dohney and Dohney's son, on the purely technical ground that an assistant to the Attorney General was present when the case was "considered" by the grand jury is an example of the sort of thing that strains the patience of the public with our court systems. We are too bound up in technicalities and bring too little common sense to bear in the interpretation of our statutes.

We fail to see where there was any grave infringement upon the rights of the defendants in the presence of the assistant Attorney General when the actual vote on the indictments was taken. He had been present during the entire presentation of the case; he had, in fact, presented it. It does not stand for reason that any jury would allow an assistant Attorney General or anybody else to dictate or even to raise his voice, in connection with the balloting. It is not reasonable to presume that the jury acted contrary to the way it would have acted had not the assistant been present. The result would have been the same. Unless Fall, Dohney and Dohney Jr., are re-indicted, the criminal prosecutions against them will drop. The public will not allow that, of course. The public is convinced that Fall was corrupt and that Dohney corrupted him with the little black bag. Dohney contends, of course, that it was a loan. If that is his contention, why do not his attorneys go into a court room to establish that, instead of endeavoring to hinder the proceedings and clutter up the records?

The defendant who employs technicalities to delay his trial creates the presumption that he is guilty and fears the trial. And out of that presumption arises a greater determination on the part of the public that the trial shall be held. The issue in this case is not whether an attorney was in the grand jury room when the case was considered; the issue is whether Albert B. Fall in willful violation of his oath of office, in rape of his honor, in disregard of the right and financial welfare of the American people, conspired to sell property that was held in trust by him for the American people, to Dohney. And that is the issue the people of this country want to see tried.

PERU'S REQUEST LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL

Outside Chile, one phase of Peru's latest note respecting the Tacna-Arica dispute is likely to awaken sympathy in Latin-America. This point is the request that when the plebiscite is held Chilean military authorities in Tacna-Arica be displaced with American soldiers or American marines in the effort to maintain order and insure free and untrammelled voting at the polls.

It is to be wondered at that the Lima Government failed to draw this feature of the case to President Coolidge's attention when Peru's argument was being prepared for his consideration. Perhaps Peruvian diplomats felt that to do so would have been equivalent to assuming that President Coolidge would accept Chile's view that the dispute should be settled by a plebiscite. Contented by this vigorous opposition by the Peruvians. It may be doubted that Chile will strenuously resist this latest suggestion from Lima. For more than forty years Tacna-Arica has been in Chile's possession. Statesmen at Santiago are not unmindful that in this case, as in others "possession is nine points of the law." Chile's grip upon these two provinces has been strengthened by Chilean military occupation as well as by Chilean colonization and industrial development. If the Chilean military authorities should absent themselves from the polls and have nothing to do with the plebiscite it is doubtful after more than forty years of Chilean occupation, that the plebiscite would result in favor of Peru. In case the strong arm of Chilean military authority should be used to terrorize the Peruvians as it might be used, and as Peruvians sincerely believe it will be used, the result of the plebiscite would undoubtedly be in favor of Chile.

MY FAVORITE STORIES BY IRVIN S. COBB

A New York theatrical magnate had a bad attack of gripe in the winter and went South to recuperate. He stopped a few days in a small town in South Carolina. When he got ready to leave for the North he found the official bus had mysteriously vanished; probably the driver had gone joy riding. There was no conveyance, public or private, to be had; and in order to catch his train the Northerner was compelled to labor afoot over a mile and a half of dusty road, with a valise in each hand. When he staggered up to the tiny station there was no one in sight except an old dinky who was sitting on the platform. "Uncle," inquired the New Yorker, "why in the name of goodness did they build this depot so far from the town?" The old man scratched his head. "I don't know, boss," he said, "unless it wuz because dey wanted to git closer to de railroad!"

BRITISH GOLFERS ADOPT AMERICAN PAR OVER BOGEY

More Enthusiastic Golfers Prefer Harder Goal Set By Americans; Par Becomes More Popular Every Day

LONDON, Apr. 7.—British golf clubs have begun to adopt par as the standard of their courses, instead of the ancient but easier goal known as bogey. In most cases the bogey figures for 18 holes are six strokes higher, and that much easier to attain, than par.

So far only a few clubs have adopted the severer standard, long since universal in America. Most of the courses that have broken away from bogey are in the London district. To make the change nation-wide will perhaps require several years, for the Briton has an ingrained aversion to giving up his accustomed ways, whether in business or pleasure. Until now the general run of British golfers have always played "against bogey" in their medal competitions, and their handicaps are all based on that standard. For the vast majority of players it is, and always will be, more fun to think 78 is a perfect card, than to be told that a total of more than 72 or 73 strokes confesses a flaw somewhere in one's play.

From first class players, bogey figures have seldom demanded brilliance. To attain them merely demands, in most cases, steady, unflinching play. Even those who can hit a golf ball only a moderate distance can do a course in bogey if they keep a straight line and stay out of trouble and, of course, have a bit of luck.

But with par's asked for on holes from 400 to 445 yards in length, instead of bogey 5's, only those who can get along and accurate carries with driver, and brassie are likely to experience, with experience, with any frequency, the achievement of the goal of the game.

The change from bogey to par which has set in among British golfers is, to a great extent attributable to American influence. Three of the last four British open championships have been won by Americans, who have trained themselves to play against the more exacting standards prevailing on the other side of the Atlantic.

But, more influential than the accomplishments of American professionals upon the British golfer's mind, have been the reports from across the Atlantic, describing how an amateur, Bobby Jones, has schooled himself to play "against par," instead of merely against the strokes of an opponent, even in match play.

College Baseball Players Are Still Favored By Rickey

STOCKTON, Cal., Apr. 6.—College ball players?

Many a manager throws up his hands at their mention. Some try to discourage their appearing at training camps.

But Branch Rickey had about a dozen toiling with the St. Louis Cardinals here—while his scouts are attending collegiate games in California, looking for other prospects.

All of the collegians now on the squad were picked by Rickey. Most of these are slated as regulars.

For Rickey has a different idea regarding college players, based baseball coach at Michigan. Sisler and Lavan are two collegians he developed into stars.

"The campus can produce major league stars as well as the sandlots and the minor leagues," argues Rickey. "The colleges have experienced coaches, and the college athlete is eager to learn and quick to rectify his faults."

"He is a student, and he studies his baseball playing, too. He tries to find and correct his shortcomings before they are pointed out to him." Yick, a hitting cater, was a Camp All-American center selection at Michigan. Holm was understood to Aubrey Devine at Iowa. Others starred in collegiate sports, and practically every one captained his varsity nine.

Some of the other "recruited" boys on the Cardinals list are John Stuyve, Ohio State; Eddie Dyer, Rice Institute; Howard Freygaug, Ohio Wesleyan; Douthit, California, and Chick Hafey, of Stanford.

Fishermen Anxious to Fight London Fires

LONDON, Apr. 7.—Just why fishermen want to become London firemen is difficult to explain, but it is recorded at the headquarters of the London Fire Brigade that the majority of their recruits are drawn from the sea.

It is said that a fireman's life seems to have a fascination for men used to hard and exciting work on a trawler, and after any big London fire there is always an increase in the number of applications for admission to the brigade.

Seafaring candidates make the most of their time in all kinds of weather and do any job at a moment's notice. Also they are used to strict discipline.

Downpour Prevents Sanford-Macon Tilt In Orlando Monday

Old Jupiter Pluvius prevented the Sanford baseball team and the Macon Peaches from playing their second game in Orlando Monday afternoon. After a conference between Managers Ernie Brice and Nick Carter it was decided that the contest should be postponed until Saturday afternoon.

The Georgians left immediately for a trip down the state where they will meet the St. Petersburg and Lakeland teams. They will return in time for the Saturday's clash with the local aggregation and then depart next week for home.

Meanwhile Manager Carter, if rain doesn't prevent workouts, will continue to put his men through their daily dozen at the municipal athletic field. The Sanford chief is well pleased with the manner in which most of his players are performing and believes that by the time the season opens he will have a well rounded out aggregation.

ade have been beaten by the Finn, ran the greatest mile of his career in Madison Square Garden Mar. 17 and equaled Paavo's indoor record time of 4:1, while Hahn finished only four-fifths of a second behind. Joie's fondest wish since his early season defeats by Nurmi has been to meet the visitor in another mile race, and this would have been realized on that night had not Paavo been stricken with acute indigestion.

Florida has 152 factories for the manufacture of its annual crop of 4,500,000 pounds of tobacco.

Florida is responsible for 80 per cent of the nation's total supply of absorbate, which underlies practically the entire state.

At the end of the year 1924, Florida had available 10,000,000, 100 board feet of uncut lumber. Florida leads in the production of naval stores and sand brick.

115 Track Records Shattered During Past Season with Nurmi In The Lead

NEW YORK, Apr. 6.—One hundred and fifteen world records have been made to date in the indoor track and field season, which virtually closed last Saturday night. Of this amazing total, 61 marks still stand; the others were superseded.

Paavo Nurmi, of Finland, leads with 34 records, of which 18 still stand to his credit. Most of the other sixteen he himself has broken in subsequent meets through the east.

Spurred by Nurmi's unprecedented feats, American track stars have contributed their best to make this the greatest indoor season in the history of the sport.

To Willie Ritola comes the honor of second place in the record. He has broken 18 records since the first of the year, but has seen most of his performances fall before Nurmi.

Joe Ray and Hahn stand out among the American milers who have persistently held to Nurmi's trail. Ray, whose many records, patiently accumulated during a de-

Joie Ray Still Reigns As Premier American Miler In Spite Of Defeat

NEW YORK, Apr. 7.—Joie W. Ray, of the Illinois Athletic Club, chesty Joie, the track fans call him, has seen all except one of his dozen records surpassed in the 1925 indoor season, but in the opinion of experts he still is America's premier miler.

Until Paavo Nurmi began his astonishing campaign against the marks of Uncle Sam's athletic trophies, Joie was the star attraction at each of his many meets in which he competed.

However, Ray retained any prestige he may have lost through his successive defeats by Paavo when he tied Nurmi's 4:12 record for the indoor mile. Up to that night—Mar. 17 in Madison Square Garden—the Chicagoan had a remarkably good season. Spurred to his best efforts by the keenest competition, Ray had won the hammer mile at the Boston A. A. games in the excellent time of four minutes, 15 seconds.

Not long after, running at the Western Union A. A. games here he did the best mile of his long career up to that time, turning in a mark of four minutes 13.45 seconds, only one fifth of a second above Nurmi's record of that date.

After a few more or less mediocre performances in various parts of the country, Joie came to New York for the Knights of Columbus games on the night of St. Patrick's Day. Entered with him in the feature mile even on that card were Nurmi, Lloyd Hahn, who had broken two of Paavo's marks, Jimmy Connolly and Leo Larive, and the fans as well as the athletes looked for a dual test between Ray and his Finnish conqueror, a race which many expected would smash Nurmi's mark of 4:12 set a few days before at Buffalo. But Paavo's sudden illness forced him out of the field and Ray, determined to return to his faded glory, equalled the record-breaking mile after a sparkling race with Hahn.

With that performance to his credit, fans and experts were convinced he was still the Joie of old, and that his fighting spirit had not been smothered under his toppled records.

Ray, who has been running since 1909, now holds only the 1,000 meter record, and that mark, 2:23 3-5, he set here on Feb. 24.

Hull Business Men Plan Treasure Trip

HULL, Eng., Apr. 7.—Headed by John Riley, of this town, a party of business men are planning an expedition this month into Alaska on a search for hidden treasure. Riley is the only man who has an exact knowledge of the whereabouts of the treasure in question, which he says consists of a vein of pure silver from two feet thick and weighing probably hundreds of tons.

Riley claims to have discovered the vein during the great Klondike gold rush of 25 years ago and has persuaded three men to join him in the quest. They propose to obtain samples of the metal and float a company. If successful in their quest, an airplane will be used to convey the shipment to Vancouver, B. C.

The Searchlight Joins the Sales Force

THE original purpose of the giant searchlight on the Highlands property was to tell Florida and the "stranger within her gates about Daytona. According to information being received from far distant points it would seem that this purpose is certainly being accomplished. But recently the great searchlight has gone to work for Daytona and Daytona Highlands in another capacity, that of Silent Salesman. Quite a bit of property has actually been sold from the top of the Farragota Tower as the great light has swung around and focused its rays on the hillside. The fundamental reason for the foregoing facts is that the searchlight tells nothing but the truth about the property. This strict adherence to the truth in the work of marketing this property is one of the secrets of its success.

Daytona Highlands is a component part of this community. Who can force the high place this master development will hold in Florida a year from now?

A PIMPLY SKIN NEEDS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Men-tho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.
Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream. —Adv.

Is Your Work Hard?

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back?
Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?
There is no peace from that dull ache.
No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.
Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, Sanford people recommend Doan's L. H. Walker, bricklayer, 1220 W. Third St., Sanford, says:
"Hard work weakened my kidneys and caused lame back. When I stooped to lift, terrible pains caught me in the small of my back and I could hardly straighten. I had to get up frequently during the night to pass the secretions which burned in passage. I prepared Doan's Pills at Saint's Drug Store. Doan's cured me." 60¢ at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Fight the To End Head Colds

A cold in the head means a local germ attack. Fight it locally in the membranes of the air passages.

Apply Ely's Cream Balm in the nostrils and breathe it. That forces antiseptic fumes wherever those germs exist. Relief is instant. The air passages are cleared, the inflammation is subdued, the whole trouble is checked.

Don't suffer from a stuffed-up head or catarrh. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Get instant relief, fight the trouble at its source. Then never again let a head cold get started.

Are You a Nervous Woman?

Without health and well-poised nerves many women find life a burden. Are you suffering from lack of vitality consequent to the weaknesses peculiar to women? If so, do not despair, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bring relief.
Your health is your most valuable asset and the Favorite Prescription made of herbs, if taken regularly, will help to restore it. Health brings beauty. A well woman is always beautiful.
