STOCKS SURGE UPWARD WITH MART OPENING

Price Advances Range From One To Seven Dollars Ahead Of Closing Quotations

NEW YORK, Mar. 15. (A. P.)—Back from banking wars, security markets received an enthusiastic welcome in Wall Street today. Stocks, which rose to seven dollars higher in a strong active opening and clung tenaciously to top prices as the trading wore on, although the volume slackened appreciably.

Bonds made a bid for prominence but their advance was relatively subdued.

Most of the leading commodity markets, notably the New York Cotton Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade's grain pits, will not resume until tomorrow.

Old line favorites of the Stock Market such as United States Steel, American Telephone, American Can, Dupont, General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Pennsylvania Railroad, and Atchafalaya Railroad opened two to three dollars above previous closing quotations.

The passage of the beer bill by the House afforded an opportunity for a bullish display in the so-called war stocks. The American Dollar had another relapse in terms of European currencies especially those still on the gold basis.

Tariff Policies Are Blamed For Ills Of Canada's Railroads

OTTAWA, Mar. 15.—The charge that although the Canadian National railway system was built to serve the people of Canada, the present railway bill threatened to make the Canadian people serve the railway, was made in the House by J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

The best contribution the government could make to the railway problem would be to get to the world economic conference resolved to break down the barriers against trade, argued E. J. Young, member from Saskatchewan, who blamed the tariff policies of the Bennett administration for most of the difficulties the railways were undergoing. If other countries were not prepared at least Canada could make a gesture by lowering its own barriers, he added.

Engineer Is Here On Waterway Inspection

J. B. Early, of Jacksonville, connected with the District U. S. War Department Engineer's Office, was in Sanford this morning gathering data relating to the volume of tonnage sent up and down the river from and to Jacksonville and Sanford.

He visited the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce office and was advised on numerous matters, while shortly after he conferred with Captain Tighman, owner of the "Noah's Ark," pleasure craft tied up at the dock basin, and learned first-hand about conditions along the river as they relate to passenger and freight tonnage and traffic.

President To Send 2 More Messages

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will send messages to Congress probably tomorrow on emergency farm and unemployment measures for immediate action. The employment program calls for recruiting of idle in cities for immediate work on reforestation in all sections of the country. The farm plan will be a one-year experimental proposition looking to average control with a view to increasing the value of farm products. Democratic leaders at the capital have given the President assurances that great party majorities in both branches will work for the expeditious enactment of both proposals. Under the latest farm relief plan the bill does not include provision for leasing on a broad scale of marginal lands to take them out of production.

ATLANTIC BANK OPENS WITH ALL SIGNS OPTIMISTIC

Nearly $6000 In Gold Or Gold Currency Is Placed On Deposit

A volume of business unprecedented in the history of the Sanford-Atlantic National Bank, plus the depositing of nearly $6000 in gold or gold currency, marked the unrestricted opening of Sanford's only banking institution this morning.

Clinton E. Allen, president of the bank, is quoted as saying "I've never seen such a day's business nor such a wide variety of transactions," while tellers and bookkeepers, busily engaged in waiting on customers, welcomed piles of currency, silver, checks, drafts, and acceptances to prove in the questioner that business is "rushing."

While the line of customers, extended to the sidewalk on First Street on several occasions during the morning, and persons from every walk of life were represented, the most unusual feature of the day's activities, according to Mr. Allen, is the fact that as far as he was able to tell at closing time today, there had been absolutely no withdrawals from the bank's deposits, except for regular business requirements. Hundreds of checks, were cashed, particularly the offered by railroad workers, tourists with their travelers checks, and men and women with pension checks. But at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, not a single customer of the bank had signed a statement saying that "in connection with the withdrawal of (blank) dollars in currency, I certify to the Sanford-Atlantic National Bank that the same is not withdrawn for hoarding in violation of law and the proclamation of the President and the regulations of the Treasury."

This statement must be signed by any customer who withdraws cash by check, and all statements are later to be studied. In the opinion of the banker, the person withdrawing the money did so for the purpose of hoarding it, that person's name is sent to the Treasury Department at once.

The bank, according to Mr. Allen, receives a list of names of national and state banks, which, having been granted licenses by the Federal Reserve Board, have reopened for business since Monday. Such a list comes to the bank every morning, and persons presenting checks on those banks, provided they are customers or well-known to officials of the Sanford bank, will receive cash or accepted deposit if it is desired. All other checks will be accepted for collection.

Mr. Allen said that the bank is now open for unrestricted business. Under Treasury Department orders, no gold money or gold currency may be paid out under any condition, nor can any currency which the bank believes will be used for hoarding. All other bank transactions will be permitted as before the banking holiday.

MANY AREAS OF NATION HIT BY ELEMENTS

Tornado, Floods, Snow And Another Quake Shock Reported In Scattered Sections

(By The Associated Press)
Tornado, floods, heavy snows, and an after-quake of an earthquake helet several sections of the country today.

The 4.7th earth tremor since the series started last Friday was felt at Los Angeles today with three distinct shocks. It was preceded by a loud rumble at Huntington Park.

Long Beach police said the city hall was violently jarred. Brick fell from buildings atony partially wrecked.

A tornado tore from the Mississippi River to the Cumberland Mountains along the Tennessee-Kentucky border. At least 30 persons died and more than 200 were injured. Property damage was estimated at more than $1,000,000.

The Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers, swollen by rain, swept more than three feet above flood level at Pittsburgh. A steamer sank and other vessels were tipped from their moorings. Water commerce was disrupted, and damage spread along the shores. Snow fell in New Hampshire. Eight inches were recorded in the blizzard.

Governor Sholtz Tells Officials To Not Stage Lobbies

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 15.—Governor Sholtz in a statement yesterday condemning lobbying by public officials asked city, county and district officials to stay away from the legislature next month.

"Never in the history of this state has there been a greater need for the highest possible degree of service on the part of all public servants," he said. "The place where the greatest service can be rendered by any official or employee is right on the job."

"No real benefits can accrue from their presence in Tallahassee in connection with legislation. Legislation is the exclusive prerogative of our senators and representatives chosen by the people for that purpose."

"Accordingly, I request such officials not to come to Tallahassee during the forthcoming session of the legislature unless summoned by the governor or the legislature. In an exceptional case where they might consider it imperative to come to Tallahassee in the exercise of official duties it is requested that they advise the governor in advance the nature of the business requiring their presence here."

Plans Are Made For Y.M.C.A. Parley Here

Arrangements for the staging of the Florida State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association to be held here next Thursday and Friday were perfected here yesterday when Merrill E. Brown, secretary of the Association, visited the city and conferred with local leaders of the movement.

New York Police Seeking Motives And Clues Behind Series Of Violent Acts

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Motive, clues and assailants were sought by metropolitan police today after a series of shootings, stabbings and slayings in the last 24 hours had left five persons dead and four wounded.

Strayest was a cordial shop murder and a safe shooting, which authorities believe may be connected.

John Thorne, 27, mortally wounded, staggered from his car when shot in the neck of a patrolman. The officer expired back into the store, where he died.

While detectives were searching the room for clues, a man ran in today there had been a shooting in a cafe two blocks away. There officers found Mario Capella, 22, with a bullet in his right arm. On the floor, scattered and unconscious, lay Louis John, 25.

John had staggered into the cafe shouting, "Where is Betty?" and waving a revolver. In a melee Capella was shot and the armed man beaten unconscious.

Meanwhile, in a downtown town factory, Hyman Benson, 34, was killed, and his nephew, Charles Berger, 16, was wounded. Benson, the elder Benson's business partner, was charged (Continued on Page Two)

Dick Vernay Reported As Slowly Improving

Physician attending Dick Vernay, young Sanford man who suffered a fractured skull in an airplane accident at the Municipal Airport last Sunday afternoon, today reported that he is resting comfortably and is slowly improving.

He must be kept absolutely quiet, however, they stated, for the nature of his injury is such that much treatment requiring rest and quiet is needed.

Asked whether he is conscious or not, one of his physicians said, "Well, we gave him a glassful of salt yesterday noon, and after drinking it he said, 'Gosh, that's salty stuff, it must be spum salt!'"

Dr. W. S. Beard Of Rollins College Is Speaker Before Rotarians Tuesday

The "Really Big Business of the Hour," Dr. Wm. S. Beard of Rollins College told Sanford Rotarians yesterday, lies in the production of men—physically strong, intellectually capable, and mentally vigorous enough to do the world's work. "If we haven't trained that brain during the past three years, then we should seek substitute to a home for the feeble-minded."

The task, Dr. Beard said, is bigger than any we've ever had, for the most significant developments in all history are being enacted under our daily gaze.

While the significant thing about some of the world's 20 billion dollar corporations, such as the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is to bring people together, Dr. Beard said, "These big businesses are only drops in the bucket to the really big business of the hour." This big business, he continued, is not a financial or economic problem but a "problem of morals or religion."

COMMITTEE IN SENATE O. K.'S BEER MEASURE

Amendment Is Tacked On To Legalize Wine And Fruit Juices Of 3.2 Percent Power

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—(AP)—The finance committee in the Senate approved the House 3.2 percent beer bill without a record today. It is expected to have the senate act on it tomorrow.

The only change made in the House bill was an amendment to legalize wine and fruit juices of 3.2 percent alcoholic content which some limitation as will apply to beer.

Speaker Rainey said Congress probably will give in session until the administration farm relief and unemployment program is enacted.

Upstairs during three hours of debate in which the minority prohibitionists hammered vainly against the administration measure, the House overwhelmingly passed the bill yesterday, 310 to 97.

Party lines were shattered. Fifty Democrats and 39 Republicans, including Representatives Greenwood of Indiana, Democratic whip, and Snell of New York, Republican leader, voted "in opposition."

Four of Florida's representatives, Peterson, Green, Caldwell and Wilcox, voted for the bill. Seats in all in Florida.

With supporting the measure that is expected to bring in from $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 annually in revenue 230 Democrats, 75 Republicans and five former laborites, showed the measure through with applause and cheers. The last House on Dec. 21, passed the bill 230 to 100.

Action came within less than 30 hours after President Roosevelt Monday sent an unexpected message to Congress asking for immediate passage for revenue purposes and to fulfill the party's pledge to modify the Volstead Act to permit the manufacture and sale of beer.

Before final vote in the House Speaker Rainey again broke custom and had his name called so he could vote for the bill. His predecessors usually voted only in case of a tie.

Principal provision of the Culbertson beer bill passed by the House follows:

Class 1—House
Chairman, Mrs. E. M. Welch. For Three classes added to a new Sec. 1—light pink; sec. 2—dark pink; sec. 3—red; sec. 4—white; sec. 5—yellow; sec. 6—any other color.

Class 2—Sweetened

U.S. Bank System Is Again Functioning Almost At Normal

Stock Exchange Opens And Initial Buying Wave Sends Prices Sweeping Upwards

The nation's banking system began functioning on an almost normal basis again today as the third day of President Roosevelt's progressive plan for reopening of financial institutions found activities extended to virtually every section of the country.

A hushed smaller institution joined the throng of larger banks reopened during the past two days in 12 federal reserve district cities and in 250 clearing house centers. The New York Stock Exchange reopened for the first time in 12 days and an initial wave of buying swept prices of many leaders up one to four points. Other exchanges also resumed trading.

The Internal Revenue Bureau announced that time for filing income tax reports has been postponed from midnight tonight until Mar. 31 with the stipulation that taxpayers who wait until after midnight tonight must pay six percent interest for the two weeks period on one-fourth of their full tax.

Thirty-one additional Florida banks, members of the federal reserve in 29 cities, were added to the list of institutions to resume business, and within a short time it is expected that all of the state banks will be operating again.

Daily price fluctuations in the Chicago board will be restricted, the range on wheat to five cents a bushel, up or down.

The strength of the dollar was generally maintained Tuesday in foreign exchanges, a symbol of world confidence in American strength and soundness.

Treasury Secretary Woodin announced the end of an "era of fear" and the Roosevelt administration kept its full energies behind the program for permanence in new banking stability.

New deposit kept bank clerks working overtime in reopened institutions. From several cities came reports that bills need was found for the new currency issues provided in the emergency by the new Congress.

Sales crews of northern brewers have been working in Tampa and Florida for several weeks, advertising their trademarks with the expectation of the sale of real beer within a few weeks.

Thanks Expressed For Co-Operation In Share-The-Work

Unanimous endorsement of the spirited manner in which local employees have joined in the share-the-work movement was contained in a resolution passed at a meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce "Share-The-Work Committee" held yesterday afternoon.

The resolution expressed appreciation to employees for their enthusiastic way they have received the national suggestion that they share the work with their fellow employees so that when an employer is compelled to reduce the payroll, instead of letting some men out and keeping others, all men share the work to be done, and all work fewer hours and days per week.

The committee also expressed thanks to employers of labor in the county who have wholeheartedly entered into the spirit of the movement.

Among the reports made during the meeting was one from the Atlanta headquarters of the national committee indicating that 2063 firms in the southeastern states report that they are using this plan and that 284,922 employees who would otherwise have been out of employment have had part time employment at their own work because available work.

STATE MAY GET LEGALIZED BEER BY QUICK ACTION

Possible Passage Of Measure Within One Month Up To Solons

TAMPA, Mar. 15.—If the legislature acts quickly, Florida can get real beer in less than a month. If the legislature divides, it will take longer.

With a federal beer bill about certain of passage this week, it will be before the legislature for action at the opening of the next session, Apr. 1.

The legislature can legalize beer in Florida by passing an amendment to the state prohibition enforcement law to coincide with the federal law. Harry N. Sumner, Hillsborough member, said yesterday. It could be done in one day and become a law with Governor Sholtz's signature.

But indications yesterday pointed to a flood of beer bills and the possibility of some debate. The issue is easy, however, according to Sumner.

"All the legislature is required to do," Sumner said, "is to amend our state enforcement act to conform with the federal law. Other opinions have been given by various legislators. But that is my position."

Florida is a dry state by reason of its constitution and the accompanying enforcement act. The constitution forbids the sale, transportation or possession of "intoxicable or intoxicating beverages." But the enforcement act follows the wording of the federal law and the alcoholic percentages in such statutes have been generally regarded by the courts as defining the intoxicating degree of liquors, beer or wine.

"Under the present enforcement act," Sumner explained, "barracks are not permitted for sale, transportation or possession of beverages containing one-half of one percent alcohol or less. If a federal law legalizes 3.2 percent beer then a corresponding amendment to the Florida enforcement act, as I see it, would permit the sale of the 3.2 percent beer in this state."

French To Protest Rhine's Occupation By Nazis Military

PARIS, Mar. 15.—(AP)—Occupation of the demilitarized Rhineland by Chancellor Hitler's German Nazis will be protested by the French Government.

French officials say the entire Rhineland police has been disbanded and placed under Nazi control since Hitler became chancellor and that the customs officers of the French and Swiss frontiers have been augmented. They consider these moves to be violations of the treaty of Versailles and of police regulations formulated later.

France fears that Germany is rearming and the Kehl incident stirred the foreign office into action. The protest will be delivered shortly by Andre Francois-Poncet, French ambassador at Berlin.

The foreign office has received reports from Strasbourg that 600 Nazis occupied the barracks near the bridge over the Rhine between Strasbourg and Kehl and that the occupation continued for about a day. Kehl is in the demilitarized zone.

Concord Upon Economic Conferences Is Desire Of Pius XI

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 14.—(AP)—An invitation to the world to pray for the success of the economic disarmament and war debt conferences was issued yesterday by Pope Pius XI in his allocution at a consistory at which he created six new cardinals.

The pope said that he would himself pray every day for "concord upon the conferences and conversations to take place precisely during this holy year for world economic readjustment, for disarmament—may it be effective materially and morally—and for war debts."

"We invite everyone to do so with us," the pontiff said, adding that the saints who will be created this year will be powerful intercessors and patrons of his prayer.

THE SECRET HEART

Across the years he could recall his father saw best of all. In the stillest hour of the night. The boy awakened to the light. Half in dreams, he saw his sire with his great hands full of fire. The man had struck a match to see if his son slept peacefully. He held his palms each side the spark. His love had kindled in the dark. His two hands were curved apart in the semblance of a heart. He wore, it seemed to his small son, a bare heart on his hidden one. A heart that gave out such a glow. No son awake could bear to know. It showed a look upon a face. Too tender for the day to trace. (One instant, it lit all about. And then the secret heart went out. But it shone long enough for one to know that hands held up the sun. By Robert P. Tristram Coffin.

Prospects loom for the sale or leasing of the Mayfair Hotel, once Sanford's pride, more recently a victim of the depression. The City Commissioners have granted a sixty day option to sell the hotel to a New York man for $25,000, or to lease it to him for five years at $3,000 a year. Either the sale or leasing of the hotel undoubtedly would mean its early reopening which would certainly have a most stimulating effect on the local business. This deal coming at the heels of the First National bank sale seems to indicate that investors are again looking to Sanford for a safe place to put their excess funds. We would not be surprised to see an increasing number of investors in Florida real estate.

The Importance Of The Economy Bill

The significance of Congressional action in supporting the Roosevelt economy bill, more accurately described by its title as "a bill to maintain the credit of the United States government," cannot be fully understood until one realizes that this measure will curtail veterans' benefits by some four hundred million dollars and that not in over a hundred years of pension history has any appreciable reduction been made in veterans appropriations. The history of the veterans bureau has been one of ever-increasing expenditures until, in the current fiscal year, the figures reach the enormous proportions of practically a billion dollars, or one-fourth the entire federal budget.

After three years of large federal deficits, the opinion had developed, particularly among the investing public, that Congress could not balance the budget, that, for political reasons, Congress found it absolutely impossible to make any reductions whatever in the largest single item in the budget, that of veterans' appropriations. In the last session of Congress, upon the recommendation of President Hoover that pensions be cut, Congress promptly increased the appropriation, forcing Hoover to veto the bill, but eliminating any possibility whatever of reducing expenses.

What this action on the part of Congress meant to government credit may be easily deduced from the interest rates on short term certificates which the government has been compelled to offer from time to time for current expenditures. In December, when the short session began and hopes for economy were high, short term certificates were sold by the treasury at the nominal interest rate of one-eighth of one percent a year. In the latter days of February, after an actual increase in pensions had been voted, a $75,000,000 issue of certificates was brought out and could not be sold except at the high rate of 4.25 percent.

If you want to know what this means in the amount of your federal taxes, take a pencil and a piece of paper and figure one-eighth of one percent interest on $75,000,000; and then figure 4.25 percent interest on the same amount. You will probably find that the difference in the cost to the taxpayer in this one issue is $3,083,250 a year. And when you remember that there are nearly five billion dollars worth of these short term certificates which have to be refunded every sixty or ninety days, you can readily see that a continued decline in government credit would necessitate an increase in interest requirements running into hundreds of millions of dollars.

Secretary Woodin announces today that the $800,000,000 issue of certificates sold yesterday were over-subscribed, but the sale was made after definite assurances had been given that the economy bill would be passed, and the rates of interest which the certificates bore, were 4 and 4 1/4 percent, the highest, with the single exception of the February issue, since the war. Financial authorities and Washington correspondents have stated that it is very doubtful if the issue could have been sold at all if it had not been for President Roosevelt's prompt and decisive action on economy and the helpful attitude of Congress in supporting his measure.

The passage of the economy bill will not in itself balance the budget, as it calls for reductions of only $500,000,000 still leaving a gap of half a billion. But it demonstrates beyond all question of doubt that the government is willing to make the effort and has the power to act when action is necessary. It accomplishes what, under our popular form of government, and in the light of the history of our pension benefits, is nothing short of a miracle. It cuts veterans' appropriations almost in half in a superb effort "to maintain the credit of the United States government."

Rough Sports

Many critics are found of the modern sport of boxing because of its brutal aspects like cut lips, smashed noses, cauliflowered ears, blackened eyes, spurting blood, and occasional fatal injuries. However rough this ring business may be at present, it certainly is a long way advanced over the days not long ago when bare fists were used and the number of rounds read more like an income tax report.

But compared to fighting exhibitions in Slim boxing as we know it now is a Sunday School pastime. The Siamese boxers wear a covering over their hands made of knotted cotton ropes. They are not for protection but are for inflicting greater injury. Nothing is apparently barred. Kicking in the face and neck, use of knees and the head as a battering ram are all quite ethical.

The men make little effort to defend themselves and sometimes stand in the center of the ring and swap blows in the face bringing plenty of blood but seldom serious injuries. This the crowd does not like. It wishes to see some one killed and this is best accomplished with the knee, foot, or head. Because most Malaysians have had malaria, their spleens are large and easily ruptured, therefore it is considered good strategy to force an opponent to expose his spleen to a kick.

Slam is also noted for other types of brutal fighting. An unusual sport there is the fighting of fish which is often staged as entertainment at parties, and on which the guests bet heavily. Cockfights are also popular and furnish the spectators every satisfaction for brutality at its worst.

When we look at the way some other peoples enjoy their sports, our gentle contests of football, boxing, wrestling, hockey, and basketball seem to be most harmless.

VISITS PASTOR

ORMOND BEACH, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Seeking a vacation and rest, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., arrived Wednesday for a stay of several days.

STILL A LITTLE UNCERTAIN

IN CONTRAST TAMPA TRIBUNE

The Supreme Court of Florida yesterday reached the Leavine case, one of the three men implicated in the murder of Joe B. Johnson two years and two months ago, was convicted March 3, 1932. More than a year has elapsed between his conviction and the hearing of his appeal by the Supreme Court. Meantime, the punishment of Palmer and Heidt, Leavine's partners in the crime, who were convicted March 31, 1931, nearly two years ago, and whose conviction and sentence were sustained by the Supreme Court July 19, 1932, a year and month after their conviction has been deferred eight months awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court on Leavine's appeal.

The facts in these cases are not at all complimentary to Florida's criminal laws and procedure thereunder.

On the other hand, Zangara was convicted and sentenced to 80 years in prison, a week after he did his shooting, and is now in the death-cell at Raiford, to be executed next week, a little more than a month after his crime, and two weeks after the death of one of his victims. This case shows that criminal justice can move expeditiously in Florida, if the lawyers for the defense are willing.

In marked contrast, we have the case of a Tampa murderer, committed more than two years ago, and no one punished therefor, despite the fact that two of the murderers were convicted nearly two years ago and the other more than a year ago. The comparison would seem to show father. He has confined his activities to short walks and automobile rides with his father and guests at his home.

ECONOMY BILL ABOUT READY FOR SIGNING

(Continued From Page One) steered the measure through the Senate, predicted trouble in getting an agreement with the House over the changes, even though it might not go to conference.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, estimated the Senate amendments would cut the proposed savings at a maximum by $10,000,000, but this still kept the estimate of the total economies around the $500,000,000 mark.

Only four Democrats and nine Republicans voted against the measure on the final roll call. Forty-three Democrats and 19 Republicans answered "aye".

One senator, Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, asked to be excused from voting "because of pledges I made to my constituents." Huey Long, Louisiana Democrat, one of the four of his party to oppose it on final passage, replied an emphatic, "no sir" when his name was called.

Trammell of Florida voted "aye", but Fitcher's vote was not announced. The bill grants sweeping and unusual powers to the President to revise all pensions and compensations accruing to veterans of all wars, except the Civil war, and their dependents.

Pensions of Civil War veterans would be cut a flat 10 percent for one year. The measure also empowers the executive to slash the pay of federal, civil and military employees on a percentage basis in accordance with the drop in the cost of living, using the first six months of 1929 as a base, but providing no cut shall exceed 15 percent.

Senators and Representatives would be cut the maximum 15 percent—or from $10,000 to $3500. The salary cuts would become effective immediately and you until the end of the next fiscal year.

The veterans' slashes would become effective in three months, and the President would have two years to fix regulations covering the reductions. After that period, no veterans' reductions could be made except by Congress.

Many of those who voted for the bill asserted they did so only because of the urgent necessity to "maintain the government's credit"—as reads the title of the measure—and in normal times would not have approved of such a grant of power to the President. Amendment after amendment was voted down, last night—some

Ruth Chatterton Is Playing At Milane

A remarkable transition in character, both physical and spiritual, is developed by Ruth Chatterton as "Friseo Jenny" in the First National picture of the same title which opens at the Milane Theater today for a two-day run. This transition covers twenty-five years of Friseo Jenny's life, from the time she is an innocent girl of seventeen until she becomes a woman of maturity. There is no rapid change from innocence to crime, but the character of Friseo Jenny is shown to grow gradually harder as she fights her way to the leadership of the vice ring of the old Barbary Coast of San Francisco.

Concurrent with her development of spiritual callousness comes the slow aging process of a woman growing to maturity. To depict this day by day change requires the utmost skilled artistry and is a tribute to Miss Chatterton's rare talent. It also called for the greatest skill on the part of the make-up department to show the gradual change in facial expression and figure.

The role is quite different from any that Miss Chatterton has recently depicted but is not dissimilar to some of her former screen portrayals, such as "Madame X", in which she made one of her most striking successes. "Friseo Jenny" is a highly dramatic story of a woman, keeper of a notorious resort, who does not hesitate to commit murder, yet whose mother love is so great she sacrifices her own life to save her son from the knowledge of her shame.

Newspapers Told How To Criticize Germany's Regime

BERLIN, Mar. 16. (AP)—Dr. Joseph Goebbels, the new propaganda chief for the German government, ruled today that German newspapers may criticize the administration providing their criticism cannot be used by oppositionists to the government's detriment.

He announced this regulation at a conference at which he introduced himself to the German press. Newspapers he asserted must inform the people what the government is doing and why.

"The press must be the keyboard on which the government can play," he continued. "Criticism will be allowed but it must be expressed so that no enemy of the government at home or abroad shall be enabled to seize such criticism to the government's detriment."

"You will be given information, but also instructions. Mutual cooperation between the government

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nameless, catenol compound tablets that give you the effects of catenol and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

Use one or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores. (Adv)

and the press is our aim." The nation revived another member today when President von Hindenburg decreed the removal of the black, red and gold inset in the corner of the German war flag. This restored the old imperial war flag. The president also re-introduced the black, white and red cockade on military caps.
