SANFORD - The Seminole County School Board on Friday approved its $215 million five-year Capital Improvement Plan.

The plan includes funding for a new elementary school and 14-room primary learning center in Northwest Seminole County, renovations at Lyman High School, and $1 million for the Central Florida Zoo.

Chairman Larry Furlong provided the lone vote against the plan because he opposes the school board's $1 million donation over five years to the zoo. The donation still depends upon Board approval of a contract with the zoo. "I just don't think it's the right thing for us to do when we have other needs," Furlong said.

The $40 million renovations to Lake Brantley High School are nearing completion. The project has been ongoing since January 1998, and is expected to be completed in the spring of 2000.

This summer, a new administration suite and interior courtyard are under construction. The so-called "Round Building," constructed in the 1970s with open-pod classrooms, is being replaced by three academic buildings.

Other additions at Lake Brantley High School include a new Gymnasium and Media Center. The science building is being renovated. The school's softball and baseball fields have also been relocated.

In June, the School Board agreed to a five-year plan that includes $20 million for renovations at Lyman High School.

However, school officials say the district still has $160 million in unfunded needs.

The Board is trying to avoid the potential for overcrowded schools as Seminole County's population continues to grow.

Seminole County's population has grown 8.4 percent over the last five years, from 324,130 in 1995 to 354,148 in 1999, according to county records. From 1998 to 1999 alone, the county experienced growth of 2.5 percent. The most rapid growth is in the southeastern portion of the county, followed by the northeastern portion.

Sanford celebrates birth of city and Touhy Park

By Bill Kerne

SANFORD -- Senford celebrated its 122nd birthday on Wednesday by commemorating the dedication of the city's Famous and Historic Tree Grove at George W. Touhy Park.

When the city was incorporated in 1877, Touhy Park was one of the original parks planned by city founder Henry Sanford. The park has recently received a facelift, with the historic tree grove relocated from Fort Mellon Park and $75,000 in renovations.

"The fact that we are commemorating the park on our 122nd anniversary is very nice," said Mayor Larry Dale. "It's one of the original sites set aside to be a park by General Sanford. I think it looks beautiful."

With 88 trees, the grove is recognized as the largest historic tree planting in the state. Each tree is a descendant of trees that have historic significance. The grove includes trees from the homes of several presidents and generals, as well as authors, artists and inventors.

Historic figures honored in the grove include Abraham Lincoln, Charles Lindbergh, and George Washington.

"My goal is to get to 100 trees," said city landscape architect Howard Jeffries.

The renovations to Touhy Park include the installation of 18,000 square-feet of concrete stone walkways, park benches, a sundial, a modified irrigation system, additional waste receptacles, See Celebrate, Page 4A

However, Touhy Park remains a work in progress. The city expects to complete work on the park's sodding this week. The city has also ordered a sign showing the park's layout, with the location and identification of each historic tree.

In February of 2000, the city will plant Little Senator in Touhy Park. Little Senator is an offshoot of The Senator located at Big Tree Park.

In the future, the city is also looking into adding plantings from General Sanford's Bel Air Estate in Sanford, which in the 1880's was the nation's first experimental agricultural research station. The city already has seedlings from the estate stored in a nursery, Jeffries said.

In addition, residents can purchase trees to be planted in the grove as memorials or to commemorate events. The city will handle the planting and upkeep of the tree.

Touhy Park is one of many recreational areas the city is renovating. The largest on-going project in the city remains Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Sanford officials are hoping to schedule sporting events and concerts in the stadium. But first, the city will need to raise the necessary funds for stadium renova-

Sanford is trying to raise $1.7 million for improvements needed at the stadium, located on Mellonville Avenue. So far, $1 million in public and private funds have been raised.

Manager City Tony VanDerworp said the city will seek grant funding, and look into other ways of raising money to complete renovations to the stadium.

Seminole County is spending $400,000 over 10 years toward renovating the stadium, and Sanford is pitching in $500,000 over 10 years. The state of Florida is adding another $50,000. Baseball star Tim Raines, a Seminole High School graduate, has also donated $50,000 toward the project.

Tom Farnsworth, superintendent of parks and recreation, said that construction will not start until the city is able to fund the project. He said renovations could take two years, although if the private funding comes through the project could be complete in 2000.

The city wants to remove lead paint and asbestos, and construct a new roof, dugouts, and locker rooms.

Earlier phases of stadium renovations, funded by the City of Sanford, included stadium lighting, plumbing, improvements to lower bowl seating, and engi-neering drawings for the stadistdents across the nation by par-um field.

Sanford officials are also planning to expand recreational facilities next to the stadium, with a four field youth sports complex at Chase Park. The complex is expected to be ready for use in the summer of 2000.

The four lighted fields will each have 200-foot fences. There will also be a service building with concessions, restrooms, and an area for administration and score keepers.

The city is receiving bids to perform site development for the planned clover leaf-shaped cluster of fields, with the lowest bid coming in at $315,000. Famsworth said he is hopeful site development will begin in November or December.

In addition to of the youth sports complex, lights will be installed in Zinn Beck Field by the end of the year at a cost of $71,430. The field is located near Sanford Memorial Stadium and Chase Park.

Other parks city-wide are also receiving renovations.

Red Barber Park, formerly Southside Park, is also receiving new playground equipment. Hall of Fame baseball announcer Walter "Red" Barber graduated from Sanford High School in 1926. He 'announced for the Cincinnati Reds, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees. While in Sanford, the Barber family lived on Palmetto Avenue, across the street from Southside Primary School's playground.

As repairs are made to the city's Sea Wall along Lake Monroe, the city will also begin re-landscaping Memorial Park and updating the park's irriga-tion system. Repairs to 12 points of the Sea Wall in the most urgent need of repair are budgeted with the Department of Engineering and Planning's general fund.

The city recently added new restroom facilities, a second basketball court, a picnic shelter with benches, and improved drainage to Coastline Park.

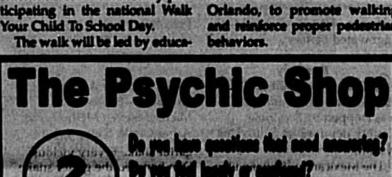

In addition, the city is expanding Crawford Cemetery by 2,000 acres and renovating the Cemetery building. Crawford Cemetery is located south of Evergreen Cemetery.

In the city's proposed budget for the new fiscal year starting in October, parks and grounds improvements will receive $99,500 in funding. The City Commission will review the budget in September.

The community swimming pool is expected to be ready for use in the spring of 2000. Site work is currently underway. Sanford, Seminole County, and the Seminole County School Board are splitting the costs of constructing the $1 million pool.

When is a venomous snake not venomous? When it's a ringneck snake.

A ringneck anake uses venom to paralyze or kill his prey. But because its mouth is so small, the ringneck cannot bite a human, which classifies it as non-venomous.

Chocolate chip cookies — with beans

FEEDBACK: When Christy Bobart

of Northbrook, Ill., wrote us that she "saw a segment on the news about some college students who developed a recipe for chocolate chip cookles that were high in protein and low in fat; the main ingredient was beans," we didn't hold out a lot of hope for ever finding the recipe in question (the news segment didn't include it). Then, in the mail — wonder of won-ders — came a letter from Debbie Stalaward of the sector of t Steinman of DyBois, Pa. After reading our column, she went onto the Internet and found the recipe! And, by the way, the cookies have half the fat of a "normal" cookie, but taste just the same.

Donna's Chocolate Chip Oatmeal Cookies

(makes 100 cookies) . 1 cup canned northern white beans, drained and rinsed

4 eggs 1 cup shortening 1 1/2 cups brown sugar 1 1/2 cups sugar 2 teaspoons salt 2 teaspoons baking sode

Preheat oven to 375 F. Grease two large cookie sheets.

In a food processor, blend drained beans and eggs until smooth. Set askie. In a large mixing bowl, cream shortening, brown sugar and sugar until light. Add beans and egg mix-ture. Beat until well mixed. Add salt, baking sods and vanilla. Mix well. Add flour and blend until smooth. Stir in ostmeal and chocolate chips.

Drop by teaspoons onto baking sheet. Bake 8-16 minutes, or just until the cookies start turning brown. Do not overbake. Remove cookies from baking sheet and cool on a wire rack. Place in plastic bags as soon as they are cool.

Nutritional information per cookie: 80 calories, 3 grams fat, 1 gram pro-tein, 12 grams carbohydrates, 80 grams cholesterol, and 0.5 grams fiber. Additional ideas for the beans: In any recipe for doughy (as opposed to cut-out or light, crisp) cookies, substitute beans for half the shortening called for in the recipe.

FEEDBACK: Marie Gregory of Hanover Park, III., wondered if we could tell her how to make a "wording shower" cake out of washcloths and towels. We knew we had the instruc-tions somewhere, but couldn't find them — so we appealed to you, our readers. What a great response! As most of the directions were far too long and elaborate to include in the column, we stuffed them all into a large manila envelope and forwarded them on to Marie. What follows is a short version; you'll have to use your Imagination when it comes to the specifics of decoration

For the base of the cake, use a large, round pizza board, covered with tissue paper. Buy two bath towels, two hand towels, and two washcioths. Fold each bath towel in half (lengthwise) twice. Roll towel into a tight coll and use straight pins to anchor onto the center of the cardboard platter. Join second towel to end of first with safety pins. Continue coil, tying ribbon around the coil to secure. Use hand towels for the second layer and wash-cloths for the top. Decorative soaps can be tucked along the sides and word as the set tower along used as the cals topper. You can also add pearls, tiny wedding rings, sill<sub>15</sub>g flowers and whatever else strikes, of your fancy.

Sanford area to do holiday shopping they otherwise couldn't do.

"We work with the local schools, the churches, and nonprofit organizations to Identify kids from families with real needs," he said. "Each kid identified through the process gets at least $100 and is accompanied by a Sanford police officer on a shopping trip."

Smith said some of the experiences relayed by officers are both heartbreaking and heart warming.

"It's a humbling experience and I don't think there's a cop that has been involved that hasn't reached into his or her pocket at the cash register to give a little more when it comes checkout time."

Smith said the fun part for officers is the actual day of shopping. Each child in the program is assigned an officer for a trip to one of the local department stores.

young girl shopping. I don't think she had a toy or a gift all year for herself. When we hit the store she wasn't at all concerned about buying herself something, she wanted to make sure she got something for her parents and all her brothers and sisters with the money available."

There appears to be an added competitive incentive to this year's event as well. The F.O.P. will be out to exceed last year's fund raising total, and a "friendly" challenge by Sanford police chief Brian Tooley could well push them over the goal. Tooley issued an official "no comment. on his handicap, but expressed hopes of breaking 100. "Chief Tooley has been very supportive of the fund raising effort," Smith said, "He's issued a challenge to the department heads of police agencies at the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, the municipal department's around the county, and "The first year I did it I took a even into Orange County. It's really a great time for the officers to get together and it's certainly for a great cause."

In addition to awards for longest drive, closest to the pin, and hole in one contests, golfers will also enjoy a post-round barbecue dinner prepared by the reigning F.O.P. Barbecue champs-the Sanford police department.

"We have top secret ingredients that I'm not at liberty to divulge," chuckled Smith. "I can tell you it's going to be a good meal."

Individual or four-person teams who would like to sneak out of the office Friday and join the fund raiser have until 11:30 a.m. to sign up. The cost of the event is $50 per person or $200 for a four-man team. Contact Smith at (407) 323-3030 or make sure you sign up at the golf course by 11:30 Friday morning.

A new addition to this year's event will be a traveling trophy awarded to the lowest scoring police department.

Historical Society celebrates Sanford's birthday

The Sanford Historical Society will celebrate the city of Sanford's 122nd birthday during its meeting on Thursday at the Sanford Museum, 520 East First Street. The program "Researching Early Sanford" will be presented by Alicia Clarke, Museum curator.

At 4:45 p.m. there will be a dedication of the Heritage Brick Walk which is in front of the Museum. The inscribed bricks have been purchased by various people to honor or memoralize their loved ones, several of whom are Sanford pioneers. This will be a continuing project of the Society. Refreshments will follow the dedication and the meeting will begin at about 5:15 p.m. For more information, call the Sanford Museum at 302-1000.

Hardware Centers Ford Thun-derbird to victory in the 25-lap Late Model Festure. King, a former Late Model champion here who is becom-ing a regular in the class again, tucked in behind early leader Jeff Emery until Emery sud-denly slowed in turn three. King bumped Emery into the infield and assumed the lead. Emery returned to action only to spin again in turn two to bring out the caution. CHELT CONTRACT

King set sail on the restart with a late caution the only thing allowing point leader Bill Pratt to close in.

Emery did a great job in re-turning for a third place Anish sheed of B.J. McLead and Lakeland's John Lovelady who battled a longe condition in his Dodge Avenger throughout the race.

urday, Oct. 2 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., at the City Park in Umatilla - the southern gateway to the Ocala National Forest, home of one of the largest bear populations in Florida. The festival will feature well-known television personality and naturalist, Jim Fowler, host of "Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom." Fowler's name is synonymous with wildlife consynonymous with wildlife con-servation - a message he has enthusiastically shared with television audiences for more than 30 years. Fowler will be the festival's keynote speaker, focusing his program on Flor-ida's black bear. Since 1976, more than 700 bears have been killed on Florida's roadways - more than 300 of them in or around the Ocala National Forest. The record number came in

Ocala National Forest. The record number came in 1998 when 90 were killed on roads statewide. The upward trend seems to be continuing: so far this year 52 have died on the state's roadways, but the busiest months for road kills (October and November) are still ahead. While bears are being killed by increasing numbers on by increasing numbers on highways, the number of nul-sance bear complaints received by the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commiss (FWC) is increasing as well. Commission

"Bears need lots of room to roam, but unfortunately their habitat is being loat or frag-mented to meet the needs of the state's rapidly expanding human population," said Joy Hill, public information coordinator for the FWC, one of the festival sponsors. "As a result, the black bear, which historically roamed the entire state, is now relegated to several smaller subpopulations, such as the one located in and around the Ocala National Forest." As the natural habitat shrinks, black bears are forced snrinks, black bears are forced into areas inhabited by humans and bisected by highways. Since they need large areas for foraging and reproduction, they travel extensively, often grossing dangerous roads or ending up in other areas where they aren't welcome, such as towns, backyards and farms.

"When this happens we end up with dead bears on roadways or bears making nui-sances of themselves," said Hill. "We hope that some of the information presented at the festival will alleviate some of these problems by helping people understand bear behavior and needs."

Toward that end, the festival will feature workshops and presentations on various bear subjects such as "Florida Black Bear Management History and Present Outlook," by Thomas Eason, the FWC's statewide bear coordinator, "Keeping Orbear coordinator, "Keeping Or-phaned Bear Cubs Wild and Free," by wildlife rehabilitator Betsy Knight of Big Bend Wild-life Sanctuary, and "When Hu-mans and Bears are in Con-flict," by Tom Shume biologist flict," by Tom Shupe, biologist with the FWC. There will also be guided field trips into prime bear habitat of the Ocala National Forest where participants will learn from FWC bear research biologist Walt McCown what bears eat, where they cross roads, how scientists, such as McCown, study bears, and what they hope to learn about them. There is a limit of 30 people

There is a limit of 30 people per 3-hour trip, (first-come, first-served) and participants must register at the festival. Children can learn all about bears at The Kida' Activity Pa-vilion making masks, finger puppets, action figures, photo frames and mobiles that show them how protecting bears and bear habitat benefits many other types of wildlife. In addition, Marcie Clutter, with Defenders of Wildlife with Defenders of Wildlife Habitat for Bears Campaign, will bring bears alive for children with the "Kids for Cubs" program. Highly acclaimed nature photographer James Valentine will present his program. "Images of Florida's Wilder-ness" and show how he uses the camera as a "carrier of light."

There will be live music throughout the day from Flor-ida's environmental troubadour, Dale Crider, and from the Son-

Dale Crider, and from the Son-rise Bluegrass Gospel Bapd. Country musician and show-man Cole Seaver will perform at 3:30 p.m., followed at 5 p.m. by Margo Rochelle & Rodeo Drive. There will also be presenta-tions by Florida writers, story-tellers, a teddy bear repair clinic, chainsaw sculpture demonstrations, food and more: The Florida Black Bear Festi-val is sponsored by the FWC Defenders of Wildlife, Umatili Chamber of Commerce, City of Umatilia, Florida Chapter of D Sterm Club, Wildlife Founda-tion of Florida. U.S. Forest Service and the North Lake Outpost. Outpost.
