Lakeland Woman Stricken County Official: Store Flu Shots

By The Herald Staff

A Lakeland school teacher who received a swine-flu vaccination last month developed symptoms like those that caused national health officials to suspend the inoculation program, doctors said today.

It was the first report of a Floridian developing symptoms of Guillain-Barre syndrome. Officials are investigating to determine if there is a link between numerous reports of the malady and the vaccination program. Usually not fatal, the illness may cause temporary paralysis.

Officials identified the patient as Judy Roberts, 36. They said she was in serious condition at Lakeland General Hospital.

Meanwhile, in Seminole County, Dr. Orville Barks, director of the county health department, said today the flu vaccine should be stockpiled.

"I think that they'll do it to have us keep the vaccine on a stand-by basis in case there is any breakout of a swine flu epidemic."

Federal officials suspended the program Thursday to investigate reports that some vaccinated persons have developed Guillain-Barre syndrome, a disease affecting the nervous system.

They stressed that there was no proven association between the swine flu vaccine and the disease, but that the program suspension was "prudent," until the possibility of such a link was checked out.

"We're pleased with this decision to shut down," Barks said. "I think it's the only move they could have made."

Federal health officials indicated that this is the second suspension of the program in two months.

Shaken public confidence in the vaccine and the fact that restarting the program might come too late in the influenza season for effective immunization cloud the program's future, according to Dr. Theodore Cooper of the Department of Health, Education & Welfare.

He Misses A State's Crown, Gains A City's 'Thanks'

By KRIS NASH
 Herald Staff Writer

The Florida AAAA high school football championship will be played tonight at Bryant Stadium in Lakeland, and Sanford's Seminoles won't be there. But a group of city and county dignitaries treated Seminoles Coach Jerry Posey Thursday as if he had already captured the state crown.

"Gee, I don't know what to say, except that I'm just overwhelmed," Posey said after receiving the key to the city from Sanford Mayor Lee Moore, along with a pile of other "tokens of appreciation."

"It's not just me," Posey said. "I've had quite a bit of help along the way. But I sure do appreciate it."

Among those mentioned as "helpers" in producing Seminoles' 20-2 grid record over the past two seasons was Posey's wife Martha, who also attended the fête.

"It's a lonely life being a coach's wife, I think you all know that," Mrs. Posey said. "But with my three little children and all my friends, it does help."

Tom Hunt, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, pinned a corsage on Mrs. Posey's dress without drawing a drop of blood.

Posey also directed heavy praise toward his coaching staff.

"If it wasn't for them," the Warrior chief said, "I don't know where we'd have been."

Where the Seminoles are, despite an unblemished 10-0 field ledger during the past campaign, is sitting on the sidelines while Tallahassee Godby battles Miami Carol City for state AAAA laurels.

The competition gets pretty stiff in the late rounds of the playoff so Godby gouged a well-balanced, inspired Merritt Island club, 21-0, to make the finals while Carol City was thrashing out a 7-6 decision over rugged Tampa Plant. It's rough up there near the top. So it would have been no disgrace for Seminoles to be eliminated from the competition.

But the Braves weren't eliminated. They were disqualified.

The 10-0 record was changed officially to 8-2 and the Sanford school's first playoff berth in history went sailing out the window because a fourth-string without was ineligible. And Posey put him in near the finish of Seminoles' 20-2 regular-season romps, 35-7 over Daytona Beach Seabreeze and 41-19 over Lake Brantley.

So when it was discovered that the young man had, in fact, flunked two subjects, Seminoles was out. They were replaced by Gainesville, who promptly lost to Winter Park, 13-0 in the opening round. The local squad took Gainesville's slot in the meaningless Florida Bowl and squeaked past Largo, 13-12.

Could Seminoles really have done something against the state's gridiron biggies?

"I don't know," Posey said, trying to examine what - might -

Seminole High Football Coach -- A Few Happier Moments With His Friends

Cuts In Defense Not That Simple

Jimmy Carter will not be the first president to discover that campaign promises often are much easier to make than to fulfill. On the campaign trail he accused the Ford administration of allowing "waste and mismanagement" to bloat the defense budget, and assured voters he could find ways to cut it by $5 to $7 billion without jeopardizing national security.

Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, who has a more intimate knowledge of the defense budget than Mr. Carter could be expected to have as a candidate, has issued a word of warning to the incoming administration as he prepares to step down. He says it would inject a "fundamental instability" into world affairs if Mr. Carter tries to fulfill his campaign promise at any cost.

Mr. Rumsfeld is concerned that defense cutbacks would have world-wide repercussions if they give the impression that the United States is willing to let its defense capability stand still or deteriorate while the Soviet Union is engaging in an obvious arms build-up.

A defense establishment that is costing more than $100 billion a year deserves as much scrutiny for "wasteful and mismanagement" as any part of the federal bureaucracy. If Mr. Carter can find ways to save money through greater efficiency at the Defense Department, he should do so. What Mr. Rumsfeld is saying — and what Mr. Carter should heed — is that saving money by scrapping entire weapons programs or making unilateral cutbacks in our forces overseas is quite another matter.

Mr. Rumsfeld believes Mr. Carter will find that the defense budget cannot be cut significantly at all without the unsettling results he foresees. If that's the case, we hope the new president will be more influenced by the facts than by his campaign promise. It's no crime, as history shows, for presidents to admit that not everything in their platform can be delivered.

Pressure On Israel

Israeli political leaders are uneasily aware that in the next few months they will be coming under increasing outside pressure to make large-scale concessions to the Arab countries in the name of "peace" in the Middle East.

No fewer than 37 American congressmen have been taking advantage of the congressional recess to visit Israel, Cairo and other Arab centers in a number of delegations. They are reported to have been impressed in Cairo by President Sadat's repeated declarations that he is ready to go to Geneva to sign a peace agreement with Israel.

Syria, having subdued Lebanon, is backing the Egyptian "peace offensive." President Assad has canceled his previous quarrel with Sadat for having made the second Sinai withdrawal agreement with Israel. They are now officially the best of friends.

The object of all this, of course from the Arab point of view, is to influence the incoming Carter administration in Washington to take a tougher line with Israel.

Taste, Yes ... Fat, No

There's got to be a hitch somewhere. Dr. George Bray, a UCLA medical professor who specializes in problems of obesity, predicts that within three years people will be able to eat almost all they want without gaining any weight. Scientists are perfecting a way to make food out of indigestible material.

Dr. Bray says he's eaten a doughnut that contained no fats, starches or anything that the human body can absorb. It looked and tasted like the real thing, and felt as good going down. We wonder if the nutritionists working on this project have consulted any psychologists. We're no experts, but something tells us our stomachs has a mind of its own. The first time we eat our stomachy pastry with all the wickedness taken out of it, we expect a quick message from down below: "Who do you think you're kidding?"

Age. What does it mean? How do you know if you're old, or not? Some say you're old when people stop listening to what you have to say. But that doesn't sound very believable, at least not to me. One of the younger persons I've met in a long while has lived long enough years to be my grandmother. In a recent conversation she informed me she is a "Nitwit." Now, don't take that literally. Because if there's one thing Mrs. Lawrence Ward isn't, it's a nitwit. But she is a "Nitwit."

Being a Nitwit means, simply, that she belongs to a group of knitters. Most Nitwit club members live in Geneva. At one time all the Nitwits did was hold meetings and knit. Now, however, they have a new and totally nice vocation. They entertain the elderly at the Sanford Nursing Home on Melville Avenue. And that's where Mrs. Ward comes in. You see, she plays a lively piano at monthly gatherings when the Nitwits entertain nursing home patrons.

Here's her problem: The piano at the nursing home has about had it. It plunks when it should plink. And Mrs. Lawrence wants someone to donate a better piano. Or, she's seeking donations toward purchase of a better music maker. Already she's received two $50 money orders, she informed me during her visit last week.

Used pianos are expensive. And, she said it's not going to be easy to raise the needed cash, or find a good used piano. But the problems don't seem to daunt her spirit, and there's little doubt that she'll get what she goes after.

Funny, I wrote "her piano," and it's not for her at all. It's for the enjoyment of the 125 or so elderly persons who live at the nursing home and look forward to visits from the Nitwits to break up the monotony.

Anyway, if you have a good used piano you'd like to donate, or sell cheap, you can contact officials at the nursing home. They'll pass the information on to one of the youngest and nicest ladies I've met in a good while. Be careful if you deal with her, though, because she has a way about getting her way.

Why, in just one visit she convinced a news reporter to sit down on his own time and write a column about a Nitwit, old age and a piano.

Presidents Don't Like Upstaging

WASHINGTON — For 10 years, Wilfred J. McNeil was comptroller of the Defense Department. By his careful watch over spending, his detailed study of military programs, he bolstered efficiency and economy in this sprawling agency. I would venture to say that in his tenure this man alone saved you and me billions of dollars which would otherwise have been wasted. Nothing slipped by his eagle eye.

McNeil left the Pentagon in 1959. The organization chart was not changed. There have been six comptrollers since his time, all in the same location in the paper hierarchy. There has not been another McNeil.

Most recent presidents have made much of reorganization. They have prepared detailed plans of great complexity. There have been some small successes and many large failures.

The point I make with McNeil is the men a president picks for critical posts in his government determine how efficient — or wasteful — that government will be.

The failures of the seven presidents I have watched in action come not from mismanagement of the federal government, sloppy and haphazard as it is.

Rather the failures have come because these presidents have not had the will or wisdom to appoint great minds to their cabinets, and outstanding men and women to the number one, two and three slots in each major agency.

No president can possibly be sufficiently wise or knowledgeable to handle all major problems he faces. Even when he has the facts fed him by advisors.

THE LONDON ECONOMIST Arab Boycott Outlawed

SAN FRANCISCO — The state of California is performing a trial run for an operator, who is Jimmy Carter has said he will carry out when he arrives in the White House: putting a stop to the Arab boycott.

Resentment of the boycott, which surfaced in the national political campaign, was strong enough in California to get a bill through both houses of the state legislature without a dissenting voice, and Gov. Edmund "Jerry" Brown signed it into law in September. Although its provisions do not become enforceable until next month, the law has already begun to have a restraining effect on trade conducted with the Middle East from California.

Formally speaking the law is general in its application. It defines as an offense any participation by individuals or corporations in California in a business transaction which incorporates boycott provisions drawn up by a third party.

This party, which is a secondary or tertiary boycott is attacked, though it is easy to think of cases, such as the United States' embargoes on Cuban trade in which the principle would be impossible for California to enforce, not to mention others in different continents which the authors of the law never thought of.

The law uses broad general language in extending the state's anti-trust laws to transactions which may involve the Arab boycott of Israel. A written policy imposed by a third party, and requiring discrimination on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, or on the basis that the person conducts or has conducted business in a particular location," is declared to be "a conspiracy against trade."

Pollution Crisis No Free Lunch

WASHINGTON — Old myths die hard, as the saying goes, and one of the most pernicious fables is the fairy tale of the so-called "free lunch," the idea that it is possible to get something for nothing, or at least something for relatively nothing.

A recent Los Harris survey shows that the number of Americans who are worried about pollution is at an all-time high. Sixty-six per cent of the public feels air pollution is a "very serious problem," up from 49 per cent who felt this way in 1975. 19 per cent feel water pollution is "very serious," up from 51 per cent last year.

When asked about the various ways the costs of cleaning up this pollution might be financed, the public overwhelmingly favors passing the buck to somebody else. By the margin of 82-11 per cent (with 7 per cent unsure), Americans agree it is a great idea to increase taxes for those companies who continually pollute. But when asked if he favors instead the higher cost pollution control equipment being passed along to him, our 74-18 per cent (with 8 per cent unsure), says this is a lousy idea.

Now, it is here that the rub occurs and the "free lunch" fantasy manifests itself. Because regardless of what Mr. Harris' respondents may believe, the cold, hard facts of economic life are that whichever way business is required to clean up pollution — either through increased taxes or by paying these costs itself and passing them along — the consumer is ultimately going to be the one who pays. There is no other choice.

His condition was complicated by pneumonia caused when he inhaled food from his stomach into his lungs. ... Prison Warden Samuel Smith said officials checked with the prison pharmacist to learn what drugs maximum security inmates had been issued. He said drugs can easily be passed between inmates because cells are separated by bars, not walls.

"I don't feel any embarrassment. I think it was to be expected," said Smith. "If a man of intelligence wants to commit suicide, he's going to find a way."

He said he assumed Gilmore was given a routine shakedown when he was sent to maximum security on Wednesday. Gilmore was put in a stripped-down cell and was authorized visits by his attorney.

Doctors said that the latest sedative overdose, unlike the first, was potentially lethal. But they said Gilmore was expected to regain consciousness today to be taken to the University of Utah Medical Center in critical condition after a guard found him comatose in his cell.

6-Laning Of SR 436 In Altamonte Slated

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Contracts will be let after the first of the year for the six-laning of SR 436 through the business area of Altamonte Springs, Florida Department of Transportation (DOT) officers reported this morning.

With interested persons filing council chambers at city hall, Wally Fish of the DOT said the DOT is playing "catch up" with the traffic problems that exist on the highway.

L. A. Griffin, also of the DOT, said the average traffic flow on the four-lane highway during normal times is 50,000 vehicles per day and that this figure does not take into account the rush Christmas shopping season.

He added that the traffic count is the highest in the area of any highway that does not have controlled access. Fish said a contract to be let early in 1977 calls for six laning SR 436 from Boston Avenue east and south to the Orange County line.

The highway, he said, is to be resurfaced with a skid-resistant material and the pavement retrofitted. Parking along the busy highway is to be eliminated to provide the additional space necessary for the widening project.

Fish said hopefully the construction of Maitland Boulevard in Maitland will alleviate the traffic flow on SR 436, as will the four laning of a portion of SR 434 in Longwood.

Long range plans, Fish said, include a project backed by Mayor Norman Floyd to improve Center Street, to provide an overpass connected to Palm Springs Drive as its eastern terminus and Montgomery Road as the western terminus.

Fish said these future improvements would give some relief to east-west traffic for local citizens. State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, called today's meeting to try to provide answers to the traffic problem. Among those who testified were Terry Bender, 436 is a top priority of the DOT.

"I want to express the extreme interest and concern of the merchants at the mall," Bender said. Another merchant, Frank Tibbets, said the stop lights at the SR 436-14 interchange are contributing to the problem. He said while the red light stays on 90 seconds, the green light to allow traffic flow is on only 47 seconds.

Clifton Scott, a county representative, said maximum efficiency of traffic signals already is being realized, considering the type of equipment in use. He said to change equipment at each of the intersections on the highway would cost almost $300,000. Hattaway asked DOT for confirmation that $300,000 to $500,000 in unspent DOT funds could be used for new signals at SR 436.

Fish said it was his understanding these funds are uncommitted and added that SR 436 is a top priority of the DOT.

Oklahoma State, Brigham Young Throw T-Bowl Lines

OSU, (AP) — Oklahoma State's coach says he's worried because the team has its Cowboys game Saturday night in the Tangerine Bowl football game led its conference in defense and the nation in passing offense.

"We're scared to death of Nielsen because he throws so well," OCU Coach Jim Stanley said Thursday of Brigham Young University's Gifford Nielsen, second in the country in total offense this season.

The range, 6-foot-8 sniper led BYU to a 9-2 record, throwing for 3,192 yards and 20 touchdowns.

The Cougars from Provo, Utah, shared the Western Athletic Conference championship with Wyoming and were the WAC's top defensive team.

While professing fear of Nielsen, Stanley was not bashful in praising Oklahoma State's defensive secondary, which he said he done a good job all year.

"But we haven't run up against a team that throws the ball as much as BYU," Stanley admitted.

At the same time, the Cowboy mentor sang the praises of his bruising rushing game, led by Robert Turner and Al-

American halfback Terry Miller. Stanley called the speedy 6-foot, 180-pound Miller "a threat to none," although Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy and USC's Ricky Bell was more highly publicized.

Miller, who rushed for 1,941 yards and 19 touchdowns against a tough Big-C Conference schedule, is only a junior. He placed fourth in the Heisman balloting, Nielsen was sixth.

BYU Coach LaVell Edwards said his team was ready for the Saturday encounter in the 50-500-seat Tangerine Bowl.

"Nielsen has been sharp in practice," he said. "The receivers are catching the ball well. And that's about all we do, so we're as well prepared as we can possibly be."

Asked about the extra large, long-legged giraffe that Miller wears during a game, Cowboy Coach Stanley said the team doctor recommended its use to keep even supported in his hamstring muscles.

"Actually, six of our guys wear giraffes and I keep getting calls from other coaches around the country asking if they're successful." The Cowboy boss said. "The only thing I tell 'em is to be sure and cut the croch out."

Edwards has switched 6-7, 200-pound offensive tackle Dave Hubbard to the left side, pitting him against 6-5, 260-pound Philip Dokes, Oklahoma State's defensive standout.

"It ought to be a good matchup," the BYU coach said.

"What else is there in life," replied Jimmy, "but golf and girls!"

The ladies seemed to agree. "It's nice to have a man around out here," said Pat Bradley, who teamed with Master's champion Ray Floyd in the selected drive, alternate shot

Seminoles Upended, 60-53 Cotton's 24 Worries Crabs

Ruben Cotton scored 24 points Thursday night to put a scare into tall, talented Daytona Beach Seabreeze, but it wasn't enough as Seminole High led in a 60-53 basketball encounter which claimed a tripleheader in Sanford.

Seabreeze won the junior varsity game, 59-42, and Seminole's girls took 46-37 measure of Seabreeze.

Seminole suffered from the third quarter blues in the boys varsity game. It was a 14-14 game after the first eight minutes and Seabreeze led by a scant two points at intermission.

However, the Daytona Beachers opened it to an 11-point spread going into the last stanza, and held on to win.

Seminole was hampered in late stages when Kevin Brown fouled out.

Seabreeze won the junior varsity game, 59-42, and Seminole's girls took 46-37 measure of Seabreeze.

Weather A Factor For Vikes, 'Skins

By The Associated Press

Whatever the weather is up there, it will be Redskins weather," Washington Coach George Allen pronounced. "It ain't necessarily so."

"Up there" is Minnesota, where the forecast for Saturday's opener of the National Football League playoffs calls for temperatures in the low 40s—which is about 20 degrees above normal—and strong winds.

Redskins weather, as Allen's disciples know, is rain ... and rain ... and more rain. Were it not for the rain, the Redskins, winners of the National Conference wild card, might not even be in this NFC first-round playoff against the Vikings.

In Saturday's American Conference playoff opener, New England's wild-card Patriots visit the Oakland Raiders, the winningest team in the league this year at 13-1. On Sunday it's Los Angeles at Dallas in the AFC.

Recall, if you will, last October. The Redskins had lost to Chicago and Kansas City in successive weeks and traded away the Oakland Raiders, a mudbowl. In St. Louis slouched around helplessly and what was supposed to be a very close game—and many predicted a Detroit victory—wound up with the 'Skins on top 20-7.

But Girls Win It

By SHARON REMPE Herald Correspondent

In the first act of a basketball tripleheader Thursday night at Seminole, the girls team won an important district and conference game over Daytona Beach Seabreeze, 46-37.

The Seminoles opened with a tough full-court press but their defense slacked off allowing Seabreeze to lead, 5-2. Then, with 33 seconds left in the first period, a basket by the "Becky Storm" lifted the score at 10-10. Seabreeze put two more points on the board to close the quarter at 12-10 in their favor.

In the second quarter, Seminole got its act together and began playing like a team. After two successful foul shots by Donna Flamm, Seabreeze lost control of the ball and it went out of bounds. Seminole brought it in at mid-court, where Simpson passed to Sonya Wiley, whose basket narrowed the gap to 14-16. Seminole's defense tightened and held Seabreeze there for the remainder of the period.

Seer Says Vikings By 7, Raiders Over Patriots

By HAL BOCK

NEW YORK (AP) — With a wave of George Allen's magic wand, the Washington Redskins have made it to the National Football League playoffs. It was not easy.

Those nice old men had to get their last four games to win into the Pete Rozelle Tournament, and now as a prize, their first-round opponents will be ... drum roll, please, maestro ... the Minnesota Vikings. And St. Louis by one game and Dallas by two. Another loss would be severely damaging.

Into Washington came Detroit—and in, too, came a typhoon. RFK Stadium became a mudbowl. In St. Louis slouched around helplessly and what was supposed to be a very close game—and many predicted a Detroit victory—wound up with the 'Skins on top 20-7.

Eight days passed and into Washington for a Monday night game came the Cardinals. Allen waded his sorcerer's wand again and—abracadabra—the skies responded.

Networks Eye Deal Pooling Resources

MOSCOW (AP) — The three U.S. television networks competing for TV rights to the 1980 Moscow Olympics say that a fourth company—the Olympic Organizing Committee headquarters on Gorky Street in downtown Moscow.

It's going to be a poker game, and the house names the stakes," said Robert Wussler, president of CBS.

Network officials arrived in Moscow Thursday after a two-day visit to the Olympic Organizing Committee headquarters on Gorky Street in downtown Moscow.

"It's going to be a poker game, and the house names the stakes," said Robert Wussler, president of CBS.

Crooms: 61-34 Win

MOUNT DORA — Crooms High's freshman basketball team gained its fourth win in six games Thursday night, tripping Mount Dora freshmen by a 61-34 margin in a game which wasn't even that close.

Crooms was led by David Thomas, who played only a half, with 16 points.

CROOMS: Whitney 20-4, Sweet 3-9, Thomas 10-6, Wein 2-0, Mosser 0-4, Edwards 1-1-1, Godfrey 0-1-1, Ferguson 1-0-2, Walker 2-0-4, Butler 1-3-5, Hulvey 0-2, Turner 26-41.

Open Market NFL Answer?

NEW YORK (AP) — How much is a Tony Dorsett or a Ricky Bell worth on the open market?

They soon may find out, if the National Football League and its players association cannot reach a compromise on the college draft, the major stick by which NFL teams stock their rosters, illegal and in violation of the antitrust laws. That sets up three possibilities for bringing new talent into the NFL in 1977.

—The open market, which doesn't have a checkoff dues system and has been ridden with dissension, is weak—

Men, Gals Love It

MIAMI (AP) — Jim Colbert's eyes brightened. A smile crossed his face.

He'd just been asked his assessment of the new Mixed Team Golf Championship in which men and women touring pros were playing together for the first time in a decade.

"What else is there in life," replied Jimmy, "but golf and girls!"

The ladies seemed to agree. "It's nice to have a man around out here," said Pat Bradley, who teamed with Master's champion Ray Floyd in the selected drive, alternate shot

Canucks In A Losing Rut; Coach: It's Me Or Team

By The Associated Press

Pat Maloney, general manager of the Vancouver Canucks, is losing patience with his coach. The Canucks lost again Thursday night, absorbing a 7-3 drubbing from the Detroit Red Wings, and Maloney said he may fire himself as coach if things do not improve soon.

The Canucks have won just eight of 33 games this National Hockey League season and share last place with the Minnesota North Stars in the Smythe Division.

"I don't know if it's me or the team. We played badly tonight," said Maloney, who said that his chances of staying on as coach could depend on the club's next game, Saturday at Minnesota. "The next game is critical," he said. "It's a four-

Bingo! Cavs 'Roll

By The Associated Press

They call Bobby Smith "Bingo" ... and for good reason. That's usually why they say when he comes off the bench and starts shooting ... a "lin."

"Bingo really gave us a lift," Cleveland Coach Fitch said Thursday night after his reserve forward hit eight straight shots to help the Cavaliers beat the Indiana Pacers 115-105.

Smith, who finished with 17 points, came in near the end of the first period to trigger the Cavaliers to their first victory in six National Basketball Association games.

Smith's marksmanship left little time for other aspects of his game—like rebounding. But with shooting like that, Fitch didn't mind.

Davis Cup Hopes High

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Captain Tony Trabert confidently predicted victory as he sent the U.S. Davis Cup team against Mexico today in what for him has become the "second guess sweetest."

"I think we should get a decision by the fourth match Sunday," the former Wimbledon and U.S. champion said. "But, even if we don't, we have our top guy (Arthur Ashe) going against their No. 1 guy (Raul Ramirez)."

"I don't feel under pressure and I don't worry about critics. My philosophy is to do the best I can, if it ain't good enough, let them get someone else."

7 Days To Christmas... Why Fuss?

The human race may be running itself ragged, with only one week left to get ready for Christmas. Not so these two members of the feline species.

"What, me worry?" seems to be their healthy attitude. "We've got better things to do - like catching a companionable cat nap on a sunny window sill."

That's Tibbal-Gain Adah (Tubby short) with the striped coat. His napping companion goes by the name of Hooker Desiderata (for the hook in her tail).

Moral of the story? Well, could be that if mankind quit working itself into a frenzy over the material details of Christmas, there'd be more time to relax and absorb the basic Christmas message of peace, goodwill...

Patients Miss Doc But Don't Pay Bills

DEAR ABBY: I recently read in your column a defense of doctors, many of whom were not nearly as rich as most people thought they were.

My husband, a physician, died at 61. He literally worked himself to death making housecalls night and day. He never turned anyone away who needed medical care. He gave his services free when his new patient couldn't afford to pay him. And he never overcharged anyone who he knew could pay a larger fee.

When this dedicated man died, his patients moaned and groaned. "Whatever will we do without our dear doctor?" But two years later, their combined unpaid bills totaled $11,000.

Abby, why do some people feel that their doctor bills are automatically cancelled just because their doctor dies? These bills are owned and should be paid out of respect and appreciation.

If you think this is worth the space in your column, please use it. And if it uncomfortable as people to feel unremorseful, at least they will have gotten the message.

DOCTOR'S WIDOW: SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR WIDOW R: It's well worth the space. It also brings to mind an ancient Chinese proverb: "The wise dentist collects his fee while his patient's tooth is still aching."

DEAR ABBY: You can do a lot toward equal rights for women by publishing these statements, which we have all heard repeatedly but until recently didn't have the courage to protest.

"Play dumb. Men don't like girls who are too smart."
 "May I speak to your husband?" It's important."
 "Sorry, but we don't hire single girls; they'll just leave you to get married."
 "Sorry, we don't hire married women; they'll just leave us to have babies."
 "Sorry, we don't want to employ mothers; they ought to be home with their children."
 "Sorry, we don't give jobs to women whose husbands are working; they'll not need the money."
 Very truly yours, MS. McK.

Pastor's Corner

By REV. KENNETH HOLT, Pinecrest Baptist Church... What Shall We Give? At the center of the meaning of Christmas is giving.

At the center of the meaning of Christmas is giving. "For God so loved the world, he gave his son..." An expression of love seems to always involve giving.

Some shepherds gave the little lamb their love; a wise man gave the infant king his myrrh; while Mary gave her Jesus all of her; and we—a tree, twisted, on which to die.

But you say, "I am a poor creature, and have nothing to offer." Nothing? Nothing! You have a heart to offer! Though unworthy of Him, dark, hard and foul, give it to Him as it is and be willing to be used and disposed of as He wills.

What shall I give Thee Master? Redeemer of my soul! My gift is small but it is my all. Surrendered to thy control.

What shall I give Thee Master? Redeemer of my soul! My gift is small but it is my all. Surrendered to thy control.

What shall I give Thee Master? Redeemer of my soul! My gift is small but it is my all. Surrendered to thy control.

What shall I give Thee Master? Redeemer of my soul! My gift is small but it is my all. Surrendered to thy control.

Question: In my opinion the Bible is a superb collection of poetry, myth, parable, history, and philosophy. But there are many questions yet to be answered by scientists and theologians before I can regard it as a revelation from God. What is your opinion?

Answer: I believe the Bible is the Word of God and the revelation of God. Because He loves us, He wants to communicate with us, tell us who He is and what He is like, tell us who we are and what we are to Him. I like to think of the Bible as God's letters to His people.

Should Giving Include Charities? Christmas is traditionally a time for charities to make special appeals for money. But it's also a time for people to be careful about the charities to which they give.

organization's annual report—provided it separately identifies (as it should) the cost of administration and the cost of fund raising.

Another charity, the American Kidney Fund, was established in 1971 to give direct money to kidney patients. As a result of the Ohio law, the fund's administrative costs have risen to 18 percent of the total.

It's worth your time and effort to do a little research before contributing to a charity. You can ask for information from the charity itself, or from the Council of Better Business Bureaus, and from the National Information Bureau, an independent nonprofit agency that has set standards for charity.

When evaluating a charity, keep in mind that most organizations have a number of different fund-raising programs. Naturally some will be more successful than others; the important thing is the total effectiveness of its programs.

Anemia Problem Is Inherited

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently my daughter was sick, and I advised her to get a blood test to see if she had mononucleosis. Another daughter needed a blood test for college and a third daughter for her job. All three came back with anemia. Further investigation shows they have "traits of Mediterranean anemia." No where can I find any information about this. I was told by a nurse that iron is no good for such cases.

For Sanford Commission Seat 2 It's Meyer Vs. Keith ...

...Where They Stand Analysis

The campaigns waged by E.O. (Eddie) Keith and incumbent Gordon Meyer for Sanford City Commission Seat two have been lackluster personality contests with no major issues. Both men have been quietly seeking support from the voters with assistance from friends. Both have posted signs in the community and both are now waiting for Tuesday to get here and the results to be announced while making themselves available to any citizen who wants to talk to them.
