

CROP PROSPECTS FOR FLORIDA ARE VERY BRIGHT

CITRUS CROP BETTER THAN EXPECTED AND STAPLES ARE FINE.

(By The Associated Press)

GAINESVILLE, July 15.—Crop prospects over the state were irregular on July 1 according to the report of the Federal Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates here on condition during the month of June. The report, prepared by Sam T. Fleming, statistician of the bureau, declared citrus fruits were improving and that indications on July 1 were for increased production of rice, peanuts, peas and legumes generally with a decrease in corn, cotton, tobacco and most of the other staple crops.

The citrus crops are recovering from the critical condition caused by dry weather in May and June, says the report. Grapefruit especially, when compared with the condition of former years, promises a heavier yield than usual. Oranges are not up to the usual condition but did improve during June and the pessimistic feeling of growers earlier in the season as regards production has shifted now to the question of transportation and rates. No reliable estimate of production for the citrus crops can be made this early because conditions during the next six weeks or two months will determine largely the size of the crop. Prospects for a good yield, however, are better now than earlier in the season.

There has been some shifting of acreages in the staple crops but growing conditions indicate production will NOT be in line with such changes. Corn, with an increase of about forty thousand acres over last year promises a lower production because of the damage to early plantings from dry weather. The bulk of the production will come from the late plantings.

Cotton, on a greatly decreased acreage, promises low yields and decreased production. Tobacco, with an increase of five per cent in acreage, and a perfect stand which gave early indications of unusually heavy yields, was seriously affected by the dry weather in May and June and production was further curtailed by damage and losses from rains at harvest time.

The rice acreage is fully twenty-five per cent greater than in 1920 due to extensive plantings in one or two localities.

The acreage already planted to sweet potatoes, peanuts and hay crops is smaller than last year but planting has been delayed by dry weather and late plantings, extending through July and part of August, may offset these decreases.

The condition of honeybees over the state on July 1 was excellent, so far as strength of colonies and healthfulness was concerned, the Bureau states. The average yield of surplus honey per colony to that date was 35 pounds as compared with an average for the United States of 23.7 pounds. Much higher yields would have been made under more favorable conditions but rainy weather during the heaviest flow through the Tupelo section of West Florida and dry weather with extensive burning of the woods earlier in the year over the state as a whole cut off what promised to be a season of unusually heavy honey production.

Preliminary estimates of acreage and production for 1921, the first numerals representing acres and the last production, follow:

Corn, 820,000 and 10,414,000 bushels; cotton, 82,000 and 15,500 bales; sweet potatoes 43,000 and 4,257,000 bushels; tobacco 4,400 and 3,950,000 pounds; rice 3,700 and 92,000 bushels; oats 57,000 and 775,000 bushels; hay all 129,000 and 143,000 tons; Irish potatoes 19,000 and 1,750,000 bushels; peanuts 109,000 and 3,700,000 bushels; sorghum for syrup, 60 and 71,000 gallons; sugar cane for syrup, 25,000 acres but no estimate of production at this time.

The growing condition of crops on July 1, 1920, and July 1, 1921, the first figure being that of the former and the latter of this year, normal condition being represented by 100% as follows:

Corn 76-74%; sweet potatoes 88-85; tobacco, 90-81; rice, 93-90; Hay all, 90-93; oats (a) 86-65; pasture 95-82; field peas 85-86; field beans 85-87; peaches, 76-78; pears, 35-55; watermelons (b) 150-110; cantaloupes (b) 72-80; peanuts, 89-90; sorghum (for syrup), 88-85; pineapples, 76-80; oranges, 90-86; grapefruit 79-86; limes, 83-83.

(a) Condition at time of harvest.
(b) Per cent of normal production.

OVIEDO

The meeting at the Methodist church closed Sunday evening after a very strong sermon by Dr. Walker on the subject of "Influence."

A. E. Farnell has bought out the stock of S. P. Wainwright and moved it into the Oviedo Mercantile Co. store.

A gloom was cast over the whole of Oviedo Monday by the sudden death of Mrs. Janie Jackson Divins, niece of Mrs. C. L. West. Mr. Divins and Miss Jackson were married in Sanford last Tuesday. On Friday morning Mrs. Divins was taken violently ill and all efforts to save her seemed futile until Monday morning at five o'clock she passed away. Her mother, Mrs. Jackson, and her husband, who had so shortly returned home, arrived from Atlanta Sunday afternoon. The funeral service was held at the Oviedo cemetery Monday afternoon at four o'clock. Besides her mother and husband, Mrs. Divins leaves a younger sister, Madeline, who was also visiting her aunt, Mrs. West, and her father, who was in Texas on a business trip and was unable to reach here in time for the funeral. Mrs. Divins had visited Oviedo many times and was a great favorite with all who knew her. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the grief stricken family in this dark hour of sorrow.

Messrs. Francis and Charles Richard Walpole motored from Sarasota Friday to be the guest of their aunt, Mrs. W. E. Young, for several days. They left for home Wednesday carrying with them Miss Elizabeth Young. Miss Mable Swope also accompanied them as far as Tampa where she goes to visit Miss Ethel Walpole, a former resident of Oviedo.

T. L. Lingo left Tuesday for Chester, S. C., from which place he will go to Junaluska, N. C., as a student at the School of Methods for Sunday school workers.

Mrs. Sundial, mother of Mrs. S. McBride, is quite ill at the home of the latter. Mrs. Sundial is eighty-two years old and little hope for her recovery is held by the family and friends.

MIAMI'S FIRST COMMISSION COMPOSED OF FIVE BANKERS

MIAMI, July 13.—Five bank presidents yesterday were elected commissioners of the city of Miami under the new city-manager form of government adopted in an election January 21. The new government replaces the old councilmanic form.

The largest vote in the history of the city was cast, totalling 6,717.

The bankers were opposed by five candidates who termed themselves the Independent ticket. The highest man on the banker's ticket received 850 votes more than the leader on the Independent ticket and the low man of the bankers 216 more than the Independent's high man.

The commissioners will be inaugurated Friday. They are: J. E. Lummus, J. H. Gilman, C. D. Lettler, J. I. Wilson, E. C. Romth.

All of these gentlemen are known to Sanford people and one of them, especially, in Charlie Lettler. He is a former Sanford boy, the son of C. H. Lettler of this city, and is one of the pioneers of Miami, where he went as a youth and grew up with that flourishing city. His success in business and his success in politics is always a source of gratification to his many Sanford friends. If all of the commissioners are as good as Charlie Lettler, Miami will have the best government that city has ever experienced.

Allen Allman has moved his family to the Osteen ferry house and taken charge of the ferry again. His brother has moved back to his Cameron avenue place.

The American Fruit Growers Inc., have recently bought thirteen mules for their East Sanford farms of the Bond Lumber Co.

The editorial in last Saturday's Daily Herald entitled, "Beautiful Farm Homes," was fine, and it's to be hoped that the farmers who live in town and elsewhere instead of on their farms, will cut out the building of tenant houses for their colored help (with all apologies to the colored folks), to live in, and mule barns on our main avenues, it rather takes the joy out of keeping to beautify a country community to have little old tenant houses built on what should be the best streets, and any way, the colored people much rather live in the colored settlements.

SHIPPING BOARD FLEET COSTS 380 MILLIONS YEAR DEFICITS NEARLY TREBLED

And Only One-Third of Operations Are Accounted For

BENSON IS CLEAR

AS THE REPORT GOES BACK TO WAR TIME SYSTEM AND LOSSES

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Operation of the shipping board's fleet for the fiscal year just ended resulted in a loss of approximately $380,000,000, Chairman Lasker of the board announced last night. This deficit was greater by $280,000,000 than previous estimates from official sources and was announced following an examination of all board accounts.

The government's venture in the merchant marine business last year involved a total expenditure of $680,000,000 so far as could be ascertained from the board's books which Mr. Lasker described as in bad shape. The new chairman estimated that it would cost the government $300,000,000 to carry on operation of the fleet this year.

In stating that an examination of the books showed that $380,000,000 had been expended from the public funds of the shipping board last year, Mr. Lasker said that this "revealed an astounding case of absolute deception to the country and congress."

"The president was astonished and dismayed that such a condition could exist when I laid these figures before him yesterday afternoon, but he wanted me to give the public the facts," he added.

Total expenditures over receipts appeared to be approximately $380,000,000 Mr. Lasker said instead of $99,518,567.11 as previously shown by the board's books. A commercial concern operating on a similar basis would have been in the hands of a receiver some time ago, the chairman asserted, stating also that he knew this state of affairs was not the fault of Admiral Benson, former chairman of the board, nor of Controller Tweedale. He said that it was due to the system started during the war, and continued until recently. The money which is unaccounted for was said by the chairman to have been disbursed by operators of government owned boats for which a full accounting has not been made. The chairman further asserted that of 9,000 voyages made only 3,000 had been accounted for and that 200 auditors were now working on the books of these operators to find out what happened.

A NATIONWIDE "BLUE SUNDAY" IS DEMANDED

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Congress is now considering a national Sunday law. Should such a law pass it would thereafter be practically impossible to carry on any kind of business on Sunday in the United States, and the measure will undoubtedly meet with much opposition on the part of those who look with disfavor upon anything savoring of a "blue law."

In presenting to the senate the statement of a committee composed of those interested in Sabbath observance, Senator McKellar, of Tennessee said that he did not give his assent to the proposal, but that he would have it inserted in the Congressional Record.

This proposal was in the form of an appeal to the president and congress for a national Sunday law, by the Southern Methodist General Conference, is as follows:

1.—Hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person in the employment of the United States to work or carry on his ordinary vocation on Sunday.

2.—It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to operate on Sunday any freight or passenger train, or mail train, or any other train or part of such train in the carrying on of the interstate commerce, trade or traffic of any kind.

3.—It shall be unlawful for any postoffice to be open on Sunday or to deliver mail on Sunday.

4.—It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation under any license of the government to enter in interstate business of any kind on Sunday.

5.—Six months' imprisonment and a fine ranging from $100 to $10,000 would be placed on any one violating this law.

6.—Any corporation violating this law would suffer a fine ranging from $1,000 to $100,000, and upon a second violation would forfeit its charter. It is provided, however, that emergency instances of charity and necessity are not included nor punishable under the provisions of this act.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did take Cardui. It may help you, too. Ask all druggists. 25c

COMPANY D ENCAMPMENT IN AUGUST

PROMISES MUCH TO THE BOYS WHO WILL GET PAID FOR VACATION

The annual encampment of the national guard will take place from August 6th to 20th of this year and will be interesting to Sanford people from the fact that this is the first time this city has had a military company in many years and Sanford will be represented by Company D, the machine gun outfit. Captain DeCottes sends out the following dope about encampments and vacations: Headquarters, Co. D, 1st Inf. F. N. G., Sanford, Fla., July 15, 1921.

Memo. To All Enlisted Men of Co. D, 1st Inf. F. N. G.

Subject: Annual Encampment from August 6th to 20th.

1.—It is hoped that practically every man of this organization will arrange his affairs so as to attend the coming encampment of the Florida National Guard. Every man is entitled to a vacation. This encampment provides the opportunity of a 15-days vacation with all expenses paid and in addition, the enlisted men attending are paid for their services while in camp.

2.—Appropos of the coming encampment which affords a vacation, the following excerpts are taken from an article by George Ade:

3.—Move around before the ivy begins to climb up your legs. When the days are long and hot get ready to file off the ball and chain.

4.—Wait until the Asters are blooming, and then no matter where you go, go somewhere else. Only an oyster remains forever at the old homestead.

5.—If the all-wise Arranger had meant for you to look out of the same window all of the time, he would not have given you legs.

6.—The planet you are now visiting may be the only one you ever see. Even if you get to travel, the next one may not have any Grand Canyon or Niagara-Falls.

7.—It is true that a rolling stone gathers no moss, but it gets rid of the rough corners and takes on a beautiful polish. Besides, who wants to be covered with moss? Some hermits are learned but only the travelers are wise. Go on a journey every year so that you may jolt out of your brittle head-piece the notion that your hometownship is the steering-gear of the universe.

8.—Don't worry about loss of time from business or the expense (this vacation will cost you nothing, you get paid for it).

9.—Some people think if they splurge around and have a good time may be the children will not have enough funds in the next 15 years to keep them in touring cars and fur coats. Don't be afraid to make a will reading as follows: "Dear Offspring, go out and get it the same as I did."

10.—It is time to declare for the rights and privileges of the passing generation. Take your vacations while you can get them, eventually you may not be able to name the spots you are going to visit next.

GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES HAVE BEEN GREATLY CUT IN YEAR JUST PASSED

Decrease of 387 Millions Compared With Last Year

PUBLIC DEBT CUT

HAS BEEN REDUCED MANY MILLIONS ACCORDING TO ANNUAL STATEMENT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 19.—The total government expenditures for the fiscal year just ended dropped off nine billion dollars compared with last year, representing a decrease of $387,000,000 in ordinary disbursements and a reduction of $7,840,000,000 in payments on public debt according to an annual statement issued today by the treasury.

FISH DYING IN ST. JOHNS RIVER, BUZZARDS BUSY

Thousands of fish are dying in the St. Johns river, fishermen reporting them floating down stream by the thousands. Mullet, catfish, bass, bream, goggle-eyes and other species have been identified. Dead trees along the river are covered with buzzards, which light in the trees to rest after their orgies, or to watch for the dead fish to come by and be washed up against the banks where the buzzards can get them.

For several months water in Lake Beresford has been green, and as soon as this took place all fish left the lake. Now the green, murky appearance has spread to the river itself. Some people believe that the lack of cold weather last winter, which generally destroys the water hyacinths, has permitted the hyacinths to spread to an unusual degree this year, and that they have poisoned the water and killed the fish.

Others express the opinion that the government may be using something to kill hyacinths in the upper stretches of the river, and that this has washed down, killed the hyacinths and poisoned the water.

Others believe that someone is using dynamite in the upper St. Johns to gather the fish, that dead fish escape from them, and the dynamite is disturbing the mud flats and discoloring the water.

Whatever the cause of the unusual death among the fish, it should be investigated by government authorities, and, if possible, stopped.—DeLand News.

FALLING TREE KILLS ONE AND SEVERELY WOUNDS ANOTHER.

OKEECHOBEE, July 19.—Felix Taylor, 48, an employe of Johnston & McNeil, naval stores operators, was seriously injured and Sam Knowles, 22, negro laborer, was killed Saturday during a heavy rain and gale, by a falling tree. Taylor and the negro were tearing down a small building on the lake shore when the storm came up. They took refuge under the canvas top of an old boat, which they propped between two small trees; a large cypress uprooted by the wind fell across them pinning Taylor under the branches and the negro under the trunk of the tree. Taylor managed to extricate himself and unable to move afterward aroused a family nearby with his shouting. When help arrived he was unconscious. The negro was gotten out with considerable difficulty and lived but a few hours.

Taylor was forced down into the soft sand over a foot by the blow, which struck across his back and shoulders while he was sitting down. He has suffered severe concussion of the spine and has several badly damaged ribs. It is thought that he will recover.

JAPAN SPLIT ON BIG ISSUE DISARMAMENT

BUREAUSRATS AND LIBERALS
HAVE WIDELY DIVERGENT VIEWS.

TOKIO, July 18.—Japan today seems an Empire divided on the great issues created by the summons of President Harding to a conference on disarmament and Far Eastern problems. On one side largely in the ranks of the bureaucrats there are fears that the proposed conference will be dominated by the Anglo-Saxons and may result in strangling Japan's political and economic development in Asia.

On the other side is a powerful liberal group, which demands that Japan enter into the deliberations fearlessly, submitting her wants resolutely, combating for them with confidence and not opposing just claims, haggling and bickering, they insist, will ruin the cause of Japan.

Both camps agree that Japan is facing a crisis, requiring tact and largeness of vision. Many members of the privy council, according to the well informed newspaper, Chugai Shogyo Shimpo, are pessimistic about the conference; they contend that the proposal to discuss problems and policies of the Far East indicates cooperation between the United States and Great Britain in an attempt to settle international questions favorably for them, an indication of which was to be seen in the attitude of the English toward the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The invitation to China to join in the conference, it is further urged, is additional evidence in support of the theory of a secret purpose on the part of the Anglo-Saxon nations in calling the conference. They argue that China doubtless will strive with the support of England and America, for a settlement of questions in her favor resulting in injury to Japanese interest in China. The councillors are quoted as saying:

"Japan should make participation conditional on the settlement of all questions between Japan and the United States, including opening the economic door of all territories in the Pacific to Orientals."

Many leaders of Japanese thought are expressing the opinion that Japan will have at Washington the golden opportunity of her history to make known to the world her desires and reach the understanding with the United States which is regarded as so vital to Japan's future.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weaknesses result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Adv.

Public Bathing Houses Popular At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, July 19.—The recently commissioned public bath houses at the foot of I street, which the city has had constructed for the benefit of people on the west side and several hundred people daily and far in the night make their way here to enjoy a swim. The location is at a point where the white sand bottom extends for more than one hundred yards from the shore line, and the place is very popular for the women and children. So popular have the resorts become that Street Commissioner George Enrichs today put the street force over there to improve the roads leading to the beach.

Tennessee Farmer Wants to Go From House to House and Tell Everybody About Tanlac.

"If I were not so busy with my farm work I would go from house to house and tell the people about Tanlac," said A. L. Livingston, a well-known farmer, living near Ashland City, Tenn.

"I had stomach and kidney trouble and suffered torment with my back and side. The doctors could do nothing for me so I wrote to a friend of mine in Nashville about Tanlac and he advised me to try it and sent me a bottle.

"After taking the first bottle I felt so much better that I ordered another bottle myself and the result is I am a well man. I told a friend of mine about it and ordered a bottle for him and he had good results. I can eat anything I want and it don't hurt me and can sleep like a log. To tell you the truth, I just simply feel like a new man and have more strength and energy than I have had in years. It is simply the grandest medicine in the world. I would like those who are suffering to try it and I hope you will reach them through this testimonial, which I have gladly given."

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine, which accomplished such remarkable results in this man's case, is a wonderful tonic, appetizer and invigorant. It builds up the system, creates a healthy appetite, promotes digestion and assimilation of the food and makes you feel strong, sturdy and well as nature intended. Tanlac is sold in Sanford by the Union Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

LAKELAND COUNTRY CLUB PERMANENTLY ORGANIZED

The stockholders of the Lakeland Country Club met last night in the City Hall and formed a permanent organization. Officers elected were: G. E. Todd, president; Wm. Steitz, first vice-president; E. N. Good, second vice-president; W. L. King, secretary, and W. W. Chase, treasurer. Directors elected to serve with the above officers are C. D. Judson, H. L. Brown, C. O. Pinch and U. W. Iversen.

Charles Howe, the golf expert who will lay off the course, was present and made a talk and among other things stated that he expected to get busy at once and have the course ready by the first of the year. He is now living with his family in the residence on Lake Parker which will be remodeled into an attractive club house. The directors also authorized the completion of the purchase of the property and the beginning of such improvements such as tennis courts, boat houses, a good beach and everything that will make a first class country club as it is not the intention of the members to limit it to golf alone.

A campaign for memberships will be started at once as the organization needs at least fifty more members before it can go ahead with the intended improvements. The organization also adopted a constitution and by-laws at the meeting last night.—Lakeland Star.

Some great weather in Sanford now.

It may be all right to go away for the summer but it is just as well to stay at home.

St. Augustine coffee routed two robbers. The proprietor of a restaurant hit him with the coffee urn.

There is nothing in a name. There is Hickenlooper of Palatka and Crackawana of Tampa and so on down the list.

When you get to those places where the mosquitoes and sand flies abound you long for the comforts of Sanford again.

The hot weather seems to have stirred up people to tarring and feathering and committing crimes of all kinds.

We people who are spending the summer in Sanford seem to be doing right well, thank you. And we need no electric fans to keep cool.

It may be warm in Sanford, it may get monotonous in Sanford, you may need a change in Sanford, but it is sure and certain that you will never have to leave Sanford on account of mosquitoes and sand flies.

And when we get those amusement places here for the summer season this city will be a summer resort sure enough. Most of our people go to the beach to dance Saturday and Thursday nights.

Pre-election promises of the Republican party means nothing and those who voted the Republican ticket expecting any of these promises to be fulfilled have been sadly disappointed thus early in the game.

Don't let the idea of a golf link get away from you. This is the time to consider this important question. And always remember that no city, town or hamlet can be a tourist resort without golf links. And even a small hamlet can be a tourist resort if it has golf links. Look at Orlando.

Building goes right along in Sanford but it should be doubled if we expect to be ready for the crowds of people who are expecting to come here next fall and spend the winter in Sanford. We need more houses for our own people and right now Sanford people are looking for homes and they are having difficulty in finding them.

Coming into Sanford from any quarter now the many new homes going up everywhere shows how rapidly this city is growing. Just a few more subdivisions put on the market around here and there will be hundreds of houses built before fall. And we are needing them right now for there are no houses to rent anywhere.

While Florida thermometers are registering between 80 and 85 in the middle of the day with nights cool and comfortable, reports from northern cities tell of intense suffering and many deaths as a result of extreme heat. In Chicago last week, babies died at the rate of 14 a day, the increase of 15 per cent over the same period for last year, being attributed to the excessive heat.—Volsia County Record.

Many Sanford boosters are sending the Daily Herald to friends in the north and marking the temperature report. This is the proper spirit. We publish a daily temperature report in order that northern cities can compare their climate with that of Sanford. They would not believe we had such cool weather otherwise. That daily temperature report is worth millions to Sanford and it is government figures and absolutely authentic.

Hotel rates, apartment houses, ordinary houses are cheaper in Sanford than anywhere else. If you don't believe it try to get something to eat or accommodations at an apartment or a house to rent at any of the neighboring cities or at the beaches or anywhere. And right now remember this—If anyone kicks on the prices in Sanford at any time in the near future just tell them they don't know what they are talking about. Sanford is lower than any of them.

The tariff question under Republican rule can be depended upon to be a tariff for the protection of the trusts. It was ever thus and will ever be thus. Protective tariff was put on American goods many years ago to protect the New England shoe manufacturers and they were so well protected that they became monopolies and monopolies are what the Republican party want. So there you are. If any of the common people think they are getting protection you have another think coming.

We note that our old friend Charles Leffler, formerly of this city, who was recently elected city commissioner of Miami, has been chosen mayor by his colleagues and all of his Sanford friends can heartily say that it is an honor worthily bestowed. The city commissioners of Miami are the five presidents of the five banks and they have decided to work for the large sum of one dollar per year. Well, they have nothing on our city commissioners—they do not even get the dollar.

Many big sales are contemplated in Sanford by the enterprising merchants and August promises to be even more busy than July with the people coming here to buy from all parts of the surrounding territory. The Daily Herald is certainly keeping the old town moving right ahead and the merchants are doing their share by using liberal space and putting on sales and injecting life into business that would otherwise be lagging like some of our sister cities. Sanford business this summer is the talk of the state. There has been no dull summer and there will be none. Watch the Daily Herald for the big sales that are on now and those that are coming.

A bank cashier and his family traveling through Florida were held up by so-called government agents and made to take all their baggage out to be searched for contraband liquor. This may be the law or it may not be but a dose of hot lead in the rear of some of these officious officials who would search a man of the calibre of this bank cashier might get the proper results. They are carrying this liquor searching business too far and nine times out of ten the men who hold up cars searching for liquor are not real officers at all but just common thugs. And it behooves the government to look after this phase of the business also.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ORANGE.

Congratulations to our sister county of Orange on voting a two and one-half million bond issue for good roads. The traffic demands wider and better roads and more of them and while two and a half millions look like a large sum it will all come back to the taxpayers in a better county for it is good roads that really make a county great. Orange county people never do anything by halves and being the pioneer county in the matter of good roads they believe in keeping abreast or a little ahead of the times. And this thing brings to mind the fact that all of the populous counties of Florida will have to get away from the nine foot roads on the main highways and make them at least 16 feet wide, giving cars a chance to pass without pulling off to the side of the road in the deep sand. The state is growing and the best evidence of the growth and prosperity of the state is the spirit shown by the people in the matter of improvements. Now is the time to do things on a large scale, looking toward the future growth of the state and South Florida naturally will grow three times as fast as other parts of the state.

CITY TAXES

There is much talk about reducing the city taxes as well as the county taxes but this is not so easy and while the city commissioners can be depended upon to keep the taxes as low as possible with the present improvements on hand there is but little chance of making them any lower. We are not so much concerned with the city taxes as we were with the state and county taxes and the only thing wrong with the city and county and state taxes is the fact of the county taking one-half of the city assessment. What this city and county needs right now is a better equalization of taxes and make every tax payer pay alike and if this is done there will be no need of lowering the city taxes. We want the improvements to go on and on and on and improvements. If city taxes are reduced in the next five years it will be through the municipal ownership of the public utilities and the tax-payers might just as well make up their minds that this is coming. Every city that has municipal ownership can show lower taxes than those cities that are owned and controlled by the corporations and paying a big tribute to them.

LET THE CATTLEMEN TAKE CARE OF THEMSELVES

There is so much in the papers these days about the cattlemen and the cattle tick and the fact that Armour's plant in Jacksonville went out of business on account of the ticky cattle and that the cattle men stopped all bills in the legislature relating to cattle running at large and dipping of cattle and knocked out the different boards that were looking after the cattlemen's business that it seems there must be something wrong about the whole business.

The Herald has been willing to leave much of this business to the men who are raising cattle now and have been raising them for many years in Florida. We have always been averse to cattle running at large in farming sections where they ruin the crops and otherwise hurt the state. We have always been averse to cattle running at large on the public roads where they cause damage to cars at night and cause loss of life. We have taken the part of the average man in this cattle question and we still believe that some restrictions should be placed on the cattle that seemingly belong to no one and that do and will cause damage at various times in a farming community.

But we know many cattlemen in Seminole county and we know that they are mighty good citizens and that the majority of them have always tried to be fair and square in the business of raising cattle. Some of them, it is true, in days gone by seemed to think that they owned the earth and were not disposed to recognize the rights of others but those days are past and we now see a bunch of men here who are trying to raise cattle on their own lands, are trying to keep them tick free and are going right on raising cattle despite the fact that Armour has closed his packing plant in Jacksonville and we are disposed to help them along their way by at least looking at some of these vexing questions from the cattlemen's point of view and all questions have two sides.

For instance when it came to the tax levied in this county for dipping cattle according to government regulations we asked the advice of some of the biggest cattlemen here and they said they thought it was worth trying and we voted it. They tried it and the dipping vats were built with the people's money and the compulsory dipping of cattle started that made the owners of cattle drive them to the vats every fourteen days whether the cattle needed it or not. We found out right then that the government regulations making it compulsory to dip cattle every fourteen days killed many of the cattle, that it was unnecessary to dip them that often, that in the heat of the summer the ceaseless driving was not good for the cattle and cost the owners much money for the driving. We received this information from the men who were in favor of dipping, who asked our co-operation in having this law passed and who were honestly striving to obey the law and give the idea a thorough tryout.

These same men are dipping their cattle now when they need it and are finding out that the cattle are doing much better than when they tried the government rule. The compulsory law is not in effect now and they are not compelled to dip them only when they need it. The bill that was before the legislature regarding the big appropriations had several phases and without going into the merits or demerits of the bill we believe that in the face of the fact that taxes should be cut if possible that the legislature did a wise thing when they refused to vote a large appropriation for the State Sanitary Board that would give a bunch of men big positions at big salaries to ride around the state and give the cattlemen good advice. Somehow or other we are coming around to the point in believing that the farmers and the cattlemen are able to take care of their own business better than most of us who are standing on the side lines and know nothing about it. Somehow or other in noting that many of the big cattle companies in this particular section that fenced their ranches and went in for all the new fangled notions about cattle raising have not made good on it. Somehow the idea hangs in our brain that maybe the people who have been raising cattle in Seminole county for so many years successfully are still raising them successfully and all our efforts toward leading them into the land of promise have not helped them any and as far as the tick is concerned we have hurt them—even though we spent our money at their request for dipping vats. We still believe that getting rid of the ticks is all right provided the method does not get rid of the cattle at the same time. Somehow we are of the belief that since we know nothing about the why and wherefore of cattle raising that we will let the benighted cattle men raise their own cattle in the future without our advice and with the further admonition that they keep them off the public roads and out of the farmer's fields and that they do not run their faces into our friend's automobile (for we have none of our own) and maybe some time in the future the cattlemen and the farmers and all of the rest of us can get together on this question to the mutual benefit of all concerned.

Some times we can have too much legislation and the newspaper game is a good example of it. The last legislature legislated the newspapers out of their legal business, the one before that legislated us out of all our rights and we now feel like going in with the cattlemen and telling the next legislature just where to head in and see that they do it.

Maybe it all comes about from the fact that we are getting wiser as we are getting older and every man to his own business.

Too many cooks spoil the broth and too many advisers spoil many a good business.

And too much "bull" sometimes kills the grass.

RAILROADS GROW ARROGANT.

Railroads, it would appear from newspaper comment, are becoming arrogant. So much so that the Lake-Land Telegram says they appear to have the country in a grip "which would be the envy of 'Strangler' Lewis, the champion wrestler." "What can be done about it?" asks the Telegram. "The government is sidestepping the issue. When the roads call for money, it is ladled out to them with a free hand, while independent soldiers who made the world safe for democracy stand and wait. If they want to boost their already practical rates, the Interstate Commerce Commission is delighted to be their humble servant. Unless the people themselves can devise some means of relief, their complaints are merely idle whines not worth repeating."

The Telegram suggests that Florida might continue the building of hard-surface roads and that these roads might be connected with the road systems of other states in such a manner that trucks, carrying both freight and passengers, might take from the railroads the monopoly they hold. Or, the Telegram suggests, Florida might organize a line of steamers connecting its principal cities with the ports of the world.

The Telegram concludes: All this, and more, Florida could do. It is a question of nerve, enterprise, co-operation and staying quality. Time was when the railroads were real monsters of oppression, because the people had no weapons in hands with which to fight them. Now they are merely stuffed lions, which topple over if you touch them; and the people have nobody but themselves to blame if they submit to their present unprecedented and absolutely ridiculous demands.

FURNITURE FACTORIES FOR FLORIDA

The current issue of the Mount Dora Topic chronicles the organization of a company to build a factory in that town and manufacture furniture from Florida woods on a large scale. The paper says the enterprise is under the direction of a man from Indianapolis who has had twenty-five years experience in the business, and who has been experimenting with Florida woods for several years. He has made up a number of samples—library and dining tables, chairs, desks etc.—which are pronounced as substantial and as attractive as the products of the best factories in the country. He is especially pleased with the results obtained from palmetto and has perfected a treatment for the wood which makes it rigid and durable.

There is no reason why the enterprise should not be successful on a substantial scale. All of the needs of Florida in this line should be supplied by factories within the borders of the state. We have a great variety of woods suitable for the manufacture of furniture, from the very finest to the cheapest grades.

And Sanford is an ideal location for a furniture factory, being close to plenty of hardwood timber as well as the palmetto, and the freight rates here are a big inducement.

THE PUBLICITY APPROPRIATION

The people who have gone on to big business in retail trade have usually been generous advertisers. The average big city department store appropriation for publicity is based on volume of business. The amount spent in advertising usually varies from two to five per cent of the total amount of sales.

A big business keeps computations showing the amount of space each department in its store takes, and the expense of the advertising is considered a charge against that department. A failure of any department to get an amount of business proportionate to its amount of advertising is considered to be some one's fault. Commonly it is the fault either of the merchandise or of the man who wrote the advertising. Rarely is it charged up against the medium in which the notice was placed.

A department store will readily find that it can cut out its overhead expense by increasing its advertising appropriation. A typical instance was given by a large store in Indianapolis. This store increased the amount of money spent in local newspapers during 1919 by 60 per cent. But the increased advertising brought in 94 per cent increase in business for the year. The result was that the percentage of advertising cost to sales was cut 41-2 per cent to 31-2 per cent.

With all the examples of great business built up as a result of advertising, it seems strange that there is one single merchant left in the country who feels that he can neglect this means by which others have gone on to fortune.

John Wanamaker took in $34,677 the first day he was in business. He kept 67 cents for change, and spent $24 in newspaper advertising. In so far as the merchants of Gainesville, have some touch of the genius that pushed Mr. Wanamaker ahead in the business world, they will make advertising the foundation of their system.

COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN FOR EFFICIENT SERVICE.

The movement to inaugurate the community chest plan in the maintenance of social service and charitable organizations in Jacksonville has been launched, and sponsored by some of the most successful business men of the city and other public-spirited citizens who are always to be found in the supporting ranks when civic progress is the issue, it stands an excellent chance of becoming a reality.

Community chest is another way of saying budget. Instead of "driving" the public for subscriptions to individual institutions, this idea proposes to total the expenses of all the institutions, which will be decided by a committee appointed for this purpose, co-operating with representatives at all times. Other cities have already proved its efficiency. The plan was adopted first in Cleveland, O., where it has been perfected in its many phases. Important, too, is the fact that since conducting its social service and charitable organizations under the chest plan Cleveland has increased the numbers of contributors from a few thousand to more than one hundred thousand. Smaller cities have also found the chest idea to be popular and the cause of greater service.

The idea is not in its experimental stages; more than three hundred American cities are now taking advantage of it. A national organization has already been formed, which is a bureau of information, as it were, affording in a comprehensive way the opportunity for the recruits to benefit by the experiences of the veterans.

The public is tired of drives.

PUBLIC SPEAKING ON THE SCHOOL CURRICULUM

High school students, who have observed the wonderful advantage held by a man or woman who is able to speak easily, fluently and with interest in public, are doing some real thinking and are wondering just why high school training is not helping them more in this regard. In some schools strict attention is being given to this phase of development for both girls and boys, and the young folks who have ideas along the subject declare that they should think it would be more important for a person to speak clearly and pleasingly in public than to know what a syllogism is, or how to find the length of the hypotenuse when two sides and an angle are given. Haven't they the right idea? Surely it is unfortunate for any boy or girl to have no instruction in public speaking and debating through the twelve years he spends in the public schools. A little drilling at the end of the term in order to get ready for "closing exercises," or for commencement does not go very far toward supplying the want, and then only too often young folks take their places on the stage and through their parts, speaking too low to reach half of their audience, or rushing at such a steam-engine rate that the words do not get anywhere. Very often this trouble is due to the fact that in the grades coming up through the school the children have teachers who do not themselves read or talk well. Teachers who fall in this regard, whose voices are bad, whose tongues are thick, whose expression is spiritless lessons from the right sort of teacher, from a teacher who reads with none of the stilted mannerisms of the old-time elocutionist.

But whether or not we go out to improve the teaching of public speaking is certainly something our young people ought to have. This being a very important part of their equipment for life after the school days are over.—St. Augustine Record.

HOW ABOUT THE FLORIDA COMMISSION?

The Georgia state railroad commission has issued orders to the railroads operating in that state to get back to a fair basis of treatment in the matter of rates as between different points in Georgia. Of course, its action can only affect intrastate rates, but that is sufficient to life a great burden of unfairness from many a point of distribution.

The recent meeting in Atlanta of the railroad rate men, to which citizens, shippers and commercial organizations of this territory were invited to send delegates to talk over the proposition of abolishing the port differential and making a straight all rail charge higher than now prevails for Tampa and other Southeastern points, was merely an occasion to say, "We are going to raise your rates." Nothing has come out of the meeting except that the railroads have declared they will raise as announced, while the shippers and growers say they will take it to the C. C. for adjustment. Yes, one other thing came out of it: The railroads learned just what arguments we would put up against the plan, and are now at work fortifying themselves for appearance before the I. C. C. if they are forced to appear!

What about the Florida state railroad commission doing something along the lines started by the Georgia body? A few months ago the Florida railroad commission was changing the bit in an effort to get power to regulate things they had not the power to regulate things they had not the power to touch. They have the power to say to the railroads operating in Florida, "You cannot discriminate between points to the hurt of one and the help of another." The press and the public have had much to say about this coming unjust raise, but so far not a word has come from any member of the railroad commission of this state about the subject. Isn't it about time for that body to take a hand in the fight to keep Florida points from being discriminated against? Of course, the railroad commission does not have to wait until some one brings this before its body officially. A copy of the proposed intended rate charges was sent to every organization, and official body in the territory, and of course the railroad commission received a copy and knows the seriousness of what is intended.

The merchants of Tampa and territory cannot do otherwise than protest and prepare for ship, boat and truck lines to give them relief. They are doing the protesting, all right, and the time has come now for starting the ship, boat and truck lines. When they do start these opposition, competing freight carrying lines, they will find the railroads amenable to reason, and anxious to explain how they can make a material reduction, and still give the great beneficial service to the country they are giving—Tampa Tribune.

THE FAILURE OF THE AUTO CAMP.

The opposition of some cities and towns to the free auto camp was after all well-founded, for DeLand, which was acknowledged last winter to have one of the best in the State, has announced its discontinuance for the coming season. It's the same old trait cropping out in human nature—that of a disregard and belittling of the things that are free. People, abused their privileges, were careless of the rights of others, and misused such facilities as were offered them, all because they felt that what was free was there to be misused, if they were so desired. Of course there was many who appreciated what was offered them, were courteous and sincere in their expressions of gratitude, and it seems too bad that such persons have to suffer for the sins of others, but such is the way of the world.

We have always contended that the only practical way to operate an auto camp was to make an initial investment covering the installation of water, sewerage and lights, and place a camp superintendent in charge. Then let those who seek the convenience and the protection of the auto camp pay and pay well for the privilege. The camp superintendent would be on hand to see that people do not abuse the camp property, and the payment of a good fee will keep out the tramp variety of autoists, of which there are legion these days, traversing the country in shabby cars that are hung from radiator to rear bumper with a motley collection of tow-headed children, feisty dogs, kettles, tin frying pans and soiled bedding.

We admit that in some instances cities operating free auto camps have gained desirable citizens thereby, but we do not believe that in the majority those who came, tarried, enjoyed camp privileges and left a trail of camp filth behind them for someone else to clear away, ever meant any good or proved any benefit to a resort city in Florida.—St. Augustine Record.

HOUSES ARE GOING UP IN EVERY PART OF CITY, TEN ARE NOTED TODAY

And The Supply Cannot Keep Up With Demand

(From Wednesday's Daily)
Buildings are going up everywhere in Sanford and each day sees new houses in the residence districts being erected. In fact one must make the rounds each day to keep up with the remarkable growth of Sanford this summer. And with all of this building there are scores of people here who want houses and homes and many more are writing asking about homes for the winter months. The Sanford Building & Loan Association has demands for $88,500 more than they have to loan and if the people who have money to invest would take out shares in the Sanford Building & Loan Association this city would grow in proportion to the needs in the next six months. Among the new houses noted today are as follows:

Frank Markwood is building three bungalows on Palmetto avenue and Tenth streets. George DeCottes is building three on Palmetto near 18th street and one of them is the Quickbill house all made of ready built material. The Meisch Realty Co., has just started four houses at the corner of Sixth and Holly avenue for the employees of the John Mauer Cigar factory, and a house in Goldsboro. There are many others in all parts of the city.

TROY TIMES BOOSTS OUR NEW BOOKLET

EDITOR WRITES FINE LETTER TO HIS OLD FRIEND, M. C. ASPINWALL ABOUT SANFORD.

The following from the Troy (N. Y.) Times about M. C. Aspinwall, the general manager of the Postal Telegraph Co., of this city is most interesting:

"M. Channing Aspinwall, formerly one of the most active citizens of Troy and for a number of years manager of the Western Union Telegraph office in this city, is now one of the progressive residents of Sanford, Florida. The Troy Times is reminded of this fact and of former friendship by receiving from Mr. Aspinwall a Sanford booklet, describing the attractions of that city at the headwaters of the St. John's river. Sanford is sometimes called the Albany of the South, having the same relation to Jacksonville that Albany has to New York, but we shall expect that with Mr. Aspinwall there it will come to be called the Troy of the South."

And James H. Potts, editor of the Times writes the following letter to Mr. Aspinwall telling about his trip to Sanford last winter.

Troy, N. Y., July 14, 1921.
Mr. M. Channing Aspinwall,
Sanford, Florida.

Dear Mr. Aspinwall:
I was very much pleased to receive the pamphlet descriptive of Sanford's beauties. I was particularly interested because Mrs. Potts and myself made the trip from Jacksonville to Sanford on the St. John's river. We remarked then the wonderful Nile effect which the river produced, with the tropical trees and the alligators visible all along the shores. It is certainly a trip which cannot be ignored by those who have not seen the Nile itself.

I meant to write you before and apologize for not acknowledging the receipt of your election return. But you can be assured we have not forgotten you, and will be glad to hear at any time of your continued prosperity.
With the thermometer glued fast to the nineties here for the last month, none of us have been sighing for any point nearer the equator; but when Jack Frost comes whistling his melodies, Florida certainly has an attractive sound.
Thanking you for your remembrance, and with best wishes for your success in what struck me when I was there as a city which combined the beauties of the South and the enterprise of the North—if you will permit that discrimination—I am,
Very sincerely yours,
JAMES H. POTTS,
Editor Troy Times.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR.

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. —Adv.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

To see the healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for a week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentation, gases and acidity and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges or whose skin is yellow or pallid, that one week of inside bathing will have them looking and feeling better every way.—Adv.

What Henry Ford Says About Machine Power Farming

"In the tractor the farmer now has a machine in which is harnessed one of the most adaptable, efficient, economical sources of power in the world—the internal combustion engine.

"The tractor will multiply the productive capacity of each individual farm worker from three to four times over.

"It will put the farmer on a par with the city manufacturer. It will put his produce-producing factory—for that is what a farm is—on an efficient production basis.

"It will enable each worker to earn so much more that he can be paid more and still leave a greater profit for the man who hires him. It will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life.

"I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth."

BIBLE CONFERENCE FOR SANFORD
WILL BE POSSIBLE THIS SEASON,
THROUGH DR. BROWNLEE'S EFFORTS

Moody Bible School of Chicago Will Have Three in State

(From Friday's Daily)
The biggest event in the religious history of Sanford has been secured for the coming winter. Dr. Brownlee announces the securing of a part of the faculty of the Moody Bible School of Chicago for a series of three Bible Conferences in Florida during the coming winter, one to be held in Jacksonville, one in St. Petersburg and one in Sanford. The local conference will be under the auspices of the various churches of the city and will be held in the Presbyterian Church. It will bring to the city some famous and able teachers of the Bible who will teach the best and most approved ways of understanding the Bible and how such study may become increasingly interesting.

It will also bring to the city a number from other cities to hear these renowned men. The finances for the meeting have already been arranged. The conference will probably be held in February though the exact date has not yet been settled.

GUTHRIE-HAILE

(From Tuesday's Daily)
The following notice will be of interest to many Sanford friends of Mr. Alston Haile:

"Palatkans were much interested in the marriage of Miss Emma Lee Guthrie, of Jacksonville, to Mr. Alston R. Haile, of Sanford. The ceremony took place Tuesday in Jacksonville, and Mr. and Mrs. Haile are now in Gainesville, where they will spend a week or so with relatives and friends. They will later go to the mountains of North Carolina for a several weeks' stay. Both Mr. and Mrs. Haile are well-known in Palatka, and have many friends here who will wish for them a happy married life. Miss Guthrie has frequently visited here as the guest of Mrs. W. Carl Davis, and Mr. Haile made his home here for several years before going to Sanford, where he holds a responsible position with the Stringfellow-Padgett Company. Mrs. Haile is a sister of Judge W. C. Guthrie, of Jacksonville."—Palatka News.

BIG JAMBOREE
YESTERDAY

MADE FENCES, PIERS, CLEANED UP ROADS AND BUILDINGS AND THEN ATE PILLAU

(From Friday's Daily)

One of the big events in the life of the Boy Scouts of Sanford was the jamboree given at the camp grounds on Silver Lake yesterday by the Rotarians, Scout officials and citizens generally. It was a sight worth seeing when those staid business men who had not been out of their places of business for some time, got right out in the open and cut trees, cut away underbrush, made houses and piers and fences and gates and did rough work right along with the boys. There was much good work accomplished, too. The fence in front of the property of the Boy Scouts comprising some five acres, was fenced with a nice wire fence, a good gate made and big sign suspended over the gate reading: "Boy Scouts Camp, No Trespassing." The underbrush and trees were cut away from a new road leading into the property, the dining hall was screened, a new pier was built on the lake front and many other improvements made. All this time the chicken pillau was going forward under the careful ministrations of Chef Hambour who knows chicken so well that he can throw a spell on them and they walk right up to his front door. After the work was finished the whole bunch went in swimming and while waiting for the pillau to cook to a turn several good talks were made by Scoutmaster Fred Williams, Dr. Brownlee, R. J. Holly and others and after the invocation by Rev. Welsh, of the Baptist church, the boys were formed into line and each was served with a generous portion of pillau, crackers, etc. The grown folks enjoyed the supper as only men can enjoy anything in the open and the boys coming back for a second helping always found the older ones there on the job and they kept coming until two big lard cans of pillau had been exhausted.

With campfire stories and many plans being laid for the future, several hours were spent before the party broke up, some of the boys staying at the camp for a few days and the rest of the party coming home feeling that the afternoon had been well spent in many ways and all were better for the outing with the greatest organization of boys in the world—the Boy Scouts.

The Rotary Club of Sanford, thru the chairman of the boys work, Deane Turner, revived interest in the Boy Scouts a few weeks ago and the jamboree yesterday was the result and all the heads of the Scouts and the people generally are taking a deep interest in the work.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste,
It's Camels for you.
