"FATTY" FACES TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER THIRD TIME TO-DAY

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The third trial of "Fatty" Arbuckle began today. Doubt was expressed whether the panel of sixty-five prospective jurors would be sufficient to provide for a jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Roscoe C. ("Fatty") Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, will go to trial today for the third time on charges of manslaughter, growing out of the death on Sept. 9, 1921, of Miss Virginia Rappo, a motion picture actress. Miss Rappo's death followed a drinking party in Arbuckle's suite in the Hotel St. Francis. It is expected that the process of selecting a jury will occupy the greater part of the week.
The trial will see no change in the lists of opposing counsel, but it is expected that more witnesses will be called than in either of the two previous trials.

The jury in the first voted ten to two for acquittal and in the second, ten to two for conviction. Both sides have promised to introduce evidence in the forthcoming trial that was not introduced in either of the others.

However, the prosecution probably will lack one of its chief prosecution witnesses, Miss Zey Provost, who left the state after the second trial and has refused to return. It is expected that her testimony in one of the earlier trials will be read into the record.
The depositions of a number of Chicago witnesses have been obtained by the defense for use in an attempt to prove that the death of Miss Rappo was due to a chronic disorder which came to a sudden climax and not to external force applied by Arbuckle, as the prosecution contends.

MAY SEEK TREATIES TO DECLARE LIQUOR CARRIERS "PIRATES"

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Negotiation of "liquor treaties" with Great Britain and Cuba as aids in putting an end to rum smuggling into this country was said last night by high Internal Revenue officials to be advocated by prohibition Commissioner, Haynes.
Treaties were desired, it was explained to handle the Canadian border situation and to better control exports of liquor from Cuba, the Bahamas and Bermuda to this country.

Prohibition officials also have under discussion a proposal for declaring rum vessels to be pirates through negotiation with foreign nations looking to the cancellation of the registry of such ships. Many of the larger liquor ships carrying illicit cargoes of alcohol, it was said anchor just outside the limit of customs jurisdiction and send the cargo ashore in small boats.

The war upon these craft is being successfully waged, officials asserted, but the cargo vessels are beyond the reach of the law. If they sailed without proper registry papers they would be branded as pirates outside the law and the lawful prize of every navy in the world.

At the state department it was said no proposals for negotiations of this sort are under consideration as yet.
International discussion of American prohibition would involve many difficult diplomatic questions, it was declared.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Government officials represented, today being without hope that the threatened coal strike can be averted or a proposed conference between operators indicated that Government intervention at least at preliminaries of the situation was practically at an end.

Holding off the strike call for April first is almost inevitable, government officials said, but was now chiefly interested in seeing that a sufficient supply of coal was maintained for the country as a whole.

JOHNNY JONES AUTO HAD BAD SPILL GOING TO DAYTONA

A complete wreck of a car was shown here today when the truck belonging to the Johnny J. Jones' shows was here enroute to Orlando with the Jones Cadillac car almost demolished. The accident happened on the Daytona-DeLand road yesterday and the Orlando Sentinel had the following account of it:

"Injuries of a serious nature were received by Mrs. Charles Rock, Jr., one of the Johnny J. Jones' midlets known as Prince and Mr. Jones' secretary yesterday morning near Daytona when the Cadillac car in which they were driving overturned on the asphalt road, due to the slipper condition of the highway from rain.

"Mrs. Rock, who was going to Daytona to attend to some stenographic work for the Jones Expositions, was brought to her home in this city. Her injuries are considered serious, but will not prove fatal.

"Mr. Jones' secretary and Prince are most seriously hurt. They were taken to a hospital in Daytona. As is the case with Mrs. Rock, their injuries are not expected to be fatal. The automobile was a complete wreck."

Poor Old Holly. Way out in California. Where everyone is good, It isn't any wonder that They call it Hollywood.

But now that they're reforming Barring things they shouldn't Don't you think it would be jolly To call it Hollywood?

Great place is Sanford and becoming greater.

That bond issue will give the city much needed improvements.

You will note that President Harding only stops at places that have golf links.

This sort of weather makes the celery growers think they are having their prayers answered—that is those that do not pray much.

There are more holdups today in the heart of the big cities than ever happened in the wilds of the wild and woolly west in the early days.

The Herald has said that speedsters should be taken in hand. They need a lesson and a good one to make them realize that Sanford's streets are not speedways.

Women must pay the poll tax this year before they vote which means that hubby has more poll tax than ordinarily. But then it is worth it for the women will make a big difference in politics. If you don't believe it watch their smoke.

Next Saturday Kissimmee will pull off a "Ford Day" at which time all kinds of Fords will be gathered there to do various and sundry stunts and prizes will be given and a big barbecue will be tendered to the crowd at noon. We suppose Henry Ford and Ed Higgins will be there.

A friend said today that the Congress should take the "B" out of bonus and put the "D" where it belongs and take the "onus" which in Latin means burden off the people and let the corporations carry it. This in a few words is the best thing we have heard about the bonus bill.

The government seems to be putting every obstacle in Henry Ford's way to prevent his taking over Muscle Shoals. We said it all along. The Republican trust lovers and corporation "buddies" will never let that big proposition get to a man who might be interested in doing something for the people.

CONTEMPTIBLE NEWS METHODS

If Henry Peavey's story of the third degree through which certain newspaper men put him in an attempt to find out whether he was the murderer of William Desmond Taylor is true, then it is a bad business and official investigation and punishment should not be lacking. If the story is not true, then the telling of it is bad business and due to be dealt with accordingly.

The news-gathering business is difficult enough at best. It has been hard enough for newspaper men to make people see that their profession is an honorable and necessary one, that getting the truth and telling it even when it is unpleasant is essential to the public well-being. Such methods as those said to be employed in the attempt to get Peavey's story are beneath the dignity of any decent newspaper or news-gathering agency. Every straight newspaper in the country will want to see this matter thoroughly investigated.—St. Augustine Record.

So Jacksonville is not to have an automobile factory after all and the building will be used merely as a Florida distributing warehouse for the Hanson car. We looked at the "sample Innes" displayed at the State fair by the company that plastered stock all over the state on the grounds of establishing a new manufacturing industry in Florida, and the stock salesman in attendance came over, looked longingly at the sample car and asked:—"Ain't she a dream?". It develops now that "she" was exactly that—a dream.—Leesburg Commercial.

REACHED THE AGE OF TWENTY-ONE.

Our old friend George Goolsby is celebrating the twenty-first birthday of his excellent paper the Wauchulla Advocate. It is worth something to an editor to know that he has been twenty-one years in one place, that has watched the city grow from a wide place in the road to a thriving city that has grown and prospered with the city.

We remember that twenty years ago George Goolsby had just started his excellent paper and together with his good wife was working hard to put it over. We also remember when he put in the two revolution press in his shop as it was one of the first to be placed in a print shop in that part of the state. Since that time twenty-one years ago George has edited and printed one of the best weekly papers in the state and we can reach it farther and say that it is one of the best weekly papers in the United States. Success to you, old friend and to your good wife who has stood by your side and to all your excellent office force in which you have always been fortunate in securing and keeping the best—all girls, we believe. May you all live another twenty-one years and keep the Advocate up to the same high standards and long before another twenty-one years it will be a daily and a good daily at that. Wauchulla owes much to the Advocate and the Goolsbys.

WASTEFUL POLICY.

The American people in the prodigality of their natural resources have, during the last half century, committed more and bigger economic crimes than any other people on earth. And even now while the country stands half naked, stupidly and ruthlessly stripped of so large a part of its natural assets, we don't seem to have sense enough to realize our almost irreparable loss, or if we have we are without the needed energy and decisiveness of character to set about the work of reparation on or of even savings what we have left.

We all know what has happened to our once glorious forests, with no effort worth the name of reforestation, and now we are destroying our great game and fish resources at such a rate that here in Florida, in which we are immediately vitally interested, it is estimated that ten years more will see us without game in our forests and nearly the same condition as to fish in our lakes and rivers.

It takes no lively imagination to realize what this would mean to our state. The dullest clodhopper can see the magnitude of the calamity. Think of Florida still in the youth of her development with her vast fields and forests once so amazingly rich in every kind of wild game, and her rivers and lakes heavily stocked with fine fish of all kinds, soon to be practically without either because her own glutinous hunters and fishermen, regardless of law, right or reason, have depleted these splendid resources almost to exhaustion.

Something must be done and done quickly to avert this threatened calamity, and we are glad to see the Rotary club at Sanford has taken the initiative in the movement by passing vitriolic resolutions on the subject and urging the co-operation of every club in the state.

Our game laws are practically dead on the statute books. Little or no effort is made to enforce them, and because no such effort is made good citizens otherwise law-abiding, yield to the bad example of others and hunt and kill out of season in such quantities as they desire. And so the vast slaughter goes merrily on all over the state, with no thought of the evil day not distant when there will be no game left to slaughter.

Here is the most important of the resolutions passed by the Sanford club and every newspaper in Florida should join in the work of stirring every other club in the state to action, and legislature also.

"Resolved, by the Rotary club of

UNCLE HANK

When pickin' out an automobile or a wife, don't be deceived by th' hood, th' paint, or th' pleasin' lines of th' body.

Sanford, Fla., first, that it here and now goes on record as favoring the enactment of state-wide game and fish laws which will adequately meet the present need; second that this Rotary club individually and collectively dedicate to this cause its energy, intellect and influence and promises to this end its hearty, loyal co-operation to the representative and senator of Seminole county in drafting and passing at the next term, of the legislature suitably protective fish and game laws.

The sheriff's office should be relieved of all responsibility in the enforcement of the game laws and the office of the state game warden created with deputies in all the counties. Such an office is as logical a measure as that of state shell fish commissioner. — Gadsden County Times.

FISH FRY AT GENEVA NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

The Community Club of Geneva will give a fish dinner at Geneva town hall next Thursday night to which the public is cordially invited. Everyone who has ever been to Geneva and tasted that excellent cooking of the good people of that fine little city can be assured of something good to eat and plenty of fine fresh fish from Lake Harney cooked just right. The Community Club of Geneva is doing big things out there and have recently purchased 12 lots in the center of the city which will be made into a beautiful park. Go out Thursday night and assist in this most worthy enterprise as well as get something good to eat.

MUSICAL BELL RINGERS HERE AGAIN TUESDAY

It is doubtful if any musical feature has ever been presented to the American public which has won greater favor or obtained a wider following than that of musical bell ringing. The art was brought to America first in the '40s by the late P. T. Barnum. While touring England he heard a group of a dozen church bell ringers practicing upon hand-bells and he conceived the idea of using a large peal of bells and playing more elaborate music.

These bells were made in England, as the world's best bells always have been, but in conformity with his un-failing, originality as an advertiser, he dressed the players, both men and women, in the costumes of Swiss peasants, and called the company "The Swiss Bell Ringers." For many years this company toured the United States in wagons before railroads were at all general. The art at that time was so successful that our grandfathers recall most vividly the visit of the Swiss Bell Ringers to their native towns.

It seems that thereafter the art fell into disuse and it was not really perfected or revived in any worthy way until 1898, when Ralph Dunbar and his brother founded the famous Dunbar Bell Ringers at St. Joseph, Mo. These brothers went to England and had made up their special supervision a peal of bells which was undoubtedly the most complete and most perfect set of bells ever cast.

These bells were made under their own personal supervision by the same bellfounders that cast the great bells of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral in London, as well as practically all of the well known church bells of the world. The peal embraced more than five octaves chromatic and through the middle register there were as many as six bells of the same note. The vogue of the Dunbar Bell Ringers was the most notable of any similar company which has appeared on the American concert platform. They gave more than 2,800 concerts up to 1912 when both Harry and Ralph Dunbar resigned their places in the quartet to others. The company up to then had traveled 400,000 miles in America and Europe. The Dunbar brothers collected hundreds of pages of newspaper material published regarding their tours, but the patrons of the Redpath Bureau are sufficiently familiar with this widely known concert company to recall the marvelous musical effects which this quartet of players obtained from their splendid peal of bells.

It may be interesting to know that the largest of these bells weighed 25 pounds and measured 18 inches in diameter.

This company will appear at the Princess Theatre in a return engagement Tuesday, March 14, tomorrow night.

SECOND WEEK BIG REVIVAL HAS STARTED

The second week of the revival meeting at the Methodist church opens with every promise of a great success. A successful revival means a great harvest of souls. Much interest and earnestness prevails among the people evidenced by their constant attendance, their testimony and their prayers. Yesterday's services brought out great congregations. Last night there was serious difficulty in finding seats for the number of people who thronged the church.

Dr. Walker's morning message was intensely inspirational, being drawn from the first chapter of Deuteronomy. The spies report upon conditions in the promised land and Caleb's stand in the matter.

The sermon last night on worldly amusements was one of the most arresting messages delivered during the meeting. It brought the young people and their parents face to face with facts as they exist. The sermon dealt largely with the common trio: Theatre, dance and cards. Dr. Walker did not condemn these amusements on general principles, but made specific charges, which he called upon his auditors to weigh in their minds, and deny—if they could.

DOYLE GOES AROUND IN 70

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 13.—Pat Doyle, of St. Louis, was the only one of the 46 entrants in the opening round of the Florida open golf championship tournament at the Florida Country Club here yesterday to do par or better for the 18 holes, going around in 70, or two under par. Other cards ranged as high as 93 for Russell Stillings, the local amateur.

Walter Hagan, of St. Louis, western open champion, and Gene Sarazen, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who won the southern open championship at New Orleans last week, and who paired in yesterday's play went around in 77 each. Play as a whole was without outstanding features.

HOLDS BELL NOT A VIOLATOR OF LAW

Merely Exercises Right of Refusal

Editor Tribune: The following news item from St. Petersburg appears in large type in today's issue of your paper: "Diphtheria in a Christian Scientist's Home. Refuse Ordinary Medical Treatment." And "A Policeman stationed at the house to enforce quarantine." It would appear from the above that Mr. Abraham Bell, the Christian Scientist, had attempted or was attempting to disobey the laws of Florida, thereby subjecting our citizens to the scourge of diphtheria. The public should know the facts in the case, which are these: Mr. Bell, the father of the child, suspecting that his boy, twelve years of age, might be afflicted with either a contagious or infectious disease, called in a physician so that should such be the case all precautions could be taken, in strict compliance with our state law. The physician had the necessary tests made and pronounced the case diphtheria. The household was quarantined and the house placarded. This was done with the consent and with the approval of Mr. Bell and his family. The physician demanded that the child be inoculated with anti-toxin serum, which the parents refused to allow. The matter was then called to the attention of the mayor by the physician, who in his effort to compel the parents to submit to his mode of treatment threatened them that should the child die he would swear out a warrant charging them with manslaughter. With this threat staring them in the face the parents courteously refused the serum treatment. A policeman was placed on the walk in front of the house as a quarantine officer, thus making it appear that Mr. Bell could not be trusted to observe quarantine regulations; therefore this measure was taken for the safety of the public.

The physician did not just wittingly discover this case; he was sent for by Mr. Bell because of his desire to "fulfill the law." Thus proving again as has been done times without number, that a Christian Scientist is a peaceful, law-abiding citizen.

Mr. Bell who is a resident of St. Petersburg, was for a number of years a Congregational minister devoting his life in an effort to help humanity to understand the Christ, thus to find God. It was during his active ministry that Christian Science healed him. In due time after his physical healing, Mr. Bell became an active Christian Science prac-titioneer, endeavoring to follow in the footsteps of humanity's way-shower Christ Jesus, who, in doing the will of his Father, went about reforming the sinner, healing the sick, uplifting the fallen, and raising the dead; proving by his works the all-sufficiency of God for every human need, and who said: "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also." Can Christian people believe that this exemplary man, Mr. Bell, once an ordained minister of the gospel; one pledged to do God's bidding, should need to be guarded as a criminal, because of his having refused to have his child inoculated with what 99 per cent of all those that die of diphtheria are chucked full of at the time of death?

We citizens should not forget that every medical law enacted at Tallahassee is at the instigation of the physicians of this state. Christian Scientists concede to physicians the right to control themselves and to minister to all those desiring their services, but physicians have neither an inherent nor a legislative right to compel anyone to submit to their theories of medication which are as unstable and changing as the color of a chameleon.

To illustrate: I was for a number of years a registered pharmacist; learned and licensed in the arts of the profession. It is now a little over ten years since I have been engaged in the drug business. In this short time the pharmacopoeia has so changed that I am no longer qualified to practice pharmacy as a result of these changes, although I hold licenses in several states, including Florida, which state on their face that I was at the time a duly qualified pharmacist. It does not take a very learned man to recognize the fallacy of these "cock sure" curatives which are termed specifics today, are in the scrap heap tomorrow.

In April, 1920, the supreme court of Florida handed down an opinion in the case entitled, "Bradley vs. State of Florida," in which the court decides that medical treatment is not compulsory. The following is the concurring opinion written by Chief Justice Brown: "The all important question is must a parent call a physician every time his child is sick, or risk being adjudged guilty of manslaughter if the child should die? If not, who is to decide when the child is sick enough to place upon the father the obligation to call a physician? Is it the father or the neighbor or must the father call a physician to ascertain if the child needs a physician? Has the practice of medicine become an exact science, so that after death human testimony can establish beyond a reasonable doubt that if a physician had been called the child would not have died? Does the duty of a parent to call a physician attach where a child is afflicted with a necessary fatal ailment, such as consumption and continue until death occurs? Can the law fix what class of ailments a child must be suffering from before the failure to call a physician becomes culpable negligence, so that if death ensues in one it is manslaughter and in another class it is not? Shall a parent who belongs to that exemplary band of Christians who have no faith in the efficacy of medicine be convicted of manslaughter because he fails to call a physician to attend a sick child that subsequently dies? Until the practice of medicine becomes an exact science so that it can be established beyond the peradventure of a doubt that death would not have ensued if a physician had been in attendance, I think the answer to all these questions must be an unqualified 'No.'

Sincerely yours,
W. TRUMAN GREEN,
Committee on Publication for Florida.

But today the spark of hope still remained with Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, the New York scientist, who has been on the watchout for the playful person or spook since last Tuesday.

HINTERMISTER AND MILLER SUFFERED FIRE LOSS

Warehouse Located at Rand's Siding Burned to Ground Saturday Evening

The warehouse located at the railroad crossing on West First Street at Rand's Siding, belonging to T. J. Miller & Son and occupied by the J. H. Hintermister Piano Co., with pianos and phonographs, burned to the ground Saturday afternoon about six o'clock. The warehouse, while inside the city limits, has no fire plugs near and the fire department was obliged to use the new pumper taking water from the Southern Utility Co. pool west of the car tracks. When water was obtained the fire was too far gone to be able to save the building.

The Hintermister Piano Co., lost several pianos, talking machines, records, sheet music and musical instruments and supplies of all kinds. T. J. Miller & Son lost the building and many people who had furniture stored in the building lost all their furniture. It is impossible to estimate at this time just what the loss will be as the ruins are still too hot to make an examination. The Hintermister Piano Co., are among the new business firms of the city coming here from Augusta, Ga., about six months ago. They also have a down town store in the Welaka block and their goods in this room were all they had left after the fire.

The town was thrown in darkness for over an hour, due to the fact that the main feed wires from the electric light plant to the city passed near this building, but due to the efficient work of the fire department and of the pumping apparatus recently purchased by the city commissioners the pole line and service wires were not destroyed, in which event the city would have been deprived of electric service Saturday night which would have proved a great financial loss to the merchants.

HAROLD SMITH KILLED WHILE HANDLING GUN

Harold Smith, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bassett Smith, accidentally killed himself Saturday night about 7:30 at the home on the corner of Third and Palmetto while playing with a pistol. He, in company with two boys friends, had been playing with a radio outfit and Harold playfully pulled out the pistol from a drawer and was scaring the boys by flourishing it around his head, not knowing it was loaded. In some manner it was fired, the bullet entering his left side through the shoulder and ranging downward must have reached his lungs and heart. The report was heard by his sister in the next room and she rushed to his side but he died in a few minutes without speaking.

Harold was an exceptionally bright young man, just reaching the age where he was a great help to his father in his printing office and was greatly beloved by his teachers and school mates of the grammar school. His death has cast a gloom over the city among his young friends and the many friends of the family. His father and mother, two brothers, Herbert C. Smith and George T. Smith, of McKeesport, Pa., and sisters, Mrs. Harry Beckham, of this city; Mrs. A. L. Mowen, of Hawks Park; Mrs. O. C. Hill, of Orlando, are left to mourn the loss of the bright young lad.

The funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon at 3:30. E. E. Hoard, of New Smyrna, officiating, and interment was made in Lakeview cemetery where the floral offerings attested the love and esteem in which the young son was held by everyone. To the grief stricken parents and brothers and sisters is extended the sympathy of many friends and especially from the Sanford-Herald.

CARD OF THANKS

To the many Sanford, Orlando and New Smyrna friends and neighbors, the teachers and schoolmates of our beloved son Harold ("Brownie") together with the Business and Professional Woman's Club, the Daily Herald staff and others who so spontaneously and lovingly contributed beautiful floral designs and in so many ways expressed heartfelt sympathy in the sad hour of our loss and bereavement, we hereby extend our deepest appreciation and thanks and pray that the "God of all Grace" will abundantly bless and reward them.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Bassett Smith, and Family.

WAKEFIELD PRESERVING CO., DOING BIG BUSINESS

The Wakefield Preserving Company is doing a great business now in the preserving of fruits and marmalades and making up and shipping a car load of products every ten days. When they get into the new factory at Lake Jem they expect to put out two car loads every ten days. At the Lake Jem factory the new machinery is being placed and it is thought they will be ready for the early fall business. It is also rumored that a branch factory will be located in Sanford, as all of the supplies and the finished products are now shipped into Geneva via Clyde Line and Sanford. It may be possible that the main factory will eventually be located here as this is centrally located on the river and the main lines of the A. C. L. Ry., and the freight rates are so much cheaper than any other part of Central Florida. Even if the main factory is located at Lake Jem the bulk of the shipments will still go through this city to take advantage of the water rates to eastern and northern markets.

lations. After hearing Dr. Hudson talk about conditions in China there is no one who will ever say that Americans should not do their full duty in sending missionaries to that country and create a better feeling among the races of the world and especially among the teeming millions of China—millions that would no longer be the "yellow peril" if they were Christianized under American missionaries.
