No school for some students

Schools on the traditional school calendar have the day off on Friday to give students the opportunity to rest up following the conclusion of the first nine weeks of class and to prepare for the forthcoming report cards.

Teachers and administrators will be at school wrapping up grading reports and taking care of other administrative paperwork.

Students who attend classes on the year round calendar will remain on their regular schedule.

Board dismisses Morgan

SANFORD — After little more than 10 weeks on the job, Krista Morgan, the latest person to step into the revolving door of the Humane Society of Seminole County executive director's position, has been fired. On a vote of 4-2, society directors voted last night to dismiss Morgan and name three board members to act as shelter directors until a replacement can be hired, said Dr. Marshall Fruman, society vice president.

Board members Neil Stokes, Melody Foster and Pat Wiseman will take turns overseeing day-to-day society operations, Fruman said.

Fruman said Morgan was frequently absent from the shelter and averaged 13 to 19 hours per week on the shelter's job. Her most recent assignment also failed to complete a reorganization of files during the 10 weeks she was on duty.

Morgan had no comment this morning on the board action or her future.

Society president Dr. Joseph Vaughan could not be reached this morning. Fruman said Vaughan left the meeting before the discussion and vote regarding Morgan was taken.

Morgan replaced former director Norma Spivey who resigned in August. Spivey replaced former director Diane Albers, who served for 2 1/2 years until September 1992 before she was fired.

SCC presents 'Edward II'

SANFORD — The Fall Film Series at Seminole Community College presents the final film of the year, "Edward II," on Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Concert Hall. The film is free and open to the public.

Derek Jarman, one of Britain's most original and politically outspoken filmmakers, updates Christopher Marlowe's classic 16th century tragedy about a young king, Edward II, who is destroyed by his wife's jealousy and his male lover's desire for power. The film is rated R.

Sanford woman victim, cops say county is target

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — A San Jose, Calif. man is being brought to Seminole County on a charge he attempted to bilk a 87-year-old Sanford woman out of $2,079 which he said was tax on a $50,000 prize.

Sheriff's investigators are warning area residents to avoid prize deals that require them to send money first. They believe Seminole County residents may be targeted by two such scams.

"You shouldn't have to send money to win something," said sheriff's investigator Rob Volton.

Volton said the Sanford woman was contacted

Oct. 12 by a man purporting to be an attorney, saying a telephone scam operation had been successfully prosecuted and the company records indicated she was due $50,000. During the course of several more telephone calls during the afternoon, the woman was promised the money if she would pay 10 percent, $5,000, tax on the Former cop may land back in jail

By SANDRA ELLIOTT
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The assistant state attorney prosecuting Guy Storm Brewster on child molestation charges may ask the court to jail the former Sanford policeman until his trial after his arrest Tuesday night on unrelated charges.

Attorney Meryl Allawas said she would review the arrest report before deciding whether to ask the court to revoke Brewster's $7,500 bond in the molestation case.

Brewster faces trial Nov. 15 on 85 counts of molesting a youth over a two-year period. A September trial in the two-year old case ended in a mistrial. The mistrial was declared by Judge Alan A. Dickey when the victim testified to a sex act which Brewster was not charged with committing.

Tuesday night, Brewster, 37, was charged with carrying a concealed firearm and possession of burglary tools after being stopped by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy in the parking lot of Florida Hospital North in Altamonte Springs. Two Seminole High School students were with

Taking careful steps toward codes

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — City officials are taking careful steps toward the enactment of plans supplied two years ago by Andrea Duany. The plans are for the development of the downtown residential neighborhood, and one of the biggest changes would be new codes for Sanford's historic area.

The matter was brought up for consideration and discussion at Monday night's Sanford City Commission work session, and meeting.

The commission voted to authorize the city attorney and city planner to prepare an ordinance that would amend the Land Development Code of the city to create the "Old Sanford Historic Residential Area."

Duany had suggested building codes which would help preserve and protect the homes in the historic district. It would require changes in the present building codes for that part of the city.

This will take some time to arrange," said City Planner Jay Marder. "We will have to send out letters to every property owner in the district under consideration."

Accepting the Teen Challenge

By MARVA HAWKINS

SANFORD — Red Ribbon Week was a good reason for Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith to invite a few community people out to Teen Challenge, a program helping youth, adults and families with drug, alcohol and other life-controlling problems. Red Ribbon Week is a nationwide observance to fight substance abuse.

Smith is a member of the advisory board of Teen Challenge and she wanted her old friends to get to know her new friends.

Jerry Nance of Teen Challenge explains that in 1958 the author of the book "The Cross and the Switchblade" went to New York City to reach teenagers in gangs with God's love. Teen Challenge was then born. Nance said it is a Christian youth program with lasting results. It now has 127 centers, 165 in 26 foreign countries. Nance says 15 percent come from the court

Wekiva convenience store battle continues

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — The State of Florida is asking the Florida Supreme Court to overturn an August appeals court decision to end its challenges against a proposed convenience store close to Wekiva Springs State Preserve west of Sanford.

The state has fought the county since April 1989, when the state Department of Community Affairs challenged the commercial land use for the five-acre site south of State Road 46 on either side of Longwood-Markham Road, saying the commercial designation could not adequately meet the requirements of the Wekiva River Protection Act.

The property is owned by Miller Enterprises, developers of Handy Way stores, and Albert Katz and Joseph Brechner. A portion of the property is behind a subdivision wall and unavailable for commercial development.

M.B. Adelson IV, attorney for the state, asked the Florida Supreme Court to overturn an Aug. 27 decision by the Fifth District Court of Appeals to uphold Circuit Judge Wallace H. Hall's ruling dismissing the case. Wallace said the complaint was filed after a deadline and couldn't be considered.

"I'm just trying to have my day in court," said Adelson.

The county is now responding to the request of the high court, saying supporting documents were filed too late, too. Assistant County Attorney Lonnie Groot said he will ask the court not to hear the request on the grounds they received the notice of the request a day late.

"The state continues to be untimely and we still continue in address these on a case by case basis," said Groot.

The beginning...

The brouhaha began in April 1989, when DCA officials declared the 1987 commercial land use designation on the property should be repealed because Miller and two other owners of the tract failed to "utilize" the land use by seeking a rezoning or taking some other action.

2 charged with child abuse

ORLANDO — Police were investigating the suspicious death of a 2-year-old boy while a woman and her boyfriend were charged with aggravated child abuse of her two young daughters in a separate case.

The two area cases follow a third in which a couple were charged with beating and sexually abusing the woman's 3-year-old boy in an Orange County motel over the weekend. The boy was listed in critical condition on Wednesday.

Police in Apopka arrested a mother and boyfriend Tuesday after receiving an anonymous call from a neighbor about the woman's two daughters, ages 3 and 5.

The sisters had bruises and burns on their faces, hands and buttocks. The 3-year-old had a toenail pulled off and a burn on her hand that will require surgery, Police Chief Bob Campbell said.

Child-abuse investigators questioned the parents of the 2-year-old boy, who died of head injuries Tuesday at Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children & Women.

Car-bombing suspect sought

MARY ESTHER — A suspect was being sought in a car bombing that caused only minor damage and no injuries.

Three adults and a 1-year-old child had gotten out of the car just minutes before the pipe bomb went off inside the left front fender Monday night, said Okaloosa County sheriff's spokesman Rick Hord.

The case remained under investigation Wednesday and authorities declined to name the suspect.

"It's going to be a domestic thing most likely," Hord said.

The blast tore about a half-dozen holes in the fender but didn't even flatten the tire, he said.

The car was owned by George Williams, 78, who had loaned it to Wendy G. Shelton, 35, his caretaker to run errands.

She had received threats involving bombs from the suspect last week, said Mark Haddock an investigator with the state fire marshal's office.

Teen cop killer 'ain't worried'

FORT LAUDERDALE — A teen-ager who faces sentencing next month for killing a policeman says he's not too worried about the prospect of jail.

"I'll be out when I'm 39 or so," said Timothy Brown, 17, shrugging his shoulders. "I ain't worried about it. I'll get out one day. They can't hold me forever."

Brown will be sentenced Nov. 9 and faces a maximum life sentence with a minimum 25 years in prison.

Prosecutor Chuck Morton was not surprised at Brown's attitude.

"It's frightening there's no sense of remorse," Morton told the Sun-Sentinel of Fort Lauderdale for a Wednesday story.

Brown maintains he is innocent, a victim of bad cops who coerced him into confessing.

Brown has been jailed since confessing on July 16, 1991, to killing Behan, 29, in the parking lot of a Circle K convenience store in Pembroke Park.

Jury rules electric chair

PENSACOLA — A new jury recommended that the mastermind of a mistaken-identity murder be resented to death in Florida's electric chair.

Circuit Judge Michael Jones, who is not bound by Wednesday's recommendation, set sentencing Dec. 10 for Robin Lee Archer, 29, of Pensacola. The only alternative is life in prison without parole for at least 25 years.

Archer had hired three teen-agers to kill the manager of an auto parts store who had fired him, but the intended victim called in sick on Jan. 28, 1991, and his replacement, Billy Wayne Coker, 36, was killed instead.

Former Circuit Judge Lacey Collier, now a federal judge, had sentenced Archer to death in 1991 after the jury that convicted him of first-degree murder also recommended electrocution.

Leader helps acquire SBA grant to plant trees

By SARABECCA ROSIER
Herald Columnist

LAKE MARY — As a part of the 80th anniversary of Girl Scouts, troops nationwide have developed service projects caring for the earth. In Lake Mary, Troop 148 organized the service project for the Stardust Service Unit.

The initial phase of the service project began Nov. 21, 1992. On that day, more than 150 Girl Scouts and their parents met at Lake Mary Elementary to plant 18 trees by the retention pond. The trees planted were 18 varieties of oak. This was the first step in a plan that will create an environmental study center for schools in the Lake Mary area. The significance in planting 18 varieties of one species is to show the incredible biodiversity that exists in nature.

Through the efforts of Girl Scout leader Mary Rowell, the

were planted around the pond this summer; two pine clusters, two wetland clusters, and one hardwood cluster.

On Oct. 29, the Stardust Service Unit will plant native shrubs and groundcover as an understorey to the trees that have already been planted. This planting is being funded by a grant from the Lake Mary Community Improvement Association.

There will also be an application of mulch and the application of a rail and chain barrier to protect the areas adjacent to the parent parking area.

The planting session on Oct. 29 will take place at 9:30 a.m. For more information on this event, please contact Mary Rowell at 321-1498. For more information on the Community Improvement Association grant, please contact Shari Brodie at 291-3952 or 321-6471.

plus take care of the legal advertising, before it can come up for consideration by the commission.

Marder said hopes are at present, that the first public meeting would be able to take place on Dec. 13.

To date however, the commission has not actually undertaken any public discussion of individual concepts.

After being fine-tuned by the Sanford Historic Trust for almost two years, then recently brought before the Planning and Zoning Commission, Duany's suggestions for building codes were to be discussed at the Oct. 11 commission meeting.

The area to be discussed is within District 1, represented by Commissioner Lon Howell. Howell was not on hand for that particular work session or meeting however, and the commissioners held off on any discussion pending his attendance.

When discussion began during Monday afternoon's work session, City Manager Bill Simmons explained that one of the city's attorneys, Donna McIntosh, had recommended the matter be continued further, for another two weeks.

"She said there are some potential conflicts with the city code contained in the wording of the proposal," Simmons said, "and she asked that we hold up on this."

"One of the main issues is whether or not this will be a true rezoning of the district," he said.

"If it is a rezoning, all property owners would have to be notified by registered mail."

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan questioned, "Regardless of that, when are we (the commissioners) going to be able to look at this and go over it item by item?" He added, "It appears to me that there may be a lot of things that require clarification such as conditional uses and other matters."

Howell responded to McClanahan, "Anything within the historic area is always unfavorable to you."

McClanahan commented, "This proposal isn't a case of a single property rezoning, and it has to be done properly. It involves an entire area and we should notify everyone."

Howell said he had no problem with sending out the notifications.

Commissioner Whitey Eckstein suggested the city hold a work session specifically on the code change proposals.

Mayor Bettye Smith said she would allocate an entire work session to that subject, possibly by the next commission meeting.

The resolution which was presented to the commission Monday night, did not contain specific information regarding recommended codes to be established.

Rather, if approved, it would have merely directed the Planning Department and City Attorney to draw up an ordinance enacting the plans.

It has proven to be successful for over a quarter of a century giving Teen Challenge an unparalleled recovery rate.

Store

Officials from DCA and the Florida Department of Natural Resources were also concerned that a possible convenience store would not meet the rural and park protection requirements of the 1988 Wekiva River Protection Act.

A state hearing officer disagreed with the state's position and in February 1990, recommended Gov. Bob Martinez and the Florida Cabinet uphold the county's land use. They didn't. In April 1990, the governor and Cabinet ordered the county to "down-plan" the property to some usage that would allow one home per acre. The county appealed, saying it had no land-use classification meeting the criteria and in July 1991, the appeals court overturned the governor and Cabinet, saying the Wekiva River Protection Act imposed adequate development restrictions.

The battle resumes...

On Dec. 10, 1991, the county commission approved a rezoning for a Miller Enterprises convenience store, but not before eliminating proposed gasoline sales, much of site paving and requiring a 9 p.m. closing to reduce light pollution for the nearby preserve wildlife. All of the measures were taken to impose conditions of the Wekiva River Protection Act.

The DCA responded with a formal complaint in March last year, threatening to sue the county if they did not change the zoning.

They didn't. The state sued in April last year, but Hall ruled the following September the complaint was filed too late and should have been filed in January, 30 days after the December rezoning.

Adelson said the county revised some requirements of the December approval, including allowing more paving and changes to how certain reports should be compiled. Until the rezoning contract was signed on Feb. 7, 1992, no one would know exactly what was accepted by both parties. Adelson said. He asked the appeals court to overturn Hall's decision.

They didn't. Now Adelson is asking the Supreme Court to consider whether a legal complaint should be filed against a zoning decision soon after the decision is made or when the decision is finalized with a signed agreement. "Who would know with any finality what was agreed on until some final action is taken," Adelson said.

Adelson said two appeals courts have now ruled the complaint should be filed 30 days after the decision, but several prior decisions suggested complaints should be filed once the decision or any agreement is officially recorded in county records.

Retail theft charge

Leroy Williams, 35, address unknown, was arrested on a retail theft and drug paraphernalia possession charge by Sanford police Monday night. A clerk at the 7-Eleven Store on West 25th Street reported Williams fled the store without paying for two cartons of cigarettes. When captured, police report Williams had 15 packs of cigarettes. Police report finding a pipe used for smoking "crack" cocaine.

Warrant arrests served

The following wanted persons were taken into custody:
 •Hattie Oliver Hardy, 41, 2832 Empire Place, Sanford, arrested by Casselberry police on a worthless check charge.
 •Toni Denise Myles, 21, 604 1/2 Laurel Blvd., Sanford, arrested by Sanford police on a probation violation charge for a credit card fraud conviction.
 •Steven Matthew Cochran, 21, 140 S. Cochran Road, Geneva, arrested at the Seminole County jail on a theft charge.
 •Charlotte Karen Crane, 43, 836 W. Charing Cross Circle, Lake Mary, was arrested at her home Monday on five drunken driving charges from Charlotte County, one charge of drunken driving, two counts of being involved in an accident with serious injury while being drunk and two counts of being involved in an accident with property damage while being drunk.

Crimes reported to authorities

The following crimes were reported to Seminole County deputies and Sanford police:
 •A 29-year-old Sanford woman said she was dragged a half block along East 11th Street by a car Monday night. The woman reported a man and woman in a white Pontiac Fiero with primer paint stopped in front of her home in the 600 block and asked for change. When she handed the change to the man, she said he grabbed her arm and drove off, dragging her along the street before dropping her about a half block away. Police noted abrasions on her back, hands, legs and feet.
 •Two burglaries were reported at Midway Commerce Park during the weekend. Sometime between noon Saturday and 6 a.m. Monday, deputies report someone smashed a window at a business in the 8400 block of S. Bryant Ave., with such force glass was scattered 12 feet from the opening. Items valued at $380, including 46 blank company checks, were reported taken.

Sometime between 11 a.m. Sunday and 10 a.m. Monday, costume jewelry of undetermined value was reported taken from an office on McIntosh Point. Deputies noted again, the window was smashed with such force as to scatter glass 10 feet from the frame.

•$200 in property was reported taken from a residence in the 2500 block of Georgia Avenue in Sanford sometime Monday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

•A company truck owned by a heating and air conditioning business was reported taken from the driveway of an employee's home in the 300 block of Sir Lawrence Drive in Sanford sometime between 9 p.m. Monday and 2:28 a.m. Tuesday morning.

•A 5.5-horsepower trash pump and hose were reported taken from a shed at Coevilla Apartments, 2714 Ridgewood Ave., Sanford, sometime between 2 p.m. Saturday and 10 p.m. Sunday.

Husband, wife arrested

Sanford police arrested Cherielle Denise Jones, 18, and her husband, Tony Anthony Jones, 26, of 1405 W. 16th Street Tuesday. Police said they saw the couple near a vehicle in the 1500 block of W. 13th Street, with containers of alcohol. Each was charged with possession of an open container.

SCC theft arrest

Sanford police arrested Helen Louise Lewis, 34, 337 Trotter Court, Sanford, at the Sanford police headquarters Tuesday. Police said the woman came to them and told of removing some items from a room at Seminole Community College on Oct. 11, while she was working as a night security guard. The arrest report said Lewis told police she had taken a camcorder, and TV/radio/cassette unit, valued at $1,077, and pawned the items the following day for $225. Lewis was charged with grand theft.

Wildfires turn beach town into ghost town

More than a dozen wildfires raced across parched Southern California, devouring more than 450 homes and turning part of posh Laguna Beach into a flaming ghost town. Arson was suspected in at least four blazes.

The fires blackened nearly 80,000 acres, forced thousands to flee their homes and overwhelmed weary firefighters who repeatedly were forced to retreat from burning neighborhoods as 70-mph Santa Ana winds drove the flames.

The hot, dry conditions that turned the region into a tin-derbox were forecast to continue today with highs again in the mid-80s, though winds were expected only to reach 25 mph.

Firefighters ordered 24,500 residents in northern Laguna Beach to leave and then fled themselves as the arson fire consumed their command post on Wednesday. At least 310 homes were damaged or destroyed — among more than 450 homes that burned in 13 major fires from Ventura County to the Mexican border.

New jobs will inch state out of current recession

By The Associated Press

GAINESVILLE — New jobs in construction, health care and business services will inch Florida out of the recession as the nation recovers at the slowest pace since World War II, an economist said.

"Unlike the 1980s recession when a construction boom ignited Florida's economic recovery, we can't point to a single strong sector that is leading us out of the current recession," Carol Taylor West of the University of Florida said Wednesday.

Weak expectations for the nation, however, slightly lowered the state forecast through 1995 from the last quarterly outlook, said West, forecasting program director at the university's Bureau of Economic and Business Research.

Job growth should cut unemployment from 7 percent last spring to 6.2 percent by 1995, West said. But improvement will slow in 1996 as Hurricane Andrew-related rebuilding ends, military cutbacks and defense spending fall and an expected election year economic slowdown develop nationally.

A construction boom ignited Florida's economic recovery in the '80s, but West doesn't expect a repeat.

"By 1996, the silver lining of hurricane recovery will have faded," she said. "There will be no additional boosts to the construction industry, and the year will mark a slower rate of growth, both for Florida and the nation as a whole."

Hurricane-related and nonresidential construction show improvement, but multi-family construction will drop to record lows this year because of slack demand and high vacancy rates, she said.

Surprisingly, manufacturing employment will be up this year for the first time since 1988, reflecting construction supply production and defense consolidation benefiting Florida, she said.

The latest tourism data does not reflect the publicity over the slayings of foreign tourists, but the shootings in Miami and Monticello are expected to slow the state's growth in numbers of tourists.

The 1990 tourism record of 43.4 million is not expected to be broken until 1996, and crimped tourism will cut retail sales, she said.

SUMMARY AND NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY

COUNTY OF SEMINOLE PLANNING/COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT OFFICE VOLUSIA/SEMINOLE HOME CONSORTIUM CONSOLIDATED COMPREHENSIVE HOUSING AFFORDABILITY STRATEGY (CHAS)

Pursuant to Title 1 of the National Affordable Housing Act, the County of Seminole, Florida, is publishing this summary of the Consolidated 1994-1996 Comprehensive Housing Affordability Strategy (CHAS) and a summary of the FY 1994 Annual Plan for the Seminole and Volusia County HOME Investment Partnership Program Consortium. A Consolidated CHAS is required because Seminole and Volusia Counties have entered into a binding interlocal cooperative agreement creating the HOME Consortium and designating Volusia County as the lead agency.

The Consolidated CHAS contains a description of the affordable housing needs of very low income, low income, and moderate income families, homeless families, and individuals and others with special needs who require supportive services, and the characteristics of the housing market and the existing stock for each participating jurisdiction separately and in a consolidated manner. It also contains a Five Year Strategy for affordable housing development and a One Year Action Plan for each jurisdiction for applying available resources to the needs identified.

The following priorities have been identified in the 5-YR Strategy and One Year Action Plan for Seminole County, Seminole County will continue to rely on the private sector as the primary provider of affordable housing. The public sector and public/private partnerships resources will target those identified as most in need: very low income households, principally renters and existing homeowners.

The annual plan under Seminole County's 1994-1996 Comprehensive Housing Affordability Strategy will continue existing neighborhood revitalization, housing rehabilitation and tenant assistance programs and housing initiatives including: removing unnecessary and costly regulations, partnerships with financial institutions and for-profit and nonprofit housing developers, coordinated policies and programs with Volusia County, participating cities and public agencies within Seminole County. The major thrust of the plan will be to continue to develop effective working relationships with as many actors as possible in the housing delivery process. This will provide the basis for effective allocation and use of resources. Except where otherwise stated, Seminole County will be the funding or the implementing agency.

Seminole County will preserve its existing housing stock and revitalize low income neighborhoods by utilizing programs to rehabilitate substandard units to standard condition, by utilizing its Affordable Housing Trust Fund and applying for other funding sources to: 1) subsidize public/private housing development partnerships and nonprofit housing development corporation projects; 2) provide first-time homebuyer assistance to low income households; 3) provide assistance to developers of low and very low income rental units; 4) provide affordable housing financial assistance through participation with Housing Finance Authorities and the Central Florida Community Reinvestment Corporation; and 5) provide mortgage assistance to low and moderate income households.

Seminole County will continue to provide incentives for the private production of affordable housing for very low, lower and moderate income households through its Land Development Code by providing flexibility in certain residential zoning districts, including affordable housing in RA-H, ADO and PUD districts, and to provide excess County-owned land for affordable housing development.

Seminole County will continue to provide incentives for private production of special housing types for elderly, mentally and physically disabled and migrant farmworkers through its Land Development Code to provide sufficient sites for community residential homes, foster care facilities, group homes, Adult Care Living Facilities and transitional housing facilities, and providing direct assistance to special populations with available local, State and Federal housing programs.

Seminole County will continue to provide, through its Affordable Housing Trust Fund, to subsidize public/private housing development partnerships or support non-profit housing development corporations or their projects by purchasing land, developing infrastructure, paying impact fees, providing development or mortgage financing, and other actions to lower the cost of housing.

Seminole County will continue to provide Emergency Shelter Grants Program and other appropriate funding sources (McKinney Act programs) to assist homeless individuals and families by: funding operation and/or rehabilitation of emergency shelter and transitional housing facilities; providing direct emergency food, clothing, transportation and financial assistance to at-risk persons to prevent homelessness; and providing essential services to assist homeless persons with the transition to permanent housing.

Seminole County will coordinate housing assistance activities with local municipalities and the Sanford and Seminole County Public Housing Authorities to increase the availability of rental assistance for very low income persons (Section 8 and HOME rental assistance).

The Volusia/Seminole County Consolidated CHAS and the FY 1994 Annual Plan is available for examination on October 29, 1993 at the following locations:

Seminole County Public Library System (all locations); City Halls (all participating jurisdictions); and the Seminole County Services Building, Room 3301, 1101 East First Street, Sanford, Florida.

All interested citizens, agencies or organizations are invited to submit comments on the contents of the Consolidated CHAS and the FY 94 Annual Plan to the Community Development Office located at 1101 East First Street, Sanford, Florida 32771.

Written comments should be directed to Huey Davis, Housing Specialist, and must be received no later than Monday, November 29, 1993. You may also phone (407) 321-1130, extension 7384. It is anticipated that the 5-YR Consolidated CHAS and Annual Plan will be submitted to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in December, 1993.

Vote no on charter change

On Nov. 2, voters of Longwood will have a proposed charter amendment on the ballot. It deals with placing the establishment of the Longwood Police Department in the city charter.

The intent is to preserve and protect the department. If it is in the charter, it can only be changed by a unanimous vote of the City Commission. If it remains out of the charter, it could be dissolved by only a majority vote.

Last year, the citizens of Longwood voted against what was called "consolidation." It would have disbanded the police, and turned law enforcement into the hands of the sheriff.

The use of the word consolidation was to indicate that the sheriff would accept some members of the disbanded police department, and a chief would remain on the city staff to act as liaison.

The voters turned the matter down. They insisted that they wanted to retain a police department.

Now it is back again and the citizens are asked to vote on a different approach. Do they want the department to be placed in the charter?

While the wording to appear on the ballot is sketchy, it is not the actual document which is being voted on. The real question is, do the people want the department placed in the charter, or do they not. What will actually go into the charter contains wording which some see as controversial.

One side says it will insure that the police department will remain as is, and the change will prevent a few commissioners from disbanding it.

The other side says it is unclear. They say if the measure is passed, the job of the police chief will remain intact. They believe however, the use of the word "members" to determine the police staffing is unclear. It could be interpreted to mean that they could be deputies rather than police. They believe this would not prevent a small majority of commissioners from eliminating the police in exchange for deputies, who may also be considered "members."

We question why the document is even on the ballot for Longwood. The citizens have already made up their minds they want to keep the police department. Any of the six people running for election as commissioner, who admits being opposed to the continuation of the police force (as is) is heading for sure defeat at the polls.

We suggest voting "no" on the amendment. A negative vote will not have any impact on the police department as it presently exists. If any of the commissioners change their minds after the amendment, has been turned down, then we would urge citizens to demand an immediate recall vote.

Bob Kerrey had a plan and an answer. Bill Clinton has no ready plan, no ready answer — but he knows this was a major problem that demanded both, even though his team of advisers had produced neither. So, when pushed to respond about health reform in a debate or interview, Clinton invariably launched into a filibuster of sorts, rambling, thinking as he spoke, trying out phrases that sounded like policy yet left wiggle room.

Now fast-forward to Clinton's response when he was challenged on foreign policy the other day by interviewers from The Washington Post. What he produced was a transcript that is revealing and unsettling. It is a portrait of a foreign policy president as a young man. To read it is to feel as though we are sitting in a college dormitory with an earnest but still unformed student leader who has engaged us in a discussion that has gone late into the night. There is requisite rambling, acingly on-the-spot rethinking. At times we can almost sense the gears shifting in mid-sentence, to test a new thought or avoid admitting an old mistake.

Was the president satisfied with his foreign policy team's performance?

"Yes... I think it hasn't anything to do with the foreign policy team being asleep at the switch. In the last month or so we've been very busy dealing with Russia and the Middle East. Both of which, in terms of our immediate national interest, are far more significant than our obligations in Somalia. But I think we learned some things, and I don't think — I think we will not make those — those problems won't arise again."

How can the United States be a world leader while focusing on domestic priorities?

"You've got people in the Congress that may be making false claims about how America should be the world's leader, but how about what they do to the foreign aid budget or a lot of the other things. I don't think you can divide the two... But let me back up and say, my belief is you're never going to have the American people looking outward again, except when they think their interests are affected and then they can't sit clearly. WILLIAM A. RUSHER

Who pays for democratic idealism?

Ever since the end of the Cold War, this country has been in the midst of a great debate over the circumstances under which American forces may properly be asked to die.

The standard answer to that somber question has historically been, "When, and only when, some vital American interest is at stake." That was certainly the case during the entire 40-year span of the Cold War. The Korean and Vietnamese wars were properly understood as simply skirmishes in the great battle for national survival being fought out between the superpowers.

When the Cold War ended, and the United States emerged as the only remaining superpower, it was inevitable that the question would soon arise, "Which of the many crises that are always afflicting the world warrant military intervention by the United States?"

By pure coincidence, one of the earliest passed the crucial test of involving a vital American interest. If Saddam Hussein had been allowed to seize Kuwait, and had followed that up with the brink occupation of Saudi Arabia and the oil emirates, the whole global economy (which is dependent on Middle Eastern oil) would have been at his mercy. President Bush, to his eternal credit, recognized this, and quickly mobilized a military coalition that ended such hopes.

Subsequently however, CNN's ubiquitous cameras have treated the world to a horrifying series of pictures of bullet-riddled Bosnians and starving Somalis, and powerful pressures have been exerted to employ American forces to end these tragedies — at the cost, if necessary, of American lives. A lot of effort has been invested in ingenious explanations of why some "vital American interest" justifies such a cost.

Now, however, New York Times columnist William Safire, in a characteristic burst of intellectual honesty, has reformulated the case for global intervention. It happens to disagree with him passionately, but at least he has stated his case clearly.

This country has debated the circumstances under which American forces may properly be asked to die.

Safire argues that Americans must be prepared "to expend blood and treasure in the establishment of order that protects self-rule beyond our borders." And you can stop wasting your tears over sending American boys to die in such high-minded adventures: "They're not boys; they are men and women who volunteer to be hired and trained to kill other people when necessary to defend... our democratic ideals."

Whatever else you may think of the Safire Doctrine, it has at least the virtue of clarity. This country, he insists, must be prepared to expend both "blood and treasure" to establish "order that protects self-rule beyond our borders." And if that costs American lives... well, they volunteered, didn't they? And they consented, moreover, to be trained to "kill other people" in the name of our democratic ideals.

Turnabout's a fair play, at least in war. So open a few more gravesites at Arlington and contemplate the latest lucky beneficiary of America's "democratic idealism": Jean-Bertrand Aristide, was overthrown by elected president of the state of Haiti, wasn't he?

Need: new secretary of state

To grasp what is really wrong with President Clinton's malfunctioning foreign policy machine — and how to fix it — we'd best start back in New Hampshire, 1992. Remember what happened every time someone asked about (of all things) health care reform?

Paul Tsongas had a plan and an answer. Bob Kerrey had a plan and an answer. Bill Clinton has no ready plan, no ready answer — but he knows this was a major problem that demanded both, even though his team of advisers had produced neither. So, when pushed to respond about health reform in a debate or interview, Clinton invariably launched into a filibuster of sorts, rambling, thinking as he spoke, trying out phrases that sounded like policy yet left wiggle room.

Clinton can start by hearing and heeding the well-intentioned buzz from fellow Democrats in Congress for the resignation of his secretary of state, Warren Christopher.

Now consider: Secretary of State Zbigniew Brzezinski — a return of sorts for the former Carter national security advisor who backed Clinton in 1992 (at Clinton's urging) after a stint as George Bush over a socialist debacle in 1988. Recall Christopher's earnest effort yet, when he so bungled the attempt to persuade Europe to stand more strongly against ethnic cleansing in Bosnia. Surely a Secretary of State Brzezinski would have handled the matter more adroitly.

Clinton knows the commitment it required to shape a health reform plan and master its details. He dare give us no less for foreign policy.

"Yes... I think it hasn't anything to do with the foreign policy team being asleep at the switch. In the last month or so we've been very busy dealing with Russia and the Middle East. Both of which, in terms of our immediate national interest, are far more significant than our obligations in Somalia. World privatization saga continues

The corporate source who helped me blow the lid off the world privatization conspiracy has emerged with another hot doc.

Read with me a moment as I explain to new readers what this incredible scandal is all about in simple terms, three of the largest and most aggressive corporations in the country have been honing a scheme, called the "World Privatization Project," to seize control of the entire planet. By Jan. 1, 2013, they intend to own every road, bridge, building, factory, company, canton, mine, state and nation on earth. They then plan to rent their structures and contract their services back to us.

I know this because I have seen some of the documents that make up the plan. The latest one is stamped URGENT URGENT URGENT FOREIGN DIS TRIB U TION. I FLUSH IF CAUGHT.

It is authored by someone who calls himself "M-I McWorld" and is addressed to the other people code-named "B-I BellWorld" and "W-I Wal-World." I herewith duplicate this remarkable document in its entirety.

Gentlemen, we have a leak. Our contact in Washington, D.C., report that CBS curmudgeon Andy Rooney recently addressed an audience at the American University and outlined his plan to get the US government running smoothly. It is so similar to the proposal we worked on in our sensitive discussions last month that we have to assume someone in our operation is talking out of school.

Rooney said he wants to turn the government over to the 400 most successful businessmen and women in America. He continued: We profess to have great faith in the US government running smoothly. Brewster, Clarence Bernard Sparrow, 19, was also charged with carrying a concealed firearm. The third man in the car, Clint Lindsay Gioielli, 18, Sanford was not charged. Brewster and Sparrow each posted $1,000 bond and were released from jail late Tuesday.

On the arrest report, Brewster listed his occupation as "repo man."

During an authorized search of the vehicle, the deputy found a .45 caliber semi-automatic handgun as well as a 22 caliber Ruger pistol hidden under the front seat. Brewster was driving his sister's car.

According to sheriff's department spokesman Ed McDonough, Brewster and Sparrow were both in the front seat of the car and had access to the guns. Gioielli was in the back seat and did not have access to the guns, so he was not charged.

Black ski masks and gloves were also found in the car. Gioielli nor Sparrow was charged with possession of burglary tools because the car was not in a store.

According to the arrest report, the deputy observed a suspicious vehicle containing two men in an area near Longwood. A few minutes later, the deputy saw the same vehicle carrying three men traveling the side streets along State Road 434.

The deputy followed the vehicle with his lights out in order to avoid detection, but when the suspect car began speeding up, he began pursuit. When the vehicle stopped, the deputy told the men to get out of the vehicle over his car's loudspeaker. The report states, "The suspect car was a 1988 Ford Taurus as a former policeman and thought he might have a firearm."

Betty Anderson, evidence technician

All three men were completely in black. Brewster had a black jacket on which the arresting officer noted was unusual because the weather was relatively warm.

Last week, police arrested Sparrow and Gioielli. Sparrow was charged with possession of a firearm.

night of costumes and the seeking of treats.

With the event on Sunday this year, questions emerged over whether the door-to-door trek by youngsters should be held Saturday night or Sunday night.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office has announced extra patrols will be on duty both nights. Deputies have already distributed 20,000 trick-or-treat bags to school children containing written safety tips for trick-or-treating.

In an effort to determine which day is recommended for children planning to seek treats door-to-door, the Sanford Herald (anonymously) phoned Sanford City Hall. The city responded by suggesting the caller phone the

Berry's World

Now fast-forward to Clinton's response when he was challenged on foreign policy the other day by interviewers from The Washington Post. What he produced was a transcript that is revealing and unsettling. It is a portrait of a foreign policy president as a young man. To read it is to feel as though we are sitting in a college dormitory with an earnest but still unformed student leader who has engaged us in a discussion that has gone late into the night. There is requisite rambling, acingly on-the-spot rethinking. At times we can almost sense the gears shifting in mid-sentence, to test a new thought or avoid admitting an old mistake.

Was the president satisfied with his foreign policy team's performance?

"Yes... I think it hasn't anything to do with the foreign policy team being asleep at the switch. In the last month or so we've been very busy dealing with Russia and the Middle East. Both of which, in terms of our immediate national interest, are far more significant than our obligations in Somalia. But I think we learned some things, and I don't think — I think we will not make those — those problems won't arise again."

How can the United States be a world leader while focusing on domestic priorities?

"You've got people in the Congress that may be making false claims about how America should be the world's leader, but how about what they do to the foreign aid budget or a lot of the other things. I don't think you can divide the two... But let me back up and say, my belief is you're never going to have the American people looking outward again, except when they think their interests are affected and then they can't sit clearly. They got it on Russia

Health care: Patient sick, but what's the treatment?

By WALTER R. MEARS
An AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON — With little debate about the diagnosis and little but debate about the cure, health care is going into the operating rooms of Congress for months of surgery, outcome uncertain.

But President Clinton insists there must be one certainty, saying flatly that he will not sign a health care bill that does not guarantee the coverage of every American.

He's already changed his plan to delay that universal coverage by a year, to 1998, and to put ceilings on subsidies that are part of it, to make them subject to future congressional control. Those steps to broaden his support among the cost-conscious are worrisome to liberals, an inevitable strain when it comes time to bargain.

In this case, the first round was internal, with White House drafters amending the outline Clinton presented to Congress and the nation in his joint session address on Sept. 22.

The president and Hillary Rodham Clinton went back to the Capitol on Wednesday with their final proposal, to be introduced as House and Senate bills, probably next week. No pride of authorship, she said. They are willing to negotiate and change, within limits.

The president then set one. Clinton said universal coverage, entitling every American to comprehensive health care benefits, is central, and he'll insist on it. "That is the bill I want to sign, that is my bottom line," he told about 70 leaders and members of House and Senate in a health care sendoff at Statuary Hall of the Capitol. "I will not support or sign a bill that does not meet that criteria."

Make that stick and it would preclude one of the most likely targets for compromise, a more limited overhaul that would begin with coverage for some but not all of the estimated 37 million uninsured Americans. That is the formula in rival health care plans that have been introduced as more centrist than Clinton's.

"My position all along has been you don't get the full bite of the apple," said Rep. Robert Michel, the House Republican leader.

Michel and Sen. Bob Dole, the Senate GOP leader, joined in the ceremony, but told Clinton they wouldn't gloss over major differences on the right way to fix health care. "Turning over one-seventh of our economy to the United States government is an idea that has many Americans — Republicans and Democrats — very concerned," Dole said.

And they were being nice. Rep. Newt Gingrich of Georgia, due to succeed Michel as GOP leader in 1995, called the ceremony a circus and said he wouldn't have taken part without a guarantee that he'd have equal time with Clinton.

He called the Clinton plan a radical power grab and said it "repeals the Magna Carta" by empowering a bureaucrat to set payroll taxes.

"They are trying to sell socialized medicine," said Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, in a phrase that has been used against medical care proposals before, but hadn't been heard much this time.

"That doesn't scare people anymore," said Sen. George Mitchell, the majority leader.

Perhaps not, but vehement opponents of the Clinton plan will be trying to: in political forums, in congressional debate, even in television advertising that may turn up in volume now.

All the pressure is not on the right, there's also a bill, and a liberal lobby, to switch to a system of government health insurance.

The administration tried to position its program in the middle, usually a good spot, but one that can draw fire from both sides, and is Paying for it all is another pressure point, the administration's planned savings on Medicare and Medicaid may draw Democratic opposition; the requirement for coverage of all employees is an expense Republican critics claim will cost jobs.

"We must explain honestly and clearly who gains, who loses and what it will cost," Dole said.

Clinton said he is, in detail. He said he'd tried to be conservative on savings, and realistic on costs.

"We have really worked hard here, and I think we must all do that," he said.

That's true, indeed, if there is to be action so sweeping on the timetable he asks. He called it "one simple request," a law to guarantee health care security to every citizen before Congress adjourns in 1994.

Getting that done will be anything but simple.

IN BRIEF

AROUND THE STATE

Miner, Heat turn back Lakers

MIAMI — Harold Miner scored 22 points and the Miami Heat used a 17-0 second half run to earn a 106-91 exhibition win over the Los Angeles Lakers on Wednesday night.

Glen Rice and Steve Smith each added 17 for the Heat, who out rebounded the Lakers, 60-37. Trevor Wilson led Los Angeles with 16 points.

Bol fine draws criticism

MIAMI — U.S. Rep. Frank Wolf urged Miami Heat officials Wednesday to revoke "the hefty and unjust fine" against center Manute Bol, who missed two preseason games to attend a conference on his native Sudan.

Bol was fined $25,000 after he failed to tell the Heat a congressional meeting, "Sudan: The Forgotten Tragedy," was postponed.

Heat officials didn't know where Bol was until he returned to practice Monday.

Wolf told Schaffel that Bol's absence from the meeting with two rebel leaders "would have been obvious and would have been a great detriment to the success of the conference."

The money will be donated to the Sudan relief fund.

Jets get past Lightning

ST. PETERSBURG — Defenseman Teppo Numminen scored his first goal of the season with 12:19 remaining in the third period Wednesday to give the Winnipeg Jets a 4-3 victory over Tampa Bay.

The victory was the second in two nights for Winnipeg (6-3-1), which defeated the Florida Panthers 5-2 Tuesday night at Miami. Tampa Bay (3-6-1) dropped its second in a row despite outshooting the Jets 30-23.

AROUND THE NATION

Piazza named NL's top rookie

LOS ANGELES — Mike Piazza, a 62nd-round draft pick who had one of the finest rookie seasons ever, was unanimously voted National League Rookie of the Year on Wednesday.

Piazza, who won the Dodgers' catching job in spring training, hit .318 with 35 home runs and 112 RBIs. His average was the highest of any NL Rookie of the Year and he was the first winner to drive in 100 runs.

Piazza, the 1,380th player taken in the 1988 amateur draft, became the sixth unanimous NL rookie winner, joining Robinson, Orlando Cepeda (1958), Willie McCovey (1959), Vince Coleman (1985) and Benito Santiago (1987).

Atlanta Braves pitcher Greg McMichael was second with 40 points, receiving 12 second-place votes and four thirds from the Baseball Writers Association of America. Jeff Conine of Florida was third with 31 points and Chuck Carr of the Marlins was fourth with 18 points.

Timberwolves ink Rider

MINNEAPOLIS — Isaiah Rider, the Minnesota Timberwolves' No. 1 draft choice, signed a seven-year contract Wednesday.

Rider, a 6-foot-5 guard from UNLV, was the last NBA first-round pick to come to terms. He was the fifth selection overall.

The $25.5 million contract, an average of more than $3.64 million per season, makes Rider the Timberwolves' highest-paid player. Christian Laettner, the top pick a year ago, is averaging $3.6 million.

Bonnett to return to racing

HUEYTOWN, Ala. — Neil Bonnett, who suffered a serious head injury in a 1990 wreck and then crashed again in a comeback bid this year, plans to drive in five races during the 1994 NASCAR Winston Cup season.

Bonnett said he will hold a news conference Thursday in Phoenix, Ariz., to announce his plans. The news conference will be at Phoenix International Raceway, where qualifying for the Slick 50 500 begins Friday.

According to published reports, three of the five races on Bonnett's 1994 schedule are the season-opening Daytona 500, the Coca-Cola 600 in Charlotte and the inaugural Brickyard 400 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Seminoles, Patriots battle for SAC hardware

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Seminole and Lake Brantley high schools are on the verge of wrapping up district championships in football and advancing to the playoffs.

But that'll have to wait until next week. Tonight, the Fighting Seminoles (who lead 4A-District 6 with a 2-0 district mark) and the Patriots (who sit atop 5A-District 4 with a 5-1 district record) will bang heads for the Seminole Athletic Conference championship at Seminole's Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

Actually, the game will be for the SAC title only if Seminole wins. At 3-0 in the conference, the Seminoles (6-1 overall) could wrap up the SAC crown with a win tonight, regardless of what they do against Lake Mary on Nov. 12.

A win by Lake Brantley (5-2 overall, 2-1 in the SAC), however, would create a three-way tie for first between the Seminoles, Patriots, and Oviedo Lions (also 2-1 in the conference).

The Seminole-Lake Brantley game tops a rare Thursday tripleheader involving Seminole County teams. Lyman will entertain Lake Howell in a game with SAC and 5A-District 4 ramifications while Lake Mary visits Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium to play Mainland in a 5A-District 4 contest.

On Friday, Oviedo plays DeLand at Spruce Martin Stadium in another 5A-District 4 game.

The Seminole/Lake Brantley confrontation is an intriguing one, matching the county's best rushing defense against the county's best rushing offense.

Led by fullback Jeff Butler, who leads the county in rushing (1,071 yards on 130 carries) and scoring (10 touchdowns), and quarterback Jeff Shaw (557 yards rushing, six touchdowns), Lake Brantley is averaging over 274 yards rushing a game.

By comparison, Seminole (which is on a five-game win streak and hasn't allowed a LAKE MARY — With little fuss or wasted effort, the top four seeds in the 5A-District 4 girls volleyball tournament swept their way into this evening's semifinals at Lake Mary High School.

Wednesday's play at Lake Mary opened with third-seeded Oviedo taking out No. 6-seed Mainland 15-4, 15-6. No. 4-seed Lyman then disposed of fifth-seeded Spruce Creek 15-7, 15-9. Second-seeded Deltona followed that with a 15-2, 15-3 whipping of No. 7-seed DeLand.

In the final match of the evening, top-seeded and defending district champion Lake Mary eliminated eighth-seeded Lake Howell 15-7, 15-2.

Lake Mary will take on Lyman in one semifinal at 4:30 p.m. while Oviedo and Deltona are scheduled to tangle at 6 p.m. After a half-hour rest following the second semifinal, the two survivors will meet in the championship game.

The 5A-District 4 champion will advance to next Tuesday's Region II championship game against the District 3 (Jacksonville area) champ.

Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry was satisfied with the way the Rams (21-4) took care of business Wednesday night.

"It felt pretty good," said Henry, noting that the Rams were thinking about Thursday's semifinals before they had gotten past Lake Howell. "It's tough. Even the most focused athlete will look ahead a little bit."

"I would have liked to see us do a little better on transition, but it was a good effort overall. We're where we need to be right now."

Lake Mary closed the first game with a rush and kept it going into the second game as Angie Snow put together a six-point service run to give the Rams a 7-0 advantage.

After that, Lake Mary pulled away two and three points at a time, Snow closing out the match with three service points that featured a pair of kills by Nikki Preece.

While she had expressed a concern earlier in the season about the way her squad picked up the intensity in its collective game only when necessary, Henry said the Rams know that there will be no opportunities for letdowns the rest of the way.

"The girls are responsible," said Henry. "They know this is the district tournament, that if they play one bad match, the season's over. But they pick it (the intensity) up in districts, they always do."

Young Guns back on top

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Continuing their pattern winning on alternating weeks, the Young Guns used a 15-7, 15-6 win over Carter and Sons Wednesday at the Sanford Middle School Gymnasium to move into first place of the Sanford Recreation Co-ed Power Volleyball League.

The Young Guns, who also beat the Wanna-Bees 15-5, 15-10 and Crazy Wings 15-4, 15-10, improve to 13-2.

Carter and Sons, who also defeated both Crazy Wings (15-6, 15-7) and the Wanna-Bees (15-4, 15-8), are now a game behind at 12-3.

Crazy Wings (0-15) made a valiant bid for its first win of the season, taking the Wanna-Bees (15-10) to three games, before losing 15-7, 6-15, 15-13.

Wednesday leaders keep in step

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Hellig Meyers, Neth & Son/Crazy Wings, and Sportsmart continued their three-way race for the Sanford Recreation Wednesday Men's Slowpitch Softball League championship with wins last night at Chase Park.

Toucan Willie's hangs on to 1st place

From Staff Reports

OVIDEO — Despite splitting their doubleheader Wednesday night at the Oviedo Sports Complex, Toucan Willie's managed to hang on to first place in the Oviedo Recreation Men's Class C Softball League.

The reason that Toucan Willie's (8-2) still sits atop the league standings is because its one win Wednesday night was a 3-0 decision over Andrews Construction, which is tied for second place with the Strike Force at 6-3.

Next week, Toucan Willie's will play another doubleheader, taking on Capital Gale at 7 p.m. and the Strike Force at 9 p.m.

Greg Register tossed an eight-hit shutout for Toucan

Willie's in the win over Andrews Construction. Harold Hitt led the Toucan Willie's offense with a pair of singles and an RBI. Billy Stripp also hit two singles.

Eddie Norton and Kenny Tuttle each hit a single and scored a run in Toucan Willie's two-run rally in the first inning. Jerry Curry added a single and an RBI. Rick Tribit also had a single. Register scored a run.

Toucan Willie's came back to take a 4-0 lead in the third inning of its game with the Lynch Mob, only to see the Lynch Mob rally for a 6-4 victory.

Hit highlighted Toucan Willie's six-hit effort with a triple, single, run, and an RBI. Ryan Alkire singled and scored two runs. Chuck LaPeters singled and scored a run. Register had a single and an RBI. Lance Abney drove in two runs. Tribit hit another single.

250 tons of food needed

Boy Scouts schedule annual food collection

ORLANDO — 250 tons. That's the goal of the Central Florida Council of the Boy Scouts of America for Scouting for Food, their sixth annual food collection program.

Last year, 216 tons of food were collected by more than 7,000 Central Florida Council cub scouts, boy scouts, webelos, explorers, and adult leaders. This year, they have their sights set on 250 tons.

"Scouting for Food is one of the best projects we do all year and really helps the community," said Denise Smith of the Central Florida Council. "The project also teaches the boys the value of helping others."

On Nov. 6, scouts will deliver bags to residences in Seminole, Orange, Volusia, Flagler, Brevard, Lake and Osceola counties.

On the following Saturday, Nov. 13, the scouts will return to pick up the bags filled with canned and packaged food. Residents are asked to place the bags on their front door steps by 8 a.m. All food collected will be donated to the Second Harvest Food Bank for distribution at no cost.

"This is a great program for the scouts, and for the food recipients. It's exciting to see the generosity displayed by the community year after year," said Ron Magruder, president of The Olive Garden Italian Restaurant, sponsor of the event.

Scouting for Food is also sponsored by the Central Florida Council of the Boy Scouts of America, WFTV-TV 9, and WMGF 107.7 FM Radio.

For more information about Scouting for Food, or to volunteer to assist with the project, please contact Denise Smith at (407) 896-4801.

Dividends mark 20th anniversary

Dede Schaffner (from left), community involvement coordinator for Seminole County Schools; Doris Jennings, principal of Pinecrest Elementary School; and guests, Peggy Hardin and Audrey Ogden discuss the Dividends Program in county schools at a meeting at the school. Schaffner told the group that Dividends, now in its 29th year, originated in 1973 with 17 volunteers. Today, there are 9,000 volunteers who donated $3.5 million to the schools in 1992-93.

Tips for hotel guests to sleep tight

DEAR ABBY: A letter from K.A.W. in Lancaster, Pa., caught my eye. Her letter and your answer, call attention to a problem that the American Hotel and Motel Association (AH&MA) has been working to alleviate.

First, there is no excuse for a desk clerk announcing the traveler's room number to the entire lobby. The guest was wise to request a different room on the spot. AH&MA, through its Educational Institute, is constantly working on training programs for hotel personnel on security matters.

AH&MA has also prepared a Traveler Safety Tips card designed to educate the traveler on the ways to "play it safe" while on a trip. Five million of these cards have been distributed to hotels for distribution to their guests. (I am enclosing one.) The information might be of value to your readers.

Thank you for bringing the question of traveler safety to your readers.

KENNETH F. HINE, PRESIDENT/CEO, AH&MA
DEAR MR. HINE: Thank you for your letter, and for the Traveler Safety Tips, which I'm delighted to share:

(1) Don't answer the hotel or motel room door without verifying who it is. If a person claims to be an employee, call the front desk and ask if someone from the staff is supposed to have access to your room and for what purpose.

ADVICE

(2) When returning to your hotel and motel late in the evening, use the main entrance of the hotel. Be observant and look around before entering parking lots.

(3) Close the door securely whenever you are in your room and use all of the locking devices provided.

(4) Don't needlessly display guest room keys in public or carelessly leave them on restaurant tables, at the swimming pool, or other places where they can be easily stolen.

(5) Do not draw attention to yourself by displaying large amounts of cash or expensive jewelry.

(6) Don't invite strangers to your room.

(7) Place all valuables in the hotel's or motel's safe-deposit box.

(8) Do not leave valuables in your vehicle.

(9) Check to see that any sliding glass doors or windows and any connecting room doors are locked.

(10) If you see any suspicious activity, please report your observations to the management.

If any reader would like a Traveler Safety Tip card, one is available free of charge from AH&MA, 1201 New York Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have family members who come to our town fairly often, but they never call us. They are not just shirttail relatives — we are very closely related.

We know of nothing we did that may have caused hard feelings. We heard they are in town now and we know where they are staying. Should we call them?

ANONYMOUS, PLEASE

DEAR ANONYMOUS: No. Why put them on the spot? Drop these relatives a note and say that you are sorry to have missed them when they were last in town. Ask them to please let you know next time they plan to come because you would love to see them. If that doesn't get results, give up and assume that they don't feel as close to you as you feel to them.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: "A book is the only place in which you can examine a fragile thought without breaking it, or explore an explosive idea without fear it will go off in your face...It is one of the few havens remaining where a man's mind can get both provocation and privacy."

EDWARD P. MORGAN

COUNTY OF SEMINOLE
ATTENTION: Thomas & Janice A. Walker or their heirs, assigns, transferees, or successors in interest and the unknown spouses of all the above.
RE: LOT 4 LAVAIA COURT, P.B. 90 56 (1127 Pina Street)
A recent inspection of the above described property revealed the unoccupied structures are unsafe, unsuitable for occupancy and detrimental to the health, safety, and welfare of the general public. The structures are a health and fire hazard due to inadequate maintenance, dilapidation, and abandonment.
In accordance with Seminole County Ordinance 20-16, the above mentioned structures are declared to be a public nuisance and must be demolished and removed from the property. The demolition and removal of the structures must begin within thirty (30) days and be completed within ninety (90) days after receipt of this notice, or you may undertake the appeal process as outlined in Section Seven (7) of County Ordinance Number 80-16. To pursue the appeal process, it will be necessary for you to appear before the Board of County Commissioners and present any relevant or material facts or evidence as to why the above mentioned structures should not be declared a public nuisance. If you wish to appeal to the Board of Commissioners, please let me know and I will request the Board to set a time and date for a hearing.
Failure to begin removal of the structures or failure to appeal to the Board of Commissioners within thirty (30) days after receipt of this notice may result in action being taken by the County to have the structures demolished and removed, and the motor vehicle removed. All costs incurred by the County for the demolition of the structures will be assessed to you and may become a lien against your property. If you have any questions concerning this matter, please call Orama Nwanod at 321-1130, extension 7332.

Leukemia may have a genetic link

MEDICINE
PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please provide information on chronic lymphocytic leukemia.

DEAR READER: Although classed as a leukemia, CLL is usually not very aggressive, and patients may live up to 20 years after diagnosis with little or no treatment. This is good news because CLL is a disease of old age: 75 percent of patients are diagnosed at the average age of 60.

The disease is caused by the uncontrolled growth of lymphocytes, blood cells that are an important constituent of the immune system. The reasons for this growth are unknown, but some studies have suggested a genetic factor.

As the lymphocytes proliferate, they take up space in the bone marrow, spleen, liver, and lymph glands. This causes anemia, liver/spleen enlargement and swollen glands. Patients may be inordinately susceptible to infections and often experience fatigue, weight loss, weakness and malaise.

The diagnosis is confirmed by a blood count and bone marrow examination, both showing an over-abundance of lymphocytes.

Because some patients may experience no symptoms for years, experts seldom recommend treatment (with anti-cancer drugs and cortisone) unless symptoms appear or until the lymphocyte count reaches high levels (above 75,000 per microliter; normal is 5,000 per microliter). Hematologists caution that over-treatment may be more hazardous than under-treatment because of the side effects of the drugs, and the therapy itself may not prolong survival, although it may diminish symptoms.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'll be 86 in August and swim for exercise three days a week. At my age, should I continue this regimen or start conserving my energy for the few years I have left?

DEAR READER: Keep

swimming. This activity, in moderation, is beneficial for elderly adults, as well as for the young. If you continue to exercise as you age, you will feel healthier and more energetic.

Saving your energy for later years is not like putting money in a savings account and waiting it grow until that rainy day; energy that is not expended is lost.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

Do you have trouble remembering your bidding conventions, or the cards that have been played, or both? Don't we all? The simple solution is to concentrate better. Alternatively, read Ron Klingner's book "Improve Your Bridge Memory," which contains lots of practical advice for everyone from beginners to experts. It was first published about 10 years ago in Australia and has just been republished by Gollancz ($11.95, The Bridge World, 39 West 94th Street, New York, NY 10025-7124). It contains something for everyone, from beginners to experts.

Today's deal comes from the book. You are sitting South in a contract of four spades. What is your line of play if West leads either the diamond jack or the heart 10? In this latter case, the defenders win the first three tricks before exiting with a diamond.

If the defenders cash three heart tricks, you need the rest. So there is no reason to go against the percentage play in the trump suit of "eight ever, nine never": cash the king and ace. Here luck is out to lunch and you finish one down.

When West leads a diamond, you should ruff, cash the spade king and lead another spade. If West plays the last low spade, finesse dummy's jack.

Whether it wins or loses, your contract will make with at least one overtrick. If the finesse wins, you have no trump loser. If it loses, dummy's heart king is safe from attack.

In this layout, if you mistakenly cash both top trumps, West ruffs the second round of clubs and switches to hearts with telling effect.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Oct. 29, 1993

There are indications you might take on new responsibilities and duties in the year ahead where your career is concerned. Each burden you assume, however, could add additional dollars to your income.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're inclined to be industrious today and this is an admirable inclination. However, you might attempt to do some things beyond your abilities and experience. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1.25 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N. Y. 10163. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today if it seems that everyone is out of step but you, try to look at things from a different perspective. You might discover the opposite is true.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're entitled to your opinions today, but don't try to foist them upon persons who are not receptive. It could make them even less tolerant to the cause you espouse.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your memory might be a trifle faulty today where important information is concerned. It may be wise to make notes or lists of things to help you with your recall.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is not a good day to assume new financial obligations if you still have old debts clamoring for payment. Be sensible about your resources.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Take with a grain of salt that which is promised you by others today. Their intentions might be sincere, yet they may not be able to fulfill their pledges.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you get off on the wrong foot, there is a good chance you will compound your problems rather than resolve them. Beginnings are more important than usual today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Enjoy yourself today, but mind your P's and Q's in social situations. If you behave poorly and make a bad impression it will be a difficult stain to remove from your image.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In a competitive development today your advisory might be more formidable than you think. Don't make matters worse by underestimating him/her.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today you may feel your ideas are better than those of your companions today. It's possible they might be, yet you must be careful how you present them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Joint ventures could be rather tricky today if they are not handled properly. Be watchful, so things don't get out of balance and leave you holding the short end.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Usually you're fond of arrangements where partners are involved, but today you may not be in a mood to be a team player and will want to be left alone. Bow out gracefully.
