Sanford OKs Trucks Buy; Police Switch From AT&T

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford commissioners will go ahead with their staffs' recommendation to buy two refuse packer trucks for $102,676, although one commissioner says he is still uncomfortable with the bidding process that led to the contract award.

Commissioners will also expand the police department's phone system by contracting with a new company, saving $220 a month in service fees. The savings could, however, be eaten up by a $5,118 fee the city may have to pay to break its existing contract with AT&T.

The $102,676 refuse truck bid award was questioned by City Commissioner John Mercer at a work session last week. After a disgruntled vendor spoke with commissioners, Mercer asked whether staff's preparation of bid proposals two months ago "slanted" them in favor of the model they subsequently recommended.

A total of nine bid responses were received, but only the refuse trucks offered by Transtat

Equipment Co. for $102,676 met specifications of the bid proposal, according to the staff. Other models were offered for less money, bid proposals show, and Mercer said commissioners' responsibility "is to, all things considered, make the best purchase."

At Monday's city commission meeting, Mercer said he would go along with the bid recommendation but asked proposals' preparation be changed in the future if staff seeks a particular model at the onset of bidding.

"I would say in the future this be handled a different way so that if we want Transtat, we just get bids on Transtat (from various vendors)," Mercer said. "The way it was done this time isn't right."

Mercer wondered if the staff had subscribed to "the true bidding process," when preparing the specifications two months ago or if "the specs were slanted" toward a particular model.

"If we say this is the one we want then we're

Pancake Racers Flip, Flop

Paulee, Where's Your Recipe?

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

With former Games official Paulee Stevens of Lake Mary having passed her skillet to another, a change in the formula of pancakes used in the Golden Age Games pancake race created flaps Thursday beyond those that involved the doughy orbs.

For the second year in a row, the races, which require runners to flip pancakes in a pan as they go, were run with cakes from a fast food restaurant replacing those of Mrs. Stevens, which held secret stabilizers.

Although players thought to douse this year's cakes in sand before the meet, the light-weights just didn't hold their own while flipped in a slight breeze by players as they raced past marked points to the finish.

Sanford's Minnie Kane, 72, who had been such a gold-getter in years past that last year she stepped out to give others a chance, returned to the game this year only to see her hopes dashed. For the first time in the 12 years of the game she flipped her flapjack to the ground just before the finish line.

"The pancakes weren't what they were, not like Paulee's made," Mrs. Kane said.

And Mrs. Kane's cake wasn't all that landed on the ground. Race Judge Doris Stein was knocked off her feet by Henry Gregoire, 66, of Quebec, Canada, when Gregoire sped across the finish line in a post-event heat that was run for the benefit of a television crew. Gregoire took the bronze in the men's official race.

Mrs. Stein picked herself up, dusted herself off and took the collision with grace despite a cut on her nose.

Mrs. Stevens is recovering from surgery and Sanford's Edith Avenel was tapped by the sponsoring Pilot Club to fill her shoes. Mrs. Avenel, who had never even seen a pancake race before, was armed with about 30 pancakes, a dozen or so skillets and a good-natured resolve that the game must go on.

When players and officials arrived at the Ft. Mellon Park site of the Thursday event, they found the mid-mark in the course, the site of a required cake-flip, skipped by those who placed the course.

The missing mark was made with a stick scraped across the sand and the game was on with the women making the first round of runs.

For the first time the players ran in age groups, although the awards for the race are for only over-all fastest winners in separate men's and women's matches.

Before the races, Ariene Bremer, 66, Ormond Beach, who took the women's bronze last year, tutored her husband Hal, 67, in the fine art of flipping.

Shelter Home Proposed Site Nets Criticism

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County commissioners agree there is a need for an area shelter for children taken from their homes because of abuse or neglect, but most also agree the site suggested for the home should not be used.

The proposed shelter would be used to provide immediate temporary housing for children between the ages of 6 and 12 who have been removed from their homes and placed under the protection of the court.

Earlier this week, a group of concerned citizens asked the commissioners to consider providing a parcel of county-owned land at the 61-acre Five Points Complex, located at the intersection of U.S. Highway 17-92 and County Home Road.

The land would be used for the site of the proposed 5,000 square-foot home, under a long-term lease with the county, which could be granted at a rate of $1 per year.

Lefler said the property could be leased to Sharing Concern For Seminole County Shelter Children, Inc., a not-for-profit corporation whose sole objective is to build and provide for operation of a shelter.

"The need has been there for quite a while," said Commission Chairman Bob Sturm. "It will continue to grow as our population increases. I support the concept and the need, but whether I support it will depend on the final site selected."

After the meeting this week, the commission directed Assistant County Administrator Monte Beamer to review county-owned land for potential sites. She was asked to report her findings next month.

Sturm said he is "not totally against the Five Points site."

"I just want to see if there is a better site available.

Already occupying parcels at Five Points are the county public works road operations department, environmental services offices, the fleet maintenance department, the gas and oil islands for county vehicles, the agricultural center, the emergency operations for the public safety department, an auditorium, the animal control center, the county jail, and the juvenile detention center.

Fewer than 20 acres remain for additional county use at the site.

Officials said they would like to have three acres for the home.

Commissioner Fred Streetman called the need for a shelter "dramatic" and said if any county land is given for the shelter, it should be given under a lease of ten-year increments to allow for re-evaluation by the county.

He said placing the home near the jail and detention center "isn't the best environment."

"The question is, do we have something better?" Streetman said.

"Assistance with property is the best way government can help," he added.

Commissioner Sandra Glenn said, "I support the county looking to see if we have available property that could be leased on a long-term basis to a private not-for-profit group that would build and operate a shelter home."

"I would also encourage HRS and the county to evaluate the shelter on an annual basis and see if the group is eligible for (county) community service funds," she added.

Commissioner Barbara Christensen said, "I think we do have to work to find a place for these children, but my personal

Man Killed As Car Hits Tree Near Geneva

A Daytona Beach man was killed in a one-vehicle accident early today south of Geneva.

The man is tentatively identified as Todd Sheppard, believed to be in his middle 20s. Further details were not available early today because Florida Highway Patrol had not issued a report about the accident by press time.

Sheppard was killed around 3:38 a.m. when his late-model red Ford left State Road 426 and struck an oak tree, according to a county fire department report.

The accident occurred at the intersection of SR 426 and Old Mims Road. The vehicle was northbound when it left the road, the report said. When it came to rest it was 50 feet from the scene of another fatality a few weeks ago, said Seminole County firefighter Lieutenant Terry McGuire.

The county had four personnel on the scene and two firefighters from Oviedo were called at 3:56 a.m. to assist the county. Using Oviedo's metal-cutting equipment, the firefighters extricated the dead man from the vehicle. They had to cut the roof off, reports show.

Sheppard's body was transported by ambulance to Central Florida Regional Hospital where an autopsy is planned.

There were no passengers in the vehicle. Sheppard is the 32nd traffic fatality in Seminole County this year. The 31st fatality occurred Nov. 8, west of Sanford on Old Monroe Road. Charges are pending an investigation in that case.

Reagan: No Deals Policy Intact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, denying he has "gone soft on terrorism," branded as "utterly false" charges that U.S. arms sent to Iran were used as ransom to free American hostages in Lebanon.

In a nationally televised address Thursday evening, Reagan acknowledged "small amounts" of weapons had been delivered to Tehran as a result of an 18-month old secret operation aimed at broadening the dialogue with Iranian moderates.

The president said he decided to speak out on this "extremely sensitive" matter because of rampant rumors concerning the operation during the past 10 days.

"The charge has been made that the United States has shipped weapons to Iran as ransom payments for the release of American hostages in Lebanon — that the United States undercut its allies and secretly violated American policy against trafficking with terrorists," he said in his broadcast from the Oval Office.

"Those charges are utterly false," he declared.

Reagan spoke for about 13 minutes, criticizing the media for forcing him to expose the secret operation and charging that: "Due to the publicity of the past week, the entire initiative is very much at risk today."

Stung by charges he had committed a "major foreign policy blunder," Reagan stated flatly: "The United States has not swapped boatloads or plane-loads of American weapons for the return of American hostages. And we will not."

"Our government has a firm policy not to capitulate to terrorist demands," he said. "That 'no concessions' policy remains in force — in spite of wildy speculative and false stories about hostages and alleged ransom payments."

"We did not — repeat — did not trade weapons or anything else for hostages — nor will we. Those who think that we have 'gone soft' on terrorism should take up the question with Colonel Gadhafi," he said, referring to the U.S. bombing of Libya last April.

IN BRIEF

Man Allegedly Assaulted By Vehicle After Yelling At Driver

Longwood police reported arresting a St. Cloud man after he allegedly drove his car into a man who from his yard at 749 Logan Drive, Longwood, yelled at the suspect for speeding past his home several times.

After the victim, John Louis Besecker, yelled at the suspect the suspect allegedly drove into the victim's yard and struck him with the car.

He reportedly got out of the car and argued and fought with Besecker. The suspect allegedly drove away again and then returned to run Besecker down a second time, a police report said.

Besecker reportedly hit the suspect's car with a hoe to defend himself.

Police were called to the scene by the victim and the suspect was found at 732 Logan Drive, where he was arrested at 9:57 p.m. Wednesday.

Eugene Louis Scherer, 40, has been charged with aggravated battery with a motor vehicle and was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

Besecker was treated at the scene by Longwood Fire Department rescue workers and reportedly transported himself to a hospital for further treatment.

No Bike Lights Alerts Deputy

An 18-year-old Altamonte Springs man who was pursued and caught by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy because the bicycle the man was riding had no lights, was arrested after he stopped in a yard at 173 North St., Altamonte Springs, at about 1:45 a.m. Wednesday.

The man reportedly put his hands on a car at that location and in searching that vehicle the deputy reported finding a small quantity of marijuana.

As Thaddeus C. Johnson, of 218 North St., was being arrested on charges of possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and resisting arrest, another man who came outside of that home at 173 North St. home allegedly tried to interfere.

That man, Florence M. Johnson, 26, of 173 North St., has been charged with carrying a concealed knife, reportedly found when he was frisked, and with resisting arrest.

The suspects were being held in lieu of $500 bond each. The bicycle, which reportedly does not belong to Thaddeus Johnson, was confiscated by the deputy, a sheriff's report said.

Gentlemanliness Questioned

A man who allegedly fondled a female employee at Bowties at the Hilton Inn in Altamonte Springs reportedly resisted a doorman's request that he leave.

Altamonte Springs police were called and the man was reportedly cursing, but at one point agreed to leave, a police report said.

A friend arrived in a taxi for the man, but he resisted getting into the vehicle and allegedly cursed police. He was told he was under arrest and then he got into the cab.

When police tried to pull the man from the vehicle he allegedly struggled and allegedly bit a policeman on the leg before he was pulled to the ground and handcuffed.

Ibrahim A. Risk, of Washington, Penn., has been charged with battery on a police officer, resisting arrest with violence and disorderly conduct. He was being held in lieu of $3,500 bond.

Driver, Owner Charged

A man who was riding in his car, with another man driving who was arrested on a drunk driving charge at about 1 a.m. Wednesday, was also arrested after his car was searched and less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia reportedly found.

Richard Muroski, 41, of 261 Lemon Lilly Court, Altamonte Springs, was arrested by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy on Fernwood Boulevard at U.S. Highway 17-92, and was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

DUI Arrest

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Udo Williams Killmaier, 43, of 359 Winchester Place, Longwood, was arrested at 1:03 a.m. on U.S. Highway 17-92 at Fernwood Boulevard after his car almost collided with a Seminole County sheriff's patrol car.

Child Abuse Reported

A Sanford mother told police that her ex-husband had sexually abused their 3½-year-old daughter over a three-month period at the Carriage Cove on Hanson Parkway. Police are investigating.

Burglaries & Thefts

David Wilson, 24, of 3748 Idlebrook Circle #104, Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $350 fur coat, a $350 television and $600 video recorder were among $2,000 worth of items stolen from his home Wednesday.

A fabric picture valued at $500 was stolen from McDonalds, State Road 426, Winter Park, Tuesday, according to a report a manager filed with sheriff's deputies.

Sanford police investigated an armed robbery at the Handy Way, 1419 E. Celery Ave. over the weekend. A clerk said a man walked in shortly before 4 p.m. and asked the price of a candy bar. He set the candy on the counter, and when the clerk opened the register, he pulled a knife and took cash out of the register. "Don't call the law on me," he reportedly told her as he fled south on Elliott Street.

Another robbery occurred at a convenience store at 1116 Celery Ave. Tuesday night. A man reportedly walked in and asked for change, then struck the clerk and took $50 from the register. He fled west on Celery Avenue.

An armed robbery was reported at Circle K, 1903 Country Club Road, recently. A clerk said a man entered shortly before 7 p.m. and poured a cup of coffee. She said he then pulled a 12-inch butcher knife and robbed her register of $50.

Joseph McCormick, 20, 122 Ridgewood Arms, told police someone took an '82 Honda worth $800.

Felicia Denise Brown, 23, 32 William Clark Court, told police over the weekend someone approached her at 1st and Maple about 3 a.m. and grabbed her purse containing $7.

Seminole Ford, 3786 U.S. 17-92, reported a new salesman had not returned to work with a $5,000 '84 Ford. Police found an outstanding bench warrant for $300 on the 44-year-old man for a traffic violation in Longwood.

At the county jail construction site, workers reported the theft of $2,170 worth of materials from a trailer.

County Plans Park Development

By Paul C. Schafer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County commissioners will be shopping for a consulting firm soon, to get advice on future park designs in the county.

The state is reportedly trying to buy up 1,200 acres in the Spring Hammock area near Soldiers Creek park. This property, south of Sanford, would be added to the county's recreation area, and the whole hammock area would be preserved in its natural state.

The commission this week approved advertising the county's need for a consultant's services to help design parks, as requested by the Parks and Recreation Division of the Department of Environmental Services.

Environmental Services Director Jim Bible said the firm selected probably will be one with landscape architecture experience, to help develop conceptual master plans for existing parks.

Reviewing the county park system, Bible said Sanlando Park has 40 developed acres, and another 40 acres which will be converted from a solid waste transfer site to a park area. The park now has 20 tennis courts, six racquetball courts, basketball courts, and picnic and tot areas.

The Sylvan Lake Park has about 120 acres, 60 of which are developed with soccer/football fields, softball, picnic areas, and boating.

The Lake Mills Park has about 80 acres, and is largely undeveloped for active recreation. It now has areas for softball, picnics, and fishing.

Another park at Red Bug Lake includes about 80 acres, and is mostly developed with 16 tennis courts, six racquetball courts, three softball fields, and soccer/football areas.

In addition, the Soldiers Creek Park near the Spring Hammock area south of Sanford presently has about 315 acres which is mostly passive recreation.

Bible said it may be two months before a selection committee recommends firms to be considered for the job by the commission.

Members of the selection committee include Bible; deputy Environmental Services Director Cindy Wright; Bob Chorvat, county parks and recreation manager; a member from the parks advisory board; and a member of the planning department.

Bible, Chorvat, and assistant county attorney Lonnie Groot are members of the team which will negotiate for the services of the consulting firm after the selection committee puts them in rank.

Witness Management Program Requested

County judicial officials have asked the county commission to fund a witness management program which would schedule appearances by witnesses in county courts. They say lack of coordination is consuming time and money.

Bill Deliz, 18th Judicial Circuit Courts administrator, State Attorney Norm Wolfinger, and Public Defender J.R. Russo made the request before commissioners this week.

Deliz suggested commissioners fund the program with $30,000, which will allow two full-time persons hired at $12,000 each in the State Attorney's office, and one part-timer in the Public Defender's office at $6,000.

One coordinator already works in Wolfinger's office, but the state attorney told commissioners, "We've reached the time when it's impossible for one person to do the job. It's physically impossible. We're taking law enforcement officers off the street for court appearances that are subject to change at a time when the crime rate has gone up significantly," Wolfinger said.

Seminole office of management and budget research shows that the program being considered here will help achieve the goal of keeping witnesses informed of court schedules and changes, at a cost much lower than those elsewhere.

Similar programs in Brevard, Orange, and Pinellas counties have programs which employ four to seven workers at a cost between $80,000 and $101,000 annually.

The money for the Seminole program would be funded in the 1986-87 fiscal year from the general fund contingency, and a proposed budget for the 1987-88 fiscal year would be prepared.

Commissioner Sandra Glenn said she favors the program because the system now "lacks coordination." She said she would favor funding the program, even though she said the commission "usually doesn't fund anything we don't supervise."

Correction

Because of a police clerical error, in a Tuesday Sanford Herald account of an arrest in an alleged spouse abuse case the suspect was identified by his father's name.

Arrested in that case was Tyrone Banks, 33, of 38 Seminole Gardens, Sanford. The younger Banks, in an arrest report was mistakenly identified as Eddie Lee Banks, which is his father's name. The elder Banks was in no way involved in the incident. Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett brought the mistake to the Herald's attention Wednesday and apologized for the error.

Tyrone Banks was accused of pushing his wife to the floor and hitting her head against a wall. He was arrested at his home at 12:45 a.m. Saturday and has been released on $500 bond to appear in court Nov. 19.

Cold Front Gone, It's Warming Up

By United Press International

A record cold wave that smashed scores of records as it surged into the East forced New York's first cold-weather emergency of the season today, directing police to round up the homeless and take them to shelters.

The Plains began to warm today but a new storm in the Pacific Northwest threatened to blast the Rockies with frigid air and snow. In the Southwest, a storm glazed New Mexico with freezing rain and drizzle.

A blast of Canadian air was expected to push temperatures to the teens and 20s today from southern New England to the Southeast.

National Weather Service meteorologist Curtis Fox said the premature cold would abate today in the East as the arctic air pushes into the Atlantic Ocean.

"The East will be warming up. The Southeast will be warming up. In fact, most of the nation will be fairly nice — except for some unsettled weather in the Rockies," said National Weather Service spokesman Bill Barlow.

New York Mayor Edward Koch, declaring a cold-weather emergency for the first time this season, directed police to take homeless people off the street and ferry them to city shelters, officials said. Temperatures dropped to 24, breaking a record of 25 set Nov. 13, 1920.

Officer Peter O'Donnell said a work slowdown by many of the 27,000 officers on the police force did not hamper the roundup of the homeless. The number of people taken to shelters was not available.

Mitch Snyder, an advocate for the homeless in Washington, said shelters throughout that city were full.

"I've never seen so many people on the street this early in the season," Snyder said. "Churches should be opening their doors wide open right now. Everyone should."

Weather forecasters said the storms in the Northwest and Southwest would be demure compared with the snowstorm that began walloping the northern Plains last Friday. The brutal storm dumped as much as 25 inches of snow in North Dakota and claimed at least 25 lives in 13 states.

Freeze warnings were posted today from Texas to Georgia and along the middle Atlantic coast. South Bend, Ind., shivered in temperatures dipping to a record 10 degrees early today and in Dayton, Ohio, the mercury dropped to 11 degrees, breaking a 70-year-old record.

The mass of cold air pushed temperatures to record lows in at least 70 cities east of the Rockies Thursday and wind chills dropped to 30 below from the Dakotas and Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley.

Temperatures fell to a record 12 degrees below zero at International Falls, Minn., 11 below in Casper, Wyo., and 7 below in North Platte, Neb. Single-digit readings in several spots, including Chicago and Indianapolis, were the coldest temperatures ever recorded so early in the season.

Gale warnings were in effect from Brownsville, Texas, to Tarpon Springs, Fla.; from Savannah, Ga., to Cape Canaveral, Fla.; and from Long Island to Eastport, Maine.

A record 6.7 inches of snow fell at the Buffalo airport Thursday and forecasters warned another 6 inches could fall in portions of western New York overnight.

NATION IN BRIEF

U.S. Imposes Mild Economic Sanctions Against Syria

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A string of mild U.S. sanctions against Syria was designed for symbolism just as was its announcement today — to coincide with the arrival in Washington of British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

The sanctions, which include a further cutback of U.S. embassy staff in the Syrian capital of Damascus, have been expected as a symbolic show of support for members of the European Community who approved similar measures this week.

The U.S. announcement coincides symbolically with the arrival of Thatcher, whose government broke diplomatic relations with Syria after accusing the Mideast nation of links to terrorism.

Thatcher, who will meet Saturday with President Reagan at Camp David, Md., has led the European repudiation of Syria. Evidence presented in the recent London trial of Jordanian-born Nezar Hindawi showed the Syrian government had a direct role in his failed attempt to blow up an El Al jetliner in April.

Bundy Execution Still Set

LAKE CITY (UPI) — Lawyers will try again next week to get a trial judge to halt the execution of serial killer Ted Bundy, who is to die in Florida's electric chair Tuesday for the sex slaying of a 12-year-old school girl.

Columbia County Circuit Judge Wallace Jopling, who sentenced Bundy to death, rejected an appeal Thursday, as did a three-judge panel of the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta.

Jopling is to hear another defense motion for post-conviction relief on Monday, less than 24 hours before Bundy faces the electric chair at Florida State Prison for the 1978 murder of young Kimberly Dianne Leach.

NASA Says No To Cabin Photos

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — NASA has denied requests for photographs of Challenger crew cabin wreckage, saying the pictures would cause grief for astronaut family members and add little to public understanding of the tragedy.

"Representatives of the families have expressed their concern about it," Patricia Rlep, Freedom of Information Act officer at NASA headquarters in Washington, said Thursday. "It was a decision that their expressions of concern entered into."

Space agency officials announced their decision Thursday, the same day reporters and photographers were allowed to tour a warehouse used to temporarily store other shuttle wreckage.

Three Children Found Dead

FELLSMERE (UPI) — The bodies of three small children have been found in Indian River County after they apparently locked themselves in an abandoned commercial refrigerator and suffocated.

The children were found wandering away from home about 6 p.m. after an extensive search by local authorities and volunteers. They were reported missing about 6 p.m., and were found dead about 7:40.

They are identified as sisters Odessa Huggins, 3, and Tasha Huggins, 2. The other victim was 3-year-old Tangelia Chambliss, a friend.

Officials said the children walked about 200 feet from their home and found the abandoned delicatessen cooler in an open storage area.

...Pancake

"I think the competition this year is a lot stronger in all the events," Mrs. Bremer said. I've had to fight for everything I've won." She said that so far this year she has won gold in both table tennis and "real" tennis. And although she landed the silver in the pancake race, her husband apparently just didn't pick up on her technique.

Or perhaps the men's heat was just bit too tough for newcomers, with a rival match between past winners and friends Carl Mays, 60, of Bellevue, Ohio, and Wilbur Ott, 72, of Lakeland, earning them the men's top spots.

Mays took the gold and Ott the silver, with bystanders calling Mays "aMaysing."

Mays said he eats pancakes, "but not today." Mrs. Kane said that many who hear about the pancake race think it's an eating contest, but when they step up to meet the challenge they quickly learn that a real race is on.

Mary McGarvey, 67, of Sanford, said her brother-in-law talked her into joining the game, although "I've never flipped a pancake before in my life." When Mrs. McGarvey's match got off to a false start she was daunted and stepped out of the game.

But when Ann Witt, 56, of DeLand, who took the women's pancake race gold last year, returned to the starting line, she wore the lean hungry look of a serious athlete.

"I'm one of the most placid women until you get me on an athletic field," Mrs. Witt said. "Then I grow these little fangs and smoke comes out of my ears."

She won the gold.

Earlier in the Games she took gold in the quarter-mile bike race and bronze in tennis. But Mrs. Witt attributed her pancake win to "luck, just luck. The wind catches those things and swings them."

Of her return to pancake race for a second time she said, "I decide if you've got a good thing running why not keep it."

The same could have been said for Mrs. Stevens' pancake recipe. The secret lies in the stabilizers, a sand and sawdust formula.

Mrs. Witt said she is lucky in more ways than one. Just four months ago she had serious spinal surgery and was unable to walk. "I consider myself exceedingly lucky they were able to save my sciatic nerve."

"I love athletics and have six wonderful children who encourage me all the time," she said.

When games officials mistakenly placed the women's bronze medal won by Helen Howard, 70, of Clearwater, around the neck of silver-medal winner Mrs. Bremer, who won the bronze last year, Mrs. Bremer said, "I don't want the bronze. I've graduated."

Mrs. Howard joked, "I don't want it either," even though she had run a mean, flipping race for it.

Olympic Fever

Cliff St. James, representing the U.S. Senior Olympics to be held in St. Louis, was beset by eager senior athletes at the Golden Age Games midweek dinner dance Wednesday night at the Sanford Civic Center. The seniors wanted information on the national competition to be held June 27-July 2, 1987. Those qualifying by their performance in certain Sanford Games events will be eligible to compete. St. James said the Golden Age Games is officially the largest regional senior competition in the country. More than 200 attended the Wednesday buffet dinner followed by dancing to "Golden Oldies" played by the Sanford Serenaders.

First Union's Prime Equity Line can turn your home into a powerhouse.

Special introductory rate, 5.9% A.P.R.*

The tax laws are changing, and a FIRST UNION PRIME EQUITY LINE could be a smart move. In fact, it could be your best move. You can access up to 80% of the appraised value of your home (less the existing first mortgage) in amounts of $10,000 minimum to $100,000 maximum.

Once approved, you use the FIRST UNION PRIME EQUITY LINE whenever you like by simply writing a check or using a MasterCard Gold Card.

You can pay it off in a lump sum or in monthly payments like a revolving charge account.

Our 5.9** annual percentage rate is a special introductory rate. Act now. See a First Union Banker or call our Financial Hotline, 1-800-551-BANK.

The FIRST UNION PRIME EQUITY LINE is new banking power for you.

If there ever was a reason to switch banks, this is it.

FIRST UNION

First Union National Bank of Florida • Branch Offices Statewide **Rate subject to change monthly after specified introductory rate period.

A First Union Prime Equity Line is a revolving line of credit, secured by a first or second mortgage on owner-occupied residential real estate. Single-family detached only (no condos, town homes or modular mobile homes). No purchase money loans or refinance of purchase money loans are permitted by law. *Special 5.9% A.P.R. (4.92% monthly periodic rate) applies through December 31, 1986, to outstanding balances on new Prime Equity Line accounts. After December 31, 1986, the A.P.R. for Prime Equity Line accounts may vary. The rate will be tied to First Union National Bank's base rate in effect at each month's end and will be equal to the base rate plus 2% (currently at 9.5% A.P.R.). A minimum of 8% A.P.R. applies. A participation fee of $150 will be waived by maintaining an average annual balance of $1,000 and a cancellation fee may be applied if the line is canceled in the first year.

Lifesaving Cat Dies In Fire

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — A cat adopted as a stray 10 years ago awoke its owner and saved three lives from an apartment fire by "howling and howling," but died in the blaze.

The cat, Morris, reacted to smoke pouring into the second-floor apartment of his owner, Irene Machenhausen, during the predawn fire Thursday.

"Morris was in the kitchen howling and howling, and he woke me up," said Machenhausen.

The Visionary Will Be Missed

From the time Barry Goldwater entered the U.S. Senate in 1953, most everyone has known where he stood on the major issues facing this nation. The Arizona Republican's unalloyed conservatism has been a constant on Capitol Hill, where lawmakers tend to trim their views to suit the prevailing political winds. So it is that the senator's friends and foes alike greet his impending retirement with respectful regret.

The grand old man of the GOP leaves behind a political legacy that few of his colleagues can match. He will be remembered as the godfather of American conservatism. It was his ill-fated presidential campaign in 1964 that paved the way for Ronald Reagan to enter the White House. In fact, Sen. Goldwater's philosophical principles have become such a part of the political landscape that it's hard to believe he was seen as an extremist two decades ago.

Like most visionaries, the man from Arizona was ahead of his time and generally misunderstood. His ringing acceptance speech at the 1964 GOP convention extolling the virtue of defending liberty convinced a good many Americans that he was a right-wing extremist.

To the contrary: During the early 1950s, Sen. Goldwater was a member of the NAACP and argued forcefully for integration of the Arizona National Guard. His opposition to the 1964 Civil Rights Act was based on his unflinching belief in states' rights. Indeed, when race riots began to erupt in the summer of 1964, the GOP presidential nominees met with Lyndon Johnson and agreed not to exploit the subject.

But the Democrats were not quite so fair. Throughout that heated campaign, they depicted Sen. Goldwater as a madman who might destroy the world. Their most egregious example was the TV spot showing a little girl about to be vaporized by a nuclear explosion.

After being buried in the LBJ landslide, Mr. Goldwater returned to the Senate in 1968 and served as a crusty, elder statesman who continued to fight for his principles. His candid, often salty, comments were a refreshing change of pace from the oft-contrived courtliness on Capitol Hill. Accordingly, Senate Republicans dispatched the Arizonan to the White House in 1974 to impress upon Richard Nixon that he couldn't win an impeachment vote, which meant that it was time for him to go.

The conservative tide of 1980 did not soften the senator's sharp tongue. Informed that the Rev. Jerry Falwell had urged good Christians to oppose Sandra Day O'Connor's appointment to the Supreme Court because of her stand on abortion, Mr. Goldwater suggested that good Christians "ought to kick Falwell in the ass."

Nor did Sen. Goldwater's staunch defense of the military temper his blunt retorts when something was amiss. Asked how he could oppose the Apache helicopter, which is manufactured in his home state, the senator snapped, "Hell, they could build it in my living room, and I won't go along until they get the price down." In pushing for his landmark military-reorganization bill this year, he likened the rivalry between the Joint Chiefs of Staff to "a senile bunch of bickering schoolboys."

Apart from his failing health, Sen. Goldwater decided not to seek re-election because he detests the expense and the mudslinging involved in today's campaigns. Thus Barry Goldwater will retire to his beloved Arizona, teach a class or two, and bask in the conservative glow that graces the twilight of his distinguished career. We wish him good luck and Godspeed.

Trading Arms For Hostages Is No Deal

Usually nations make serious efforts to pursue vital interests. In some cases governments violate international law — and their own laws — in the pursuit of beneficial goals. In the recently revealed supplying of arms to the government of Iran, the Reagan administration has broken the law, violated its own stated policies, undermined its credibility and at the same time worked against U.S. national interests.

There is only one explanation for what appears to be a calamitous foreign policy mistake — securing the release of a American hostages by, in effect, bribing the Iranians with American arms.

No one can fault the administration for wanting to secure the release of hostages, but the costs in this case seem vastly beyond the benefits:

— The administration has badly damaged its credibility, among friends and foes alike, by following a secret policy that flagrantly violates its own public policy. Administration officials from the president on down have repeatedly stressed that the United States would not assist terrorists — especially the violent, irresponsible Khomeini regime. The administration has pressured other governments to withhold support from terrorist governments. Now the administration has been caught doing the very thing we said we would not do and that we urged others not to do.

— A second difficulty with the administration's offering of arms for hostages is that it encourages terrorists to seize more hostages to get more arms. Since the flow of U.S. arms to Iran began, three more Americans have been seized in Lebanon.

— It is also doubtful whether transfer of American arms to Iran is legal without congressional approval. Beyond this, the operation appears to have been carried out without substantive input from the State Department, Defense Department or CIA. Trying to maintain secrecy, Mr. Reagan and his White House aides apparently went ahead with the operation over the opposition of both the secretary of state and secretary of defense.

— The worst thing is that in helping Iran in the war against Iraq, the administration is on the wrong side in terms of U.S. interests. Could anyone seriously argue that it would be to the benefit of the United States for the fanatical, hate-filled Khomeini regime to overrun Iraq and be in a position to threaten Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and other Persian Gulf states?

An Iranian victory would also increase the likelihood that the militant Muslim fundamentalism of Khomeini would achieve new force in Lebanon, Egypt and elsewhere in the Middle East.

The prudent course for the United States in the bloody Iraqi-Iranian war is to stand clear of either side. This is one issue in which Moscow and Washington have a mutual interest — to encourage an end of the war with neither side overrunning the other.

Having said all of this, it would seem that if the United States, for some perverse reason, were to help either side, it would be better to help Iraq. William Colby, the former CIA director in the Nixon and Ford administrations, has written: "Rather than winking at arms supplies for Iran, the United States would better make direct efforts to strengthen Iraq against Iran, to include arms supplies to the degree needed. The risks involved in support for Iraq against Iran are considerably less than the risks that would follow a defeat of Iraq by Iran."

It is hard to imagine Mr. Colby's basic analysis being challenged by professionals in either the State Department or Defense Department. It is too bad that Mr. Reagan failed to grasp the realities of the Iraqi-Iranian conflict or to consult with those who do understand the issues at stake.

Khomeini's 2-0 Versus Presidents

By Norman D. Sandler

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Like the man who preceded him in office, President Reagan has found himself embarrassed and his policies jeopardized by the actions of the often irrational government of Iran's Ayatollah Khomeini.

Reagan, whose 1980 electoral victory reflected national frustration over the 444-day Iranian hostage crisis, now finds himself criticized for doing what he said he would never do: negotiate with terrorists, especially the regime of the man who helped bring down Jimmy Carter.

There was no hesitation in his voice when Reagan, in a July 8, 1985, speech to an American Bar Association convention, lumped Iran together with Libya, North Korea, Cuba and Nicaragua as "a new, international version of Murder Inc.," united by "their fanatical hatred of the United States."

The lawyers cheered as Reagan vowed to stand up against terrorism and not tolerate "these attacks from outlaw states run by the strangest collection of misfits, looney tunes and squalid criminals since the advent of the Third Reich."

Since exposure of the bizarre undercover mission to Tehran by former national security adviser Robert McFarlane, however, the administration has changed its tune. The tirades against the sponsors of terrorism have been muted. The indictments against Iran have been kept under wraps.

What happened was not so much a change in fundamental thinking as in priorities.

The hostage situation in Lebanon appears to have weighed on Reagan much the same way the earlier episode did on Carter. Eventually, with other avenues closed, Reagan had to risk "shaking hands with the devil," as one columnist put it, and turning his back on U.S. policy to achieve his objectives.

Now, however, he finds himself in a quandary exacerbated by the election of a Democratic Congress, which wasted no time seizing on the arms-for-hostages deal with Iran to vent built-up agitation with what some consider a secret foreign policy agenda being carried out by his National Security Council.

Reagan risks damage to his own credibility and that of his administration.

Even if the other Americans held in Lebanon are released in the next few weeks, there is little doubt the White House will be faced with tough questions to answer and actions to explain once the 100th Congress convenes in January.

Gen. Ver Attempts To Overthrow Aquino

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The Central Intelligence Agency has been tracking the mysterious operations of Gen. Fabian Ver, former chief of staff of the Philippine armed forces, who reportedly is plotting to overthrow President Corason Aquino.

Intelligence sources believe he has formed a "death squad" that is ready to eliminate any Filipino leaders who stand in his way. According to these sources, Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile has already received death threats for his role in boosting Aquino to power.

Enrile has tightened his security; he is constantly guarded by an elite security force of 800 crack troops. But he has also tried to placate Ver's partisans by speaking out against Aquino and accusing her of courting

Negative Campaigning

WASHINGTON (NEA) — 1986 was a year of negative campaigns. Throughout the nation candidates stressed opponents' weaknesses rather than their own ideas. It was nothing new. It's always been part of U.S. politics.

What is new, however, is growing evidence that such campaigns turn off voters and backfire on candidates. Political experts are poring over results and exit polls to determine how effective negative campaigns were.

Political image makers note two kinds of negative campaigning — "positive negative" and "negative negative." Here are some examples from the recent elections:

In the Alabama Senate race, successful Democratic challenger Rep. Richard Shelby started out more than 25 points behind incumbent Republican Sen. Jeremiah Denton in the polls. Shelby then ran one of the most negative campaigns ever seen in U.S. politics. There were ads attacking Denton's voting record on various issues as well as spots that cataloged all the charges made in the other ads.

However, the ads stopped short of attacking Denton personally. They attacked his positions and voting record. This was essentially a positive negative campaign, and it worked.

Contrast this with the Senate race in Wisconsin, which the experts call a classic negative negative campaign.

From day one, both successful incumbent GOP Sen. Robert Kasten and Democratic challenger Ed Garvey went for the jugular. Each candidate ran ads accusing his opponent of being a crook and a lowlife. Garvey concentrated on Kasten's drunk-driving arrest, his ties with businessmen convicted of fraud and his refusal to release his tax returns. Kasten countered by charging Garvey with dirty tricks, mismanagement and theft during his tenure as general counsel to the National Football League Players Association.

Garvey was head of the organization during the players strike in 1981. A series of Kasten ads featured statements by NFL players taken from news stories published during the strike saying that Garvey was a crook who could not be trusted and that $75,000 had disappeared from a players strike fund. The message was clear: If his own players say he is crooked, shouldn't the voters take notice?

Garvey's response was to file a $2 million libel suit.

While negative campaigning has been around forever, what is new is its pervasiveness, the growing willingness of candidates to attack their opponents' characters as well as their records, and the fact that candidates themselves are doing the attacking.

There was a time when character assaults were left to surrogates while the candidate would take the high road. This year the candidates themselves took direct swings at their opponents.

Despite all the negative campaigns there were a few races that could make you proud of the system.

In Mississippi's 2nd Congressional District — a poor, rural district almost evenly split between blacks and whites — young black attorney Michael Espy took on two-term white Republican incumbent Webb Franklin.

It would have been easy for both candidates to slip into demagoguery and racial appeals. But neither did. Both candidates appealed to voters of both races for support based on the issues. In the end Espy won a narrow victory, but both candidates can take pride in their effort.

SCIENCE WORLD

Pedantic Neoverbal Aggregate

By Jan Ziegler

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans consume millions of carbohydrate-laminated bovine protein wafers, but many are especially fond of congealed sucrated alkaloids.

Many of us prefer hamburgers, and adore chocolate.

It's all the same.

The terms are described in a new spoof of technological jargon by Edward Tenner, who has assembled a collection of multisyllabic 1980s befuddlements along with instructions for describing nearly anything in terms incomprehensible to the uninitiated.

Titled "Tech Speak," it comes in manual form and is designed to teach anyone to sound computer-wise, hardware-smart and — dare it be said — pretentious in a high-tech way.

"It started when I brought some coffee back to the office and I had a cup for my assistant with one of those wooden stirrers," said Tenner, science editor at Princeton University Press. "I asked her if she wanted a dedicated convection inducer."

"She just laughed. It was just a little in joke because we were both into computers."

Tenner began applying his high-tech imagination to the rest of the office, then began collecting phrases in a notebook.

The spoof that resulted is meant for fun, but it also has a serious point.

"It's also a kind of plea for more serious study of jargon," Tenner said.

Tenner, who is collecting specimens for a new book, has a Ph.D. in history, but does not call himself a historian. He prefers to describe his field as holistic diacronic analysis.

"That's the way of getting high-paying jobs for historians," he said. "No company wants to have a historian."

Some gems from Tenner's collection in "Tech Speak":

— Calcium trace display system. A neuromuscular-driven text and graphics system, it utilizes a vertical inscriptive surface, compressed calcium cylinder or CCC offset by a semiotic recycling block. The rest of us know this as a chalkboard, with chalk and eraser.

— Fractional credit voucher — small change.

— Terrestrial rotation emulator with percussive waveform-source exciter — an alarm clock.

— Coming soon to the North: accreted crystalline anthropoid homologues, or snowmen.

against, anti-Marcos Philippine activists in the U.S."

Their top target in America was Marcos' arch-rival, Benigno Aquino. The DIA reported that Imelda Marcos secretly called on Aquino in May 1983, and warned him that he might be assassinated if he returned to the Philippines.

Aquino disregarded the warning, later returned home and was gunned down as he stepped off the plane. This cold-blooded murder precipitated the dramatic events that led to Marcos' downfall and his replacement by Aquino's widow.

Ver is now wanted in the Philippines for allegedly plotting the assassination. Intelligence sources say that, meanwhile, he is directing a shadowy operation to oust President Aquino and erase the Aquino name from Philippine politics once and for all.

Louise Nolan presents Golden Age Games gold medal to Paul Entler for his replica-in-miniature of a run-down store, shown in detail at right.

Miniature Store Hit Of Hobby Show

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

A miniature replica of Bill's Place, a rundown store on U.S. 1 near the Georgia line that used to have a gas pump before the interstates siphoned-off the motorists, is the hit of the Golden Age Games Hobby Show.

It also attracted the eye of the judges who gave it a gold medal in the Collections and Miniatures division.

Created by Paul Entler, a resident of John Knox Village in Orange City, the store is complete to the last detail, including graffiti on the restroom wall, an overflowing dumpster and candy bars in the lighted snack machine.

Entler was inspired by a pen and ink drawing of Bill's Place entered in last year's show by his friend Marvin Wolfe, also of Orange City. Wolfe said it is a real place, probably built back in the 1920s when U.S. 1 was a busy route for tourists coming to the Sunshine State.

He described it to Entler in detail — now reduced to selling mostly beer and bait to fishermen.

Entler said the replica took him six months to complete, working 6-7 hours a day. He said he had about $50 invested in the project.

"I've got nothing else to do," he said. "I don't fish or golf. What would I do? Sit and watch the boob tube all day? No way!"

To get a realistic effect, Entler made a rusty tin roof by treating the tin made from catfood cans with saltwater.

Originally from Detroit, Entler lived in Port St. Lucie for nine years before moving to Orange City.

His latest creation is a miniature church that won best-of-show at the Volusia County Fair recently. It was the second time he took that honor.

He first started doing miniature replicas nine years ago when he built a model house for a woman from Stuart. Later she wanted a larger one so he built one complete with smoking chimney, running water, electric lights, and swinging doors.

"I just kept building things," Entler said, "and four years ago when I moved to Orange City I didn't think I would be building any more so I donated my best tools to the hobby shop at John Knox Village. But when my neighbor found out that I make them, she asked me to finish the dollhouse she had started. I've been at

Golfers Enter Games In Record Numbers

A record field of 440 entrants between the ages of 55 and 92 competed in the Golden Age Games golfing events at Mayfair Country Club Tuesday and Thursday, and Mayfair General Manager Rudy Sells calls those who make the annual trip to the course "the most knowledgeable golfers we see."

The course is closed to others while the competitors are on the course.

Chal and Ernie Horrell have officiated at the Rotary Club-sponsored event for 12 years, and have watched the field grow annually.

"Last year we had 416 entrants, and this year we have 440," Mrs. Horrell said.

"We see many of the same faces, but more come every year," she added.

Horrell said the event is a qualifier for the National Senior Olympics, to be held starting June 27 in St. Louis.

This year's entries in Sanford include those from Canada, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio and Texas.

Mrs. Horrell said she received the first entry for this week's competition on Feb. 4. She said the anxious entrant used an entry form from the previous year. By June 1, more than four months before the Games, she said, 150 had entered.

Oldest of the players is James Dentor, 92, Rockledge.

"He's been playing here for over five years," Mrs. Horrell said. "He birdied number two Tuesday, and very few people do that."

She said his score was about 74. Par for the course is 72.

Because a player suffered a heart attack on the course several years ago, radio communication is provided by the Lake Monroe Amateur Radio Society. Society member Bill "Wimpy" Wimberly, Sanford, is stationed at the Club House, along with Rich Cheney, an American Red Cross volunteer and Lake Mary Police Department officer.

In the event of trouble, Cheney would be able to respond instantly, while Wimberly would call for help.

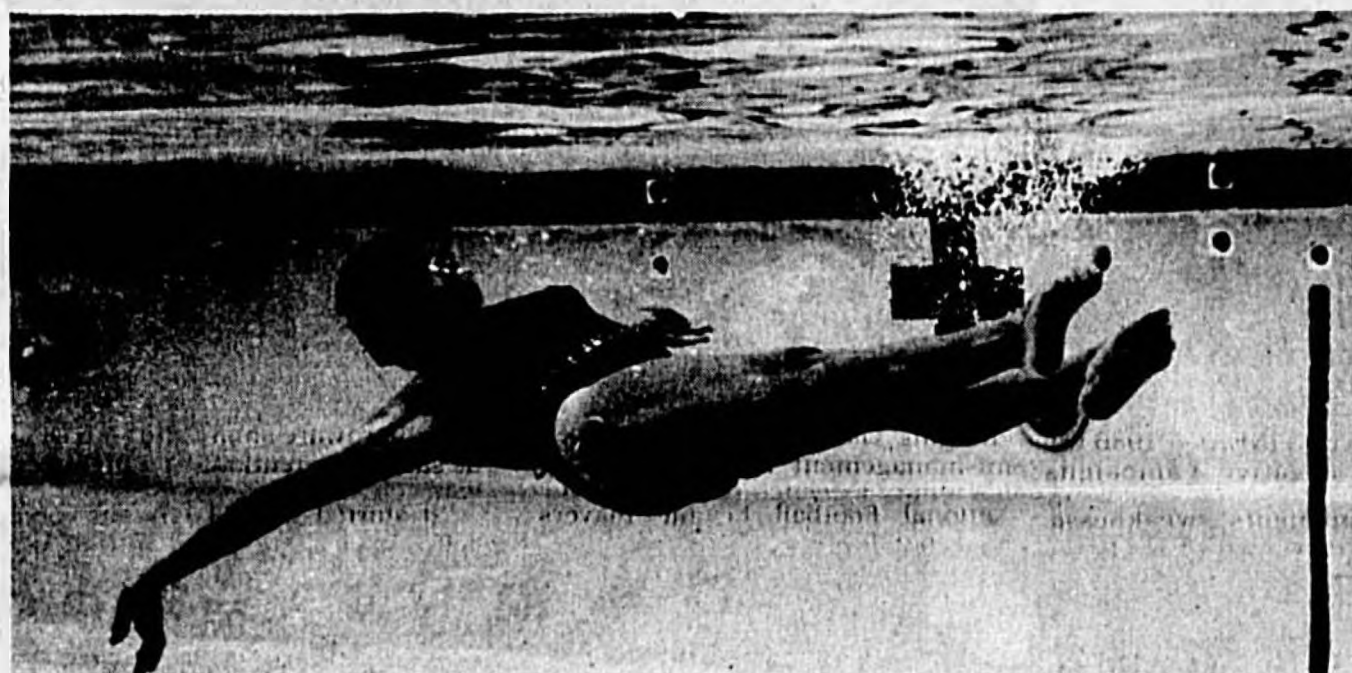

"What they're doing is really important," Cheney said of the radio club's efforts.

Cheney, an emergency medical technician, said he's there as a volunteer, just in case a problem would arise.

"We're here just in case someone has a physical problem," said Wimberly, 71.

"I enjoy being here," he continued. "I feel like I'm doing something for the Games."

Irish Impede Lions

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Third-ranked Penn State aspires to an undefeated season and national title showdown against No. 1 Miami. Standing in the way of the Nittany Lions is a Notre Dame team that must win to keep alive slim chances for any bowl bid.

Penn State, 9-0, must defeat the Irish and Pittsburgh to complete an undefeated season and have a chance at being the nation's No. 1 ranked team after the New Year's Day bowl game.

The Irish, 4-4, want to exact some revenge for last year's 38-6 loss at State College, Pa., as well as continue toward a possible 7-4 record in Lou Holtz's first season as coach.

The Irish are coming off a 61-29 rout of Southern Methodist last week. The Nittany Lions slipped by Maryland 17-15 by breaking up a two-point conversion attempt.

Senior quarterback Steve Beuerlein threw for a career-high 289 yards and the Irish offense gained a season-high 615 yards against the Mustangs.

In other games involving the top ranked teams Saturday, it's Tulsa at No. 1 Miami, Minnesota at No. 2 Michigan, No. 4 Oklahoma at Colorado, Wichita State at No. 5 Arizona State, No. 6 Nebraska at Kansas, Georgia at No. 8 Auburn, No. 9 Ohio State at Wisconsin and UCLA at No. 10 Washington.

Lady Lions Wade Into 3A Section At Land O' Lakes

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Oviedo's Lady Lions have not ventured too far away from home this season, but, Friday night, they will hit the road and wade into the waters at a place called Land O' Lakes in the 3A-2 Section playoff.

And, if Oviedo plays the way it has in most of its 24 victories, Land O' Lakes could very well become Land O' Lions Friday night.

Oviedo takes a 24-2 overall record and 15-match winning streak into the section playoff while Land O' Lakes comes in at 19-7.

The match is scheduled for 6 p.m., and the Lady Lions will play without coach Anita Carlson who is a Seventh Day Adventist. Carlson attempted to switch the game to 4 p.m., so she would be able to attend, but was unable to do so. Carlson's relief beliefs, which she adheres to steadfastly, restrict her from participating in outside activity from sundown Friday until sundown Saturday.

Carlson's capable assistant, Stan Tillman, will handle the coaching reins tonight.

The winner advances to the 3A State Tournament which will be held Friday, Nov. 21. Both teams are looking for their first state tourney berth.

"When it gets to this level, the difference is whoever makes the least unforced errors," Carlson said. "You can't miss serves or give free balls to the other team. If we continue to set up and spike and serve well, we'll be all right."

Oviedo's powerful offense willed a scrappy Gainesville High team in Tuesday's region playoff. After pulling out a 15-13 win in game one, the Lady Lions' relentless offense was too much for Gainesville to handle in a 15-4 second-game win for Oviedo.

The Oviedo attack is powered by a number of capable spikers including seniors Kelly Price and Barbara Malone, juniors Jill Knutson and Jodie Switzer and sophomore Suzanne Hughes.

Price, who missed three weeks of the season with a severely sprained ankle, may be ready to explode Friday night. The talented senior put down some big spikes in the win over Gainesville and is a proven post-season performer. In last year's region loss to Ocala

Intensity Returns For Mosure, 'Noles

Sanford's WUEZ AM (1480) will broadcast tonight's District 4A-5 football game between Seminole and New Smyrna Beach from New Smyrna Beach. Steve Luba will handle the play-by-play and Stan Lee will serve as the color analyst. Air time is 7:30 p.m.

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Dave Mosure built his football success on intensity. As the defensive coordinator at Seminole before taking over the head post two years ago, the fiery "Mr. Intensity" was the master at motivating his defenders to fever pitch.

He would do everything — and anything (remember the bite out of the raw fish?) — when it came time to light a fire under his players.

Prior to Seminole, the Intensity stoked three district championships as head coach at South Miami. It helped coach Jerry Posey bring two more to Seminole.

The Intense flame flickered, however, in 1986. Burdened with more teaching responsibilities due to the inexperience of this year's team, Mosure cooled his maniacal tendencies.

The players noticed — and didn't like it. But what were they going to do, confront Mosure with it? Tell him not to act civilized. Not and live to tell.

"Coach just ain't crazy like he used to be," one moonfaced 10 days ago. "He's not as hard on us as he used to be."

Mosure sensed the feeling without being told. "I knew some of them felt that way," he said last week. "But I had my reasons for mellowing."

"This was group of young pups. And you have to take it slowly with them. A young dog isn't going to respond to you that way at all the time. It's the same way with younger players."

"We went through four quarterbacks. Everything was back to square one. There was a lot of teaching to do. Either was I going to do it if I was half out of my mind all the time?" he asked.

Mosure said he believed the less-intensive approach would work. Slow, he's not so sure. Now, maybe he was too mellow. Too easy. Too educational. Too quiet. Too much teacher and not enough coach. Too much talk and not enough screaming.

YOU GOTTA WAKE 'EM UP.

Well, pass the word: the lunatic is back. "I feel good," Mosure said Thursday. "I think it was good for me to go back to my old ways. I can sleep at night now. I was up to my ears in academics."

"It's time to get a little wild." Mosure said he couldn't think of a wilder time than tonight. The Seminole, 3-5 after picking up a forfeit win from Titusville (ineligible player), travel to New Smyrna Beach. The Barracudas plan to use the Tribe for its homecoming dinner. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

The 'Noles, though, would like to turn the tables. Mosure would like each of his players to take a bite out of the Barracudas this year. He said nothing would be more inviting than to spoil New Smyrna's homecoming.

During the past two years, the NSB program has been up for grabs. The Barracudas have gone through three head coaches in nine months. Mosure said coaching courtesies haven't been extended and film exchanges have been missed both years.

"You know what a fanatic I am with my films," Mosure said. "They're no excuse for that crap. The coach told me he didn't have the film because it was a madhouse around here."

"I'd like nothing better to go over there and kick their butt. I've always shook hands with the opposing coach, but this might be the first time that I don't extend the hand."

Although Mosure is wired, he said he knows he can't let his players get too out of control. Mosure said NSB has drawn 485 yards in penalties in its last two games. Players have been ejected continually throughout the season. Last week, the defensive coordinator was given the heave-ho.

"They'll be the dirtiest team we play," senior defensive end Ed Banks said of the alleged NSB punches and late hits. "But we can't let that get to us. We got to keep our heads and just play hard-nosed football."

Whereas the Tribe had last week off, it still lost some key members. Starters Wilton Hooks (guard) and Eugene Byam (tight end) were lost to poor grades. Center Kevin Straub's knee locked up and he's lost for the season.

Sophomore Roger Livingston was more seriously injured Monday. Mosure said the 235-pound tackle injured his neck in a 3-on-3 drill. He was taken to Orlando Regional Medical Center because it was first feared he had suffered a spinal injury. Mosure said Livingston had swelling in the cervical area and weakness in his right arm. A series of tests was conducted Thursday and Mosure said he would know the results today.

"We lost four offensive line personnel in 24 hours," he said. Sophomore Paul Kitter moves into center. Walter Hopson takes over at tight end/flanker and junior David Sheffield fills in at guard.

Mosure said running back Eric Williams (wrist) and defensive tackle Keith Denton (strep throat) will also be out. Herb Hillery will take over at halfback and 235-pound junior Derrick Butler at tackle.

Mosure said three players — Willie Campbell, Danny Lawrence and Larry Nathan — were dismissed from the team for missing practices and not making up the work.

Defensive Key: Lock Up Chatman

Football

New Smyrna Beach's attack rides and dives on the right arm and speedy feet of quarterback Rodney Chatman.

"Chatman is a helluva athlete," Seminole coach Dave Mosure said on the eve of his team's 8 p.m. meeting with the Barracudas at New Smyrna Beach. "He's got a good arm and can run. Sum total: he's the best quarterback we've faced."

Chatman, a junior, is a two-year starter. Last year, he passed and ran Oviedo dizzy in one of his top performances of the year. This year, though, he hasn't had the personnel to accommodate him.

"The key is controlling their quarterback," Mosure said. After picking up a forfeit win from Titusville, the Barracudas improved to 4-4 on the year.

Mosure said he expects his defensive backfield of Ron Blake, Leonard Lucas, "Nasty Nick" Caselle and Bernard Burke to be tested. Blake (8.9 tackles per game) and Burke (8.6 tpg) are the top hitters. Caselle has two interceptions and Lucas has recovered two fumbles.

Senior Rick Kelley returns from an ankle injury to complete one of the top linebacking trios in Central Florida with Earnie "Sackman" Lewis and Steve Warren. Lewis has put together a fine all-around season with 15.8 tackles per outing, four sacks and four fumbles recoveries. Warren has a county-leading five sacks and 13.1 tpg. Kelley has 11.8 tpg.

Junior J.J. Partlow has won back his place-kicking job.

Shhhhhhhhh! Discreet Oviedo Meets Titusville

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

Oviedo has been Central Florida's best-kept secret all year. While coach Jack Blanton has emphatically extolled his team's youth and inexperience, the Lions have quietly posted a 5-3 record.

Mistakes have been kept to a minimum as Oviedo has played more like a veteran squad than one that starts 14 underclassmen. Blanton hopes his charges keep up the imitation tonight as Titusville invades for a District 4A-5 Parents Night clash at 8.

A contented Blanton said Thursday he is excited about his team's showing this fall.

"There is nothing to complain about when you are winning," Blanton said. "This is a young team. They have gotten some confidence and they are maturing with every game that they play."

Winless (0-8) Titusville, 3-5 at one time, was forced to forfeit its three wins due to an ineligible player. The Terriers, though, played one of the toughest

Lake Howell Leery Of Winless Patriots

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS — If history repeats itself, then Mike Bisceglia's Lake Howell Silver Hawks are in trouble.

Last year, entering the ninth week of the season, Lake Howell was 4-4 while the Lake Brantley Patriots were 0-8. The Silver Hawks were heavy favorites. A sure thing, it seemed, against a downtrodden Brantley club on its way to an 0-10 season.

Brantley 14, Howell 7.

Upsetting, to say the least, for Bisceglia and his Hawks. This year, entering the ninth week of the season, the Silver Hawks are the talk of Central Florida with a sparkling 7-1 mark coming into tonight's homecoming showdown with Lake Brantley. Kickoff is 8 p.m. at Lake Howell.

The Patriots, meanwhile, will be looking for the upset again as they enter the game with an 0-8 record for the second consecutive year. The roles are similar, yet Howell is more powerful than a year ago. The Hawks are ranked ninth in the Florida Sports Writers Association prep poll.

For the past two years, Brantley has prevailed against Howell. Two years ago, the teams went into halftime tied at 6. Brantley came out in the second half and scored 27 points en route to a 33-6 triumph.

Bisceglia remembers last year well, and he has made sure his Silver Hawks have good memories, too. "We have been reminding our players all week what happened last year," Bisceglia said Wednesday. "Brantley is a very good football team. We are not taking them lightly and the kids are taking a business-like approach to the game."

Lake Howell has been business-like all season as the Hawks only lost this season came to Apopka, 10-7, thanks to muffed kickoff coverage. The game is very important to Lake Howell for several reasons.

Top Ranks: SCC, Brevard Eye Duel In Tourney Finals

By Benton Wood
Special to the Herald

The stage is almost set for the second- and fifth-ranked junior college basketball teams to meet this weekend in the Raider Invitational tournament.

But the military would like to drop a bomb on any plans for a Seminole-Brevard rematch of last year's championship game.

Fifth-ranked Seminole Community College will try to improve to 5-0 tonight at 8 when it faces Patrick Air Force Base in the first round of the Raider Invitational while Brevard, ranked second in the state, meets the Orlando Naval Training Center at 6.

SCC defeated Brevard two-out-of-three last year including a 62-59 victory in the finals of the Raider Invitational. But Seminole head coach Bill Payne said he hasn't started to worry about Brevard — yet.

"I won't worry about (Brevard) until Saturday morning," Payne said. "Maybe we will both win. Maybe we'll both lose. I guarantee you Patrick won't roll over and play dead for us."

Payne has reason to worry about Patrick despite his team's three consecutive road victories. The Raiders faced Patrick this year in a preseason game and defeated it, 110-90, but Patrick knocked off the Raiders 72-70 last year in the preseason.

"We wore them down in the second half and were able to beat them because we have more depth," Payne said. "But they will probably bring in a busload of recruits to make a lot of noise."

The Raiders will fight the Air Force with 6-foot-8 center Vance Hall, who leads the team with 20 points, 10 rebounds and more than four blocked shots per game. He is also shooting 85 percent from the floor. Malcolm Houston is averaging 17 points per game followed by Barry Dunning (12.5), Claude Jackson (11.0), James Morris (10.3) and Erem Brooks (10.3). Point guard Darris Gallagher is averaging 10.5 assists and three steals per game.

Basketball

Patrick is led by 6-2 All-Air Force guard Virgil Odom and 6-5 forward Karl Haire. SCC assistant coach Dean Smith said Odom was one of the keys to Patrick's preseason victory over the Raiders last season.

"Well, they didn't have a 45 second clock over there, either," Smith said. "They were able to hold the ball the last five minutes of the first half."

The Orlando Naval Center may need a 40-minute clock to hold off Brevard. The Titans are 2-0 this season and start four sophomores and 6-10 center Philippe Blanc from France. First off the bench for Brevard are 6-7 Chris Johnson and 6-4 freshman Kirt Hankton, a high school All-America last season from New Orleans.

Furthermore, Payne rates Brevard head coach Don Smith as one of the best in the state. "You can out-manuever some coaches, but you're not going to out-coach him," he said.

Leading the Naval Center in tonight's lidlifter is 6-2 guard Roderick Taylor and 6-8 center Joel Tomaski.

McGee Hopes 7th Is Lucky For Rams

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary's Rams have gone pretty much unnoticed this season in one of the toughest districts in the state. But coach Mark McGee feels his team is still in the running for a berth in the 4A State Meet.

McGee is looking for his team's best performance Saturday in the 4A-3 Region Meet at John Prince Park in Lake Worth. The girls' two-mile race starts at 9:30 a.m., followed by the boys' three mile at 10. The top four teams and top five individuals in each race qualify for next week's state meet at the DeLand Airport.

In both the girls and boys meet, the teams from Lake Mary, Lake Howell and Lyman will be competing in the region.

McGee said his team is sitting about seventh in the region at this point and that means there's no pressure on the Rams going into Saturday's meet.

"The pressure is mostly on the teams sitting third, fourth and fifth," McGee said. "And every year it seems the sixth or seventh team surprises the others. I hope we can surprise some people Saturday."

Lake Mary's top two, juniors Eric Petersen and Brad Smith, have been outstanding for the Rams all season. Petersen has the second best time in Seminole County this season at 15:30.9 while Smith has the fifth best at 15:44. Petersen, though, was sick and missed practice Thursday.

"He cruised a five-mile trail in under 30 minutes on Wednesday," McGee said. "Then he went to work and he came home with a 103-degree temperature. We need to have Eric well for the region meet."

The Rams' number three and four runners most of the season have been Scott Plyler and Paul Evans and McGee is looking for personal bests from them Saturday along with Anthony Surles, Dominick Rundle and Peter Schoemann.

"If all seven guys go in, concentrate and run competitively, we have a chance of qualifying for state," McGee said. "They have to run better than last week, particularly in the first half of the race."

While Lake Mary is looking to return to the state meet after falling short a year ago, Lake Howell's Silver Hawks are looking for their second straight state berth. The Hawks' chances hinge heavily on the condition of senior Chuck Buster, who was noticeably ill in the district meet this past Saturday when he finished 23rd.

"He (Buster) is still a little sick," Lake Howell coach Joe Corso said. "He saw the doctor Wednesday and got the okay to run Saturday. If he was well in the district, he would have been in strong contention for second place."

With Buster at or close to 100 percent, the Hawks have a solid chance at qualifying provided seniors Jeff Van Buskirk and Steve Steffy, junior Luis Caban, sophomore Kavan Howell and freshman Jason Springhart also turn in good times.

Lyman will be without its number two runner in Nick Radkewich who will be competing in the district swim meet, but coach Fred Finke still believes his team can qualify. Lyman has one of the top runners in the region in junior Robin Rogers while senior Mike Mohler, freshman Teddy Mitchell and sophomore Darren Marshall compose a tough top four. The key for Lyman will be to have its number five and six runners, junior Kevin Quinn and senior Tom Hansing, to move up in the pack.

Should Lyman grab one of the top four spots, the Greyhounds will be in position to finish high in the state meet as Radkewich will be able to run.

The top two team going into the region meet are district winners Melbourne Palm Bay and Winter Park. Palm Bay has the region's top-ranked individual in Angelo Bonarrigo while

Cross Country

Winter Park's Ken Gamber won his district. Also looking for a qualifying spot are Orlando Colonial and Orlando Boone.

"Palm Bay usually looks good early in the season, but gets flat near the end," McGee said. "That's what happened last year and it looks like it's starting again this year. Winter Park came on strong next week and they look good but nobody has a lock on a state berth. There are too many capable teams in this region."

GIBSON'S PLAN: QUALIFY

Lake Mary's Lady Rams finished fifth in the district and only four teams qualify for state. But coach Mike Gibson feels the Lady Rams have a shot at finishing in the top four at Saturday's 4A-3 Region meet at John Prince Park in Lake Worth.

"It will be called pulling one out of the hat, but, if the research I have done pays off and the girls run their best times, we will be at the state meet," Gibson said.

Gibson said his team could finish as high as third if every runner turns in her personal best. Lake Howell and Winter Park will most likely have a lock on the first two berths while the second two will be up for grabs between Lake Mary, Lyman, West Orange, Boca Raton Spanish River and Lantana Santaluces.

"The other teams think we're out of the picture so we'll go unnoticed," Gibson said. "But three years ago we were fifth in the district and came in fourth at the region and we hope to do the same again this year."

Lake Mary qualify depends a lot on how senior Sue Kingsbury performs. Kingsbury has not practiced this week due to a recurring hip injury but she stays in shape by riding a bicycle. If Kingsbury runs her best, it would set the stage for the rest of the team.

Newcomer Christine Adamson strengthens the Lady Rams chances. Adamson was the number two runner at district. Heather Heikkila, a junior, fell from her usual number two spot to run fourth last week, but she is capable of staying close to Kingsbury. Freshman Allison Snell has been a tremendous help to Lake Mary in 1986 and her steady improvement is a big reason Lake Mary is in the region meet.

Another key for the Lady Rams will be the performances of number five runner Lisa Shelby, number six Tabatha Gano and number seven Debi Smith. Any one or more of those three could come up with a surprising effort that could give the Lady Rams the extra boost they need.

Unless there's a key injury or unforeseen let down, Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks are odds on favorite to qualify for their fourth consecutive state meet. Lake Howell has an outstanding pack of runners that usually bunches up among the top 15 or 20 to make the Lady Hawks hard to beat.

Seniors Lisa Samocki and Martha Fonseca can run with anyone in the state while senior Mary Fonseca, sophomores Jenny and Tammy Bolt and Michelle Lee and junior Bonnie Oliver give Lake Howell a solid top seven.

Lake Howell's biggest challenge will once again come from defending state champion Winter Park. The Lady Wildcats have the individual favorite in senior Kim Bowls, the two-time defending state champion. Janice Wilder and Mary Glasgow give the Lady 'Cats a strong top three.

Lyman High's chances faded a bit with the loss of Lyn Gomezperalta but the Lady Greyhounds are still in the running led by senior Julie Greenberg and junior Tracy Fisher. The key will be how far up Tara Braheny, Adele Portnoy and Lori Jones can move.

Pacer Person Gives Hope To Indiana

United Press International

The Indiana Pacers, for years a team with no hope, finally have promise for the future: Chuck Person.

Thursday night, the New Jersey Nets got an annoying glimpse.

Person, the Pacers' top choice and fourth overall in the June draft, demonstrated the resiliency of youth and the poise of a veteran. The 6-foot-8, 225-pound honorable-mention All-America selection from Auburn went scoreless through the first three periods, then sent the game into overtime with a 3-point basket.

Wayman Tisdale scored four of his 24 points in overtime, and Indiana overcame New Jersey 120-117 for its first road victory in four attempts this season.

"I like shooting the ball in crunch time," Person said. "You can't be hesitant and still have the confidence to make a shot like that. I think I make it from the parking lot. If it didn't fall, it's New Jersey's game."

Basketball

Person's 3-point basket from the right corner tied the score 110-110 with 48 seconds left in regulation. The Pacers took their first lead since early in the first quarter at 102-101 behind a basket by Person.

The rookie forward finished with 17 points in the fourth period and 13 for the night. Indiana overcame an 88-83 deficit at the start of the final period.

"The character of this team is not to give up," Pacers Coach Jack Ramsay said. "We needed this first road win. We have had a tough early season, and this is definitely a booster."

John Long finished with 26 points for Indiana as eight Pacers finished in double figures. New Jersey was led by Orlando Woolridge with 30 points. Mike Gminski with 25 points and Buck Williams with 23 points and 20 rebounds.

"I wanted to prove to myself and to others I can play in the NBA," Tisdale said. "It seems like I fall apart against New Jersey, but I have to hang tough."

Nets center Darryl Dawkins slipped in the shower at home and did not play.

In other games, San Antonio thumped Cleveland 115-102. Utah pounded the Los Angeles Clippers 130-113, and Golden State topped Philadelphia 112-104.

Spurs 118, Cavs 102
At San Antonio, Mychal Thompson scored 23 points Thursday night to lead San Antonio to its 600th franchise victory, snapping the Spurs' three-game losing streak. Mike Mitchell added 19 for San Antonio. Ron Harper led the Cavaliers with 20, and Mark West added 19.

Jazz 130, Clippers 113
At Salt Lake City, Karl Malone totaled 19 points and 10 rebounds, and Bob Hansen added 17 points to lift Utah to its fourth home victory. Utah, fueled by Mark Eaton's 3 blocked shots and a pair of steals by Rickey Green, scored the game's first 13 points and had eight players in double figures.

Warriors 112, Sixers 104
At Oakland, Calif., Purvis Short scored 34 points to help Golden State snap the 76ers' four-game winning streak. Larry Smith pulled down 19 rebounds, and scored all his 11 points in the third quarter while the Warriors were outshooting the Sixers 34-23.

UPI: Valentine's Day Comes Early

United Press International

Instead of being an automatic preseason selection for last place next season, the Texas Rangers will likely be the choice of some to win the American League West — which is the way Bobby Valentine wants it.

"I like high expectations," the Rangers manager said. "I always demand high performances from my players and we met every challenge last year except one."

"Perhaps we were not prepared to meet that challenge, but hopefully we will be better prepared next season."

Valentine will embark on next year's campaign as the 1986 American League manager of the year as selected by United Press International.

He was chosen by a panel of 24 UPI baseball correspondents in narrow balloting over Boston's John McNamara. Valentine received nine votes, McNamara eight, California's Gene Mauch four, Toronto's Jimmy Wilyams two and Cleveland's Pat Corrales one.

Valentine was selected for helping lead one of baseball's traditionally poor franchises into pennant contending status in a single year.

Texas won 87 games, 25 more than it did the previous year, making the Rangers the most improved team in the majors.

Baseball

The Rangers spent the early portion of the season in first place, finished five games behind the division-winning California Angels and recorded their largest attendance figures since the franchise came to Texas in 1972.

DOC SUSPENDS SUTTER
ATLANTA (UPI) — Atlanta Braves reliever Bruce Sutter has been told to suspend his rehabilitation program for at least three months, an order that will likely force him to miss the start of the 1987 season.

Dr. Larry Johnson, who operated on Sutter's torn rotator cuff in Michigan three months ago, examined the pitcher this week. He said he noticed improvement in a damaged nerve ending and the torn rotator cuff, but suggested Sutter stop his workouts designed to get the arm back into shape.

Johnson recommended Sutter has been overly anxious in his training and would be better served by slowing down.

Sutter probably won't throw again until March and he will likely miss the opening of the season April 7.

"We read it as a guy coming along fairly well," Braves General Manager Bobby Cox said. "We were hoping for better but didn't want to see anything worse."

Cox said the Braves still hope to have Sutter back by early April.

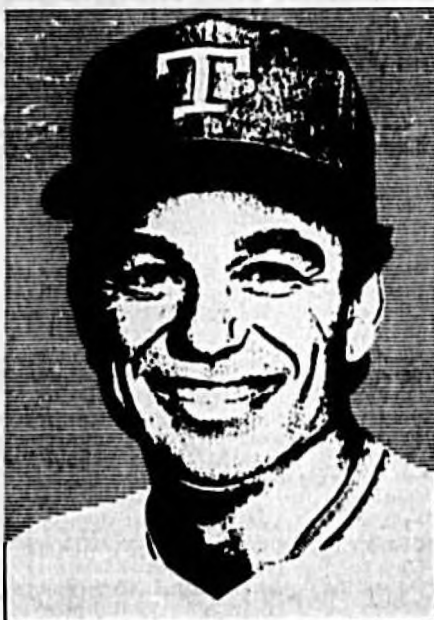

Sutter's situation was a key factor in Atlanta picking up their option on reliever Gene Garber, who saved 24 games last season.

In another development, Dick Moss, the agent for Chris Chambliss, said the veteran first baseman plans to leave Atlanta next season now that Ted Simmons has signed with the Braves.

Chambliss set a club record with 20 pinch-hits in 1986, but had a cold bat in the second half of the season. The Braves prefer Simmons because he has more power and can play more than one position.

HOYT MAY GO TO JAIL
SAN DIEGO (UPI) — San Diego Padres right-hander LaMarr Hoyt faces the prospect of becoming the first active baseball player to be jailed since three Kansas City Royals were imprisoned on drug charges in 1984.

missal of felony charges. He will undergo drug testing once a week until he is sentenced Dec. 16. The pitcher agreed to forfeit his 1986 Porsche and spend from 60 days to a year in custody. He was also fined $2,000.

Hoyt, who posted an 8-11 record last year, is expected to begin his jail term in January, so he could join the Padres during spring training, depending on the length of his term.

Barberry's Void Opens Chute For Robust Hanover

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (UPI) — The early retirement of Barberry Spur was supposed to make the $543,850 Breeders Crown 3-year-old Colt Pace at Garden State Park tonight a wide-open affair, but it could result in a victory for Robust Hanover.

Spur's retirement with a pulled suspensory ligament enabled trainer Lofly Bruce to hire Bill O'Donnell, the nation's second-leading driver, for Robust Hanover. Bruce thinks his coup might give his colt, the 8-5 second choice, the edge he needs to defeat his eight talented challengers.

Lyman Waits For Offense Vs. Satellite

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer
LONGWOOD — It's the 10th week of the football season, but it's still the same old question for Lyman's Greyhounds: When will the offense get it in gear?

Coach Bill Scott's Greyhounds, who have relied on an excellent defense to post a 4-4 record, are now minus their top two quarterbacks, Darren Boyesen (injury) and John Burton (academic problems), for the season.

With Boyesen and Burton at the controls, Lyman accounted for 38 points on offense. The 'Hounds have been in double figures point-wise just twice (19 against Oviedo and 14 against against Lake Brantley). Twice, nevertheless, they have won scoring just three (Seminole) and seven (Orlando Boone) points.

With Boyesen and Burton gone, Scott has turned the controls over to sophomore Steve Jerry and junior Scott Radcliff. Jerry went the distance against Lake Howell last week and took a beating. Radcliff was shaken up early in the game and Scott opted to hold his versatile junior back until this week.

Scott is the first to admit the problem on offense has been a total lack of execution. "We just haven't been getting a total effort from our players," Scott said. "It has been a lack of concentration and execution."

"Tonight, the Greyhounds will try to get the offense going again as Lyman will travel to Satellite Beach for a nonconference, nondistrict battle with 2-6 Satellite High.

Scott said that Satellite presents a number of different problems. "They are a very sound defensive football team," Scott said. "They are a young team with good size and speed. We are going to have our hands full."

Last week, Lyman was totally manhandled by Lake Howell in the Silver Hawks 25-0 win. "Lake Howell is a heck of a football team," Scott said. "They totally shut us down."

To say that Howell shut down Lyman is an understatement. Lyman could manage just 40 yards total offense and two first downs — much to the dismay of Scott. "They dominated the line," Scott said. "We were overpowered in every way."

"Jerry played well in his debut last week, according to Scott. "Considering that it was his first start and our opponent, I think he did a heck of a job," Scott said. "After the game he got to meet a few bags of ice very well."

Scott said that either Jerry or defensive back Radcliff would start at QB this week. "They are both working at it," Scott said. "We would of liked to have played Scott some last week but he was too banged up. We'll make a decision at game time. There's a lot of pressure on Scott because he does so many things for us," Radcliff also punts and place kicks.

Scott said that if some of the players don't perform well this week, he won't hesitate to put somebody else in. "If they can't play well after nine weeks we'll try someone else," Scott said. "We will give the younger kids and back-ups a chance if that's what it will take to win."

Even though Lyman is 4-4 and out of the district and conference races, the availability of a bowl bid is still possible, according to Scott. "This is really a big game for us," Scott explained. "If we win our last two games we should be in contention for a bowl game."

Even though the game has no bearing on the district or conference standings, Scott said that there are still a number of different incentives for players.

"A lot of the kids on our team think they can play college ball," Scott said. "This game will also be played for pride. For the seniors, it is one of their final games ever."

The Lyman defense has played well all year. Lyman possesses the county's leading tackler in linebacker Benny Glenn. Glenn is averaging 16 tackles a game. Scott King is fourth in the county with 12 stops a game. Radcliff is 10th with 10 tackles a game.

The Lyman defensive stats are impressive, but since the 'Hounds have so many tackles it can mean only one thing: The defense has been on the field most of the time for Lyman.

"We need to pick up the offense this week," Scott said. "Losing Darren and John really hurt us but we'll have to deal with it."

Tailback Robert Thomas is fourth in the county with 636 yards rushing last year. The workhorse a year ago, has shared the load with running mates Ira Melton and Vic Farris this fall.

Lake Mary fullback Tom Kothera lunges for an extra yard as Lake Brantley defensive tackle Randy Green, left, tries to dislodge the football. Lake Mary travels to Orlando to play Boone and Brantley journeys to Lake Howell in prep football action tonight.

...Oviedo

schedules in the state, losing to top-ranked Merritt Island and third-ranked Gainesville Buchholz. Titusville also faced Astronaut, Seabreeze and Seminole.

The Oviedo defense has played well all year. The Lions are coming off a 23-0 win over Cocoa Beach. The week before, Oviedo held Seminole to just seven points, which came on a blocked punt in the end zone.

"After we lost to Lyman and Lake Mary we made some adjustments," Blanton said. "When we beat Seminole, the team began to pull together."

The Lion defense is led by linebackers Jeff Joyce (11 tackles a game) and Willie Pauldo (9 tackles a game). "The defense has been really tough," Blanton said.

The Oviedo secondary, however, will be hurting tonight as two starters will be gone for the rest of the season. Donnie Hayes will be out since his appendix was recently removed and Karl Wright because he is academically ineligible.

"Losing those two guys certainly doesn't help us any,"

Blanton said. "But we'll do the best we can without them."

The Oviedo offense is beginning to jell. "After eight games, they are finally playing as a unit," Blanton said. "Our offense line has improved every game and that has opened things up for Willie (Galney)."

Galney has had a fine year as he is second in the SAC rushing race. Galney has rushed for 730 yards.

"Our team is on the upswing right now," Blanton said. "The team is happy but not satisfied. If we could win these two last games it would put a cap on a fine season."

Rams Tackle Boone; Await DeLand-Creek Result For 5A-4 Fate

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

While Lake Mary's playoff hopes hinge on a game being played in DeLand, Harry Nelson's team and its attention will be directed toward Boone's Braves. The Rams take a 5-3 record and four-game winning streak to Orlando tonight to take on the winless (0-8) Braves.

Meanwhile, in DeLand, the host Bulldogs take on Spruce Creek in a game that will decide the fate of District 5A-4. If DeLand wins, it wins the district. If Spruce Creek wins, it could set up a three-way tie between DeLand, Spruce Creek and defending champion Lake Mary.

Provided the Rams beat Lyman next Friday, if the Creek wins and Lake Mary loses to Lyman, Spruce Creek wins the district.

Nelson said he will send someone to scout the game in DeLand, but his main concern is Boone.

"My mind is always on the field," Nelson said. "If they put 10 guys out there, I'm a little less worried. When they put 11 on, though, that's when I get really worried."

Although Boone is without a win and Lake Mary is a 20-point favorite in the Dunkel Index, Nelson said the Rams won't take the Braves for granted.

"They (Boone) play fairly good defense and they've got a good quarterback and fullback," Nelson said. "They don't look awesomely big like some of the teams in Orange County but they're not a bad team and that probably comes from playing against a lot of good ballclubs."

Lake Mary has come into its own offensively the past two weeks after being carried by its defense in two previous wins. Nelson hopes to add more quickness to the backfield with sophomore Ray Williams moving up from junior varsity into the varsity starting lineup.

Williams will join leading rusher John Curry and Richard Burkett in the Rams' backfield.

Football

Curry Miller

Hartsfield will start his fourth game at quarterback for the Rams against the Braves. In three games, the promising sophomore has completed four passes for 95 yards. All four have gone to junior Sheldon Richards who is second in Seminole County in receiving with 19 for 231 yards.

Lake Mary returned to its big-play potential in last week's 21-7 victory over Lake Brantley's Patriots. Lake Mary got a long TD run by Curry, an interception return by defensive back Terry "The Cat" Miller and a fumble recovery in the end zone by linebacker Mike Smith. Defensive lineman Scott Keller made the hit on Brantley quarterback Greg Ebbert that forced the fumble which Smith recovered.

Defensively, the Rams have given up 78 points in eight games for an average of 9.75 per game. Lake Mary's top tacklers include Smith (11.5 per game), linebacker Lance Stewart (10.2) and lineman Steve Arthur (8.1). Keller is tied for second in county with four quarterback sacks while Brett Grocke has three sacks and Smith has two sacks and two recoveries. Richards leads the county with six interceptions.

Nelson said last week this was a "team of destiny" and feels Spruce Creek can beat DeLand tonight.

"I think they (Creek) have good chance of beating DeLand," Nelson said. "DeLand lost some key kids to grades or injuries. Spruce Creek has a tough defense and gave us all we wanted."

5A-5. Lake Howell, Apopka, and Winter Park are all 3-1 in district play. Howell is hoping that there will be a three-way tie in the district.

Here is what has to happen: Lake Howell has to beat Brantley. If Howell loses they can forget about the playoffs. If Apopka loses to West Orange on Friday there will be a tie. If Apopka wins and Winter Park beats Evans on Friday there will also be a tie. If there would be a tie, the three teams would play a tiebreaker on Nov. 24.

In addition, a victory tonight would wrap up the Seminole Athletic Conference championship. The Hawks are 3-0 with just Brantley and Oviedo to play. All other SAC teams except Lyman have at least two losses. Lyman, 3-1, lost to Lake Howell.

"We are taking things one step at a time," the mild-mannered Blaceglia said. "Our chief concern is beating Lake Brantley. Hopefully everything else will fall into place. They are a good football team even though their record doesn't reflect it."

Brantley coach Fred Almon, who has had about as much luck as a surfer in a snowstorm, realizes that his Patriots will face a monumental task when they face the larger Hawks.

"They are the best team in the district. I figured at the start of the season that they would be," Almon said. "In order for us to win, they are going to have to play their worst game of the year and we are going to have to play our absolute best."

Almon said that if he was Blaceglia, he wouldn't take Brantley lightly. "If I were in his (Blaceglia's) shoes," Almon said. "I wouldn't take anything for granted. They are the best football team that we will face all year and we have seen some good teams."

Almon went on to say that the key to the Howell offense is the balance. "They have a pair of great running backs (Nate Hoskins and Cornel Rigby)," Almon said. "They also have a kid that can throw the football (Mark Wainwright). Their offensive line speaks for itself."

The Howell offensive leaders lead the county in just about every category. Hoskins leads the SAC in rushing as he has run for 835 yards. Hoskins is tied with Lake Mary's John Curry in touchdowns with eight.

Rigby has not taken a back seat as he is fifth in the county with 816 yards and is second with seven touchdowns.

"Last year we shut their running game down pretty well," Almon said. "But they were a younger team last year. This year they are much more mature."

In a year where passing has been a rarity in the county, Wainwright leads the county in throwing with 425 yards and three touchdowns. Since the Howell running game has been so potent, Wainwright has not had to throw the ball very often.

Interestingly, Wainwright leads Lake Brantley's Greg Ebbert by just two yards (425-423). Almon said, however, that Jason Lanham would be getting the start this week.

"We are going to go with Jason," Almon said. "He did a good job last week."

Last week Brantley lost to Lake Mary, 21-7. Ebbert threw a pair of early interceptions, one of which was run back for a touchdown. Ebbert, in his first year of football, has been picked off six times this season. Lanham is third in the SAC with 256 yards.

The Patriot running game has come alive in the past few games as fullback Mark Sepe (330 yards) and tailback Johnnie Griffin (384 yards) have played well. "I have a lot of respect for those two kids," Blaceglia said. "They are both aggressive football players that we have to stop."

Griffin may miss the game, though, according to Almon. "He skipped one day of practice," Almon said. "Our policy is that if you don't practice, you don't play. Johnnie will have to make up what he missed if he expects to play."

Almon said that he is not about to give up on the season. "I'm going to bow my head and get tougher," Almon said. "This program needs a win in the worst kind of way." Brantley has lost 16 out of its last 17 games with the only victory coming over Lake Howell last year.

"Our kids are still working very hard," Almon said. "It would not be impossible for us to upset them. If we eliminate the crucial mistakes that we have made, we could win. Against Lake Mary we won three quarters of the game but we gave them 21 quick points on our mistakes."

"I hope that things will finally go our way on Friday," he added.

Violets One Of Africa's Most Treasured Gifts

Africa has given us many things, ranging from beautiful diamonds to fascinating wild animals. And it is the home of one of our most popular house plants — the African violet! These attractive plants easily adapt to conditions in our homes.

Like all plants, African violets need the proper growing conditions to prosper and flower normally. You must consider light and humidity for leaf growth, soil moisture and drainage for root growth and temperature and plant nutrients for growth of the whole plant.

Too much light can be just as bad as too little. If you know what to look for, you can spot the effects of improper lighting before serious problems result. When African violet plants don't get enough light, the leaves may be thinner and a darker shade of green. Under low light, your plants may grow quite well, as well as leaf color and flowering. If they get too much light, the leaves will turn a pale, yellowish green and flowering decreases.

To keep the plant healthy and flowering freely, they should get about 8-12 hours of light per day. Try setting your plants near north or east windows, but don't expose them to direct sunlight. Light strong enough to cast a shadow should be sufficient. Plants growing near windows need to be rotated occasionally to maintain an even plant growth.

African violets will tolerate the relatively dry air found in most homes, but they prefer a fairly high humidity. To maintain the humidity around your plants, set them on a layer of pebbles in a shallow, watertight metal or plastic tray. Add water around,

Alfred Bosseson
 Urban Horticulturist
 323-2500
 Ext. 161

not over, the pebbles. As the water evaporates, it will raise the humidity around the plants. Add water as needed, but not enough to contact the bottom of the pots. This could cause the soil to become waterlogged, resulting in root damage.

Like humidity, temperature varies from home to home and season to season. African violets grow best when the night temperature is 65°F-70°F, but they'll withstand a range from 60°F-80°F. Long exposure to temperatures above 80°F will reduce growth and flowering. During such periods, put your plants in the coolest spot you can find, or in an air-conditioned room.

Poorly-drained soil is just about the most common cause of the slow growth of African violets. Good drainage is the most important consideration in choosing a potting soil. You want a loose, light and porous mixture. You can purchase ready-mixed African violet soil at your favorite garden supply center or you can mix your own. The best mix is equal parts of soil, sphagnum peat moss and horticultural grade perlite. Half and half mixtures of only sphagnum peat moss and perlite will also support excellent African violet growth.

Most store-bought potting mixes have been "sterilized." If you mix your own, you can "sterilize" it by slightly moistening the mixture, then heating it in your oven at 180°F. for 30 minutes. Clay pots can be treated like soil — in the oven. Plastic pots can be cleaned with a weak solution of household bleach.

Like all plants' roots, the roots of African violets must have the right amounts of air and water. To maintain this balance, you must use a porous, well-drained potting mixture. After you water thoroughly, you should let all the excess water drain from the bottom of the pot. Plants in clay pots require more frequent watering than those in plastic pots. Decorative glaze pots without drainage holes are generally unsatisfactory.

African violets can be watered from the top or bottom. Either way, the water should be room temperature. As a rule, water each time the soil surface feels dry, but before it becomes hard or the plants wilt. With African violets, too much water causes trouble more often than too little.

Some folks use a wick-watering system for their African violets. This works on the same principle as oil lamps. Water is kept in a reservoir and is soaked up by a wick that leads into the soil around the roots of the plant above. You can buy wick-watering pots or you can make your own, using ordinary clay pots held over a water reservoir made out of something like a cottage cheese container.

Commercial wick pots usually have fiberglass wicks. You can buy these separately from your garden supply store or make your own from strips of old nylon stockings. Use a wick about 6 inches long, threading half of it through a drainage hole in the bottom of the pot. Then add your soil mix on top of the wick and set the plant in the normal fashion. Run the other end of the wick into the reservoir below, making sure the pot is not sitting in the water. Water the plant from the top the first time to get the system working. Watch the plant for a few days to see how often you'll need to add water to the reservoir. Clean the reservoir about once a month to reduce the chance of plant disease infection.

African violets prefer frequent plant food applications. You can feed with each watering, using about ¼ the of fertilizer recommended on the label — be very careful not to overfeed.

Remember, keep the soil moderately moist and well-aerated, keep cold water off the leaves and keep the crown (the part of the plant where all of the leaf stems grow) as dry as possible. Be sure you use pots with drainage holes to prevent root rotting and fertilizer buildup in the soil.

Happy gardening!

Living Will Gives Terminally Ill Right To Die With Dignity

DEAR ABBY: I clipped this letter from your column in the Atlanta Constitution several years ago:

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for helping to get the Living Will legalized in Georgia. It's long overdue.

I stood by helplessly and had to watch my terminally ill mother suffer for months when she begged to die. She was in her 90s and had always been such a proud and independent woman. How I wished I could have disconnected all those machines that kept her alive long after her life held any meaning.

Yesterday I went to an antique shop and asked the owner if I could come in and browse. She said, "Please come back later — we are just about to take Fil to the vet to be put to sleep." In her arms she held a beautiful little white poodle with a bright pink ribbon in her hair. Her nails were painted matching pink.

The woman said, "Fil is very old. She's incontinent, lame and nearly blind. The vet said she should be put out of her misery." (Lucky dog!)

Abby, I agree with you. We all have a right to die with dignity. I for one will never go to a nursing home where people are alive, but not living. I don't want my grown children to say, "You go to see Mama this Sunday. I went last week."

RUTH IN ATLANTA

I stuck it in my stationery box to remind me to write for a Living Will — the document a person signs to prevent the doctors from hooking him up to life support machines when there is no hope for his recovery. Of course I never did send for a Living Will and now I don't even know how to get one.

Please tell me where I write and how much it costs. Thanks from an Arizona procrastinator. Sign me...

MARTY IN TUCSON

DEAR MARTY: You can obtain the Living Will by writing to: Society for the Right to Die, 250 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10107. Please include a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Society for the Right to Die is a non-profit organization. It does not charge for Living Wills, but in order to cover the cost of my documents, I sent a check for $10 requesting five documents.

In my view, it's the best investment in peace of mind I've ever made.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a contry girl, 18 years old, and work as a clerk in a nice department store. For some time I have been visited at my counter by a bald but handsome well-dressed gentleman who is considerably older than me. At different times he has told me that he is divorced with young children, a college graduate and a veteran of the Korean War. He has aksed several times if he could take me to Atlantic City. So far I have refused.

Quite by accident I found out that my suitor is still married with grown children and he's a grandfather. He's never been to college and is a veterian of World War II. I am very much attracted to him, but something tells me not to see him outside the store. I've never been to Atlantic City and I'd like to see it. Should I go? And why did he lie to me?

COUNTRY GIRL IN SYRACUSE

DEAR COUNTRY GIRL: The something that tells you not to see him outside the store is "good judgment." He lied to you because he wants you to believe he's younger and also available — which he is not. Find another way to see Atlantic City, and tell your "suitor" you're in the store to sell — not buy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BORN AGAIN IN NORTH CAROLINA: No one said it better than Harry Emerson Fosdick: "Vital religion is like good music. It needs no defense, only rendition. A wrangling controversy in support of religion is as if the members of the orchestra should beat the folks over the head with their violins to prove that the music is beautiful."

Stocks Open Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which fell 31.50 Thursday, was down 1.40 to 1860.80 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 306-293 among the 922 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 10,425,000 shares.

The stock market fell sharply in active trading Thursday, hurt by futures-related selling.

"When the futures went to a discount, the arbitrageurs hit the market with unrelenting sell programs," said Alfred Goldman, stock market strategist at A.G. Edwards & Sons.

Traders said the Dow's week-long unsuccessful struggle to climb above 1900 contributed to the more negative sentiment. A sharp decline in IBM also scared traders, Goldman said.

"Sellers came in, found the buyers hiding in the corners, and it became a one-way street to the downside," said Goldman.

"The market's been struggling for the past week, and gains came grudgingly," said Hildegard Zagorski, market analyst at Prudential-Bache Securities. "You had a feeling that one of these days it would start sliding."

Gold Moves Up; Dollar Declines

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar moved lower on major world money markets today. The price of gold moved higher.

In Tokyo the dollar closed out the week fractionally lower against the Japanese yen in slow trading, at 161.57 yen, down 0.08 from Thursday's close of 161.65.

Dealers at major foreign exchange banks said trading was slow with most traders refraining from taking large positions ahead of the release of U.S. retail sales.

The Commerce Department reported retail sales fell a record 5 percent in October.

In European trading the dollar opened lower in Frankfurt at 2.0145 German marks, compared with Thursday's close of 2.022.

In Zurich the dollar opened at 1.674 Swiss francs, against 1.6753; in Paris at 6.5975

French francs, against 6.6170.

The dollar opened in Amsterdam at 2.2750 Dutch guilders, against 2.284; and in Milan at 1,394.625 lire, against a previous close of 1,399.50.

In London, the pound sterling opened at $1.428, against Thursday's close of $1.4245.

In New York the dollar was mixed in light trading against major foreign currencies. Dealers in New York noted they had expected a 4 to 5 percent drop in the nation's retail sales.

Gold closed out the week at $408.35 an ounce on the Hong Kong Bullion Exchange, up $2.10 from Thursday's close.

Gold opened higher in Zurich at $408.50 per troy ounce, against Thursday's close of $407.50; and in London at $408.50 per troy ounce, against a previous close of $407.25.

The morning fixing in London was $409, up $1.75 from Thursday's close.

October Retail Sales Plunge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retail sales plunged a record 5 percent in October — the first sales drop in six months — as Americans put the brakes on car buying, the Commerce Department said today.

Auto sales dipped 18.8 percent from the level reached in September, when they rose a record 22.3 percent, mostly due to low financing charges, according to revised figures.

Without the auto category, sales would have risen 0.2 percent in October.

The decline, which follows six months of increases, is the biggest on record, the department said. The last comparable dip was in October 1985, when sales fell 3 percent.

The figures are adjusted for seasonal differences.

Sales for the month — the first decline after six months of increases — totaled $121.6 billion, up 5.8 percent over October 1985.

The adjusted figures show that September sales stood at 5.3 percent, even better than the 4.3 percent first reported.

She said privately owned land and state-owned land also should be considered.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said he agreed that a parcel from a private land owner should be considered if a donation can be found.

He said the property at Five Points should be used for expanding county facilities and that he had opposed the county permitting some of its land for use by the Humane Society there.

He said he builds miniature furnished rooms and donates them to the gift shop at the Village. The proceeds from gift shop sales go to buy things for the patients in the medical center that aren't furnished, he said.

The Hobby Show, sponsored by the Seminole County Extension Homemakers was held through Thursday afternoon at city hall and included diverse displays including a goad clown, handpainted toilet seat, miniature oriental carpets made of dental floss, a ceramic manger scene, twirling windcatchers made of plastic bottles, and life-size Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy dolls.

WORLD IN BRIEF

OAS Meeting Suspended After Row Over Resolution

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — Delegates of the Organization of American States suspended their meeting after they failed to agree on a draft resolution for peace in Central America.

The draft was presented by foreign ministers of the Contadora Group — Mexico, Colombia, Venezuela and Panama — and representatives from the Organization of American States.

The disagreement broke out in the Thursday afternoon session of the 16th annual meeting of the 31-nation Organization of American States, when Honduras and Costa Rica refused to sign the draft, submitted to bring about "the establishment of democracy" in Central America and an end to bitter regional fighting.

IRA Fugitives To Be Extradited

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (UPI) — The Netherlands has given its final approval to the extradition of two Irish Republican Army fugitives to Northern Ireland after an 11-month legal battle, a Justice Ministry spokeswoman said today.

The suspects' lawyer immediately vowed to take their case to Europe's highest court, the European Court of Human Rights, in a final effort to block their return to Belfast's Maze Prison.

Dutch Justice State Secretary Virginia Korte approved the British extradition request for Brendan McFarlane and Gerard Kelly on Thursday, Justice Ministry spokeswoman Toos Faber said.

One Dead In Soweto Violence

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — The government said today one person was killed and two others wounded by police firing at crowds of black radicals in separate clashes in the Johannesburg township of Soweto.

The killings Thursday raised the death toll to at least 334 in racial and political violence since President Pieter Botha imposed emergency rule on June 12.

The Bureau of information said one person was killed and another was wounded when a black traffic officer fired at about 60 people who threw stones and fired shots at his home.

Iranian Chief Contradicts Reagan

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Iranian President Ali Khamenei today denied Iran and the United States have held secret discussions for the past 18 months, the state-owned Iranian news agency IRNA said.

Khamenei was responding to remarks by President Reagan in a nationally televised address Thursday night in which he disclosed details of a secret 18-month program aimed at winning favor with moderate factions in Iran.

going to rule out all others," Mercer said. "If that's the case we're circumventing all others and if that's true, I'm not sure this is the true bidding process."

Public Works Director Bob Kelly said the department had not slanted the bids, but did eye cost savings through "standardization" of its truck fleet and in-house repair parts. He said the department has a number of Transtat models, is "very satisfied" with their performance, and that the company's Orlando location also makes it easy to secure replacement parts.

Kelly's comments came after the vendor whose models were not recommended for purchase said they met the bid specifications and would cost the city $9,000 less than the Transtat trucks.

Kelly disagreed, saying the vendor's trucks did not meet specifications which required a high level of compaction ability and that parts and service be available within a 40 mile radius of the city.

Commissioners approved the phone system transfer Monday and asked city council to look into whether a $5,118 "buy out cost" must be paid AT&T. The company's divestiture and noncommittal responses when questioned about the fee prompted Police Chief Steve Harriet to question whether the city is legally bound to the payment.

AT&T charges Sanford $1,186 a month for police department phone service, while the new Jarvis Company system will cost $963.99 a month. Additionally, the Jarvis system offers more service capabilities, a necessity for the expanding police department, Harriet said.

...Tools

"You can feel these things. You can see the age in a tool and you can feel it in the patina of a well worn, well used tool, not one that just sat on the shelf. When you use an old tool you can almost feel somebody else there with you.

"Many antique tools are handmade. The craftsmen made their own tools to do a certain job. And craftsmen always like to put their names on things. When you get a fine old tool and it has somebody's name on it you wonder who it is. A lot of times you can research back and learn who that person was.

"Even with commercial tools you become a little involved. You find out about the history of the company and where it was and who might have had the tools," Kopec said.

Antiques collector and dealer Henry Lentrup, 73, of Winter Park, said in recent years the Stanley Tool Co., which has been in business since 1870, was the focus of a lot of interest by collectors.

Some of that interest in Stanley tools has slackened, Lentrup said, but the interest in old tools remains strong, with tools ranging in price from one dollar into the thousands.

"They're decorative.

They're useful. Think about the history of these tools," Lentrup said.

"They demonstrate our history. In fact they are the tools that built our country."

Lentrup appreciates the quality of workmanship and the way they perform their duty.

Kopec, who has filled his home with handcrafted Queen Anne and Chippendale reproductions and who has also made four or five housefuls of furniture in styles from American pilgrim days to modern self-designs, said there's no tools like the old tools.

At 40, Kopec, who has been a woodworker for about 20 years, said they don't make tools like they use to. As styles and lifestyles have changed and with speedy production and plastic replacing handcarvings and wood, the tools needed for old-time quality have been set aside.

But now, with an upsurge of interest in craftsmanship, which can only be achieved to a great degree with the old specialized tools, woodworkers are snapping up the old tools.

However in the market place of flea markets and antiques dealers the craftsmen compete for the tools with collectors who want them as decorative items and for sentimental value.

"Probably the vast majority of good, antique tools are in the possession of people who have them as keepsakes, family heirlooms," he said. "They don't use them other than to put them on the shelf and say, 'My grandfather owned this.'"

He too prizes, but uses tools handed down from his grandfather. "No, he wasn't a carpenter, and neither was my father," Kopec said. "But it was a way of life. When my grandfather was alive using tools on the farm was a way of life. They repaired their own farm vehicles. They built things on the farm for themselves.

"All farmers had tools. All farmers knew how to use tools. The kids know how to use tools mainly because they simply had to make everything themselves. They may not have had the quality that we would want to have in our livingrooms, but never the less they had the tools."

And some of the tools they had live on today, called back to duty by craftsmen or holding a place in the hearts of collectors who have an eye on the past.

Huston Sees Red Over 'The Maltese Falcon'

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Director John Huston, livid after watching a few minutes of the colorized version of his classic black-and-white film, "The Maltese Falcon," bitterly criticized the process, and said he felt like a parent whose child had been sold into white slavery.

Sitting in a wheelchair and breathing with the help of an oxygen device because of emphysema, the 80-year-old Oscar-winning director told reporters Thursday he could only rear to watch about seven minutes of the premiere of his film in its color incarnation on Ted Turner's super station.

"Last night I looked for as long as I could bear at a colorized print of 'The Maltese Falcon,'" said Huston, who was flanked by fellow directors Peter Bogdanovich, Richard Brooks and Arthur Hiller at a news conference at the Directors Guild of America.

"I asked myself if such an example of mindless insipidity is worthy of our attention in this threatened world — a world beset by terrorists. The answer of course is 'most certainly,' for it is mindlessness in the first place which allows for the assaults of the crazed zealots and falsifying politicians."

Huston said directors whose black-and-white films have been colorized feel like parents whose children are being sold into white slavery and abused.

Museum Displays Man's First Artworks

NEW YORK (UPI) — To view another man's first known depiction of another man is an awesome experience. The American Museum of Natural History's new exhibition, "Dawn Cavca, Bright Visions: Life in Ice Age Europe," makes possible this experience and many others that strike the deepest chords of man's awareness of his own humanly. Visitors can see the finest examples of art that have survived from the dawn of human prehistory when homo sapiens created beautiful things in a symbolic style that flourished for 25,000 years. Also on display are the earliest weapons and domestic tools, the first known calendars, evidence of the first rope, and one-of the first known musical instruments. The famed "Venus of Lespugue," sculpted from a mammoth tusk and one of the most elaborate female fertility figurines ever found, is one of five Ice Age Venuses on display. The museum has gone all-out to mount this show with sensitivity and imagination.

ALL MY CHILDREN

Jeremy was arrested for murdering Earl after Matt identified Jeremy's silver bracelet, which was found near Earl's body. The police caught on to Erica, who lied that Jeremy was with her at the time of Earl's murder. Tom left Brooke high and dry when he wrongly assumed that she's having an affair with Mark. Erica was relieved to find out that her face won't be scarred for life. Because Amy died on his operating table, Cliff is afraid to perform surgery on anyone else. Jeremy's reclimate, Bernard, warned that someone is out to kill Jeremy. Mark begged Brooke to help him beat his drug addiction after she realized he's been stealing and selling her belongings to get drugs. Myrtle warned Langley he'll be under Phoebe's thumb again if he accepts her job offer. Brooke told the police that Mark was at her cabin the night Earl was murdered.

ANOTHER WORLD

Case and Kathleen finally walked down the marital aisle. Michael worried about an ailing Donna. Gomez is giving Donna medication that is causing her physical and mental condition to deteriorate. Britany fired gunshots at an armed Peter, who told her that he had kidnapped Peter Reginald and plans to give the child up for adoption if she blabs that Peter's not the baby's father. Mac fumed to see Rachel and Mitch kissing. Scott and Cheryl ignored M.J.'s orders to stay away from each other. Reginald declared war on Vince, who is unaware that he's being tailed by a stranger. Matthew was disturbed to witness Mac and Mitch in a fist fight over Rachel. On the day of Donna and Michael's wedding, Reginald appeared in the judges' chambers in an attempt to halt the ceremony. Britany realized that Caitlin no longer has feelings of love for her. Vince refuses to forgive Mary, who attended Kathleen's wedding.

AS THE WORLD TURNS

Barbara passed out when she learned the man in the monk's robe was her supposedly dead ex-husband, James Stenbeck. James told a tale of recently recovering from amnesia and of working for Hensley, who was the head of a smuggling ring. Beatrice, who regained her memory, told Duncan that she saw Hensley kill Suzanne. James rescued Margo and was later arrested for killing Hensley. James told Duncan that Hensley was the infamous drug dealer. The Falcon Tom freaked out when Margo lost her baby. Iva decided she doesn't want Lily to know that they are mother and daughter. James has a Swiss bank account under an alias, Lester Meyer. Sierra said she'll stay married to Tonio until her baby is born. Paul flipped to see that his father, James, is alive. Meg and Nella enrolled in nursing school. Emily returned from her latest mystery trip. Meg was interested to learn that Dusty received a large inheritance.

CAPITOL

A man with an octopus tattoo attended a press conference held for Ali and Yasmien. D.J., who is paralyzed, told Trey that Kelly lied when she said D.J. is Scotty's father. Wally was shocked to learn that D.J. had no intention of making him a singing star. Angelica denied rumors that Trey married her because she's pregnant. Trey roughed up Kelly, who refused to divulge Scotty's true parentage. Thomas agreed to help Kelly kick her drug habit after she was wrongly arrested for prostitution. Trey thinks that Thomas may be Scotty's father.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Pete played the helpless cripple act for all it's worth after he saw Lars cozy up to Melissa. Jennifer was shocked to learn the police made a drug raid on a party thrown by Glenn. Alex reported to a still hospitalized Emma that her problems related to Andrew (Teddy) may soon be over. Kimberly consoled Paul when Teddy (Andrew) was ill. Alex named Savannah his executive assistant after she threatened to tell everyone that she has the ballot boxes containing the real votes for the mayoral election. Tamara is getting closer to Abe, but still keeping secrets from him. In Stockholm, Roman found the treasure bonds. Then was forced to turn them over to a gun-toting Orpheus. Patch and Kayla were trapped in a flooded storm drain while searching for Orpheus. Mike is determined to win Robin's love. Vaughn forced Gillian to lure Shane out of town on a fake lead to Andrew's whereabouts.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Monica told Charly that she's married to Alan and she doesn't intend to divorce him. Bobbi and Jake unsuccessfully interviewed applicants who answered their ad for a surrogate mother. A recovering Bert fumed to learn that Duke had escaped from Bert's thugs, who were ordered to murder Duke. Anna and Robert realized that Bert is the big boss of organized crime in Port Charles. Anthony was promoted to a senior hospital staff job. Richard and Ginny considered moving out of town after he received a New York City job offer. Frisco is keeping tabs on the strange men who have been arriving in Port Charles. Sean is keeping Robin safely away from Duke's enemies. Monica blackmailed Edward and Jimmy Lee into giving her the money they had promised to give Tiffany for splitting up Monica and Sean. Charly said she wants nothing further to do with Alan.

GUIDING LIGHT

Reva called off her marriage to Kyle, who rushed off to find Ben after Maeve admitted the boy is Kyle's son. A returned Josh Lewis rescued Reva, who was struck by a car that was trying to run down Josh. Mindy was kidnapped by a drug, Pierce, who is trying to kill Josh. Mindy learned that Kurt was killed by accident in the explosion that was meant to kill Josh. At Alex's request, Simon talked Alan, who returned to San Rio. Billy told Vanessa he wants a divorce. Lawyer Barbara Thompson convinced Chelsea to sue Rick for malpractice because of Jean Claude's death. Ramona, a carnival friend of Dinah's, searched the belongings Dinah had left behind and found a locket containing Vanessa's photo. India conned an unwilling Jarrett into transporting some works of art for her. Josh kissed Reva, who told him about her problems with Kyle. Maeve has Jen's birth certificate, which proves that she's the baby's mother.

LOVING

Kelly ran away after learning that Jane had manipulated her into splitting up Zach and Lorna so that Jane could have Zach to herself. Harry admitted to Triha that Steve never saw her letter which explained that her family forced her to dump Steve. Stacey went into labor, then demanded to see Jack, who was secretly being prepped for brain surgery. Nick warned Triha that she belongs to him, then forced her to make love. Jim is determined to leave the priesthood behind and marry Shana. Hob told Jim that he's hiding Kelly.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

On the witness stand, Miss Spitta named Jamie as Susan's killer and the head of the crack ring. Judith freaked when Jamie was arrested and she later learned that Charles had known about Jamie's crack ring involvement. Jon went off on his secret mission after Charles told him that Dimitri had fled to Devil's Claw, an island in the Caribbean. Tina kept Cord in the dark that she bought Devil's Claw Island. Jeannie returned to testify against Jamie. Viki was furious that Jamie wouldn't admit that he knows she was miles away from Lillian when Jessica was returned. Viki fired Mari Lynn, who Clint had hired to keep an eye on Jessica. Peg volunteered to help Pamela take Ann to the cleaners in a divorce suit. In the courtroom, Brad rescued Jeannie, who was temporarily held hostage by Jamie. Maria stole an alien's high costume in the trunk of Viki's car. Thomas learned Viki and Clint have been arguing.

 According to The Second World Almanac Book of Inventions, William of Orange, the king of England, banned the import of all foreign brandies in 1688. The English consequently created imitation brandies. These imitations were called "gin," from genievre, Genievre is the French word for juniper berry, from which the imitation brandy is made.

- Equador
 Equador is astride the equator in northwest South America, with Colombia on its north and Peru on its south and east. Two ranges of the Andes, running north and south, split the country into three zones: hot, humid lowlands on the coast; temperate highlands between the ranges; and rainy, tropical lowlands to the east. Equador is about the size of the state of Colorado.
- Dalai Lama
 The dalai lama is the traditional high priest of Lamaism, a form of Buddhism practiced in Tibet and Mongolia. The dalai lama is a title, not a name, but it is all that is used when referring to the man. The present dalai lama was born Lalaitunchu and is also known as Tantseng Gyat'so, but those names are never used.

Animal Speeds
The cheetah is the world's fastest animal at 70 mph. The pronghorn antelope is reputed to be second at 61 mph, and the wildebeest and lion are tied for third at 50 mph. At the other end of the scale we have the garden snail, who flashes by at 0.03 mph, and the three-toed sloth, who cruises by at 0.15 mph.

First Aid For Burns
If a burn is mild, with skin unbroken and no blisters, plunge into ice water until pain subsides. Apply a dry dressing if necessary. If burn is severe, send for a physician. Apply sterile compresses and keep patient quiet and comfortable until doctor arrives. Do not try to clean burn or break blisters.

Liotta: New Starburst

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Screen presence is a quality an actor either has or hasn't.

If a performer doesn't have it, no amount of study, acting classes or press agency can provide it. Paul Newman and Sylvester Stallone — to isolate two dissimilar examples — have the magical charisma in abundance.

Other competent actors and actresses have landed in the spotlight but lacked the superstar quicksilver that excites audiences to adoration. Very often, the elusive characteristic depends largely on sex appeal, sometimes subtle, sometimes blatant but inevitably compelling. It would appear that newcomer Ray Liotta, who co-stars in "Something Wild," has been blessed with a special brand of screen presence. He is the sort who arouses women and engenders hostility in men.

Liotta, 31, portrays Ray Sinclair, a violent, menacing heavy who steals the last half of the film from stars Melanie Griffith and Jeff Daniels.

The leading couple turn in splendid performances, but it is Liotta who sticks in the minds of moviegoers as they leave the theater. The raw masculinity, the strength and power he projects is remarkable.

Liotta is not handsome in the motion picture leading man tradition. He has bright blue eyes and dark hair, with a mottled face and an intense demeanor. Of Italian-Scottish descent, the Newark, N.J., native speaks in short bursts with traces of a Jersey accent.

In his motion picture debut Liotta was careful to invest the role of Sinclair with a trace of vulnerability to balance the savagery just under the surface.

He sums it up this way: "It has to do with an actor's burn."

"I've never heard that expression before and I've never used it before. But that's what acting is, an inner burn. If you're going to make an impression on the screen you gotta have that burn inside you that people can feel."

"I don't want to sound like I have a high opinion of myself, but I think I've got a big burn." If Liotta is remembered for anything, it is probably the role of Ed Santini, a cop in the short-lived ABC-TV series "Our Family Honor."

A graduate of the University of Miami (Fla.) in theater arts, the husky young actor spent almost four years in the New York-based soap opera "Another World."

He arrived in Hollywood five years ago intent on breaking into movies.

"When I came out here I hooked up with Steven Bauer, an actor friend from college who also happened to be married to Melanie (Griffith), which turned out to be a big break for me."

"Some of my friends, who were the same type as me, were auditioning for 'Something Wild,' so I asked my agent to get me an audition. When I saw the script I knew I was right for Ray Sinclair. But the casting people didn't agree."

"I knew Melanie was already cast in the starring role so on the last week of casting I called her in Florida — where they were making the picture — and asked if she could introduce me to Demme (director Jonathan Demme)."

"Demme wasn't too crazy about the idea, but the minute I walked through his door he thought I was the right guy. I met him on a Monday, read for the part with Jeff Daniels on Wednesday and by Friday I had the part."

Liotta was given a convict's haircut, an ugly tattoo and a wardrobe consisting of T-shirt, blue denim and boots.

His first scene in "Something Wild" transforms the comedy-adventure into a chilling suspense story. The moment the camera captures his initial closeup, an unmistakable shudder runs through the audience. This guy is big trouble.

"I couldn't play Ray like he was really bad," Liotta said. "He was just a young, footloose guy who liked excitement and got his kicks robbing stores. He got busted and went to prison."

"But he loved his wife, and when he gets out and finds her with another guy, he goes crazy. He wants her back and does what he thinks he has to do. He's the kind of villain that catches people's attention."

If It's Tuesday, It Might Be...

Dear Debra — A few years ago I saw a movie with Gregory Peck. He was a sheriff and I think the actress who co-starred was Tuesday Weld. She was the daughter of a moonshiner. I can't remember the name of the picture. Can you help me? — G.P., Oakland, Ore.

"I Walk the Line," released in 1970 by Columbia, starred Peck and Weld along with Estelle Parsons and Ralph Meeker. It took place in Tennessee and was based on a novel called "An Exile," by Madison Jones.

Dear Debra — I think Joan Collins is the most delightful actress on TV. Where can I write her? Also, what is the name of Gina on "Santa Barbara" and the address of the program? — J.M., Joplin, Mo.

Fan mail for the formidable Joan Collins, who plays Alexis Carrington Colby Dexter (whew!) on ABC's "Dynasty," can be sent to the producers, Aaron Spelling Productions, Box (NU)60257, Los Angeles, CA 90060.

On "Santa Barbara," Gina Demott Capwell is played by Robin Mattson, who has had a long soap opera history. She has played Heather Webber on "General Hospital," Della Ryan on "Ryan's Hope"

Celebrity Corner
Debra Katz

and Hope Bauer on "The Guiding Light." You can write her in care of "Santa Barbara," NBC, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10112.

Dear Debra — Back in the early days of "As the World Turns" was the character of Neil Wade (Penny's second husband) played by screen actor James Woods? — H.M.L., Follansbee, W.Va.

Sorry, Michael Lipton played Dr. Neil Wade from 1961 to 1967.

Dear Debra — I wonder if you can locate a movie that I saw. I considered it very frightening and thought perhaps it just has not been shown on TV. I believe the name was "Dead of Night." It dealt with a returning war veteran who was supposedly willed back to life by his mother. Can you tell me if it was so poor it has not been shown anymore or so scary that television can't show it? — C.B., Knoxville, Tenn.

There isn't too much that television won't show with the proper editing! A movie called "Dead of Night" has been shown on TV, but I'm not sure if we're talking about the same film. This one, which was first released in 1946, starred Michael Redgrave, Sally Ann Howes, Mervyn Johns and Roland Culver. It was indeed a frightening film about an architect beset by dreams about the supernatural who learns about other people's eerie dreams as well. Does that sound at all like your "Dead of Night"? If not, this may be a case for our readers to solve.

Dear Debra — Could you provide me with the address for Grant Tinker of NBC? — J.R.W., Stanford, Texas.

Grant Tinker, the former chairman of the board, has left NBC. Mail your letter to NBC, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10112.

RYAN'S HOPE

Devlin got real nervous when she learned that someone is trying to kill Max. Erik warned Devlin that she can't break off their mysterious dealings. Melinda begged Dakota not to tell Pat about her inherited health problem. Erik reacted with anger while watching Max comfort Sean, who called out for his "Daddy" after having a nightmare. Della took an heirloom necklace Roger had given Maggie. Johnno threatened to kill Harlan if he ever strikes Lizzie again. Siobhan is disturbed by her thoughts about Erik.

SANTA BARBARA

Pearl quizzed bookstore owner, Sybil, who lied that she doesn't know Brian. Brian, who's in hiding, rejected Sybil's suggestion that he meet with Pearl. Ted and Hayley rescued Tori and Cruz from the lighthouse, but not before Hayley saw Tori and Cruz making love. Santana held Gina at gunpoint and Gina admitted that Lily still has the video tape. Lily hid the tape in a hollowed-out Bible. Gina fumed that C.C. didn't keep their appointment to get married in exchange for the video tape. Gina escaped from Santana, but Mason held Gina at bay while C.C. and Sophia were exchanging marriage vows. After Brick agreed not to hold her responsible for Amy's death, Lily told him that she has the video tape. A recovering Cruz realized that he made love to Tori during the time that he was delirious. Keith taunted Eden that Cruz isn't worthy of her love.

SEARCH FOR TOMORROW

Bela joined Sunny, who was on assignment in San Simeon, and they were married in a ceremony arranged by Bela. Sunny wrongly believes the ceremony was a fake. Judge Henderson told Miss Hobbs that they can never marry because of her prostitute past. Jo suspects that Miss Hobbs killed Mr. Klein and caused the car crash that killed Suzi. Quinn found Malcolm, who insisted that Quinn isn't his illegitimate son. A Gypsy, Zophie, feels that Kat and Quinn belong together.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Matt told Victor that Ashley was pregnant. Victor was later shocked to learn that Ashley had an abortion without consulting him about it first. In an effort to get Jack reinstated at Jabot, Jill called a company board meeting behind John's back. Lauren admitted to her newspaper pal, Gary, that she lied to Evan Sanderson that Faren wasn't his missing wife. Ashley cried in Matt's arms and insisted that Victor must never know that she is aware of Nikki's illness. Unaware that the judges picked Paul's photo as the nude magazine contest winner, Lauren lied that she destroyed the photos and the negatives. Jack kissed a surprised Ellen. Jill stalled in responding to Michael's sudden marriage proposal. Nina trapped Philip into dating her when he really wanted to be with Cricket.
