Today's Florida College Students Are Mostly Law Abiding Citizens

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Contrary to popular belief, a social majority of Florida's college students are not anti-establishment and believe in qualifying for respectable jobs. Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth said today.

Faircloth said a follow-up on a college-wide survey by his office shows that college students are more law-abiding than many people think.

The survey, part of a $15,000 study authorized by the State Cabinet, also shows, he said, that "hard-core student radicals make up only 4 per cent of the total college population in Florida."

Other results of the survey, Faircloth told a news conference, showed that: —Students living at home, such as the hundreds of students going to junior colleges, are less inclined to use marijuana.

A sizable percentage of students remain unswayed in times when it is difficult to remain unswayed by the rhetoric of dissent.

A large number of students are against proposed anti-crime laws which contain "no-knock provisions."

Faircloth said that while the latest results of his survey continue to show that use of marijuana by college students is shocking, "they appear to be far more law-abiding and respectful of constituted authority than most of us have been led to believe."

He described the latest results as parts two and three of the survey, which he said is the first of its kind in Florida. He issued the first part two months ago. It revealed that 70 per cent of all college students in Florida regularly use marijuana.

Faircloth, a Democratic candidate for governor in 1970, said the third part "dispels some myths about the degree and intensity of student activism bent on violence."

"Contrary to the belief that most college students are anti-establishment, a solid 64 per cent believe their most important reason for attending school is to qualify for a respectable and prestigious job. Only 7 per cent disagree with this view," Faircloth said.

Faircloth said the follow-up reports reveal that about 25 per cent of junior college freshmen said they would use marijuana if it were available and 35 per cent of senior college freshmen polled said the same thing.

"The study shows that the gap begins to close in the sophomore year. About one of every five junior college sophomores, or 20 per cent, have used marijuana once or more," he said.

Faircloth said the report shows that living at home, such as is done by most junior college students where some degree of parental control is featured, "makes a significant difference in the degree of marijuana usage."

The surveys have been conducted through Faircloth's office and results announced by him, he said. However, the actual polling was conducted by experts at Florida Atlantic University and professionals in psychology and medicine associated with Drug Research Foundation Inc., a non-profit corporation.

Heading the research team were Dr. David Georff, Dr. Raymond R. Killinger Jr. and Dr. Barry J. Hersker. The Cabinet authorized the study last July.

Board Will Send Attorney To D. C.

Seminole County School Board at a special meeting this morning voted to send Douglas Stenstrom, board attorney, to Washington to consult with U.S. Justice Department civil rights lawyers to try and avert a possible cross-county school busing plan.

Stenstrom was tentatively scheduled to meet Wednesday with Herman Buckley, government attorney, charged with handling the county's legal confrontation with the federal courts over preparation of an acceptable 1970-71 desegregation plan for the county's 28 schools.

The attorney said there was wisdom in getting the Justice Department to withdraw its plan in favor of the county's, since it would eliminate hearings and cut down chances that Judge Charles Scott, Jacksonville U.S. District Court, would toss-out both the government and local plan in favor of his own plan.

The local school system does not have enough funds available for cross-county busing and no federal funds would be forthcoming to pay for such a plan.

Stenstrom said in the event the county is ordered to cross bus, then the board would have to consider filing an appeal to the New Orleans Court of Appeals, since there is not enough money to fund the extra costs.

A special vote of thanks to Senator Bill Hunter for his help and interest in trying to get the folks at Tallahassee to decide on Sanford as the site for the police enforcement training school.

The letter which he wrote on this subject is as fine an endorsement for Sanford/Seminole County as I've had the pleasure of reading recently.

There'll be a Disaster Planning Leadership Conference here in Sanford on August 6 at 9 a.m. in the Sanford Civic Center.

Landfill Site Studies Differ Over Pollution

By CHARNER LEONE
Will the proposed Osceola Sanitary Landfill operation cause pollution of Lake Harney and the St. Johns River? No, there is no indication now that there will be pollution," said Paul Porter of Clark, Dietz and Associates, Inc., consulting engineers for the Seminole Board of County Commissioners.

Dr. Waldron McClendon, Ph.D., now teaching at FTU and an environmental engineer and consultant, did not seem quite as sure that no pollution would occur as he spoke at this morning's regular session of the commission, advising the board of a study he had made of the project.

McClendon spoke of the future use of the land, economy, and ecology (pollution) of the water. He stresses proper planning and monitoring of the water to detect possible pollution.

Cambodian Cong Hit Rescue Ship

By WALTER WHITEHEAD
SAIGON (UPI) — Guerrilla troops in Cambodia attacked a ship full of 600 home-bound South Vietnamese refugees and captured the Phnom Penh government's only cement plant in fighting reported today.

The sharp clash in Vietnam saw Communist ambuscades kill four Americans and wound eight Monday in trapping a patrol of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade 70 miles southeast of Da Nang. No guerrilla casualties were reported.

Military spokesmen said Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops captured the 600 refugees down the Mekong River toward home.

Twenty of the refugees and Cong troops captured the cement factory at Chahkrey Ting, about 75 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, where the South Vietnamese had been kept in camps since after the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk last March.

Spokesmen said South Vietnamese gunboats chased off the attackers with machine gun volleys. It was the first such attack on a ship taking refugees to South Vietnam.

The Saigon government has brought home a total of 152,000 South Vietnamese who were caught in Cambodia after Sihanouk's ouster. The new Phnom Penh government of Premier Lon Nol had put them into camps for fear some were Viet Cong.

Upon returning to Vietnam, Official reports from Phnom Penh said Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops captured the cement factory at Chahkrey Ting, about 75 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, where the South Vietnamese had been kept in camps since after the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk last March.

Landfill Studies Differ

Disagreeing with Porter, McClellan said, "There will likely be pollution of the ground water." The water falling on the land would be contaminated and then pass through the soil into the St. Johns River.

"We would have to be very careful about pollution," he said. He also suggested that the commission look into the problem of where to locate a sanitary landfill on the regional, rather than the individual level, in cooperation with the Tri-Columbia Planning Board. (That board includes Orange, Osceola and Seminole Counties.)

Porter, in a letter sent to the commission, noted the results of consultations with other experts.

"The state Division of Health, which regulated such matters, commented, in essence that with proper handling and operation of the landfill, there should be no pollution of the groundwater and that surface polluted waters can be retained on County-owned property."

A hydrologist with the U.S. Geological Survey, said that it was his opinion that pollution of the artesian aquifer should not occur.

"Two landfill operations in Tampa are carefully being monitored to determine any possible effects on the ground and surface water quality. One of these sites is similar, topographically, to the Osceola site."

Porter said that two weeks are needed to determine that safeguards are needed.

"While we are not absolutely sure that no pollution will result from the sanitary landfill operation, there is no indication now that pollution will occur," said Porter in conclusion.

In other action, the commission granted permission to Huskey Investment Corporation to design and pave a 1.9 mile section of road to accommodate Phase 1 of the planned Sweetwater Oaks Subdivision. The road would connect SR 434 to an existing road in the area. The roads of the subdivision, Phase 1, would join the new section of road.

Alexander noted that at this time Huskey was not authorized to do any platting and development of the second phase of the subdivision, whose roads would join with the old section of the roadway.

National Security Violated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said today the executive branch has made commitments with foreign countries which could bankrupt the nation and harm the national security.

He said some of the obligations resulted from "clandestine agreements" for storage of U.S. nuclear weapons on foreign soil.

"In a Senate speech, Symington—who heads a Senate panel examining the web of international agreements—called for limitations on such commitments and on the military expenditures springing from them."

Symington said hearings by his special foreign relations subcommittee showed the degree of commitment by the United States "varies even among nations with whom we have solemn treaties."

He said that "to honor some of these executive agreements—and even treaties—in the manner considered appropriate in recent years would bankrupt the national security."

Therefore, do irreparable harm to our own national security," he said in an address last week to the Senate.

By an address last week by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Stennis questioned whether Congress could cut back military spending sharply while freely assuming solemn agreements to help other countries.

Defense Cost Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The acid test of the Pentagon's "fly before you buy" purchasing policy will be whether it is applied to aircraft contracts made during the past year, charges Sen. William D. Proxmire.

"Several major new weapons programs have been started in the past year," Proxmire said. "Contracts have been awarded for four new aircraft programs: the F14 and F15 fighter aircraft, S3 antisubmarine aircraft and the B1A bomber."

"Will the Pentagon enforce its 'fly before you buy' aircraft procurement?" Proxmire asked. "Or have long-term contracts for both development and production already been entered into on the program's push forward during the past several months?"

Proxmire said the Pentagon deliberately understates the cost of new systems to keep Congress from knowing what the ultimate price will be.

Stennis agreed Proxmire had a point. But he added: "If you're going to insist on absolutely reliable cost estimates in advance, then we are never going to have any more modern weapons. It is impossible to make the estimates that accurate."

Israelis Indicate Okay Of Mid-East Peace Plan

By MICHAEL GROSS
Associated Press Writer

Jerusalem (AP) — Indications are mounting that Israel's government will agree reluctantly and with conditions to the 90-day cease-fire proposed by the United States to get Middle East peace talks under way again. But local press reports said Defense Minister Moshe Dayan is considering resigning if the cabinet accepts the American proposal.

A Defense Ministry spokesman termed the reports "rumors," but he admitted, "Dayan is not enthusiastic about the U.S. proposal."

The reports said Dayan had expressed misgivings because the U.S. plan speaks of Israeli withdrawal from the Arab lands captured in the 1967 war. Dayan believes that Israeli security depends on its retaining the Gaza Strip, the Golan Heights taken from Syria, and a coastal strip along the Sinai desert to the Strait of Tiran, the key to Israel's southern water route to East Africa and Asia.

Premier Golda Meir and her cabinet had scheduled another meeting today to discuss their reply to the proposal, but it was postponed for 24 hours to allow further political clarifications, a government spokesman said. The first cabinet debate on the plan was Sunday. Mrs. Meir may reply to Washington Wednesday night in a speech.

Administration Reverses Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has reversed its policy and agreed to submit the names of potential Supreme Court nominees to the American Bar Association for an investigation of their qualifications.

The new system, proposed by top ABA officials and approved by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, gives the organized bar a chance to advise the administration against naming a man found unfit professionally for the high bench.

However, Lawrence E. Walsh, chairman of the ABA standing committee on the federal judiciary and a vigorous opponent of the change, said this would not give the association "a veto power."

A Free Rock Concert

CHICAGO (UPI) — A free rock concert "to bridge the generation gap" deteriorated into gunfire, fights with police and burning auto Monday when the featured rock-music group didn't appear. Bands of youths roamed the Loop, breaking windows and looting.

At least three persons were shot — it was not clear by whom — and 148 arrested, many of them looting.

The rock concert, sponsored by the Chicago Park District, was to have begun in Grant Park at 4 p.m. Monday—the beginning of the afternoon rush hour. While others were making their way home to family, dinner and television, young people, it was thought, would be going to the amplified rock w/ly and the Family Stone.

Survivors include her granddaughter Miss Margaret Gill Blaydes of Sanford.

Administration Reverses Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has reversed its policy and agreed to submit the names of potential Supreme Court nominees to the American Bar Association for an investigation of their qualifications.

The new system, proposed by top ABA officials and approved by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, gives the organized bar a chance to advise the administration against naming a man found unfit professionally for the high bench.

However, Lawrence E. Walsh, chairman of the ABA standing committee on the federal judiciary and a vigorous opponent of the change, said this would not give the association "a veto power."

Commission Approves Zoo Relocation Land

R. D. Green, an area resident, presented the petition to the commission and explained his group's reasons for opposing the facility.

He cited the lack of sidewalks to Sanford Middle School and stated children had to walk to school in the street and increased traffic brought on by the store would bring on a hazardous condition.

Stemper attempted to show with a slide presentation his reasons for wanting the remaining from present B-1 (residential) but on a motion by Commissioner Meyer, Stemper's request was defeated.

Pope Paul VI
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says the state of the world calls for prayer.

Addressing a crowd gathered in St. Peter's Square for his Sunday noon blessing, the pontiff said:

"How can we close our eyes and not care about what is happening in the world, what is happening in our society, on the necessary balance for the progress of peace?"

"Serious threats are interwoven with good hopes. Perhaps God allows that these temptations may take place to make us more conscious, good and strong and to call us to perform our first duty, the duty of praying."

S.C.A. has also taken part of their funds, $50,000 Federal and $90,402 other, and started a separate non-profit corporation, the Economic Development Corporation (S.E.C.O.). S.E.C.O. is designed to provide loans for the building or expanding of present companies, if they are unable to secure loans under conventional means.

The Emergency Food and Medical Program was the second main topic discussed.

Jones said that he had written U.S. Senator Ed Gurney about the program and that Gurney had replied that he felt the present program was in order.

The main purpose of the emergency food and medical program is to provide food to those in need until other government programs can take over. Program workers will check on the preparation of food, screen applicants, and provide transportation for those who need it.

Father Holheim, of the Central Florida Catholic Diocese addressed the meeting on how he feels the Church should help the poor. Father Holheim stated, "The Church should be the advocate of the poor."

Father Holheim also said, "Too many people talk about how optimistic they are about the poverty programs, and yet we don't even know how many poor people there are in the county (Orange). When all the poor people have food to eat we can help the poverty program."

Breakfast Served Any Time At Sanford's H-M Donut Shop

Get a yen for breakfast late in the afternoon? Of maybe your day starts around noon and you can't find a restaurant that'll serve breakfast late. Or are you the type that is up at 5 a.m.? Try the H-M Donut and Waffle Shop!

The beautiful new quarters of Sanford's favorite donut shop are now open. And it is in this attractive, comfortable atmosphere that you will find the most mouth watering donuts and waffles in town—from 5 a.m. til 6 p.m. weekdays and 5-1 Saturday.

For the past four years or so Helen and Woodrow Stough have specialized in the art of gastronomic happiness. The donuts they make from three to five each morning find their way rapidly all over town as people pause on their way to work to pick up a dozen, or so for the coffee bunch. It's the stop that makes coffee break time a real delight!

The present location of the H-M Donut and Waffle Shop at 2517 French Avenue is just four doors south of the old location. They are just south of the intersection of Highway 17-92 and Twentieth Street in Sanford.

The light walnut paneling, the soft indirect lighting of the chandeliers, the mirrors and the pleasing effect of the orange and wood color scheme—your dining is enhanced immeasurably by the pleasant atmosphere of the H-M Donut and Waffle Shop.

For those who enjoy the convenience and sociability of sitting at the counter there are spindle backed stools that offer the opportunity to sit back and relax and enjoy your meal or snack.

The menu has been expanded. Waffles with cream, bacon, eggs, ham or sausage and the most delicious coffee in town has been supplemented with hamburgers, hot dogs, chili and French fries, making the H-M Donut Shop a lovely spot to stop for lunch or even a light dinner.

And, of course, there are donuts! Buns, twists, glazed and cake donuts. And donuts that are filled with delectable fillings such as custard, cream, lemon, blueberry or raspberry.

"Will make up special orders of hand cut party donuts," said the proud proprietor of the shop. "These are smaller, easier to handle, and any frosting can be put on them."

There's something special added to the batter that's made in the wee small hours (from 3-5 a.m.) each morning at the H-M Donut and Waffle Shop. It's the "magic" that makes the donuts lighter and tastier than any you've ever had before.

There's a sign discreetly displayed in the Donut Shop: "If we please you tell others. If not, tell us." There's a little doubt that you'll be telling others.

So stop at the H-M Donut Shop as you head to work. And on your way home too—your family will love the treat!

I'LL ENDORSE your product said (well, he would have if he could talk!) 11 month old John David Lewis (below) as he demolished a glazed donut at the H-M Donut and Waffle Shop. A young man who has recently taken his first wobbling steps for his proud Mama, deserved a special treat! Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Stough make donuts from 3-5 a.m. to ensure you of the freshest donuts you've ever had!

Lowell Hails Space Age

By WILLIAM E. SCHULZ
Associate Press Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Although America's space program is in a time of transition, it is a productive and creative program, astronaut James A. Lovell said Thursday night.

"There are those who question the usefulness of space exploration," the Navy captain said. "There are those who question the waste of money on manned space flight."

"I myself am not in complete agreement that our space program is completely all right," he said.

"But the space program is a program of creativity. It creates jobs. It stimulates production, much more so than many other programs," he told 70, an international aerospace exposition.

When nurse shifts change at a hospital, the head nurse and staff provide a report on patients to the new head nurse and staff, including patient name, room number, doctor and any special instructions.

To speed up this process, Dictaphone Corporation reports, a number of West Coast hospitals are using dictating machines. The machine is placed in the nurses' lounge. At the end of each shift, the head nurse records general patient information and then asks each attending nurse to add any information that would help nurses on the next shift. When the next nurse shift comes on they gather in the lounge and play back the conference recording.

Call Dekle's For Service

By CHARNER LEONE

"It's the kind of man who will go way out of his way to accommodate you," said an acquaintance. "I've never seen anyone like him." He spoke glowingly of Mel Dekle, the owner of Sanford's favorite service station.

For over 15 years Mel has given area residents and those who were "just passing through" service so dependable that his station has become a byword for honest, prompt, efficient service.

Pumping the Gulf gas that he sells with pride, Mel's friendly manner has contributed to his popularity of the service station on French Avenue, just south of the 25th Street intersection.

A little over a year ago Mel opened a second service station on the airport which is run by Pappy Ricker.

Mel thinks of the little things—in his business and in his dealing with his customers. For instance, there is the air conditioned, carpeted lounge where you may wait in comfort, watching television or reading a magazine while your car is serviced. The kids won't get bored, and Mom and Dad won't have to sidestep the busy employees as they attend to their affairs.

Mel has an unusually large inventory of Gulf products which enable him to give you prompt service. He carries tires, batteries, and accessories that are needed for "most any type of car or truck."

The King truck and car rentals are about the best and lowest priced you can find. They have an inventory of 20 trucks which range from small pickup to 22 foot moving vans. His 20 cars range from Mustangs, which are rented at the lowest possible prices in the state, to Oldsmobiles with all the luxury features.

Their prices on the cars and trucks are "very, very competitive!"

Eighteen employees, and four mechanics at the French Avenue station assure you of prompt service whenever you stop. The well-staffed station is open 24 hours. Pappy Ricker's station is open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and closed on Sundays.

Mow A Path To Comfort

By CHARNER LEONE

"Summertime, and the livin' is easy..." A soft cool breeze blows romantically across the lawn a long, tall cool drink soothe the heat parched throat, and a hammock swings idly in the wind. And there you are with an hours worth of lawn to mow!

Push green lawns are beautiful, thanks to mother nature's careful, plentiful watering these days. And the once well-trimmed lawns are growing to beat the band. That's great—unless you are elected to do the mowing.

Picture yourself in carefree comfort on a riding mower that sweeps the tall tangle of grass from under you with practically no effort. In fact, maybe you can even whip up a breeze for yourself!

Charlie Lewis can put you on the mower you need to accomplish your task with a minimum of effort.

For 11 years Charlie Lewis has been serving the area from his shop at 2517 Country Club Road in Sanford. (322-7928)

For 22 years Charlie Lewis served in the Navy as a jet engine specialist and aviation mechanic. From tinkering with motors, lawn mowers and such in his spare time as a hobby after his retirement, he has built his avocation into a flourishing business.

He sells all types of new and used mowers and can repair all types of mowers and small engines. To assist him and assure you of prompt service, Charlie has factory trained, qualified personnel.

The famous Yazoo and Ariens mowers are offered now at a very special price. It's a big discount on all models," elaborated Charlie enthusiastically. Charlie allows big discount allowances on old mowers used to trade-in. And for your convenience he will accept BankAmericard charges. He will also pick up and deliver your mower to your home.

So feature yourself on an Ariens Emperor riding mower, or such. The agile maneuvering of the electric or recoil mower with its seven horsepower Tecumseh engine and 30 inch cutting edge will certainly get you on your idyllic setting sooner. Or maybe you'll enjoy your "choir" so much that you'll offer to do your neighbor's lawn!

RIDE YOUR WAY TO BEAUTIFUL surroundings for your home on a riding mower from Charlie Lewis. Charlie will take trades and sells and services any type of small engines, scooters and mowers.

Firemen On Call

ROME (AP) — When a fire engine races through the streets of Rome, it's 24 the destination is not a fire. The firemen are on call for almost every emergency, from rescuing tree cutters to opening apartments for people who have lost a key. Rome had nearly 8,000 calls last year; about 2,000 were for fires in the city where Nero fiddled to the flames in the year 64.

Here's To A Unified-Bold Seminole County

Editorial Comment

Mustering of the full strength of Seminole County, unified by common needs and endorsed by the great rewards that await such accomplishment, needs to be done immediately.

Sanford enjoy the fruits of a Sanford Airport equipped to handle general aviation and night flying and a large Port of Sanford with its allure of low-cost waterborne traffic.

The majority party — Democratic — has been overshadowed by the Republican victories in the 1966 and '68 elections and the very obvious and very normal use of the patronage club to force old-time Democrats into the Republican column.

Any legislative apportionment which results in Seminole County fielding a team to represent it in the 1971 legislature with only one resident of Seminole County with a chance of election is wrong — dead wrong!

Cups Of Sugar

Since the beginnings of borrowings amongst neighbors there's always been the broad hint, if not the suspicion, that those backyard, backdoor visits were more for the passing of the time of day or tidbits of gossip, than for the purpose of fetching a cup of sugar.

Elusive Victory

The swinging member of the mod-nouveau generation will find it more difficult to snap off a contentious objection against the military's prudery about sideburns and mustaches. The military has beat a strategic retreat.

Labor-Slump Hamper The 'Chicago Plan'

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
CHICAGO (AP) — Officials say labor disputes and a home construction slump have hampered the "Chicago Plan," a program designed to get more black workers into the building industry.

The federal government hoped the plan would be a model for other U.S. cities to copy. Launched last January, its goal was to provide 4,000 jobs this year for minority workers. So far, only 150 Negroes have been included in the first group hired to undergo training with an operating engineers union.

Fred Hubbard, director of the project, says labor disputes and the economic squeeze on building "unquestionably hurt the Chicago Plan."

"Finding 4,000 jobs for minority group workers this summer would be a miracle," he said. "I have no doubt that eventually it can be done, but how can people expect miracles?"

Thomas J. Nayder, secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Building Trades Council and a member of the Chicago Plan executive board, also attributes the hiring delay to a slump in the building industry, particularly home construction.

Nayder says, however, that progress continues to be made in finding jobs for minority group workers who can qualify as journeymen, partly skilled workers or apprentices. He says delays have been encountered mostly in finding jobs for the least-skilled minority groups.

The Chicago Plan received its impetus last summer when the Coalition for Urban Community Action, a group of 61 black community organizations, shut down $80 million worth of construction projects to focus attention on their demands for acceptance into Chicago's 19 building trades unions. The Coalition said only 3,000 Negroes were employed in 10,000 construction jobs.

Similar protests were made by black workers in Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

To avert the work stoppages, and with the strong persuasion of Mayor Richard J. Daley, the staff and establish neighborhood centers to recruit job applicants.

Now the Labor Department wants to know where the black workers are. The black workers want to know where the jobs are.

Hubbard said that besides the problems setting up an operation, the labor strikes—truckers, cement masons, operating engineers—and the slowdown in construction because of tight money, "incapacitated the program."

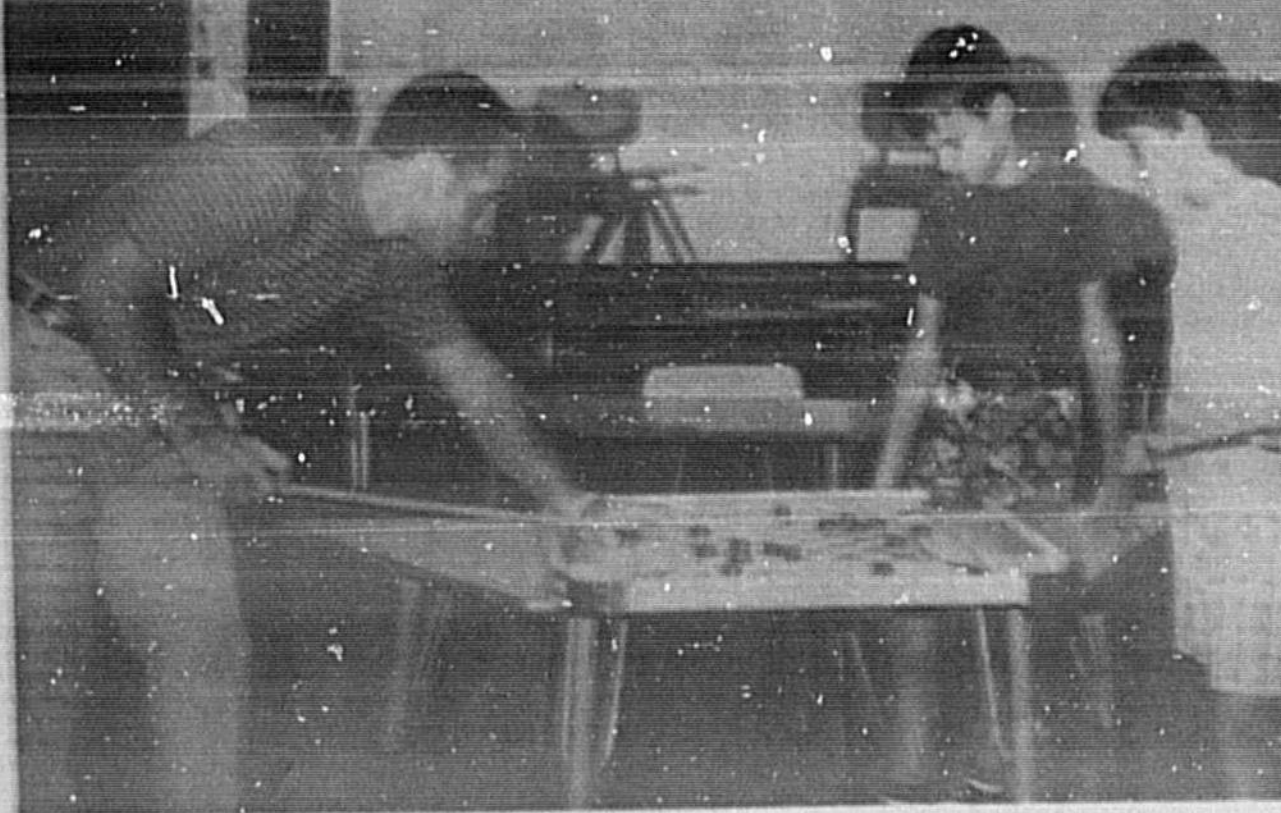

Hubbard said his staff of 37 persons sent out letters to 600 contractors asking if they could be depended on to provide jobs.

"About 75 have been returned and they all say yes," Hubbard said. "But contractors agreeing doesn't mean a thing. It's a two-part job. After you get the contractors you have to deal with the unions and that takes time."

Question Continues On Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although a new federal law says 18-year-old Americans can vote after next Jan. 1, the more than 10 million youths affected cannot be certain they will get the franchise that soon.

A UPI survey of the 50 states indicated that elections are held next year without a court test and perhaps several different court tests of the law enacted last month.

Nineteen states agreed with Tennessee's Attorney General David M. Park who said "The legal presumption is that the act is constitutional until it is proven otherwise."

But 19 other states would not go that far and, for various reasons, remained noncommittal.

William J. Bingham, an assistant district attorney at Albuquerque, N. M., spoke for some: "The Constitution of the United States gives the Congress no power to prescribe the qualifications of electors in the states."

Other states just would not comment, preferring to wait until the constitutionality of the law is worked out or until their own Constitutions.

Four states—Arizona, South Carolina, Vermont and Wisconsin—replied to the UPI survey that the act contradicts their own Constitutions.

Pre-Nuptial Brunch In Sanford Honors Anne Martin Of Oviedo

By CHARNER LEONE

Oviedo's popular bride-to-be, Miss Anne Martin, was every bit as radiant as a bride on the best of occasions when she was honored by a brunch Saturday morning.

The glowing nursing student will take the happy trip down the aisle Sept. 12 in a formal evening wedding as C. W. Hendrix, a graduate student in physics in Atlanta, takes Anne for his wife.

Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Martin and the granddaughter of Mrs. B. F. Wheeler, all of Oviedo.

The Holiday Inn House of Steak was the setting selected by the hostesses for the breakfast. Honoring Anne that morning were Mrs. Lester Brown; Mrs. James Brown; Mrs. Henry Harrison; Mrs. Roth Vilhen and Mrs. Walton Torres.

The party room of the House of Steak was transformed for the event into a charming bower of pink rosebuds.

The table set especially for the bride-to-be was charmingly appointed with a delicately made pink flowered set table cloth which was draped over the snowy white linen like that which covered the rest of the tables.

Appropriately, fragrant pink rosebud corsages were given to Anne and her mother. Rosebuds were also found on the place cards for each guest.

For the occasion Anne selected a brown and white flowered veil, long sleeve, A-line dress. It's wide, white collar was most flattering. Mrs. Martin wore a cheerful, becoming yellow and white A-line dress. Her accessories were each in the same color combination.

The charming centerpiece of pink and white artificial flowers given to the popular bride and her bridegroom will set up this fall in Atlanta.

Those invited were Mrs. B. F. Wheeler Jr. and Mrs. John Evans, aunts of the bride-elect. Mrs. F. Wheeler Sr., Miss Mimi Wheeler and Mrs. Fred Leone.

Home Rites Unite Miss Herbst, P. M. Hapeman

In an impressive candlelight ceremony, Miss Mary Frances Herbst, of Martinsville, N.J. and Philip M. Hapeman, Carmelville, N. J. were united in Holy Matrimony, July 11 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Herbst, Martinsville.

Her grandfather is John Herbst, of Sanford and her parents are former Sanford residents. The groom is the son of Mrs. Elmer Hapeman, Verona, N. J. and the late Mr. Hapeman.

Rev. Carl Kearns was officiating minister. The couple exchanged vows before an altar of greenery. Two seven-branched candelabra were placed on each side of the altar with a large basket of white gladioli and mums in the center. Other floral arrangements in the living room were composed of yellow and white mums and gladioli. The bride's fireplace held a basket of white gladioli with background of greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal length gown of silk peau de soie accented with a beaded necklace. Fitted waist A-line skirt that fell into a Chapel train. Her Chapel length silk tulle veil was attached to a cascade of re-embroidered Alabon lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Richard M. Craig, Jr., of Indianapolis. The matron of honor wore a formal length gown of moss green with matching shoes and white accessories and carried a round bouquet of yellow roses and daisies.

Best man was Donald Garland, Green Brook, N. J.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Herbst chose a street length gown of aqua crepe with draped neckline, matching accessories and the groom's mother wore a peach ensemble with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the spacious Herbst garden. Arrangements of yellow and white daisies and mums were placed at vantage points on the adjacent porch.

Delicious fruit punch was served from a table set up in the dining room, overlaid with a white linen cloth. The large crystal punch bowl in the center of the table was flanked by two candelabra with white tapers. Served with the punch were hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and other delectable party fare. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Sanford, an aunt of the bride. She was assisted by Miss Patty Burke.

The guest book was kept by Miss Roberta Burke and flanking hostesses were Mrs. Robert Burke and Mrs. James LeClerf, Martinsville. A buffet dinner was served in the garden to approximately 60 friends and relatives. The menu included a variety of meats and salads with all the trimmings including champagne punch.

Guests were served from round tables covered with gold cloths and centered with baskets of daisies. The bride and groom sat at a special bride's table, overlaid with a white linen cloth and centered with a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature nosegay of yellow roses and daisies. The table also held an arrangement of mums and a two-tiered five branched candelabra intertwined with greenery and the honor attendant's bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding trip to San Francisco, Calif., and when they return will reside at 940 Kenyon Ave., Plainfield, N. J. Mrs. Hapeman chose for traveling a beige ensemble with navy trim and accessories.

The bride attended Station University in Defand and has been employed by M. C. Trucks, Inc. The groom attended West Point and is a graduate

It's A Punch Party For Merry Merritt! Mrs. Jack Morrison Entertains

By DORIS WILLIAMS
Society Editor

Although it was damp and dreary on the outside, warmth and hospitality was the order of the day at the Loch Arbor home of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison in the late afternoon of July 23.

The occasion? It was a punch party given by the "hostess with the mostess", Barbara Morrison, to honor Mrs. Merritt Phillips, Aug. 1 bride-elect of Charles Lane.

Upon entering the spacious living room, the festivity reflected a metropolitan fashion parade as the high-fashion guests bowed into beautiful and colorful pants costumes while absorbing the refreshing atmosphere.

Merritt greeted the guests wearing abstract print modified bells in citrus tones topped with a champagne sequin hat at the opposite end. The beautifully appointed table was overlaid with a sheer tropical green lace cloth to coordinate with the scenic outdoor view from the picture window.

The hostess gift to the guest of honor was a silver jolly set of champagne with tray and serving spoons.

It was a wonderful party and the guests departed reluctantly from the afternoon affair.

Invited to call during the appointed hours were the Mmes. W. M. Phillips Sr., W. M. Phillips Jr., Arthur Beckwith, Gilbert Blake, Henry Johnson, Arthur Nesmith, John Williams, William Merritt and Frank Donahoe; Also Mmes. Franklin Cozart, William Bush, Jr., George H. Rappe, Robert Newman Jr., Perkins Jr., A. B. Peterson Jr., Henry Schumacher, Curtis Spencer and Harry Robson; Also Mmes. Walter A. Gile, James Koerner, William Rappe, Robert Newman Jr., Alexander McKibbin, Martha Abby, F. D. Scott, Gordon Sweeney, Frank Melrose and William Laffer Jr.; Also Mrs. Richard Fletcher Jr., Orlando, and Miss Rose Kratzert.

KEY WEST—Sanford's Little National League All-Stars traveled to Key West to participate in the 1970 Florida Little Major League state tournament. Their stay was short lived however, for Key West Little Leaguer, Oswaldo Alfonso, pitched a perfect game against the Sanford Nationals and Key West won 7-0.

Alfonso struck out eleven Sanford batters and did not allow a single Sanford batter to reach first base. He also helped his own cause by stroking a two run double in the fifth inning.

Sanford's starting pitcher, Joe Baker, pitched three innings of good ball, striking out six batters along the way. The fourth inning proved Baker's undoing. Two Key West batters reached base and then Ralph Graves hit a home run, driving in three runs. Robert Smith relieved Baker and pitched the remainder of the game.

West Palm Downed

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
West Palm Beach surrendered two runs in the tenth inning of their outing with Tampa to lose the first game and surrender the first place in the Florida State League's Eastern Division to Miami.

The Expos defeated the game 2-1 in the seventh which forced extra innings. Then Tampa Tom Dittmar and Dan Driessen both drove in runs for Tampa to take the outing 4-2.

Port Lauderdale's Charlie Spikes set a club record by slugging out his 12th home run, which, along with Tom Busby's fanning 11 Orlando batters, spelled defeat for Twins.

Winter Haven centerfielder Gary Myers sparked the Red Sox drive with a triple and a double.

And although St. Pete dropped another one, their nine game lead in the West remains unchallenged.

KNEE DEEP in OUTDOORS

by BILL VINCENT JR.
Pollution is a big problem these days and it's really something to think about, especially in our rivers and streams and way side parks, another big problem in the near future will be the Wekiva River.

Around the bridges and landings has been a target for discarding old beer cans and discarded picnic papers along with paper cups and disposable coffee drink cans.

The ones that don't sink, drift down the Wekiva at a rapid speed, and usually wash up on somebody's yard, as one resident said, she would pick up a bundle of empty beer cans and paper every day that would wash up in her yard.

Back home with you and there won't be such problems as pollution, especially in Seminole County.

The generation of the NO DEPOSIT-NO RETURN is upon us and if we don't do something quick pollution is going to cover us up.

Local bass fishermen were catching their limits this past weekend with some nice bass being caught in the Puzze Lake area and the Wekiva River, on purple worms and devils horse pot water plugs.

Tallahassee — The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission is embarking on a program to acquaint Florida fresh water fishermen with the rules and regulations governing fresh water fishing and with provisions of the fishing license law.

According to Commission Chairman, William M. Blake, there is an indication that some anglers do not understand the fishing license law and some fishermen may not realize they are required to obtain a license.

Blake said, "Wildlife officers have been instructed to explain both the fishing rules and license law, and for the immediate future, enforcement will be tempered with judgment and explanation."

He added, "This educational concept is being extended so that fresh water anglers might have a better understanding of the reason for fishing regulations and the role their license plays in the conservation and fishing improvement programs in Florida."

All fresh water fishermen, except residents 65 years of age and over, children under 15 and fishermen who are eligible for federal, state or county welfare assistance, must possess a valid fishing license when taking or attempting to take fresh water game or non-game fish.

Fishermen exempted from license purchase should have documentation of eligibility in their possession while fishing. Licensed fishermen are required to exhibit their license for inspection by wildlife officers and unlicensed fishermen will be expected to produce evidence of their exemption.

"We do not anticipate any problem in checking the exemption of unlicensed fishermen," Blake stated, "and wildlife officers will honor identification cards issued by the Florida Division of Family Services as well as documentation issued by Federal or County Welfare Departments."

He concluded, "We would like to extend this fishing education concept at all levels and welcome the opportunity to discuss fishing regulations, licenses and fishing improvement programs with sportsmen and civic organizations. Arrangements for programs may be made by contacting the Commission's regional offices at Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach."

College All-Stars Ready

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars will not be lacking in leadership when they take on the Kansas City Chiefs Friday night in the midsummer football classic in Soldier Field.

Massive Mike McCoy of Notre Dame will captain the defensive unit and running back Bob Anderson will lead the offense.

The two were selected by their teammates whose decision was applauded by Coach Otto Graham by saying "I can't think of two men more deserving of the honor."

McCoy, who will toil for Green Bay if and when the players and owners in the National Football League settle their contract differences, has already knocked two of his teammates from the big game.

McCoy fell on running back Larry Stegert of Texas A.M. in a tackling drill and bumped defensive lineman Phil Olson of Utah State in a monkey roll drill. Both suffered knee injuries and will miss the All-Star show.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian called McCoy "the greatest defensive tackle I've coached and the hardest working big man I've ever coached."

The 6-foot-5, 235-pounder who is known as "Wildcat" because of his ferocious play, is surprisingly quiet considering his ponderous proportions.

Anderson was a quarterback at Colorado in 1968 and played that position for the first two games of the 1969 season before switching to running back.

He totaled 22 touchdowns last season and became the first Big Eight back in history to pass the 5,000-yard mark in career total offense with 5,017 yards.

The All-Stars went through an afternoon workout Monday and increased their public appearance prior to the game at the annual All-Star luncheon at the Commodore Hotel.

"We do not anticipate any problem in checking the exemption of unlicensed fishermen," Blake stated, "and wildlife officers will honor identification cards issued by the Florida Division of Family Services as well as documentation issued by Federal or County Welfare Departments."

He concluded, "We would like to extend this fishing education concept at all levels and welcome the opportunity to discuss fishing regulations, licenses and fishing improvement programs with sportsmen and civic organizations. Arrangements for programs may be made by contacting the Commission's regional offices at Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach."

Sports-Sociology New Press Tune

By MARTY HALBOVSKY
(First of Three Parts)
NEW YORK (NEA) — All personality differences aside, professional athletes do concede that sportswriters control public opinion and create the atmosphere — good or bad — that surrounds them.

Almost to a man, they remain sensitive to criticisms of their performance or their personal lives. Rightly or wrongly, they are accustomed to being written about in the cliché language of the games they play and have traditionally judged writers not so much on the quality of their stories, but more on the writer's readiness — or reluctance — to apply the critical needle to them.

In recent years, the Chipmunk School of Sports Writing in the East has graduated writers into locker rooms who are conversant with sociological topics as well as traditional ones. The humanization of athletes has become commonplace, and they are being written about as human beings who play games for a living and not merely objects in uniforms hitting 328 or averaging 28 points a game.

Sportswriters in other areas of the country — from Anniston, Ala., to Wenatchee, Wash., have bolted from their traditional roles as purveyors of the house opinion and are putting their own local sports to the test of subjective criticism. The result is that the Sensitivity Gap which has always existed between the sports Establishment and much of the sporting press is widening.

"What is happening," said Furman Hisher, columnist for the Atlanta Journal, "is that many sportswriters — especially the younger ones — are questioning things as never before. Ten years ago, for example, many papers would have been hesitant to print a story about something like racial injustice or drug use in sports. Not any more."

"The traditional sports stories, filled with batting averages and clichés, seem to be on the way out. There still is a place for them, but that place is getting smaller. People seem to want to read more about the human aspect of athletes and less about their statistics. But, in doing so, a writer is forced to start toying with a man's ego and we all know that once you start toying with a man's ego, you're going to have a fight on your hands."

NL Football Talks Still Not Moving!

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League exhibition season is only 11 days away and there is no sign that either the club owners or the Players Association is ready to give in the stalemate position dispute.

The owners' negotiating committee and the association representatives met under the watchful eye of federal mediators four hours Monday. If there was any progress it wasn't evident on the grim faces of the participants.

They'll start their fifth day of talks in the offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service today at 2 p.m. The morning will be spent with sub-committees trying to unravel the technical problems involved.

While the negotiators work behind closed doors, the exhibition season is approaching doom. The Cleveland Browns are scheduled to meet the Los Angeles Rams in Los Angeles Aug. 7. Nine games are slated for Aug. 8.

The owners have a few choices in the matter. They can cancel the game or the dispute over pensions and other fringe benefits is settled.

As matters now stand the association has directed its players to stay away from camp until an agreement is reached. The owners say the camps are closed to veterans until the contract is settled.

It's not resolved. Or they can play the games with rookies and free agents. They have a third choice—open the doors of their training camps and see how many veterans will defy the association and report.

'Lou's Shift' Remembered

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — The Lou Boudreau Shift is over 23 years old now but Boudreau hasn't forgotten. Neither has Ted Williams, the man it was designed to hobble.

"I had thought about it for weeks," said Boudreau, one of the four new members inducted Monday into baseball's Hall of Fame. "Ted killed us when we played at League Park with its short right field line."

"In the first game of a double-header with Boston July 14, 1947," said Boudreau, "I decided to use the shift. I decided to use the shift. I decided to use the shift."

"In the Boudreau shift, all of the infielders stacked up on the right side and the center fielder moved into right center. They dared the left handed hitting slugger to go to the opposite field. The only man on the left side of second base was Dale Mitchell, the left fielder, who shortened up a bit.

"In all the years since then," Boudreau said, "I've never seen a player who could hit a ball to the opposite field like Ted Williams. He was a real hitter. He was a real hitter. He was a real hitter."

Central Florida Racing

(Special To The Herald)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Central Florida will be well represented Saturday and Sunday at Daytona International Speedway when the Sports Car Club of America stages the tenth annual Paul Whiteman Trophy Race.

Fourteen top south eastern drivers from Central Florida have filed entries to compete in the eleven-event program over the tricky 3.1-mile road track circuit that combines a portion of the infield section with the east bank of the speedway proper.

Already entered in the production, sedan and sports racing categories are Don Thomas Jr., John Treanor, Ronald Strickler and Jerry Walters all of Orlando; Paul Spruill, David Ellis-Brown and Bernard McHenry of Winter Park; Robert Zimmerman Jr. of Lakeland, Dr. E. C. Hughes of Ocala, Jack Hynerson of Winter Haven, Richard Myers of Leeswood and Marion King of Altamonte Springs.

Competing in the open wheel Formula class will be Hans Mohnen and Brooke Roberts, both of Lakeland.

Five events are on the schedule Saturday beginning at 8:50 p.m. with six slated for Sunday starting at 1:30 p.m. The finale Sunday will be the hour-long Paul Whiteman Trophy Race. This event is open to every qualified machine with the exception of the open wheel Formula cars.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who gets loaded and invites everyone at the party to come to his house for Bloody Marys the next morning? When I hear him do this, I very feebly add "Oh, yes, do come, we'd love to have you"—when I would love to have coked him over the head.

Most people have sense enough not to come, but some do. What's the solution?

WOODSIDE: DEAR WOODSIDE: You can't stop your husband from issuing invitations (drunk or sober) but you can refrain from assuring unwelcome guests that you'd "love" to have them.

Should you hear your husband making such an invitation, quietly let it be known that hubby is "loaded" and "where is he going?" There are guests who will see you don't expect them, let him entertain them.

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 18, and I don't like to brag but I guess you could call me a "popular" girl. I have a good reputation and don't get into any trouble. I have a boyfriend who is a little better than I am. I have a job, and I am going to college. I have a car, and I am going to buy a house. I have a lot of friends, and I am going to get married. I have a lot of fun, and I am going to have a lot of children. I have a lot of money, and I am going to be a millionaire. I have a lot of power, and I am going to be a president. I have a lot of influence, and I am going to be a world leader. I have a lot of respect, and I am going to be a hero. I have a lot of love, and I am going to be a saint. I have a lot of grace, and I am going to be a queen. I have a lot of beauty, and I am going to be a goddess. I have a lot of charm, and I am going to be a siren. I have a lot of wit, and I am going to be a jester. I have a lot of humor, and I am going to be a clown. I have a lot of talent, and I am going to be a star. I have a lot of skill, and I am going to be a champion. I have a lot of strength, and I am going to be a warrior. I have a lot of courage, and I am going to be a hero. I have a lot of faith, and I am going to be a saint. I have a lot of hope, and I am going to be a savior. I have a lot of love, and I am going to be a god.

Horoscope Forecast

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1970

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After an early-morning difficult time try to avoid being nervous. The rest of the day is good for analyzing just where you stand with others and for acquiring information you need to get ahead. Be careful of sinister influence this evening. Keep calm, poised.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You can complete shopping, making out reports during the day, but relax tonight. Make your voice heard at meetings. Others will understand you better.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Make sure you pay bills this morning by their insurance or anything connected with government. Stop putting this off. Make sure you do nothing that could annoy your mate tonight after a good day.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You are able to find out something that has been impossible up to now. You can accomplish other things as well, with the aid of kin, friends. Go to the barber or beauty shop when possible. Be poised.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Show affection for persons you really like and admire. Do thoughtful things for them, like buying little gifts. Study where you are going in the future. Be more clever than you have been in the past.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Sociability is important today, even at coffee breaks and lunch time, but home is your best bet this evening. A little study about how you are relating to others is wise. Be relaxed today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): An influential person can give you assistance and advice you need. Take it easy tonight. Find modern appliances that will assist you in your particular work.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Find the best method for advancement. Then plan that much deserved vacation. Write to the rest of loved ones and get the information you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Be sure you first keep promises, and then you still have time to entertain others, as you have long wanted to do. Be more demonstrative with your mate. You have been lax in affection lately.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Make new arrangements with an associate whose drive trumps, discredits a club on his lack of hearts and scored the rubber.

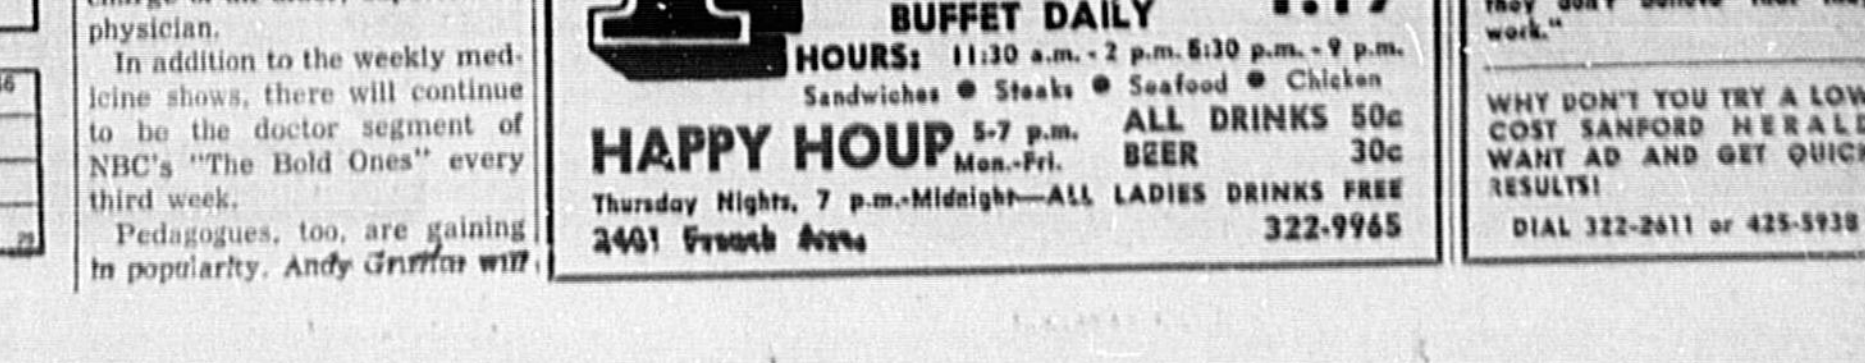

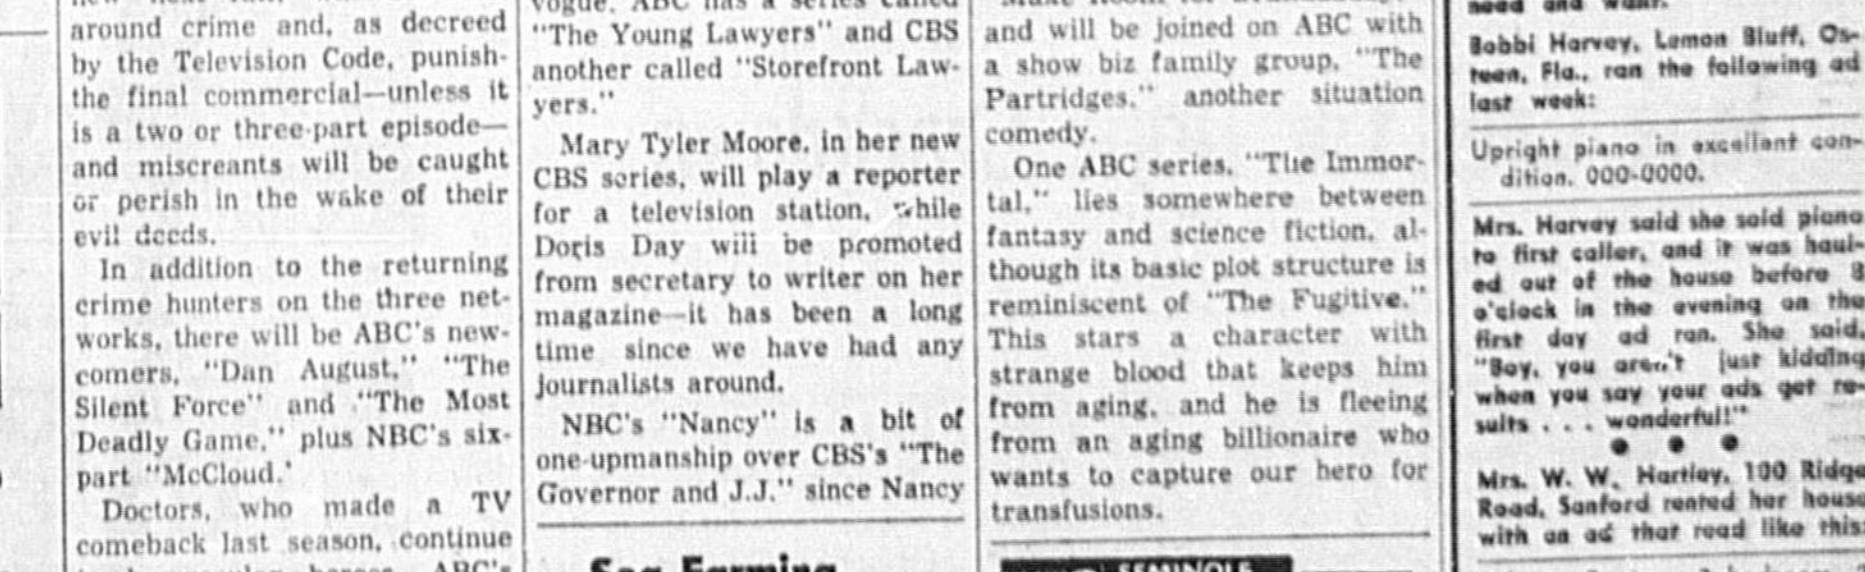

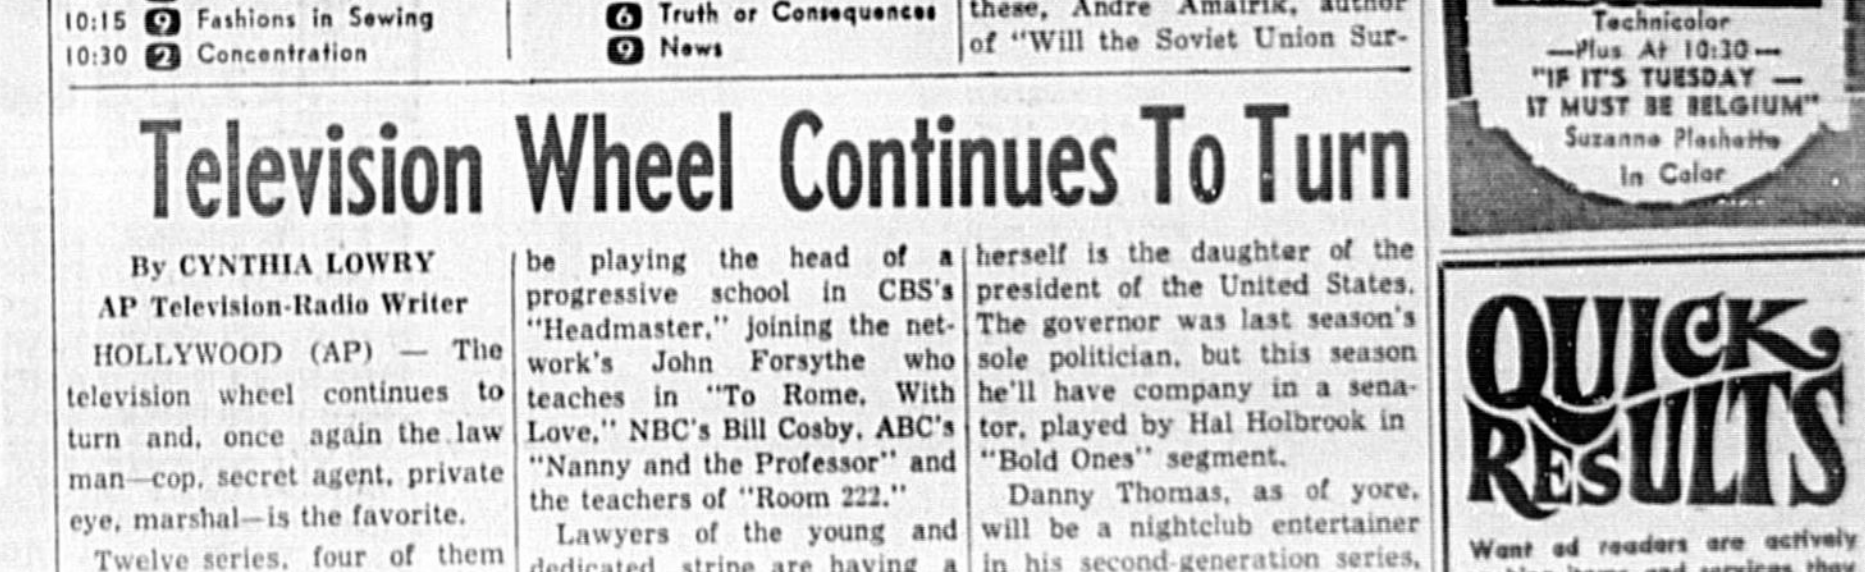

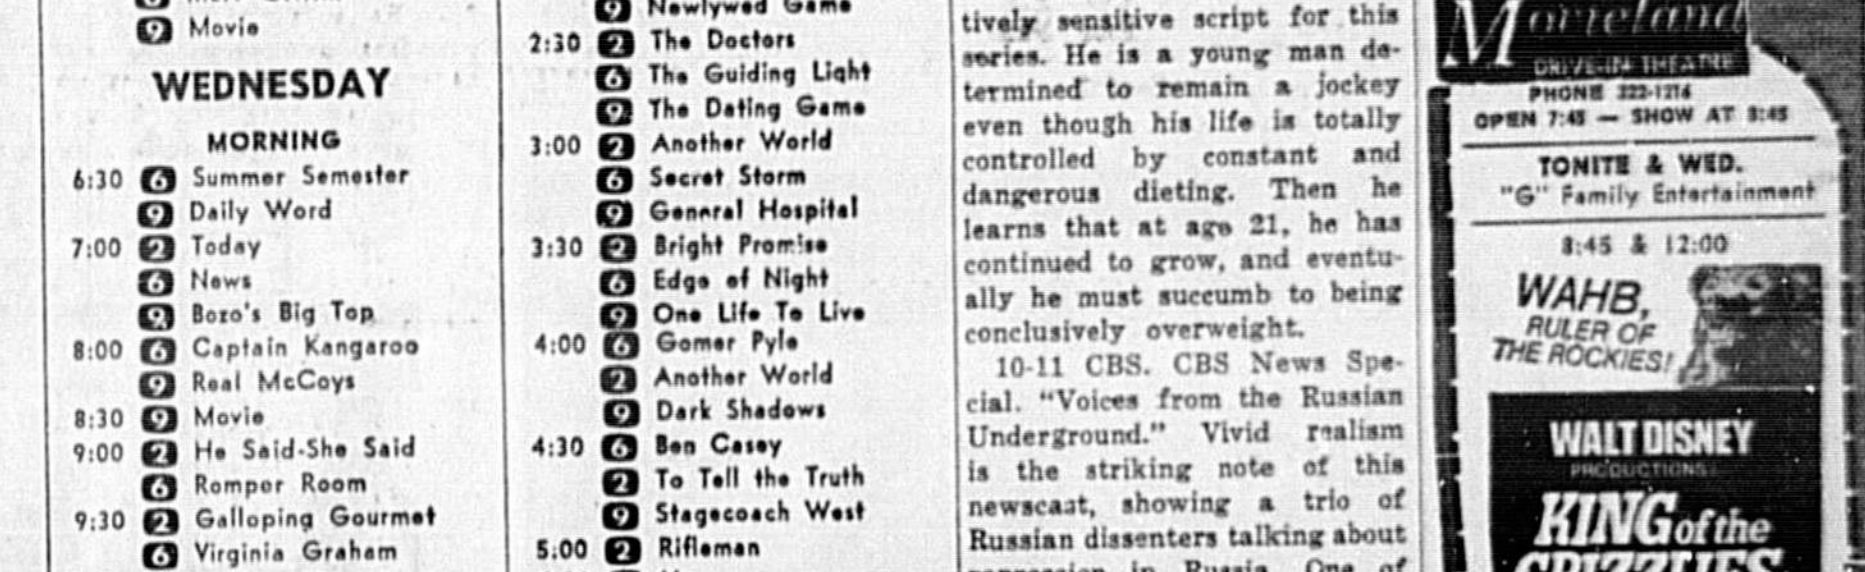

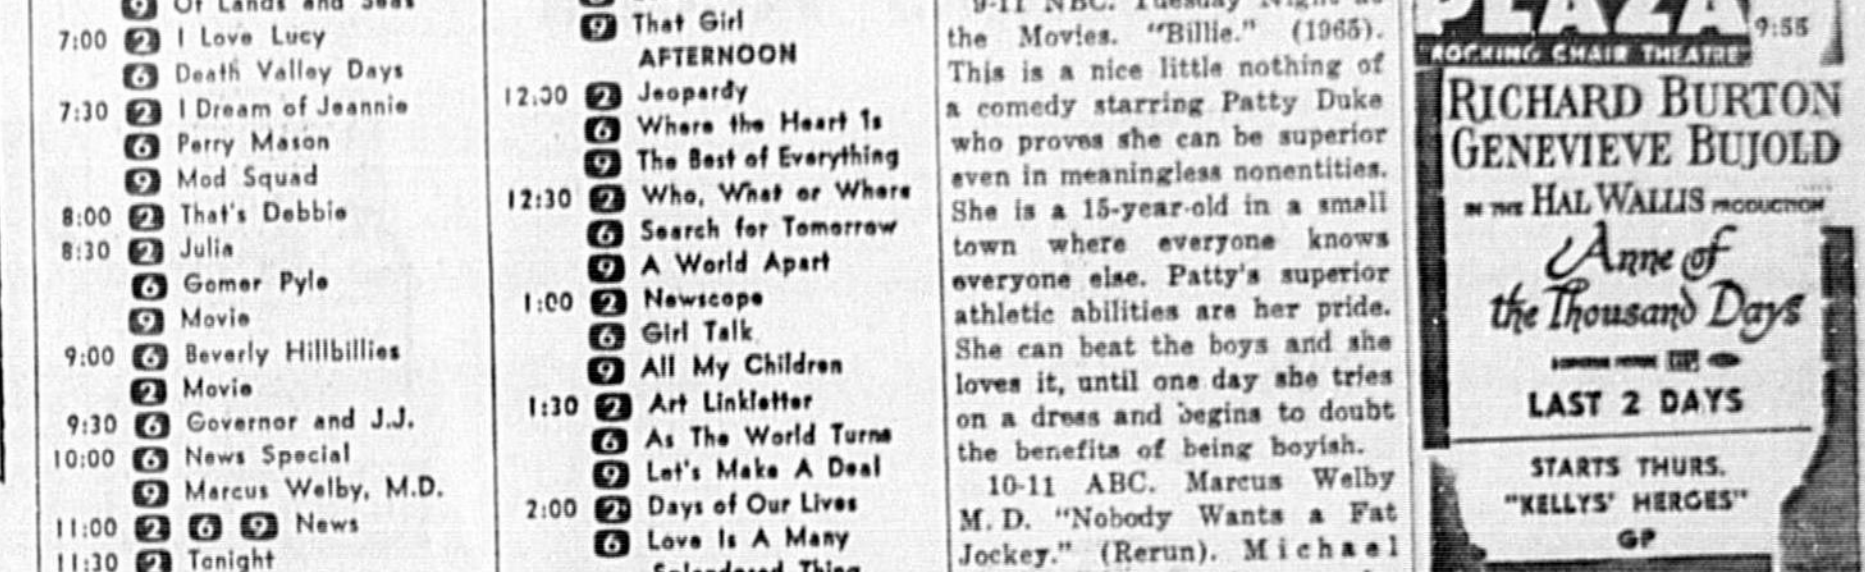

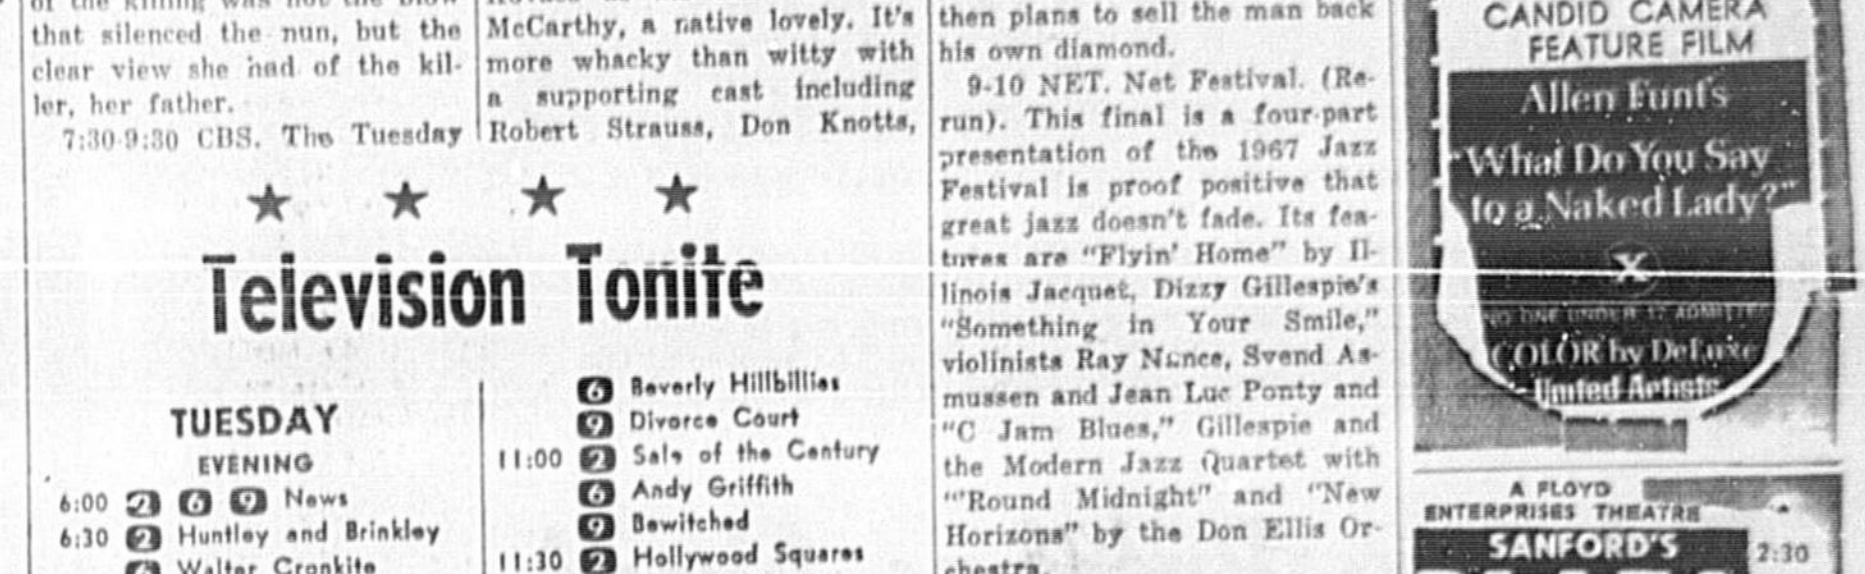

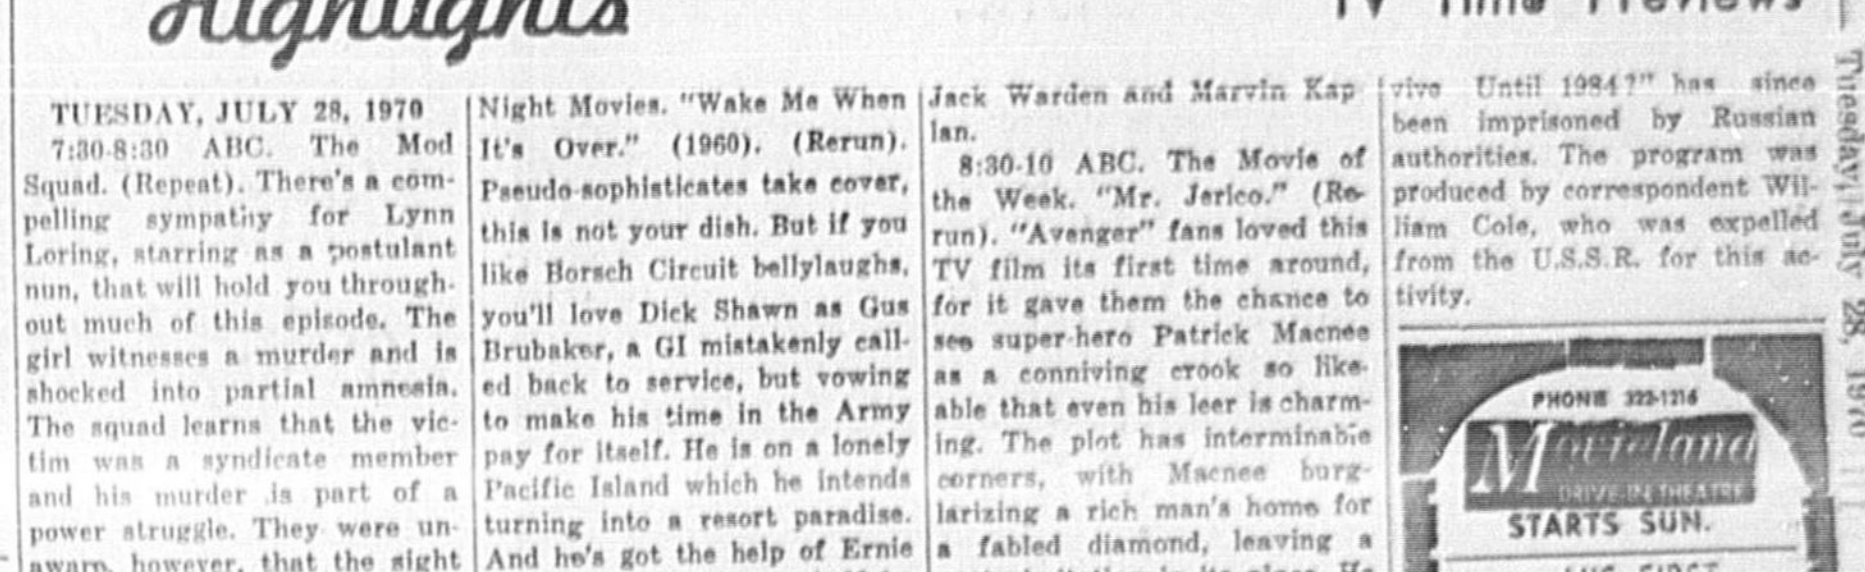

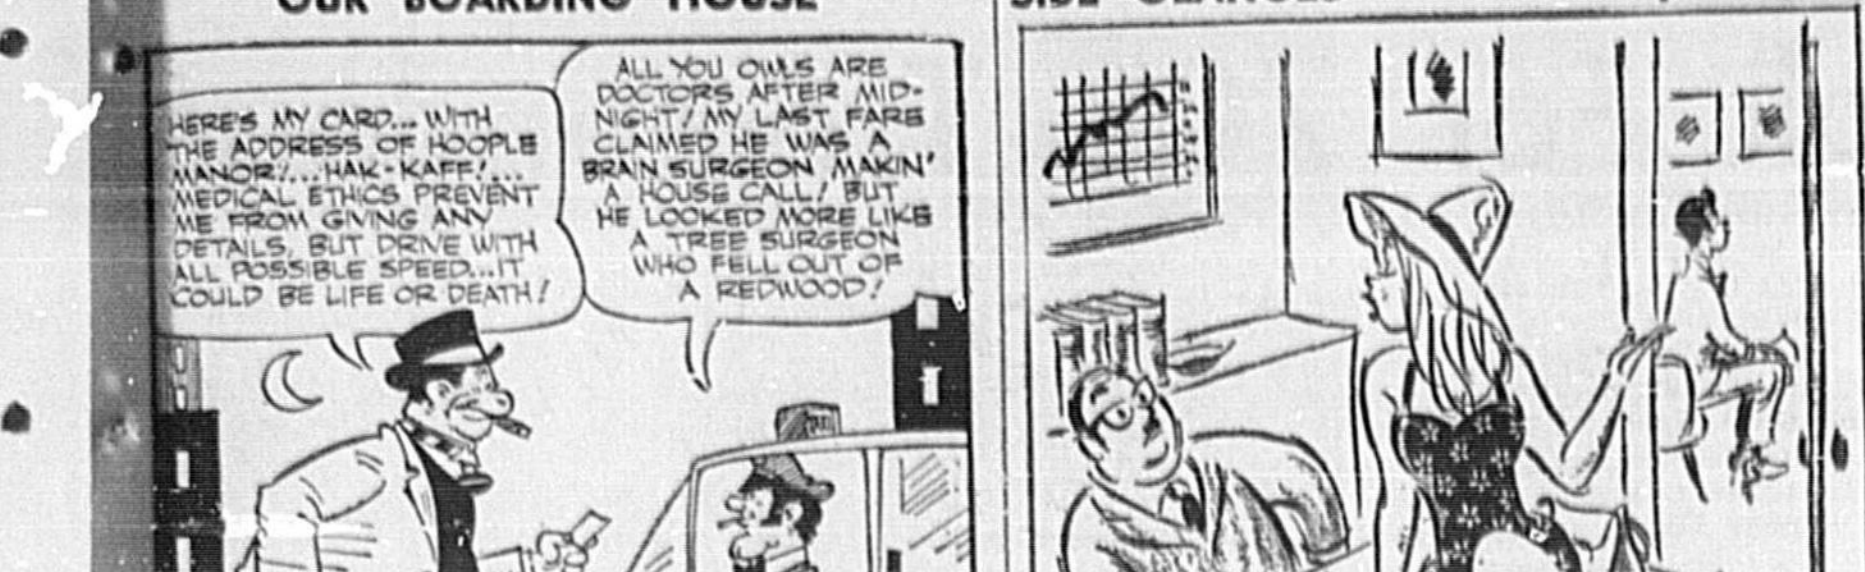

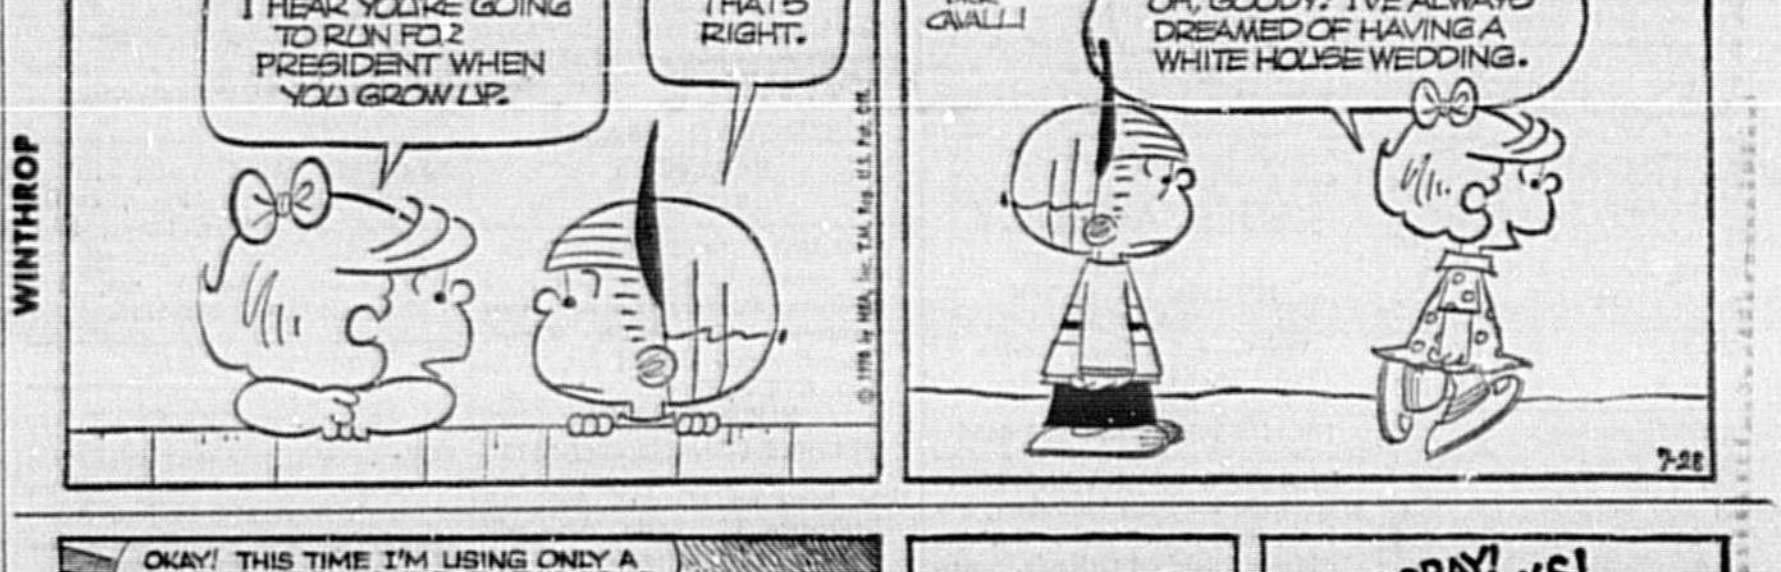

Capricorn (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You are able to have been seeking today. Finish work that requires manual dexterity and quick thinking. Take it easy tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): This situation is being reviewed now and you can make that a most delightful place to be. Do not argue with kin this evening. Buy those appliances, art pieces that you need.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: . . . he or she will be one of those young people who require much peace and harmony during childhood, so be sure you have a private room for your progeny to study and play. There can be much popularity and liking enjoyed even by the family, since there is a fine mind here. A good education should be provided. Much money can be made during the lifetime and a philanthropist can emerge at retirement age.

The Stars Impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

If Shakespeare had played bridge, we can imagine Richard III saying, "A deuce, my kingdom for a deuce." Of course, if he were an ethical bridge player and held the East cards, he would not say it aloud but, according to Shakespeare and history, this particular king was not so ethical for either.

West opened the queen of hearts in response to his partner's bid and East played his "loves" heart, which happened to be the seven-spot.

South could see no hope for his contract should he win the first heart. East would lead on the second round and would cash one heart, two aces and the king of clubs.

He could also see a trick anomaly if that queen of hearts were a singleton, but unique spot in the sequence of kiddies.

For the oldest child has been a "only" child for a year or more.

The second oldest youngster has monopolized adult attention and the family limelight till "The Crane" has had to turn to the youngest.

Then that oldest child must split the family's attention with the baby.

In fact the baby then must even gain more than 50 per cent of the adult spotlight.

But when a third baby arrives, the attention is shared by the youngest now shifts to the new comer.

So that middle child is fighting a battle between the devil and the deep blue sea.

Now it neither gains the attention of the oldest child, who

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY: L-C could use hair spray to remove printer's or ballpoint ink. Rub, then wash with soap and water and the stain should disappear.

DEAR POLLY: L-C wanted to remove printer's ink spots. The stain-removing guide that came with my automatic clothes washer says first to test if the ink is water soluble. Soak out the stain and then launder. If not water soluble, sponge with a safe dry-cleaning fluid.

Life is too "hot" to take a chance on blowing yourself up by using your own dry-cleaning at home. I think it is cheaper and safer in the long run to take everything to the dry cleaners. They can do most anything nowadays. —MARY H.

DEAR POLLY: Sometimes it is well to get the post-traveler under a stubborn ink stain, apply mineral oil to the spot and then go over it with nondiffusible dry-cleaning fluid and the oil will help flush out the ink.—POLLY can still outshine the others by being more capable.

Nor can the middle kid get the attention and solicitude that goes to the new baby.

So it is somewhat like a dope addict who as suddenly been cut off from his usual previous dosage of narcotics.

Thus, the middle child is restless and often becomes a trouble maker. He will demand attention to regain some spotlight.

But it feels hungry for love and affection, since most parents unintentionally shower the praise, love and care upon the oldest and youngest, thus leaving possibly no more than 10 per cent for that middle youngster.

The middle child often is doubly fond of a puppy or kitten, since the latter show their affection by barking happily or purring when the middle child strokes it to her breast.

Contrast this eagerness to have a pet with the occasional angry reaction of the "only" child, who resents the puppy or kitten as a threat to continued domination of its two parents.

Yesterday, I mentioned "Dear Polly" a girl who had been having her daddy pay so much attention to the new puppy.

But Polly's home situation was that of a middle child, since it makes all the difference in the world regarding your personality development, depending on whether you are the first-born, vs. the second in a large family.

The second child thus tends to be more of an extrovert, a little "Practical" Son. He (or she) is usually more talkative, more reckless, less inclined to finish chores with a flourish, etc.

Counseling

VANCOUVER, Canada (AP) — Agnes Kripps, Social Credit member of the British Columbia legislature for Vancouver South, has urged establishment of mobile counseling service for young people throughout the province. Mrs. Kripps says the proposed "opportunity caravan" could provide information in such areas as education jobs and drug abuse.

7:30-8:00 ABC: The Mod Squad. (Repeat). There's a compelling sympathy for Lynn Loring, starting as a postulant nun, much of this episode. The girl witnesses a murder and is shocked into partial amnesia. The squad learns that the victim was a prostitute member and his sister is part of a power struggle. They were uninvolved, but the girl who silenced the nun, but the clear view she had of the killer, her father.

7:30-8:00 CBS: The Tuesday Night Show. (Repeat). (Repeat). Pseudo-sophisticates take over. This is not your dish. But if you like Horch Circuit bellylaughs, you'll love Dick Shawn as Gas Brubaker, a GI mistakenly called to a consoling truck as a noble that even his lie is charming. The plot has interlocking turns, with Maroon boy-into-a rich man's home for a fabled diamond, leaving a pale imitation in its place. He then plans to sell the man back his own diamond.

9:15-10:00 NBC: The Tonight Show. (Repeat). (Repeat). This is a nice little nothing of a comedy starring Patty Duke who proves she can be superior in meaningfulness. She is a 15-year-old in a small town where everyone knows everyone else. Patty's superior athletic abilities are her pride. She can beat the boys and she loves it, until one day she tries on a dress and begins to doubt the benefits of being boyish.

Television Wheel Continues To Turn

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The television wheel continues to turn and, once again, the late, great, private eye, Marshall, is the favorite.

Twelve series, four of them new next fall, will be built around crime, as decreed by the Television Academy, which will be the final commercial—unless it is a two- or three-part episode—and miscreants will be caught or perish in the wake of their evil deeds.

In addition to the returning crime hunters on the three networks, there are ABC's new creation, "Dan August," and "The Silent Force" and "The Most Deadly Game," plus NBC's six-part "MacCloud."

Doctors who made a TV comeback last season, continue to be popular heroes. ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D.," and "The Doctors," will be joined by "The Young Lawyers" and CBS' another called "Storeroft Partners."

Mary Tyler Moore, in her CBS series, will play a reporter for a television station, while Doris Day will be promoted from secretary to writer on her magazine—it has been a long time since we have had any journalists around.

NBC's "Nancy" is a bit of an upmanship over CBS' "The Governor and J.J.," since Nancy herself is the daughter of a president of the United States. The governor was last season's sole politician, but this season he'll have company in a senator, played by Hal Holbrook in "Nanny and the Professor" and the teachers of "Room 222."

Danny Thomas, as of yore, will be a nightclub entertainer in his second generation series, "Make Room for Granddaddy," and will be joined on ABC with a show by family group, "The Partners," another situation comedy.

One ABC series, "The Immortal," lies somewhere between fantasy and science fiction, although its basic plot structure is reminiscent of "The Fugitive." This stars a character with strange blood that keeps him from aging, and he is fleeing from an aging billionaire who wants to capture her hero for transfusions.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mariculture," the farming of the sea—could become a major world industry by 1980, according to Marine Office-Apletton & Cox Corp. (MOC). MOC said that there will not be enough arable land available in the future to grow food for a population increasing at the rate of 60 million a year.

Manager Tells Ward's Story Outlook For 70's Tremendous

Montgomery Ward of the Seminole Plaza in Casselberry has been operating under the direction of a new manager this summer. Ben L. McMillon took over reins as store manager in late May.

A veteran of 10 years in the store management, McMillon lost hold the position of District Operating Manager of the East Florida Division.

He was especially pleased to take over the management of this Montgomery Ward. "I've always wanted to come back to Florida," he said with a grin, "especially to the Orlando area."

As a store manager "for another large retail store" in Bowling Green, Kentucky, McMillon has traveled extensively in Florida. He grew fond of "The Sunshine State."

The Seminole County store opened in 1967, is one of the largest retail employers in the area. It covers 41,000 square feet of sales space. And all

Military Physical Errors Costing America Millions

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard S. Schweiker called for improved military physical examination after a government report disclosed the armed services continue to accept men who are physically unfit to serve.

Some men recently undrafted were found to have only one kidney, deformed by polio or missing part of a thumb, the Pennsylvania Republican said in releasing a report by the General Accounting Office.

He called on the Pentagon to improve its screening procedures to weed out men physically unfit to serve before induction.

Nearly 40,000 servicemen who were discharged in fiscal 1968 and 1969 within a year of their enlistments were released because of prior physical defects, Schweiker said.

Among the cases, the report said, were those of an Air Force man with a large scar from a kidney removal operation, a Marine released when it was found he had only part of his left thumb, an Air Force man discharged for an absence of muscles on the left side of his trunk, and a man whose child hood bout with polio had left him with his left leg bent.

The Pentagon spent $13.6 million for pay, travel, allowances and uniforms in fiscal 1969 alone for men discharged for such prior defects, the report said.

Rickover said the long-standing groups are threatening to end chances of a postal reform bill emerging from Congress this year. (Page 5A)

Budget Increased, New Taxes OK'd

With the official adoption last night of a $22,849,549 county school budget, the Seminole County School Board levied a tax of 15 mills, an increase of 2.3 mills over a year ago.

Walter Teague, school finance officer, explained at last night's meeting the extra 2.3 mills would go toward the debt service incurred by the sale of bond anticipation notes by the board to fund the cost of school construction.

Teague said the extra 2.3 mills would be paid off in six years and that county saved money by receiving six per cent low-interest anticipation notes in contrast to selling the bonds for 7.5 per cent interest at present market prices, which must be repaid over a 20-year period.

Coupled with the largest budget in Seminole's history, the board also approved a 15 mill tax rate, an increase of 2.3 mills over a year ago.

Sanford May Furnish Water For New Transient Complex

Sanford City Commission Monday night indicated a willingness to help in the establishment of a 400,000 two-bedroom transient type residential complex by furnishing water and sewage. If the developers would pay the costs.

John Walker, a Dynamic Developers official, appeared before the commission seeking the city services and indicating his group would be willing to be absorbed to the city when possible as the development is not now contiguous with the city.

City has previously set a policy not to allow new hook-ups for sewage and water unless it was inside the city limits, but apparently there is a feeling at least by some of the officials to overlook this policy, except where it affects residential dwellings and transient units which are a commercial venture.

Economic Uplift Coming?

The Board of Directors of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, meeting last night in that organization's conference room, were enthused by the reports of economic uplift for this area that now seem assured. Chairman Vernon Mize, Jr., of the Long Range Planning committee and Harold Kastner of the Port of Sanford authority vied for the position of "top strategist" in outlining recent developments in their areas of effort.

Local Census Drive Termed 'Unproductive'

The efforts of the committee under the chairmanship of Alex McKibbin and Harold Rowland in hosting the census figures for Sanford were not productive of the results hoped for. This was McKibbin's report to the Greater Sanford C of C directors Tuesday night at their meeting.

The committee had the full cooperation of the newspapers and the radio station in alerting the public to the importance of being enumerated in the official population figures for the city. Strategically located posters with official Census Bureau forms attached had been used.

Parents Seek Kirk's Support

By BILL SCOTT
Some 300 parents of children attending Pinescrest Elementary School in a meeting last night asked Gov. Claude Kirk to intervene in the Seminole County desegregation crisis with the federal government and stop the implementation of the county school board's integration plan which will cross-bus students from Pinescrest to Goldboro elementary schools and return.

The parents, aroused over the school board's plan to pair Goldboro and Pinescrest by shifting the fourth and fifth grades to Pinescrest to Goldboro and relocate Goldboro's 1.3 grades to Pinescrest met for four hours in the American Legion Hall to plan opposition to the board's plan on the grounds that it requires the cross-busing of white and black students to accomplish integration.

Many parents, wrought with emotion, accused the county school board of selling out the Sanford area schools to keep the "city white status" of South Seminole elementary schools.

Ben Lake, Lake Mary and several other institutions are not expecting any or very few blacks to enroll in those facilities when school opens August 3 into the board's new integration plan.
