Dual Duty: Opinion — Policeman Can't Be Commissioner

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole County middle school principal and former county commissioner stepped forward today to defend Winter Springs City Commissioner Maureen Boyd's right to hold on to her elected office while she works as a police officer in the Orange County city of Winter Park.

Florida's Attorney General has issued an "informal" opinion that Mrs. Boyd is violating the state constitution by holding her office as city commissioner while working either as a reserve or full-time police officer for Winter Park.

Dan Pelham, who was elected to the County Commission in 1968 while he was assistant principal at Sanford Middle School, reminded that he had the parallel situation then.

"I remember receiving a letter from then-Gov. Claude Kirk's office, dated Feb. 24, 1969, asking whether I planned to serve as assistant principal and county commissioner at the same time," Pelham said, noting he was reminded about the constitutional provision against dual office holding.

He noted that he called on then-state Sen. Bill Gunter for assistance and Gunter (now state insurance commissioner and treasurer) got an opinion from then-Attorney General Earl Faircloth saying the situation was proper and not in violation of the Constitution.

Pelham said he served for two years thereafter on the commission before he resigned to accept a promotion to be principal of Sanford Middle School. At the time Pelham said he couldn't do the kind of job he wanted to at the school and serve on the county commission adequately at the same time.

"I'm not an attorney, but I've been there," Pelham said, expressing his sympathy to the Winter Springs commissioner. "The same kind of mess was going on then," he said, indicating the situations then and now may be politically inspired.

Florida Attorney General Jim Smith's office in Tallahassee confirmed today an "informal" opinion was issued by the office on Oct. 22 concerning Mrs. Boyd's prospective employment as a police officer. She's scheduled to begin working full time as a police officer this week.

An assistant attorney general, who declined to give her name, said the opinion is not a formal one and has not been published.

"A formal opinion receives a much higher level of legal research or scrutiny," she said, adding, however, that the informal opinion which carries the signature of Smith himself, is the current state of law, as far as she knows.

The opinion points to a 1977 opinion which said that: "A part-time auxiliary or reserve police officer is an officer within the purview of the constitutional prohibition against dual office holding and, therefore, a person may not simultaneously serve as a city council member.

Mrs. Boyd has been a Winter Park reserve police officer.

"In addition, the rationale of this opinion would apply regardless of whether the individual is a police officer of the same municipality or a municipality other than the one on which he sits as a council member and it does not appear to me to make any difference at all whether it's with the Sheriff's Office or a municipal police force," the opinion states.

The opinion adds that the fact the "individual receives no compensation for serving on the City Commission does not appear relevant for the purpose of the constitutional prohibition."

Smith, in the opinion, says the Florida Supreme Court in a 1919 case said the term office "implies a delegation of a portion of the sovereign power to and possession of it by the person filling the office."

The attorney general continued that the term office embraces the idea of tenure, duration and duties in exercising some portion of the sovereign power conferred or defined by the law and not by contract.

In the letter from then-Winter Springs City Attorney Al Cook seeking Smith's opinion, the lawyer asked whether Mrs. Boyd might be in violation of Florida Statutes 112.313 if she remained on the city commission while serving as a reserve Winter Park officer.

The section of law in question refers to public officers being employed by or doing business with the agencies of which they are members.

Several officials in Seminole County also work for other governmental agencies.

These include:

— Keith Stone, a Seminole County school administrator who was recently elected to the Orange County School Board;

— Altamonte Springs City Commissioner Lee Constantine, who is employed at the University of Central Florida; — Lake Mary City Councilman Kenneth King, who is an instructor at Seminole Community College.

Lake Mary City Attorney Robert Petree said today he sees no conflict with King's position as a teacher. He said it appears Mrs. Boyd's problem is with the definition of the word "officer," noting that traditionally a policeman has been considered an officer.

School Board Attorney Ned N. Julian Jr. said he doesn't know if a problem exists because of Stone's recent election. "I haven't been asked that question by the School Board," Julian said.

Bidder Upset With County

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's Manpower and Public Defender offices have begun operations in Sanford City Hall but one Sanford moving company operator is unhappy about how they got there.

J.P. Roche Jr., president of A.J. Lussing Transfer & Storage Co., complained this week that Seminole County's purchasing department did not take formal bids on the move and then awarded the contract to an Orlando firm.

The two offices moved from their quarters in the Roumillat Building at the intersection of Park Avenue and First Street in Sanford to the first floor of City Hall last week. Ferguson and Murray, an Orlando moving company, was awarded the contract for $2,081.25.

Roche objected to the whole process, saying a purchasing official asked for an estimate on the project but did not know how much work would be involved in the move.

When he was examining the offices to determine what would be necessary for the move, workers didn't know exactly what they could move or even when they would be ready to move, Roche said.

"We were asked for two separate estimates. We didn't know whether they would be moving on the same day or not," he said. Roche said his firm submitted an estimate of $2,372.45 for moving and packing. Without the packing, which the office staffs did themselves, his firm could have made the move for just over $2,000, Roche said.

Barry Hastings, the purchasing department official who handled the move of the offices, said there was not a formal bid. Instead, the county commissioners approved a bid waiver, a process of obtaining three price quotes from vendors and then selecting the low price.

Hastings said the process is usually done when time constraints do not permit the bid process. Bidding usually takes 30 to 45 days, he said.

"The county has the right to waive bids when there are time sensibilities," Acting County Administrator Jim Easton said. County commissioners had placed a high priority on getting the office space in city hall and had previously labeled the situation as an emergency.

"Bid waivers are done quite frequently," he said. "It's nothing out of the ordinary."

Roche said he was disappointed in the county's action. "The bid waiver idea was never mentioned to us at all. Had we known what they were going to do we could probably have cut our estimate."

Roche further complained that the county shouldn't be going to out-of-county businesses unless the materials aren't available for a comparable price in Seminole County.

"They didn't do anything illegal or immoral. I'm just disappointed," he said.

"The board has always been interested in doing business with Seminole County firms," he said.

Local companies have been encouraged to submit bids for county contracts, since they pay taxes in the county and employ county residents, Easton said.

But Hastings said state law forbids the county from playing favorites when awarding contracts.

Greco's Lawyer: Youth Does Not Recall Crime

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

The lawyer for a 16-year-old Longwood boy accused of murdering his 14-year-old sister says his client is psychotic with an explosive personality disorder and has no recollection of the events in which he is charged.

Jack Bridges, lawyer for Richard David Greco of 1685 Glenethel Court filed papers in Seminole circuit court at 4:07 p.m. Wednesday saying his client is "not mentally competent to stand trial" and that he plans to rely on the defense of insanity should the case go to trial.

Greco, a former student at Seminole Community College enrolled in the high school program, pleaded not guilty Nov. 9 to the second-degree murder of his sister, Catherine Suzanne, in their Longwood home. Bridges had 15 days from the initial court appearance in which to file the necessary papers for the court to consider his motions. Greco is scheduled to be tried Dec. 29 as an adult due to the gravity of the charge, lawyers said.

Bridges said that after "conversations with the defendant, observations of him physically and based upon reports, analyses, diagnoses of the attending physician to date, I suggest and certify that the defendant does not have any specific recollection of the events charged, no independent recollection of any mens rea (a guilty mind or willful intent) and further, has been unable to aid me in preparation of any meaningful defense...."

Bridges further states the nature of the defense of insanity upon which he plans to rely in the Greco case is "psychotic and amplified by an A-typical impulse disorder, explosive personality disorder, isolated explosive disorder, which in so far as possible results in psychotic and schizophrenic behavior."

In his motion, Bridges asked the court to order no more than three and no less than two experts to examine the teen to determine his competency to stand trial and to disclose their findings at a hearing. No hearing date has yet been set, court officials said.

Bridges also lists the names of three physicians who he plans to call as witnesses to support his motion that Greco is incompetent to stand trial. Among those listed is Dr. Phillip Springer, a psychiatrist at Shands Teaching Hospital and Clinics, Inc., in Gainesville. Greco was under Springer's care at the Gainesville hospital from Sept. 22 until the youth's arrest Nov. 8, hospital officials said.

Bridges said he also plans to rely on additional forensic psychiatrists in the case, other than the three listed in court documents.

The 14-year-old girl died Sept. 9 after sheriff's deputies discovered the badly beaten girl lying on the kitchen floor of her home at about 7 p.m. on Sept. 7.

Miss Greco was transported to Florida Hospital-Orlando and later underwent surgery at the Orlando Regional Medical Center where she died without ever regaining consciousness. Doctors said the young Lake Mary High School sophomore had been beaten in the head with the blunt end of a metal claw hammer 14 or 15 times.

Deputies discovered the bleeding teen after Greco called his father, Richard J., 33, at his Cardinal Industries office and said the girl had been attacked. The elder Greco called deputies asking them to check on his daughter's well-being, while also calling a neighbor, Michael Young, and asking him to go to the home.

When deputies arrived at the home, they found the young Greco boy lying on the front porch, apparently in shock, saying, "My sister, my sister." Upon entering the home deputies were met by Young who led them to the girl.

A small metal hammer, which had been removed from the family tool box, was found lying on the floor near the girl, deputies said.

The 6-foot, 160-pound boy is currently being held in the county jail.

Court records show the Greco family has lived at the Longwood home for about six months, after moving here from Phoenixville, Penn. Prior to living in Pennsylvania, the family lived for eight months in Miami and three months in California, records show. Records further reflect that due to the nature of the elder Greco's occupation, frequent moves are common.

Judge Drops Court Clerk's Felony Charge

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Moments before suspended Seminole court deputy clerk Mary A. Knight was to stand trial on charges of practicing law without a license, witness tampering and attempted evidence tampering, Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor dismissed one charge and delayed prosecution on the other charges pending the outcome of the state's appeal of his decision.

Ms. Knight, an eight-year veteran of the clerk's office and microfilm department supervisor, was expected to stand trial Monday in a case that erupted in August after a Sanford woman told a circuit judge the clerk prepared legal documents and charged her $180 for the work.

Ms. Knight has been suspended from her duties without pay since Aug. 24, pending the outcome of the trial, according to Clerk of the Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr.

Ms. Knight, 34, of 3644 Main St. in Sanford was arrested at 10:30 a.m. on Sept. 1 after Beatrice Lee Baker of 2411 Granby St. in Midway told Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. in divorce hearing proceedings that a woman, identified as Ms. Knight, prepared her divorce papers and charged her $180 for the work, Davis said.

According to Beckwith, no one except a licensed lawyer is permitted to offer legal advice or prepare legal documents on another's behalf for profit. Ms. Knight is not a licensed lawyer, he added.

Ms. Baker further claims Ms. Knight charged her daughter in Longwood $180 for similar information and work, even though the daughter never went through with the divorce.

Ms. Baker said Ms. Knight also "hand wrote" instructions for her telling Ms. Baker exactly what to say to Davis during the proceedings. Later, Ms. Knight allegedly offered Ms. Baker $50 cash to destroy the hand-written notes and disavow her claims, prosecutors said.

"Ms. Knight's lawyer, James Golden, entered a motion before Judge McGregor to dismiss the third charge of witness

'We indicated at that time that the state was prepared to go ahead with the trial and try her on the other two charges but her lawyer objected, saying he wanted to wait on the appeal decision.'

tampering, a felony," Prosecutor Alan B. Robinson said. "The judge granted it and we are in the process of appealing it to the Fifth District Court of Appeal (in Daytona Beach)."

"We indicated at that time that the state was prepared to go ahead with the trial and try her on the other two charges but her lawyer objected, saying he wanted to wait on the appeal decision," Robinson said. "The judge granted that request also."

Robinson said the appeal, based upon an interpretation of the law concerning witness tampering and how it is applied to this particular case, could delay the trial for at least four to six months.

Golden and Ms. Knight could not be reached for comment concerning the case.

Ms. Knight has vigorously and repeatedly denied any wrongdoing in connection with the case, saying she did not prepare legal documents, give legal advice or charge for the work.

Baxley Vs. Smith In Commission Race

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A former Air Force airman and a retired railroad supervisor are contesting for a Sanford City Commission seat in the Dec. 7 city elections.

Patricia "Pat" Baxley, 36, an account executive with Southern Bell Telephone Co. and co-owner of a Sanford restaurant, is challenging incumbent Milton Smith, 64, completing his first two-year term on the commission.

Smith was elected in 1980 to the two years remaining in the unexpired term of John Morris, who resigned to run for the County Commission, but was unsuccessful.

The successful candidate in the Dec. 7 election will win a full four-year term on the City Commission.

Mrs. Baxley of 102 Skogen Court, a resident of the city for the past year, served in the U.S. Air Force and was an airman third class at the time of her discharge. She and her husband, John, have three children, Carol Tardif, 17, John Tardif, 16, and Douglas Baxley, 15.

A native of Florida, she graduated from Hiawahatch High School and is currently working toward her degree in business through Barry College. She also has taken business education and management courses through the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Smith and his wife, Vida, of 885 E. 20th St., have lived in Sanford for 24 years. The Smiths have two children, Dr. Freddie Smith and Mrs. Sue Christensen, and seven grandchildren: Scott, Steven, Blake and Erica Smith and Stacey, Robyn and Todd Christensen.

He was born in Georgia, graduated from high school and has taken many correspondence courses relating to his career including personnel, management and business administration.

Smith also served in the U.S. Army Transportation Corps.

Both candidates are actively involved in their churches. Smith is a member of Central Baptist Church, the Gideons, the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce

NATION IN BRIEF

Nixon Ordered Intervention In Car Air-Bag Controversy

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI) — Former President Richard Nixon ordered John Ehrlichman to intervene in the drafting of auto air-bag requirements as a result of a 1971 meeting with Ford Motor Co. executives, a White House tape transcript shows.

A spokesman for the company said Monday, however, the executives — Henry Ford II and Lee Iacocca — were not trying to kill federal air-bag standards, but merely arguing their case when they met with Nixon April 27, 1971.

Six months later, a pending rule, requiring air bags in every new car starting in 1973 was rescinded by the Department of Transportation. It was never put into effect.

Accelerated Tax Cut Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, weighing higher interest rates against the need for an economic stimulus, is deciding whether to risk possible defeat in Congress by pushing for an accelerated tax cut. Reagan said he would announce his decision today.

The only unanswered question was whether his proposals would include a six-month speed-up of the 10 percent tax cut due next July 1, which Reagan and his supply-side advisers believe would stimulate the economy.

Republican and Democratic congressional leaders agreed Monday not to speed up the 10 percent income tax cut from July to January 1983, no matter what Reagan asks them to do.

It has been estimated moving up the tax cut could add as much as $14 billion to the federal deficit due to lower tax collections. A bigger deficit, in turn, could produce a new surge in interest rates, choking off recovery.

Economic Indicators Point To A Recovery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's sensitive leading economic indicators kept pointing toward recovery in October, climbing by 0.6 percent for the sixth improvement in seven months, the Commerce Department said today.

The index is a composite of 10 separate indicators that move ahead of general business conditions by one to six months. The five indicators that climbed last month were led by a strong increase in stock prices followed by a revised 16.9 percent surge in building permits.

The department also said September's improvement in the index was stronger than first reported, showing a 1.1 percent gain instead of the originally reported 0.5 percent.

Government analysts say the index is not designed to forecast the strength of any recovery, just provide an advance signal that the economy is turning.

The trend of positive indications since April, interrupted only by a decline in August, has not been hailed by many economists as definitive proof of recovery since some important segments of the economy, particularly factory production, have shown accelerating deterioration lately, not improvement.

The three other indicators that contributed to the improvement in the index were a slackening of initial claims for unemployment insurance, a slowing pace of deliveries indicating increased business and expansion of the money supply adjusted for inflation.

The four indicators that were negative were led downward by a four-month moving average of changes in liquid assets, orders for consumer goods and orders for business equipment, both adjusted for inflation, and raw materials prices.

The composite index of leading indicators is described by the department as a barometer of future trends. An accompanying index of coincident indicators, considered to be a thermometer of the current economy, went down a full 1 percent in October, the fifth consecutive month of decline.

and the American Association of Retired Persons.

Mrs. Baxley is chairman of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce Small Business Council, the United Methodist Women and the Administrative Board of the United Methodist Church.

This is the first time Mrs. Baxley has run for elective office. Smith, in addition to the two years he has served on the City Commission, worked with various governmental officials during his railroad career.

In Smith's view, sewage disposal and storm drainage will be the major problems facing Sanford in 1983. Mrs. Baxley concurs, adding the need to repair roads, expand the downtown and resolve double taxation.

If Smith is re-elected, he places as top priorities reaching agreement with the state Department of Environmental Regulation concerning the city's sewage disposal, minimizing drainage problems, controlling taxes and spending and controlling growth.

Mrs. Baxley says top priority should be given to bringing the people of Sanford closer to the decisions which will be required during the pending period of growth "forced on us by Orlando and the cities to the north."

"Every citizen should turn back to their community time and talents which will help the city to grow and prosper," Mrs. Baxley said. "I feel my business background and management ability can be used well now by Sanford in setting the course for action to help us grow at a controlled rate."

Smith said, "I am committed and

A Dissatisfied FP&L May Sue For Still More Money

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Public Service Commission Chairman Joe Cresse expects to be sued by Florida Power & Light Co. even though FP&L has just gotten its second rate increase in a year.

The commission formally approved a $101 million rate hike for FP&L Monday, but Cresse said he doubts the company will be happy because it had sought a $281 million boost.

The increase, to take effect in 30 days, will mean an extra $2.40 a month for FP&L's residential customers and produce an average residential bill of about $66.

FP&L's rates went up just over $1 in August when the PSC granted it a 45 million interim rate increase. The $1 increase now becomes permanent and residential customers will pay

$2.50 more on top of it. FP&L probably will file a motion for reconsideration with the PSC, which almost certainly will be denied, then appeal to the Florida Supreme Court, trying to get a bigger rate increase, Cresse said.

"We're finished with this case — until somebody files a reconsideration motion and then files with the Supreme Court," he said.

He is confident the commission's ruling will stand up under a court appeal.

Not only was almost two-thirds of FP&L's rate hike request denied, but the company indirectly requested a second rate hike amounting to $177 million, which was rejected entirely.

The "attrition allowance," a special chunk of money to keep the utility's earnings from being eroded by inflation and unusual expenses, was not included in FP&L's formal rate hike request. But the company presented testimony during the lengthy public hearings saying it was entitled to the $177 million.

The rate increase is FP&L's second in just over a year. In September of 1981, it was granted a $257 million increase. It had requested $476 million.

FP&L may get still another rate increase next year. It will begin to pass on to its customers the $1.4 billion price tag for construction of a nuclear power plant in St. Lucie County once the plant is opened in July.

Escaped From Prison In 1977

Counterfeiter Gets Seven Years

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A 36-year-old Maitland man, who escaped from prison five years ago, has been sentenced to seven years in federal prison after he pleaded guilty to counterfeiting.

Oba Chandler, 2320 Markingham Road, who is also known as James Wright, was sentenced Monday in Orlando. Chandler was arrested by U.S. Secret Service agents who discovered $8,340 worth of counterfeit $20 bills in his vehicle at the time of his arrest.

Agents said Chandler lived in south Seminole County under the name of Wright for about four years after he escaped in 1977 from a prison near Jacksonville where he was serving time for a robbery conviction.

Agents arrested Chandler after two men told agents they had accepted a ride to Atlanta with a man named Jim who had some counterfeit money. Agents were later able to determine the man's identity through Atlanta hotel records and traced him to Maitland.

CASSELLBERRY MAN GETS PROBATION

A Casselberry man who pleaded guilty to mail fraud and agreed to testify against 13 other defendants in a fraudulent loan scheme trial in January has been sentenced to five years probation.

Joseph Beaulieu, a former employee of Murgu & Sanborn Associates, an international finance company based in Orlando, was sentenced to five years probation Monday by U.S. District Judge George Young in Orlando.

LONGWOOD MAN FACING SENTENCING

A Longwood man could face up to 20 years in prison following his conviction of embezzling $36,000 from four Orange County homeowners.

In the first such case to go to trial in Orange-Osceola circuit court, Charles W. Rose, owner of Charles W. Rose Construction Co. at 122 Holderness Drive in Longwood was found guilty of four counts of misappropriating home improvement construction money in Orlando court Wednesday.

Rose is scheduled to be sentenced in February in connection with the case, officials said. He is free from the Orange County jail on bond today while awaiting sentencing.

Orange County prosecutors said Rose's case was the first in the circuit to go to trial and result in a conviction. Prosecutors relied on a portion of the state's grand theft law to convict Rose. That law was declared constitutional by the Florida Supreme Court in 1979, based on an Orange County case.

The state charged that four families contracted with Rose to either build or improve their homes. One family hired Rose to enlarge the kitchen in their home and add two rooms. Another contracted with him to remodel their home for $47,000. The third family asked Rose to build a $200,000 home and the fourth contracted with Rose to rebuild their kitchen and a porch.

Rose hired subcontractors to handle the electrical, plumbing, glass and lumber work but a six-month investigation by the state attorney's office revealed that nine contractors had not been paid $36,000 in December 1980 and January 1981. At about that same time, Rose withdrew large amounts of money from his bank account and left the state, prosecutors said.

Since then, subcontractors have placed liens on the four homes in the amount of the unpaid fees.

Prosecutors added that even with Rose's conviction, the liens remain and even if Rose is ordered to make restitution to the subcontractors and does not, the victims' only recourse is to file a civil suit against Rose.

Police said the young boy was injured when he darted from behind parked vehicles into the path of a 1974 truck driven by Arthur Hubbard, 56, of 1802 W. Persimmon Ave., Sanford.

Police said the truck was traveling at about 15 mph and the driver stopped the vehicle upon seeing the child, but hit him, sending him rolling under a nearby parked vehicle.

Bank Defies Subpoena, Is Hit With Contempt

ATLANTA (UPI) — A federal court ruling that banks must honor grand jury requests for information could assist law enforcement agencies in drug investigations but it also may present international problems for banks.

The grand jury had sought financial data from the Bahamas branch of the bank, but bank officials said they could not furnish the information without violating Bahamian privacy laws.

Truck Driver Charged With Raping 4 Children

TAMPA (UPI) — A rural Florida truck driver is being held today without bond on charges that he raped four 11-year-old girls and a 24-year-old woman, police said.

Ronald Allen Clark, 36, of Seffner, is also charged with abducting a 10-year-old girl. Police say the girl was raped after she was abducted.

Previously convicted of auto theft, Clark now faces more than a dozen charges stemming from a string of rapes including an assault on a 10-year-old Altamonte Springs girl, which started June 23 when a 24-year-old Hillsborough County woman was assaulted in her home.

PSC Nixes Phone Charge

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Floridians apparently won't have to pay for long distance directory assistance even though several telephone companies want to charge for the service.

The Public Service Commission Monday rejected a proposal by its communications department to allow companies to charge for long distance "information" calls as they do now for local calls seeking telephone numbers.

The action is not final because the PSC will consider the matter again next year, but the long distance "information" charges being levied by Southern Bell Telephone, General Telephone and other companies appear threatened.

Judge Disqualifies Himself

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Calhoun County Circuit Court Judge W. L. Bailey, who was accused last week of being an advocate for the prosecution, has taken himself off the double-murder trial of baby sitter Christine Falling.

Bailey said that under Florida's rules of criminal procedure he had no choice in the matter beyond deciding whether the motion calling for his disqualification and its supporting affidavits were "legally sufficient."

He disqualified himself late Wednesday, one day after Miss Falling's attorneys accused him of siding with the prosecution, but because the court was closed Thursday and Friday, his decision did not become public until Monday.

Miss Falling's attorneys said that by arbitrarily changing the date of Miss Falling's trial in Blountstown from Jan. 24 to Dec. 27 he was helping the prosecution bring its best case to trial first.

Supreme Court

Reviews Abortion, Nuclear Waste, 'Exclusionary Rule'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, nearly a decade after legalizing abortion, is now examining state and local obstacles limiting the freedom to end a pregnancy.

Three hours of oral arguments were to be held today before the nine justices. An overflow crowd was expected in the ornate courtroom to hear the explosive case.

In 1973, the court voted, 7-2, to legalize abortions in the first trimester, or three months, of pregnancy.

Today's arguments focus on restrictions on second-trimester abortions imposed by state and local governments in Virginia, Missouri and Akron, Ohio, ranging from mandatory hospitalization and 24-hour waiting periods to parental consent for minors.

The most junior justices — John Paul Stevens and Sandra Day O'Connor, the first woman to serve on the high bench — will be confronting the issue at the Supreme Court level for the first time. They succeeded two members who both voted with the majority in 1973 in favor of legalizing abortions.

The restrictions before the high court make it more difficult to obtain a second trimester abortion.

In the Virginia case, a physician is appealing his criminal conviction for inducing an abortion in a 17-year-old who came to his clinic when she was at least four months pregnant.

Besides claiming the state failed to prove the abortion was not medically necessary, he contests the state law's requirement that second-trimester abortions be performed only in hospitals.

Medical and women's groups say requiring the procedure to be performed in hospitals rather than clinics substantially increases the expense, results in unnecessary and perhaps harmful delay and "straitjackets" a doctor's medical judgment.

Hospitalization also is an issue in the case challenging a 1978 Akron, Ohio, ordinance requiring doctors to describe to the patient the anatomy of a fetus and to tell her the "unborn child is a human life from the moment of conception."

It also requires a 24-hour waiting period, and mandates all abortions after the first three months be performed in a hospital.

Although a federal appeals court in Cincinnati struck down all but the hospitalization requirement, the high court agreed to review the entire statute.

The court's final decision in the case will affect the 22 states that require women to check into hospitals for second-trimester abortions.

Also before the court is a challenge to Missouri's 1979 anti-abortion statute that has the same hospitalization rule, but that also requires minors dependent on their families to obtain one parent's consent for an abortion.

Written rulings on the cases are not expected before next spring.

In other action, the High Court: — Stepped into the controversy over storage of dangerous radioactive waste from nuclear power plants.

The justices announced their action as Congress prepared to open debate on a proposal backed by the Reagan administration to create a nuclear waste disposal system.

The high court announced it will review a Nuclear Regulatory Commission rule that assumes no nuclear waste would be released from storage in salt mines even though none is now buried there.

In a surprise move, the court is jumping to the forefront of a raging controversy over a legal rule of evidence often blamed for setting the guilty free on technicalities.

On a 6-3 vote, the justices Monday announced they will consider creating a "good-faith" exception to the "exclusionary rule," a much-criticized judicial policy that bars the use of illegally obtained evidence in criminal trials.

The policy has been attacked by the Reagan administration and in legal and law enforcement circles because it prohibits evidence or confessions from being used in court if police made even a technical mistake in gathering the information.

The Supreme Court could defuse the entire political controvery if it decides to punch a hole in the rigid exclusionary rule by permitting judges to overlook honest mistakes made in "good faith" by police and to admit evidence they collect to be used against accused criminals.

Health Insurance Under The Cohabitation Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Board of Supervisors passed an ordinance providing health benefits for city employees' live-in lovers — including homosexuals — and it was in the hands today of Mayor Dianne Feinstein who had "a lot of thinking to do."

The city board Monday passed the measure sponsored by Supervisor Harry Britt, a gay activist. City officials said providing domestic partners the benefits formerly reserved for spouses may cost millions, although no official estimates have been released.

County Reorganization Places Added Emphasis

On Drainage, Transportation

Seminole County Public Works Director Jack Schuder will be able to devote more time to transportation and drainage problems because of a re-organization of the department.

Under the new plan, the environmental services division would be given department status with responsibility for water and sewer service, environmental control and refuse disposal. An enterprise finance division would be created within the new department to supervise funding of projects.

"The two biggest problems (facing the county) are transportation and drainage. There is a tremendous amount of time needed for that," former County Administrator Roger Neiswender said before leaving the post. "This will free Jack's time and give him a lead role in planning strategy."

Schuder has been involved in studying funding alternatives for proposed road improvements in the county.

The new set-up upgrades Ken Hooper to head of the new department with an increase in salary. Hooper's salary ceiling is now $36,836, up from $34,987.

Under the new plan, 10 other positions are upgraded or re-classified. Two others are reassigned.

The re-organization will cost an additional $13,000.

WORLD IN BRIEF

1 Hurt In Bomb Blast At 10 Downing Street

LONDON (UPI) — A package bomb sent by the Irish National Liberation Army exploded today inside Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's No. 10 Downing Street offices, burning one man.

Mrs. Thatcher, who was unharmed, was in her private office preparing for her twice-weekly parliamentary question time when the bomb exploded at noontime in a room far from hers.

The INLA, a violent offshoot of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, claimed responsibility for the blast in a phone call to the Independent Radio Station in Belfast.

Soviets Talk Retaliation

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union will fire its nuclear rockets at Western Europe on a moment's notice if NATO goes ahead with plans to install 572 new U.S.-made missiles, official Soviet sources said.

The authoritative Movost news agency Monday said that such a "launch-on-warning" tactic was "the only alternative" for the Soviet military if NATO begins deploying the rockets in December 1983.

The diplomats said the Soviets put emphasis on "retribution" against the West for any attack, even if the first missile is fired in error.

Destroyer, Sub Collide

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — The U.S. Navy submarine Thomas A. Edison and the destroyer Lettowich collided today but there were no reports of injuries and both ships were still "operational," the Navy said.

Navy spokesman Lt. Steve Honda said the incident occurred 40 miles west of the Subic Bay Naval Base, 60 miles northwest of Manila, during routine operations in the South China Sea.

According To New Playboy Poll

Sex More Important Than Money

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most "veterans of the sexual revolution" think they're good lovers, but they rank sex low on their list of priorities, a new survey concludes.

"What the survey showed me is how healthy they all are," said James Petersen, a columnist for Playboy magazine, which commissioned a team of researchers to conduct the poll. The results of their study were released Monday.

The poll, which netted over 100,000 responses, found four of five respondents, both men and women, think they are good lovers. More than half think their sex lives have improved over the past five years.

But both men and women rated sex below love, family life and friends in their list of priorities, the survey said.

However, the respondents said sex is of more importance than money and work.

Janice Lever, one of the researchers and an assistant sociology professor at Northwestern University, said differing sexual attitudes traditionally ascribed to men and women had changed.

"We found women are more like men in the variety of their recreational sex, for example," said Ms. Lever. "We found men are more like women in that they, too, are looking for love."

Ms. Lever also said the survey found women are experimenting more — and earlier — than men, but contrary to popular myth, men are not turned off by these women's liberated views.

"The good news is that people are happy, healthy and more satisfied with each other," Ms. Lever said.

Petersen said the survey respondents were about 80 percent men, with an average age of 31 and making an average $24,000, and 20 percent women, with an average age of 28 and making an average $15,000 a year.

"These are the veterans of the sexual revolution," he said. But Petersen said he got a few "little surprises" along the way.

"Forty-one percent of the men surveyed (and about 48 percent of the women) talk dirty during sex," he said. "I kind of wondered what they say."

Poland: Troubled Temporary Truce

The Roman Catholic Church, guardian of Polish culture and national identity for centuries, has just piloted the Poles through another stormy passage to shelter, which appears to be safe for the moment at least.

Some remarkable things have been happening in Poland recently, the culmination of which was overshadowed by the death of Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev in Moscow and the accession of his successor, Yuri Andropov.

We learn that Pope John Paul II, whose scheduled visit to Poland in August was canceled because of Warsaw's harsh rule of martial law, will visit his fellow countrymen in June. The eight-hour general strike called by the underground to protest the outlawing of Solidarity simmered down to a few street demonstrations, thanks to the church's canny mediation. Solidarity leader, Lech Walesa was released from 11 months of confinement, and Polish authorities are suggesting a lifting of martial law before Christmas.

Matters seemed to be heading for a showdown with the approach of Nov. 10, the second anniversary of Solidarity's official recognition as the first free trade union in the communist world. There were rumors of a national shutdown by Solidarity. Accordingly, Poland's primate, Archbishop Jozef Glomp, was prompted in late October to fly to Rome for consultations with the Pope, who keeps a close eye on his homeland. Even as these talks were taking place, Solidarity's underground leaders called for an "obligatory" anniversary strike as expected. Whereupon Archbishop Glomp hurried back to Warsaw and promptly conferred with Poland's military ruler, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski. A joint statement from the two leaders on Nov. 8 voiced "... concern for the preservation and strengthening of ... social order and honest work." The statement also contained an important announcement — the Pope would be coming home in June. Moreover, government spokesmen hinted martial law would be lifted by Christmas.

In other words, the church and state had reached a bargain; Lech Walesa would be set free, martial law would be lifted, and the Pope would be permitted to visit in return for worker renunciation of the Nov. 10 strike.

Playing it safe on the showdown weekend, Archbishop Glomp invited all the Polish bishops to join him for a three-day retreat at Czestochowa, the location of Poland's most venerated shrine to the black Madonna. Thus the archbishop removed activist church leaders who might have incited resistance.

Four days after the strike fizzled, the state honored its bargain and released Lech Walesa. Subsequently, the government has been balancing conciliation with intimidation. It lifted martial law suspensions from more than a half dozen Catholic intellectual clubs, but is demanding a 10-year jail sentence for one of the original members of the five-man underground Solidarity leadership committee, Wladyslaw Frasyniuk. These contrasting actions suggest that the recent accommodation between state, church, and labor in Poland is but a shaky truce, making the best of a bad situation.

We may infer from these developments that Jaruzelski senses his strength in taming Solidarity, even as he recognizes the government's weakness without the tolerance, let alone the consent, of the people. We can also perceive that Warsaw wants the lifting of western economic sanctions, which have been particularly painful to Poland's already ruined economy. Thus the releasing of Lech Walesa, the prospect of lifting martial law, and the easing of other oppressive measures is advantageous to Poland's communist rulers now because the United States and its allies responded to the imposition of martial law in Poland with more than mere words of protest.

But there can be no rest in Poland. Ferment in that burdened land must continue because the brief breath of freedom that Solidarity brought is the irresponsible stuff of history.

BERRY'S WORLD

"A word to the wise, Buster! You'd better start watching your step VERY CAREFULLY, like LECH WALESA is doing these days."

By DONNA ESTES

Seminole County didn't take any awards in the state for its voter turnout in the September and October primaries or in the general election earlier this month.

But at least it had the second highest voter turnout at 56.47 percent of all but one of its neighboring counties in the general election.

Only Lake had a higher turnout at 61.39 percent when 32,191 of that county's 52,440 registered voters went to the polls.

Meanwhile, Orange to the south was registering a 54.51 percent turnout — 106,908 of its 196,125 voters; Brevard 54.79 percent — 83,289 of its 152,002 voters and Volusia had 53.29 percent — 71,394 of its 132,979 voters.

Of Seminole County's 75,799 voters, 42,802 cast ballots.

State Rep. Carl Selph, R-Casselberry, has opened an office for his district in Casselberry at 20 S. U.S. 17-92.

Selph's district includes the eastern portions of Seminole and Orange counties and the Rockledge area of Brevard.

Suzanne Ertel, Selph's legislative aide, is managing the office.

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, has scheduled a work session with the Seminole County Commission for 2 p.m., Dec. 13, in Room 200 of the courthouse.

Brantley said the commissioners requested the workshop.

Meanwhile, Brantley and State Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs, have filed a proposed constitutional amendment for the 1983 session which would prohibit the state from mandating programs on to local governments unless the state provides financing for the programs.

State Sen. Richard Langley, R-Clermont, has filed the same bill in the Florida Senate.

The proposed legislation specifically states that any law which increases expenditures of a county or city, or any law which reduces revenue to a county or city must provide a means of financing reimbursement to a city or county in the amount of the expenditure.

"We have seen far too many instances where laws have been passed which cut revenues to local governments and create undue hardship on local officials in meeting the needs of constituents," Brantley said.

If the proposed constitutional amendment is passed by the 1983 Legislature, it will have to be approved by the voters in 1984.

The Florida League of Cities is "strongly supporting" the proposed amendment, according to Ray Sittig, executive director of the league.

WILLIAM A. RUSHER

It's A Phony Objectivity

NEW YORK (NEA) — The 1982 Report of Amnesty International, dealing with the status of political prisoners all over the world in 1981, has just been published. It spectacularly confirms my long-standing belief that this overpublicized and overrated organization is not the neutral analyst of human rights it pretends to be, but a tireless and highly effective propagandist against the free world in its ongoing struggle with communism.

The report sets forth the findings of Amnesty International country by country, covering 121 nations in all. According to an explanatory preface, "Information about prisoners and human rights violations emanates from Amnesty International's Research Department in London." This is more revealing than you may suspect, for the head of that research department was until a few months ago Derek Roebuck, an Australian Communist who refers to the United States as "the monster." Precisely why the liberal media in the United States never mentions this piquant fact while dutifully peddling Mr. Roebuck's extensive work product is for them to explain — certainly I can't.

The report deals with most countries perfunctorily, in a paragraph or two. A few, however, are singled out for more extensive treatment, and the curious fact is that these are almost invariably countries friendly to the United States — countries, moreover, that are currently the targets of powerful Soviet propaganda attacks.

Take the Western Hemisphere nations, for example, which are grouped separately for convenience. The largest treatments given to any countries in the region — more than five pages apiece — are devoted to El Salvador and Guatemala, tiny banana republics clinging to the spine of Central America, but both current objects of communist denunciation and guerrilla warfare. Far bigger communist Cuba, on the other hand, gets off with barely two pages; the report doesn't even bother to mention its notorious Isle of Pines prison.

Or take sub-Saharan Africa. The Republic of South Africa, perhaps naturally, leads the report's parade here, with a five and one-half page discussion. Right behind it, however, comes Zaire, a key Western-oriented black African state with close ties to Israel: five pages. Of the many African dictatorships with close Soviet ties, not one even approaches such attention. Two of the worst — the Peoples' Republics of Angola and Mozambique — get two and one-half and one and one-half pages respectively.

In the Middle East and North Africa, the worst offender turns out to be America's staunch ally, Morocco, whose derelictions require six pages of discussion. (Surprised? Then you haven't been paying attention.) Next is Egypt: four and one-half pages. And Israel: three and one-half. Even Ayatollah Khomeini's Iran only manages to tie to Israel, and Qaddafi's Libya gets a gentle two-page brushoff.

In Asia, the report's bias borders on the ludicrous. No less than eight pages are needed to describe the misdeeds of Pakistan, and another seven are devoted to the Philippines — both friends of the West, of course — while huge Communist China gets off with four. North Korea, which is probably the world's most thoroughgoing police state, warrants less than a page, while America's ally South Korea rates five.

Document Reveals Argentine Coup

WASHINGTON — Argentine President Reynaldo Bagnone will be overthrown before the month is out.

This, at least, is the prediction contained in a secret Argentine army document, which reveals that the man who is the real power behind Bagnone, Army Commander-in-Chief Cristino Nicolaides, intends to seize the presidency as well as the power — and soon.

The document, stamped "Secreto," was translated and confirmed as authentic by my associates Jon Lee Anderson and Dale Van Atta. Dated Aug. 18, it is from Brig. Gen. Rodolfo Enrique Luis Wehner to the army's top intelligence officer, Brig. Gen. Alfredo Sotera, laying out instructions from their "jefe maximo," Gen. Nicolaides.

"The ascension of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to the presidency of the nation ... should be achieved toward the end of this year," the orders state unequivocally. Ever since Bagnone took over the military

JEFFREY HART

Ted: Political Torpedo

Sen. Edward Kennedy won re-election in Massachusetts by a handsome, though reduced margin over political neophyte Ray Shamie, and all signs point to a Kennedy thrust for the 1984 presidential nomination.

That Kennedy is really running even now has been confirmed by a long-time Kennedy lieutenant, Jack English, the Democratic leader of N.Y.'s Nassau County, though with the usual ritual qualifications about resistance from the Kennedy family.

The trouble is that Kennedy is much more of a threat to the Democratic Party than he is to Ronald Reagan.

This time, it looks as if Kennedy can really get the Democratic nomination.

In 1980, he ran against an incumbent Democratic president who, although unpopular, skillfully used all the assets of incumbency of defeat him.

But today, Kennedy holds a wide lead in the polls against his Democratic rivals. According to one poll, Democrats prefer him to Walter Mondale by 43 to 13. Nor does Mondale appear to have the political voltage to close that gap. He has never captured the popular imagination. As a Democrat replying to President Reagan's speech on the economy, Mondale seemed on television — in the 1982 slang — wimpy. At best, Mondale can rise to a kind of grey competence about the mechanics of government.

But Kennedy's appeal to the left-activists within the Democratic Party is hardly the prescription for victory in the general election against the now all-but-certain candidacy of Ronald Reagan. As his crowd-rousing speech at the interim Democratic convention in Philadelphia indicated, Kennedy is running as the uncompromising candidate of the political left. "We do not have to call ourselves neo-liberals, or cozy up to neo-conservatives," he shouted, to audience cheers.

Kennedy, in the speech, ran through the usual list of liberal recommendations, but he emotional power was in the themes that appeal to the George McGovern constituency: the revival of ERA and sharp cuts in defense spending.

The problem for the Democrats is as visible as the Alps on a clear day.

It looks as if Kennedy can dominate the race for the nomination early, mobilizing the McGovernite activists in the party. But those themes do not mobilize a national constituency. In national terms, they are political arsenic.

In the 1982 off-year election, analyzing the local strategies, Republicans — especially south of the Potomac — sensed the political value of running against Kennedy. In Virginia, Paul Tribe found that there was political mileage in ads linking his opponent to Kennedy. In Texas, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen's Republican opponent tried energetically, though without much success, to link Bentsen to Kennedy. Polls in Texas showed that losing Republican Gov. Bill Clements had the most negative ratings in the state, with one exception: Teddy Kennedy.

This defines the Democrats' lethal problem. Kennedy may have the party's nomination locked up. But he is not electable. And 1960s liberalism aside, everyone knows that as Kennedy moves toward the general election, "You Know What" will come up again and again.

What the Democrats need is not a decadent leftist showboat like Kennedy, but a solid and undoubtedly patriotic family man. One thinks, for example, of John Glenn, Marine fighter pilot in Korea, astronaut, Midwesterner, the Last American Hero.

But the idea of John Glenn and the actual human being John Glenn are two different things. As a speaker, Glenn is stupefyingly boring — not only in terms of delivery but because he does not have much to say. As the disastrous prospect of a Kennedy nomination looms before the Democrats, it is possible that the best minds in the party can give John Glenn a credible alternative national program — but don't bet on it.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy bulk within the party prevents the emergence of younger and better national candidates. The Kennedys, collectively, may be the worst thing that has happened to the Democratic Party.

ROBERT WALTERS

'84 Begins Just As '82 Is Over

NEW ORLEANS (NEA) — For voters satiated with politics, the good news is that the 1982 campaigns are over.

But the bad news is that the 1984 presidential race has now begun in earnest — and nowhere has the passion and intensity of that contest been more apparent than at the recent meeting here of the Association of the State Democratic Chairs.

Throughout that three-day session, the chatter among the politicians who congregated in this city's famed restaurants and bars focused on such arcane topics as John Glenn's spruced up rhetorical style, Reubin Askew's "Maine strategy" and Walter Mondale's ill-timed duck-hunting foray.

"The campaign is already one-third over," notes one veteran observer. "All of these guys have been on the road for at least a year and there's less than two years remaining."

The odyssey of Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, during the past two years typifies the experience of the small but vociferous band of candidates seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

Glenn's campaign already has taken him to the four corners of the country — from Hollywood, Fla. and Portland, Maine to Los Angeles and Seattle. Since January, he has traveled to 24 states on behalf of 56 candidates.

Former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew, another candidate who has embarked on a nonstop cross-country quest for grass-roots backing, told state party officials here that "it is tremendously gratifying to travel around the country" — a dubious proposition at best but nevertheless a cardinal component of every candidate's required litany.

Because the men and women who chair the various states' Democratic organizations are especially influential in the candidate selection process, Glenn and Askew were here to seek support, as were Sens. Gary Hart, D-Colo.; Ernest Hollings, D-S.C.; and Alan Cranston, D-Calif. Missing were only Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., who was out of the country, and former Vice President Walter Mondale, who sent each conference participant a telegram explaining that he was busy duck-hunting during a brief self-imposed exile from politics.

Mondale was represented by two late-arriving aides, a gesture viewed by some as a minor gaffe, while Kennedy dispatched a congeries of political operatives with expense accounts fat enough to buy many attendees dinner at some of this city's priciest restaurants.

Indeed, on the second day of the meeting the state chairman and chairwomen were treated to breakfast bought by Cranston, lunch courtesy of Askew and dinner purchased by Kennedy. One day earlier, Glenn hosted a lavish cocktail party at a private club with a spectacular penthouse view of the city.

Glenn, Hollings and Askew had previously suffered from a reputation of having speaking styles which tended to make listeners' eyes glaze over, but all three arrived here with vastly improved rhetorical ability. Hart, on the other hand, has already delivered the same speech so many times that some thought his presentation was flat.

During the coming months, all of the candidates will continue to trek around the country, making repeated forays into Iowa and New Hampshire, where the first grass-roots plebiscites on the party's presidential nominee are only 15 months distant.

the first months of 1984. If a prolongation should occur ... it would only happen after previous agreement with 'the most representative civilian sectors.'"

In other words, the anticipated suspicions among the other armed forces that Nicolaides plans to keep control indefinitely should be allayed by an assurance that he will give up the presidency in about a year unless civilian leaders agree that he should stay on.

It is possible, of course, that Nicolaides may decide to give up his plans for a coup — or at least his timetable for one — now that I've blown his cover.

"As the Commander-in-Chief ordered," the secret orders state, "the taking of the 'political decision' depends, for the most part, upon the level of confidentiality maintained. For this reason, it is important to take all the precautions necessary to ensure the success of the operation."

Sorry about that, general.

Cooper, Brinson Lead Crooms To 37th Straight

Garnell Cooper and Melvin Brinson combined for 21 points while Allen Mitchell controlled the backboards as the Crooms Panthers won their 37th straight game, 78-23, over Oviedo Monday night at Oviedo.

"The starters played less than a quarter," said coach John McNamara. The Panthers, 4-0, face one of their stiffest tests Saturday when they travel to Ocala to play Vanguard at 6:45 p.m. prior to the Vanguard-Stuart-Martin County varsity clash. Vanguard was the last team to beat Crooms three years ago.

Cooper tossed in 11 points and Brinson added 10 as the Panthers moved to an early lead. Mitchell snared nine rebounds to dominate the boards.

Dexter Franklin and Alvin Jones each handed out four assists. Mike Wright had five rebounds and Robert Hill collected eight steals. Daryl Williams had three assists. All 14 Panthers scored.

Knock Off Seminoles, 63-54

By BRENT SMARTT
Herald Sports Writer

"It took us 23 games to get any recognition last year, maybe now we'll get some early," proclaimed Lake Mary basketball coach Bill Moore after his Lady Rams stunned coach Ron Merthie's Lady Seminoles, 63-54, in the season opener for both clubs Monday at Lake Mary.

The first ever meeting of these two squads on the basketball court proved to be quite an emotional affair, but the Lake Mary experience and height was just too much for the 'Noles.

The opening quarter season showed both clubs in preseason form as sloppy turnovers, fouls, and jump balls dominated play.

The Rams' Twin Glass Towers — Laura and Peggy — Glass sisters, managed to combine for nine points to offset nine-first quarter tallies by sophomore Mona Benton, to advance Lake Mary a slight 16-15 first quarter edge.

In the second period Lake Mary point guard Lisa Gregory came out smokin', canning two jumpers for a 24-19 margin at the 4:36 mark. As Gregory was filling the nets the 'Noles couldn't find it. In the second period Seminole shot a paltry 2 of 25, aiding the Rams in taking a 31-23 halftime lead.

After the halftime, Merthie placed his forces in a zone press which reaped Lake Mary turnovers and a 35-35 tie midway in the third period. The good fortune didn't last, though, as S-minole lost junior guard Maxine Campbell on fouls and control of the game as the Ram's cranked up the fastbreak to regain a 45-39 lead on junior Michelle Swartz's eight points to head into the final stanza.

Both clubs returned to sloppy and uncomposed play through most of the final quarter, with Lake Mary clinging to a 55-49 edge with 2:11 left.

Keyed by Gregory's pressure ball handling, and free-throw losses, the Seminoles could come no closer and began the season on a sour 63-54 note.

Lake Mary coach Moore pointed to many things in his team's success. "The experience of the AAU summer ball helped. I think this proves the Glass girls (Laura and Peggy) can stay with anyone on the boards and Lisa Swartz and Laura Glass shared scoring honors with 13 apiece, followed by Peggy Glass with 12 before fouling out late in the fourth. Mona Benton topped all scorers with 19 for Seminole, followed by Diedre Hillery's 15.

In the junior varsity opener, Coach Sonya Manley's Seminoles swamped Lake Mary 43-19 for some revenge.

It was never a contest as the young 'Noles breezed to a 25-14 intermission lead and cruised unchallenged to victory.

Andell Smith (16), Temekia Alexander (11), and Sonja Jenkins (9) paved the way for Manley's crew.

The Rams Karen DeShetter topped all scorers with 17.

Backed-Up Bucs Outlast Dolphins

TAMPA (UPI) — With their "backs up against the wall," the Tampa Bay Buccaneers abandoned past performances and turned to a ground game to keep alive their slim hope of a playoff position in the strike-altered NFL season.

The Bucs scored two touchdowns on the ground and kicked three field goals Monday night to upset cross-state rival Miami, 23-17.

"We came in with the idea of running the football and that's what we did," said Tampa quarterback Doug Williams. "I felt good about this game all day. I knew we were going to take it in end zone."

The Dolphins held Williams to seven completions in 19 attempts, for 81 yards in the air, his first non-100-yard passing game since October 1980.

But the Buccaneers made the most of their running game as Williams scored on a 3-yard jaunt and James Wilder tallied the deciding touchdown on a 2-yard plunge.

The victory gave Tampa a 1-3 record in the National Conference along with five other teams. Miami dropped to 3-1, but remained tied with five other teams atop the American Conference.

"When you are 0-3 your back is up against the wall — but we came through smelling like a rose," said Williams. "It wasn't a very pretty game but it was a great win."

"I think that any team that's 1-3 is still in it," Tampa Bay Coach John McKay said of his team's playoff chances. "If we didn't win this game, (we were) out of it."

McKay said the Dolphins helped the Bucs with their occasionally sloppy play. "They dropped some balls they normally would have caught," he said. "I think we worked very hard."

Miami Coach Don Shula said the Dolphins did not play well enough to win. "We got about what we deserved for our performance," he said. "Tampa's defense did a real good job on us."

The Buccaneers intercepted five Miami passes, including one by cornerback Mike Washington, on the final play of the game at the Tampa 2 to preserve the victory. It was his second interception of the game.

Former Dolphin safety Neal Colzie also picked off two Miami passes and fellow safety Cedric Brown got one.

Colzie's 51-yard interception return early in the fourth quarter set up

James Owens darts for a first down against Miami.

Wilder's 2-yard score. Bill Capece kicked three field goals for the second straight week, from 27, 28 and 36 yards.

Don Strock, who replaced starting quarterback David Woodley in the second half, combined with tight end Joe Rose for two fourth-period touchdowns, one for 9 yards and the other for 11 with less than a minute left in the game.

Miami recovered an onside kick with 30 seconds left but Washington's interception of Strock's pass intended for Duriel Harris snuffed out the Dolphins' hopes of pulling off a victory.

Brantley, Howell Tipoff Tonight

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

As the Lake Brantley Tip-Off Tournament gets under way tonight both the Silver Hawks and the host Patriots are looking to get out of the gates fast to open the season. Both Lake Howell coach Greg Robinson and Lake Brantley mentor Bob Peterson would like to get off to a fast start since both teams suffered through miserable seasons a year ago.

The Lake Brantley junior varsity will start things off at 3:30 p.m. against the Wymore Tech JV, and the Lake Howell JV will meet Leesburg JV at 5 p.m. The varsity action starts at 6:30 with Lake Howell facing Leesburg and the Patriots will go up against Wymore Tech at 8.

Game times will be the same for Wednesday with the varsity consolation game at 6:30 and the championship at 8. "I've seen what Leesburg looks like and they will be tough," Robinson said. "It will be a good test for us." Robinson, a former Crooms High School and Seminole Community College standout, has been the only basketball coach in the history of Lake Howell.

The Silver Hawks would like to get into the win column early since they suffered through an agonizing 0-22 1981 campaign. To make matters worse, the junior varsity was 0-21. "We're using the tournament as a springboard to see where we stand," Robinson said. "We are lacking experience so we will use the tournament to give everyone playing time and get the nervousness and mistakes out of our system before the regular season starts."

The regular season for the Silver Hawks begins Tuesday, Dec. 7 at home against Lyman in a Five Star Conference matchup. On Friday (the 10th) Lake Howell will face nonconference foe Lake Mary at Lake Mary.

Three players returning for their senior seasons, a first-year senior and a sophomore will make up the starting lineup for the Silver Hawks. The three returnees are 6-3 senior Jeff Woods, 6-2 senior John Hamrick and 6-0 senior Vaughan Lahr. Wilbur Gordon, a senior in his first year with the Hawks, will also start as will sophomore Eiren Banks.

Another returning senior who will see a lot of playing time is 5-9 Ricky Diaz. Off of the football team come 6-0 Ed Norton and 6-3 Fred McNeil, neither will play a whole lot in the tourney according to Robinson because the football season just ended this past Saturday and the two haven't worked out much with the basketball team. The remainder of the team includes four juniors and a freshman. Juniors Mike Rea, David MacDonald and Alan Banyanski all stand 6-1 and should contribute this season. The other junior is Jack Vicario and the freshman is Hayward Beasley.

The Silver Hawks have to be optimistic about the '82 season, after going 0-22 last year, the only way to go is up.

Prep Basketball

And the only way to look at the 1982 Lady Silver Hawks is up. Coach Dennis Codrey's squad consists of six players who are 5-9 or taller but the main strength of this team will be depth.

"Depth is probably the strongest point we have," Codrey said. "We will be stronger than last year with good size and decent speed."

Of the 13 players on the roster, all will see plenty of playing time. Codrey said his starting lineup has not been determined yet but one who will most likely be in the lineup at the tip-off at Bishop Moore Wednesday night will be 5-10 junior Chiquita Miller.

Seniors on the Lake Howell squad are Cathy Binkewicz (5-8), Leigh Lowe (5-10), Kecia McPherson (5-9) and Cindy Blocker (5-7). Juniors on the Silver Hawks' roster who played last year include Mary Johnson (5-7), Christie Scott (5-8), Elizabeth Detrich (5-9), Janene Brown (6-3), Cathy Barma (5-2), Sherry Green (5-8), Tammy Johnson (5-7) and Monica McNeil (5-1).

Lake Howell's first conference game will be next Monday against Lyman at Lake Howell. Nonconference opponents include Oviedo (Dec. 3 at home and Dec. 20 away), Lake Mary (Dec. 10 away and Jan. 19 at home) and Bishop Moore (Wednesday night away and Feb. 9 at home).

"Lyman and Seminole are the favorites in the conference and Lake Brantley looks tough too," Codrey said. "Hopefully, we'll be in the thick of things."

Sometimes a team that has just one dominating player doesn't come out as one of the best teams. That's the way coach Bob Peterson's Lake Brantley team looks at the '82-'83 season. "We don't have any bluechippers or dominating players but we have balance." If the Patriots can get a balanced attack they should improve over last year.

"We have eight or nine players that we will be utilizing a lot early in the year," Peterson said. "We have a lot of youth and a lot of players off of last year's junior varsity. We will get better as the year goes on."

After the Tip-Off tourney, Lake Brantley has a week to prepare for its opening game, a Dec. 7 matchup with conference foe Apopka at Apopka.

The captain of the Patriots and the starting point guard will be 5-10 junior Mike Evans. Peterson said Evans will be relied on heavily and is one of the most experienced players on the squad. Others who will see a lot of action early in the year are Mike Garriques (6-0 junior),

Mark Cochran (6-0 senior), Eric Trombo (6-1 junior) and Dennis Groseclose (6-1 sophomore). The main inside players will be Baron Ewing (6-3 senior), Paul Hoffman (6-3 senior) and Rick Zullo (6-3 senior). The remainder of the roster includes Mike Lloyd (5-9 senior), Mark Shorey (6-0 sophomore) and Jon Moore (6-1 junior).

For the Lady Patriots of coach Benny Betris, the '83-'83 season is shaping up to be a good one. Betris' team has four returning starters in addition to a stronger bench, after the Patriots 10-14 finish a year ago.

"We're hoping our quickness and speed will compensate for a lack of 'real height,'" Betris said. "The Lady Patriots will definitely, foreshadowing injuries, be a strong contender in '82."

Lake Brantley will have to contend with a strong Orlando Edgewater team tonight at Edgewater as the season gets under way. The Patriots' home opener is Thursday against another strong team in Lyman's Lady Greyhounds.

The starting lineup consists of two players who averaged in double figures last year, a "dynamic" point guard, last year's most improved player and a promising player off last year's junior varsity.

Three seniors, Rhonda Vasquez (5-8), Linda Trimble (5-8), and Kara Pritchett (5-9) will be in the starting lineup. Vasquez averaged 12.3 points and 7.2 rebounds per game a year ago when she was selected to the all-conference first team. Vasquez also led the team in assists and steals last year. Another all-conference first team selection last year was Trimble who averaged 13.2 points and eight rebounds per game. Last year's most improved player was Pritchett who averaged 6.0 points and 5.1 rebounds per game and is considered a very hard worker by Betris.

At point guard the Lady Patriots will go with 5-3½ junior Linda Nunez who, Betris calls, "one of the best ball handlers in this entire area." Up from junior varsity is Tracey Meikle who is looking to be the fifth starter and plays a strong inside game.

The bench strength comes from 5-6 senior guard Jill Patrick who is an effective outside shooter and excellent from the free-throw line according to Betris. Adding to the depth of Lake Brantley will be juniors Kim Longhouser (a 5-3 transfer from Germany) and Anne Murray (5-9) with quickness, played varsity last year, sophomores Michelle Brown (5-7 played JV last year) and Angie Williams (5-6 also played JV a year ago) and freshman Sherry Applen (5-7 with good quickness and a lot of hustle).

Lake Brantley figures to be right in the middle of the conference title race with Seminole, Lyman and Lake Howell.

Desperation 40-Footer Nips Raiders

FORT PIERCE — It's bad enough to get beat by a shot at the buzzer. But when it comes from 40 feet after an air ball, well, it was just a little too much for Bill Payne to swallow.

"Lord, it was unbelievable," said Payne after Joe Patterson's desperation attempt swished the net to give Indian River a 59-58 victory over Seminole Community College Monday night. "I still don't believe it happened (Tuesday) today."

The Raiders, 3-3, held a 56-57 lead with only 30 seconds remaining. Indian River, 8-1, worked the ball for a last shot. "We knew they were going to try and go to Patterson, he was their hot man (16 points)," said Payne. "So we closed him off."

Unable to locate Patterson, Jerry Puryear tossed up a shot which drew nothing but air and landed on the baseline. SCC guard Ricky Sutton tried to screen a player off as the ball rolled toward the out of bounds, but a Fort

JC Basketball

Pierce player reached around him and desperately heaved the ball back in play.

It landed near halfcourt, where Patterson grabbed it and fired in the miracle shot.

SCC had built a 37-30 lead at halftime on the outside sniping of Keith Whitney for six points and Rickey Sutton for six. Rudy Kuiper, SCC's 6-10 center, added eight.

"We were very patient the first half," said Payne about the 59 percent shooting. The Raiders finished the night with 26 of 54 field goals for 48 percent.

Indian River hit 27 of 57 for 47 percent. Kuiper and Luis Phelps led the Raiders with 13 points each. Whitney hit 12 and Sutton finished with 10. IRCC outrebounded Seminole, 28-27. Kuiper and Phelps had seven boards each for SCC.

David Gallagher, once again replacing Jimmy Payton who injured his knee, handed out seven assists and did "a tremendous job," said Payne.

JONES' POINTERS

Former Boston Celtic great Sam Jones (right) gives Lake Mary guard Kim Averill a couple of pointers during the Lady Sunshine Classic basketball clinic held Saturday at Lake Mary High School. Averill put her pointers to use Monday night when the Rams played Seminole for the first time.

Rogers Sweeps 2 Titles; Cook: 'Paybacks Are Hell'

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — After leading for 128 laps, David Rogers, his battle-scarred Howe 5th design-Barnes and Reese-powered 1982 Firebird covered with dents and tire marks, won the Fifth Annual "Florida Cracker 200" Late Model Championship on Sunday afternoon at New Smyrna Speedway. Rogers also won the previous night's 50-lap End of the Month Championship at the same half-mile of pavement.

"The car ran so good that I never had to drive it hard," said Rogers after the race, praising his crew for perfectly preparing the car and getting him out of the pits without losing a lap.

Finishing second and also completing 200 laps was "Leaping" LeRoy Porter who led from lap 142 to 196 and seemed headed for victory circle. With four laps to go, then third place runner Jack Cook tagged leader Porter who spun and crashed, bending the steering rods on the car.

Cook was then black-flagged and retired, but still finishing sixth, completing 195 laps. "Paybacks are hell," Cook said after the race, referring to a Saturday night incident when the pair got together and crashed while battling for the lead with only two laps to go in the 50-lap End of the Month event.

This year's track champion Joe Middleton was third, followed by Rookie-of-the-year candidate Marc Blackner and recent Orange Blossom 100-Marion Edwards Memorial 100 winner Tom Duckworth.

Upcoming young pilot Jim Tuning turned fast time, started on the pole and led for the first time around, with Rogers taking over for the next 66 laps, while Tuning, Cook and Porter were having a close battle for second.

On lap 67, Tuning, impressive and running strong, wrestled first place away from Rogers and held on till lap 81, when Rogers regained the lead with a gutsy, spectacular inside move going into turn three. On lap 92, Tuning dropped a valve and "parked it behind the wall."

The yellow flew on lap 135 for a tangle between Cook and the lapped automobile of Mike Riley. Leader Rogers then pitted and Porter who inherited first place, pulled away to a full straight away lead.

On lap 160, Cook and Rogers, dueling for second spot, both tried to occupy the same parcel of real estate at the same time on a restart, and came together, suffering extensive body damage on both cars.

Eight laps later, Duane Pierson lost it right in front of Cook and clobbered the wall head on. "We're going home to Chicago, but tell those guys that we'll be back for the World Series," Pierson's car owner said.

With 25 laps to go, Rogers appeared to turn Cook around. Cook, whose car was ill-handling because of the previous night's racing accident, radioed that he was already loose and that his spin was no fault of Rogers, but the decision had already been made to send both drivers to the back at the restart.

With four laps to go, the previously mentioned incident between Cook and Porter took place and Rogers, having to go down in the dirt to miss the crashing pair ("I almost ran over 'em," he said), went on to win, pocketing $3,000 for his hard day's work.

In other weekend action, Don'l. Burkhalter Jr. and Jerry Fitch were the thunder car feature winners. Street stock events went to Rick Lokey and Johnny Grainger. Four-cylinder winners were Danny Pardus and Gene Van Alstine.

GARDEN OF THE MONTH

The home and grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vincent Jr., 855 E. 20th St., was selected by Camellia Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford for the Garden of the Month Award for November. Attractive landscaping, colorful flowers and shrubs present a pleasing and pleasant appearance, according to Daisy Williams, garden club spokesman.

Lifeguard Is In Over His Head

DEAR ABBY: I'm so confused I can't think straight. Last summer I started going with a lifeguard. "L" treated me really nice and I thought we had something special. I'm only 15 and a virgin, so I told "L" I wouldn't sleep with him. He said he loved me too much to pressure me, although he wanted me very much.

Dear Abby

The real problem is that while "L" was going with me, he was having sex with a 20-year-old girl who would give it to him. Well, he got her pregnant, and she and her mom are giving him a hard time. They want marriage.

He told me himself that he was just using this girl, and she practically asked to be used. Being only human, he couldn't turn her down. "L" is only 18 and has his whole life ahead of him, but he may have to marry this girl to give the baby a name.

Should I stick with him through all this mess? He says he loves me and I believe him. My parents thought he was a real nice kid and they keep asking why he hasn't been around to see me. What should I say? They would never understand.

Please help me decide what to do about him.

THE GIRL IN THE BLUE BIKINI

DEAR GIRL: Do yourself a favor and say goodbye to "L." He has a lot of growing up to do. I hope he becomes a man before he becomes a father, because he's facing a heavy responsibility. Tell your parents the truth, and consider yourself lucky to be rid of him.

DEAR ABBY: Your column asking people to write to a lonely serviceman (or woman) prompts this letter.

Back in 1965, the Rockford Morning Star in Rockford, Ill., published the names and addresses of local servicemen who were serving overseas. Patriotic citizens were urged to "drop these lonely boys a Christmas card to let them know you care."

I was a senior in high school at the time and always enjoyed writing letters, so I wrote to several young men. I had as many as 30 penpals all over the world one time.

In August of 1966, one of the fellows I had corresponded with while he was in Vietnam came home, and we met. His name was Ray Cantwell, and he is a very special man. He is also the father of our two wonderful children, and my husband of 15 years as of Nov. 25.

How's that for a storybook romance?

SALLY CANTWELL, IN LINCOLN, NEB.

DEAR SALLY: Beautiful! Happy anniversary to you and Ray. Moral: "Cast thy bread upon the waters"—and you may get wedding cake in return.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to add my two cents' worth to the tipping flap. I'm for doing away with the tipping system entirely. Why should waitresses have to depend on the generosity of the customers in order to make a living wage? Their employers should pay them—not the public.

THE LAST WORD

DEAR EAST: If a restaurateur were to eliminate the tipping system and pay the waitresses and waiters a living wage, he would have to charge far more than what he now charges. And that's more than most people are willing to swallow.

DEAR ABBY: May I comment regarding "Heartbroken Father," who gave his spoiled 19-year-old daughter everything and received nothing in return?

As an attorney, I've seen a lot of people in a lot of situations, and I am convinced that parents should give their children what they need but make them earn what they want.

I recently drafted a will for a woman whose son told her, "You can't take that trip. Don't spend my money!"

He may not realize it, but it's not his money until his mother dies. And when she does, he will learn that "his" money has been left to a children's hospital where it will do far more good than it ever would in his hands.

Zeta Xi Asks: Where Are You?

"Where are you?" was the topic of an interesting program presented by Bonnie Jones in the home of Deborah Partlow at Zeta Xi's last chapter meeting. The question opened the door to discussion for many members and brought out a few surprising comments.

Goods were collected for the Christian Sharing Center and a motion was made to support the seriously ill child of another chapter.

Members were reminded to wear their banners for Zeta Xi's 25th year to the All-chapter luncheon.

Attending were: Wava Barrett, Myrt Clark, Maureen Haig, Carol Krausman, Norma Laepp, July Jett, Bonnie Jones, Deborah Partlow and Donna Thomason.

In-House Raised Printing Is A Specialty At Artco

ARTCO

Joan and Jim Mackie, owners of Artco Printing, 2617 S. French Ave., Sanford.

While other area printers send raised printing orders out of town, Artco Printing of Sanford eliminates problems and delays by specializing in raised printing down in-house direct to the public.

They can cut the delivery time in half on business cards, invitations and announcements. There is no extra charge for raised printing, which is ready in 3-5 days. There is an even quicker 24-hour turn around time for camera ready copy for flat work.

A complete full-service shop, Artco has been in Sanford since 1973 and was purchased three years ago by Joan and Jim Mackie.

"Business has doubled in the three years we've been here," said Jim. "We are the only printer in the area with the special equipment needed to do raised printing."

In addition to Joan and Jim there are two other employees and together they have more than 30 years printing experience.

They offer the convenience of one-stop service. "We call ourselves 'the problem solvers.' We make it look nice inexpensively," said Jim. Artco is located at 2617 S. French Ave. at Park Drive just south of the junction of French Avenue, Park Drive and Orlando Drive (Highway 17-92). Next to Dick's Appliances.

Pick up and delivery service is available. Just call 323-7465.

"We can run anything from a paper plate to a metal plate," said Jim. "We print tickets, church bulletins, newsletters, brochures, flyers, social and business stationery, wedding invitations, special announcements, and imprint names on napkins and Christmas cards."

They have a wide variety of colors in ink and paper stock. Artco offers computerized typesetting with memory, off-set camera, letter press, two-color work, and carbonless forms, folding and bindery. They make rubber stamps and magnetic signs. They also make copies from one to 100 thousand.

Artco is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Winter To Be Mild In The East...Maybe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's official winter forecast calls for relatively mild weather in the East, colder than normal in the West and above normal rain and snow over most of the nation.

Dr. Donald Gilman, the National Weather Service's chief of predictions, said there is always the chance the winter will be more severe than usual in the East, but there are no "reliably adequate grounds" to issue such a forecast.

"We don't know if this winter is going to be extreme or not, and neither does anyone else," he told a news conference Monday.

The government's forecast is issued in terms of probabilities based on the weather service's past performance. A variety of factors are taken into account, including abnormally warm Pacific Ocean waters, upper atmospheric pressures and jet-stream patterns.

He said the dust and gas haze layer from the El Chichon volcano in Mexico is not expected to have a noticeable effect on this winter's weather.

Gilman said chances are as high as 70 percent for abnormally cold weather in the basin areas around Great Salt Lake and 65 percent for mild weather along the Mid-Atlantic states.

He said the odds of a relatively cold season exceed 55 percent from the Great Plains westward, except along the Mexican border and the far Northwest.

A probability of at least 55 percent for warmer-than-usual weather was given to the area from the Appalachian Mountains eastward, except for Maine.

Gilman said conditions along the Mississippi Valley are less clear and could go either way.

Judge Hastings Wants Cameras In Courtroom

MIAMI (UPI) — Attorneys for U.S. District Judge Alcee Hastings, Florida's first black federal judge, say they want television and still cameras in the courtroom during Hastings' January trial on bribery-conspiracy charges.

Today is the second of three days of pre-trial hearings on the case, in which Hastings, formerly of Altamonte Springs, is charged with conspiring to commit bribery and obstruct justice in connection with a $100,000 payoff for reduced sentences for two New Jersey racketeers. Trial is set for Jan. 10.

U.S. District Judge Edward T. Gignoux, who is presiding over the case, said he would hear arguments beginning at 9:30 a.m. on the motions filed by Hastings' attorneys and several media representatives.

Hastings' attorneys say they want Gignoux to break with the tradition of federal courts prohibiting cameras in the courtroom. They say that cameras will ensure that Hastings' name is fully cleared when he is acquitted.

The lawyers also are expected to argue today whether a Miami Herald reporter can be forced to testify in the approaching trial.

The testimony is wanted in connection with a Herald report in June that the Justice Department was probing allegations Hastings considered dropping a racketeering charge against reputed organized crime figure for $600,000.

On Monday Gignoux denied defense motions to rule out wiretap evidence and dismiss the obstruction of justice charge.

Attorneys for the government and Hastings also argued Monday over where the trial should be held. Hastings' attorneys requested the trial be held in Fort Lauderdale where Hastings, his attorneys and about half the defense witnesses live.

Government lawyers want to hold the trial in Palm Beach County because they said pretrial publicity would make it impossible to find an impartial jury in either Miami or Fort Lauderdale.

Gignoux withheld his decision on where to locate the trial. The U.S. 11th Circuit Court of Appeals has already rejected Hastings' claim that a federal judge cannot be tried unless he is first removed from the bench by Congress. Hastings has taken an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, but Gignoux denied his request to delay the trial pending a ruling on the appeal.

Hastings' attorneys argued last month that Gignoux should remove himself from the case, but he refused. Gignoux was the judge in the trial of Hastings' associate William Borders, a Washington attorney convicted of soliciting a bribe from two undercover agents.

Gignoux sentenced Borders, former president of the mostly black National Bar Association, to four five-year sentences.

Corporate Angels Aid Cancer Victims

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Susan Zezima had a lot on her mind as the jet shot off the runway at Westchester County Airport bound for Houston, where she was seeing a doctor about her recently diagnosed cancer.

But luckily, she didn't have the added stress of passengers at each elbow, food carts bumping up and down narrow aisles, and the scramble for baggage on arrival.

She flew on a corporate jet with six other passengers and the trip went so smoothly, Ms. Zezima, 24, almost forgot her apprehension. "It felt more like sitting in your living room," she said.

The flight was arranged by "Corporate Angel Network," a non-profit service that tries to match business flights with the travel needs of cancer patients referred by physicians for out-of-town consultation and treatment.

Ms. Zezima heard about it from the American Cancer Society chapter in Darien. She has flown commercially since that trip in March for the same purpose and finds a world of difference.

"Making that trip, no matter how many times you do it, is a strain," she said. "You're beating a clock. You have to get to a place at a certain time. When you take all the people away, it almost becomes pleasant."

"Corporate Angel Network" is two people — Patricia Blum of Greenwich and Jay Weinberg of Pleasantville, N.Y. — and a fleet of aircraft owned by 62 corporations.

The idea came to Mrs. Blum, a free-lance writer and pilot, during her frequent flights out of Westchester County Airport in Rye, N.Y. She thought of the corporate jets, of the empty seats inside, and then a recurring topic at cancer society board meetings — long-distance transportation for cancer patients. Travel isn't covered by Medicare or private insurance.

Mrs. Blum, 57, called Weinberg, a longtime friend, and "Corporate Angel Network" officially winged its way into existence three days before Christmas 1981.

The first flight was for an 18-year-old youth at Memorial Sloane-Kettering Hospital in New York. The young man had his leg amputated because of cancer. He wanted to be home in Detroit for Christmas, but had to be hospitalized after the holiday and couldn't afford both trips.

"We got him home and he came back in January for further treatment," Weinberg said. "Today he's in California marching with a drum and life corps championship band. To us, that meant we had done something good."

There is a very personal side to their gratification. Mrs. Blum and Weinberg, 64, have both recovered from cancer. She had breast cancer 13 years ago and he had lung cancer.

Since its inception, "Corporate Angel Network" has arranged 21 flights for 37 people, including family members who accompany patients and, in one case, a donor for a bone-marrow transplant.

The flight is free.

Knocked Out Teeth Now Can Be Saved

ATLANTA (UPI) — Time, not cleanliness, is critical in saving a permanent tooth that has been knocked out of a child's mouth, according to pediatric dentist Dr. Allen Rosenthal.

When the proper steps are taken, there is a 9-1 chance an unbroken tooth can be successfully reimplanted, said Rosenthal, a pediatric dentistry professor at the Emory University School of Dentistry.

The most important thing a parent can do is to make sure the tooth is put back in the gum socket within 30 minutes, Rosenthal said.

The tooth should not be cleaned unless it has fallen into something clearly contaminated — and mud, blood and tears don't count. Simply pick up the tooth, replace it gently in the socket and get to a dentist quickly.

Don't remove any tissue that may be clinging to the tooth, Rosenthal said, because it will help the gum reattach the tooth.

The natural suction of the gum usually holds the tooth in place, but the dentist, after assessing any damage to the tooth, may also reposition it and attach it to surrounding teeth with a small wire splint.

The need for getting the tooth back into the gum socket quickly is not clearly understood, but Rosenthal said it is probably linked to the tooth's nerves and blood vessels, which apparently die after about 30 minutes.

"After an hour and a half, the chances of successful reimplantation have dropped to 1 out of 20. For adults, the likelihood of the tooth being reaccepted is considerably lower, even with its rapid return to the mouth," he said.

If the tooth tightens in a few weeks and the root survives for four to six months, "then you can expect to keep the tooth for a long time," he said.

When parents are too upset to handle the emergency, Rosenthal says the child should put the tooth back in place. A standard phone procedure at Emory's dental clinic is to ask an upset parent if the dentist can speak to the child to give the instructions.

Kenalog Effective For Some Allergies

DEAR DR LAMB — Most of my life I have suffered from hay fever and have tried many different remedies with very little success. These past few years I have taken two Kenalog shots each year, with good results. I have recently been told that these two shots will shorten my life as much as 10 years. Is it true? Will Cayenne pepper capsules help relieve the effects of hay fever?

of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

No, you need something more than Cayenne pepper. DEAR DR LAMB — Is it true that peanut butter causes a fungus and this fungus can cause cancer? I also read something about raw nuts, are they harmful? I do eat peanut butter and nuts.

DEAR READER — Hay fever is an allergy and it is that time of year again for those who are allergic to certain trees and grass. The ragweed season comes in the fall. Kenalog has essentially the same actions as corticosterone. Two shots a year are not going to shorten your life if you do not have some underlying medical problem that these medicines would aggravate.

Another good approach in many cases is to determine exactly what a person is allergic to and then desensitize him to that substance. This must be done well in advance of the season for the allergy if it is to be effective. Of course, if the cause of the allergy is known and can be avoided, that is the most effective method of treatment.

DEAR READER — That is a half, distorted truth. There is a mold that produces aflatoxins. These molds are widespread in the air and soil. And in sufficient quantities over a period of time aflatoxins can cause cancer. This has been demonstrated in many animals, including monkeys. The peanut butter does not cause the mold (fungus). The mold is in the ground. It can affect other ground nuts as well.

Moldy peanuts are a likely source of a large amount of aflatoxins. In 1969 a locally produced product of the Philippines was loaded with them. But in the United States the traces of aflatoxin in commercially available peanut butter is too small to cause illnesses. Nevertheless, about 25 percent of peanut butter does contain traces of it. The problem is controlled by inspection of peanut products.

I think the likelihood of your getting cancer from peanut butter is extremely remote, unless you get some locally produced item from untested peanuts as you might get from "natural" food sources.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

December 1, 1982 Your creative abilities will be enhanced this coming year, but you must be careful not to attempt to do too many things at one time. Isolate your best ideas and work on them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Check your sources carefully today before passing something on as fact that was told to you. There's a possibility the information may be inaccurate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

You're likely to have large expenditures under control today, but it could be the incidentals which will cause you to spend more than you should.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Listen to the advice others offer today, but also give credence to your own evaluations. You're apt to be more on target than they are.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Be very careful today not to make things harder for yourself than they should be.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

This is one of those days when you could become involved in a number of unproductive activities, wasting time which should be devoted to other efforts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

It may prove unwise to talk about things today which you have yet to accomplish.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

You're sociable and gregarious, and friends appreciate what you have to add conversationally. However, today take care not to dominate the exchange.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Details take on greater significance than usual today in your business dealings. Double-check all the facts and figures before you make a commitment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Unfortunately, you cannot be all things to all people today. There'll be persons you may encounter who, no matter what you do, you'll be unable to please. Order now: the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet which reveals romantic combination, compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Monitor your conversations carefully today if you talk to persons outside of the company or organization you work for. Don't give away trade secrets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Today, take with a grain of salt tips from friends on ways to make money. Their intentions may be good; their information could be far off course.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

Be appreciative of who you are and what you have to offer, instead of comparing yourself unfavorably to someone else. If you could change places, you wouldn't.

In this one, the late John Crawford is depicted as a bridge-playing James Bond. Barbara is a mystery lady who becomes declared with Crawford as dummy Howard Schenken, introduced as "a man who looked like Schenken, talked like Schenken and actually was Schenken." was East. The mystery lady ruffed the second diamond, cashed the spade ace and ruffed a low spade. Then she took her ace-king of trumps and led the spade queen to West's king. West cashed the queen of trumps for the third defensive trick and led his 10 of spades. Now Barbara (the mystery lady) ran all her trumps and squeezed West to claim the balance. Schenken asked, "Why didn't you lead a club, partner?" Barbara said, "I would have had to finesse to get a discard of my last low spade."
