Two teens die in one-car wreck

Girls were returning from their first day back at school

By Nick Pfeiffaut and Michelle Jerla

LAKE MARY — Tragedy struck hard on the first day of school Monday afternoon at Greenwood Lakes Elementary School.
Two eighth-graders were killed when the car in which they were riding ran off Markham Woods Road near Lake Mary Boulevard, and struck a tree. The students were on their way home after the opening day of classes.
The two were identified as Carrie Brown, 14, whose parents own Brown's Gymnasium, and Amy Hill, 13. Both girls were in the back seat of a 1996

BMW driven by Mary Hill, 49, of Longwood.
A third eighth-grader, Zachary Rockwell, 13, was also in the car. Both Mary Hill and Rockwell were injured. They were airlifted to Orlando Regional Medical Center and are listed in stable condition.
The Florida Highway Patrol is investigating the crash. An FHP investigator said no charges will be filed until the investigation has been completed. No other vehicle was involved. Deputies said all three teens were wearing their seat belts. The mother was not. She was thrown more than 100 feet from the vehicle by the force of the collision with the tree.
Seminole County Deputy Bonnie Summers, a school resource officer, said both girls were excellent students.
"They even worked in the guidance office at the school," she said.

SANFORD — The first day for anything can be a stressful time. Your first date, your first day at a new job, or for nearly 150 nervous Idyllwilde Elementary School kindergarten students and their parents, the first day of school can equal one traumatic experience.
As the new students arrived at Idyllwilde, they were greeted outside by principal David Scott and his staff of teachers. As Scott addressed the future class of 2013, he helped turn the frightening noise and confusion into a calm, military style of organization.

Thieves rip off $50,000 in goods from Safehouse

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Safehouse of Seminole, a non-profit agency that helps the victims of domestic violence, was a victim itself over the weekend.
Betty Spencer, the program director at Safehouse, said the agency's warehouse on Orlando Avenue was robbed — probably on Sunday afternoon.
"We lost more than $50,000 worth of furniture, clothes, appliances — even Christmas gifts," Spencer said. "The Christmas gifts were already wrapped."
Cleo Cohen, spokesperson for the Sanford Police Department, said today that the robbery occurred between Friday and Monday by "an unknown person and by unknown means."

She said business owners told investigators they saw a man and a woman at the warehouse on Sunday but assumed the two were working for Safehouse. One drove a pickup truck, the other a purple Honda Civic.
"They didn't think anything was wrong at the time," Cohen said. "There was frequently activity at the warehouse during the week and on weekends."
Spencer said the man was described "as tall, thin, blond

Former fire chief Duane Mehl dies

Mehl remembered by many in Lake Mary as a mentor and beloved friend

By Russ White
Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Wednesday morning, a crew of firefighters in a vehicle from Lake Mary will go to Lady Lake to say farewell to a mentor and beloved friend.
Former Lake Mary Fire Chief Duane Mehl died on Friday at his home near Ocala. He was 65.

Duane Mehl

"He played golf, came home and died in his favorite chair," said Lake Mary City Manager John Litton, a close friend who hired Mehl to be fire chief in Winter Park and again in Lake Mary.
Mehl came to Florida from Traverse City, Mich. when Litton recruited him to serve as Winter Park Fire Chief. Six years later, Litton brought Mehl to Lake Mary.

"There are a lot of heavy eyes today in each city," Litton said. "We have lost someone very dear to us."

Deputies catch trusty after he walks off job detail

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — A jail trusty, working at the Seminole County Sheriff's Office Saturday, Aug. 5, walked away from his detail but was caught in Orlando two hours after his disappearance.
According to Steve Olson, public information officer with the sheriff's office, the trusty is Timothy Taylor, 28, whose last known address was on Pineloch Avenue in Orlando. Orlando police located him near that address just before 2:15 p.m., after the Seminole County Sheriff's Office sent out a BOLO (Be on the lookout). He was reported missing around 12:45 p.m. and was last seen around noon when a supervisor checked on him at his work post.
Taylor was recently assigned as a trusty working out of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. He was serving time for Violation of Probation on a 1997 Grand Theft Charge. On June 19, he was sentenced to serve nine months in the Seminole County Jail with credit for 105 days. Olson said he will face charges of escape.

Good for Gore on inventing a good Joe

America is a country 224-years old, yet some are concerned it might not be ready for a vice president who is an Orthodox Jew. It is said Joseph Lieberman might face voter prejudice.

Nonetheless, Al Gore has chosen Lieberman, 58, to be his Democratic running mate. "Oy Vey!" blared the headline across Monday's New York Post. "Dem Big in Flap Over Jewish Pick." (This, the flap, before Lieberman's selection.)

No one, of course, questioned Sandy Koufax's place in the Dodgers' pitching rotation or Sid Luckman's status as Chicago Bears quarterback.

We listed to Gershwin, Hammerstein and Cohan. We laughed with the Marx Brothers, Woody Allen and Seinfeld.

No one rejected Albert Einstein's theories because he was Jewish.

Einstein told us, "If my theory of relativity is proven successful, Germany will claim me as a German and France will declare that I am a citizen of the world. Should my theory prove untrue, France will say that I am a German, and Germany will declare that I am a Jew."

Incredibly, America put Dick Nixon and Spiro Agnew into political office. They were jerks but they weren't Jewish. Oy Vey — that was O.K.?

Gore's campaign chairman, Bill Daley, said that having Sen. Lieberman of Connecticut on the ticket, will not hinder Gore's chances against George W. Bush.

"I think his (Lieberman's) religion has no impact whatsoever on his ability not only to be a great vice-presidential nominee, but to serve in that office with great distinction."

Those people who are anti-Semitic, Daley said, wouldn't have votes for Gore anyhow. Lieberman, we know, was one of the first Democrats to chastise Bill Clinton for his dalliance with intern Monica Lewinsky.

"I believe the Democrats were made to reconsider their plans after George W. Bush chose Dick Cheney as a running mate," said Lake Mary Mayor David Meador. "Mr. Cheney's character is truly outstanding. The Democrats had to find someone they, too, could run with Vice President Gore."

Jewish leaders are pleased with Gore's selection. Mr. Lieberman will make a wonderful vice president, they said. He might be president one day.

One Jewish comic said that the Jews have been frightened people for far too long because 20 centuries of Christian love have broken down their nerves.

"Miracles happen," Joseph Lieberman said Monday. "And this (his being on the Gore ticket) is one of those miracles."

Rose White's column appears daily in the Seminole Herald.

Wife gladly rises and shines to send husband off to work

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe that "Sleepless in New Jersey" complained because her husband woke her at 4 a.m. to say goodbye before leaving for work.

My husband also gets up at 4 a.m., but I am right by his side — fixing his breakfast, packing his lunch, kissing him goodbye, making sure he starts his day off right. A hassle? Sure it is, but I do it because my husband sacrifices for our family each day by working at a job that requires him to get up early so I can stay at home with the children.

I have three young children to take care of, a home-based business and many other things I give my all to each day. I am sometimes tired and do occasionally nap. My husband is able to come back in the afternoon, and the rest of the day is family time.

It sounds to me as though "Sleepless's" husband is doing anything he can to make her pay some attention to him. Any book on divorce will tell her that if she doesn't fulfill her husband's needs, he'll find someone who will. She may find that if she thinks less of herself and puts forth more effort for her husband, she may no longer need separate bedrooms.

HAS A GREAT MARRIAGE IN INDIANA

DEAR GREAT MARRIAGE: I received a slew of mail regarding that letter, and reactions to it were all over the map. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: "Sleepless" should thank God she has a husband to "disturb" her at 4 a.m. to offer a loving goodbye. How I wish I could be disturbed once more. My husband, my love, was robbed and shot to death at our family business last Feb. 23 at 6:10 a.m. It happened right after he telephoned me to say, "I just called to tell you how much I love you."

You don't know what you will miss until it is taken from you. You may print my name.

CAROLYN IVEY, MARION, ALA.

DEAR CAROLYN: Please accept my deepest sympathy for your tragic loss. My heart is with you. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: "Sleepless" said she and her husband have separate bedrooms because his snoring keeps her awake. My husband is also a snorer. He has sleep apnea. Our saving grace is a breathing machine (CPAP) that allows him to get enough air. Yes, it makes a bit of noise — nothing like snoring — and is a bit unromantic. But we've adapted, and we both get a good night's sleep. I suggest her husband check with his doctor.

CHARI IN OCEANSIDE, CALIF.

DEAR CHARI: An excellent suggestion. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: My husband of 21 years snored loudly, too. We had separate beds, and he always left for work without breakfast or a kiss from me. Today he shares his life with another woman — his new wife. He had minor surgery to correct the snoring and lost some weight. He's a happy, healthy man.

For all those women who feel inconvenienced by their husband's needs or minor flaws, I have three suggestions: (1) Prepare to support yourself financially; (2) remind yourself not to miss a man's love, touch and companionship; and (3) send him my way. I'll take him!

READER IN CLEVELAND, OHIO

• • •

DEAR ABBY: "Sleepless" needs to get a grip! If she feels she's abused, tell her to talk to a battered woman.

HACKENSACK, N.J.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Sleepless" to purchase a night-light so her husband can see her when he kisses her.

I wonder who the "abuser" in that marriage really is. Didn't she say she locked him out of the bedroom so he wouldn't wake her?

Intensity of schizophrenia does vary

DEAR DR. GOTT: My fiancée, who is schizophrenic, is ostracized. Please inform your readers that people with this disease do not have split personalities and don't pose a threat to society.

DEAR READER: Schizophrenia is a mental affliction characterized by impaired functioning and disturbances in thinking, feeling and behaving. Patients with this disorder exhibit enormous variation in their degree of dysfunction. For instance, mild schizophrenics suffer minimal thought disorders and function surprisingly well in our society, although they may need periodic prescription drug therapy and close psychiatric monitoring.

On the other hand, severe schizophrenics are often extremely violent and may have delusions that they are being persecuted (paranoia). Such patients often require prolonged hospitalization and large doses of medications called psychotropics. Some schizophrenics are incapable of living in an open society.

"Split personality," when a schizophrenic believes that he or she is several different people, is unusual. Most simply withdraw from reality as we know it, engage in delusional thinking and have difficulty controlling internal drives.

To a large degree, a schizophrenic's maladaptation is a function of his or her delusions. The person who believes that he is the Messiah or who feels menaced by those around him is not going to do well and, at the very least, will be an object of ridicule. Conversely, many schizophrenics act merely perplexed and suspicious; they are not a threat to themselves or to others.

Therefore, while I agree with the tone of your statement — namely, that schizophrenia is a medical disease for which patients should not be ostracized — I cannot endorse your conclusion that such patients do not constitute a threat to society. Some do. Further, many schizophrenics behave unpredictably, hallucinate and inadvertently draw attention to themselves. This strange behavior can be frightening to normal people, who often discover that dealing with schizophrenics can be an unsettling experience because of the aggressive outbursts and the threats of violence which characterize the disease. I agree that schizophrenics need medical help and understanding as much as any other group of individuals with serious illness.

Fortunately, the majority of schizophrenics can be helped by psychiatric intervention and the use of mood altering drugs. However, as you know from following stories in the press, schizophrenics sometimes choose to discontinue their medications and drop out of therapy. This can be dangerous, both for the patient and for those in his or her environment. Until public health authorities have the will and the time to monitor their out-patient schizophrenics, each of us is at risk of becoming a victim of the irrational and unpredictable behavior that characterizes the untreated patient with a major mental-health issue. This does little to alleviate our apprehensions or permit us to be more understanding of the severe emotional pain suffered by most schizophrenics. In my view, such patients should be required to take the necessary medications, under meticulous out-patient supervision, before they are permitted to join society at large.

This statement may well stimulate letters and comments from the vociferous mental-health lobby. So be it. When normal citizens are afraid to interact with aggressively hostile homeless schizophrenics in urban environments, when such citizens feel vulnerable and uncomfortable, when random acts of violence by schizophrenics are reported weekly if not daily — in the press, we have to start wondering whether untreated schizophrenia may not be a significant concern that needs to be addressed, rather than being swept under the rug as yet another example of backfired human rights. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Mental and Emotional Illness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

Day 1

The first day of school brings a mixture of emotions for students. First-timers are a little nervous, even scared, while older students look forward to meeting new friends and learning interesting things. Herald photographers Tommy Vincent and Art Zielinski were on hand to catch the kids in action.

Students weren't the only ones who had to get back into the school-day groove. Bus driver Veniece Cassanova was up early to make sure all her students were picked up on time.

The Sheriff's department sent victim advocates to the scene of the accident.

"One of the girl's parents were there," Steve Olson said, "and our people were there to help as much as possible."

This morning, Summers commented, "Today is going to be a terrible day at Greenwood Lakes Elementary."

The school district has sent a number of grief counselors to the school to help grief stricken fellow students, their parents and teachers.

At 10 a.m. today, Greenwood Lakes Principal Michael Mizwicki reported that the staff and teachers had met to discuss the situation. He said there will be no formal announcement on the public address system until this afternoon, and was leaving it up to the individual teachers how to discuss the deaths in the classes.

He said counselors and psychologists were on hand in the classes and hallways.

"On this, the second day of school, this is difficult," Mizwicki said, "but life has to go on. A few students have gone home with their parents, both by this."

He considered the two teens as "members of the school family." They worked with us in the office. They were excellent young people, and we loved having them here."

He said some middle school students emotions would naturally go up and down.

"Today they may be fine, but later they may be upset," Mizwicki said. "We have to take tomorrow as it comes."

He said he had not been in contact with the parents.

"I know if it were me, I would be ill at ease and not want to talk to anybody," Mizwicki said.

He said no memorial ceremony has been planned at the school at the present time.

"On a positive note," he added, "everything was going well on the first day of school until this happened. But I guarantee you they will always be on our minds and thoughts."

Greenwood Lakes Elementary school has approximately 1,650 students from sixth through eighth grades. Mizwicki said anyone wishing to make a memorial donation should be made to Greenwood Lakes Elementary School, 601 Lake Park Drive, Lake Mary, 32746.

This morning, two white roses were placed on the tree struck by the car alongside Markham Woods Road.

Mehl

Litton said the recruiting trip to Traverse City proved to be very successful but that he and Beary ran into a heavy snowstorm shortly after they arrived. Perhaps, this aided their effort to bring Mehl to sun-kissed Central Florida.

Litton said Mehl was not only a leader of the two departments but a father figure who knew how to laugh and kid and keep everyone at an even keel.

"He was more than an acquaintance, more than a friend — Duane Mehl was a very close friend to everyone," Litton said.

Lyn Wright, who worked for Chief Mehl, said that he was a warm and caring individual who was always ready to take up for the underdog and to try to make things right.

"He was a major influence on how I have grown up in the fire service," Wright said. "He has taught me many of life's lessons that I will never forget and that I will teach to my children. He has been my boss, teacher, confidant and beloved friend. This is a terrible loss and it is hard to bear."

Litton said Mehl liked to play golf and to bowl.

"He really tried to be a good golfer ... when he retired, he said he was going to try to golf every day," Litton said. "His wife, Loretta, found him Friday when she came home from shopping. In his chair, in his golfing clothes."

Mehl is survived by his wife, Loretta; sons, Eric S. Mehl of Houston, Douglas K. Mehl of Traverse City, Mich.; stepson, Peter Belanger of Oakland, Calif.; brother, Larry A. Mehl of Manitowoc, Wisc., and sister, Frances J. Buck of Pentwater, Mich. He had seven grandchildren.

Lake Mary Mayor David Meador said Mehl was the "consummate professional — he brought out the best in the city's firefighters. Our community was well served. The chief was equally respected as a professional and as a person."

Seminole County firefighters will back up Lake Mary on Wednesday to allow the Lake Mary firefighters the opportunity to say farewell to their chief.

The children formed lines according to their grade and patiently waited for the signal to enter the school. The idle time gave many parents the opportunity for last minute hugs and kisses, and the all important words of love and encouragement.

At 8:15 a.m., the long lines marched solemnly into classrooms to meet the teacher who will temporarily replace mom for the first time in the young student's life.

"Parents can stay with their child until 8:30," Scott said, "after that everyone must leave."

The magic time for mom and dad to depart brought with it tears and a few anxious expressions on the faces of both child and parent.

But it didn't take long for everyone to make friends, tears to dry, and young students to embark on their own academic adventure.

hair, in his late 20s. The other person, the one driving the Honda Civic was an older woman. Right now, that's all we know." Apparently, the two loaded the pickup with the goods from inside the warehouse, and took off.

Spencer said Safehouse has its administrative offices at 3rd Street and Magnolia. The warehouse is located near Sonny's Barbecue on U.S. Highway 17/92.

FWC wants boaters thinking about safety

Lt. Col. Randy Hopkins, assistant director of the Florida Wildlife Commission's Division of Law Enforcement, urges boaters to put safety first.

"We want boaters to wear life jackets, we want boaters to boat sober and responsibly, and we want boaters to take boating safety courses," said Hopkins.

FWC statistics, compiled January 1-to-December 31, indicate that 90 percent of Florida's 1999 boating accident victims were not wearing a life jacket. 33 percent were ejected from their vessels, and 38 percent could not swim. All children under six years of age must wear a life jacket on vessels less than 26 feet long.

The leading cause of boating fatalities is alcohol use. Alcohol- and/or drug-related boating fatalities increased 20 percent in 1999. Also, impaired boaters come off the water and often become impaired drivers, further endangering public safety.

Any person born after Sept. 30, 1980 is required to complete a Commission-approved boater education course to operate most boats, but because the majority of boating accidents involve adults aged 22 to 51, all boaters are encouraged to take a course. In 1999, more than 73 percent of boaters involved in accidents never had taken a boating safety course.

Here are some safe boating tips to remember:

- Know the weather before you get under way. While boating, observe current conditions and be aware of changing weather. In other words, be weather wise.
- Ensure that the boat is sound and that all equipment is working properly before you leave. Make sure the motor is in good working condition.
- Check safety equipment. Make sure there is a U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jacket for each person on board. Check the condition of fire extinguishers, sound signal and visual distress devices as required.

Third's not bad Suns take Bronze Medals in Phoenix

Special to the Herald

PHOENIX - In a battle of unbeaten, the Columbia Angels of Houston, Texas defeated the Central Florida Suns, 9-5, to advance to the championship game against the Tony Gwynn, Jr. led Gamers from San Diego at the on AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) 17-and-Under National Tournament in Phoenix, Arizona last Friday.

The Gamers defeated the California Dawgs in the other semifinal game.

Baseball is called a game of inches, but it could also be called a game of perception.

Holding a 4-2 lead in the bottom of the third inning, a pitch that appeared to be a third strike by the Suns was called a ball and the non-call turned out to be a momentum changer as on the next pitch, the Angels batter blasted a three-run home run, putting the Texas nine ahead to stay.

"That particular call was the critical point in the tournament for us," stated Mike Bono, manager of the Suns. "We still had our chances later, but we left right runners on base the last three innings."

The Suns collected 11 hits in the game but could not put a rally together.

"The Angels (who improved to 8-0 in the tournament with the victory) were the best hitting team we faced in the tournament and played errorless ball in the field," said Bono.

With the loss the Suns, 7-1, played the California Dawgs from San Francisco for third place in the Stadium Friday night.

The Suns jumped out to a 6-4 lead after five innings as Boone High School's Cameron Abel turned in a his second outstanding pitching performance of the tournament before being relieved in the sixth.

The Dawgs rallied for six runs in the top of the sixth against the Suns bullpen to take a 10-6 lead, putting the Suns backs to the wall.

The Suns could get nothing going in the bottom of the sixth, but Lake Mary's Matt Horwath, who came on to close out the sixth inning, pitched a scoreless seventh inning.

With one out in the bottom of the seventh inning,

Suns clean-up hitter Abel hit an opposite field home run over the 385-foot sign to make the score 10-7.

After a ground out for the second out of the inning, former Lake Howell star Chris Parson reached on an error, giving the Suns life. Boone High School's Jason Weir then lined a double to right center, moving Parsons to third, and bringing Anthony Carbo, who doubled earlier in the game, but who had been sick most of the tournament to the plate.

"All week I had been telling Anthony (Carbo) that we were going to need him before the tournament was over," commented Bono. "Well his time finally arrived."

Carbo, who is from Tampa-Hillsborough High School, lined a vicious double to right center to score Parson and Weir, tying the game at 10-10.

Citrus Park/Sickles High School's Brian Scoville came in to pinch run for Carbo as he was mobbed by his teammates. The Dawgs brought in their top pitcher, 8-foot-8 Bryan Beck to try get the last out.

But Lake Mary's Ryan Bono spoiled the move, lacing an 0-1 pitch to left, scoring Scoville with the winning run and giving the Suns an 11-10 victory.

The Suns ended the tournament with an 8-1 record and a team batting average of .395 and also allowed the fewest runs in the tournament and had a team ERA under 2.00.

Weir and Abel were voted onto the All-Tournament Team.

Next year's 18-and-Under National Tournament will once again be held at Disney's Wide World of Sport complex and Bono is already excited.

"I would love to get this bunch back together next year for one more run," stated Bono.

Bono was assisted by Mickey Bono, with Matt Horwath, Kyle Bono, Ryan Bono, Josh Gray (Lake Mary High School), Jason Weir, Cameron Abel (Orlando Boone High School), Chris Parson (who has transferred to Orlando Bishop Moore High School from Lake Howell High School), Ben Poole (Orlando Edgewater High School), Brian Scoville

LAKELAND - Wait until next year.

While that was probably not what was being said after the Sanford American Legion Campbell-Losing Post 53 baseball team was eliminated, 3-2, by Ft. Pierce Post 358 in the semifinals on the Class A State Tournament in Lakeland on Saturday, it was probably on a lot of people's minds.

Playing their Eastern Area foes for the fourth time in two weeks (the team had split in the Area Tournament two weeks ago, but rain had canceled the finals, giving the two teams a split of the title), the very young Sanford squad stayed in the game to the end behind excellent pitching by Angelo Petracca.

But Ft. Pierce, which improved to 43-8, including a 19-game winning streak at one point this summer, was just a little too strong, holding on for the victory.

Post 358 then went on to defeat Brandon Post 278 in the

Saints slip past Vikings

By Dean Smith

NEW ORLEANS - Sanford's Jeff Blake (right) completed 8-of-15 passes for over 100 yards, ran for five yards and threw a touchdown pass as he helped his new team, the New Orleans Saints, edge the Minnesota Vikings, 25-24, on a last second field goal in NFL preseason action on Saturday.

The game also featured the debut of former University of Central Florida star Daunte Culpepper as the Vikings starting quarterback and he played well, completing 8-of-14 and throwing a touchdown pass.

The Saints, 1-1, will play the Colts in Indianapolis at 8 p.m. on Saturday, while the Vikings (0-1) will be at the San Diego Chargers at 9 p.m., also on Saturday.

Miracle winning at home

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - A good dose of homecooking has made the Orlando Miracle forget a horrible road trip in a hurry.

After losing seven games in a row, including five games in the past 13 days in the road, the Miracle got healthy instantly after returning to the TD Waterhouse Centre, clinching their first ever playoff spot with a 92-63 thumping of the Detroit Shock, which knocked the Miracle out of the playoffs last year, on Sunday and then getting back over the .500 mark (16-16) by topping the Washington Mystics, 65-57, in their final

Kruczek happy to see practice start - Haynes tests well

By [Name] to the Herald

ORLANDO - There were only 20 players on the Monday morning, mostly freshmen, but it brought a smile to University of Central Florida coach Mike Kruczek's face.

"It's nice to be back on the football field," Kruczek said. "This signals the beginning of summer camp. It's a nice beginning."

The newcomers participated in two practice sessions, including an abbreviated morning workout and a timing and testing session.

"Obviously this is the best class we've ever had here for the last 16 years, it's nice to know how far we've come athletically in this program," Kruczek said.

Linebacker Alex Haynes (Orlando/Evans

High School) led the newcomers in nearly every category during the timing and testing session Monday. The 5-foot-10, 205-pound Haynes topped his teammates in every category except the bench press where he was runner-up to defensive tackle Chris Weeks (Jupiter/Dwyer High School).

"Alex Haynes' tests across the board are better than most of those we've had in the past from incoming freshman," strength and conditioning coach Reese Bridgman said. "The thing I like about it is that he was consistent. His strength measurements were good along with his speed measurements."

Haynes ran a 4.56 second in the 40-yard dash and a 4.31 in the shuttle to go along with his 32.5-inch vertical jump and his 9-foot-11 in the standing broad jump. Weeks recorded 26 repetitions of 225 pounds on the bench compared to 20 for Haynes.

The newcomers will practice twice Tuesday while the veterans are expected to report to camp by 5 p.m. The full squad will start two-a-days Thursday.

On Sunday, Kruczek and his staff welcomed a group of 26 newcomers to campus for a three-day rookie camp prior to the arrival of the returning players. The mix of freshmen and junior college transfers were issued equipment and met with the coaching staff in preparation for practice.

"The primary objective of this camp is to teach," Kruczek said. "We want these players to learn the foundation of our offense and defense as far as assignments are concerned in an attempt to get them caught up with the rest of the team. When we start practice with the varsity, things will get a lot faster."

Recruiting coordinator Scott Fountain was impressed with the group.

"I think this is a great group of players," Fountain said. "We will be able to get a good feel in the next three days as to which players can play right away and which ones are likely to redshirt. Based on our initial evaluation, we feel there are four or five guys who will be able to help us right away."

One player expected to show up who didn't was highly touted linebacker John Andrews from Atlanta, who chose to enroll at Northwest Mississippi Community College instead.

Meanwhile, a few of the players are awaiting final clearance from the NCAA regarding their initial eligibility before they are allowed to participate.

UCF will open its season on the road on Saturday, September 2nd against Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

The game on Monday. The Miracle will close out the regular season with a game in Orlando on Wednesday against the expansion Sol at 7 p.m. The game is scheduled to be broadcast by the Sunline network and can also be heard on WDBO-AM 580 radio.

Shirienne Johnson scored a career-high 25 points, hitting 10-of-18 three-point shots and 10-of-17 overall from the floor, and Orlando defeated Detroit, 41-29, on the boards to end their losing streak and gain a measure of revenge for last year on Sunday. The Miracle took an early 25-12 lead and the Shock never got within 11 points thereafter, trailing behind by 32 points in the second half.

The 29-point margin of victory also the largest in franchise history. Keasha Sales chipped in with 12 points, while Taj McWilliams-Lambert had 12 points and eight rebounds. Shannon Johnson-Cintia dos Santos also had games, getting nine points, nine assists and eight rebounds and eight rebounds, respectively. On Monday night, Sales scored 14 points in a career-high 16 points in the second half as the Miracle edged the Mystics' pursuit of the playoffs.

McWilliams-Lambert scored 13 first-half points on 8-of-9 shooting to lead the Miracle to a 30-27 halftime lead. But the 6-foot-2 center suffered a sprained right knee shortly after intermission and did not return.

Sales made sure McWilliams-Lambert did not miss. The 6-foot-7 wing guard hit 6-of-11 shots in the final 20 minutes and led four points during a decisive 12-3 run that gave Orlando a 36-27 lead with 9:27 to play. In the victory the Miracle set a new record with their 18th win in the season. Orlando went 15-1 in its inaugural 1999 campaign.

Chamique Holdclaw had 14 points, 12 rebounds and six assists for the Mystics (13-18), squandered their second-half chance to nail down the third and final playoff spot in the Eastern Conference. Washington needs to win its season finale against Cleveland on Monday or have Detroit lose in New York that night to qualify.

Shirienne Johnson scored 13 points and Shannon Johnson added 10 for Orlando, which shot 43 percent (25-of-58) and forced 18 turnovers.

Vicky Bullett scored 14 points, Keasha Anderson 11 and Nikki McCray added 10 for Washington, which shot 38 percent (21-of-56) and held 31-29 rebounding edge.

Championship Game, earning the bid to the Region 3 Tournament starting this Thursday in DeLand.

In addition to Ft. Pierce and host DeLand Post 6, also coming to the tournament will be the Puerto Rico champion, plus state champions from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama. The tournament will run through Sunday (August 10th) on Melching Field at Conrad Park.

Petracca worked eight strong innings for Post 53, which ends the season 40-10. He got backing on offense from his brother, Dominic, Jake Davis and Eric Schmook, all of whom had two hits.

"(Angelo) Petracca pitched very good," said Sanford manager Rod Ferguson. "It was a super game between two good teams."

"We did okay. To finish third with a team this young is remarkable. I think we're doing pretty good, having made it to the tournament in four of the last five years. I can remember when we had to fight just to get here."

Post 53 should be extremely strong next year if all of the players who are eligible return. And that is not including several good players who started getting experience on the Class B Team.

Ferguson, and assistant coaches Mike Powers and Alex Acosta, only lose four players from this year's team, infielders Eric Schmook and Anthony DiFonso, starting pitcher Brett Nuss and closer Jeremy Meyers.

The rest of the team, Trevor Berryhill, Bryan Anderson, Robbie Carr, Jacob Davis, Matt Frayster, Uriah Kimmig, Chris Krall, Jason Louwana, Matt Mergo, Keith Parrett, Mehul Patel, Angelo and Dominic Petracca, Brandon Pharis, and Adam Sanabria, all can return.

Safe boating is everyone's responsibility, and we should all be "defensive" boaters. Boat operators, in particular, should assume responsibility for the safety of all on board of their boat.

FISHING FORECAST

River action is still fair for bass in the stretch south of Puzzle Lake. Bass from 1-to-5 pounds are hitting a wide variety of lures from topwater to plastic worms. Bream and catfish are hitting worms and mussels in the deep bends.

Sebastian Inlet has good catch-and-release snook action with fish to over 20 pounds. Large live shrimp or small baitfish work best. Also expect trout, redfish, and a few stray tarpon.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that king mackerel are just off the beach and in the buoy line. Slow-trolling live bait is the best tactic. King mackerel and cobia are scattered on 8 A Reef and Pelican Flats. Sheepshead and flounder are biting inside the Port. Trout and redfish are rated as fair in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Ponce Inlet has fast action with sheepshead, drum, redfish, jack crevalle and small bluefish. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Predators to host the Arizona Rattlers Sunday

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - The Orlando Predators held the Tampa Bay Storm scoreless for more than 24 minutes of game time to eliminate the Storm for the playoffs for the third straight year, 34-24, in a 2000 Arena Football League quarterfinal game at the T.D. Waterhouse Centre on Thursday night.

The Predators wasted no time by score the games first touchdown 0:43 into the game on a 32-yard touchdown pass from QB Cliff Dell on the game's first play from scrimmage.

The Storm would come back to tie the score at 7-7 on a 9-yard touchdown pass from Tampa QB John Kaleo to WR/LB Lawrence Samuels.

Orlando then reeled off 13 unanswered points, to take a 20-7 lead with 11:38 remaining in the first half, on a touchdown and two field goals of 31 yards and 36 yards both by Predator K David Cool.

The Storm would cut into Orlando's lead right before half-time at the 0:32 mark with a 37-yard touchdown pass from Kaleo to WR/LB Antoine Worthman making the score 20-14 at half-time.

The Storm would receive the second half kick-off and drive the field on seven plays moving 30 yards but stalled out and were forced to settle for a 18 yard field goal by Storm K Matt Huerkamp, making the score 20-17.

Tampa would not score again for more than 24 minutes of game time.

The Predators scored two touchdowns to take a commanding 34-17 lead that would last until the Storm scored a meaningless touchdown with 0:38 remaining in the game to make the final score 34-24.

Maynor was 16 of 28 for 188 yards and three touchdowns and was honored by being named the MVP of the game. Defensively the Predators were led by Damon Mason's six tackles, Dell and McEntyre, who each had one interception and five tackles.

Dell would also contribute on the offensive with six receptions for 74 yards and two touchdowns, making him the Ironman of the game.

The Predators will face the Arizona Rattlers, who defeated the #4 seed Albany Firebirds 53-50 Saturday night at Pepsi Arena in Albany.

The Rattlers will most likely come to Orlando with out the services of their QB - on both sides of the ball.

On offense, QB Sherdrick Bonner, who finished the game 18 of 27 for 254 yards, six TD's and one interception, injured his knee while eluding Albany line-man Joe Jacobs.

Backup Lance Funderburke came on in relief of Bonner, and was 5-of-8 for 62 yards and one very important touchdown - the game winner.

Funderburke's 31-yard touchdown strike to Hunkle Cooper with 2:08 to play set up an on side kick recovery for DS Cecil Doggette, and the Rattlers were able to hang on for the victory.

On defense, the Rattlers will most likely be without veteran DS Cedric Walker, a former Predator who had surgery last week to repair damage after he was poked in the eye during their first round playoff victory over the Buffalo Destroyers in Phoenix on July 27.

To add to their woes, FB/LB Ron Moran suffered an open fracture and dislocation of the right ankle with 20 seconds left in the third quarter while attempting to stop an Albany running play.

The game will begin at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the TD Waterhouse Centre.

Tickets are priced from $6 to $40 and are available at the TD Waterhouse Box Office, all TICKETMASTER outlets or by calling the Orlando Predators at 407-44-PREDS. The team also announced that Premium Seating ($65-$175) is also available in limited quantities by calling the "44-PREDS" phone number.

The Predators are urging all fans to wear black to the playoff games.

The Jungle should be a dark place, where opposing teams enter and are never heard from again." General Manager Jeff Bouchy said. "We want all the fans to wear black for playoff games and help us create this atmosphere of dread."

Sunday's matchup will be the first of the season between the Preds (12-3) and the Rattlers (13-2). They had seven common opponents during the 2000 season and compiled identical 8-1 records while facing New Jersey, Oklahoma City, Albany, Nashville, New England, Carolina and Milwaukee.

In the other game, the #6 seeded Nashville Kats will be at the #1 seeded San Jose Sabercats on Saturday at 4 p.m.

Friday's 63-40 victory over the Oklahoma Wranglers was the first playoff win in the six year history of the San Jose Sabercats franchise.

San Jose used a balanced attack, as seven different Sabercats scored touchdowns, led by perennial Ironman Barry Wagner, and WR/DB Jerry Reese who scored two each.

Quarterback Mark Grieb was named MVP for throwing five touchdowns and running for one, while going 18 of 26 for 223 yards passing.

The Nashville Kats will come to town with one road victory already under their belts in this years playoffs, having defeated the Iowa Barnstormers 63-56 Sunday afternoon in Des Moines.

Cory Fleming was just one of the stars of the show for the Kats, as he caught six passes for 81 yards and two touchdowns, as well as throwing the winning touchdown pass to Anthony Hicks on a trick play with 6:02 remaining in the game.

Other stars included QB Andy Kelly who was 21-30 for 323 yards and six touchdowns, and three defenders who came up with fourth quarter INT's of Iowa QB Aaron Garcia, Darryl Hammond, Ron Carpenter, and lineman Robert Gaddy, who sealed the game by picking off a hatted ball inside his own five-yard line as Iowa was attempting to score a game-tying touchdown.

Orlando Predator wide receiver/defensive back Cliff Dell had one interception and five tackles and would also contribute on offense with six receptions for 74 yards and two touchdowns, making him the Ironman of the game in the Predators', 34-24, quarterfinal victory over the Tampa Bay Storm last Thursday night.

HOROSCOPES

Your Birthday
 Wednesday, August 9, 2000

Through the making of a new friend who'll introduce you to a new group, your social life could realize a major improvement in the year ahead. Be friendly to all you encounter.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Play the prominent role in a partnership arrangement today, and your cohorts will provide the essential back-up you need. Trust yourself to show the proper leadership. Let, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and SASE to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Chances are your initial assessments will provide the correct conclusions you're seeking today. Strangely when you ponder too long over something, you could get paralysis from overanalysis.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You shouldn't expect more from people today than they can expect from you. Although we all like to be the receivers, it's equally important to show them you can be a giver, as well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Uncharacteristically for you today, dealing with intangibles could perplex you, so steer clear of them for now. You can have great success in those things you can feel and touch.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Although you are usually a pragmatic visionary, today you might be more of a daydreamer or fantasist. To be on the safe side, rely more upon your logic than on your imagination.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) No matter how tricky business conditions get today, you should still be able to come out on the plus side of the ledger if you conduct your affairs in a methodical fashion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't allow prejudice or emotions to interfere in your dealings with others today. Someone of whom you're not particularly fond might be the instrument of something beneficial.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Make the stakes high enough in your business affairs today and your drive and motivation will overwhelm any fears or self-doubts you might feel. It's a great inducer.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Given half the chance, a person you meet for the first time today might turn out to be someone nice whom you'd like a lot, so don't be so quick to jump to unfavorable conclusions.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your judgment is excellent today until you allow false pride or ego to exert a strong influence over your decision-making processes. Take the "me" out of the picture.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Only sincere and genuine behavior can eliminate any doubts one might have about you as to whether you appreciate a person with whom you have a close relationship. Be honest and forthright.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) It may be more important than you realize today that you rely totally upon yourself instead of on others. Two important objectives can be achieved and give you great pride in yourself.
