Water turn-off schedule

MIDWAY — The main water line leading to Midway neighborhoods will be turned off tonight between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. Friday while road construction crews repair two leaks in the line.

If the repairs are completed successfully, a two-week old "hot water" order by the Seminole County Public Health Unit may be removed. The order was made Nov. 8 when health officials feared the leaks may have allowed harmful bacteria into residents' water following a system shut-off Nov. 6 by road crews.

John Cochrane, director of the health unit's environmental health section, said a plan to resume testing of the water has not been prepared, but the order will remain in effect until the water is proven to be safe to drink.

Two listed in critical condition

LONGWOOD — The Longwood driver of a BMW and a passenger in his car were hospitalized with critical injuries following an accident on State Road 434 Wednesday evening.

Glenn P. Reilly, 36, 111 Temoka Trail, Longwood, and Lisa J. Russ, 20, Clercona, were taken to Orlando Regional Medical Center with critical injuries, a Florida Highway Patrol spokesman said. Russ had been ejected from the car and Reilly was partially ejected when his car struck another vehicle, the spokesman said. Russ remained in serious, but stable condition this morning. Reilly was listed in guarded condition.

The accident occurred at about 6:50 p.m. as Reilly turned onto Springs Boulevard from State Road 434, the spokesman said. Reilly's car struck a 1988 Buick driven by Mario Pierucci, 51, 376 Winchester Place, Longwood. Pierucci wasn't injured, but 48-year-old Charlotte Pierucci of the same address was injured and taken to South Seminole Community Hospital for treatment.

Charges are pending, the spokesman said.

Howell cleared

State attorney says he used bad judgment

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — City Commissioner Lon Howell didn't intend to violate the law when he bought two pieces of cocaine Oct. 24, State Attorney Norm Wolfinger decided Wednesday.

Wolfinger said he decided not to press charges against Howell because he did not believe Howell intended to break any laws. But Wolfinger also said even if he thought Howell had bought the cocaine to consume it, he would not prosecute him because a Sanford policeman destroyed the evidence.

Wolfinger said criminal charges would not be brought against Sanford Police Officer Jim Spears for destroying the substance given him by Howell.

"What (Howell) did was extremely poor judgement," Wolfinger said.

"Our main concern is he understands the consequences of such actions. There are some very dangerous people out there selling drugs. Armed, experienced police officers get shot at all the time doing the same thing he did. We believe there was no criminal intent, just poor judgement," Wolfinger said.

Howell said he was relieved by Wolfinger's decision, but he hadn't worried about it.

"If I would've been planning to do something illegal, I would've been extremely nervous," Howell said. "Obviously I made a mistake. I found out it is a lot more dangerous than I thought and I would not advise you to do it."

Howell said he gave a sample of his urine to Dr. James Quinn of Sanford Wednesday for a drug-screening test.

He said the test will show if he has taken any illegal drugs. "If anybody would've thought I had any other intent than to prove a point, this is to dispel that," Howell said.

Sanford Police Chief Steven Harriett said he agreed with Wolfinger's conclusions.

"I didn't believe there was any criminal intent from the beginning because he called the police department," Harriett said. "He was working, if you will, to bring the problem to the attention of the people."

Wolfinger said he does have some

SANFORD — Mohammad Deis was born Tuesday.

"People they are born U.S. citizens. I was born when I became U.S. citizen 11-19, 1991, exactly eight years to the day I come to this country," Deis explains.

He was one of 1,000 people who were sworn in as citizens Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Orlando.

The Jordanian-born Deis, 45, emigrated from Jerusalem, leaving a small construction business, a wife and four children, whom he is sponsoring to enter America, behind. Divorced, he plans to remarry his wife, who has visited him for extended periods over the past several years. The Deis' fifth child was born four years ago. Deis has not seen his other children in eight years.

Lake Mary body was Sanfordite

By NICK PFEIFAUF
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Four individuals are being questioned in the killing of a Sanford man whose body was found Tuesday in Lake Mary, authorities said today.

The body was identified as Steven Smith, 20, of Peach Street, in Sanford.

The body of the young male was found by a Seminole County Engineering Department employee, Stephen Earl Hrdlich was inspecting water samples in the area when he discovered the body in a brushy area just off Lake Emma Road.

Lake Mary Chief of Police Charles Lauderdale said, "Smith's father-in-law read the story in the Sanford Herald yesterday afternoon, and called us. He later identified the body as being that of his son-in-law, Steven Smith."

Lauderdale said, "According to what we have learned, Smith" See Body, Page 5A

Neighborhood park projects start

By NICK PFEIFAUF
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — The Neighbors for Neighborhoods project is taking its first step this week, with the rebuilding of Donald Duck Park. The next park is already being planned for, on Feb. 1, in Lake Mary Woods.

Several months ago, the project, initiated by Mayor Randy Morris, gained Commission acceptance. The City, with the aid of volunteers and persons living in the vicinity of various star-step parks, would undertake rebuilding and remodeling projects. It was hoped a small park could be improved every other month.

During tonight's Lake Mary City Commission meeting, Parks Director John Holland is seeking approval of a purchase order for $12,000 in park equipment, to be used at the next star-step project. The park will be created in Lake Mary Woods. According to Mayor Morris, "When they developed the area, the developer agreed to supply a certain area of land to the City for use as a park. The City is to supply the equipment."

Work on the park is subject to the finalization of paperwork required to officially turn the property over to See Park, Page 5A

Stolen vehicle recovered

Seminole County Sheriff's deputies checking vehicles in the westbound reststop area of I-4 near Longwood, on Tuesday located a pickup truck reported stolen in Orlando. The driver of the vehicle, Parrell Yulando Young, 36, of Crescent City, Florida, was arrested on a charge of grand theft auto. The 1984 Ford pickup truck had been reported stolen the previous day from an auto sales in Orlando.

Traffic stop brings multiple charges

Thomas Eugene Howard, 33, of 2685 Palmetto Avenue in Sanford, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, and failure to maintain a single lane. Following a check of his vehicle by Lake Mary police on Lake Mary Boulevard, officers found a controlled substance, and also charged Howard with possession of cannabis. Following booking at the Lake Mary Police headquarters, he was placed in the John E. Polk Correctional Facility.

Man down, rescue responds

Sanford Police and the Seminole County rescue squad responded to a call Tuesday afternoon of a man reportedly seen on the ground near the Sanford Court Apartments, 3301 Sanford Avenue. John Gregory Buenzie, 37, of 3618 Palmetto Avenue, was found on the ground next to his bicycle.

According to police reports, while the investigating officer was making a call on his vehicle's radio, Buenzie reportedly threw his bicycle at the squad car, causing a dent and some scratches on the vehicle. Buenzie was arrested on a charge of disorderly intoxication and taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility.

Auto parts store burglarized

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department is investigating the burglary Tuesday, of M & M Auto Parts and Salvage, 3301 W. First Street, near Sanford. Entry was reportedly made by prying open the lock on the side door of the office building. According to the establishment's owner, Henry L. Muse, the establishment was ransacked, but the only items taken were $80 in bills and coins, removed from the cash register which had been pried open.

Warrant arrests

The following persons were arrested on outstanding warrants:

- Perry Edward Thornley, 46, of 1921 W. First Street, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford Police Tuesday on a warrant charging him with driving with a suspended drivers license.
- Theron Bass, 20, of 1113 9th Street, was arrested at 13th Street and Olive Avenue Tuesday by Sanford Police. Bass was wanted on a warrant charging him with failure to appear to pay a fine on a previous case.
- Valeria Renee Lucarelli, 29, of 108 Cedar Oak Trail, Longwood, was arrested Tuesday by Seminole County Sheriff's deputies on a warrant for failing to appear to answer grand theft charges. Lucarelli was placed in the John E. Polk Correctional Facility without bond.
- Moses Mitchell, 29, of 907 Bay Avenue, turned himself in to Sanford Police Tuesday. He was wanted on a warrant charging him with failure to pay a fine.

Carveth nominated for P&Z

Environmentalists like slow growth

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sharon Carveth, a leading central Florida environmentalist, was named by Seminole County commissioner Larry Furlong this morning to the county Planning and Zoning Commission.

"She's probably the best qualified for the job," Furlong said. "She certainly knows the process from reasoning to the comprehensive plan. She'll represent the environmental point of view very well."

Carveth is the chairman of the central Florida group of the Sierra Club. She serves on the county's Land Acquisition Committee and Economic Development Advisory Group. Carveth has often appeared before the P&Z and county commission to comment on development issues. She was a Furlong supporter in his 1990 campaign against incumbent Sandra Glenn.

If approved by commissioners Tuesday, Carveth will replace Sue Lewis who resigned two weeks ago after serving on the P&Z since 1980. Lewis said she had a conflict with the Wednesday night P&Z meetings.

Carveth said this morning she won't be a no-growth advocate, but a proponent of controlled growth.

"Just because someone has an open piece of property does not entitle them to develop it any way they want to," Carveth said. "They are entitled to reasonable use of their property. I think there's a place for growth in Seminole County, but I think we need more of a balance. We need more commercial and industrial development and there are places for them to go."

Carveth said will also be sensitive to protecting unique upland areas of the county as well as wetlands.

"If it is unique or serves as a buffer between development and a unique area, I might be more inclined to protect it," Carveth said. "On the other hand, you can't tell developers not to build anywhere. It's not healthy for Seminole County."

Lyman's Powder Puff homecoming game now

By VICKI DeSOMMER
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The Lyman High School Homecoming activities kick into high gear this evening with the annual Powder Puff football game.

The touch football contest, which pits the junior versus the senior girls, has become a Homecoming week tradition at the school.

The eleventh grade girls are coached by their counterparts on the varsity football team. Senior girls will receive advice and guidance from 12th graders on the varsity squad.

At half time during the game will be the Wheels of Victory parade.

According to assistant principal Kay Bush, the parade includes participants of all shapes and sizes on wheels.

"That's in cars or trucks. On roller skates, skateboards, scooters and bikes," Bush said.

Participants enter as groups, cheerleaders or the junior class or the Spanish club, for example, she said.

Rescue Mission Thanksgiving meals hit limit

SANFORD — Thanksgiving dinners to be given out by the Rescue Outreach Mission in Sanford have reached the limit. Applications from 197 families, had been received before the deadline.

Persons who were in need of assistance were asked to file applications and give identification at the Mission. By Tuesday, the Mission had reached the maximum number it could supply. Each of the applications could conceivably involve families of from three to eight adults and children, and possibly more.

Families who were able to file their applications prior to Nov. 19, may pick up their food baskets between the hours of 1 and 4 p.m., Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 26 and 27 at the Rescue Church of God, across from the Mission, at 1700 W. 13th Street. Identifications must be verified when the food is picked up.

Magic

Earvin "Magic" Johnson has performed many heroic feats on the basketball court during the last two decades. Yet none can compare with the courage it took to concede publicly that he is infected with the AIDS virus.

In making the heartbreaking announcement that he is retiring from basketball, the L.A. Lakers superstar never hung his head. Instead, he flashed his irrepressible smile to the television cameras — as if to console the millions of fans around the world who watched their screens in disbelief.

The selfless gesture was altogether characteristic of this most engaging of international sports idols. As befitting a genuine hero for millions of youngsters around the globe, he promised to become a spokesman in the fight against AIDS, which has claimed the lives of more than 126,000 Americans.

Johnson's courageous crusade is a sign of hope for potential AIDS victims. If anyone can command the attention of young people who still believe they are invincible — if not immortal — surely it is Johnson.

By confronting the disease squarely instead of resorting to subterfuge, he has already heightened the public's awareness. His declaration serves as a sober warning that no one is invulnerable to the AIDS virus. An estimated 1 million Americans and as many as 10 million people worldwide already have been infected.

As saddened as Magic's followers are, they should guard against referring to him in the past tense. As he said at his upbeat press conference, the only thing that has ended is his illustrious basketball career. He still intends to live his life to the fullest, helping as many people as he can along the way.

If some good can come from this tragedy, it is that his celebrity status will enable him to alert millions to the ever-present AIDS menace.

As one of the world's most revered and respected sports figures, "the Magic man" relates to young people in a unique way. Apart from his prodigious court skills, his child-like enthusiasm and humility are infectious. As a consequence, young people are more apt to listen carefully when he emphasizes the importance of safe sex. And, most important, they will believe him when he tells them that if it can happen to him, it can happen to anyone.

If Earvin Johnson provides the same kind of leadership in his heroic battle against AIDS that he has displayed on the basketball court, there indeed is hope of arresting the spread of this terrible disease.

News coverage delivers message

A few comments regarding the Lon Howell incident.

I wonder how many of us love the historic areas of Sanford to the extent that we would take the risk of jeopardizing our future and risk arrest in order to attempt to call attention to the seriousness of the drug problem? It sure takes more courage than I have.

The resulting media coverage has been extensive enough to get the message across to the entire city and that certainly is a step in the right direction. Perhaps there might have been a better way to get the message across, but, at least he succeeded in increasing the awareness of us all.

We cannot congratulate him for breaking the law, however, we can be grateful for his having shown all of us that the police cannot "do it all," but can do a far better job if our citizens are aware of the problem and will report suspicious activities they observe.

Herald should stress tough laws

(My) Commissioner Lon Howell did that drug purchase expose with the best of intentions. This is completely obvious.

Now that this has been made (necessary) public information, let's focus on our real area problems. Residing in Sanford City Beautiful is a pleasure.

Everywhere, the major problem is "the law abider loses, the bad guy wins." This is wrong — wrong — wrong!

Sanford Herald, please guide your readers with information on how best to push for tighter criminal laws.

Please stress this issue.

To cut taxes, trim Pentagon budget

Like Mark Twain's weather, everybody talks about tax cuts, but nobody does anything about them — at least, anything that will satisfy everybody.

As late as the latter part of October, Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said that he did not expect a tax bill to be enacted this year. What about some kind of job-creation bill? Probably not. Republicans have always had a blind spot when it comes to the federal government's active intervention to solve economic problems: Cutting taxes is preferable to creating jobs. Producing tanks is more important than saving babies.

And neither one will help a stressed-out economy.

But some kind of pump priming is necessary to pull the economy out of its recession. Middle-income families are being dangerously squeezed. Industries are laying off people faster than a shooting star's trajectory. And things will get worse, George Bush's "what-me-worry" serenity notwithstanding.

He knows this. Otherwise, he would not have taken off his Gen. Custer uniform and agreed to sign the Democrat-sponsored extra benefits bill for 1.7 million unemployed workers.

If George Bush were to really have his patrician way, the only tax cut he would implement would be for capital gains. If he is forced to make budget cuts, he will "dis" those groups who need government intervention the most by proposing cuts that decimate social welfare programs.

Perhaps he did not hear the one message that managed to stagger out of the recent elections — a burgeoning awareness in America for embracing the Woford Doctrine.

In case you have already forgotten the name, Harris Woford, D-Pa., won reelection to the U.S. Senate by defeating former Attorney General Dick Thornburgh, a man so close to Bush that the president admitted he was "depressed" by the decisive humiliation. (Wags quipped that it wasn't clear whether Bush was lamenting Thornburgh's defeat, or the defeat of the Bush administration to which Thornburgh was tied tighter than straps on an electric chair.)

The Woford Doctrine placed Americans as No. 1 on the list of priorities. "We've got to start taking care of our own first," Woford said in his message about affordable health care for all Americans.

Carried to its logical conclusion, the Woford Doctrine means first taking care of Americans who are in dire need of some form of economic relief. A capital gains tax cut is like helping wealthy people to save money on gasoline for their yachts.

Recently, the Heritage Foundation, a respectable repository of conservative cogitation, offered a 29-page proposal, "The Tax Cut Budget that America Needs."

Erudite and thoughtfully put together, Heritage's tax strategies claim that the elimination of several programs — such as the Agriculture Department's Conservation Reserve Farm Subsidy program, federal water subsidies and honey and dairy subsidies — can save $262 billion over five years.

Typical of conservative myopia, the Heritage proposals don't touch a still bloated defense budget. Even George Bush conceded on Sept. 27 that the defense budget must be pruned.

Middle-income families are being dangerously squeezed.

ARNOLD SAWISLAK

TV bosses ban condom ads

Television is but a Looking Glass. And the other day, in an extraordinary moment of reflection, it showed us what we miss when we close our eyes to a subject that means life or death for millions of Americans.

Title it Katie in Wonderland. Katie Couric is the tough-minded journalist who got her job on NBC's "Today" show by being better, not blonder, than the rest. After Magic Johnson's shocking disclosure that he'd contracted the HIV virus through heterosexual intercourse, Couric laid out for all to see the muddle-headedness of TV's top brass on the topic of condom advertising on TV.

First, Couric interviewed a counselor who demonstrated a technique that must be understood by all in a sexually active society: how to use a condom. He used, as a visual aid, a life-sized plastic penis that stood upright on a table.

The next day, Couric took us back through the Looking Glass. She showed us it is the TV executives, including those of her own NBC, who have been closing their eyes — and ours — to a matter that the tragedy of Magic Johnson has taught us requires our urgent attention.

In quick succession, Couric: (1.) explained that ads for condoms are banned on her network, NBC, as well as ABC and CBS; (2.) aired a condom commercial that we are not allowed to see on NBC, or ABC or CBS; and (3.) interviewed the general manager of NBC's affiliate in Indianapolis, WTHR-TV, who said the reason his station won't air condom ads is that it is not possible to do in a 30-second ad what we had, in fact, just seen done in 30 seconds.

Judge for yourself. The ad we saw consists only of the face of a woman, apparently in her 20s, saying: "I never thought having an intimate relationship would be a matter of life — or death. But because of AIDS, I'm afraid."

AIDS isn't just a gay disease. It's everybody's disease. And everybody who gets it dies. The Surgeon General says proper use of condoms can reduce your risk — so you'd be crazy not to use them. The condoms I buy are called LifeStyles. I'll do a lot for love. But I'm not ready to die for it."

The screen goes to black and we see one word in white letters: "LifeStyles." That's it.

On cable TV, CNN broadcast ads for condoms a few years ago, according to a CNN spokesperson, and it remains ready to accept them again. The other day, the Fox TV network announced it will now accept ads for condoms. But not the Big Three commercial networks, although NBC and CBS say they are reviewing their policy.

You can't see ads promoting safe sex on ABC, CBS, and NBC. But you can see sex appeals on such syndicated shows as "Gerald," "Oprah" and "Donahue," plus the soaps — and especially when TV execs want to make money with their jiggle-and-jingle ads for cool beer, hot cars, racy briefs and tight jeans.

Enter Michael Corken, general manager of WTHR-TV in Indianapolis, a distinguished-looking man with gray hair and glasses who looks as though he got his job through Central Casting. He insists this sensitive matter can't be handled properly in 30 seconds.

Couric: ".... Everyone knows that, like it or not, sex sells in advertising. ... Don't people like you have an obligation to sell safe sex, as well?"

Corken: "I would question the intent of what we do in a 30-second commercial. Are we selling product, or are we selling safe sex? ... I looked very hard at some condom commercials two or three years ago ... looked at them very hard ... and we turned them down." Later, he added: ".... I think trying to shove it in 30 seconds is a little much, to be perfectly frank."

Couric: "Do you advertise female contraceptives such as the sponge and foam?"

Corken: "Well, your network does. So it's difficult for us not to ..."

Couric pressed: "Do you think that's a bit of a double standard?"

Corken replied: "No, no." That's life in the Wonderland of TV, where Calvin Klein lures Cool Bud, as a sexually active nation watches at risk. A century ago, Lewis Carroll tried to warn us about TV execs: "Tut, tut, child," said the Duchess (to Alice). "Everything's got a moral, if only you can find it."

Couric took us back through the Looking Glass.

Credit bureaus get low accuracy marks

WASHINGTON — When Ken Arsenian applied for his first credit card, he had every reason to expect that the application would sail through. But he hadn't counted on the record turning up a department store bill that the credit bureau said he withheld on in 1975, when he was 6 years old.

Arsenian, a 22-year-old college student in California, discovered that bills dating from his adolescence were not the only mistakes on his record. There were a host of other bad debts blamed on him, none of which were actually his. Now, no matter what Arsenian does to clear the record, he can't. He demands corrections, and other mistakes creep in. He can't get a credit card. One bank, refused to let him open a checking account. He can't even get a loan to buy a car.

"Each time I apply for a credit card just to see what happens, my report comes up with more derogatories on it," Arsenian told our associate Scott Sleek.

Arsenian is a victim of progress — a centralized system of credit reporting that puts the financial records in the hands of a few companies that make mistakes, and those mistakes are not easily corrected.

One of the three major companies that compile personal financial data, TRW, turned a whole town into victims of the same system. In Norwich, Vt., 1,500 residents were all listed in TRW's records as tax dodgers. A TRW subcontractor had mixed up the list of the town's taxpayers with those who had tax liens against them.

That and other cases have been documented by the U.S. Public Interest Research Group, a private watchdog organization. Among its findings was this unsettling fact: 33 percent of all credit reports contain serious mistakes, despite the claims of the credit bureaus that their error rate is low.

The most common mistake is for the bureaus to mix up the records of people with the same name. John Doe, upstanding citizen, gets saddled with the credit report of John Doe, ex-convict and deadbeat.

One man lost his job after a credit bureau wrongly reported to his employer that he had a felony cocaine conviction. Another man was saddled with a delinquent car loan dating back to when he was 2 years old. A college student was denied credit because the records said she was married to a man who was actually her father, who had a temporary tax problem four years earlier.

Eugene Wolfe, 74, of Washington, D.C., has been trying to clear his record for five years. He applied for a small bank loan in 1986 and discovered the debts of another Eugene Wolfe had been mingled with his own. Wolfe — the one who pays his bills — thought he had corrected the report, but the old information popped up in his file again last year. When he went to the credit bureau to straighten things out, he says he got the brush off. He couldn't get past underlings to speak to anyone in authority.

"It was clear their purpose in life was to get rid of any complainers," Wolfe said.

Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill., is drafting legislation to reinforce the existing laws that are supposed to protect consumers. Among the changes to be included are allowing consumers to have easier access to their files and prohibiting the release of investigative reports without the consumer's permission. Credit bureaus recently announced plans to give consumers what they should have had all along — free copies of their own credit reports. In the past, anyone who wanted to know what kind of stories the credit bureau was spreading about them had to pay up to $20 for a copy.

Those mistakes are not easily corrected.

the City.

Holland's recommendation is for the work on the park to tentatively take place Feb. 1st., but Morris said, "We may even end up doing another park before that time. The citizens really seem to be in favor of these projects and we're getting many calls on it."

Meanwhile, the citizens will tackle their first neighborhood park this Saturday. The small park is on Country Club Road, just two blocks north of the Lake Mary City Hall. Although not officially named, the park has been known as Donald Duck Park. City crews have spent this week working on the installation of sewer lines and sidewalk areas.

Saturday, the volunteers will take over the project, repairing and painting the playground equipment, helping to install landscaping, spreading mulch, and whatever else is needed to bring the property into shape for use by area children. Mayor Morris and Parks Director John Holland both plan to be on hand, as to several other city officials, to help in the work.

Additional volunteers are still needed for this Saturday's project. Persons living in the area of the park, as well as any other citizens, are urged to contact Holland at the Lake Mary City Hall, 324-3053.

The Lake Mary Woods playground equipment purchase request is on the agenda for tonight's meeting of the City Commission, beginning at 7 p.m., in the Lake Mary City Hall.

was apparently last seen at 11 p.m. Sunday night by his wife."

The Chief indicated four persons were presently being questioned about the case.

He would not immediately reveal their identities, or how they may have possibly been connected to Smith or his murder. "At this time, we are also investigating the possibility that this could have been a drug-related murder," Lauderdale said. He could not go into specific details about why drugs may have been involved.

Initially, Lake Mary Police investigators suspected death may have been caused by a blow struck in the head with a blunt object, Lauderdale said. "The autopsy performed yesterday afternoon by the County Medical Examiner revealed the cause of death was not only caused by the blow on the head, but also a 22 caliber gunshot wound in the left ear." The bullet has been recovered.

The Chief added, "The time of death was estimated at sometime early Tuesday morning, possibly near daylight. We believe Smith was murdered in a motor vehicle, then driven to the Lake Emma Road area where the body was left. We believe it had been there approximately 8 hours before being found."

Although the murder investigation is in the jurisdiction of Lake Mary Police, Lauderdale said, "We're getting excellent cooperation in this case from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office."

concern that drug purchasers might use Howell's explanation if nabbed by police. But they must demonstrate one important action, Wolfinger said.

"He called the police," the state attorney said of Howell. "I doubt if one in 10 drug dealers calls to tell us when he's bought drugs."

Howell was under Wolfinger's review for admitting to purchasing two pieces of what he thought was crack cocaine on Magnolia Avenue for $20 during the early evening of Oct. 24. After acquiring the suspected cocaine, Howell called police and gave the substance to Spears at the corner of First Street and Sanford Avenue. Spears scolded Howell for breaking the law, then dropped the two pieces to the ground and stepped on them, according to Soears' written report of the incident.

Spears was reprimanded by Harriet for violating police procedure.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

Bush to sign civil rights bill

WASHINGTON — President Bush, in signing a major civil rights bill today, also is separately ordering a major review of government affirmative action programs and termination of any programs that encourage racial preferences, civil rights sources say.

In addition, the sources said Wednesday they understood that Bush planned to rescind federal guidelines dating to the Nixon administration that established standards for employers and the courts to use in determining whether specific hiring practices, including tests, are legal.

The president's order was separate from and appeared to go far beyond the scope of the civil rights bill.

U.S. offers Soviets emergency relief

WASHINGTON — The United States is offering emergency relief and normalizing trade with the Soviet Union as a bipartisan Senate group warns of disintegrating control over the ex-superpower's nuclear arsenal.

President Bush announced Wednesday he was authorizing $1.4 billion in credits and grants to the splintering country to forestall famine this winter. The credits come on top of $2.5 billion in loan guarantees previously approved.

At the same time, the House voted 350-78 to normalize trade with the Soviet Union by approving a trade agreement that would give Moscow most-favored-nation status. That means Soviet imports, like those from most other U.S. trading partners, would have the lowest available tariffs, which is likely to encourage trade and investment.

While those efforts were being made to bolster the Soviet economy, there was renewed concern that hunger and public unrest in the next few months could result in the Soviet government losing control over its 30,000 nuclear weapons.

Miami cops uncovered JFK plot

By RICHARD COLE
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI — Two weeks before President Kennedy was assassinated, Miami police tapped a conversation about a plot to shoot him from an office building with a high-powered rifle, a retired intelligence officer says.

Alarmed at the information, police advised the FBI and Secret Service, and Kennedy's motorcade in Miami was canceled, says former Miami police Lt. Everett Kay.

The president then flew on to Texas on his Southern tour — and was shot to death in a Dallas motorcade on Nov. 22, 1963.

Kay, who keeps a tape of the conversation about the plot in a safe deposit box, believes Kennedy would have escaped death if federal authorities had acted in Dallas as they did in Miami.

"They were very much on the ball here," says Kay. "If it had been that way in Dallas, I don't think it would have happened."

In 1963, Kay, now 70, worked for an intelligence unit that answered directly to Miami's police chief. He specialized in penetrating right-wing hate groups.

Kay's top informant, William Somerset, traveled freely in white supremacy groups, giving weekly reports on their activities. With Somerset's help, Kay advised a bombing attack on the home of an editor of The Miami Herald after the newspaper wrote in favor of racial integration.

In the weeks prior to Kennedy's visit to Miami and Texas, Somerset reported there were rumors in right-wing circles of an attempt on the president's life.

"It wasn't safe for him," Somerset told Kay.

Then the informant heard Joseph Milteer, a wealthy Georgia man associated with the White Citizens' Council, was visiting Miami in early November. Curious about his mission, Somerset set up a meeting with Milteer, and Kay arranged to tape the encounter in a Miami apartment building.

Under prodding from the informant, Milteer says on the tape that Kennedy is a "marked man" and Somerset asks how it would be done.

"From an office building ... with a high-powered rifle," answers Milteer. "Oh yes, it's in the working."

Somerset says tight security would make such an attempt difficult.

"You wouldn't have to take a gun up there — take it up in pieces," answers Milteer. "All those guns come knocked down and you can take them apart."

Later Milteer adds, "Oh yes, it's coming."

When Somerset says an assassination would cause a terror, Milteer dismisses his concern.

"Hell, they'll pick up somebody within hours after, if anything like that would happen ... just to throw the public off," Milteer says.

Kay says Miami police called in the FBI and Secret Service immediately after listening to the tape. The federal investigators listened and left, he said, and security around Kennedy's trip to Miami was tightened.

Only two weeks later, eerily similar events occurred in Dallas, says Kay.

As soon as the assassination news broke, Kay's unit again called the FBI and this time gave them a tape of the Milteer conversation.

Milteer died several years later in a fire in his home in Georgia, and Somerset also is dead, says Kay. The officer himself was interviewed by the House assassination committee in 1978, but said nothing came of his report.

The FBI and the Secret Service refused to discuss the case with The Associated Press.

WELL DONE

Seminole honored

WELL DONE is a feature designed to recognize the accomplishments of Seminole County athletes. Have you recently had a big catch? Sink an ace? Bowl a game 100 pins above your average? Weger to captain Hatters DeLAND — Lake Mary High School graduate Wes Weger has been named the captain of the 1992 Stetson University baseball team, head coach Pete Dunn announced last week.

The announcement came after Weger and teammate Larry Hingle returned from the U.S. Olympic team tryout camp in Homestead. At the tryout camp, Weger hit .353 with a home run and six RBI in four games played.

Baseball Weekly has named Weger as the second team shortstop on an All-American squad selected from players in all the major summer leagues across the nation. Early indications are that Weger will be a pre-season All-American pick.

Oviedo hosts hoop jamboree

OVIEDO — Oviedo High School will host the other five Seminole County schools, DeLand and Bishop Moore in a boys' basketball jamboree on Tuesday, Nov. 26.

The eight schools will play eight eight-minute quarters with an eight-minute warm-up period between each quarter.

Play will begin at 6 p.m. when Lake Brantley plays Lyman. The other seven pairings are, in the order that they will be played, are Seminole vs. Lake Mary, Seminole vs. Lyman, Lake Brantley vs. Lake Mary, Oviedo vs. DeLand, Lake Howell vs. Bishop Moore, Lake Howell vs. DeLand and Oviedo vs. Bishop Moore.

Softball league meeting set

SANFORD — An organizational meeting for the upcoming Sanford Recreation Department's adult softball leagues has been scheduled for 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 11.

The meeting will be conducted at the recreation department's office on the first floor of City Hall, 300 N. Park Ave.

Play is expected to begin the week of Jan. 6. For more information, call 330-5697.

Opening night thriller

Seminole pulls out victory after squandering big lead

By TONY BOSCHNER

Seminole withstood a late rally by Jones Wednesday thanks to the job done on the boards by KayKay Mullins (above), Niki Washington and Kayla Alexander, who helped the Tribe out-rebound the Tigers by a 53-47 margin.

ORLANDO — Normally, coaches don't like their teams to show much early in the season. That way, there's still some mystery surrounding the team as the season progresses.

But in their 52-49 win over the Jones Tigers on Wednesday night, the Seminole High School girls' basketball team left nothing to the imagination. By the end of the 32-minute contest, those in attendance had seen the Seminoles at their best, at their worst and at every stop on the dial in between.

"It's going to take a while," said Seminole coach John McNamara. "We made a lot of mistakes, but I think we did a good job off the boards and we hustled. Thank God we had someone on the free throw line in the fourth quarter who could make her shots."

That someone was junior Niki Washington, who scored a game-high 24 points, pulled down 13 rebounds, handed out four assists, had six steals and blocked three shots. But her most important contribution probably was converting all four of her free throws in the final period.

When the game started, it didn't look like it would come down to free throws as Seminole breezed out to a 21-5 lead with still over 7½ minutes to play in the second quarter. But over the rest of the game, Jones outscored Seminole 44-31, eventually tying the score at 44-44 with 3:12 left in the game.

Three-point field goals — Seminole 0 (Washington 0-2), Jones 1-1 (Huttin 1-1). Total fouls — Seminole 12, Jones 21. Fouled out — Jones, Richardson. Technicals — None. Rebounds — Seminole 33 (Alexander 14), Jones 47 (Sparrow 11). Assists — Seminole 8 (Washington 4), Jones 4 (Taylor 3). Records — Seminole 1-0, Jones 0-1.

Kayla Alexander (17 points and a game-high 14 rebounds) put Seminole ahead to stay with a field goal at 2:34. Four of the next six points scored by Seminole came on free throws by Washington, helping the Tribe pull away to a six-point lead.

Elnora Huttin's three-point field goal as time expired cut the final margin to three points.

"Every time we play Jones; we get off to a good first quarter, then they come back on us," said McNamara. "But we held our composure."

The junior varsity game was a thriller as Seminole rallied from four points down in the fourth quarter to win 36-34 in double overtime.

Seminole will play its first home game on Dec. 3 against the Spruce Creek Hawks.

Hawks ride Harris' boo past Rams

From Staff Reports

WINTER PARK — There's a thing about the last three Class 4 girls' soccer state champions that come from Seminole County — most nights, there's a great match being played somewhere.

On Wednesday night, it was Lake Howell's Richard L. Evas Field, where Michelle Harris' fr kick goal 12 minutes into the second half gave the host Silver Hawks a 1-0 win over the Lake Mary Rams (state champions in 1989).

"We don't often beat Lake Mary," said Lake Howell coach Gerhart Tauscher. "It was a fantastic game from both sides. It was a very eye match all the way around."

The Rams, 0-1, outshot the Silver Hawks 12-11 and had a 4-0 edge in corner kicks. Lake Howell goal Kelly Chaston made four saves in posting the shutout while Lake Mary's Jen Preston made three.

The junior varsity match ended in a 0-0 tie.

Both teams will be back in action tonight, Lake Howell playing at Seminole while Lake Mary will entertain Winter Park.

Christophers power way into state meet

By JEFF GARDENOUR
Herald Correspondent

ORLANDO — They are twin killers, made to prevail. No, they're not criminals, but swimmers, perhaps the two best power-event specialists in Seminole County. Call them Lake Mary High School's enforcers.

Chad and Todd Christopher, identical twins born in Kirksville, Mo., are a blessing for Lake Mary coach Fred Tyler and a bane for opposing coaches. They are double trouble, racking up points whenever they swim. And points lead to championships.

Last Saturday in the 4A-District 5 meet at the Orlando International Aquatic Center, the two 16-year-old sophomores won three individual district championships among them, helping the Rams to a third-place team finish.

Chad won the 50 and 100-meter freestyles with times of 22.06 and 49.04, respectively, while Todd won the 100 backstroke (55.46) and finished second in the 100 butterfly (54.56). As a result, the brothers will each be swimming in their respective events at the Class 4A state meet this weekend at O.I.A.C.

"It's unbelievable," said Tyler, in the second year of guiding the Lake Mary program. "These kids have a lot of abilities. They are built for speed. It's genetics. They are not made for distance. In this case, speed kills everyone else."

The Christophers began their odyssey as swimming sprinters as 5-year-olds living in Harrisburg, Penn.

"I like the power events," said Chad. "You feel very powerful."
Todd, who does not seem to have the aggressive nature of his twin, said that if the two went head-to-head in the 100 butterfly, there would be no clear-cut winner.

"We'd beat each other's records," Todd said with a laugh.

Chad agreed, adding "We already hold the school's sophomore records. (Racing each other in the 100 butterfly) would be so close."

But as confident as the two brothers are in themselves and each other, they admit that they are surprised at what they have been able to accomplish this season.

"We've been injured, both of us," Todd said. "Shoulder injuries."

That's not surprising, considering they swim 6 to 7,000 yards a day in practice during the high school season. The twosome swam 12,000 meters a day over the summer as members of the Central Florida Stars swim club.

"It was pretty intense," Chad recalled. But despite the many yards the twins put in, they look nearly the same, physically. At 5-feet, 9 inches and 165 pounds, Chad is an inch taller and 10 pounds heavier than Todd. Other than that, if it were not for wearing different colored swim caps, the twins are all but indistinguishable.

"I still can't tell the difference between them," Tyler said.

Even fellow teammates and opponents must wonder sometimes as Todd and Chad cheer each other on during meets.

"If he wins, I'm almost as happy as he is," said Todd.

"We're pretty much the same (in talent)," Chad said.

"There is always respect (between us)."

And both know what is likely ahead for them.

"We think about going to college," Chad said. "College swimming is exciting."

Their Central Florida high school opponents are probably counting the days.

Crazy Wings get drop on Young Guns

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Scoring four runs in the bottom of the sixth to break a 10-10 tie, Crazy Wings went on to defeat Schuckies Young Guns 14-11 and claim the championship of the Sanford Recreation Department's Wednesday Men's Slowpitch Softball League at Pinchurst Park.

The one-game playoff was made necessary after the two teams finished the regular season with 8-2 records. During the regular season, Crazy Wings had a 3-2 win over the Young Guns on Sept. 25 while the Young Guns beat Crazy Wings 8-5 on Oct. 30.

Following the top two teams were Regency Mazda and the Wrecking Crew (both 6-4) and the Kokomo Recyclers and Pliche Roofing (both 1-9).

On Wednesday night, the Young Guns scored a pair of runs in the top of the first inning, only to see Crazy Wings answer with a four-run rally in the home half of the inning.

The Young Guns came back with a four-spot of their own in the top of the second but Crazy Wings again responded, scoring twice in the bottom of the second to tie the score at 6-6.

Crazy Wings broke the tie with four runs in the bottom of the fourth. The Young Guns tied the score with another four-run outburst in the top of the sixth, setting the stage for Crazy Wings' game-winning rally.

Danny Sacco paced Crazy Wings' 16-hit attack with a 3-for-4 effort that included a home run, two singles and four runs scored. Shannon Split added a pair of singles and two runs scored. Ricky Kidd and Brooke Winn each doubled, singled and scored a run.

Chuck McMullan hit two singles and scored a run while Mark Laliberete and Craig Split each hit one single and scored two runs. Chris Split doubled and scored a run. Danny Oaks and Chris Fannin each contributed a single.

Mickey Helmes was 3-for-4 with a double and three runs scored to highlight the 15-hit effort by the Young Guns. Jim Troxell was 4-for-4 with a quartet of singles. Arnie Van Zyle hit two singles and scored one run. Cliff Parflow and Bryan Hartman each hit one single and scored two runs.

Jojo Raynor clipped in with a pair of singles. Al Sumner scored a pair of runs. Jimmy Folan singled and scored a run. Kirk Reingar added a single. Larry Belaire drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Does aneurysm require surgery?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm an elderly woman with a 4.2 centimeter aneurysm in the abdominal aorta. My doctor and surgeon concur that I should not undergo surgery unless it increases in size. Could laser surgery be performed for this condition, and do you agree with their feelings?

DEAR READER: An aneurysm occurs when a portion of an artery balloons and swells. This results from weakness in the arterial wall that often accompanies the aging process. The constant pressure of blood within them can cause aneurysms to rupture, leak or dissect (when part of the inner lining of the artery peels away from the deeper layers). If these life-threatening complications are imminent, the aneurysm must be surgically removed and replaced with a synthetic graft.

Of course, no one wants to have unnecessary surgery. Therefore, doctors perform periodic ultrasound examinations of an aneurysm to determine how fast it is enlarging. If it remains stable, surgery is postponed. If it enlarges rapidly or threatens to rupture, an immediate operation is justified to prevent the complications I mentioned.

Experience has shown that aneurysms measuring 6 centimeters or more (at the widest portion) will almost certainly cause problems because, at that size, the arterial wall is extremely weak and will surely stretch further in a short time.

In your case, the aneurysm is large (4.2 centimeters) but has yet to reach the critical size (6 centimeters) necessitating removal. Your doctors are correct in choosing to test you regularly and hold off surgery until the risks of the aneurysm exceed the risks of surgery.

However, even at 4.2 centimeters, your aneurysm could leak, causing severe abdominal pain requiring an emergency operation. Therefore, you should describe any new symptoms to your doctor, no matter how inconsequential they may seem. If and when the aneurysm enlarges to 6 centimeters — without leakage or other complications — it should be repaired.

MEDICINE

There is no other treatment for abdominal aneurysms. Laser surgery is not appropriate because this technique does not allow the surgeon to remove and replace the diseased portion of the artery.

Now we turn to "Kantar Lessons II," which features material that is more advanced. The opening chapter explains the negative double, about which many players are unclear. The foremost job of a negative double is to uncover a 4-4 fit in an unbid major. Here South's double shows four hearts (though South may have more hearts if he lacks the strength for a two-heart response). Also it promises some eight-plus high-card points, because in this auction the opener will probably be forced to rebid at the two-level. The double doesn't say anything about the unbid minor. However, if the doubler is short in the unbid minor, he should have either enough length to return to the opener's suit or enough power to be able to control the later auction. Here South rebids three no-trump to show his strength and spade stoppers.

The success of three no-trump depends on trick one. East should deduce that South has the A-J of spades plus a low spade or two. As South is bound to get two spade tricks, East should ensure that South is forced to win one of them immediately. East should overtake the spade nine with his 10.

Declarer wins with the spade jack and then plays a diamond. West puts up his king and leads his second spade, establishing East's suit while East still has the diamond ace as an entry — contract defeated.

If East plays the spade queen at trick one, South will duck. Declarer wins the second spade with the jack and leads a diamond. West may win with the king, but he doesn't have a spade to lead to establish his partner's suit — contract made.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bode Oso
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Nov. 22, 1991

You'll have to be on your toes in order to recognize and appreciate opportunities that will be coming your way in the year ahead. Several might develop from a least suspected source.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Usually, you have a rather sound sense of value, but this attribute might desert you today, and you could spend more money for things than they're actually worth. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences governing you in the year ahead. Send for Scorpio's Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Conditions that have a direct effect upon your career could be unsettling today, so proceed cautiously, especially in matters where funds are exchanged.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan.

19) Time you spend today brooding over real or imagined problems is wasted time. Immersing yourself in your work is the only thing that will pay real dividends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There's a possibility you might put yourself in a position today where those you associate with could take advantage of you. Don't be your own worst enemy.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Partnerships could prove to be more counterproductive than constructive today. If you team up with anyone, be sure there is parity in the union.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Strive to spend your time on endeavors today that gratify your sense of achievement. If you are idle or unproductive, it will have a depressing effect on your attitude.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's best not to discuss your present financial affairs with anyone today, not even a close friend. There's a possibility something detrimental might unwittingly be repeated.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

This is one of those days where you might not be able to please anyone, no matter how hard you try. Don't waste your resources as a tool of appeasement.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Individuals you'll deal with today might not operate in accordance with your high standards. Be very careful with whom you place your trust.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Avoid gambling with either romance or dollars today. Your performance in these areas might not be up to par, and you could end up a loser.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even after you've achieved an important objective today, don't take your success for granted. Your underpinnings might not be strong enough to sustain a victory.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There's a possibility today that what you think you want, you won't, and what you have, you may not be happy with. Be grateful for your present circumstances.
