Up went the rigging, up went the mast, and all the students at Seminole Junior College knew that their circus (the only junior college in the United States to have an organization such as this) was ready to try out persons interested in being the daring young man on the trapeze. The circus even has clowns.

The Flying Seminole Circus, as it is known, was originated in 1966 when the college was in its first year of operation. It was a complete extra-curricular activity and only the name identified it with the col-

This year many things have changed on the SJC campus and so has the circus. Starting on Sept. 5 the circus was a full-time course in physical education meeting 9 to 11 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays

The idea of having a circus at the school came about when Gene Rowell, speech instructor at the college, who had been associated with the Florida State University circus, brought the idea before the Student Government Association. Such a stirring thought brought the acclaim of all the students on ampus and from a shoestring it started with the support of the Student Government.

"It takes a lot of work just to perfect one act," Rowell stated. "But we have the material to have one of the finest acts in the state," he concluded.

Tryouts for the circus are now being held for the 1967 edition of the Seminoles and, as of today, 19 people are prospective performers in the circus.

Returnees from last year's circus are Kathy Quillen, Sue Wackwitz, Tom Kearney and David Stout Rowell gives the full credit for training new personn a for the show to these students who have showed the energy to carry the circus forward.

Acts planned for this year include trapeze, acro batic drills, balancing, clowns and many others. The big preview showing probably will come some time in mid-April when the circus will do a complete show for the SJC student body.

Area citizens are invited to stop by any morning of the week and see the performers at work on the high trapeze or on some of the other exciting acts.

North Orlando annual fishing rodeo was held at the recreation center lake, under sponsorship of the village Civic Association with cooperation of the Fire Department, Fire Department Women's Auxiliary and Garden Club. Registration began at 9 a. m.

The lake officially opened, and the rodeo began with Mayor George Fuller painting over the sign which read "No Fishing." At 10:01, the shore of the small lake was lined from end to end with 84 children from ages one through 12 doing one of America's greatest known past-times, "fishing." The parents of the small children stayed busy baiting hooks and untangling lines.

At noon, time was called, the fishing rodeo was over. "One could see a sad look in the eyes of the youngsters and a happy one in the eyes of the mothers and fathers," officials report.
