

Congressman Back At Scene Of Early Toil

By Cliff Sessions
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tom Gettys is back in town, and it's almost like old times. Fifteen years ago, Tom was a popular member of Capitol Hill's corps of congressional aides — those rarely publicized individuals who shoulder big chunks of their bosses' legislative and political work loads.

He returned last month and went to work a few doors down from the fifth floor office where he served former Rep. James P. Richards (D-S.C.), but this time he is behind a door with his own name on it.

With an endorsement from his ex-boss, Gettys, 52, has been elected to fill the seat which Richards held.

Dozens of aides have stopped by to congratulate their former colleague. They report that he has the same friendly disposition, sense of humor, ready smile and Southern drawl that he had when he was one of them.

HAT SIZE SAME

"He hasn't changed much that I can detect," says Henry C. Oglesby, who works for Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D-N.C.). "I don't think being in Congress will affect his hat size."

The only changes noticed by William A. Bourke, an aide to Rep. Harold D. Donohue (D-Mass.), were "a little more gray in his hair, and that worried look that all congressmen seem to have."

The reunions have included some horseshy in recognition of Gettys' new station in life, such as his complaint that congressmen "do all the work" while aides play. This represents a reversal of position.

"You'll have to pay the penalty for your election by associating with congressmen rather than us pros," Oglesby told him. "If we pass each other in the corridor and you don't speak, I'll understand."

BRIGHT PROSPECTS

But, in more serious moments, his cronies say Gettys was a highly efficient aide who will be an outstanding congressman. Bourke predicts he "will be a most effective and patriotic congressman for the next 15 or 20 years."

Gettys believes his work as an aide provided invaluable training for a congressional career and gave him a jump on other incoming members. "I am already familiar with various congressional procedures and with the handling of constituents' problems in four numerous federal agencies," he explains.

"And, just knowing my way around Washington is another benefit."

So far, the only difference he sees in being an aide and a congressman is an "added weight of responsibility" which came with his new job. "After all," he says, "an aide does everything for his congressman except vote."

Lyndon On Horizon, Must Decide Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Committee for an Effective Congress says President Johnson will have to risk his popularity and offend some supporters if he is to move the nation toward new goals.

The committee, a non-partisan group with liberal leanings, made the statement in a staff report.

The committee endorsed both Republicans and Democrats in the November election on the basis of whether they would help "in reducing Goldwaterism" in politics.

The staff report said the American people had "voted emphatically to confirm our country as it has been in the recent past and as it is today, but they have given no discernible mandate for tumor row."

Lyndon Johnson now stands before a vast horizon on which he, more than any other individual in the world, can determine where the road should go," the report added.

It said that task forces created by the President to recommend new proposals indicated that Johnson was reaching for fresh ideas and this should

Dorcas Supplies Food For Needy

By Maryann Miles

The Dorcas Society of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, Forest City, held a Christmas party at Dorcas House enjoying a pot luck luncheon and gift exchange. Members of the group supplied baskets for three needy families for Christmas and also have been busy sewing clothes for patients at Sunland Training Center in Gainesville.

Attending were Mrs. Annabel Elliott, Miss Linda Janet Schewer, Mrs. Erna Crist, Mrs. Judy Rhyne, Mrs. Gail Dunnock, Mrs. Nellie Schewer, Mrs. Lillian Groth, Mrs. Sally Thompson, Mrs. Norma Green, Mrs. Winifred Wilson, Mrs. Alice Saunders, Mrs. Grace Beane, Mrs. Errol Root, Mrs. Mamie Welch, Mrs. Ann Harlan, Mrs. Callie Thompkins, Mrs. Seele B. Casler, Mrs. Ruth Thompson and Mrs. J. A. Byrd.

Noting that Johnson had shown himself a master "broker between contending forces" while a member of Congress and vice president, the report added: "The same man must now raise an uncompromising standard and be the passionate champion for his own program. He will have to risk his popularity and rebuff many of the divergent groups who rallied under that 'one big tent' on election day, if he is to move a comfortable society toward difficult goals."

FLORIDA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA under the direction of Conductor Henry Mazer will appear March 2 under the auspices of the Seminole Mutual Concert Series at the Civic Center. Concert series membership tickets are still available and no individual show tickets will be sold.

Cigar Making At Tampa Gets Shot In Arm

TAMPA (UPI) — A clean bill of health in the surgeon general's report on smoking plus a new awareness of promotion and advertising has brightened the future of the cigar industry.

This, in turn, has saved the industry in Tampa, one leading industry official believes. Morton L. Annis, president of a cigar company here, said the upsurge in cigar popularity has offset the effects of automation and loss of Havana leaf on the industry here.

Tampa gained fame as the "Cigar City" years ago because of the skilled workers who hand-rolled high quality cigars, using the best Havana leaf for wrappers.

Automation gradually cut into the work force in recent years and when the government embargo on importation of Cuban tobacco went into effect, local officials feared the ruin of the industry.

18 Recreation Sites Eyed For New Canal

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Outdoor Recreation Committee is studying a proposal to build 18 low-cost recreation sites along the 107-mile cross-Florida barge canal.

The proposal to build the recreation sites was made by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, who are in charge of building the long dreamed of waterway between the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

The committee said in its annual report that "a limited amount of improvement" would make the sites able to support a wide range of recreational activities.

"Considerable recreational use will be possible on the extensive water impoundment areas created by the several lock structures along the canal," the committee report said. An important factor in developing the sites will be the extent of cooperation between the state, regional and federal agencies involved in the canal project.

"Eventually it is hoped that the full outdoor recreational potential of the cross-Florida canal will be developed through cooperative efforts," the committee said.

Tallahassee, under the Burns administration, will recognize Seminole County as an integral part of Florida. Watch for an announcement of the appointment of a prominent Sanfordite to a high government post.

It would make a good political yarn to learn why outgoing Gov. Bryant ignored Seminole County. He did not visit here during his tenure, resigned on one speech appointment, appointed no local residents to state posts and undoubtedly had a hand in giving the new East Central Florida university to Orange County when everyone expected it to come to Seminole County.

But then, why print such a political history now since Bryant no longer will be governor after Tuesday?

"Governor" Burns, Seminole County is glad to be back in the fold!

Those Ellsworth (Me.) high school basketball players here for the "invasion" of Oviedo truly are enjoying our Florida weather. In relating by telephone the results of the first Ellsworth-Oviedo tilt to the Bangor (Me.) newspaper, a Herald staffer learned it was zero weather there "and six inches of snow on the ground." Former Airman Steve Shaw, discharged from Squadron 7 while it was moving in the Med last August, took a look at his Ft. Wayne (Ind.) thermometer late last week and headed for this area. Another convert to the Sanford scene. The mercury registered a biting 10 above and was headed south when Steve headed south too—to Sanford. He's staying with a Clock Winder while analyzing the employment scene.

The weatherman's five-day forecast poses a pretty picture for this area. Three to six degrees above normal and just in time for New Year's.

County Government Picture To Change

During a special meeting of the Board of County Commissioners Jan. 8, Lawrence Swofford of Altamonte Springs and Ed Yarborough of Geneva will be officially seated as members of the Commission. Swofford, a Democratic nominee, defeated E. Pope Bassett, a Republican.

Bryant-Owned Cafe 'Broke'

ORLANDO (UPI)— Problems of a restaurant in which Gov. Bryant owns half interest came out here at a federal court bankruptcy hearing.

At the hearing, Bankruptcy Referee Alexander DeKay appointed Sam Margolis of Satellite Beach as trustee to look into the affairs of the restaurant, which has been closed since last July.

More Ducats To Inaugural Available

An additional supply of up to 200 tickets have been made available for Seminole County persons desiring to attend the Governor's Inaugural Ball next week.

Seminole's co-chairmen Harold Kastner and E. D. Hunt reported the tickets may be obtained by calling either 322-2011 or 322-1884.

The request for the ticket will be relayed to proper authorities and an engraved invitation will be mailed to the person.

The inaugural ball will be an exact replica of that in Tallahassee, Hunt said. Among the top entertainers will be Guy Lombardo and his orchestra.

Seminole County is host county for the ball and persons from a 13-county area will attend it Thursday at the Orlando-Seminole Jai-Alai Fronton in Fern Park.

Ticket allocations had been based on each county's population, Hunt said. Seminole's allocation was used up almost at once and the report was submitted to the invitation committee. Along with it went a request for additional allocations should the allotted number not be used in the more distant counties involved.

This resulted in Hunt and Kastner being advised yesterday that up to 200 can be issued.

Shell Road Is Quiet But Evidence There Soldier Charged, Passenger Hurt

By Harry L. Johnson
A Jacksonville (Fla.) soldier was charged with a murder and a passenger or injured party this morning after the soldier's car crashed into a house near Bunnell and Bear Lake Roads.

Charged with reckless driving and with operating a vehicle with a suspended license is Jerry M. Watkins, 26, of Bunnell Road. His passenger Vera Willis, suffered possible head injuries and was treated at a Winter Park hospital.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper J. L. Sykes and sheriff's deputies said the car went across Bear Lake Road through a lawn, hit a grapefruit tree and then crashed into a house owned by George Briggs of Holly Hill. The house of wooden frame construction was moved almost two inches and the side caved in.

Southern Ry. Walkout

ATLANTA (UPI)—Southern Railway resumed passenger and freight service today after a one-day strike which left holiday travelers stranded in a 13-state area.

Southern officials reported members of the striking fireman's union began showing up for work here at about 3 a. m. in compliance with a federal court order halting the strike.

"We have a regular complement and regular service has been resumed," said Atlanta division Supt. H. L. Stuart. "As their schedules appear they are turning up for work."

Railway officials in North Carolina said freight trains were running five to eight hours late most of today, but they expected to get normal service restored by Thursday.

Officials estimated it would take approximately 12 hours before passenger service got back to normal schedules.

The temporary restraining order was served at the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen in Washington.

Issued late Tuesday by federal Judge Robert Elliott in Columbus, Ga., the order said the sudden strike that stranded holiday passengers in 13 states was a "serious and substantial disrupting" of the railway's duty under the Interstate Commerce Act.

Elliott set a hearing on the order for Jan. 7 at Columbus.

41 Lives Lost, 2,500 Are Marooned

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal, state and local officials mapped plans for extensive recovery programs in the flood-lattered Far West today—but it was crosswinds and swirling snow, as usual, for dare-devil helicopter pilots on rescue missions.

The overall picture in the five-state area after 10 consecutive stormy days was much clearer than the weather in the mountainous areas near the California-Oregon border where helicopters were attempting to provide supplies to some 2,500 persons marooned by the Christmas floods.

The pilots, flying in rapidly-changing weather conditions completed some missions Tuesday to Happy Camp, where 1,200 persons had been cut off from the outside. Three homes were destroyed there and 50 others damaged.

ATTEMPTS FAIL
Attempts to reach other isolated communities on the Klamath and Salmon rivers were turned back by the fury of the snow, which was expected to continue through today.

The snowstorm was an aftermath of the torrential floods that took at least 41 lives and caused damage estimated at nearly $700 million in the five-state area of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

A fleet of 50 helicopters—military and civilian—were engaged in the rescue operations in northern California.

The overall picture in the flood area showed a staggering loss.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown said the loss in his state was conservatively estimated at $200 million. He declared 21 counties disaster areas and has asked the federal government for grain to feed starving livestock in Humboldt County.

Police Ponder Possible Link In 2 Robberies

CHICAGO (UPI)—Authorities scrutinized the similarity today in the robbery of collection trucks in front of Roman Catholic churches in suburban Chicago and Paterson, N. J., to determine if there was a link between the two cases.

Police said they found partial finger and palm prints from articles left by the three bandits in Divine Savior church in suburban Northridge, where they looted a Brink's truck of $223,000 Monday night.

Exactly one week previously, three bandits, also wearing Halloween masks, burst into a church rectory in Paterson, bound four priests and made off with $500,000. That case also remains unsolved.

Marlin W. Johnson, special agent in charge of the Chicago FBI, said it was possible "that the Paterson mob could have come here."

Michael J. Spillito, Chicago's acting chief of detectives, said that if the robbery was the work of the same gang, "they would have needed local talent. This took planning. It's just as likely that a local holdup gang studied the Paterson job and was inspired."

Officers speculated the bandits might have driven to O'Hare Airport and taken a plane to another state.

Longshoremen Lag, May Halt Contract Talks

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI)—Work slowdowns by longshoremen today threatened to halt contract talks with shippers aimed at averting a threatened Maine-to-Texas dock strike.

The key to the problem is the number of International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) members who show up for work.

Shippers argue they can not bargain on a new contract while dockworkers stay off the job.

Work gangs were below normal size in the port of Houston. They were reported normal in the smaller port of Galveston.

Management is not prepared to make an offer until operations are more nearly normal, said Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds.

He met for 45 minutes with both sides—their first joint meeting—and then continued for another 45 minutes with the I.L.A.

He scheduled separate talks today, first with the union and then with the shippers.

Sen. Goldwater Escapes Knife

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater won't have to undergo surgery to correct a back ailment. It had been reported he would have an operation next Tuesday.

A spokesman said that Goldwater advised him that his doctors had concluded that therapy should resolve the problem.

Goldwater suffers occasional pain from a muscle pinch caused by a chip from a vertebra.

Humphrey Quits Post To Favor Successor

WALTER MONDALE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey resigned his Senate seat yesterday to permit the appointment of his Democratic successor, Minnesota Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale, a few days before Congress convenes.

Humphrey, in a letter to Gov. Karl E. Rolfs dated Dec. 29, made his resignation as senator effective at the "close of business" yesterday.

The resignation action will enable Mondale to obtain a day or two of seniority of Senate service which often proves valuable later in committee assignments.

Newly elected senators otherwise take their oaths of office and have their terms dated from the day the Congress convenes, next Monday.

Holiday Fare Said Generous

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Food shoppers stocking up for the first weekend of the new year will find a generous selection of traditional holiday fare.

Meat counters will feature plenty of turkeys, hams, and beef roasts—perfect for family dinners and buffet service.

Fresh produce counters will offer a colorful array of brussels sprouts, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, radishes, squash, and sweet potatoes.

For the fish counter, look for plenty of canned pink salmon, fish sticks, and fish portions.

Sanford Moose Lodge 1851 entertained some 80 children at the annual Christmas party this year.

Special guests for the occasion were members of Girl Scout Troop 557 which is sponsored by Women of the Moose, Sanford Chapter 1404.

The troop, led by Mrs. Marti Danklefs of Lake Mary, sang carols with others attending invited to join in the singing.

Santa arrived with gifts and bags of candy for all the children and young people after which refreshments of chips, pretzels, nuts, and punch were served from a buffet table decorated in the holiday theme.

The Chapter had its Christmas party following this week's party following this week's Monday night business meeting.

Plane Switch

JAKARTA (UPI)—Air Marshal Omar Dani announced today that the Air Force will use Czech-made jets and training aircraft in place of U. S. made planes beginning next year because America has refused to sell spare parts to Indonesia.

Chapeau, Auto Only Clues In Daring Holdup

RUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—A black imported felt hat and an abandoned stolen car were the only solid clues police had today in their hunt for a pair of dapper bandits who stole $299,130 in a daring city hall robbery.

Police had the hat because a passerby who saw the two stick-up men dash from city hall Tuesday thought they might be purse snatchers. He lunged at one and knocked off the chapeau.

The purse the pair got away with included $16,245.80 in cash and the balance in non-negotiable tax checks.

The unmasked bandits walked into the building, slugged the city treasurer with a pistol, and fled with the loot.

Like other recent robberies in Paterson, N. J., and Chicago, Tuesday's haul had the earmarks of careful planning and a good sense of timing.

The gunmen struck only minutes before a Brink's armored car was to have picked it up.

A police spokesman said that besides the hat, the car and descriptions of the two men there was little else to go on.

"There's not much more than that," he said.

UN Assembly Tries To Avoid Showdown

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The General Assembly tries again today to wind up its 1964 session with agreement on means to avoid a U. S. Soviet financial showdown.

Diplomats hoped for agreement from Moscow and Washington on an appeal by Secretary General Thant for voluntary contributions to meet the mounting UN deficit.

Such a fund would amount to a face-saving device for Russia, France and six Soviet satellites which face the prospect of losing their assembly votes for what amounts to non-payment of dues.

The UN charter provides that any member in arrears the equivalent of the past two years' assessments "shall have no vote."

The United States has insisted that this sanction be applied against Russia and other delinquents on the first occasion for a vote.

The Kremlin and its satellites already are delinquent, and France will be on Friday.

As a result, the assembly has operated since its Dec. 1 opening under an agreement to raise no issue that would require a formal vote.

Nation Watches 'Creeping' Steel

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—"Creeping selectivity" in steel price increases is an inflationary delinquent as far as the nation's economy is concerned.

Nine major steel companies have announced a 50-to-100 percent increase on galvanized sheet which is used widely in the automobile industry.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Robert V. Roosa said these increases were not inflationary by themselves.

But he warned they carry the threat of inflation if allowed to "creep across the whole range of steel products."

New Designation Shifts RVAH-3's Training Style

Reconnaissance Attack Squadron Three (RVAH-3) from the AEA to the RAGC.

Sanford Naval Air Station's training squadron, recently graduated another group of Reconnaissance Attack pilots and navigators through its intensive and demanding curriculum, inuring a maximum level of air combat readiness in the Attack Carrier Striking Forces.

Due to the recent Naval Air Observer (NAO-B) redesignation, the newly graduated officers were joined by previous graduates to receive certificates at the presentation ceremony.

The redesignation changes the technical specialty of the Naval Air Observer (NAO-B) bombardier-navigator to Reconnaissance Attack Navigator (NAO-V). The new redesignation has shifted the squadron's training emphasis from the AEA to the RAGC.

"Vigilant" aircraft, RVAH-3 is the only RAGC squadron authorized to train and designate Reconnaissance Attack Navigators (NAO-V) for the Atlantic and Pacific Fleet RAGC squadrons.

At the present time, the squadron has completed the transition of over 60 flight crew members to the RAGC aircraft.

LT. Craig B. Moore was the first trainee to receive the RAGC designation and Ensign Walter E. Carlton is the most recent graduate.

Teenage Girl Accuses Cops

DANVILLE, Va. (UPI)—Four Danville police officers were suspended on morals charges involving a 13-year-old girl who said she was "attracted to men in uniform."

Suspected were D. L. Dalton and L. M. Stevens, charged with statutory rape, and James G. Owen and W. L. Gibbs, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police Chief Eugene G. McCain said the girl, who had represented herself as being 19 years old, made the complaint herself.

He said the girl said she made dates with the officers after they got off work. He said the girl told of meetings in automobiles and in a "bag."

McCain said all four men denied the girl's story. Dalton and Owen are married. All of the officers are in their twenties.

Dalton and Stevens were released under $500 bond and Owen and Gibbs under $250.

Letha Fowler Ends 22 Years' Service

When Mrs. Letha Fowler dons coat and hat and closes the doors to the county judge's office on Tuesday, she'll have completed 22 years of service as chief clerk of that office.

Of equal importance, however, is the fact that on that date she'll be locking up the place for the last time.

After serving as chief clerk of the office for no less than five county judges, she's going to continue her probate work. But it'll be with a legal firm at Winter Park.

Mrs. Fowler, during her 22 years in the office, first served under Judge R. W. Ware from 1942 until 1949. From 1949 until 1954 she served under Judge U. Douglas Stenstrom. She was Judge E. F. Housholder's chief clerk from 1954 until 1958. From 1958 to 1964 she served Judge Wilson Alexander and also Judge C. Vernon Mize from 1960 until the present time.

Several days ago Judge Ware, Stenstrom and Mize gathered for an informal ceremony in the Seminole County courthouse and presented Mrs. Fowler with a silver serving tray. It was inscribed:

"For 22 years of faithful service to the people of Seminole County from County Judge R. W. Ware, Douglas Stenstrom and C. Vernon Mize, 1942-1964."

Judge Ware declared: "The people of Seminole County owe a deep debt of gratitude to Mrs. Fowler for her long years of faithful service to us all." Judges Mize and Stenstrom concurred in that expression. "Mrs. Fowler," said Judge Stenstrom, "will be missed by everyone."

She came to Florida with her husband, the late Sidney Fowler, from Iowa in 1938, and in 1938 they moved to Loch Lo in Seminole County near Lake Mary. Mr. Fowler passed away in May of this year.

'Renegades' Face Penalty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Liberal House Democrats, following a meeting with Speaker John W. McCormack, pushed ahead today with their drive to penalize two Southerners who supported Sen. Barry M. Goldwater for president.

Neither McCormack nor Rep. John Blatnik (D-Minn.), leader of the liberals, would discuss the 45-minute conference they held Tuesday.

But McCormack, whose influence could be considerable, apparently did not try to talk the liberals out of their attempt to purge Reps. John Holl Williams (D-Miss.) and Albert Watson (D-S.C.).

The move to strip the two men of their party seniority and stand will be made Saturday.

At that time, House Democrats will caucus in preparation for Monday's opening of the 89th Congress.

Smut Peddlers Using Mails Face Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators said today they had uncovered a vicious nationwide mail-order racket that peddles names of alleged teenage "party girls."

Many of the names checked by investigators turned out to be those of unsuspecting daughters of prominent persons—innocent victims of a Chicago smut dealer.

Staff members of the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee, headed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) are preparing for a hearing early next year on efforts to peddle sex through the mails.

Among the cases cited to United STATES International was that of a Midwest smut merchant who advertised in the mail that he has an inventory of 10,000 names of teenage girls complete with addresses and telephone numbers.

Investigators said he sells the names and numbers for $2 for 50 names. The names are grouped by cities and states, according to the Senate group.

One investigator sent for and received names from Connecticut and the Washington-Baltimore areas. He checked 15 or 16, and discovered most were girls from prominent families who had no knowledge they were on the lists.

One girl named on the list had just entered a convent. In the preliminary investigation, it was discovered that three of the girls had been contacted by a Boston businessman who said he was coming to Washington on business and wanted some nighttime female companionship.

The investigators said they would focus their inquiry on the compilation of mailing lists and how they get into the hands of shady operators who prey on teenagers.

Philadelphia Lawyers Urge Gag On News

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Bar Association, with less than one-fifth of its 3,700 membership in attendance, has recommended that crime news be restricted by attorneys and public officials.

The association approved a "statement of policy" despite the opposition of newspapers, broadcasters, Mayor James H. J. Tate, police officials, the district attorney's office and judges, including two state Supreme Court justices.

The association approved a "statement of policy" despite the opposition of newspapers, broadcasters, Mayor James H. J. Tate, police officials, the district attorney's office and judges, including two state Supreme Court justices.

Theodore Voorhees, association chancellor, denied the restrictions were a gag on news media. He said the list of taboos was aimed at preventing a repetition of "Dallas" in Philadelphia.

Voorhees said a subcommittee study, ending in the policy statement, was begun shortly after the series of events which developed after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

County Commission Expands Services

By Julian Stenstrom

The Board of County Commissioners will expand its services through the office of the County Clerk beginning Jan. 1, according to an announcement today by Arthur H. Beckwith Jr., clerk of the Circuit Court.

Beckwith said that Ashby G. Jones, present county auditor and an employee of the clerk's office since May, 1961, has been appointed Deputy Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners.

Jones and his staff will be housed in Courthouse offices recently vacated by the county engineer. "This means," said Beckwith, "that the entire operation of the county commission will be housed in a single, central area." He added, "the office will be complete with all board records."

The staff of the new office will include Mrs. Joan Brooks, secretary; Mrs. Eloise Pfeuf, bookkeeper, and Mrs. Betty Simcoe, a secretary recently employed by the commissioners.

Beckwith said today "The operation of the office will include handling all work for the board, processing bills, for payment, auditing, maintaining records, providing secretarial assistance for the commissioners and the establishment of a central purchasing agency for the county."

Jones will be charged with the responsibility of setting up the purchasing agency which will go into operation as soon as procedures can be completed, Beckwith asserted.

"Some phases of the operation are already under way," he said. "The bookkeeping department has been set up and one other employee has been moved into the new offices which have been completely renovated."

"We invite everyone to visit the new office," said Beckwith. "We're proud," he added, "of the establishment of this office for the county commission. I'm sure that it will be used to advantage by all concerned. It's certainly a step forward in the orderly process for progress in our county."

Must Mean Something

Regents of the University of California may secretly long for the days when goldfish swallowing and goal post bonfires were how students worked off their excess energy.

Today, as not since the Depression years of the '30s, students are enamored of "causes," and it so happens that the only causes around seem to lie in a leftward direction.

In California, the state where extremes meet to compete, this has resulted in such extracurricular activities by Cal students—and others—as picketing the House Un-American Activities Committee when it set up its floating inquiry in San Francisco in May 1960.

The "others" mentioned above included a few known or alleged leftists, Marxists or Communists. J. Edgar Hoover charged they were duping the young people.

The university, though embarrassed by off-campus occurrences of this sort, always took pride in its devotion to freedom of speech and freedom to dissent. For some years an area just outside the campus at Sather Gate was used by student political groups. Here they would set up card tables and signs, distribute literature, solicit funds and recruit members.

This was always against university regulations. The recent picketing, demonstrations, sit-downs and mass arrests stem from the belated enforcement of those regulations at the beginning of the current school year.

One student defied the ban and was suspended; eight others demonstrated against his suspension and were themselves suspended. The board of regents finally agreed to allow resumption of the activities at Sather Gate, but refused to reinstate the suspended students. This touched off a sit-down in the administration building and the arrest of over 800 students.

The degree of ideological ferment on the Cal campus is illustrated by the fact that the Free Speech Movement—the organizer of the sit-down—was formed by a coalition of no less than 22 political groups, ranging from Trotskyites to civil rights supporters.

It should not be overlooked, however, that at most 3,000 students were involved (this is the number claimed by the movement). This leaves about 21,500 others on the sprawling Berkeley campus presumably busy getting a formal college education.

The activist groups would point out that this is precisely what's wrong with the country: Too many people are uninvolved in the pressing concerns of our society.

But it could be pointed out to them in turn that what's wrong with some other countries is that too many students have too much destructive influence over constituted authority.

Fortunately, America is not close to falling to either the extreme of anarchy, as Governor Brown characterized the university demonstrations, or the extreme of uncaring acceptance of the status quo.

The University of California students may have proved something. Exactly what is not yet clear.

Thought For Today

And the dust returns to the earth as it was, and the spirit returns to God who gave it.—Ecc. 12:7.

To those who fully admit the immortality of the human soul, the destruction of our world will not appear so dreadful.—Charles Darwin.

"Now If I Can Just Find a Team!"

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dr. Crane is an excellent example of the proper type of professor. For he combines much clinical experience with his ability to lecture in the classroom. Also, college students require any practical experience from their faculty though grammar and high school teachers must be well grounded in educational methods and even practice teaching.

For example, when I took anatomy at Northwestern University Medical School, we had a famous professor at the head of the department. But he was not a physician or surgeon.

So he never stressed the clinical aspects of anatomy. For example, he would put as much emphasis on the fingernail as upon the gall bladder or appendix.

Yet even you laymen realize that fingernails involve far less surgical attention than the gall bladder.

Actually, our class would have benefited far more from your years' dissection and study of human anatomy, if we had been taught anatomy around the various surgical incisions as focal points.

For example, before we even touched the cadaver, the professor should have used a marking pencil and indicated the standing incisions all over the body for the usual types of surgical operations.

Thus, he should have marked the spots for an appendectomy, a Caesarian section, thyroidectomy, etc.

Then the medical students could have learned their anatomy with reference to its practical uses.

Instead, they had to dig out their old anatomy books all over again when they graduated and started hospital internships, just to learn their anatomy the way it SHOULD have been taught originally, namely, around its surgical uses.

What you laymen seldom realize is the startling fact that teachers in colleges and professional school actually are not required to have specific training in TEACHING.

But all high school and grammar professors in fact take many courses in the department of education to learn how to teach.

In college (including medical, dental, law, etc.) all the professors need is a doctor's degree.

They aren't required to have had even a single course in public speaking!

They don't need to have taken a single class in educational or adolescent psychology!

They usually aren't required to have any practical or clinical experience in their profession.

And no sales training at all in catching attention or cleverly "packaging" ideas and mixing relevant humor with their dry lectures.

In high school, they must also have had "practical teaching" but that is not true in colleges!

A physician must have served an internship to start private practice, but a medical professor can often teach in medical school without ANY medical experience.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara was shouting from the hip when he announced his revamping of the Army Reserves and National Guard.

The men who must now implement this program are confused. The plans haven't been thought through.

A key civilian responsible for hundreds of Army Reserve units through the United States was asked what was going to happen to certain of these units. He thinks they are going to be abolished.

Another man in the Pentagon planning hierarchy, when queried, said he thinks these units won't be abolished. Still another planner says the decision hasn't been made.

The answers are typical. It appears now that it will be months before many dispositions are agreed on. During that time, many reservists will have no idea of what is to happen to them.

Take one example. There are some 32 specialist reserve units on major college campuses. They turn out an estimated $2 million worth of research for the Army at a total cost of less than $100,000 a year.

If these research programs have to be canceled by government contract, they would thus cost McNamara 12 times what he's now paying.

Almost all these research units are headed by Ph.D.s—in some instances college deans, department heads, vice chancellors, controllers. The enlisted men are usually outstanding students.

Abolishing these units would cost the government more than dollars. These able and highly motivated men would no longer be trained for key wartime roles.

Yet no one knows for certain whether these units will be kept or not—or if kept, how many. The decision hasn't been made. The officers and men of these units will not know for months what their fate will be.

A few years back they went through the same experience as the result of another shoot-from-the-hip McNamara order. The morale of the men in these units sank to a low level. After more than a year of uncertainty they learned that their units would continue.

These particular detachments are but one example. Morale is a sensitive thing. This confusion will cause some of the best reserve officers to retire.

The McNamara proposals aim at eliminating from the active reserve civilians who hold "key" government posts.

On paper this looks sound. If a war came today, these men would be frozen in their civilian jobs and not available for military duty. So it appears that money will be saved if these men are put into the standby reserve.

This reasoning missed the point. The major purpose of the reserve program is to train men. The Army is already "embarrassed" about the loss it faces as experienced World War II veterans retire. Reservists who are key civilians in the same field as their reserve specialty make top-notch training team leaders. Pushing key personnel into "standby" loses the active reserve some of its best-qualified training leadership.

But it does more than that. "Key" jobs are defined as key from a wartime standpoint. A man in a "key" job today may well be in a non-key job a year from now. But once put in "standby," these officers are usually lost permanently from the active reserve.

Sharp Changes

WASHINGTON — Those in Vietnam who know most about the murky situation in Vietnam warn that we should prepare for possible sharp changes in U. S. policy in that area.

Even the best informed of our diplomats are at a loss to explain the about-face by General Nguyen Khanh, the man on whom we have been banking to unify the South Vietnamese. From being our closest ally and chosen leader, Khanh has suddenly turned in to the harshest critic of U. S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor.

Khanh now denounces American "colonialism." The young general who he leads asserts their superiority to the civilian government which the U. S. is striving to establish as the central authority in South Vietnam.

General Khanh seems to have taken his place with the military against the U. S. policy of placing top command in civilian hands.

If Khanh continues on this course, he will force a full reconsideration of our position in Vietnam. At the holiday season this is not a happy prospect, since all involved know in advance that there is no quick, easy alternative way out.

The United States has stationed 22,000 fighting men in Vietnam and is spending about $1.5 billion a day in the war there for the stated purpose of saving South Vietnam from communist aggression. We are present the U. S. has assured the rest of the world, at the request of the legally constituted government of the country. We came to the aid of a neighbor who called for our help.

General Khanh's new attitude if it proves more than a passing phase will rule out that explanation of our actions. U. S. military advisers will not be regarded by others as the invited aides to a country in distress if the military leaders of that country announce as Khanh has done, with obvious reference to the United States, that Vietnam will not "make sacrifices" to carry out the policy of any foreign country.

For the moment the Secretary of State is responding calmly and with patience to the outburst from Saigon. At a recent press conference, Mr. Rusk restated our willingness to help a united government in South Vietnam defend itself against aggression.

If the South Vietnamese are able to pull themselves together and get on with the business of pushing back the Communist forces in the North, our help will no doubt continue. If, on the other hand, General Khanh's change of tune proves to convey a change of mind about Vietnam's future place in South-east Asia, that will call for rigorous reexamination here—and very possibly withdrawal of assistance. Americans have been giving to South Vietnam for many years as a successful physician and surgeon in private practice. And pioneered intravenous anesthesia, too!

So when he returned to the Medical School to teach anatomy, the students were doubly appreciative.

For he would stress the practical aspects of human anatomy and offer them many letters of clinical advice which are omitted by the braintrust professor who has his Ph. D. but no clinical experience.

For example, when I took anatomy at Northwestern University Medical School, we had a famous professor at the head of the department.

But he was not a physician or surgeon. So he never stressed the clinical aspects of anatomy.

For example, he would put as much emphasis on the fingernail as upon the gall bladder or appendix.

Yet even you laymen realize that fingernails involve far less surgical attention than the gall bladder.

Actually, our class would have benefited far more from your years' dissection and study of human anatomy, if we had been taught anatomy around the various surgical incisions as focal points.

For example, before we even touched the cadaver, the professor should have used a marking pencil and indicated the standing incisions all over the body for the usual types of surgical operations.

Thus, he should have marked the spots for an appendectomy, a Caesarian section, thyroidectomy, etc.

Then the medical students could have learned their anatomy with reference to its practical uses.

Instead, they had to dig out their old anatomy books all over again when they graduated and started hospital internships, just to learn their anatomy the way it SHOULD have been taught originally, namely, around its surgical uses.

What you laymen seldom realize is the startling fact that teachers in colleges and professional school actually are not required to have specific training in TEACHING.

But all high school and grammar professors in fact take many courses in the department of education to learn how to teach.

In college (including medical, dental, law, etc.) all the professors need is a doctor's degree.

They aren't required to have had even a single course in public speaking!

They don't need to have taken a single class in educational or adolescent psychology!

They usually aren't required to have any practical or clinical experience in their profession.

And no sales training at all in catching attention or cleverly "packaging" ideas and mixing relevant humor with their dry lectures.

Dr. Crane is an excellent example of the proper type of professor. For he combines much clinical experience with his ability to lecture in the classroom. Also, college students require any practical experience from their faculty though grammar and high school teachers must be well grounded in educational methods and even practice teaching.

Judy Kinnaird Fund Total Is $2,165

The Judy Kinnaird Fund today reached a total of $2,165 as final donations were reported by Harry Kudell, to Jim Lee, Lions Club custodian of the fund.

Some pledges are still out and further donations may be made to the Judy Kinnaird Fund, Box 543, Sanford, Lee said.

"We wish to express appreciation and thanks to all the people who have sent in checks and money to help pay for the medical expenses of Judy," said Lee.

The 13-year-old girl now is back at her Geneva home but doctors say she will require treatment and medicines for approximately two years, depending on the rapidity of her response to treatment and drugs.

The little girl's back was fractured in two places when she was struck down by a hit-and-run driver as she walked along a highway near her home several months ago. Investigations revealed that Judy's father also had suffered a back injury some time ago and had been unable to work. The family was in need of assistance to pay for Judy's medical expenses, which were high due to the seriousness of her injuries.

Some persons are known to have tried to help their people by creating jobs for some. There are others you can not find to do anything which will help anyone in the community. They have that I have time and you get a job.

Some of these persons have been helped well indeed, which have paid off in their minds why do they turn away from helping others?

Sure, it has been said many times that we are always rendering our hands to others for help. Such is true because there is no other choice. In his Sermon on the Mount, Jesus said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

In conclusion, we wish to thank (Mama), "Be assured to the child you have won some victory for humanity."

Senior Choir No. 1 of St. John Baptist Church served a post-Christmas party at the home of its president, Mrs. Dorothy Adams. Mrs. Mattie Cherry, conducted a Bible examination which was enjoyed by the participants. Gifts were exchanged at the conclusion of the activities.

State League Head Outlines Co-Op Plans

By Julian Stenstrom Herald Sports Editor

The future of Sanford in minor league professional baseball was no closer to reality today than it was Tuesday when Florida State League President George McDonald appeared before a luncheon meeting of the Sanford Lions Club and explained how Sanford could become the 10th member of the FSL for the 1965 season.

Here for the meeting with McDonald was Pete Schaaf, the loop's statistician and public relations counselor, and Warren Keyes, head of the Daytona Beach Islanders.

McDonald told the Lions that there is today a new baseball concept in the role played by the major league clubs and the cities in their farm systems.

"Formerly," McDonald explained, "we had the working agreement, but today the new plan is referred to as the player development agreement. Under this concept," said the FSL head, "the parent major league club provides players, salaries, manager and his salary, uniforms and other minor incidentals while the local sponsoring unit provides the park, lights, baseballs, bats and inter-league transportation."

"The local organization," McDonald went on, "keeps all gate receipts, fence advertising receipts, program sales receipts and income from the operation of the park's concession business."

McDonald told the Lions that a Class A club, what once was known as Class D, could successfully operate with an attendance of some 15,000 to 18,000 fans.

The FSL preyed made it clear that the circuit wants to place a franchise in Sanford. "We have nine clubs to go," he pointed out, "and we must have a 10th club in order to play a schedule of games whereby each team would have 72 home dates."

"To be perfectly frank with you," he continued, "Leasburg wants this franchise which would be operated by the Kansas City Athletics of the American League. However, officials of the Athletics' farm system want to place the club in Sanford because of your excellent ball park."

Last year, McDonald asserted, the FSL operated in Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Orlando, Sarasota, Tampa, St. Petersburg and Daytona Beach. Cocos is planning to become the ninth club in the circuit and will be operated by the Houston Astros of the National League.

"Next season," said McDonald, "Winter Haven will come into the circuit as a farm club of the Boston Red Sox who are moving in 1966 from Arizona to new spring training facilities in Winter Haven."

Eagles Out Tonight For 'Sweet Revenge'

By Julian Stenstrom Herald Sports Editor The Ellsworth High School Eagles of Ellsworth, Me., may be touring Florida's famed Cypress Gardens today but it's a safe wager that Head Coach Stuart Taylor and his defending Class A state champions are unconsciously figuring out how to hike their scoring punch and defend Oviedo High's scoring attack when the two clubs clash again tonight.

The second of the two-game holiday series between the Eagles and the Lions will get under way tonight at 8 p.m. at the Oviedo High gym. The first of the two games - won by Oviedo in the last two seconds on a perfect shot by Rex Brooks - was played at Lyman High.

Oviedo Principal Clyde Holder and Athletic Director Paul Mikler both agreed they wish the second game also could be played in a larger gymnasium because they are anticipating a bumper crop of fans for tonight's affair. It's a sure thing that Oviedo High's hoxbox gymnasium will never accommodate the crowd expected tonight.

But, as Holder put it, "We owe this game to our faithful Oviedo fans and we've got to play it in our gym."

Observers are expecting a repeat performance of the thriller played between the two clubs Monday night when Oviedo captured a 64-to-62 victory.

Mikler, who also doubles in brass as the Lions' cage coach, probably will start Jim Courier, Rex Brooks, Tom Colbert, Mike Partin and scoring artist Billy Mikler in tonight's affair. Meanwhile, the taller Eagles - with apparently more depth, could go with just about any five of their 12 youngsters.

Chances are, however, that the starters will include John Linnahan, John Whitmore, Larry Gross, Dick Small and Greg Stanley. However, it's likely that John Petros, John Royal, Wayne Mayo, Jim Markos and Mark Nash will see action along with Steve Bethem and Bruce Braley.

Following tonight's contest, the Eagles will pack their gear and head for Sanford's ACL Depot to board a train for the return trip to Ellsworth. They're expected to arrive in Hoston at 6:45 p.m. New Year's Day and bus to Ellsworth.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spelski Did we have a good turn out for the Junior League's Xmas Tournament on Monday?

In the junior division we had 17 doubles entries and a handsome total of 29 single entries. For the Bantams, five doubles shot for the trophies and nine others were game enough to go for the honors available in the singles category.

After the dust cleared, the combination of Patsy Terry and David Heidt with their 868 series, including handicap, won the first slot for the doubles in the Bantam group. Not too many pins behind was Scott Roche and Glenn Skelly with a 837 set.

In the Bantams singles event, Glenn Skelly prevailed and will receive his individual trophy for his 509 series.

Switching attention to the Junior Division results: Jim Brewer toggled 717 talents with that of Frank Gifford as they bowled a tremendous 1,185 three-game series including handicap. Jimmy exploded the pins with a 225 scratch game.

Second on the totem pole was the Martin brothers, Billy and Ken, with their 1,124 981. Incidentally, Ralph Unger started with six consecutive strikes to finish with a 221 scratch game.

In the singles event, everyone was watching as Jim Woods tried gallantly to catch Frank Patterson's winning 565 series. Jim didn't quite make it.

'7 Magnificents' Hope Of Indians

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) - The defensive hope of Florida State University's Gator Bowl-bound Seminoles is wrapped up in a bunch of hard-nosed linemen dubbed "The Seven Magnificents."

The man who gave the Seminole forward defensive wall its name was Avery Bummer, a 227-pound tackle from Adel, Ga.

Summer showed up for fall practice with his head shaved. Other members of the line were quickly bald and Summer named them for a movie that starred Yul Brynner. The name stuck and the seven played the entire season with shaved heads.

The seven, and a backfield called "The Forgotten Four," will make up the defense that head coach Bill Peterson will build against the highly thought of ground game of the Oklahoma Sooners in the Gator Bowl here Jan. 3.

Longhorns Get Jubilant News MIAMI (UPI)-With their Orange Bowl clash only three nights away, the Longhorns of Texas got good news with the return of a top back.

Highlights

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 30, 1964
10-11 p.m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. Highlight is a dance number by Danny and guest Buddy Ebsen to "Bidin' My Time." Comedienne Pat Carroll is back to help in the comedy skits; she is very good as a trouble-making department store shopper. Buddy goes back to his Davy Crockett days in a skit called "Fort Aggravation." He's an Indian scout and Kaye is a know-it-all officer. Good show.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. Virginian. "The Hour of the Tiger" (Color) A western drama of vengeance and tangled personal relationships. However strong the romance between the Virginian and illegal immigrant Cely Carrillo may look, you know it will never reach fruition because of the unwritten TV code forbidding foreign entanglements for two-listed series heroes.

8:00-9 p.m. ABC. Shindig! Whatever you may think of the performers, there's very little one can criticize musically. After all, what more does one need to but list: "At the Hop," "Whole Lotta Shakin' Going On," "Long Tall Sally" and "Ten Good Reasons" to realize that only classics are performed here. And, whatever you may think of the music, there's very little one can say about the performers. Only the greatest! Only Bobby Rydell and Jerry Lee Lewis, and Vic Dana and the Wellingtons and the Blossoms and Willy Nelson and others. Shriek! Shriek! Shriek!

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. Dick Van Dyke Show. "Stretch Petrie vs. Kid Schenk." Out of step with the series and no improvement. The momentary addition of guest star Jack Carter throws the emphasis of the show on him and his character doesn't warrant it. He plays a childhood friend (unpleasant variety) who once robbed a bank and has been collecting payoffs ever since. It's a good showcase in which Carter is able to demonstrate he can give loudmouth characterizations, but it gets in the way of the show's usual good humor. Some laughs, but gen-

TV Time Previews

9-11 p.m. NBC. Wednesday Night Movie. "Elephant Walk" (Color) Elizabeth Taylor, Dana Andrews and Peter Finch star in this jungle tale of a young bride who finds her husband is a different man on his plantation than when they were married in England. Miss Taylor finds it hard adjusting to her changed husband and seeks comfort in the American ranch manager.

8:30-9:30 p.m. ABC. Burke's Law. "Who Killed Davidian Jones?" A cluttered mystery about the murder of a shipping tycoon. The suspects are Broderick Crawford, Dennis Day, Reginald Gardiner, Cesar Romero and a couple of yummy ones in Sheree North and Ruta Lee, and they're far more interesting than the script.

10:30-11 p.m. ABC. ABC Scope. "The Wild World of Discotheque." Was this show necessary? It's a half-hour visit to Frug and Watal parlors and stopovers at the momentary discotheque fad Emports.

Joan Adams Hits Series Of 516

The Tigertees, Hoot Owls and the Vah-9 Officer Wives all moved up on the leading teams in the Holler Motors-Navy Wives League. The Tigertees checked in with a three-game win over the Checkertails "B" team as Joan Adams bombed a 203-516 series. Verna Holton set the pace for the Hoot Owls in their four game sweep of the Disasteroids. D. Oliver shot a 166 game and Sully Reno came through with a 166 game to spark the Vah-9 Officer Wives in their three game nod over the Biffs although L. Meyers and J. Kirkham tallied 193 and 168 respectively.

Pat Donahugh showed the way in a four game romp over the Vah-1 Q Wives as she shot a 175-453 for the Vah-5 Officer Wives. The Retired Wives split with the Checkertail "A" team with Isabel Goshorn pacing the Retirees with a 462 series and Marge Field hitting 161-469 for the Checkertails. The Diddballs won three over the Dragoneets in another match. Mary Ann Williams topped a 177-482 and Thelma Unger backed her up with a 163-466 while setting the pace for the NAS Officer Wives in a four game victory over the Vah-5 Savagettes.

The Pussy Cats took the measure of the E-789 ers in a three point win and in the final match of the morning the Oups Ops and the Vigilantes split as Media Wiltshire rolled a 203-468 and Alize Repton bombed a 170-499 for the Oups and Eleanor Clements hit a good 171 game and P. Pappan spun 181-473 for the Vigilantes.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

"Please tell me, is it necessary to get a gift now for a couple in my neighborhood? They sent me a huge fruit cake for Christmas. I scarcely know them, but I am seventy-five, live here alone, and they probably think that I am lonely. I am never lonely, as I have hobbies and work in my garden, even all winter, as it is warm here—75."

"No, that would spoil the whole thing. The couple are probably very kind people and wanted to send the cake. Write a very nice letter and one day send them something from your garden, or invite them to tea and present them with the garden offering or perhaps something you make through your hobbies. They evidently want to be friends, and friends are wonderful to have."

"Please tell me, can I properly wear a Spanish comb? It was a gift from a lovely friend. My hair is gray, worn in a French roll—Reader."

"Of course, wear the comb. Hair ornaments are very fashionable and give a delightful, festive air."

"I have recently met my husband. Should I use black-bordered stationery?—E. L."

Note paper and letter paper with a very thin black line is proper, but is not absolutely necessary. Plain white is also suitable. Signs of mourning, such as long crepe veils and heavy black, is passe nowadays. Why even at funerals we wear black glasses to hide the tears—or lack of them. This is a modern age and people must get on with the task of daily living. You can keep your thoughts in your heart; outward signs are not necessary."

"When traveling by plane, should one give the young lady stewardess a gift of money? I have never been on a plane, and have always traveled by boat.—D. L."

No, a charming "thank you" is all that is expected. If you have received very special service, you could take her name and send her a gift of flowers, perfume or anything you wish. This is a very personal thing and you must do as you think best."

"Would a purple velvet sheath look too old for me? I am forty-one, and have a very pale complexion; light blonde hair—still—Marie."

Tomorrow—Something Special For You and You and You!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know this is going to sound ridiculous, but I'm ashamed to ask anyone else. How can I break my husband of sucking his thumb? When he sleeps, reads the newspaper or settles down to watch TV, he sucks his left thumb. I know he isn't aware of it because when I tell him to quit it, he is always shocked to find his thumb in his mouth. We have two small children who also suck their thumbs when they're tired, and it is so hard to break them of it when they see their father doing it. Is it hereditary? It's such an unmanly habit for a 34-year-old man. It's caused many fights between us. Can you help me?

SUCKER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: A psychiatrist would probably tell you that your husband is longing for the security of his baby days. (They call it "regression.") It isn't hereditary. Children are imitative, which is partly the reason your children suck their thumbs. Granted, it's not "manly," but it's not worth fighting about, so if it irritates him to be reminded—skip it.

DEAR ABBY: I recently visited my sister, who lives in another state. She is married to a quiet, well-to-do man. They have a 16-year-old daughter. I didn't realize how much tension my sister was living under until I stayed there. He is a dictator and no one dares to disagree with him on anything. My sister has no car and if she isn't home when he calls, he comes home, waits for her and makes her account for every minute. He handles all the money. She never sees a red cent. Everything is charged and he pays the bills. The daughter isn't allowed to date or to accept a phone call from a boy. At dinner he demands that the daughter finish every speck on her plate, so the child has to choke it down with tears running down her cheeks. My sister sits there trembling, afraid to say a word. Once she tried to take her daughter's part against him and he slapped her from one end of the kitchen to the other. Now I know why people kill each other. Is there something I can do, legally, to relieve the situation?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: You can't—but your sister can if she wants to prefer charges against him. I doubt that she will, however, because a woman who puts up with the cruel and inhuman treatment is as "stuck" as the husband who dishes it out. The most tragic victim is the daughter, who must be subjected to such a brutish tyrant. Try to persuade your sister to improve her situation or extricate herself and her daughter from it. But don't be surprised if she doesn't.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to offer a solution to INADEQUATE MOM. I am a 16-year-old high school junior. After dinner, I am expected to help with the dishes and then get my homework done. There is no television until 11. My homework is finished. If a "B" average is not maintained, I can't watch TV until after the next report cards come out. Phone conversations are limited to five minutes. (A timer which Mother uses in the kitchen is the reminder.) I have a 10 o'clock bedtime. If my hair isn't washed and telled by that time, it's too bad. I have to go to bed anyway. I must be at school by 8:20 A.M. so I get up at 6:45, which gives me plenty of time to decide what to wear, dress, eat a good breakfast, fix my hair, put on my make-up and straighten my room before leaving for school.

KATHY K. IN AMARILLO
DEAR KATHY: Good for you. You're organized. And it sounds so easy when you write it.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Frank Westcott of North Attleboro, Mass., has been president and chairman of the board of the American Contract Bridge League, and also has served as captain of the American team in two world's championships. In addition he has accumulated about 4,000 master points by use of the Westcott system which expects a game in every hand and a slam in every fourth one.

Today's hand is an example of the Westcott system at its best and ranks as one of the most interesting hands of 1964.

The opening spade bid was normal since Frank is old-fashioned and prefers to open a good four-card major in preference to a nondescript three-card minor. When his partner responded two clubs to show at least 10 or 11 points, Frank decided that a jump to three no-trump might be inadequate and bid two hearts just to see what would happen.

He received a quick answer. His partner jumped to four hearts and there was Frank flying at 1000 feet with both wings falling off.

He did not want to stay in the inadequate and bid two hearts just to see what would happen.

Horoscope Forecast

THURSDAY, DEC. 31, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime can bring many tensions and much strain this last day of the old year, but the evening finds conditions improving and you are able to show your devotion to others as the Old Year 1964 goes out by a warm and affectionate response to such individual or persons. A wonderful New Year to you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Better relegate entertainment to the evening hours and carry through with obligations during the day. Make any changes necessary. Have a happy time in PM. Happy New Year!

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You may find it rather difficult to carry through with ideas you have in mind during day, but if you take it easy, evening can be very enjoyable. Be precise in small matters. Others are impressed favorably.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Others are so busy with holiday preparations, etc. that it behooves you not to try to disturb them unnecessarily. Meet own obligations. Relax. Then have a very happy time tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Better simply do what is practical instead of starting something new today. Then you can carry through with evening plans. Some powerful friend only requires some request from you. EXPAND.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Doing whatever will improve your personality so that you make a fine impression upon important persons in your life is fine now. Be friendly, courteous. The only way to have a real abundance is to ignore money.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Every chance to show devotion to loved ones is present on this day. Make resolution to be ever more so. Be altruistic and you start the new year on the right foot.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You have to use a more direct approach with associates in AM than you have in the past, tho your ideas are similar. Set your sights straight. Then carry through in such fashion.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Monetary matters are highly important during day hour, and this also gives you opportunity to be with powerful persons later. Good ideas occur to you as New Year enters. Be happy.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Handle that vexing problem early on that the evening can be unmarred by worry. This inspires you to greater things in the New Year. Meet persons with advanced ideas.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Being thoughtful with those around you then makes the festivities far more interesting and ideal. Have enlightening talks at charming places when celebrating. Drive carefully.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) Don't be forceful with friends during the day so that the evening's fun will not be spoiled. Do any work needed yourself without bothering others. Dress in full regalia.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Anything connected with business affairs should have the OK of higher-ups, associates, et alia. Be sure credit is bettered. Off to the fun and frivolity of the evening of the year.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those very blunt but honest individuals who could easily hurt the feelings of others without realizing it, if you don't early teach to think before speaking so that a soft pedal can be put on this rather barbed tongue. Fins chart for the public speaker, professor, person working with or for those connected with a foreign country.

"The Stars impel they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Layos Issue Statement On Benefit Fund

By Donna Estes
Mrs. Ruth Layo, speaking for her husband, Longwood's Fire Chief Claude Layo, announced today that persons wishing to donate monies to the fund administered by the fire department and auxiliary to benefit Mrs. Kenneth Brabazon and family may send their contributions to any member of either group.

Mrs. Layo stated that "under no circumstances should donations for this fund be sent directly to Florida Sanitarium Hospital or to the family."

Details and administration of the fund were decided at a joint meeting of the two groups last week with Mrs. Bernetta Morris named chairman.

Mrs. Brabazon, a member of the auxiliary, was severely scalded receiving second and third degree burns over most of the front of her body in an accident at the Longwood Community Children's Christmas Party sponsored by the fire department Dec. 19. Although still hospitalized, she is now permitted to have visitors.

County Growth Ranking Third In Florida

By Julian Stenstrom
Seminole is the third fastest growing county in the State of Florida, according to figures released today by Manager Joe Foy of the Florida State Employment Service office in Sanford. This applies to counties with populations of 50,000 or more.

With a population of 67,100 as of July 1, 1964, as compared to 54,900 in 1960, Seminole's percentage of increase was 22 and equalled that of Broward County (Fort Lauderdale). Broward's population jumped from 333,900 in 1960 to 408,400 as of July 1, 1964.

Still leading the state, percentage-wise, in the population explosion is Brevard. That county's 1960 population of 111,400 jumped to 171,400 for a 54 per cent increase. In second place is the 25 per cent hike in Lee County (Fl. Myers) population. It went from 54,500 to 68,000 according to Foy's figures from the University of Florida's Bureau of Economic and Business Research.

Seminole and Broward are tied for third, Sarasota is fifth, Palm Beach sixth, Volusia seventh, Okaloosa eighth, Monroe ninth and Alachua 10th.

"Employment in non-farm firms," said Foy in his official December report, "was estimated at 9,700 in November—the highest level to be reached in 10 months and 300 above a year ago. The annual advance," Foy explained, "was credited to expansion in trade and government as these facilities were increased to meet the needs of a rapidly growing population."

Foy added: "Between October and November employment in non-farm firms gained 600—a normal advance for this time of the year. The winter season saw business activity accelerating in many industries. Worker gains were reported in manufacturing, wholesale trade and services."

Construction activity, he declared, "held steady and agricultural employment strengthened with citrus and vegetable harvests on the upswing in November."

Foy said unemployment was firm at 6.80, accounting for 3.8 per cent of the labor force. He said this was considered a moderate surplus.

Metro 'Phone System Drive In New Spurt

George Touhy today was named chairman of a committee which will be appointed to spearhead the establishment of a metropolitan telephone system for Seminole County.

The appointment was announced today by Loring Burgess, president-elect of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

"We are pleased," said Burgess, "that Touhy has accepted the chairmanship of this effort. He has the ability to serve throughout the county. This project is one of the major goals in the chamber's 1965 program."

"Communications," Burgess added, "plays a vital role in the chamber's efforts to serve all of Seminole County. Therefore, we feel a metro system is absolutely essential if we are to achieve our objective of a greater Seminole County."

Meanwhile, Touhy—executive vice president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association—declared "Seminole County has been pushed into the spotlight of a great business development that encompasses all of Central Florida. The opinions of many economists stress the tremendous growth potential here in the next few years."

Touhy continued, "The economic surveys for the port authority, the lakefront development, the community college plus the impact of the approved Central Florida University, all have established firm bases for the bright forecasts and amazing growth."

"How promptly the people of our county act in getting the necessary wheels in motion will determine to a large degree how much we benefit from this favorable business climate."

"Of great and immediate need," Touhy explained, "is a simplified metro phone system that makes exchanging of ideas, placing of orders and bids, the coordinating of promotional plans and general communication instantaneous. Benefits will come to everyone," Touhy pointed out, "as we grow, and everyone who is interested in this progress should go to work now to make sure we have this important communications device."

Wilson and his wife moved here from Washington after his retirement last fall. Wilson still contributes three columns a week to UPI and the Sanford Herald. These will be suspended pending his recovery.

J. Dan Wright Gets State Post

Sanford's J. Dan Wright Jr. has been named state industrial commissioner by Governor Haydon Burns. Wright becomes one of the few men from Sanford in recent years to hold a statewide appointment.

As chairman, Wright will assume the day-to-day operation of the agency, administering the big state unemployment and workmen's compensation programs and the state employment offices throughout Florida.

Wright will be given the office of office on Tuesday at Tallahassee. He said today he will resign as chairman of the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction after its organizational meeting of Jan. 5. Burns will name Wright's successor on the School Board.

"Mr. Wright will carry with him into the office the actual and practical experience of a businessman operating under the Workmen's Compensation Laws," said Burns.

Burns said Wright "will also carry a complete background and knowledgeable approach to the subject of migrant labor and other problems felt within citrus, vegetable and other Florida industries."

Wright will take over the post from acting chairman Ronald Spencer of Ocala. Spencer took over the job when A. Worley Brown resigned to enter private business.

Burns also appointed Frank Nelson, longtime Panama City mayor, as business representative to the commission. Walter Lightsey of Tampa was reappointed as its labor representative.

A vice president of Patrick Fruit Company, Wright has lived in this city for the past 22 years. He came here from Jacksonville where he had lived since he was eight years of age. He was born in Nashville, Tenn.

C. E. Marsh, Friend Of LBJ, Dies At 77

Former newspaper publisher Charles E. Marsh, whose newspaper empire spread over much of the United States, died Wednesday in Washington, D.C., after an extended illness. He was 77.

Marsh was a close friend of President Lyndon B. Johnson and one of the first persons the President contacted after his assassination of President Kennedy.

He is credited with much of the success of Johnson as he urged him to continue his political career.

He had been in retirement since 1954 as a result of a stroke and other illnesses. Johnson, former president of Marsh's death at the Texas White House, said he was "greatly saddened" by the news. They had been friends since Marsh backed Johnson's first bid for Congress in 1937.

At that time, Marsh was an Austin (Texas) publisher. He was the father-in-law of Robert Haskell, publisher of a newspaper in Martinsville, Va., and partner owner of the Sanford Herald. Marsh also, at one time, owned the two Orlando newspapers later sold to the present owner, Martin Andersen.

Marsh, a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, was graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1908. He returned to his native Ohio as editor of the Akron Press and later became managing editor of the Cincinnati Post.

Marsh formed a partnership in 1916 and purchased newspapers in Fargo, N. D., and Waco, Tex. They steadily expanded their newspaper ownership. Marsh's family still has some newspaper interests.

Survivors include his widow, three sons, Charles Marsh II, Midland, Tex.; John E. Marsh, Clearwater, Fla.; and Michael Marsh, Woodville, Va.; and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Haskell, Martinsville, Va., and Diana Marsh, New York City.

Gov. Bryant Slaps Burns Again
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant, living again in the face of Gov. elect Haydon Burns today reappointed two members of the State Racing Commission to terms running well into and beyond the Burns administration.

Bryant quickly accepted the resignations of expiring commissioners Sam L. Pyle, of Leesburg, and John A. Torode, of Starke, and immediately reappointed them. Torode's new term runs until January 1966, and Pyle's until January 1968. Burns, who already is angry with Bryant for naming a nine-member Board of Regents without giving him a choice in the selection, said two weeks ago that he intends to appoint the five-member Racing Commission when he takes office.

He said at that time he did not expect that Bryant would take advantage of a 1963 law which put the Racing Commission on staggered terms and had the effect of extending the terms of three members so they held over through the next governor's term.

The third member whose term was extended in the act is Jack Fiveash, of Pensacola, but he did not submit his resignation to Governor Bryant so he could be reappointed. Speculation is that Burns intends to reappoint Fiveash anyway.

Americans Ready To Welcome Babe Of '65

By United Press
Americans counted out the last hours of 1964 today and made ready to welcome the New Year with accustomed resolve and joy.

With a kiss in the dark at Maxim's de Paris in Chicago and the ringing of half a thousand bells at Casterville, Ill., a half a dozen football bowl game cities and a million and one parties the nation will bid farewell to 1964—the year of the passing Gen. Douglas MacArthur and former President Herbert C. Hoover, of Don Schollander's four Olympic gold medals and the Alaska earthquake.

Celebrants dusted off paper hats, horns and unkept resolutions and got ready to jam Times Square in New York and the traditional party at the intersection of State and Randolph in Chicago in a gala welcome to the babe of 1965. The National Safety Council predicted 300 to 350 persons would die in traffic accidents during the three-day, 78-hour holiday period, beginning at 6 p. m. today and ending Sunday at midnight.

The record toll was 374 in 1959. The normal death rate for such a period is about 300. The cost of a New Year's evening of fairly priced from $109 a couple to the price of a few beers, not counting the fee of the babysitter.

Judge Appointed
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant today appointed George E. Adams, Orlando, a circuit judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit.

Succeeding Adams as Orange County judge will be state beverage director Richard B. King.

Goals Outlined For Next Year

By Harry I. Johnson
"We have determined the basic needs of Seminole County and we are now building the many segments into one solid package."

"I predict 1965 will see the greatest development ever seen in our county."

These two statements sum up the thoughts of John Krider, executive manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, as he looked to 1965. Krider pointed to five goals for 1965:

- 1—More and better educational facilities.
- 2—Metropolitan communications.
- 3—St. Johns River development projects.
- 4—Continued co-operation with the Navy.
- 5—Beautification.

Krider placed education at the head of his list declaring this will keep the many young people in the county rather than having them leave when they have completed their primary and secondary education.

A four-year college and a junior college are in the works and these will be pushed to the hill this coming year, Krider said.

A facility which will be ready in eight weeks, he added, is an electronics course to be offered at the vocational school site.

"Many electronics companies ask us if we have training facilities for young people," Krider said, "and now we can tell them we have and will have more."

Such higher education facilities will "create the atmosphere which will attract industry," he pointed out.

County Isolated
The metropolitan communication project was second on his list as he noted that "our county seat is now isolated from the rest of the metropolitan area."

Tieson of telephones into one system is an essential point to "merge the residents."

The proposal was turned down in a vote earlier this year and solid efforts are being made to get another referendum quickly.

The St. Johns River development is a three-pronged effort.

The lakefront marina project which is now being developed with the City Commission studying a comprehensive engineering report.

The Port Authority which has made big strides toward a start of actual construction. This would open up a new field of endeavor in the area and in turn would lure many diversified industries.

The Sanford-Titusville Canal which would link this area with the Atlantic Ocean and thus to many foreign ports. This project, too, is in the planning stage.

Continued cooperation with the Navy is deemed another of the essential projects. Of special interest, says Krider, is acquiring of funds to extend the north-south runway.

Top Five
And in the top five is beautification of the area with special emphasis being placed on the lakefront. This project has caught fire like little else ever has in the county.

It was suggested several weeks ago at a Chamber of Commerce meeting and since then has blossomed into one of the most energetic efforts by a vast number of persons throughout the county.

Krider noted today that the economy of the county is switching from dependency on agriculture to non-farm enterprises. He said agriculture employment dipped by 2,400 while at the same time non-farm employment leaped by 3,000.

"This clearly shows the trend," he declared.

This past year saw the creation of new leadership in the county and the Chamber official pointed to the "intense interest" shown by virtually the entire membership. "We'll invite 15 or 17 people to a special meeting," Krider said, "and more than 20 will show up."

"These people," he continued, "represent the future of our county and have accepted the challenge to build it."

Seminole County has done much in 1964, Krider reviewed, but 1965 will see the greatest development ever seen in our county."
