

U. S. Sabre Pilots Shoot Down Ten Communist MIGs

Russian Part In Supervision Of Truce Goes To Top Men

By STAN CARTER

SEUL, Korea (U. S. Sabre pilots shot down 10 Communist MIG-15 fighter planes, probably destroyed three more and damaged 10—the second best bag for any day in the Korean War.)

The greatest number of MIGs destroyed in one day in the war was 18 last Dec. 13. Fifth Air Force Sabres destroyed MIGs last night, 23, but that day they scored only one probable and three damaged.

In one of Tuesday's eight separate battles, Col. Francis S. Gahreski, 6th Fighter Wing, shot down two MIGs in an ambush. It raised his total for the Korean fighting to 54 MIGs. Five kills make an ace.

Twenty-six Sabres ambushed 16 MIGs in the action about noon just south of the Yalu River, Manchurian-Korean boundary.

"The MIGs never saw us," said Gahreski, a leading ace of World War II. "We had a perfect bounce and we dived right down their tail pipes."

Major William H. Wescott, Terre Haute, Ind., and Capt. Iven C. Kinkel, Caspella, Mich., each shot down two MIGs in the ambush.

A total of 319 MIGs and at least two of the new, seldom-seen "Type 15" Russian-built jets were involved in the eight battles.

The Allies had a little more than half that number in the air. Some of the flights lasted as long as 30 minutes. The action reached nearly seven miles up in at least one battle.

U. S. losses in this battle, it may be announced in a weekly summary.

Fifth Air Force said its planes destroyed 37 MIGs probably destroyed eight and damaged 55 in March. It said four U. S. jets were Thirty other Allied planes were lost in March to Communist ground fire, mechanical failures or unknown causes.

The Reds probed Allied lines in seven places Monday and early Tuesday. There were also a few scattered patrol clashes.

Allied warships pounded both coasts of North Korea Monday. Carrier-based and Marine planes attacked Communist rail and road networks and supply installations.

MUNSAN, Korea (U. S. Staff officers gave up today on the Hunan question and handed it to top Korean truce negotiators to settle.)

An armistice subcommittee meeting was scheduled for Thursday to take up the argument on whether Russia should be named a "neutral nation" to help police a truce in Korea.

The Communists, who first raised the issue in a staff meeting late last week, insisted on the switch to the higher level. The Russian issue is one of three major stumbling blocks to an armistice.

Despite the triple block, informed sources said Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy hopes to have "a truce in his pocket" when he quits as chief Allied negotiator to be succeeded by the U. S. Navy.

Adm. Robert P. Briscoe will relieve Joy as commander of naval forces in the Far East early this summer.

The subcommittee meeting may also tackle a second key issue—whether the Reds will be allowed to repair and build airfields.

The third issue, involving exchange of prisoners, is being discussed by staff officers in secret sessions. Col. George W. Hickman reported only that "further discussions" were held Tuesday on a Red plan to release prisoners on the basis of lists already exchanged.

Staff officers who gave up on the Russian problem will continue working on uncompleted details of the truce supervision plan. They have been arguing mostly about what to call "Korea" and the "United Nations Command" in the armistice document.

Limitations of the Korean language are responsible for the debate over "United Nations." The Reds want to use Korean words which translate a "United Nations Command" in the armistice document.

The U. N. Command objects to "Chosen" because that was the name the Japanese used during their 50-year rule of Korea.

The Communists want to use it partly because Korea reached its greatest glory under the Kingdom of Chosen or Chosen more than 600 years ago.

Col. Don O. Dargow told the Communists Tuesday it was "simply not a matter of argument." He said each side should be able to choose the name it likes.

SEUL, Korea (U. S. Slowdown in rotation went into effect today for regular U. S. Army soldiers and draftees in Korea.)

It won't affect national guardsmen. They must be discharged by August.

Under the new system men in the front line can expect to go home after 10 or 11 months.

Men in artillery battalions and supporting units who live in tents near the front and are fired on occasionally can go home after 13 or 14 months.

Those at rear headquarters of an infantry division, or in Seoul or Pusan will be kept in Korea for about 18 months.

The new, complex, slowdown system went into effect on the 20th. American soldiers went home from Korea. He is Capt. Freddie Leon Clark, Indianapolis.

Gens. James A. Van Fleet, commander of U. N. ground forces, personally thanked Clark for a "rough job well done."

Van Fleet said the U. S. Eighth Army's rotation system has built up a pool of combat-tested veterans in the U. S. "for our national defense."

In 21 months of Korean fighting, Van Fleet said, "The strength of approximately 11 divisions has been brought out of the combat area and dispatched to the United States."

In setting a modern military precedent, our rotation system has functioned in time of combat without impeding normal operations. The rotation machinery has moved American manpower in and out of Korea whether the Eighth Army was in attack or brood in defense.

The Eighth Army will continue to send about 30,000 soldiers home monthly under the new system. Many of these will be national guardmen of the 40th (Southern California) and 45th (Missouri) Divisions.

Eighth Army spokesmen said the new system was put into effect to make up for the loss of the guardmen and because of the difficulty of getting replacements.

Wick is one of a group of editors who returned by plane today from a month's fact-finding trip that took them to Belgrade and many other European points. He said the editors telegraphed the questions to Stalin from Rome several weeks ago. Earlier the group had requested permission to go to Moscow and interview Stalin.

Wick said two Russians brought him the statement. They appeared at his apartment home shortly after he had reached it from Midway Airport.

Wick said the questions and the replies were:

Q: "Is a third World War closer now than two or three years ago?"
A: "No. It is not."

Q: "Do you consider the present moment opportune for the unification of Germany?"
A: "Yes. I do."

Q: "On what basis is co-existence of capitalism and Communism possible?"
A: "Peaceful co-existence of capitalism and Communism is possible if there is a mutual desire for co-operation, if there is a readiness to fulfill the undertaken obligations, if there is observance of the principle of equality and non-interference in the internal affairs of the other states."

Dan McCarty, Bradley Odham and Aito Adams—the Democratic Big Three who have been taking polebats at each other from separate platforms—all will speak at a convention banquet of the Florida League of Women Voters at Dinner Key.

Also scheduled to talk at a dinner starting at 7:30 p. m. will be Republican Candidates Bert L. Acker and Harry Swan.

Each candidate will be asked to confine himself to a 15-minute address, then be prepared to answer questions from the floor.

Adams, McCarty and Odham will appear together on a Miami television program at 6:45 p. m.

The three Democratic candidates all named names Monday night in talks to the Florida East Coast audiences.

McCarty said Adams' statement that he was a man of great wealth was the most laughable thing he had heard in the campaign.

Odham fired away at State Rep. Bernie Pany in Key West.

McCarty said Adams is one of the really wealthy men of the state who started making money representing members of his family speculating in defendant St. Lucie and Indian River County bonds.

Odham said Adams is a big profit.

McCarty said he doesn't know many other people in the state "who got the credit to borrow the vast sums of money he (Adams) is reported to have borrowed from Ed Ball's DuPont-owned bank."

McCarty promised in future campaign speeches to discuss the ABC's of this campaign—A for Adams, B for Ed Ball and C for D. C. Coleman.

McCarty said Coleman, former Dade County sheriff and state senator, "is slated to become a second Mr."

Big of Florida, if my Tallahassee opponent (Adams) is elected."

McCarty, who did not elaborate on Coleman, brought Odham into his speech at Miami when he said: "I'm not going to run any 24-hour talkathon on the radio."

Odham spoke more than 34 hours non-stop, at both Miami and Tampa and will start another such marathon in Orlando Thursday night.

Odham, who charged during the 1948 Legislature that Papy had offered him $100 to vote against the bookie bill and then $500 and a case of scotch to "take a walk" during voting on the bill, called the Monroe County representative, who was found innocent of the charge.

The favorite son candidate and front man for the bookie interests, the vicious dog track lobby group and other big, selfish interests who are operating the state government for the personal greed and benefit of these special interests."

He said the group would not control any state government he headed.

Reports Grow That McGrath Is To Resign

Attorney General Is Visitor At White House But Declines Comment On Result

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Attorney General McGrath talked with President Truman for 15 minutes today and left the White House declining comment on reports that his resignation is imminent.

McGrath saw the President at the height of a row with Newbold Morris, the Truman administration's cleanup chief, over the information Morris has been seeking—with presidential backing—about the financial affairs of Cabinet members and other high government officials.

All McGrath would tell newsmen afterward was:

"I discussed departmental matters with the President. Anything that is to be said about our discussions will be said by the President or his staff."

Asked point blank if he was going to resign, the attorney general said unambiguously that the statement he had just made was all he had to say.

The White House had no immediate comment on McGrath's visit.

The attorney general's meeting with Mr. Truman (11:45 a. m. EST) comes less than 24 hours after Rep. Chief (D.-Ky.) delivered to the White House by request—a copy of the Morris testimony before congressional investigators.

McGrath told Chief's Judiciary subcommittee Monday he wouldn't appoint Morris his special assistant if he had to do over again.

McGrath also said he had not decided whether he or any of his 506 top officials listed to receive the Morris questionnaires would answer them. McGrath has asked Mr. Truman to fire any government worker who refuses to answer, declaring he would quit his cleanup job if the President failed to do so.

The Truman-McGrath feud also comes on the heels of reports that angry protests were made to the President at last Friday's cabinet session over McGrath's questionnaires.

A reliable source who cannot be identified said Cabinet members told Mr. Truman they thought McGrath was "going too far." Questions cover such details as business connections, family relations and how many fur coats the official's family owns.

CAP Main Office For Olando Area Comes To Sanford

Lt. Breckenridge Is Named Commander Of Sixth Florida

Lt. Paul Breckenridge has been assigned to duty as commanding officer of the 6th Florida group of the Civil Air Patrol, which is the Orlando group, which has moved to Sanford.

The announcement was made today by Col. Joseph F. Moody, commander of the Florida Wing of the CAP.

Lt. Breckenridge, a pilot, is the son of the late Lt. General Breckenridge, who was killed in action in World War I.

The 6th Florida group is one of the largest in the United States, with headquarters at Sanford.

Strikes, Threats Of Strikes Blur Production Scene

By The Associated Press

Strikes and threats of strikes complicated the nation's production picture today.

A nation-wide steel strike next week appeared inevitable, unless industry or obtains a court injunction forbidding the walkout.

In communications, the nation's telegraph and telephone systems were notified to expect a series of strikes starting at midnight tonight.

In steel, the big trouble was the government's reluctance to promise the industry price increases which producers say are necessary to offset a government-recommended wage boost.

The CIO United Steelworkers met April 1 for a militant walkout.

Meanwhile, some 30,000 Western Union employees, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, were set to walk off their jobs across the country at midnight in support of demands for a 16-cent hourly wage increase and a cut in the work week from 48 to 44 hours with no pay reduction.

And the CIO Communications Workers of America called a strike of more than 40,000 telephone company workers in Ohio, Michigan and Northern California for Thursday morning.

In addition, 18,000 Western Electric Co. employees in 43 states called a strike for Monday. Western Electric manufactures and installs telephone equipment and its employees are represented by the Communications Workers. The CWA has not stated its exact contract demands, but has said they include "substantial" wage increases.

South Studying What To Do If Russell Loses

By JIM THOMASSEN

ATLANTA (U.P.)—Political realists, who are wondering where the South will go if Sen. Richard B. Russell wins the Democratic nomination, are finding it difficult to get a clear picture of his program.

In most Southern states, the anti-Truman Democrats are still so jubilant over President Truman's withdrawal, they won't even think of a "what-if" scenario.

However, anticipating a wide open convention in which anything can happen, some of them are beginning to look ahead.

And it is a good bet that two men—Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma—will be under careful scrutiny of some Southern politicians between now and next July.

Stevenson's name has figured in some private discussion there and he apparently will be watched closely until convention time.

Meanwhile, some 30,000 Western Union employees, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, were set to walk off their jobs across the country at midnight in support of demands for a 16-cent hourly wage increase and a cut in the work week from 48 to 44 hours with no pay reduction.

Asphalt Company Seeks Sanford Site

A northern asphalt company has been considering Sanford as the central distributing point for all of Central Florida.

The company, known as the Alabama Asphalt Co., is owned by Mr. J. H. Pitts, Jr., of Birmingham.

The company's plan calls for the purchase of a strip of land along Lake Monroe for the location of a plant and a fleet of trucks which will be filled with asphalt from river barges.

These barges will travel direct from the north-terminus down the inland waterway, Mr. Pitts said.

He would not reveal the name of the company, pointing out "it would be detrimental to do so at this time."

Mr. Pitts announced there will be a meeting of the terminal group and the City Commission on Monday night, April 14, at the City Hall.

Borkovich, Rogers Win Second Rounds

By F. MACVEBLY

JACKSONVILLE (U.P.)—Frank Borkovich, Lakeland, and Ernie Rogers, Clearwater, former winners and among the favorites in the 33rd annual Florida Amateur Golf Tournament, won their second round matches today.

Borkovich shot a 66, three under par, in whipping Ned Stacy, Jacksonville, 1 and 3.

Rogers lost the first two holes but came back to outstrip Ralph Sherman, Punta Vista Beach, 3 and 2.

The golfer with the best combination of youth and experience is likely to come up with the title, and there is plenty of indication it will be Gardner Dickinson, Panama City.

TELEVISION CHANNELS

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Holland (D.-Fla.) has urged the assistance of the Senate Interstate and Commerce Commission in getting the three cities on new television channels.

Holland wrote Sen. Johnson (D.-Cal.), chairman of the committee, that the Commission's assistance is "regularly postponed" and any action on removing the ban on "any constraints are up in the air."

Building Permits Reach New High

The upswing in residential building in Sanford is reflected in the City building permits total for March, which ranked a new high of $308,504 as compared with $19,778 in March a year ago.

One of the major factors in the home building boom was the securing of 23 permits by Phillips Properties which started a new subdivision known as Phillips Terrace.

Two bedroom homes averaged $6,000 each and three bedroom types $7,500.

Of the total last month 43 permits were issued for $282,350 worth of new homes.

During the first three months of the year 91 permits valued at $624,989 were issued compared with the 123 permits valued at $399,808 in January, February and March of 1951.

Repairs accounted for the balance of the permits including $17,404 on dwellings, $2,300 for Negro churches and $1,500 for commercial repairs.

McCarty and Russell Lead In Straw Poll

FORT MYERS (U.P.)—Dan McCarthy, Sen. Richard B. Russell and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower led candidates in a straw vote here Tuesday.

The Fort Myers News Press conducted the voting, passing out printed ballots to registered voters who participated in a city election.

McCarthy led the ticket for governor with 748 votes. Alvin Adams received 343 and Brailey Odham 44.

Among Democratic presidential possibilities, Russell received 423 votes. Sen. Estes Kefauver got 228 and President Truman 61. Ballots were printed before President Truman announced he would not run again.

For the Republicans, Kefauver received 431 and Sen. Robert A. Taft 211.

These were the only names on the ballot.

At the same time, voters rejected a proposal to change from a mayor and councilman form of government to a city manager system. The vote was 1,118 to 388 against the change.

STOVE EXPLOSION

Mrs. Arthur Cartledge, 63, assistant lunchroom supervisor at the Oviden School, received severe injuries today when the stove exploded in the lunchroom when she opened the door to inspect a bake.

She was taken to the Oviden Community Clinic for treatment and then to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Theodore Austin, Mrs. Cartledge and Mrs. Blanche Parsons, the school's principal, were alone in the lunchroom when the accident occurred. Mrs. Cartledge is still under treatment today for painful burns.

ROBBERY SENTENCED

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Bank Robber Willie Taylor was sentenced today as a fourth offender to 30 years in life imprisonment by a judge who said he wished he could send him to death.

Louis Mandelstein said in sentencing Taylor to life imprisonment as a fourth offender, "I only regret that the law prevents me from sentencing you to death."

He had pleaded guilty to a gun carrying charge.

Taylor stood, blinking, and handed out two guards in Kings County Court, but made no comment during a 45-minute questioning delivered by the judge.

BIG CARD PARTY

ST. PETERSBURG (U.P.)—A mammoth outdoor card party is the main event of today's Festival of States program.

Preparations have been made for about 600 players on the grounds of a downtown hotel.

The 31st annual festival, high mark of the winter tourist season, opened with a queen's review Tuesday. Hidden judges picked the queen but she wasn't identified until the coronation ball Thursday night.

Like Reveals Plan To Come To U.S. Soon

General Does Not Indicate Whether He Will Campaign For Presidential Post

By JAMES E. LAWSON

ARILENE, Kas. (U.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower messaged hometown friends today in his "proud" hope to return to the United States well in advance of the Republican National Convention July 7.

The 5-star general who spent his boyhood here says no hint, however, on whether he plans to lay aside his duties as supreme Allied commander in Europe and campaign actively for the presidential nomination.

His message to friends in this Central Kansas town was read by Gov. Edward F. Arn to a crowd assembled for ground-breaking ceremonies at the site of the Eisenhower Museum. The museum will house the general's one million dollar collection of war souvenirs.

Gov. Arn, as honorary chairman of the Museum Foundation, had invited the general to attend today's ceremonial step, the cornerstone laying set for June 4.

In a letter to the governor replying to his invitation, Eisenhower wrote:

"To those assembled in Arlene today I should like to send personal greetings from one of your neighbors. . . and to all of you my profound hopes that future circumstances will allow me to attend today's ceremonial step in the development of the foundation."

"There was no other hint of the general's plans in the remainder of his letter."

He recently said the New Hampshire and Minnesota primary results are forcing him to re-examine his position against becoming an active campaigner.

Taft And Kefauver Score In Primaries

Eisenhower Says U. S. Should Get More For Its Money In Europe

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (U.P.)—Gen. Eisenhower said today the United States needs to continue its support of European rearmament—but must get more results for the money.

The general's opinion was stated in his first annual report as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty defense forces. Americans look for the report could speculate that he had one eye on the voters who later may be asked to put him in the White House.

"Europe must become self-sustaining in military manufacturing at the earliest possible date," he said. "America cannot continue to be the primary source of munitions for the entire free world."

"It would be fatuous for any one to assume that the taxpayers of America will continue to pour money and resources into Europe unless encouraged by steady progress toward mutual co-operation and full effectiveness."

"On the other hand, I do not doubt about my belief in NATO. Without it, he said, the future of the United States and Canada "could prove to be a greater danger of attack, involving endless sacrifices and defense costs which would ultimately break their economies."

He observed:

"The purpose of our government in forming NATO was, of course, to help the strategic economies in Europe developing, threatening and slowing previously predicted schedules. We know that, in spite of the expenditure of vast sums of money in the United States and elsewhere, the flow of equipment has not been as rapid as previously predicted."

"In Korea, Indonesia and Malaya, NATO nations of Europe and America are carrying very heavy burdens, burdens that are costly, both in blood and treasure. They have a direct effect upon our efforts here to establish a so-called free arrangement in Western Europe."

"On the encouraging side, there has been almost a revolutionary rise in the morale of the armed forces. Their training is efficient and they are doing better than ever in their fighting. They are better prepared than ever to meet any attack which they can do their jobs."

Their job is a tough one. The report said the soldiers on the Allied side face 225 Russian and satellite divisions and 20,000 Russian planes, good in quality and steadily improving.

On the Allied side are fewer than 30 divisions and 1,000 planes to be ready by the end of this year.

"The Soviet army casts its shadow over Europe," Eisenhower said. "Nevertheless, the tide has begun to flow our way and the situation of the free world is brighter than it was a year ago."

He termed the 14 cent increase recently given Miami bus drivers, following a strike, a violation on the part of both the company and the union. A 10 cent increase would have been permissible, he stated.

The board seldom grants wage increases unless hardship can be shown to companies or employees involved, he declared.

He told of the recent citrus strike where pickets wanted $20 a day and were granted an increase from the formerly received 13 cents a box to 20 cents a box, which is the maximum that growers can pay. Some of the fruit-boys heard, he stated, was ridiculous.

Efforts of the growing southern pulpwood industries to try to force a 50-cent wage scale, were told by Mr. Simmons. He added that a controversy had developed over the union's demand that northern wages scale prevail.

President Martin Rinehower told of the inter-club meeting held in Kissimmee. Rupert Strickland outlined plans to feed and entertain the 46 member ministerial show card from Kissimmee on April 6. Howard Montell reported progress in Heket sales.

Guests were Clarence Collier, Montezuma, Ga.; Jerry Lucas of Connecticut; J. W. Lott of America, Ga.; and Harry L. Combs of Zanesville, Ohio and Marvin Gimble of the City Club.

Sidney Simmons Talks To Kiwanis On WSB Program

Board Was Created As Part Of National Defense Act

Sidney S. Simmons, Jacksonville member of the regional Wage Stabilization Board of Alameda, Cal., and president of Simmons Industrial, Jacksonville, addressed a meeting of members of the Kiwanis Club of the operations of the board. He was introduced by Myron Harrison.

He pointed out that the Stabilization Board was created as a part of the National Defense Act and is divided into regions with the parent board located at Washington, D. C. where it is now engaged with the steel dispute.

Although wages were frozen as of Jan. 15, 1946, a 10 percent increase over the amount of wage of that period has been allowed. In addition, there is a 3 1/2 percent cost of living increase granted. To go beyond that, he said, is in violation of the law.

Any amount paid in excess of wages allowed is not deductible from the employer's income tax returns, he added.

He termed the 14 cent increase recently given Miami bus drivers, following a strike, a violation on the part of both the company and the union. A 10 cent increase would have been permissible, he stated.

The board seldom grants wage increases unless hardship can be shown to companies or employees involved, he declared.

Candidates To Speak At Jaycee Meeting

The Three Candidates For House of Representatives Will Be the Guest Speakers at the Jaycee Luncheon at the Yacht Club Tomorrow

Three candidates for the House of Representatives will be the guest speakers at the Jaycee luncheon at the Yacht Club tomorrow. It was announced today by Lawrence Knight, chairman of the Jaycee "get-out-the-vote" committee.

Jaycee member, Mark N. Cleveland, Jr., will be one of the candidates. He has been endorsed by Mr. Ruth Hamilton and Mr. E. "Burr" Smith will be the other two. Rep. Volie Williams, Jr., who is unopposed in Group 2, and also a member of Jaycee, will serve as master of ceremonies of the program.

Next week's Jaycee program will be devoted to the annual "Good government" award.

TV BAN PUNISH

JACKSON, Miss. (U.P.)—Mississippi may ban TV sets on the front steps of motor cars.

Rep. Clarence Pierce is sponsoring the legislation.

All of Mississippi's video face is provided by Memphis, Tenn., and New Orleans stations. Pierce said Tuesday night he doesn't think the immediate need for the bill but thinks the state should have such a law on the books for the future.

"Driving a car and watching a television show at the same time is a pretty hard job," Pierce said. "But there are some people who probably would try."

Pierce's bill would allow TV sets on the rear seats of cars.

DAVID C. HICKSON, 60 Dies From Injuries

David C. Hickson, 60-year-old resident of Oviden died last night as a result of injuries sustained at Winter Park about 4:30 p.m. yesterday when he was hit by a log while working with a dragline.

Mr. Hickson, born in Maytown, Pa., in 1892, was a member of the Methodist Church of Oviden where he had lived for the past six years. Prior to that time he was a celery farmer in Sanford.

He is survived by the widow and six children, Mrs. Lavonia Simmons and Mrs. Ernest Nolly of Oviden; Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Downing of Winter Park; David C. Hickson, Jr. with the U. S. Army in Korea; Bryant N. and Eugene Hickson of Oviden; five brothers, Jack, Jim, W. B. and Richard of Sanford; and Joe Hickson of Chuluota; two sisters, Mrs. Lily Clark, Osteen and Mrs. Nora Hodges of Sanford; nine grand-children and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services, incomplete, will be announced later by Brinson Funeral Home.

BANK INSTALLATION

The Sanford Lodge of Elks, No. 1241 will install new officers Thursday night. A barbecued chicken supper will be served starting at 6:00 p.m.

Earl Higginbotham will be installed as exalted ruler; Robert S. Billhimer as esteemed leading knight; Jesse C. Lodge, esteemed leading knight; John Williams, esteemed leading knight; Leo Butner, secretary; Ralph Light III, treasurer; Ervin Felberg, teller.

Trustees are Homer Little, three years, Carl Williams, one year, Leo Butner in alternate, representative to the Grand Lodge.

PUZZLES AND PASTIMES

Hunting for Hidden Animals

The following little story contains the names of 15 animals and birds. On hunting and see how many you can find. Possibly you can find more than eleven.

We visitors peered in at the occupant, hoping naturally to catch him napping. But the monk eyed our party closely, scowled, and went on scratching at his manuscript.

Our little crowd eyed him with interest, but he showed no sign of our attention. His interest could not be wrenched from his work. We went on to the scene of an ancient grange. There was much ado concerning it because our people tried to be arrogant.

Count Votes

It's election year, and it'll be interesting to compare the vote this year in Lumberville with the returns in the last election. In that balloting, 333 votes were cast for the five candidates for the office of mayor. The three independent candidates made good showings. If the number of votes received by Abel were multiplied twice by itself, it would only equal the number cast for the Reform candidate. Baker received one more vote than Abel, yet if his (Baker's) votes were multiplied by themselves and again by themselves, the number of votes received by Baker would be multiplied by itself, amounting to the parity of the number cast over the Reform candidate.

How many votes did each candidate receive?

Who Is Who?

Baker, Barber, Barber and Butcher are the occupation chosen by their lodge to organize a membership drive. They are a baker, barber and butcher by trade, but not necessarily in that order. Barber and the butcher are neighbors. Butcher and the baker lived in the same town before they came here. Baker and the butcher are married men. The barber and Barber are related.

Now, what is each man's profession? Can you identify all three within two minutes?

HELP! HELP!

A READER, G.K.L., as if responding to our offer to endeavor to provide answers to puzzling queries that are bothersome, writes:

"A friend and I got into an argument. This is the question: If the temperature is zero at 6 a.m. today, what temperature would it be if it was twice as cold at 6 a.m. tomorrow?"

Assuming that "cold" begins at the freezing point, 32 deg. above zero, then "twice as cold" as zero would be 64 deg. below zero.

Anybody want to get into this argument?

Find the Path to Easter Eggs

EMMA C. McKEAN

HERE'S an Easter egg hunt that waits for him. If you run into a dead-end or get "lost" you must go back to the bottom and start over.

Start at the bottom of this maze, and find the path that Tommy must take in order to reach the basket of Easter eggs.

When you've found the track, color the picture appropriately with crayons or colored pencils.

LET'S HAVE A COLOR CHANGE

W	R	O	N	G
T	R	O	B
T	R	I	N	E
C	R	A	E
A	N	G	L

NOTE that through the arrangement at left of five common English words, the name "white" appears in the shaded diagonal squares. By simply rearranging the letters of each of the five words and writing the letters in the squares at right, you can make the name of another color appear in the corresponding diagonal squares. How quickly can you effect the change of color?

EASTER TIME is a time for joy. So let's turn a suggestion of sorrow into a sound of pleasure. Mount the figure at top, "CRY," above upon stiff paper. Cut the lettered segments apart carefully. Then study the other figure, "LAUGH," for a minute or two. Put it aside and see how quickly you can reproduce it, using the segments of "CRY." It's an interesting test of your memory; and some of your friends. As a party game, trace the outline of "LAUGH" upon several sheets of paper with carbons, omitting the dotted lines and letters. Provide puzzle with duplicate of the segments of "CRY." Give a prize to the person to turn a cry into a laugh by being first to place all the segments within the outline of "LAUGH."

Some Puzzling Magic of the Cross

You start with a square, add a square and make a perfect cross. Divide an unequal square into four parts to form a perfect cross.

IT is a fact of particular interest at Easter that there are 273 distinctive designs of crosses. The cross' religious significance antedates Christianity and it is possible, says the Encyclopedia of Puzzles and Pastimes, that some of the puzzles that are solved by transforming some other geometrical figure into a cross, go back to ancient Carthaginian, Persian or Phoenician times.

Two examples of cross puzzles are shown above. Two similar dissection problems originating centuries ago, are given below for you to solve. (Solutions are given elsewhere.)

Divide this square into four equal parts that will form a perfect cross. Divide this into four equal parts and form a cross.

What Easter Picture's Hidden Here?

EMMA C. McKEAN

TO make a hidden picture appear, start at dot one and draw a continuous line from dot to dot consecutively. Then you'll want to color the scene with crayons or colored pencils.

RIDDLE

Why is a person who never makes a wager as bad as a regular gambler?

SEE WORTHY

THIS is a Wits Guide in which some persons will see more than others. And it won't be because of eyesight, but because of knowledge. Let's see how good you are at "seeing" these things:

1. A State many travel fans be in is ————?
2. A good State to be in, because there are lovely sights like Doris Lee to see, is the State of which the capital is ————?
3. Of what other literary did Burns write: To see her is to love her, And love but to love her.
4. Where would you look for the advice, "Ask and it shall be given you; and ye shall find."
5. What do you see when you catch a crocodile?
6. An ancient sport you might have enjoyed is provided by the sea ————?
7. Correctly, an oft-misquoting adage is, "When in ————, do as you see." What is the missing word?
8. What did F. B. Kay see when he wrote, "Oh say, can you see?"
9. A thin fabric often seen in summer is, see ————?
10. What did the oar forward Caesar on the Ides of March?
11. In what game does it cost money to "see" after you're already in?
12. Where would you most likely see a seceder no baker had made?
13. And where would you learn the Paros?

Answers to these puzzles are given elsewhere in this issue.

Harris Testifies In Libel Action On Augustine's Age

JACKSONVILLE — (U) — John Carver Harris, whose father opened St. Augustine's "Oldest Wooden Schoolhouse" in 1930, Tuesday took the stand to testify in a libel suit about the building's authenticity.

Harris was the second witness to testify in the $20,000 suit against the Saturday Evening Post. Fraser now owns the schoolhouse, the Fountain of Youth and other tourist attractions in St. Augustine.

Harris, business manager of the St. Augustine Historical Society and Institute of Science, said the building was vacant when his father, W. J. Harris, acquired it and that he understood it had been used as a photographic studio.

He said he recalled a sign on it which read "oldest frame building" and also that in 1932 he put up a sign which called the building the "Oldest Wooden Schoolhouse" and that it was "recommended by the St. Augustine Historical Society and Institute of Science."

Harris said the sign was removed after publication of the 1949 Post article, which said St. Augustine's Historical Society "denies the authenticity" of the schoolhouse.

Another witness was State Sen. Verle A. Pope, St. Augustine, who testified he and Fraser were "po-WORKMEN HAVE A WEIGHTY PROBLEM—Unloading great sections of Florida Power & Light Company's newest generator (weighing 254,000 pounds, this was the largest single shipment ever handled by Florida East Coast Railway Co. Loaded on a specially designed flatcar with extra wheels and trucks, it had to follow a carefully charted route to avoid tunnels and sharp curves. As further precaution, the valuable shipment was moved only during daylight hours. Its installation at Florida Power & Light Company's Cutler plant is a major item in the company's 1952 construction and expansion program estimated to cost over $22,000,000 for the year's work.

Edmond O'Brien and Yvonne De Carlo are set to blaze away in this scene from "Silver City," a Paramount release. Technicolor, showing on the Ritz Theater screen Thursday and Friday.

Juliana Traveling With Many Dresses

WASHINGTON (U) — Juliana of the Netherlands is traveling with a wardrobe fit for a queen—about 10 dresses, seven evening gowns, three suits, two suit dresses and a dozen hats.

When she steps off the plane here about 4 p.m. EST today after flying the Atlantic, the advance word is that she will be wearing a raspberry-red silk dress with a bell-shaped skirt. Her hat of tulle and lace will be dressy; her gloves and shoes black.

On her silver fox cape will be a dark red corsage. Her jewels will be diamond and ruby pendant.

Politically unfriendly and that he told Post Writer Leigh White to seek information about Fraser elsewhere.

White wrote the Post story, which Fraser says libeled him, for $1,250.

White's article said there was no evidence the building had been used as a schoolhouse prior to the Civil War.

earrings and a diamond and ruby bow clip.

With the Queen will be her hand, Prince Bernhard; Foreign Affairs Minister D. J. Slikker; Baroness Van Boetzelaer van Costerhout; other court officials, a lady-in-waiting, secretaries and aides plus three detectives to keep an eye on the royal jewels.

The party stopped Tuesday night at Gander, Newfoundland.

The President and Mrs. Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, other members of the Cabinet and their wives will be at the National Airport to welcome the royal party. The Queen will be received with full military honors.

Then they will be driven through flag-lined streets to the District of Columbia building, where the Queen and prince will be presented with "keys to the city."

From there they go to the White House where the royal couple and four members of the party will be the first overnight guests since the executive mansion was redone. They will be in the White House three days and in the country three weeks after which they will go to Canada.

De Bary Doings

By KAY HENNINGER

At this season of the year many of the churches are having special musical services before Easter Day. One such service is the all-music service that will be given at the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford at 7:30 next Sunday evening. This is an annual event and the Rev. Mr. A. G. McInnis extends a cordial invitation to the DeBaryites, many of whom attended last year.

The entire service will be in music and in keeping with the Spring season, will develop the theme "The Glory of God in Nature." The Chancel Choir which gave the greatly commended program at Christmas, will sing nine anthems and the Minister of Music, Mrs. George Touhy, under whose direction the service is presented, will play five organ selections. We hope you will plan to attend and plan to get to the church early, for this service is given annually to capacity congregations. It lasts only one hour, but it is an hour filled with a glad Easter spirit of worship.

The DeBary Democratic Club is planning to meet every Thursday evening in order to accommodate the many candidates for the various offices which are to be filled at the next election. A sincere effort is being made to reach all candidates with an invitation to speak to the club to meet their friends. At last week's meeting, Mr. Burrow, Mr. Slaughter and Mr. Kinchen were the guest speakers. Mr. Fisher from Homer Smith's office spoke on Home-land Exemption. The meetings are being held at Christmerger Manor and everybody is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Harris of Detroit, Mich. were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. David MacFarlane in their home on Smyra Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Borrelli and their daughter Doris have returned from a trip to Lake Okechobee, the Everglades and the Indian Reservation.

The DeBary Civic Association, Inc. also toured Florida but in a different fashion. To Jules Voigt and his wife, who assisted him so ably, go our thanks for a most enjoyable evening. Mr. Voigt has worked out a game similar to Military Bridge which is one of the best "mixers" we know. The prizes were plants which made a hit with all of our new gardeners. Mrs. Dickerson, of Gray Shadow Nursery, donated three plants and we thank her for these and for her good wishes for the success of the party. We are also grateful to Mr. (Pop) Gibbons for that delicious "sake" and are glad that the new refreshment committee made such excellent coffee to accompany it.

Richard F. Malone, son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis J. Malone, has been named to the Fall Semester Dean's List of the College of Fine Arts of Syracuse University. A graduate of Grand George High School, Grand George, N. Y., 1950, he is now a sophomore at college preparing to major in Music Education. He is a member of the Glee Club and the Marching Band.

rural Common Sense

By SPUDS JOHNSON

Many people these days are discouraged because headlines scream with news of government scandals, and peace—international and domestic—seems far away, if not impossible. Why try, many say, to strive for better things and make plans for the future?

Let the farmers and others of this nation hit the snags of mental depression and hopelessness, they should at least have the courage to draw from it hope for the future.

How many farmers have said recently that the future is too bleak to be optimistic and plan for higher goals? Is the national and international situation hopeless?

Perhaps a look back through time will give hope since the future seems uncertain.

Consider the plight of Florida's citrus growers during the big freeze of '34 and '35, the Mediterranean fruit fly back in the days of 1929-30 and other days of frustration. Did those problems, that seemed unmountable at the time, end the citrus industry?

What if the cattlemen had given up and failed to plan ahead when said sickness, pests and diseases plagued their animals and threatened to end livestock production in the state? Look at Florida's livestock production record today!

And where America and the world, so dependent upon the United States, had farmers quit during the depression days of the '30s and the dust bowl days of the same era?

Would there even be a United States had the colonists thrown up their hands in despair when faced with Indian attacks, crop failures and famine?

Countless problems have faced farmers in days gone by and each seemed as baffling as those facing today's generations. Yet history shows that our people have emerged from all these well-nigh catastrophic events stronger, wiser and more conscious of the hidden abilities of free men.

So look up, America, there's a continuing fight ahead—a fight for freedom. Is it worth the price? Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "For what avail the plough or sail, or land, or life, if Freedom fail?"

New Regulation Under Rental Law

A new regulation which became effective yesterday, provides a more flexible system for establishing maximum legal rents in critical defense housing areas for dwelling units the rent of which are affected by seasonal conditions. W. R. Williams, area rent director for the Office of Rent Stabilization, announced today.

The new regulation, Mr. Williams said, applies to all housing in critical areas which is affected by seasonal conditions so that demand normally increases and materially higher rents are obtained during the local in-season, or, demand normally falls off during the off-season so that the unit is rented at a much lower rate or perhaps is vacant.

Under the new regulation all landlords renting seasonal housing in critical areas are required to register the property with the local Area Rent Office before May 10. A form is provided by ORS which allows the landlord to show just what his rents were for twelve months from May 1, 1950 through May 1, 1951.

FRENCH PACT
PARIS (U) — France gave its final "yes" today to the Schuman Plan for a 50-year pact pooling the coal and steel resources of six Western European nations.

Key nations in the plan are France and West Germany. The West German Parliament previously had ratified it.

The Netherlands and Italy have started ratification procedures. Belgium and Luxembourg are expected to do so soon.

PORTRAIT GALLERY

(From Poet Lore)
They enter smiling with that radiant air which the gods bestow,
Of darling and delight I knew so well
When they would come to visit; unaware
They steal upon me how, held in the spell
Of memory, those friends life made my kin;
All in familiar pose of easy grace
That needs no flame but only light within,
To shine as once it shone upon each face.
O death and distance, time bound more than we
Who live and love and to our dreams are bound
You fall to banish from my gallery
Those who appear there still in spite of you.
As though by the hand of fate will, not mine,
They they have come, and so would I have gathered and so loved!

Woodrow Wilson Sayre is running for Congress out of California. That's right, he is a grandson of the 28th President Woodrow Wilson.

Now that Attorney General McGrath has mentioned it, we think the Senate subcommittee ought to keep after his sources of income until it finds out what they are.

Premier Stalin and Secretary of the Navy Kimball see eye to eye on one thing, that they both agree that war is nearer today than it was two years ago. If they certainly would be nice if they know what they're talking about.

We hear a lot of talk these days about our 50 cent dollar and we all know that the same amount of money today will go only half as far as it would ten years ago. However, according to Roger Babson, the situation is really much worse than that. The 1951 dollar, he says, is worth only 38 cents in the 1913 dollar.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath says he doesn't like this idea of government officials having to reveal their sources of income and that as far as he is concerned he isn't going to answer Newbold Morris's questionnaire. Funny thing is, a fellow who knew something about Mr. McGrath's sources of income told us several weeks ago McGrath would never tell where his money came from.

Governor Talmadge says it was only the opposition of the Solid South which lined President Truman not to seek re-election.

We hope, however, that now that Truman is out of the way, the South is not going to be satisfied with some other fellow waiting for Truman to come back to beat the South and the nation. Sen. Well can be heard saying, "We do not support the Kefauver amendments to the political code of the North will see to it."

But if they come up with someone like Senator Humphrey, will only one Truman, we hope the South will have enough sense to walk out of the Congress as quickly and as solemnly as it would have if Truman had been nominated.

In a recent survey made by a committee of students at the University of Florida, the public reading habits of our people were investigated. It was found that the average American reads only 12 books a year.

Curious listeners tuned in the radio talkathon during which he would personally answer any and every question that might be fired at him.

Arrangements were made for the use of 11 Dade County radio stations. Starting at 8:00 p.m. with a battery of telephone girls taking questions as fast as they came in, he gave each a prompt answer. He didn't hunt or haw. He didn't duck or dodge. Although he didn't know what the next question would be, he always was ready with the answer.

Opponents tried to laugh off the talkathon as a cheap publicity stunt. Listeners assumed that it was just another one of those things "Local papers didn't give it much of a play."
Curious listeners tuned in the radio. They got a kick out of it. This guy Odham meant what he said. He really was answering questions and FAST. As the hours wore on and his talk continued, thousands called friends and urged them to listen. More and more questions came pouring in and better still a lot of them carried pledges of from $1 to $250 toward the Odham campaign. So successful was the broadcast, it was decided to repeat it in the Tampa-Clearwater-St. Petersburg area.

Here the program was expanded; the talkathon would begin in Tampa at 8:00 p.m., then move to St. Petersburg at 7:00 a.m. the next morning, and return to Tampa at 4:00 p.m. that afternoon to wind up at 8:00 p.m. Mobile units would be employed to keep it going as the candidate traveled between the two points.

Not since the Kefauver hearing in Tampa has public interest been as aroused as it was over the Odham talkathon. Crowds gathered to see its start and many remained through the night. Many who had tuned out the program earlier in the evening tuned in again and stayed with it until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

It developed all the earmarks of an old time revival service. As the amazing program progressed public interest increased. It was an audience participation show and folks liked it. Listeners followed the candidate as he kept the show going while traveling from Tampa to St. Petersburg. Telephone operators got writers' cramp writing down question and recording donations. The live audience increased as more and more people drove down to see

Many-Sided Fulton

The New York Public Library is elated at the receipt of some letters of Robert Fulton. They are the gift of Gilbert H. Montague, a New York lawyer who has for years been collecting material on Fulton.

Fulton's fame is curious. He is commonly known as the inventor of the steamboat, which he was not, and he is not famous for his achievements in art and invention, which show astonishing talent. He was a successful painter of portraits and landscapes, and he was also a successful designer and constructor of submarines and their torpedoes. The French government was mildly interested, but though Fulton submarine blew up a British vessel, Napoleon turned his attention to other things.

Steamboats had been worked on as far back as the 16th century. The 17th century British Marquis of Worcester achieved some success. In the United States John Fitch and James Rumsey had built steamboats, practical but needing improvement. Fulton's Clermont was the first to be commercially successful. Its initial voyage, New York to Albany and back, took place on Aug. 17, 1807.

Few Americans have been as versatile as Robert Fulton. All his accomplishments should be remembered.

Anti-Cold Measures

The Navy is constantly seeking foul weather clothing which will enable its personnel to withstand the elements and perform their jobs in relative comfort. Recently it tested a new kind of clothing designed to keep the wearer warm by keeping a dead air space between the wearer and the cold. At a temperature of 54 degrees below zero a man, previously soaked in a cold shower, was able to remain warm and comfortable. As a matter of fact he doffed the clothing after the experiment and complained that he was too warm.

For those who shudder when the thermometer hovers around 30 the thought of being too warm at a temperature of a minus 54 degrees is a pleasant one. It is easy to understand how equipment which protects the wearer from severe cold can be useful to the Navy in the performance of its functions.

It hardly seems likely that such clothing will be practical for civilians for some time, or that the dictates of fashion would allow it to be worn if it were. Cold civilians will just have to pull their scarves a little tighter and bear the chill. The Navy might well use its new clothing as an inducement to recruitment. Why not a slogan "Join the Navy and keep warm," on those posters?

Desert On The March

The desert is on the march in northwestern India, and the government is alarmed. In Rajasthan, creeping sands are swallowing 50 square miles of fertile land every year. Arid winds from Cutch near the Arabian Sea are partly responsible. Another cause is undoubtedly the practice of the miserably poor inhabitants of cutting down trees for fuel or to sell. The desert covers 130,000 square miles or 11 per cent of the total area of India. This is roughly equivalent to half the state of Texas.

Though Rajasthan lies between Pakistan and India, it is not on record that the Pakistan government is taking any remedial steps. India is concerned, and is working out a program of tree planting.

Something drastic must be done, or the world will have another Sahara.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

There is something new under the political sun—the talkathon.

Political campaigning has long needed a "shot in the arm." For as long as anyone can remember, aspiring candidates have followed the same old routine. Appeals for the most part have been colorful—long-winded speeches, promises, prepared talks, chest thumping, baby-kissing, handshaking. Radio talks followed the same full pattern.

Candidates for the most part feared public questioning. The smart campaigner rushed into town leading a motorcade, flags and banners waving, horns squaking, made his set speech and then ducked out as quickly as possible. It was generally understood that voters, like children, should be "seen but not heard."

Then along came Bralley Odham with the announcement that he proposed to conduct a 24-hour radio talkathon during which he would personally answer any and every question that might be fired at him.

Arrangements were made for the use of 11 Dade County radio stations. Starting at 8:00 p.m. with a battery of telephone girls taking questions as fast as they came in, he gave each a prompt answer. He didn't hunt or haw. He didn't duck or dodge. Although he didn't know what the next question would be, he always was ready with the answer.

JOHNNY ON THE SPOT!

Florida Political Phenomenon

Tampa Tribune

An unprecedented phenomenon in Florida politics is Candidate Bralley Odham's radio "talkathon," which, after a tryout in Miami, was put on in Tampa, with amazing success.

Odham was "on the air" for 23 1/2 hours seeking support for the governorship, shifting from station to station, and holding close interest throughout. Nothing like it has ever been done in a Florida political campaign.

The last of the "talkathon" the rush of campaign subscriptions, ranging from $1 to $2,500, was so strong that the candidate had little opportunity to answer questions and state his views on state issues. The prevailing comment of the young man, J. C. Sanford, was commendably for themselves if one man could stand up under such a physical strain. The shouting and holding close interest throughout. Nothing like it has ever been done in a Florida political campaign.

Political observers, who make a business of feeling the public pulse, estimate that Odham made 20,000 votes with his talkathon. How many he switched from other candidates is only a guess, but many who phoned in said they had been for someone else but liked the Odham courage and fighting spirit and were now in his corner. A listener sent in $24, one dollar for each hour of the talkathon and suggested that others do likewise as a result, over 50 such contributions came in during the last two hours of the program.

A school teacher who said she didn't have that kind of money said she would contribute $1 for each additional half hour Odham talked. She sent $3; others followed her lead. It was nothing short of an old time revival. Plans are being made to repeat the talkathon in Orlando and Jacksonville.

The "talkathon" idea is the application of both mass psychology and direct appeal in behalf of a candidate for public office. Its unquestioned success in Odham's candidacy, so far, opens a new chapter in Florida political history, which surely will cause other candidates, now and in future campaigns, to "sit up and take notice."

Morrison And Seabreeze Stop Seminoles Win Skein, 7-3

"Jock" Krider Fans 9 And Yields Only Four Earned Runs In His First Start

The Seminoles win a team's one-game winning streak was brought to an abrupt halt yesterday afternoon as hurler Bill Morrison handcuffed the Reds on four hits while Seabreeze lapped out a 7-3 triumph on the Municipal field.

"Jock" Krider went the route for the losing Reds yielding eight hits in seven innings, fanning nine and leaving three bases and only four earned runs.

The visitors outdid the locals 8 to 4 with each team committing three errors. Band Crab received Bob Loesch rapped out a double, single and two passes for three RBIs and a pair of runs scored.

Krider started strong, in the first inning he fanned the Reds on four early leads in the second by scoring another run on a single and a stolen base by Jimmy Smith. Krider then pitched to Frankie Stenstrom which scored Smith.

The Band Crabs bounced back to regain the lead with four runs in the top of the third on two errors, a two fly ball, single and a base on balls. Loesche drove home Lucey and Benner with a double and later scored on a single by Richard Lentholt, the star Seabreeze catcher, in the big inning.

The visitors picked up two more tallies in the top half of the fifth on another hit by Lentholt and a two bagger by Chet Chester.

The Seminoles countered with their third and last run in the bottom half of the fifth when Stenstrom walked, struck second and Hubbs Halse lined out a single to right fielder Stenstrom. The Chetery Feds will meet New Smyrna Friday afternoon in the coastal town. Coach Fleming stated he would go again with his star hurler Mel Fletcher in the Smyrna Hill.

Blues To Go To DeLand For Tilt This Afternoon

Aleno Leads Locals' Win Over DeLand Yesterday, 10-6

By KENT CHELTAIN
 After yesterday's batting practice 10-6 victory by the Seminoles over the DeLand Red Hats, the local club traveled to DeLand to engage the Red Hats again today.

Yesterday's game at the new Memorial Stadium proved to be a classic for Blues General Manager Jim Krider said it would be "a batting practice game."

Joe Parisi, Blues' first baseman, "very" acquired outfielder Chris Horneders, and Chuck Aleno highlighted the contest with some terrific hitting.

Aleno smashed a booming drive off of the top of the left field foul line telephone post some 400 feet away for a home run. This gave the 60-odd fans quite a thrill and an inkling of what is to come.

Aleno used Lloyd Swain, himself a local rookie, Murray Bynrd on the mound. Of the three Aleno had the most trouble leading a three-run home run drive to Red Hat first baseman Red Rolfsky.

Petrasino Dominik Petrasino last year's hard hitting St. Petersburg catcher is scheduled to arrive today to talk terms with the Blues. Petrasino hit .348 in the class B Piedmont League last year and .297 with the St. Pete Saints.

The Blues purchased him earlier this season but the deal was nullified when Petrasino stated because of family problems at home in Massachusetts he would not be able to play, thus negating the deal.

However, if Petrasino does agree to play the Blues will buy last year's St. Petersburg catcher in scheduled to arrive today to talk terms with the Blues.

The Blues will play Friday and Saturday afternoon against the Sanford Naval Air Station nine in the Memorial Stadium. No admission will be charged. Starting time will be 2:00 p.m.

Aleno will use two DeLand rookies pitching out-of-left, Bob Kayser and Bob Brown today.

The Blues will return to Sanford tomorrow for a short work out before Friday and Saturday's tilts.

Manager Chuck Aleno is planning on going to St. Petersburg and Tampa on Thursday to look at a few more players for the Blues.

Rotary's Pirates And Tigers Battle For First Place

Havana Doesn't Look So Good On Paper; Will Do Better On Field

By BEN J. MEYER
 Havana's team who was farmed out to Shorbrook in the Canadian Provincial League, will share catching duties with the manager Julio Becker, 20, a reserve first baseman last season with Maricao of the Cuban Winter League.

Joe, a cagey fellow in talking about his team, gets eloquent in discussing prospects for this year's Florida International League.

"This year's race in the FIL ought to be a humdinger, and a good race means good baseball and a good gate," says Joe. "Last year there were a couple of weak teams—one of them got 54 games behind—and the fans just wouldn't turn out, but this year things everywhere look better."

Here in Havana I'm expecting a good game because the Cubans know baseball, they love it, and they go out for good baseball, and I think the league has it this year." The Havana Cubans are the farm team of the Washington Senators. Joe hunts baseball ivory for the setup, bosses the Havana Cubans and does a big business shipping Cuban players to teams in Texas and elsewhere.

As for the team itself, Joe says: "We are going to have a tight, hard working team, with only 17 or 18 on the roster, but I'm trying for quality rather than quantity." Farmin (Mike) Guerra, who has had nine years in the major leagues, will be playing manager. "He's a fine huffer and I think he can get the team to hospital, and develop a fine pitching staff."

Youthful Golfer Is Seeded Edge In Jax Am Meet

Gardner Dickinson At 24 Has Won 36 Link Tournaments

By F. T. MACFEELEY
JACKSONVILLE—The golfer with the best combination of youth and experience is likely to come up with the 35th annual Florida State Amateur Golf Championship next Sunday and then, if plenty of indication it will be Gardner Dickinson, Panama City.

Only 21, Dickinson has won 36 tournaments. He played with Louisiana State University's national collegiate champions in 1948 and was medalist in the collegiate qualifying event the next year.

Now warning the construction business in Panama City, where he has lived since 1939, Dickinson stands his ground with a dozen birdies and an eagle in the first match-play round of the State Tournament today.

At that pace it took him only 12 holes in while Calvert Pepper, general manager of the Gainesville Sun, 7 and 5.

Before he can take the state title, however, Dickinson has to win five more matches, two college state and three of the other rounds. Today's best second round matches were between Bob Kayser and Bob Brown today, twice state intercollegiate golf champion from Florida State University, and Dan Sikes, University of Florida golf captain from Jacksonville.

Lane Fulenwider, Jacksonville, who pulled Tuesday's biggest upset by eliminating 18-year-old Don Bispinghoff, Orlando, will have his hands full today against Dickinson. He Charles Hillyer, Jacksonville osteopath who was medalist with a 5-under-par 67 over the 6,300 yard San Jose course Monday, breezed into the second round where he ran into Ed Stephens, Gainesville.

Defending Champion Frank Burkovich, Lakeland, met Ned Searcy, Jacksonville.

Jim Leo Jr., Tallahassee, state champion in 1940 and 1950, opposed 18-year-old Scotty Fraser, Panama City. Ward Rodgers, who won in 1948, met Ralph Sherman, Ponte Vedra Beach.

Carl Dann, Orlando, five times state champion and a perennial contestant since 1928, took on L. Hale Daugh, Tampa medal play champ.

Tommy Aycock, Jacksonville, who was state champion several years back, was matched with Bernie Powers, Orlando.

John Berry, Tallahassee teenager, scored an easy first-round win over C. G. Todey, Ft. Lauderdale, and today met Key Scales, Ocala.

Two players who have knocked on the door but never quite won the title, W. A. Pagan, West Palm Beach, and Jimmy Paul, Daytona Beach, landed in another of today's key matches.

Fort Lauderdale Braves Face Big Rebuilding Job For 1952 Season

By DICK MEYER
FORT LAUDERDALE—On a related rebuilding job but the Braves' 1952 season will be a rebuilding job for the Fort Lauderdale Braves. The Braves are at home for the first eight nights of the season, and a good break for the starting gate probably would inspire a lot of ticket and stock sales. Business Manager Al Fahey could use this money to acquire another starting pitcher or two, and another infielder. These seem to be the Braves' current needs.

Fort Lauderdale isn't demanding a first division team; they are, for the moment, too happy over success of a public subscription campaign which enabled the club to pay off the $1,000 mortgage on the stadium, which Major League Boss George Trautman had set a deadline, with loss of the franchise as a stipulated penalty.

Happy with the thought that Wally Park partisans aren't clamoring for a miracle, new Manager Barney Lutz is finding prospects not as bleak as he figured they might be.

Lutz's biggest prospect is a 19-year-old pitcher from the Philadelphia Phillies, counts on him from Bob Carpenter's organization.

Harvey may be his own best hitter. Now making his first pro start, Lutz is confident of the personable Edmira, N. Y. resident never dropped below .300 in minor league circles. If the inner defense proves inadequate, Lutz may end up at third base, instead of sticking to the outfield.

First-line pitchers are familiar faces. Portlander Leo Golocoechea, once a smokballer, didn't pick up a single victory while losing nine last year. He was troubled by a sore arm, but since did well enough in the Cuban Winter League.

Lutz also fell heir to Canadian Southerner, Bill Wingo, and Panama Residents Gar del Monis (4-12) and Angel Gonzales (2-8). Nick Pappas, out of the league last year, had a 2.99 earned run average with the Boston Red Sox. Solly Hemus Is Labeled "Most Improved" Card

Hustler Is Hitting Lusty .344 Clip In Spring Games

By RALPH RUDEN
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Solly Hemus, St. Louis Cardinal infielder, is probably the most improved player on Manager Eddie Stanky's squad.

The former Navy chief petty officer from San Diego, Calif., is banging Grapefruit League pitching in a .344 clip, a pace which of course will decline.

But Hemus' hitting is not just a flash in the pan. The 27-year-old improved vastly during the latter half of the 1951 season. He scored for the first time and shortstop, Daniel Dow, veteran minor league pitcher, is to be at second, and Silvio Garcia, 37, at third.

For the outfield, Cambria says he has: Just Vitler, 10, with Sherman Denison in Texas, and Marlanio here last season; Severino Mendez, member of last year's team and with Big Spring and Sherman Denison last season, and shortstop, Daniel Dow, veteran minor league pitcher, is to be at second, and Silvio Garcia, 37, at third.

Yanks And Giants Are Teams To Beat In Majors, Says AP Writer

By ED CORRIGAN
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 With the start of the major league season only two weeks away, this is shakedown time for the managers have quit experimenting with rookies and now are starting their juauna north and east with the hopes of getting the regulars in shape.

A quick look at each of the teams is in order, listed by the 1951 finish.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
 New York—Casey Stengel's optatives still are the ones to beat with the loss of Joe DiMaggio. The Yanks still have a top pitching staff, backed by plenty of power and some smooth new comers.

Cleveland—The Indians have the best "Big Four" pitching staff in baseball, and if any team is going to beat out the Yanks, it should be the Tribe. Bob Feller, Mike Garcia, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn can beat any team on any given day.

Boston—A puzzle. The Red Sox have been hitting, but haven't been getting much pitching, their trouble down through the years.

Chicago—Manager Paul Richards seems to be in the same boat as last year, when he outbounced one and all in the first half of the season, then watched his club run out of steam.

Detroit—No power, and Manager Red Rolfs knows it. Philadelphia—This is the team that was old last year and is older this time around. Some experts are consigning the A's to the cellar.

Washington—The Nats. say Manager Bucky Harris and his team have been better than last season.

St. Louis—The Browns have a new manager in Rogers Hornsby and a new shortstop in Marty Marion and a whole crowd of question mark pitchers like Tommy Byrne and Gene Bearden. No one will be surprised to see the Browns jump a couple of notches.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
 New York—Pitching won it for the Giants last year, and Manager Leo Durocher apparently is going to rely on his elbowmen again. He lost his top infielder, Eddie Stanky, and can only hope that Davey Williams fills the gap.

Brooklyn—Here's the club that was rated tops all through the season last year. Don Newcombe, who won 20, has been lost to the service. Otherwise the team is substantially the same.

St. Louis—The dark horse. The cards have the power, and the word is that all they need is some pitching.

Boston—Manager Tommy Holmes has not even decided on

Coleman Resigns Himself To New Job In Marines

JACKSONVILLE—Gerry Coleman, New York Yankee second baseman due to return to active Marine Corps service today, says "notes to leave baseball, but when they pull your name out of a hat there's not much you can do."

Coleman, 27, and Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, 33, were scheduled to take a pre-induction flight physical at the Naval Air Station here.

The Navy said it had no orders concerning Coleman and Williams until it received a report from Lounsbury, Calif., May 2 if he passed his physical today. From there he would go to El Toro, another "alifornia training base.

Both men are USMC captains. Williams, who arrived here Monday, could not be reached for comment.

The two will take a one or two-hour examination, which differs from the regular Navy physical only in certain eye tests for fliers, along with anyone else ordered in for physicals.

The Navy said Williams would be sent to a hospital for X-rays of his elbow, injured in 1950 when he ran into a fence.

Coleman said he has a slight cold but doesn't know of anything that would keep him from passing the physical. He added he would "like to keep my finger in baseball" but doesn't know if he will get the chance in service. He said he wasn't able to play much while in service in World War II.

The Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League never have finished the season on top of their division or won a playoff championship.

Fort Lauderdale Braves Face Big Rebuilding Job For 1952 Season

By DICK MEYER
FORT LAUDERDALE—On a related rebuilding job but the Braves' 1952 season will be a rebuilding job for the Fort Lauderdale Braves. The Braves are at home for the first eight nights of the season, and a good break for the starting gate probably would inspire a lot of ticket and stock sales. Business Manager Al Fahey could use this money to acquire another starting pitcher or two, and another infielder. These seem to be the Braves' current needs.

Fort Lauderdale isn't demanding a first division team; they are, for the moment, too happy over success of a public subscription campaign which enabled the club to pay off the $1,000 mortgage on the stadium, which Major League Boss George Trautman had set a deadline, with loss of the franchise as a stipulated penalty.

Happy with the thought that Wally Park partisans aren't clamoring for a miracle, new Manager Barney Lutz is finding prospects not as bleak as he figured they might be.

Lutz's biggest prospect is a 19-year-old pitcher from the Philadelphia Phillies, counts on him from Bob Carpenter's organization.

Harvey may be his own best hitter. Now making his first pro start, Lutz is confident of the personable Edmira, N. Y. resident never dropped below .300 in minor league circles. If the inner defense proves inadequate, Lutz may end up at third base, instead of sticking to the outfield.

SEIXAS VS. LARSEN
 PALM BEACH—Top-seeded Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, and second-seeded Art Larsen, San Leandro, Calif., swing into action today in the Everglades Club Invitational Tennis Tournament.

They drew byes Tuesday, and other men's singles matches went according to form in opening play. Sidney Schwartz, University of Miami, defeated Bob Brambill, Fort Smith, Ark. 6-2, 6-2; Billy Talbert, New York, won from Bob Green, Palm Beach, 6-4, 6-0; and Gardner Mulloy, Miami, defeated Frank Hart, Miami Beach, 6-3, 6-2. Mrs. Pat Canning Todd, LaJolla, Calif., defeated Lois Miller, Miami Beach, 6-3, 6-2, in women's singles.

UF NET WIN
 GAINESVILLE—The University of Florida defeated Concordia Institute, 7-6, in a tennis match here Tuesday. It was the Florida Gators' fourth victory against one team this season.

College basketball was introduced to Madison Square Garden when Notre Dame played NYU on Dec. 29, 1924. This was also the first game of the Violet-White series.

Tampa led all the way after the first inning, but had its heat set a slow pace through the remainder of the game. The Seminoles were 10-3 seconds.

Carter Retains His Lightweight Title

LOS ANGELES—Jimmy Carter retained his world's lightweight title today after boxing his way to a unanimous decision over Lauro Salas in a rousing 15-rounder.

Although piling up a good margin of victory with his sharp punching Tuesday night, the champion from New York never solved Lauro's flailing style.

"He never did hurt me, but I couldn't figure him out," the champion said after the fight.

In the final rounds, the challenger—California's featherweight champion—looked a play away from the victory, but had him down in the 15th.

The crowd of 7,079 paid $31,462.38 to see the battle at the Olympic Auditorium as Carter defended his 155-pound title for the second time since winning it from the Williams last year. The 28-year-old champion, at 154, held a 3-pound weight advantage over the 24-year-old Salas.

St. Peterburg—The St. Peterburg Yankees, veteran left-hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has declined the honor of pitching Brooklyn's opening day game this month.

Roe thinks the honor should go to Chris Van Cuyk, a towering left-hander.

"Chris has earned it," Roe said today. "I haven't been able to get them out for four innings, yet."

ST. PETERSBURG—Mickey Mantle has just about clinched the regular rightfield berth on the New York Yankees.

The youthful star is hitting, running and fielding in his style. He has banged out 18 hits in 48 trips to the plate for a .375 mark.

Stalin Statement Seen As Signal For All-Out Drive On German Unity

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
BELGRADE, Finland — Prime Minister Stalin's latest statement today signals an all-out drive by the Communists to picture the Soviet Union as the champion of a united Germany.

Stalin said he considers the present moment opportune for unification of Germany. He said it at a time the Western powers are preparing to sign a peace contract with West Germany, in belief that final decision is possible in making peace with Germany as a whole. The United States, Britain and France have been unable to find an approach toward such unification that is acceptable both to East and West. The Soviet Union, for one thing, has refused to do business with a United Nations commission designated to find out if all-German elections can be held fairly and honestly.

But the unity theme has a great appeal to Germans, including many in the areas occupied by the three Western powers. Thus the Stalin statement, coming on top of Soviet approval of the idea of rearing a unified Germany, may serve as the starting point for a concerted attack on the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A Germany unified on Moscow terms would create a vacuum in Central Europe despite Soviet claims to the contrary. The Soviet Union, of course, would like to neutralize Western Europe and bog down its building of defense works.

Stalin made his statement on Germany in response to questions sent by a group of U. S. newspaper and radio men on March 24. Four days later Adenauer announced that the U. S., British and French foreign ministers would meet with him in May to sign a peace contract—a way of life with Western Germany. The signing of such a peace contract would formalize the East-West split in Germany, and perhaps prove a permanent block to Soviet plans for Europe. Thus there is a feeling of urgency in Moscow about Germany, and that it probably is unwise to delay in answering the American newsmen's questions.

Stalin also said he considers a third World War no nearer than it was two or three years ago. That is a "welcome" mat for the International Economic Conference opening in Moscow Thursday. This conference is intended to build a firm under Western governments to turn them away from U. S. leadership and toward the East. The business is to give the bait of money to be made by turning to a vast market in the East. To increase this lure the U. S. S. R. would try to convince Western businessmen that war is inevitable and Communism can exist peacefully side by side.

In short, there is no reason to assume that Stalin's statement is a real move toward peace.

"LILLOM" DIES
NEW YORK — Author Ferenc Molnar, 74, whose "Lilom" became a theatrical classic, died Thursday after a long illness.

The Hungarian-born Molnar, who came to the U. S. in 1940 as a refugee, wrote his first play "The Devil," in 1907. "Lilom," his best-known work, was filmed by Hollywood and in 1940 was produced as his musical play under the title, "Carousel."

Southern Politics

once remarked that Sen. Kerr's record is very similar to that of Sen. Russell.

Tennessee also admires Stevenson as an administrator, but is a bit suspicious of his thinking on civil rights, states rights, and similar issues.

The Georgia governor has openly scoffed at Sen. Estes Kefauver (D., Tenn.) as a "Southern scalawag." Outside of Tennessee there has been little mention of Kefauver as a Southern candidate.

Kefauver also has the intense dislike of Florida's Gov. Fuller Warren as a result of the senator's Crime Committee hearings in that state.

Mississippi leaders don't have any idea to whom they might turn if Russell fails. But he would have to be a strong states rights supporter. Gov. Hugh White said his people are "tremendously interested in Russell, but are more interested in the party platform." Russell headquarters in Florida has given "no thought to any such eventuality" and expressed confidence in Russell's nomination.

Frank Upchurch, a member of the Florida Democratic State Committee, also has not considered the possibility of Russell's not winning. But if it should happen, he said "I suppose the Florida delegates would go along with Russell's recommendation."

South Carolina reaction was "Quote: Russell is the man unquote. We are not considering that anyone else can get the nomination in the face of cohesive Southern action."

Gov. Designate Robert Kennon of Louisiana said on a visit in Atlanta that "four-fifths of the people I have talked with in Louisiana are for Russell."

In Arkansas, where Gov. Sid McMath has been a consistent supporter of President Truman, Russell is expected to have some delegate support, together with Stevenson and Kerr.

POLITICAL CANDIDATES

TALLAHASSEE — Candidates for political party office are bound by the same qualifying deadline as candidates for public office, Attorney General Richard Ervin said today.

Ervin advised Secretary of State R. A. Gray that a person who submitted his oath and fees as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention after the noon, March 15, deadline was not properly qualified for ballot space.

ROTTEN PORCH

HCCRDY, Ark. — The rotted front porch of an old abandoned house near here was a death trap for a 86-year-old man.

John Russell mounted the porch Sunday to seek shelter from a shower. The flimsy flooring gave way and he fell through. The jagged boards held him fast. His body was found Tuesday. A physician said death was due to exhaustion or a heart attack.

HAMBURG, Germany — The German navy lost 2,400 ships during the last war, of which all but 200 were sunk by enemy action, the German Seamen's Almanac said today.

Fight Shapes Up Between U. Of F., Miami University

JACKSONVILLE — A fight between the University of Florida and the University of Miami over medical school facilities seemed shaping up today.

On Thursday, Miami announced it was accepting applications for enrollment in a school of medicine to start this fall. It has 20 students in the first time such an enrollment was possible in Florida.

The state has offered to pay Florida's 10 accredited medical school $3,000 for each student up to $225,000.

Tuesday night, Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the University of Florida, said "A thorough study should be made" of medical needs before establishment of a school; that one should not be established "at the expense of existing professional schools or colleges"; and that a grant of $20,500 had been made by the Commonwealth Fund, private New York foundation, for such a Florida study.

He emphasized in a speech before the Florida Medical Society that "the Florida Legislature has designated the University of Florida as the site for a medical school and appropriated $100,000 for preliminary studies of the physical plant in Gainesville."

He said the report would be ready for the 1953 Legislature and that any medical program in Florida "must be in close cooperation with the state public health and the state hospital programs."

He outlined nine points he said were essential before "a final decision on a medical school could be made."

Before the Jacksonville meeting, Dr. Miller accepted a $2,000 grant-in-aid for gastric cancer research at the university.

Dr. Charles C. Lund, Boston, president of the American Cancer Society, made the presentation at a luncheon meeting at Gainesville. The check brought to $33,023 grants-in-aid to the laboratory this year.

CITRUS GROWERS

ORLANDO — A committee of the Independent Citrus Growers Association wants a referendum on termination of the Federal Marketing Agreement in Florida.

A recommendation approved by the executive committee of the association's Board of Directors suggested petitions be prepared asking Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan to call an election on the agreement.

A Marketing Agreement recently was ended in California.

Citrus growers will have a chance to act on the recommendation at a meeting here, April 10 (1 p. m.), at the San Juan Hotel, Association President Betsey Cohen said.

DAR CONFERENCE

JACKSONVILLE — The Florida Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution ended its 24th annual conference Tuesday, after becoming the second 3-star state group in the U. S.

The Florida Society earned its third star at the meeting by contributing money equalling $2 a member to the National Society's National Building Fund at its Washington headquarters.

The Florida group counts 3,721 members. Attendance at the conference was 283.

New Mexico was the first state to gain the 3-star rating.

Tampa was selected for the conference next year. The DAR's Board of Management was invited to hold its spring meeting in Ft. Lauderdale.

Korean Armistice Talks Are Shifted To Higher Levels

MUNSAN, Korea — The Russian problem shifts to higher level in Korean truce talks Thursday but the Allies announced it won't make any difference.

In their final word on the subject Allied staff officers told the Communists today that U. N. negotiators at any level with not accept Soviet Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police an armistice.

A subcommittee of top ranking truce delegates will tackle the question Thursday at the Reds' request.

It will be the first time the sub-delegation on truce supervision has discussed Russia. The Communist first proposed Russia as a neutral supervising nation at a staff meeting Feb. 16. The subcommittee of delegates last met Jan. 27 when it reached an impasse on whether Reds would be permitted to rebuild airfields.

Staff officers spent an hour Wednesday repeating well worn arguments about Russia and the name to be used to designate Korea. Col. Don Darrow, senior U. N. staff officer, said the Allies would insist on designating Korea both as "Han Kuk" (the Han Nation) and "Chosen" (Morning Calm). Allied communiqué said he pointed out "it is absolutely essential that legal terms in this document be used for both sides."

The Reds replied that everyone would understand "Chosen" were used. Both are time-honored names for Korea. The U. N. Command objects to "Chosen" because the Japanese restored that as the official name of Korea during their 30-year occupation.

SEOUL, Korea — U. S. Sabre pilots today destroyed one MIG-15 and damaged two others of a Chinese Communist air force that showed little desire to fight after the rough handling it got Tuesday.

The Air Force raised Tuesday's MIG casualty total by two more damaged, confirmed after evaluation of gun camera films. These raised the day's toll to 10 MIGs shot down, three probably destroyed and 12 damaged. It was the second biggest daily bag of the war for the Sabre pilots.

Credit for the Wednesday kill went to Capt. Robert T. Lalshaw, Amarillo, Tex. He knocked the Red jet down in a 10-minute fight between 33 Sabres and about 30 MIGs over North Korea just before dusk.

Sabre pilots traded shots with MIGs at other times during the day but the MIGs dodged back into their Manchurian sanctuary rather than fight.

On the ground, a U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer reported only two Communist probes and scattered post skirmishes along the battle front Wednesday morning. Counter-attacking Allied troops Tuesday night and early Wednesday hauled back about 1,500 Chinese Reds who hit United Nations lines on the western front four miles from the Panmunjom truce lines.

He called his Wisconsin triumph "a very substantial victory" and said he won an "apparent victory" in Nebraska.

Stassen said Taft "received a setback because he failed to obtain more than one-half of the total popular vote" in Wisconsin.

Asked whether he thought Stassen ought to pull out of the race, Taft replied: "I have no advice to give him."

Taft called a news conference in Washington at 11 a. m. today. In Sacramento, Calif., Warren put out this statement:

"Without belittling the vote which Sen. Taft received, I am deeply grateful for the confidence the voters of Wisconsin have expressed in me, particularly in view of the fact that I had very little opportunity to become acquainted with them. We made a very modest campaign, both in time spent and money expended."

Stassen said in Chicago that "Sen. Taft received a setback because he failed to obtain more than one-half of the total popular vote" in Wisconsin.

"Combined Stassen - Warren votes," he said, "show that the voters want a liberal, dynamic foreign policy."

Eisenhower was informed of the results at his headquarters in Paris by news agency dispatches. He had no comment.

In the Democratic nomination contest, Stanley D. Long, Grand Island, Neb., was unopposed for the long-term post, William Ritchie, Omaha, appeared a certain winner in the contest for the 2-year nomination.

There were two hot races in Nebraska for the GOP nomination for senator. Sen. Hugh Butler, 74, who is regarded as a Taft man, defeated Gov. Val Peterson, considered an Eisenhower booster, in one contest. Butler is seeking his third term in the Senate.

In the other race, to fill out the last two years of the term of the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry, former Gov. Dwight Griswold, won

McCarty and Odham appeared on a television program and answered a number of questions in rapid fire order.

All said they would fire any sheriff who did not enforce the law.

Regarding race tracks, the candidates gave these replies:

Adams: "The tracks should operate in the public interest."

McCarty: "The tracks should be kept out of politics."

Odham: "I favor breaking racing's control of the state. I will support legislation to prohibit any legislative employee from working on a track payroll."

On increasing taxes, Adams said he was opposed to any increase; McCarty said the state has sufficient income to operate without any increase; and Odham said "We may need to increase taxes unless we get more economy in government."

Dale R. Spencer, another Democratic gubernatorial candidate, on his first tour told an inquest audience that if charges which his opponents make against each other are true, they deserve defeat for misleading the people.

National Primaries Western Union Strike Due To Start Tonight

WASHINGTON — The nation's telegraph and telephone systems braced today for a series of threatened strikes due to start at midnight.

Approximately 30,000 Western Union Employees were set to walk off the job across the country. A top official in their union, the AEL Commercial Telegraphers Union (CTU), said "These definitely will be a strike as matters now stand."

Adolph Brungs, head of the CTU's Western Union Division, told reporters the only chance of averting a walkout would be "a proposal by the company acceptable to the union."

The CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) has called a strike of more than 40,000 American Telephone and Telegraph workers in Ohio, Michigan and Northern California for Thursday morning. And 16,000 Western Electric Co. employees in 43 states have scheduled a strike for Monday.

Western Electric is a subsidiary of A. T. & T. and its employees are also represented by the CWA.

If the Western Union strike comes off as scheduled, it is expected to cripple telegraph facilities from coast to coast, with the exception of New York City. Employees there belong to another union. But even in New York the CTU is preparing to set up picket lines in an effort to make the shutdown airtight.

The union is demanding a 16-cent across-the-board wage boost. It also wants its work week reduced from 48 to 40 hours, with no reduction in pay. The two demands together are estimated to cost 50 cents an hour for each employee.

So far the company has made no offer. It contends it is not in a position to increase wages, now averaging about $1.63 an hour.

The CWA, headed by Joseph A. Bjerne, is demanding "substantial" wage boosts, but Beltrone has avoided pinpointing them. Average wage for telephone workers is around $1.53 an hour, the union says.

McCarty and Odham appeared on a television program and answered a number of questions in rapid fire order.

Humphrey Denies Urging Papers To Increase Rates

WASHINGTON — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today his Senate newspaper study subcommittee's recommendation that newspapers should raise their advertising rates was "a mistake by the staff" and will be eliminated.

Word that the language was proposed in the subcommittee's completed report winding up a long study of newspaper shortages, leaked out over the week end and drew some tart comment from Senate members.

Humphrey termed the leak "a very tragic thing," adding: "This was a confidential committee print of the proposed report, which had not been worked into final form. It should not have leaked."

Humphrey said he personally does not agree with the recommendation that rates should go up, to discourage "unnecessary" advertising and conserve newsprint.

"It would work a distinct hardship on the smaller users of advertising especially, and it would be a distinct hardship to the small publisher," he said. "We should never regulate the use of paper by rate fixing."

Humphrey said he was not aware that the language was in the report when it went to the printers, because "I had no business among the recommendations. It was not a recommendation of the subcommittee."

Asked how it happened to be included among the findings if members had not proposed it, Humphrey said "It was a mistake by the staff." The language, he said, was intended as a summation of comments by some of the newspaper publishers whom the group had polled as to possible effects of higher rates, but "never was intended as a recommendation."

SUBWAY FIRE
NEW YORK — Fire in a subway train on Manhattan Bridge today sent passengers into a panic, causing injury to at least seven, and prompting a man and woman to break windows and leap to the bridge.

Police said an eighth person was taken to a hospital with a severe case of hysteria.

A flash fire struck the train at 8:40 a. m. midway between the Brooklyn entrance and the center of the bridge, police reported. Smoke filled some of the cars of the R. 47 B. M. T. Sea Beach Express.

Passengers screamed. Clothing was torn as men and women struggled to get off the train. One passenger said: "Everybody was fighting. Everyone was scared."

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

We'll admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be. But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture. Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as being in "the low-price field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower. But that's just the beginning. What you're getting here is Buick quality — this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS. Its belt tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jabs and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger — which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflow Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Sure is true for $2

Ruling Given By High Court On Electors

To 2 Decision Indicates Loyalty To Party Can Be Required Of Electors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled that presidential elector candidates can be required to pledge loyalty to their national party.

The decision was given on an appeal by the State Democratic Committee of Alabama, demanding a national party "loyalty" from a ruling by the Alabama Supreme Court.

The Alabama court said a Democratic candidate for presidential elector could not be barred from the state's May 8 primary ballot because he refused to promise to cast his electoral vote for the presidential and vice presidential nominee of the Democratic National Convention.

The candidate, Edmund Blair, an Alabama weekly newspaper publisher, said he would not vote for President Truman "or for any candidate who advocates the Truman-Humphrey civil rights program."

Sen. Humphrey D. Min, has been a leading proponent of the Truman administration's program for anti-lynching and anti-poll tax laws and a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission.

The Alabama litigation developed weeks before President Truman's announcement last Saturday night that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Today's Supreme Court decision was announced in an unsigned order which said a full explanatory opinion would be handed down later.

Justice Douglas and Jackson dissented from the decision and Justice Black and Frankfurter dissented from the majority.

The court normally hands down its decisions only on Monday except when a matter of unusual importance is involved or the time is short for a full opinion.

Band Recommended For Orlando Showing

The Seminoles High School Band, directed by Ernest Cowley, returned from the annual Florida Bandmasters Association District IV Convention Saturday with superior ratings.

During three events of the contest receiving the following ratings: Drill—Superior, Conduct—Excellent, and Musical—Very Good.

A spectacular and colorful formation of the Confederate flag with the spirited rendition of "Dixie" brought the fans to their feet as the band reviewed their share of applause at the drill contest in the Municipal Stadium in Orlando.

Under new leadership and new organization the band has been praised for their showing in the contest. "This band is coming up in the state and I am sure all concerned are happy," said P. J. Quast, one of the seven judges.

Following a record by entering ten ensembles and six ensemble groups, the following individuals received ratings of Superior: Babe Babbitt, Saxophone; Dawn Bishop, Trombone; Louie Benton, Bell; Jimmy Jettie, Snare; Twirling; Phillip Tonye, French Horn; and Gene Wilkinson's brass ensemble.

Including Stewart Mathews, Philip Tonye, Louise Benton and Lee Babbitt.

A special commendation should be given to Babe Bishop, who relinquished her position at the head of the band in order to assist in the contest.

In a word of commendation on the band's performance, Mr. Quast said that the band only had to have played with an incontestable pride of the contest.

The band is a young band that has been in existence for only one year. It was organized by the late Mr. J. P. O'Connell, who was a member of the band for many years.

Mr. O'Connell's widow, Mrs. O'Connell, is the present manager of the band. She has done a wonderful job of keeping the band together and has made it one of the best in the state.

The band's success is a credit to the hard work and dedication of all the members. They have shown that they are capable of competing with the best in the state.

The band is now preparing for the state contest which will be held in Tallahassee next month. They are confident that they will do well.

The band is a source of pride for the Seminoles High School. They have shown that they are capable of competing with the best in the state.

Who Would Be Ike's Successor, Is Big Question

Gen. Alfred Gruenther Gen. Omar Bradley Gen. Lewton Collins Gen. Matthew Ridgway

SEN. SWIFT'S DEMONSTRATION of the U. S. political scene poses the big problem of who would succeed him as commander-in-chief, Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe. Most observers agree the man would have to be an American, since it is unlikely the Europeans would agree on a non-American. Eisenhower is known to favor his chief of staff, Gen. Gruenther, in spite of the fact that Gruenther, a staff officer, has never held a major command. Others who apparently would be in the running are General Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff; General Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff; General Ridgway, UN commander-in-chief in the Far East.

Three Candidates For Legislature Address Jaycees

Cleveland, Hamilton and Smith State Issues And Views

The three candidates for representative in Group 2 of Seminole County addressed the Junior Chamber of Commerce today at the Yacht Club.

Mrs. Ruth Hamilton of Casselberry lashed out against the State statute that permits tax-free towns to be established by the act of one person.

"It is a crime that the State permits a person to start a town under the guise of a tax-free community," she continued, "because he can turn into a dictator with threats of turning off your water. I know for I live in such a place."

She pointed to the fact that this is a town where the water is cut off for a week here in Seminole County, she said, some schools have primitive toilet facilities.

Mr. Cleveland, Jr. declared he was tired of a cost-of-living increase that is a constant threat for the farmer and most of all a bill which will mean every person, convicted on a narcotics charge, face a mandatory 10-year term.

"We should protect our investment in the future—our children, by providing means to suppress this vicious narcotic trade," he asserted.

Mr. Smith, a member of the Legislature for five years, also stated his qualifications. Mr. Cleveland read an excerpt from an address he made in 1948 when he represented the largest interest in Seminole County—the farmer. "I have served the people of this county in the legislature for the past 10 years in six sessions and I hope to continue to serve you as you desire."

During the question and answer period of the meeting both Mrs. Hamilton and Mr. Smith spoke in favor of doing everything possible to help the Seminole County Sportsman's Association in its efforts to abolish the new law which prohibits the taking of fish and game Commission which permits taking of scale fish in certain lakes.

Mrs. Hamilton pointed to the fact that women have 51 percent of the nation's voting power and 56 percent of the wealth. She said this "women energy" was greater than "atomic energy". She also stated that legislators must pay more attention to natural resources and wildlife.

Mr. Cleveland said if elected, he would not be influenced by any outside or special interest. And Mrs. Hamilton concluded he was not.

King And Queen Race Gains 2,771 Votes

The Kwanza Club's King and Queen contest reached the preliminary round Saturday morning with 115 more votes poured into the ballot boxes.

Yesterday American Legion queen candidate, Evelyn Jones, brought in 107 votes from 58 to 37. The total vote for the King was 2,771.

The contest will close on Saturday at 7:00 p. m. The contest began last Monday.

Juliana Warns Against Too Much Defense

Netherlands Queen Tells Congress U.S. Can Count On Support Of Her Nation

By RUTH COWAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Queen Juliana of the Netherlands today urged Congress not to initiate iron curtain countries which place a much heavier burden on the economic, social and cultural well-being of the world.

She also said in a speech prepared for delivery before a joint session of Congress less than 24 hours after her arrival Wednesday.

The United States can count upon Netherlands support in the present divided world.

Her country, with the help of America, is able to "stand once more on our own feet" economically. She expressed thanks for the aid given.

She said European unity is growing and that "political integration" may come "perhaps eventually."

Major emphasis of the Queen's address, which she delivered in English, was on technical assistance. She said her country is helping to the best of its ability by equipping and training to help less developed countries.

"It is my earnest hope that one memorable day the enormous increase of production now demanded by rearmament will be converted to meet the needs of these enormous development projects."

The circle of countries around the North Atlantic Ocean should avoid imitating the example set by the countries behind the Iron Curtain, which have focused their efforts on their own defense, that they forget to focus as much attention on their economic, social and cultural well-being.

She ended by saying: "Mankind in its distress has turned largely to its good judgment for aid and deliverance."

The speech was part of a fast paced program that includes shaking thousands of hands at three breakfasts and donning a diamond tiara tonight for a formal dinner party.

B-29 CRASHES

VERMILION, Kan. (AP)—Two Air Force bombers lost their lives in the crash of a B-29 early today, but 12 other members of the crew parachuted to safety.

The body of an Air Force colonel was found nearby. The wreckage of the B-29 was found in a field near the town. The plane was on a test flight.

Members of the Hobbins family said the plane roared low over their home about 12:30 a. m. seconds later the plane crashed in a pasture, killing six cattle.

The crash was reported by a neighbor. The plane was on a test flight. The pilot was killed.

The B-29 is a four-engine bomber. It is used for long-range missions. The crash was a major disaster.

Russell Proposes Winner Take All To Sen. Kefauver

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell of Georgia today made a winner-take-all proposal to Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee in their bid for Florida's May 6 presidential caucus.

The three leading candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination stepped up their campaign activities on Page 10.

Sen. Kefauver's proposal was a surprise. He said it would give the winner all the votes. He said it would be a fair and simple plan.

Sen. Russell said he had no objection to the proposal. He said it would be a fair and simple plan. He said it would be a fair and simple plan.

New York Times Proves Communist Charges of Germ Warfare Untrue

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times today published what it called conclusive evidence of the falsity of Communist charges that the United States is waging germ warfare in North Korea and China.

The evidence consisted of statements by American experts on pictures which the Chinese Reds originally printed in the Peiping People's Daily March 13 as proof of the charges against the U. S.

These American experts said the pictures, identified in the Chinese captions as photos of deadly bugs dropped by U. S. invaders, were actually photos of harmless insects incapable of carrying disease, the Times said.

The U. S. Army, furthermore, identified a bomb which the Chinese claimed was a germ carrier as an M102 used for spreading psychological warfare leaflets, the Times said.

The newspaper devoted a column on Page 10 to more details of the story, including reproduction of nine pictures from the Peiping paper.

The Times gave this account of its exposure of the Communist charges: "Even if they could be liquidated."

Morris Is Fired By McGrath As Prober

Candidates React To The News

SEEKING the nod as GOP Presidential nominee, Sen. Robert A. Taft is shown in Milwaukee, Wis., reading a newspaper headlining his prediction that the Democratic Party may have to "turn back" to Truman. At right, Democratic Presidential aspirant Sen. Richard B. Russell predicts he will be the man to lead party to victory.

McGrath personally handled copies of the letter to reporters at the Justice Department, but declined to answer any questions as to whether President Truman had formally approved the action.

The firing followed a series of McGrath Truman talks. Wednesday, following an apparently heated argument at National Airport here while the two were waiting to greet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.

There had been some speculation that McGrath himself might be let out in the row over a 10-point questionnaire McGrath posed for government officials.

McGrath himself on Feb. 1 appointed the 50-year-old Morris, former president of the New York City Council, to travel out on assignment in the government.

Last Monday, however, McGrath told a House investigating committee he did not know whether he would fill out his own questionnaire, and had not ordered any one else in his department to do so.

He also said that if he had the appointment to make again he would not pick Morris.

McGrath's office said he received the news from his secretary, who had turned it in from a news outlet. In practical consequence, McGrath said, it is considered the epitome of transparency to release such a letter before the address gets it.

Morris had no immediate comment but said he would see reporters and photographers shortly.

When McGrath called reporters to announce the dismissal, he was surrounded by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Assistant Attorney General James A. McInerney, and Joseph C. Duggan, McGrath's chief of staff. McGrath leads the department's Criminal Division.

McGrath's letter started off a state of confusion except the word "McGrath" name was at the top.

The text of the letter was not made public until after McGrath's appointment as a special assistant to the attorney general is hereby terminated and your services as an employee of the Department of Justice shall cease at the close of business today.

You are hereby requested to deliver all files, records and documents to the attention of:

Particulars Asked In Case Of State Vs. Lillian Clark

A motion asking the Circuit Court to require State Attorney Murray Overstreet to furnish to the defendant a bill of particulars in the case of the State of Florida versus Lillian Clark was filed yesterday in the Circuit Court by Ernest Housholder of Housholder Associates, attorneys for the defendant.

The motion will be presented to Circuit Judge M. H. Smith in chambers here tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Clark was charged by the State with the embezzlement of $10,471 while serving as chief deputy in the office of County Tax Collector John L. Galloway. The shortage was revealed by a state audit between Oct. 15, 1949 and May 16, 1951. Mrs. Clark, who had been employed in the tax office for 10 years, left it last May.

In stating the grounds for the motion, it was stated that the information filed in said cause is one charging the defendant with the crime of embezzlement, and the allegations thereof are general and conform to statutory definition of the crime, but fail to fully inform the defendant of the particulars of the offense charged therein sufficiently to enable said defendant to properly prepare her defense. With requests for definite information are listed in the motion.

Stalin Statement Seen As Signal For All-Out Drive On German Unity

AP Foreign News Analyst
BERLIN, Poland (AP) — Prime Minister Stalin's latest statement may signal an all-out drive by the Communists to picture the Soviet Union as the champion of a united Germany.

Stalin said he considers the present moment opportune for unification of Germany. He said it is a time when the Western powers are preparing to sign a peace contract with West Germany, in belief that the final decision is possible in making peace with Germany as a whole. The United States, Britain and France have been unable to find an approach toward such unification that is acceptable both to East and West. The Soviet Union, for one thing, has refused to do business with a United Nations commission designated to find out if all-German elections can be held fairly and honestly.

But the unity theme has a great appeal to Germans, including many in the areas occupied by the three Western powers. Thus the Stalin statement, coming on the heels of Soviet approval of the idea of rearming a unified Germany, may serve as the starting point for a concerted attack on the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A Germany united on Moscow terms would create a vacuum in Central Europe despite Soviet claims to the contrary. The Soviet Union, of course, would like to neutralize Western Europe and bog down its building of defense works. Stalin made his statement on Germany in response to questions sent by a group of U. S. newspaper and radio men on March 24. Four days later Adenauer announced that the U. S., British and French foreign ministers would meet with him in May to sign a peace contract—a way of life with Western Germany. The signing of such a peace contract would formalize the East-West split in Germany, and perhaps prove a permanent block to Soviet plans for Europe. Thus there is a feeling of urgency in Moscow about Germany, and that is probably one reason Stalin decided to answer the American newsmen's question.

Stalin also said he considers a third World War no nearer than it was two or three years ago. That is a "welcome" mat for the International Economic Conference opening in Moscow Thursday. This conference is intended to build a firm under Western governments to turn them away from U. S. leadership and toward the East. The business is to offer the bait of money to be made by turning to a vast market in the East. To increase this lure the U. S. S. R. would try to convince Western businessmen that war is inevitable and Communism can exist peacefully side by side.

In short, there is no reason to assume that Stalin's statement is a real move toward peace.

"LILLOM" DIES
NEW YORK (AP) — Author Ferenc Molnar, 74, whose "Lilom" became a theatrical classic, died Thursday after a long illness.

The Hungarian-born Molnar, who came to the U. S. in 1940 as a refugee, wrote his first play "The Devil," in 1907. "Lilom," his best-known work, was filmed by Hollywood and in 1940 was produced as his musical play under the title, "Carousel."

The Georgia governor has openly scoffed at Sen. Estes Kefauver (D., Tenn.) as a "Southern scalawag." Outside of Tennessee there has been little mention of Kefauver as a Southern candidate.

Mississippi leaders don't have any idea to whom they might turn if Russell fails. But he would have to be a strong states rights supporter. Gov. Hugh White said his people are "tremendously interested" in Russell, but are more interested in the party platform.

Fight Shapes Up Between U. Of F., Miami University

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — A fight between the University of Florida and the University of Miami over medical school facilities seemed shaping up today.

On Thursday, Miami announced it was accepting applications for enrollment in a school of medicine to start this fall. The school would be the first time such an enrollment was possible in Florida.

The state has offered to pay Florida's state accredited medical school $3,000 for each student up to $225,000.

Korean Armistice Talks Are Shifted To Higher Levels

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The Russian problem shifts to a higher level in Korean truce talks Thursday but the Allies announced it won't make any difference.

In their final word on the subject Allied staff officers told the Communist side today that U. N. negotiators at any level with not accept Soviet Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police an armistice.

The Reds replied that everyone would understand the "Chosen" were used. Both are time-honored names for Korea. The U. N. Command objects to "Chosen" because the Japanese restored that as the official name of Korea during their 30-year occupation.

Adams, McCarty Deny Gov. Warren Supporting Them

By the Associated Press
Alto Adams and Dan McCarty declared Tuesday night that the Warren administration is not supporting them, and Bailey Odham said that if he is elected governor "the gamblers of Florida are through."

All three leading Democratic candidates for governor appeared on a program at the Florida League of Women Voters' convention, along with two Republican gubernatorial candidates—Bert L. Acker and Harry S. Swan.

Adams, former State Supreme Court justice from Fort Pierce said he had been given a question to answer and wanted to do so.

McCarty, Fort Pierce citrus grower and former speaker of the House said "I don't even know anybody in the Ku Klux Klan. I stand opposed to everything the Klan stands for."

Humphrey Denies Urging Papers To Increase Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today his Senate newspaper study subcommittee's recommendation that newspapers should raise their advertising rates was "a mistake by the staff" and will be eliminated.

Humphrey termed the leak "a very tragic thing," adding: "This was a confidential committee print of the proposed report, which had not been worked into final form. It should not have leaked."

Humphrey said he personally does not agree with the recommendation that rates should go up, to discourage "unnecessary" advertising and conserve newsprint.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'll admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as being in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its frame tells you it has extra sturdiness in hems and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflex Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Sure is true for $2

Ruling Given By High Court On Electors

5 To 2 Decision Indicates Loyalty To Party Can Be Required Of Electors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled that presidential elector candidates are not required to pledge loyalty to their national party.

The vote was 5 to 2.

The decision was given on an appeal by the State Democratic Committee of Alabama, dominated by a national party "loyalist"—from a ruling by the Alabama Supreme Court.

The Alabama court said a Democratic candidate for presidential elector could not be barred from the state's May 8 primary ballot because he refused to promise to cast his electoral vote for President Truman "or for any national nominee of the Democratic National Convention."

The candidate, Edmund Blair, an Alabama weekly newspaper publisher, said he would not vote for President Truman "or for any national nominee of the Democratic National Convention."

Sen. Humphrey D. Min, has been a leading proponent of the Truman administration's program for anti-lynching and anti-poll tax laws and a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission.

The Alabama litigation developed weeks before President Truman's announcement last Saturday night that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Today's Supreme Court decision was announced in an unsigned order which said a full explanatory opinion would be handed down later.

Justice Douglas and Jackson dissented from the decision and Justice Black and Frankfurter dissented from the majority.

The court normally hands down its opinions only on Mondays except when a matter of unusual importance is involved or the time factor makes immediate action imperative.

Three Candidates For Legislature Address Jaycees

Cleveland, Hamilton and Smith State Issues And Views

The three candidates for representative in Group 2 of Seminole County addressed the Junior Chamber of Commerce today at the Yacht Club.

Mrs. Ruth Hamilton of Casselberry lashed out against the State statute that permits tax-free towns to be established by the act of one person.

"It is a crime that the State permits a person to start a town under the guise of a tax-free community," she continued, "because he can turn into a dictator with threats of turning off your water. I know for I live in such a place."

She pointed to the fact that this is the first time a woman has ever run for the legislature in Seminole County, she said, some schools have primitive school toilets.

Mr. Hamilton, Jr., declared his belief in a state of living in the future, for the state has improved farm and highway equipment, and most of all a bill which will make every person, convicted on a narcotic charge, face a minimum 10-year term in prison.

"We should protect our investment in the future—our children, by providing means to suppress this vicious narcotic trade," he asserted.

In stating his qualifications, Mr. Hamilton read an excerpt from an address he had given in the past year in which he said he represented the largest interest in Seminole County—the farmer. "I have served the people of this county in the legislature for the past 10 years in six sessions and I hope to continue to serve you as you desire."

During the question and answer period of the meeting, both Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Smith spoke in favor of doing everything possible to help the Seminole County Sportsman's Association in its efforts to abolish the new law which prohibits the sale of fish and game Commission which permits selling of scale fish in certain lakes.

Mrs. Hamilton pointed to the fact that women have 51 percent of the nation's voting power and 58 percent of the wealth. She said this "woman energy" was greater than "atomic energy." She also stated that legislators must pay more attention to natural resources and wildlife.

Mr. Hamilton said if elected, he would not be influenced by any special or special interest. And Mr. Smith concluded his remarks.

Juliana Warns Against Too Much Defense

Netherlands Queen Tells Congress U.S. Can Count On Support Of Her Nation

By RUTH COWAN
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Queen Juliana of the Netherlands today urged Congress not to initiate iron curtain countries which place a much greater burden on the economic, social and cultural well-being of the world.

She also said in a speech prepared for delivery before a joint session of Congress less than 24 hours after her arrival Wednesday:

1. The United States can count upon Netherlands support in the present divided world.

2. Her country, with the help of America, is able to "stand once more on our own feet" economically. She expressed thanks for the aid given.

3. She said European unity is growing and that "political integration" may come "perhaps eventually."

Major emphasis of the Queen's address, which she delivered in English, was on technical assistance. She said her country is helping to the best of its ability by exporting skills and expertise to less developed countries.

"It is my earnest hope that one memorable day the enormous increase of production now demanded by rearmament will be converted to meet the needs of these enormous development projects in the world."

She ended by saying: "Mankind in its distress has turned largely to us for aid and support. It is our duty to do our part. The speech was part of a fast paced program that includes speaking thousands of words at three hour intervals and donning a diamond tiara tonight for a formal dinner party."

Odham Launches 24 Hour Talk On Orlando Radio

Campaigns Stepped Up With New Charges, Accusations

Bradley (Odham) supporters will meet in front of the Odham headquarters tonight at 8:30 p.m. to form a motor caravan for his trip to Orlando and the scheduled 24 hour radio broadcast over Orange county stations. Volie Williams, Jr., Mr. Odham's campaign manager, stated that over 25 cars are now slated to lead the caravan.

Adams and Odham spoke at a Hillsborough County political rally in Tampa Wednesday night while McCarly made his first outdoor appearance in Orlando.

The three leading candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination stepped up their campaigns Wednesday.

Russell Proposes Winner Take All To Sen. Kefauver

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell of Georgia today made a winner-take-all proposal to Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee in their bid for Florida's May 6 presidential primary. Russell's delegates in the Democratic National Convention.

Russell and Kefauver, both avowed candidates for the presidential nomination, are fighting Florida's May 6 primary (popularity) primary. A second primary to elect delegates will be held May 17.

In a letter to Kefauver, Russell recalled that prior to last Tuesday's Nebraska primary Kefauver made a similar winner-take-all proposal to Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma. Kerr, later defeated by Kefauver, turned down his proposal.

"It was your position that this was a Democratic way and would prevent public manipulation in Korea between March 28 and June 30."

That's assuming the fighting continues at its current pace.

The department gave the House Appropriations Committee—studying the new budget—this breakthrough in the fight against Communism in Korea between March 28 and June 30.

New York Times Proves Communist Charges of Germ Warfare Untrue

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times today published what it called conclusive evidence of the falsity of Communist charges that the United States is waging germ warfare in North Korea and China.

The evidence consisted of statements by American experts on pictures which the Chinese Reds originally printed in the Peking People's Daily March 13 as proof of the charges against the U.S.

These American experts said the pictures, identified in the Chinese captions as those of deadly bugs dropped by U. S. invaders, were actually photos of harmless insects incapable of carrying disease, the Times said.

The U. S. Army, furthermore, identified a bomb which the Chinese claimed was a germ carrier as an M102 used for spreading psychological warfare leaflets, the Times said.

The newspaper devoted a column on "the picture" more to the story, including reproduction of nine pictures from the Peking paper.

The Times gave this account of its findings:

The experts consulted about the pictures were Dr. C. H. Curran, chief curator of insects and spiders at the American Museum of Natural History; Dr. Rene Dubois, bacteriologist of the Rockefeller Institute; and Army spokesmen.

Observers said the exposure of the Chinese Communist pictures might prove the strongest weapon in the U. S. has yet found for refuting the charges. These sources pointed out that instead of merely denying the charges, the U. S. could now point to the Reds' own pictures as proof of Communist lying.

The Chinese labelled one picture "poisonous insects which could fly, crawl and swim dropped on Chinese territory by U. S. invaders." Dr. Curran said the picture actually shows several stone flies in a jetté shell, a glass container used in laboratories.

"These perfectly harmless creatures are often found in large numbers within various distances from water, in which the larvae live. Their flight is slow and because they are poor fliers they would be especially poor at disseminating disease, even if they could be incouled."

Morris Is Fired By McGrath As Prober

Candidates React To The News

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath today fired Neeshol Morris as the administration's corruption sleuth. The attorney general made public a unit letter to the New York Republican notifying him of the immediate termination of his services.

McGrath personally handed copies of the letter to reporters at the Justice Department, but declined to answer any questions as to whether President Truman had formally approved the action.

The firing followed a series of McGrath Truman talks. Wednesday included an apparently heated argument at National Airport here while the two were waiting to greet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.

There had been some speculation that McGrath himself might be let out in the row over a Republican questionnaire Morris posed for government officials.

McGrath himself on Feb. 1 appointed the 50-year-old Morris, former president of the New York City Council, to ferret out corruption in the government.

Last Monday, however, McGrath told a House investigating committee he did not know whether he would fill out his own questionnaire, and had not ordered any one else in his department to do so.

He also said that if he had the appointment to make again he would not pick Morris.

McGrath's office said he received the news from his secretary, who had turned it in from a news ticker. In practical conspiracy theory, it is considered the epitome of transparency to release such a letter before the addressee gets it.

McGrath has no immediate competitor but an out word he would see reporters and photographers shortly.

When McGrath called reporters to announce the dismissal, he was surrounded by FBI Director J. Lee Hoover, Assistant Attorney General James A. McInerney, and Joseph C. Duggan, McGrath's chief of staff in the field of executive action. McInerney heads the department's Criminal Division.

McGrath's letter started off a news situation except the word "fire" was not in the word "McGrath" name was at the end.

The text of the letter was not made public. It was to be made public in the next few days.

McGrath was informed that your appointment as a special assistant to the attorney general is hereby terminated and your services as an employee of the Department of Justice shall cease at the close of business today.

You are hereby requested to deliver all files, records and documents in your possession.

Western Union Workers Go On National Strike

Embargo Is Placed On New Business In Large Cities

NEW YORK (AP)—Western Union Telegraph Co. operators walked off their jobs today and slowed the nation's telegraph business to a trickle.

The company placed an embargo on new business in most of the nation's large centers, except for messages to foreign countries. At a number of offices kept open by supervisory personnel, the company expected to restore limited service later in the day.

Federal mediators Monday arranged a delay until Monday of a scheduled strike of telephone workers in three states. Both disputes involved union demands for higher pay and new contracts, but there is no connection between them.

Workers were reported remaining on their jobs in only two of Western Union's large centers. The AP Commercial Telegraphers Union postponed its strike at San Antonio, Tex., for 24 hours. No reason was announced, but observers believe the delay was the large Army and Air Force installations there.

In the other center, New York, the operating force is represented by another union—the American Communication Association, an independent group of workers. The office in New York in the hope of discouraging employees from reporting to work.

Western Union accepted James H. Beahm's mediation. The strike will be in effect in all of Long Island, the five counties in New York City and some points in Northern New Jersey. Messages to foreign countries also were held up. The program announced in Alaska were accepted subject to delay.

Domestic messages destined to other than New York metropolitan area points were declined with the explanation that "because of a strike we are temporarily unable to accept your telegram; we expect to restore limited service shortly."

News service communication set ups were not affected by the strike.

 The political spotlight comes sharply today on Illinois, where on April 8 a primary will provide the next popularity sounding board for President Truman and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, whose victory in Nebraska primary last week brought a new surge of hope to his followers, appeared headed for a new triumph.

That opinion was expressed in an Associated Press survey of Illinois newspapers and correspondents.

They agreed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would stand a big chance to win the April 8 primary, but they also saw a big chance for Taft and for a third party candidate, Arthur L. Bunker Church, a Chicagoan, whose estimate was Taft 70-30 percent, Eisenhower 12-3 Stassen 9-6, Bomler 5, MacAthur (Continued on Page Six)

Candidates Speak At Chuluota Rally

Particulars Asked In Case Of State Vs. Lillian Clark

A motion asking the Circuit Court to require State Attorney Murray Overstreet to furnish to the defendant a bill of particulars in the case of the State of Florida versus Lillian Clark was filed yesterday in the Circuit Court by Ernest Housholder of Housholder Associates, attorneys for the defendant.

The motion will be presented to Circuit Judge M. H. Smith in chambers here tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Clark was charged by the State with the embezzlement of $19,671 while serving as chief deputy in the office of County Tax Collector John L. Galloway. The shortage was revealed by a state audit between Oct. 15, 1949 and May 16, 1951. Mrs. Clark, who had been employed in the tax office for 10 years, left it last May.

In stating the grounds for the motion, it was stated that the information filed in said cause is one charging the defendant with the crime of embezzlement, and the allegations thereof are general and conform to statutory definition of the crime, but fail to fully inform the defendant of the particulars of the offense charged therein sufficiently to enable said defendant in properly prepare her defense. With requests for definite information are listed in the motion.
