South African Police Get Sweeping Emergency Powers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Police killed three blacks and arrested 113 people as emergency measures to curb widespread protests against white rule took effect in large areas of South Africa.

Black leaders, including Nobel Peace Prize winner Bishop Desmond Tutu, Sunday denounced the state of emergency declared in 36 districts around Johannesburg and Port Elizabeth and a white opposition leader called for an emergency session of Parliament.

President Pieter Botha said the state of emergency — the first in 25 years — would remain in force as long as necessary to quell racial violence that has killed 480 people in the past 10 months.

The order, which went into effect at midnight Saturday, gave police sweeping new powers of arrest, search and seizure.

Police said 113 people were detained under special powers during the first 12 hours of emergency rule as officers and soldiers armed with semi-automatic rifles set up roadblocks and began random searches in some of the affected black townships.

South African Police Commissioner, Gen. Johan Coetzee, said Sunday news about police activities in the emergency zones would be properly controlled to ascertain the truth and factual correctness but that "law-abiding" citizens had nothing to fear.

He summoned senior editors and journalists to a meeting in Pretoria today.

In Pretoria, authorities said police fired pistols, shotguns and tear gas into a crowd of 400 rioters early Sunday in the black township of Tumahole, 60 miles south of Johannesburg. Three blacks were killed and five were wounded.

The shootings raised to 35 the death toll for the past 16 days of racial violence.

In Witbank, another area not under the emergency order, black leaders called a daylong strike today to protest the police shooting of a pregnant woman. The woman was shot and killed last week as she walked past a mob of rioters.

Police fired teargas to disperse thousands of mourners at her funeral Sunday. A Catholic priest said youths burned a truck after the service.

White opposition party leader Frederick Van Zyl Slabbert Sunday urged Botha to hold an emergency session of Parliament to show that "the limited form of representative government we now have is not completely inactive in the face of the state of emergency."

Drowning Probe Continues

Police today continued an investigation into the Friday night drowning death of a 6-year-old Altamonte Springs boy who was pulled from the bottom of the swimming pool at the condominium complex where his family lived.

Altamonte Springs Fire Department Capt. Gary Becker said that when fire department rescue workers arrived at Altamonte Heights Condos at about 8 p.m. a former fire department worker, Mike Bunn, was administering CPR to Marshall Thomas Kaperak of 725 N. Lake Blvd.

The boy, the son of Peter Kaperak of the same address, had apparently been pulled from the bottom of the pool by bystanders. The rescue effort continued until Kaperak arrived via rescue vehicle at Florida Hospital-Altamonte Springs where the boy was pronounced dead at 9:45 p.m.

Altamonte Springs police officer Charles Zorba today said the boy was an apparent drowning victim. Police do not, he said, have a complete report of the events surrounding the death and the investigation is continuing.

Cemetery Group Sues Colin Keogh

He Used Their Money, They Say

By Richard Truett

LAKE MARY — A Lake Mary City Commissioner has been accused in a civil suit of "converting for his own use" $21,340 belonging to a non-profit association he is chairman of and refusing to pay the organization back.

Colin Keogh, 29, of 115 W. Lake Mary Ave., was named in a civil suit filed Friday by the Lake Mary Cemetery Association of Lake Mary. Keogh said today he had not heard of the suit and denied taking any association funds for his own use.

According to the suit, Keogh took the association's money and "converted" it for his own use on April 23, and some cemetery association members said he used the money to pay a personal mortgage. Keogh denied that claim as well.

The association, which is suing to get the money back but did not ask for additional damages, said its members have asked Keogh repeatedly to return the money but he has "failed and refused" to do so.

Keogh said today he did not use the money for his own purposes, and that he has purchased certificates of deposits at various banks with the $21,340.

"I don't know what banks they're in," Keogh said. "I gave the receipts to Mrs. Evelyn Rice." Mrs. Rice is treasurer of the cemetery association, but could not be reached this morning to verify she has the CD receipts.

"About every six to eight months I swap banks in order to take advantage of interest rates," Keogh explained. "The certificates are in the name of the cemetery association, not mine, and the association gets the interest."

Keogh further explained that originally both his signature and

City Officials Bemoan Meetings That Drag On Into The Night

Long after most bureaucrats are in bed dreaming of ways to spend taxpayers dollars, shadowy figures in Lake Mary's city hall can be seen through the windows late at night gravitating toward the coffee pot.

The last city commission meeting did not adjourn until about 1:15 a.m. — long after city attorney Robert Petree grew tired of gnawing on his unlit cigar.

And Lake Mary's Mayor, Dick Fess, expresses disdain that residents who wished to speak to their elected officials had to stay up so late to do it.

"Good Lord folks, we're supposed to be decision makers," Fess said at the July 18 meeting. "We are supposed to make it easy for the citizens of Lake Mary to come in here and address the commission."

Fess was audibly and visibly perturbed because at 10:30 p.m., almost three hours into the meeting, citizens were finally allowed to approach the podium and comment, compliment or complain.

Only one person persevered long enough to speak his mind. Alan Wichman, of 277 Evansdale Road, told city commissioners that an increased number of people in the city were not maintaining their property. He said there are many "dead cars" in the yards of city residents. Wichman also alerted the commission to the fact that some houses had garbage on their porches and are "detracting from the beauty of the city."

After Wichman had his say, it was back to the business of running the city.

The men on the commission — Colin Keogh, Russ Megonegal, Harry Terry, Paul Tremel and Burt Perinchief — do not seem to mind exploring every request and proposed ordinance that comes before the commission in agonizing detail. Meeting after meeting the commissioners debate late into the night, long after most of the audience filters out the door.

"I have been here three days this week and picked up stuff everyday," Fess said in reference to the mountain of paperwork the city is receiving from developers and other business wanting a foothold in the city.

Construction Set To Begin On 500-Home Project

Construction on the $25.5 million Sanford Place, slated to include 500 modular homes, is scheduled to begin late next month on the 45-acre former Joe B. Baker farm off County Road 427 and Bedford Road.

Helen Stairs, marketing director for the developer, K & H Property Management, said the project will include a mixture of two- and three-bedroom modular homes built by U.S. Homes with beginning prices of $45,900.

She said 30-year mortgages will be available and those homes priced under $50,000 will require $1,600 down and monthly payments of as little as $260 per month.

The development is to have street lights, paved streets, sidewalks and a nature trail park.

She said the homes will include such modern conveniences as garbage disposals, dishwashers, refrigerator and stoves. The minimum living space, not counting the garage, will be 792 square feet and various other models will have up to 1,600 square feet, Mrs. Stairs said. The minimum lot size will be 7,000 square feet to give sufficient space for a pool if a buyer should want one.

The initial construction will be of six models, each named after steamboats that traveled between Sanford and Jacksonville during the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The streets will be named after local riverways, Mrs. Stairs said.

The project will be served by a sewer plant the developers are constructing and which will be turned over to the county for operation, she said. Water will be supplied by the county's utility system.

Bombs Explode In Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — A bomb wrecked the office of a U.S. airline and another exploded between a synagogue and a Jewish old people's home in central Copenhagen today, injuring more than a dozen people, police said. No deaths were reported.

One bomb was thrown through the window of the Northwest Orient Airlines office. Police said about 10 people in the office were injured and a bicyclist also was hurt.

The other bomb exploded between the Jewish synagogue and a Jewish old people's home, injuring three or four people, police said. Both buildings were evacuated.

Police said they had no idea who

Nixon Says He Considered Nuclear Weapons Use 4 Times

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Richard Nixon said he considered using nuclear weapons four times — during the Vietnam War, the 1973 Arab-Israeli war, the 1971 India-Pakistan war and during a Soviet-Chinese border dispute.

In a Time magazine interview on nuclear diplomacy, published Sunday to mark the 40th anniversary of the bombing of Hiroshima, Nixon said the world is safer than in 1945 and "the bomb made us a world power."

Nixon, president from 1969 to 1973 and vice president from 1953 to 1960, also called the late Soviet Chairman Nikita Khrushchev "the most brilliant world leader I have ever met. ... He scared the hell out of people."

Nixon said the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, when Khrushchev backed down in the face of a superior U.S. nuclear arsenal, marked a turning point in atomic diplomacy by prompting a Soviet buildup that gave Moscow nuclear parity.

One of his top priorities upon entering the White House in 1969, Nixon said, was bringing an end to the Vietnam War while seeking Improved relations with the Soviets.

"One of the options was the nuclear option. In other words, massive escalation: either bombing the dikes or the nuclear option," Nixon said, adding, however, "Nobody was exactly saying, 'Pave 'em over!'"

Nixon said he rejected both a nuclear attack and a bombing of the dikes in North Vietnam, where he estimated a million people would have drowned, "because the targets involved were not military targets."

He also said conventional weapons could have accomplished the same military objectives as nuclear arms, and that "massive escalation ...

Longwood Set To OK Higher Property Tax

The Longwood City Commission is scheduled to set its property tax rate at $2.90 per $1,000 assessed value when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today at city hall, 175 W. Warren Ave. The property tax rate this year is $2.52 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Longwood has a tentative budget of $3,650,288 for the 1985-86 fiscal year. Public hearings on the proposed budget are expected to be set for Sept. 9 and 23.

City Administrator Greg Manning will propose an ordinance raising the base rate on water to $5 for 3,000 gallons. The minimum charge is now $3.64 for 5,000 gallons water used. It will go from 75 cents to 80 cents on each thousand gallons up to 8,000 with a nickel charge for each additional thousand. The increase is being proposed to pay off the loan for the water plant expansion scheduled to be completed in September.

Also on the agenda will be a resolution raising the cost of cemetery lots in the Longwood Memorial Gardens from $200 to $350.

Preliminary plans will be reviewed for the Nelson Court Subdivision located south of Bistline Avenue and west of East Street, and Hidden Oak Estates south of Longwood Hills Road and east of West Lake. The developer for the former is Superior Construction and for the latter, Centex Homes of Florida.

A public hearing will be held on an ordinance extending the closing of Lamont Avenue and Shadow Trail in the Shadow Hill Subdivision until Dec. 30.

Bicycle Tops 150 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (UPI) — Former Olympic cyclist John Howard did some fast peddling to set a new speed record on a bicycle of 152.284 mph.

Howard, 37, of Encinitas, Calif., said he set the record Saturday at the Bonneville Salt Flats, home to many land-speed records of all types. His feat broke the record of 138 mph set in 1973 at the same place.

He called it an "incredible exhilaration," with "an element of terror."

A speed car modified with a large tail section pulled Howard up to 60 mph, at which point he was able to start pedaling his bike with the gear mechanism that allowed the high speeds.

"The car essentially bored a hole through the wind. It broke the turbulence," Howard said.

He said his bike used a "double reduction gear system. It's a very large, double chain ring system which allows it to obtain the higher speeds."

Howard said he hopes to have his record entered in the Guinness Book of Records. And added, "I feel like I could go another 10 to 15 mph."

Another Sailor Arrested In Spare Parts Theft Ring

SEATTLE (UPI) — The FBI seized a sixth suspect, another U.S. sailor, in an alleged smuggling ring that stole spare parts for Navy F-14 Tomcat jet fighters for illegal shipment to Iran.

Antonio Gaudula Rodriguez, 38, an aviation storekeeper assigned to the USS Belleau Wood, was arrested Sunday as he returned from an unauthorized absence from the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard at Bremerton, Wash., said Allen P. Whitaker, special agent in charge of the Seattle FBI bureau. Rodriguez and five others arrested last week are charged with conspiracy, theft, interstate shipment and exportation of war materials following an investigation by the FBI, the U.S. Customs Service and the Naval Investigative Service in the San Diego area.

Federal authorities said the ring was in business for money and may have stolen up to $5 million in parts and other equipment over the past several years. Government agents infiltrated the ring about a year ago, and reportedly managed to seize some of the parts before they reached Iran.

Alaska Gov. Faces Impeachment

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI) — A legislative committee dominated by Republicans will decide whether to move for impeachment of first-term Democratic Gov. Bill Sheffield, called unfit for office by a grand jury.

Impeachment hearings were to begin today before the Senate Rules Committee after the grand jury declined to bring criminal charges against Sheffield but recommended that lawmakers consider throwing him out of office.

At issue is the 57-year-old Sheffield's role in leasing a building for state use in Fairbanks.

The lease, since canceled, went to a campaign supporter of Sheffield's who also was part owner of the building. The lease was made following a meeting between the two men in October 1984, according to the grand jury.

Chairman Tim Kelly of the GOP-dominated Senate Rules Committee said the hearings also will investigate bidding on a proposed $91 million state office building in Anchorage, whose construction has been delayed while funds are raised.

A contract for the building had been awarded to Dick Fischer Development, owned by a longtime Sheffield associate, although the Fischer bid was $11 million higher than one bid and $26 million higher than another.

Reagan Back At Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, happy to be home after an eight-day hospital stay, scheduled meetings with his top advisers for today to ease back into a light work routine in a smooth convalescence from cancer surgery.

After a joyous welcome home Saturday from 2,000 people on the South Lawn of the White House, Reagan spent Sunday — his first full day away from Bethesda Naval Hospital — out of public sight, reading and tending to paperwork.

White House spokesman Peter Rousell said Reagan is "looking forward to resuming his schedule," which for now has been cleared to permit a gradual return to work that will depend in large part on the pace of his recovery.

WORLD IN BRIEF

3 Jewish Terrorists Get Life; 12 Others Get Light Sentences

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Three members of a Jewish terror underground were sentenced to life in prison today for murder, but 12 others received light terms — four months to seven years — for waging a deadly terror campaign against Arabs in Israeli occupied territories.

A three-judge panel had no leeway in pronouncing sentence on three members of the group convicted of murder for a 1983 attack on the Islamic College in Hebron, where three Arab students were killed. Israeli law mandates life in prison for anyone convicted of murder.

The other dozen defendants — found guilty on charges ranging from causing grievous bodily harm to conspiracy — each could have been sentenced to 20 years in prison. But the court, which spent 11 days considering its sentences, proved lenient.

The defendants contended they organized the underground — the largest anti-Arab terror ring in Israel's history — because the army was not protecting them in the West Bank, where Jews began settling after Israel won the area from Jordan in the 1967 war.

Specific charges — in addition to the attack on the Islamic University — included a 1980 attempt to assassinate three Arab West Bank mayors, a 1980 attempt to bomb five Arab buses in East Jerusalem and an unsuccessful 1984 plot to blow up the Dome of the Rock mosque on Temple Mount — a Jerusalem landmark sacred to both Jews and Moslems.

Bomb In Church Kills Worshiper

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — A bomb planted beneath the pulpit of a Jehovah's Witness church near Sydney killed one worshiper and injured at least 70 in an attack described by police as "the work of a lunatic."

The blast Sunday hurled a visiting church elder through the aluminum roof of the Kingdom Hall church and blew out the back of the timber-and-brick building in Casula, 17 miles west of Sydney, a police spokesman said.

There were no immediate claims of responsibility in the incident.

Police said at least 70 people were injured in the blast and 29 were admitted to three hospitals in the area. Six underwent immediate surgery, police said, but gave no further details on their conditions.

There were about 110 worshippers in the building at the time of the blast.

MOVE Deaths Ruled 'Accidental'

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — City forensic experts have decided all 11 deaths in a house occupied by the radical group MOVE during a police bombing May 13 were "accidental."

"The deaths were accidental, as far as we can determine," Assistant Philadelphia Medical Examiner Dr. Halbert Fillinger said Sunday. Fillinger personally examined three of the bodies.

The 11 victims were killed in a massive fire that broke out shortly after police dropped a bomb on the radical group's headquarters in West Philadelphia following a daylong gun battle.

The blaze also damaged or destroyed 61 houses in the working-class neighborhood, leaving about 250 people homeless.

The conclusion was made after authorities wrapped up a two-month investigation of the charred remains of the MOVE victims — all of whom appear to have died of fire-related injuries.

The coroner's determination that the deaths were accidental is significant because it puts to rest speculation that the victims committed suicide or died of police gunshot wounds, authorities said.

Still facing investigators is the task of identifying five of the victims, three of whom were children.

"We'd like to hope we're going to be able to identify them, but the evidence we have to go on is pretty thin," said Fillinger, "Right now we're stumbling in the dark."

The identification process is difficult because the bodies were so badly burned, and also because authorities have been unable to locate medical or dental records for the victims.

"Some of the children were probably born at home ... and may have never visited a dentist's office," Fillinger said.

Identified so far were: Conrad Hampton Africa, 36; Frank James Africa, 26; Raymond Foster Africa, 49; Rhonda Harris

Ward Africa, 30; Theresa Brooks Africa, 26; and Tomasa Boo Africa, about 9.

The only known survivors of the fire are Ramona Johnson Africa, 30, and Birdie Africa, 13. Both fled the burning building and were apprehended by police. Members of the back-to-nature cult all used the same last name.

The Philadelphia Inquirer reported in its Sunday editions that a branch of MOVE was given tax-exempt status by the United Way earlier this year.

Community Action Movement, a self-described education and training program that was started by MOVE founder John Africa, won acceptance into United Way's donor-option program and may have received charitable contributions, the newspaper reported.

The Inquirer quoted United Way officials as saying they had not been aware that Community Action Movement was connected to the radical cult.

NOW Chief Vows New Activism In Protection Of Feminist Gains

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Declaring the time is ripe for activism, newly elected National Organization for Women President Eleanor Smeal says she will lead the women's movement in the streets and in Congress to fight the New Right's attack on its gains.

In a dramatic comeback, Smeal was elected president of the NOW Sunday, unseating former ally Judy Goldsmith in a race that signals a new direction for the women's movement in the United States.

"The need for our movement is greater because the threat is greater," said Smeal, 45, who charged in her platform that the nation's largest women's organization had become too complacent, too low-key and too establishment.

Goldsmith, who succeeded Smeal 2 1/2 years ago after her five-year tenure as NOW president, attacked her challenger in the campaign during NOW's 19th annual convention as a one-issue candidate unable to build coalitions with other movements.

But in her concession speech Sunday, Goldsmith, 46, said her work was not overturned by the election.

"What I stood for and what I fought for during my 12 years as a member of NOW was not defeated this weekend," she said.

The election was widely viewed as determining the direction of NOW, which has lost members and support since the Equal Rights Amendment was defeated three years ago.

The Rev. Jerry Falwell, founder of the Moral Majority, said Sunday night he was "delighted" with the NOW election and derided Smeal's promise to counter the New Right's efforts to erode progress in women's rights.

"Judy Goldsmith was far more effective and was of great concern to us on the right," Falwell said from his Lynchburg, Va., home. "Eleanor Smeal is a shrill, screaming, confrontational person who makes a lot of noise but gets very little done."

But Smeal said President Reagan's re-election was one reason for her victory because NOW convention delegates heeded her call for a more aggressive organization.

"It's time to go back to the streets," said Smeal, a reference to the days when the women's and civil rights movements staged huge rallies in Washington and elsewhere to dramatize their issues.

"The opposition is known and it is a clear and present danger," she told reporters at a post-election news conference. "I think it's time to put a lot more heat on the right wing."

Smeal, a mother of two, said one of her first orders of business when she takes office Sept. 1 will be to develop a strategy to fight the anti-abortion movement, galvanized last week when the administration asked the Supreme Court to overturn its landmark 1973 ruling legalizing abortion.

Israeli Troops Hunt Guerrillas In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Israeli paratroopers moved into south Lebanon to hunt for anti-Israeli guerrillas and Christian and Moslem militiamen fought pitched battles along the Green Line dividing Beirut.

A coordinating committee implementing a Syrian-backed security plan for west Beirut called a meeting today to consider narrowing the Green Line — the no-man's land of bomb-gutted buildings where Christian and Moslem militias confront each other — official Beirut Radio reported.

The panel — consisting of representatives of Moslem militias and the Lebanese army — will also seek to reopen some of the six crossing points between Christian east Beirut and Moslem west Beirut so Parliament can meet and pass the government's annual budget, the radio report said. The Parliament building is near the Green Line.

The committee meeting comes one day after Israeli paratroopers carried out "search and destroy" missions in south Lebanon. Security sources and media reports said the Israeli troops stormed two villages, killing three suspected guerrillas, arresting several people and setting fire to a mosque.

Israeli military sources in Tel Aviv confirmed that paratroopers conducted a raid on the village of Kabrikha, 6 miles west of the Israeli border, and said one person was killed. The Israeli sources said the raid was launched after men with rocket-launchers were seen in the area.

The Israelis had no comment on a Lebanese television report that said Israeli paratroopers also conducted a sweep in the village of Sejoud, 11 miles north of Kabrikha.

A-Bomb Attacks Planned Against Germany, Japan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. war planners during World War II initially directed that atomic bombs be dropped simultaneously on Nazi Germany and Japan in a "split operation" to end the conflict, a CBS News documentary says.

The documentary also says that during the Korean War, President Dwight Eisenhower considered the possibility of using nuclear weapons to blast Chinese troops out of the Korean caves, the documentary said.

During the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, the Kennedy administration believed that although the Soviet Union would not authorize a nuclear strike against the United States, it was thought "entirely possible, even probable" that a Soviet commander in Cuba would launch a missile at Miami, New York or Washington, the program says.

The documentary, "Hiroshima Plus 40 Years ... and Still Counting," is scheduled to be aired by CBS-TV July 31 and is television's latest look at the possibility of nuclear Armageddon.

Harold Agnew, a nuclear physicist who helped develop the atom bomb, says on the program: "Perhaps, we ought to have a requirement, suggestion that leaders of nuclear power states, every five years or so, witness — I've said in their underwear — a nuclear detonation, multi-megaton."

It becomes clear in the documentary that the United States no longer can use the threat of nuclear force as a diplomatic weapon against the Soviet Union, as it did during the Cuban missile crisis and the 1973 October war, when U.S. nuclear forces went on alert.

The reason: The Soviets have become too powerful.

Walter Pincus, a nuclear weapons expert and a defense reporter for The Washington Post, did much of the research, writing and interviewing for the show.

The documentary is laced with information that either is newly disclosed or little known outside the community of nuclear weapons experts and researchers.

One revelation is that in 1944, the United States considered dropping the atomic bomb on both Japan and Germany, with the strike against German soil to come from an airbase in the Adriatic Sea. No mention is made of what the radioactive fallout might have done to other European countries.

"My directive at the time that I put this outfit together was, 'You will organize and train this outfit and be prepared for a split operation,'" said Col. Paul Tibbets, the pilot of the B-29 Enola Gay that dropped the "Little Boy" bomb on Hiroshima.

"Split operation — simultaneous drops in Europe and Japan," he said.

But by May 1945, a defeated Germany was out of the war and the focus shifted to where in Japan the United States should drop the first nuclear weapon.

The "Fat Man" atomic bomb was dropped on Nagasaki three days after the destruction of Hiroshima and the combined result of both bombs was 125,000 killed and 150,000 wounded.

Burglars Stage Early-Morning Raids In Fern Park

Burglars were busy in Fern Park this morning. A Cumberland Farms convenience store had its drop safe dug out of the floor and an undisclosed amount of cash stolen, while a television shop was hit by thieves who took two cameras and two tripods with a total value of about $3,400.

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy on patrol about 4:30 a.m. noticed ceiling tiles at the Cumberland Farms, 604 U.S. Highway 17-92, were dropped and disordered. She investigated and found that the rooftop air conditioner had been pried off to gain entry to the building.

The deputy found no suspects inside the store, but noted the drop safe in the floor had been pried from its casing, opened and its contents stolen. An undisclosed amount of cash is missing, a sheriff's report said.

The burglary occurred between 3:10 and 4:30 a.m., the report said, and the thief left behind a hammer, but took other tools used in the theft with him when he fled.

In the other case, Bellows T.V., 199 State Road 436, was burglarized at about 3:45 a.m. The thief used a tire iron to break the glass front door, a sheriff's report said.

BALADS STOLEN

Two brothers have been charged with defrauding an innkeeper in connection with the theft of two bowls of salad.

According to a Sanford police report, the two entered the Pizza Hut, 2002 S. French Ave., at 11:50 p.m. Friday, helped themselves to the salad bar, and then left the restaurant without paying for the food.

The manager called police who spotted the suspects, one on 13th Street, the other on 20th Street, and picked them up. The report said police took them to the restaurant where they were identified.

Charged were Jeffery Ray Cook, 25, and Michael James Cook, 22, both of 311 W. 10th St., Sanford.

They were jailed in lieu of $500 bond each.

COKE DEALER NABBED

Undercover agents from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department set up a drug deal, then arrested a man after he tried to sell a deputy an ounce of cocaine for $1,800.

A sheriff's report said a deputy met with the man at a fast food restaurant on State Road 434, Longwood, on July 2. The report said the man entered the deputy's vehicle and while driving, showed the deputy an ounce of cocaine. The report said the man offered to sell the illegal drug for $1,800.

The man, who was out of jail on a work release program, was then arrested.

Being held without bond in Seminole County jail on a charge of trafficking cocaine was Carl Ladon Dubose, 25, of 1755 Magnolia Ave., Winter Park. Dubose was sentenced to a year in jail in February for resisting arrest with violence after punching an officer in the throat.

STOLEN DETECTOR

A thief may have used a coat hanger in the theft of a radar detector from the car of William Lockeby, 2431 Grand Teton Circle, Winter Park, early Friday.

Lockeby told police the detector was in his brown Pontiac Thursday night and not in it Friday morning.

VENDING MACHINES ROBBED

A burglar entered through the back door of Mr. Gee's Bar, 1704 W. State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, early Friday and stole $65 out of several vending machines.

A police report said two pay pool tables, a video dart game machine and a juke box had the coin boxes pried open and money stolen from them. No estimate was given of the damage to the machines.

YMCA VANDALIZED

Vandals have hit the YMCA branch on Palm Springs Drive for the third time in a week, according to a Seminole County sheriff's report.

In the latest incident, vandals used a baseball bat and smashed the windows out of a bus. A fire extinguisher also was discharged inside the office and several desks rifled.

The police report said the vandals gained entry to the office by pulling a piece of plywood from a utility room door.

LAWN MOWER LIFTED

A thief stole a lawn mower from the porch of Alvin D. Campbell, 28, of 1501 Mellonville Ave., Sanford. The red lawn mower, valued at $100, was discovered missing Wednesday.

CAR CLUBBER

A Casselberry man was jailed after he was seen standing in the grassy median of a highway swinging a club at passing vehicles.

According to a Casselberry police report, an officer spotted a man on State Road 436 swinging and yelling obscenities as vehicles passed. About 45 minutes earlier at 1 a.m. the same man reportedly tried to pick a fight with three men in a red pickup truck at the ABC Lounge in Casselberry, a police report said. When the officer told the club welder to lay down his weapon, the man ran but was caught.

Charged with disorderly intoxication and resisting arrest without violence was Raymond Howard Barrett, 602 Brittany Court, Casselberry. He was later released on $500 bond.

DISORDERLY INTOXICATION

The following persons have been arrested on a charge of disorderly intoxication:

—Isayvette Falcon, 22, of 172 Crystal Ave., Lake Mary, after the manager of ABC Lounge on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford called police at 1:14 a.m. Saturday in reference to a fight at the bar. A police report said a woman was sitting in a vehicle crying and yelling obscenities.

—Bruce Theodore Simpson, 33, of 813 Magnolia Ave., Sanford. Police were called to the scene of an argument at 1115 Palmetto Ave. about 1 a.m. Saturday. The report said when an officer arrive a man opened the front door of the house, walked out and challenged the officer to a fight.

"Take off your gun and fight without being a policeman," the man said, according to the report.

Simpson was freed on $100 bond.

A weed eater worth $400 was stolen Wednesday from the back of a station wagon parked at the Pine Ridge Club, 2601 W. Airport Blvd., Sanford, police reported. The car and weed eater belong to Thomas Taylor, 29, of Orlando.

BURGLAR RETURN

A 68-year-old Eatonville man, who returned to an Altamonte Springs home he had allegedly burglarized, was arrested by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy who was at the scene questioning witnesses who reportedly identified the suspect.

Sheriff's deputy G.H. Nagata reported responding to a burglary call at 88 Campello St. at about 9:30 p.m. Saturday. Home owner Paulene East met with Nagata and told him the burglar might still be inside her home. A search turned up no one, a sheriff's report said.

But as Nagata was questioning Ms. East and witness Carolyn Wells who had been called to the scene because she reportedly could identify the suspect, the suspect returned to the scene.

Ms. Wells reportedly identified him as the man she had talked with outside Ms. East's home just before the burglar entered the home through a utility room window, a sheriff's report said.

Ms. East wanted to press charges, the report said, and Henry Lee Christopher has been charged with burglary and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Cataract Surgery Scandal: Government Loses Billions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Kickbacks to eye doctors, unnecessary operations and overcharges will cause the federal government to waste $2 billion on cataract surgery this year, a House subcommittee says.

The report revealed numerous instances in which doctors overcharged the government's Medicare program for the lenses they implanted and, in addition, received kickbacks from lens salesmen for placing their orders with particular companies.

The report is the result of a two-year investigation by the health and long-term care subcommittee of the House Select Committee on Aging. The inspector general's office of the Health and Human Services Department assisted the panel.

The investigation found that some eye doctors were offered free trips to Europe, cash deposits in Caribbean banks for each lens purchased and free stock in lens companies. Others were offered surgical equipment, and the use of boats, cars and resort homes, the report said.

The report said about 1.2 million Americans will undergo the 20-minute cataract surgery this year. The operation is the most common procedure paid by Medicare, a federal health care program for disabled and elderly persons.

During the surgery, a needle is inserted in the eye to remove cloudy cataracts and a plastic lens is implanted. The procedure is considered one of the most successful recent advances in medicine and vision usually is improved.

But the subcommittee said its investigation found the surgery was performed on elderly patients who already had "perfect" 20-20 vision.

Nationwide, $525 million worth of unnecessary surgery was performed on Medicare patients this year, the report said.

According to the report, many doctors who perform the procedure outside of hospitals charge hundreds or even thousands of dollars more than the $2,400 that the government will pay when it is performed in a hospital. The government has been billed for up to $700 for a lens, which costs about $50 to manufacture.

'Turn On The VCR, Let's Watch A Beheading Or Two'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two movies featuring actual beheadings, electrocutions and animal slaughter have zoomed to the top of Southern California's video cassette rental list, prompting warnings from area psychologists.

Owners of video outlets throughout Los Angeles said in a story published Friday in the Herald Examiner that "Faces of Death" and "Faces of Death II" are the most consistently rented movies in the area despite a lack of advertising and no movie theater distribution.

The films, made by an American company for distribution in Japan, are especially popular among teenagers and college-age youths, they said.

"I think the reason for the creation of this program is that it is an extension of the nightly news. Americans have become hardened to death and murder," said Walced B. Ali, whose Maljack Productions in Oak Forest, Ill., began distributing the films after hearing of their success in Japan.

All said the films feature actual scenes from a cattle slaughterhouse, the decapitation of a chicken and a baby seal hunt. Other scenes include a human suicide, autopsy, beheadings and electrocutions — but all said he didn't know if they were staged or real.

Thomas Radecki, a clinical psychiatrist and head of the American Coalition on Television Violence, said he is worried about the popularity of the films.

"This is really frightening," he said. "In all likelihood, some people will not get a charge out of watching these films but will start slaughtering animals and even human beings to get a rush."

He said the movies make violence "socially acceptable" and may prompt an increase in assaults and wife and child beatings.

Rex Eeaber, a psychologist and professor of medicine at UCLA, had a different view, however, saying the movies may actually be beneficial because they help viewers release pent-up aggressions.

"Everyone has their secret terror — nonexistence, death," he said. "There are two ways to deal with it. One way is denial or repression. The other approach to terror is to put your face right up to it — to prove yourself."

QUIT PUMPING MONEY INTO YOUR INEFFICIENT COOLING AND HEATING SYSTEM.

FPL will pay you up to $600 to install a high efficiency central heat pump.

You will also save up to 60% on your electric cooling costs this summer, if you replace your old energy-hungry air conditioner with a high-efficiency heat pump. And since the heat pump both cools and heats your home, you continue to save all year long.

In the summer, the heat pump cools by removing heat and humidity from your home. In the winter, it extracts heat from outside and pumps it indoors. (For a detailed explanation, contact an FPL participating contractor.)

Echoes Of Nazism

Any notion that the amalgam of one-party rule, threats, terror and racism called Nazism is exclusively a German or European phenomenon should be dispelled by what is happening in Zimbabwe, the African state that once was the British colony Rhodesia.

Prime Minister Robert Mugabe, whose socialist ZANU-PF Party won 63 of the 80 seats in the country's legislature, the House of Assembly, says now that he will create a one-party state in the next five years.

As for any unfavorable reaction from the international community, which has given his government millions of dollars in aid, Mugabe said: "The Western world ... can go hang. The Western world can say what it wants. As long as we believe we are right we will do what we have to do in the interests of our people."

"Our people" appears to exclude both blacks of the Ndebele minority and whites.

In violence-torn Matabeleland, Joseph Nkomo's Zimbabwe African People's Union party made a clean sweep of all 15 seats. The province has been marred by bloodshed since Mugabe dispatched troops there 2½ years ago to hunt down rebels supposedly loyal to Nkomo. Untold numbers have been rounded up, interrogated, beaten and killed.

Mugabe also expressed anger because the white former prime minister, Ian Smith, won 15 of the 20 seats reserved for whites until 1987. The representation was guaranteed under the constitution framed at the London peace conference settling the country's eight-year civil war, which ended white rule.

Mugabe said the constitution clause reserving 20 seats for whites would "go almost immediately."

He warned that whites "who have not accepted the reality of a political order in which blacks set the pace have to leave the country."

He called his landslide victory "a mandate for us to unite our people." He said, "We believe in the inexorable law of unity. ... We have to ensure that our society is rid of those undesirable elements whose own attitudes militate against the attainment of unity."

Black opposition parties he accused of "organizing counterrevolutionary activities," warning, "they will have no one to blame but themselves when the hand of law and order exercises itself over them."

The day after the election results were announced, gangs of ZANU-PF toughs rampaged through black suburbs, beating minority party supporters with clubs, sticks and stones, forcing them into the streets and ransacking their homes. Scores of victims were reported hospitalized.

By rational standards, Mugabe and his followers would have nothing to lose and much to gain by honoring the constitution and guaranteeing the freedom and independence of racial and political minorities. The election landslide assured supremacy. There can be no rollback to white rule and the black minorities are no threat.

Mugabe could pour his energy into making Zimbabwe a free, prosperous and happy land.

But total power, violence, unity through force and concentration of hatred on "undesirable elements" are intoxicating. Hitler and the Nazis were obsessed with this mystique. They sneered at democracy, Western civilization and human rights. They created a slaughterhouse which finally consumed even them.

Hitler's shadow is creeping across Zimbabwe.

Reagan Sticks To Lighter Reading For Now

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan caught up on his lighter reading while recuperating in Bethesda Naval Hospital where he underwent surgery for a cancerous tumor in the intestines.

He read Louis L'Amour's best selling western "Jubal Sackett," a book about Calvin Coolidge's Vermont years and "A Treasury of Will Rogers."

When White House spokesman Larry Speakes was asked why Reagan had not read through an arms control statement issued by the White House, he accused the reporter of being "catty."

Still in recuperation from major surgery, it's doubtful any patient, even a president, wants to tackle a heavy tome on government policy.

Asked why he was doing so much reading, a White House official said: "What else has he got to do" in his convalescence?

The president's doctors raved about his physical condition after his operation, and they have run out of adjectives. Speakes at one point told reporters that Reagan took the weekend off to have major surgery.

So euphoric have been White House aides and the doctors that no indication has been given that the president has suffered any pain, except for discomfort when he gets out of bed.

When pressed on the subject of no abdominal pain, Speakes quipped: "Only when he is doing sit-ups."

Although the Hollywood language has seemed far fetched, a White House official insisted, "We're trying to play this one straight because we feel the public has a right to know."

"We have been putting out the straight facts," he said. "The adjectives are coming from the doctors. We're not gilding. We're not paraphrasing. We're not changing (the medical reports)."

When told that Reagan's surgeons, particularly Dr. Steven Rosenberg, chief of surgery at the National Cancer Institute, was articulate and spoke in language understandable to the layman, the official said he was not a professional in answering questions, apparently meaning he was a little more straightforward.

Dr. Dale Oller, head of the hospital's surgical team that performed the operation, tipped reporters off with his opening line at a news conference after the surgery was performed. His first words were "the cancer specimen."

Rosenberg did not mince words either when he said: "The president has cancer."

Reporters were at a loss on whether he meant the president "has" cancer or "had" cancer.

As for the president's mood, he has been described as in "excellent spirits ... optimistic" and not dwelling on cancer.

"He makes us laugh, instead of vice versa," said an aide who called on Reagan at the hospital.

Several newspapers and broadcast outlets had their science reporters on hand for the briefings on the president's condition at the hospital. Among them were some doctors who asked probing questions, and tangling at times with deputy press secretary Speakes, who apparently took a crash course in oncology, telling the reporters there were "two schools of thought" on some controversial matters.

Maybe We Can Finish Popcorn

By Arnold Sawilak
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The big night arrives. You sit down in front of the television set, a bowl of popcorn and liquid refreshment of your choice at your elbow. The play-by-play announcer comes on the screen, introduces the players and tells you who has won the game.

That doesn't happen if you're watching the Superbowl or the All Star baseball game, but more likely than not it will if you're watching a presidential election.

Between 1920 and 1984, 13 presidential elections were won by substantial electoral or popular vote margins, and at least six were authentic landslides. The only close elections during that period were in 1948, 1960, 1968 and 1976.

There have been big changes in election reporting during that 64-year period, not the least of which has been the development of vote counting and communications techniques that produce results in some states within an hour of poll closings. The advent of the News Election Service in the mid-1960s cut national vote-counting time by at least one-third and even more when NES got into computers a few years later.

Then came television network vote projection and exit polling. Combined, they made it possible to call the winner of landslides with considerable accuracy before the polls closed in some Eastern states, let alone everywhere west of the Appalachian Mountains.

In 1980, Jimmy Carter, acting on the advice of his own campaign aides and not television's word that he had lost, conceded defeat several hours before the polls closed on the West Coast.

At least one Western congressman and some other local and state level candidates who also lost blamed TV and Carter for discouraging their Democratic supporters. Proposals to curb TV reporting of returns, projections and exit poll results began to surface.

Protesting that no scientific evidence had been found to show that they were hurting voter turnout, but alarmed by some of the proposed restrictions — Washington State undertook to outlaw exit polling within 300 feet of voting places — the networks pledged to refrain from using projections or exit poll results to characterize the outcome in any state before its polls closed.

But the networks also pointed out that even when they held up projections, the polls close by 8 p.m. EST in 29 states that cast 334 of the 537 electoral votes.

ROBERT WALTERS

Nostalgic Tax Plan

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Although President Reagan characterizes his proposed overhaul of the federal tax code as "the strongest pro-family initiative in post-war history," the family he wants to help has virtually disappeared.

The sweeping revision of the tax laws being promoted by the White House is long on nostalgia but short on reality. To a great extent, the family the president has in mind was last seen on Norman Rockwell's Saturday Evening Post cover portraits of the 1950s.

Dad was that "traditional" family's sole wage-earner. Mom stayed home to iron his shirts, clean the house and take care of the children — often a brood of four or more.

"I honestly think, coming from a family where there were nine kids, that something like (Reagan's tax package) is extraordinary in terms of benefit to a working-class father and a mother who wants to stay home and take care of the kids," says presidential aide Patrick J. Buchanan.

"This clearly is directed to benefit, maintain and put a floor under the traditional family," Buchanan acknowledges. "There is a bias toward the traditional family built into this."

One manifestation of that bias is Reagan's plan to almost double (from $1,040 to $2,000) the personal tax deduction that can be claimed for every adult and child in a family.

That indeed would be a bonanza for large families like the one in which Buchanan was raised, but the nation's fertility rate (the number of babies the average woman is expected to have by the end of her childbearing years) has dropped markedly in recent decades.

In 1977, it sank to 1.77, the lowest level in the country's history. It now has increased slightly to 1.79, but that figure is less than half the 3.69 recorded in the late 1950s, the highest level in this century.

Female participation in the labor force has reached the point where more than 55 percent of all women with pre-school or school-age children hold a job. Indeed, almost half of all married women in families with both husbands and pre-school children now work.

The president's tax package, however, includes three provision that provide financial rewards for the dwindling number of women who resist that trend while imposing monetary penalties upon those who do work.

Under current law, workers can shield up to $2,000 of their annual income from taxation by investing the funds in an Individual Retirement Account — but the IRA contribution for a non-working spouse is limited to $250 yearly. The president's plan would increase that latter figure to $2,000.

Current law allow families with two wage-earners to claim a tax deduction of as much as $3,000 annually to compensate for the fact that their two incomes invariably push them into a higher tax bracket. The president proposes to abolish that benefit.

Finally, he wants to change from a tax credit to a tax deduction a portion of the money (up to $2,400 yearly for one child and as much as $4,800 annually for two or more children) spent by families for child care when both parents are working.

That change would reduce the tax burden for wealthy households but increase it for families with annual incomes of less than $40,000.

SCIENCE WORLD

Holistic Stress Reducer

By Gino Del Guercio
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — Psychologists David Gardner and Joely Beatty know what it means to live a stressful lifestyle.

This husband and wife team runs a consulting firm to help executives cope with stress, have individual private counseling practices, maintain apartments in three cities as well as a house in New Hampshire and travel 150,000 miles a year.

While all this activity was good for their careers, it was drastically cutting into their life expectancy.

That is, until they "decided to accept full responsibility for our own mental and physical well-being," they say in the preface to a book they recently finished on their search for long life, called Stop Stress and Aging Now: The Methuselah Manual.

"We bought bikes, cleaned the processed food out of our kitchen and began trying to modify our own behavior so we could learn to exercise, cook, eat and relax."

The pair combined their expertise in writing textbooks and knowledge of human psychology with the latest research on human health and nutrition. Then they added the tenets of the ancient techniques of yoga and meditation.

The result is a holistic approach to human health and longevity they say can be followed and adhered to for a lifetime.

"It works on the basis of what science knows about psychology and other aspects of staying young," said Gardner. "We've had clients say to us, 'How do you guys have so much energy?' We used to say, 'Read these books.' But then we wrote our own book that had everything in it up to the moment it went to press."

Their approach is based on four areas, which they say are indispensable to human health. They compare them to the four legs of a chair. If one leg is missing, the entire chair falls.

The four legs are proper nutrition, exercise, relaxation and learning to deal better with the people in life.

"The people in life can drive you to an early grave faster than anything else," said Beatty.

The book says there are many things in life that cannot be changed and so must be accepted. Once that is accepted it suggests four principles of interpersonal relations. They are: You cannot change other people's behavior, you can only change your own behavior. You teach people to treat you the way they do. You choose to feel and react the way you do. And treat other people the way you want them to treat you.

Drug Prevention Starts With Examples

By Jack Anderson
And

Dale Van Atta
WASHINGTON — America's greatest resource is our children. Yet more and more of them are being destroyed by alcohol and drugs.

The average age at which a child starts using drugs is now 11, and 8-year-old pot smokers are no longer rare. In addition to the personal tragedy for the addicts and their families, the social and economic cost to the nation is enormous. Most of the youngsters who get hooked on drugs and liquor have to steal to support their expensive habits. When they're caught, the cost of rehabilitation or institutionalization is a continuing drain on the taxpayers.

The total annual cost to the country: About $120 billion a year in lost production, accidents, crime and treatment.

But perhaps the greatest dollars-and-cents loss is in wasted lives. These youngsters pursue drugs instead of education, crime rather than careers. There is no way to estimate the price of these precious formative years.

We have exposed the drug traffickers, who corrupt politicians, compromise citizens, exploit children and often murder those who get in their way. We were responsible for breaking up a drug ring that was operating right on Capitol Hill. The ringleaders were arrested, and a quarter-million-dollar worth of high-grade cocaine was seized.

We have also appealed to the entertainment industry to stop glamorizing drugs and alcohol. We support the Entertainment Industries Council, which is trying to force the movie industry to rate movies that show drug and alcohol abuse in a favorable light.

How can you tell if your child is likely to become one of the millions of junior-high and high-school students who are shuffling zombie-like through life under the influence of alcohol and drugs? You might start with a good hard look in the mirror.

Experts told our associate Vicki Warren that the evidence is undeniable that children whose parents abuse alcohol or drugs are more likely than other youngsters to develop the same self-destructive habits. It's not just the example the parents set, and the availability of addictive substances around the house. There is another factor: Parents who have lost control of themselves have a poor chance of controlling their children.

Kids in such homes are often on their own for hours at a time, which is dangerous enough. But if they are physically or psychologically abused, or ignored to the point where they feel rejected and unloved, they may turn to drugs for solace, for companionship or out of resentment against their parents. Doctors who have studied teenage addiction have found that most of the young people have problems at home before they turn to drugs.

Much more needs to be learned about the causes of child drug addiction, but one thing is already becoming clear: Chemically dependent kids grow up to be chemically dependent adults, and pass their infirmity along to their children.

Footnote: If you agree that the movie industry, as a guide to parents, should rate films that glamorize drugs, drop a note to the Entertainment Industries Council, 12720 Burbank Blvd., Suite 328, North Hollywood, CA 91607. Your vote will help.

Altamonte: Majors Go — Juniors No

Howard, Lamb, Jackson, Giuffrida Subdue Ocoee

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
WINTER GARDEN —

Headliners and Heartliners. That's what kept the Altamonte American League All-Stars' Williamsport, Pa. drive alive Saturday with a 5-3 victory over Ocoee at the Winter Garden Little League complex.

The Headliners — Chris "Bulldog" Jackson and Chuck "Lambo" Lamb — produced as usual. Jackson shut down a gigantic Ocoee lineup on six hits and "Lambo" socked a two-run homer to get the show on the road in the first inning.

But the Heartliners — second baseman T.J. Giuffrida and shortstop Eddie Howard — ensure the championship with a series of sterling defensive plays which won the hearts of an overflow crowd of 400.

"Eddie Howard was just phenomenal," gushed Altamonte manager Mike Morro. "We knew our defense would be good but Eddie and T.J. were better than good. Defense makes the difference in any sport and defense made the difference today."

Especially in the fourth and sixth innings. Altamonte had just taken a 5-2 lead in top of the fourth when Marco Arriga singled sharply down the left field line. Big Chris Fisher was next. He picked on the first pitch and sent a scorching one-hopper to Howard's left. "Steady Eddie" picked it cleanly and short-tossed to Giuffrida. T.J. ignored the approaching giant and relayed to Jeff Jackson for a double play.

"That seemed to take it out of them," said Morro who had Ocoee's dramatic Thursday comeback win in the back of his mind. "That was just great execution by Eddie and T.J."

Again in the sixth, Ocoee seemed poised for a comeback. Danny Skipper, who rocked

Baseball

Jackson for a two-run homer to left center in the first inning, struck again to open the frame, pulling a roundtripper to right to pare the lead to 5-3.

Jason Greathouse was next. He smashed a one-hopper to Howard's right. Howard took two steps into the hole, backhanded the ball with a deft stab and rifled a throw to first to nip the runner.

The Altamonte crowd went wild.

The Altamonte infield reacted as if the game was over, slapping hands and hugging Howard. Two plays later, it was. Unofficial MVP Lamb gobbled up a pair of groundballs and gunned them to first to start the celebration.

"I knew we would beat them," said Howard after the game. "They just beat us by a run (Thursday) and we came back and slaughtered them (12-4) Friday."

In addition to his fielding expertise, Howard singled twice, scored twice and drove in the go-ahead runs in the fourth inning. With one out in the first, Howard walked on four pitches and Lamb followed with a liner which hit the top of the right center field fence and bounced over for a two-run homer.

Skipper, who began the Little League season at Winter Garden but moved to Ocoee, evened matters in the bottom of the first when he followed a double by Jason Clinger with a shot to deep left center for a two-run later.

After that, however, Altamonte's bulldogish right-hander closed the cage on any further scoring until the sixth.

Gabrovic, Apopka Prove Initial Win Was No Fluke

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
ORLANDO —

When the Apopka-West Seminole Junior League All-Stars surprised Altamonte's potentially powerful 13-year-olds Wednesday night, many wrote the game off as a fluke.

Altamonte was overconfident. It took the pint-sized Division 1 winners for granted. It wouldn't happen again. The Juniors would take two straight and advance to the Section 1 tournament.

And Thursday, that theory appeared correct. The Altamonte bats exploded. The Juniors roughed up ace hurler Jimmy Musselwhite for 13 hits and carved out an easy 13-6 victory to even the series at one game each.

Friday's rain washed away the winner-take-all match for that night and it was rescheduled for Saturday morning. For manager Phil King, it might have been a godsend.

Unsure whether he would come back with "Altamonte Killer" Mark "Gabby" Gabrovic Friday, the extra day reassured his thinking. He turned the shrewd left-hander loose and once again he turned the Altamonte aluminum into metal shavings.

Gabrovic twirled a five-hitter, struck out five and walked two as Apopka West-Seminole advanced to tonight's Section 1 tournament with a 5-3 victory over Altamonte's Juniors.

"That extra day made a big difference," said Altamonte manager Kelly Wainscott. "I don't think King would have started him (Gabrovic) on Friday."

In only two innings did Gabrovic face more than four batters. Coincidentally, those were the lone innings Altamonte scored.

Baseball

"I didn't think I was going to start," said Gabrovic who will play high school baseball at Lake Brantley. "I didn't do much different than the first time I just mixed them up."

King said the extra day may have helped Gabby's fastball. "He threw a few more off-speed pitches today," said King. "But when he needed to come in with the fastball, he had enough to get it past them. The extra day may have helped. They weren't getting around on it."

The victory was doubly pleasing for King. "We finished second in the district (at different levels) four times," the former Edgewater High School coach said. "We always got that trophy but now we finally got the (championship) banner."

The second reason was for son Brett. The younger King celebrated his 13th birthday Saturday by driving a Jerrey Thurston fastball into deep left center for the final two runs of a five-run second inning explosion.

"That was a real big hit," said manager King of the game-winner. "Brett was able to dominate at the younger levels but the big field makes a difference. Plus, he just reached 13 and he's catching up with the rest of the kids."

Altamonte played catchup the whole way but never made it. Thurston started on the mound but after sailing through the first inning in order, he was knocked from the box in the second when A-W-S sent 10 batters to the plate.

With one out, Tim Krier and Robert Brown walked. Ryan Lantz followed with a single to

Savages Storm To Metro Championship

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

An opposing coach, making out a scouting report on the Seminole Savages, may have leaped through the team's multitude of third place finishes in tournaments this summer and come to the following conclusion — they can't win the big game.

If all of the Savages' opponents thought that there would be an awful lot of people eating their words right now.

The Savages, Seminole Softball Club's 15 and under all-star team, stormed to four straight wins Saturday and never trailed in any game en route to the Metro Tournament championship and a berth in the ASA Southeast Regional.

Seminole and second place Orlando Lil' Sluggers will compete in the Southeast Regional Aug. 3 and 4 at Boca Raton. The top three teams from the region go on to the ASA National Tournament on Aug. 15-17 in North Carolina.

"The ironic thing about it," said Savages manager Don Jonas, "was we had our problems all year and this particular week our first practice was Tuesday, and I called practice at 4 p.m."

"I usually get their 15 minutes early and there might be one or two girls there. Tuesday, I showed up and their were already eight girls there. That was a good sign that they really meant business this weekend."

The tournament was scheduled to start Friday night but the Savages' opener against the Fern Park Renegades was rained out.

The Savages and Gades went at it at 7 in the morning Saturday and Seminole took control right away with eight runs in the first inning en route to a 17-5 trouncing of Fern Park.

The first eight hitters in the

Softball

Savages' lineup all scored with the key hits being singles by Jaudon Jonas, Sharon Bonaventure, Tammy Jenerette, Val Smith, Heather Meyer and Niki Burke.

The Savages had 17 hits for the game, all in the first five innings. Burke, who was also the winning pitcher, Jonas, Lomicia Whitaker, Laurie Leiffer and Meyer had two hits each while Bridget Jenerette drove in three runs. Marcie Tooke led the way for the Renegades with three hits including a triple.

The big one for the Savages was a showdown with West Orange in game two. The two teams had turned into fierce rivals after meeting 10 times in tournament play with West Orange having the edge in wins.

However, a six-run fourth inning paved the way as the Savages claimed a 7-2 victory.

Again Seminole scored in the first inning as Corrie Lawson led off with a single and scored on a single by Aretha Riggins for a 1-0 lead. The Savages made it 7-0 in the fourth with the key hit a two-run triple off the bat of Whitaker. Jonas and Leiffer added RBI singles to the fireworks.

While the bats were smoking, the defense extinguished three West Orange rallies in the first five frames.

In the bottom of the first, West Orange put together a pair of singles with one out. Jonas then snared a line drive in right center and made perfect throw to third on the runner trying to move up on the fly ball. In the second inning, with a runner on first and one out, a West Orange hitter singled to right but Meyer fired to second behind the runner and caught her off the bag.

West Orange's biggest threat came in the fifth when it loaded the bases with no outs. After showing off her throwing arm in the first frame, Jonas instilled fear in the West Orange baserunners as, one two line drives to the right center fielder, the runner on third did not attempt to score. Burke then got the next hitter to pop out for the third out.

"They had the bases loaded and no outs and didn't score," manager Jonas said. "That was the biggest inning of the whole tournament."

"West Orange was the big game," added Jonas. "We had handled the Lil' Sluggers before but West Orange has been our nemesis. It developed into a big rivalry with them and almost every other time before Saturday we made a big mistake that killed us."

Seminole then went up against the Lil' Sluggers in the winner's bracket final and came away with a 5-3 victory which clinched the Savages a spot in the regionals.

Again the Savages jumped out early with three runs in the bottom of the first. With one out, Riggins singled and Bonaventure followed with a triple for a 1-0 lead. Whitaker then lined a hit which kicked over the outfielder's glove and went for a two-run home run that made it 3-0.

Orlando once in the second to make it 3-1 but the Savages scored one in the fourth for a 4-1 lead. The Lil' Sluggers pulled within 4-3 with two runs in the top of the fifth but the Savages added an insurance run in the bottom half. Burke ripped a one-out single and Lawson

Team Canada Takes 2; Big League Forms Team; Legion Begins District

On the strength of a deep pitching staff, Team Canada took two more games from Boulevard Tire this past weekend in an exhibition series at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Team Canada will take on the Buddy Lake Summer League all-star team, comprised of players on the second through sixth place teams, tonight at 7 at the stadium. Tuesday, Team Canada will play the all-stars at 6 and Boulevard Tire following the first game.

On Sunday, Barry Kuzminski, of Waskatenau, Alberta, pitched six and a third innings of scoreless, one-hit relief as Team Canada upended Boulevard, 5-3.

Boulevard Tire scored three runs on no hits in the third inning off starter Kevin McLeod. Boulevard scored its runs on three walks and an error.

Team Canada scored once in the bottom of the third but Boulevard's lead held up behind starting pitcher Russ Hodges until the sixth inning.

In the sixth, Team Canada pulled within 3-2 when Rob Angus singled in Kelly Klipperstein who had walked and stole second.

Team Canada tied it in the seventh when Brad Harvey singled, was bunted to second and scored on Martin Robitaille's single.

While Kuzminski continued to mow Boulevard down, Canada broke the tie in the bottom of the eighth when Doug McPhail walked and Harvey smashed Hodges' first offering out of the park.

In his relief stint, Kuzminski gave up just one hit, that coming in the ninth, struck out seven and walked none.

DISTRICT 14 FORMS TEAM TUESDAY

The District 14 Big League all-star team, which has a bye into the Southern Region Tournament, will be whittled down from 30 to 17 players by Tuesday.

Apopka-West Seminole, which won the regular season title, had seven nominees including Lake Brantley High performers Kevin Bass, Ken Chapdelaine, Mark Coffey and Mike Davis and Apopka players Jason Andrews, Tim Bruhl and Mike Brown.

The Oviedo Lions had four selections including Mark Merchant, Craig Duncan, Clint Baker and Eric Shogren while Maitland also had four including Randy Snodgrass, Bill Lee, Jeff Poindecker and Rich Espalito.

LYMAN OPPOSES BRANTLEY IN LEGION

Two familiar foes — Lyman and Lake Brantley — will open the District 10 American Legion Tournament tonight at Lyman High School at 8 p.m. Boone and Colonial will play in the 5:30 p.m. game.

Tournament favorites Lake Mary and Apopka both received byes and will not play until Tuesday. Lake Mary battles the Lyman-Lake Brantley winner while Apopka takes on the Boone-Colonial winner.

Double Trouble

Sanford's Turner brothers — Troy, above, and Tracy — were double trouble for their opponents in the Scholastic Division of the Sunshine State Games Saturday and Sunday at Tampa. Troy, who will be a junior at Seminole High, won the 167-pound weight division while Tracy, who will be a sophomore, took the title at the 155-pound division. See Tuesday's Evening Herald for a rundown of the two champions of new wrestling coach Glenn Maiolini.

Eagles Break Even (2-2), Hollis Satisfied With 5th

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole Eagles came away with a 2-2 record in the Metro Tournament this past weekend but could have had a better finish if they had pulled out a win in which they outlit the opponent but couldn't score any runs.

The Eagles, the Seminole Softball Club's all-star team of 13 and 14 year olds, finished fifth in the nine-team field.

"I don't think they played up to par," manager Lenny Hollis said. "They had played better tournaments even after the four ballplayers went up to the Savages. But, for the competition, I think we did pretty well."

The Eagles opened the tournament with a 17-3 thrashing of West Orlando in which six players had two or more hits. Sherry McDonald led the way with a 3 for 3 performance while Robin Whitehead, Julie Barton, Anna Hollis, Brooke Burns and Kristy Winger had two hits each. Burns also was the winning pitcher.

In game two, the Eagles pounded out 11 hits compared to 10 for the Conway Love Bugs but wound up dropping a 6-1 decision.

In the third game, the Eagles stayed alive in the tournament by beating the Conway Misfits, 4-3. Conway took a 3-0 lead in the second inning but Seminole scored all four of its runs in the fourth inning.

Julie Barton led off the fourth with a double and scored on Leticia Strickland's single. Hollis followed with a single and Strickland scored on a fly ball. Willming then rapped a base hit to score Hollis and Willming ended up scoring on a fielder's choice.

Burns then shut the Misfits out the rest of the way with the help of a brilliant defensive play in the bottom of the seventh.

The Misfits looked as if they would tie the game with runners on first and second and no outs. On a base hit to right field, Terry Peters fielded the ball and unloaded a perfect throw to catcher Leslie Barton for the tag at home and Barton then gunned the ball to Winger at third for a double play.

Duval Led Sanford Hitters With .500 Batting Average

After winning three straight in the Florida Little League Sub-District, the Sanford Americans bowed out of the District 4 Tournament in two games, losing a pair of close ones.

Sanford dropped a 4-3 decision to Holly Hill on Monday in which Holly Hill's Brian Sims smacked a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth. Sanford was eliminated Tuesday, 7-4, by Ormond Beach.

In five games, outfielder Tony Duval led the team in hitting with a .500 average (6 for 12). Floyd Henderson and Albert Anderson both hit over .400 while Al Perkins and Harvey Clinger were in the high .300s.

Anderson and Perkins led in runs scored with five each while Clinger was the top RBI man with four.

James Jackson, who played outstanding shortstop in five games, didn't fare as well at the plate as he went 0 for 14. Jackson was one of the American League's top hitters during the regular season.

Boxer Gets Too Much Exposure

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — An extradition hearing is set today for John Garcia, a Colorado fugitive who eluded authorities until he stepped into the boxing ring during a nationally televised match.

Authorities said a rose tattoo above Garcia's heart led to his identification and arrest Saturday night. Garcia, who fought under the alias Roberto Medina, had been arrested 61 times in the Denver area alone, and was wanted in other states on such charges as grand theft auto, burglary and assault.

A dozen Norfolk police officers, acting on a tip from Denver authorities, arrested Garcia on his way to the dressing room after he was trounced by Olympian Meldrick Taylor in an eight-round bout Saturday at Norfolk Scope.

"I don't know him. I've never played him before," said Noah, who defeated Jimmy Connors in three sets Sunday in one semifinal.

The match-up between Noah, who owns a booming serve and a propensity to charge the net, and Jaitte, who beats opponents from the baseline with patience and guile, is an interesting one.

Maitland Draws District 1

Daunic Will Hurl Opener Of Section Tourney Tonight

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

The interesting thing about the Maitland Seniors winning the Division 2 and District 14 titles is not that they won it, but how they won it.

Now, Maitland hopes to carry its momentum from division and district play into the Section 1 Senior Tournament which begins tonight at the Deltona Little League Field.

Maitland opens tonight at 7:30 against the District 1 representative from the Panhandle area, District 11 Crystal River and District 15 Jacksonville Highland play the 5 p.m. opener. The ceremony is set for 4 p.m.

Maitland went unbeaten in what could be the toughest division in the state and then went into district play needing only one win, which it got in one game, 10-0 over Rolling Hills Friday night.

"We were fortunate to go unbeaten in the division," Maitland manager Bruce Hodgson said. "Oviedo and Altamonte both had good teams and both gave us our toughest competition. We just made the big plays and got the strong pitching."

In winning five straight games Maitland got its top pitchers, Willy Daunic and Perry Teague, enough work without overworking them. Both pitched two games while teams in the losers' bracket could have used these top hurler as many as four times.

But most teams don't have a pair of top-notch pitchers like Daunic, a southpaw, and Teague, a hard-throwing righthander. Teague had a pair of complete-game victories including a one-hitter Friday in which his no-hitter was broken up with one out in the seventh.

Daunic was involved in a pair of close ones including a 12-inning win over Altamonte in the division opener and a 3-2 edging of Oviedo in the final. He got the win in the Oviedo game only after Maitland scored two runs on a wild throw after a dropped third strike in the bottom of the seventh.

Since Teague pitched in Maitland's last game, he is not eligible to go tonight so Daunic will be on the mound. The double elimination tournament is scheduled to end Thursday with a second final game, if necessary, Friday. The winner will go on to the State Tournament which starts July 29 at Boca Raton.

Maitland is more than two deep in the pitching staff as it proved in division play against Eustis when J.C. Sandberg and Bobby Liefelder combined on a five-hitter in a 6-2 win. Liefelder, another lefty, picked up the win in relief in the marathon against Altamonte and also got the win against Eustis when he pitched four innings of scoreless relief.

While the pitching for Maitland has been strong, it has been backed up by an impressive defense.

"Defense and pitching won the division for us," Hodgson said. "Either the defense or pitching got us the big out in the key situation."

The nucleus of the Maitland infield is shortstop Ted Scheffelin and third baseman Wayne Kemp. Either Sandberg or Teague will play second base or first with Chris Norton behind the plate. The outfield includes Liefelder in left, Nate Hoskins in center and Kevin O'Brien in right.

Offensively, Maitland didn't tear up the pitching in division play but the bats came alive Friday with 12 hits in the rout of Rolling Hills. Hodgson hopes the offense will continue to produce this week.

"We didn't hit a whole lot in division but the bats really came around Friday," he said. "Everybody hit the ball well. I hope that's a good sign going into section."

...Savages

followed with a base hit. Burke went to third on the play and Lawson then got in a run down between first and second which enabled Burke to score.

Since it had already clinched a spot in the regionals the Savages didn't have to win another game but they wanted to end the tournament in style and did with a 9-2 rout of the Lil' Sluggers in the final.

For the fourth straight game, Seminole scored in the first inning as Lawson led off with a single, went to second on an error, took third on Riggins' grounder and scored when Whitaker reached on an error.

Seminole broke the game open with one run in the second and three more in the fourth. In the fourth, Jonas singled, Caroline Chavis walked and Bridget Jenerette drilled a pinch-hit single to score Jonas. Katrina Shuler then smacked a pinch-hit single which scored pinch-runner Didi Gibbs and Jenerette scored on Jodie Switzer's pinch-hit sacrifice fly.

Burke, who went the distance on the mound in all four games, pitched another fine game for the Savages.

The final against the Lil' Sluggers didn't have any bearing on who would go to regionals but it was important for Seminole. The Savages kept an amazing winning streak alive. They have won the Metro Tournament four straight years and have not lost a game in the tournament in that span.

For the tournament, Leifer and Burke were both 5 for 10 for a .500 average and Jonas went 5 for 11 (.454). Bridget Jenerette (.3-6) and Gibbs (.1-2) also hit .500.

The Savages are now looking to qualify for the nationals for the second year in a row.

"I think we have a better hitting team than last year's," Jonas said. "It's the best hitting club we've ever had. And, the way we've been playing defensively, if we play the rest of our games like we did the Metro, we have a great shot at going to Nationals."

...Majors

He retired the side in order in the second but did his best pitching in the third. An error by the right fielder allowed leadoff hitter Larry Fillner to reach third base.

Three batters later, he was stranded there. Jackson induced Clinger to pop to Giuffrida, caught the dangerous Skipper looking at a third strike and retired Greathouse on a groundball to Lamb.

Jackson credited a change in his throwing style and a bit of deception for his success. "I started throwing my fastball with two fingers instead of my whole hand and it started working better," he said. "And whenever I looked at my glove, they (Ocoee) started yelling 'Curve, Curve.' So I'd look down and throw a fastball. It just buzzed by them."

The 2-2 deadlock lasted until the fourth. Terry Brown blooped an infield single to lead off the inning and moved to second on a passed ball. Two strikeouts later, though, it looked bleak. Giuffrida then hit a two-hopper to the shortstop's left. It looked routine. Somehow, nevertheless, Giuffrida managed to beat the throw to the bag, prolonging the inning.

"I just hit the ball and run as hard as I can," said the 12-year-old second sacker. "I always play every play as hard as I can."

Brown moved to third on the play and when Giuffrida swiped second base, the table was set for Howard. The blond-haired infielder promptly sent a sharp single to left field. Brown scored easily and Giuffrida zoomed around third for a 4-2 lead.

Howard alertly took second on the throw to the plate and when Chris Koepke reached on an error by the shortstop, Altamonte pushed its advantage to 5-2.

Ocoee advanced a runner to third in the fifth but Jackson whiffed Clinger to end the threat. In the sixth, Howard and Lamb literally took matters into their own hands (and arms).

"Eddie played the best defense around," said Lamb. "And Chris pitched a pretty good game, too. That guy (Skipper) hit homers off him but he's been hitting them off everybody."

Lamb will pitch the Section 1 opener tonight against District 15 Crystal River at 7:30 at Winter Garden District 11 Yulee plays District 1 (not available) at 5 p.m. The opening ceremony begins at 4 p.m.

Morro, understandably, was elated with his second (division and district) championship in his rookie year as manager. "What can I say? Everything that we planned worked out," he said. "We knew we'd be strong defensively and hitting. Pitching, we were worried. But pitching turned out to be one of our strengths."

"To win a district championship and to have everyone on the team play is the ultimate thrill."

lead the bases. Scott Sampson then hit a groundball to Albert at first. He charged the ball slowly and his throw to the plate was too late to get Krier who scored for a 1-0 lead. Thurston then walked little Scott Castaldo for a 2-0 deficit.

Gabrovic was next. He smacked a potential double-play liner back at a surprised Thurston. It nicked off his glove and rolled behind him for a single. Lantz scored on the play and the bases remained loaded.

King was next. He picked on a birthday fastball and sent it to deep left center to chase home Sampson and Castaldo for a 5-0 lead. The double was his second hit of the three-game series.

"I kept telling the kids before it was over King would do something," said Waincott. "He beat us two years ago with a homer. He's a good ball player."

Waincott then pulled Thurston in favor of Chris Radcliff. The big left-hander struck out Musselwhite and Greg Thomas to retire the side.

Radcliff, who pitched Wednesday's opener, was almost untouchable the rest of the way. He pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the third, then retired the final 12 hitters in order. The only blemish was a single by Krier but right fielder Curt Prom gunned him down trying for a double.

Radcliff finished with eight strikeouts and three walks.

Altamonte cut the margin to 5-1 in the second. With one out, Aaron "The Shiek" Iatarola doubled down the right field line. Danny Hendricks, who had two hits and a pair of ribbies, followed with a smash up the middle to score the run. Gabrovic then retired Albert on a groundout and struck out Prom to leave Hendricks at third.

In the fourth, Altamonte scored its final two. Radcliff, who was hitless for his first playoff game, reached on an error by the first baseman and stole second. Jason Varitek drew a walk but Gabrovic reached back and struck out Iatarola for the first out.

Hendricks, however, ripped a double over third base to score Radcliff and send Varitek to third. Albert followed with a groundout to the right side to score Varitek. Gabrovic, however, struck out Prom to end the inning, stranding Hendricks at third base.

In the final three innings, Gabrovic set down 12 of the last 13, including the last six in a row. Center fielder Robert Brown secured three of the putouts with fine running catches. The third, a fly ball to left by Thurston, was hauled in with a diving stab, to end the game.

"I went a long ways for that last one," said Brown.

His team went a long ways twice.

Tub-Master Will Sponsor Mice

The league softball season ended on a high note for the Mice as the Oviedo-based women's team obtained sponsorship to end the 1985 spring season and to carry-through for the 1985 fall season.

"The Mice had been fending for themselves after Angelo's Restaurant had closed down," said coach Mickey Norton. "The new sponsor is Tub-Master of Orlando."

The Mice finished fourth in the six-team Longwood women's league. "Our bright spots were the hitting of Theresa 'Little Red' Walburger, Stephanie Nelson, Connie Vaughn and Bobbie 'Big Red' Kelley," said Norton. "The two 'Reds' are only HS freshman, but swing big bats. Theresa also played an outstanding first base. Rosa Bombe pitched well but had no support in the field when it was needed."

The Tub-Master "Mice" are looking to play in a tourney over the summer, then host their own in late August before starting fall-season play.

At this point in the season the batting leaders are: Nelson .457, Terri Mann .444, Cindy Wood .429, Renee Kelley .383, Ava Gardner (recuperating with a after a shoulder operation) .367, Riane Richardson .340, Bombe .324, Connie Vaughn .316. Colette Beasley .278, Lorie Greene .205 and Tina Bennington .182. On a part time basis Theresa Wal is smacking at a .750 clip. Bobbie Kelley .364, and Connie Walburger .200.

CATS: KERR HITTING .513

Oviedo's boys team — The Duda Stray Cats, played in a tourney in Starke last weekend and didn't hit — but they also didn't field. Only bright spots were the bats of Rob Kerr, Eddie Norton and Gary Wallace plus the first two in the field. They will be playing in another tourney in Orlando in mid-summer.

The averages at this point are: Kerr .513, Norton .485, Steve Nelson .481, E.J. Roasow .394, Jim Webster .287, Bob Bliss .286 and Kelly Klukis .130. Part-tomers are: Wallace .600, Tim Turbyfield, .600, Ed Dullmeyer .500, Joe Brondon .417, Pop Bowers .417, Mark Howell .400, Kenny Tuttle .385, Kyle Reichle .263.

Collision With Burglary Suspects Kills 18-Year-Old

MIAMI (UPI) — An 18-year-old Miramar woman driving home in a car given to her as a high school graduation present was killed when three burglary suspects fleeing police collided with her at 100 mph.

Marilyn Dierling, 18, had dropped off a friend and was five minutes from home in the 1980 Dodge Challenger that her father gave her when the head-on collision occurred early Saturday morning, police said.

Metro-Dade County Traffic Homicide Detective Lael Schumacher said the three men had broken into Sophi's Card Nook in Pembroke Pines. The chase began when a police officer spotted a man running to a car with two other men inside.

The driver sped away in the rented car with the headlights off and the officer followed. The suspects' car headed south and began picking up speed. Other patrol cars were called to join the chase.

About 10 minutes into the chase, the suspects' car rammed into Dierling's a mile south of the Dade-Broward county line.

She died at Parkway Regional Medical Center. The rental car driver died at the scene.

Citrus Growers 'Disheartened'

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The January freeze that drove the temperature below 20 degrees in central Florida wiped out at least 80,000 citrus acres in 11 central Florida counties, a University of Florida survey says.

The survey, conducted last month by the university's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, found that growers are preparing to replant or rejuvenate about half of their acreage following the freeze six months ago.

About 53 percent, or 119,661 acres, is expected to remain in citrus in the 11 counties despite the freezes. After the 1983 Christmas freeze, 60 percent, 165,495 acres, was expected to be replanted.

"It means the growers are more disheartened," said William Summerhill, who coordinated the survey.

Overtown Movie Considered

MIAMI (UPI) — A young police officer suspended from the force and later acquitted on charges of manslaughter for the shooting of a black youth that led to riots says he wants to make a movie to spread the truth about his case.

Luis Alvarez, charged in the shooting that triggered the 1982 Overtown riots, said he hopes the television movie will show how a naive Cuban-American nearly got crucified as a scapegoat.

The movie project is now only an idea. Ad Motton, a Dallas-based literary agency, is looking for a producer.

Alvarez walked into an Overtown video arcade Dec. 28, 1982, and fatally shot Nevel Johnson Jr., 20, who Alvarez said went for a .22-caliber revolver in his waistband. Within hours, the black neighborhood was in flames.

He was acquitted and has been suspended with pay

Graduation Invitations Greedy Bids For Gifts

DEAR ABBY: Will you please, please discourage high school and college graduates from sending graduation invitations to every distant relative they and their parents ever heard of? We all know that sending "invitations" to people we hardly know is a flagrant, shameless bid for a gift. And if, in a moment of weakness, one does send a gift, a barrage of birth announcements and invitations to weddings, showers and more graduations is sure to follow.

Dear Abby

I am a 75-year-old widow, living on Social Security and very little else. I just received a high school graduation invitation from the granddaughter of a third cousin whom I have not seen in so long I wouldn't even recognize her, if I have never even met her granddaughter.

I have many relatives in this town, but I never hear from them unless they are celebrating something that requires a gift. I have no car, yet they "invite" me to every imaginable event, knowing full well I can't possibly attend. This is just shameless begging.

we'd take her sightseeing one afternoon and then to a good restaurant for dinner.

My mother is totally disapproving of this. She says I have to entertain in my home with a home-cooked meal.

Do I have to?

TIT FOR TAT (?)

DEAR T. FOR T.: No. Carry out your plan. You do not need your mother's approval to entertain the way you find more comfortable.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were fishing from a boat with some friends. My husband can't swim, but refused to wear a life jacket. You guessed it. He was clowning around, the boat tipped over, and he went under.

I was able to get him and pull him into the boat, or he would have drowned for sure.

Luckily all he lost were his glasses, and a wallet with $400 and a few fishing rods. You had better believe he will never get into a boat without a life jacket again.

I hope to see this in print. It may save a life.

LUCKY

DEAR LUCKY: Let's hope so. Thanks for a timely warning.

SICK OF THEM IN IOWA CITY

DEAR SICK: Judging from my June mail, you speak for many. Don't blame the graduates. In most cases, their parents send those "invitations."

DEAR ABBY: My aunt is coming to visit my parents for a week. Seven years ago, my husband and I visited this aunt for two days, and while we were there she provided us with lovely home-cooked meals. After we got home, we sent her a nice gift and wrote to thank her for her hospitality.

This aunt will stay with my parents, but we want to entertain her. My husband and I both work, and there would be a lot of pressure on me if I had to get the house all fixed up and prepare a company dinner for her (I'm not the greatest cook), so we thought

Treasure Hunters Strike Paydirt

KEY WEST (UPI) — In the wake of the discovery of an estimated $400 million worth of silver, gold and other valuables, a sea of curious boaters rushed to admire the booty, but one of the lucky treasure hunters says he isn't worried about thieves.

"I got my security upstairs," said Kane Fisher, motoring to a cabin where a rifle is kept aboard his ship, the Dauntless. "I'm just not worried. I can deal with them."

Also keeping watch over the site where salvage company divers uncovered the treasure Saturday are seven boats, which will all around the clock in the spot 40 miles west of Key West.

Divers hauled up more than 200 silver bars, hundreds of silver coins and numerous brass and copper ingots Sunday — only a bit of the treasure found in the wreck of a Spanish galleon called the Nuestra Senora de Atocha.

The Atocha sank off the Florida Keys in 1622 during a hurricane and a second hurricane less than a month later ripped apart the ship and dispersed her cargo, including more than 1,200 silver bars and 7,000 ounces of gold coins, over a 10-mile area.

For 15 years, Mel Fisher has been looking for the galleon and its cargo. In 1975, his son, Dirk, daughter-in-law, Angel, and a diver named Rick Gage were killed when a storm capsized the three treasure hunters' ship, the Northwind.

On Sunday, several cases of champagne were loaded onto the Dauntless after Mel Fisher arrived. He was asked how he felt about the discovery.

"Good," he said. "I can't believe it's happening. It's like when you put the last piece in a jigsaw puzzle. It's fabulous."

An news of the discovery spread, boaters, divers and reporters converged on the site over the find. Bleth McHaley, a vice president of Treasure Salvors, described the scene as "absolute pandemonium."

Diver John Brandon with gold chain and links of "Cinta" belt

"It looks like a flotilla out there," she said. Singer Jimmy Buffett went out to the site to serenade the salvage crews.

Fisher is the founder and owner of Treasure Salvors Inc., the group of treasure seekers that has been searching the ocean since 1970. Investors in the firm will split the proceeds of the find.

Don Kincaid, a Treasure Salvors vice president, also an underwater photographer, has begun to accept his new wealth.

"I'm an underwater photographer, this is what I do for a living," he said. But after thinking a moment, he added. "Now, I'm a millionaire."

Over the years, divers had found about $20 million to $30 million of the treasure. Saturday's find was the main cargo of the Atocha. Kane Fisher, Mel's son, called Treasure Salvors' Key West office, with the news.

"Put the charts away — we've got it! Silver bars ... we've got it," he screamed over the radio to McHaley.

Silver bars, each weighing between 70 and 110 pounds, were stacked in a pile 60 feet long, 30 feet wide and 5 1/2 feet tall.

"There's gold down there," said Kane Fisher. "We just haven't gotten to it yet."

A diver who said he was "Shakey Jake," agreed. "We're going to have to bring up the silver before we get to the good stuff," he said.

Already on board the Dauntless were two five-gallon containers of silver coins, along with the silver bars and ingots, and two other five-gallon containers of plates and other assorted riches. The bars were lead-colored and covered with barnacles and mud, and were brought up in groups of two and three in steel milk cartons.

Mel Fisher said it would take at least 2 1/2 years to finish bringing up the treasure.

The treasure will not be taxed until the investors sell it, said Ted Miguel, operations manager of Treasure Salvors. He said it will be a while before the public sees most of it.

"Only a very small amount has been uncovered," Don Kincaid said.

The discovery of a timber from the ship in late May led the hunters to believe they were getting close to the main wreck.

The "mother lode" of the ship's cargo rests in 50 feet of water. When divers first saw the pile, they thought it was a reef.

"You see silver bars all over the place just waiting to be picked up and put on the boat," diver Paul Horan said.

...Meetings

"From now on if it is not here Monday at noon, it doesn't get put on the agenda," he said.

The late night meetings have been a major factor for three commissioners who decided not to seek re-election. Keogh, Terry, and Perin chief all said they wanted to spend more time with their families.

So far three candidates have filed for the seats, and two, Buzz Petros and Charlie Webster, say they won't put up with marathon all-night meetings.

"After five or six hours, how can the city commission be in proper frame of mind to examine the issues?" Petros asked.

Petros said if he gets elected to the commission, the first thing he is going to propose is that all the reports be presented at a work session the day before the city commission meeting.

This would have chopped at least 2 1/2 hours off of the last meeting. Webster said one reason the commission lingers long after dark is because there isn't enough time to study the items on the agenda. Webster said he some commissioners look at the material for the first time while the meeting is in session.

To try to offset the load of work, the commission has work sessions scheduled Tuesday through Friday this week.

planted the bombs and that there were "absolutely no reports of any deaths."

"The two bombs were very large and could be heard over most of the city," said the duty officer at Copenhagen police headquarters.

"I'm shocked, and I have no idea who could have done such a thing," said Chief Rabbi Bent Melchior, spiritual leader of Denmark's 7,000 Jews.

Omar Kitmitto, representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization in Denmark, told United Press International he regretted the bombings, and that his "deepest sympathies go out to those Jews who have been hurt and their families."

"I really regret these terrorist actions against the Jews. I, my office, and the PLO are totally against such actions," he said.

would destroy any chances for moving forward with the Soviets and China."

Nixon said he also considered nuclear weapons when the Soviets threatened to intervene in the Middle East during the 1973

Arab-Israeli war and that it was his decision to order U.S. nuclear forces on alert.

"There's been a lot of second-guessing that it was someone else's. It was mine," Nixon said.

The third consideration of nuclear options came during an intensification of the Soviet-

Chinese border dispute. Nixon said the United States indicated to Moscow it "would not tolerate" a move to destroy China's nuclear capability.

Finally, Nixon said, during the 1971 India-Pakistan war, the United States was concerned that China might intervene on the side of Pakistan, triggering a Soviet intervention for India.

...Suit

Mrs. Rice's were required when the CDs were bought, but that because of the constant transferring from one bank to another, Mrs. Rice agreed to remove her signature as a requirement, and "only my signature was necessary after that. Mrs. Rice gave me the responsibility of transferring and investing cemetery association funds."

The cemetery association maintains Lake Mary's oldest cemetery and sells plots. The organization was started in 1895 and Keogh took over the chairmanship from his grandfather Homer Gleason when Gleason died about 18 months ago.

Lake Mary Mayor Dick Fess said today he will consult with city attorney Robert Petree to determine if the matter is a proper subject for commission review, or other action.

Upkeep of the cemetery costs about $45 a month and is paid from an interest-bearing account in which monies from the sale of plots is deposited.

The Lake Mary City Commission said it would assume responsibility for the cemetery if the association gave the city its $16,000 treasury and handed over the records showing who was buried where.

The association did hand over the records to Petree, he said.

but did not turn over any cash to the city. So the city, apparently willing, never assumed responsibility for the cemetery's maintenance.

There are at least five members of the non-chartered association. They are: Alfred and Otis Sjoblom, Roger Crocker, Mrs. Rice and Keogh.

The case has been assigned to Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr., but no trial date has been set.

cessing. Greenstein plans to attend Harvard with a possible law major. Young Ramaswamy has chosen a career in medicine and will study at University of Florida.

The Dartmouth Club of Central Florida has an Alumni Luncheon on the agenda for July 26. The function will be held at the Holiday Inn at I-4 and Lee Road at 11:30 a.m. Friday.

Gretchen Anne Gosline, a 1982 graduate of Lake Howell High School, was recently initiated into Mortar Board National Honor Society at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, N.C.

To be eligible for membership in the Mortar Board, a student must be in a junior year and have evidence of sound scholarship, leadership and service.

Ms. Gosline, a junior majoring in Radio-Television at W.C.U., is a Dean's List student. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gosline of Fern Park.

Tennis Coach Frank Gooch of Lake Brantley High will hold a series of Tennis Camps beginning the end of July. The camps are open to young people ages 5 through 14 years.

The camps schedule is: first session, July 29 - Aug. 1; second session, Aug. 5-8; third session, Aug. 12-15.

The time for each camp session is 9 a.m. to noon. Cost per participant per session is $55.

Michael Griffith of Altamonte Springs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Griffith, has been promoted to Airman First Class in the U.S. Air Force.

Griffith, an '82 graduate of Lyman High School, serves as a Medical Specialist at Eglin Air Force Base.

The Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, N.C. has announced the promotion of Robert Carper to Marine Lance Corporal.

Cpl. Carper is assigned to the 2nd Aircraft Wing. He is the son of Mrs. Patti Gano of Longwood.

New officers elected to serve the Sweetwater Oaks Womans Club for the 1985-'86 term of office are: president, Jeanette Adams; first vice-president, Linda Spaulding; second vice-president, Karen Hamlet; treasurer, Carol Elder; corresponding secretary, Joan Kirschner; and recording secretary, Marilyn Reilly.

Lyman High School student David Lampert recently attended the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America's national convention in Phoenix, Ariz.

Lampert placed sixth in the nation in the Drafting competition. He plans a career in computers and will be attending the University of Central Florida.

The Casselberry Branch of the Seminole County Public Library System is boasting a new Microfilm Reader which was donated to the library by the Friends of the Library, a volunteer service organization to the county's library system.

The donated equipment is to honor the memory of Friend's charter-member, Dale Faux.

Pennsylvania State University's Department of Public Information has published the Dean's List for the last semester. Lisa J. Shelton, daughter of the Frank Sheltons of Longwood, was named to the honored list.

TIA Serves As Warning Of Bad Things To Come

DEAR DR. GOTT — My very active mother, 71, recently had what the doctor called a TIA. She has no recollection of what went on for several hours, but her mind skipped back about a year and she kept asking the same question over and over. What is a TIA? My mother has high blood pressure and is 25 pounds overweight. Does that have any bearing on the case? Are there any preventive measures she could take?

DEAR READER — A transient ischemic attack, or TIA, is fundamentally a short-lived stroke. A small blood clot momentarily blocks one of the arteries that supply oxygen to brain tissue. The event is transient (temporary), ischemic (causing lack of oxygen) and certainly an attack, as it occurs without warning. If the clot is small — and it usually is, with TIAs — the body immediately mobilizes anti-clotting factors to dissolve it. Within hours, the patient ordinarily returns to normal and suffers no adverse consequences except, perhaps, for some confusion and amnesia.

TIAs are warnings of bigger and more serious things to come. Therefore, they should not be taken lightly. In your mother's case, there are clearly two actions she could take. First, her blood pressure must be brought under control. For a number of technical reasons, chronic hypertension is associated with a wide variety of cardiovascular diseases, stroke and TIAs included. Although weight loss may not affect her brain circulation, it will probably help to lower her blood pressure, so she should try to lose weight.

Second, patients with TIAs are often helped by medicine that reduces the blood's tendency to form small clots. One aspirin a day, two or three times a week, is probably the safest and least expensive medication.

Some specialists would consider putting your mother through more extensive testing, which might involve X-ray studies of her carotid arteries. I do not know enough about her to form an opinion, but you can ask your own doctor if blood-pressure reduction and the use of aspirin would be sufficient.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I've heard that it's OK for babies to wear sneakers instead of traditional baby shoes. Is this really true? I thought that a baby's first shoes were so important.

DEAR READER — In most parts of the world, babies don't wear shoes. This lack of footwear doesn't seem to affect them or their parents. I don't know where Americans got the bizarre notion that we could improve on nature by putting shoes on infants. Tiny white shoes are cute, of course, but I doubt they perform any useful function. Sneakers are probably more comfortable.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio, 44101

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

The right way to play the hand is often based on how well you know your opponent. You should assume that an expert will usually make the right play; an average player or novice is less likely to find the winning defense.

West selected the safest lead — the jack of hearts from a sequence. Although that was the first suit bid by declarer, leading it gave declarer nothing. In fact, the lead was a lucky one, since it had the dynamic effect of removing dummy's only side entry for the long diamonds.

South now had to bring home the diamond suit. He came to his hand with a high spade and played a low diamond. Quick as a flash West stuck in the king. Declarer ducked in dummy. He won the heart continuation and played another diamond.

When West played the six, declarer had to decide whether West had started with K-Q-6 or the K-6 doubleton. He finally put in the jack. Result — down five.

I don't know the quality of West as a player. But it is certain that an expert West would never split diamond honors with the K-Q-6. He would play low and deny declarer the diamond suit unless South had three little diamonds. Then nothing would help.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 23, 1985

In the year ahead, you may become involved in a rather unique joint venture that caters to the public's needs. Your partners will supply the means and you'll furnish the ideas.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Amiability and warmth are the words that describe you best today. Instinctively, you'll say and do the right things at the right times to favorably impress others. Major changes are ahead for Leos in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Material prospects are exceptionally promising today. Substantial gains may come to you by luck or chance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Luck will attend you today in ventures or enterprises that you originate or those for which you're responsible. Keep the control in your hands.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you may establish a rather unusual goal for yourself. Your methods for achieving it will be quite ingenious, but your tactics will be screened from the view of others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Something for which you've been hoping has an excellent chance of becoming reality today. Dream on, but also take positive steps to make it happen.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If your motivation is strong enough today, you'll be capable of outstanding achievements. Conditions are good and the harder you try, the luckier you'll get.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It'll prove fortunate for anyone who becomes associated with you today in a new enterprise. Chances look great for pulling off something big.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today, someone with your best interests at heart can manage an important matter for you better than you could do it yourself.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your charm and sincerity will win the favor of others today. Even someone who has never been especially nice to you will become an admirer.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Conditions that affect your work or career are more fortuitous than usual today. You're apt to get some lucky breaks that your co-workers won't.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This is one of those days where good things you already have going can be expanded. Do not put any limitations on your thinking.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It'll prove wisest in the long run today to let events run their course. If something is moving in the right direction, the results will be gratifying.
