Seniors ready to waltz again on Wednesday

Hurricane Floyd cut in on the dancers last week, but the band is expected to strike up at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Sanford Civic Center.

The popular Sanford 50 and Over Club dances will be held each Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is $3 per person and includes refreshments.

Once again, the Deltonians will provide the live music, led by saxophonist Joe Farrell.

"We're hoping that (Hurricane) Harvey won't come hoppin' in on us," said Jim Gunter, the 50 and Over president.

For more information, please call Gunter at (407) 688-1615.

Jurors urge death penalty for Barnhill

A jury in Sanford has recommended the death penalty for Arthur Barnhill III, an Oviedo restaurant cook who strangled 84-year-old Earl Gallipeau in August 1998. Gallipeau was a retired Winter Springs businessman whose yard Barnhill sometimes mowed.

After deliberating four hours on Monday, nine members of the jury voted in favor of the electric chair and three favored life in prison without parole. Circuit Judge Kenneth Lester Jr. will make the final decision. Barnhill, 24, did not testify at the six-day hearing. He pleaded no contest last October to first-degree murder of Gallipeau.

PRA asks for more time

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The developer who wants to build a 300-room hotel and conference center on Fort Mellon Park is asking for an extension to perform the required feasibility study.

Joseph Pacitti, president of PRA Development, said in a letter to Sanford City Manager Tony VanDerworp that the company plans to hire a consulting firm with knowledge of local and regional markets. He is asking for an extension to perform the study.

The contract between Sanford and PRA Development called for the feasibility study to be completed 120 days after the agreement was signed, although there was a provision for a time extension. Based on when representatives from PRA Development signed the contract, the study will be due Oct. 7.

City officials had previously thought the feasibility study was due this month.

"They signed it after we did,"

VanDerworp said. "We went back and checked, and October 7 is the correct date based on when they signed the contract."

VanDerworp said he will present PRA's request to extend the date that the feasibility study is due beyond Oct. 7 to the City Commission in October. The commission will then either approve or vote against the request. Mayor Larry Dale said that said he is in favor of granting the time extension. "What difference does it make at this point if we give him more time?" Dale said. "What do we lose by it? This is a big project, and the developer needs to move carefully."

PRA Development has completed the first of four phases required for the feasibility study and financial analysis of the hotel conference center project, Pacitti said.

"While we cannot get a true picture of financial feasibility until all of the phases are completed, the Phase I Analysis (hotel without conference center) shows that a full service hotel in See PRA, Page 4A

Police catch bank robbers in the act

Trio suspected in two other bank robberies

By Joe DeBontis

SANFORD — Seminole County Sheriff's deputies arrested three men Sunday in connection with the burglary of the United Employees Credit Union in Hunt Club Corners.

The trio are also suspects in two other Seminole County bank burglaries that took place on Sept. 16.

Eduar Trinidad-Rivera, 30, Malave Santos, 39, and Pedro Delafuente, 40, were arrested shortly before midnight Monday morning when deputies responded to an alarm report at the credit union.

When they arrived they spotted a van attempting to leave the Hunt Club Corners plaza parking lot. They apprehended Trinidad-Rivera on the spot, and following a brief foot chase grabbed the second suspect, Santos. The third suspect, Delafuente, surrendered to deputies a short time later.

Trinidad-Rivera is charged with criminal mischief, burglary to a structure, and operating a motor vehicle with no valid license. Santos is charged with criminal mischief and burglary to a structure. Delafuente is also charged with criminal mischief and burglary to a structure and is expected to be hit with an additional charge of violation of probation in Orange County for another burglary to a structure See Robbers, Page 5A

SANFORD — For the second consecutive year, the Sanford Housing Authority recently won a national merit award for resident and client services.

The Harbor Learning Center at the Housing Authority won a 1999 National Award of Merit in program innovation for resident and client services. The WORTH and Resident Initiatives Program won an award of merit in 1998.

More than 200 people this year are participating in programs at The Harbor, a literacy and learning center located in the community center of the Castle Brewer Court Housing Authority Complex in Sanford.

"The Housing Authority, in preparing for the new millennium and in addition to providing decent and sanitary housing, is committed to providing service beyond shelter," said Tim Hudson, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority.

Longwood commission OKs $10.7 million annual budget

By Joe DeBontis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Following lengthy debate Monday night over the merits and benefits of purchasing a new $190,000 ambulance for the city, Longwood's Board of Commissioners voted 3-2 to adopt the city's fiscal budget for 1999-2000.

The $10.7 million spending plan holds tax millage rates at 5.06 percent, or $5.06 for each $1,000 of nonexempt property value. City administrator John Drago presented a budget that would have seen revenues exceed expenditures by $131,650, however, in recent budget workshops and at Monday's final public hearing, the board moved to approve the ambulance purchase as well as the hiring of five additional city personnel.

Once the budget kicks in on Oct. 1, Longwood will be looking to hire three additional firefighter/paramedics, and two additional police officers for road patrol and traffic control. The city is expected to offset the material and personnel costs by a reduction in overtime in the fire department, and revenues generated from an increase in ambulance transport calls.

The purchase of the ambulance was the only real sticking point in board discussions prior to the vote to finalize the new fiscal document.

Some board members felt that Fire Chief Charlie Chapman presented less than a statistical com- See Longwood, Page 5A

Don't waffle on the Snap, Crackle and Pop ordinance

The county's policy on continental breakfasts is among the juicier items on today's agenda for the Board of Commissioners.

County Ordinance 89-28, if adopted, will exclude continental breakfasts and snacks from the definition of "meal" under the policies of Seminole County government.

Heaven forbid, if a commissioner sneaks a Danish pastry and then tries to get reimbursed by the county. Ordinance 89-28, the Snap, Crackle and Pop rule, prohibits this sort of thing. A meal must be a meal to be part of a meal ticket.

As a rule, commissioners are allowed to eat to their hearts delight when they're traveling on county business.

Carlton Hanley, the county chairman, is an ex football player. You have to think he needs a good steak and eggs breakfast. Same for the cowboy, Daryl McLain. Commissioner Randy Morris, we've been told, had Spanish omelets (including asparagus) on a recent trek to Barcelona and Madrid.

District 1 Commissioner Grant Maloy, who enjoys the Breakfast of Champions, supports Ordinance 89-28.

"Each commissioner makes $60,000 for a part-time job," Maloy said Monday. "We ought to pay for all our meals. I won't charge for mine. Never have. And I don't intend to do so."

Provided they obey the rules and keep their expenses away from the county, the commissioners will get $10 for breakfast, $20 for lunch and $27 for dinner while traveling. Without receipts, the numbers are reduced to $3 for breakfast, $6 for lunch and $12 for dinner.

There was a squabble a year or so ago when Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide drew the ire of Clerk of the Court Maryanne Morse over his expenses on a trip to Europe. Morse wanted meal receipts and validation of Van Der Weide's "side-trip" from The Netherlands to England. When Morse docked funds from Van Der Weide's pay, he took her to court. The final result is pending.

In Dick Van Der Weide's situation, some insist, it may not be a case of continental breakfast but a case of what continent he is visiting for breakfast. Van Der Weide's breakfast favorites, we're told, are waffles with sausages.

Oscar Wilde, no cereal brain he, once said that "only dull people are brilliant at breakfast." Perhaps, Wilde's quote ought to be included in continental breakfast ordinance to the Seminole County travel policy. Certainly, none of the county's politicians would want to be brilliant at such a cost to their reputations.

Our old friend, Winston Churchill advised government leaders in his day to avoid having breakfasts with their spouses. "My wife and I tried two or three times in the last 40 years to have breakfast together, but it was so disagreeable we had to stop," Churchill said.

Today's message to our county commissioners is quite simple: there is no such thing as a free breakfast.

downtown Sanford could be feasible" under certain conditions, Pacitti said in a letter to VanDerworp.

The conditions that Pacitti said would make a hotel feasible in downtown Sanford include the addition of resort oriented activities along the waterfront, public improvements such as landscaping and street lighting, continued growth in downtown business and leisure opportunities, and additional transportation access improvements.

"It is encouraging that the City already has most of these required improvements underway," Pacitti said.

The four phases to be studied by PRA include the hotel, the conference center, merging the hotel and conference center feasibility analyses, and the ability to finance the project.

City plans call for 700 feet of open space in the eastern portion of 61-year old Fort Mellon Park.

According to a Fishkind report performed for the city, the development will generate 940 jobs, including 450 at the hotel and conference center.

PRA Development will assume 75 percent of the costs to build the hotel and conference center. The public portion will be generated by Seminole County tourism funding, a special tax district to be formed in the area, and payments established in the 50-year lease between the developer and the city.

Two ballfields to be removed from Fort Mellon Park will be replaced by a four-field youth sport complex at Chase Park, Dale said.

The city is planning on conducting a comprehensive traffic study if the feasibility study being performed by PRA Development is favorable.

So far, the city has spent $18,000 to study and promote the project, VanDerworp said.

Dale said that the hotel and conference center is a key piece of the city's plans to revitalize the downtown historic district.

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners has designated Sanford as the preferred site of the county conference center, and approved the use of tourism development funding toward the project. However, county commissioners have said they also want to see results of the feasibility study.

City voters in November, 1998 approved the project by a vote of 55 to 45 percent.

Members of the Society for the Preservation of Fort Mellon Park are collecting signatures to try to force a second referendum, saying that the wording of the November referendum was misleading.

Millard Hunt, co-chair of the Society, said that he is not surprised by the time extension request.

"This is part of a pattern that developed in the early stages and has continued throughout the process," Hunt said.

"Somehow the city hasn't been able to produce the information needed to make a decision. I don't know why. I would hope that the city commissioners will take a hard look at this."

Seminole County may be reimbursed for some expenses of Floyd

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County officials are beginning to tally up the associated costs involved with responding to the threat of Hurricane Floyd earlier this week.

Public information officer

Steve Olson of the Seminole County Sheriff's department said Thursday that personnel overtime costs won't be computed until the Sheriff's department pay period on Thursday, September 23.

"At this point we have additional operating costs of $5,390," said Olson. "That figure does not include food costs, payroll, or monies spent on generator rentals for the emergency."

Olson said the costs represented in the $5,390 figure covered the expense of relocating the Sheriff's department helicopter to the Tampa area to keep it out of harm's way, as well as lunches for additional personnel, bottled water, plywood to secure district offices, lodging of the personnel who relocated the helicopter, and for spare cell phone batteries and regular batteries.

Paula Ritchey, public information officer for Seminole County Public Safety, said costs of $350,000 had been incurred by the county to deal with Floyd.

"That total represents all associated costs for public safety that includes the school district, Sheriff's office, municipalities, and public safety," said Ritchey.

The bulk of that figure is represented by overtime pay for selected employees, additional costs, and transportation. Ritchey said county officials will now explore guidelines with federal agencies such as the Federal Emergency management Agency to determine if Seminole County meets eligibility criteria for possible reimbursement or partial reimbursement for operations costs associated with Floyd.

Emergency Management director John Blackwood said Friday morning that the state has requested that all counties send in an estimate of additional costs incurred by Floyd.

"It's a good gesture," said Blackwood. "Unlike the coastal counties, Seminole County was not federally declared a disaster area. The state or FEMA would consider this a special conditions type reimbursement. There may or may not be some money available to local governments to help offset costs."

Blackwood added that Seminole County had personnel and equipment ready to go to help officials in Volusia and Brevard under mutual aid agreements, but did not receive requests from those counties for help.

"Virtually every coastal county from Miami to Jacksonville did receive a federal declaration of emergency status," Blackwood said.

elling case several weeks ago when he made a pitch for the new ambulance and three additional personnel. Other board members said there was enough of present need and anticipated future demand with the opening of two new nursing home facilities in the near future to approve the purchase of the vehicle now.

Commissioner Rusty Miles questioned city Administrator John Drago on budget projections of $158,000 for transport fee revenues.

"How can we justify a $200,000 expenditure on a $5,000 increase in revenues," asked Miles.

Drago said he didn't have a comfort level with projections provided by the city's fire chief and used more historical data to come up with a conservative estimate.

"History shows us we should be in the $180,000 ballpark," Drago said. "If we gain anything over my projections we're ahead. If we don't, then I'm not behind."

Mayor Paul Lovstrand said he wasn't exactly enamored with the city's transport agreement, but said, "We have to give service and charge for a service. If we are in the transport business then we have to have the equipment for it."

Lovstrand acknowledged the new ambulance probably would not pay for itself despite a rising number of response calls.

"It's not quite right to say it will pay for itself, but the additional calls will help pay for some of the expense."

Miles and fellow commissioner Annamarie Vacca said they had no problem with agreeing that response calls have steadily increased, but questioned the lack of statistical information provided during budget workshop session about where the increase was coming from.

"I'm opposed to this budget because of one issue," said Vacca. "Chief Chapman basically told us the city of Longwood wants to spend $200,000 to provide transport service for the city of Lake Mary."

"Let's not disguise it with call volume," added Miles. "The fire chief had the inability to give us a statistical breakdown on calls inside the city and outside the city. I want to see the numbers to see if this purchase is warranted and the cold hard numbers are not here. We should approach this logically, conservatively, and responsibly before making a decision."

Commissioner Dan Anderson said regardless of where the calls originated from, since the city was part of an inter-local agreement for first response, if the demand increased, the city needed the assets to respond.

"If Lake Mary is part of our first response area, my intention case. After a walk-through inspection of the credit union and a K-9 patrol, deputies discovered the credit union's alarm panel had been pulled from the wall and the upper rear section of the facility's ATM unit was opened.

The method of entry is similar to bank burglaries that occurred at The Regions Bank and Peoples First Community Bank on Sept. 16.

Authorities say in both cases burglars made entry into the banking institutions by breaking windows in the rear of both buildings, crawling inside and prying open bank safes and stealing undetermined amounts of coin currency. The suspects have also attempted to break into ATM and drive through tellers booths to gain access to cash.

Monday was a judicial holiday in Seminole County. The trio are expected to make their initial court appearance Tuesday afternoon.

How to care for the cabbage palm, Florida's state tree

The cabbage palm or Sabal palmetto was designated our state tree by Florida legislature in 1953.

The cabbage palm is also the state tree of South Carolina. The palm grows from the Northernmost parts of the state down to the Florida Keys. This native palm grows around 40 to 50 feet in height and has a dense 10 to 15 foot diameter crown of palmate leaves at the top. A creamy white inflorescence appear in the summer, followed by small, shiny, green to black fruits that serve as food to many animals. The trunk can be straight or curved. Cabbage palms are hardy and will grow well in partial shade or full sun.

Landscape uses
The cabbage palm is a common landscape plant in Florida. The plant grows well in wet or dry soils and is also salt tolerant. Can be used as a specimen, on parking lots, residential street tree or for median strip plantings in the highway. It is ideal for seaside locations.

Transplanting
Almost all cabbage palms are dug from natural stands and lose their functional roots in the process. The new root system will take six to eight months to develop from the root zone at the base of the trunk. Survival is best if palms are transplanted without leaves. Palms should not be planted any deeper than they were growing in nature since it will produce root diseases or nutritional deficiencies and even death of the plants.

Place the palm in the center of the hole that should be twice as wide as the soil ball and fill the hole with a mixture of equal parts of peat, muck or compost with the top soil from the hole. The palms will need support because of the lack of functional roots for a relatively long period of time. Water daily for the first few weeks and less frequently as they become established in the landscape. Use about one pound of a 6-6-6 fertilizer per inch of trunk diameter three or four times a year. A palm fertilizer containing micronutrients can also be used.

Palms may require additional applications of magnesium or manganese for good growth. Magnesium deficiency causes yellowing of the edges on the lower leaves, and manganese deficiency, includes yellowing on the upper or newly formed leaves.

Growing cabbage palm from seed
Clusters of flowers appear from June through August and the berries ripen in late autumn or winter. There is one seed per fruit measuring about one-fourth inch in diameter. The seeds can be collected from the tree or from the ground. The pulp is separated from the seed by rubbing the fruits on hardware cloth. No pretreatment is necessary to break dormancy but 30 days stratification in moist sand at 38 degrees shortens the germination time from 120 to 60 days. Seeds should be planted one-half to 1 inch deep in the soil for germination and should not be permitted to dry. Seedling grow best in the open or fertile soils.

Pests
Palmetto weevils can damage stressed cabbage palms. Control measurements should be directed to reduce transplant stress. Adult female weevils lay eggs in the leaf bases of the crown and the larvae may burrow in to the heart of the palm killing the growing tissues. Preventive sprays of Lindane or Dursban can control the damage produced by these insects on newly transplanted palms.

Diseases
A fungus disease called ganderma butt rot is the most important disease of cabbage palm. The fungus enters the trunk through wounds on the lower part of the plants and no control is possible for this disease. Remove infected palms as soon as the disease is detected.

Couple continues to date after 14 years of marriage

DEAR ABBY: In a recent letter, a young woman said she didn't need a man to open the door for her. I just had to respond to that statement. After 14 years of marriage, my husband and I agreed he would go back to that old-fashioned courtesy of opening the car door for me (He has always opened doors for me at buildings.) We thought this would remind us that we are still "dating" and to treat each other in a special way. I wait, he opens my door, I smile and thank him, he smiles back and holds my hand as we walk along. At first I thought this little ritual seemed forced; now it feels natural and we like the results. I think it has made us more aware and more considerate of each other.

Our daughters, ages 14 and 10, cannot say enough about how stupid they think this courtesy is. They think I'm the one insisting my husband do this. They can't believe I would put him through it — let alone be willing to wait the few extra seconds it takes for him to walk around the car to open my door. They don't realize they are taking for granted their parents acting in a loving way toward each other. I feel cherished and connected to my husband all the time, and these little outward acts of courtesy have a remarkable effect on our relationship.

Last night at a parents' meeting at school, my husband sweetly held my hand the entire time. I noticed other parents not doing the same.

We have been at this little experiment in "old-fashioned" manners

Dear Abby

Dear Abby

father passed away. About a year later, my mother remarried. A year after she remarried, my father's mother passed away.

At my grandmother's funeral, my uncle referred to my mother as my grandmother's "former daughter-in-law." The same term was used in the obituary submitted by the family.

My mother was hurt by this characterization, as she feels that she was always a good daughter-in-law, and always maintained the mother-in-law/daughter-in-law relationship even after my father passed away. She feels that despite the passing of my father and her subsequent remarriage, she should have nevertheless been referred to as my grandmother's daughter-in-law and not "former" daughter-in-law.

THE FORMER GRANDCHILD

DEAR GRANDCHILD: I'm sure your uncle meant no offense. His remarking may have been that regardless of how loving your mother's relationship was with her mother-in-law, her remarriage made her a "former" daughter-in-law. From his point of view, it seems perfectly logical.

Fishermen and hunters

SANFORD - Many of my fishing buddies who are guides are also skilled hunters.

This doesn't surprise me much, but may be bewildering to others.

How can fishing and hunting possibly relate?

What does the water and the woods have in common?

It may seem a little strange, but I am just as comfortable up in a tree as I am 25 miles offshore. It is a oneness with nature, being "in tune" with nature, that enables skilled anglers to also be skilled hunters.

It is taking the sports to the next level by utilizing carefully honed senses and powers of observation. It is also being sensitive and respectful of nature.

When I go fishing, nothing is predetermined or totally predictable. I watch, I listen, and I attempt to read the subtle clues that nature provides to point the way. How clean is the water? What is the wind direction and velocity?

Every day is different in some way and conditions change. Anglers who are consistently successful are sensitive to these changes and make adjustments accordingly.

Successful anglers carry this innate sensitivity with them into the woods. Their oneness with nature enables them to "tune in" to an environment that is totally different from the water.

They walk lightly and skillfully detect clues that nature provides. They are successful hunters because they use the same powers of observation in the woods that they utilize on the water.

To me, there is a strong parallel between fishing and hunting. Both activities require the ability to "listen" to nature, and to tread lightly. Some may choose to call it a sixth-sense, but to me it is more like a respectful reverence. It is a willingness to give up control, and to be guided. To be a guide, one must first be willing to be guided.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

Nothing pleases me more than to enter the woods and leave the woods without leaving a trace of my presence. It is a real pleasure and a privilege to observe wildlife that is undisturbed by my presence.

FISHING FORECAST

Bass action is still slow, but will be improving daily. Bream and catfish continue to dominate freshwater action. Worms and freshwater mussels work well for both species.

Sebastian Inlet will likely be a little dirty due to the passage of the hurricane. When waters clear, expect good action from snook to 20 pounds. Large live shrimp and small baitfish are top producers. Also expect a few flounder, trout and redfish.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral says to forget onshore. Giant ground seas and dirty water will result in poor fishing for weeks. Inside the Port, expect a few snook, flounder, and sheepshead. Trout and redfish are rated as fair on the flats of the Banana and Indian rivers.

Astronaut boys, Lake Brantley girls claim trophies at Lake Mary Classic

LAKE MARY - Flagler-Palm Coast High School from Bunnell dominated the battles, but Lake Brantley and Astronaut won the wars as the Lake Mary Classic for high school cross country teams was contested at the Lake Mary Cross Country Facility at Greenwood Lakes Middle School Saturday morning.

Flagler-Palm Coast runners Kelly Walker and Chris Batista won the individual girls and boys races, respectively, at the event that attracted 606 runners from 19 schools.

But it was the Lake Brantley edging Astronaut and Lake Mary for the girls' team title and Astronaut beating Boone and Flagler-Palm Coast in the boys' team race.

Walker ran an 18:24.99 to top Lindsey Minnihan from Astronaut by over 25 seconds in the girls' race.

Mallory Dunn (Seabreeze), Morgan Pike and Kristie Johnson (both of Winter Springs) rounded out the top five.

State's best prep swimmers compete at Lake Brantley

By Dean Smith

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - Some of the finest swimming powers in the state of Florida took the waters of the Lake Brantley High School Pool on Saturday in the Patriot Invitational.

Among those in attendance were The Bolles School from Jacksonville, the defending National High School Champions, as well as Pine Crest out of Ft. Lauderdale and local power Trinity Prep and Lake Highland Prep.

This meet was a preview of the state meet coming up in November and The Bolles School showed that they will be the team to beat again as they dominated both the boys and girls meets.

Trinity Prep also gave a good show of itself, placing third in the boys and second in the girls.

Of local interest, the host Lake Brantley squad finished fourth in both the boys and girls meets.

Lyman, Winter Springs and Seminole also competed in the meet with the Greyhounds finishing 12th in the boys and 14th in the girls, the Bears finishing 18th in the boys and 15th in the girls and Seminole coming home 13th in the boys and 20th in the girls.

Casey Seland of the Lake Brantley girls team sparkled individually for the local teams, scoring a victory in the 100 butterfly and a third in the 200 individual medley, while the Patriot boys had divers finish second (Korteu) and third (Gaffey).

Pohrenic from Winter Springs finished second in diving for the Bears girls.

For the Seminole boys, the team of Dan Bishop, Danilo Gosling, Carl Lee and Nick Crivellari finished eighth in the 200 freestyle relay, with a season's best 1:37.21, and sixth in the 400 freestyle relay, with a season's best 3:41.19.

"I thought our guys responded pretty well by just making it into the final eight at night," said Seminole head coach Tony Ackerson. "You look at the top eight in the boys sprint relays, it was a virtual who's who of great swimming programs in Florida - Bolles, Pine Crest, Lake Brantley, Dr. Phillips, Lake Highland, and so on."

"So it was a good experience for our guys just to see that they belong at a quality meet like this. The other thing that I liked was that all of our relays went faster in the finals than in the morning preliminaries, and that's something that you've got to be able to do to have any real success in this sport."

For the Fighting Seminole girls, freshman Lindsey Bahr swam a lifetime best of 58.43 to finish 15th in the 100 freestyle, while the 200 freestyle relay team of Corrie Seland (the sister of Lake Brantley's Casey Seland), Angela Ellis, Bethany Klebaum and Lindsey Bahr finished 11th with a season's best time of 1:49.30.

"I was proudest of the support that they showed each other all day long - anytime that one started to get down, the others got her back up," said

Big days for Ducey, Taubensee

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

PHILADELPHIA - It was pretty good day for a couple of major league baseball players with Seminole County ties on Monday.

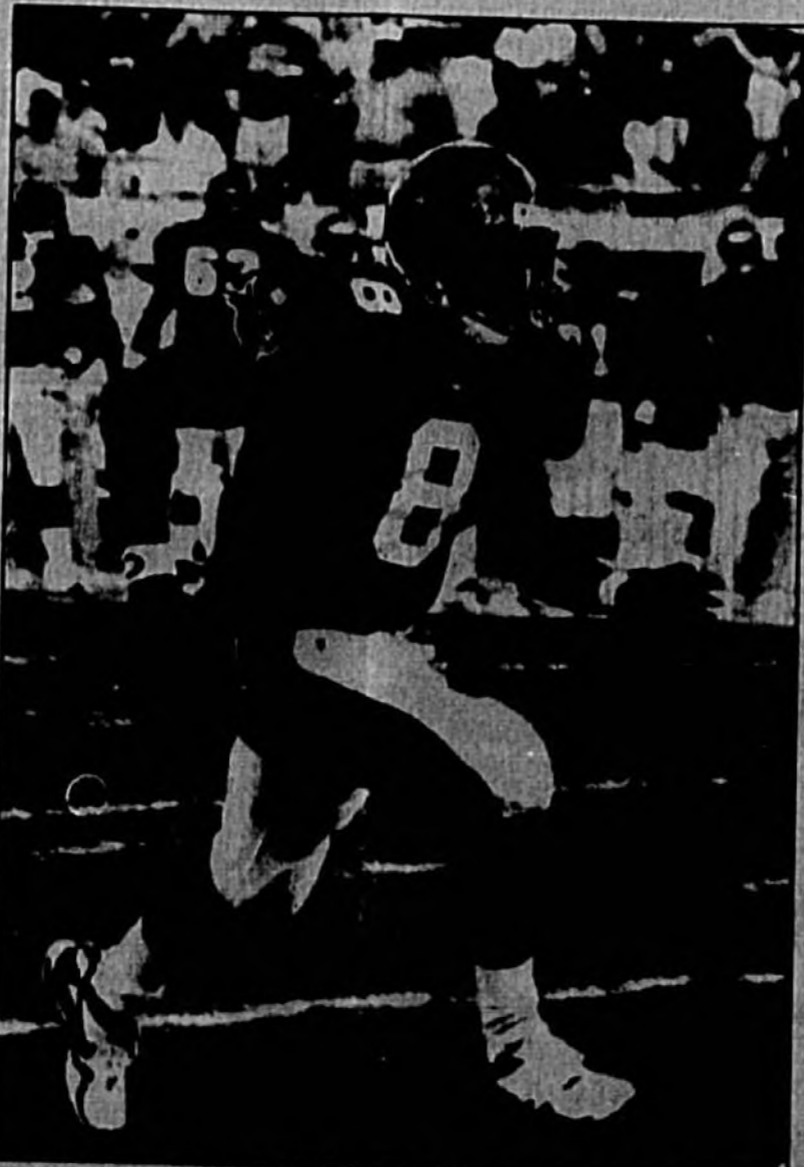

Former Seminole Community College star Rob Ducey, who still resides in Heathrow, was granted a two-year contract extension by the Philadelphia Phillies.

The lefthanded hitting outfielder will receive $1-million per year.

Former Lake Howell star Eddie Taubensee continued his torrid pace since the All-Star break, going 4-for-4 Monday evening as the Cincinnati Reds came from behind to defeat the San Diego Padres on Greg Vaughn's 41st home run.

The lefthanded hitting catcher has been on fire as he has helped the Reds move into contention for the playoffs as either a wild card or by winning the National League Central Division Championship.

In other big league news Monday night, Mark McGwire hit his third home run in as many games, a solo shot in the seventh inning that broke up a perfect game, as the St. Louis Cardinals trounced the Chicago Cubs 7-2 at Wrigley Field.

Blake injured in loss to San Diego

SANFORD - It started as a beautiful day for Sanford's Jeff Blake.

But it didn't end that way.

Blake, the starting quarterback for the Cincinnati Bengals, hit Ben McOee with a 12-yard touchdown pass with 12:04 left in the first quarter to give his team a 7-0 lead.

That was the last time the Bengals would score, however, and Blake was forced from the game with a sprained shoulder as Cincinnati dropped to 0-2 with a 35-7 drubbing by the San Diego Chargers.

Blake left the game after rushing for six yards on three carries and completing seven of 16 passes for 68 yards.

The heir apparent to the signal callers job in Cincinnati, rookie first round draft choice Akili Smith from Oregon, came on to complete 10-of-17 passes for 100 yards, but threw an interception and did not put any points on the board.

The extent of Blake's injury was not known as of Sunday and his availability for Sunday's game at Carolina is questionable.

Things went much better for Florida teams on Sunday as all three professional teams came up with victories.

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers

defense has still not allowed a touchdown this season as the Bucs knocked off the Philadelphia Eagles, 19-5, in Veterans Stadium to improve to 1-1 on the season.

The Miami Dolphins were a little lethargic after a short week of practice, but the defense picked off four Jake Plummer passes, giving them seven interceptions in two weeks, as the fins won their home opener 19-16 over the Arizona Cardinals to improve to 2-0 on the season.

The Jacksonville Jaguars very nearly got caught by the upset bug, denying a two-point conversion try late in the game to rally past the Carolina Panthers, 23-20, at AITell Stadium to improve to 2-0 on the season.

In other games this past weekend, the two teams that met in the Super Bowl last season, the Denver Broncos and Atlanta Falcons, are both 0-2 on the season, the first time that has ever happened.

The Broncos lost to the Kansas City Chiefs, 28-10, while the Falcons fell to the Dallas Cowboys, 24-7, Monday night.

In other scores, Washington 20, New York Giants 21; Seattle 14, Chicago 15; Oakland 23, Minnesota 17; New England 21, Indianapolis 28; Pittsburgh 23.

Orangewood boys soccer team ranked nationally

Special to the Herald

MAITLAND - Orangewood Christian School's Boys Varsity

Soccer team is currently ranked #1 in the state of Florida (as of Sept. 17) while recording a record of 6-0.

Just this past Wednesday, Orangewood's soccer team reached new heights by being ranked #22 in the National Soccer Coaches Athletic Association/Adidas National Ranking Poll in USA Today Newspaper.

This is the first time that the boy's soccer program, or any athletic program at Orangewood, has broken into the top 25 national rankings.

Currently, Marquette (Milwaukee) is ranked #1 with a record of 9-0-1. Leesville Road of Raleigh, N.C. is ranked #2 with a 5-0 record, while St. Benedict's from Newark, N.J. is ranked #3.

One of the reasons for Orangewood Christian's success is their well balanced attack. They have seven returning starters who competed on the 1998 State-Runner Up Team that finished the season with a 21-3-1 record. These players are defenders Ian Stewart (senior), Matt Cole (junior), Jason Fraser (junior), midfielders Josh Taylor (senior), Todd Gatling (junior), and junior strikers Brandon Parsons and Ryan Boggs. This experience is invaluable and is hard to replace.

Sophomore midfielder Matt Smith leads the team in assists (7) while Brandon Parson leads the team in goals (8). Newcomer Brady Reich (junior) directs the Rams' defense.

Players who are either starters or see many minutes are senior forward Danny Clark, sophomore defender Drew Reisinger, sophomore midfielder Alex Thompson, and newcomer Jonathan Canero as a sophomore defender.

The Rams have two goal keepers who share time in the net. Junior Cory Shaffer, also a basketball starter at Orangewood, has yet to be scored upon and has three shutouts. Sophomore Greg Jackson has allowed three goals in three games.

While the Rams have allowed three goals in six games, they have sewed a total of 36.

The highlight of the season to this point was the two games played at the Disney Wide World of Sports complex where the Rams encountered a strong Pennsylvania team, Allentown Central Catholic, and defeated them 2-0 and 1-0.

Ackerson. "This girls' team is extremely young, and fairly deep in talent. It's exciting to think of the possibilities not just this season, but three and four years down the road.

Lindsey Bahr continues to sprint well for us, but we had about two-thirds of our team go best times in at least one event. Considering that they swam a hard 6,200-yard workout the night before, that's not too bad at all."

Seminole will next compete in a tough dual meet with Lake Mary at the Longwood Aquatic Center starting at 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

"We're going to continue to keep working hard through the dual meet season until we taper our training in late October for the district meet," said Ackerson. "I've already told our kids that the next five weeks will be the hardest of the year. But this has proven to be a hard working team all along, so I think they'll respond well."

HOROSCOPES

Wednesday, Sept. 22, 1999

Dime Fortune might be making it easier for you in the year ahead to operate on a much grander scale than you've previously experienced both socially and commercially. It'll be a good year. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Something propitious being engineered or negotiated by an ally might begin stirring now that would be exceptionally good for both you and this person. You could learn of it today. Virgo, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There's a strong possibility you could get involved in a situation today where you would be acting as an agent on behalf of another. You'll make a good deal that will benefit you also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Ride the time and be hopeful today instead of trying to prejudice people or events. There's a strong indication everything will work out better than you could engineer. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Greater remuneration from something you've been contracted to do might come your way today because of the "little extras" you did on the job. You've earned it, enjoy it. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) An exciting new romance could be on the horizon today for those of you who are unattached. Your attractiveness to members of the opposite gender might be greater than you thought. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Be careful not to tip your hand prematurely today if you're negotiating something of material value. Wait until you're ready to close and you'll get the deal. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Your optimistic and expectant attitude will smooth out your path today. The ease with which you make things for those who seek by your side is what will do the trick. ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you ever wanted to trust your instincts to guide you as to where the goose might have laid her golden eggs, this may be the day to do so. Think big and act boldly in money matters. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Now is not the day to give up on your dreams or desires. In fact, something for which you've been hoping might suddenly become a reality for you today. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Because you'll be equally as concerned about furthering the interests of others today as you will be for your own, your behavior will quickly and easily win you the approval of your peers. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Valuable friendships can be made today if you get involved in new activities where you'll have ample opportunity to meet new people. Many benefits could result. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An endeavor in which you're involved with others could possibly take a big turn for the better today. It might come from out of nowhere and develop into something quite large.

WIN AT BRIDGE

More instant winners

By Phillip Alder

On June 4 and 5, the American Contract Bridge League ran the Millennium Games, instant match-point events played across North America. After each deal, the competitors looked at the score sheet and immediately learned their score out of 100. The East-West winners Friday were Sue and Tom Grue, from Minneapolis, with a score of 1655; nearly 65 percent. After Tom (North) was allowed to open two clubs, strong, artificial and forcing, Sue's two diamonds guaranteed an ace or a king by partnership agreement. Next, Sue took control with Roman Key Card Blackwood. Five diamonds showed either four aces or, as here, three aces and the heart king. Five no-trump asked for king. Having all four, I think North should have jumped straight to seven no-trump; how could he have more? Yet when Tom settled for six diamonds, promising three kings outside hearts, Sue guessed well to bid seven no-trump. Pairs in seven hearts received 62 matchpoints (and East-West 38), whereas plus 2,320 in seven no-trump was worth 88 matchpoints.

Note that if North has one more spade and one fewer minor-suit card, all grand slams are anti-percentage. How would you play North's A-K-3 opposite South's J-9-5-3 for no losers?

Start with the ace, planning to continue with the king, hoping West drops the queen, allowing you to finesse South's nine on the third round. If East drops the queen on the first round (unless you think he would do that from doubleton Q-10), enter the South hand, then finesse the nine through West.

ASK DR. GOTT

Snap judgments about obesity

DEAR DR. GOTT: I read your column — as well as those by other health professionals — regularly. None of you would ever consider diagnosing a person's illness without "more information," but you don't hesitate to give a snap diagnosis about obesity. I've heard it all: from the patronizing to the smugly superior. You almost take on a moral fervor. You attack obese women with the same ferocity as the teen-age boys who shout obscenities at me from passing cars, or the so-called "Christians" who "witness" my "sin" of gluttony. Finally, a few weeks ago, a friendly nurse asked: "Has anyone ever tested your thyroid?" And guess what?

DEAR READER: Your rhetorical question suggests that underactive thyroid function led to your obesity. This is rarely the case. It's true that some overweight people do have a glandular/metabolic cause for their problem. However, thyroid deficiency as a cause of obesity would be a medical curiosity. Hypothyroid patients may be stout and puffy, because they retain fluid. Overweight people get that way, as a rule, because they consume more calories than they burn.

Incidentally, doctors may make snap diagnoses of obesity because, like high blood pressure, the diagnosis depends solely on the numbers. If you weigh 300 pounds, you're obese. Period. If you feel tired and have a fever, we'll need "more information" to help you.

Although many overweight patients have a genetic tendency to obesity, most people can lose weight (and keep it off) by assiduously keeping their caloric intakes at or below their daily requirements. If physicians sometimes take on a "moral fervor," it's because fat people have a high statistical prevalence of medical problems, ranging from hip and knee arthritis to hypertension and heart disease — and we would like to help patients avoid these complications.

Media doctors try their best to guide patients to additional resources, rather than second-guessing or making impulsive pronouncements. However, when the subject is obesity, the conclusion is inescapable: Eat less. If that doesn't work, seek medical attention.

To give you related information, I am sending you copies of my Health Reports "Winning The Battle Of The

PETER GOTT, M.D.

Bulge" and "Weight Control Through Calorie Control." Other readers who would like copies should send $3 for each report plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to mention the title(s).
