

Free Methodists Holding Convention

The Free Methodist Annual Session convention began yesterday at the Free Methodist camp ground, West Vina Street, in Kissimmee and will continue through Mar. 6. Fred R. Horton, pastor of the local church, announced today. All denominations are invited to attend.

Bishop Leslie R. Marston will be the principal speaker and according to Mr. Horton has been trained in science and has achieved distinction in the field of psychology. Other workers will include pastors and workers from the different circuits of the conference. Hotel rates are $1.00 per day or a total of $5.00. Meals at $6 and 50 cents and visitors are asked to bring linens and other personal articles.

Red Cross Drive

The Seminole Chapter, joining with the more than 3,500 chapters throughout the country, will offer everyone in the County an opportunity to contribute to the Red Cross and to become a member of the organization said Mrs. Gruber.

Red Cross services to the community is dependent upon full public support in meeting the motto which is based on minimum needs of the Red Cross services, she declared.

"Since the Red Cross is an organization of all people everywhere," said Mrs. Guber, "it is felt that citizens will meet their responsibilities by providing means to carry on its services."

Committee talked today at approving aid to education until President Truman assures there will be no federal controls over the schools.

By a divided 13 to 11 vote, the committee adopted a resolution to this effect by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa).

It also voted to take a Senate-passed aid bill as basis for working out a compromise of differences which have blocked a school bill in committee.

Although due to wind up its work Mar. 6, Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) said the committee intends to go beyond that date if necessary.

The Kearns resolution was regarded as a direct slap at federal security administrator Oscar Ewing.

It said the committee has no assurance that Commissioners of Education Earl J. McGrath will have "sole jurisdiction" of federal aid "without interference from the administrator of the ## Board Reveals Atom Defense Plan For U.S.

Senators Discuss Secret Plan To Convert U.S. In Case Of Sudden Atomic Attack

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—(AP) — Senators learned at a secret session today that emergency plans are ready now for shutting this nation to a war-time basis—including civilian defense against possible atomic bombing.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) said these assurances were given to the Senate Armed Services Committee by the top civilian planning agency, the National Security Resources Board.

Presidential assistant John R. Steelman, who also serves as acting chairman of the board, presented a summary of defense and emergency mobilization plans at a closed-door committee session this forenoon.

Steelman was accompanied by board members who have been drafting plans for industrial mobilization, manpower controls, and civilian defenses for use in any emergency, including sudden war.

SMITHERS, PEPPER To Launch Campaign

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 2—(AP) — The kickoff for Representative George Smithers' state wide stump speaking campaign for U.S. senator has been set for 10 A.M. Saturday at Monticello.

Additional speeches Saturday have been scheduled for Havana, Quincy, Chatahoochee and Marion.

Smithers' itinerary released yesterday takes him through Mar. 10 with six to eight speeches a day. It covers all the northern counties to Escambia and a block of counties in the north central part of the state.

Meanwhile, Senator Pepper officially launched his statewide campaign for reelection tonight.

Pepper has toured the state and made numerous speeches, but he and his workers list a rally and statewide broadcast to start at 9 P.M. as the beginning of the statewide effort.

The senator promised a "frank, forthright and hard-hitting talk" in his bid for another term to make it 30 straight years in the office. The talk will be broadcast by 50 radio stations in Florida.

RACE TRACK Manager Ordered Shock Phone

LAKE WALES, Mar. 2—(AP) — A telephone company official said today that wires were installed in a communications shack overlooking Sunshine Park on instructions from the horse track's general manager.

Howard Sheek, assistant general manager, superintendent for the Panhandle Telephone Company, said he told the phone company to hold the wire connection above a line from the track's辉煌 house.

Attorney General Richard Ervin claims the wire house was being used to call quick results of races to Continental Press Service in New York for distribution to illegal race bet bookmakers.

EXPLOSION KILLS ONE

LAKE APACHE, Mar. 2—(AP) — One person was killed today when a powerful explosion wrecked the winter home of a New York investment broker at nearby primitive Mountain Lake.

President Says Door Is Open In U. S. For Any Foreign Peace Discussion

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—(AP) — President Truman said today the door is still open here for any foreign peace moves, but he never will go to Moscow on any such mission while he is President.

As for the Senate investigation of charges that a Communist spy ring exists in the State Department, Mr. Truman said no one but the President has made a concrete effort to get at the bottom of the security problem. He said he would cooperate with the Senate's inquiry, but wouldn't say whether he will turn over employee's loyalty files to investigators.

Eight Of Family Perish In Blaze Of Small Home

MONROVIA, Mar. 2—(AP) — Fire raced through a small house here early this morning, killing eight members of a family and critically injuring a ninth.

The dead were Elwood Smith, 60, his mother, Mrs. Harriet Smith, 68, and his six children. The young ones ranged from a baby to a 10 year old girl.

Smith's wife, Norma, 32, found naked and struggling through deep snow toward a road, we reported in "very poor" condition.

The fire, which started in the kitchen, spread rapidly, reached the lower main floor, then the upper, and finally the roof.

The one-and-one-half story dwelling was believed to be the second oldest in this Bakersfield county seat, rising to 100 miles northwest of Bakersfield.

At daybreak firemen had recovered three bodies, burned beyond recognition.

Firemen fought the flames near zero cold. They plowed through deep snow to reach the scene.

A neighbor, Eugene Bickford, said he heard Mrs. Smith scream. He ran to the Smith home and carried Mrs. Smith to his house where she collapsed. Her night clothing had been torn off. She had struggled about 50 feet through deep snow toward the road.

Bickford summoned firemen and sped back to the burning building. "I broke a window," he related, "but it was impossible to get into the house for smoke. It was just pouring out. I could hear someone moving around in there but I couldn't do anything."

Established here 28 years ago, the company was first known as the Bakersfield Gas & Power Co., later the W and W Auto Parts Co.

The Castle Jewelry Co. and Wright's Barber Shop will remain at their present locations in the theater building, said Mr. Scott.

Mrs. Augusta Schmidt Dies From Illness

Mrs. Augusta W. Schmidt, 79, died in the local hospital at 8:35 P.M. yesterday following a short illness.

Mrs. Schmidt had spent the past two winters at the Fellowship Inn. Her home was in Pinewood, Mich.

Born Aug. 24, 1876, in Germany, the deceased had lived for more than 55 years in Pinewood and was a member of the Baptist Church of Beaver, Mich.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rudolph Birdling of Pinewood; three sons, Albert of Detroit; William and Fred of Pinewood, and Sanford; and seven grandchildren.

Services were held at 4:00 P.M. today at Eickson Funeral Home with Dr. W. M. Castle, Sr., officiating. The remains will be sent to Pinewood for interment.

PILOT KILLED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—(AP) — Nine out of ten fatal crashes in private airplanes are due to pilot error. Nearly half of those mistakes result from recklessness.

The Civil Aeronautics Board's safety investigation division reported this morning in an analysis of 850 air accidents in 1948. The study was concerned with the "human equation" in flying mishaps involving planes other than commercial air carriers.

United Mine Workers Not Guilty Of Contempt Charge

Judge Upholds Lewis' Contentions That He Is Not Responsible For Mine Shutdown

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—(AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today he will propose a Senate investigation of the entire coal strike situation and the government's handling of the contempt case against the United Mine Workers.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—(AP) — The United Mine Workers today were found innocent of contempt of court in the 1950 soft coal strike.

Federal Judge Richmond B. Keach, who heard the case without a jury, announced a verdict of "not guilty" on both the civil and criminal contempt charges.

The Judge said that he had considered the government's petition and "found on the record" that the charges of contempt of the Feb. 11 back-to-work order were not supported.

The union had contended that it was in no way responsible for the refusal of the miners to work. Its defense was that the 372,000 odd miners had each put work by individual decision, not by function of the union, and that others of the union had done all they could to end the strike.

Keach took just two minutes to announce his decision.

After offering counsel for both sides an opportunity to be heard and saying that he had "heard none," the Judge signaled to the marshal that he escort him from the courtroom.

He made his announcement soberly and white-faced.

Keach had prepared a long written opinion, but announced his ruling and did not bother to read the prepared document.

The decision was a stunning surprise to the crowded court room because the union in two previous strike cases has been held guilty.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Falling to act is sometimes sin.
Some do not commit gross sin, but the lack of sympathy, failure to help distressed persons, pride, superciliousness are also truly sinful. There is no man that sineth not.—2 Chron. 6:30.

Under the new Russian decree fixing the value of the Russian monetary unit, the ruble is worth exactly 3.42858 grains of fine gold.
Since the American dollar is worth 13.714 grains of fine gold, that makes the American dollar worth 3.9999 rubles, which is to say about four rubles.

The latest from Joe Abrams, Jacksonville political prognosticator who boasts 95 percent batting average, says that Senator Pepper has 44 percent of the vote in Florida, George Smathers 52 percent. Now don't get us wrong. We don't take much stock in these polls either. We're just presenting these figures for what they're worth.

We may not like the two party system we have in this country, but imagine how much worse it is the 100 party system which they have in Greece. There an election will be held next Sunday where 250 seats in parliament will be filled by the electorate from among 2,000 candidates belonging to 100 separate and distinct political parties.
No wonder democracy doesn't always work in these foreign lands.

What's this? Of all things, the Soviet Union has gone back on the gold standard! They have switched from the dollar as their international standard of value to gold as their monetary yardstick. This is because, the Russians say, "gold has a more stable value." That's just what the hated capitalists have been saying all the time. Of course, nobody in Russia will be able to get any of this gold, but if you want to buy anything from the Russians, you can lay it on the barrel head, the gold, that is.
The skinflints!

Pointing out that Senator Pepper could win Senate renomination hands down in New York, John O'Donnell, writing for the New York Daily News, says, "After bel-lowing into every microphone north of the Mason-Dixon Line that he was all for the anti-segregation, anti-discrimination proposals, Senator Pepper arrived in Florida to assure fellow Southerners that he never would favor social equality of the races." Perhaps we had better send Claude back to New York and let him run up there.

It is now revealed by his own confession that the British scientist, Klaus Fuchs, admitted freely to American atomic energy plants secrets dealing with the development of the atomic bomb and gave them to Russia upon four different occasions. These secrets may have meant much or little to the Russian scientists working on the bomb, but wouldn't it be better to get rid of those pesky old Washington who are inclined to trust the Russians and the Communists, giving them access to such important matters?

Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek has assumed the position of the interim Chinese government which can be considered as the National Government. He is a former member of the Communist Party and is a former member of the Chinese Communist Party.
And finally, death is capable of being controlled. Who would have thought that

Legalized Gambling

Gangland's timetable calls for the 1951 Legislature to legalize gambling in Florida, the Miami Daily News declares in an article by Charles Hesser, the newspaper's political writer, who says there will be three steps in the plan:

"Illegal gambling in Florida will run at full blast next season—the state will be the widest-open in its history. Some law enforcement officers in several key counties, after a perfunctory gesture to stop gambling, will throw up their hands in despair.

"A well-financed propaganda campaign, with money from the hoodlum circle, will attempt to stamp it in everybody's mind that gambling must be legalized to be controlled," he adds.

The campaign is supposed to set up the Legislature and make it ripe for a legal gambling law, Hesser writes.

"Fantastic?" he asks. "Yes, it sounds fantastic, but that is the way the underworld works."

It won't be the first attempt to ram legalized gambling through the Florida Legislature, he added. It has been tried several times.

Gangland bores its way into the Legislature by two methods," according to Mr. Hesser. "First, the underworld contributes heavily to campaigns. In many instances, candidates running on legalized gambling platforms do not know their masters.

"A 'friend' will induce the candidate to include legalized gambling in his platform. Backer of that 'friend' may go all the way back to the single master mob. When such a candidate is elected to the Legislature, his vote of legalized gambling is in the bag.

"Many times, when the racketeers can't buy the election
they attempt to buy the man after he has been put in office.
There have been many instances of legislative scandals revolving around gambling interests."

Our Back Yard

As a people we need to pay more attention to our own hemisphere. It is our own back yard, while the areas of Europe and Asia to which we have been so fervently devoting our thoughts, efforts and dollars are, after all, in the other half of the world. To say that is not to suggest that we ought to abandon and forget Europe and Asia. But neither should we forget the rest of the Americas. They are our part of the world, not in the sense of possession but in the sense that it is the immediate part of the world to which we belong.

Occasionally someone assures us that the State Department has not forgotten the Americas, that its appropriate sections are busy with Latin American affairs. It also can be pointed out that trade and industrial people have not been forgotten.

Exporters and importers are still at work in our hemisphere, somewhat hampered by the shortages of dollars which bother our southern neighbors as well as those across the sea, industrial interests have continued to look for new sources of materials to the north and south.

These are not enough; the most enduring international ties are those among peoples. With the outbreak of war America became preoccupied with Europe and Asia; that preoccupation has not ended. This attitude has been reflected unwillingly in Congress and the Administration. The United States has been publicly and officially engrossed with affairs to east and west, to the detriment of our relations with the southern neighbors. Effort toward better balance is needed.

Remembered Speech

A century ago the Senate heard one of the few speeches in our history known by the date of delivery. Daniel Webb Steves' Seventh of March speech till repays reading for its eloquence. It is also a reminder of grave days happily ended.

On March 7, 1850, the South was straining at the ties which still bound her to the Union. So many points of difference had arisen between North and South that a group of senators, headed by Henry Clay, rose above party to set the tide differences in one grand compromise, known after its enactment as the Compromise of 1850.

Like many compromises, it only half-satisfied some and irritated others. The North was particularly irked by a provision requiring it to return fugitive slaves. This caused the passage of the bill to hang in the balance till Webster's matchless oratory turned the scale.

Webster helped to stave off disunion for another ten years, but lost the allegiance of the anti-slavery supporters.
John G. Whittier wrote a bitter poem, "Ichabod," whose character is indicated by the first verse:

"So fallen! so lost! the light withdrawn
Which once he wore!
The glory from his gray hairs gone
Forevermore!"

Today's weighty problems at least do not include an impending break-up of the Union, as was the case one hundred years ago when Webster uttered the famous Seventh of March speech.

viewing the transaction.

"I want to borrow $600," says our neighbor. "Now most will anticipate the next few questions, having been through it."
"Do you have any notes at the present time?" the banker inquires.

"Yes," says our neighbor. "I owe the bank at this moment
about $600."

"What is your annual income,
Mr. Truman?"

"I'm home but amount
about $6000."

"That income is composed of the same salary as before, the same date, without $600 more taken out of his savings account."

But the banker gives allowances for unforeseen circumstances. He tells Mr. Truman, "If you lose your job, will be able to cover
your portion of your debts?"

"I'm not too worried about that,"
says Mr. Truman. "I have a good job, and I'm doing well."

"Well, then, there won't be any problem in getting you the $600 loan," says the banker.

"I'll be forced to spend more than I earn."

"Pardon me," the startled banker interposes. Do you mean that, owing already an amount that constitutes a great debt, what you'll take is during a year, you're going to spend more than you earn?"

"That's right," says Neighbor Truman. "You see, I must provide tuition at private schools for my children. I must help a poor relative set up a new business in which he's going to lose a lot of money."

"Just what kind of business is that relative going to sink your money in?" the incredulous banker asks.

"Why," says Mr. Truman, "he's got a wonderful humanitarian idea. He wants to sell milk to the Hotties."

"That's a good idea," says the banker.

"But the banker gives allowances
for unforeseen circumstances. He tells Mr. Truman, "If you
lose your job, will be able to cover
your portion of your debts?"

"I'm not too worried about that,"
says Mr. Truman. "I have a good job, and I'm doing well."

Williams Warns
Motorists To Obey
Crossing Signals

Motorists today were warned by Police Chief Roy G. Williams against speeding across railroad crossings while being flagged and when signals are flashing and locomotives are approaching with whistles blowing and bells ringing.

Among the dangerous crossings pointed out by Chief Williams are the main ACL crossing on Thirteenth Street, the branch line at French Avenue and Thirteenth Street, where new traffic lights have been installed in the Park Avenue crossing at Fifteenth Street, and the crossing near First Street. Another crossing is at French Avenue in front of the railroad shops.

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad recently called upon law enforcement officers throughout the state to enforce traffic regulations at street-railroad crossings.

Local police officers have alerted drivers to such motorists as attempt to beat traffic lights and cross railroad tracks.

Chief Williams reported that last year there were 1,200 automotive accidents involving crossing railroads.

Williams recommended that motorists obey traffic signals and wait for the train to pass before crossing the tracks.

Child Should Have Emotional Stability

AP Education Writer
DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
Parents nowadays are learning to recognize the importance of their child's emotional stability.

But, for a great many fathers and mothers says Dr. Frank Emerson, director of the outpatient clinic and psychosomatic service at the State University of Iowa, this problem is one that bristles with perplexities.

Dr. Coburn tries to answer several of these perplexities in an article entitled, "Handling Anxiety and Hostility," in National Parent-Teacher Magazine. Says Dr. Coburn, "Something which reduces a child's anxiety is his certainty that his needs will be met." He continues, "If he has more anxiety in him, it is not the love the parents feel for the child that reassures him and reduces his anxiety but the love he feels from them. In other words, it is not enough for parents to feel loving and affectionate toward their children. They must get this attitude across by showing their love."

The newborn gets his feelings of affection from close physical contact, from being rocked in his parents' arms, from being held close, cooed at. As he grows older, this demonstration of love becomes a matter of spending time with him, playing games with him, constantly showing an interest in him and his happiness. After the child's developing intellectual powers and needs must be met.

It is probably true, too, says Dr. Coburn, that no child ever grows up without having been heartily hated by his parents. This is inevitable since a child may be forced to do something he doesn't want to do; when his hands come in ty taut. He to bed, and so on.

What can we do about this? Some treatment can be given by explaining why the child is necessary and that the child's concern of living and growing is important. This can be done by letting the child know that he is loved, and for what. We should be just as polite to our children as to our friends. Our demands should be reasonable.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riser of Lake Mary today announced the birth of a son, Kenneth Bryan, Sunday at the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando. Mrs. Riser is the former Ann Humphrey.

For a refreshing drink mix a can of baby food strained peaches with three tablespoons of lemon juice, a cup of water, a tablespoon of sugar, and a few drops of almond flavoring. Stir together with ice cubes, and serve in a tall glass.

The old-fashioned rule, in making tea, of using 1 teaspoon for each cup and "one for the pot" is still a good one. Be sure the water is boiling perfectly before you pour it on the tea; let it steep for about 5 minutes and serve with lemon or milk, but not cream.

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Cherry Blossom time is just around the corner. So is it any wonder that Fred Astaire decided to introduce a new dance called "Cherry Bounce?"

A wonderful way to get in swing for Spring, the dance which is loads of fun is catchy and gay and easy to learn. Here's how:

The first step is the roundabout bounce. It is danced in regular clover position, and girls simply bounce up and down keeping their feet together, for eight quick hops. Turn to the right. The turn is then reversed, with the dancers bouncing to the left.

Then comes the cherry hop. The boy steps forward on his left foot and swings his right foot back on the right foot, then the girl steps back on her right foot and swings her left foot back on her left foot and swings her right foot.

Then as if you didn't talk about the "Cherry Chant," look, comes the "Cherry Chant." . . . but it's been modernized and streamlined.

The boy steps forward on his left foot and swings his right foot back on the right foot, then the girl steps back on her right foot and swings her left foot back on her left foot and swings her right foot.

If you have any difficulty with this part of the dance, consult Mom and Pop for their version. You'll pick up some interesting pointers from them and make your own dance look like a pro.

Following the "Cherry Chant," the dancers break away and face each other for the "Cherry Shuffle." The boy has his right arm through the girl's right arm (the dancers are facing each other), the boy shuffles forward starting on his left foot while the girl shuffles back, starting on her right.

After the shuffle, the boy steps back on his left foot, which he now holds in his left hand, and the girl shuffles back on her right foot, which she now holds in her right hand.

The new song, "Cherry Blossom," is danced in a tango style. A tango step, which will begin the wedding, will take place on March 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Sanford. All friends of the bride are invited.

The wedding will begin at 8:30 p.m. on the room of the Rev. Dr. D. W. Booth by Minister Dr. Sammie L. Booth and the late Dr. W. B. Booth of Tallahassee.

The wedding will take place on March 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Sanford. All friends of the bride are invited.

Mr. Hartman, at present attending Florida Institute of Technology, is associated with the church. Dr. W. B. Booth, pastor of the church, is a member of the faculty.

The second in the series of two will be held for Dr. W. B. Booth by Minister Dr. Sammie L. Booth.

Prizes may be awarded to the couples who have the most imagination in creating the dance. About 100 people are expected to attend.

Why not plan a Cherry Blossom party and try out the new "Cherry Blossom"?

When you are preparing the white and yellow cake, be sure to note that the whites are free of any speck of yellow, even the tiniest bit of yolk will prevent the white from browning up to their natural volume. If you do have to remove a bit of yolk, use a knife and cut the eggshell since the yolk will adhere to it.

red cherries could be the prizes paper doily you use as a placemat for your table setting or buffer.

A pretty souvenir for the girls would be a charm bracelet made of cherries. If you make them carefully, you should be able to keep the fruit from pulling out of the bracelet.

First make a bracelet of stems by bending them then attach the cherries to the stems.

Then go to town and attach the cherries to the stems.

Why not serve Chinese food at your blossom party, ideal for Springtime and cherry blossoms?

You can get canned shrimp, meatballs, chicken and noodles, and the rice can be whipped up in a jiffy. You can get mother to save you the chicken broth the next time she cooks chicken and you can make a reasonably good Chinese egg drop soup by skipping a few raw eggs while the soup is being warmed.

Regional Tourney At Orlando Stadium To Match Top Aces

The Sanford high school basketball team will tangle with the latter school's cymath in their opening game of the Regional Class A Basketball Tournament. Game time is scheduled for 9:00 P.M.

The winner of the contest will take on Jefferson, of Tampa, Friday night at 7:30 P.M.

Couch Fred Gannas said this morning he sees little hope that his boys, winners in only two contests throughout the season, will defeat the cage-wise Orlando five. "However," he said, "we'll be in there fighting all the way. Orlando won't run roughshod over us."

In reviewing Sanford's 1950 schedule of 11 losses and 2 wins, Gannas said, "Lack of experience was the whole story in every game we played. The boys worked hard during each practice drill, but they lacked the court background that a successful team must have."

Gannas indicated that next year his eagles would be able to boast a better season record when the final whistle blows.

"We are losing only two varsity starters this year," he said. (Charles Thomas and George Watkins) "while I expect to have over eight lettermen returning for the 1951 season."

Clarence Clause, who was chosen All Conference forward, will be the nucleus around which the 1951 edition of the basketball team will be built. Clause wound up the season with 181 hooped points, which represents a slightly better than 13 points per game average.

Gannas also expects to graduate several members from the B squad into regular starting battles.

The returning lettermen will be Jerry Covington, Garnett White, Clarence Clause, Lloyd Reynolds, Marion Butler, Bill Harrison, Jimmy Smith and Wise Hardin.

"Experience," Gannas emphasized, "is what we lacked this year. Next season we will have that experience, plus strength in depth."

Kentucky Quintet Seeded First In SEC Cage Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Mar. 2. — (AP) — The firing begins this afternoon in the Southeastern Conference basketball tournament with a new angle.

Several teams are rated to have a good chance of knocking out defending champion Kentucky, if given the opportunity.

It has been 11 straight titles for the Kentucky Wildcats coached by Adolph Rupp. But this year may be a different story.

Two half clubs will train at the Municipal Ball Park and the adjacent field, and will be housed at the Mayfair Inn.

The sophomores are improved, with the season's experience behind, but several other SEC teams also are better. So the observers are predicting a closely contested tournament.

It gets under way with Louisville at 7:30 P.M. Friday, followed by Florida at 1:30 P.M. tomorrow. LSU has much Indiana-developed talent and won five in 13 SEC starts this season. Florida won four of 14 games. LSU defeated Florida during the season 73-49. The winner goes against Auburn, which has improved vastly, at 1:30 P.M. tomorrow.

Tennessee, which upset Kentucky at Knoxville, meets Georgia Tech in Atlanta. But Tennessee won the return game 60-50. Tennessee holds a 7-0 mark. The other plays Vanderbilt, which lost two consecutive battles to Kentucky, at 9:15 P.M. tomorrow.

Florida Golfers
Move To DeLand
For Hatter Tilt

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 2.—(Sports)—The University of Florida golf team will make its second out-of-town appearance in a row when Coach Bill Dellastations' Saurian Indians travel to DeLand for a match with Stetson Saturday afternoon.

The Gators will play their first post-Saturday by defeating the Jacksonville Naval Air Station Links squad in Jacksonville by a 45-18 margin.

The Florida golfers have quite reputation to uphold in Southern circles this Spring, as the 49 crew swept through 11 straight opponents without dropping a match.

The Gators' Coach Dellastations is returning letters from the all-conquering 1949 crew, plus several promising additions to the squad.

Back for another Spring tour are Jimmy Yancey, Bill Fernandez, Frank Van Aken, Al Rositer, Leon Sikes, and Elbert Thompson. Newcomer Tom Hall, Sam Bryan, and Bud Harrelson are the rest of the squad.

In their first meeting of the year against the Naval crew, top players Yancey and Fernandez lost their matches to the Air Station's first flight men, but the heat of the Gator squad won their matches to give the Maurians the decision.

The Gators will play matched against all the 100 of the month when visiting rival Georgia comes to town. After the match with Stetson, the Florida squad moves down to Lakeland to tackle Florida Southern's Holzman Mar.

NEW YORK — The Cincinnati Reds made the best deal of the winter. Authority for that statement is Frankie Frisch, former member of the Gus House gang now managing the Chicago Cubs. "The Reds got two good ballplayers for one," said Frisch just before he quit his quiet off-season life in suburban New Rochelle for the Cub's preliminary training base at Catalina Island. "They got Ron Northey and Lou Klein for Harry Walker. They got two regulars for one."

Of course, the Cubs didn't do too badly in the winter market, either. Frisch was reprimanded by the TV announcers each wrestling is when women see it on the video screen, they won't let their sons wrestle in school or college as far as the gung-ho George Mr. Musto of Henry Wittenberg would chase them right out of the ring."

OPPORTUNITIES UNLIMITED
Handling out sage advice to would-be football coaches along the rubber-chicken circuit, Frank Dobson, former Maryland and Richmond Tutor, has this to say:

"Don't worry if you don't have coaching ability. Just seek out an institution that will give you a long term contract—three at least but preferably five—and then try to get your staff fired after the first two seasons. You will be a much greater success financially, and the market for this type of coach is wide open these days."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
First "Rookie Suspension" to turn up this year with the world champion Yankees is 21-year-old pitcher Eddie Ford, who could have had a bonus but preferred minor league seasons. Eddie, who expects to wind up at Kansas City, comments: "It would be great to be with the Yankees. The stadium is only 20 minutes from home."

Lloyd Jordan, new Harvard football coach, claims to be the only grid coach who ever had a sabbatical leave. After a couple of years on a job that whittled down such husky guys as Dick Harlow and Art Valpey, Lloyd may need another. —Unusually Harvard does something about netting him him players.

Johnny Brice, who fights Illinois Rooney in a garden prelim tomorrow, played first base on the city championship soft ball team in Paterson, N. J. although he's only 5-5 tall. Must have some reach.

TRAINING CAMP QUOTES
Dick Wakefield: "I've got six weeks in which to sign a contract. Why hurry?" . . . Tommy Henrich: "At first base you don't have to run out the pitcher's mistakes."

STINGY THAT'S ALL.

Art Klein, who'll be with the Cubs' Nashville farm this spring, must have set a record of some sort at Janesville, Wis., last summer when he pitched only 75 balls in a three-hit, 8-1 victory over Appleton. Of the 75 pitches in nine innings, 65 were strikes.

—Unusually Klein, who was Elvin Stakefield, has been advanced from Des Moines to Los Angeles. Last August Elvin walked the first Pueblo batter then retired the next 27 for a no-hit game. He made just 89 pitches.

Dust Bowl Farmer Converts His Waste Land Into Fertile Ranch

By ROBERT E. FORD
AP News Service

TEXLINE, Tex. How tough can things get? Ace Willis almost found out.

He and his wife sat in their tenement house in the dust bowl and mentally surveyed 18 square miles of barren land. It was dismal picture. Hardly a drop of rain had fallen on those 11,200 acres in three years.

It wasn't even the Willises' land. They were paying rent on it. Three years before, their Oklahoma cotton ginning and implement business had disappeared in the depression. It looked like their farming venture was about to go the same way.

It was a time when the "Okies" were on the move. Experts were saying the dust bowl land should never have gone under the plow.

People were tractors out, dusted out and discouraged out. Three years of that dust bowl was about all a lot of people could stand. Mr. and Mrs. Willis got stand.

Just when things looked their the laugh of their lives, the county agent at that time, J. S. Colman, Jr., drove out. He made arrangements with the willises' project they'd ever been. He wanted the Willises to show that section of Hartley county how to farm to make theirs a demonstration farm.

"I thought it was the easiest thing I had ever heard," Willis said. "We hadn't demonstrated anything except the futility of trying to farm here."

Mr. and Mrs. Willis talked it over. "We got to thinking that there might be something to all the planning the county agent was talking about, and we decided to try it."

Look at the Willises today. They own 35 square miles of farm and ranch land. That's 22,400 acres. They have a fine new home with conveniences equal to those of any city dwelling. About 1,800 head of their cattle are grazing 27 sections and there are 5,600 acres in cultivation. (A section equals a square mile.) The land is producing abundantly.

Willis, and many like him, have whipped the dust bowl. That wide section of America rarely is referred to by that term any more.

Louis Franks, writing in the Extension official publication of the Texas A & M. extension service, explains:

"The thing a lot of people haven't realized is that what caused the dust bowl wasn't just a long drought, a lot of wind and lack of conservation practices, but a combination of those things with a depression."

Franks quotes Ace Willis:

"You can't fight wind erosion on 25-cent wheat, and if you can't hold moisture, and it rains, if you haven't got money—or credit—to buy tractor fuel,

"you don't know a lot more how to handle the land, and we have the power and the equipment to do in a matter of hours what would have taken weeks to do 16 years ago. And weeks won't get the job done when you're fighting wind erosion."

Willis scoffs at the theorists who said land like his should never have been cultivated—that it should have been left to nature to keep the soil from blowing. He cites an example of two of his sections of former "dustland"—once an area of sand dunes which looked something like those of the Sahara desert.

Willis left Oklahoma to try farming in Hartley county in 1933. He thought in big terms. He bought in big terms and rented 18 sections—11,200 and rented "dust" in a feed crop that year—planted in dry land. One section got a light shower—not enough for a crop. The other sections were dry. He tried to raise pigs and pasture with a possible profit of $21.

In 1934, he planted several thousand acres of wheat. Not a grain was harvested. Too dry again.

He worked for an implement company in Oklahoma and made a slight profit feeding cattle to keep going.

He planted wheat again in 1935. It blew out. That fall, he did raise some feed and custom-pastured 700 head of cattle.

That was about the time Colman proposed that the Willises operate a demonstration farm. Plans included soil and water conservation aimed at holding the rain where it fell, raising cattle and hogs, planting of windbreaks, and trees, sodding of the roads to keep dust out of the houses, terracing and the like to save the one-crop route, among following.

Also, Coleman persuaded Willis to divide his 18 sections into eight sections of wheat, two of native of Sudan pasture and three of summer fallow.

That fall it rained, and in the summer of 1936, Willis harvested 68,000 bushels of wheat. "You've got to give rains credit," Willis said. "But don't forget, the land was ready for the rain when it came."

That 68,000 bushels of wheat was more than was harvested in all the rest of Hartley county that year. Willis had demonstrated. In 1937, he made nearly $2,000 from his share. In the winter of 1938-39, he sowed wheat for pasture for 17 head. Cattle are allowed to graze young wheat, to keep the wheat from getting too tall too early.

That was the year Ace decided to buy. He purchased a section in Delano county for $350 an acre. It was the core of what now is 35 sections. It was desert blowdown. But Ace already knew how to stop the blowing. Also, about that time farmers in the area discovered great reservoirs of underground water and began irrigating large areas. Ace has 16 wells now on his place.

The family moved to the new project in 1942. Just the previous year, he harvested 100,000 bushels of wheat, summered 3,000 cattle on Sudan, fed out 2,000 head of Mexican work oxen and 1,000 steers and built up 1,500 acres of pasture.

Senators Ask Extension Of Rent Control

Lucas To Introduce Legislation To Keep Ceiling On U. S. Rental Units

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3—(UPI) — Top Democratic senators today asked a one-year extension of federal rent controls now due to expire June 30.

Majority leader Lucas (D-Ill.) and assistant leader Myers (D-La.) told a reporter they would introduce legislation today to carry out President Truman's call for continuation of the present federal rent law.

At his news conference yesterday day Mr. Truman said again that he wants the controls kept on in other years.

A Senate floor battle appeared certain because the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee already has approved a move to let federal rent ceilings die June 30.

Meanwhile Senate and House conferees failed today in their first attempt to iron out differences in legislation dealing with potatoes, cotton and other crops.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Oklahoma) head of the Senate team, said the joint group "just talked things over and will meet again tomorrow."

Time is running out because many farm crops are now being planted in the south.

The House passed a bill to allow for 1,400,000 to 2,000,000 additional acres of cotton beyond quota set under government controls. It also provided for an additional 100,000 acres of peanuts.

The Senate voted to restrict the additional cotton acreage and raised other "interests" affecting other crops. One of the chief ones would remove "price" supports in wish potatoes beginning next year unless Congress sets up, and growers accept rigid controls over both planting and marketing.

Senators Oppose Entrance Visas For 'Peace' Group

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(UPI) — The United States refused today to permit a 12-member European "peace delegation" headed by Paul Picasso, noted Spanish artist, to visit this country. The state department said that the 12 "are either known Communists or fellow travelers and are therefore subject to exclusion from the United States under the immigration laws."

The possibility that the New York County major league team, which trains annually at Tucson, Arizona, might come to Sanford if a new baseball stadium is built was discussed by City Commissioner John Kinder during the public discussion on the proposed stadium last night at the Court House.

City workmen yesterday started repairs on the grandstand at Municipal Park in order to put it into safe condition for the coming baseball season. Mayor Andrew Carraway announced this morning, "The full extent of the repairs needed is not known now, but the City can and will put the grandstand into condition for use this year," he declared.

He spoke on Railway Review, a journal of the National

Many Of Nation's School Buildings Termined Unsafe

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Mar. 3—(UPI) — Thousands of American children attend "obsolete, unsafe and totally unsanitary schools," a U. S. official said, and the nation must spend $17,000,000,000 in the next 10 years to rectify this.

Ray L. Hamm, chief of the school building section of the U. S. Office of Education, said $50,000 new elementary and high school classrooms are needed to meet the peak load of enrollment expected in 1958.

He spoke yesterday to a discussion group at the close of the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

In 1958, Hamm said, there will be 40,000,000 children in the nation's schools. Now there are about 30,000,000 in the schools, he said.

"The nation is faced with the most critical educational plant shortage in history," Hamm said.

He added, "A shortage exists in both public and non-public facilities for elementary and secondary schools and for institutions of higher education."

MAGICIAN JAILED

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 3.—(UPI) — William V. Barker, 68, a magician, faced hearing Mar. 10 on charges involving his two 14-year-old girl helpers in a morals violation.

He was returned to jail yesterday in lieu of $15,000 bond after arraignment in city court.

The girls, told a district attorney's investigator that Van Kegel relatives had them to have sexual relations with 17 schoolboys in recent months.

The alleged Barker was quoted as saying in a statement to officers, "I instructed the girls in the sexology aspects of the love relationship."

FIRE DESTROYS WARM

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3—(UPI) — Senator Holland (D-Fla.) was advised today that a proposed long-range guided missile base at Banana River, Fla., is included in a budget study being made by Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Holland said he lined up with Thompson, "to defeat Congress' proposal and the economic and political philosophy as symbolized and espoused."

HORNELL WITHDRAW

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3—(UPI) — James C. Hornell, Orlando attorney, withdrew from the U. S. Territorial race last night and threw his support to Rep. George Smathers. He announced his withdrawal at the end of a speech before the Tampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Hornell said he lined up with

Thompson, "to defeat Congress'

A FILE CABINET is moved out of the Washington building occupied by the Bulgarian legation as the diplomatic staff of the Soviet satellite prepares to leave the United States. Following its diplomatic break, the State Department banned future travel to Bulgaria. (International)

Attlee Regime Threatened With Nation-Wide Strike, Steel Issue

LONDON, Mar. 3—(UPI) — The Labor government was probably repudiated today to have decided against a backdown now from its position on nationalization of steel.

The newly-appointed cabinet of Prime Minister Attlee met for a short time today and the well-informed lobby correspondent of the British Press Association, who often writes with official guidance, said:

"There is no foundation for the impression that the King's speech to the new Parliament on Monday will contain a statement which in effect is a government 'climb down' over front and steel nationalization."

In fact, the cabinet agreed of accepting a total dose of steel into Britain's veins in a so-calledmetry gesture to end her suffering.

Mr. South and Mrs. Barroso had "an avowed death poller" at the time and the war "cold and deadly."

"Was she breathing?" asked attorney Robert P. Booth.

"No, she wasn't," answered Mrs. South, who was supervising nurse in that part of the hospital at the time.

She was gasping?

"No, she wasn't."

Mr. South and Mrs. Barroso had a drawn, painful expression on their faces and I thought she had passed away."

Head Nurse Says Patient Not Breathing

Doctor Signs Statement That Cancer Patient Was Dead Before Injection

MANCHESTER, N. H., Mar. 3—(UPI) — A head nurse testified today Mrs. Abbie Rotondo had a death poller and was not breathing for minutes before Dr. Herman N. Sander ever injected air into the woman's vein.

"I thought he was dead," said Mrs. Rosalie Smith, who had worked in the patient's bedside at the Hillsboro County Hospital last Dec. 4.

Mr. South, a defense witness, said he failed to detect any pulse in the 49-year-old cancer stricken woman during her last visit to the bedside the morning Mr. Barroso died.

Later, the nurse testified she returned with Dr. Alfred Swan and that he took Mrs. Rotondo's pulse and listened to her heart beat through a stethoscope.

It was his signed statement that the woman had died when she last saw her and that she intended to Dr. Sander as the first doctor involved defendant went to the room moments later.

In his statement he agreed of injecting a fatal dose of air into Mrs. Rotondo's veins in a so-calledmetry gesture to end her suffering.

MAYOR ANDREW CARRAWAY ANNOUNCED THIS MORNING, "THE FULL EXTENT OF THE REPAIRS NEEDED IS NOT KNOWN NOW, BUT THE CITY CAN AND WILL PUT THE GRANDSTAND INTO CONDITION FOR USE THIS YEAR," HE DECLARED.
