COALITION OF GERMAN PARTIES INDICATES APPROVAL DAWES REPARATION REPORT

of Moderates, Clerical, Democrats and Peoples Get 229 Seats or Ten Times as Many as Filled by All Other Parties Combined—May Put Report in Execution

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—The promised coalition of the moderates, clerical, and people's party, is as assured on the basis of returns in yesterday's election. This coalition apparently has placed the approval on the Dawes report. Leaders of the coalition, including Foreign Minister Brüning, bases the campaign on the adoption and execution of a sure cure for Germany's ills.

War is Law of Jungle
Condemning war as a law of the jungle, the bishops endorsed the Dawes report. The bishops advocated the entry of the United States into the world war.

Our position must be that international warfare unless indisputably in self-defense or defense of humanity, is a monstrosity of the pagan past which has absolutely no place in the program of the modern world. We respectfully remind the government of the United States that we are not a party to any war.

Emphasizing the duty of America to use her vast resources and wealth for the succor of other nations, the bishops endorsed the Dawes report. The Dawes report, they said, "that the United States of America should co-operate with the other nations of the world in bringing about world peace."

Their Politics
Foreigners who as a rule confess his political views in Sunday's elections were surprised to discover that the German voters are not so much interested in the political views of the German voters as they are in the political views of the American voters.

PREDICTION IS A BUSY WEEK FOR CONGRESS

Most of Routine Business Disposed of But Week's Schedule Still Remains Crowded—First Test of New House Rule Allowing Discharge of Committee by Petition To Come Today

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Although most of the routine business has been cleared from their calendars, both the senate and the house have schedules for this week which call for six busy days.

The first test of the new house rule permitting the discharge of committees by petition will come tomorrow when an effort will be made to take the Berkeley bill to abolish the railroad labor board from the commerce committee. The fight will also involve a test of the house sentiment upon railroad legislation generally.

The tax bill holding the floor there will be no question of a vehicle for debate in the senate, but in addition that body faces an effort to pass the Bureau pension bill over President Coolidge's veto and discussion of the sale of Pine Island, both set for Tuesday, and a bare chance that the motion for discharge of the special internal revenue investigation committee may be brought up for action the same day.

Several of its open inquiries are working toward early conclusion, the senate will add a new one this week when hearings will begin in the Mayfield Texas election case. Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, chairman of the committee which has the inquiry in charge, announced public sessions would begin as soon as formal reports were received from Texas election clerks.

The Daugherty committee, the Texas land frauds committee and that awaiting the indictment of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana are listed for activity during the week. The Daugherty committee probably will continue to delve into Chicago liquor cases and the Wheeler committee is expected to consider documents obtained from the department of justice relating to the grand jury proceedings in Helena.

Another house bill of interest to farmers is that designed to carry out the recommendations of the interior department's fact-finding commission relating to reclamation. Hearings will be opened before the public lands committee during the new week with Elwood Mead, the new commissioner of reclamation, and Secretary Work scheduled as witnesses.

Friends Alarmed.
Representative Rogers declared that "the friends of the American navy have recently become greatly alarmed at the disclosure concerning the physical condition of our fleet, as well as the inadequacy in the number of several types." If the navy really is being maintained at the strength agreed upon at the Washington conference, he added, apprehensions may be dismissed.

"But if we are not," he added, "it is incumbent upon the administration and congress to make good the deficiencies. It is a fundamental policy of the American navy to maintain the 5-5-3 fleet ratio as it is to maintain the Monroe doctrine. Inactivity by the administration or by congress in this vital matter should not and will not be tolerated by the American people."

The firm of Wight Brothers has opened a new filling station at Sanford Avenue and Tenth Street, the formal opening taking place last Saturday. The new station makes the third which this firm has put into operation in Sanford and its opening was warranted by the splendid patronage that has been given to the other two stations, it was stated.

The first station to be opened by this concern is located at Second Street and Magnolia Avenue. Later one was opened at Elm Avenue and First Street. Some time ago plans were made for the erection of the latest station, which is now said to be one of the best equipped in this part of the state.

The firm has gone to considerable expense in erecting this handsome station which, built of white stucco, presents a very fine appearance. Everything will be of the most modern type. It is announced and the establishment under the management of E. Willis, will give the same excellent service that the firm's other stations have heretofore.

All popular brands of oil will be handled here and a specialty will be made in frank case service, washing and greasing cars and tire service. It is announced that a complete line of castings and tubes will be carried in stock.

Chinese Object To Closed Door Policy

TOKIO, May 5.—The delegation representing the Chinese association of Tokio called on Foreign Minister Matsui today and presented a memorial protesting against the Japanese exclusion of Chinese saying the Chinese expect the same consideration that Japan is seeking from America. The delegation emphasized that although all colored races are interested in the legislation to bar Asiatics from America it would be impossible to stand together while Japan maintained the present restrictions on Chinese immigration.

CONGRESS WOULD LEARN STRENGTH OF THE U. S. NAVY

Resolution Will Be Introduced to Compare American Navy With Those of England and Japan

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Two resolutions will be introduced Monday in the house with the object of ascertaining the present strength of the American navy, particularly as compared with those of Great Britain and Japan. Representative Britten, of Illinois, ranking Republican on the national committee, announced Sunday he would propose that the navy department transmit to congress a report covering twenty-seven points, while Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, said he would offer a terse resolution of inquiry. Both declared they were acting as a result of the recent report of Admiral Countz, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, in which deficiencies in the navy were pointed out.

Outlining the resolution he will offer, Mr. Britten said, it would "once more call to the attention of the country shocking state of our unpreparedness in a naval sense."

"$175,000,000 Wasted."
"Just imagine," he declared in a statement, "spending $175,000,000 over a period of years for submarine construction only to find that we have not a single ship that is worth a darn."

"If it takes the government ten years to build a useless submarine how long will it require to build a good one?"

"I am certain our navy is not in parity with England's and I am not sure that Japan is very far behind us, notwithstanding our superiority under the Washington conference to be nearly twice her size. Our greatest necessity is proper aviation to accompany the fleet, yet we are taking five or six years to build the carriers which should be constructed in three."

The Britten resolution will not only touch on the strength of the American navy, but will seek information from the navy department as to strength, in various particulars, of the British and Japanese navies.

Wight Brothers Have Opened Third Filling Station In This City
The firm of Wight Brothers has opened a new filling station at Sanford Avenue and Tenth Street, the formal opening taking place last Saturday. The new station makes the third which this firm has put into operation in Sanford and its opening was warranted by the splendid patronage that has been given to the other two stations, it was stated.

UNION CARBIDE PRESENTS NEW SHOALS OFFER

New York Company Makes Substitute Offer for Muscle Shoals Guaranteeing $120,000,000 for Fifty Year Lease or Entire Plant-Company Will Make 40,000 tons of Fixed Nitrogen at Cost

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—A substitute bid has been presented to the government by the Union Carbide Company of New York offering a guarantee of $120,000,000 for a fifty-year lease of all of the Muscle Shoals property. The original Carbide Company offer dealt with only a part of the project.

Under the new offer, the company agrees to manufacture on a cost plus basis 40,000 tons of fixed nitrogen in the form of "urea" a new fertilizer which the company claims has been endorsed by the department of agriculture. It also agrees to observe the federal water-power act and distribute throughout the South power for industrial, agricultural and home use.

Manufacturers Center.
The company offers to develop a manufacturing center at Muscle Shoals to turn out other products. The bid stipulates that 50,000 horse-power would be reserved for the manufacture of fertilizer at nitrate plant No. 2, at cost plus five per cent. One half of the five per cent profit would be used in research work to improve and cheapen the fertilizer process.

If a commercial fertilizer process is developed that is adaptable to plant No. 1, the company agrees to manufacture fertilizer at that plant also at cost plus five per cent. Of this profit it would spend one-half in further experimental work or for the provision of the investment of the government in nitrate plants Numbers 1 and 2.

2,000,000 Tons Per Year.
Two million tons of fertilizer could be produced from the annual supply of "urea" which the company agrees to manufacture, the bid states, if the material is shipped in concentrated form to the point of use and mixed in the ordinary 5-5-3 ratio now used in fertilizer compounds.

Should this bid prove unacceptable, the company offers to take over and manage the entire property for fifty years, excepting the navigation facilities, and sell the hydro-electric power and pay the government the revenue from three-fourths of all the power. The company's reward would be the use of one-fourth of the hydro-electric energy developed at Muscle Shoals.

Would Lease Plant.
In addition, the company agrees to lease nitrate plant No. 2 at a yearly rental of $150,000 and nitrate plant No. 1 at $25,000 and pay a royalty on the water quarry. The company would undertake to make fertilizer at plant No. 2.

The proposal is signed by E. F. Price, president of the Union Carbide Company, a Virginia subsidiary of the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation.

Senator Borah For Making War Illegal Over Entire World

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—International legislation making waging war illegal and an international economic conference to settle definitely the question of Europe's war debts were advocated by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, in an address today before the women's international league of O. S. C. for peace and freedom.

"So long as we continue to recognize war as a legitimate institution," he said, "so long as it transgresses no international law, we will fight for peace in vain."

Senator Borah criticized the Washington arms conference for having abolished "only a number of obsolete battleships" and for not having dealt with submarines, airplanes and poison gases which, he said, are the "coming methods of warfare."

(Continued from page 1.) The well wishes for the success of the gathering. Governor Upshur, who delivered the keynote address at yesterday's meeting, left Sanford on the 4:05 P. M. train yesterday for St. Louis, where he goes to fill a speaking engagement in that city on Sunday. The congressman was enthusiastic about the state meeting and expressed himself as well pleased with the outlook. Before departing from this city, Mr. Upshaw took occasion to extend through a representative of The Sanford Herald, hearty appreciation for the very warm entertainment that was given him by many friends and admirers, while in the city but for a few hours. At both the Sanford High School and grammar school he addressed large crowds yesterday morning and following his address at the convention, he was greeted with a big ovation.

Lift Country From Mercenary Politics Urges Bar President

(By The Associated Press.) PINEHURST, N. C., May 3.—A plea to lift America "above" the slough of mercenary politics and carry it steadily forward as a government of liberty under the law, was urged upon lawyers attending the convention of the North Carolina Bar Association in an address Friday night by Robert E. L. Saner, of Dallas, president of the American Bar Association. The call for active, intelligent and unselfish public service was never more insisted than today, Mr. Saner asserted, who said the traditions of the flag and the men who launched the government joined in admonishing "us to obey this call."

"The only forces that can preserve our republic are men with convictions and the courage of their convictions, he continued. "My plea is that a modicum of the same sort of courage that actuated our fathers shall be manifested not only by public officials but by the ranks of our citizenship. What we must have is an active exercise of the duties of citizenship by men who stand outside of party or class, whose sole motive and objective is the public weal, and who have the courage to tear a question open and let the light through. We must have men who stand for the right, for justice, for liberty under the constitution, and who will carry our republic forward toward the fulfillment of its high mission as a leader and exemplar of all the nations of the earth."

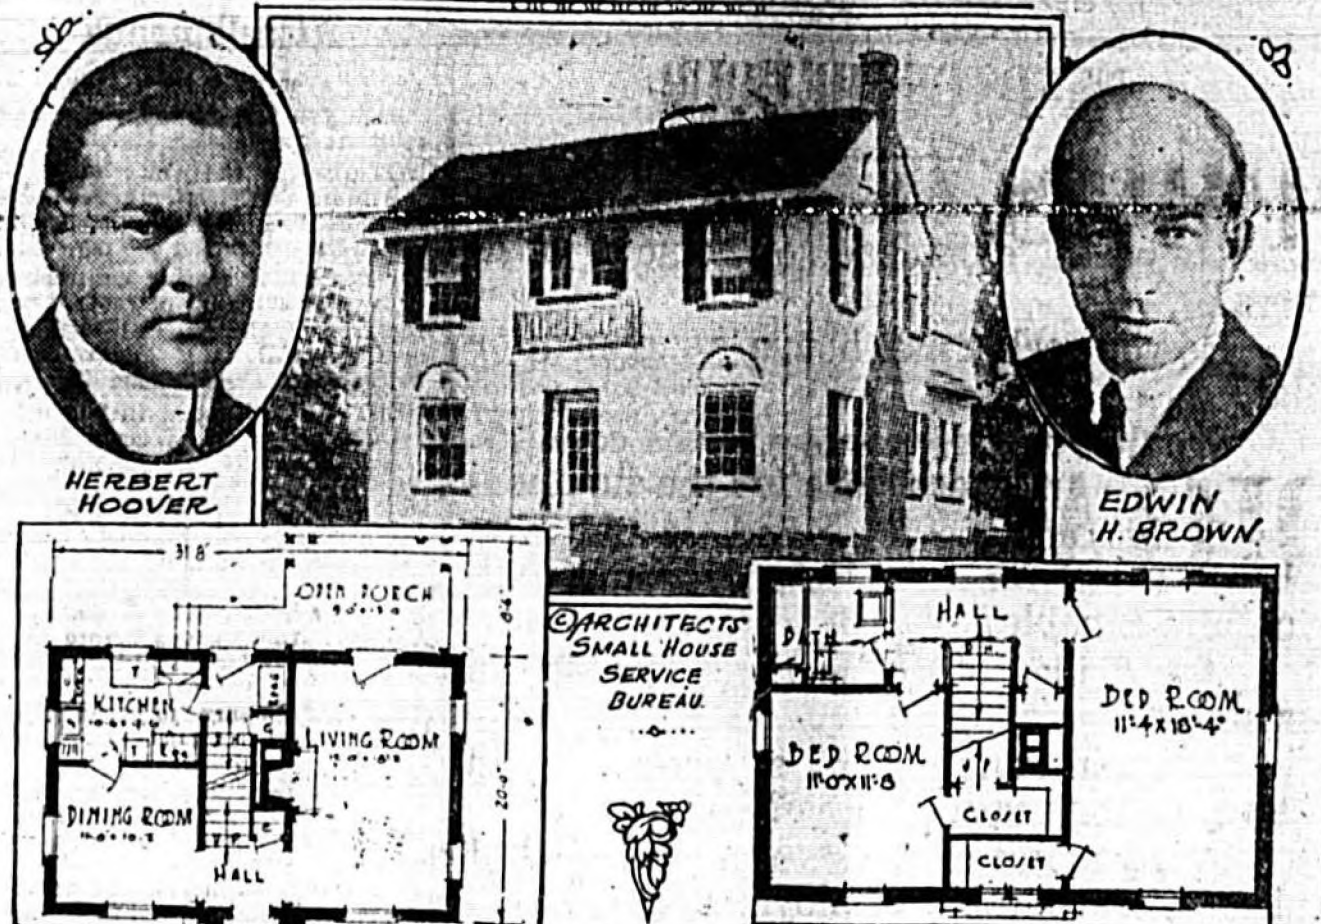

Edwin Markham Has Nothing But Praise For State Of Florida

Edwin Markham, the distinguished American poet, recently addressed a letter to Frank Kay Anderson, in the letter he declared that Florida "is unquestionably standing on the frontier of an ever-increasing prosperity and greatness." Mr. Markham was born in Oregon and lived in California for 50 years. His letter in full is as follows: "Your invitation to take part in the program of the annual meeting of the Florida Press Association has reached me, and I thank you for proposing that I speak to so powerful a body of men and women. I am not able to accept this opportunity due to the fact that I am returning to New York tomorrow night. However, I wish to seize this occasion to say that this is my second visit to your great state, and I am hoping that I shall have many other visits ahead. I closed recently a number of talks on Poetry at Rollins College in the city of Winter Park which, I believe, is destined to become a most beautiful place, for men and women of the pen—for intellectuals who will help greatly in spreading the fame of Florida over the nation. This beautiful state has so many achievements already and possesses so many undeveloped possibilities that she is unquestionably standing on the frontier of an ever-increasing prosperity and greatness. I have observed many progressive features in the newspapers of Florida. A spirit of fair dealing and a high moral tone are conspicuous. I congratulate the editors of Florida on their opportunities to render a great service to a young, vigorous and growing people. Edwin Markham happily enters Florida—its physical and spiritual prowess."

Better Homes In America Movement Emphasizing Need of Single Family Detached Homes As American Ideal

HERBERT HOOVER

EDWIN H. BROWN

The Better Homes in America movement, which touches upon every phase of the home, not the house only, is encouraging America to become again as far as practicable a nation of families dwelling in single, detached houses. In this, the third year of the movement, emphasis is being laid on the home for the family of small or moderate means. The Better Homes movement is being put into effect all over the nation by local "better homes" demonstrations, where local committees headed by women, active and prominent in civic affairs, are in charge. In 1922 about five hundred such demonstrations were held, the following year about double that number. The indications are that this year "Better Homes Week," set for May 11 to 15, will greatly surpass former campaigns both by extending this work to many hundreds of American cities, towns and villages, and by increasing the educational value of the demonstrations. Recently a book of plans, approved by the leading architects of the nation and the Architects Small House Service Bureau, Inc., which originated in the American Institute of Architects, has been published and issued at cost ($2.25) by Better Homes in America. In it are excellent plans of the design of homes for families of moderate means—Houses many of which, if all possible economies are made, should not cost more than five or six thousand dollars to build. Mr. Edwin H. Brown, shown above, is president of the Architects Small House Service Bureau, the purpose of which is to facilitate the planning and building of attractive and economical homes.

Mr. Brown is also a member of the board of directors and of the advisory council of Better Homes in America, which has the official endorsement of President Coolidge, who is chairman of the advisory council of Better Homes in America, of Secretary of Commerce Hoover, shown above, who is president of the organization, and of scores of men and women prominent in civic betterment. Dr. James Ford is Executive Director. Headquarters are at 1653 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C. The movement has the backing and cooperation of many departments and bureaus of the federal government, and of many nationally known organizations of semi-official and private character. Better Homes in America is non-commercial in character, being supported entirely by public gifts, which already have been largely assured.

Views of M'ADOO OUTLINED IN HIS MESSAGE TO LAKE

(Continued from page 1.) Corruption prevails at Washington. I intend to drive grafters and corruptionists out of the government and into the jails of the United States. There was no graft nor moral decadence while Woodrow Wilson was president, nor did the forces of reaction and materialism gain away or advantage. The clarification of a new crusade of moral and political righteousness rings through the land. It calls to all our people to put on their armor and enter in the fight. It will not be an easy battle. It cannot be won without adherence to principle; it cannot be won without enthusiasm. It can be won if the hosts of Democracy, men and women alike, subordinate selfish interests, exalt righteousness and unite in an irresistible drive against corruption, incompetence and materialism. Justice and God so high upon the capital at Washington that it can never be touched again by tainted hands or phibotic power.

Purdue University To Instruct In Pyrometry

(By The Associated Press.) LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 3.—Purdue University claims to have the largest and best equipped laboratory for the study of high temperature measurements in the United States. Pyrometry became a required study at Purdue 11 years ago. Other schools took it up but, excepting Columbia, offer only theoretical courses. Both Purdue and Columbia possess equipment for this phase of extensive practical engineering work. There are 46 pyrometers in the Purdue laboratory. Four are radiation pyrometers, 12 are optical, seven are resistance type, and the remaining 20 are thermo-electric and miscellaneous.

SUGGESTS PLAN

ST. PETERSBURG, May 3.—The state organization of the International Typographical Union has adopted an appeal to present to the Toronto convention in August what it is believed will be a solution of the apprentice problem. It is a suggestion that a school of instruction as outlined by the I. T. U. be maintained in each city and town where a chapel exists, and that one printing establishment be designated for the school. This shop would give one day a week to the practical instruction of all apprentices in the town, under a competent instructor named by the union.

BIBLE THOUGHTS FOR TODAY: SAFETY WHILE ASLEEP: I will both lie down in peace, and sleep; for thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in peace.—Psalm 4:8.

JUST MOTHER

Maybe you've wished, as we all have, To be free from a mother's care; Maybe you think that in foreign lands You will surely find happiness there.

Maybe you think that she's done you a wrong, When she tells you the right things to do, But she is only doing what she thinks right, And she's doing it all for you.

My friend, let me tell you the things I've found In my wanderings here and there; There is no greater loss or feeling of grief Than freedom from a mother's care.

You may think at first that you'll get along And can buck the game all alone, But there'll come a time when you're down and out; Then when your thoughts turn to home.

A mother, my friend, is a heavenly gift, Without her the world is in vain, So when you're a man and feel you must go, Don't go—stay and—think again.

Think of the pain to her it'll cause, You are all of her life, you know, And until God comes and takes her away, Stay with her—when she's gone, then you go.—Nat Taylor in Observer.

Just Riding the Saw

Sanford had a little taste last week of what a whole lot of would soon make a real city. Several hundred persons came from all parts of the state, spent two days here in the interest of McAdoo's candidacy for president, and departed, carrying with them reports of a new Sanford, resplendent with its progressive spirit.

From this point of view, regardless of whether McAdoo ever becomes president of the United States, regardless of whether he ever becomes the Democratic nominee, the Sanford McAdoo Convention was a distinct success and is bound to react beneficially to this city. The delegates who were here and who were delighted with Sanford, will some day come back, perhaps to visit, perhaps to make this their permanent home.

This is good business. This getting of folks to talk Sanford, to read Sanford, to investigate Sanford. This putting of Sanford before the eyes of the people of the nation. Some day someone will hear of Sanford who has capital to invest, and foresight to see a great future for Sanford, and with vigor, energy and "push," a genius for development, he will come here, and that future for which we have looked will be upon us almost before we can adjust ourselves to the new circumstances.

It is not the wealth of your country, the excellence of your roads, the balminess of your climate, the beauty of your lake front and scenery, that can alone bring fame to a place. The Garden of Eden with all its natural elegance and peacefulness would bear little historical significance today, if God had never heard of it. Anyone to gain prominence must be known. Any place to become famous and get its natural resources developed must likewise be known.

This business of advertising Sanford has up to the present time, evolved in large part upon two or three individuals. They take hold and do things, which, being done, make Sanford known. They are resourceful in ideas and they have the energy to put them into execution.

Now how about some of these "hangers-on" doing something for the good of their community? How about their getting an idea, any idea, and putting it across in a businesslike way? They sit back and criticize those who are trying to bring Sanford to the front.

An Institution of Inestimable Value

Announcement was made several days ago of the opening in this city of a credit association known as the Sanford Credit Association. The Sanford Herald doesn't as a rule make mention editorially of new business enterprises but in this instance it feels that an institution has made its appearance that will be of great value to the people of this community as well as to the business men of the city.

The organizing of the Sanford Credit Association will have much to do in improving business conditions here. Many of the leading business houses of the city have signified their intention of working together with this credit organization and that means that the time has gone when anybody and everybody can secure credit.

Members of the Sanford Credit Association make reports to the office of the association showing who are prompt in paying their bills, who are slow, who are considered fair pay and who are poor, when it comes to meeting their obligations. This information is then given to the merchants desirous of knowing the credit rating of individuals as well as of established business concerns.

Sanford has needed an institution of this kind. Sanford needs some better system of keeping a check on those making charge accounts with business houses. Sanford's business men have lost much money in the past through bad credit. But hereafter there will be little excuse for any loss. Poor payers will be known.

The Sanford Herald is glad to welcome this new business concern to the city and believes it will meet with hearty support on the part of the business men. It should be an institution of inestimable value to the city.

THERE ARE 15,000,000 telephones in America, the statisticians say, but there seem to be many persons still who would rather go to see a man than to use the telephone, which may or may not be the reason why there is a quarter million more autos in America than there are telephones. When the number of autos finally equals or surpasses the number of coffee pots, there will be more room on the sidewalk but less in the street. This might come to pass if Europe will quit fussing.—Capper's Weekly.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

Thirty odd years ago a certain gentleman became very prominent, both socially and financially, in Denver. He chose to turn reformer and in this role made himself up popular with certain of his fellow citizens. Some of them, in retaliation, undertook to pry into his former life and his present business methods.

One of his most outspoken opponents was M. B. Carpenter, a veteran of the Civil War, a successful politician and a member of the state senate of Colorado, in which body he had a reputation for having a caustic and witty tongue and not being afraid to use it.

One day in the course of a debate the name of his pet aversion—the professional reformer—came up. "Oh, thunder," snorted Senator

Carpenter, "Don't be throwing that fellow up to me. He pays three lawyers by the year to keep him out of the penitentiary." The libelled party went on the warpath forthwith. He demanded a complete retraction and apology and, in default of these, sent Carpenter word to be prepared to accept the dire consequences.

Next day, wearing a chastened look on his face, Mr. Carpenter arose from his seat. "Yesterday, on this floor, I made a certain statement about the Hon. Mr. So-and-So," he said in a contrite voice. "I learn that I have wronged this gentleman. So I must withdraw this allegation."

"I said," he said, "three lawyers by the year to keep him out of the penitentiary. That was not true. I find he hasn't paid them yet!"

IN THE presidential primary election of Haverhill, Massachusetts, six hundred and ninety-three men, one hundred and twenty-one women, took the trouble to vote out of 17,000 registered voters. Proud Americans seem to lack interest in politics. Had a trained chimpanzee walked a tight rope stretched above the principal street of Haverhill, on primary day, beating a drum as he walked, all the 17,000 registered voters would have been out to see that chimpanzee. It's hard to make politics, or for that matter, religion, interesting enough to draw modern crowds.

OF TWO American geese talking to each other, often one is asking: "What do you think about business? Will the national election disturb prosperity, etc., etc.?" The United States hasn't started on its prosperity. With Mellon in the Treasury the nation's debts are cut down. Meanwhile the people are saving and putting away thirty million dollars a day in savings banks and good investments. Why worry?

NO ONE realized how things grow in America, how rapidly we are climbing toward really gigantic enterprises, worthy in size of the richest country. Recently some figures of New York's National City Bank were published. In May, 1923, deposits in that bank amounted to twenty-two millions and total resources to twenty-five millions.

On April 1 of this year the bank's deposits were seven hundred and forty millions, the total resources nine hundred and thirty-four millions.

IN THE report of this April the bank showed among its accounts more than ninety-two millions of United States government bonds and certificates. And in this thirty days that have elapsed since that report was published, the bank has a profit of a million and a quarter on the increased value of its government bonds.

This isn't a government to sell short, and not one to make its citizens worry.

YOU KNOW the story of a man that was frightened to death by practical jokes. They tied him to a chair, gagged him, put his feet in warm water, told him they were going to cut the soles of his bare feet and let him bleed to death. The water was colored red, the dull sides of a razor was passed over the soles of his feet and he died, believing he was bleeding to death, actually died of heart failure. That was a foolish joke. Don't frighten prosperity to death.

IF THE pessimists want to worry let them worry about the navy and flying forces of the United States. When our ally statesmen met the foreigners at that Washington conference and agreed to scrap war vessels, they did what should have put them all on the political junk heap. England and Japan scrapped "from the bottom," as Mr. William B. Shearer well puts it. We scrapped from the top.

WE SCRAPPED magnificent new ships under construction, ships of which the cost ran up to forty million dollars for one fighting boat. Our dear friends across the Atlantic and across the Pacific scrapped trash. Now the naval power of the world stands, England and Japan three, United States one.

And when it comes to a fighting flying fleet in the air, the United States stands Zero. Worry about THAT!

GEORGE H. KENDALL, president of the New York Bank Note Company, dies, leaving the company to Miss Ethel Allen, his secretary. Mr. Kendall's widow and relatives receive cash and are content. The secretary becomes sole owner of the business, given her by her employer for the sensible reason that she is thoroughly honest, knows the complications of my business as well as I do and is the only person who does know them.

Many men, although they may not admit it or even know it, have working at their elbow some young woman who knows as much about the business as they do or more and who is usually poorly rewarded for what she knows and does.

THE LATEST suggestion for bootleggers—and it is not a bad suggestion, although it is immoral, advocates the use of bootlegging submarines that would bob beside the bootlegging ship from Europe, take on the cargo, sink, swim under the watching government ships, and unload in quiet waters.

Enforcing prohibition is considerably harder than putting it into the Constitution.

Did you buy government bonds while the war was on, patriots were spouting, ladies were singing from the circus brought out with signs on them to tap the purse of blaggard patriots?

If you bought the bonds and kept them, it will interest you to see the bond prices quoted this morning, all at or above par. The pathetic thing is that many real patriots, with small purses, were compelled to sell at eighty-five dollars a bond that cost one hundred dollars.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A DEFENSE OF BENEDICT ARNOLD

MIAMI POST

Benedict Arnold in all probability never looked upon himself as a traitor. Arnold fundamentally was a grafter. The vast matter of allegiance to conviction, to principle, to obligation, to party, to friend, to country, was to him a mere matter of money—a thing to be commercialized, bartered and speculated upon to satisfy his personal greed and selfishness.

Innately Arnold was no worse than any grafter. Like all of his ilk he held nothing sacred, except himself.

The thing that distinguished him from other grafters and branded him with the self-inflicted livid mark of traitor was his lack of character. The lividness of the mark was a matter of contrast produced by his ability as a soldier, the confidence reposed in him by Washington and others, the importance of his task, the weight of his responsibility.

to which he had been promoted. He was not only a grafter, he was a confidence man, an elementarily of importance of his position he was more a grafter and confidence man than the average grafting American politician, whether national or local, is a traitor.

The traitor, the grafter and the confidence man are elementarily of a kind, yet except for their inward sentiment and stealthy conduct can not be distinguished from other people. Arnold for instance, possessed marked ability, unusual physical courage, reckless abandon in battle that made him heroic, an astuteness that commanded respect, a suave and refined manner that attracted friendship and yet withal he was a Judas Iscariot.

To military life the traitor is a blight; to civic life the grafter is a blot.

Sanford's Forum

Editor of The Herald:

I read in your issue of Apr. 28, the report covering the political meeting of Apr. 26 held at Central Park in Sanford. Your report of my speech is full of errors and omissions, consequently I'm placed in the wrong light before the citizenship of Seminole county.

You quote me as favoring the no fence law. I did not utter a word that could be so construed. This is what I said: With the present conditions, it is only a short time until the free range cattle will be driven out of the state, but until that time comes why not let the cattle consume the vegetation that grows, that would otherwise go to waste.

I intended to convey the idea that the line now given by Mr. Lake, where free range is restricted is not fair to the cattle owner, as there is thousands of acres of undeveloped land between the western and northern shores of Lake Jessup, where the cattle could feed.

I preface these remarks as follows: Regardless of these things our farmers and truck growers must be protected, if the cattle have to go out of the county.

I gave figures to show the amount of circulation money that would go out of the state when we fall to produce meat, and as long as we can do this, I say we should do it.

as we can do this, I say we should do it.

You quote me as saying the fishing industry brought into Seminole County $300,000 per annum. I did not say this amount, but I did say $100,000 comes into the county from this source. This information given me by one of the oldest residents of the county, a man whose honor is unquestioned.

I also stated our fish law previous to the one now in force was sufficient to protect our game and deep water fish, had it been enforced. You failed to mention this fact.

My position, and I so stated that the fishermen should be allowed to take the top water migratory fish, by means of a gill net, as game and deep water fish are seldom taken by this method.

You quote me as saying that if any old man than me was sent to the legislature, would be the wrong man. This is what I said: A man to represent you should be four-square, and whose honor and integrity is unquestionable. If any other man is sent, you will make a mistake. If you will make these corrections I will thank you. By doing me this favor it will serve to clear up a misunderstanding that the voters have relative to my stand on these important questions.

Respectfully yours, J. R. LYLES.

Man-Ape stops Crying Large Park surrounds Long enough to laugh Active Lassen volcano

LEIPSI, Germany, May 5.—Monkeys often cry like children, but the man-ape is the only animal which laughs, Dr. Emil Carthaus, zoologist and explorer, has concluded after spending many years in the native haunts of wild game in various parts of the world.

In just one instance, reports Dr. Carthaus, he saw and heard a man-ape or simian laugh. This was in the midst of an Indian jungle where, from the safety of a steel cage, the zoologist was making his observations. In captivity the simian is melancholic, asserts Dr. Carthaus, and sits about and broods and cries and sheds tears of distress.

Dr. Carthaus avers neither the cat nor the dog is capable of laughing, notwithstanding the reports of other scientists that they

Lassen peak being the only active volcano in the United States. Objects of interest for the first roads constructed will be the lake region in the southeastern corner of the park, the Cinder cone and its lava fields, the devastated area swept by the eruption of May, 1915, and the magnificent but little known Kings Creek Canyon with its Louisville, which annually handles a gathering of 80,000 on Derby day, claims added facilities with the opening of two palatial hotels, Jefferson Post, one of the largest in the country, has use of a 123 acre tract, formerly Douglas Park and once a famous race track, given the Legion by the Kentucky Jockey Club. Selection of the convention city, however, will not be made until the annual convention this year at St. Paul, Minn. The Louisville Legion is planning to obtain the 1925 convention.

Not Only a Place to Invest— But an Ideal Place to Live

Always success brings many joys, but none which exceeds the gratification of a home of your own. Sooner or later every man and woman realizes that unless the best values of life are to escape them, they must put between themselves and the hurly-burly of the world, a plot of green grass, trees, garden perhaps, and a vista which will be all their own. Coral Gables in its setting of rare tropical beauty provides these things on a scale unknown heretofore—and insures to the purchaser and his inheritors their permanent unspoiled possession.

A visit to Coral Gables will immediately reveal the wonderful opportunity that is now offered in Coral Gables homes at prices and terms which will surprise you.
