BIGGEST RUM CONSPIRACY IN HISTORY OF PROHIBITION IS REPORTED BARED BY AGENTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Today's Herald and Examiner declared that the biggest rum conspiracy in the history of prohibition enforcement had been broken up since the law was first adopted by federal agents and involved the withdrawal and diversion of industrial alcohol.

The organization, operating from coast to coast, and with headquarters in Chicago, had made millions of dollars and had "killed" 100,000,000 bottles of liquor, the newspaper said.

TARDIUS'S DECISION TO USE TRAIN MAY HAVE PRESERVED HIS LIFE

MARDEN, ENGLAND, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Two passengers in a women were killed yesterday when a French Air Force plane crashed in the ground and caught fire.

A senior member of the English Cabinet, Sir Ernest Tardieu, died in the accident. His wife, Dr. Venetia Kellie, was also a passenger.

The chief executive and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. St. John, survived. They were taken to hospital.

Both vessels prepared to go immediately. Two coast cutters were at anchor near the two houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover apparently were not tired by their long train journey and both greeted the crews of the two boats by the name of "handsome." The WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A small plane carrying two men, one apparently attempting to land, crashed in the English Channel yesterday afternoon. With others, he made an effort to get at those inside the plane but was frustrated by the intense heat.

He had two bodies when he returned to land. This night, he met a man who had been flying over the sea.

The plane left Paris, France, en route to London under the command of his wife, Mrs. H. M. St. John.

He had considered flying but finally decided to go by rail. He decided to go by rail because he had taken the plane which left Paris at an inconvenient time.

Depressed Farmer
Kills 3 Children;
Takes His Own Life

CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Depressed with life although without any financial problems, Roger Smith, 40-year-old farmer, early today, killed his three children and then turned his life into hell.

It is my belief that these people have a very difficult problem to deal with if they are to continue to produce the kinds of products which they have been producing in the past," he said. "This kind of labor is never very attractive because stooping, bending, and working on the knees is involved in weeding and thinning the kind of crops which many of these people find is not profitable to raise."

French Racing Plant

CELERY FEDS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT BEFORE VISITORS

Winter Park Takes Local Team By Score Of Fourteen To 11

Playing what has been termed one of the best basketball teams in Central Florida the local Celery-Feds gave met defeat by the score of 14-11 on the Winter Park Court last night, after having already beaten Ocoee, Leesburg, and New Smyrna, this season.

The game is said to have been fast, happy and full of pep, both on the part of the locals and their opponents. The chalking up of fouls also played an important part during the conflict, there being a total of 25 called. Seventeen were marked against the Sanford team.

Ponder, the local Sophomore center, was undoubtedly the outstanding star of the game. He was responsible for eight of the local boys' markers. Captain Higgins played his usual game of fine court work, and the "duo" composed of Aycock and Jackson backed their captain and team in many instances. Robson, the standing guard, is said to have been the cause of the failure of most of Winter Park's attempted shots.

Winter Park's five is not to be looked upon with anything but admiration for its brilliant team work. It is said to have been everything it was cracked up to be. Ward, the "City of Homes" center, time after time shot long backets from the center of the court. Cook, a forward, costarred with his team's center.

At the end of the first half Winter Park led by the score of 6-2, but by the end of the third quarter the Celery-Feds jumped into the lead by the count of 9-8. In the final quarter the outcome was determined. A number of fouls, called against the locals, is said to have hindered their chances to win. At any rate the final ping sounded with Winter Park in the lead.

Loftus Elenfeld, Seminole High School student and sport enthusiast witnessed the conflict last night and sent the following line-up and summary of the game:

S. H. S. (11) — Winter Park (14)
Aycock F. G. Cook F. G.
Lake F. Power F. G.
Higgins F. V. Von F.
Ponder C. G. Ward C. G.

Richey Revivalistic Services Extended For Another Week

The Fred A. Richey revival again has been extended. The third extension was announced last night at Full Gospel Tabernacle, State Highway and Geneva Avenue, when Mrs. J. E. Spurding, speaking for men and women interested in the meeting, stated the session would go until Sunday night, Feb. 16. It was stated at the tabernacle that interest in the revival has shown a slow but steady increase from the opening day, and that Sanford citizens are just now getting awakened to the importance of the meetings. Sunday night, Feb. 16, it was stated at the tabernacle that interest in the revival has shown a slow but steady increase from the opening day, and that Sanford citizens are just now getting awakened to the importance of the meetings. More and more Sanford people after attending the meetings, would say until

The meeting, it was stated, has not been a spectacular one, but one of sound doctrine, of earnest teaching—or good preaching, of good music, not of Christian fellowship. The revival has had a testimony of soul-winning from the first. Mr. Richey preaches the gospel of healing along with the gospel of salvation through His experience, and many persons, including a few Sanfords citizens, are testifying to the definite healing through the prayer of faith offered in this meeting. Some healings are said to be in progress; others are prospective.

J. B. Zeall, Winter Park business man, is giving a series of faith talks. He speaks nightly at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Richey meets every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and every night at 8 o'clock. J. A. Johnson, well-known Sanford man, is leading the music. The Booth Trio—cornet, clarinet, and French horn—will play nightly.

A wood-burning stove and supplementary oil and electric lights keep the tabernacle warm and comfortable on cold days. The revival extension runs the meeting into its sixth week.

The Stamp Mart

By C. R. Mason

New Air Mail Stamp

The Post Office Department has officially announced the issuing of the new five cent airmail stamp, to appear first on February tenth. The design of this stamp is the same as the current red and blue but the color has been changed to purple. The design is also changed, the central part being a representation of the initials of an airmail pilot, a globe with extended wings on either side with a jacket and goggles.

On the globe will be the word "U. S. Air Mail". Across the top of the stamp in a horizontal band will be the words "United States Postage" and at the bottom in an ornate panel the words "Cents".

The local post office will no doubt soon have a supply of the stamps. However, collectors who are anxious to get these stamps quickly may seem them any time after February tenth from the Philatelic Agency at Washington D. C.

Bohary's Portrait Much Used

Probably the portrait of no man in history has appeared on so many different countries as has that of Simon Bolivar, known as the "Liberator of South America".

Bolivar was born in Caracas, Venezuela, July 24, 1783 and was raised in a wealthy circumstances. He studied and traveled extensively in Europe and visited the United States during the administration of President Madison. Here he became so interested in our form of government that he returned to his native country resolved to free it from Spanish control. The outbreak of the revolution was a failure but by 1822 Bolivar was a general in the newly formed colonies of Colombia and Venezuela. Later he helped to form the new nation of Ecuador of that country. The southern part of Peru was organized into a separate country and called Bolivia in his honor.

The Liberator was not fully appreciated during his lifetime and is said to have died of a broken heart in 1830. The various countries of South America have recently issued the inland postage which includes that to the United States, a total of 13 countries. The stamps have overprinted "Costa Rica" for use in Costa Rica and some which is known as the Bolivian stamp collector society, partially, and the collection of these stamps alone would prove an interesting study.

Bolivar's picture appears on the stamps of Bolivia only three times, 1887, 1900, and 1915, each time on the one soliviano value. The Cuban Republic honored him many times in this way, especially on the local stamps of the state of Bolivia. The Republic of Costa Rica was distant from his activities but in 1921 issued a 10c stamp bearing his portrait.

The Republic of Ecuador also honored Bolivar on the one cent value of the independence issue of 1920. Paraguay, Peru, and Venezuela are the only ones of the countries issuing stamps with Bolvar's portrait. On the portrait stamps of Venezuela Bolivia's name is also on the reverse. The standard coin is also the bolivar.

Starting A Collection

Many persons are with the spirit of the airmail stamp in starting a collection. Up to this time considerable care has been taken in trying to purchase a full set of all the airmail stamps. This is the greatest of all series, as it is based upon scores of famous men in the past and supporting characters names, never had a thousand. A dozen dancing girls are also listed among them the celebrated Adela Dancers and the Warner Bros. songwriters staff who have written many delightful songs.

One of the most up-to-date of the many glittering sequences is "Mexican Moonshine", a bit of fancy tomfoolery in which Monroe, Moran, Kallen, Paul Drury, Marshall, Abbott, etc.

ARSENATE CONTROL FOR MOLE-CRICKETS IN RECENT TESTS

Lead arsenate as a new control for mole-crickets is the recent discovery of the State Experiment Station at Gainesville. The mole-crickets burrows just below the surface of the ground and eat above-ground parts of vegetables, ornamentals and grasses. In past the insects have been very hard to control. Contact chemicals have proved very costly and not always effective.

In experiments where 25 pounds of lead arsenate per acre were spread over the surface the mortality of crickets was high within a few days, and the later injury was much less. The insect is working through the ground finally as an earthworm from their feet and mouth to kill them, the station says.

The mole-cricket is frequently a serious pest in local seed and the above method might well be tried by the local farmers.

HARMONY RULES BROOKLYN CLUB WITH NEW HEAD

Walter Carter Holds Balance Of Power Between 2 Factions

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(AP)—

Peace and harmony, performed by the Brooklyn National League club today with Walter F. (Dutch) Carter, famous pitcher of 35 years ago, sitting in the driver's seat.

Appointed by John A. Heyder, president of the National League, as fifth director of the Brooklyn club, Carter holds the balance of power since the other four directorships are evenly distributed among members of the so-called Robinson and McKeever factions whose long warfare was ended the other day by official decree of the National League.

The other members of the board are Frank B. York and S. W. McKeever, representing one faction, and Joseph Gillean and Harry Demott, representatives of the Elberts' heirs who have backed Wibert F. Robinson ever since Charles H. Elberts, owner of the club, died in 1924.

Under the terms of the peace agreement, York was chosen president for two years, succeeding Robinson on while the latter was re-engaged as manager for two years. Robinson also resigned as a director and Gillean was empowered to appoint his successor on the board and chose Demott. Mr. Heyder was authorized to appoint a fifth director and Carter's election was announced yesterday.

Baseball men believed Mr. Heyder had made a wise choice in picking Carter as the fifth and "balance-of-power" member of the board. A brother-in-law of Charles Evans Hughes, new chief justice of the United States, Carter is a member of the law firm which Mr. Hughes headed. He was generally recognized as one of the greatest pitchers Yale ever had but never had been connected with organized baseball. As a life-long resident of Brooklyn, however, he has kept in close touch with the game especially as it concerned the Dodgers.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

“For a call I shall come to you, that whenever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.”—Acts 22:21.

Prayer:
“Then are coming to a King,
Lest petition with their living.”

WINTER SUNSHINE
Not absent as the Summer's flowing rays
Which burn with fiery thine
Where they be
The paler sunshine of the Winter day.
Bings paler loveliness to earth
And sky.
Though reluctantly, its last days give ghost of Summer's glamour to the place,
Bing through the charm of this indefinite,
It still retains a vestige of past glory.
We, even from its meagre store
abstain,
In memory of vital, August hours.
It marshals a scant cheer where we sit to greet
The world with memories of vanished bays.

And from some woodland glen near, along gone,
A mocking bird sits out for one last song.

A National Anthem

It has only recently been brought to the attention of the American public in general that it has no national anthem. In fact, we believe that right now, the majority of persons in this country, if asked what the national anthem of America is, would reply unhesitatingly: "The Star Spangled Banner." But however right they might think they are, the fact remains that they are grossly misinformed.

We do have "The Star Spangled Banner." We all stand when we hear it played, soldiers salute as its first notes fall upon their ears, and everyone gets a little faster blood current at its rendition, for as far back as we can remember Francis Scott Key's poem with its music has been associated with stirring incidents in the history of this country and with patriotism.

Almost every nation has its national anthem. Some of them have a great emotional appeal through the sound of the music alone; but all of them serve the same purpose of arousing a patriotic flame. It is said of the French national anthem that unlike all the others, instead of bringing people to their feet, it brings them running into the streets.

While "The Star Spangled Banner" may not have the most soul stirring notes and its words may be a trifle awkward, it nevertheless has served a good purpose and has become a cherished institution in the history of America since its composition by Key who received his inspiration when, as a prisoner on British warship, he beheld his country's flag flying on the morning of Sept. 15, 1814, after an all night bombardment.

Therefore we heartily endorse the efforts of Maryland's Representative John Charles Linthicum to enact a bill in Congress for the purpose of making "The Star Spangled Banner" America's national anthem.

The 1930 Census

With the coming of 1930 federal census agents will soon be on the job determining the population of various cities throughout the United States. In Sanford we have no doubt that a decidedly good showing can be made over the figures of ten years ago. An increase of fifteen or twenty percent would be generally regarded as healthy growth and we have every reason to believe that Sanford's percentage will be higher than that.

However, in order to make the best possible showing it will be necessary for every person to be counted by the enumerators. They will make every effort to arrive at an accurate figure as to our population, but they should also receive the utmost support from the citizens themselves. Do not try to avoid census enumerators. Be courteous and considerate in your answers. Help them as much as you can. Let's see if we can put Sanford in the "ten thousand" class.

"Under the constitution," says the Miami Herald, "the government of the United States is required every ten years to take a census of the population of the country, therefore the government will be busy this year gathering all sorts of information about the people."

"It is said that this census will be the most comprehensive ever undertaken by this or any other country. Some idea of the magnitude of the task to be undertaken may be gained from the fact that the work will require at least 120,000 persons to canvass the homes, farms, shops, factories and other establishments for the information which is planned to incorporate in the final report."

The first censuses taken under the constitution were confined merely to ascertaining the number of people residing in the United States. In 1810 and again in 1820 statistics as to agriculture, manufacturing and mining were collected and information on these important subjects have been included in every decennial report since those years. A census of agriculture is now taken every two years and of manufacturing every five years.

"For the first time the matter of the distribution of products will be inquired into. In order to do this it will be necessary to cover many different classes of distributor, jobber, commission men, brokers, manufacturers—also branches, importers and others, as well as retail and whole salesmen.

"This matter of the distribution of the products of the country has become of extreme importance. There is too much waste in the present distribution machinery, to wide a gap between the producer and the consumer. More information on the subject will benefit both producer and consumer."

UNCOMMON SENSE

By John Blake

THE HOME TOWN

Some of the very people who exist patriotism are the last to denounce "depreciating" said that body men to stand in ranks against the money loan, and take delight in showing it to others.

Sometimes they are stupid with commercialism.

The desire to attract immigration, to make the town grow, is often based on the theory that its greater population will bring greater prosperity.

But even along with this there is pride in the home town and in contact with that others may and admire it.

An American will do just the same that his back corn on earth is regarded as a town.

An Englishman or a Frenchman or an Italian loves his own country above others, and is just as proud when he beats them in a race.

When there is a race between the two cities, or in business, or in politics, they are especially jealous.

I have seen many visitors from many places in America and Europe.

Always the friend, I find, in these places we come to, is one and always on the right and always the deepest. They have and need a sense of humor, and a good deal of imagination, but they are not afraid to express it.

I am perfectly certain that in Martians invaded there are Americans, but not many. They would be led to the conclusion that Martians are not intelligent, but that they are not afraid to express it.

Legion Auxiliary Has Meeting On Saturday

Mrs. Walter R. Campbell was hostess to the members of the American Legion Auxiliary at their regular meeting held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Park Avenue, with Miss Jeanette Loring, president. The meeting was opened by the song, "America the Beautiful," in chorus, led by Mrs. Smith, and accompanied by Mrs. E. Bommillat.

Mrs. Smith as chaplain then recited the Lord's Prayer, which was repeated in unison by all present. The salute to the flag then took place.

Mrs. Olive Anderson and Miss Jeannette Loring, who attended the American Legion Auxiliary convention held recently at Lake Wales, gave report of the important events there, after which Miss Loring reported on the installation meeting held at Apopka.

A letter was read at this time from Mrs. Ernest Molnar, second vice-president of the council district, saying that the auxiliary program will be broadcast from the Gainesville station, WRLP, on Feb. 11, Feb. 25, Mar. 11, and Mar. 28.

Following an outline by Mrs. C. H. Smith, fourth chairman of her annual plans for the year, Mrs. Anderson says a splendid report of the welfare work done during the meeting. She states that meals are being furnished daily for two children at one of the school luncheons while clothing and groceries are being provided for two families monthly.

Mrs. W. R. Campbell, unit activity chairman, was then appointed to have charge of an induction held a party to take place in the near future, after which two new members, Mrs. H. H. Tolache and Mrs. A. A. Tolache, were taken in.

During the social hour an ice course and candy, including red, white and blue, was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. Olive Anderson, Miss Jeannette Loring, Mrs. A. A.
