

Indians Go On Warpath Against Ocala Wildcats Here Tonight At 8:00 O'clock

Game Will Be Played On Even Terms Although Ocala Still Remains Unbeaten This Year

"Tiger" Howell May Not Be In Starting Seminole Lineup Due To Ankle Injury Sustained In Wednesday Session

In a game that is being re-acted as the feature game of the Northeast Florida Conference this week, Head Coach Leonard L. McLucas and his two assistants, Cosches Russell McCracken and Woody Riser, will send a group of their players out to meet the Ocala Wildcats who are at the present time leading the conference with no defeats.

The game will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock on the new Seminole High School Athletic Field which is not quite completed but is in a condition to have a game played there.

Coach McLucas' boys are in very good condition for the opening tilt but one defect is that Robert "Tiger" Howell will not be in the starting lineup tonight due to the fact that he injured his ankle in a dummy scrimmage session Wednesday night during the after-dark practice.

Reports from Ocala show that Head Coach Jack Smyth and his assistant Willis Pebbles, bring to Sanford an undefeated eleven and only one touchdown has been scored against them this season. They have run up a total of 159 points in six games and having only six points scored upon them and that was by Eustis, 13 to 6.

Sanford has played only four games this season and much stronger teams than Ocala has played and has a run up total of 24 points and having 45 points scored against them.

The game should furnish plenty of excitement to the fans and the Seminole High School Athletics Department is expecting a record attendance at the tilt.

The starting line-up for Sanford will be as follows:

Dummy Scrimmage Features Semi-Pro Workout Last Night

Ex-Football Men Use Notre Dame System Of Play

Wilkinson Says Boys Are Trying To Make Plan A Big Success

Coach S. A. B. Wilkinson's Sanford Semi-Pro Blackcats underwent another tough drill session last evening under the floodlights of the Sanford Armory Field and featuring the practice session was the running of many plays in dummy scrimmage for 30 minutes. Approximately 150 spectators and automobiles lined around the field to see the ex-gridiron stars workout under the eyes of Coach Wilkinson who stated this morning that prospects seemed very bright for making a success of the team after a lull late week.

The boys went through an exercise drill and limbered up before the tough work began. They kicked and passed the ovals up and down the field. The backfield men did some punting while other backs returned them while the linemen went down under the boots.

The outfit looked "like a million" after the practice and plans seem the brightest since the opening of the seasons. The dummy scrimmage was the main event of the evening as the boys ran through many of the old straight Notre Dame plays.

Coach Wilkinson stated this morning that the making a success of the team is entirely up to the boys and it depends upon how hard they work in order to make it go over the top. So far, Coach said, the boys have been working to their extent in putting the idea over and the mentor stated that Sanford will see some good semi-pro football games before the gridiron season is over.

A first string in the dummy scrimmage last night were as follows:

CONFERENCE FEATURE

The Northeast Florida Conference clash tonight between Sanford and Ocala is the feature of Conference play this week due to the fact that Ocala is now leading the Conference with Leesburg and Tallahassee also being undefeated in conference games. Leesburg won over Eustis last night by a score of 14 to 12 while Daytona Beach plays hosts to the Leon High boys tonight in a Kiwanis Charity tilt. The outcome of the Sanford-Ocala game tonight will more or less settle the argument at this present time and possibly for the entire season. As one fellow says, Sanford is improving considerably and although they have been defeated once in a conference game this season, they can still burn up the circuit.

PRO GRIDMEN WORKOUT

FLORIDA PRO LEAGUE

Now there is some person in Sarasota who is attempting to organize a Florida Professional Football League with a season to start after Jan. 1, 1933, for their first season. He mentioned eight Florida cities in an article in the Daytona Beach Sun record this morning and he left Sanford and Leesburg out because they were smaller cities. We have a bit to say about that question right here and now. The Sanford semi-pro outfit may be small and light and in a small town as Sanford as they call it, but if his home town Sarasota, which of course he mentioned, we will eat our hats if this city will not draw Sarasota in a football game, other than a high school game.

High Tribunal Denies Plea Of Tom Mooney

State Supreme Court By Five To One Ruling Decides Against Convicted Bomber

Evidence Fails To Show Perjury

Mooney Convicted For Preparedness Day Act Killing Ten

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The California Supreme Court denied Thomas J. Mooney's plea for freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. The decision was five to one against the convicted 1916 parade bomber with Justice William H. Langdon dissenting.

In announcing the opinion, Chief Justice William H. Waste said the court "has concluded that Mooney failed to establish by substantial credible evidence that his conviction was the result of perjury on the part of the prosecution witnesses."

Mooney's charge that he was "framed" has been the battle cry among the world's laboring classes. For nearly 21 years Mooney has contended his political beliefs and labor organizing activities led to his conviction on alleged perjury evidence.

Mooney and Warren K. Billings was convicted of placing a bomb which exploded during the Preparedness Day here, killing 10 persons and injuring 40 others.

Lee Declines To Shift Funds Of Pensioners

Cabinet Okeys Transfer Of $400,000 To Pay Current Bills But Lee Refuses

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Comptroller J. M. Lee refused today to approve a transfer of $400,000 from the Confederate Pension Fund to the State's General Treasury for payment of bills which have been piling up some time.

Members of the cabinet said last night they and Gov. Cone had agreed to the transfer, Lee said the pension fund will need the money before the end of the biennium July 1, 1939.

He said the fund has a balance of $740,000 but will have a $75,000 deficit if all pensions are paid up to July, 1939. Lee and Cone must sign all transfers.

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The cabinet apparently settled differences over transferring approximately $500,000 from surplus funds to the payment of November general expenses, at a meeting late yesterday.

The cabinet members, however, disagreed chiefly, members reported, over Comptroller J. M. Lee's insistence that exact provision be made for repaying money borrowed from any special fund.

Cabinet members said less than $100,000 would come from long-dead accounts and most of the remainder from the Confederate veterans' pension fund which now has a balance of $740,000—more than enough to carry it for a year.

The shortage for which transfers were necessary occurred in the State's general revenue fund, from which are paid State officials and employees' salaries, expense of the capitol, the courts, tax collection expense, the college and State institution costs and similar requirements.

With this fund down to just the amount required for payrolls, the monthly treasury report showed $8,405,749. Of this $1,033,313 was (Continued on page two)

President Expects New Laws To Lift Purchasing Power

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, starting a series of conferences on budget balancing yesterday, placed great emphasis on his hopes for increasing the income and purchasing power of a third of the population he said were living substandard.

He said at a press conference that the wages and hours and surplus crop control measures, principal items of business of the special session of Congress meeting November 18, were steps to lift purchasing power.

At another point, he said that newspaper stories speculating on possible revision of the capital gains and undistributed surpluses taxes had omitted reference to that portion of the population with little to live on.

Particularly, the President added, the speculation omitted mention of increasing the purchasing power of thirty to forty million persons who lack a decent standard of living now.

The President talked to newsmen a short time before beginning an (Continued on Page Two)

Ocala Comes From Behind To Down Seminole's Indians On New Field By Score Of 20-7

Hodges Shines For Visiting Wildcats While Morgan, Stoinoff And Ferguson Lead Hapless Locals

A group of determined Ocala Wildcats put the bug on Coach McLucas' Seminole High School Indians and potentially put them out of running for Northeast Conference honors when last night they pounded three touchdowns and two extra points to win over the locals who had scored first in the second quarter by a score of 20 to 7.

The local eleven racked up the initial touchdown early in the second quarter when they returned an Ocala punt to the 45 yard stripe and successive line plunges by Robert Stoinoff and Darrell Ferguson, while Morgan and Lawson swept the ends, brought the ball to the 25 yard line. A pass from Ferguson to Lawson was good for 18 yards and Ferguson went over the double stripe from the four for six points. Ferguson went around his right end and shot a flat pass to Morgan for the extra point.

Ocala took the Sanford kickoff and Blair returned it to his own 25 yard line before being hit. Hodges then led off 17 yards around his own left end for a first down. Several fast and quick charging plays by Ocala placed the oval on the Sanford 20 yard line but the next play was good for a touchdown as Perryman broke through the Sanford secondary and took a high pass from Hodges for a counter. Hodges' try for the conversion on a line plunge was no good and Sanford remained in the lead by a score of 7 to 6.

Play was held in midfield for the remainder of the second quarter but Sanford had started a sustained drive toward the Ocala goal and was resting on the Ocala 23 when the half was over.

With about 8 minutes to play in the third quarter, after an exchange of punts, Ocala received possession of the ball and began a drive that started from their own 25 yard line. They marched down the field 75 yards for a touchdown in which, four first downs were racked up by the Wildcats. Shashy plunged over from the four for the second Wildcat counter. Hodges' plunged through the line for the extra point.

Early in the fourth quarter, Ocala started another drive down the field that netted their third touchdown of the evening. They recovered a fumble by Lawson on their own 45 yard line and successive runs by Hodges, Perryman and Shashy brought the oval down to the four where Shashy took it over. The same point was good as Hodges' plunged over the center of the line.

The closing gun was the only thing that saved off another Ocala touchdown as Hodges, Perryman, Watson and Shashy brought the oval to the Sanford (Continued on Page Four)

St. Johns River Rises Three Feet Due To Rainfall

Need For Canal As Flood Control Measure Is Explained

Due to the excessive amount of rainfall in this vicinity during the past few weeks the water in the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe has risen three feet and 10 inches, the highest level recorded in several years according to Archie Smith, of the Sanford Boat Works.

This level is three feet above normal and is nearing flood stage, Mr. Smith indicated. The river is at a standstill and Mr. Smith stated that it was his belief that unless there was an excessive precipitation in the next few days the water would begin to recede.

The rapid rise of the lake and river during the past few weeks recalls to the minds of many Sanfordites the time, several years ago, when the water overflowed the bulkhead and spread into the streets and the Municipal Zoo, threatening to do considerable damage to property including farms bordering the lake in this vicinity, Ralph Hagwell, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, pointed out.

At the present time this would be particularly ruinous to the Lake Shore Boulevard on which thousands of dollars was expended for construction and clearly points out the real need for the St. Johns Indian River Canal as a flood control measure for the City of Sanford and Seminole County, the Chamber of Commerce secretary stated.

Children Of America Prepare To Celebrate Annual Witches' Visits

Tomorrow is Halloween—and ghosts, goblins and witches will be abroad in the land. Especially if you.

If you don't believe it, take a look at the record. Halloween comes from All Hallows' Eve, when according to tradition one of the four annual assembles of witches was supposed to take place. Old pictures show them riding on brooms to a secluded spot, usually in the mountains and amid weird rites and chants a good time was had by all, from midnight till dawn.

That was in the Middle Ages when belief in witchcraft was at its height. But with hunting and witch-burning took place with regularity until the 18th century in England, Scotland, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, the Netherlands and our own New England. Governor Winthrop of Massachusetts tells in his journals he saw "one of Windsor" who was the first recorded witch executed in this country. Sanford's Halloween activities will be many tonight when plays and carnivals will be sponsored by many of the local schools and churches. Children of all ages may have their fun but Chief Roy Williams urges them while enjoying themselves to the greatest extent, to have respect for other people's property. The destruction of property is not necessary in order to enjoy Halloween, the Chief declared, and he urges everyone to please bear this in mind. Everyone has heard of the doings in the "hex" regions of Pennsylvania where "evil spirits" are exorcised at faith healing pow-wows. Occasionally, the "hex" rites have resulted in bloodshed and even murder. New York's Harlem can count by the thousands the charm sachets carried by its inhabitants—the bones of certain animals, particularly cats and rabbits—little bags of herbs suspended from the neck—amulets. In December, 1935, a Miss Marie Ambrosia, 81, of Brooklyn, N. Y., paid $225 in good money (Continued on Page Three)

Old Traffic Laws Date Back To Day Of Horse And Buggy

Against The Law To Turn Corners Faster Than 8 M. P. R.

Many of the traffic ordinances still effective in Sanford were passed away back in the pre-war days when the horse and buggy were seen more frequently on the streets of the City than the automobile, a Herald reporter learned yesterday while delving into old records at the City Hall.

One of the first traffic ordinances to be passed by the City Commissioners was one to prohibit the parking of cars and other vehicles in the paved streets of Sanford during the night. The same ordinance also provides that no vehicle shall follow fire apparatus either responding to a call or returning therefrom closer than 150 yards. The penalty for failure to comply with this ordinance shall not exceed $250, the ordinance provides.

Another old traffic law provides that no vehicle shall turn the corners in the City of Sanford at a speed in excess of eight miles per hour. Still another ordinance provides that no person shall place or cause to be placed on any street within the corporate limits of the City of Sanford any nails, gravel, pebbles or other items which would in any way be hazardous to motorists. Convictions for failure to comply with the requirements of this regulation is punishable by a fine not to exceed $30.

The question of right-of-way for motorists in the City of Sanford is also provided in one of these ordinances, Chief of Police Roy O. Williams pointed out. It provided that at all street intersections, the vehicle approaching from the right shall have the right-of-way over the vehicle approaching from the left; except on First Street from Oak Avenue to Fifth Street.

Other traffic regulations of the City of Sanford of which many motorists may be unaware are: When turning to the left the driver shall signal intention to turn by the full extension of the right hand signal is required, his left arm. When turning to the right the driver shall indicate his intention to stop by extension upward of his left arm. No commercial truck, bus or car for hire shall stop for more than 15 minutes on First Street. Driving over a fire or water apparatus is prohibited. All motor vehicles operated in the streets of the City of Sanford between sundown and sunrise shall be operated with dimmers only. Vehicles passing up and down the streets shall have the right-of-way over cars leaving the curb.

Foreign Consuls Urge 400 Chinese Abandon Plans Dangerous To Settlement

Japanese Continue Hot Bombardment

British Troops Stop Jap Attempt To Begin Attack In Rear

SHANGHAI, Oct. 30.—China's "Lost Battalion" early today (Sunday) successfully ran the gauntlet of heavy Japanese fire to withdraw into the safety of the International concession behind the American and British defense lines.

More than 400 who had defied the Japanese four days dashed out. They will be disarmed and interned for the rest of the war. The last to emerge was Colonel Keleh Chin-Yuan, the commander, who said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek sent direct orders to bring the unit out because the country felt it was "too valuable to be spared."

SHANGHAI, Oct. 30.—(AP)—British police reported tonight that China's famous "Lost Battalion" in devastated Chapel was laying down its arms and soon would come into the International Settlement for sanctuary.

The reported decision of the battalion to stand against the surrounding Japanese was said to be the result of unrelenting foreign consuls general who sought to end (Continued on Page Two)

Newspapers Hit By Rising Costs, Taxes; Rate Hike Is Seen

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Prediction that many newspapers may be forced to raise their circulation rates because of fast rising newsprint and other paper costs, was given yesterday to the newspaper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Newspapers in more than 50 American cities have been forced to raise their rates recently because of increased costs, he said. Costs of newspaper publishing, according to statistics tabulated, have been advancing recently because of increased costs, he said.

Costs of newspaper publishing, according to statistics tabulated, have been advancing recently far out of proportion to increased receipts from advertising and circulation. Payrolls, it was stated, have jumped ahead of even the 1933 level, both through wage increases in editorial, clerical and mechanical employees, and from additional employees taken on, while receipts generally are still well below the 1929 total.

Every commodity going into manufacturing a newspaper, with one or two minor exceptions, has advanced in price over the previous year, according to A. N. P. A. statistics. Publishers are paying more for metal, fuel, service, newsprint, and all the numerous requisites to producing a well-printed, interesting newspaper, promptly delivered to a wide coverage.

In one instance, on one group of newspapers, payrolls in nine months this year have increased 9 percent, according to statistics reported, over the already sharp increase of 1935. Taxes, especially for social security are cutting into receipts, the reports indicate.

Boost Your Town

During the past few years the tendency among certain people to belittle local institutions and local business has increased until it has reached the point where some concerted action ought to be taken to do something about it. We don't believe it is practical to put folks in jail, or ride them out of town on a rail, who can never see any good in their own home town, but we believe it might be possible for our Chamber of Commerce and our service clubs to show them that such talk is not helpful to the growth and prosperity of the community.

We suppose the development of good roads, the increase in travel, and the better opportunity for making comparisons between local concerns and those of larger cities has had something to do with the growing tendency to belittle. We can remember the day when every little boy thought his fire department was the best in the world. Nowadays almost every little boy has been to Jacksonville, Atlanta, or even larger cities, has seen fire departments much larger than ours, and is consequently inclined to criticize his own home town for not maintaining a fire department on a par with that of New York City.

Every one of us, we are afraid, are inclined to some extent to suffer from this small boy complex. We can't understand why our stores are not as big as those in larger cities. We complain because they don't have as wide an assortment of merchandise. We criticize them for still trying to unload some of last year's stock. We say their prices are higher than those elsewhere. We kick about the service they give. We wonder why in the world they don't have modern up-to-date lunchrooms in connection with them, elevators, orchestras to entertain the customers, and all the other trimmings.

But this tendency to knock is not directed alone against the merchants. Every business suffers from it. The bank is not serving its purpose in the community. The theater puts on bum shows and charges too much for them. There isn't any place to eat in Sanford. The power company robs you. So does the railroad. The various farm marketing organizations are ruining the farmers. And the farmers are paying their labor starvation wages. Even the churches come in for a full share of criticism.

But the newspaper! That is the worst of all. Just lay The Sanford Herald down beside the Times-Union and compare their relative merits. Just look at the comics which the T.-U. carries. Look at the funny paper, and all the other features. Twenty-eight pages or more every day crammed full of news and entertainment. Why doesn't The Herald run a serial story? Why doesn't it run O. O. McIntyre and Emily Post? Why doesn't it get out a Sunday paper with a magazine supplement? Why doesn't it publish more sport news?

The answer might be found in a news story of today. Rising prices. High taxation. Costs everywhere going up. Even big papers planning to cut down, raise their rates. It has always cost money to publish a newspaper. It costs more than ever now. Features are expensive and they have to be paid for. The advertising which the paper gets has to pay for them, as well as taxes, payroll, and all the other expenses.

We suppose every other business is faced with much the same problem. We suppose that most businesses are giving the public the best service or the best merchandise, they can afford to give. We imagine that every merchant in Sanford would like to have a store like the big stores in Jacksonville. There are probably restaurants here which would like to try air-conditioning and make other modern improvements. But such things cost money. They cost more money than a town the size of Sanford ordinarily can afford.

Don't be unreasonable. Don't expect anyone to publish the New York Times in Sanford. Don't belittle your home institutions. Boost them. Remember that your community will prosper only as its individual businesses prosper.

A Good Tourist Season

Old Man Gloom is not making much headway in Miami, says the Miami Herald, despite what may go on in Miami and certain industrial centers of the country where production is said to be slowing down. The Magic City is getting ready for one of the biggest seasons on record, and according to the Herald, there is not even the usual chorus of calamity howlers at this time of year who predict the season will be a flop.

"It is different, much different, this year," the Herald says, "there is nobody who ventures to declare that the coming winter season will be a dull one. On the contrary, there is a universal feeling that Miami is about to enter upon the greatest season in all its history."

"That can be accounted for by the fact that there has been an accumulated force of advertising the city that is having its full effect. Miami has been splendidly advertised for years. The city has kept everlastingly at the task of informing the world of the advantages of a sojourn in Miami, especially in the winter time, and keeping everlastingly at it makes success in advertising."

"Then, too, the friends we have made have been a fine help in our advertising programs. They have come to us from all over the country and from many other parts of the world and, returning to their homes, they have recounted their pleasant experiences, glorified our climate and praised the hospitality of our people. All of which has had its effect on others."

"All that makes for ever-increasing numbers of visitors each winter and largely accounts for the fact that the season is gradually being extended at both ends, early fall and late spring."

"So, we all now believe that we are going to have a fine winter and a prosperous one. The Gloomy Gusses have all disappeared."

Socialites To Get Earlier Reception

PALM BEACH, Oct. 20.—(AP) Stock markets may crash and rebound, wars may threaten, and extra sessions of Congress may be called but Palm Beach prepares to welcome the socialites as usual. Luxurious activities are starting a month earlier than usual, with invitations of a banquet being issued.

Winter and vacation are being enjoyed by thousands here, and the season is well advanced. The season here will close by Nov. 15.

Hotels and the Club de Palm Beach are being booked for the winter season. The season here will close by Nov. 15.

Jack and the Beanstalk

For those who feel that the poetry of life vanished when the machine age arrived, and yearn like the man in "Bartley Scragg" for romance of a vanished age, I offer as a worthy successor of the glamorous clipper ship of old the thrilling night of a good firing clipper sailing off for the Spanish main!

CANDLELIGHT

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

"Gird dusty with tumbling amid the stars—"

Almost since the world began man has had within him a heart that yearns to fly, the feeling that made Shilby "gold dusty with tumbling amid the stars." In ancient times, Jews tried gallantly with wax wings that melted and gave him a great fall like Humpty Dumpty. Peter Pan had his boy lock. With the aid of Sir James Harris and the fairies, Peter sailed gayly over Kensington Gardens and off to Never Land.

The poets may have had a younger yearning toward the skies, but all of us have had a touch of it. You can even see it in architecture, for what is a church spire but a gesture toward "angel wings winnowing the air"? Confess—when you were very young, didn't you step hopefully off the garden wall flapping your arms and half believing that "the miracle would happen?"

And now the miracle has happened. We are not earth bound any more. Along came the Wright Brothers, and Lindbergh, and a lot of others who turned their dreams into reality, and now the most prosaic soul among us can soar up to the clouds like a sky lark, glide down a rainbow, and fly like a sunset. It sounds like a fairy tale, and it is a fairy tale! It's the magic carpet from the Arabian Nights and the "Little Lame Prince's" traveling cloak rolled into one, and you don't even have to say, "Abracadabra."

Pan American Airways is celebrating its ninth anniversary in Miami—Pan American that links America with Cuba, the West Indies, Mexico, Central and South America, Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, China, and Bermuda! I can think of no other place that gives me the feeling of being on the edge of the universe that comes over me at the Pan American Airport at Doral Key in Miami, the gateway between the Americas.

The home-coming ships coming winging out of the blue, the outgoing planes go sailing out "into that untraveled world whose margin fades forever and forever" as they move, and one feels standing there the call of strange horizons. Even though I was only a "spectator sport," I somehow seemed very close to the forty-three far away countries bound together by Pan American Airways. The vociferous drums of Haiti sounded in my ears, the scent of white ginger flower blooming under the Southern Cross in a garden on Mt. St. Helens in Honolulu was in my nostrils, and I could see a Chinese store with painted lanterns, red lacquer boxes, mandarin coats, and temple bells.

I was brought back to the airport by a ship coming in. It was sunset time, and those people getting off the plane had breakfast in Santo Domingo! The captain, very dashing in a smart uniform, stands by as the passengers disembark in regular ocean liner fashion. Suddenly a lady throws her arms around him and gives him a very enthusiastic kiss. The captain's face turns brick red. He is much surprised and, like the clown in "Outward Bound," struck all of a heap. The big man following the lady laughs and shakes hands I could see a Chinese store with painted lanterns, red lacquer boxes, mandarin coats, and temple bells.

"One wonders what would happen if the generous lady should ever fly around the world!

Inside the airport building is a huge globe that revolves on its axis, accented by the atmosphere outside that the world is truly ours. In spite of all the thrills to the mind and spirit furnished here and the temptation the whole idea offers to get quite drunk on imagination, there is still something very satisfying and ever exciting about good food, and at the Pan American Airport Restaurant, you can have a buffet luncheon prepared by the former chef of Emperor Franz Josef of Austria—Julius Caesar Collemani. This of course adds the very best international touch. A lot of airplanes go down to the airport for lunch or dinner even if they are not flying down to Rio, and I can think of nothing that is so much like taking a trip without really going places.

For those who feel that the poetry of life vanished when the machine age arrived, and yearn like the man in "Bartley Scragg" for romance of a vanished age, I offer as a worthy successor of the glamorous clipper ship of old the thrilling night of a good firing clipper sailing off for the Spanish main!

Lee Declines To Shift Funds Of Pensioners

Shown to be tied up by legal contracts. The bill of the remainder was appropriated for apertic purposes and was not yet needed, as had become dormant.

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Into the tempest created by the governor's suggestion that state operating expenses be paid by transferring funds to the state treasury, Sen. J. M. Lee today voiced a protest against the transfer of pension funds to the state treasury.

"There will be no diversion of money from those for whom benefit the Legislature created the fund," the senator stated in unequivocal language. "When taxpayers are asked to pay taxes for a specific purpose, it is my constitutional duty as a legislator to see that the funds go for that purpose. And if the Legislature does not levy the taxes to take care of certain functions of the state government, it is not our duty to take the money from special funds to do what the Legislature desired to do."

"It is best as legislators to do very things which we should not do. I have previously made my position clear on this latter division and I want it distinctly understood that so far as it is in my power to prevent same, there will be no diversion of pension funds—either Confederate or old age assistance, nor teachers' salary money."

"If salaries of state officials can't be paid, we can wait until the Legislature provides a way—and that goes for my salary as well as the others."

"To sum it up simply and to very plain language, I will not approve any transfers that divert any money needed to carry out the purposes for which the taxes were levied."

"To insure availability of these special funds which needed, not even temporary loans will be approved by me except upon resolutions that provide for automatic repayment from assured funds that is to be available before special funds need the money. There will be no raids upon special funds for the help of the general fund unless I am required to make them by the Supreme Court of our State."

President Expects New Laws To Lift Purchasing Power

Evening conference with Secretary Mergenthau and Under-Secretary Knight of the treasury on the 20th.

They studied ways and means of making the treasury's book balance in the light of the President's family home and Mr. Roosevelt, answering a question, said before that that some would be among the subjects that probably would be discussed.

The President made no direct comment on the operation as to possible repeal or adjustment of present laws on capital gains and inheritance tax. He said he was not sure he was in a position to say whether the special-act stories were from the point of view of the viewpoint of the substantial population.

He said no mention was made in the operation of the laws the standard group must bear.

He expressed hope of great future increases in the income of the total population, stating that $50,000,000,000 the national income probably would go up to $70,000,000,000 and might later increase to $80,000,000,000 or $100,000,000,000.

He said it was his conviction that a labor department study should show government action had devalued the national income $1,000,000,000 the year on consumed with less a $1,500,000,000 loss was attributed from Federal government to citizens, because there was no action taken on this subject.

Principal speaker of the afternoon session.

Dean Mathews pointed out the fundamental changes in the political, social, cultural, economic and educational development of the state, nation and world and advised that the students must be prepared to meet these changed conditions before they finished their school work.

"The time has come when we can be content with cramming the lessons of history down students' throats then turning them educated. Today we must devote our energies to preparing boys and girls to live in the present and be prepared for the future rather than educate them to live in the past," charged Dean Mathews.

Earlier in the day, Dr. Lohr M. Wilson, president of Southern College in Lakeland, told the approximately 500 members of Central Florida that America could have prevented the war now raging between China and Japan in the Orient.

"If America had fully sold year's budget. The remaining $1,000,000,000 cut was due to a decrease in the money the government made available for relief work."

Last Battalion Is Expected To Give Up Fight To Finish

The situation considered dangerous to the International area.

It was feared the Settlements would be greatly endangered if the battalion continued to defy its enemies. A small group has held out in the warehouse between the general Chinese retreat from Chungking.

Thursday its commander rejected an offer of the American and British commanders to facilitate its withdrawal into the safety of the Settlement.

Yesterday a leader of the battalion sent out word the group would fight to the last man. Earlier tonight the Japanese, who surrounded the fortress on three sides, began a steady, methodical artillery bombardment of the stronghold.

A huge blue flag of the Chinese Republic continued to wave meaningfully over an array of 40,000 Japanese in shell-wracked Chungking throughout the day as the "doomed battalion" of less than 300 men held out against every effort to drive them out.

The stand of the Chinese "last side soldiers" who have vowed to die rather than retreat, assumed international proportions when the Japanese invaded British defense territory to attempt a new attack.

British riflemen sent their anti-aircraft guns back and the Japanese, although they previously announced they would give up the attempt to drive the Chinese from a shell-battered warehouse where they have fortified themselves—resumed the battle.

"We will never let them escape alive," they declared.

The Japanese command, apparently despairing of destroying the battalion after three days of blasting at the two connected warehouses where they have entrenched themselves, earlier in the night announced they would withdraw.

The almost frenzied jubilation of the Chinese, who hailed the defense of the "dare-to-die" men as an "inspiring victory," apparently caused the Japanese to change their plans.

British troops adjoining the "doomed garrison" said the Japanese were prepared to "move them down with machine guns" if they attempted to leave. The warships, even under protection of foreign troops.

A British officer observed that the attempt to use the British defense sector as a base of attack was "the most gall the Japanese have yet shown" in the Shanghai fighting.

Three Thefts Reported Here Over Weekend

Maitland, Longwood And Enterprise Are Scenes Of Midnight Activity By Thieves

Florida Bad Man Seen Implicated

Hugh Gant Believed By Authorities To Be Operating Here

A professional thief and probably the same man in each instance, is credited with breaking and entering two United States Postoffices and a depot during the gray of the Halloween week-end.

Hugh Gant, who has been reported in this vicinity, may have been responsible for the robberies, a Herald reporter was officially advised this morning. This statement came from a man who was reared in the same town in which Florida's present Public Enemy Number One was born and spent his early life, and whose close contacts with the workings of the bad man give him a thorough knowledge of his methods.

The extreme precaution used in the three robberies are said to point to the subtlety and precision of the offender.

Largest Crowds Since Last Spring Visit Local Zoo

The largest number of persons to visit the Municipal Zoo since last spring crowded the grounds yesterday to see the various new animals and birds that the park now has on display.

According to James Moughton, Park and Street Superintendent of Sanford, many of the visitors were from out-of-town and 80 percent of that number were from northern states, indicating that winter tourists are arriving earlier than usual.

Mr. Moughton also declared that in all probability, the coming winter season will see the largest crowds visiting the zoo in the history of that popular attraction.

Furnishing the most excitement for the animal followers were the African Lions, Leo and Queenie, Phil King, negro caretaker, stated this morning that the beasts were more lively and ambitious yesterday than they had been during the past several weeks.

The several hundred persons that have visited the Zoo were also entertained by two new bears that the zoo acquired from New York City mainly due to their acrobatic ability of climbing up on the bars of their cages and walking around and around.

According to their colored caretaker, Phil King, the bears do this mainly when they are hungry and are expecting their diet of bread and milk to be served to their very soon. The two bears, "Eskiel" and "Lil' Plural" have completely recovered from their trip from New York City to Sanford.

British Lodge Keen Protest Over Sinking

Cruiser Hood Speeds To Barcelona To Investigate Latest Attack By Pirates

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today the government had launched a strong protest with Spanish insurgent authorities over the sinking of the British merchantman Jean Weema.

As the mighty battle cruiser Hood sped to Barcelona to investigate the defiance of the Nyon Anti-Piracy Accord, Eden indicated Anglo-French Mediterranean reinforcements might be made a result of the Jean Weema bombing.

The insurgents, he said, "have undertaken at once to make a most searching inquiry" to fix the responsibility for the incident.

Eden also told Commons today that Britain will go exactly as far as the United States in seeking an end to the Chinese-Japanese conflict at the Brussels Nine-Power Conference which opens Wednesday.

Making it clear that the United States is expected to take the lead in any definite action to control the Far Eastern threat to world peace, Eden said Britain is prepared "to go as far as the United States, in full agreement with them—not rushing in front but not being left behind."

Earlier, he said the United States had provided the impetus for holding the Nine-Power Conference and also suggested that Brussels be the meeting place.

Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, self-appointed "Protector of Islam," has invited the fugitive Grand Mufti of Jerusalem to take refuge in Italian Libya to escape arrest by British authorities, it was reported in Jerusalem yesterday.

The Grand Mufti, Haj Amin el Husseini, escaped from Jerusalem's ancient Mosque of Omar two weeks ago in the disguise of a peasant across the Lebanese frontier into Syria during a wave of Arab terrorism which he and other leaders of the Arab high committee allegedly inspired.

French authorities in Beirut, Syria, asserting that nationalist disorders against British rule in the Holy Land and French rule in Morocco are related and can be traced to unrest spread by agents of a European "totalitarian power," yesterday gave the fugitive Palestine Arabs a week to leave Syria.

It also was reported that the Grand Mufti, spiritual leader of 837,000 Moslems and their temporal chief until stripped of his powers by British authorities, had been invited to take refuge in Baghdad as the guest of King Ghazi of the Iraq government.

Mussolini's formal invitation to the harried Grand Mufti was said to be a "reprisal" against the support which he alleges British officials in Kenya Colony accorded to the refugee rases (chieftains) of Ethiopia and their families (Continued on Page Four)

A party of Japanese Bluejackets had crossed the creek to the American sector of the International Settlement in a rice-laden junk seized after scaring off the Chinese crew by firing blank shots.

Brigadier General John C. Beaumont, the Marine commander in Shanghai, protested to Hasegawa who apologized and promised there would not be a recurrence of the incident. The apology came as 7,000 Japanese shock troops under cover of a thunderous artillery barrage crossed Soochow Creek west of Shanghai.

Closer to the Settlement, Japanese used a Chinese junk and other craft to negotiate the Creek and attack Chinese positions along the south bank. As the Japanese attempted to blast their way into the Chinese positions and encircle Shanghai, Major General A. P. D. Taylor-Smeltow, commander of the British troops refused to withdraw.
