

Notches On Rod Are For Hyenas

Not at all unlike the notches on a gangster's gun are the 28 big spikes imbedded in the shepherd's rod of Stephen A. Haboush. The difference is that each spike represents a dead jackal, hyena or wolf—not a human life.

Nowadays he spends his time lecturing before church and school groups, telling them of his boyhood as a Palestinian shepherd and showing his full color motion pictures of the Holy Land. The much-scarred rod more than once has meant the difference between life and death for him and his flocks on the lonely western shores of the Sea of Galilee.

"For several years I was a nursemaid to a flock of 85 sheep and a dozen goats," he said recently. It wasn't an easy job. The goats made my life miserable and the stray sheep unhappy. Most of my trouble was with the goats however. And I love goats as much as the Irish like the English. Nevertheless, thanks to my trusty black oak rod, I never lost more than seven or eight animals a year. That's even a pretty good record among the Palestinian tribes of today."

His father was maktar, or head, of the Haboush tribe in old Galilee-north of the city of Nazareth. When the father died several years ago, Stephen Haboush became patriarchal head of the tribe despite the fact he lived in the United States and had become a citizen.

"As a result, I have to return to my homeland every four years," he said. "In the meantime our tribal affairs are handled by a council of sheikhs."

When he first came to the United States he "hit the chestnut avenue trail" with such figures as the late William Jennings Bryan, the former Ambassador Josephus Daniels, and Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the famed arctic explorer. He has been at it ever since, turning to the churches and synagogues when the churches are unshined.

Therefore it is going to be a rare opportunity for the people of Sanford to meet and hear this native son of Galilee when he and Madame Haboush present the Bible Land Musical Travels of the Holy Land in natural color films and other special features.

They will appear at the following: South Side Primary School on Friday, January 6 at 7:30 p. m. under the auspices of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church. Hear him first on Sunday night Jan. 1st at 7:30 p. m. at the Methodist Church speaking on the 23rd Psalm. It is a program that will be a delight and an inspiration to all who are fortunate enough to at-

Spotlight On Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The actress who was selected for the most popular performance of the year was just as surprised by the honor as was some of Hollywood.

Some 15 million moviegoers voted in the Audience Award poll and Jennifer Jones came out on top for her role in "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing."

"It was a real surprise," she says, "and a very nice one. It was a big thrill for me."

In some ways, the Audie made more of an impression on her than the Oscar she won in 1944 for "Song of Bernadette."

"I was just starting in the business then," she explained. "When you're young and ambitious, you don't fully realize some of the wonderful things that happen to you. You take them a little for granted. Now I realize the value of such things and appreciate them more."

Miss Jones said it was especially pleasant to be honored by the public after having had many flops. What's this—a star admitting she has had flops?

THE SANFORD HERALD

"Oh, sure," she said disarmingly. "I've had them—perhaps more flops than hits. It's discouraging to do something you hope is going to please everyone and then find out they don't like it. But there's one good thing—you always find someone who likes a picture you have done, no matter how big a flop it is. That's the strange thing about the movies."

At present she is at work again. This has been her busiest year in films; she has done three—"Many Splendored," "Good Morning, Miss Dove" and the present "Man in the Gray Flannel Suit."

PAUL HUGH returns to his starring role in "Inherit the Wind" on Broadway in a dramatic comeback from an eye-removal operation. Actor Melvyn Douglas (left), his replacement, does the honors in welcoming Muni to his masterful portrayal of the Clarence Darrow-type lawyer. It had been feared that removal of the eye, caused by a tumor, would end Muni's career.

Navy Making Attempt To Replace Mother's Big Seasonal Dinner

All Navy men based aboard the Naval Auxiliary Air Station will not be able to get home for Christmas dinner this Sunday, but the NAAS Commissary Department is making a good attempt at replacing Mother's seasonal meal.

Over three hundred pounds of turkey will be prepared for the men, along with all the holiday trimmings.

Christmas dinner's menu at the station will read as follows: Cream of Tomato Soup, Crackers, Roast Tom Turkey, Cornbread Dressing, Giblet Gravy, Candied Sweet Potatoes, Marbled Potatoes, Buttered Peas, Buttered Asparagus Tips, Tossed Vegetable Salad, French Dressing, Assorted Olives, Hot Pan Rolls, Butter, Fruit Cake, Hard Sauce, Hard Candies, Assorted Nuts, Hot Coffee, Fresh Milk.

The Commissary Department plans to feed between three and four hundred men. Married men living off the base will be able to purchase the full meal for one dollar.

$100 Check Given Mrs. Bedenbaugh By Peace Officers

An official of the Florida Peace Officers Association presented a Christmas gift in Sanford late yesterday.

Mrs. Burtis S. Bedenbaugh, widow of the late Clifford C. Bedenbaugh who was a former prisoner guard and police officer with the Sanford Police Department, received a check for $100 from the statewide organization of law enforcement officers.

Carl D. Buchanan, Chief of Police at Winter Park and a Director of the Florida Peace Officers Association, came to Sanford to present the check and with Mrs. Bedenbaugh a Merry Christmas. Chief of Police Roy Williams met with Chief Buchanan and Mrs. Bedenbaugh for the presentation. Chief Buchanan told Mrs. Bedenbaugh, "We are very happy to bring you this small check in appreciation of the services rendered by your late husband."

Mrs. Bedenbaugh said, "I appreciate this check and all of the other things the Florida Peace Officers Association has done for me."

Winter Socials At All-Time High

"Social events for the winter season this year are at an all-time high," said Frank Meban, manager of the Mayfair Inn.

Meban said that the citizens of Sanford are visiting the hotel, and he wants to make everyone feel perfectly at home when they're here," he added. "We certainly do not want to embarrass anyone." Meban remarked, "but because of our policies and the regulations which cover the license in our hotel, visitation licenses are not allowed at the hotel."

The Mayfair Inn Manager said, "We are extremely happy that so many Sanford and Central Florida people are visiting the hotel." "To insure the success of an annual celebration, we must work together and understand the problems of one another," he said.

NO TOLLS COLLECTED ON CHRISTMAS DAY
The Sanford Chamber of Commerce has announced that no tolls will be collected on Christmas day on the highway between Sanford and Winter Park. The toll is usually $1.00 per car.

Motorists Are Urged To Take Precautions

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Highway Patrol and National Guard joined forces today in a battle against death on the highways over the long Christmas weekend.

Patrol troopers were supplemented by members of the patrol auxiliary and by 100 guardsmen, three guard planes and two helicopters.

It was the first time guardsmen have been used in such numbers for traffic duty in Florida. They were stationed at the 20 most acute traffic spots in the state.

All available troopers, and even Commander H. N. Kirkman, went on Christmas weekend duty. They will be out on 12-hour patrol shifts through Monday.

Through yesterday the traffic toll in Florida was 16 below the same date last year and Kirkman said every effort would be made to keep the 1955 figure under that for 1954.

The fatality total through yesterday was 925 against 941 to the same time last year.

New Storm Strikes California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Northern California, already awash after a record week of wind and rain, staggered under even heavier blows today.

With every major coastal stream already out of its banks, thousands of homes flooded and whole counties isolated, a new storm struck the Coast last night with full gale force.

Two big valleys in northern Siskiyou County were flooded, and the big rivers of the northern Sierra—the Feather, Yuba, American and Bear—all were over flood stage.

The greatest damage was in Humboldt County, through which both of the great coastal river systems—the Klamath and the Eel—flow to the sea.

Eureka, Humboldt county seat and a city of 25,000, was completely isolated and without communications, except for a navy reserve radio unit "ham" transmitters.

The entire Eel River Valley, in southern Humboldt, was flooded and two villages—Weot with 500 persons and South Fork with 300—were wiped out when the Redwood Valley Dam on the upper Eel overflowed.

Diplomats Express Doubt On Demands

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomats expressed doubt today that Syria could get the Security Council to meet her demands that Israel be ousted from the U. N. and penalized heavily for the Dec. 11 Galilee attack.

The usual resolution of censure and appeal for negotiations appeared a more likely result.

Chief Syrian Delegate Ahmed Shukairy placed a seven-point resolution before the council last night after insisting the time had come for punitive measures to check what he called further Israeli "aggression" against Arab states.

Observers pointed out, however, that Syria does not belong to the council and the 11-nation body can act on a resolution only on a member's request.

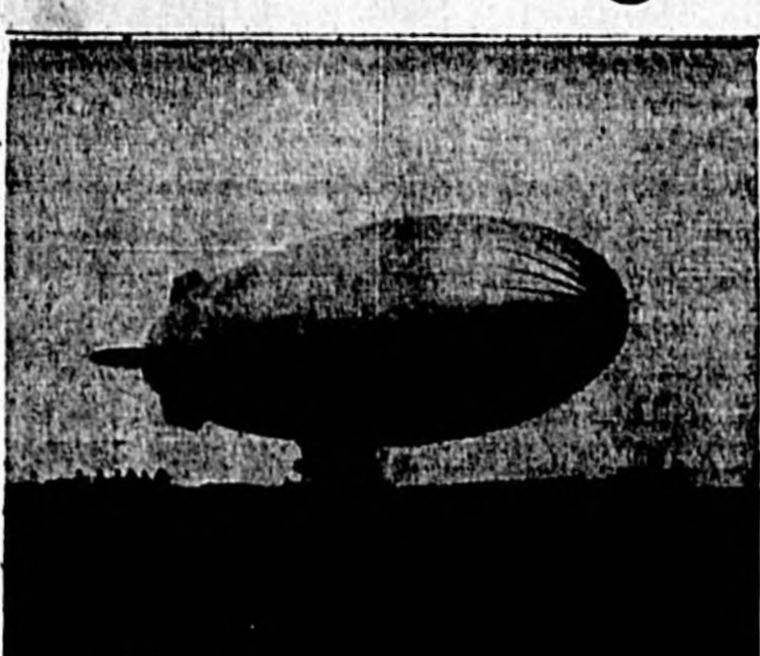

Strike Postponed With New Dispute

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A strike threatened by 22,500 Pennsylvania Railroad non-operating employees has been postponed indefinitely in an effort to negotiate a dispute over a new contract.

The Transport Workers Union accepted a PRR request and called it off yesterday, seven hours before the midnight deadline.

The negotiators, who reported "progress" in their contract talks, set Jan. 4 for the next session.

Christmas Letter Sent To Residents

Capt. R. W. Jackson, Commanding Officer of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, has written a special letter to residents of Seminole County.

It reads as follows: The Sanford Herald Sanford, Florida

Dear Sirs: As we approach the Christmas Season and at the end of another year it appears most appropriate that we of the Naval Auxiliary Air Station thank our many friends in town for past favors and wish them all a Joyous Christmas. We appreciate the special use of the Herald columns for this purpose.

Though most of us are sojourners in your midst we have nothing but the best to say for your friendliness, your helpfulness, and the many, many kindnesses which have been extended to us. We find in the townfolk of Sanford that which approaches the Christmas Spirit the year around. We thank you particularly for this and for the privilege of sharing this all too rare an experience with you.

Our station civilian personnel and our families join us in extending you every good wish for the Christmas Season and the coming year.

Very sincerely,
Robert W. Jackson
Commanding Officer,
NAAS Sanford

For the past 10 years a new disease—possibly several related or similar diseases—in cattle has plagued producers. Reports of this disease have become more frequent in the last year or so. At least 20 states are now believed to be involved.

In Iowa the infection is known as mucosal disease according to Dr. D. A. Sanders of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station; in Colorado and California it is known as red nose or upper respiratory infection; in Indiana as Purdus virus diarrhea; in New York as virus diarrhea—and possibly by other names in other states.

Some symptoms of this disease or diseases are the same, others different, in different areas. Affected animals show an acute high temperature, go off feed, and lose weight rapidly. In most cases diarrhea and mucosal discharge from the nostrils are also present. Mortality rates vary greatly among affected animals. Antibiotics have been directly helpful in only a few reported cases, though they are believed to be useful in combating secondary infections that may follow these diseases.

Dawson points out that the U. S. Department of Agriculture is working closely with State and private research organizations and State livestock regulatory officials in an attempt to find the cause or causes of these new or unidentified diseases, and to develop the means of controlling them. Two interstate conferences called by the Department's Agricultural Research Service this year brought to light evidence that these diseases may be more prevalent and widespread than actual reports so far indicate.

LAST MINUTE REQUESTS
SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Members of the San Angelo Amateur Radio Club will open their homes and radio sets tonight so children can talk to Santa Claus and maybe get in a last minute request or two.

Thousands Will Pay Tribute

Churches Plan Special Program

Christmas will be celebrated in Sanford and the Central Florida area with church services and with special programs depicting the Nativity.

Thousands will flock to churches to take part in the programs prepared for children and adults alike, and to hear the Christmas Message from pulpits of every denomination.

The First Methodist Church will have a program of carol singing, special musical numbers, and the Annual Candlelighting service Sunday evening. The program will begin at 7:15 p. m. with 15 minutes of organ Christmas music played by Mrs. Frances Hickson. Following the organ vespers there will be congregational singing of Christmas Hymns under the leadership of Charles Morrison.

The second part of the program will consist of a play and organ duet, "Overture to 'The Messiah'" with Tommy Wyatt at the piano and Mrs. Hickson at the organ, solos by Mrs. Roy Wall and John Beebe, a duet by Mrs. Robert Bennett and Mrs. Ashby Jones, an anthem by the Senior Choir and another piano and organ duet. The special music will be followed by a candlelighting ceremony.

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, which holds its services at the Yacht Club, will present its Annual Christmas program for the children tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. A Christmas Tree will be decorated from which gifts for the children and Sunday School classes will be distributed.

Sunday School will be held Sunday morning at the Yacht Club at 9:15 with church services following at 10:30. Pastor Phillip Schlessmann will deliver the Christmas message.

Yule Organ Music Set For Tomorrow At Mayfair Inn

Christmas Carols played on an electric organ by one of Central Florida's most attractive beauty contest winners will precede the appearance of Santa Claus in the lobby of the Mayfair Inn at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night, it was announced by Manager Frank N. Mebane Jr., today.

Miss Joyce Lynn Davis will play on an organ, loaned for the occasion by the Sireep Music Co. of Orlando. The hotel management invites local music lovers to attend and participate in the singing.

FREE TREES

G. R. BROWN

George R. Brown Is Chosen VAH-5 White Hat Of Week

A 3,000 mile romance began in January 1953 during Heavy Attack Squadron Five's deployment to the Mediterranean. Seaman George Robert Brown had gone on leave to visit his father in Birmingham, England.

In the same house he met his present fiancée, Betty Hoer. Although they decided on marriage, the road toward that goal has been rough. Two attempts by Brown during last year's deployment of the squadron, then VCS, ended in failure.

Red tape involved in a marriage of a G. I. to a girl who is a citizen of a foreign country requires the permission of many important officials, both military and civilian. The paper work involved is enormous.

At this writing, however, Brown is once more on his way to England with hopes of returning with his bride to Sanford and the completion of his tour of military service. If all goes well, the couple plan to live at the home of friends James and Nancy Hagerly, who live at 2244 W. 19th St., in Sanford.

Brown, 23, hails from Staten Island, New York. He has been with VAH-5 nearly four years. His duties consist of being the squadron communicator who handles all dispatches and messages sent and received by the squadron.

New Words Put To Old Rhythm

"Twas the night before Christmas, the usual time
For abandoning prose and reverting to rhyme.
I look forward to look
It's the season when children
Given free by the man in the red flannel suit.
Their elders, of course, know
That nothing is free,
That daydreams are never fulfilled on a tree.
They know that you're apt to be in for a shock
If your hopes for the future depend on a sock
A rummy-nosed stranger might like to pack tight
If he fell down your chimney some very dark night.
Yet each in his heart has an unwritten letter—
If just to himself—asking next year he better.
And maybe it will. But years, like a river,
Warm up boys while and then give you a shiver.

This year, going out, started cool, then got nice,
And before it was over was covered with ice.
Hostility melted, peace opened the door.
When Ike met Bulganin and Eden and Faure,
At least, so it seemed, for a moment. And then
The door slowly closed. There was cold war again.
Had the door ever opened? Some doubt it. They think
At Geneva the Huskians just came for a drink.
Dark point of the year was the sudden attack
The President suffered. But he's coming back.
The biggest sensation and biggest snafu
Involved Salk's vaccine at the time it was new.
Last Christmas old Santa, with contrast in hand,

Must have seemed to two men as especially grand.
They were Dixon and Yates. But this year they won't carol.
Their contract is gone and they're over a barrel.
Best gift the old man with the sled and the deer
Could give the Republican party next year
Is assurance that Ike will recover and then
Make up his mind to start running again.
They'll be awful uneasy if the doesn't run
Since he's been for the party combined moon and sun.
The Democrats, trying to whip up a winner,
Are busy as chefs at a president's dinner.
The menu, it seems, is what has them in trouble:
A moderate course? Or more sip? Or — more lubber!

Auburn Fined For Breaking Football Code

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Auburn was fined $2,000 for giving two high school football prospects $300

Veeck Is More Familiar

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Bill Veeck's baseball connections may be good, but his communications system leaves a lot to be desired.

A couple of years ago, when he peddled the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore, he practically retired to a 27,000-acre ranch 15 miles north of Glenwood, N.M.

Veeck turned to more familiar haunts Tuesday when he was asked to handle Miami in that team's triple-A debut in the International League.

Over the phone he told a reporter Miami "at its worst will be five times as good a baseball team as Syracuse," whose franchise Miami is taking over.

Veeck had a few more statements to make, then he went back in the wilderness.

Sports editors over the nation began asking for elaboration, but to no avail.

This is Veeck's telephone set-up: His phone is on a weather-scarred utility pole five miles from his ranch headquarters. Twice a day he finds his way to it and calls Glenwood to see if any calls have come in for him.

If it's a matter of life or death, his caller authorizes the Glenwood operator to send a messenger to the ranch for a fee. Veeck, in turn, violates his twice-daily routine and returns the call an hour or so later, when he can make his way over the backwoods roads.

Veeck tells this tale: A major league executive wanted his opinion on a pending big player deal. High salaries were involved. The caller asked Veeck to talk louder—"sounds like a tornado is going through your living room."

"It's no tornado, and I'm not talking from my living room. I'm out in the middle of the sticks, and I'm holding onto this pole for dear life. There's a heck of a dust storm blowing, and I think I just saw one of my steers go flying by."

That particular executive has been "talking" with Veeck via the mails since then.

Hot-Shot Deacons Win Champ Final

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Walt Forest's hot-shooting Deacons, rolling after losing their first three games, won the inaugural Carvel Baseball Classic by clipping Clemson, 22-7, in the championship final last night.

Tonight the Deacons go after bigger game when they take on Brigham Young, No. 1 in the nation, at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Colgate pulled the "miracle" of the tournament, overcoming Tennessee in their third place battle, 67-66, after falling 48-49.

each in violation of the Southeastern Conference grants-in-aid code. The high school players are Harry and Robert Beasbe, star halfbacks at Gadsden, Ala. SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said they were given the money Nov. 28 by Hal Herring, an assistant coach at Auburn. The money was returned the next day.

Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, Auburn president, termed the incident "inexcusable and highly regrettable."

In a statement issued shortly after Moore's announcement yesterday, Draughon offered an apology to the conference, but added that he believes another SEC member also should have been penalized.

Draughon declared that Auburn had offered a legitimate grant-in-aid to the twins, but that others acting in the interest of another SEC school led the boys to believe that they would be given a furnished apartment.

SEC grants-in-aid provide room, board, books, school fees and up to a maximum of $15 monthly for laundry and cleaning.

Draughon did not name the other school. However, the Beasbes said that only Auburn and Alabama had offered them athletic scholarships.

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, president of the University of Alabama, declined comment.

The $2,000 fine was the largest in the SEC since 1936. It was the maximum such penalty possible under conference regulations.

The Beasbe twins were ruled ineligible for intercollegiate athletics at Auburn. But they are free to sign with any other SEC school.

At Gadsden, The Rev. Albert V. Beasbe, father of the twins, said their choice with him before they accept a scholarship, "so that the same thing will not arise again."

The twins said they had not made up their mind whether they would attend a SEC school, adding that they had received overtures from Oklahoma, Clemson and Southern California.

Beasbe is a Church of God minister. Both boys are married.

ALL AGES HUNT AND FISH

LANBING, Mich. (AP)—In an effort to find out if junior, dad or grandpa get the most use of the outdoors the Michigan Conservation Dept. checked the ages on hunting and fishing licenses.

It turned out that bow hunters were the youngest in the group with most of them in the 20-29 year bracket. Firearms hunters had most of their members between 21 and 35. Fishermen hit their peak between 26 and 40.

Insist on sugar in the original REFINERY PACKED package!

When you buy DIXIE CRYSTALS you KNOW it's pure and untouched by human hands!

Why take a chance on sugar refined abroad, and then "re-packed" in a warehouse—when you can get clean, pure DIXIE CRYSTALS, in the original refinery-packed bag? Check your bag of sugar for the words "Refinery Packed."

Circle Holds Meet In Church Chapel

The Beardsall Ave. Chapel Circle held a regular meeting Monday at 2 p. m. with two guests present.

Mrs. Maner Anderson read the Christmas scriptures and the group sang Christmas hymns. An exchange of gifts was held under the large decorated Christmas tree.

Members presented gifts to Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Raymond Schaal as chairman of the circle.

Outdoor cooking stunt: Scrub potatoes well and wrap them in aluminum foil. Bury in hot ashes and let them stay there about an hour if you've chosen medium-sized to large potatoes. Serve with butter or margarine, salt, freshly-ground pepper and cream-style cottage cheese to which minced parsley has been added.

George Maffett, Bible Teacher
Mrs. Maffett served tea after the meeting.

Princess Margaret Receives Title Of 'Woman Of Year' By AP Writers

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Proving that all the world loves a love story, Princess Margaret Rose of Britain was named Woman of the Year by the annual vote of women's editors of Associated Press newspapers throughout the country.

From the standpoint of news value, there was no doubt that the royal romance of the young princess and the dashing but divorced Group Captain Peter Townsend fired the imagination of the whole world for several weeks this fall, while true love was weighed against royal tradition.

And when duty to church, state and family was over personal happiness, headlines around the world were just as big and black as they were on that occasion almost a generation ago when Margaret's uncle, King Edward VII, made a different decision and renounced his throne for "the woman I love."

Voting on women news personalities outstanding in their various fields in 1955, the women's poll named the following:

Grace Kelly, the young actress from Philadelphia who won film-land's highest award early in the year, was named tops in entertainment for 1955 by vote of AP managing editors as well as women's editors. So great has been her impact on the American public that she has started a whole new trend in the standard of film beauty and has influenced many of this year's fashion col-fresh young American look. Grace Kelly, a nice girl from a nice family, has made good taste glamorous.

Runner-up in the vote for actress of the year was Helen Hayes, often called first lady of the American stage, whose 60th anniversary on Broadway was honored by having a theater named after her.

Almost unanimously, Clare Booth Luce was voted woman of the year in politics. The charming and controversial U. S. Ambassador to Italy returned to her post in Rome after a successful summer visit to Washington.

In the field of public service, 75-year-old Helen Keller was voted the outstanding woman. Blind and deaf since birth, she took a five-month 40,000-mile trip around the world on behalf of the blind, returned to receive a special citation from President Eisenhower's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, which read, in part: "For a lifetime of service to humanity and for her example of courage, faith and triumph over physical obstacles."

Also by almost unanimous vote, the incomparable Babe Zaharias again was named woman of the year in sports. Although this year, for almost the first time in her star-studded career, she won no major golf tournaments, she was the most talked-of and read-about figure in the feminine world of sports because of her gallant battle against cancer and her best-selling autobiography, "This Life I've Led."

Anna Morrow Lindbergh received the title of woman of the year in literature by overwhelming vote, for her sensitive and thoughtful book, "Gift from the Sea," written during a vacation on a tropical island, in which she viewed the tensions and complexities of the life of a modern woman at middle age, weaving her personal philosophy around the allegory of a sea shell.

Although she retired to private life on Aug. 1, Greta Culp Hobbby former secretary of health, welfare and education, was voted the outstanding woman of 1955 in the field of education. During her brief term as the only woman member of the Eisenhower cabinet she guided her department through two of the greatest controversial climaxes in the nation—the issue of racial integration in the schools, and the early confusion over the Salk polio vaccine.

Bernice Fitz-Gibbon, probably America's best-known advertising woman, was voted woman of the year in the field of business, after she resigned her post as advertising manager of one of New York's biggest department stores to open her own firm. In 1955 nobody but nobody but nobody topped Bernice Fitz-Gibbon in headline value in her field.

Principal Morris To Be Featured Friday By Club

Thursday night at 7 p. m. the Student Club, a weekly presentation over WTRR by Seminole High School, will bring to its teenage audience the annual Christmas radio message from H. E. Morris to the students of SHS. Mr. Morris has been principal of Seminole High many years and is one of Sanford's leading citizens.

The school news is first on this week's program followed by the revealing of the couple of the week and the playing of the top record on the SHS Hit List.

The talk by Mr. Morris is next and then the talent will be presented. George Anderson will play this week an alto saxophone solo. He will be accompanied by Roger Harris. Anderson is a senior and saxophonist of the Band. He also directs the school's dance band.

This week's hosts are Randall Robbins and Leslie Smith. Randall had his first radio experience in the seventh grade when he announced a weekly talent show. He has been on the staff of the student club for a year and a half and is in the school news bureau. Leslie started with the Student Club three years ago and is now chairman of the staff. He is also an assistant director and supervises the talent department.

1955 nobody but nobody but nobody topped Bernice Fitz-Gibbon in headline value in her field.

Dec. 27 Holiday Party Is Planned By Tourist Club

The Sanford Tourist and Club Board held a covered dish supper last night. The club was beautifully decorated with a Christmas theme by the Magnolia Circle of the Garden Club. A delicious supper was enjoyed by 45 members present. Games were played afterwards.

On Dec. 27 at 7:30 there will be a Christmas party and exchange of gifts. A program will be presented by the Choral Club of Home Demonstration Clubs of Seminole County. "Where in the World But in America" and "Prayer of Thanksgiving" will be sung by the group. Solo will be sung by Mrs. Ben Gray of Longwood. Also planned is "Charlotown," and a reading will be given by Mrs. Ralph Peters. "I Passed By Your Window" will be rendered by the chorus. Duets will be sung by Mrs. Russell Jones and Mrs. Maude Cupper after which "Silent Night" will be rendered. Mrs. Claude Pierce of Casselberry is chorus director. Refreshments will be served.

CHEF'S SALAD

Ingredients: 1 package old-fashioned French salad dressing, 1/2 wine vinegar, water, olive oil to cup this short strips cooked ham, 1/2 cup this short strips Swiss cheese, 1/2 cup this short strips white meat of chicken, 1 medium-sized head romaine (cut in 1-inch pieces), 1/4 of a medium-sized head lettuce (cut in 1-inch pieces), 1/4 bunch water cress (heavy stems cut off and separated into small sprigs), 1/4 bunch chicory (cut in 1-inch pieces), 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 hard-cooked eggs, (sliced), 2 tablespoons minced chives.

Method: Combine salad dressing, vinegar, water, olive oil and olive oil as directed on package. Chill ham, cheese and chicken. Place greens in large salad bowl; add 1 cup of the French dressing and the mayonnaise; toss together lightly. Arrange cress and cheese on top in alternate sections radiating from center. Garnish with egg slices and chives. Makes about 2 1/2 quarts, or 6 to 8 servings.

OTHER SALADS

Don't serve the same old salad all the time! Here are some combinations that eaters usually like:

1. Strips of cooked smoked tongue and cheddar cheese with shredded green cabbage and diced pimientos. Toss with French dressing.
2. Water cress sprigs, thin slices of cucumber and crumbled crisply cooked bacon. Toss with French dressing.
3. Diced cooked potatoes and diced cooked chicken with cooked green peas or snap beans. Marinate with French dressing, then add mayonnaise and serve on salad greens.
4. Young tender leaves of fresh green spinach with crumbled crisply cooked bacon and French dressing. Top with crisp croutons.
5. Salad greens tossed with bits of anchovy fillets, slices of pimiento-stuffed olives, a French dressing and grated Parmesan cheese.
6. Thin celery crescents with seafood—cooked shrimp, crab meat and lobster—and butter-toasted walnuts. The celery, seafood and walnuts may be mixed with well-seasoned mayonnaise and served on any leafy greens.

Announcement

Due to the holidays the Duplicate Bridge Club will postpone its meetings until Jan. 6.

Used canned pineapple filling to spread between layers of white cake (plain, angelfood or sponge). Follow the directions on the can for preparing the filling but add finely diced syrup-preserved ginger (to taste) after you prepare it. The ginger tastes best when it is not heated but added last in this way.

the Snapshot Guild

Careless of any age will be good subject matter for your flash camera outdoors at night.

A Flash of Light in the Night—and You've Got a Picture

Try taking your camera outdoors at night during the holiday season. Of course, we don't mean that you should do it just at Christmas, but we feel sure that if you try it, you'll make it a year around custom.
 The flash attachment on your camera and the lamp it holds is the key to your success and the ease of your picture-taking. Use your camera and flash for outdoor pictures just as you do indoors.
 This is just about the easiest kind of picture taking we know. There are so many things that enter into other situations that you don't have to consider. There's no worry about the direction of the sun, or squinting subjects. Furthermore, you've got a wonderful, ready-made dark background, an ideal setting for picturing your favorite people.
 Flash outdoors at night isn't just for black-and-white pictures. With color film in your camera, whether you're making color slides or snapshots, you have a chance for some really striking pictures that will bring you many compliments.
 It's all so easy—and you get such good results. So, when you go caroling, when the family starts off on a round of calls to deliver gifts, or whatever takes you out into the night—take your camera.
 You'll have some fine shots to lend variety to your picture story of Christmas in your family.

Does Your Health Permit Air Travel?

By NEWMAN N. BUNDSMAN, M.D.
 WITH many of you planning to go home for the holidays, I think a few words of caution about air travel are in order.
 Most people can travel comfortably, safely and without fear of air sickness in our modern pressurized airliners. But there are some of you who should not fly at all and others who should take certain precautions.
Heart Patients
 For some heart patients flying is okay. For others it is taboo. Writing in the New York Journal of Medicine, Dr. K. L. Stratton lists those who should not fly as:
 Persons with a recent myocardial infarction or decompensation.
 Persons with congestive failure or severe coronary insufficiency.
 Expectant mothers who have been pregnant for eight months or more.
 Infants under ten days old.
Active Ulcers
 Persons with active and bleeding peptic ulcers, recent abdominal operations, draining sinuses, epilepsy or osteomyelitis.
 Persons who have undergone excision of a lung or lobe within three months of the flight.
 Air travel is hazardous for those suffering active tuberculosis, status asthmaticus, lung abscess or carcinoma, bronchiectasis or pneumothorax.
 You can fly even with hypertension, providing careful evaluation is made if your diastolic pressure is above 110 mm. Hg. Symptoms indicating the onset of asthma or a stroke mean you cannot fly at that time.
 You are able to fly even if you have suffered coronary attacks providing your last attack was more than six months ago, you can tolerate slight exercise, the electrocardiogram is stabilized and exertion does not produce blueness of the skin or labored breathing.
Lung Disease
 If you've got a lung disease, make sure you take along a supply of oxygen and a medical attendant on the flight. Since planes generally do not carry enough oxygen to keep an ill person supplied throughout an entire trip, you should rest and seek a reduction valve and mask.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q. Mrs. G. B.: I am 68 years old and am troubled with polyps in my mouth. What can be done to eliminate them?
A. Answer: In the majority of instances, polyps are removed surgically. A nose and throat specialist should be consulted as to the management of them in your particular case.

Inland Water Transportation Will Surge Ahead In Next Year

There's a forecast for 1956 and a business review for 1955 that spells out much that Sanford and Central Florida has missed over a number of years.

The report issued recently states that inland waterway transportation and the barge and towing vessel industry in 1955 made their greatest contribution to the expansion of the national economy and all the factors entering into the 1956 business picture indicate industry, electric power, agriculture and mining will pour still more tonnage into waterborne commerce during the twelve months ahead.

For this reason we have been harping on the docks and wharves project for Sanford so that the economy of the Central Florida area can expand along with other centers enjoying waterway freight and traffic.

The report, in particular, states that "decentralization of mass-production industry, expansion of the national economy, development of reserves of natural resources in areas far removed from the great centers of population, tremendous growth of the electric power industry and the increasing importance of low-cost bulk transportation to the economic well-being of the nation all combined to pyramid barge traffic during 1955."

Should the docks and wharves project have been completed when various interests were boosting such an undertaking, business entering into Sanford and Central Florida would have been increasing by leaps and bounds.

In some sections of the country where river freight traffic is being used, tonnage is up ten and twenty per cent. In one area, tonnage so far in 1955 has exceeded all of 1954, in another location tonnage was up thirteen percent. Total 1955 ton-mileage of barge traffic for the nation's system of 28,000 miles of inland waterways will show a six per cent gain over 1954 when finally tabulated by the Army Corps of Engineers. The following table shows the growth over the last decade:

Year	Ton-miles
1946	27,981,178,000
1947	34,548,917,000
1948	43,139,091,000
1949	41,892,862,000
1950	51,656,637,000
1951	62,232,320,000
1952	68,237,193,000
1953	75,056,259,000
1954	82,503,839,000
1955	87,500,000,000 (estimated)

Predictions of continued growth of inland waterway traffic as well as of the barge and towing vessel fleet, terminal system and the inland shipbuilding industry are predicated on many factors. Among them are: (1) the steel industry's major expansions and in the delivering of its raw materials and in distributing its products through heavy use of barge transportation. (2) the bituminous coal industry in 1955 increased its output by 71,000,000 tons and probably will continue that rate of expansion through 1956. (3) the sand and gravel industry predicts further growth in 1956 and will ship more than ten per cent of its output by barge in the coming year. (4) grain trade on the navigable rivers is certain to expand during 1956. (5) the electric power industry is building many new generating plants on navigation channels where they can enjoy the benefits of low-cost barge transport. (6) barge transportation will be used by the fertilizer industry in 1956 to a greater degree than ever before. (7) chemical plants are mushrooming all over the inland waterway system and special freighting equipment is being built for transporting their products on the rivers and canals. (8) the cargo capacity of the great inland waterway fleet will be greater in 1956 than ever before and the efficiency of this low-cost freight carrier has been enhanced by new and improved power units and improved channels. (9) terminal handling of barged freight has been speeded and cheapened in recent years by port improvements at scores of points. (10) during 1955 waterside sites were selected for more than 500 new plants or major plant additions contributing millions of new tons to the barge traffic total for 1956.

The future is brighter for the barge and freight traffic along navigable waterways of the nation. Sanford offers one of the most brilliant possibilities for a freight center receiving millions of tons of many types of raw and manufactured material as well as a shipping point for the millions of tons of Florida products that can be shipped to metropolitan centers of the nation for competitive trade.

The project providing docks and wharves for Sanford and Central Florida should be lifted out of its dormant stage and brought to life.

Section 57. DUPLICATE ASSESSMENT; ONE TAX TO BE COLLECTED, BALANCE CREDITED; ERRORS, ETC., TO BE REPORTED. When the City Tax Collector discovers that any land has been assessed more than once for the same years taxes, he shall collect only the tax justly due thereon, and shall make returns of the balance of a double assessment, and shall be credited therefor by the City Tax Assessor and by the City Commission. He shall also report to the City Tax Assessor and the City Commission the errors, double assessments and inaccuracies for which he is to be credited, under different heads, giving in every case the names of the parties on whose account the credit is to be allowed.

HAD BOYLE

Book Could Be 'Live And Learn'

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the best how-to-do-it books is at hand — and I don't know which hand to throw it from.

It destroys my whole sense of perspective.

The title is, "How To Gain An Extra Hour Every Day."

The reason I don't dare throw it from either hand is that just by looking at it my whole life has changed. I started to throw this book away with the left hand, and now I've determined to go back to the starboard side. With it I can hurt further. But I am cured. Thereby I've gained a minute — and, frankly, I don't know how to invest it.

I hate to have this minute go astray in the long horology of time. But I really don't know what else to do with it.

That's my trouble. Most of the people I know don't find enough time to do half the things on their minds. I find I have more than double the time on my hands to do the things on my mind. Except for one thing, that is — and that's to loaf.

I always run out of loafing time, which to me is thinking-time, growing-up-time, getting - away - from - it all - time, getting back - to it over.

Naturally, when I think about serious problems like these I'm not really loafing. I'm ordinarily just getting drowsy, as I lean tiredly against my tall friend Irish wolfhound and wave hello to guests coming across the meek draw-bridge of my existence.

This volume about "How To Gain An Extra Hour Every Day" is written by Ray Joseph, a triple threat career man himself — author, public relations specialist and homemaker, here and in South America.

This book opens a new world to me, and I want to get out of it. But it fascinates me and gives me a sense of guilt.

On its cover the book says "everyone needs more time for the things he really wants to do." (And more opportunity also.)

It offers 248 time-saving techniques, developed by "scores of America's best - known, busiest people."

It tells, for example, how "Sam Goldwyn breaks up those long time-wasting luncheons by discussing business before eating." It doesn't go into the question of who is able to eat when the discussion is in bed admiring other people.

The book also tells how President Eisenhower "has learned to bathe, shave, and dress in 30 minutes or less — almost 10 to 15 fewer than most men — by using a routine developed over his many years as a military man."

Former President Harry Truman shares with General Eisenhower this talent of being a fast morning dresser.

But I like Joseph's description of how the former British prime minister safeguards his hours against waste.

"Sir Winston Churchill," he points out, "does half his day's work in bed; gets added rest while accomplishing twice as much in half the previous, constantly interrupted office time."

This is the soundest of all Mr. Joseph's 248 different ways to save time. The gamble is great but the possible reward is fascinating.

Who wouldn't dare the possibility of unemployment if by staying in bed half of every day a fellow might hope to become prime minister of England?

The problem of how to gain an extra hour every day wouldn't seem so bad if a man could spend it in bed admiring other people.

Aliens To Report Addresses To Unit Under '56 Program

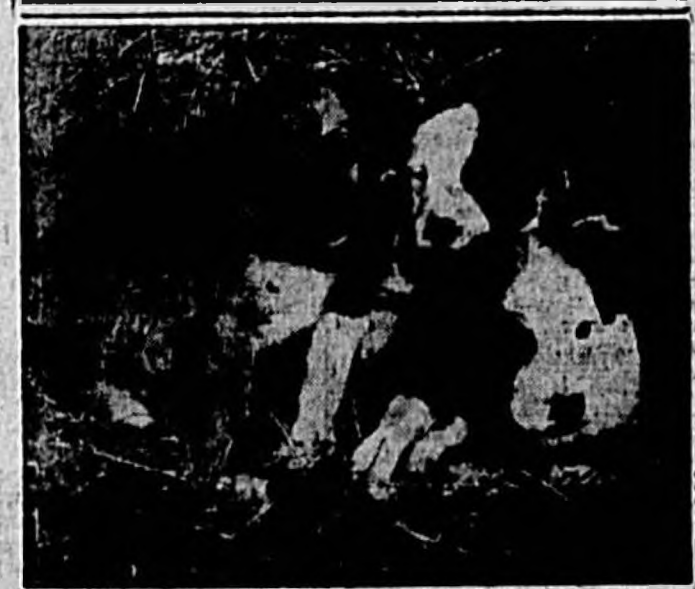

Commissioner J. M. Fwing announced today the Immigration and Naturalization Service expects some 2,900,000 aliens their addresses in January under the 1956 Alien Address Report Program. The Commissioner explained that under the 1952 Immigration and Nationality Act every alien in the United States must report his address to the Service each January. More than 2,300,000 aliens filled out cards last January under the program, and the figure is expected to reach more than two and one-half million in 1956. Joseph Savoret of the district office of the Service said 50,000 aliens registered under the program in this State last year, and a slight increase is expected under the 1956 registration. The Immigration spokesman pointed out that every nation (except persons in diplomatic status and foreign representatives assigned to the United Nations) in the United States must report his address to the Government each year in January. He said each alien must fill out a registration card available at U.S. Post Offices or at the nearest immigration office. Parents may fill out cards for their children under age 14. Legal guardians of aliens in custodial care should fill out the address reports for such persons. Any alien who is ill may send a friend or relative to obtain the address report card for him, and return the card after it is filled out. After filling out the card at a Post Office or immigration office the alien then gives the card to a clerk, and he has fulfilled his obligation under the Act. The spokesman warned that any alien who willfully violates the address report provision of the law may be fined up to $200, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

Animals Still Tops As Human Interest Shots

ANIMALS are always a source of good pictures. They supply the emotional punch that captivates large audiences of any age group. Pictures like this one invariably seem to walk off with prizes. This may be because most youngsters want puppies while older people are taken back to their own youth by such scenes. Simultaneously is always a virtue, according to T. T. Holden, photo-master of Garden City, Rochester, N. Y. The photo shows three dogs in a haystack and nothing more. What makes it a better than usual shot is its simplicity, the correct lighting, and the wonderful expressions on the pups. Robinson took "Puppies in the Hay" with his Speed Graphic at 1/200 second and f22 on Type B film while attending a photography school in Vermont. Often animals are easy to photograph, but there are times when you'll really have to work. This is especially true of puppies, since the little devils are more interested in playing with the photographer than having a picture taken. On the other hand, cats are hard to work with. They just seem to assume the most relaxed and unaffected pose.

Comic strip panels with dialogue bubbles. The strip is titled 'THE LOVE RANGERS' and features characters in various situations, including a scene with a dog and a scene with a man and a woman. The dialogue includes phrases like 'SEEMS ZARA'S KISS...', 'WITH DEARLY ACCURACY...', 'OCTAVIO! SCENARIOS...', 'I'M AFRAID WE WERE TOO LATE, ZARA!', 'WAITING IN AMBER...', 'TO SUPPORT HIS WEIGHT...', 'CRACK!', 'I'LL BET IF THAT POLE HAD A BETTER FIGURE YOU WOULD'VE SEEN IT', 'YOU'RE WEARING MAKEUP AT YOUR PARTY TONIGHT?', 'OF COURSE, GILLY! BULLFIGHTER TROUSERS ARE SMART THIS SEASON.', 'WHAT EVENING?', 'I HOPE THAT'S MICKIE ARRIVING FIRST!', 'HERE WE ARE!', 'A 35-34 VICTORY! A GOOD WAY TO END MY SEASON, MUM, COACH.', 'CAIN'T FIGURE IT, DINAH! ALL OF A SUDDEN MAN HAID FEELS COLD!', 'WELL, NO WONDER! I'LL SEE YUH LATER, HONEY! I'VE GOT SOME BUSINESS TO ATTEND TO!', 'WHAT'S UP, DINAH?', 'YOU BET, DINAH!'.

Foundations Crowd News Columns

NEW YORK (AP)—Foundations are crowding the news columns these days — with both controversial and noncontroversial deeds. And there's a growing tendency in Washington — both in Congress and in the Treasury Department — to take a close look at these tax-free funds. The nation's largest — the Ford Foundation — has made news of a noncontroversial nature twice in a day. It is giving ten million dollars to private education and to hospitals. This is the largest single act of philanthropy ever announced. The foundation will take an almost equal sum of money next month when it offers to the public Ford Motor stock, for the first time. The stock offer, however, isn't to pay for this week's big giveaway. The foundation makes its donations out of earnings from capital, not from the capital itself. The money the foundation gets from the sale of part of its Ford stock will be invested in other ways, and the yield from such investments will go into future donations. The Ford Foundation's holdings are presently estimated to have a market value of between 1 1/2 and 2 billion dollars. Prior to this week's whopping gift total, the fund had handed out 330 million dollars since its founding in 1936 by gifts of stock in the motor company by Henry Ford, I. The foundation is also in the news just now in a controversial matter, concerning some of its beneficiaries, the Fund for the Republic, which are attacked from several quarters. While the Ford Foundation is the nation's largest tax-free fund, it has lots of company. If you count in churches, farm cooperatives and the like there are more than 100,000 tax-free groups in the country. Some 23,000 of these are in the category of foundation, fund or association — exempted from taxation on the general ground that they serve a public rather than a private purpose. And about 7,000 of these are foundations set up by wealthy men or corporations to handle their philanthropies. Most of these are conceded to serve a public purpose. But some congressmen have been charging that some foundations or funds meddle too much in politics to deserve a tax-free status. Congress is expected to be asked for a law which would open to public inspection the applications for tax exemption filed by foundations. The idea is that the one solely serving the public interest would have the tax status of a charity, while the others would be treated as private inroads on the tax code. How they raise funds or how they spend them, and Washington feels that many of these would give up their tax free status rather than let the public in on their operations.

MARLOW CURTNICE, president of General Motors, was a short to complete a point while testifying before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee in Washington. He testified that "Washington" price-fixing and territorial security for car dealers and the tax code were problems on which action cannot be taken under current laws.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT
 AT ETHEL'S orders, Shandy lifted the unconscious man and carried him into a guest room where Shandy, at Ethel's orders, removed Doc's trousers while she brought towels, hot water, and made a tourniquet to stop the bleeding.

And all the time she talked, words pouring out of her as though words had been opened. "What a fool I've been. I thought—I was afraid—it was Joe who'd done all this."

"That's why you smashed the glass," she said.

"I thought he was Roger Brindle and so I was partly to blame for what had happened to Roger. It has been hell, thinking that. But Joe had no reason to harm Mrs. Fleming or Doc. He didn't do it. Thank God, Mr. Stowe, I can leave him now. I'm free of him."

The uncharacteristic loquacity stopped. She said in her usual tone, "Get some brandy."

As he started toward the stairs she saw Carol standing at the head of the bed with Paula's head. Joe was crouching, one arm stretched out under the bed.

"Don't touch that gun, Joe!" he said sharply. "Leave it where it is."

Joe grinned. "I just wanted to look at it. He gave a sideways glance at Shandy. "A. Z. That's what I figured."

"Out," Shandy said, and after a moment's hesitation Joe left the room with a last glance at Paula standing at the foot of the bed and Carol standing at the foot, her eyes blank.

Ethel held Doc's head and let a little brandy trickle down his throat, careful not to choke him. She swallowed, opened his eyes, and almost instantly he was alert.

"Good work," he told Ethel, looking at the tourniquet.

"I haven't called a doctor yet," Shandy said. "Who do you want?"

"Bring me my bag," Dr. Thomas said. "It's in Paula's room. I can deal with this myself."

"You can hardly probe for that bullet."

"I can if I have to," Thomas replied. "Do as I say. We don't want the police here."

"Who doesn't?" Shandy asked.

"Anyhow, this thing has gone too far. Someone is berserk and we'll have to stop it. The truth about Roger is going to come out whether we like it or not."

"Let's not try to pull any wool over each other's eyes," Dr. Thomas said. "I'm in this thing up to my neck. I covered for Carol in the first place and I'm stuck with it now. If that comes out it will just about finish me, especially if you people feeling about Roger."

Radio-TV Highlights

NEW YORK (AP)—Practically nobody knows anything about the nature and extent of television inside the Soviet Union today—except some Russians.

So it's worth listening to William Benton, former assistant secretary of state, who recently returned from Russia with what appears to be the most extensive information yet gathered on the subject. He spent a month collecting material on entertainment and the arts for the Encyclopedia Britannica, of which he's the publisher.

"The Communist leaders shrewdly realize," he says, "that television is the most effective medium for propaganda ever available. They'll use it to its fullest effect, for the Russian people are infatuated with television. One can't help but be frightened by Russia's technological advances and the effectiveness of its indoctrination techniques. They pose an element of real danger to the people of the United States."

These are some of the things Benton learned:

There are now about one million TV sets in use apart from those in factories and public places where groups gather.

There are now 11 stations operating independently of one another. There are 425 TV stations in 264 American cities.

By 1958 the Russians plan to have 31 stations and six to seven million sets in operation. In Moscow there will be two black and white stations and one color station. Relay points will tie all stations to Moscow. (U.S. industrial sources expect at least 30 million sets in use by 1958.)

The average Russian TV set has about a 12-inch screen. This costs a comrade about $325. Nevertheless, nearly every family wants a set. So the demand vastly exceeds the supply.

Television programming in Russia is confined to the evening hours. No daytime idling is the rigid order of its society. But the evening viewer sees the best entertainment

Trading Stamps Reported Revived

NEW YORK (AP)—Merchants—particularly grocers—report a big revival in trading stamps across the nation.

It's the horn of today's keener retail competition. The aim is to get a shopper into a particular store. And it seems to work, just as it did in an earlier day.

Today's collectors of trading stamps are estimated to cash in around one billion dollars worth a year for various gadgets offered.

The housewife treasures these bits of paper handed out according to how much she spends. To her it means getting something for nothing—even if the statisticians content it doesn't really work out that way because it can only lead to higher prices.

Two generations ago there was a similar craze. Then boys filled books with stamps until they had enough to buy a magic lantern. Their granddaughters fill books with stamps today till they can turn them in for an automatic electric percolator or maybe a space helmet for the small fry.

Sometimes stamp wars break out among stores in a city. One retailer will hand out two or more stamps instead of the usual one each 10 cents of purchase. The customer couldn't be happier—stamps look just like an extra year-end dividend does to a stockholder. And, of course, companies who run stamp plans thrive on it.

Stamp companies—one of them now operating in business 10 years and sell the trading stamps to the grocer for a quarter to a third of a cent a piece. Usually a stamp is handed out with each 10 cents of purchase.

When a customer has finally purchased, say, $50 worth of groceries, she will consult a catalogue, pick out a $12 to $16 gadget and get it with her stamp books at a premium center run by the stamp company.

When all merchants are passing out stamps, the tendency is to make up for the cost of the stamps and the handing by raising mark-ups.

Critics of the plan contend that over the long run the customer may pay 4 per cent more for her groceries. If this is correct, it means that on her next set of purchases she has paid $2 more in higher markups, to get stamps to turn in for a $12 or 16 gadget. But all agree that customers seem to love it. And many merchants favor it as a sales booster and can show you sales figures to prove it.

Telephone Directories Indicative Of Growth

MONTE, ILL. (AP) — The growth of Sanford and surrounding communities is the large increase in the number of telephone directories now being distributed to local telephone subscribers for use beginning Dec. 25, 1955. Some directories will be received in the mail as late as Dec. 30 and 31 because of the Christmas mail volume. Approximately 6,970 new directories are being delivered to homes and businesses, according to E. V. Turner, Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company, compared with 6,480 when the last directory was delivered. The new telephone directory contains many new and changed listings and other helpful telephone information and is easily distinguishable from the old gray-covered telephone book by its green cover. A sufficient quantity of the new directories has been printed to supply every telephone subscriber and to allow for future telephone expansion. He requests that the old directory be discarded and that the new directory be referred to when telephone numbers are desired beginning Dec. 25. Looking up the desired numbers helps to avoid the possibility of getting wrong numbers and saves time for both the caller and called party. "Information" should be called only when the number you are seeking is not listed in the directory. Floods Threatening Pacific Coast Area As Cold Hangs On

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The winter season started today on a stormy, cold and wet note. Rainstorms lashed Pacific coastal areas and floods threatened many areas. Cold weather clung to Northern states although there was some relief from the icy blasts of the last several days. It was below zero again today over most of New England and wide sections of New York state. Coldest spot early this morning was Mesassa, N.Y., which reported 30 degrees below zero.

Paraguay Capital Is Calm Despite Reports Of Revolt

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, was calm this morning despite reports received in Uruguay and Argentina last night that some army units and the city's whole police force had staged an unsuccessful revolt against President Alfredo Stroessner. A report from Formosa, on the frontier in northern Argentina, said gunfire had been heard in Paraguay, but there was no confirmation of any shooting. News dispatches telephoned from Asuncion this morning said the city was tranquil and normal despite rumors of trouble arising from a split in Stroessner's ruling Colorado party. Last night, reliable informants here said, Stroessner had thwarted an attempt to overthrow him led by Epifanio Mendez Freitas, president of the Paraguayan Central Bank and a former police chief.

Judge's Condition Said Satisfactory

MIAMI (AP) — Circuit Judge George E. Holt, 82, was reported in "satisfactory" condition today from injuries received in an automobile-motorcycle crash in which two others were hurt Tuesday night. Holt had a probable concussion and numerous cuts on the face and head. Also hospitalized were Leonard J. Fetschman, 21, a welder who was driving the motorcycle, and Miss Mary Martin, 20, passenger on the motorcycle. E. E. Bergquist, investigator for the police accident prevention bureau, said Holt would be charged with reckless driving by running a red light and speeding. Three policemen said they saw Holt's Jaguar speed through an intersection at 30 to 40 miles an hour. The motorcycle struck the Jaguar head-on, they reported.

Radio Says Men Went Conference

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today that North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and East German Premier Otto Grotewohl have called jointly for an international conference to reunite Korea. The broadcast said the two leaders issued a communique in Pyongyang, capital of North Korea, after a visit by the touring East German delegation. "The Red Premier also demanded of the 'American withdrawal' of American troops from South Korea and West Germany, adding, 'The reunification of Korea and Germany is primarily the concern of the Korean and German people and must be carried out peacefully and along democratic lines.'"

Merchants' tills will jingle with the sound of real hard cash as hundreds of employees are paid off for this week's earnings with silver dollars. Employees of three Sanford industries will receive their Christmas week's earnings in silver dollars as the Sanford Manufacturing Company, Perno Manufacturing Company, and Brookfield Mills pay off with thousands of the "artwheels."

Wage Increases Settled Last Nite For Railroad Men

CHICAGO (AP) — Wage increases ranging from 10 1/2 to 14 cents an hour have been granted to nearly 200,000 of the nation's railroad workers. Eleven rail brotherhoods, representing some 130,000 nonoperating employees, last night signed an agreement with the carriers calling for a pay raise of 14 1/2 cents an hour and company-paid hospital and medical benefits. A few hours later the railroad and the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen settled their wage dispute, with between 25,000 and 27,000 operating workers getting a general pay hike of 10 1/2 cents an hour. The pact also provides an additional 2 cents a day for conductors.

Former President Vacations In Keys

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Herbert Hoover isn't speculating on Republican presidential possibilities. The former president, spry and affable at 80, arrived yesterday for a holiday vacation and some fishing in the Florida Keys. He welcomed newsmen aboard the yacht Brigadier but wouldn't offer an opinion on whether President Eisenhower will seek reelection. Hoover did say he would return to the nation's capital next month to work with Congress on implementing recommendations contained in the Hoover Commission report. If the recommendations are adopted, he said, the government can save up to six billion dollars in administrative costs.

Workers Suspension Results In Strike

TAMPA (AP) — About 350 hourly employees of the Continental Can Co. remained off the job today in a wildcat strike resulting from the suspension of two workers. C. E. Ecker, assistant plant manager, said the walkout came without warning yesterday because the company suspended two men "for walking off the job without permission."

Old Wayside Inn Destroyed By Fire

SUDBURY, Mass. (AP) — The historic, centuries-old Wayside Inn, immortalized by poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and restored to its natural beauty by the late Henry Ford, was destroyed by flames early today. Two hours after the blaze broke out in zero temperature, a fire official said, "The building is a total loss."

Series Of Blasts At Oil Refinery Kills Firefighter

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — A series of explosions at the United Oil Refining Co. plant early today killed a firefighter and injured 18 others. Fire followed the explosions. The last of the blasts blew out a brick wall, killing Stewart Wiley, about 33, of Warren. Seven other firemen were showered with bricks and debris. Four were admitted to Warren Hospital. None was reported critically injured. Also hurt were a news reporter, David Brown, of the Sun, and Philip Cople, a commercial photographer in Warren. Brown suffered minor facial burns. He was treated and released. Cople sprained an ankle.

Electronic Ally

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy enlisted an electronic ally in the classroom war with teachers. Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly wasn't too surprised yesterday when she caught Manuel talking — that's against the rules — in her second-floor classroom. But it was something of a shock to learn he was talking with a friend who was outside on the playground. The two boys were communicating by means of a toy "waxline" radio.

Excursion Boat Is Expected To Arrive Tomorrow At City Pier

The 200 passenger pleasure and excursion boat "The Nautican" arrives at Sanford and will dock at the Municipal Pier at approximately 10 a. m. tomorrow morning. The boat, operated by Richard Soder and W. R. Kemp, who are currently opening the famous Seminole Park Raceway near Casselberry, will begin a regular schedule of cruises from the local pier following a gigantic official celebration on Jan. 8.

Wish Is Granted For Little Tot Missing Dad

TAMPA (AP) — This will be Cathie Potter's happiest Christmas, even though the 3-year-old won't get one of her two big wishes. The one she will get is especially important—her father and mother are being remarried after a divorce of six months. Cathie has been living with her mother but she missed her father very much. It seems the loneliness was a round robin affair, too, and the sight of other people happily getting ready for Christmas made it worse.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Lyons At Pompano Beach

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Lyons, 88, who died Saturday at the home of her daughter in Pompano Beach were held Monday at 10 a. m. at the First Baptist Church in Pompano Beach. The Rev. O. Gay Harris officiated. The body was sent by Kroer Funeral Home to Mayo, Fla. for further services and burial.

Church Of God Set For Yule Program

The Church of God will present an annual Christmas program tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, according to the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hebderson. The play this year is "The Scarlet Ribbon." It is a story of a modern family and their rediscovery of the true Christmas spirit. Traditional themes will be presented by the intermediate and junior classes in skits and readings. A candlelight carol program will be sung by the Junior Choir. At the close of the service, Sunday School classes will exchange gifts, and Christmas treats will be presented to all who attend.

Tampa Bay Area Seems Logical Spot For College

TAMPA (AP) — This city is "on the right track" in its efforts to get a state university and is favorably located to serve the population area," said Fred Kent of Jacksonville, chairman of the Board of Control, adding that any four-year university created to cope with Florida's skyrocketing higher educational needs will have to serve population areas. The Tampa Bay area seems the logical spot for establishment of a four-year liberal arts college, according to Dr. A. J. Brumbaugh, director of the survey for the Council for Study of Higher Education in Florida.

Liquor Ordinance May Clamp Down On Wide Open City

TAMPA (AP) — Tampa, long known throughout Florida as a wide open city, may clamp down on its liquor sales before long. An ordinance banning sales of alcoholic beverages on weekdays between midnight and 7 a. m., and all 24 hours on Sundays was pushed through first reading by a majority of the city board of representatives (council) in a surprise move this week. It still must pass a final reading at some date not set. The ordinance as now drawn up would not become effective until March 1.

Experimental Jet Forced To Return

MONTREAL (AP) — The Comet III, Britain's speedy experimental jet airliner, was forced back to Montreal early today after taking off for London on the last leg of a globe-circling test flight. The plane landed with one of its four engines out. John Cunningham, chief test pilot for the de Havilland Aircraft Co. Ltd., and the plane's captain, said a preliminary investigation indicated a defective bracket in the tailpipe of one engine. A complete check was ordered and British Air officials in London said the plane probably would not get home until after Christmas. A spokesman added the damaged engine probably would be changed.

Court Order Bans Pickets At Swank Hotel In Miami

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The hotel employees union eyed two other luxury hotels today after a court order banned pickets at the swank 365-room Fontainebleau. Bert H. Ross, union international vice president, said yesterday's strike at the Fontainebleau was the first of a "winter campaign" and that the Eden Roc and the Lucerne would be struck before the new year "if it becomes necessary." Six hours after 20 pickets appeared at the Fontainebleau, Circuit Judge William A. Herin ordered them removed pending a temporary injunction hearing Jan. 17. Herin ordered the hotel and the union to continue their negotiations "in the holiday spirit" as to whether the union represents employees of the hotel.

North Gate Of Base Closed Temporarily

The North Gate of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, on Mellonville Ave., will be closed from 4:30 p. m. Dec. 23 until 7:30 a. m. Jan. 3, said officials of the local Navy Base. Traffic from the station will use the Main Gate during this period and until the North Gate is reopened. The Main Gate of the station is just east of Sanford Ave.
