Association Hears Gordon

By MARILYN GORDON

The Seminole County Mental Health Association had as their guest speaker William Gordon, coordinator for Adult Education and Continuing Studies at the Seminole College Campus. Gordon spoke on the problems of aging citizens. He pointed out that Dr. J. Arthur Fleming at the White House Conference on aging believed independence of living was a prime prerequisite to mental health. "These people are in a very special phase of their life. They have worked hard and they deserve to enjoy their remaining years. They are still capable of productivity. They want to live a life of dignity and they want to make their own decisions where ever possible."

"If they are in an upper income strata it is easier. The lower income strata are trying to live on social security. The social values have changed."

"One problem facing Seminole County for them is the lack of transportation and the lack of funds. If you do not have a car you simply cannot move about. Mobility is part of being independent."

"Nutrition is another problem. While some of us eat steak two and three times a week, many exist on tea and toast. The college is very interested in helping the community. We wish to serve as a sounding board. The college has many opportunities for expanding the horizon of the aged and plans for the future."

"When the mind is not active the body goes quickly. We must prepare people for this transition. Older people today have come a long way. The 55-65 group find their security being nibbled at. Many have never prepared for this position. From the turn of the century through the 20s it has been a different era. Even the social values have changed."

In State Reapportionment County May Get Its Own Solon

County will be a single member district in the Florida House of Representatives. Cleveland said he received word Monday from Tallahassee that enough votes are available to insure Seminole receiving at least one seat in the 120-member house after the solons have completed their reapportionment or redistricting based on the 56,000 population criteria for single districts in accord with the one-man, one-vote federal court decrees. Boundary lines for the single Seminole district was not known by Cleveland but he said they do include Sanford.

According to another authoritative source, the Seminole district would slice Sanford in two at Highway 17-92 (French Avenue) leaving the eastern part of the city in the single member district, but placing western Sanford in a district which is expected to extend into Lake County.

Speaking personally, Cleveland said he believes "it will be a plus for us, even if it does divide the county."

When questioned whether he might be a candidate for the seat in the event the district is finally approved by the Senate and House, Cleveland replied, "I might."

"But," he explained, "we will first have to wait and see what finally passes before any doors are open or shut."

Legislative passage of a bill setting up the county as a district would mean that Rep. Eugene Moore, of Indian Hills, would be the only legislator now in office living in the proposed district. Moore is a Republican and was elected in 1970 to his first term of office. All current Orange-Seminole legislators will be up for reelection this November but the plans of several will hinge on what lines are finally set in the redistricting.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By John A. Spolaki

I don't even remember the guy's name... you know, the one who killed about 25 to 26 of the pilgrims in California. Well, it is when it becomes law in that state that the death sentence is officially abolished, he will be able to apply for release from jail, on bond.

That makes about as much sense as saying that Yorty still stands a chance at the Democratic Convention.

For The Record ... Chief Roger Bassell of the Caselberry Volunteer Fire Department has announced that a burning ban will go into effect in the city this week, starting tomorrow and will continue until further notice.

The story is developing... about a local building contractor and water-sewer connections; or the lack of 'em. More on this little "jewel" shortly...

Is it really true that two of the county commissioners have been digesting the county's budget, over a luncheon meal... and had the county manager along, too?

They're not alone, however... seems like our friends down Caselberry-way have been a "little slow" in making the proper arrangements for conducting public transactions.

Calling around 11 p.m. and saying that "there'll be a meeting the following morning around 9" just doesn't comply, gents, with the Sunshine Law... 24 hours prior notice.

All public officials were elected to represent the tax payers... so, what's the big deal about wanting all of this "secrecy" during which time you discuss the handling of our future, not to mention OUR tax dollars?

More than a few persons throughout the state have been removed from office... simply because they felt they were above this important law???

Don't know your personal feelings about the Pentagon Papers... however, perhaps this will help put some into proper perspective.

Did you hear about the commission planning America's 200th birthday party being granted the power to stamp its documents "top secret"?

Now what in heaven's name could be that terribly important about a celebration which would warrant it being identified TOP SECRET?

Too many Chiefs running around Washington... with all kinds of rubber stamps in their grubby little paws... just looking for things to do.

Three hundred midshipmen of Sanford Naval Academy were guests of the crew of the USS Saratoga on a full day's cruise out of Mayport.

Justice Boosts Seminole With 8 Additional Judges

By FRED VAN PELT

The 18th judicial circuit, comprising Seminole and Brevard Counties, may have 13 courts under the Roberts, chief justice of the Florida Supreme Court, before a joint session of the Florida Legislature this morning.

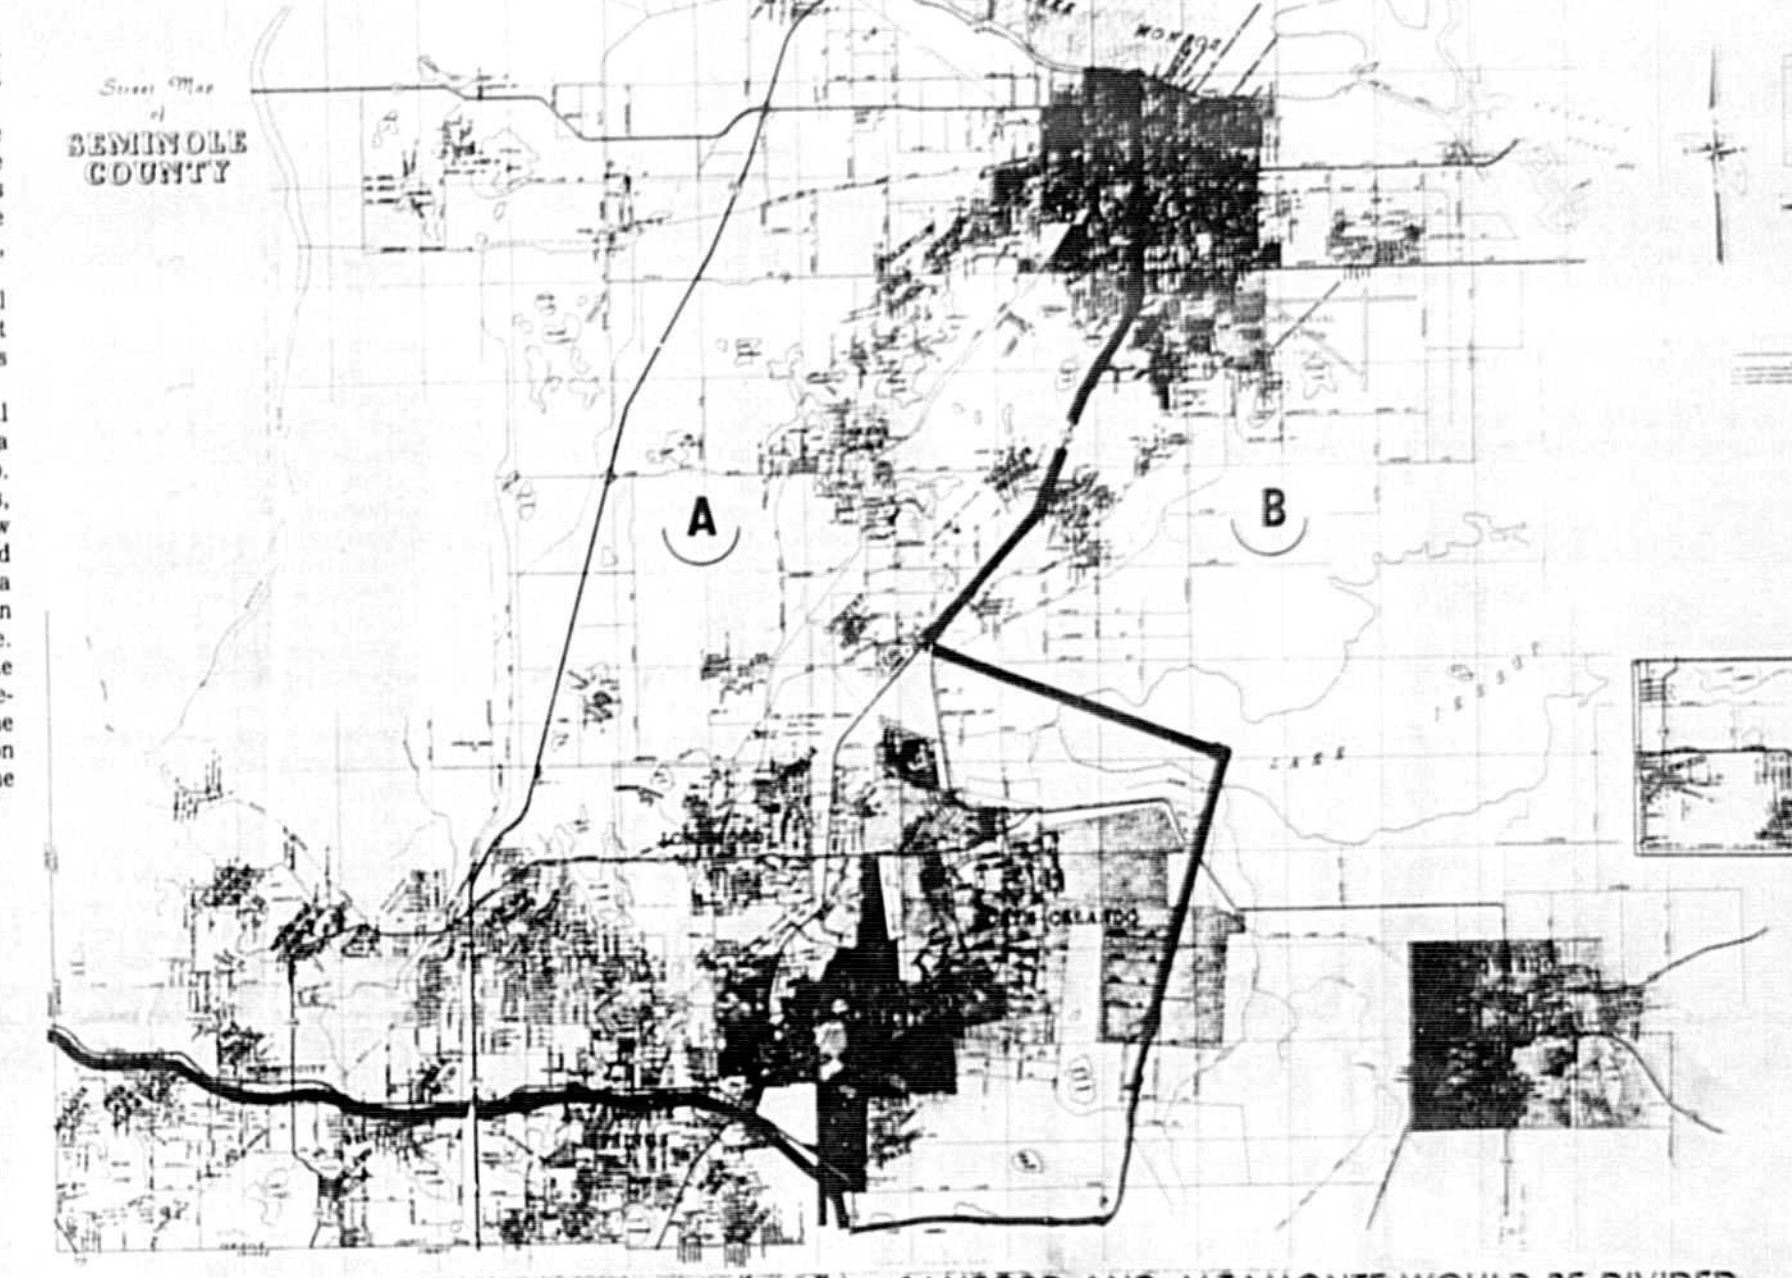

Seminole County may have three county courts.

A spokesman for Justice Roberts explained to The Sanford Herald via telephone early this afternoon that under the Article V amendment approved by the electorate on March 14, the number of courts in the 18th circuit was stepped up from the present seven to 10, based on population. The spokesman says this is automatic, under the new law, but that Justice Roberts also "certified" (recommended) that three more circuit courts be established, for a total of 13, by the Legislature.

The spokesman further pointed out there are "no residency requirements" any longer for attorneys seeking election to the Circuit Court bench. That is, all candidates may live in Brevard County or Seminole County or both.

Of the present seven Circuit judges, five reside in Brevard County and two Seminole County "by gentlemen's agreement" among the attorneys of the two counties, subject to election of course.

Orange To Be 'Peeled?' Gunter: Compromise Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A Senate subcommittee on congressional redistricting Monday night found itself unable to choose between two conflicting plans, so it decided to recommend both.

Meanwhile, in the House, Republicans were quietly working on their own plan in an attempt to increase Republican representation next year in Congress. GOP sources said the proposal on the drawing board would increase the three seats now held by Republicans to no less than six—and possibly as many as nine.

Florida has 12 congressional seats now, but is entitled to three more as a result of the 1970 census which pegged Florida's population at an all-time high of 8.8 million.

Senate redistricting subcommittee members clashed last night over two plans. The main issue involved was the splitting of Orange County in the plans prepared by subcommittee chairman Sen. Ken Myers, D-Miami, and the panel's staff.

Sen. William Gunter, D-Orlando, introduced a compromise that would keep Orange County from being partitioned. The bill creates two of Florida's new congressional seats in central Florida, the other in north Dade County.

He tried to get the committee to adopt his version, claiming it was "a real salable product." Gunter won the support of Sen. Alan Traask, D-Fort Meade, after amending his plan to also leave Traask's Polk County intact.

Sen. Harold Wilson, R-Clearwater, also expressed support for the Gunter plan—which split Clearwater away from St. Petersburg and put it in the new "Polk" district.

The six-man committee was deadlocked.

"Your plan looks good on paper," Myers told Gunter, "but I don't think we should throw our other plan in the trash can."

Gunter told Myers that the committee should do just that. He protested that it split Orange County in half and puts downtown Orlando in the same district with Tarpon Springs.

Myers responded that mathematical precision was what was being sought and "county boundaries are only secondary."

Then the two squabbled about which plan was the most complete.

Unable to resolve their differences, members turned both plans over to the full Senate Reapportionment Committee—which will vote on them today in expectation of Senate floor action on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, House Republicans were attempting to maximize their strength by drafting lines that would give their party a shot at nine congressional districts.

Minority Leader Don Reed, R-Boca Raton, chief architect of the plan, said the proposal would meet the constitutional test of mathematical precision in district sizes while being very favorable to Republican areas.

He said the only districts the GOP would give up for the rest would be three solidly Democratic north Florida districts.

LESSON IN 'HOW NOT TO FLY AN AIRPLANE'

Thrills On Tap April 1 At Sanford Aerial Show

Thrills will be the order of the day at the air show hosted by the Sanford Airport Authority and co-sponsored by the Rotary and Shrine clubs on April 1 at Sanford Airport, according to co-chairmen Reid Brodie and Edward Turner.

Speakers will have a chance to get vicarious spine-tingles from either group or solo fliers, for both classes of "birds of the air" are on the bill. The USAF Thunderbirds with their precision group flying take top spot in squad maneuvers that combine speed and stunts in an array that test both pilot and plane.

Then, there are the Paragators whose parachute drops give both individual and team efforts an opportunity for the watchers to see themselves under the wings of silk "mushrooms" and experience the "thrills of the air" as they float through the air - not always with the "greatest of ease."

Solo acts include ones by Grace "The Ace" Page. She has two spots on the program - she and her Cub. Out of a host of performances throughout the nation comes the marvelous report "just the greatest in comedy capers in a plane" say the air show sponsors.

2 Acre Parcel Annexed

CASSELBERRY - A two-acre parcel of land south of Seminola Boulevard has been approved for annexation into the city. Approval came at last night's regular meeting of City Council, and follows several lengthy work sessions.

The parcel of land in question is owned by Franklin Properties, and is part of a larger tract of land which already is in the city. The parcel will be taken into the city with a zoning of R-3 (multi-family) and will become part of a total development of apartments.

Several citizens have been before the council to protest the proposed use of this property for apartments, and this protest continued last night. Ernest Belliveau, of Lake Griffin Circle, told the council, "I feel we have enough apartments in the city already. I don't agree with the idea of apartments moving into a residential area. This forces the people who like quiet areas to move out into the country."

Councilman Harry Sambrook also expressed his disapproval of the use of this property for apartments, saying, "I have been on the council for 18 months, and I don't know of any subject that has made me more upset than this one. I know that there is no place for apartments. I would like to have more control over this area." Sambrook stated that he had decided to vote for the annexation, however, since this is the preferable alternative to leaving the property C-1 (commercial) in the city.

Murder Suspects Plead Not Guilty

By MARION BETHEA Two men charged in the stabbing murder of Casselberry ABC Lessor Store assistant manager Richard Franklin Day were arraigned before Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi this morning.

Fulton Perkins, charged in a grand jury indictment with first degree murder and in a separate information with two counts of robbery and use of a firearm with intent to kill, pleaded not guilty to all of the charges.

Assistant State Attorney O.H. (Bill) Eaton requested that the court set a trial date this morning since charges are also pending against Perkins in Orange County. Further, Eaton said, State Attorney Abbott Herring is involved in several capital cases in Brevard County and wishes time in which to study the cases.

Eaton disclosed to The Sanford Herald this morning that it is anticipated that charged in Orange County against Perkins will be dropped and Seminole County will take it here.

Although both defendants have attorneys to represent them in the capital offense, the court indicated that a special public defender will be appointed for the two count information. Eaton asked the court to be allowed until next Tuesday to determine a trial date for the two suspects, citing that there was no speedy trial problem. However, Eaton said that trial date will be set by Friday of this week.

Trial is set for April 24 in the case of those suspects who were arrested on March 3 and accused by Det. Sgt. Tony Calogre by buying cars reportedly stolen from a statewide rental agency at less than their actual worth. At least nine cars were reportedly sold at prices ranging from $250-$500.

Among the suspects is David Robb, charged on a four count information with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property; Don Cooper, Tom Youngblood, and Gerald Young, each charged only with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property. All plead not guilty to the charge.

A fifth defendant in the case, Raymond Bowen, charged with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property told the court that he wished additional time in which to obtain private counsel and his arraignment is continued until March 22.

Sewage Plagues SCOPA

By BILL SCOTT Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) chairman Harold Kastner Monday night appointed a committee to work with the county health department, signing a 20-year lease with an industry and obtaining urgently a sewage system for expected port customers.

The SCOPA board discussed the two items for a lengthy time before Kastner finally called a halt and delegated James Ryan, SCOPA administrator, to meet with Sidney Vilner Jr., and James Wagner, SCOPA members, and resolve statements existing over the issues.

On the sewage question, which must be resolved before SCOPA can locate industry at the facility, two alternatives were discussed, including port constructing its own system at an estimated $50,000 for plant and lines to a reported $12,000 to hook-up with Monroe Utilities, which has been certified for the area by the county commission.

Another problem to complicate the matter still further is where the money will be obtained for either system. Ryan is at present in the board stressed "irregardless of which method you select, it will be necessary for us to determine how the required funds will be generated." Kastner commented "we don't have the money to go either way."

Mayor Brown remarked that the meeting was scheduled for 7 p.m. and that he was under the impression that all of the agenda items would be handled in the usual fashion. Brown said that four of the council members present as well as he and the village clerk.

However, Rowell queried a petitioner for a special permit for an additional animal to the household as to what time he was told to appear and received the reply "I called today and change in zoning is from R-1 to R-2 on the 15-acre tract across from the cemetery."

Council Permits Duplexes

By DONNA ESTES OVIEDO - Change in zoning to permit construction of duplexes on old SR 42E (Aulin Avenue) was approved by city council Monday night. The change in zoning is from R-1 to R-2 on the 15-acre tract across from the cemetery.

During the brief meeting council on recommendation from city engineers Driver and Spooner returned the plat of the proposed Crystal Shores to developer Gilbert Construction Company for engineering modifications. Following completion of the plans with modifications, final approval is expected.

The removal of two dead trees from the right-of-way on Lake Charm Drive was authorized.

City Remapping Plan Is Outlined

By BILL SCOTT Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce legislative and national affairs subcommittee is working on a remapping plan for the city of Sanford for presentation to the full committee Friday and to the City Commission Monday.

The plan would divide the city into four districts with a candidate for the commission obligated to live in the district in which he seeks office.

The mayor would run on a city-wide basis and could reside in any part of the city. The proposal would divide the city along French Avenue. East-west streets would be used as boundary lines to form the four districts based on population lines, depending on figures obtained from the supervisor of elections.

Time To Wake Up In Tallahassee

As the 72 general session of the Florida State Legislature slips along its last two weeks of life, there is a question which is almost automatic.

Do the legislators ever read newspapers, newsmagazines or watch TV documentaries and press conferences or listen to radio programs designed to awake and instruct?

There is nothing in what has been happening in Tallahassee in the legislative chambers or conference rooms that would justify an affirmative answer.

For this nation, this state, these counties and our cities are being caught up in an almost tidal wave of protest by the voters and taxpayers against the waste of moneys, the inexcusable practice of selfish and partisan politics which make democratic government appear not only clumsy but unresponsive.

When this session opened there was an aura of hopefulness which even the most sophisticated could accept with only a slight crossing of the fingers.

Here was a state legislature where some new members and some new thinking had led to the assumption that it would be a more effective demonstration of the ability of the Democratic majorities to respond to bold leadership by a competent Democratic governor.

Reubin O'D. Askew had become a national figure as a conscientious and effective leader who could appeal to the public and start a "hair share" tax reform which had been long overdue.

Governor Askew had, however, stepped on some sensitive toes which were on the feet of big business. A former legislator himself, he knew the power of the lobbyists when exerted for the private, but not necessarily the public good.

Even now, it is logical to view this situation as one of the booby-traps which blocked the Askew legislative program. There was, of course, no opportunity given the legislature to meet the prime issue of restructuring the educational machinery, doing away with wasteful processes and creating a professionally responsible administration.

A Weather Note

President Nixon has signed a bill requiring any weather modification activities, such as seeding clouds from an aircraft, to be reported to the Secretary of Commerce. The bill's provisions, farmers may be pleased to note, do not apply to the time-honored practice of praying for rain.

State Primaries A Political Circus

By HELEN FULLER

WASHINGTON — Seemingly a gathering in Congress to hold a special national preference primary instead of 50 state primaries in presidential election years.

The trend toward state preference elections is upward—from 14 in 1960 to 25 this year. Reforms made recently have democratized the selection of candidates. But new laws have not simplified the present system.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, Democrat, and the House, Republican, agree that presidential primaries are still a political circus similar to the candidates and voters. Florida, according to Mansfield, "had little, if anything, to do with the matter of selecting a presidential candidate."

Men who have been through the primary grind say that the present system is largely an attempt to attract contributions and make their names known. Candidates who have run in many states summarize the present situation as "a mess of a maze of laws, customs and bad practices that leave them physically exhausted, financially deflated, and more often than not, politically defeated."

To get on the ballot under the Mansfield-Askew proposal a candidate would need the signatures of 1 per cent of the voters of the state in the last presidential election.

Some complain that such a system would make national conventions almost meaningless. It is true conventions might be left only with the right to okay a national primary choice for President. It would probably be left with choice of a Vice-President and a minority report.

A hard scan of the vote shows Humphrey got about half of Florida's sizable black Democratic vote, and also scored heavily in the overlying Jewish and elderly community in the special Miami-to-Fort Lauderdale zone.

Were it not for this special bid, which I found based upon an unduly affectionate view of Humphrey, the very likely would have finished back in the messy pack with the rest of Wallace's rivals. In no way does his 18 per cent demonstrate Humphrey can get a big vote from his party's broad center. He still has that to prove.

Seldom in American politics have so many men tried to take so much encouragement from a single vote. New York Mayor John Lindsay would have us believe that his 1 per cent edge over Sen. George McGovern gives him a left-side mandate to go charging on through other primaries. McGovern wants us to think that, because he sets his sights low and spent little, he made a "good showing" at 1 per cent.

Muskie, damaged the most by falling below 10 per cent, at least had the grace not to pretend he had won something. The blunt truth is that, except for Humphrey, who had a real reason to make a quick dent somewhere in order to be a plausible alternative to Muskie, most of the "national candidates" probably made a grave strategic error in getting involved in a costly major effort in Florida.

The silly business of making "victory" from second, third, fourth and even fifth place was begun early. It has no parallel as a piece of political folly.

Democratic Dilemma

Who Will Be Demo 1-2 In 'Nov.

By RAY McHUGH, Chief, Washington Bureau, Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — A badly beaten party is a single Democratic Party is beginning to face an unpleasant fact: It doesn't have a viable presidential candidate.

Despite three years of careful preparation, Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine looks now after only two to 24 primaries. His fourth-place finish in Florida has shaken his Washington staff to its roots.

"I honestly don't know if Ed can go the route," said one friend and supporter. "He doesn't seem to have the stamina for this kind of slambang politics."

Washington newsmen are likening Muskie to the George Romney of 1968. Romney, then governor of Michigan, was an early contender for the Democratic nomination four years ago but his star fizzled and burned out in the New Hampshire primary campaign.

Muskie's liberal outburst in New Hampshire against publisher William Loeb and his dry-eyed denunciation of Florida's Wallace voters are reminiscent of Romney's famous "I was brainwashed" remark of 1960.

Muskie backers bravely try to dismiss Florida. "He was an unrepresentative state, one of the 'too southern' to give fair of course there have been bills passed. Of course there will be enough accomplishments rung up so that those of both parties can find something to "point with pride" when running for re-election.

Re-election this year, however, may be something different. The temper of the public is getting short. At every level the mouthing of generalities and the advocacy of great moral verities is "turning off" the voters and taxpayers.

November, however, is but a short eight months away. If the presidency, which is the top prize, has already stirred the public to questioning, what will be the result of the record of our state legislature? Worth pondering!

Further, I will enter here, strongly, what I am sure is a minority report: It is my judgment that Wallace's whipping vote left all of his rivals, not excluding second-place Sen. Hubert Humphrey, finishing very weakly.

Oh, yes, Humphrey, untested in primaries since 1960, got enough encouragement from the Florida result to go forward in search of bigger things in other more significant primary states. But that really is not saying a lot.

Wallace simply made fools of them all. He heard Humphrey and third-place Jackson in his postscriptary comment was to watch the theater of the absurd.

In Wallace's Wake, A Political Circus

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There is just no way that Sen. Edmund Muskie can make fourth place and a 9 per cent vote look good. But neither is there any way that the Florida primary can be made to look good.

The evidence from this vote, at least, indicates Florida is not at all typical of the country. It is in fact very special. Some 35 per cent of those Democratic voters turned out chose conservative candidates—with winner Gov. George Wallace getting 42 per cent and Sen. Henry Jackson 18 per cent. That performance will not likely be duplicated in the nation at large, and especially not in the big northern industrial states where most Democrats live.

Furthermore, I will enter here, strongly, what I am sure is a minority report: It is my judgment that Wallace's whipping vote left all of his rivals, not excluding second-place Sen. Hubert Humphrey, finishing very weakly.

2 Controversial Bills Top Senate Calendar

By JOHN VAN GIESON Associated Press Writer TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Senators have concurred in a compromise that may gain legislative passage. One House bill and one Senate bill were in sight to rescue an adult rights bill for 18-year-olds.

The two controversial measures topped the Senate calendar today as the House resumed debate on a proposal that foot-ball teams be fined 10 per cent of their gate receipts if they allowed local television broadcasts of games played in the state's public stadiums.

Chief Justice B. K. Roberts, meanwhile, was to interrupt the proceedings in both houses with a report to a joint session of the Florida legislature on the Florida result to go forward in search of bigger things in other more significant primary states.

Roberts' report is required by the approval of the voters a week ago of a judicial revision amendment to the Florida Constitution.

Senate supporters of Askew's land use planning proposal, agreed to a compromise linking the plan to approval of a constitutional amendment allowing the state to bond certain wildland areas of "critical concern" if they are threatened so development could be controlled.

The compromise would link the bill to the passage of a proposed amendment allowing the state to sell $100 million in bonds to buy endangered areas and turn them into natural preserves.

The compromise — sought in the form of an amendment — is jointly sponsored by Sen. Bob Graham, D-Miami Lakes and Sen. Jim Williams, D-Ocala.

One Man's Opinion It's Blacks Who Block Own Unity

By DON OAKLEY

At least one thing can be said about that National Black Political Convention in Gary, Ind. The 3,000 delegates seemed to be fairly representative of 22 million black Americans.

There was everything from old-guard NAACP types in conservative business suits to dapper black separatists, with every degree of political ideology in between.

Ironically, that very diversity of the convention may doom hopes that a real beginning was made in forging a black unity, a black bloc, which would be a power to be reckoned with on the national political scene.

Black unity has been an elusive goal since Emancipation, for it is based on a myth (oddly enough, the reverse side of the myth was used to justify slavery) — the belief that skin color is the most important thing about a man, that two men who share the same skin color are brothers, and that all who share the same color are labor under the same burden and are guided by the same aspirations — Fre, in short, "brothers."

The myth of black unity demands a counterpart myth — that of white unity. This assumption here is that the power wielded by the white establishment is equally accessible to all white people simply by virtue of their skin color, and that all whites are united in their determination to retain this power to themselves.

Tracing this to an ethnic American who is helplessly watching his neighborhood deteriorate even as his taxes go up and up, all while the socialists are calling him a "racist," and now to top it off his factory has begun laying off men.

Paul Johnson, Osteen Bridge Fish Camp, said things were a little bit slow Saturday but improved greatly on Sunday. Brown and catfish made up the biggest part of the catch.

WILSON COLEMAN (left) and Doyle Brown caught these two speckled perch in the lower Wekiva River Saturday while fishing out of the Wekiva River Haven Fish Camp.

Specks are not too plentiful but some are hitting live minnow minnows at Lake Monroe Park. B. C. Ervin, park manager, stated that the Interstate 4 bridge span was the best spot in his area recently, and bass from 2 1/2 to four pounds were taken in the lake on Sunday.

Mixed reports came in from the Wekiva River. A nine pound bass was supposedly landed from the bridge on State Road 46 but could not be confirmed.

Wilson Coleman and Doyle Brown combined their efforts for a string of 80 specks downtown from The Wekiva River Haven Camp. George Cheney, camp owner, also had word of brown catches numbering from 20 to 40 per boat, but very few bass being taken.

Billy and Joe Leckler of North Orlando fished out of Hiley's Camp on the south side of Lake Jessup and found 22 blue gills and shellcrackers while 17 brown were being landed by Red McGregor and wife, Lowell Hiley, who run the camp.

Don Smith of Seminole Sports Shop had a number of excellent fishing reports for last week. Robert and Rufus Harvey used Miller's Bucktails to land 35 specks on the north side of Lake Monroe.

Terry Patterson landed three nice bass and lost six more using a silver snapper plug on the striking grounds. Larry Smith and his dad stuck to the black plastic worm to bring in four good sized bass while Harold Stanley used a large Devil Horse plug to catch a 7 1/2 pounder.

Frank Woodruff used his fly rod to good advantage, taking six largemouth from 3 1/2 to five pounds. Ken Williams and three friends journeyed to Lake George on Saturday and returned with 40 bass (four limits), the largest one hitting the scales at 11 pounds. They used live shiners for this terrific catch.

Gary Mize, Wekiva Park Drive, tried deep sea fishing aboard the "Marianne" out of Timmons Fish Camp at Ponce Inlet Sunday. A 48 pound bluefish topped his catch which included red snapper, a pilot fish and several black sea bass.

Blue weather along the coast resulted in very few reports from the charter boats. One half-day trip by the "Miss Behaving" from Inlet Harrier Camp showed 42 weakfish for a party fishing the artificial reef four miles out.

Mrs. Joan Payson can stop holding her breath. Her National League baseball franchise, the Mets, is healthy again. In other spring training games Monday, Detroit downed the New York Yankees 3-1, Philadelphia shut out Kansas City 1-0.

Lemon Feels Kansas City Is Contender

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer
PORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Manager Bob Lemon won't come right out and say the Kansas City Royals are going to win the American League West Division championship this season but he isn't about to say they can't either.

Lemon admits he had two major worries—first base stealer Fred Patek and right fielder Hughie Adair. Patek, at 5-foot-10, is the Royals' smallest player, and second baseman Cookie Rojas, in his 18th year of professional baseball, were two reasons for the Royals' 1971 success.

Lemon probably will carry 10 pitchers. Besides the four front-line starters, there are certain to be 35-year-old Ted Abernathy and Tom Burgett, the ace of the Royals' short bullpen, and Bruce Dal Canton, who posted an 8-6 record.

Center fielder Arnie Ott, another right-hander, who made his major league debut last Sept. 14, will be the other starter in the four-man rotation.

start of the season Friday. Sloan got off to a late start due to backstrokes. Sloan has allowed only one hit and one run in nearly seven innings of relief work.

Ace Donald Brown, who leads the team with his 3-2 record and 0.20 ERA, is the expected starter for Saturday's important division tilt with the Purple Hurricanes.

City 1-0. St. Louis topped Cincinnati 3-1, Tokyo's Little Orions edged San Francisco 2-1, Montreal downed Texas 4-2, Boston edged the Chicago White Sox 2-0, Oakland outlasted the Chicago Cubs 7-6.

While Seaver was setting minds at ease, Don Sutton worked six scoreless innings in a free relay team and his effort was the margin of difference in the meet.

Next to win a first for the Middles was John Bernegger, who is in his first year of swimming competition. Bernegger took the 100 freestyle in 1:54.

Bowling Standings

Lafayette stayed with the powerful Florida Independent Multisporters in the first half and only trailed by 6-4 at intermission.

But Jacksonville's Big Three crushed any Lafayette upset hopes, taking command of the backboards. Brent, especially, was impressive. He scored 20 points, stole 10 rebounds and blocked 5 shots while playing part-time. The 7-foot center sat out about half the match because of a foot trouble.

In Illinois Primaries Candidates Duel Today

By WALTER F. MEARS
AP Political Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine battles two Democratic rivals in dual Illinois presidential primary contests today, seeking a boost for his shaken White House campaign in the crowded elections ahead.

Two million Illinois voters were expected to cast ballots, with over half of them in the Democratic primary.

The primary pitted Muskie and former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota in a presidential preference poll, and Muskie, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota and an uncommitted slate of candidates in a contest for 180 of the 170 Illinois delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

At least half the delegates, and probably more, are expected to be chosen uncommitted to any candidate, but Sen. McGovern is expected to lead the first two primaries—New Hampshire, where he won with 44.4 percent of the vote, and Florida, where he ran a fourth with 9 percent.

In the Democratic preference race, the stakes were only pay- ment to disclose the names of all donors. His staff has agreed to work without pay until after the April 4 contest in Wisconsin.

McCarthy, who has spent an estimated $250,000 on his first campaign venture of 1972, repeated his complaints that Muskie has no clear position on issues.

He mentioned the economy, crime, drugs and amnesty for draft evaders. Muskie has discussed all those topics during his national campaign.

Wisconsin's Illinois campaign budget is reported at about $250,000, too. His campaign treasury has suffered because of his slow start and his com- mitment to disclose the names of all donors. His staff has agreed to work without pay until after the April 4 contest in Wisconsin.

U.S. Intervened In Chile Election, Writer Reports

By GEORGE GEHDA
WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department authorized the U.S. Embassy in Chile to do its best to keep letist President Salvador Allende from taking power in 1970, according to a secret memo attributed to two officials of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

The memo, a copy of which was released by columnist Jack Anderson, lists its authors as Hal Hendrix and Robert F. Reiter, who purportedly were sent to Chile by ITT to report to the firm on political develop- ments following Allende's election in September 1970.

Eleven days after Allende's election, the memo said, U.S. Ambassador Edward Korry "received a message from the State Department giving him the green light to move in the name of President Nixon."

"The message gave him maximum authority to do all possible short of a Benjamin Republic-like action to keep Allende from taking power," the memo said.

Korry resigned his post in 1971 and now works in Wash- ington as a consultant for the Overseas Private Invest- ment Corp. He was not available for comment Tuesday.

Allende did not win a majority in the election, and the contest was to be decided by the Chilean congress. At the time the memo was dated, Sept. 17, 1970, anti- Communist forces in Chile were seeking to line up support for

Buie Is Exploring Tax For Schools

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

A. P. Buie, Seminole School Board member, is compiling statistics relative to educational building needs, it was reported by Chairman Greg Drummond to the County Commission Tuesday. Drummond said he received a communication from Buie, reading, in part: "I am vitally concerned that we are steadily falling back in our attempts to meet educational building needs for this county."

Buie stated he would appreciate assistance in obtaining data as to the percentage of the total tax dollars remitted in Seminole County applied to education in kindergarten through the 12th grade.

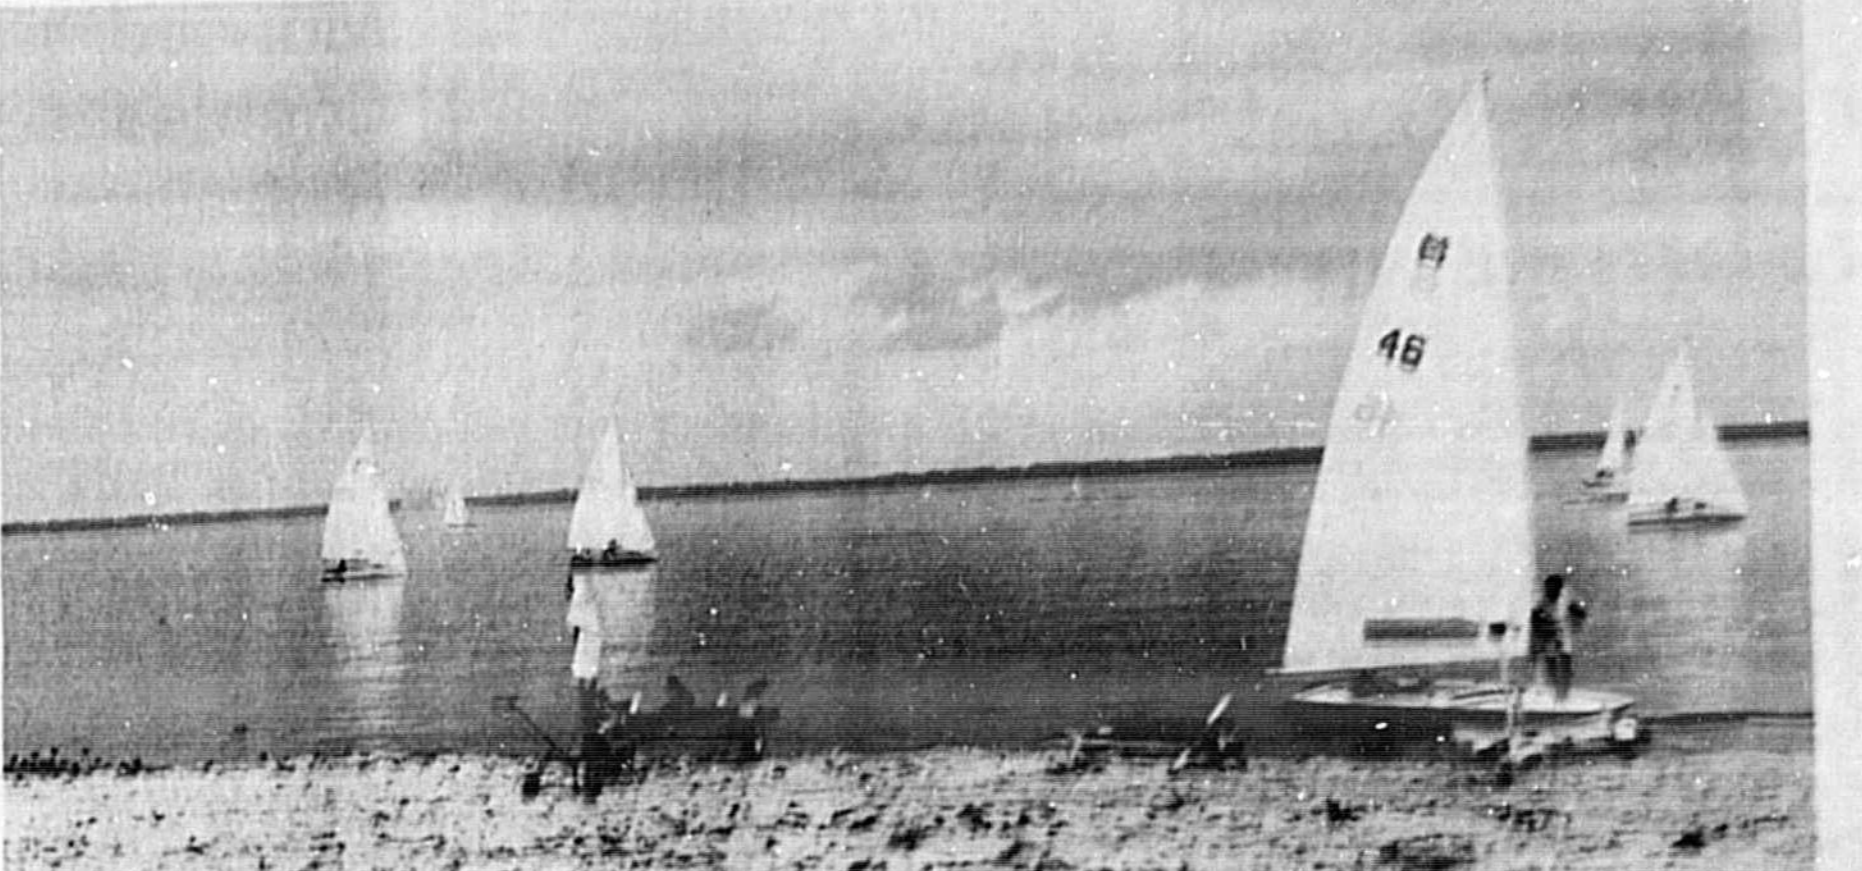

Further he wished this information related to the total tax picture in Seminole. "That is, how significant is the percentage of tax money that this represents?"

Drummond responded that of $9,754,664 in ad valorem taxes collected, $6,621,783, representing 69 percent, was received by the School Board.

Of $11,164,785 in ad valorem taxes, receipts and excess fees from departmental operations including zoning, clerk of circuit court, and landfill office, $6,633,073 was received by the School board. This represents 60 percent.

Of $24,591,165 county revenues and state revenues returned to the county for county-wide needs, $18,988,383, or 77 percent was received by the School Board.

Drummond told Buie that the matter in which the School Board has applied its portion of the funds would have to be identified by the office of the school superintendent.

A pleasure to both viewers and the sail boat enthusiasts who are crowding the Sanford lakefront on weekends, taking advantage of the "typical" Florida weather as captured above by the camera technique of John A. Spolski. (Just about that time to remind the boss about visiting that 'sick friend' ... and drop a fishing line into the challenging St. Johns River.)
