ported to Washington Bernadotte's party was ambushed by four men, "presumably the Steen gang," Jewish extremists. U.S. Col. Frank Begley, U.N. security officer, was reported slightly wounded in the face when he grappled with one of the men.)

Bernadotte had arrived in Jerusalem by air from Damascus, Syria, at 11 A.M. Jerusalem time. He flew in despite anonymous threats upon his life, declaring that he refused to be frightened.

He was killed at about 5 P.M., a victim of the war he tried for four months to end.

This reporter flew with him from Damascus to Kollandia Airport, just outside Jerusalem. Aboard the special plane he passed me a radioed note which read:

"Urgent—Inform all aircraft against landing Kollandia airport. They will be fired upon."

"Do you want to jump now or be fired upon with us?" He asked me with a wry smile. I said I'd take a chance.

"This is an obvious attempt to frighten me," he said. "If someone is mistaken, I will not be frightened."

An hour later, after he climbed from the plane into his automobile at the airport, a sniper's bullet thudded into the left rear wheel of his automobile. He got out to examine it and found a small-caliber bullet hole.

"I don't mind being shot at by regulars," he said. "But not by irregulars."

When the Count, Col. Serot, General Aage Lundstroem and their aides climbed back into the car, I wished Bernadotte luck.

"I'll need it," he replied.

General Lundstroem, who was with him, said:

"I'm no coward, but I don't want to be killed by snipers. I have a family in Sweden, you know."

Bernadotte twice succeeded in bringing about a truce in the war for Palestine between Jews and Arabs. The truces have been fruitful, punctuated by scolding and fighting. Both sides appeared to expect the present truce, now two planned programs. The revels are made from wood grown at Monticello and Mount Vernon, the homes of Thomas Jefferson and George Washington. The wood is banded with steel from the Battleship Missouri.

Kolb said he plans to ask Congress next year for a law to honor the occasion.

Constitution day was practically ignored nationally for the first 100 years or so.

Interest in it revived in the early 1900s, when the American form of government was under attack by radical groups, and again in the early part of the late President Roosevelt's term, when many critics believed his recovery legislation was undermining the Constitution.

Kolb said "subversive activities" have increased concern over the Constitution in the last two or three years.

Although warmly defended today, the document had few friends when it was signed on Sept. 17, 1787, after four months of secret debate.

Of the 55 state delegates who met in Philadelphia, only 39 signed the finished document. They all went home to strong and widespread criticism.

Rhode Island had refused point blank to send any delegates to the meeting, and did not ratify the Constitution until three years later—and then by a majority of only two votes.

As the years went by, historians and statesmen gave high praise to the drafters of the Constitution and today it is regarded widely as a great and monumental plan. The fundamental framework is unchanged despite 21 amendments, scholars point out, and is expected to remain so for many years.

any moment.

Bernadotte was head of the Swedish Red Cross and the husband of the former Estelle Manville of New York. He was 53.

Bernadotte had been shuttling for months between the Arab and Israeli capitals in his efforts to bring peace and enforce the truces. He was scheduled to reported to the United Nations in Paris next week.

Impeccably outfitted, he frequently was seen riding his bicycle to work in Stockholm. Swedish friends said he just didn't care for luxuries like limousines and chauffeurs.

Bernadotte was named to mediate the Palestine war last May. He was chosen for the job by the five big powers in the U. N. Security Council.

He soon flew to the Middle East and conferred with top leaders of both sides. His first cease-fire order took effect on June 8. Thereafter he made to end the fighting, but his efforts were futile. The war was resumed at the expiration of the four weeks truce, even while he tried to arrange terms for a permanent peace.

His second truce order, backed by the authority of the 58 member United Nations, took effect July 18.

the Advisory Committee of the Sanford State Farmers Market decided to recommend to the State Market Bureau that an auction market for vegetable growers be established here, it was reported by W. A. Laffer, member of the Committee.

As a result, the State Bureau sent an agent here to look over the market layout to determine the site of a possible auction block could be located. The agent expressed the opinion that the auctions ought to be confined to spring crops such as beans and peppers, said Mr. Laffer.

Auction centers are on the increase, he pointed out. Much produce sale activity has been taking place at Ft. Pierce, Plant City, Wauchula, Webster, Gainesville and other vegetable producing centers in the state.

Mr. Dawson today indicated that in his opinion Agricultural Commissioner Nathan Mayo would favor the establishment of an auction market here, if growers indicate that they want this service. He also pointed out that a sufficient quantity of well packed vegetables of excellent quality and sufficient variety would be needed to make an auction market function successfully.

Berlin Crisis Discussed By West Powers

United States Is Reported To Be Ready To Toss Matter To U. N. Security Meet

PARIS, Sept. 20. (AP)—An official British source said the foreign ministers of the three Western Powers have scheduled a get-together for this afternoon. Berlin and Germany are reported to be up for discussion.

This informant said the foreign ministers—Secretary of State Marshall of the United States, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and Robert Schuman of France—would meet at the Quai D'Orsay, where the French foreign ministry is headquartered.

Reports from Moscow said diplomatic representatives of the Western Powers, who have been trying for two months to work out a settlement of the Berlin crisis, were heading for Paris tomorrow to join their chiefs.

From Berlin, there was word that General Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor for Germany, also would come to Paris.

The Marshall-Berlin-Schumann meeting was scheduled amid speculation that the Western Powers are divided over what to do next in their efforts to settle the Berlin fiasco.

The United States has been reported ready to toss the matter either to the U. N. Security Council or the General Assembly and so seek to secure a positive diplomatic and moral defeat over Russia.

The British, according to informed opinion, do not altogether agree.

They point out that if the issue reaches the Security Council, no effective purpose would be served in view of almost certain Soviet vetoes.

And if the matter goes to the General Assembly, then, they say, the Western powers would be

U. N. Is Told To Intervene In Palestine

Count Bernadotte Recommends Changes For Jews And Arabs

PARIS, Sept. 20. (AP)—A post-humous report by the murdered Count Folke Bernadotte declares the United Nations should step in to end the Palestine war if the Arabs and Jews fail to make peace.

The Mediator wrote that "Israel exists in Palestine," and the future of Arab Palestine should be left to the Arab states, "in full consultation with the Arab inhabitants" of the Holy Land.

His 35,000-word report was distributed to the 58 U. N. member states as his body and that of French Lieut. Col. Andre Pierre Serot were being flown home.

It was tentatively planned to hold a memorial service at Paris' Orly Field. After receiving homage from high United Nations and French officials, Bernadotte's body would be flown to Stockholm.

The Holy City of Jerusalem, where he and Serot were shot to death last Friday, should be placed under United Nations control, the report said.

The report, which will be one of the problems facing the General Assembly opening tomorrow, also recommended changes in the Palestine partition plan.

The Negev desert of Southern Palestine, he said, should become Arab territory. Most of it was given to the Jews under the partition plan.

All of Galilee should be defined as Jewish territory, he added. The partition plan gave western Galilee to Arab Palestine, but it now is under control of the Israeli army.

While Bernadotte left the disposition of Arab Palestine to the arbitrator, he recommended that, in view of the historical, economic and common interests of Trans-Jordan and Palestine, there would be compelling reasons for merging Arab Palestine and neighboring Trans-Jordan.

Bernadotte's report also recommended: "The Jewish port of Haifa, including oil refineries and terminals, should be declared a free port. The airport at Lydda should be declared a free airport."

U. N. Session Faces Palestine Problem; Lie To Demand Guard

United Nations Army To Be Requested To Maintain Order In Disturbed Sections

PARIS, Sept. 20. (AP)—Secretary General Trygve Lie will demand urgent formation of a United Nations guard to forestall such acts as the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte and to maintain order in disturbed areas.

As soon as possible after the 58 nations delegates assemble tomorrow, the U. N. administrative chief will ask for a United Nations constabulary of from 1,000 to 5,000 men backed by "the full authority of the United Nations."

A well-informed source at U. N. headquarters said today Lie had already made contact with a number of national delegations and generally received a favorable reply.

Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin have both arrived for tomorrow's opening. Problems arising out of the tense situation in Berlin and other factors in the cold war between East and West overshadowed the conference.

A meeting of the three Western foreign ministers, Marshall, Bevin and Robert Schuman of France, was expected with the possibility that the Berlin crisis may be held before the 58 nations.

Both Bevin and Marshall will have their top advisers on Germany with them by tonight. Berlin dispatches said American Military Governor General Lucius Clay will fly to Paris to report to Marshall this afternoon. His British colleague, General Sir Brian Robertson, is going to confer with Bevin.

They will be joined in the French Capital by W. Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, Moscow Ambassador, and Frank, Tob.

Mr. Lehmann paid high tribute to the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs which sponsored Royal Palm Park, the nucleus around which Everglades National Park was built, and Ernest F. Coe who 17 years ago began promoting this project as a final refuge for subtropical plant and animal life.

Mr. Lehmann also called attention to the importance of Silver Springs in attracting tourists to Central Florida.

Everglades National Park, he said, will in an ever larger way draw hundreds of thousands of tourists to Florida every year and Central Florida is bound to derive considerable benefit from this influx of visitors.

City Commission Approves Budget For Coming Year

Half Million Dollars Is Expected Outlay; Millage Is Reduced

A City budget of more than one half million dollars in anticipated outlay for 1948-1949 was authorized by the City Commission at its meeting Friday afternoon, and total tax millage was reduced from 28 to 21.5. Operating millage was reduced from 15 to 12 and debt service from 13 to 9.5 mills, a total reduction of six and a half mills, it was reported today by City Manager H. N. Sayer.

In spite of the reduction in tax millage, total tax revenue on real estate and personal property, is anticipated at $2,344,000 or $40,000 more than the $2,304,000 raised last year. The increase in revenue, amounting to 20 percent, will be due to increase in appraisals based on the findings of the Clemmshaw Appraisal Co.

Outlay for all purposes including general government, debt service and water utility is anticipated at $504,600 as compared with total appropriations of $446,000, last year.

General government operating expenses have been estimated at $318,805, debt service payments at $138,000, water utility operation at $39,835 and debt service for the water plant at $17,970. Since revenues, however, from the water plant are anticipated at $105,000, a profit of $47,295 is expected, and this will be turned over to the general City government.

For the $318,805 of operating expenses, only $18,000 or one-eighth will be raised by taxation as compared with $79,000 last year. Debt Service tax revenue is expected to total $131,000 compared with $115,000 last year.

The operating expense includes all City departments, including streets and parks, police and fire departments. The Commission, seeking more economies, decided that both the police and Fire Department could get along with less personnel as there will be two fewer firemen and two fewer policemen on the City payroll after Oct. 1, said City Manager Sayer. Operating expenses were $287,775 last year.

Since less than half of the budget is raised by direct taxation, the balance must be met by other means. These include $114,500 anticipated miscellaneous revenues including license, police fines and parking meter revenues. The water department will yield $105,000 revenue (including profit) and the Utilities Service Tax is expected to bring in $13,000. The Department of General Government has a carry over surplus of $2,500, also $1,500 of prior year taxes originally raised for operating expense.

Problems In Germany Also Prime Issue; New Government Is Formed By Arabs

JERUSALEM, Sept. 20. (AP)—Jews and Arabs hammered each other with mortars and machineguns for four hours in Jerusalem last night. Each blamed the other for starting it.

The fighting, which gave Jerusalem one of its most spectacular shows of the war, broke a three-night period of peace.

The Jews issued a communique saying "Arab forces threw in practically their entire heavy armament in a concentrated bombardment of our positions." They said one Israeli soldier was wounded and minor damage was done to property.

The Arab Legion said "Jewish forces made a ferocious attempt to storm the Old City walls at the new gate, but were repulsed by legion defenders with a loss of at least 150 Jewish lives." It said there were no legion casualties.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
German and Palestinian conflicts simmered today as major issues confronting the United Nations in Paris. The General Assembly convenes tomorrow.

The Arab League, over the objections of Trans-Jordan and Iraq, announced the formation of a new Arab government for Palestine. Amjed Hbnay Pasha, military governor of the Arab-held section of Jerusalem, was appointed prime minister.

The act was denounced by King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan who said formation of such a government would amount to partitioning Palestine—an act long opposed by Arabs. (This stand, of course, ignores the fact the United Nations partitioned Palestine into Arab and Jewish sections May 15).

B. BENNETT DELOACH
LAKELAND, Sept. 20. (AP)—A Senate subcommittee was asked today to do something about setting up some kind of a price support program for citrus.

Senator Claude Pepper, sitting as a one-man committee, heard the appeals for federal price aid from Senator Spearman L. Holland and Marvin H. Walker, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission.

Senator Holland said he felt that because of the vast citrus producing acreage in several states, Congress should consider setting a price for citrus which would at least guarantee the grower the cost of production.

South Florida Is Told To Stand By For Tropical Blow

Winds Of Gale Force Predicted For Miami Area Tonight

MIAMI, Sept. 20. (AP)—Hurricane warnings were hoisted over Florida from Miami to Key West at 2 P. M. today as a tropical storm edged close to Cuba and headed for the Florida Keys. Emergency hurricane measures should be taken immediately in the Florida Keys and greater Miami area, the Weather Bureau advised.

Storm warnings were displayed northward from Miami to Melbourne on the East Coast, and from the Keys to Naples on the West Coast.

MIAMI, Sept. 20. (AP)—Storm forecasters told south Florida today to stand by for possible hurricane warnings by nightfall.

Storm warning forecasters issued this announcement: "There is a possibility that hurricane warnings will be hoisted along the south Florida coast by nightfall if the storm center continues its present south-northeastward course."

The coastal area and Florida Keys from Miami through Key West already are warned of north-easterly gales which are already sweeping Cuba and the Florida Straits. Cuba had 75 mile winds, which is hurricane force.

Gale force winds are predicted for the Miami area late today. Key West experienced 45-mile winds in mid-morning.

The master of the stricken British freighter Lochmann reported the 73 persons aboard were believed safe as a hurricane with winds of over 100 miles an hour moved away from the ship and closer to the Cuban coast.

South Florida, Miami through the keys was placed in the "danger zone" of the storm which yesterday trapped the Lochmann, a 9,000 ton vessel. The weather bureau warned south Floridians (Continued on Page Two)

Since revenues, however, from the water plant are anticipated at $105,000, a profit of $47,295 is expected, and this will be turned over to the general City government.

For the $318,805 of operating expenses, only $18,000 or one-eighth will be raised by taxation as compared with $79,000 last year. Debt Service tax revenue is expected to total $131,000 compared with $115,000 last year.

The operating expense includes all City departments, including streets and parks, police and fire departments. The Commission, seeking more economies, decided that both the police and Fire Department could get along with less personnel as there will be two fewer firemen and two fewer policemen on the City payroll after Oct. 1, said City Manager Sayer. Operating expenses were $287,775 last year.

Since less than half of the budget is raised by direct taxation, the balance must be met by other means. These include $114,500 anticipated miscellaneous revenues including license, police fines and parking meter revenues. The water department will yield $105,000 revenue (including profit) and the Utilities Service Tax is expected to bring in $13,000. The Department of General Government has a carry over surplus of $2,500, also $1,500 of prior year taxes originally raised for operating expense.

Economists Again Warn of Depression

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Inflation is still on the march, but factors have entered the picture, causing economists to shift their trumpets. Instead of stressing further price rises, they are harping on final consequences. Talking less about "boom" and more about "bust."

The change in emphasis has caused several influential Republican leaders to insist that signs now are pointing more toward depression than further inflation, and that the problem will be to prevent a severe downturn, rather than to check further price advances.

J. P. Wolcott

This view is held by Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R), Michigan, chairman of the House banking committee. Similar thoughts are entertained by Senator Robert A. Taft (R), Ohio, who predicted a short time ago that inflation would no longer be a problem when the new Congress convenes in January.

Privately, some GOP leaders are wondering whether it is going to be Republican "luck" to elect Dewey and then have him inherit a post-war "bust."

DREAM HOUSE—It is a safe bet that the movie Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House held more than usual interest for Secretary of State George C. Marshall and his wife.

The movie tells the story of a couple who get tired of living in the cramped quarters of "modern cliff-dwellers" and seek the wide open spaces in the country. There, they build their "dream house."

Of course, the plot of the story has much to do with the difficulties the couple run into in their efforts to revitalize an old estate.

It was recalled in Washington that the secretary of state and his lady themselves had bought an old estate in Virginia, as have many retired Army officers, and taken on their shoulders the job of restoring it.

That was many years ago and now it is a pleasant mansion to which Marshall retires as often and as much as world problems will permit.

MURRAY AND THE LEFT-WINGERS—There are several stories concerning how CIO President Phil Murray was able to swing his organization's executive board behind the Truman-Barkley ticket without precipitating a bolt by the dozen leftist union heads on that body.

Most widely-accepted version is that Murray laid down the law in an after-hours session the night before the group voted 35 to 12 to support the Democratic slate.

Union leaders pledged to support Henry Wallace came to the board meeting loudly crying "bolt" if Murray and the right-wing majority tried to bulldoze through the Truman endorsement. Murray countered with:

"The board, whether you like it or not, is going to support Truman. Bolt if you like, but if you do we'll raid your unions so hard the old AFL ranks will seem like a ladies' social."

The leftists didn't pull out. Murray won, but very fairly stated publicly that the CIO constitution does not make it mandatory for all unions to support a majority board decision.

GOP RED PROBS—The recent State department charge that Communist aliens are roaming the country at will caught the Republicans by surprise.

Republicans weren't averse to anti-administration campaign ammunition, but they hadn't expected this matter to pop up now.

Privately, they were saying they would dig into it when they captured the White House and had more access to government records.

One GOP senator, however, said he had some "startling disclosures" to make about the subject.

He said that next year he will charge that the Roosevelt and Truman administrations were liberal in allegedly permitting alien teachers and students to overstay their temporary permits.

"Carmen" Has More Lives Than A Cat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP)—The movies have struck another stiletto in poor old Carmen, the greatest female knife fustian in literature.

For more than a hundred years now this Spanish gypsy wench has been giving men's hearts a wrench—on the printed page, on the operatic stage, on film, and over the radio.

She has been killed and revived more often than vaudeville. But every time she expires—from a knife thrust through the heart by her lover—it isn't blood she's shedding. It's a profits-transfusion for the boxoffice.

This durable girl has had quite a history. Prosper Merimee, the French writer, scribbled her story in 1845 for three reasons—to please his greatest love, his greatest friend, and because he needed to buy a pair of pants.

It was essentially the story of a beautiful Gypsy lass with the morals of a mink who changed lovers as often as she did her earrings. She lured a simple soldier from his duty, got him to join a band of Gypsy snaguers and bandits and got her horn ventilated by the soldier's dagger when she tried to give him the double switcheroo for a handsome bull fighter.

The tale hit the packet, and made enough for Merimee to buy a thousand pairs of trousers. And Carmen has been paying off ever since. No woman that ever lived ever paid more for her wickedness. At least none ever paid off more people.

Bizet based his famous opera on Merimee's story, and the "Toreador's Song" only added to Carmen's international renown.

But this gay little bad girl really hit his stride after Thomas Edison's invention of the flickers. Since 1910 Carmen has been in 15 films seen by American audiences and about a dozen foreign pictures made for home distribution.

Among earlier celluloid Carmens were Geraldine Farrar, Theda Bara and Dolores Del Rio—all in the silent cinema era. The latest is Rita Hayworth, starring in Columbia's glossy technicolor production, "The Loves of Carmen."

The other day I went to see a showing of Rita Hayworth's $4,000,000 version followed by Geraldine Farrar's 1915 epic, now embalmed in the Museum of Modern Art's film library.

Now Carmen has changed! She sure has improved with age. In 1915 she was a plump, moon-faced damsel who moved jerkily across the screen with exaggerated gestures and expressed emotion by rolling her eyes like a pair of wild dice in a white cup. She wore more gauze than the Red Cross rolled into bandages in two world wars.

But today—37 years later—Carmen has slimmed down to a red-haired spitfire who rolls in the street in a hair-pulling fight with another woman, and they expose more thigh surface than I've seen since the last time I saw Sally Rand.

Perhaps because red shows up well in technicolor, the 1948 picture kills off at least a dozen action as the earlier film, but omits the bull fighting sequence. In the 1915 saga the bull performs so naturally he makes Miss Farrar and the late Wallace Reid look insincere.

I asked a man from Columbia pictures why there was no bull fighting scenes in "The Loves of Carmen," and he said: "We only put $4,000,000 into this. With the price of beer what it is we couldn't take a chance of someone accidentally killing the bull and running the whole production into the hole."

The most memorable line in the 1915 movie was Carmen's dying remark to her lover: "You have killed me, love—but I am free."

Carmen, dear, you'll never be free. You haven't got a Thanksgiving turkey's chance of getting away from that knife that keeps coming at you forever. The wages of your long-ago sins still pay you too well at the boxoffice.

Fold grated cheese or finely chopped parsley into a puff of omelet for a flavor change. Serve with crisp potato sticks (packaged) and a green salad. Add hot basmati, homemade preserves and coffee for a delicious easily-prepared supper.

To make homemade noodle soup, beat an egg and mix with a cup of flour that has been sifted with a half teaspoon of baking powder and a quarter teaspoon salt. Roll out thin, dust with flour, roll up in jelly roll fashion and cut fine; spread out to dry on a t. a. towel.

Bang, Bang Goes Berlin Cosmetics

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

BERLIN—Trying to be well-groomed even well-scrubbed in post-war Berlin is not only expensive for German women. It can be downright dangerous. Some of the cosmetics sold here are explosive.

In this city's economy of scarcity, cosmetics come mostly through the black market—at high prices and of doubtful origin. Germany's pure drug laws weren't too strict in prewar days. In postwar Berlin, they're worse. Such is the scramble for scarce, cheap soap rations here, that the cheap kind of perfume often is a means to keep the odor away.

But there can be danger in those perfumes—and in lipsticks which make lips swell, face creams which make cheeks break out in a rash and alleged sun fans which induce the sun to burn the hide off you.

Nevertheless, the various boroughs engage public chemical researchers who attempt to test products on the market and on the side, investigate complaints from "burnt" customers.

One chemist got a letter from a woman who complained that a coffee substitute she had purchased in the black market had made her ill.

"So," she continued, "I poured it on the flowers on my balcony. Promptly the flowers died. Dear professor, what shall I do?"

The professor wrote back: "Quite likely the substitute had some bad ingredients. But who ever heard of flowers which liked to drink even good coffee? Stay out of the black market!"

SHIP SHOWS GOODS MALINES, Belgium—(AP)—A floating commercial fair will leave Belgium next November to bring an exhibit of Belgian goods to prospective buyers around the world. The 10,000-ton ship "Captain Paret" is now being refitted to contain 250 exhibition stands which will be made available to Belgian manufacturers.

The ship is scheduled to sail from Antwerp to Pernambuco and Rio de Janeiro. From Brazil she will go to Buenos Aires, then to Valparaiso, Callao and Asapulco, Mexico. After a visit to Los Angeles and San Francisco, the ship will go through the Panama Canal to visit Venezuela, New Orleans, Havana, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. The floating fair is expected to end its tour by the summer of 1949 at Quebec and Montreal. The "Captain Paret" will stay in each port for about one week.

IN CONJUNCTION with the first anniversary of Air Force Day, the XF-58, new U.S.A.F. twin-jet fighter, is revealed to the public for the first time at the Muroc Air Base, Cal. MIAMI Sept. 20—(AP)—Cecil Gentry, storm warning forecaster, looked the hurricane in the eye from the air today.

Gentry, a native of Paducah, Ky., flew with the Navy in a radar plane which kept watch on the hurricane from midnight until 8 A.M.

"I got a very impressive look and could see the full picture of the storm," Gentry commented.

"We got three excellent fixes. I could see the whole storm including its small eye."

Storm forecasters usually coordinate information from a thousand sources and plot their findings on charts. Often they are too busy to look out a window while hurricane winds blow outside their own buildings.

Gentry accepted an invitation from Comdr. E. F. Harding, in command of the Navy's hurricane hunter force here, to "get in it and look it over."

"We steered clear of the area of heavy turbulence and had no reason to go into the center, but we rode through 75 to 80 mile winds alongside the storm and rode herd on it with radar," said Gentry.

He was back in his plotting room at 8 A.M.

The coast guard received a message from the Lochmopar plating: "Consider passengers and crew safe on board until weather calms. Do not think ship will break up. Vessel settled more and pounding eased. Holes in five fuel tanks. Three holds taking water slowly. Auxiliaries working. Sky clearing and wind easing slightly. Tug curb standing by."

A wireless from the master of the ship to the Associated Press in New York said the vessel was standing up surprisingly well and that it was on an even keel. Except for anxiety and some discomfort, he reported, the passengers and crew are well and carrying on a normal ship's life.

"We have six British passengers and a crew of 67," the skipper said. "The main cargo is dried fruit, flour, eggs and meat."

The Coast Guard said it was probable that the vessel had been wrecked by the pounding and would have to be abandoned.

Soup, Sandwiches Form Good Hot Weather Menu

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the best of the summer meals—good to eat and easy on the cook—is a well-flavored soup accompanied by a sandwich and salad combination.

Most economical and hearty of soups for such a menu are those made from dry beans or peas. Like cereals, dry beans and peas contain proteins, although these proteins are not complete in themselves. You may increase the protein in the meal, both in quality and in quantity, by adding a small amount of meat some place in the menu by letting cheese, milk, or eggs help out.

In the soup, sandwich and salad combination the bean chowder may have the addition of milk. The deviled ham sandwich is delicious with a cheese sauce. The muddled vegetables will be cool and refreshing. Here is a recipe for the salad.

MOLDING GREEN AND WHITE SLAW

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/4 cup hot water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup cider vinegar, 1/2 cup finely cut cabbage (chop in short lengths and pack loosely in measuring cup), 1 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup finely sliced cucumber (leave rind on and if seeds are large, cut out cores of slices before slicing very finely), salad greens, mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing.

Method: Put cold water in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Sprinkle gelatin over it and allow to stand a few minutes so gelatin will absorb water and swell. Add the hot water, sugar and salt and stir until gelatin and sugar are completely dissolved. Add vinegar and stir. Chill in refrigerator until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Add cabbage, celery and cucumber and mix well. Turn into 4 individual molds or custard cups and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing. Makes 4 servings.

CHOPPED OR SLICED TONGUE SANDWICHES WITH WALDORF SALAD

Method: Chop the tongue into 1/2 inch slices. Use whole-wheat bread; the salad of diced apple and celery mated with mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing and serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

EGG SANDWICHES WITH BEET AND ONION RING SALAD

Method: Chop the eggs, add mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing and salt and pepper to taste for sandwich filling; for salad lay sliced cooked beets and raw onion rings on lettuce and serve with French dressing.

SALMON OR TUNA FISH SANDWICHES WITH MIXED VEGETABLES SALAD

Method: Season the salmon or tuna fish (or use flaked cooked leftover white fish) with salt, pepper, onion salt and chopped parsley; use both cooked and crisp raw vegetables for the salad—such a combination as cooked or canned peas with diced celery and creamy salad dressing, or cooked snap beans with coarsely shredded carrot and a savory French dressing.

CHICKEN SANDWICHES WITH WATERCRESS AND CUCUMBER SALAD

Method: Chop the chicken if you like and add celery, hard-cooked egg and mayonnaise to it, or use it sliced with mayonnaise for the sandwiches; use thinly sliced cucumber with water cress and French dressing for the salad.

PEANUT BUTTER AND BACON SANDWICHES WITH CABBAGE, CARROT AND RAISIN SLAW

Method: Add a little milk or thin cream to the peanut butter to moisten, then add the crumbled cooked crisp bacon and spread between slices of bread; grate the cabbage and carrot coarsely, add the raisins and bind with creamy salad dressing or mayonnaise.

AMERICAN CHEESE SANDWICHES WITH FRUIT SALAD

Method: Plain sliced soft yellow cheese may be used for the sandwiches or it may be made into a delicious filling by grating it coarsely and mixing it with chopped nutmeats and mayonnaise; use two or three fresh fruits for the salad—melon, orange and cherries or apples and grapes are an excellent combination.

Home Demonstration Specialists Tallagease Extension Clothing Specialist SEW AND SAVE

Before long, if not already, you will be thinking about fall clothes and school clothes for yourself and family. There was a time when some women said "yes" and others said "no" when asked whether home sewing pays. If everyone could sew or had time to sew, I believe there would be no argument today that making clothes at home is cheaper than buying them ready-made at the present prices.

The biggest saving probably comes from making cotton dresses for women and girls, and next to this is that of making wool suits and coats for women and girls. You also save a great deal from home construction of underwear, play clothes, and night-wear for children. But, sewing is no saving if you are not skillful at it, or if you could use the time better in other ways. It only pays to sew at home when you can make clothes so well that they look and wear to your satisfaction.

However, there are many people who need to learn to sew who do not know how. Sewing is fun and there are so many places you can find help today. There are several good United States Department of Agriculture bulletins that you will find most helpful such as: "Making A Dress At Home" (Farmers Bulletin No. 1954), "Factory Alteration (Farmers Bulletin No. 1968)", "How to Tailor A Woman's Suit" (Miscellaneous Publication No. 691). These three bulletins you will find easy to read and well illustrated. You can get them from your County Home Demonstration Agent's office. She will probably be able to suggest someone in your community who will be glad to teach you more about sewing at home if you are really interested. With present opportunities open to you, you can learn quickly to sew if you are willing to start with the simpler garments and wait until you are more skilled to do the difficult ones.

Uniforms, Insignia Spice Soviet Life

MOSCOW (AP)—Since the end of the war ranks, uniforms and insignia have appeared in many branches of Soviet life. "Soviet News" for instance, say leading and responsible workers of the financial houses and banks are to have "personal titles" and special forms of clothing and insignia to correspond with rank. Also "personal titles" and new insignia of rank have been introduced for the directing personnel of the Ministry of the Merchant Marine.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

THE LORD'S PRAYER IS A MAGNIFICENT EXAMPLE OF WHAT PRAYER SHOULD BE. MANY OF US LIMIT OUR PRAYERS TO OUR OWN NEEDS AND AMBITIONS. Let us learn to pray.—Luke 11:1.

"Billions Being Spent to Save a Civilization," says a Times-Union editorial. What civilization?

Governor Calhoun and Senator Pepper were reported lunching together in Palm Beach the other day. And what they have to say about each other in 1950 probably won't be fit to print.

Chairman Libral of the Atomic Energy Commission suggests that it is almost impossible for the government to hire trained scientists on account of the congressional spy probe. Or maybe they are just waiting until after the November election to see if they can get a permanent job.

Do you know what it means not to be a Communist in Soviet territory? A group of German anti-Communists were sentenced to 25 years of hard labor the other day. We are only surprised they weren't shot. And yet over here Communists think it is cruel and inhuman punishment merely to be branded as a Communist.

A Georgia negro is suing Ray Spriggle, Pittsburgh reporter, who disguised himself as a negro, lived among them in the South in order to tell the North how badly treated they are, because, says the Georgia negro, the Pittsburgh reporter misquoted him. We rather gathered the fact, in reading the article, that a large number of persons must have been misquoted.

Governor Dewey is following in the footsteps of President Teddy Roosevelt when he says, "If I am elected President, I will support a defense system so strong that no foreign power will ever be misled into attacking us on the assumption that our democracy is too weak or too pulchre to protect itself" (as the Japs were at Pearl Harbor). Speak softly, but carry a big stick.

From Raiford Penitentiary, the Most Honorable Clerk of the Court of Highlands County has received the following letter:

Honorable Sir, Clerk of circuit court. To your honor, sir, I am writing you in the regards of my coat record. If you please, sir, of what I was charge of. I was sentenced on April 12, 1946. I was given a 10 year sentence, so I would thank you with the greatest of respect if you would send me my coat record, please sir. Your honor, sir.

"It would be foolish to say the Florida Citrus Industry is in bad condition. Every person who has been here two years knows it and knows it well. It's in terrible shape. It's never been worse—but it can get worse—unless something is done about it and done fast". Those are not our words. That's what R. D. Robinson, general manager of Dr. P. Phillips and Sons, Inc., Florida's largest citrus producers, has to say about it. And that after 15 years of the New Deal!

One record for which Florida should take no pride is its standing among homicide rates. We do not rank first. That honor is reserved for Georgia and Alabama where 13 and 12 persons respectively were murdered per hundred thousand. Florida's rate was about 6 1/2; that of the average state a little less than 3. The large proportion of negroes throughout the South, of course, accounts in part for the high rate down here, but it is not the result of whites murdering blacks as some of our northern traducers would have you believe. The other morning a negro was electrocuted at Raiford for killing a white sailor while trying to rob him of $1.75.

The Death Of Bernadotte

The inexcusable assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte in Jerusalem last Friday comes as a great shock to the civilized world at a time when its sensibilities have become hardened to all but the most terrific shocks. Count Bernadotte was a man of peace with nothing but good will for all people everywhere. At the time of his murder he was special mediator for the United Nations attempting to find a peaceful solution of the dispute between the Arabs and Jews over Palestine.

A nephew of the King of Sweden, a wealthy man in his own right and married to an American heiress, Bernadotte had devoted his life to the welfare of suffering humanity and to the interests of peace. Before the war he was head of the Swedish Boy Scouts, the Swedish Red Cross, and for two years was commissioner of the Swedish pavilion at the World's Fair in New York. During the war the scope of his Red Cross activities was vastly increased and he devoted a large part of his efforts to the improvement of conditions for the victims of German concentration camps.

In this work he was frequently called upon to risk his life as his plane carried him over German anti-aircraft fire. With Germany in its death throes he was selected as intermediary between Germany and the Western Powers and frequently flew in and out of Berlin while it was under siege. Last May he was appointed at the suggestion of the United States government as special U. N. mediator to try to bring peace to the Holy Land. There is little doubt that, though he had not evolved a permanent solution of the crisis, much bloodshed has been averted through his efforts.

That the life of this man should end in a bloody assassination at the hands of the very people he was trying to help is but further evidence the world has a long way to go before resort to violence becomes a thing of the past and the solution of all international disputes can be effected through peaceful means. We who believe in peace and good-will should remember that there are many evil men on earth who do not. We should continue our efforts to convert those who seem to think that "might makes right" and "to the victor belongs the spoils", and we should try as hard as we can to make effective such organizations as the United Nations, but we should keep plenty of ammunition in reserve.

The Lowdown On Wives

Wives are people who help you when you have problems you wouldn't have had if you had chosen to remain a bachelor. Most wives do not understand electricity, bank statements, holding companies, or atomic power; but they can tell you what everyone in their grammar-school graduation class wore at the commencement exercises. They are baffled by calculus, but they know how much the woman next door weighs and when she was born.

They consider whittling truck drivers a solace, not a menace. If fat, they talk about their "little" black dresses. If attending a dressmaking class, they make a tailored suit for their first project.

In moments of deep gloom or uncertainty, they straighten dresser drawers. They are fiends for small economies, returning empty bottles vigilantly and buying fur coats without conscience.

They are afraid of mice, storms, tunnels, and night noises but they are quiet in the dentist's chair. They cannot pronounce jiftsu, but they know what to do with a paving nuisance.

And if you want to make a wife cross, telephone her at 9:30 in the morning and say you hope you didn't awaken her. She will bristle as she yawns and tells you, "Heavens no, I've been up for hours."—Bernice Herman in Your Life.

Dying Cigarette

The radio news commentator Baukhage the other day reported a suggestion that cigarettes be made so as to go out when not puffed, rather than continue burning until completely consumed. The idea is to reduce the fire hazard. The ability to burn steadily, once lighted, without any further attention from the smoker, is peculiar among smoking materials to the cigarette. A cigar or a pipe will promptly go out when laid aside.

This characteristic makes the lighted cigarette a frequent cause of fire, and of death to the dozing smoker. Discarded butts which fall among inflammable materials start fires with speed and ease. Cigarettes which slip from the fingers of smokers who nod off to sleep drop into bedding or upholstery to start flames more slowly but no less surely, and often the sleeper never awakens.

Less seriously, neglected cigarettes have left their mark on many a fine piece of furniture, because they went wrong burning.

Considering how much of this destruction and loss of life might be prevented simply by omitting the process in manufacture which makes a cigarette burn without being puffed, is not the idea worth attention?

THE WORLD TODAY

Surrender by the Nizam of Hyderabad to the invading forces from the dominion of India may well have saved the Indian subcontinent such a bloodbath as that troubled land never before had experienced.

Certainly a continuation of the short-lived conflict threatened to precipitate wide-spread communal fighting which might have run the length and breadth of the great peninsula. It was the old, old story of Hindu versus Moslem—a story which has been written in blood for generations.

More than three-quarters of Hyderabad's population of 16,000,000 are Hindus, whereas his exalted highness, the Nizam, is a Moslem. The Dominion of India is chiefly Hindu and the troops sent into Hyderabad were Hindu. The rival dominion of Pakistan, which is mainly Moslem, has been watching the invasion with a jaundiced eye, and many of its people have been calling for reprisals against the Hindus.

There has been enough dynamite in the situation to blow up the whole peninsula. So the surrender is a godsend. However it presents the Dominion of India with some stiff problems, chief of which is what shall be done with the Nizam. His exalted highness is the most powerful and richest of all the hundreds of Indian princes—said to be the richest man in the world, for that matter, with a fortune running into many billions of dollars. His family has ruled Hyderabad since 1712, when the dynasty was founded.

Moreover the disposition of the huge state itself is in question—a delicate matter to handle in view of inflamed feeling. The background of the situation briefly is this:

When Britain granted freedom to the subcontinent August 15, 1947, she advised all the 562 ruling princes to attach themselves either to the dominion of Pakistan (Moslem) or the dominion of India (mainly Hindu). All the rulers have done so with the exception of the Nizam. This 62-year-old potentate is a mighty proud individual and so jealous of his prerogatives that the British always tread circumspectly when dealing with him.

However, the dominion of India has been urging him to join it. The argument advanced for this move has been that the vast majority of the Nizam's subjects are Hindu, and that the state itself lies wholly within dominion territory. The Nizam has declined, declaring that he was retaining independence. Then the dominion demanded that a plebiscite be held in Hyderabad to determine the will of the people.

Finally the Dominion declared that a state of anarchy existed in Hyderabad, and called on the Nizam to put it down. The lives of Britons and Americans in the state were said to be endangered, and they were removed. Then last week the dominion, insisting that the anarchy persisted invaded Hyderabad in force.

It is interesting and perhaps significant that the invasion was commanded in person by Lieut. General Maharajah Shri Rajendrasinhji, who himself has princely rank as a close relative of the Maharajah of Nawanshar. The point, as I see it, is that the proud Nizam might feel he could surrender to one of his own class without losing face. I suspect that the dominion took that into consideration with the idea of shortening the Nizam's resistance.

Thus far there has been no indication that the Dominion doesn't intend to conduct a plebiscite in Hyderabad to see what the people wish. Naturally one would expect that such a big Hindu majority would vote to join the Hindu dominion. Whether the Dominion also will leave the question of the ruler to the people remains to be seen. There is some speculation that the Nizam might be forced to abdicate and that his son, Prince Itier, might become head of state.

Army Men Asked To Extend Enlistments

GRAEFENWOER, Germany, Sept. 20—(AP)—The U. S. Army appealed to its fighting men in Germany today to extend their enlistments because of the international situation.

The appeal was issued through Lieut. General Clarence R. Ruebner, commander of U. S. Ground Forces in Europe.

Addressing about 15,000 First Division and constabulary troops who have just finished summer maneuvers here, Ruebner declared: "I don't need to tell you how tense the world is today. I don't need to tell you how short our ranks are."

He asked men whose enlistments are due to expire during the winter to consider carefully a new Army regulation authorizing extension of enlistments for six-month periods. "We need you so much," he said.

Know The Cause Of Indigestion
By W. V. Hitting
Touchton Drug Co.
Indigestion is one of the most common of human ailments. An occasional attack may be the result of over-indulgence in eating or drinking. Since indigestion is a symptom rather than a disease, when repeated attacks occur you should see a physician. He can locate the cause and recommend treatment.
Until you have removed the cause of indigestion you cannot hope for permanent relief. Self-medication at best is uncertain. It can be harmful. Why live in constant discomfort when your physician's advice can help you attain permanent relief.
Buy whatever medicine the physician orders from a pharmacist with a reputation for excellent prescription compounding.

REVOLUTION HINTED
SYDNEY—(AP)—A Sydney man claims to have found a cheap way of removing fiber from the ramie plant. If claims of the inventor, Mark Wise are proved correct, a world "fabric revolution" may follow.

Ramie is an East Asian shrub that grows 3ft. to 8ft. high. It lives for 10 to 20 years and can be cut every six months. It yields about one ton of fiber an acre, compared with about 200 pounds of cotton an acre. The Chinese have used ramie fiber for weaving and export back to the States. The fiber is hard. Hundreds of machines have been invented and millions of dollars have been spent in the search for a mechanical way of separating fiber from the wood bark and insoluble gum.

Sydney inventor Wise says he has been working on the problem 10 years. For the past five years experiments in his process have been made under Federal Government supervision. Ramie is said to be the strongest known vegetable fiber. It can be woven into the strongest linings or the strongest hawsers.

The band played for the first time Friday when chapel was held again. Class officers, student body officers, and new students were introduced. A 48 graduate, Frances Cobb, visited the school at that time.

During the summer a vacation reading program was held, sponsored by Miss Edna Clifton, high school librarian. Two students, Margaret Hunt and Marilene Eubanks, received diplomas for reading the specific number of books and making short book reports. Margaret received a gold medal on her diploma for reading fifteen books instead of the required ten. Both girls were given awards for making good book reports.

Miss Jean Harper And Mark Jacoby Wed In Lovely Ceremony At Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church was the setting on Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Jean Elizabeth Harper to Mark Parke Jacoby. The bride is the daughter of Ellsworth Coker Harper of this city while Mr. Jacoby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jacoby of Ft. Worth, Tex. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Dr. W. P. Brooks, Jr. at 7:30 o'clock.

Banked against the white covered rostrum were large arrangements of white gladiolus, tuberoses and pom-pom chrysanthemums with a background of large palms. Candles were used in lighting the church and on alternating pews were sprays of white gladiolus and ferns tied with white satin ribbons.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Evans McCoy, organist. Among her selections were Chopin's "Nocturne," Victor Herbert's "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Liebestraum" by Liszt and Sigmond Romberg's "One Afternoon in Vienna."

Mrs. Charles E. Ginn sang "I Love You Truly" by Bond and Gilling's "I'll Be True." The wedding march by Mendelssohn and Lohengren were used and during the ceremony Mrs. McCoy softly played the Theme from Romeo and Juliet.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a modded bodice fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The dress featured a scalloped marquisette yoke and long fitted sleeves. From the dropped waistline fell a full skirt which extended into a long circular train. Her veil of glenoid was attached to a tiara of pearl and was outlined with a band of lace. Her bouquet was formed with a purple throated orchid encircled with white aster and showered with tuberoses.

The bride's shoes were a single strand of pearls which is an heirloom in the Harper family.

Miss Ruth Stenstrom, the maid of honor, was gowned in orbid faulle taffeta. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice, low round neckline, cap sleeves and a full gathered skirt. She wore long matching mitts and a strand of pearls. Her bridesmaid was Mrs. Donald Jones, Mrs. Volie Williams, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Pitt and Miss Barbara Edensfield. Their dresses were of chateaue faulle taffeta and were made identical to that of the maid of honor. They wore matching carried fan shaped bouquets of deep purple asters against a background of satin. Tiaras for their hair were also of purple asters.

Serving as best man for Mr. Jacoby was Thomas Nixon of Martinsville, Va. and ushers were Gregory and The Shore Camp of Orange and Volie Williams, Jr. and Edward Lang. The small flower girl, little Miss Sandra Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wright, wore an old-fashioned dress of pink net over taffeta with full skirt which was caught up at the bottom to display ruffles. A large white satin cup-shaped corsage formed her basket which held pink rose petals.

Mrs. Harper wore a dress of turquoise crepe. Turquoise sequins trimmed the bodice and the slim skirt was slashed in the front. She wore a purple throated orchid. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Jacoby, was beautiful in an ankle-length gown of yellow marquisette featuring an off-shoulder neckline and very full skirt. A purple orchid formed her corsage.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents in Rose Court followed the ceremony. The reception rooms were decorated with a profusion of white gladiolus, tuberoses and chrysanthemums. The doorways were lined with plumose ferns and the stair railing was decorated with ferns forming a background for a large white but-trifly fashioned of white asters, lilies and ferns were also placed in the lighted garden.

The bride's table was covered with a white organza and satin cloth and at one end a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was placed in an oval reflector. The arrangement was encircled with garlands of asters, carnations, tuberoses and lilies of the valley. Decorating the table at the other end was a large white satin rose and silver candelabra held tall white decorative wedding tapers. Upon the buffet were similar arrangements of the white flowers and candles. Two round punch tables were placed in the lighted garden and were overlaid with organza cloths outlined with a wide soft green tulle. The tables held punch bowls and arrangements of the flowers.

Meeting the guests at the door were Mrs. Bill Tyre and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell and assisting with entertaining were Mrs. R. F. Cooper, Mrs. J. P. Thurmond, Miss Virginia Harris, Miss Joyce King, Mrs. R. U. Hutchison, Mrs. George Velle, Mrs. Charles Rowes, Mrs. W. C. Satcher, Mrs. Harry Lee, Mrs. Volie Williams and Mrs. Harry Herren. Serving cake was Mrs. Thomas Moore and presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. W. E. Prescott and Mrs. M. B. Prescott, adults of the bride. Assisting with serving were Mrs. Royal French, Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Miss Amelia Norris, Miss Regina Coleman and Miss Marion Lois Prescott. The bride's maid was kept to Miss Elizabeth Pitt and Miss Elizabeth Whigham during the evening.

After spending some time with the guests the couple left for a wedding trip to Key West. For traveling Mrs. Jacoby wore a two piece suit of gray corduroy with a hat and red accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet formed her corsage. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby plan to make their home in Deland at the Stetson Arms Apartments.

Mrs. Jacoby will resume her teaching duties at South Side Primary School and Mr. Jacoby will continue his studies at Stetson University.

Hollywood

By GENE HANDSAKER (Our Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20. (AP)—"About Some Things," complains Ariene Dahl, studio censor and busy old maid.

Ariene, who's shaped like the girls in the jackets of modern novels, is in a mild hunch with Eagle Lion's censor over something called cross-lighting.

She plays a voluptuous spy in the French revolution in "Reign of Fear," now shooting. She must claim Robert Cummings and other conspirators of her head on the guillotine. She must portray a clever, witty adventuress, costumed so as to take even patriots' minds off barricades and the Bastille.

An appearance that will evoke whistles at whatever response indicated approval by the blades of 1939 is in this case Ariene's solid, legitimate part of her dramatic art.

Joe Brown, Jr., the studio censor, looked at some test footage of Ariene in a proposed, low-necked get-up. "Okay if you use flat lighting," he told the cameraman, "but I don't think we can get away with cross-lighting."

Flat lighting is head-on and casts no shadows. Cross-lighting, he said, is too revealing. Too contourish. Might come under the ban in the Production Code voluntarily adopted by producers 18 years ago, forbidding "undue exposure." His dad, incidentally, administers the code.

One trouble with flat lighting for Ariene is that it causes the cute dimple in her chin to disappear. Only cross-lighting brings it out.

Ariene is treated with blue-eyed and red-haired, with a mole to the right of her mouth and an other one, shaped like an inverted heart, just below her left collarbone. She accentuates them with make-up pencils. She thinks make-up and beauty spots may become fashionable again as they did under the influence of the model under Jean Harlow's left eye.

Ariene has a 1938-inch waist and a 36-inch bust. The Minneapolis-born model and stage actress snapped-

Colleges Swing Into Full Speed For Weekend Play

Colleges Have One Of Heaviest Schedules In History

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Almost everybody gets into the act this week in the toughest set of September football games in history.

The traditional early season "breather" definitely is a thing of the past when the first full weekend of action offers such attractions as Navy-California, Purdue-Notre Dame and Texas-North Carolina.

And there are many more. Army is apt to have its hands full at West Point against Villanova. Texas Christian and Oklahoma A & M, both winners already this year, tangle at Stillwater, Okla. Northwestern visits UCLA and Minnesota will journey to Washington to further the Big Nine-Pacific Coast rivalry while Indiana and Wisconsin get the Big Nine underway at Madison.

Way-above average offerings dot all sections of the gridiron map. Some of the action is scheduled for Friday night. These games include Wake Forest at Boston College, Kansas' annual trek to Denver and Oregon State at Southern California.

Southern Methodist's Southwest Conference champions open their new year with a visit to Pittsburgh Saturday. Missouri makes its customary journey to Ohio State and Iowa State and Nebraska open the Big Seven season at Lincoln.

Eastern attractions include Rutgers at Columbia, Brown at Yale and Georgetown at Holy Cross.

In other parts of the country Alabama will be at Tulane, Georgia Tech at Vanderbilt, Oklahoma at Santa Clara and Baylor at Tulane. Duke opens at North Carolina State and William and Mary, defending Southern Conference champion, visits Davidson.

Michigan, the Rose Bowl champion, faces a traditional rival neighbor at Michigan State.

The season actually opened, piecemeal, last weekend. Villanova showed surprising power in stopping Texas A. and M., 34-14 at Philadelphia. Two other Texas teams had better luck. The University of Texas Longhorns smothered Louisiana State, 33-0, and Texas Christian edged Kansas, 14-13, in 90 degree heat at Lawrence.

On the west coast Southern California rebounded from its Rose Bowl shellacking to whip Utah, 27-0; California poured it on Santa Clara, 41-19, and Oregon steam-rolled Santa Barbara, 57-0.

UCLA began the Pacific Conference season with 45-27 victory over Washington State while Oregon State beat Idaho, 27-12. Stanford won its first game in two years, downing San Jose State with a last quarter flurry, 26-20.

The Clubhouse

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

ELLENVILLE, N. Y.—A number of college basketball coaches will be happy this fall when some of their players report in mid-season shape for pre-season practice.

These players could be those who played twice a week during the summer for the resort hotel teams in the Shawangunk (Shongum) Mountains.

One of the letter teams in this section is the Nevele Country Club quite composed of Dolph Schaefer, Joe Dehlon, Joel Kaufman, John O'Boyle and Heiko Kuhn of New York University.

The team won 12 games and lost five. Two of the setbacks came in overtime periods.

Other college players who hit the mountain trail for summer basketball were Captain Eddie Leeds of Dartmouth, Bob Cousy, George Kaftan and Frank Ortring of Holy Cross; Ed Kassler and Hank Biatti of Long Island University; Ed Macaulay, crack center who paced St. Louis University to a Madison Square Garden invitation tournament victory; Ed Leroy of Temple and Al Gottlieb of Brooklyn College.

At resort hotels in other parts of the state players from Duquesne University, Captain Mike Healy of Georgia, Emil Mele of St. Francis of Brooklyn, Tony Lavelli of Yale and Ernie Vanderwehze of Colgate saw some action.

Summer basketball keeps you in great shape," says Schaefer who averaged 25 points a game. "The concrete courts are tough on the feet but you get used to it."

The players do various jobs around the hotels. Some are waiters or busboys making as much as $125 a week, mostly in tips. Room and board is included. Others are bellhops making about $75 a week. Some assist on the athletic staff at $40 a week.

Leeds, Cousy, Kaftan and Ortring all were members of the Tamarack Lodge team and furnished Nevele with its strongest competition. Leeds, who has two more years at Dartmouth, often made 20 points a game.

"There's real college spirit among the players," says Chick Mirsky, New Brunswick, N. J. High coach who is Nevele's athletic director. "At one game we had 1,500 people and cheer leaders. We also played the game to conform with the college rule changes. This season a coach can talk to his players on the floor during a time out and clocks remain in operation during substitutions."

"The rivalry is terrific. I remember one game where the score was tied at the end of regulation time. It was a moral victory for the other team. Their band played, the people danced and there was no overtime."

"Another time the star of an opposing team had four personal fouls. One more foul and he would be ejected from the game. The coach said we're not playing personal fouls. To avert an argument we continued the game."

Summer basketball has been going on here for 12 years. It was the idea of Ben J. Slatsky, Nevele's owner who played the game at Villanova. This season, which began in June and ended on Labor Day, was the biggest yet.

The sport helps players who are seeking degrees in physical education. When they're not on the basketball court or waiting on tables they instruct guests in various sports such as handball, volleyball and softball.

College coaches throughout the country send freshman along to the summer hotels for jobs and a chance to have them play basketball with seasoned veterans. The coaches often visit the resorts to see how their players are doing.

Lisiewski, Schultz And Worsham Given Releases By Giants

Eddie Lisiewski, Mike Schultz and Lonnie Worsham, three right-handed hurlers on Manager Hal Gruber's 1948 edition of the Sanford Giants, have been given their unconditional releases, it was announced Saturday by Manager Gruber.

Lisiewski was given his release after receiving a check-up by physicians in New York City. Manager Gruber received a report from New York that it is doubtful if Lisiewski's arm will ever improve enough for him to be able to pitch professional baseball again.

"We hated to get the report on Eddie. He had the possibilities of going far in baseball, but this is just one of those things," Gruber declared.

"If Lisiewski had been able to pitch for the Giants all year he probably would have been one of the top pitchers in the Florida State League. He had a record of 12 victories against four defeats when the injury to his right arm forced his retirement from play," Gruber declared.

Coach Howard (Jake) Cann of NYU, during a visit to Nevele, saw Heiko Kuhn sink three set shots in succession during a close game.

"Gee, I've got to remember that fellow," said Cann. "I cut him from the squad last year."

Mirsky says he received 32 letters from amateur teams in the east for games but all the coaches have agreed to keep the competition among the resort hotels.

There is no such thing as watering as to the number of points by which one hotel should beat another. But there is "an aggregate pool." Spectators take a chance at picking the total score of the games. The winnings are shared between the lucky fan charities and the winning team.

At one time there was talk of forming a league but the idea was dropped. The players have more fun arranging games from week to week.

Waycross Defeats Islets In Series In Four Contests

WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 20.—(Special)—The Waycross Bears swept the Georgia-Florida State League interleague series in four consecutive contests as they trimmed the Daytona Beach Islets of the Florida State League by 7 to 0 and 11 to 10 scores here over the weekend.

Friday evening the Bears lashed Charlie Bodine and Adam Lepinski of the Islets for ten hits as the Daytona team were punching out nine by off Harry Raulerson and Jack Ingalls. However, the Bears grouped their blows to cap the contest by a 7 to 0 count.

Stubby Stableford, Daytona's ace right-hander, was blasted out of the box Saturday night in the fifth inning of the final game of the series, after the Bears had tallied seven runs on ten hits. Bodine and Wally Gaddis were also called into the contest by manager Sam Demps. Smith and Sidlet tossed the victory for the Waycross aggregation.

Friday night brings a relay of the 1947 championship game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Cardinals, champions of the league. Last December the Cards whipped the Eagles, 23-21.

The Cards swamped the college All-Stars in August and closed their exhibition schedule yesterday by whipping Pittsburgh, 35-14. The Eagle-Card fray will be in Chicago, just as was the championship game last year.

Rounding out the week Chicago's Bears visit Green Bay and Pittsburgh goes to Washington Sunday.

The All-America Conference, which played the first night program, sticks to an all-daylight schedule this week. No action is due until Sunday when Brooklyn will be at Baltimore, Chicago at Cleveland and San Francisco at Buffalo.

5 Players Battle In Tacoma Tourney
TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Five players went out today to battle for the $2,430 prize money they couldn't cut up yesterday at the end of the $12,500 Tacoma Open Tourney.

Finishing all even at the end of the regulation 72 holes with 274 were Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, Charles Condon of Tacoma, Ed "Porky" Oliver of Seattle, Gary Middlecoff of Memphis and Vic Ghersi of Englewood, N.J.

National Grid League Gets Ready For Work

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The National League settled down to business this week with a full schedule of games scattered over three nights and Sunday afternoon.

Green Bay and Boston started the veteran circuit rolling Friday night in Boston, but the traditional Sunday game was skipped yesterday in favor of a series of night affairs.

Detroit's revamped Lions, now the "oil boys" of Bo McMillin, take their first test against the Los Angeles Rams on the coast Wednesday night.

Chickie's Chrysler and the pepped-up New York Giants visit Boston for an after-dark affair on Thursday.

Irish Shoot For Third Undeclared Football Season

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
AP Newsfeatures
SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Notre Dame is shooting for its third straight year without a loss—and the very first target should fall while the team has enough ammunition.

The 1948 squad, on pre-season paper, looks like it has what it takes to knock off ten assorted opponents.

But the question of its ability can be answered better about 5 pm on Sept. 25. That's the date of the Notre Dame-Purdue match. And Purdue, strong and seasoned, rates as a potential Big Nine champ.

The Irish will go into the campaign without the star who guided them through seasons unblemished by defeat in 1946 and 1947—Johnny Lujack. They also will miss such stalwarts of the line as George Connor, Ziggy Csarobadi and George Strohmeier, and backs like Bob Livingston, Bill Gempers, Floyd Simmons, Corwin Clatt and Pete Ashbaugh.

But they still have the coaching magic of Frank Leahy and a gang of big and swift young men to carry the victory chain.

The team will be built on the firm foundation of 24 lettermen. Toughest task will be filling Lujack's old job at quarterback. Lujack's heir presumptive is Frank Tripucka. Tripucka is a good passer. But since he didn't see a lot of action as Lujack's understudy, his efficiency as a field general remains to be tested.

Leahy will be able to present a line made up of veterans who will average more than 200 pounds. Best of the six monogram men available for guard duty are Bill Flecher, the 230-pound captain, and Marty Wendell, who is not so heavy but just as rugged.

The Irish need yield to nobody when it comes to class at the ends. Jim Martin and Leon Hart will work there. Both tower more than six feet and top 200 in weight.

Three letter winners are ready for service at the tackles—Ralph McGahew, Augie Cifelli and Ted Rudykiewicz—and two more are on deck for center chores—Bill

Mexican Baseball League Has Folded

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Mexican baseball League, which lured a handful of Major League players into five year suspensions and tempted dozens more with fabulous offers, has quit.

An official of the circuit, who would not permit use of his name, said last night the outlaw league gave up because of money losses and player dissensions.

Other officials declined comment, but the league has no further games scheduled. It was to have played until Oct. 24.

Best known of the players who jumped American contracts to play for Jorge Pasquel were Max Lerner of the St. Louis Cardinals and Mickey Owen of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Owen left before the 1946 season was over. Lerner quit after one year.

Myrl Hoag To Manage St. Petersburg Saints

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Myrl Hoag, former American League outfielder and manager of the Gainesville G-Men of the Florida State League for the past two seasons, has signed to manage the St. Petersburg Saints of the Florida International League in 1949.

Hoag succeeds Lou Finney, who coached after piloting the Saints to fifth place in 1947 and fourth place this year.

GRACE LENZYK WINS FEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Sept. 20

GRACE LENZYK, 21-year-old Stetson University intercollegiate champion from Newington, Conn., is the nation's top women's amateur golfer.

Miss Lenzyk captured the national title here Saturday with a 4 and 3 triumph over Miss Helen Sigel, of Philadelphia.

Sports Roundup

(For Hush Fullerton, Jr.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Best tale heard over the week end concerns an outcast basketball star who has been eagerly sought almost every college in the southwest. . . . The kid finally picked a certain Texas school and the athletic department joyfully ordered a tailor to make a couple of suits to fit his huge frame. . . . Then by one of those strange switches, the lad disappeared from the campus and turned up at a college in a neighboring state. . . . Instead of howling about the "theft" authorities of school merely dispatched a note saying they since the suits no longer were useful, didn't school want to take them off their hands. . . . By return mail came a note saying "Thanks very much, here's a check. Send on."

BEING IN BELLYING
When the Texas Aggie footballers reached Philadelphia last week for the Villanova game, several of them were rounded up to appear on a television show. . . . At the end of the performance, someone asked Andy Blithouse, lanky Aggie end from Alvin, Tex. If that was his first video performance? . . . "Television?" replied Andy, "why, until I came up here yesterday I never heard of it before."

MONDAY MATINEE
Lou Boudreau has been heard expressing a wish that his Indians had more than one home game against the Red Sox because he figures his club can "take" the Sox in Cleveland. . . . No doubt that Yankee would be glad to hand him a few. . . . Averages are the four boxes scheduled to appear in Thursday's doubleheader show at Yankee stadium (if nothing has been called off late) is 2 1/2 years. That's about how much Sol Strauss ages when he checks on ticket sales. . . . Pro scouts got one of the best since Doc Blanchard quit when they saw Villanova's 325-pound fullback, Ralph Pasquariello, in action Saturday. . . . The story that Kiki Cuyper will manage the Tigers next season keeps Washington up especially since he said he wouldn't return to Canada.

AGENCIES OUT
We always thought Francis Frasca, the football forecaster, had got in wrong somewhere. . . . Now we know his frank appraisal of the season is the only one to be taken seriously.

Truman Requests Support Of West In Denver Talk

Republican Undercover Sabotage Played In Campaign Speech

DENVER, Sept. 20 (AP)—President Truman called upon Rocky Mountain voters today to join him in a fight against "Republican undercover sabotage of the West." He predicted that if the Republicans take over the government, "They will try to turn back the clock to the day when the West was an economic colony of Wall Street."

Mr. Truman told the Westerners their hope for "new developments of your agriculture, your industry and your commerce" lies in insuring the election of a Democratic administration "pledged to give you that aid and support."

Mr. Truman spoke from the grounds of the state capitol after a parade and impromptu speeches elsewhere in the city.

In the second major address of his current campaign swing he said the Republicans in Congress "consistently tried to cut the grounds from under our conservation program." "There is a hard fight ahead," Mr. Truman asserted.

"We shall have to fight the sleek political propaganda of the special interests and the Republican leadership. We shall have to fight the millions of dollars that Wall Street is pouring into the treasury of the Republican Party."

"We shall have to fight the Republican undercover sabotage of the West."

Mr. Truman declared that "we of the Democratic Party are eager for that fight."

"We are firmly determined to leave after us a land that is better than we found it."

While he laid special emphasis on hydro-electric power and other water development projects of the West, the President again attacked the Republicans on housing and price control issues.

He repeated his previous complaint that Senator Taft (R-Ohio) voted against a housing bill, "with his own name on it." He referred to the Taft-Kilender-Wagner Bill.

The Republicans, he continued, killed the bill because "they wanted to leave housing under the control of profiteering big business."

"There is a lot of money to be made out of providing housing for the people—if private interests are allowed to exact exorbitant profits from the people."

Enroute West With Dewey, Sept. 20—(AP)—An invitation to Latin-American countries to join as "full partners" in halting the march of Communism came today from Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

As the Republican presidential nominee pushed westward toward a major campaign speech in Des Moines tonight, he bore down on a "peace and freedom" theme.

His campaign train, dubbed the "Dewey Victory Special," paused in the Englewood Railroad Yards in Chicago to receive a delegation of Latin-American representatives from the Inter-American Council of Commerce and Production meeting in Chicago.

Dewey read to the group of a dozen a formal statement expressing "my sincere hope that in the years to come we shall progress side by side not simply as good neighbors but as full partners."

He noted that the American republics now are joined together not only in the pact of Rio de Janeiro to present our united strength against aggression, but also in the declaration made at Bogota condemning the aims and methods of international communism.

COLLECTIVIZATION PUSHED KATOWICE, Poland—(AP)—The productive capacity of Poland's millions of peasants soon may be absorbed in a sweeping collectivization scheme. Leaders of the Communist Workers' Party, which wields the top power in this country, are demanding that all peasant farm production be "socialized."

The first big step in that direction is under way in Upper Silesia. Members of the Peasants' Self-Help Union approved "liquidating and radicalizing the peasant masses in joint work for the cooperative movement."

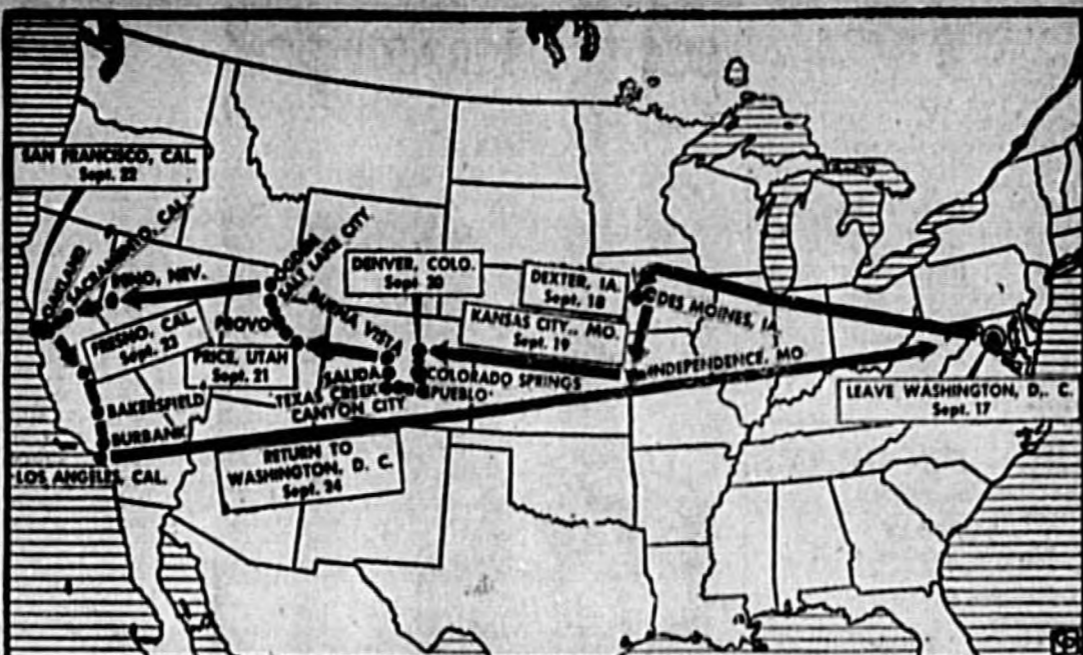

Eight "mutual help villages" are operating and 40 more are planned. In one district, the sponsors of collective effort has increased the efficiency of farms and the harvests have built several miles of highway and rebuilt their houses.

Communist leaders say socialization is the only way to raise living standards of the average farmer and prevent him from being exploited by the peasant who is usually better off.

They must success the plan and have to still anyone's guess. It's the secret of the success of Poland's collectivization plan. They are extremely touchy about suggestion that means collectivization. In the past when government tried to make the peasants pay taxes in foodstuffs, they peasants started hoarding.

Communist leaders say the peasants must be collectivized and will see in the future.

A dessert all teen-agers welcome at a party is a sundae made of coffee ice cream, marshmallow sauce and licorice almonds. Or serve vanilla ice cream with nuts, and licorice.

HERE ARE THE MAIN STOPPING PLACES and speaking dates of President Truman's western tour, opening at a national plowing contest at Dexter, Ia., Sept. 18. Many platform stops are also planned. (Central Press)

Buying Controls

downpayment is over $1,000, it must be paid off in 18 months, with $70 minimum monthly installment. If less, it must be paid in 15 months.

Other articles now under the controls are: Cook stoves, dishwashers, ironers, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, washing machines, or any combination of these appliances; air conditioning, radios, television sets, phonographs, sewing machines, furniture and rugs.

Credit terms on clothing and other items still are whatever the buyer and seller agree upon.

Downpayments will be stiffer for used cars selling at premiums over the "average retail value" given in price appraisal guides.

If a buyer pays $3,400 for a car listed as $1,800 worth, the down payment will be $1,200—one third of the guide value or $600 plus the entire premium of $600.

The 1949 model used cars have a temporary exemption. Terms for them will be figured strictly on their selling price—until the guides catch up with their "average retail value."

Convicted violators of the credit controls can be fined as much as $10,000 or given jail terms as high as ten years.

MENU

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

Broilers and fryers cooked to a crisp, golden succulence, are a perfect dish for warm days—both from the point of view of the eater and the cook. They're simple to prepare without heating up the kitchen.

A young plump chicken that weighs no more than 2 1/2 pounds is usually classed as a "broiler," for broiling demands a very young bird. In purchasing broilers have your butcher mark the backbone—with the neck attached—then split or quarter the chicken, remove wing tips and break major joints by snapping the cartilage in each. This will make the broiler easier to cook and to eat. The backbone, neck, wing tips and giblets make wonderful stock when cooked in water to cover with the addition of a small carrot, onion, celery leaves, salt, a few peppercorns and a clove or two.

Wash and dry the chicken pieces before broiling. A pastry brush is handy for brushing them with melted butter or margarine before putting them, skin-side down, on the broiler pan (without the rack); or use a shallow pan if desired. You can, of course, use the broiling rack on which to place the chicken, but find it easier to broil the chicken without it. Place the broiler so that the top of the chicken will be about four inches from the source of the heat. Then regulate the heat, or change the position of the rack, so that the chicken just begins to color lightly in spots at the end of 10 to 12 minutes. Turn the pieces and baste with a little additional melted fat about every 10 minutes, as they brown. Cook until tender and evenly browned, about 30 to 45 minutes, according to size. Season both sides with salt and pepper and serve.

Although this standard method suggests seasoning chicken after broiling, I sometimes like to mix salt, pepper, paprika, dry mustard, garlic or onion salt, and freshly ground pepper with the melted fat and brush the chicken well with this mixture before broiling.

Make life easier for yourself and serve the broilers picnic fashion with paper napkins—and no plates, fork or knives.

Fryers are usually considered to be chickens weighing about 3 1/2 pounds. Birds of any size may be fried, of course. The chicken should be disjointed and cut up to give about 11 pieces, 2 drumsticks, 2 wing joints, 2 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 pieces of back and the neck. Leave the skin intact since this makes a difference in frying.

Yams are a natural with broiled or fried chicken. They're one of the best of the canned products, I think, and packed this way they're especially appealing in summer when you don't feel like cooking. You can fry the yams in the same oil in which the chicken was cooked to a delectable brown.

A dessert all teen-agers welcome at a party is a sundae made of coffee ice cream, marshmallow sauce and licorice almonds. Or serve vanilla ice cream with nuts, and licorice.

Count Bernadotte, the mediator, advised that the United Nations should be prepared to step in and end the Palestine war if the Arabs and Jews fail to make peace.

"Israel exists in the Holy Land," he wrote and the future of Arab Palestine should be left to the Arab states. "In full consultation with Arab inhabitants" of the Holy Land.

Bernadotte's body arrived at Geneva by plane today. It will be flown to Paris tomorrow and simple services will be held before the body continues to Stockholm.

Western Power negotiators from Moscow and Berlin also are heading for Paris tonight, and there is every indication the German problem will engage the ever-increasing attention of the Western leaders despite the U.N. meeting.

Some even felt the whole German and Berlin question might be tossed to the United Nations for settlement before too long a time passes.

The 58-nation assembly, its opening meeting only hours away, had plenty of other touchy problems to engage its attention. The simmering Palestine situation bubbled up again.

Heiress Refuses To Answer Questions In House Commie Probe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Bransten Berman refused today to answer House un-American Activities Committee questions regarding its investigation of atomic espionage.

She declined on the constitutional grounds that replies might incriminate her, Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) told reporters after he and Rep. Hebert (D-La) had questioned the slender, attractive heiress more than an hour and a half.

The subpoena calling her before the committee was extended indefinitely and she was forbidden to leave the country, McDowell said.

Mrs. Berman, now living in New York, identified herself to the committee as a housewife, but refused to tell her husband's business or income, he added.

Mrs. Berman herself gave reporters copies of a statement she said she had read to the committee. It said, in part:

"I have never engaged in any wrongful activity, and the attempt to create the impression that I have done so is in itself an infamous act. I deeply resent the slanders about me in the press, based on releases by the Thomas (Un-American Activities) Committee. I feel that the purpose of the committee and of this hearing is to do me harm."

Mrs. Berman added she comes from a family of California pioneers, and "have been fortunate in having considerable financial means which have given me a heightened sense of social responsibility."

"If I had spent my money on yachts and jewels," she continued, "I am sure that neither the newspapers nor the House Committee on Un-American Activities would have fault to find. However, I have used my money to help people to help themselves and to help them secure a decent living."

She explained to reporters that the subpoena issued to her was under the names of Miss Louise Bransten and Mrs. Louise Berman. She said she preferred to be known as Mrs. Berman.

It was the first time she had appeared before the committee, which mentioned several times that it believes she has information regarding operations of Soviet agents in California during the war.

Gators Are Planning Defense Against 'T' Formation Of Rebels

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 20 (AP)—The University of Florida Gators will spend practically all of their time this week setting up a defense to stop the blazing speed of a Mississippi backfield which is trying to make Rebel supporters forget that passing Charlie Conery is no longer around.

The Gators get first crack at Mississippi, defending South-eastern Conference champions, here Saturday night, when the 6:30 o'clock kickoff ushers in a new season.

The second in importance to schedule defensive work will be the drive to have every player in top physical condition for the opener. First string halfback Hal Griffin and Charlie Hunsinger missed last Saturday's practice game to be sure they will be in top form for the opener.

The third and final week of rough work ended Saturday without any serious injuries on the squad.

Today's main practice course will be a defensive dummy scrimmage against a freshman team schooled to run the anticlinal Mississippi T-formation, a departure from the Notre Dame the Rebels ran last year in gaining a 14-5 decision.

Smoothest T-formation quarter backing observed so far this fall was done by the Baltimore Colts' Y. A. Title, but you'd look for a deceptive performance from a guy who managed to keep even his first name secret until he was a college senior. Filling in a college questionnaire, Bruno Rawl, Indiana tackle, listed his aspiration as becoming a math teacher. "In other words," he added, "I want to get into the numbers racket."

Clean up a little butter or margarine, add a dash of salt, sugar and finely grated onion. Spread this mixture on tomato halves and broil.

Mrs. Berman, a slender blonde wearing a gabardine suit and velvet hat, had declined to talk to newsmen before she entered the closed session with McDowell and Hebert.

MIAMI, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A fire of undetermined origin today gutted the Club Ball on Biscayne Boulevard leaving a loss estimated by Fire Chief Henry R. Chase at over $100,000.

Whipped by a driving wind and gusts up to 45 miles an hour, the blaze raged out of control for nearly an hour.

Harvey Bell, club owner said the loss was covered by insurance.

Chief Chase described the fire as the worst to fight since Byron's Red Cross department store here was gutted in 1945.

Advertising Is Need Of State, Warren Claims

Governor-Nominee Says He Has Plan To Cure Florida's Many Citrus Ills

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 21.—(AP)—"Florida is in need of unlimited advertising," Fuller Warren said today.

"In the minds of many people, particularly those out west, Florida is some far away hazy place, about as well known to some people as Pago Pago," he declared.

The Democratic governor-nominee returned last night from a visit to California where he sought a remedy for Florida's citrus ills.

"There is an unlimited field to advertising the state," he declared in an interview. "We ought to be getting better results with what we are spending on state advertising."

Warren is warning chiefly at Florida's long time habit of shipping premature or green fruit into the northern markets. He said that he would have a program for citrus betterment to submit to the Legislature, but that before he formulated his plans two things would happen:

He would hold a series of meetings with citrus people and other business men and individuals at four strategic locations in the citrus belt, to get more ideas.

He hoped the citrus industry would do something of its own accord toward better cooperation in the matter of citrus shipments and marketing.

"I believe that if California can get premium prices for its shrank oranges, Florida by proper cooperation and marketing, should be able to run rings around it."

Labor To Present Problem To State Farmer During 1948

ORLANDO, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The type of labor available, and its cost to the grower, was listed today by Monte Gray, manager of the Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association, as being the most serious problem of the Florida vegetable grower in 1948-49.

Gray said that the tightening of the labor situation, nationally, would have its effect on Florida labor supply for 1948-49 to be no greater than last year, based on surveys of the state and U.S. employment services, which have been analyzed by FFVA. However, he continued, this could result in a drastic shortage of labor during the season because weather disasters materially cut production last year and averted serious deficiencies.

"In spite of the increased use of mechanized farm equipment, the number of field workers required in Florida commercial crop production is as great or greater than during the war years," Gray reports. "Vegetable acreage has remained high, and citrus production increases at the rate of over 10% annually. Many farm migrants continue to work only two or three days per week, because relatively high wages provide their week's needs. Without the aid of supplementary emergency labor from the Bahamas, it would not have been possible to produce a vegetable crop efficiently last year, nor will it be possible to do so this year."

Gray said that FFVA is now working closely with state and federal employment service officials to attempt to develop an orderly migration of domestic farm workers to the state, so that there will be sufficient help to produce (Continued on Page 21)

British Jet Spy Probers Have Dope On War Espionage

Activities Of Three Persons Is Enough To Warrant Prosecution, Says McDowell

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said today he believes the House Un-American Activities Committee has sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution of three persons for wartime espionage.

McDowell did not name the three persons. He is acting chairman of a subcommittee which has been investigating alleged spy activities aimed at obtaining atomic energy secrets for a foreign nation.

He said that when a report is made to the full committee he will recommend that the information concerning the three persons be turned over to the Justice Department for presentation to a federal grand jury.

The committee has been questioning a large number of witnesses behind closed doors because of the necessary secrecy concerning their testimony on atomic energy.

The questioning has been aimed at obtaining information and does not mean that those called before the group have been suspected of alleged espionage, the committee has made clear.

Questioned by the committee today were: Dr. Joseph W. Weinberg, a wartime atomic research scientist; and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Massing of New York City. Mr. McDowell said Dr. Massing is a socialist and a member of the Russian (Continued on Page 21)

Gunmen Rob Bank Of $50,000 In North Carolina

Five Negroes, One White Man Are Said To Have Done Work

COLUMBIA, N. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The east Carolina bank in the coastal town was robbed today of approximately $50,000 by six or seven men who fled in a high-powered automobile. Nobody was hurt.

The bandits held up five bank employees and three customers with pistols shortly before noon and fled in a car bearing Virginia license plates.

The employees said the robbers were five negroes and "a yellow skinned white man who may have been white." The Federal Bureau of Investigation said in Charlotte, however, that it was told there were six negroes and a white man. The escape car was abandoned nine miles from Crewell.

The FBI said it believed the robbers then took another car, but there were local reports that they fled into a wood.

Scores of highway patrolmen, with two-way radio, a helicopter from the Elizabeth City Air Station, the FBI and local officers joined in the search that extended over a wide area in a short time.

Columbia is a town of approximately 2,000 population. It is about 20 miles across Albemarle Sound from Elizabeth City, and 70 miles from Virginia Beach, Va.

It was at Virginia Beach that gunmen held up a private party last Sunday at dawn and escaped with a loot estimated by Police (Continued on Page 21)

State Pension Fund Shows Large Increase

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The reserve fund for paying pensions to retired Florida State and county employes has grown to $3,764,000 in the two years since it was established.

Comptroller C. M. Gay reported today there is $2,495,530 available for pensioning nearly 9,000 retiring state employes when they become eligible for retirement. A total of $1,268,470 is in a separate fund for about 5,000 county employes.

Nearly all the money in both funds is invested in U.S. government bonds.

Last month, 66 retired county workers and officials drew pensions totaling $4,433. Individual payments ranged from $13 to $250. In the same period, 78 former state workers received $3,265 in checks ranging from $13 to $320.

Auction Query

County Agent C. R. Dawson and his assistants have been busy this week handling out mimeographed questionnaires to growers in order to determine if they will raise fruits and vegetables for auction, being at the Sanford State Farmers Market.

The growers are also requested to specify how many units in hazelnut or cranberry that they are able to supply. A list of 34 fruits and vegetables that may be raised is included for estimating units to be supplied.

Bernadotte's Report On Palestine Problem Is Supported By U. S.

Navy Discloses Plan For Turning Jacksonville Area Into Major Base

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Navy today disclosed plans for turning the area into a major fleet base for the nation's largest carrier.

The shifting of strategic importance from the Pacific to the Atlantic has made imperative the establishment of such a base, Vice Admiral John D. Price, deputy chief of Naval operations for air, said.

Price said in an address prepared for a Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the Navy expects to get up two carrier air groups—about 135 planes each—here by December.

Under a vast expansion plan already approved by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Price said, these carrier forces later would be doubled, with landing facilities for two carriers of the giant Midway class.

In addition to the projected new Navy base, some 100-odd existing air and naval facilities, including hangars, shops, mess halls, and overhead facilities.

Congress will be asked to approve extra funds for the expansion, Price said.

More than 12,000 civilian and military personnel will be employed on the completed base, with an annual payroll of about $39,000,000, he said.

Price did not amplify his remarks about the shift of "strategic importance from the Pacific to the Atlantic."

During World War II German submarines struck heavily along the Florida East Coast sea lanes crowded with oil tankers. This danger has been reduced, but it is in line with current indications of increased stress on anti-submarine operations by the fleet.

Thousands of Naval fliers were trained here during the war, Price said. The present training operation will be lifted. It is generally understood they will be moved to Corpus Christi, Texas.

Grower Declines To Testify At Citrus Committee Hearing

LAKELAND, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A prominent Florida citrus man declined today to testify at a Senate subcommittee hearing because he believed such meetings were "wasteful."

Maxey, president of growers and grower, informed Senator Claude Pepper in a telegram he said "further ballooning of the citrus industry's problems is being done."

Pepper is sitting in as a one-man committee studying the Florida citrus industry.

Maxey, who later appeared at the hearing but did not testify, referred to Mr. Maxey and the "basket non-political hearing."

He referred to T. J. Mason of St. Petersburg, chairman of the citrus committee of the Florida Bankers' Association which has conducted a survey of the citrus business and came up with some widespread recommendations.

Maxey said such Congressional hearings were repetitious and wasteful of taxpayer money.

Pepper said he regretted Maxey's stand and explained the Maxey's hearing was not "official" but "this is an official" gathering.

He added that George Wares of Leesburg who wrote the bankers committee report testified at the Orlando session of the Senate hearing.

Pepper also explained the only expense involved in the meetings (Continued on Page 21)

Orphans' New Mother Dies Before Adoption

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—An early-haired orphan stepped off the big plane from Europe and blinked hard when they heard the news.

A representative of the United Service for New Americans told the little boy and girl this at International Airport yesterday.

Their "new" mother, Mrs. Irving Rothchild of Springfield, Mass. had died and her husband had decided he could not go through with their adoption.

Marion R. said sadly they had been "looking forward to living here." Their parents were killed in a concentration camp and they had been living with a family in Brussels, Belgium.

Then, hand-in-hand, they went off to a temporary home while the agency hunted for another mother.

TRUMAN CHANCES BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 1.—(AP)—President Truman's chances of getting on the November ballot in Louisiana—possibly through special legislative action—figure about nine to one in Congressman Otto Passman's book right now.

Passman revealed his odds yesterday as he and Rep. Henry Ladd met in Governor Earl K. Long's outer office waiting to see the chief executive. He did not change them after talking to the Governor.

Believe It Or Not the famous cartoon feature by Ripley, came out last week picturing Mrs. O.J. Pope of Sanford removing a cooked turkey from her front porch refrigerator after the terrible storm crash last Jan. 17 that wrecked and burned her home and resulted in the loss of life of the three children.

The cartoon is "Pope's Food." The cartoon is set into a house, set in the foreground a turkey in the refrigerator.

"Mr. Pope's turkey, county home, is ready to eat this morning," and by the impact of the low flying plane as it crashed through the wall, the door was torn off, the turkey given a painful look and set there on the refrigerator shelf exposed to the view of swarms of curious onlookers.
