"In five years," the speaker denut when the World War began, on business friends.

The railroads are now using 50,-000,000 barrels a year as locomotive fuel. Shortly the tide will turn. Perhaps within ten or fifteen years, possibly in much less time, the supply of oil in our country will be totally insufficient to meet the demand.

"It is equally futile ea to bin her hopes to waterpowour industrial plants are now using 60,000,000 horsepower, and at the present rate of increase they will need 100,000,000 horsepower in a dozen years. The most rapid development of waterpower which public policy will permit cannot gave enough coal to even keen up with the increasing demand.

"We must rely on coal," he stated "and this despite the fact that by the year 1940 we shall in the United States be burning as much coal each year as is now consumed by the entire population of the earth. Furthermore, there is no tangible hope of lower coal prices. and it is practically certain that the cost will gradually increase

According to Mr. Forward, the solution to the fuel problem lies in the economical use of coal in the manufacture of gas and such flexibility in gas rates and gas heating standards as will enable the gas companies of the country to give the greatest service in heat for the least money.

Instead of uniform gas heating standards, the needs of the future will require flexibility so as to permit the individual gas company to manufacturer and deliver to its customers gas of such ther-mal content as will make for the greatest amount of conservation.

Mirrors Strange Things To Tribes South Sea Islands

BERKLEY, Cal., Nov. 14 .- Dr. William B. Herms, professor of parasitology at the University of California, returned recently from group of islands who were shown their first mirrors when his party arrived. When photographs of them were taken. he explained they often failed to recognize themselves. Their own countenances apparently were strange to them. He found these natives fond of adornment and very primitive in their habits. They were friendly. Dr. Herms said there was evidence that the islands had been occupied in ancient times by Polynesians. There were indications. too, that strains of the Malay and the American Indian apparently had been contributed to the native race. He saw no point of contact with the African negroes how

When You Die

You faraily may be inexperienced in the handling of money and the conduct of business. It is no reflection on them if they haven't the ability to care successfully for the property you leave and which you were years in acquiring.

We will gladly explain to you how you can provide safeguards along this direction. Come in at your first convenience.

Reroof this time for all time

Genasco Latite Shingles are not only weathersafe, fire-safe and economical in cost, but they last for years with little or no cost for repairs.

That's because they are made of tough, longfibred felt sandwiched between thick layers of Trinidad Lake Asphalt Cement-a product of the agea.

Equally important-you can lay them right over your old worn-out wooden shingles just as easily as over new boards. No sipping off of the old roofno taking risks of damage by sudden storm.

Genasco Latite Shingles are locked tightly together clamped firmly to your roof. No curlingno flapping in the wind.

Made in three patural, unfading colors regreen and blue-black. Come in and let us chow these wonderful shingles.
