MARTIAL LAW THREAT HANGS OVER GERMANY

Drastic Emergency Decree Is Signed By Hindenburg Hitting At Red Opposition

BYREIN, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—The Damoclean sword of threatened martial law hung today over the heads of Adolf Hitler and other opposition forces in Germany. Dr. Heinrich Brüning, scholar chancellor, delivered a warning in a radio address which followed the signing by President Von Hindenburg of a new drastic emergency decree which slashed wages and prices of rents in the nation today.

The communist newspaper, Rote Fahne—Red Flag—looked up the chancellor's challenge, branded him as dictator and appealed to the masses to call a general strike Dec. 15, in protest against the dictatorship and wage cuts. The decree, among other things, forbids all political meetings and outdoor demonstrations until Jan. 2 and threatens all who defame public officials with three months' imprisonment.

Germany will do everything possible to remain on the gold standard, Carl Malcher, German representative on the World Bank advisory committee, assured his fellow-committee members yesterday afternoon.

Malcher informed the banking experts investigating Germany's capacity to pay reparations that the German people were horrified at the thought of abandoning the gold standard.

The German people are protesting against the idea of short-term credits in the reparations discussions. Whether these commercial credits are to take precedence over reparations is expected to be a question that will cause much argument.

Malcher presented the committee with its first detailed report on Germany's economic position.

He said the official short-term foreign debt to $1,200,000,000 marks (approximately $3,600,000,000) which is 4,000,000,000 marks more than was estimated last August in the report of the World Bank committee headed by Albert H. Wiggin, American banker.

Malcher said that despite a foreign trade surplus average surplus of $50,000,000 marks, the gold coverage of the reparation bank had fallen from 80 to 12 percent, exclusive of bank holdings of foreign exchange.

He said German exporters had been obliged to give increasingly (Continued on Page Six)

CARY A. HARDEE ENTERS RACE FOR STATE GOVERNOR

Promises That Treasury Will Be Freed Of Debt, If Elected

Cary A. Hardee, governor of Florida from 1921 to 1924, while the gas tax was three cents, came out yesterday with formal announcement of his candidacy for governor in the primary next year, in which the present seven-cent tax will be one political issue of contention.

Hardee said that when he returned to the state government he turned over to his successor John W. Martin, his chief opponent in the forthcoming fight for the "oil-and-tobacco" tax, and a tax on the income to the credit of every fund.

"What we did then we can do again and I promise it shall be done," Hardee said in his statement, released from his home at Live Oak.

The former governor said he was not the candidate of any faction, laid down a sweeping program for a liquidation of every unnecessary expense, and declared extravagance not only is harmful to taxpayers but produces no beneficial results. He urged an end of the reckless creation of money-spending agencies, the cutting down of funds, insisting that every dollar be made to do its full duty. He said the expense of the state increased from $16,000,000 in 1924 to $44,000,000 (Continued on Page Five)

OVIEDO SEEKS BAN UPON ALL FISH SEINING

Petition Given Trade Body Last Evening Aimed To Protect County Game Fish

One hundred and fifty-two citizens of Oviedo last night called upon the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, through its Board of Governors to use its influence with the State Game and Fish Commissioners to have all seining from the lakes and rivers in this county stopped at once.

A petition was presented by L. P. Mills, C. L. West and others from the Oviedo section, in which it is charged that "this outrage of seining is an injustice to our citizens who pay a license for protection in fishing," but whose enjoyment of fishing is rapidly being diminished because of the rapid depletion of fish in most of the lakes and rivers.

Following a long discussion of the matter the board decided that it will assist the people of that section in seeing that the present laws against seining in Lake Jessup are enforced, and it will call upon the State Game and Fish Department persistently to see that this work is done.

Twenty-nine members of the board were present at what Harry M. Papworth, president of the trade body, today asserted as being the most interesting he had ever attended. Reports from various sections of the county.

A.C.L. Employees Are Aiding Safety Drive

Mr. Dumas said that during the past two days conductors, firemen, engineers, trainmen and agents have visited a total of 21 schools and addressed 4,063 pupils, teachers and visitors in this territory upon the subject of safety. When a talk was made, he added, literature bearing upon safe motoring was distributed and the students were impressed with the fearful loss of life due to accidental deaths and the great suffering due to non-fatal injuries.

"Our employees who voluntarily took charge of this humanitarian work have been congratulated upon their deep interest in the safety movement, and we hope for good results," he concluded.

Extensive Plans Are Being Made For Golf Tourney; Many Stars Will Compete

Looking as the premier golfing event of the Central Florida season is the Seminole Amateur Invitation Tournament to be played over the beautiful Sanford Country Club golf course on Dec. 27, 28, and 29.

Jack Toomer, Jacksonville, present amateur champion of Florida, and Carl Dunn, Jr., Orlando, holder of many state and southern amateur titles, will head a long list of amateur golfers recruited from every section of Florida and the Southwest.

Invitations sent to every golf club and outstanding amateur golfer within a radius of 150 miles last week, are today being returned with letters of acceptance, and sponsors of the event are optimistic that one of the largest fields ever competing here will be on hand.

Although prominent golfers will be the rule, sponsors of the affair declared today the list is open to any amateur golfer, and valuable trophies and prizes will be awarded in all the flights. Sanford golfers are particularly appealed to as entrants, so that visiting golfers will carry away an impressive reflecting credit upon Sanford and its active membership.

Among Sanford golfers who have already signified an intention of being in the tourney are: Howard Fawcett, J. E. Masters, Lawrence Lundquist, John Ludwig, John Herber, Bob Art, Henry Watson, G. W. Spencer, Jim Spencer, Dick Kenney, Bill Ludwig, and E. F. Hutchinson.

Teams from Stetson and Rollins colleges will be represented with a possibility that the former University of Florida golfing star, Billy Dackwall, will compete. Rollins and Stetson College boys and girls teams are holders of privileges allowing them the use of the course and club house at any time, free of charge. Qualifying rounds may be played either on Saturday, Dec. 26, or Sunday, Dec. 27.

GRID BANQUET IS HELD FOR TEAM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Awarding Of Letters, Election Of Captain Are Feature Events

Football as a builder of character and in maintaining high scholastic standards has an able defender in Coach Leonard L. McLucas, who, speaking before nearly 100 persons at the annual combined H-V club banquet at the high school last night, said that the most important thing about the entire season is that the players are having a fun. "My 35 players have made an average of 83 in their studies, a mark which is only two points less than the average made by the entire student body," he said.

Coach McLucas expressed himself as well pleased with the result of the hardest season the school has ever attempted, and said that he expected another fine record next year although the schedule will be still harder and more of the material is necessarily added to the program.

"I want to again congratulate these players who came out to practice day after day since early in September although they played in but few games, and I want to again say that I am appreciative of the effort each player has made in making the season a success," he said.

The Farm Situation

Two facts were brought out in Secretary of Agriculture Hyde's report to President Hoover yesterday which indicate the necessity for a readjustment on the part of the people of this country to constantly changing conditions.

At the same time intensive cultivation has so increased agricultural production that surpluses already exist in almost every department. The difficulty of handling surpluses is becoming increasingly apparent with the increasing cultivation of European soil, and the financial inability of those countries to buy from us, and the consequent decline in our export trade.

Time was when natural expansion of population absorbed, or more than absorbed, natural increases in agricultural production. Surpluses, whenever they existed, found a ready disposition in European markets.

The Secretary announces his opposition to the export debenture and the equalization fee in the following words: "No device can be a remedy which tends to increase exportable surpluses. Actually, to reduce these surpluses, it is the only logical course. They cannot be forced into unwilling markets."

However, he continues, "American agriculture must adjust itself to a declining export trade. As things stand, this need will persist, no matter how favorably matters develop in Europe, because our production is over-expanded in relation to Europe's wants."

But in reducing farm production, Secretary Hyde opposed compulsory laws to bring it about as designed by some Southern legislatures. He urged the need for curtailing acreage and livestock breeding by voluntary concerted action.

CARRYING THE UNMISTAKABLE mark of the genius of Karl Lehman, the booklet of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce conveys to the outside world significant facts regarding that unusual county.

A BLOW TO DISARMAMENT

As the Council of the League of Nations, meeting for the third time with the League Council, appears to approach something near a decision in the appointment of an international commission to investigate the Far East situation, it will be in the best of what we can expect to see.

A SOBERED HITLERISM

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

American and British correspondents, emphasizing as it does the increasing power and self-confidence of the German Nazis, is another signpost on the road which we are all traveling.

The "freezing" agreement which protects the German short-term debt is to expire in February. By February the "honeymoon" period of the British National government will be over and British fiscal and foreign policy will have to be taking shape.

Thus, between February 1 and July (when the Hoover moralism expires) the uncertainties of the devaluation, the uncertainties which have unquestionably been introduced into the whole situation by the agitation of the problems grouped around disarmament, and the un-power pact, the covenant's Article XI has been revealed as insufficient to achieve an armistice in less than two months.

On the record, the League has failed to apply all the preventive machinery in its possession in the face of open warfare. In addition, it has open its strongest weapon, the October session, which set the time limit for Japanese evacuation, flagrantly disregarded.

It is difficult to imagine a nationally elected League pinning faith for arms reduction in the near future either on the covenant or the Kellogg treaty.

At for the nine-power pact signed in Washington under the United States initiative, these nations, which include Britain, France and Japan all pledged themselves to preserve China's administrative integrity.

SON, MORGAN END PROBLEM AT FLORIDA IS NOT WORRYING COACH

Players Occupy Pivotal Points In Every Proposition

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—The best known hitters in baseball, Eddie Morgan, of the Indians, and Hank Williams of the Cubs, blocked the measure that deals with the players occupying pivotal points in virtually every proposition.

It is tough to see those boys move on," Stanley said today in speaking of the Hall-Parnell combination. "For Ed and Joe were among the best of the year in the South, but still, things could be much worse."

Stanley believes that "Blimp" Goodyear and Ernie Schirmer are slated for big things next season. Both are right ends, to follow along in Joe Hall's footsteps. And then at left end, there is Spurgeon "Wild" Cherry and Ed Williamson, whose brother J. D., plays guard.

The entire Company D team showed great improvement in the field, accepting all chances with very few bobbles, and playing jam up ball at all times. Moyer was the heavy hitter for Company D, getting three out of four times up. Kelly for the losers also got three hits out of four trips to the plate.

Coach McLucas announced the letter men and also the vote of the players regarding the captain. Fulton Hester, senior halfback, was the choice of players as honorary captain, while Johnnie Courier, junior quarterback was chosen alternate captain.

Peter Schaal, sports editor of The Sanford Herald, made the presentation of the trophy, which was preceded by a short talk in which he reviewed the season and detailed many of the records of the team and players. He declared the present season a distinct success despite the fact that not all games were won, stating that more good football players, students, and sportsmen had been developed than ever before.

Mr. Schaal explained that the trophy, an annual award since 1928, is presented to the player who in the opinion of 13 judges, has lived up to the following points, which are also used in awarding letters: 1. Has a consistently high scholastic average; 2. observes all training rules; 3. has a valid excuse for failure to appear at a practice session; 4. has played in one half the quarters played during the year; 5. has a record of clean sportsmanship on and off the field of play. The award is made in the hope of developing primarily boys who will later be model citizens and above all, sportsmen.

Hendrix Lyles, senior halfback of the team, was the choice of eight of the 13 judges as the most valuable man on the team. His season record reveals that besides being the one player who lived up to all of the requirements to a high degree, he made 403 of the 1880 yards his team gained from scrimmage during the 11 games; had an average of 44 yards on 55 punts made; made seven touchdowns, four more than any other player; threw 14 of the 36 successful passes; and made 17 of the 106 free kick field goals made.

Worthy Successors Of Parnell And Hall Believed Available

By FRANK B. WRIGHT. GAINESVILLE, Dec. 9.

Although the heaviest losses from Florida's 1931 football machine are two first string ends, Ed Parnell and Joe Hall, End Coach "Duck" Stanley does not contemplate many sleepless nights this winter.

Stanley believes that "Blimp" Goodyear and Ernie Schirmer are slated for big things next season. Both are right ends, to follow along in Joe Hall's footsteps. And then at left end, there is Spurgeon "Wild" Cherry and Ed Williamson, whose brother J. D., plays guard.

Stanley, who abandoned high school coaching this past fall to return to his Alma Mater, and who is said by many to be Florida's greatest all-time end, admires the progress which Schirmer and Goodyear made this past season. "Ernie is right there, and when he gets a bit niftier, I'll be ready to put him in the class with the best of 'em," Stanley expounded enthusiastically.

Company D Trims Pick-Up Team East Night On Diamond

By E. H. CHILLUM. The regular team team failed to show up Tuesday night for a game by on-seventh street, and the pick-up team from players on the ground, and was defeated by Company D team by the close score of 5 to 7.

Young Raymond Shaw was in the box for the losers and picked a good game, holding Company D to 10 hits, good-looking runs, errors behind him being responsible for half of the scores made by Company D team.

The entire Company D team showed great improvement in the field, accepting all chances with very few bobbles, and playing jam up ball at all times. Moyer was the heavy hitter for Company D, getting three out of four times up. Kelly for the losers also got three hits out of four trips to the plate.

Hoover's Message Is Praised, Scored By His Colleagues

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—President Hoover's message to Congress yesterday drew praise and condemnation with party lines usually marking the division point.

Anti-prohibitionists quickly called attention to the fact that Hoover omitted any reference whatever to national prohibition. Representative Black, Democrat of New York, commented that this is the first presidential message since prohibition that omitted praise of the dry law.

Senator Watson, Indiana, Republican, said: "It is a remarkably strong message. There is nothing that can arouse partisan anger in a discussion of the measures proposed."

Senator Walcott, of Connecticut, a Republican member of the banking committee, brought a draft of the bill to the Senate. Representative Strong, of Kansas, a Republican member of the House banking committee, introduced the measure in that branch.

Democrats in the House hastened to organize the important appropriations committee charged with fixing the funds for carrying on the government next year. Representative Byrnes, of Tennessee, the Democratic chairman, announced first consideration would be given to the request by Hoover for an additional $600,000,000 to meet the demands for loans on the soldier bonus insurance certificates.

Hoover upon the advice of the Republican leaders is leaving the sponsorship of the manifold legislative recommendations he submitted yesterday to the Republican minority in the House and the divided Republican majority in the Senate.

These bills will be coming along quickly and meanwhile the Democratic policy committee will assemble to pass its judgment on the presidential program and the one to be offered by their party.

The House vote liberalizing the rules was accepted as sure indication of a vote at this session on prohibition. A petition by a majority of the House—818—hitherto has been necessary to bring a bill to the floor. Wet leaders claim enough strength to file up more than the 140 members now required.

Other speakers during the evening were G. W. Spencer, head trainer for Coach Charles W. Schaal, and the University of Florida, who were unable to be present.
