

WOMAN'S CLUB

For Wednesday, Feb. 24th. The Literature Department of the Woman's Club extends to the members of the other departments a most cordial invitation to share the great privilege of hearing an informal talk by the Rev. Minot J. Savage, who is the guest of Mrs. George H. Fernald. Dr. Savage is well known through his long ministry at the Church of the Unity in Boston and later in the Church of the Messiah in New York. His splendid life message of hopefulness of the broader and clearer outlook has reached thousands through his many published books of sermons, story and poems.

Club Dance The regular monthly dance of the social department of the Woman's Club was held on Tuesday evening. Owing to the inclement weather only about twelve couples participated in the evening's pleasure, but rumor says it was one of the most enjoyable club dances of the season. During the intermission the hostesses for the evening, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin served coffee and wafers. The following were among the guests present: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Misses Saidee Williams, Anna McLaughlin, Adelaide Higgins, Clarissa Stirling, Charlotte Hand, Tifts; Messrs. Joe Chittenden, Billy Hand, Ernest Galloway, Charles Woodruff, Bowen, McClinstock, Billy Leffler and Dr. Fain.

The social department will entertain with a "Guess What" party on next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is hoped all the members will come and help make the afternoon an enjoyable one.

Real Economy. Economy also means that the father with a turkey wing income ought not to undertake to buy ostrich plumed hats for six daughters who regard washing dishes as drudgery and slinging the frying pan a disgrace.—Houston Post.

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS

New England Supper The ladies of the Congregational church will hold a New England supper on Saturday, February 27th, instead of on the 20th as formerly announced. The supper will be given in the Hynes building on West First street.

On account of the serious illness of Mrs. Terheun there will be no society events in this issue of The Herald. Mrs. Terheun expects to be all right tomorrow and will be found at her post as usual.

Union Depot for a Day It is told here on good authority that this play which is to be presented here on March 4th at the Imperial for the benefit of the Woman's Club building fund had a run of a week in Atlanta where it was presented by local talent. The scenes are so perfectly ridiculous, even without the costuming that it is difficult to rehearse for the laughter. The characters are all real people, but odd in many ways, such as we see every day, and the cast every one has entered into the spirit of the parts with such sympathy and enthusiasm as to guarantee a remarkable production. Groups 9 and 10 will rehearse at Mrs. Holly's and Wednesday and Friday nights of next week at club rooms. They include Mr. Holly, Miss Florence Frank, Mrs. Gonzales, Mrs. Younts, Miss Saidee Williams, Misses Gretchen and Olga Schults, Mrs. Holly, Miss Plant, Mrs. Geo. Fox, Mr. Roy Chittenden, George McLaughlin and Kenneth Murrell.

Monday and Thursday nights at 7 o'clock the following groups, 1-3 and 6 will rehearse. They include Misses Lucy Whitner and Ruth Kanner, Mr. and Mrs. Dingee, Miss E. McLaughlin, Mr. Elton Moughton, Misses Gretchen and Olga Schults, Mr. Lloyd, Miss Aspinwall, Miss Carrie Ensminger and M. Felix Frank and Mr. Carl Roumilat.

On Tuesday and Friday nights groups 4-5 and 7 including Mr. C. Mahoney, Misses Mary and Lucca Chappell, Misses Gretchen and Olga Schults, Dr. and Mrs. Butt, Dr. Fain, Mr. Ernest Householder, Miss Gladys Morris, Miss Fish, Norma

Herndon, Robert—Holly, F. Harvey Parrish and Florence Henry. The director, Mrs. J. W. Barnes urges these participants not to make engagements on their rehearsal nights, and to learn all their lines as soon as possible, and please not to take the "grip."

Mrs. Chas. S. Isler and petite Miss Isler have returned to their home in Fitzgerald, Ga., after a pleasant stay of some length with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Williams on Palmetto avenue.

Mrs. S. G. Kennedy and her sister, Mrs. J. R. Parrott of Kipston, N. C., visited Tampa and attended the Gasparilla celebration, returning Monday last.

Among the Methodists Next Sunday will be New Church Day with us and we have something special to offer you. Come and see. Regular church services at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m. Visitors most cordially invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Steinhilber, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Abernathy, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. W. P. Fields, Mrs. T. A. Newton, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. E. L. Marshall, Mrs. Daily and Dr. Bouchelle went over to Enterprise to attend the Lake Monroe Bible Conference yesterday and another party went over today. This Bible conference is a great spiritual help to everyone who attends and everybody should make a special effort to be at some of the services if not all.

Mrs. E. L. Marshall, chairman of the finance committee was instrumental in having Mr. Plummer demonstrate his aluminum ware to a large number of ladies Tuesday afternoon at Central Park. A ten per cent of the proceeds goes to the missionary society.

Dr. W. F. McMurry, secretary of Board of Extension of M. E. Church, South, from Louisville, Ky., was in Sanford on Monday, looking over our new church building and plans and stated that it was a plan adequate to meet the needs of a modern church and Sunday school.

TRENCH PAPERS IN BELGIUM

Washington.—The Belgian legation has received copies of "trench editions" of Belgian newspapers in which the main feature is columns of personal paragraphs addressed to soldiers in the Belgian army by regimental and company designations telling them of the whereabouts of their families. Many of these paragraphs conclude, "Send news." These "trench editions" are circulated in an effort to re-establish communication between the men at the front and their scattered families, many of whom are now in France, England or Holland. Besides the personal paragraphs the papers carry news of the war and lampoons against the enemy.

Theatrical "Green Room." The green room, which is now practically obsolete, flourished for many years. It was the room wherein the actors assembled to await their "call" to the stage, and it took the name from the green walls of the original apartment behind the scenes in Drury Lane theater set apart by David Garrick when he assumed the management of that historic house.

Lenten Season

Owing to the arrival of Lent, society is taking a rest and modestly retires behind closed doors to repent the follies and foibles of social functions, declaring that only will Easter and the dear delights of pretty gowns and renewed social activities recall them from their retirement.

Two very delightful affairs, however, are anticipated with keen pleasure, the Elks Minstrels, and "A Day in the Union Station," under the auspices of the finance committee of the Woman's Club.

Priscilla Club

The members of the Priscilla Club were delightfully entertained by Miss Wheeler at the home of Mrs. H. H. Chappell Thursday afternoon. The ladies enjoying Miss Wheeler's charming hospitality report one of the pleasantest afternoons of the whole season.

The Union Depot for a Day

A big cast and a splendid one will present this humorous play on Thursday, March 4th at the Imperial Theatre. Sanford's best talent is to be seen in this humorous but convulsing farce comedy, and whoever decides to "laugh and grow fat" cannot afford to miss it.

Group rehearsals are being held every night at the club rooms at 7 o'clock sharp. As outlined in Friday's paper, the groups rehearsing Monday night will rehearse again Thursday, those rehearsing Tuesday again Friday, and those coming Wednesday night again Saturday.

Announcement

The W. C. T. U. will hold its regular meeting Thursday at 3 o'clock at the Baptist church. All interested are specially urged to be present.

WOMAN'S CLUB

There is great interest at present in the drama and amateur theatrical plays in this city and a dramatic club for next season planned. The following from the Woman's Club Magazine about the Drama League of America is timely:

The drama always has been a sick art, and always there has been a determined effort to doctor it on the part of some element of society. Such effort has taken every conceivable form, from attacking individual productions to casting the shadow of religious and churchly disapproval over the theatre and all connected with it.

History of the League

For many years in Evanston, Ill., a group of women met informally to discuss drama; and in order to give weight to their opinion of what was best in modern plays, they went in a group to see the best productions. After some fifteen years this group was organized into the Drama Club of Evanston.

The Play Going Committee

The work of the League is divided into two sections, one practical and the other educational. The practical work is done in support of worthy plays, the rousing of interested and sincere enthusiasm, turning out and buying tickets and going to see the plays in person.

The motto of this committee is said to be "Boost without knocking." It is a fact that adverse criticisms are never printed. The idea is to enlarge the scope of the playhouse by organizing audiences for a better grade of plays, thus making it profitable for commercial managers to offer such plays.

The Educational Committee

The educational work is done along many lines. One committee sees that excellent dramas, both old and new are offered in all public libraries. Another encourages the development of dramatic societies in schools and colleges, and urges courses of study of drama. All over the country clubs are taking up the study of the stage. One of the most interesting developments in the work is that which has come in recognition of the child's need for dramatic expression. Since the commercial theatre does not often meet the child's needs there has been established a Junior Department. In Chicago last year work among children was carried on in eight public parks. Seventy or more performances were given, at which were present hundreds of keenly interested people.

Pageants, too, are reviving. Pageantry has been defined as "an extension of dramatic art to the ends of popular depression, rejoicing in that cooperation which is the foundation of all free, happy and enlightened art."

TREAT FOR SANFORD PEOPLE

Miss Bargelt, Cartoonist and Reader Coming March 3rd

The Lyceum Association has been very fortunate in securing Miss Evelyn Bargelt, cartoonist and reader for an evening's entertainment on March 3rd. The entertainment will be put on in the Baptist Temple.

The name of Evelyn Bargelt is already a household word in the northern and western Chautauqua circuits. It stands not only for talent of the highest order, but also for charm and simplicity, beauty of thought and expression, deftness of touch, skill in construction, sympathy and personal magnetism.

Remember she is to be in Sanford, our city, Wednesday evening, March 3rd at the Baptist Temple. Buy your tickets early.

Shrapnel a Flying Cannon.

The shrapnel is really a flying cannon, which shoots its charge while in flight or explodes on contact. Its speed is produced by the pressure of from thirty thousand to thirty-five thousand pounds a square inch from the powder that expels it from the gun.

FACTS AND FANCIES ABOUT CELERY

AN EXPERT GIVES SOME OPINIONS ABOUT THE CELERY CROT OF SANFORD

FROM NEW YORK PRODUCE NEWS

Sanford, Fla., Feb. 20.—Including shipments to this date the total celery moved so far this season covers 190 carloads, of which about 120 have gone from the Sanford and Monroe stations. In what is known as the Sanford section—this includes Monroe and other small territory—the acreage is figured at about 600—an acreage of nearly 100 over last year—but climatic conditions have been unfavorable and the average yield per acre has shown a falling off.

By the end of the coming week it is expected that celery shipments will have increased to 100 carloads a day, though a good deal is dependent on market conditions. Several of the car lot shippers are looking into market values closely and there seems a prospect that considerable stock will go out to the middle west.

From a source connected with Chase & Co. it was learned that a good deal of celery is being packed this year in a new section of the state near Zephyrhills and Hills City. It could not be learned, however, that shipments have been made on an extended scale. A quantity of stock has been moved into the Manatee district, and the quantities of the state together are estimated that the 1915 crop will be in excess of the 1,500 carloads shipped last season.

It is stated that under favorable growing conditions celery production can be made profitable at 80c crate f. o. b. Sanford. There have been instances where profits have been made at 70c, though this is unusual. The average grower, however, is in the hands of his shipper. This year, under crop and quality outlook, it is considered likely that an offer of $1 crate f. o. b. Sanford would find ready acceptance by the average grower.

There are individual shipping interests here who oppose plans looking to the formation of a celery growers' organization. Their objections are based upon the assumption that Sanford now has what might be called an established f. o. b. celery business in a competitive basis. There are interests closely allied with the growers who believe the formation of a celery growers' association is imperative.

to bring about organization, but so far without success. It is said on the authority of one of the factors in the movement that the chief obstacle has been want of confidence on the part of growers and opposition from the shipping interests.

A well known grower identified with W. G. Aldridge, who makes his headquarters at the St. Johns, said early in the week: "It is my firm conviction that the celery growers of this section are losing thousands of dollars every season because they are not organized. We and they are dependent upon the shippers for information as to market conditions and supply. If we had an organization with a competent market information bureau, and were indubitably touch by wire with the principal sources of outlet we could effect an immense saving and put our business on a plane where profits would show material increase. It seems impossible to wake up growers up to the point where they will agree to cooperate. The last unsuccessful attempt at organization fell through because the growers—80 per cent of the total acreage—declined to accept a man for general manager selected by one of the shipping companies. Under the present disorganized situation it not infrequently happens that a market in the north or west that can take care of two or three carloads of celery a day is overloaded with four or five carloads. With correct and frequent telegraphic information distributed through a general source we could prevent glut and expense of storage, and so save money for the growers. All we need is an operation from 80 per cent of the growing interests."

The Ruling Thought

"Can any girl be so good as my son why does he not marry a Jew and Gentile child who is so good?" So asked a mother of the embryo class in social studies with the members of which she hoped to work wonders. "Please, ma'am it would be better for business," volunteered a little Jewish girl in the front row.

BEAU EVENINGS.

Love bath every bliss in store. 'Tis friendship, and 'tis something more. Each other every wish they give. Not to know love is not to live.

What girl who has a young man calling regularly upon her, does not look forward with eager expectancy to "beau evenings," the coming of one who is growing a little nearer and dearer than a friend, but who has not, as yet, become an acknowledged lover.

engagement with Jack." It is as natural as for the moon to shine and the stars to give light that they should want to spend their hours by themselves on the porch steps, in a secluded nook in the park, or strolling arm in arm, or hand in hand along flower-bordered unfrequented paths.

Wedding Rings for Husbands. Let fate be her worst there are fellow of friends, dreams of the past which she can not destroy.

No man should constitute himself a girl's "regular beau" without considering the situation carefully. Even the most thoughtless should realize that he not only raises a girl's hopes, but by calling steadily on certain evenings of the week he may put her family to inconveniences oftentimes.

Beau evenings are often the bug-bear of the maiden's papa—that is, if the young man in the parlor delays his departure after 10:30 at latest.

FOOLISH MARRIED WOMEN.

The trouble with the majority of mismatched couples is that they do not begin married life right. It is to be supposed that most women marry for love; yet, mixed with that beautiful and tender sentiment is a longing to have homes of their own where they can do as they please, entertain whom they please and as often as they desire.

much that he likes and expects to sit down to. She has managed to save a plate of ice cream and a few lady fingers for him and a small dish of nuts, and wonders why he frowns and refuses to listen to her small talk about her fashionable guests.

I am obliged to say that the young husband who takes this stand is quite justified in so doing. He who toils for his bread in any walk of life necessarily endures more or less bodily fatigue. He has cares to sap his vital energy and strength, therefore, a good, substantial dinner is a necessity to him.

Sending out her "at home" cards has wrecked the peace of many a newly wedded couple. It is not right to feast friends at the expense of a husband's stomach, his comfort and welfare.

The married woman is as good as played-out. Those who run may read that she is out of the single ranks. They are so informed by the broad gold band, the wedding ring which she wears on her finger.

Why should the American husband do likewise? Why should the wife be the only one to exhibit the token of marital existence? If the husband refuses to wear such a ring, hasn't the wife a right to leave off hers if she likes, until he comes to his senses regarding the matter?

Style Features in Remodeling Gowns

SOME features in the present styles prove very useful to the woman inclined to practice economy in dressing. The liking for long tunics of chiffon (or other diaphanous materials) over underskirts of silk, and the vogue of long sleeves of chiffon over undersleeves of net or lace, make it easy to remodel an out-of-date gown of silk or satin. The overdrapery is of the same color, but not always of exactly the same shade, as the silk underdress.

for facing the underskirt, or chiffon, sleeves matching the dress in color, effectively change the appearance of the bodice. The introduction of many buttons, along with other military modes, will help out the economically inclined in making over or freshening up last year's gowns. A little party gown, somewhat like that shown in the picture, is made by covering a plain silk underskirt with chiffon or net ruffles. The bodice is covered with a drapery of the thin material, stirred at the shoulders, and the sleeves are long and shirred along the seams. There is a soft, crushed girde about the waist, fastened under a spray of the new and lovely sweet-pea blossoms, made of ribbon. These are in several light colors and make an exquisite corsage bouquet. They are the last word in ribbon flowers. There is much pleasure to be derived from a frock which has been successfully remodeled. It happens that the present fashion of combining two or more materials in the composition of a gown plays into the hands of the clever woman who intends to extend the service of those of her dresses that are a little worn or somewhat passe in style.

Outing and Sports Hats

If you are looking for an outing hat you may be sure that a sailor shape in one of the numerous varieties in which the sailor is made is to be found that will be becoming to you. It appears that about everything that has a brim of moderately regular width is classed under this name and it is really a matter of convenience to have it so. Outing hats are usually pressed shapes of straw or hemp which are bought ready for lining and trimming. They are trimmed with wings or feathers or novelties that will stand more or less of the wear and tear of daily use. For trimming them, durable wings, feather breasts, pompons, strong ribbons and ornaments, especially manufactured for them, are brought out each season. The hat for summer sports needs no trimming. The simplest of bands as a finish, or a flat bow at most, is appropriate for head-wear that fulfills its mission when it covers the head, stays on and shades the eyes. Two pretty examples of sports hats are shown in the illustration given here. One of them is of white corduroy and the other of white satin. They are comfortable and beautiful and their life is a short but very busy one, lasting about six weeks in the heart of the summer. The outing hat pictured is of white hemp trimmed with a long white wing springing from a feather base. Two jet pins are thrust through the wing and shape. There is a narrow band of white ottoman ribbon about the base of the crown. JULIA BOTTOMLEY. Little Girls' Summer Hats. Hats for little girls are quaint in shape and are adorned with clusters of small flowers, ribbon or lace. Frequently the underbrims are lined with chiffon or tulle.

SAW HIS OPPORTUNITY

FOUNDATION OF WILLIAM A. CLARK'S IMMENSE FORTUNE.

Multimillionaire Has Never Forgotten the Incident That Gave Him His First Boost Toward His Wonderful Success.

The power to foresee and predict the future, to take advantage of that foresight, and the ability to pile up millions out of an event that other men blindly pass by is a factor in the lives of many important men. Senator William A. Clark, the Montana copper king, can trace the foundation of his vast fortune to a single incident away back in the sixties. Like all big men, he does not disdain to recall the lucky moment when the winning card was played that placed him on the road to a gigantic fortune and prodigious success.

He was keeping a trading store in Salt Lake with flour at $1.50 for a 50-pound barrel, and ham at $1 a pound, when his lucky moment arrived. He had been teamster, trader, miner—anything and everything that seemed to hold a chance of success—and to all these different callings he had devoted arduous and incessant labor.

He had toiled for nine months with his back bent double over promising streams, often up to his knees in ice-cold water, to find himself with $1,500, all told, as the result of this heart-breaking labor. He had driven ox teams and mule teams in all sorts of weather across a wild country, with Indians a constant menace, and the chance of death by the roadside lurking in every clump of stunted fir. To open his trading store in Salt Lake he had driven an ox team 300 miles through a rough wilderness, bought goods and started in to be his own freighter. In one year the $1,500 had risen to $7,500.

Then the incident occurred which brought him luck. The citizens of Last Chance Gulch (now Helena) were threatened with a tobacco famine, since the steamer bearing the consignment had been sunk on the Missouri river, and no man but Clark had the foresight or courage to realize what it meant. Tobacco was the most precious freight that Last Chance Gulch could conceive. The news of the loss of the steamer sent them into a fury of rage, but no man thought of a plan for retrieving the situation. Lamentations and curses were the order of the day.

Clark saw all this and he saw, too, that it was his time to act. He harnessed his horse, and in the middle of winter with the thermometer 25 degrees below zero, started to ride the 250 miles that lay between Last Chance Gulch and Boise City. Hardly anyone who saw him start expected to see him return alive, but Clark knew his own vitality gained through early years of plowboy labor, and he was determined to see the thing through. On January 1 he drove into Helena with 2,000 pounds of tobacco on his wagon. It had cost him $3,000, but he sold it for $10,000, and found himself the most popular man in camp.

Has Made Valuable Discovery. By means of that invaluable little creature, the guinea pig Prof. Rutledge Rutherford, a physiologist of Chicago, has finally unearthed and identified a remarkable substance which he has named "trophogen" or "bitrophen," which means "to produce nourishment and life." His experiments began with guinea pigs, were confirmed afterward upon mice, chick ens, kittens and other animals and there is not the slightest doubt that his great discovery will lead at once to the rewriting of all our knowledge upon foods and nutrition.

Trophogen is an all-sustaining nutriment that is absolutely essential to life. It is widely distributed in every known food, and without it—that is, by trying to nourish yourself on supposed foods that do not contain it—leath quickly occurs. It occurs in albuminous—so-called protein—foods, and is the basis of all animal tissue.

Long-Drawn-Out Battles. Whereas it used to be "the day" that was lost and won, it is now anywhere from the week to the fortnight, and one wonders what must be the "state of soul" of officers and men during these all but never-ending battles. Marked by a great dullness, we should say. If not by a clearly defined fatalism. Retreat means only another fight, as bad if not worse. Death means relief. Getting wounded means a sojourn in hospital, but the chance of being shot even there. At a guess, we think we should become fairly indifferent as to what befell us there in the trenches, and, if any perceptible interest relieved the boredom it would be curiosity—a vague, tired, dismal inquisitiveness as to how the infernal set-to was destined to end.

Tiger Hunting and War. In the last year for which statistics are available, 767 human beings in India were killed by tigers. Along one line of Himalayan railway, the depredations of these ferocious brutes have been so great that the company is building tiger-proof stations for its signalmen, many of whom have been carried off and devoured. Evidently there will be opportunities after the war to use those "virile virtues" which militarism claims to develop. To hunt man-eating tigers on foot takes at least as much valor as is required to perform any ordinary feat in battle.

NEGRO ASSAILANT PAYS THE PENALTY

DESPERADO IS TAKEN FROM KISSIMMEE JAIL AND HANGED BY MOB

Swinging in the morning breeze from the limb of a live oak tree at the railroad crossing at Palm Springs about fourteen miles from this city the body of Will Reed, the negro who on Monday attempted an assault upon a white lady near Forest City bears mute testimony that such a crime will not go unavenged in this county. Immediately after the attempted crime Monday Sheriff Hand trailed the negro to the Wekiwa swamp and here he was held up by a posse, organized by Special Agent N. W. Green of the A. C. I. and in the attempt to escape was shot in the leg and captured. The sheriff, to avoid any trouble had the negro carried to Orlando jail, accompanied by Special Officer Green, Deputy James Lee and Roy Tillis, and afterward to Kissimmee after he had confessed to the deputies that he was the man wanted. Tuesday night rumors that the negro was at Kissimmee spread in this city and about midnight fifty determined men left the city on a special train and going to the county jail at Kissimmee sent a deputation demanding the prisoner. The Sheriff was informed that the man who made the demand was an official and went to the telephone to find out. Meantime the jailer was called to the door and before he could draw his gun was overpowered and his keys taken from him. The negro was swiftly carried to the train and taken to Forest City where the lady and two other witnesses testified that the negro was the right man. The negro then confessed the crime and was given five minutes for prayer. He asked forgiveness for the crime and was taken to the tree at the Palm Springs crossing and there swung up. His body was literally riddled with bullets and was left until Wednesday morning when the coroner's jury viewed the remains and brought in a verdict of death at the hands of unknown parties.

Sheriff Hand was notified this morning that a mob had taken the prisoner from the Kissimmee jail and afterward that the negro had been hung at the crossing in this county and brought the body here Wednesday afternoon for burial. The negro now proves to be the same Reed that last summer terrorized the western part of this county and Orange county shooting at Deputy Williams and several other officers, robbing houses and holding up several men at the point of a gun. He finally escaped from this section and was supposed to be captured in Polk county but afterward escaped. He was a bad negro and had been shot in the hip walking with a limp and derived the name of 'Crip Reed.' It is the general opinion here that a good deed was done when this desperate negro was hung.

Sheriff Hand and his deputies and the men who assisted in the search for the negro Monday afternoon are due much credit for the able manner in which they tracked the desperate negro down. In a blinding rain the sheriff stuck to the trail and was close to his quarry when he tried to cross the Wekiwa bridge. After his capture Sheriff Hand was careful to see that the negro was spirited out of the county and into another for safe keeping and that the mob finally outwitted the officials of Osceola county and secured the prisoner is no discredit to the Osceola officials for they made a determined fight to keep the negro. The men who formed the vigilance committee were determined to have the criminal and it is a source of gratification that he was secured with no bloodshed.

While the people generally deplore the fact that mob law was enforced in the case, the county has been saved the expense of a trial and a lady is saved the humiliation of facing a jury and attendant trial and all the publicity that would naturally result.

Card of Thanks We express our grateful and heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends who came to us in our recent bereavement and for the many beautiful floral tokens of sympathy. Mrs. Henry Witte Henry Nickel Henry Witte.

DE LAND MINSTRELS MADE A GREAT HIT

A FAIR SIZED AUDIENCE ASSISTED AT THE ELKS' BENEFIT LAST NIGHT

The DeLand Minstrels put up a first class entertainment last night at the Imperial Theatre. The troupe with band and orchestra arrived yesterday afternoon and paraded the streets looking very much like professionals and the entertainment last night was as good as any professional company. The show was staged for the benefit of the Sanford Lodge of Elks and a fair sized audience greeted the players. The opening was good, presenting the spectacle "In the Land of Dixie," introducing the end men, Speck Campbell, Bill Page, Tot Miller, Cullen Talton, Bob Brown and Weary Miller. The soloists were above the average in the persons of A. W. Honeycutt, Howard Hodgen, Arthur Wiggins, C. C. Reimer, Cates, Eastman and Maurice Ziegler. The following songs were rendered in true minstrel style: "Rap, Rap, Rap on Your Minstrel Bones" Cullen Talton "In the Evening by the Moonlight" Maurice Ziegler "I Want to go Back to the Farm in Michigan" Tot Miller "The Message of the Violet" "When You're a Long Long Way From Home" C. C. Reimer "Aha Daba Honey, moon" Bill Page "Doan You Cry, My Honey" "I Hear You Calling Me" A. W. Honeycutt "I Certainly Was Going Some" "Sometime" Speck Campbell Closing Song Entire Company. Interspersed with the songs were some excellent jokes and the boys rapped the people of Sanford right and left. The best part of the show was the fact that the jokes were new and original. During the intermission the incomparable DeLand Orchestra entertained the audience with some choice selections and the orchestra aided greatly in making the minstrel show a success as the music is the greatest part of the performance. The black Mutt and Jeff, Speck Campbell and Bill Page were good and Claude Reimer in songs and impersonations made a hit. The Ned Stewart Military Niggers, Bill Page, Speck Campbell, James Guss, Tot Miller were great in their dances a la military style. W. H. Schooley of course being the professional class was expected to give the audience something good on the xylophone and he was no disappointment for the numbers rendered were perfect. The show ended with the side splitting farce entitled "Easy Marks" and the people left the theater with the feeling that they had had their money's worth and some over.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCK HOLDERS SHOWS GOOD CONDITION OF BANK

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Bank of Sanford was held on Tuesday, Feb. 23rd, 1915, with a full representation of stockholders present. Following the regular order of business, the cashier's report for the year was read and to the gratification of the stockholders showed that more has been handled by the bank during 1914 than for any previous period, but that the regular semi-annual dividend had been declared and a large amount carried over to the surplus and undivided profit account of the bank. Election of directors for the ensuing year resulted as follows: M. M. Smith, H. R. Stevens, C. M. Hand, C. F. Williams, S. Puleston, D. R. Brisson, W. M. Davis, R. J. Holly, E. H. McNeill, John Meisch and Frank L. Woodruff. It will be noted that three new names have been added to the former strong and representative board in the persons of John Meisch, R. J. Holly and Frank L. Woodruff. Immediately upon adjournment of the stockholders' meeting the board of directors was called to order by M. M. Smith, as chairman. In calling for election of officers for the year, Mr. Smith in a few well chosen words touching upon his continuous tenure of office as president of the bank since its organization, stated to the board the impracticability of his own regular attendance at its future meetings, owing to the demands of his many land and development interests and suggested the desirability of a local member of the board serving as president. Mr. Smith then placed in nomination Mr. H. R. Stevens, who was thereupon unanimously elected to the presidency of the bank. Mr. Stevens has served the bank as vice president in a most faithful and efficient manner since his election some seven years ago, and his election as president of the Peoples Bank is the highest tribute to his qualifications and the esteem in which he is held by the board of directors. Mr. C. M. Hand was re-elected vice president and Mr. Frank L. Woodruff was also elected a vice president. H. E. Tolar, cashier and R. R. Dent, assistant cashier were unanimously re-elected to their respective offices. As shown by the statement published on another page, the Peoples Bank is in a strong and healthy condition, and is continually forging to the front in importance among Sanford's financial institutions.

STUART BANK ROBBED

Stuart, Fla., Feb. 26.—Members of what is believed to be the same gang which recently attempted a holdup on the Palm Beach Limited of the Florida East Coast railway near here recently succeeded Tuesday morning in robbing the Bank of Stuart of $4,000. Entering the bank three men levelled guns at Cashier Wallace and forced him to give up all cash in sight. Backing out of the bank they topped an approaching automobile and forced the driver to speed them away. At Postswal, some distance from Stuart, the robbers released the car and made the driver return to Stuart. Two possses have been sent out from here in search of bandits.

COL. APPEYARD HERE

Among the prominent visitors to the city on Tuesday was Col. T. J. Appleyard of Tallahassee, state printer, secretary of the Florida Press Association and has many other titles and degrees. Col. Appleyard did not have time to visit his many Sanford friends as he was only here for a few hours to confer with President R. J. Holly of the Florida Press Association relative to the big meeting to be held in Miami next month. Col. Appleyard lived in Sanford many years ago and was editor of the Sanford Chronicle, his children were raised here and naturally the city has a tender spot in his heart. He promised to return at an early date when he could spend several days here and renew old friendships.

GOVERNOR URGES RECOMMENDATIONS

WOULD PROHIBIT THE INSURANCE COMPANIES FROM "FIXING" RATES

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 26.—Following up his announced intention to make public from time to time a number of the recommendations which he proposes to submit to the legislature, which convenes in April, Governor Trammel states that he will make recommendations upon the following subjects: Agricultural Prizes for Boys and Girls. Any policy which tends to encourage and increase agricultural activities is of unquestionable value to our state, Florida has an unlimited amount of rich and productive land and it has untold possibilities for agricultural expansion. The ambitious boys and girls of the state will readily respond to the encouragement which might be offered to them by contests in growing the crops to which the soils of their respective sections are adapted. I suggest the wisdom of legislation being enacted which would authorize the county commissioners of the various counties to offer prizes for such contests. In some few communities in the state contests of this kind have been inaugurated with splendid results. Graded Corporation Tax. The privileges given to a corporation by the state are valuable to the incorporator, and gives them rights and exemptions from liabilities that individuals do not enjoy. It is for the purpose of exercising these privileges that persons form corporations. Many states impose an annual tax on all corporations, and I would suggest the enactment of a law imposing a small annual license tax on corporations doing business in this state say from $5 to $50, based upon capital stock. Prohibit Insurance Companies. There is considerable complaint that life and fire insurance is excessively high. It is also apparent that the insurance companies have some mutual understanding in the matter of fixing rates. I would, therefore, suggest a law that would make it unlawful for two or more insurance companies doing business in this state, or for officers, agents or employees of such companies to make an enter into any combination or arrangement relating to the rates to be charged for insurance, the amount of commission to be allowed agents for procuring the same, or the manner of transacting such business within this state. Reform Civil Court Procedure. The court procedure in this state has become more or less antiquated and out of balance with the present day thought and progressive spirit of the times. There is need for reform in the laws and rules which govern the proceedings in our courts. Florida has an honorable, able and efficient judiciary as any state in the Union. The fault is not with the judiciary, but with the law and rules by which our courts are guided. Under our present system it is impossible to force a trial in a civil case in less than six to twelve months. Every kind of technical dodge that will cause delay is permitted. The law should be so changed as to expedite and hasten trial. A litigant should be able to get a hearing on his case within one or two months after suit is instituted. The pleadings should be simplified and technicalities eliminated in all of the courts. The time allowed for entering and perfecting appeals should be shortened. With a change of our law along these lines much will be accomplished towards giving to our citizens justice without unreasonable delays and without excessive cost.

INDUSTRIAL REPORT OF SOUTH'S PROGRESS

GREAT PROGRESS MADE IN MANY SOUTHERN CITIES IS NOTED

Columbus, Ga., Feb. 26.—The Industrial Index says in its issue for this week: "Conclusive evidence of the resumption of activity and the return of prosperity in the southeast is afforded by the reports of construction work in progress and definitely planned and the establishment of industrial plants. Through the volume of construction work is not what could be desired, it is large. The early opening of spring is helping to create building activity and the number of substantial structures which are being erected, and which are to be built immediately together with municipal and county improvement work, constitute a big volume in the aggregate. With the general progress of business toward wholly normal conditions, building activity is increasing steadily. "Cities and counties through the southeast are doing and preparing to do immediately an immense amount of construction work. Albany, Ga., will vote upon the issuance of $80,000 of bonds for erecting an auditorium and school building; Huntsville, Ala., has voted $40,000 of school building bonds and Hawkinsville, Ga., $25,000 of school building, sewer and water works bonds. Decatur, Ga., will vote upon $50,000 of school building, sewer and water works bonds; Palm Beach county, Fla., will vote upon issuance of $750,000 of road construction bonds; Dade county, Fla., will vote upon $100,000 of bonds for public and private construction are being awarded in substantial numbers. "Among the items of construction work to be done, as reported this week are: "Apartment house, Atlanta, Ga.; bridge, Polk county, Florida; Walker county, Alabama, Gadsden, Ala., and Spartanburg, S. C.; church building, Bay Minette, Ala.; factory building, Thomaston, Ga.; fraternal building, St. Petersburg, Fla.; hotel building, Alma, Ga.; hotel building addition, St. Petersburg, Fla.; paving, Waycross, Ga.; sewer system, Palm Beach, Fla.; school buildings, Frostproof, Richland, Seabring, Venuud and Wimauma, Fla., and Greenville, Miss. A power transmission line will be built between South Carolina cities at a cost of $100,000. A company has been organized to construct a telephone system in a section of South Georgia."
