Residents: Signing off on nudity

By Russ White HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - More than 10,000 Seminole County residents want to chase nude dancers out of the territory. They've signed a petition to force the county commissioners to reconsider banning nudity at adult clubs or letting the people decide the issue in a November referendum.

themselves the Seminole County Citizens for Decency planned to deliver the petition this morning to Sandy Goard, Supervisor of Elections.

"We disagree with the careless actions of the county commission and are outraged that 3 commissioners would allow our county - our home - to also be a home for full nudity," Goard said. "Last fall we asked the commission to pass some tough laws on adult entertainment

'Today the people cry out to be heard by a deaf commission.'

-Bob West

and they didn't listen."

County Commission Chairman Randy Morris said today that he thought many of those signing the petition were unaware that the county has adopted what "is recognized as the toughest adult ordinance in the state. I hope this doesn't endanger the success of what we are doing to control this cancer in the community."

What Morris suspects, too, is that Goard and other leaders in the citizens group have a "secret agenda" as they promote the candidacy of Bob West the District 3 commissioner's race. Please See Page 4A

IN BRIEF

GENAS SENTENCED - Sanford - Gary Genas, the Midway store owner, pleaded no contest Monday to the charges of trafficking narcotics.

He agreed to a 6-year prison sentence and said that most of the contraband found in his possession was for his own personal use. Genas was arrested on the charge on Nov. 25 of last year. Genas is free on bond and will be sentenced on Oct. 20.

TEEN-AGE PARTY BUSTED - LONGWOOD - The "zero tolerance" policy strikes again. There were 14 minors charged with possession of alcohol by persons under 21. One 26-year old man was charged with supplying teenagers with alcohol at a Wednesdays party. None of the teens at that party were arrested. The 14 minors that were arrested came from different busts throughout the county.

SCHOOL RENAMING - SANFORD - A request has been submitted by the Lakeview Middle School Advisory Committee to change the school's name to Millennium Middle School: A Fine Arts Academy.

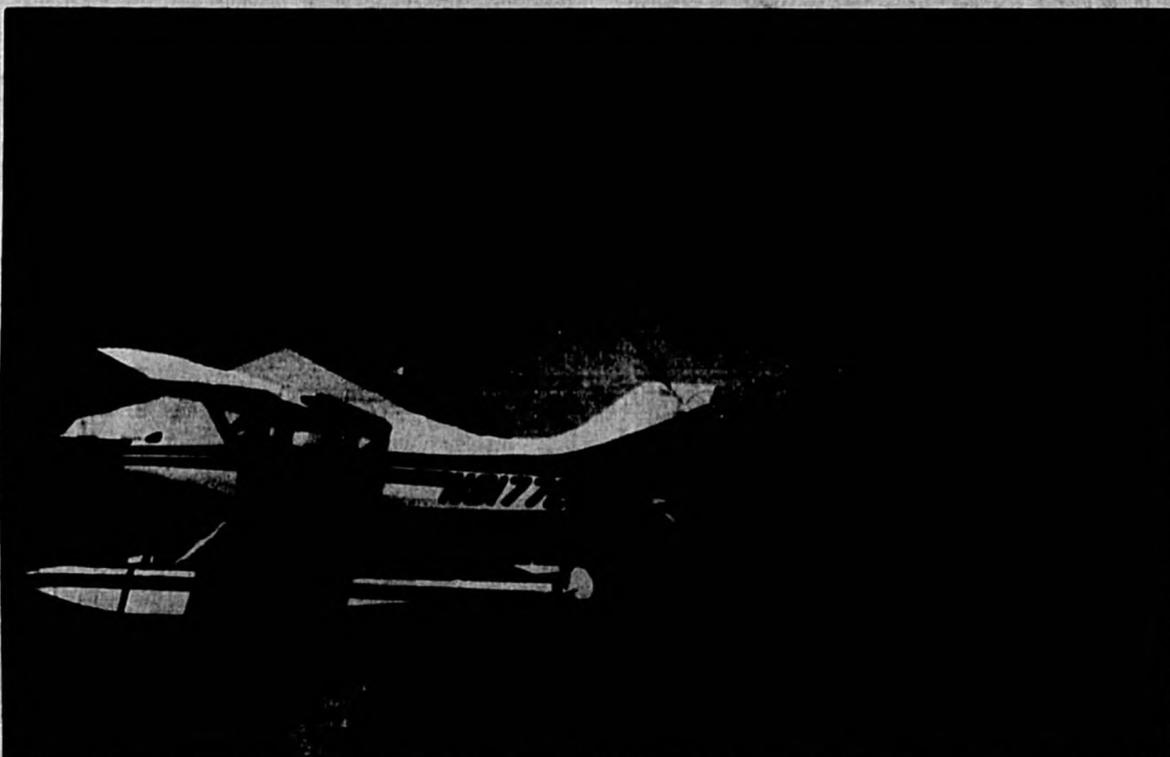

Plans call for the school to become a magnet school for fine arts and communications, next school year, and undergo a $14 million renovation project.

The Seminole County School Board will have the final decision. The school board is scheduled to consider the changes at a meeting scheduled for Tuesday, June 16.

COURTHOUSE TALK - SEMINOLE COUNTY - The Seminole County Commission is scheduled to take part in a special work session this afternoon (Tuesday) beginning at 1:30.

The topic of the work session will be the development of the courthouse. The board will be presented with several options in consideration of construction, design, cost and others. No course of action will be voted on and approved at the work session however. Please see Detail, Page 2A

SANFORD - Florid Woods, located off Old Lake Mary Road

in southwest Sanford, is preparing to expand. With Phases I and II already approved, the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) will now consider the request for Phase III development.

The proposal is on the agenda for this Thursday's P&Z meeting.

Maronda Homes is seeking approval for 40 single family dwellings on 3,800 square-foot lots with 40-foot widths. The request however, will require a conditional use approval as the city's zoning requirements call for 6,000 square-foot lots with 60-foot widths. Please See Detail, Page 4A

Hurricane Season begins, more active year is predicted

By David Frankel HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Monday was the official start of Hurricane Season.

The season will continue now through November 30.

Even though there is no activity currently, the state's emergency managers are urging citizens to begin preparations now.

Last year was mild because of the presence of El Nino. Dave Jacobs of the National Weather Service in Melbourne said that the popular El Nino suppresses the chances of hurricanes.

Colorado State University Professor Bill Gray predicts 10 named storms. 6 of these storms will turn into hurricanes and two of these will be severe with sustained winds of 111 miles per hour. "Dr. Gray's predictions are very theoretical," said Jacobs. "I think he was completely wrong about last year." Gray has said that it will be a more active season this year.

In 1997, there were 7 named storms and 9 of these became hurricanes. A storm named Danny which was not a hurricane hit the Panhandle with heavy rains.

There are 21 names for this year's potential storms. The names include: Alex, Bonnie, Charley, Danielle, Earl, Frances, Gertie, Hermine, Ivan, Jeanne, Karl, Lisa, Mitch, Opal, Otto, Paula, Richard, Sherry, Tanya, Virginia and Walker.

The National Weather Service has said that there is an tropical storm formation expected through Wednesday.

GRACE M. STINE-CIPHER

During the crop year of 1924-25, the enland shipments of vegetables and fruits from Seminole County totaled 7,461 cars as follows: celery, 5,874 cars; lettuce, 351; misc. vegetables, 351; and citrus fruits, 885.

The large agencies which distributed most of these crops were the Sanford Farmers Exchange, The Florida Vegetable Corporation, the Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers, all of which were cooperative institutions. The independent operators were Chase and Company, The American Fruit Growers, Inc., and F.F. Dutton. In addition, the large commission houses in the marketing centers had representatives in Sanford during the shipping season when contracts were made f.o.b. for the standing production of some of the growers.

For shipping its mammoth production of fruits and vegetables, the Sanford district paid annually railroad freight bills in excess of $2,000,000. This was, per capita, the largest amount paid by any community directly served by the Atlantic Coast Line.

These vegetables were grown on an area of about 3,000 acres, averaging better than two carloads per acre. The shipping season was from Nov. 15 through June 15.

A good many wax and green beans were planted, mostly on the flat woods and sandy hammocks of the county. They required only small amounts of fertilizer and yielded from 100 to 200 hampers to the acre.

Picking time was from Nov. 1 to Dec. 15, or until frost. Prices were averaging $2.02 per hamper for spring beans and $3.18 for fall beans.

Many carloads of cabbage were shipped from Seminole County and also a considerable tonnage of cauliflower. These crops were well suited to any of the truck lands of the county.

Cabbage was comparatively cheap to raise and a fair yield was about 400 crates to the acre. The market was a changeable quantity as it was for most perishables, but the fall crop usually brought a good price; during 1924, the price per hamper was $3.38.

A tremendous acreage in the county was suitable for citrus culture. From 50 to 70 trees were set to an acre and a good grove usually produced from four to ten boxes of fruit per acre. It took five to ten years to bring a grove into profitable production.

Some of the varieties grown were Parson Brown, Luc Dim Gong, Pineapple and Valencia oranges; Marsh Seedless, Duncan and Florida Common grapefruit and Dancy tangerines.

The production of green peppers in Seminole County generally ran into hundreds of carloads annually. Both a fall and spring crop were raised, though more was grown of the latter. The lighter type truck soil was called for this crop.

Approximately 2 tons of fertilizer were used per acre. Much of the cost of raising peppers was in picking and preparing the fruit for market and therefore varied several hundred per cent.

Although very difficult to make, fall peppers seldom failed to bring attractive prices. The pepper crop offered an excellent means of diversification in the celery farm, though it seldom produced well when planted in ground immediately after celery had been taken from it. It was suggested that other sequences be adopted.

Other crops that did well in the county during 1925 were escarole, endive, lettuce, potatoes, strawberries and sweet potatoes.

Also grown in sufficient amounts to supply an active shipping business were carrots, beets, turnips, spinach and peas. There was room for a great deal of development in growing these and other miscellaneous vegetables.

Today is the big day that a baseball player waits a lifetime for SANFORD - A lot of dreams are going to come true today. The annual major league baseball draft takes place today and several Seminole County players are going to get a phone call sometime that will change their lives dramatically.

The major league draft isn't like the Hollywood productions of the NFL and the NBA. You don't even get to see it on television, let alone watch Mel Kiper, Jr., Mel Kiper, Jr.'s hair, and Chris Berman spend 15 minutes discussing every team's pick, breathlessly going over game film and rumors, until someone makes an announcement and pandemonium breaks loose at Madison Square Garden.

No, this is a low-key affair. In fact, except for first-round picks, the league doesn't even announce who has been selected.

So, instead of watching television, or sitting in the player's gallery in New York, local standouts like Ben Knapp, Lance Odom, Felipe Lopez and Tim Raines will sit by the telephone, surrounded by family members waiting for the phone to ring.

When that phone finally rings, and for those four, it should be sometime early tomorrow afternoon, they will learn where their entire future will take them. Where they will meet their future wives. Where they will raise their children.

It should be agonizing for those three, but at least they can expect to hear the phone ring sometime today. For other Seminole County ballplayers, it could be anytime between today and Thursday when the draft finally ends.

Start with the four players almost sure to be taken in the first round or early second.

Lopez is rated as the second best prospect in the state of Florida (behind University of Miami superstar Pat Burrell). He batted well over .500 for Lake Brantley, earned one state title, and is another Alex Rodriguez. He can field, has an Uzi for an arm and there's no bigger thrill in Seminole County baseball than to see him knock a line drive into the gap and tear around the bases. Oviedo coach Kenne Brown said he is the best prospect he's ever seen.

Odom was unhittable by the end of the season for Seminole. He had 28 scoreless innings going into post-season in his only year as a Seminole. He's already signed with Daytona Beach Community College for next season, but a first-round pick, usually accompanied by at least a $1 million signing bonus, could sway him.

Knapp, the son of former California Angel pitcher Chris Knapp (who was taken in the first round as the No. 11 pick in 1979), already has signed to pitch at the University of Florida next year, but Brown said Milwaukee, with the 13th pick is serious about drafting Knapp. He is 6-foot-7 and can hit 95 on the radar gun. He also was incredible for Oviedo down the stretch and gave up only one hit in a road loss that ended the season for the Lions in the first round of regionals. Knapp is also an excellent athlete who was a key for the Oviedo basketball team that reached the state finals last season.

Raines is the most well-known of the four, mainly because his dad is a probable hall-of-famer after he retires. Little Rock moved from second base to the outfield this season and combines speed, more power and a better arm than his father, and the dream to play with Big Rock in the majors. Raines played quarterback for the 'Noles at times last season and is another fine all-around athlete.

Then there are the guys who will spend not just today, but parts of Wednesday and Thursday waiting for the phone to ring. Pity the poor telemarketer who tries to call up with an offer of magazines.

Oviedo's Jeremy Frost is a big catcher who has signed with UCF but is expected to go

SANFORD - The Railroaders-Cubs overcame an early challenge to continue its winning ways, while the Boys & Girls Club-Expos did all of their scoring in one inning as the regular season champions made impressive debuts in the Sanford Recreation Department Babe Ruth Baseball Bambino City Championship Series at the Roy Holler Junior Field Monday evening.

The Cubs, which posted the best record (15-1) in the league in taking the top spot in the American Division, took an early 3-0 lead, fell behind 4-3 after two innings, then took the lead for good with two runs in the third inning and went on to a 9-5 triumph over the National Division runner-up Enterprise Trucking-Indians.

In the nightcap, the Expos, who went 12-5 in winning the top spot in the National Division, trailed 1-0 before exploding for eight runs in the third inning.

The Sunland Corporation-White Sox (who

The White Sox had the tying run on third and the winning run on second, but could not get a clutch hit as the Expos held on.

Game two of the Best-of-Three Series is scheduled for Wednesday night at Roy Holler Junior Field in Ft. Mellon Park. At 5:45 p.m. the White Sox meet the Expos and at 7:45 p.m. the Cubs take on the Indians.

If the Indians and/or the White Sox win on Wednesday, a third winner-take-all game would be played on Friday at times to be announced.

The survivors of the semifinal series will meet in the Best-of-Three City Championship Series beginning next Monday evening. Weather permitting, the games will be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday (if necessary), with all games starting at 6:30 p.m. at Roy Holler Junior Field.

LONGWOOD - Cary Fields remembers when he thought he was the best referee in the building, even though the thoughts came from his seat in the stands.

"I went to a UCF-Rollins basketball game in 1976," Fields recalled. "I was very vocal about the officiating and at halftime, one of the officials walked over to talk to me. He challenged me to go to lunch to talk about what he does."

"That's how I got into it. Everyone thinks they can do better than the guys on the floor."

Fields is now one of the most respected football and basketball officials in Central Florida and is a familiar sight to anyone who attends Seminole County sporting events. Fields knows he'll never get rich off being a referee, but it gives him the best seat in the house for almost all of the big games.

Fields

Florida Officials Association which handles high school football and basketball. He is looking for new people to join the fraternity of referees and time is running short for anyone who wants to be involved in the fall football season.

With 57 football programs and 63 basketball programs in Central Florida, there is always a need for someone to don the zebra stripes. With over 4,000 games a year, including junior varsity and varsity games, there's quite a workload.

Besides high school sports, there's also a growing need for Pop Warner football and AAU basketball officials, not to mention the opportunity to advance beyond the high school level.

"This area is ripe," Fields said. "There's always something going on."

There are no educational requirements required to become a referee, but there are plenty of camps and schools to further a career. To get started, the first order of business is to put in time at the lower levels, such as the freshmen and junior varsity games to gain experience. An applicant needs an application and registers with the Florida High School Athletic Association, and there is a pre-season class for beginners during the summer.

Women are also welcome and last year, women were referees in both boys basketball and football games.

After they are approved, referees will work assignments under the hot August sun until it's time to kick off in September. It can be expensive, but for people like Fields, it's a labor of love.

The future can be limitless. Referees have started in Seminole County and gone on to work in the NBA, NFL and Southeastern Conference. They are also taken out of their local area come playoff time to ensure a non-biased atmosphere in state playoffs.

Typically, the FHSAA has an assignment officer who delegates games to the referees. In football, on a typical Friday night, about 150 officials are needed each night with six at each game site. Football and basketball coaches are allowed to list certain officials they would rather not have at their games and the officials have the same format with certain coaches. Frustrated when referees see the same coaches every night but Fields said that usually goes away with familiarity and experience.

"As I get older, I let the coaches say more than they could before," Fields said. Fields added that he still enjoys getting on the referees from time to time, especially when he's at a Magic game and a referee blows an obvious call.

He also said he's not afraid to admit to a mistake during a game. That's one of the things that has made him one of the most respected referees in the area.

For more information on becoming a referee, contact the FHSAA for an applica-base and the clean-up hitter at the plate. The game ended right there, however, as the runner was gunned down trying to steal second.

Leading the Red Sox to victory were Lowe (two singles, one run scored, three RBI), Killingsworth (one single, two runs scored, one RBI), Seydura (one single, one run scored, one RBI), J. Sheffield (one single, three runs scored) and M. Doney (one single, one run scored).

Pacing the Athletics attack were Curt Scott (two singles, one RBI), Dustin Annett, David Bechner, Robert Chambers and Mario Sims (one single and one run scored each), Justin Gorman (one single) and John Fletcher, Chris Witte and Jimmy Postell (one run scored each).

MAY 20

The Athletics only led this game 4-3 after the Expos scored three runs in the top of the fourth inning.

The Athletics then went to work, scoring three runs in the bottom of the fourth inning, five runs in the bottom of the fifth inning and a single run in the sixth inning to close out the game by the Run Rule.

Powering the Athletics were John Fletcher (one double, three singles, two runs scored), Brad Cook (three singles, two runs scored, three RBI), Dustin Annett (one double, one single, two runs scored, one RBI), Justin Gorman (two singles, three runs scored, one RBI), David Bechner (two singles, one run scored, one RBI), Curt Scott (one double, one RBI), Cary Medlock (one single, two runs scored), Glen Davis (one single, one run scored) and Robert Chambers (one single).

Doing the hitting for the Expos were Wright (one double, one run scored), Rigo (one double, one RBI), Mike (one single, one run scored), Brandon, Mundy and Shane (one single each) and Eddie (one run scored).

The Winner's Bracket game saw the Red Sox throw the first punch, only to see the White Sox come back with the counters.

The Red Sox scored one run in the top of the first inning and two runs in the second inning to lead 3-0.

The White Sox then answered with three runs in the bottom of the third inning.

The Red Sox came right back with two runs in the fourth and one run in the fifth to regain a three runs lead.

But the White Sox rallied again, scoring three runs in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Back-to-back doubles to open the seventh inning by Lowe and Beatty gave the Red Sox the lead, but the White Sox tied the game in the bottom of the seventh on a single by Grady Hutchins and a sacrifice fly by Jason Louwma.

The White Sox then took its first lead of the game, and the victory, as, with one out, Jamar Guy, Justin Frost, David Goff and Shane Fleming all singled to end the game.

Contributing for the White Sox were Jason Louwma (one double, one single, four RBI), Shane Fleming (two singles, one run scored, one RBI), Jamar Guy (two singles, one run scored), Andre Raines (one single, two runs scored), David Goff and Grady Hutchins (one single and one run scored each), Justin Frost (one single) and Shane Larson (two runs scored).

Hitting for the Red Sox were M. Doney (one double, two singles, one run scored), J. Sheffield (two singles, three RBI), Beatty (one double, one RBI), Lowe (one double, one run scored), Casey (one single, one run scored), C. Sheffield (one single), M. Doney (two runs scored) and Killingsworth and Seydura (one run scored each).

The final game of the day was much closer than the final score indicated as the Athletics and Red Sox both scored a run in the first inning and the score remained 1-1 until the Athletics exploded for six runs in the top of the sixth inning.

Doing the damage for the Athletics were John Fletcher (two singles, two runs scored, two RBI), Dustin Annett (one triple, one run scored, one RBI), Justin Gorman (one double, one run scored, two RBI), Jimmy Postell (one single, one run scored), Brad Cook (one single), Curt Scott (one run scored, one RBI) and David Bechner and Mario Sims (one run scored each).

Providing the offense for the Red Sox were Killingsworth (one single, one run scored, one RBI), J. Sheffield (one single, one run scored), M. Doney (one run scored) and Beatty (one RBI).

In the final four games of the regular season, the First Union-Athletics topped the Play It Again Sports-Yankees 8-5; the Railroaders-Cubs whipped the Sunland Corporation-White Sox 10-5; the Rich Man-Marines upset the Enterprise Trucking-Indians 5-3; and the Boys & Girls Club-Expos nipped the Rinker Materials-Devil Rays 6-7.

The final regular season standings in the American Division are - the Railroaders-Cubs (15-1), the Sunland Corporation-White Sox (12-5), the First Union-Athletics (8-8) and the Play It Again Sports-Yankees (2-15).

The final regular season standings in the National Division are - the Boys & Girls Club-Expos (13-8), the Enterprise Trucking-Indians (8-9), the Rich Man-Marines (7-10) and the Rinker Materials-Devil Rays (3-14).

In the games played last Wednesday (May 27), the Yankees scored two runs in the top of the first inning, but the Athletics came back to score all eight of its runs in the second inning and withstood a minor rally try by the Yankees.

The Cubs scored three runs in each of the first and third innings, but the White Sox answered with a run in the second inning and two runs in the third inning to only trail 6-3 halfway through the game.

The White Sox, however, only got one more base runner, on a walk in the fifth inning, while the Cubs pitching struck out 11 of the final 12 batters it faced to slam the door shut.

The Cubs offense came through with two runs in each of the fourth and sixth innings to pull away.

In the games played on Friday (May 30), the Marlins scored two runs in each of the third and fourth innings and one run in the fifth inning to build a 5-0 lead.

The Indians tried to rally, scoring three runs in the top of the sixth inning, but the Marlins held on for the upset and fell just a game short of making the playoffs.

The final game of the regular season was a beauty as the Expos had to score two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning, including getting the game winner on a two-out passed ball, to avoid an upset by the Devil Rays.

Providing the offense were:

between the fourth- and seventh-rounds. C3 Williams from Seminole could go as high as the second round. He hasn't signed on with anyone yet for next season and said last week that he is definitely going pro.

Later in the game, Ned Raines of Seminole, Brian Bretzer of Lake Mary, Tyler Carr of Lyman and a Tulane signee, Danny Burleson of Lake Howell, Josh O'Brien of Lake Mary, Tim Hule of Oviedo, Scott Ferrell of Oviedo and Brian Boeschko of Lake Brantley are pretty sure to hear the phone. Some of those will opt for a year of college and some will take their chances, riding the buses around the Florida State League for a year or two.

Whatever happens over the next few days proves that Seminole County is one of the nation's hotbeds for baseball talent. Last year, Seminole County sent three players - Lake Brantley's Brad Rigby and Oviedo's Mark Bellhorn (whose younger brother Todd, a UCF star, should also be a high pick (today) to the Oakland A's and Lyman's Chris Brock to the Atlanta Braves. Now that the major leagues know where Seminole County is, who's next?

That will be answered tomorrow unless the Central Florida telephone system breaks down.

Last Second Shot: Has anyone noticed that, while all the talk in the NBA is about the young guns like the Iversons, Hills, Duncans and Shaqs, it is the two oldest teams in the NBA - Utah and Chicago - that have made the finals for the second straight year?

Where would teams like Miami or Los Angeles be if they had a little maturity?

What is geographic tongue?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been diagnosed by an otolaryngologist as having a "geographic" tongue. He told me that this is a common and harmless condition and that there is no known medication to cure it. My regular doctor has tried many remedies, without success. Help!

DEAR READER: I don't know that you need help so much as further reassurance. Geographic tongue is harmless and untreatable, as your ear-nose-and-throat specialist indicated. This condition (of unknown cause) is marked by a painless and irregular pattern on the tongue, resembling a map of continents and oceans, that may disappear after a few months or remain more or less permanent.

Sometimes bacterial or yeast infections of the tongue cause a similar pattern, but these disorders usually cause pain and swelling, too. Such infections are readily diagnosed by laboratory cultures and treated with anti-microbial medications.

Therefore, if your tongue is painless and looks like a map, I'd simply ignore the situation. You may believe that your tongue looks horrid; if so, don't stick it out at anyone.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 37-year-old son grinds his teeth at night so much that his wife cannot sleep next to him. What can he do about this habit?

DEAR READER: The cause of bruxism (clenching or grinding the teeth) is unknown, but many authorities believe that it is due to emotional strain and problem-solving dreams during sleep. The condition is often worsened by the use of alcohol. Over time, bruxism will erode and eventually diminish the height of dental crowns, leading to loss of teeth. Therefore, treatment is necessary not only to relieve the social implications of the habit, but the physical consequences as well.

Sometimes repeated jobs in the ribs will stop a bed partner from tooth-grinding. However, in my experience, a bite plate is far more satisfactory. Fashioned by a dentist, this is a plastic device worn in the mouth at night to protect the teeth. With a bite plate in place, a sleeping jaw clencher will silently and safely grind away at the plastic. Problem solved.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My adolescent niece consistently eats laundry starch. She says that she just craves it. Can we break her of this compulsion?

DEAR READER: Known as "pica," the ingestion of non-nutritious substances — such as clay, dirt, paint, ice and laundry starch — is unhealthy. Even excess lettuce consumption has

For unknown reasons, the habit is common in people who lack sufficient iron in their diets. The condition is easily treated with iron supplements. Your niece should see a doctor for an examination and blood test to measure her iron level.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Still at sixes or sevens

By Phillip Alder

When should you bid a slam? Although this is putting it facetiously, bid slams that make and avoid those that fail! Yet how do you know which is which? Well, if you and your partner have masses of high-card power, you should have no trouble bidding and making a slam. It is the deals with low count that trip up most players. Then it is a matter of checking potential losers. And if those losers are only aces and kings, you have an ideal Blackwood hand. Yet what if partner's last bid was one no-trump or two no-trump? Then a jump to four no-trump is quantitative, not asking for aces. Now you must use the Gerber convention. (No, it's not slam bidding for believe!) You jump to four clubs to ask for aces. A subsequent five clubs asks for kings. After South opens one no-trump, North can count 11, 12 or 13 tricks, depending upon the number of aces his partner holds. South's four-diamond reply shows zero or four aces (though zero is impossible here). This makes it easy for North to "raise" to seven diamonds. If the trumps split 2-1, you have 13 top tricks: one spade, one heart, seven diamonds, three clubs and a club ruff in hand. So, assuming West led a king, you win the first trick and draw one or two rounds of trumps. Then you cash the club ace, play a club to dummy's queen, and ruff the club four with your diamond ace. What? You don't have the diamond ace left in your hand? You have been overruffed and gone down? Ah well, better luck next time! When you can afford to, always ruff high.

In the year ahead, new friends could function as conduits for opportunity. Your most significant breaks will come through people who like you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're entitled to your own opinions, but don't shut off the views and thoughts of others. Your best lesson today comes from someone you feel is inferior.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Today you might have extravagant urges. If you're not careful, they could impel you to make a bad decision where your budget is concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) A reckless associate might encourage you to behave in a similar manner today. You could do something foolish that carries penalties.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You might be too emotional about a development that should be resolved in a logical manner today. Don't let poor judgment rule the roost.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your assessment of people might not be up to par today, and there's a chance you'll place faith in someone who might not measure up.
