Newsweek Reports 'Viet' Massacre

NEW YORK (AP)—A Newsweek magazine correspondent reports a "staggering number" of Vietnamese civilians were killed by U.S. forces in a pacification program in 1968 that "made the My Lai massacre look trivial by comparison."

Kevin P. Buckley reported in this week's issue of Newsweek that one official estimated 5,000 civilians died in the six-monthlong operation code-named "Speedy Express," which was carried out in the Mekong Delta.

"It has now become generally accepted," Buckley also said, "that the American use of massive firepower has caused the deaths of thousands of innocent civilians—perhaps, some U.S. officials admit privately, as many as 100,000."

Operation "Speedy Express" in the Viet Cong-controlled Kien Hoa area was run by the U.S. Ninth Infantry Division, Buckley said.

The division used 8,000 infantrymen, 50 artillery pieces and 50 helicopters in the campaign, which was supported by 3,381 tactical air strikes by U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers, the Newsweek report said.

Buckley, the magazine's former Saigon bureau chief, said 748 weapons, "an embarrassingly small number," were recovered despite a claim that 10,899 "enemy" were killed in the operation.

"When asked to account for the enormous body counts," Buckley said, "a division senior officer explained that helicopter crews often caught unarmed 'enemy' in open fields."

Remember a guy by the name 'Gully'?

After reading the NEWSWEEK expose (alongside this column today) I'm hoping that Mr. Nixon will also remember the young lieutenant and give him a pardon (and for the sins of this country, I'm hoping that "someone" will offer His Blessings and Pardon us, too!). Look, there's a little thing inside you and me called a conscience. And no matter how hard we try to close our eyes and "make believe" that the human sacrifice (s) have been terminated in Vietnam, there's really no one to blame but "You and Me, Brother!"

The phony politicians can play their games, and also be a part of trying to camouflage the one, real issue which has for so long divided this country...they can say it's the economy, or pollution, or drugs, or what-have-you. The truth of the matter is it's THE WAR!

Note too many months ago, we had all kinds of pleas to stop the genocide in Biafra.

What about the 100,000 innocent civilians which we wiped out? Some of them, farmers tilling their soil.

We're living in a sick, sick society when one of our own helicopter units has emblazoned onto its ships, "death is our business and business is good."

And there lies this country's problems...magnified from a hidden land thousands of miles away, but by the actions perpetrated there, we all "twinge" indirectly here at home.

You worried about your son or daughter getting "on" with marijuana or the heavier stuff? Where do you think the "junk" is coming from?

Ever hear of the fellow by the name of Thieu? He's the gent who's running the government which we're supporting over there.

He's also the one, along with a couple of his crony Generals, who've been tied-in on the sale of dope which is being shipped to this country, you know?

Are you going to do anything about it?

YOU WILL FIND, as you look back upon your life, that the moments that stand out are the moments you have done things for others, — Henry Drummond, Scottish author.

Mickey And Goofy Greeting Seniors

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—For thousands of Florida high school seniors, the last day of school brings a brief journey back into childhood for an all night bash with Mickey Mouse and Goofy.

It's a giant graduation party at Walt Disney World. And for the teen-agers it's like falling through a looking glass—dancing with Donald Duck and Snow White, whirling around in the Mad Hatter's tea cup and journeying through Cinderella's towering castle.

Tonight about 5,000 graduates from 34 high schools around the state will be bused to the sprawling $400 million Central Florida amusement park for the all night party. Last Friday 6,000 more Florida graduates from 45 schools spent graduation night in the park, with girls riding the carousel in high-heeled shoes and boys spruced up in coats and ties.

But some griped about the Disney-imposed dress code, saying it was more severe than their school.

"This dress code is enough to drive you crazy," complained Allan Geyer of Clearwater High School. "It stopped a lot of kids from coming. There are about 600 kids in our graduating class, but when they heard about the dress code, only about 250 signed up to go."

Disney officials banned shorts, hot pants, dungarees and cutoffs to preserve the aura of the occasion.

And they also stipulated that the teen-agers had to arrive in buses. They said that was mainly for the peace of mind of the parents.

But Friday none of the weary, bedraggled seniors objected to that at 5 a. m. as they loaded up for the return trip.

At least two cars left at Seminole High School Friday night were damaged by vandals, Sanford police officer Gene Pharis also reported damage to a fence surrounding the school's driver education course.

Seniors from Seminole High were attending a graduation party at Walt Disney World. According to Pharis, two persons reported vandalism to their vehicles. Pat Temberly, 3104 Park Drive, Sanford, reported to police that her antenna had been broken off and someone wrote all over the car with soap. The vehicle was a 1967 Chevrolet Camaro. Someone dented in the front end of a 1971 Volkswagen owned by Dennis Carroll, 1323 Douglas Avenue, Sanford.

Pharis reported 200-300 feet of the chain link fence around driving range damaged, with 75-100 feet torn down.

A 19-year-old Seminole High youth signed a warrant for the arrest of another youth in an incident at the school Friday, the final day of classes.

Detective Sgt. Eddie Hughes reported the student, a 16-year-old juvenile, was arrested Friday night on assault and battery charges.

Orange County Grand Jury

Offers Sealed Indictments

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—An Orange County Grand Jury investigating the death of a prisoner in the custody of Lake County Sheriff Willis McCall today returned two sealed indictments.

The indictments were turned over to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, and FDLE officials refused to say who was named in the indictments.

Orange Circuit Judge Parker McDonald set bond on one indictment at about $1,000 and $250 on the second.

The grand jury investigation was ordered by Gov. Reubin Askew to study circumstances surrounding the death of Tommy Vickers, 38, of Miami.

The black prisoner had failed to post a $26 bond for a minor traffic violation. He was brought to the Lake County Jail April 12.

Eight days later, Vickers was transferred to a hospital where he died April 23. A coroner's inquiry ruled death was caused by a blow to the abdomen.

McCall, a 62-year-old lawman, told a television audience recently that Vickers had become unruly while incarcerated and he "popped" the prisoner on the head several times to subdue him. However, McCall maintained that he did not injure the man seriously.

McCall had tried unsuccessfully to block transfer of the investigation from his tiny home county where he's been chief law enforcement officer since 1944.

But it was switched anyway — at the direction of Gov. Reubin Askew.

Blasting it as a political election year move, McCall claimed communists, liberals and blacks prompted it.

Whether scope of the probe was limited to Vickers' death was not clear. However, Edgar Dunn Jr., the governor's chief legal aide, indicated two areas were to be explored — Vickers' death and the entire operation of the Lake County jail. Substance was given to that Tuesday when jurors were taken to inspect the facility.

For six days, McCall said, he had tried to have the inmate transferred to a hospital, but was bogged down by "legalistic delays." He did not explain that.

The following day the strapping sheriff went before the jury and testified behind closed doors. He was in there two hours. And afterwards, the only thing public he had to say was a terse "no comment."

At a coroner's hearing into Vickers' death prisoners from McCall's jail reportedly swore to a jury that the victim had been kicked by the sheriff and his deputies.

Bird Takes Off

JAMES MINER Sr., 52, of 2011 Olive Avenue, Sanford, was rushed to Florida Hospital by Herndon Ambulance Saturday morning after a shooting incident at the Goldstoro Bar. Miner was charged with two counts of attempt to commit murder after he apparently shot James Miner Jr. and Willie Butler. In a struggle for the gun, Miner Sr. was shot in the head. All three were taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital and Miner Sr. was transferred to Florida Hospital for treatment. He was released from the hospital and taken into custody by the Sanford Police Department, where he is now being held under a total $20,000 bond. These photos show the helicopter flying away from the hospital top photo after the patient was loaded aboard by doctors and a nurse (photo left) as the helicopter landed on a section of the hospital lawn. 'Convert' Elected Chairman

A convert to the Democratic party has been elected chairman of the local executive committee by a narrow margin.

Harry Kwiatkowski of Altamonte Springs, a registered Republican until 1970, received the nod of the membership over party regular and acting chairman, Kenneth Krause.

At the same time with resignation of Krause as vice chairman, a Longwood woman, member of the committee for only a few months, Mrs. Kay Ricketson, Rolling Hills, was named to that office.

Krause had assumed the chairmanship following the resignation of Mrs. Helen Fitts last month for health reasons. Under the new by-laws Kwiatkowski's term will expire in December and a new chairman will be elected in January.

Kwiatkowski is an active member of the South Seminole Jaycees and is on the steering committee in State Sen. Bill Gunter's move for a congressional seat and a principal in the campaign effort of Michael Hattaway, seeking to unseat County Commissioner Edward Yarbrough in the September primaries.

Charter Vote Tomorrow

By MARIAN BETHEA

NORTH ORLANDO—The municipal polls will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. tomorrow for qualified electors to vote upon ratification or rejection of the new charter.

Among other items, the charter will change the name of the municipality to Winter Springs and will provide for a city manager type government should the town increase to the size which would make this feasible.

According to Village Attorney Thomas Freeman there is no need for a city manager at the present, but the charter provides the flexibility to deal with the issue in the future.

Further, the proposed new charter provides for initiative, petitions and referendum upon the part of the citizens in either overturning council decisions or initiating new ones they wish passed by the city's governing body.

However, North Orlando resident John Ritch has voiced objections to several provisions of the charter, notably one which allows closed executive sessions, limited to its own membership, to discuss any matter which would tend to defame or impugn a person's character or reputation.

The provision states that no official action may be taken until a regular council meeting agenda, but Ritch claims this circumvents the state sunshine law and intends to pursue the matter "to the supreme court if necessary."

Freeman, when queried upon the issue said the section (4.13) of the charter was included in the model adopted by the Florida League of Municipalities and slipped by both the council and state legislature. However he said, the council has no intention of meeting in closed session or to violate the sunshine law.

The closed sessions are not the only provisions in the charter with which Ritch takes dissenting issue.

Ritch contends that section 4.14 provides for the levying of ad valorem taxes, when he

Sentencing On 'Pot' Postponed

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—After marathon deliberations totaling 15 hours, an eight-man four-woman jury has convicted three Georgia men of smuggling marijuana into the country.

Sentencing was indefinitely postponed by U.S. District Judge George C. Young.

Lemuel C. Stockmar, James Edwin Stephens and Ollie Duane Jones Sr. were found guilty Saturday night.

The prosecution had contended the three men brought marijuana to Florida from Jamaica via the Bahamas.

AT&T Seeks Hike; Management Blamed

By DAVID BURKE AP Business Writer.

NEW YORK (AP) — Telephone rates are going up in most of the country and American Telephone & Telegraph Co. last year's top money maker, is seeking another $1.2 billion in 1972 separate cases.

The reason AT&T needs so much money is because of poor management," says Asher Ende, a Federal Communications Commission attorney appointed to defend the public interest in one rate case. "If regulation merely covers up these mistakes, efficiency doesn't improve."

American Telephone says telephone charges have not kept pace with increases in other consumer prices, while inflation has hitten deeply into earnings. This reduces the attractiveness of Bell System stock and bonds, the company says, making it increasingly difficult to raise money to meet service demands.

"The increases are necessary so we can earn enough money to provide first class service," says F. Mark Garlinhouse, an AT&T vice president.

Since 1970, AT&T has boosted its rates some $1.7 billion a year or 10 per cent. It is now seeking another $1.2 billion a year in 18 separate rate cases around the country.

American Telephone is a giant holding company which owns or participates in 24 separate Bell companies and a long distance division. It operates about 100 million telephones in 48 states, 10 times the number of phones of its nearest competitor, General Telephone & Electronics, and handles about 80 per cent of the nation's telephone calls.

With profits from its manufacturing and research subsidiaries, it netted $2.3 billion in 1971, up 2 per cent from 1970. In comparison, General Motors, the world's largest industrial corporation, earned $1.5 billion last year. AT&T's first quarter profits this year were up 6 per cent to $52 million.

Telephone rates are set by local, state, or federal agencies, which try to strike a balance between consumer demands for reasonable rates and investor requirements for a fair rate of return. The Price Commission has decided to leave rate decisions in the hands of these agencies, within certain guidelines.

From 1960 through 1971, local telephone charges rose 11 per cent and long distance rates dropped a little over 4 per cent, while consumer prices rose nearly 37 per cent, AT&T claims.

Despite this, the rate of earnings during the first part of the '60s was climbing. Technical improvements, such as conversion to the direct dial system for long distance calling, produced sharp economies.

Telephone usage was increasing at a pace that could be handled, explains one industry analyst.

But beginning in 1969, telephone traffic nearly doubled its growth rate from that of the previous couple of years.

To meet the unexpected burst in demand, AT&T pumped vast sums of money into new plant construction. While inflation was rampant and interest rates were soaring, financing expenditures in 1969 jumped 56 per cent as the company gulped down $2.3 billion from bank loans, notes, and bond issues.

Since then, "Ma Bell's" appetite for new money has increased. AT&T raised $4.8 billion in 1971, accounting for about 11 per cent of all the new capital raised from stocks and bonds by American industry.

Interest expenses in 1971 more than tripled 1966 levels, while wage costs among the 24 Bell companies rose 70 per cent, AT&T says. Total expenses during the five-year period, it adds, increased by about two-thirds.

Service which had deteriorated at key cities around the country began to improve, according to a 20-city FCC survey. While New York and Boston still had problems and Atlanta, Milwaukee, and Pittsburgh developed new ones, the quality of service during the first 10 months of 1971 showed "a significant over-all improvement," over 1970.

Humphrey, taking his first weekend off since early January, made the comment in connection with statements that he would continue his own drive for the Democratic presidential nomination despite some setbacks. He began an intensive stretch run for convention delegates today with a trip to San Antonio for a meeting with Texas Democrats on the eve of their statewide party meeting.

McGovern won in Wisconsin, boosted by "a good Republican crossover," and got a "new life," Humphrey said. "Am that compounded with the fact that (Sen. Edmund S.) Muskie was dropping out, the media attention and public attention devoted to this so-called new face, even though George has been around a long time."

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York who had been considered McGovern's chief rival for more liberal support also left the race after the Wisconsin presidential primary.

McGovern has since moved into position as the frontrunner for the Democratic nomination. However, Humphrey insisted he had a chance to pull out the nomination in Miami Beach, Fla., next month on a late ballot.

Humphrey said he advised McGovern last weekend that "if I got out there, it would destroy any effectiveness I might have in convincing governors and other Democratic leaders to support McGovern's candidacy later on."

Even if he fails to win the nomination, Humphrey said, "I still will be a senator and have a good deal of freedom. It's not like 1968."

'He Was Ready To Drop'

By LEE BYRD Associated Press Writer

WAVENHOLM, Miss. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey says Sen. George McGovern was close to pulling out of the White House race in advance of the Wisconsin presidential primary April 4.

"I know a lot about the background on this," Humphrey said in an interview. "We kept pretty good tabs on each other. He was almost ready to drop out in Wisconsin."

Fireballs Light Up N. Vietnam Skies

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. jets left a 10-mile stretch of North Vietnam's northeast rail line in China and about 60 stranded freight cars in flames Sunday and shot down two more MIG jets, the U.S. Command announced today.

Large orange fireballs lit up the skies 25 miles south of the Chinese border after about 20 Air Force F4 Phantoms attacked the rail line and a string of freight cars 50 to 60 miles northeast of Hanoi, pilots reported.

Two Navy Phantoms from the 7th Fleet Sea Force, a pair of MIG1 interceptors 26 miles south of Hanoi and brought them down with missiles, the U.S. Command said. There was no damage to the two Phantoms, the command said, but a Navy A6 was lost on Sunday 45 miles south of Hanoi and the two crewmen were reported missing.

The end-of-war amendment, introduced in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., would require unconditional withdrawal of ground troops from Vietnam Aug. 31 and all other U.S. military operations in and over all of Indochina.

Funds to support U.S. participation in Indochina hostilities would be prohibited upon reaching a cease-fire agreement between the United States and the North Vietnamese, 10 years of U.S. war prisoners, and an accounting by North Vietnam for Americans missing in action.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is expected to lead opposition to the Mansfield amendment, as he did last month to the end-of-war bill.

Stennis told the Senate a month ago that with the North Vietnamese engaged "in a time-consuming offensive" it is too early to buckle down and stand firm.

Hundreds of other raids were carried out across North Vietnam during the weekend, and a full-scale bombing attack Sunday by B-52 bombers attacked supply lines north of the demilitarized zone for the fifth successive day.

North Vietnam claimed that three fighter-bombers were shot down Sunday and several pilots captured. The U.S. Command reported the loss of one jet, a Navy A6, on Sunday and said both crewmen were missing.

Foreign Aid Debate Begins For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins debate today on a $1.5 billion foreign military aid bill cutting off funds for U.S. troops in Vietnam after Aug. 31.

Prolonged deliberation is anticipated. A similar end-of-war issue, ultimately withdrawn, delayed Senate passage of the State Department authorization, bill for a month earlier this year.

The end-of-war amendment, introduced in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., would require unconditional withdrawal of ground troops from Vietnam Aug. 31 and all other U.S. military operations in and over all of Indochina.

Nine Persons In Narc Raid 'Joint' Effort Successful

By GARY TAYLOR

Nine persons were arrested Friday night in a raid made up of agents of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the Sanford Police Department. In addition, Altamonte Springs patrolman Richard Lasse arrested two students from Gainesville on narcotics charges, and "Candyberry" patrolman Charles Mott arrested a Casselberry man on possession of marijuana charges.

Lt. A. F. Davis, county narcotics squad reported a Joint Sanford Police-Seminole County law enforcement team made up of five county and three city officers, armed with warrants from Justice of the Peace Charles Walls, raided a house on SR 436 between Oviedo and Goldenrod.

A quantity of marijuana, narcotic paraphernalia and pills of a type presently unknown were confiscated in the raid. Sanford Police and the sheriff's department have been working together on all narcotic investigations in recent weeks. "When we go on a raid, they go with us and when they go on a raid, we are called in," Sheriff John Foltz told The Herald. The cooperation between the two departments has resulted in more drug arrests recently.

Lasse reported that he stopped a car on 436 for a traffic violation and it resulted in two arrests. Michael Gary McCulloch, 18, of Gainesville, a student at Santa Fe Junior College, was charged with possession of marijuana, possession of narcotic paraphernalia and possession of a concealed firearm. McCulloch posted $2,500 bond on each charge.

A passenger in the car, Richard Bruce Montgomery, 23, also of Gainesville and a student at the University of Florida, was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of narcotic paraphernalia. He posted $2,500 bond on each charge.

Casselberry policeman Charles Mott charged Thomas William Smyth, 24, Queens Mirror Court, Casselberry, with possession of marijuana, possession of narcotic paraphernalia and possession of a concealed firearm. Mott let the officer search the car.

Wayne Barker, 19, of 619 Mariposa Street, Orlando; Daniel Eugene Lloyd, 20, of 6200 Basia Street, Orlando. All four were held under a $200 bond.

North Orlando To Vote On Charter

opposes due to the fact "there are many people living in 235 homes who cannot afford to pay property taxes."

Ritch quoted Freeman and Mayor Granville Brown concerning the provision at a recent meeting explaining the charter, and Freeman said he would sign a council action and there was no present inclination. Freeman said in the provision is in the charter because, as he interprets it, state law states that all charters which have prohibition against ad valorem taxes are null and void. Mayor Brown said there were no plans at present to impose the tax, but in the future it is a possibility.

When Ritch questioned the city's property tax would be in the next five years, Freeman said he didn't know and would not "guesstimate."

Ritch contends there are too many "ifs" in the charter, and cited as an example the provision for initiative petition. This necessitates five qualified voters to create a committee which must file with the city clerk. The petition must then be signed by 18 per cent of the qualified voters and is then placed on the ballot for referendum. It automatically becomes law if ratified by 51 per cent of the electorate.

Ritch contends this is a cumbersome procedure and that people will become disinterested. Then too, he says, "if no technically it is found by the city attorney, it will come out to nothing," any qualified attorney can always find loopholes in the petition and this will discourage people.

This Sanford Herald has presented opposing sides of the issue for the consideration of the voters tomorrow. Freeman and Mayor Brown contend it is a good charter with "nothing regressive or negative" and that "it is good for the village."

"Several members of the state legislature have stated it is one of the finest charters which has ever been introduced in the legislature,"

Ritch, conversely, maintains he would place the blame of the alleged violation of the sunshine law upon the legislature. "But then," he says, "it's like I've always said, if you give, if through the wash long enough, eventually it will come out white."

Area Deaths

Dyson Services Tuesday

Funeral services for Fred A. Dyson, 76, 201 W. 17th Street, prominent Sanford resident, who died at 10 a.m. Sunday at his home, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church with Rev. Grady Snowden officiating.

3 More Killed In Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — Three more civilians and another British soldier were killed in Northern Ireland Sunday, raising the death toll to 367 in the three years of violence in the province.

Two of the civilian deaths came in a five-hour gun battle between the British army and rival Roman Catholic and Protestant factions around the Catholic Ardoye district of Belfast.

A military spokesman said the Protestants and Catholics exchanged several hundred shots after a youth was shot and killed. He said troops swept into the area, came through heavy fire, suffered two wounded, but hit five gunmen with return fire.

Survivors include two sons, Ronald Harry Heffeldt Hurst, 66, of Redding Gardens died Saturday night at Seminole Memorial Hospital. She was a native of Alexander, N.Y., and had lived in the Sanford area for several years. She was a Presbyterian and member of Women of the Moose, Batavia, N.Y.

Survivors include her husband, Willie Jackson, 66, of Oviedo; five sons, Douglas H. and James D. both of Oviedo; William, Geneva, Travis P. of Twin Harle, Calif.; and Cecil H. Jackson of Jacksonville.

500 Missing

Volunteers and guardsmen have been at work since daylight Saturday, hours after a wave crashed through an earthen dam at rain-swollen Canyon Lake on the western edge of Rapid City.

The water smashed through the city, flipping cars, crushing trees and lifting homes off their foundations and slamming them into a heap of splinters blocks away.

Civil Defense officials estimated the missing at 500, and said today that it was impossible to estimate the number of injured.

At least 3,000 persons were left homeless, and damage was estimated at more than $100 million.

Maj. Gen. Duane L. "Duke" Corning, commanding 2,500 National Guardsmen in Rapid City, said about 1,000 men worked into the night "turning over any debris that might hide a body."

Police Are Kept Busy

By GARY TAYLOR

Sanford Police Sgt. Chuck Tate at 10:30 p.m. last night arrested Robert Charles Laffler, 28, of 109 S. Mangatone, Sanford, who attempted armed robbery and carrying a concealed weapon. Laffler had allegedly attempted to hold up the Lil' General Store at 24th Street and French Avenue on June 8. Detective Gary Swain handled the investigation.

Walleys were missing from two rooms at the Holiday Inn last night. According to Patrolman Thomas Bernosky, both rooms had been left locked and there was no sign of forced entry. Thomas E. Light of Pinch, West Virginia reported two walleys containing $110 cash, $600 in travelers checks and several credit cards missing. Dwight Armstrong of Fort Pine, Alabama reported his wallet containing $210 cash and several credit cards stolen. Swain is handling the investigation.

Young People Get Center Stage!

On the cover of "Southern Bell Views," a question is asked that is so general in its importance and so urgent in its application that we repeat it here: "Young People Have Something To Say. Is Anyone Listening?"

With its usual expertise this corporation gives some answers in the magazine which reflect the approach of management to the overall problem of recruitment and retention of employees.

Here is one nugget we have mined out of the publication. It is the opinion of the young people themselves, all of their own. Being considered as an individual by the company is immensely important to them.

Delete the words — by the company — and here is a statement which is a truism for guidance in the treatment of youth in every area of activity.

Especially is this true if one digs below the surface of those who are, by nature, outgoing and considers the ones who may be slow-starters but reliable and effective on the long pull.

Public reaction to the excesses of young people in the past decade may have done more harm than good when this generation, now entering the world of daily work, is viewed by lenses ground with those prejudices doing the shaping.

There are more and more witnesses which indicate that the youth of the 70s will come into maturity with improved preparation. Again referring to "Views," Southern Bell's poll of 4,000 young employees revealed that "the young person brings to the business more depth and academic intelligence than ever before."

"This generation," the poll indicated, "has had educational exposure which sets them apart from previous generations." Thus this study confirms other conclusions which give a rather high standing to the young people who will be the controlling force in the years to come.

One of the positive answers to the intriguing query on the cover is being made right now in the presidential campaign. Certainly politicians in both major parties are not only listening. They are acting. They are molding the show-down election campaigns with more than a little attention, being given the newly enfranchised 18-21 voters.

For President Nixon this is a two-edged sword which cuts both ways. It showed its edge in the mid-term elections. Republican moves have done all that could be done to blunt the edge since then.

Time Ticks On

Watch & Clock Collectors Note!

By FRANK MACOMBER

There are clock watchers, and then there are clock and watch collectors. These are a rather nebulous group of folks who really make things tick when they hold a convention of the National Association of Watch & Clock Collectors.

Evers Hushman of Silver, Ill., a retired industrial plant engineer who gathers up timepieces as a hobby, is vice president of the national association. Retired only a few weeks, Hushman has a lot of time on his hands now.

Timepiece collecting, says Hushman in an interview, is a nonprofit sort of hobby, unlike collecting diamonds and rubies, and the association members like it that way. Start making money on your hobby, Hushman points out, and immediately the association was valued in the thousands of dollars. If you have all the right rare, old and unusual timepieces, or the name of the maker of a few centuries ago, your collection could be valued up to $40,000. That, however, is unusual, concedes Hushman.

Timepiece collectors, he says, are beginning to shy away from publicity. The reason: burglars watch the newspapers for descriptions of valuable timepieces collected, and then break in and grab them while the owners are away from home.

"Recently a burglar broke into the home of a timepiece collector, ate everything in the kitchen and carried off the whole collection," Hushman recalled.

"We just can't talk too much about the types of clocks and watches we have, their history, their rarity or their value anymore, for fear the wrong people are listening or reading about them," he says sadly.

"Yet, like it is with every hobby, we're proud of our collections and would like to boast about them, or at least talk about them a little. We used to, but not anymore."

Most timepiece collectors, says Hushman, also are history buffs, so far as the origins of watches and clocks are concerned. This is what makes timepiece gathering so educational, he points out.

"Nobody really knows when the first clocks were made," Hushman said. "It happened some time between 900 and 1000 A.D., but there's a 400-year gap there during which the first timepieces were made, probably in Europe and most likely in England, France or Italy."

Some of the most valuable clocks in terms of their age and scarcity, are those with wooden works, says Hushman.

"Some collectors claim the wooden clocks are the oldest, but that's not so," he emphasizes. "The iron and brass works for clocks came first, but they had to be put aside during the American Revolution and the War of 1812 because the metal was needed for arms. So the clockmakers made the works of wood."

Summitry Note

Mexico President Has Own 'Summit'

By DON OAKLEY

President Nixon's summit conference with the heads of the Soviet government in Moscow is to be followed hard upon by a mini-meeting with the president of Mexico in Washington.

President Luis Echeverria Alvarez will come to the United States on a seven-day visit starting June 15. His itinerary includes stopovers in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Antonio, as well as the Washington meeting with President Nixon.

In the nature of things, his visit is likely to be overshadowed by continuing analysis of the dramatic and historic records reached in Moscow. But the agenda of matters to be discussed in Washington is no less important in the eyes of our southern neighbors than were the Nixon-Brezhnev talks to Americans.

Mexico and the United States do not, fortunately, have the problems of Moscow. Chief among these is the problem of other sore points. Chief among these is the problem of the Colorado River water received by Mexico from the state of Arizona.

U.S. agricultural and water practices have not only been scouring the land for farmers in the Mexican Valley for a decade but have been scouring U.S.-Mexican relations for as long. Mexican experts think one solution would be to construct a canal to divert contaminated waters before they enter the Colorado.

Other key issues of concern to both countries include technology exchanges, the situation of migratory workers and trade. Sources close to President Echeverria indicate, however, that a major topic of discussion will be his belief that the rich, industrialized nations of the world should play a larger role in the development and progress of poor nations, without interfering in those nations' internal affairs.

President Echeverria put forth his philosophy in an address before the United Nations-sponsored conference on trade and development (UNCTAD) in Chile in April. He noted that while there had been an unprecedented expansion in world trade in recent years, it has primarily favored the more prosperous nations and has resulted in only minimal benefits for countries in the process of development. Despite anyone's intentions, the interest change has only served to widen even more the gap between nations.

Recent protectionist measures and the monetary crisis confirm this trend, said Echeverria. Economic inequalities are reflected in the voting power held by the large nations within international financing organizations.

He called on the International Monetary Fund to adopt a more democratic method of reaching its decisions through greater participation of the developing nations, warning that no peace can be established if based on the discontent of the great number of its inhabitants.

"The progress of human society is from new on indivisible," he said. "Whatever happens in one country affects all the others and conditions its own evolution. It is not only by arms that peace can be destroyed. We shall make ready for the 21st century only insofar as we comprehend that we all share a common destiny."

If the United States is the leader of the free world, the industrialized democracies and the S.S.R. and China the leaders of the Communist world, Mexico can lay claim to being the leading spokesman for the interests of the developing or so-called third world nations. This could be the real import of the Nixon-Echeverria mini-summit in Washington.

What Is The True 'Will of God'?

By REV. DAVID POLING

The teaching of the church is called theology and those professionally responsible are known as Christian educators.

Pastors, priests, preachers, clergymen—all are theologians and all have regular tasks in the teaching of the whole church.

Christian educators concentrate on the parish level and give particular leadership to young people and children in the church school. And that is a tough assignment.

Like all education, Christian nurture is going through the squeeze and upheaval of change. And children have their own world-view even from the playpen, sandbox and jungle gym surroundings. One Christian educator tried to ask students of 7½ watching age who God is and these responses were gathered:

"I don't know who God is. We're not up to that yet."

"God is who tells you when you have to die and does not matter how old you are, either. You have to die."

"God is someone you can hear inside and you feel all over but you can't see him or touch him. But that isn't so important."

"God is a spirit, not like a ghost or scary or anything, but like a big person who isn't really there."

"God is whatever you think he is, but not a girl."

His ideas about God and his working papers in theology. This is true of the man in the pulpit as well as the family in the pew.

Pierra Teilhard de Chardin, scientist and theologian, urged his friends and readers to accept the universe with all its upheavals and accidental deaths, for that is the ultimate resolution was in the hands of God. Yet he urged man to assume the God-given role of co-creator of the world through his own risk and thinking against alarm and accident. This was truly the "will of God."

BERRY'S WORLD

Donna's Deliberations

Donna's Deliberations

By DONNA ESTES

The voters of the City of Casselberry have made it quite clear that they do not want an ad valorem tax for any reason. Not only are they not willing to have one levied for acquisition of the Land O'Lakes Golf course and land, but the feeling is just as strongly against a tax for paving and drainage.

A number of residents in South Seminole's largest city appear somewhat confused about the City Council's powers.

The city charter approved by the Legislature and passed in a July, 1968 referendum of the people of the municipality in Article 3, section 4, subsection A provides that the Council has the power to collect all forms of revenue. However, the same section points out that by petition of 20 per cent of the registered voters submitted within 30 days of such action to the Council, the matter must be put to a vote of the people.

The Vote Tuesday was a straw ballot. That is one method of determining the will of the people. But although Council still has the authority to levy a tax despite the fact that the three questions were defeated by a four-to-one vote, it is very unlikely they will attempt to do so. Members of the city government — mayor and five councilmen — are elected by the people and any effort to levy the tax would appear to be politically unwise and in fact foolish.

Political Winds Blowing

Sparking of elections in Casselberry, the word is that former councilman Dick Wirt, Bill Grier and Louis Kirby are considering running again this coming December. According to the rumor mills, Grier is considering the office of mayor from which Curtis Leighty is expected to resign in time for the December term elections.

Three seats on the City Council are up in December including those held by Harry Sambrook, John Leighty and Tom Napier. Although Napier is not talking, he is expected to resign from his Council post later this year to seek either a legislative seat or again try for the tax assessor's office in the Democratic primaries.

Sambrook has said he will not run again for the Council, but he is being pressured by many friends and supporters to change his mind. Leighty is also expected to stick in there and try for another term.

Must Resign To Run

In countynwide politics meanwhile, Missouri Belle Swafford, candidate for the school board seat currently held by Pat Biale, and Carleton Henley, announced candidate for the school superintendent spot will have to resign from their precinct posts on the local Democratic executive committee when they begin their campaigns. And if Napier runs for office countywide, he will also have to resign from the committee.

Tom Radloff, councilman in Altamonte Springs is eyeing Al Davis's county commission seat and indicated to this reporter he is seriously considering throwing his hat in the Republican ring. Talk is that former Altamonte councilman Bob Newell, a Republican is also looking at the same seat.

Construction Up

New construction took an upswing in Seminole and its six cities in May following a slow-down during the previous month due to building materials shortage. For the first five months of the year new building valued $73,242,875 compared to the entire 12 months of 1971, totaled a banner year, at $101 million.

Seminole County building department for the 31 days of May issued 382 permits valued at $7,451,411 in building a five-month total of $33,344,939. May's building permits included 182 single family homes valued at $3,398,022.

Building in Altamonte Springs continued at peak levels with 44 permits issued last month for value of $5,059,149. Included among the permits were Chatham Village $1,886,258; Holiday Inn motel, $1.5 million and Piedmont motel, $1.2 million. For the first five months of the year new building total value was $22,412,472.

Casselberry recovered from its new construction slump with issuance of 540 permits for new construction value of $4,106,497. Included was the 184-unit Maywood Apartments worth $1,450,000 and 16 single family homes worth $238,688.

Total new construction value in Casselberry during the first five months is $6,972,630.

In the county seat city of Sanford, building for the period January through May has totaled $5,930,822. During May 240 building permits were issued for value of new construction at $612,344 including 26 single family homes valued at $202,500.

Construction continued high during May in the Village of North Orlando with 25 building permits issued for value of $493,500 including 19 single family homes worth $485,000 to bring total new building there during the first five months to $2,405,550.

Longwood with the highest rate of new construction in its history at $1,557,887 during the first five months, issued 34 permits in May for a value $1,557,309. Included was 17 single family homes valued at $1,295,992; duplexes, $205,813 and one industrial building $40,000.

Some $1,518,400 has been recorded in the City of Oviedo during the months of January through May in new construction including $306,090 for 12 permits last month. Permits were issued for 11 single family homes valued at $238,000 and one commercial building worth $70,000 in May.

Total value of building permits issued by Seminole and the six cities in May was $18,553,406 compared to $12,525,412 in April; $21,028,344 in March; $13,100,676 in February and $7,306,832 in January.

Bridegroom Jailed For Making Threat

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A teen-age bridegroom jailed here for making a collect call to the White House and threatening to blow it up if he didn't get to speak to President Nixon, was wanted by Indiana police, authorities said Sunday.

Brevard County sheriff's agent Gary Barringer said he was directing an investigation of the alleged White House threat in cooperation with the U.S. Secret Service.

Perry, married only last Monday, will have a court-appointed attorney representing him at Monday's arraignment, Barringer said.

He said investigators have found evidence that Perry over-went to Washington or ever had a bomb.

Perry, an orphan from Indiana, reportedly lived in Brevard County, home of the Cape Kennedy spaceport, for about two months prior to his arrest.

He was employed by a Coca manufacturer of camper tops. His boss, Jack Condon, said Perry "objected to the establishment" and often criticized actions taken by the government.

He was arrested Saturday at a Merritt Island telephone booth.

Donkeys Draped In Bright Banners

By PAT LEISNER

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A pair of donkeys draped in bright campaign banners completed with country and western stars for the attention of George Wallace fans Sunday as the hill-billy hit "Almost Persuaded" blared at "Wallace's Woodstock."

The day-long fund raising Alabama governor was the work of Dewey Smith, who admits he stole the idea from "The Liberals."

Smith was Polk County campaign coordinator for Wallace's successful bid in Florida's March 14 Democratic presidential primary.

"Watching television about six weeks ago I got the idea," said Smith. "Barbara Streisand and some of the other big name show business people were putting on a shindig for George McGovern."

"If the liberals can do it, we can do it," he grinned. "And here it is—Wallace's Woodstock."

The donkeys were carted in an open trailer among the throngs at the sprawling Old Plantation Music Park and later hitched to a tree for the benefit of camera fans.

As the animal van would be draped with the 40-acre park, canned music blared over a loudspeaker hookup on a truck competing with jump jockeys and guitar bands on the open air stage.

Joining Bluegrass stars Tammy Wynette and Ferlin Husky was George Wallace Jr., stumping for his wounded father before the GOP delegates convened June 21, he said.

"And we know how to deal with voters and provocateurs," Camil said. "Anybody who starts making a hassle will be grabbed by our people, and they might not like the way they'll be treated."

The 26-year-old former Marine sergeant who was wounded three times in Vietnam said "our medics are former corporals and they're wearing red cross armbands. If they see a policeman or anybody lying on the ground bleeding, they'll help him."

"But if the cops start beating or arresting these medics, we'll definitely frown on that," he added.

Camil said the antiwar veterans want to keep peace in the streets and his violence would only help President Nixon.

"We may ask a patient to bring a portion of her usual dinner right here to our office and then hook her up with electrodes and the shocking mechanism," he said. "One of us may sit opposite her and act as a shocker."

Dr. Stokols said the patient soon begins to "chain together" non-eating behavior to take up time at the table instead of simply sitting there eating.

Parker, Link, Baker And Henson Win Nearly 90 Compete In Baseball Contest

By GARY TAYLOR
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

Nearly 90 boys, age nine through 14, showed up for the county-wide competition in the Major League Baseball Pitch, Hit and Throw Contest, sponsored by Phillips 66, held Saturday at the Ft. Mellon Park in Sanford.

The winner in each age group will advance to the district competition at Tinker Field this Saturday. Both the winner and runner-up in each age group received a plaque from Seminole Petroleum, local sponsor of the contest.

Michael Henson, 406 Mead Drive, Oviedo, was the winner in the 12-year-old division. He put two out of five pitches in the target, hit the ball 241 1/2 feet and scored 140 points on his throw for a total score of 46 1/2. Cary Cable was runner-up in that category with a score of 442.

The Longwood youth hit on two pitches, hit the ball 162 feet and scored a perfect 200 on his throw. The longest hit recorded in the 12-year-old category was by Tommy Kelley of Sanford, who hit the ball 187 1/2 feet. Paul Galm, also of Sanford, hit the ball 176 1/2 feet and Roy Jay Ferguson of Longwood recorded a 152 1/2 foot hit. Randy Hayes of Maitland scored highest in the pitching part of the contest with three out of five on his throw and hit the ball 115 feet. Lawrence Koste of Maitland scored a perfect 200 in the throwing competition in the 11-year-old category with a 178 1/2 foot hit. Gary Goebel of Altamonte Springs was second with a 153 foot hit.

Robert W. Parker, 2464 Sunderland Road, Maitland, won the nine-year-old competition with 358 points. He was on target for one pitch, hit the ball 143 feet and scored 173 points on his throw. Gregory stake of Maitland was runner-up with 330 1/2 points. He scored on two pitches, hit the ball 180 1/2 feet and scored 100 points on the throw. Steve Whitley of Lake Mary was third with 173 points. Roger Dale Parker of Sanford was second in the 10-year-old category with a 144 foot hit.

The four winners now advance to the district competition. They will be seeking to climb the ladder to the finals which will be held at the All-Star game July 25 in Atlanta.

Burrows Now A Real Trooper

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — One of the superstars of Jacksonville University's basketball squad—seven-footer Pembroke Burrows—has joined the state police riot squad and the young black athlete calls it "a boyhood dream come true."

He is only the third member of his race ever to join the Florida Highway Patrol.

"If they put me in a real riot situation and I'm on the other side from a group of blacks, I'll enforce the law without regard to race," said Burrows, who set field goal records at JU and Brevard Junior College in Cocoa.

"I always wanted to be a state trooper, ever since I was a little boy in West Palm Beach."

Last winter during my senior year in Jacksonville I worked for the Duval County Sheriff's Department as a counselor for juveniles. It was part of a program to keep kids out of trouble. I led the 25-year-old police trooper, who troopered in physical education.

He applied for the patrol job last November and became a trooper last month following graduation from JU. He looks forward to three months of "boot camp," as he calls it, starting July 16 in Tallahassee.

"The highway patrol is a great organization. I love it. I mean I really like it."

He has encountered practically no discrimination since joining the force, he said, and urged other young blacks to follow in his giant footsteps.

"The patrol has very high qualifications. Anybody who can meet those qualifications can get the job. The pay could be better, but it's a good job," said the 230-pounder.

Burrows said he makes $596 a month. He rents a room in a private Pensacola home, where he lives alone.

Burrows, who lists football and swimming as hobbies, didn't play basketball until his second year at Jacksonville High School in West Palm Beach. He went on to capture all-district and allstate awards in junior college.

What does he think about black militants and civil rights movements?

"No comment," said the new trooper.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

13—A Tactical Tip

A stroke. For another thing, he probably will have a better shot to the pin from the safe side.

Here is what I mean. If there's a sand bunker 200 yards off the tee on the right side of the fairway and another one 270 yards off the tee on the left side, the average player should aim down the left side. I would do just the opposite, but that's because I consistently can fly the ball over a bunker 200 yards away and might hit a drive 270 yards.

If you can clear that 200-yard bunker seven times out of 10, I still would advise you to aim away from it. The percentages dictate that you aim down the safe side, and don't let your pride convince you otherwise. I don't know many average golfers who are very good at hitting out of fairway bunkers. I'm not.

Riva Ridge Trainer Earns Fishing Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — Trainer Lucien Laurin is going fishing and while he is waiting for the fish to bite he can think about the hook he has into racing's 3-year-old division.

Laurin trains Riva Ridge, the Kentucky Derby winner who scored a smashing seven-length victory in Saturday's Belmont Stakes. And he also conditions three other 3-year-olds called Upper Case, Spanish Riddle and Quill Gordon.

This quartet has scored a total of 10 victories, four seconds and two thirds in 22 starts, accounted for eight stakes triumphs and earned more than $650,000 this year.

Spanish Riddle, owned by Roy Anderson—the other three run for Meadow Stable—made his debut on the grass by winning the one-mile fifth race at Belmont Park Saturday. Quill Gordon, also starting on grass for the first time, was out of the money.

Then, three races later, Riva Ridge, the 1971 2-year-old champion, bounced back from his fourth-place finish in the Preakness to establish his leadership of the 3-year-old division by running the third fastest 1 1/4 miles in the 104-year history of the Belmont.

"He's a wonder horse, that's what he is," Laurin said after Riva Ridge was timed in 2:28 over a fast track despite kicking himself in the paddock before the race. Gallant Man set the stakes and track record of 2:29:5-8 in 1957 and Stage Door Johnny won 2:27:4-8 in 1968.

Riva Ridge, who in his career has never surrendered a lead, won in the 100-yard under Turcotte on his ninth start and stayed there for his first stakes victory, four wins in six starts this year and 11 triumphs in 15 career outings. He paid $2.20 as the favorite and earned $93,540 from a purse of $125,400 to add his two-year bankroll to $882,275.

With Preakness winner Bee Bee not in the race, the co-second choices of a crowd of 54,525 were Key To The Mint and No Le Have who finished fourth and sixth, respectively, in the 10-horse field. Hurlantia was second and Cloudy Dawn third.

Practice, A Daily Routine SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — When 22-year-old Patty Johnson finishes her morning run as the driver of a school bus, she heads for the high school track near her home for the practice which is a part of her daily routine.

Patty is the nation's 1971 indoor hurdling champion and will represent this country in the Olympic Games. Munich is in late August. And she's "almost a sure bet" to bring back a gold medal, according to Richard McArthur of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union.

She will also be a participant in the first international track meet for women June 9 in Montreal, Que.

According to McArthur, who is the AAU's communications director, women's track is "probably the fastest growing sport in the country today."

Casselberry Legion Tops Leesburg, Winter Park

By HERKY CUSH

It proved a productive weekend for the Casselberry Legion baseball club as they picked up a pair of big victories, downing Leesburg, 13-8 on Friday night and taking the measure of Winter Park, 3-0 Saturday.

Friday night saw the Casselberry Legion pound out 13 hits in rolling over Leesburg at the Lynn High School field. Five different players had two hits each for Casselberry against the locals of Leesburg but once during the game and that was a wild throw to first which came with the bases jammed.

Leesburg moved out in front with its two runs in the top of the second frame but by the time the inning was over they were behind by the same total as the Casselberry crew tallied four times in their half of the inning.

Larry Brown opened the Casselberry second inning with a sharp single. Walks to Larry Churnat and Mike Massey loaded the sacks for Sam Parker. Parker delivered a clutch single scoring Brown and Churnat. Mike Weirich followed with another single that counted Massey and Parker for the 4-2 Casselberry edge.

Two runs in each of the third and fourth frames made the Casselberry lead to 8-2. Casselberry hurler Bob Meadows, who had control problems all day long, was particularly wild in the sixth when he walked four Leesburg hitters. The four walks, a single and a big error helped Leesburg score four times in the sixth. The error was a wild throw to first which came with the bases jammed.

Leesburg closed to 8-7 with another tally in their half of the seventh but a five run outburst in the bottom of the same inning by Casselberry put the local Legion crew in command once again.

In the Casselberry seventh, Chuck Manning ripped a single and a double to score two runs. The only run Churnat really needed was provided in the second inning. Single runs were also added in the third and fifth frames by the mates of Churnat. Casselberry's run in the second was the result of Brown's single to right, a walk to Parker and Brian Helms' two out single between the third baseman and shortstop.

In the third frame Payne led off the with shot over the centerfield fence for a booming home run. The lead run of the day came in the fifth after Stephenson singled and Shea walked. On a pickoff attempt to get Shea the ball was thrown wildly and Stephenson was able to score from second.

Churnat struck out seven and walked but one batter in case to his whitewash. He scattered four hits and was over in all real serious situations. Payne was the top sticker in the third. Brown also chipped in with a two hit effort for the second straight game, pounding two singles.

Next action for the Casselberry Post will come tomorrow night when they travel to Deland to meet the Deland Legion at Conrad Park. Game time is set for 7 p.m.

There's no place like home—except if you're the Cincinnati Reds. Then it doesn't matter where you play.

Reds improved their first-place margin in one game over the Dodgers. Coincidentally, the Pirates' victory cut into New York's lead as the Mets dropped to a half-game advantage in the East by losing 4-2 to the Houston Astros. Lake Cincinnati, Pittsburgh has been one of the hottest teams of late—winning 21 of 26 games.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Atlanta Braves 3-1. The San Diego Padres won from the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 in 10 innings and the Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 4-0 in the first game of a doubleheader before dropping the nightcap 3-1. Cincinnati's skunked 16 hits.

Dear Abby

Suspect V. D.? Don't postpone checkup

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a good friend who is my age (16). We are very close and tell each other everything. Well, my friend thinks she has V. D., but she's afraid to go to a doctor.

She is planning on being a Junior Counselor at a summer camp where she has been a camper for many years. I tell her she has to go to a doctor before she goes to camp, because she might spread around whatever she has, and that would be just terrible.

Abby, she is so frightened and stubborn. How can I make her go to a doctor? Her family doctor is a friend of her parents.

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Tell her to telephone the County Health Department and tell them her problem. She will be examined (and treated if necessary) without her parents' knowledge or consent. If she is too frightened to do this, ask her to write to me and I will make the appointment for her. Instruct that she act TODAY, and please let me hear from you again.

DEAR ABBY: A Hurt Mother wrote that her son was being married at a big fancy church wedding. She said she had a beautiful unmarried daughter who was 23, tall and slim who wasn't even asked to be in the wedding party.

Without knowing any of the facts, I'll bet I know why they didn't ask that girl to be in the wedding party. She was TOO beautiful, and the bride didn't want any competition.

SAME EXPERIENCE

DEAR SAME: That's a possibility that almost every mother would find easy to believe.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a very happy marriage. At least we did until something happened which has put a strain on it.

On my husband's last birthday, his sister and her husband gave him a large (practically life-sized) framed painting of a nude woman. Abby, I am not a prude, but I don't care for the painting, and I don't want it displayed in our home.

My husband has been rather passive about it, but when I suggested we exchange it for another one, he refused. I think it time he will probably hang it.

I don't like my relationship with my sister in law was good, but now it has turned. Am I wrong to object, and have you any suggestions?

ANNNOYED

DEAR ANNNOYED: You're not wrong. I suggest you remind your husband that it's his home, too, and that you're entitled to a voice in what shall be displayed there.

If he wants to hang it, tell him to put it where he can enjoy it and it won't bother you. [Like in his place of work, his closet, or wherever.]

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL WHO WRITE: REQUESTING THE RECIPE FOR MY MOTHER IN LAW'S FABULOUS SWEET AND SOUR SAUCE. Sorry, I don't have it. Nobody has. She never measures anything.

Problem? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6796, L. A., CALIF. 90068 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES. Now you are able to control your thoughts and go along with others. You can benefit from a new course of action whereby you can arrive at a meeting of minds whether it be in relation to financial or other important material interests.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have to visualize more abundance and then you can make plans that will bring added influence. Consult an expert in financial matters for the advice you need.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Clear up personal problems by concentrating on all contributing factors. Listen to what successful persons have to suggest. Think logically. Show that you have wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Not a good day for outside activities but fine for office or home duties. Prepare now to what success in the future. Follow your hunches which are accurate right now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good day for gaining your career aims and adding to present prestige. Good friends can be helpful in solving a problem you have. Confide in them, and you'll win.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) It's the right time to be with higher-ups and giving their support for your particular aims. If you handle a civic matter well you will benefit. Show your fine ability.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have new ideas that should be talked over with experts before you put them in operation or you could get into trouble. You are highly inspired and can get much done.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have excellent ideas now which can help you get ahead if you do something constructive about them now. Listen to the advice of experts and become highly intelligent.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over a new idea with an associate who can assist you to make it a successful venture. Make it a fine mutual undertaking. Strive for the goodwill of those important to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you study the major points of an important plan you will know exactly what to expect. Take the time to improve your appearance. Put your best foot forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you put your creative talents to work early, you can make this a most delightful day. Show that you are an enthusiastic person. Showing more affection to mate is wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use diplomacy when dealing with kin at home or you could get into trouble with them. Show kindness instead of criticism. Find right methods for gaining your aims.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have right system now for handling regular routines. You will accomplish much more if you do your shopping early. Keep active and you will get twice as much done as before.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those determined young people who can finish whatever is once started, that person will be able to make a success of life earlier than most. There is a practical bent to the nature that is fine for whatever has to do with finances, and would do well in such fields as property sales, purchases, insurance, banking and law.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

MRS. PAT BURKETT, chairman of planning and zoning committee for Seminole County League of Women Voters, reported on proposed park plans including new location for Sanford Zoo.

Public Informed At Parks Forum

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
Continuing with the "Saga of the Parklands for Seminole County" — this time dealing with the Zoological proposal for development of the western Lake Monroe site and the tentative proposals for the development of planning and zoning committee for the Seminole County League of Women Voters and member of the County planning committee, opened a most interesting forum to provide information to the public. She said that the three sites already acquired for parklands are the two on Lake Monroe and about 300 acres on Lake Jessup near Big Tree. The county is negotiating for additional land at Lake Jessup and on Lake Howell. "The County is in the market of a pretty swimming lake, if it can find one," she commented. Mrs. Burkett showed aerial views of the site on Lake Monroe being considered for the Zoological and Botanical Gardens. "As seen from Lake Monroe, there is a beautiful shoreline along 17-92. In the area, there is a swampy river containing rare bald cypress, flood plain, high ground. A proposal donated by Environmental Design Group places the animals in specially designed habitats, with raised walkways around the perimeter of the open areas for easy and safe viewing by the public. The projected plans are designed to blend in with the total environment. "As one of my fifth grade students said, it looks like it is a park to me."

Husband Drowns; Wife Helps Others

By JAMES WILSON

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Joy Medley and her husband Bill were Salvation Army majors at Rapid City when the flood hit. Now, she is staying busy helping the living victims and he is one of the more than 200 who died when waters swept through the town. "The last I heard from him was about 8 o'clock Friday night when he yelled, 'Honey, I am going out to Story Book Island to see if I can help,'" Mrs. Medley said Sunday. Story Book Island is a park hit by 5-foot-deep flood water. "He was doing what the Lord called him to do when he died," she said. "He was going to where he was needed. I'm sure many people in the community grieve him. He was needed here." Mrs. Medley, who said she had slept little and eaten nothing since Friday night, was supervising the Salvation Army clothing and food distribution center Sunday, the same job she held when informed Saturday night of his death. And she said she was sticking with the relief work until the emergency is over, then continue their church and charity work. Salvation Army Maj. William G. "Bill" Medley, 56, had removed the camper from the family pickup, to help assist rescue efforts after a warning was sounded of the impending flood Friday night. "I know he was going to help someone when the flood waters caught him," his widow said. "He had the keys to the truck in his pocket. They never found the truck." Bill Medley had been an officer in the Salvation Army 24 years this month. "I grew up in a Salvation Army family," Mrs. Medley said. "My parents started the Salvation Army church in Columbus City, Ind., and when we were kids Bill started coming to our Sunday School classes. We went together, and when he got out of the Army we were married." "We were commissioned at the same time" in the Salvation Army, she said. They served in Indiana for 11 years and then at Fergus Falls and Fairmont, Minn., and at William, N.D., before moving to Rapid City two years ago. MORE SOFT DRINKING WELLINGTON, N.Z. (AP) — New Zealanders are expected to drink 6.5 gallons of soft drink a head this year — two gallons more than five years ago. Cordial manufacturers, who supplied this figure, compare it with an average of 12.6 gallons in Australia and 18.1 gallons in the United States.

Sheriff Is Indicted In Prisoner Death

TAVARES, Fla. (AP) — The sheriff of Lake County has been arrested on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the death of a black prisoner who a grand jury said had been kicked, beaten and forced into a small, windowless cell where he spent six days. A grand jury in neighboring Orange County, following its probe of the April 23 death of Tommy J. Vickers of Miami, also indicted Sheriff Willis McCall on charges of aggravated assault and aggravated battery. McCall, 62, was arrested Monday by Florida Department of Law Enforcement officers and was booked at his own jail. Bond on the charges was set at $1,000. Vickers died in a hospital 11 days after he was jailed in Tavares because he could not post a $26 bond for a minor traffic violation. In its report, the grand jury said 37-year-old Vickers was forced "with the aid and use of a slappack" into a six-foot-six-inch square cell and "lay on the metal floor of the crotch tank in his own excrement and unclean food without a mattress or pad to sleep on." The jury said Vickers was in the tank from April 13 to April 19 and was removed from the cell only twice — once for a bath in the middle of his confinement and again on April 19 when he was taken to a hospital. The prisoner's death was caused by an act "evinced a depraved mind regardless of human life," the jury said. McCall, wearing a string tie and western-style straw hat, told newsmen after his arrest that he is innocent. He declined further comment. As soon as the indictments were returned, Askew suspended McCall. Former FBI agent Frank Meech of Tavares was appointed to serve as acting sheriff. The investigation was conducted by the Orange County grand jury after Gov. Askew decided it would not be appropriate for a grand jury in largely rural Lake County to probe the case. Several months ago, the Justice Department announced it was suing McCall to force him to remove the "white" and "colored" signs from waiting rooms in the jail. McCall replied the signs were not enforced and were merely "old Americana," but he said he would remove them.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — You can bet that Jerry Pusch, 24, of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., believes he ate the whole thing. The 210-pound Auburn University grad decided to take on the oyster-eating record of a local seafood place. Three hours after he started he tied the old record, 15 dozen. Saying, "It's all gravy from here," he ordered five more. After those were gone he had consumed about 15 pounds of oysters. Pushing himself back from the table, he told astonished onlookers, "I gotta get a bite to eat," and left under his own steam.

Mothers Would Claim Him

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A hundred mothers with missing sons want to claim a teenager who swam ashore here a week ago without a memory or a name, police say. The blue-eyed youth, who appears to be about 17, sat in the police station here and said "I sure would like to know who I am," as tears streamed down his cheeks. The youth seemed to know the New York and Rhode Island area, and has a long scar on his left thumb, but there are few other clues to his identity, Det. Sgt. Earl McCain said Monday. "He plays the piano and the organ very well. His hair is kind of long, down the back of his neck, but not to his shoulders," the detective said. "I'd like to find out who the hell he is," said the policeman. "These phone calls are driving me up a wall." The boy without a name has been examined by two local doctors who said he was suffering from amnesia, McCain reported. The earliest memory he has is of a boat with a red stripe on the hull, which McCain says was a drop-ping line buoy located two miles offshore in the Gulf of Mexico. "I sure would like to know who I am," as tears streamed down his cheeks.

PRISONER'S 'FREEDOM' SHORT-LIVED

James Everett Brown made one unsuccessful escape attempt today, and Sheriff John Polk made sure he would not make another. Brown had to be taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital for treatments of cuts after he was tackled in an escape attempt and he was escorted by two of the biggest deputies on the force, Luke Stallworth (left) and Oscar Redding. He also was placed in handcuffs and leg irons.

Prisoner Runs Escape Is Foiled

By GARY TAYLOR
An off-duty Sanford policeman and a prospective juror foiled an escape attempt by a jail prisoner this morning. The unsuccessful attempt to reach freedom started on the courthouse steps and ended about a block away, in the parking lot behind the Massue Building. James Everett Brown, 25, of Charleston, W. Va., was coming out of the courthouse where he had been taken for counsel appointment. When he reached the bottom of the steps he kicked off his shoes and dashed across Park Avenue and along side the Masonic Building. Lt. Edward (Bucky) Hayden, of the Masonic Building, where they gave the handcuffed man a shove and made him lose his balance. Lt. Charles Fagan, also of the city police, was standing in front of the station nearby when the incident occurred and was in the parking lot just after the prisoner hit the ground. Fagan told The Herald there was an arrest struggle after the two caught up with the man, but they quickly had him under control. Sheriff John Polk said the man will be charged with attempted escape, in addition to the other charges he already faces. According to Deputy Sheriff Jim Branley, the prisoner boasted of being an "escape artist" after his recapture and told authorities "you won't catch me next time."

Murderer Given 30 Years In Jail

By MARRION BETHEA
Rapper then, respected Louis Smith Gattis III, who pleaded guilty on April 14 to second degree murder in the October death of Karl Fulmer, 18-year-old Walt Disney World employee, was sentenced this morning by Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi. Judge Salfi, noting there is "no hope that in the future you will be law abiding," sentenced the 24-year-old former Winter Park resident to "not less than 30 years and not more than life" at a state prison. Gattis was adjudged guilty of the crime to which he pleaded guilty. He was initially charged with first degree murder. Gattis was attired in a dark suit and appeared nonplussed over the sentence. "I'll tell you in 30 years."

Districting May Go On City Ballot

By DONNA ESTER
The voters of the City of Sanford will be permitted to cast ballots on the question of requiring residency of City Commission candidates in given areas, the board agreed Monday night. The "if" voted by the Commission three-to-one (Mayor Lee P. Moore was absent at the time) is that petitions must be submitted containing the certified signatures of 15 per cent of the registered voters requesting the matter be placed on the ballot in the December municipal elections. John Morris, an advocate of giving the people the right to settle the controversy referred to by other members of the board as the "crusader" and "aggressive young commissioner," voted "no" on the decision. Morris first argued that a vote be delayed until the mayor could arrive after attending high school graduation ceremonies for his son. When this was refused he continued with his position that the people should be permitted to vote now.

Voting Books To Open

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
In cooperation with the county election supervisor's office, Seminole Democratic and Republican executive committees, Seminole League of Women Voters and Seminole Neighborhood United Council (SNUC), the voter registration books will be open from 9 a.m. on June 15 at Jackson Heights School in Oviedo, June 20, Midway Water Association building in Midway and June 29, Rosenwald Elementary School, Altamonte Springs. This is to assist all those in these areas, who cannot get to the voter registration offices in Sanford and Casselberry during regular hours due to working conditions or distance. The program was organized with the cooperation of Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Camilla Bruce, William Kirchhoff, Republican executive committee, Mrs. W. L. Swafford, Democratic executive committee; Mrs. Judy Rosenbly, League of Women Voters; and Fred Moody, of SNUC. Those needing transportation to register should call the place of registration in their area during assigned hours: Jackson Heights, Midway, Water Association or Rosenwald. Trainers for the registration program will meet with Mrs. Bruce at Florida State Bank lounge at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Turner Charged Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A federal agency has filed charges against a corporation controlled by Florida tycoon Glenn W. Turner, and a Michigan grand jury has accused 13 persons of crimes allegedly related to a second Turner-run firm. The Federal Trade Commission charged Kaseco Interplanetary Inc. of Orlando with operating a deceptive scheme for four-floor cosmetics sales. The charges, based on a complaint last week that Kaseco and its parent firm, Glenn W. Turner Enterprises Inc., had violated the Federal Trade Act, were filed in a federal court in Orlando. Turner Enterprises Inc. had visited the Federal Trade Act, were filed in a federal court in Orlando.
