County Budget Total Varies $2.4 Million

Seminole County's budget is either $15.75 million or $13.3 million—depending upon whether you worry about "actual" money or "bookkeeping" money, according to Deputy Clerk of the Circuit Court Ashby Jones.

Jones, who labors with the county commission to draw up the massive budget documentation every year, today said that because of a recent state Attorney General's opinion that expected federal and state grants must be shown on the books—this year's budget is pegged at $15.75 million.

"But this is rather inflated, because of transfers and federal revenue sharing, and the actual totals are closer to $13.3 million—the figure we have been working with all along," Jones added.

A compromise on the sheriff's budget and the board's decision to create a single county-wide fire tax district for the unincorporated areas, averted possible delays and a threat of sending out more than one tax bill, according to County Tax Assessor Terry Goebel.

Millage on this year's budget—whatever the amount—is definitely set at 7.25, Jones said, meaning a real tax cut for the citizens from last year's 7.91 mills.

Another change in the budget procedure this year has the document being signed by the commission chairman and filed with Clerk of the Circuit Court Art Beckwith, rather than with the Secretary of State in Tallahassee.

Jones said next on the budget agenda is to get ready the detailed budgets for the county's departments to commence operations at the start of the fiscal year Oct. 1.

"However, bringing state commissioners together for a fiscal of the problems is not very productive," the chairman, Bill Bevis, said in a letter sent today to U.S. Treasury Secretary William Simon.

Bevis sent Simon a copy of a proposed capital-facilities charge that would allow utilities to charge new customers for the cost of building power plants needed to serve the new customers.

Bevis said in an interview Thursday that a recent Washington meeting called by federal officials with state regulatory agencies was "just an exercise in futility as far as I'm concerned."

"All they did was call us up there and tell us our problems," Bevis said. "I wanted some answers, I didn't want to reiterate the problems."

Simon "was telling us the answer to the problems was higher and higher electric rates," Bevis added. "To be perfectly frank, I don't think the man knows what he was talking about."

"The problems are high interest rates to the utilities, the cost of fuel oil. Certainly no state commission has anything to do with those two items."

"Everything in the world is apparently tied to the financial world, according to them," Bevis added. "They would certainly give the impression they're looking out for the big investors and totally forgetting the consumer."

Floyd Defends Police Share Altamonte Budget Package

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

ALTIMONTE SPRINGS—Council has set a workshop for 1 p.m. Monday to begin prying Mayor Norman Floyd's recommended budget apart.

Councilman Cal DeVorey said the city should at least charge a five per cent increase for the police department from $315,118 to $334,470 and a proposal to charge households $3 monthly for garbage collection for the first time in the city history.

Floyd also said a charge for city garbage service is "inevitable," if not this year then in the near future.

Blackout Hits 1,500 Customers

Power was restored to more than 1,500 customers of the Florida Power and Light Company less than four hours after a mysterious blackout struck the area north of Sanford this morning.

Scott Burns, district manager of the utility company, explained the service to the Melvinville and Elliott Avenue areas of Sanford, and Osteen, Deltona and Midway communities was interrupted shortly after 8 a.m.

At 9:45 a.m. he said the service had been restored to all affected customers. Utility crews discovered a tree limb across the primary transmission wire in an isolated section of Lemon Bluff, which Burns said had shortcircuited the line.

Eastbrook Court Suspends Parents Win, Lose Utility Injunction

By CHRIS NELSON Herald Staff Writer

A circuit court injunction against a county commission hearing on troubled Southern Gulf Utilities has been lifted.

Judge Richard Muldrew today lifted his earlier injunction which blocked a scheduled Sept. 3 hearing, but refused to lift his injunction against the county levying fines against Southern Gulf if the commission decides the utility is not in compliance with the regulations.

Muldrew's ruling created that rarest of all legal situations, lawyers for both sides—County utility attorney Robert Morris and Southern Gulf attorney Roger Berry—pronouncing themselves happy.

Morris was pleased because the hearings can now be held, and Berry because no "irreparable damage" can now result from any fines the county may have been contemplating.

Now he can sit down and find out exactly what the county wants in the way of upgrading without fear of hurting the customers, and with the possibility of a rate increase hearing, Berry said attorney Albert J. Clark of Calbert is seeking approval of plans for an 80-acre development located adjacent to Fisher and Shore Roads in The Ranchlands. The plans call for one house per acre in keeping with the present Rural Urban zoning designation, but the board raised questions as to drainage problems, septic tanks and wells and ungraded roads.

Oak Leaf is a portion of the 170-acre tract formerly proposed by Clark for Planned Unit Development but rejected by the Planning and Zoning Board and City Council because of drainage, impact and density.

After considerable discussion — some of it quite heated — the board agreed to rule on the plans Sept. 26, when there will also be a public hearing on RC-1 zoning for The Ranchlands.

When the mood is right, a mirror is wistfully smashed and each member gets a piece to autograph as a souvenir.

The lucky 13 must be doing something right. Sachs says he has no recollection of any members suffering any bad luck on the supposedly dangerous day.

Sarasota Man Charged

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two men accused of flying a planeload of marijuana into the Winter airport near Sarasota, Fla., were charged today in Winder.

Augustus Andrew Platt, 45, of Duluth, and Dallas Newman House, 46, of Sarasota, Fla., were arraigned Thursday before U.S. Magistrate Allen L. Chancy on federal charges of marijuana smuggling.

Each posted $20,000 bond and were promptly rearrested by Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents on state charges of possession of marijuana.

FBI agents have accused the men of piloting a Lockheed Constellation in from South America.

Nearly 6 1/2 tons of the illegal weed were found aboard the plane after mechanical troubles forced its crew to land it at Winder, officials said.

Baby Sellers Free?

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A young Tucson couple faces a second hearing today on a charge of selling an infant girl in Florida for $200.

Linda Allen, 22, and Gordon Kidd, 19, are accused of selling their four-month-old daughter to a St. Petersburg, Fla., couple last year.

Pima County Justice of the Peace A. Bates Butler has said if the county has not received an extradition request from Florida by the time of the hearing, he will drop charges against the two.

They were arrested in Tucson last month on a fugitive warrant that was later dropped. They still face a Florida charge.

Although Butler ordered them freed pending today's hearing, authorities kept Kidd in custody on an unrelated federal charge of being absent without leave from the military.

Auto Prices Rise

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has followed the trend set by General Motors and Chrysler and announced price increases on 1975 models averaging about $389 per vehicle.

Ford Vice President John B. Naughton said in announcing the increases on Thursday that Ford couldn't afford not to raise prices.

"Today's increases are mainly the result of inflation. The actual increase is substantially less than the amount required to achieve full cost recovery," he said.

Naughton said the cost of building a car has averaged an added $950 per unit since October, 1972. Ford has already made up $400 of that in previous price increases.

Ford's increase for cars — an average $370 — was smaller than those scheduled by GM and Chrysler, but previous Ford increases left the Big Three competitive in most models.

Car Smuggler Convicted

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The conviction of Watergate burglar Frank Sturgis in a car-smuggling case that involved an alleged plan to invade Cuba has been upheld by a federal appeals court.

In a brief, unsigned opinion, a three-judge panel of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals rejected Thursday the defendants' contention that evidence presented at the trial was insufficient to convict them.

Sturgis was one of five men found inside the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee on June 17, 1972. The ruling Thursday had nothing to do with the Watergate case.

Witnesses in Sturgis' Miami trial said Sturgis and another defendant had led them to believe the cars were needed in Mexico to plan for an anti-Castro invasion.

Sturgis and Jerry Buchanan were convicted Nov. 29 in U.S. District Court of conspiring to smuggle rented cars across the Texas border into Mexico.

Nixon Should Reveal Truth Before Payoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee has been urged to withhold $450,000 of former President Richard M. Nixon's $550,000 transition money until he makes a full disclosure on Watergate.

Rep. Michael J. Harrington, D-Mass., appealed to the House executive subcommittee that for more than three of its members had objected to part or all of the $450,000 because Nixon controls the Watergate tapes and papers.

"Quite frankly, I do not believe that Mr. Nixon should be granted any of this money, at least not until he finally puts an end to the cover-up, releases the Watergate tapes and provides answers to the many still unresolved questions as to presidential misbehavior," Harrington testified on Thursday.

The $450,000 was requested by President Ford for Nixon's six-month transition period.

An additional $400,000 was requested for him after that period under the former President's Act.

Rep. Tom Bevill, D-Ala., a subcommittee member, had said he did not believe the $450,000 was needed because part of it is for securing the tapes and he said there is no guarantee the public will ever have access to them.

"The government is not getting anything. He (Nixon) can sell anything or everything except the tapes, which he can destroy," Bevill said.

General Services Administration chief Arthur F. Sampson said there are on the tapes gate tapes and papers and an agreement signed when President Ford pardoned him is designed to assure the information in them will be preserved for posterity as well as for court evidence.

But Bevill said under terms of the agreement "the government is not assured of getting any record of any kind to preserve for history."

Sampson acknowledged that Nixon could not be compelled under the agreement to release any tapes or papers to the public, but he said Nixon promised in the agreement to release some and the GSA chief said he is confident Nixon will keep his word.

He also said White House lawyer Philip Buchen has said that GSA would listen to any tapes that were going to be destroyed. Bevill said that is not part of the agreement however.

Deputy GSA counsel Herman W. Barth said the agreement does assure that none of Nixon's papers can be destroyed for five years and that none of the tapes can be destroyed for five years.

Troubled Economy Yields No Hope Of Quick Change

CHICAGO (AP) — Rep. W. R. Poage summed up what was on the minds of many attending a White House-sponsored farm and food conference to seek answers on inflation, things are going to get tougher before they get better.

"The farmer and the laborer, as well as the manufacturer, are not willing to accept some rough going if we are going to stop inflation, and if we don't stop it, we surely all go down together," the Texas Democrat, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said Thursday night.

The conference, which drew some 60 delegates, ends today after several days of reports on causes and proposed cures for the troubled economy. They will be considered by a White House summit meeting on inflation Sept. 27-28.

Poage said Americans suffer from a philosophy he said originated with labor unions calling for equal pay regardless of productivity.

Other speakers, including Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, said the federal government will have to cut spending before farmers and consumers see improvements. The session came hours after the Labor Department announced the wholesale price index soared 3.9 percent in August, including a big gain for farm and food products.

Don F. Magdanz, of Omaha, Neb., representing the National Livestock Feeders Association, said top priority should be given by the administration and Congress to balancing the federal budget, but he said he did not believe it would do.

Jerry Rees, an official of the National Association of Wheat Growers, said he hoped "they don't try to cure all the problems of inflation" by cracking down on agriculture and forcing down farm prices.

Sen. Walter Huddleston, D-Ky., said export controls on farm products are not the way to make more food available.

"We are concerned and frankly scared of any export program that would jeopardize long-term sales" of farm products and thus contribute to reduced income for producers, Huddleston said.

William J. Kuhntz, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said in a paper submitted today that federal deficit spending is "the root cause of inflation" and that the administration should move decisively to assure Americans something will be done about it.

But Tony T. Dechant, president of the National Farmers Union, advocated stepped-up government programs to provide jobs, reduce taxes for lower-income people, improve credit and strengthen social security, welfare and federal food programs. He also said the government should offer farmers higher price support guarantees.

Mrs. King's Killer Gets Death Penalty

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Marcus Wayne Chenualt, who apologized and blew kisses to the jury which convicted him, faces the death sentence for the slaying of Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr. and a church deacon.

"My name is Servant Jacob. I was ordered here by my God, my Father and my Master," Chenualt told the court after the judge set Nov. 8 for the execution.

A jury which included four blacks deliberated little more than an hour Thursday before convicting Chenualt, who is black, of the shooting deaths of Mrs. King, 70, and deacon Edward Boykin, 89, in historic Ebenezer Baptist Church last June.

The jurors deliberated only 40 minutes before returning two death sentences. Chenualt was also sentenced to 10 years in prison for the wounding of a woman member of the congregation.

Chenualt's attorney, Randy Bacote, said he will appeal. Under Georgia law, a review of a death sentence by the Georgia Supreme Court is automatic.

As the verdict was read, Chenualt, a small, boyish-faced man with bulging eyes, continued the conduct which had marked his trial.

He blew kisses at the jury and silently clapped his hands at their verdict. His parents stared at him in disbelief from the front row of the crowded courtroom.

Later, as his lawyer argued for mercy, Chenualt trembled, his face contorted, feigning the spasms of death in the electric chair.

School Tax Hike Hearing Slated

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Supt. W. P. Lyster told school board members the principal of Lake Brantley High School is recommending purchase of five-acre adjacent parcel to expand the school site from 37 acres to 42 acres. Lyster said the asking price for the tract is $15,000 per acre. Member R. G. Feather, who deals in real estate, said the price was a bit high noting the market is favorable to buyers now.

Lyster recommended the purchase of a middle school site in the Rock Lake area and that the Lake Lotus site donated to the school system by a land developer be expanded by the purchase of five more acres. He suggested that consideration be given to buying 20 more acres to go with 15 acres being donated by a land developer in Winter Springs.

The board agreed to name the elementary school to be built in building site and was told by Lyster that a tract across French Avenue from Sanford Middle School is already owned by the school system. Feather suggested that a site be found in the Five Points area, a central county location, now that the administration office, under law, no longer has to be in the county seat of Sanford.

Public hearings have been set for 6 p.m. Sept. 25 at Lyman High School and Oct. 2 at the courthouse in Sanford on the proposed eight mill property tax levy for the 1975 fiscal year.

The eight mill tax for public school operation is in addition to 4 mills district capital improvement and .8 mill debt service for a total school tax levy of 12.8 mills. County commissioners have set taxes for the new year at 7.03 for a total county tax bill this year of 19.83 mills.

Since the school board in its fiscal year has set aside $1,076,048 for school site acquisition, several tracts of land are being considered for purchase.

Sub-Lease Stadium?

Seminole High School principal Don Reynolds was authorized by the board earlier this week to continue negotiations with the West Rinker Baseball School of the Sanford Municipal Stadium.

Reynolds said Rinker is willing to pay all costs of transforming the former football field at the stadium for baseball activity and perform all necessary maintenance, saving the school athletic account $4,000 this year.

The firm has also agreed, Reynolds said, to permit Seminole High and Sanford Naval Academy use of the stadium for baseball activities as well.

A new stadium, under construction on the Seminole High Campus, will be used for football games this season and the municipal stadium, under long term lease to the school, will not be needed for that athletic activity this year.

Under terms of the proposed agreement, Rinker will perform maintenance required in the City of Sanford's lease agreement with the school, Reynolds said. The lease, with about 30 years remaining, is automatically renewed each year at $1 annually.

A committee composed of county school employees paid school employees work level will begin Monday a wage study of similar size areas and private industry in comparison with Seminole School salaries.

Feather asked Lyster to encourage local fire chiefs to attend fire drills at the various schools. Lyster said many volunteer firemen are cooperating with this type program, but many other do not wish to leave stations unprotected with trucks away for such activity. Lyster said Feather's suggestion that smoke bombs be set off during drills could result in a child being hurt.

It was also reported that the desks from the old Altamonte Elementary School are being sent to the state prison system for refurbishing and reuse in the relocated school at The Woodlands.

The board agreed to name the elementary school to be built in the Altamonte Springs Barclay Woods subdivision, Lake Orienta Elementary.

Salary Studies

The study will show whether salaries paid school employees — both instructional and non-instructional — are equitable and comparable.

In other business, Lyster received board approval to place schools back on standard time when an Act of Congress changing from daylight savings time goes into effect in October.

Many parents, over the past year, have complained that daylight savings time during winter months require their children to walk to school and buses in the mornings while it was still dark.

Wage Hike Asked By Housing Panel

The Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) is seeking U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) approval for cost-of-living wage increases for authority crews engaged in modernizing local low-rent public housing units.

Authority board members Thursday passed a resolution to boost hourly wages on an average of nine cents an hour.

HUD approves the measure and the authority will pay a truck driver will get $2.25 an hour, carpenters $4.25, painters $3.25, laborers $2.75, labor foremen $3.84 and superintendents $5.05.

The crews do modernization work, funded by federal funds, on 480 local units other than work under contract to private contractors.

SHA executive director Thomas Wilson III said bids will be opened Sept. 30 on modernization of 40-unit Higgins Terrace. The authority has $30,000 in federal funds to modernize both Higgins Terrace and 30-unit Cowan Moughton Terrace.

SHA Chairman John Smith ordered an investigation of yard work being done by separate authority general maintenance crews after several tenants complained of poor jobs in cutting grass and shrubbery in projects.

Wilson said SHA doesn't cut tenants' yards, only parkway and alleyway sections of the projects.

Ford Talking Tough With Turks

WASHINGTON — President Ford has secretly instructed U.S. Ambassador William Macomber to warn the Turkish government that the United States may withhold economic aid if Turkey refuses to cooperate on opium controls.

The revival of the Turkish opium trade could be a serious blow to U.S. efforts to curtail heroin smuggling, which has helped aggravate the heroin, sold on the streets by drug pushers, used to come from Turkish opium.

Under a 1973 agreement, the United States paid Turkey $3.7 million to ban opium production. This has reduced the availability of heroin in the United States.

But last June, the Turks announced they would resume opium production. Former President Nixon ignored repeated requests from Congress that he pressure the Turks to uphold the opium ban.

On August 30, he fired off a secret cable to Macomber, directing him to tell the Turks that the United States would help them monitor their opium crop but might shut off economic aid if they didn't cooperate in controlling the heroin traffic.

Three days later, Macomber sent back a pessimistic report on the progress of a United Nations narcotics team in Turkey. His conclusions with team," he cabled, "reveal gloomy picture."

"Turkish officials say they intend concentrate acreage as far as possible to facilitate control but plans they have in mind do not appear consistent such approach," Macomber reported tersely.

His confidential cable noted "that head of narcotics police is developing arrangements for patrolling fields during critical period and that these proposed arrangements seem encouraging on paper." But the cable questioned "how these measures will work out in practice."

International Narcotics Control Board Chairman Sir Harry Greenfield, who met with U.S. officials in Turkey last week, "is not optimistic that Turks can be persuaded reduce acreage."

"Turks claim they have already sold 30 tons of opium from first harvest," added Macomber, "and have to date received inquiries from other prospective buyers for up to 100 tons."

Spiro Agnew's good friend, singer Frank Sinatra, has apparently adopted George Wallace as the new object of his political affection. Just one month after Sinatra's pal Agnew resigned the vice presidency last October, the crooner donated $500 to Wallace's presidential campaign committee.

The President's Air Quality Advisory Board seems strangely unconcerned about the dangers of deadly lead in the air, particularly in high-exhaust ghetto areas. The board turned down a suggestion from Louis Lombardo, head of the Public Interest Campaign, that it solicit briefing memos on the problem from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Meamwhite, Public Health Service lawyer, show alarmingly high lead concentrations in the blood of ghetto children in Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, New Orleans and Philadelphia.

Don Oakley's oil bills and fuel for fires. The energy crisis, brought to a head by the Arab oil embargo just a few months ago, seems to have been relegated to the status of an unpleasant but fading memory in the public mind.

Congress, too, appears to have an equally short memory if one is to judge by its contributions to "Project Independence" — the great government-inspired effort aimed at making the United States self-sufficient in energy by 1980.

So far, the nation's legislators have mandated national year-round Daylight Saving Time, a measure of dubious merit in conserving energy which they are considering modifying.

A bill authorizing the Alaskan pipeline was passed after a five-year delay and should be bringing some significant, though hardly adequate, amounts of oil to the U.S. market by late 1977 at the earliest.

The 55-mile-per-hour limit has helped the country cut gasoline consumption but there is evidence that it is being increasingly ignored by motorists and enforced decreasingly by authorities.

There is no lack of energy, however, when it comes to legislation aimed at reforming the oil industry. Bills abound in Congress, ranging from doing away with the depletion allowance to eliminating the foreign tax credit for U.S. corporations in direct competition with oil companies here.

The latter idea, favored by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III (D-Ill.), would put the government in the oil and gas business ostensibly to increase competition by acting as a yardstick for the industry on such things as prices. Something like a TVA for petroleum.

The petroleum industry views this possibility with a great deal of alarm and as industries usually do in such cases, is attempting to show in the oil and gas business that it is bad for America.

A federal oil and gas corporation is the tip of the iceberg of government interference with the welfare of our nation's people. These are the women to seek out for our Senate and House Representatives, and these are the women who can ameliorate with logic and symmetry those humours of our all-male Senate and predominantly-male House who, by their own frustrations, lend friction where logic should prevail.

To the end of mixing logic with the human race, the negative-by-product has been an excess of aggressiveness resulting in violence and repeated wars between tribes and clans, and then between nations and then entire groups of nations, whereby men, in frustration, have used their kingly and priestly powers to conquer, and in the process, to destroy vast numbers of other humans.

Psychologists have told us that the male, who is frustrated by inability to direct his drives toward realized productivities, vents his frustrations viciously to conquer. The great war in history past, and the internecine Watergate present, attest to men's rabid attempts toward all-power regardless of cruelty and destruction.

On the other side of the coin, woman has been forced by nature to endure more, to be more flexible, to be more patient, to be capable of more compromise winningly, to recognize more easily when to strike and when to negotiate, in short, to be more humane generally than her male counterpart.

When have women brought about wars, riots, lynchings, genocides?

Women in Congress in numbers, would provide a balancing humanism to our male Congress, so badly needed in these times of stress upon stress...a balancing which would once again bring our Nation to a renaissance of good-will so desperately needed now.

I do not hold for mere numbers of women in Congress, but for those who, by virtue of good academic backgrounds, cultural values, fine domestic records, intelligent grasp of political goals, are imbued with firm dedication to the welfare of our Nation's people. These are the women to seek out for our Senate and House Representatives, and these are the women who can ameliorate with logic and symmetry those humours of our all-male Senate and predominantly-male House who, by their own frustrations, lend friction where logic should prevail.

So far, the nation's legislators have mandated national year-round Daylight Saving Time, a measure of dubious merit in conserving energy which they are considering modifying.

A bill authorizing the Alaskan pipeline was passed after a five-year delay and should be bringing some significant, though hardly adequate, amounts of oil to the U.S. market by late 1977 at the earliest.

The 55-mile-per-hour limit has helped the country cut gasoline consumption but there is evidence that it is being increasingly ignored by motorists and enforced decreasingly by authorities.

There is no lack of energy, however, when it comes to legislation aimed at reforming the oil industry. Bills abound in Congress, ranging from doing away with the depletion allowance to eliminating the foreign tax credit for U.S. corporations in direct competition with oil companies here.

The latter idea, favored by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III (D-Ill.), would put the government in the oil and gas business ostensibly to increase competition by acting as a yardstick for the industry on such things as prices. Something like a TVA for petroleum.

The petroleum industry views this possibility with a great deal of alarm and as industries usually do in such cases, is attempting to show in the oil and gas business that it is bad for America.

A federal oil and gas corporation is the tip of the iceberg of government interference with the welfare of our nation's people. These are the women to seek out for our Senate and House Representatives, and these are the women who can ameliorate with logic and symmetry those humours of our all-male Senate and predominantly-male House who, by their own frustrations, lend friction where logic should prevail.

To the end of mixing logic with the human race, the negative-by-product has been an excess of aggressiveness resulting in violence and repeated wars between tribes and clans, and then between nations and then entire groups of nations, whereby men, in frustration, have used their kingly and priestly powers to conquer, and in the process, to destroy vast numbers of other humans.

Psychologists have told us that the male, who is frustrated by inability to direct his drives toward realized productivities, vents his frustrations viciously to conquer. The great war in history past, and the internecine Watergate present, attest to men's rabid attempts toward all-power regardless of cruelty and destruction.

On the other side of the coin, woman has been forced by nature to endure more, to be more flexible, to be more patient, to be capable of more compromise winningly, to recognize more easily when to strike and when to negotiate, in short, to be more humane generally than her male counterpart.

When have women brought about wars, riots, lynchings, genocides?

Women in Congress in numbers, would provide a balancing humanism to our male Congress, so badly needed in these times of stress upon stress...a balancing which would once again bring our Nation to a renaissance of good-will so desperately needed now.

I do not hold for mere numbers of women in Congress, but for those who, by virtue of good academic backgrounds, cultural values, fine domestic records, intelligent grasp of political goals, are imbued with firm dedication to the welfare of our Nation's people. FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

Dickinson Kin Linked To Bank

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A banker has testified that the brother-in-law of Florida Comptroller Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson was among the original stock subscribers for a bank that Dickinson chartered.

William DeVeer, a West Palm Beach banker, gave the testimony Thursday after taking the stand for the second day in the perjury trial of Frederick Prior, Dickinson's former law partner.

Turlington: Nix Felon Bar

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington is recommending Cabinet rejection of a policy proposed by the Board of Regents to bar felons from state-supported law schools.

Turlington sent a notice to other Cabinet members Thursday charging his recommendation of the regents policy to disapproval.

Pete Millett, associate commissioner for administration, told Cabinet aides earlier in the day that the proposal to admit only students who could become lawyers raised a number of questions.

A decision on student entrance should be made by educators and not based on questions of some other board, he said.

Utilities Cutting Plans

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Gulf Power Co. and other subsidiaries of the Southern Co. are sharply cutting plans for building new generators and transmission lines.

They say tight money, high interest and delays in getting rate increases are to blame.

Gulf Power president R.S. Ellis Jr. said Thursday that the cuts will hurt service in Northwest Florida and could cause blackouts by 1977.

Gulf Power filed a $22-million rate increase request with the Florida Public Service Commission on July 2.

"We would hope that prompt and favorable action on our request for rate increases would enable us to continue essential maintenance and operations programs," Ellis said in a statement released in Atlanta.

OJ Price Hike Predicted

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The wholesale price of frozen orange juice will climb during the next 12 months, an official of an orange juice marketing co-operative predicts.

Tom Osborne, vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual, told his board of directors Thursday that the average F.O.B. price for concentrate should increase from $1.88 for a dozen six-ounce cans to $2.

Osborne said there are signs of "manageable supplies and a reduction in the pack of frozen concentrate of 8 per cent from the current season."

Industry leaders expect an orange crop of 170 million boxes this harvest.

Little Girl Pens Poem To Grandma

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CASE B-441: Debby R. was in during this visit at our summer home on an Indiana farm.

My mother, then 94, enjoyed Debby stay with her during an afternoon.

Debby thus served much as a diminutive Practical Nurse and companion to her Great-Grandmother.

But Debby had a vivid imagination, so she would dress up in my mother's long skirt and pretend that she was a little old lady, aged 80, who was a kindly neighbor of my mother.

Debby even called herself "Mrs. Bawton," which was merely a pen name she concocted out of thin air.

At the end of her summer vacation, when Debby had returned to her home in Chicago, and had finished her prayer, just before retiring, her mother looked into Debby's bedroom and found it empty.

For Debby was out at the kitchen table, writing.

"Debby," her mother protested, "what are you doing?"

"Mamma," Debby replied, "I can't tell you now but some day you'll know."

My mother passed away earlier this year, just one day ahead of her 96th birthday, and we asked Dr. John Kirkpatrick, noted pastor at Richmond, Indiana, to conduct the funeral.

It was only then that we found Debby's "poem" (as she described it) wherein she addressed herself as "Mrs. Bawton."

"Mrs. Bawton," her note began, "you may be discharged now because your patient has gone home, far past the cornfields, the meadows and the creek.

State Teacher Union War Erupts

DEAR ABBY
Heart Attack No
Bar To Sex Life

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 and my husband, Walter, is 52. Two years ago he had a heart attack, but recovered and is now enjoying excellent health.

Walter plays tennis at least three times every week, so he's not exactly an invalid, right?

However, when it comes to lovemaking, I am told not to "batter him" because he doesn't want to take any chances on damaging his heart.

Before his coronary, he wasn't the world's greatest lover, but now he has an excuse. (Or has he?)

Please ask one of your medical consultants and let me know. I've advised me to ask Walter's doctor because he is also Walter's tennis buddy. Thanks.

MISSING SOMETHING

DEAR MISSING: I consulted Dr. Donald B. Effler, the famous Cleveland Clinic heart surgeon, who is cooler than Denton (only) and hotter than Michael DeBakey. His response: "If Walter, age 52, is enjoying regular tennis, but will not take care of his homework, three possibilities come to mind: a) Walter's got something going on the outside, b) Walter's wife has lost something that must have looked good to him a number of years ago or c) Walter is one of those rare men who loses interest in sex at 32. In any event, judging from his wife's letter, Walter's past heart attack is most likely a phony excuse."

Very few coronary patients are advised against sexual activity at home. This simple observation, made long ago, gave rise to the aphorism, "There's nothing dangerous about sex, it's the chasing after it that can kill you."

DEAR ABBY: Our 27-year-old son is a college graduate who lives and works a few hundred miles from us. Two years ago he met a very nice girl three years his junior, and they have gone together ever since.

My husband and I hope to see them get married—since they are devoted to each other and are certainly not too young—but they tell us they have no such plans for now.

Recently they rented an apartment and are now openly living together. This bothers me much more than it does my husband. Our son would like some help in furnishing his apartment, and while I would gladly give him things if he were married, I feel it is wrong under these circumstances.

Yesterday I was asked by a friend to give her my son's address and also his girl friend's so she could invite them to a wedding. I was embarrassed to tell her the address was the same for both.

I understand that the life-style and morals of these young people are not mine, but I am hurt just the same. Must I accept this arrangement publicly, go along with it and keep my thoughts to myself?

UNHAPPY MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you want to maintain a good relationship with your son, yes.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 49706, L.A., Calif. 90049. Enclosure stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 322 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

DEAR DR. LAMB: My husband has a cataract which has completely covered one eye. The other eye is starting a cataract also. Our eye doctor said his eye is ready to have it removed. We have heard there is more than one way to have a cataract removed. Could you give us more information on this, or tell us where we could get it? My husband saw a doctor on CBS television who performed a cataract operation on a man and 24 hours later the man was playing a musical instrument. He wasn't wearing glasses either. Is this possible?

DEAR READER: Yes, there is more than one way to have a cataract removed. A cataract is a gradual hardening and clouding of the lens. The lens sits behind the pupil and is a rounded gelatinous body. When you are young and it is normal you can change the focus of the eye by changing the shape of the lens. There is a muscular band around its edge which contracts or relaxes to compress and thicken the lens or allow it to expand and become thinner. The change helps to focus light rays at the back of the eye so you can see things.

The loss of elasticity and the clouding of the lens makes it difficult for light to be transmitted or for the lens to focus properly. Cataract surgery is designed to remove the hardened cloudy lens. The standard procedure is to cut a slit over the front of the eye and shell out the lens. The incision through the front of the eye must be big enough to slip out the hard lens.

The newer technique was developed by Dr. Charles Kilmann at the New York Medical College. He did the first one in 1967. Using an ultrasonic probe the hardened lens is broken up and liquified. It is literally

The Orlando Chapter of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, Inc., has been reorganized into three separate groups according to Mrs. Robert Geller, Chapter president.

The Batya group will meet in the evening on the first Wednesday of the month, the Chavert group will meet in the evening on the fourth Tuesday of the month and the Rishona group will meet in the daytime on the first Tuesday of the month.

Prospective members interested in joining one of the groups should call Mrs. William Nugent, 1630 Mohawk Trail, Maitland.

Baseball School Set For Memorial Stadium

Jack Horner of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce stated it perfectly, "the return of baseball to Sanford is coming."

Horner was referring to the Florida Baseball School operated by Wes Rinker, who recently set up his base of operations at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

Rinker, who's a former minor leaguer in the Giants organization, sub-leased the stadium for his school.

But most importantly the city as well as the two high schools in the community will now be able to play their home games in an adequate facility.

The two schools, Seminole High School and the Sanford Naval Academy, will benefit from the school moving into the community.

Seminole Principal, Don Reynolds expressed delight with the use of the stadium, but also stated, it should bring back a return of American Legion and Babe Ruth leagues in the summer.

Sanford has been without the two leagues the last eight years.

Since Seminole High School will be competing in their new football stadium this season, Memorial Stadium will not be used for football, but will be strictly utilized as a baseball facility the year round.

Rinker, who's operated baseball schools both in Illinois and Indiana, and more recently conducted the Orlando Baseball Camp, has been working on the baseball conversion at the stadium the past four weeks.

The conversion and clean-up should be completed by the first weekend in October when the first instruction will begin.

The schools will be primarily weekend instruction except for a week during the Christmas holidays, and naturally on a daily basis during the summer months.

The basic fundamentals so badly neglected in baseball will be stressed, according to Rinker.

"We're interested in helping to increase the baseball knowledge of the players, and especially the marginal player," said Rinker.

Lake Brantley Could Be Best

Seminole County coaches are referring to the 1974 Lake Brantley football team as the most experienced squad in the county.

And rightly so, as head coach Bill Duty will return 17 seniors who have played two previous varsity seasons.

The reason for the large contingent of experienced seniors, is that Lake Brantley is only in its third year of existence, and this group began playing for Duty at the beginning of the football program.

Although their record has improved from 4-6 in 1972 to 5-4

1 last year, the Brantley head man is not that optimistic or as he puts it, "I'm not predicting."

Brantley has upgraded its schedule, which includes several Class AAA schools this year.

Although they had to cancel its freshmen schedule last year, due to lack of players, the situation appears to have reversed itself this year, according to Duty.

They will dress 38 varsity players, while 90 other players will compose the JV and freshmen squads.

According to Duty, the Patriots are without the individual superstars, but are possessed with an abundance of equal talent and enthusiasm.

The enthusiasm was exemplified this past summer, as several of the members of the varsity worked on a weight training program, initiated by assistant coach, Jay Stokes.

The results have been that 11 varsity members are now 200 pounds or more.

What ever we get this season, we'll have worked for, emphasized Duty.

The coach does admit, this year's team is the biggest team he's ever had.

Teaching the Wishbone offense to high school players is supposedly difficult, but duty doesn't anticipate problems as his players have been exposed to the offense for two years.

Although Duty hasn't decided upon his starting quarterback, he's not concerned about his offense. The Patriots scored at least two touchdowns against every opponent last year.

The question mark remains with the defense, as several changes have been made in the defensive coaching staff.

The linebacking positions should be the strongest in the unit as Craig Davis 205, and Gene Mueller 205, are considered excellent athletes.

Robert Frazier — 180, and David Arnett, who's described by Duty — as a boy that never stops hustling are slated for starting positions in the defensive secondary.

Tom Harvey and Don Kemp both 150 pounds are also expected to see action in the secondary.

The defensive line is large with all starters over 200 pounds or more.

Dana Hopkins — 205, Marty Williams — 220, Victor Chapman — 200, and the largest member of the squad, Andy Abramson — 230, are slated for starting positions.

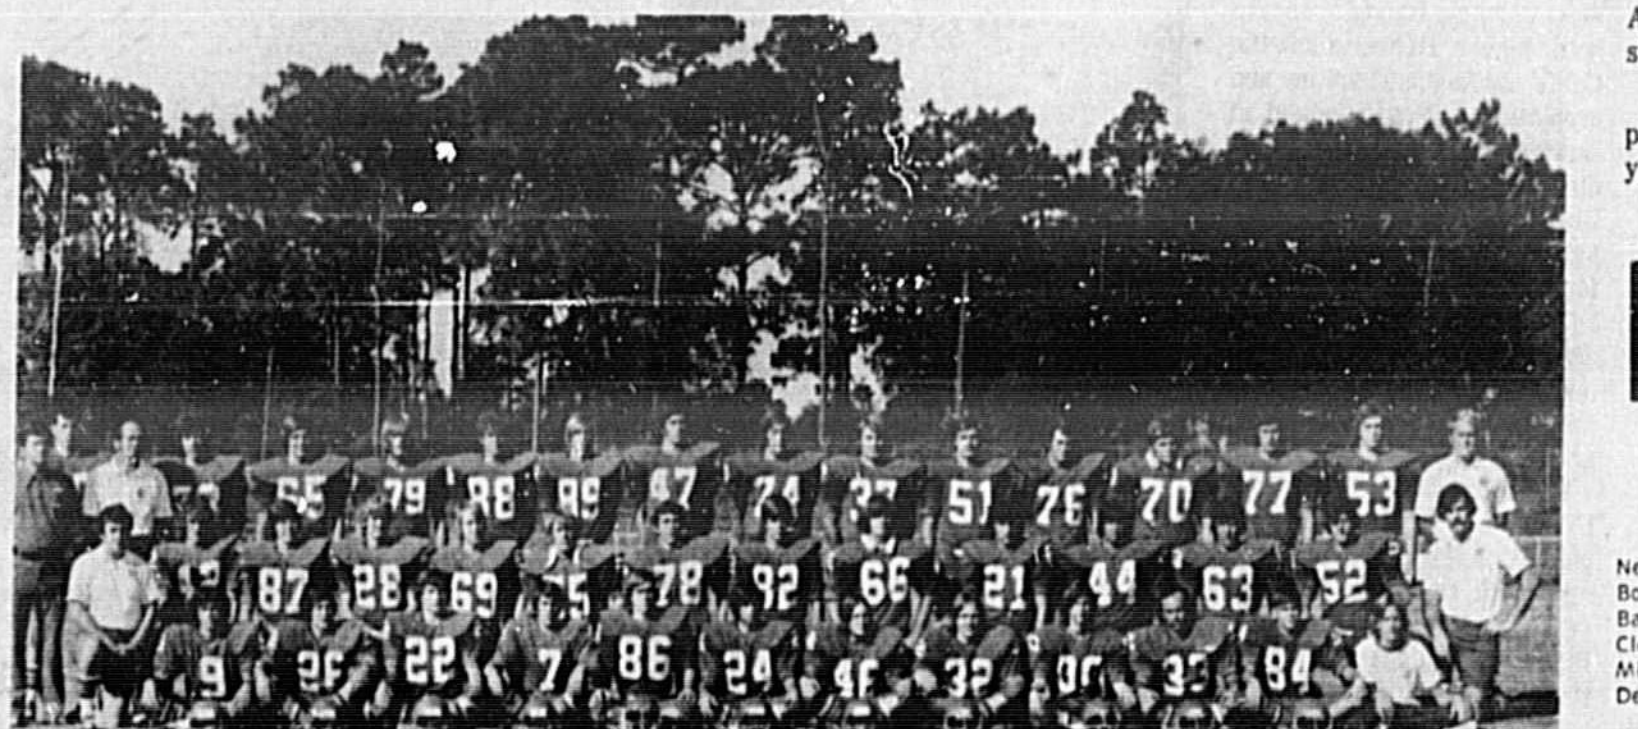

Although Henry Stanley passed for over 1,000 yards last year, his quarterback spot is in jeopardy as senior Dan Angjulli, who guided the Patriots two years ago, returns from an injury.

Angjulli is the better runner and Stanley is the better passer.

The running back positions are set with returning left-tailman Tom Hise 190, and Bart Buchanan 185, as well as fullback Craig Davis, who plays both ways.

The offensive line is anchored by Chuck Calhoun 200, David Sutphin 200, Gene Mueller 190, Bob Cira 210, and tight end Robert Hogdog 185.

With an assortment of experienced football players, Lake Brantley's first graduating class, may be the year of the Patriots.

NFL Season Set Sunday

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The National Football League season, bruised by a players strike and crowded in by a new league, tosses its opening football into play for the 55th time Sunday with 24 clubs, including the defending champion Miami Dolphins, trying nine new rule changes on for size.

The Dolphins, owners of two straight Super Bowl crowns, start defending their title again in the Patriots in New England, part of a 15-game Sunday schedule that begins the long road to New Orleans for Super Bowl IX.

In other Sunday openers, Minnesota will be at Green Bay, Baltimore at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at Denver, Dallas at Atlanta, Cleveland at Cincinnati, Washington at the New York Jets at Kansas City, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Detroit at Chicago, San Francisco at New Orleans and San Diego at Houston.

On Monday night, the Oakland Raiders will meet the Bills in Buffalo on national television.

There will be three lameduck Dolphins in the lineup Sunday when Miami takes on fourth-year quarterback Jim Plunkett and the Patriots.

The hearts of running backs Larry Csonka, Jim Kwik and wide receiver Paul Warfield may belong to the Dolphins this year but their names adorn World Football League contracts for 1975.

The WFL, which has just crossed the halfway point of its 30-game regular season schedule, has scores of NFL players under contract for the next few seasons — a fact that hometown fans are bound to recognize with boos and taunts throughout the year.

Besides making a mark on NFL rosters, the innovative WFL is credited in many circles with pushing their rival league more quickly into numerous rule changes.

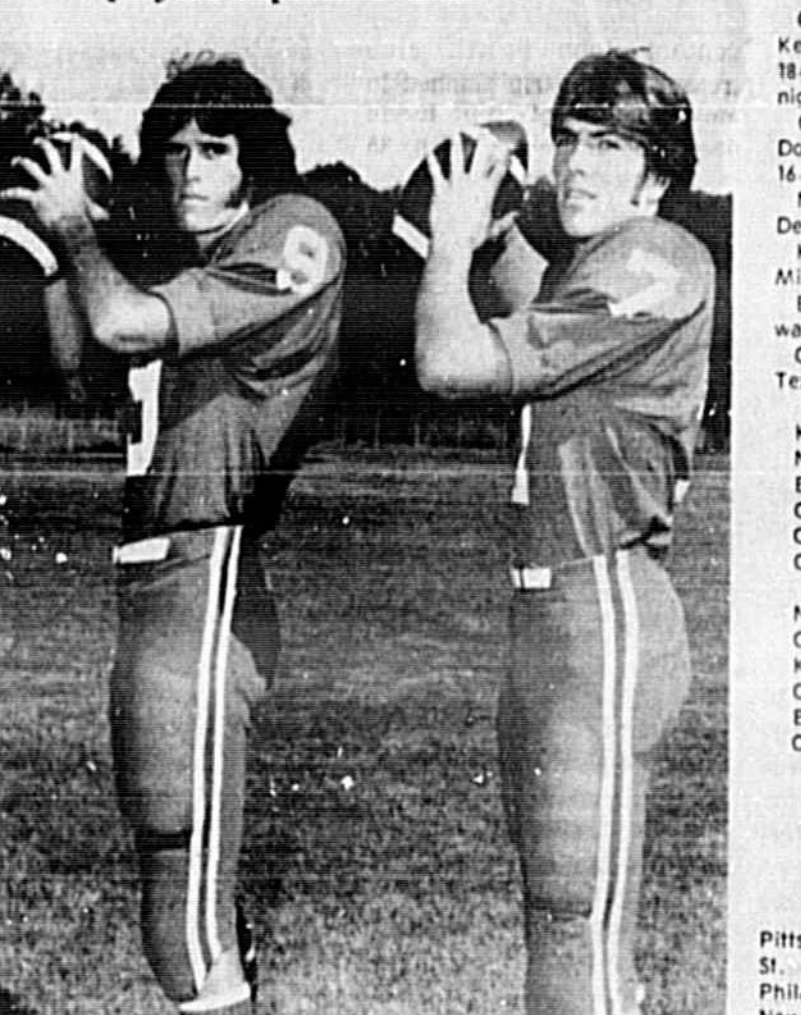

Among the major new wrinkles this season are goal posts which have been moved to the back line of the end zone, adding 10 yards to field goals and extra point attempts, and kickoffs which will be from the 35-yard line, a back-track of five yards.

In addition, there will be one 15-minute, sudden-death period if any game is tied after regulation play; only the two outside men will be allowed to race downfield on punt coverage before the ball is punted, and the pass coverage tactic of the bump and run has been virtually eliminated.

Finks Heads Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — For the first time in their 55-year history, the struggling Chicago Bears have placed their front office control outside the Halas realm.

Hired Thursday to run the whole show was Jim Finks, 10-year general manager of the Minnesota Vikings, named Bear executive vice president, general manager and chief operating officer.

Both owner George Halas, Sr., a co-founder of the National Football League in 1920, and George "Mugs" Halas, Jr., erstwhile general manager and still club president, acclaimed the acquisition of Finks.

"Jim will take over the running of the club," said Mugs Halas in introducing Finks at an elaborate news conference.

Finks left the Vikings in May and since has been a consultant for the NFL's Management Council in negotiations with the striking players union.

"I will do my very best to get the Bears back to their great level of the early 1960s and before," said Finks.

PRO CHARTS

PITTSBURGH STEELERS

Two straight division titles make the Steelers a bona fide power in the AFC and a prospective Super Bowl team. Chuck Noll has his team pretty much where he wants it, talent-wise. They've only seven games during the last two regular seasons. And for the most part, they're still a very young group. All they really need is more consistent offense.

OFFENSE

FRASIER — It's nice to have three such varied talents as Terry Bradshaw, Joe Gilliam, Terry Hanratty. It'd be nice still to feel that the most blessed talent, Bradshaw, has the maturity (and savvy) to take a team all the way. He still has a long way to go. There's a chance that this triple rivalry may lead to trading of Hanratty. VERY GOOD.

DEFENSE

FRONT FOUR — Maybe the strength of the club because Dwight White and L.C. Greenwood, who don't get much all-pro notice, are pass-rushing terrors. And there isn't a better all-round tackle in football right now than Mean Joe Greene, who is a late. Fats Holmes is the likely fourth man, but Tom Keating, all involved in the strike, may lose out as the tackle alternate. EXCELLENT.

RECEIVING

None shared at the wide positions. The starters, Frank Lewis and Ron Shanklin, match anybody as threats for getting into the end zone. And so they've got a couple of superb rookies for relief. Lynn Swann and John Stallworth. Distinct quality drop at tight end unless a surprise free agent, Randy Grossman, lives up to early camp promises. Holdovers are John Mackain and Larry Brown. VERY GOOD.

RUNNING

Franco Harris' army was let down in '73 — Franco just didn't have the big year expected. But no change is giving up on this 200-pound game-buster. How else they're going to rush. Steve Davis, quick and strong, has developed to point where he'll edge Frenchy Fuqua and Preston Pearson as Franco's backfield mate. It's nice to have such depth. VERY GOOD.

BLOCKING

For a top team like Steelers, the front line is just so-so. They're solid enough in middle, where Bruce Van Dyke and Sam Davis surround center Ray Mansfield. Could stand help at tackles, where Gordon Grayline, in third year, has opportunity to replace Glenn Ray Hines or Jon Kolb.

LINEBACKING

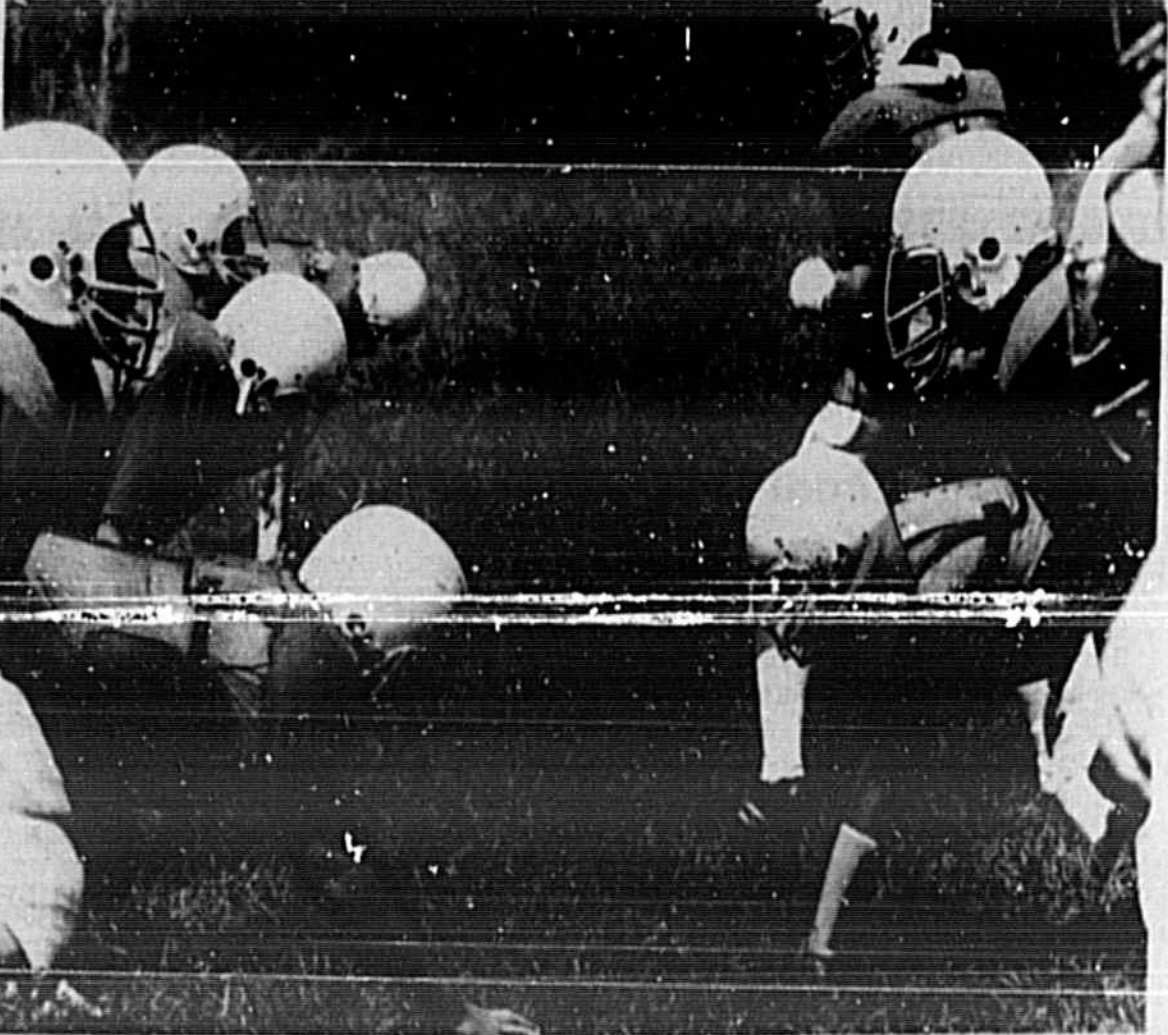

On the other hand, you couldn't ask for a better pair than Andy Russell, who never seems to be in his 10th year, and Jack Ham, a Noll favorite for his ballhawking. And in the middle, where Henry Davis has been the man, there's a sensational rookie named Jack (The Stork) Lambert, who'll be a big hit before the season's over. VERY GOOD.

SECONDARY

One big change comes in the secondary, brought along slowly as a rookie, moving into a straight corner job for departed John Rowser. Mel Blount remains on the other corner. The safeties, Mike Wagner and Eric Edwards, have become one of top tandems in NFL. Pick off a lot of passes. A rookie, Donnie Shell, has been a free agent surprise. GOOD.

KICKING

Why change? Jerry Gerela for the field goals and legends for punting maintain a fine level of efficiency. Gerela had best record in Steeler history. For returns, Davis on kickoffs and Edwards on punts make the best anywhere. VERY GOOD.

Of course, Ford's Clearance prices are low to begin with, but this year there are plenty of other good reasons to buy a new 1974 Ford.

Higher Prices On The 75s

Regardless of make, 75 prices will reflect considerably higher manufacturing costs. On top of that, we've thrown the 74 sticker prices away. We're ready to listen to your deal.

We Need Your Used Car

During the fuel crisis, used car prices went down. Many people weren't willing to take a loss by trading in their cars. Now the market is back up, and there's a used car shortage. That means we need your trade-in and we're willing to pay a big price for it.

We're Out Of Room

During the fuel crisis people were leaving fewer new cars to buy, leaving your Ford Dealer with one of his biggest inventories ever. Now he has to move the 74s off his lot to make room for the 75s... and he has to do it in a hurry.

League-Leading LA Meets Reds

The Reds got a grand slam homer from Cesar Geronimo and a solo blast from Tony Perez to win the opener.

In the nightcap, Bench hit his 20th home run in the season following Pete Rose's 40th double to give winner Pat Dorchy, 1-0, a 2-0 first inning lead against Lew Krause, 4-3.

It was the third grand slam of the doubleheader. Evans staked Ron Reed, 1-0, to a four-run lead in the second inning of the first game with his third career grand slam home run against Lew Krause, 4-3.

Later, the Reds put the game away as Dan Driessen snapped a 5-5 tie with a two-run double in the fifth inning.

Dodgers 11, Giants 0
Al Downing pitched a two-inning and Ron Cey figured in three rallies to lead Los Angeles over San Francisco, 11-0, in a four-run lead in the second inning of the first game with his third career grand slam home run against Lew Krause, 4-3.

John Bench
Expos 2, Cubs 1
Barry Foote's bases-loaded sacrifice fly broke a tie in the eighth inning and enabled Montreal to nip Chicago.

It's Yanks Once Again

The Red Sox, who had dropped three games in a row and 11 of their last 13, nipped Cleveland 3-2 as Bill Lee scattered 10 hits and Dick McAuliffe drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning.

Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte said that the loss was not a crucial one in the Indians' pennant hopes. "I don't see how it could be," he said. "We'd like to win it, but it's just another game on the road to the top."

Elsewhere in the AL, the Oakland A's edged the Minnesota Twins 3-1, the Texas Rangers and Chicago White Sox played to a 2-2 tie in a rain-shortened contest and the Detroit Tigers outslugged the Milwaukee Brewers 9-1 in 10 innings. California and Kansas City were not scheduled.

Unbeaten Mike Wallace, pulled out of the Yankees' bullpen for his first AL start after 20 relief appearances, pitched three-hit ball for 7 2/3 innings and ran his record to 6-0 with help from Dick Tidwell.

Red Sox 3, Indians 2
The Red Sox scored the winning run in the eighth on Carl Yastrzemski's double off Jim Patey, a sacrifice and Dick McAuliffe's sacrifice fly off Tom Huskey.

A's 2, Twins 1
Sal Bando's sacrifice fly delivered Bill North in the eighth inning with the tie-breaking run.

Oakland's Ken Holtzman pitched scoreless ball after allowing Minnesota a run in the first on Larry Hinkle's triple and Bobby Darrin's single.

Rangers 2, White Sox 2
Ken Henderson's 18th home run gave Chicago a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning moments before a heavy downpour halted the game.

BOOK REVIEWS

THE WOMAN HE LOVED. By Ralph G. Martin. Simon and Schuster, 503 Pages, $9.95.

Ralph Martin's new look at the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, their romance and its consequences, is billed as the first impartial, unauthorized account of the well-known love story.

The author of "Jennie: The Life of Lady Hamilton" and "The Duke and Duchess of Windsor" has another best-seller on his hands. Far-reaching research, interviews with friends of both the Duke and Duchess and, finally, interviews with the Duchess herself combine to make his account completely engrossing.

Walls Windsor Spencer Simpson Windsor made the journey from Baltimore to London to live in Paris with seeming ease. Martin details some of the hardships and problems involved in the change from Maryland to France. King Edward VIII's consort.

The details of the Duchess's romance in Washington with Argentine diplomat Don Felipe A. Espari are recounted at length. Friends said Espari was the one true love of Walls Windsor's life, and that she would have married him had he asked her.

Certainly just as fascinating are details from interviews of friends around the couple during their romance, the abdication and their eventual marriage in France. The Duke's subsequent efforts to have his family accept the Duchess are especially touching.

Martin details the pair's controversial trip to Germany during Hitler's prewar reign and its political repercussions.

Sometimes it seems too trivial to include in this account. But all in all the new

By CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have much to do today to get yourself and your surroundings in the best condition, so forget fun until every small detail of tasks facing you has been taken care of. Use spare time also to build up your physical vitality.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You understand your duties better now and can use your finest abilities to handle them speedily and efficiently. Good day to find the right clothing.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take treatments that will help you feel more chipper and be more charming. Amusements should be of the less expensive kind. Economize more.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Fine day for improving the situation at your home materially or spiritually. Control that tendency to run off to new outlets that are not for you at this time. Relax and restore energies tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get shopping and other duties behind you for more free time to whatever interests you most. Handle travel matters well, too. Accept a social invitation for a picnic.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make necessary repairs on any property you have. A new budget can be helpful now. Prove you have your feet on the ground.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take care of any personal matters that are pressing now. You can enjoy yourself later at some social function to which you may have been invited. Dress well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Clear off matters that need your immediate attention, then do whatever will improve your appearance. Show more affection for mate. Avoid an arguer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Enjoy amusements with friends that can relieve tensions, as well as deepen your relationships. A pal could give you helpful suggestions about a plan.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study your true position in the world of action and decide on future steps to improve it. Avoid one who is trying to lead you in the wrong direction.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make new acquaintances who can help you where education, the philosophical, etc., are concerned, and get out to some place with a fine atmosphere. Study new projects.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan to have time both for obligations and recreations with congenials. Use good judgment since your intuition is off base somewhat now. Keep cool.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make good plans with partners for the future. Use tact and be skillful for best results. Make the evening a purely social one.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be such a perfectionist that it will be early in life to teach that the element of time is very important if there is to be real success here. Otherwise your progeny could get so enmeshed in detail that a project could be stretched out interminably when it does not call for that effort and many benefits could be lost in the process. Ideal for the laboratory technician, the scientist, the artist, the investigator, etc. Teach mathematics early.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Ethiopia Wants Arms From Any Country

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Ethiopia's new military rulers have warned the United States that unless it increases its supply of arms to counter Soviet shipments of tanks and MIG jets to neighboring Somalia, they may look elsewhere.

The warning was reported by diplomats today in the wake of the overthrow of Emperor Haile Selassie.

The United States has given Ethiopia about $50 million worth of military and economic aid since World War II. That is more than any other African country got.

But reformers charge that Washington, with its aid, was a prop for the emperor's feudal regime. And the military and others are resentful because the U.S. government has rebuffed requests for more arms to restore Ethiopian supremacy along the border with Somalia, which claims the eastern quarter of Ethiopia.

The United States has reportedly begun supplying heavy tanks to Ethiopia, but the total military aid is expected to remain at about $10 million a year.

The military takeover also could expedite a settlement of the Eritrean Liberation Front, which has been fighting a guerrilla war for 10 years in Eritrea, Ethiopia's northernmost province.

Lt. Gen. Michael Andom, the armed forces chief of staff who was named temporary head of the government on Thursday, is an Eritrean.

Fuel Outlook OK Except Utilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government and industry experts say the nation should have enough petroleum fuels this winter, but the outlook is uncertain for coal and downright gloomy for natural gas.

George Hall, fuels manager in the Federal Energy Administration's petroleum allocation program, said, "All things being equal — assuming it's a normal winter and there are no problems with the Arabs — the petroleum outlook is good."

The FEA reported in late August that stocks of distillate fuel oil, which includes home heating oil and diesel fuel, were some 10.5 percent higher than a year earlier and 12 percent higher than two years earlier.

Stocks of gasoline were more than 12 percent above those of 1973 and 11.6 percent higher than in 1972.

The weakest category in petroleum appeared to be residual fuel oil; stocks were about 4.5 percent behind their level of 1972, but were 14 percent better than a year ago.

Tight supplies of residual oil could affect electric utilities, prime users of that fuel.

Hall said uncertainties are posed by the possibility of a coal miners strike this November, when the current United Mine Workers contract expires.

Natural gas supplies are already expected to run short.

The Federal Power Commission predicts that natural gas companies will be forced by shortages to cut off supplies temporarily to some industries, as they did last winter.

But this year's curtailments are expected to be nearly twice as great as last year's, the FPC said.

Homes and other essential consumers are given top priority for natural gas, and home heating and cooking gas are not in danger of being cut off, the commission said.

But curtailed gas deliveries could force some industries to seek more expensive alternate fuels, putting additional pressure on fuel oil supplies, and driving up the price of oil products. Some industries might even be forced to shut operations and put some workers out of jobs.

Commission officials could not predict which specific industries might be hurt, because it would depend on supplies in each locality.

Exchange Open Longer

NEW YORK (AP) — Apparently supported by strong sentiment on volume-starved Wall Street, the New York Stock Exchange's board has voted to extend trading hours by one-half hour to 4 p.m.

The extension was approved on Thursday and will begin Oct. 1. It resulted from the Big Board's concern over "the inadequate level of commission revenues that has persisted in the securities industry for many months," said NYSE chairman James J. Needham in making the announcement.

The trading extension, already given the green light by the Securities and Exchange Commission, was given strong support by a poll of the exchange's member firms. The poll showed that 12 of the 15 largest retail brokerages with national network branches favored longer hours, along with 86 of 93 regional firms.

Other exchanges like the American Stock Exchange and the Boston Exchange had earlier voted to follow the Big Board's move promptly in order to close any competitive edge.

Tactics Discussed

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The oil ministers from the petroleum exporting countries are coming around to the idea that the way to maintain or increase their huge revenues is by cutting production rather than by their usual tactic of raising the posted price. Members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries began meeting here Thursday to consider a recommendation from the OPEC Economic Commission that they increase the posted or tax-reference price of crude oil 14 percent.
