GOD GIVE US MEN

God give us men—God give us
 men today;
 Brave, self-forgetful men who put their first,
 Who see the Christ before them on the way,
 And follow him regardless of the hour
 And hunger on the Spartan road
 they go,
 To break the shackles, and to bring release,
 To lands that quail before a threatening foe
 And long to know the blessedness
 of peace.

God give us men—we would not seek to fail.
 For the ones who stand within the gaps and hold
 The way steady against the torrential rain.
 Give us leaders, and then didst of old:
 A Moses and an Aaron, who will guide
 Through this dark wilderness until the dawn.
 Thou knowest, Lord, how very dark and wide
 Is this tangled maze through which we long have gone.
 —Grace Noll Crowell

MIAMI, June 28 (AP)—The Federal Government today put a $14,696 income tax lien on personal property owned by Miami Beach gambler Joseph (Jack)
 Friedlander and his wife, Sallie.
 Tampa Tribune. That's just the way we feel about it too.

A dope-peddler in New York
 City was sentenced to 10 years and a fine of $4,000 the other day, one of the stiffest penalties ever handed out in a narcotics case in New York. He admitted profits on sales to some 250 addicts amounting to $300,000 over a five months period.

It was not a very propitious time, it seems to us, for the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company to be declaring a 25 percent dividend which on top of a previous 5 percent dividend makes 30 percent for the current fiscal year. When a man gets one-third of his money back in one year which he puts into any venture, it smacks strongly of profiteering,
 and when that happens in another country, it looks like exploitation.
 It seems to us the British could have put some of those profits
 into rebuilding goodwill in Iran
 and still been ahead of the game.

Fuller Warren whose favorite maxim is "Never use one word
 when ten will do just as well"
 has delivered another speech to himself against Senator Kefauver.
 "The Tennessee Senator," says Florida's Governor, "has betrayed
 the United States Senate and sullied its honor. Judas Iscariot threw away the 30 pieces of silver
 he was paid for betraying Christ
 and then went out and hanged himself. It is too much to expect that Kefauver will do likewise."
 Yes, it is too much to expect, and it is too much to hope that Governor Warren, who, as Senator Kefauver says, has so much to say it is too bad he does not say it to the proper authorities, will appear before the committee.

The Tampa Tribune joins the growing list of those newspapers which have recently increased their subscription rates, raising the price from 35 to 40 cents a week.
 Who can remember when most newspapers charged 10 cents a copy? That was a long time ago, eggs then were selling for more than a dozen. We do not like to see the cost of newspapers going up because it may mean that fewer people will read them and in this day and time, when so much depends upon an informed and enlightened public opinion, the people need all the information they can get from so many different sources as possible. Nowadays no one can consider himself well informed who does not read at least three newspapers, his home town's one for wide circulation, and one for his metropolitan dailies.

Cease-Fire In Korea

Although it may be well for us to keep our fingers crossed, the prospects for peace in Korea today seem good.
 The Chinese Communists have accepted the cease-fire proposal and a date has been set for the beginning of the armistice talks.

Just why the Reds insist on meeting at Kaesong instead of on the Danish hospital ship at Wonsan is not clear.
 It may be that by this strategy they hope to establish some right to a part of South Korea, or perhaps all of it.

And the delay in the beginning of the talks until July 10 to 15 is even more confusing. It would seem that if they recognize the time has come to think of saving lives in Korea, they would want to begin the task as soon as possible. It may be that the peace talks are to be used by them simply as a delaying action to gain time for a big build-up and another grand push.

It may be too that the Russians want peace in Korea in order to gain some point when they start a bonfire somewhere else. You would think they would want some of our forces tied down in Korea, but "the ways of the heathen Chinese are peculiar," as Kipling said long before us, and it may be that the Russians don't want a big war at all,
 just want to bankrupt us sending our fire brigades around from one bonfire to another.

However this may be, the United States and the United Nations should not overlook any opportunity to bring an end to the fighting, if this can be done on honorable terms, while at the same time keeping their eyes open and their powder dry.

Biggest And Best

This is the age of superlatives. We persist in making things that are the biggest ever made, and while it may or may not be an accurate idea we habitually associate the biggest with the best, Congress is not immune to the tendency to build in superlatives. The tax bill which has been approved by the House is the biggest revenue measure, in terms of dollars, ever to come before Congress.

When the new taxes are finally in effect the taxpayer will discover, if he adds them all up, that he is paying the highest taxes he ever paid. And the government, if expectations are realized, will be taking in the biggest income it ever had. There will be one fortunate exception to the list of biggest things. Barring unforeseen developments, actual spending will not come up to that of the peak years of World War II. It will surpass that of all other years.

The program of superlative things might as well be carried further. The year of biggest taxes would be an appropriate time for the biggest effort ever made to weed wastefulness and inefficiency out of the government. It would be a good year for the greatest interest ever taken by the people in our national affairs. It would be a good time for the heaviest public pressure ever brought for betterment in Washington.

Holiday Safety

For more and more people certain holidays have become unhappy anniversaries of the deaths or crippling of loved ones in accidents, chiefly automobile mishaps. The toll is usually less for a holiday which falls in the middle of the week, for then it becomes only a one-day affair for most people. Week-end holidays have staggering accident totals.

Driving in holiday traffic calls for special precautions.
 Safety rules and speed limits should be observed even more carefully than at other times. Safety measures at picnic places and at the beach will help to keep the accident total down. Laws regulating fireworks and a healthy respect for what a firecracker can do to a hand have done much to eliminate the type of accident peculiar to the Fourth of July.

A holiday can be one which will be remembered pleasantly, or it can be the anniversary of a tragic accident. It's largely a question of care and forethought.

 from Kaesong, the rubbed town

 Reds want to hold the negotia-

 Reds. The Kaesong area is the one that has been abandoned by the U. S. Eighth Army. Communists
 reported increased Red artillery fire on the eastern front
 north of Yangju.

Although the fighting was bit-

 be some reluctance on both sides
 to push too hard or too fast.
 There is no way of knowing how long such a situation might continue.

Market Report

to $1,794,527. The nearest competing commodity was oranges of which 335,564 boxes sold for $1, 033,506. Celery sales were third with 265,499 crates bringing $705, 372.

Sweet corn brought a fine return of $366,493 for 121,795 crates, an average of $2.86 a crate. Green beans averaged $2.27 a bushel hamper and sold for $300,416. In addition, pole beans brought $43, 300 at $4.57 a unit and lima beans
 $0.19.

Other large selling items were grapefruit, $220,373; red bliss
 potatoes, $272,497 and tangerines, $161,090. A total of 56 items of produce were listed.

The first Florida cabbage appeared at the market on Dec. 22, selling at $1.75 to $2.00 a bag. A week later the price rose until on Feb. 12 it hit an all time high of $6.25 a bag and "cabbage was king."

The market for cabbage remained steady, said Mr. Anderson, "it shows the growers a nice profit until Mar. 27."

After that date, he pointed out,
 the cabbage situation was unprofitable for the grower, along with several other varieties of vegetables.

During the season the rail shipment from the market, 424 carloads, was the heaviest on record.
 Truck shipments reached an all time high of 4,327 loads.

Considering this large volume, said Mr. Anderson, demand had fairly well factored affecting the demand were the disastrous freeze in Texas and frosts in Florida, resulting in a scarcity of fresh vegetables. High employment throughout the country resulted in good purchasing power.

Another factor that produced a good demand was the extremely low temperatures occurring in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama
 and the eastern south Atlantic states.

Mr. Anderson stated that he would "stick his neck out" and venture the prediction that 65 percent of the growers of Sanford and Central Florida made a profit during the season; 20 percent barely made enough to pay expenses, and 10 percent showed a loss.

From November through May,
 258,684 packages, the equivalent of 606 carloads of produce were purchased from Pompano, Homestead, Florida City, Ft. Pierce, Palmetto, Ft. Myers, Wauchula and Immokalee.

On Oct. 11-12 a hurricane caused other heavy damage to the bean crop and other vegetable crops. Frost on the morning of Nov. 6 caused considerable damage, and another cold wave of Nov. 25-30 just about landed a knockout blow to tender vegetables. Owing to this, business at the market got off to a late start, beginning Feb. 6,
 there was however, a rapid gain

in varieties sold and valuation.
 During the three year period,
 the Sanford Market shows an increase in units sold amounting to 2,892,115 and a valuation gain of $7,135,225, said Mr. Anderson, and he predicted a considerable increase in sales next season.

Palestinian truce succeeded that the racial problem cannot be solved overnight—"but it can be solved, and the pace of progress toward its solution can be and must be greatly accelerated."

He said the problem is a national rather than a sectional one and "there have been in recent years not a few encouraging developments on the national level
 but in the field of national civil rights legislation the record is dismal."

"Could there be any greater mockery of democracy than the performance of the national Senate with regard to civil rights legislation?" he asked.

He said senators talk about a free world and free peoples, but many of them "need to be vigorously reminded that freedom and justice must begin at home."

"All fair-minded Americans should thank well those senators who are brave enough to have us risk a world war but who quail
 like chipmunks before our domestic racial prejudice," he asserted.

Diabetics Must Avoid Infections

By W. V. Bitting, Touchton Drug Co.

To the diabetic an infection is very serious. Even the slightest bruise or abrasion of the skin may result in gangrene, if not properly cared for.

Keeping the feet in good condition is especially important to the diabetic for gangrene frequently occurs when corns or calluses get selfmedication.

The services of a chiropodist,
 recommended by a physician is the safest way to care for the feet.

Sanford Giants Stop Leesburg And Palatka Over Weekend

Ward And Swiderski Hurl Eight-Hitters As Giants Try For 1st Division Berth

Striving desperately to gain a berth in the first division, the Sanford Giants annexed two games over the weekend defeating the Palatka Azaleas 7 to 5 and then sinking Leesburg Packers 5 to 1.

Manager Richie Klaus, hitting in the clutch as usual, drove his fifth home run of the season over the left field wall to start a rally which left the Giants with a comfortable two-run lead.

Big Swede Swiderski twirled a neat eight hitter and allowed but two walks in one of his finest mound performances of the year. Getting errorless support from his mates the Sanford hurler had a shutout going into the final frame when Johnny Sykes connected with a change-up pitch for a home run.

After Klaus hit his homer Leesburg pitcher Joe Causey seemed to lose his stuff momentarily walking Patric and giving up hits to Max Pfeiffer and Mickey McBride to score the other two Giant runers. Pfeiffer, Therina and Bailey, with two hits apiece, signaled the Giants' offense.

In Friday night's game with the fast climbing Palatka Azaleas Bill Ward bore down admirably in the clutch and came through with just enough to win.

The right-handed control artist walked eight, unusual for him, while giving up eight hits to the Azaleas who left 14 men stranded on the basepaths.

The Giants took an early lead and never relinquished it after scoring three runs in the first and three more in the second.

Frank Therina drew a free pass to open the game and Tim Dolan flashed a whistling double down the third base line which was cut off too quickly for Therina to score. Manager Richie Klaus walked and Therina scored on Parise's high fly. Pfeiffer then singled home Dolan and Klaus. In the second inning Swiderski and took second on an error. Ward sacrificed him to third and the effort was wanted as both Therina and Dolan walked to load the bases. Manager Richie Klaus got an RBI when working pitcher Halpe LaStella for a walk to first.

Parise's single drove in the other two runs for the Giants in that inning.

George Heiner came in to relieve LaStella in the third and the Giants were stopped dead until the fifth when three straight singles by McBride, Pfeiffer and Bailey accounted for a run.

The Azaleas chewed away at Ward's lead with one run in the fourth, one in the fifth and another in the sixth. In the bottom of the ninth two more rallies were pushed across by Heiner's crew but that rally ended when Ward got Curtis on an easy ground ball to short.

GAINESVILLE, July 2.—(AP)—Pitcher John Tennant, Orlando northpaw, drove in the winning run in the twelfth inning here yesterday as he bested Gainesville's Myrtle Loag, 8-1, in a tight hitting duel.

Tennant, who gave up seven hits over the distance, drove a long fly to center to score Bill Shores with the winning tally. Home allowed 10 sacrifices.

The winning run climaxed an uphill drive by the Senators that saw them score three times in the eighth to tie the score at 4-4. The G's did all their scoring in the first three innings before Tennant settled down to pitch brilliant ball over the remaining distance.

DAYTONA BEACH, July 2.—(AP)—Paul Groce, Daytona Beach outfielder, slammed a three-run inside-the-park homer in the sixth inning here last night to decide the Islanders with a 5-3 triumph and necessary capacity for work which this slow process implies—whether his arm will ever attain the same resiliency and strength it once had is a question which only time can answer.

By ED HANPER

Bob Spessard loomed comfortably against the top tier of bleachers watching the Sanford-Palatka game last Friday night, apparently no different from any other spectator.

Slender, wiry and alert looking, he has none of the raw muscle power usually associated with athletes. But Spessard was 20 games while being six in 1919 with the Erie, Pa. club in the Middle Atlantic League and was adjudged the most valuable man on the team. That year he was the only 20 game winner in the Giants' organization.

Then tragedy struck. Bursitis, the dread arm disease which has cut down the budding ambitions of innumerable pitchers, developed in his shoulder and an operation was ordered.

So one of the most promising pitchers the Giants had seen in years, leader in shutouts in his freshman season and boasting a record of never losing a home game in 16 starts, went under the knife.

The operation wasn't a success. Bob spent the 1920 season out of the game and then again underwent surgery on an arm which was rapidly becoming more of a liability than an asset for the hat-headed Giant baseball organization. The second operation was of to help and a third was scheduled—scheduled but that's about all since the club shows little indication of gambling more money on what looks like a hopeless case.

Bob is with Sanford "for the heat", a baseball expression meaning "We hope he'll come around with luck, but we kinda doubt it."

Spessard began his baseball with the Midlet League in his home town of Detroit when he was 10 years old. The firemen sponsored the amateur circuit and gave the kids a chance to get used to the game at the requisite early age.

Bob was a second baseman and a member of the All-Star club in his initial year when moved on up to Class E baseball when he was 14. He played one year with the city league and then moved on to four years with the American Legion where he began to pitch. His best year at the plate in legion ball was 235 and his top pitching record stood at 10 and 3.

Nothing spectacular and with the relatively inferior physical equipment Bob possessed there was no indication that he would develop into a pitching sensation.

A better indication than the record in the lays against whom he won while pitching in Detroit came Michaels and Art Houtman were a couple of a long list of rising major league prospects or successes.

After a stretch in the Navy Bob reported to the Giants training camp here in 1919 and burned it up. George Neelson signed the speed-ball artist and he went to Pittsburgh and to momentary glory as leading pitcher in the league.

Spessard's situation is a common one among professional athletes. The rewards of the game are great for the chosen few who manage to come through the initial, and often bruising, training seasons intact. Baseball is a far more dangerous and destructive game than it appears at first glance, and death wish players have been killed in the last month—in all too common.

In Bob's case the Giants are gambling that his arm will come around with rest in the fabulous Florida climate. He's following a series of arm strengthening exercises designed to pull the muscles of his arm back into their natural groove from which the bursitis twisted them.

Certainly he possesses the potential.

Jolting Joe Altobelli Creeps Up On Orlando's Ernie Oravetz

SILVER SPRINGS, July 2.—(Special)—Turning in one of his best weeks of the season, Daytona's Joe Altobelli pounded himself to a position only two points behind Orlando Ernie Oravetz as the Florida State League's batting champion through Thursday night.

Official averages reveal that although Oravetz and Altobelli both hit a slight slump during the week ending Thursday night Altobelli's was the lesser. The young Orlando rookie had a .341, while the Daytona rookie had a .329.

Crowding both was Mike Kassaban, the speedy Palatka outfielder who led points behind with a .374.

It was a record week for the 300 or better hitters for 15 of last week's 16, 300 or better hitters dropped points, biggest wholesale slump of the season.

Leesburg through Thursday were Petraglia of Deland with 131 hits; Levy of Orlando and Calvito of Daytona with 111 hits each, followed by Manager Charlie Brewster of Gainesville with 113; Luttrell of Orlando with 23 stolen bases, trailed by Petraglia with 22; Kassaban with 74 runs batted in, with teammate Pete Pichon second with 69.

The Palatka Azaleas, winning six of eight, had the week's best record, it being topped only by Gainesville's five out of seven. The league-leading Deland Red Hots won four of seven but Orlando dropped five of eight as the Hots' Thursday night lead was a comfortable four and one-half games.

Offensively the week produced a pair of grand slam homers, one hit by Andy Caldwell, rookie Cocoa catcher, and the other by Bobby Wood, giant Gainesville outfielder. League records reveal that not over four are usually hit through an average season.

The Daytona Beach Islanders seemed to have a virtual monopoly on club batting honors, for they were 19 points ahead of the back, whereas the Azaleas and Orlando Senators were leading the field as top defensive teams.

Axle from the All-Star game at Deland Wednesday night, the coming week will bring four double-headers and a replay of the last few innings of the Deland at Gainesville game of June 2. Innings that were thrown out when the 6:30 p.m. started the appearance on the field in street clothes of the Deland manager.

Official standings at midnight:

Today: Deland 59 26 465
Sanford 45 30 598
Orlando 44 33 571
Palatka 39 37 513
Gainesville 38 38 500
Daytona 33 44 428
Deland 32 43 427
Cocoa 22 51 303

Oatis Trial

 of bureau.
 No Western correspondents were in Prague to cover his trial. Several had been expelled and the last three Western reporters withdrew after Oatis' arrest. The Embassy observers at the trial are relaying their reports to the U. S. High Commission Office in Frankfurt, which is making the reports available to the Western press.
 The Czech prosecutor charged in court today that the last three Western reporters to leave Prague, Russell Jones of the United Press, Robert Bigio of Reuters, and Gaston Fourrier of the French Press Agency, also engaged in spying.
 Oatis' testimony supported the Czech charges against Jones, Bigio and Fourrier.
 The prosecutor asked Oatis if he had been an espionage agent, and had acted on orders from his Associated Press superiors in New York and London. He answered "Yes."
 The prosecution then produced as evidence copies of teletype messages it said were sent Oatis from the New York and London offices. These messages included one asking for a check on reports about the disappearance of Vladimir Clementis, former Czech foreign minister, and requests to check reports that four high-ranking security officers had been arrested in the Czech Communist purge.
 These are routine messages such as are sent out by all news services to their correspondents abroad. Oatis had been asked by cable to check reports already appearing in print in the United States that Clementis had disappeared.
 Oatis testified the U. S. Embassy also gave him intelligence missions.
 The prosecution said Oatis and his three co-defendants—Czech nationals who had been employed by the AP in Prague, knew about the assassination of a Czech state security officer which allegedly occurred before Oatis arrived in Prague.
 Oatis testified he knew about the murder "from someone named Joe," but never knew who the murderer was. The prosecution then said it was Oatis' duty to inform security authorities, and that he attempted instead to warn agents outside the country by publishing stories of arrests in the case.
 At the end of Oatis' morning testimony, the prosecutor asked: "Do you have anything to add?"
 "No," Oatis answered. "I made a full statement as it was drawn out of me by your questions, and I want to add that I feel sorry for what I did."
 "Do you hold any hatred for Czechoslovakia or the Czechoslovak working people?"
 "No."
 "And yet you felt compelled to carry out these activities?"
 "Yes," answered Oatis, "and this on instructions from my superiors in London and New York and under the influence of some Western diplomats."
 Asked about his family background, Oatis testified he came from a "workers' family," and he, too, was a worker. The prosecutor challenged that, saying Oatis was not a worker but an acknowledged spy. Oatis replied he was still a worker and intended to continue being a worker.
 Oatis' Czech defense counsel asked only one question—an attempt to show that Oatis was a small egg in a large machine.
 The courtroom full of spectators needed special cards to get in. The court consisted of five judges, seated at one side of the room. The defense counsel was on the other side, and Oatis was in the middle. The two U. S. Embassy observers were seated at the back of the courtroom.

Charges Of Murder Plot Are Dropped Against 5 Tampans

TAMPA, July 2.—(AP)—One of Tampa's most sensational criminal cases came to an end today when charges were dropped against five persons accused of plotting to kill Sheriff Hugh Colbreath.
 The case came to trial twice and both times ended in a mistrial. County Solicitor V. R. Fisher reported he was dismissing murder plot conspiracy charges against City Representative (Councilman) P. Joseph Rodriguez, John (Johnny the Greek) Moutos and his wife Virginia and Roy and Arthur Velasco.
 The Velascos are brothers of Jimmy Velasco, the slain Tampa gambler-politician.
 Fisher's explanation of dropping the charges were "I can see no reason to further spend the taxpayers' money by again trying the case against the defendants."
 The State charged the Velasco brothers got Moutos to come here from Chicago to kill Sheriff Colbreath. In the two trials, Rodriguez was accused of being the payoff man in the alleged plot.
 The State's principal witness was Jimmy San Martin who testified he was planted by Colbreath to observe the Velascos while a plot was being hatched against the sheriff.
 San Martin related to two juries that Moutos had been hired as a trigger man and the death weapon was to be a sawed off shotgun.
 The defense put on no witnesses at either trial. Defense attorneys, Lowered, labeled the state's case as "fantastic" and repeatedly called San Martin a "stoopidpigeon."

FUNERAL SERVICES
 OCALA, July 2.—(Special)—Funeral services for Mattie Brooks Oliver, who died here at the age of 84, were held yesterday afternoon at the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church with the Rev. James W. Washington officiating. She was the mother of Elizabeth Oliver Young of Sanford.
 A member of the church for 30 years, Mattie Oliver had served for a long period as a stewardess. Assisting in the ceremony were a number of former pastors of the church, and presiding elders. Burial was in the Hughes Cemetery. She was the daughter of the late Prof. Henry Brooks, teacher for many years in the Lake county schools.

Bonds Are Forfeited By 4 Communists Who Refuse To Surrender

Nationwide Search Is Instituted To Find Top Party Leaders; All Are U. S. Born

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Four top U. S. Communists failed to surrender to begin serving prison terms today, heightening speculation they had either gone underground or fled the country.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, who yesterday had set a 9:30 A. M. deadline for their surrender, immediately ordered bonds of the four forfeited. Each had been free in $20,000 bail furnished by the Civil Rights Congress, an organization tagged subversive by the U. S. Attorney General's office.

The motion to forfeit the bonds was made at the government's request when the missing Reds failed to appear in court by the deadline.

When they failed to appear yesterday, Judge Ryan gave the quarter until this morning to show up or else forfeit their bonds of $20,000 each.

The 11 leaders were convicted nearly three years ago of plotting to reach the forcible overthrow of the U. S. Supreme Court upheld their convictions last June 4. Their prison sentences ranged from three years for Thompson to five years for the others.

Government officials declined to speculate on whether the four leaders had gone underground or fled the country. No explanation of their absence was offered by their seven comrades who surrendered on schedule.

But some officials here thought it possible the missing Reds had gone into hiding to set up a new underground Postbox with three other Communist leaders who have been fugitives from justice since June 20.

It was on that date that an spy-hunting federal grand jury here indicted 21 more Red leaders on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government. Two of those indicted were believed to have been groomed by the party to take the places of the 11 top leaders when they finally should be sent to jail.

The FBI quickly rounded up 17 members of this group but four still are at large.

They are James E. Jackson, Fred Stein for Steinberg, Edny (Continued on Page 2)

Czechs Agree To Release American F-84s And Pilots

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 3.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia said today it would release 14 F-84 fighter planes and two pilots held by the Czechs near Prague.

The Czech Foreign Office said it would deliver to West German authorities in the West German frontier at 10 A. M. tomorrow.

Roland and a Norwegian pilot, Lt. Bjorn Johansen, of Bergen, were on a routine training mission from a U. S. fighter base in Bavaria on June 8, when they became lost and landed their F-84s at a Czech field.

According to Czech officials, Johansen asked to be flown back to Norway, instead of returning to West Germany for further training with the U. S. Air Force.

Today's Czech announcement, released here by the U. S. High Commission, did not mention Johansen. It was assumed he would leave Czechoslovakia at about the same time as Roland.

The State Department made several demands for the release of the two pilots, who were held incommunicado in Czechoslovakia.

The Czech government also promised to return the two jet planes to the Americans but demanded payment for storing and hauling the aircraft.

American officials said the planes probably would be partly dismantled by the Czechs and trucked to the frontier of U. S.-occupied Bavaria in the next few days.

Air Force sources in Washington have expressed doubt that Czech Communist engineers could learn new secrets from prolonged inspection of the F-84s.

Some were lost behind enemy lines in Korea long before these two fell into Czech hands.

Though American and Norwegian diplomats in Prague have not been permitted to see the pilots since they were taken into custody, Czech foreign minister William Siroky has claimed they are "safe, happy and well."

District Governor Installs Carlton As New King Lion As New King Lion

McCall, Barnes And Skinner Take Over As Vice-Presidents

Cecil Carlton, agent of the Life Insurance Co. of Georgia, was installed last night as the "King Lion" or president of the Lions Club, with John Henderson, district governor, presiding, at the installation at the Seminole country club, following a dinner.

Other officers installed were E. S. McCall, first vice president, Joe Barnes, second vice president, Al Skinner, who was absent, as the third vice president.

Jack Morrison was installed as secretary, J. N. Robson, Jr., as treasurer, Ben Wade as lion tamer, and Jack Stepper as tail walker. The latter had a busy evening, lining members for either wearing or not wearing coats.

Directors installed were Henry Witte, Jr. for one year, and Clyde Ramsey and Clarence Welsh for two year terms.

Referring to "King Lion" Harry Robson thanked the members for their cooperation in achieving outstanding success in club projects during his term of office.

More than 30 pairs of glasses were donated to needy children by the Blind Committee, headed by Clyde Ramsey, he pointed out.

The Blood Bank Committee, which recently conducted a successful blood bank clinic under the direction of Ben Wade, had during the year supervised the disbursement of more than 100 units of blood, Lion Robson stated.

During three months of the spring, the Lions Junior Baseball team, which has been fully operated for the 23rd season, he added.

At Christmas time, the Lions were instrumental in gathering two truck loads of toys, and in cooperation with members of the Lions Club, who repaired them, gifts were made available for many needy children.

The Lions Club sponsored a boy for Boys State, and cooperated in many civic projects, including the Red Cross means of fish fries, and outings were enjoyed.

In October, the Club celebrated its 25th anniversary with a dinner at the San Orlo Club with many visitors from other clubs present, said Lion Robson.

Joe Barnes and Cecil Carlton were given Master Keys for bringing in new members to the Club. Among the new members recently added were John Lamb, insurance agent; Ben Wade, grocer; John Senkark, merchant, and Bob Clark of McClung's store, and a former Lion in Lake Worth.

Mr. Henderson told of the late attendance at the recent convention of Lions International at Atlantic City, N. J., and pointed out that the Lions or (Continued on Page Two)

MURDER SOLVED

MILTON, July 3.—(AP)—Sheriff Marshall Hayes reported today he had obtained a partial confession to the slaying of an elderly Mulat couple from a county jail prisoner.

"We hope to have the full story some time today or tomorrow," Hayes said.

Lawrence W. Cormack, 23, who broke out of county jail last Friday and was recaptured Sunday, is being questioned about the killings, the sheriff said.

Julian Clifford Edwards, Sr., 75, and his wife, May, 73, were slain in the bedroom of their home early Saturday.

Hayes said he believed Cormack killed the couple in a robbery attempt, then "became frightened and tried to slip back in jail."

THAI REVOLT

BANGKOK, July 3.—(AP)—The Thai government virtually liquidated the Royal Navy today for its attempt last week to overthrow Premier Pibulsonggram's regime.

The Navy commander-in-chief, Admiral Luang Singu Songgram, and most ranking officers were discharged. The Admiral and many of the others then were arrested.

Seventy-five percent of all naval personnel were dropped from the payroll for at least six months.

The Navy was placed under control of Lt. General Phin Chuehwan, Commander-in-Chief of the army. Army troops were in charge of most of the navy installations.

Lonely, Deserted Kaesong Awaits Entry Of Cease-Fire Negotiators

EDITOR'S NOTE: AP correspondent Sam Summerlin and AP photographer George Swers flew over the ancient Korean capital of Kaesong Tuesday. They are the only war correspondents to take a look at the city since the Communist suggested it as the site for a Korean peace conference. Several planes previously received heavy anti-aircraft fire near Kaesong, but Summerlin reported his plane was not hit.

By SAM SUMMERLIN

OVER KAESONG, Korea, July 3.—(AP)—Like a ghost town of the old west in America, Kaesong today lay peaceful and deserted in a picturesque South Korean valley.

The city did not appear to have heard the news. It's the possible site of a Korean peace conference.

Associated Press photographers George Swers and I flew over Kaesong in a light plane piloted by Capt. C. W. Huebner of Chicago.

The city, former capital of Korea and once a bustling city of over 70,000, lies three miles south of the 38th Parallel in enemy territory.

United Nations forces marched through Kaesong the first time Oct. 6. The Reds swarmed back in December. They pulled out shortly after and the city has been a virtual no-man's-land since. A few Allied patrols entered the city later but withdrew, leaving Kaesong the only major city below the 38th Parallel unoccupied by the Allies.

Swinging low over the city, we found the whole area empty of enemy troops or fortifications. We spotted only three persons all apparently civilians.

The trio was straggling down the windswept main street, unconcerned by our plane.

Kaesong, once called Korea's peaceful and most modern city, seemed in much better condition than most South Korean towns.

While many other towns have been completely leveled, only a about one-third of Kaesong appeared destroyed. Many buildings, especially the larger ones, apparently were untouched by bombs.

The columns of the white stone city hall, which might be used as the conference site, gleamed in the bright sunshine. The structure, from the air, appeared little damaged.

Another large modern looking building stood intact except for broken windows and a missing roof.

Confession Of Oatis Called Fake By Labor

Writers Group Protests Methods Of Czech Government In Espionage Trial

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—The State Department today denounced Czechoslovakia's "admission" of a Communist propaganda "hoax" as a Communist propaganda "hoax."

Lincoln White, Department press officer, said the purpose is "to smear the Czechs and to make the American people understand the absolute worthlessness of any alleged 'confession' or 'revelation' beaten out of us by the Czechs."

White said the Czechs have held incommunicado for several days or more. "With specific reference to the Oatis case, it should be obvious to any thinking person that the whole case is the same old story which has been told before. It is a propaganda operation whose whole purpose is to smear the U. S. general and the American press in particular."

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—The Czech Embassy rejected as "insulting" today a protest by the American Newspaper Guild which accused Communist Czechoslovakia of extorting a "phony confession" of espionage from AP correspondent William Oatis.

Harry Martin, president of the CIO union, took to the Embassy a Guild resolution and a strongly worded letter of his own. He was received by Jan Vinar, Czech AP Affairs, but their meeting broke up in a shouting match with Vinar shouting out of the reception room.

Vinar told Martin he would not pass along the Guild's protest to his government because it contained "outrageous and insulting language."

When Vinar walked out, Martin took the Guild communications to the Embassy and a strongly worded letter of his own. He was received by Jan Vinar, Czech AP Affairs, but their meeting broke up in a shouting match with Vinar shouting out of the reception room.

Ratigan Assumes Office As Head Of Rotary Club

Sanford Delegates To Boys State Give Report On Activities

Jack Ratigan presided over the Rotary Club for the first time yesterday. Orville Inouin was presented with a post president's pin, and a group of Sanford boys who attended Boys State in Tallahassee reported on the events of their trip.

Ed McEneaney said the boys at Sanford at 4:00 P. M. Sunday morning, June 24, and they were bound by the Tallahassee boys.

The tallahassee boys were brought to us and treated in the same way as the boys at Tallahassee. They were divided into 15 groups, and the boys at Tallahassee were divided into 15 groups. They were divided into 15 groups, and the boys at Tallahassee were divided into 15 groups.

Robert Beckwith said the boys were turned out at 6:30 in the morning. They had breakfast, and then they were driven to the State Capitol where a model legislative assembly was held. They were addressed by Attorney General Egan and Secretary of State Gray.

In the afternoon they enjoyed a trip to Wakulla Springs. That night campaign speeches were made for various state offices and the band and glee club held parties.

Wednesday morning, said W. J. Spencer, the president of the Rotary Club, was elected and the group was addressed by prominent officials of the State University.

That night was held that night, he added, with a concert by the band and glee club both of which were described as very good.

Jack Schirmer said that a memorial service was held Friday morning for past members of the club who have passed on. They all had been in the service of their country. They were addressed by Secretary of Agriculture Nathan Mayne and that night the election of officers was held. The group was divided into 15 groups.

Joe McEneaney expressed the appreciation of the boys to the American Legion for its cooperation in the trip. He said the boys had a very good time and that they were all very happy.

Czechoslovakia does not have an ambassador here and Vinar is its top diplomat in this country.

In rejecting the protest, Vinar accused American newspaper men of "lying" about the Communist regime's efforts to better living conditions in the country.

"I can assure you," he said, "if anybody tries to throw monkey wrenches into our machinery we shall know how to deal with him even if he is an American newspaperman."

Martin retorted the Czech regime "will have to answer to humanity" for the fixed trial of Oatis.
